THE PREFACE.

TO write an exact Eccleſiaſtical Parochial Hiſtory of a whole Dioceſe, will in the firſt Place require the Undertaker's Travel to every particular Pariſh, and nice Inſpection into ſuch Records and Writings as are uſually kept in the Pariſh-Cheſt, or ſometimes in private Hands, as relate to that Parochial-Church, and into the Inſcriptions and Coats of Arms on ſuch Monuments and Glaſs-Windows in the ſame, as have yet eſcap'd Sacrilegious Hands, and thence to collect ſuch Materials as are fit and adapted to the Compoſure of ſuch a Work: But this requiring not only more Leiſure and Coſt, than one in my Circumſtances could afford, but alſo good Judgment and Skill in Antiquity and Heraldry, to neither of which I can pretend, I hope, will in ſome meaſure excuſe any Defect of this Hiſtory, if it be not ſo Complete as may be expected.

However, in the next Place, it requiring alſo the peruſal of ſuch Records and Muniments as are laid up in the principal Regiſtry of ſuch Dioceſe, and I having had the Cuſtody of thoſe of this Dioceſe of London for near 27 Years together, and having executed the Office of principal Regiſtrary of the ſame from Auguſt, 1669. to May 1696. (at which time I voluntarily left it) have adventur'd to commit this enſuing Hiſtory (however defective it may be) to the Publick. For having been oblig'd many times to ſearch the Records of that Office to anſwer the Queries of ſuch Perſons as had occaſion to make uſe of them, and by that, finding many things that might be of Uſe and Service to the Clergy, eſpecially that are, or ſhall be of the Dioceſe of London, if publiſh'd, which otherwiſe might never come to their Knowledge, whilſt laid up in a publick Office; I reſolv'd to make a particular Scrutiny among the ſaid Records and Muniments, which having done, and made ſome progreſs in the Work, which I deſign'd in order to the Publiſhing thereof, intending thereby only to make known what Acts have been advantageous, and what prejudicial to the Pariſh-Churches of this Dioceſe for divers Ages paſt, in as ſhort a Manner as I could: A worthy and learned Clergy-man of this Dioceſe, and one extraordinary well vers'd in Antiquities, eſpecially of his own County of Eſſex, namely Mr. John Ouſeley then Rector of Pantfield, ſince of Springfield, Boſwell, and Little Waltham, in the ſame County, underſtanding what I was about, of his own accord (like a true Friend, and zealous Promoter of a Work of this Nature) came to me at my Office, inform'd himſelf of the manner of my Proceeding, lik'd it, and lent me ſeveral Manuſcripts to aſſiſt me; but withal told me, that he thought it would be requiſite, to give a Catalogue of the Incumbents of every Pariſh as I treated of it. This I look'd upon as a laborious Task: However was reſolv'd to undergo it.

But after all, conſidering with my ſelf, that to publiſh a Hiſtory of the Parochial-Churches of a whole Dioceſe, and to ſay nothing of the Metropolitan-Church, would make it look like a Body without a Head, and render it a very imperfect Piece; I reſolv'd therefore to run through that too, and to give a Catalogue of the Biſhops, Deans, Archdeacons, Dignitaries, Canons, and Petty-Canons, ſo far as I cou'd find any thing of them in the ſaid Regiſter-Books, or otherwiſe. And whilſt I was about this, that learned and indefatigable Searcher into Antiquities (well known and reſpected by the moſt learned Hiſtorians of this Kingdom) the venerable Dr. Matthew Hutton, Rector of Aynho on the Hill, found me out, and with all imaginable kindneſs freely and voluntarily offer'd to aſſiſt me in this Undertaking, and from time to time lent me ſuch Collections as he had made of Perſons and Things relating to this Dioceſe, which furniſh'd me with moſt of thoſe Archdeacons, Dignitaries, and Prebendaries of S. Paul's, and what is written of them, and ſuch Parochial-Incumbents of Livings as were before the Year 1306. (in which Year our London-Regiſtry began) and ſome after, which happen'd to be omitted out of it. Thus by the help of this learned Doctor, whoſe Aſſiſtance was in ſo many Inſtances, that it would be endleſs to quote him; and thoſe Helps I have had from the aforeſaid Mr. Ouſeley, and my very good Friend and long Acquaintance Mr. William Grimes of the Rolls, from whoſe Collections I have had a plentiful Supply, eſpecially of ſuch things as have been alienated from the Churches aud Religious-Houſes ſince the Reformation (both which I have faithfully quoted, as I have had occaſion to make uſe of their Collections) I have at laſt finiſh'd (through God's Aſſiſtance) this Voluminous Work; which is the firſt, I think, of this kind that has been publiſh'd in this Kingdom, and if it prove uſeful, may poſſibly induce others (more learned Perſons) to do ſomething of like ſort of other Dioceſes.

That which engag'd me to undertake this Work at firſt, was (as hath been intimated before) my ready acceſs to the Records and Muniments of the Office, which I kept, and had in my own Cuſtody, which are quoted all along, as alſo are, ſuch printed Authorities both Antient and Modern, as I have had occaſion to uſe them.

The Method which I uſe is firſt to give a brief Account of the Metropolitan-Church of the Dioceſe, namely, the Cathedral-Church of S. Paul; and after a ſhort Memorial of that great Apoſtle of the Gentiles, S. Paul, to whom it is dedicated, proceed chiefly to contract the Hiſtory of it from its firſt Foundation to the laſt Deſtruction of it by that diſmal Conflagration in 1666. which, with it burnt down the greateſt Part of the City of London, wherein it ſtood, extracted for the moſt part out of that ſeaſonable Hiſtory of S. Paul's, compos'd by Sir William Dugdale, Knight, late Garter King at Arms, deceas'd; before the late horrid Rebellion broke out, and publiſh'd in 1658. whereby the repreſentation of ſeveral Monuments and Tombs, and their Inſcriptions which eſcap'd the violation of Sacrilegious Hands, upon the Reformation, were preſerv'd to the memory of Poſterity, which otherwiſe had been for ever loſt by the more Sacrilegious Talons of our late rebellious and pretended Reformers, in 1642.

In the next Place, to give an account of the Biſhops of this Dioceſe from the firſt erecting of this Biſhoprick of London, and of the Deans of S. Pauls, as far as I can find any Memorials of them, and as near as I have found both Biſhops and Deans in their reſpective Succeſſions, by contracting what has been written of them by Biſhop Godwin, and Mr. Wharton, and ſuch other printed Authors both Antient and Modern, that have publiſh'd any thing of them, and out of the elaborate Manuſcript Collections of the aforeſaid Dr. Hutton: Then of the Archdeacons, Dignitaries, and Prebendaries, &c. that have and do belong to this Dioceſe, and the ſaid Cathedral-Church.

And laſt of all, of all the Parochial-Churches, as well exempt as not exempt, which are, and of the Religious Houſes, which formerly have been, within the Bounds and Limits of this Dioceſe of London; and of the Saints to whom they are dedicated, extracted chiefly out of a Manuſcript of Mr. Ric. Smith, deceas'd, lent me by the learned Dr. Fleetwood, late Rector of S. Auſtins, in London, but now Biſhop of S. Aſaph; and if in London, in what Ward, if in the Country, in what Archdeaconry, Deanry, and Hundred they are ſituate, of their Bearing and what Diſtance according to the old and new Miles from London, their Metropolis; and of the Juriſdiction Eccleſiaſtical to which they are ſubject. And then after I have inſerted what I have found in Records, and printed Authorities of theſe Churches and Religious Houſes, and of their Patrons, eſpecially ſuch of them as have been of the Nobility, I give an Abſtract of ſuch Terriers as I have found in the Regiſtry of ſuch Churches as are in the Country; for I never found any Terrier of thoſe in the City of London; but inſtead thereof an Abſtract of the Values of the Glebe, Tyths, and caſual Profits of every Pariſh-Church within that City, and the Liberties berties thereof, as they were given in by the ſeveral Incumbents, in the Year 1636. and now remain in a Manuſcript Book in Sion-College Library. Then of the Onera or Burdens of every Church, wherein I calculated the Firſt-Fruits of every Pariſh-Church from the Biſhop of London's Book of Tenths, whereby I muſt acquaint the Reader by the Way, that, I find, the Valor Beneficiorum printed in 1680. to be extreamly Erroneous in what relates to the Pariſhes in this Dioceſe. The Biſhop's Procurations, as I found them in the Regiſtry in an old Viſitation-Book, in Biſhop Ridley's time, as they were then, and ſtill are charged, and collected; and the Procurations and Synodals of the ſeveral Archdeacons, as they have been tranſmitted to me by their Regiſtraries. And, finally, a Catalogue of the Incumbents for ſome Hundreds of Years of each Pariſh-Church; of their Qualifications and Degrees; of the times of their Admiſſion and Inſtitution; how their Churches became void, by Death, Reſignation, or otherwiſe; and the Names of their Patrons; quoting in the right-hand Margin the Names of thoſe Books in the London-Regiſtry, out of which theſe Obſervations have been extracted, among which there are ſome in the Archbiſhops-Regiſtry (uſually kept in the Vicar-General's Office in Doctor's-Commons) before the Names of which there is R. C. for Reg. Cant. and between the Names of theſe Books and the Incumbents are theſe Letters, a, b, c, &c. before the Names of ſuch as I have found any thing of, referring to what follows concerning them.

And thus having given the Reader an Account of the Occaſion and Method of the enſuing Hiſtory, contain'd in Two Volumes, I have nothing more to add, but the Titles of thoſe Books in the London-Regiſtry, and wherein the ſame is defective, which Books are entitled as follows:

THE
OF
S. PAUL, IN LONDON.

FORASMUCH as this Cathedral-Church is the Prime and Metropolitan Church of all the Dioceſe, and for that reaſon deſerves to be firſt treated of, I ſhall therefore begin with it; giving firſt a ſhort account of S. Paul, to whoſe Commemoration this Cathedral is dedicated; and then, according to the Method I have propounded, proceed to the Biſhops, Deans, Archdeacons, Prebendaries, and Petty-Canons; and after that, go on with the Pariſh-Churches, and Religious Houſes, which are or have been within the Limits of this Dioceſe of London, in an Alphabetical order. And firſt of

BRITISH MUSEUM

S. PAUL.

S. PAUL was deſcended of the Tribe of Benjamin, born in the City of Tarſus, the Metropolis of Cilicia, a City rich and populous, an Academy and Roman Municipium. He came up to Jeruſalem, and there became a Diſciple of Gamaliel a famous Phariſee. He was converted to the Faith of Chriſt in that miraculous manner which is ſet down in the Acts of the Apoſtles. He afterwards chang'd his Name of Saul into that of Paul, after he had openly converted and baptiz'd the Proconſul Sergius Paulus, ſay ſome; others, that he aſſum'd that Name at his Converſion; and others, that he had a double Name given him at his Circumciſion, Saul, relating to his Jewiſh Original, and Paul, referring to the Roman Corporation where he was born. The Hiſtory of his Travels, and Preaching, down to his Impriſonment at Rome, is written by S. Luke in the Acts. We don't certainly know what he did after his Enlargement; ſome of the Ancients were of opinion that he went into Spain, but this is very uncertain, and the contrary ſeems to be more probable: Be that as it will, 'tis certain that he was beheaded afterwards at Rome, for his Religion, by Nero's Command, towards the 64th Year of the common Computation. He has written Fourteen Epiſtles, all which Antiquity has own'd to be genuine and canonical, excepting the Epiſtle to the Hebrews, concerning which, there has been formerly ſome doubt, and ſome Perſons have ſuppos'd, that it was written in Hebrew.

Du Pin Hiſt. Eccl. Writers, I. Vol. 44.

His Life has been written at large (among the Lives of the other Apoſtles) by the Reverend and Learned Dr. William Cave, publiſh'd Anno 1676. who tells us, That the place of his Execution was the Aquæ Salviæ, three Miles from Rome, where his Head was ſtruck off with a Sword; from which Inſtrument of his Execution the Cuſtom, no doubt, firſt aroſe of Picturing him with a Sword in his Right Hand. He was buried in the Via Oſtienſis, about Two Miles from Rome, over whoſe Grave, about the Year 318. Conſtantine the Great, at the inſtance of Pope Sylveſter, built a ſtately Church; which afterwards, as too narrow and little for the Honour of ſo great an Apoſtle, Valentinian, or rather Theodoſius the Emperour, cauſed to be taken down, and a larger and more noble to be built in the room of it.

Niceph. Hiſt. Eccl. lib. 2. cap. 37.

As to his Perſon, we find it thus deſcrib'd: He was little and low of ſtature and ſomewhat ſtooping, his Complexion fair, his Countenance grave, his Head ſmall, his Eyes carrying a kind of Beauty and Sweetneſs in them, his Eye-brows a little hanging over, his Noſe long but gracefully bending, his Beard thick, and, like the Hair of his Head, mixt with grey Hairs.

Feaſts of S. P. I. Jan. 25.

There are Three Feſtivals celebrated in Memory of S. Paul. The Firſt is of his Converſion, which is held yearly on the 25th of January. And tho' formerly it was not reckon'd among the Holy-days obſerv'd by the Reformed Church of England, yet Services were appointed to be celebrated in the Church on that Day, and an eſpecial Collect, with an Epiſtle and Goſpel, ſet down in the Book of Common-Prayer for that Feſtival. But ſince the Reſtauration of King Charles II. (to wit) in the 14th of his Reign, Anno Dom. 1662. this Feſtival of S. Paul (with that of S. Barnabas) are required to be celebrated, as Holy-days, by the Act of Uniformity, which eſtabliſheth the Book of Common-Prayer, as now uſed with all its Additions and Alterations.

II. June 29.

The Second, is that of S. Paul and S. Peter, celebrated June 29. in Memory of both their Paſſions, which fell on that day together, and by ſome is call'd Bis Feſta Dies.

III. June 30.

The Third, is of the Paſſion or Commemoration of S. Paul alone, celebrated on the 30th of June, for this Reaſon; becauſe the Biſhop of Rome was wont upon one and the ſame Day to officiate his Pontifical Offices in both Churches (to wit) in that of the Vatican and that of S. Paul: But when it appear'd that this could not well be perform'd, by reaſon of the too far Diſtance of the Places one from the other, without too much, and almoſt intolerable Labour, it was thought better, that on the Firſt Day the Solemnity of them both ſhould be celebrated in the Vatican-Church, and the next day following the ſame Duties ſhould be performed in the Church of S. Paul; in which place might be more fully completed, what in that behalf might fortune to be omitted on the day before.

Thus much of S. Paul. Now of the Church dedicated to him.

S. Paul's Cathedral.

THIS once ſtately Cathedral Church of S. Paul was firſt founded and erected in the place, where of old time (ſome have conjectur'd) ſtood a Temple of Diana; by Ethelbert King of Kent, about the Year 610, dedicated to S. Paul the Apoſtle, and Doctor of the Gentiles, of which Mellitus was made the firſt Biſhop, who was conſecrated Biſhop of the See of London, Anno Dom. 604. by S. Auguſtin the Monk, the firſt Archbiſhop of Canterbury; who, againſt the expreſs Orders of Pope Gregory, (ſaith Mr. Camden) tranſlated the Metropolitical See from London to Canterbury.

Brit. E. no. 315.

This Church of S. Paul, after the firſt building thereof, often ſuffer'd by Fire: The firſt time whereof was An. 961. For in that Year it is ſaid, Pauli Monaſterium fuit combuſtum, & eodem anno poſtea reſtauratum. But the next (of which our Engliſh Hiſtorians generally take notice) was in 1087, or (as ſome ſay) 1088, in which the City was in a manner conſum'd by Fire.

Chron. Sax. 11.

But Maurice, newly made Biſhop of London, intending to re-edify this Church, began the Foundation of that magnificent Pile, which ſtood (tho' in a ruinous Condition by our late deteſtable Rebellion) till it was wholly conſum'd in that dreadful Conflagration, which happen'd in this City of London, An. 1666. in the beginning of September. But that Structure, which Maurice began, neither he, nor his Succeſſor Richard de Belmeis, tho' each of 'em ſate twenty Years Biſhop of London, and the later employ'd all his Revenues upon this Fabrick; were able to finiſh.

Hiſt. Paul. 6.

It had again a great Damage by Fire on December 22. in the Firſt of King Stephen, 1135; but Richard Fitz-Neale, Biſhop of London, in the Reign of Richard I. was at vaſt Charge and great Care to reſtore it. Hiſt. Paul. 6.

Some Years after, they began with the Steeple, which was finiſh'd in the Year 1221, or 1222; and then going on with the Choir, it was finiſh'd in 1240, as may ſeem by the new Dedication of it in that very Year, which was done with great Solemnity: Roger, ſurnam'd Niger, then Biſhop of London, being the chief Promoter thereof. Matth. Paris will have this Dedication to have been in 1242. Ibid. 11. Mat. Par. 595.

The moſt of the Charge of carrying on ſo great a Work, was by way of Indulgences; by which means the Roof alſo of the old Structure, then in a ruinous Condition, was now made New, or ſubſtantially Repair'd. Hiſt. Paul. 11.

The farther Enlargement of this Church, long before intended, being the whole Extent of that which lately bore the Name of S. Faith's Church, began Anno 1256, (ſome ſay 1251.) and the croſs Iſles, was likewiſe carried on by the like Indulgences, and the main of the Work was accompliſh'd about the Year 1283. Ibid. 12.

Henry de Lacy, Earl of Lincoln, was a great Benefactor to that part of it then call'd The New Work, as was alſo Ralph de Baldock whilſt Dean, and afterwards when Biſhop of London; who were buried there: The firſt in S. Dunſtan's Chappel, which was at the Eaſt-end of the South-Iſle; and the later in that part of the new Work which was call'd Our Lady's Chappel. Ibid. 15.

About the Year 1312, was the Pavement of the new Work made of good and firm Marble; and within three Years after, a great part of the Spire (which was Timber cover'd with Lead) being weak and in danger of falling, was taken down, and a new Croſs, with a Pomel well gilt, ſet on the top thereof. In which Croſs the Reliques of divers Saints were put by Gilbert de Segrave, then Biſhop of London, with great and ſolemn Proceſſion, on the 12th of October. Ibid.

In the ſame Year alſo was an exact Meaſure taken of this ſtately and magnificent Church, both in Length, Bredth and Height; by which the Length thereof was found to contain 690 Foot (Stow ſays 720) the Breadth 130 Foot, the Height of the Roof of the Weſt-part from the Floor 102 Foot; the Height of the Roof of the new Fabrick (viz. Eaſt from the Steeple) from the Pavement 88 Foot; the whole Body of the Church 150 Foot; the ſpace of Ground on which it ſtood extending to three Acres and an half, one Rood and an half, and ſix Perches; the Height of the Tower-Steeple from the level Ground 260 Foot; the Height of the Spire of Wood cover'd with Lead 274 Foot; and yet the whole (ſaith my Author) viz. Tower and Spire exceeded not 520 Foot. The Ball above the Head of the Spire being ſo large as it would contain within it ten Buſhels of Corn. The Length of the Croſs above the ſaid Pomel or Ball 15 Foot, and the Traverſe of the ſaid Croſs 6 Foot. All which being written in a certain Tablet with large Characters, heretofore hung on the North-part of the Choir. Ibid.

On Candlemas-Eve, in the Year 1444. a Fire happened in the Timber-work of the Steeple, occaſion'd by Lightning; and tho' happily quench'd by the Morrow Maſs-Prieſt of Bow, did ſuch hurt therein, that it was not ſufficiently repair'd till the Year 1462. but then a coſtly Weather-Cock made of Copper and gilt (the length thereof from the Head to the Tail being four Foot; the Bredth over the Wings three Foot and half; and Weight of it Forty Pounds) was ſet up; the Shaft whereon it ſtood, which was fifteen Foot ſix Inches long, and the Traverſe five Foot and ten Inches, all of firm Oak, having a Cover of Lead plated over with Copper; the Compaſs of the Ball being nine Foot one Inch, as it appear'd by meaſure at the taking down thereof for its better Repair, Anno 1553. Ibid 133, &c.

But not long after this, viz. on the 4th of June 1561. (3 Eliz.) between the Hours of One and Two in the Afternoon, as appear'd by a relation thereof upon Oath, before the Biſhop of London, and recorded in his Regiſtry [lib. Grindall] Stow ſaith, between Three and Four, a far worſe Miſchance befel it by Lightning alſo, that ſet it on fire about three Yards from the top; which having conſum'd the whole Spire, did ſpread it ſelf to the upper Roof of the Church and Iſles, totally burning all the Rafters and what elſe was combuſtible, within the ſpace of four Hours; whereupon, the Queen forthwith directed her Letters to the Lord Mayor of London, willing him to take Order for the ſpeedy repairing of the ſame; which good Work was proſecuted with ſuch Diligence, that by the Benevolence of the Queen, the Citizens of London, the Clergy of the Province of Canterbury, and others (which amounted in the whole to 6700 l. 13 s. 4 d. ob.) all the Roofs of Timber were perfectly finiſh'd and cover'd with Lead before the Month of April 1566. But the Steeple, tho' divers Models were made of it, was let alone, neither was any thing more attempted towards it, during the Life of that Queen, no, nor in the time of King James I. till the eighteenth of his Reign; but then, to encourage the Repair of this decay'd Fabrick, he came himſelf in ſolemn Proceſſion to this Cathedral, on Sunday the 26th of March, 1620. where having paid his Devotions, and heard a Sermon, he went to the Biſhop's Palace, and after Conſultation had there about ſo noble and pious a Work, he at length iſſued out his Royal Commiſſion under the Great Seal of England, dated the 16th. of November following, directed to the Lord Mayor of London, the Arch-Biſhop of Canterbury, and to a great many others of the Nobility, Biſhops, Knights, Divines, and Gentlemen, for the carrying on this great Work: But the Collection of Money going ſlowly on, the Proſecution of the Work became at laſt neglected; till Doctor Laud became Biſhop of London, who procur'd another Commiſſion from King Charles I. bearing date the 10th. of April 1631. by virtue whereof they went ſo effectually about the Buſineſs, that in April 1633. the Work it ſelf was begun, and carry'd on by the ſpace of nine Years, many Perſons contributing highly to it, the King himſelf, at his own Charge, erecting that moſt magnificent and ſtately Portico at the Weſt-End; and Sir Paul Pindar, at his own Charge, firſt repairing the Decays of that goodly Partition made at the Weſt-End of the Choir, richly adorning the ſame both without and within, and beautifying the Choir it ſelf, and then beſtowing 4000 l. in repairing the South-Croſs; ſo that, except the Steeple, which was intended to be wholly taken down, and by ſtronger Pillars to ſupport it, built in proportion to the Church, with a Spire of Stone being ſuitable thereunto, being ready ſcaffolded for that purpoſe, all the reſt was perfectly finiſh'd as to the Walls and Cover of Lead. The total Sum receiv'd in the ſeveral Years, from 1631. to 1643. towards Hiſt. Paul. 173. the Repair of this Church, amounted in the whole (according to my Author) to 101330 l. 4 s. 8 d.

But the Flames of our Civil-Diſſenſions breaking out in October 1642. put an unhappy period to this glorious Work: For, in March following, the Money, Goods, and Materials, bought or given for the repairing this Church, were ſeiz'd by Order of Parliament, and the Body of the Church afterwards converted into a Horſe-Quarter for Soldiers; and part of the Choir, with the reſt of the Building Eaſtward from it, was, by a Partition-Wall made of Brick Anno 1649. diſpos'd of for a Preaching-place, which ſo continued till the Reſtauration of King Charles II. Anno 1660. and then it was made the Choir, whilſt the other parts of the Church were repair'd; which was deſign'd, had not that dreadful Fire, which broke out Septemb. 2. 1666. prevented it, laying in Aſhes and Ruins the whole Fabrick of this Church, and the greateſt part of the City.

Thus lay this Church in Ruins, but not like to remain ſo long; for, the 19 Car. II. ſame Year an Act of Parliament was paſs'd for the Rebuilding the City, as alſo of this Cathedral-Church, and other Churches laid waſt by the ſaid dreadful Fire; wherein a Tax was laid upon Coals (which hath been ſeveral times renew'd ſince) for that End and Purpoſe; by Means whereof, after the old ruin'd Walls were pull'd down, and the Rubbiſh remov'd, the Foundation of a new Cathedral-Church in place thereof was laid, A.D. 1675. which is not yet finiſh'd, and therefore I ſhall leave this maſſy Pile of Building to ſpeak for it ſelf, when brought to Perfection.

As to what farther concerns the Chappels, Chantries, Monuments, and Inſcriptions, and alſo all other Structures in and about the old Church, I ſhall refer the Reader to Sir William Dugdale's Hiſtory of the ſame, and often by me quoted, and only ſhall add what he hath taken no notice of, viz. what I have found concerning the Gifts for the Maintenance of the Paul's-Croſs- Sermons, which were generally given to the Lord Mayor and Aldermen for that purpoſe.

The Names of the Donors, and of the Sums, which they gave (as far as I have yet found) are as follows,

The Perſons that are to preach theſe Sermons, are from time to time appointed by the Biſhop of London, and are choſen out of ſuch as either have been or are of either of our Univerſities, by turns: They have uſually about a Months notice before; and had each of them 45 s. as a Reward, and Four days Diet and Lodging, at the Houſe of ſuch Perſon as the Biſhop did appoint, who is commonly call'd the Shunamite, who, for the ſame was allow'd 15 s per Week. But the Preacher's Reward is now reduc'd to 35 s. paid by the City, and 5 s. by the Church.

The Pulpit-Croſs, where theſe Sermons were wont to be preached every Sunday in the Forenoon, before it was pull'd down in the late rebellious Times, ſtood about the midſt of S. Paul's Church-Yard, and was of Timber cover'd with Lead, mounted upon Steps of Stone. The Antiquity of which Croſs was to Stow unknown; but he gives us ſome Memorials of it in the Times of Henry III. and Edward I. and that it was by Tempeſt of Lightning and Thunder defaced; and that Thomas Kempe (who was Biſhop of London from the 28th of Henry VI. to the 5th of Henry VII.) built it in the Form it lately ſtood.

Ibid. 357.

This Cathedral-Church of S. Paul hath a Biſhop, a Dean, a Precentor, Chancellor, Treaſurer, and formerly four, now five Archdeacons, namely, of London, Eſſex, Middleſex, Colcheſter, and S. Albans. It hath thirty Prebendaries, twelve Petty-Canons, ſix Vicars-Choral, and ſeveral other inferiour Officers.

The Number of thirty Prebendaries, in this Cathedral-Church, was confirmed by Pope Gregory, on the Nones of November, in the Third Year of his Pontificate.

Reg. Dec. & Cap. lib. A. fol. 23.

Biſhops of London.

AT what Time Chriſtian Religion was firſt publickly receiv'd in this Iſland, there were eſtabliſh'd in the ſame Twenty Eight Seas, or Cathedral-Churches, whereof Three were Archbiſhopricks: York, whoſe Province was Scotland and the North of England: Caerlegion, (now call'd Caerleon upon Uske) to which the Churches of Wales were ſubject: And laſtly, London, that had the Juriſdiction over the reſt of England.

To ſpeak of the Archbiſhops of London, there is not any preciſe Catalogue or continuate Hiſtory of them, and therefore I ſhall wholly omit them, and give an Account only of ſuch Biſhops as have enjoy'd that Sea ſince it was firſt made a Biſhoprick, after S. Auguſtine had eſtabliſh'd his Metropolitical Sea at Canterbury.

I find a Catalogue of the Biſhops of London entred in their own Regiſtry, in the beginning of the Book Tunſtall, and there inſerted by the Command (as is there ſaid) of Biſhop Bancroft; but at the bottom of the Page, a Direction to find them regiſtred in a better order in the ſame Biſhop's Time, in the Book Grindall, fol. 359. But obſerving ſome difference in their Names, Order, and other Circumſtances in other Catalogues, viz. in the Regiſtry of the Dean and Chapter of S. Paul's, Biſhop Godwyn, and Stow's Survey of London; and having lately met with a Book entitled Hiſtoria de Epiſcopis & Decanis Londin. &c. publiſh'd by the late Learned Mr. Henry Wharton, Anno 1695. I have out of theſe, eſpecially out of Mr. Wharton's Book, extracted the moſt exact Catalogue that I can compoſe, which, after I have given you the Preamble or Introduction to the fore-mention'd London-Catalogue, as I find it written in the London-Regiſtry, I ſhall inſert as will follow hereafter:

The Preamble to the London-Catalogue.

Grindal. 359. "Temporibus Britonum in urbe London multi floruerunt Archiepiſcopi, quorum nomina nondum reperire potui, excepto Guielmo London Metropolitano, qui circiter Annum Domini 593. floruit, & Cerno à ſede Gloceſtrenſi in Archiepiſcopum London Tranſlato Anno Gratiæ 553. ſicut refert Galfridus Monmuthenſis in Chronographia ſua. Sed Anglorum temporibus Auguſtinus, qui primo ſedit Londini, poſtea ad Cantuariam metropoliticam tranſtulit dignitatem; unde beatus Gregorius eidem Auguſtino ſic ſcribit. Quia nova Anglorum Eccleſia ad omnipotentis Dei Gratiam eodem Domino largiente, & te laborante perducta eſt, uſum Tibi Pallii in ea ad ſolum miſſarum ſolemnia agenda concedimus, ita ut per loca ſingula duodecim Epiſcopos ordines, qui tuæ ſubjaceant ditioni, quatenus Londinenſis Civitatis Epiſcopus ſemper impoſterum à Synodo propria debeat conſecrari, atque Honoris Pallium ab hac ſancta & Apoſtolica (cui Deo auctore deſervio) ſede percipiat. Ad Eboracenſem vero civitatem te volumus Epiſcopum mittere, qui duodecim Epiſcopos ordinario Metropolitani honore perfruatur, quem tamen tuæ fraternitatis volumus diſpoſitioni ſubjacere. Poſt obitum vero tuum ita Epiſcopis, quos ordinaverit, præſit, ut Londinenſes Epiſcopi nullo modo ditioni ſubjaceat; ſit vero inter Londinenſis & Eboracenſis civitatis Epiſcoporum impoſterum honoris iſta diſtinctio, ut ipſe prior habeatur, qui prius fuerit ordinatus.

Thus runs the ſaid Preamble; the latter part whereof is, as above intimated, part of Pope Gregory's Letter to Auguſtin, but with ſome Omiſſion, as to what concerns York; for thus it is in the ſaid Pope's Letter, viz. Bed. Hiſt. Eccl. lib. 1. cap. 29. "Ad Eboracum vero civitatem te volumus Epiſcopum mittere, quem ipſe judicaveris ordinare, ita duntaxat, ut ſi eadem civitas cum finitimis locis verbum Dei receperit, ipſe quoque duodecim Epiſcopos ordinet, & Metropolitani honore perfruatur; quia ei quoque (ſi vita comes fuerit) Pallium tribuere, Domino favente, diſponimus, quem tamen, &c. as above.

I. Wharton, de Epiſc. Lond. pag. 9. Mellitus, Abbot of a certain Monaſtery in Rome, was conſecrated Biſhop by Auguſtin, Archbiſhop of Canterbury, Ann. 604. London being given him for his Sea, where, King Ethelbert having built the magnificent Church of S. Paul, and endow'd it with ample Revenues (among which was Tillingham in Eſſex) he and his Succeſſors had their Seat. His Dioceſe conſiſted of the entire Kingdom of the Eaſt-Saxons, viz. The City of London, the Counties of Middleſex, Eſſex, and part of Hertfordſhire, namely, of that part which, in the Records of the Dioceſe, is called the Deanry of Braughinge, containing thirty Pariſhes, beſides Hamlets. Stow ſaith, he was made Biſhop of London in 619. but that is a Miſtake; for, in that Year he ſucceeded Laurentius in the Archbiſhoprick of Canterbury. The London-Catalogue ſays in 621. but erroneouſly; for he dyed Anno 624. VIII. Cal. Maii, after he had ſate Archbiſhop five Years; and was buried where Auguſtin, his Predeceſſor, was, in the Monaſtery of the Bleſſed Apoſtles S. Peter and S. Paul, without the Walls of Canterbury. He was expell'd out of the Dioceſe of London, after the Death of Sebert, King of the Eaſt-Saxons (whom he had converted) by his Sons, who relaps'd to Paganiſm. After which, the Province of the Eaſt-Saxons wanted Biſhops and holy Rites for about Thirty Eight Years.

II. Wharton, 12. Cedda, or Ceddi, ſucceeded Mellitus. He was educated in the Monaſtery of Lindisfarn (now Holy Iſland) and in the Year 653. at the Inſtigation of King Peada, he went out of Northumberland into Mercia, to preach the Chriſtian Faith: About which Time, Sigebert, King of the Eaſt-Saxons, converted by Oſwi, King of Northumberland, was baptized by Finan, Biſhop of the Northumbrians; and being return'd home, got Cedda, with another Prieſt, to come out of Mercia to inſtruct his Subjects in the Chriſtian-Religion. He ſtrenuouſly apply'd himſelf to the Work; and afterwards, going to viſit his Brethren at Lindisfarn, was conſecrated Biſhop of the Eaſt-Saxons, by the aforeſaid Biſhop Finan, about the Year (as 'tis thought) 654. He often viſited the North, where, at Leſtingham, he at laſt built a Monaſtery; the Government whereof, tho' abſent for the moſt part in his own Dioceſe, he held till his Death, which happen'd in his own Monaſtery aforeſaid, Anno 664. he dying there of the Plague that Year, on the 26th of October. After which, the See of London continu'd void for almoſt Two Years. The London-Catalogue ſays, he was conſecrated by Archbiſhop Mellitus, ann. 621. That of the Dean and Chapter of S. Paul's, inſerts him Biſhop of London ann. 621. by the Name of Ceddus. Stow places him in the Year 658. by the Name of Cedda or Chadda. See more of him in Weſt-Tilbury in Eſſex.

III. Ibid. 15. Wine, Biſhop of Wincheſter, being driven out of his Biſhoprick by Kenewaltho, King of the Weſt-Saxons, bought for Money of Wolfhere, King of the Mercians (to whom the Kings of the Eaſt-Saxons were then ſubject) the Biſhoprick of London, ann. 666. Rudburn writeth, That being touch'd in Conſcience for Simony, he retired Three Years before his Death to the Abby of Angl. Sac. 192. Wincheſter (of which he had formerly been a Monk) and ſpent the Remainder of his Days there in a Monaſtical Converſation. But Bede, who is more to be credited, ſays he remain'd at the City of London to the end of his Life. Bed. l. 3. c. 7. He died ann. 675. having ſate Biſhop Nine Years; the London-Catalogue ſays Fourteen Years; but that muſt needs be wrong, becauſe he was ſucceeded by Erkenwald in 675. He lies entomb'd in the North-part of the Presbytery at Wincheſter, upon the top of a Wall, where is to be ſeen this Inſcription, Hic jacent oſſa Wini Epiſcopi.

IV. Wharton, 16. Erkenwald, or Ercenwold, famous for Sanctity and Miracles. He is ſaid to be the Son of Offa (Creſſy ſays of Anna) King of the Eaſt-Angles, and born at Stallingborough in Lindſey. Whilſt a Youth, he was inſtructed in the Chriſtian Religion by Mellitus, Biſhop of London. He was conſecrated Biſhop of that Sea by Theodore, Archbiſhop of Canterbury, anno 675. Before he was Biſhop he built Two famous Monaſteries, one for himſelf at Charteſey in Surry, and the other for his Siſter Ethelburgh at Berking in Eſſex: Where (after he had beſtow'd much upon Building in his own Cathedral-Church, and in increaſing greatly the Revenues of the ſame) he died, as ſome will have it, after he had ſate Eleven Years Biſhop, viz. about the Year 685. The Time of his Death is not certain; but whenever he died, this is certain, that after his Death he was honour'd for a Saint. There were great Struglings after his Death, between the Canons of S. Paul's and the Monks of Chertſey, both challenging the Body to be buried with them. But in the mean time the People of London took away the Body, and caus'd it to be buried in his own Cathedral-Church, where it was inter'd in the Nave of the ſame: And afterwards, ann. 1140. but more ſolemnly after that in 1148. tranſlated and laid in a very ſumptuous Shrine, which ſome Years ſince ſtood in the Eaſt-part of the Cathedral-Church of S. Paul, above the high Altar; a Reſemblance whereof may be ſeen in the Hiſtory of S. Paul's Church 112. and his Life 181. His Obiit is commemorated April the 30th. Stow ſays he died 697.

V. Ibid. 19. Waldher, or Walsher, ſucceeded Erkenwold, but in what Year is uncertain, probably after April 685. Bede ſaith, he inveſted Sebbi, King of the Eaſt-Saxons, with the Monaſtical Habit, about the Year 694. Omitted in the Dean and Chapters Catalogue.

VI. Wharton, 19. Ingwald, the London-Catalogue ſaith, he ſate Biſhop there about the Year 704. He was aſſiſting at the Conſecration of Tatwin, Archbiſhop of Canterbury, ann. 731. He died about the Year 744. or 745.

VII. Ibid. 20. Chron. Saxon. Ecgwlf, or Egulf; in Stow, Engulfe, Egwolfe, or Egnald; he was preſent at the Council of Cloveſho (which a late Author, not without great probability, ſuppoſes to be) that which is now call'd Abingdon, in Berks, ann. 747.

VIII. Wharton, 20. Wigbed, aliàs Wigbet, Wigeth, Wigberus, Wibelrus, Wigetus, Sighab, or Sibbeb; in the London-Catalogue Mybehus; in that of the Dean and Chapter Mybethus, hath tranſmitted nothing to Poſterity, but his Name. Stow placeth him as Biſhop of London, ann. 754.

IX. Ibid. Eadbright, by ſome call'd Filbrith, Eadbricht, Eadbert; in the London-Catalogue Edberdus; in that of the Dean and Chapter Edbertus. Stow places him in 761.

X. Ibid. 21. Eadgar, or Edgar, he held the Sea of London, ann. 789. when he atteſted the Charter of King Offa given to the Church of Rocheſter. Stow places him in the Year 768.

XI. Ibidem. Kenewalchus, aliàs Cenwalh, Kenwald, Coenwalchus, and Kenwalk; in Stow, Kenewalth, Biſhop of London, 773.

XII. Eadbaldus, ackmowledg'd by all Hiſtorians and Catalogues to be Biſhop of London. Stow ſaith, ann. 784.

XIII. Ibid. 23. Heathobright, aliàs Hecbert, Heathoberht, Æathoberht, Herebert, Hadobricht, and Eadbert; in the London-Catalogue Heodoberdus; in that of the Dean and Chapter, Theodobertus; in Stow, Hedbert or Hethobert; and ſaith that he was Biſhop in 795. He died ann. 802.

XIV. Ibidem. Oſmund, or Oſemund, as in the London-Catalogue; or Oſwyn, as in Godwyn and Stow. He ſucceeded in the Year 802. as appears in the Acts of the Council of Cloveſho, in ann. 803. or rather, at the latter end of 802. He died before the Year 816.

XV. Ibid. 24. Æthelnoth, or Eathelnot; (in the Catalogues of London, and the Dean and Chapter, Ethenoth) he was preſent at the Synod of Celcuth, ann. 816. as appears by the Acts of that Council. Stow, by the Name of Ethelmoth, will have him Biſhop of London in 835. but that is an Error, as will appear by his Succeſſor.

XVI. Ibidem. Ceolbryht, aliàs Ceolbrichtus, Celbertus, or Ceolbertus (in the London-Catalogue Celebertus; in that of the Dean and Chapter Cerebertus) he was conſecrated before the Year 830. by Wlfred, Archbiſhop (of Canterbury). He ſate Biſhop of London ann. 838.

XVII. Ibid. 25. Deorwlf, aliàs Cerulphus, Cernulph, Dernulfus, Rebulphus, and Ceorulfus; in the London-Catalogue Cerolf; in that of the Dean and Chapter Cerolph; in Godwin, Renulphus or Ceorulfus; and the ſame in Stow, who reckons him to be Biſhop of London in 841. And Theodoric, whom Rad. Dediceto declares to have been Biſhop of London ann. 848. my Author ſuppoſes to be no other than this Deorwlf. That Dernulf, Biſhop of London, made his Profeſſion to Ceolnoth, Archbiſhop of Canterbury, appears by the Regiſtry of Canterbury.

XVIII. Ibidem. Swithulf, or Swytholf, ſucceeded, and was Biſhop of London ann. 851. and ſubſcrib'd the Charter of Crowland that Year.

XIX. Ibid. 26. Heahſtanus, by others call'd Etſtanus, Ælfſtan, Ealhſtan, Athelſtan, and Esſtan (in the London-Catalogue, Ethſtanus Primus; in that of the Dean and Chapter, Ethelſtan; in Godwin, Eadſtanus; in Stow, Edſtanus; which Two latter will have him Biſhop of London in 860. and that he then ſubſcrib'd the Charter of Crowland.) But that Charter my Author proves to be fictitious, and that they are more in the right, who ſpeak of his Death in 898. or 900.

XX. Ibidem. Wulfſius, aliàs Wulfſige and Wulſius (in the Catalogue of the Dean and Chapter, Wulſius; in that of Stow, Wulſius or Wolſius, whom he will have to have been Biſhop of London in 870. but erroneouſly.) He ſubſcrib'd the Royal Charters to the Monaſtery of Hide at Wincheſter, ann. 900. Indict. 4. and again in 904.

XXI. Ibid. 27. Ethelwardus, or Edelwardus, as in the Catalogues of London, and the Dean and Chapter; whom Stow (according to his often Error in his Catalogue) will have to have been Biſhop of London in 878.

XXII. Ibid. 28. Healhſtanus II. or Etſtan, Ealſtan, Elſtan, and Athelſtan (in the London-Cat. Elſtanus Secundus; in that of the Dean and Chapter, Elſtan.) He was Biſhop of London in the Reign of King Athelſtan, or after the Year 926. as appears in Mon. Ang. Tom. III. p. 302. Tho' Godwin ſays he died in 898. or 900. by miſtake, as I ſuppoſe, for Elſtan the Firſt; under the ſame Error likewiſe is Stow, as to the Year 900.

XXIII. Wharton, 28. Theodredus, or Theodoricus, or Theodore, ſurnam'd The Good; his Name occurs in the Charters of Malmsbury and Raculſer, in the Years 938. and 939. In the Catalogue of London he is ſaid to be conſecrated in the Year of Grace 848. with which agrees that of the Dean and Chapter: But this muſt needs be a wide Error. Godwin places him in the Year 900. but Stow ſaith he liv'd in 947. He is ſaid to be buried in the Church of S. Paul, in a high Tomb by the Window of the Vault or Underceoſt, lately call'd S. Faith's Church.

XXIV. Ibid. 24. Wulfſtanus I. or Wlſtanus; the Catalogue, at the end of the Chronology, calls him Leofuſtan. Stow will have him Biſhop in 922.

XXV. Ibidem. Brithelmus, by ſome Brichthelm and Byrhthelme; in the Catalogue of the Dean and Chapter Brithemus; in which, and in that of London, he is ſaid to die ann. Gratiæ 858. but this is a Miſtake of a Hundred Years; for, according to our Hiſtorians, he died ann. 958. He ſubſcrib'd the Charter of Abingdon, ann. 956. Stow places him Biſhop of London in 941.

XXVI. X. Strip. 25. Ibid. 1645. Dunſtan; he was born in the Firſt Year of King Athelſtan (919.) in the Weſtern-parts of England, then call'd Weſt-Saxony (Godwin ſays in Somerſetſhire.) His Father's Name was Herſtan, his Mothers Kinecid. He was educated at Glaſtonbury, where, afterwards, he was made Abbot by King Edmund, viz. ann. 942. according to Sim. Dunelm. in 944. according to Creſſy; and introduc'd Benedictine-Monks. He was afterwards expell'd thence by King Edwyn; recall'd by King Edgar, and prefer'd by him to the Sea of Worceſter, ann. 957. then to this of London (which ſome will have, that he held only in Commendam) ann. 958. and laſt of all to Canterbury, before the end of the Year 958. The London-Catalogue ſays, that he receiv'd the Biſhoprick of London by way of Commendam, ann. Gratiæ 959. where he ſate Biſhop one Year, and afterwards was made Archbiſhop of Canterbury; Stow ſays, in 960. Godwin, in 961. and ſo 'tis in the Chron. Saxon. He died 14. Cal. of June, (19. of May) ann. 988. and was buried in Chriſt-Church, Canterbury, that is, the old Church; and afterwards ſolemnly tranſlated thence, by Archbiſhop Lanfranc, into the new Church, after he had built the ſame, near unto the high Altar on the South-ſide, and there intomb'd; which Tomb was afterwards call'd, the Altar of S. Dunſtan. Som. Antiq. Cant. 236.

XXVII. Wharton, 32. Ealhſtanus III. Ælfſtanus, Eſtanus, Ealfſtan, Athelſtan, and Elfſtan (in the London-Catalogue, Elſtanus Tertius, and plac'd before Dunſtan;) he ſucceeded Dunſtan, and was Biſhop more than Thirty Years; for he ſubſcrib'd the Charter of Worceſter, ann. 964. of Malmsbury 974. of Rocheſter 995. and of Siricius, the Archbiſhop, the ſame Year; and laſtly, he ſubſcrib'd the Charter of Wolverhampton, ann. 996. The Church of S. Paul was burnt, ann. 961. and rebuilt the ſame Year (this Man being Biſhop of London) Witneſs the Saxon Chronology lately publiſh'd, pag. 117.

XXVIII. Ibidem. Wulfſtanus II. or Wlſtan (in the London-Catalogue, Wulſtanus) he was conſecrated ann. 996. he ſubſcrib'd the Charter of Rocheſter, ann. 998. of Septon (Shaftsbury) 1001. and of Canterbury, 1002. He is omitted by Stow.

XXIX. Ibidem. Ælfhunus, otherwiſe call'd Albunus, Elwinus, and Alphunus; he buried the Body of S. Ælfege, Archbiſhop, and Martyr, in the Church of S. Paul, London, ann. 1012. and the Year following carried Edward and Alphred, the Sons of King Æthelred, to whom he was Tutor, into Normandy. In the Catalogues of London, and the Dean and Chapter, Adelfunus; in Godwin, Album. Stow places before him Elphinus, Biſhop of London, in 1004. and Alwinus, Biſhop of London, in 1010.

XXX. Ibid. 34. Ælfwius, by others call'd Alwinus, and Alwius, or Alwy, ſucceeded after the Year 1015. He ſubſcrib'd the Charter of King Canutus to the Monks of Ely, ann. 1022. and to another of the ſame King to thoſe of Canterbury, dated in the Year 1023. He died before the Year 1035. In the London-Catalogue, by the Name of Aelwy, he is ſaid to be Biſhop of London, and Abbot of Eveſham, ann. 1044. In that of the Dean and Chapter, placed alſo in the ſame Year 1044. by the Name of Elwy, but both miſtaken; for his next Succeſſor Ælfword, was both Biſhop of London and Abbot of Eveſham at that time. He is omitted, or at leaſt miſtaken, by Stow.

XXXI. Wharton, 34. Ælſwordus, who was alſo call'd Ailſwardus, and Ailwordus (in the London-Catalogue, Elſmord; in that of the Dean and Chapter, Elſunord; in Godwin, Elſward, or Alword; but omitted in Stow) of being Abbot of Eveſham, he was made Biſhop of London by the Favour of King Canutus, his Kinſman, before the Year 1035. and held them both: But, in the Year 1044. finding himſelf infirm, and by reaſon thereof, unable to manage the Affairs of his Biſhoprick, he would have retir'd to Eveſham; but the Monks there refuſing him, he betook himſelf to the Abby of Ramſey, from whence he firſt came; and dying there, gave to that Abby his Books, and other rich Ornaments, which he had deſign'd for Eveſham, had they not prov'd ungrateful. Authors differ about the Time of his Death; but Mr. Wharton rather ſticks to the Account of Florence, who ſays, he died ann. 1044. 25th. of July, feria quarta.

XXXII. Ibid. 37. Robertus, or Rotbertus, a Norman, was, by the Gift of S. Edward, the King, who favour'd the Normans more than was fit, made Biſhop of London, anno 1044. (with which Stow agrees; in the Catalogue of London he is call'd Robertus Primus, and ſaid to be Biſhop of London, ann. 1050. and alſo in that of the Dean and Chapter.) He was tranſlated thence to Canterbury, ann. 1050. (with which agrees the London-Catalogue and Godwin) in the latter end of the Year, viz. in Lent before Eaſter 1051. He was forc'd out of England (for ſetting King Edward againſt his Mother Emma) with other Biſhops of the Norman Nation, ann. 1052. and died at the Abby of Gemetica, in Normandy (of which he had been Abbot) ann. 1070.

XXXIII. Ibid. 38. William, a Norman, Chaplain to King Edward the Confeſſor, ſucceeded. Spegacius, or Spewcafocus, Abbot of Abendon, to whom the King had given the Biſhoprick of London, being rejected. William was conſecrated Biſhop of that Sea, ann. 1051. in the Month of September. In the Catalogue of London he is call'd Willielmus Primus, and there ſaid to die about the Year 1067. and in the Inſcription over his Tomb, in the Year 1070. and alſo in Stow; but all in the wrong, according to Mr. Wharton, who, by ſufficient Authority, makes it appear, that he was preſent at a Synod in London, ann. 1072. and again in another Synod there in 1075. (in which Year doubtleſs he died; for in that Year he was ſucceeded, as will appear hereafter.) He was buried in the Nave of the Church, towards the Weſt; and in a grateful Memorial of thoſe antient Privileges, which he procur'd William the Conqueror to confirm to the Citizens of London, they yearly went, even in the Memory of our Fathers, in ſolemn Proceſſion round his Tomb, where they cauſ'd an Epitaph to be engraven, as an Acknowledgment of their Gratitude, which is extant in Hiſt. Paul. 51. and in Godwin, de Præſulibus Londini.

XXXIV. Ibid. 42. Hugo de Orivalle (or de Orwell) was advanc'd to this Sea by King William the Conqueror, ann. 1075. (Godwin and Stow place him Biſhop of London in the Year 1070. but erroneouſly.) Within ſhort ſpace after his Preferment, he fell into a Leproſie, for Cure whereof, he ſuffer'd himſelf to be gelt, but it little avail'd him; for, notwithſtanding, he continu'd a Leper all his Life, and ſo died ann. 1084. Godwin ſays, the 12th. of January, with whom the London-Catalogue agrees.

XXXV. Ibid. 43. Mauricius, Chaplain and Chancellour to the Conquerour, was by him nominated to the Sea of London, in a Convention of the Biſhops and great Men at Gloceſter, ann. 1085. He was conſecrated at Wincheſter, on Chriſtmas-day, by Lanfrank, Archbiſhop of Canterbury, ann. 1086. (Godwin, and the London-Catalogue, ſay 1087. as alſo that of the Dean and Chapter; but Stow, 1085.) In the beginning of his Time, the Church of S. Paul (together with the greateſt part of the City) being burnt, he, having it ſeems, in ſome ſort, injur'd this Church, in Compenſation thereof, laid the Foundation of a vaſt Cathedral, which, neither he, nor his Succeſſor, liv'd to finiſh, tho' each of them was Biſhop Twenty Years after, and did their utmoſt endeavour for the Advancement of ſo noble a Work. To him the Conquerour gave the Caſtle of Stortford, with its Appurtenances. He crown'd King Henry (the Archbiſhop being abſent) ann. 1100. Auguſt 5. and died (as is agreed by all) ann. 1107. and, according to the London-Catalogue, and Godwin, on the VI. Cal. of October, or 26. of September.

XXXVI. Ibid. 46. Richard de Belmeis Primus, or de Beaumes, ſurnam'd Rufus (by Stow, call'd Beame, Beamor; by ſome, Bearvis) ſucceeded; he was elected Biſhop of this Sea, ann. 1108. ordain'd Prieſt by Anſelm, Archbiſhop of Canterbury, in Pentecoſt, at Mortlake, and conſecrated by him in his Chappel at Pageham, July the 26th. following; and, the ſame Year, was, by the King, conſtituted Warden of the Marches of Wales. He beſtow'd all his Epiſcopal Revenues towards the rebuilding the Cathedral-Church of S. Paul. He procur'd of the King part of his Caſtle-Ditch of the Palatine-Tower for the Wall of the Church-Yard, which he almoſt totally encompaſs'd with a very ſtrong one; as alſo the King's Command, That all thoſe Ships and Veſſels that brought Stone to the Church ſhould be free from Toll or Cuſtom. Moreover, the King granted him all great Fiſh that might thenceforth be taken within the Precincts of his Lands. And laſtly, gave him, and his Succeſſors, the Tyth of all his Veniſon within the County of Eſſex. He purchas'd whole Streets near his Cathedral-Church, where Lay-men dwelt; pull'd down the Houſes for a Cœmetery or Church-Yard, and near enclos'd the ſame with a Wall. He gave, for the Service of the Altar, the Rent of his new Wharf upon the River of Thames (now, as is ſuppos'd, call'd Paul's-Wharf) and reſtor'd to the Canons of the Church the Wood of Edulveſnaſe (which he had inclos'd within his Park at Clachentone;) farther, giving to them the Benefit of all Oblations, which ſhould thenceforth be offer'd on the Feſtivals of S. Peter and S. Paul, upon the Altar of thoſe Saints whereat they were attendant. He alſo gave to Hugh, the School-Maſter of S. Paul's School, and his Succeſſors, the Habitation of Durandus, at the corner of the Turret or Bell-Tower, together with the cuſtody of the Library belonging to this Church; and granted to Henry, his Succeſſor, a Medow at Fulham, and the Tythes of Yaling and Madeley. Thus this Biſhop, ſitting (as his Predeceſſor did) near Twenty Years, and employing all his Revenues towards the Endowment of the Officers, and the Fabrick of his Church, was yet nothing near able to finiſh it: So that growing weary of this tedious Work, he gave it over by little and little; and diverting his Subſtance another way, he founded a College of Regular-Canons, at S. Oſyths, in Eſſex; divers times deſigning to reſign his Biſhoprick, and to become a Regular-Canon in his own new-built Monaſtery; and the rather, becauſe he was ſeiz'd with a Palſie about Four Years before his Death, which render'd him unfit for his Epiſcopal Office: But he deferr'd ſo long the execution of this Intent from day to day, that he was ſurpriz'd by Death, January the 16th. 1127. and was buried in the Church of S. Oſyth.

XXXVII. Wharton, 51.

Gilbertus Univerſalis, a Canon of Lions, ſucceeded; he was conſecrated at Canterbury, by William the Archbiſhop, 1128. January the 22d. A very aged, but a very good Man, ſays one; others report him to be very covetous, and very rich, but a very Learned Man; but he did nothing worth notice-taking in his Dioceſe. It ſeems he was a Man of ſome Note in thoſe days, to whom S. Bernard wrote ſeveral Epiſtles. He died travelling towards Rome (Godwin ſays in 1133. the London-Catalogue, in 1139. V. Id. Auguſti; Stow, in 1141. having ſate Fourteen Years;) but, according to Mr. Wharton, theſe are all in an Error, who tells us, That according to the old Annals at Wincheſter, he died in 1134. Auguſt the 10th. tho', in the Obituary of Canterbury, he is recorded to die Auguſt the 8th.

XXXVIII. Ibid. 54.

Robertus de Sigillo ſucceeded. Near Two Years after the Death of Gilbert, King Stephen conven'd a Council at Weſtminſter, in the Time of Eaſter, 1136. where many of the Canons of London, againſt the King's Will, and the Votes of the Dean and others of the ſaid Canons, choſe for their Biſhop Anſelm, Abbot of S. Edmunds, and Nephew of the late Archbiſhop Anſelm, and procur'd him for Money to be confirm'd at Rome by the Pope, and enthroniz'd him in S. Paul's Church, ann. 1137. But the Dean and his Party, in the mean time, not neglecting their Cauſe, at laſt, by frequent Appeals to Rome, prevail'd to have the ſaid Anſelm's Election to be made void; who thereupon, not without great Difficulty, was receiv'd again into his Abby. Now, becauſe of the Civil-Wars, the Care of the Church of London, was by the Pope, with Conſent of the King, committed to Henry, Biſhop of Wincheſter, till at length Maud, the Empreſs, being receiv'd into London, ann. 1141. conferr'd this Biſhoprick on the ſaid Robert de Sigillo, a Monk of Redding; who, not long after, was taken at Fulham by Geffrey de Mandevil, a great Commander under King Stephen, and committed Priſoner to the Tower of London, and brought (it ſeems) to a great Ranſom. He gave to one Godfrey certain Churches belonging to his own Table (viz. the Churches of Sudminſter, Aldbury, Pelham, Furnells, and Pelham Sarners, which, by his next Succeſſor, were aſſign'd to the Office of Treaſurer (an Office by him newly conſtituted in this Church, and to the Succeſſors in that Office for ever.) He died (as 'tis ſaid) eating of Grapes tainted with Poiſon, in 1151. or 1150. having been Biſhop Nine or Ten Years. In the London-Catalogue he is call'd Robertus de Sigillo Secundus; and there ſaid to die IV. Cal. Octob. ann. 1150. Stow places him in 1142. and that he was Eleven Years Biſhop, and died in 1152.

XXXIX. Wharton, 58. Ricardus de Belmeis Secundus, Nephew to Richard de Belmeis the Firſt, by his Brother Walter, and Archdeacon of Middleſex; after the Death of the aforeſaid Robert, was promoted to the Sea of London. Authors differ ſomewhat about the Time of his Conſecration; ſome ſay, in the beginning of October 1152. others, in September (Godwin, in the beginning of October, 1151.) but Mr. Wharton gives us the moſt authentick Account out of the Archives of Canterbury, viz. That he was ordain'd Presbyter by Theobald, Archbiſhop of Canterbury, at Otteford, in 1152. Septemb. the 20th. and by him conſecrated, at Canterbury, the ſame Year, Septemb. the 28th. It is generally agreed, that he died in 1162. and, according to Diceto, and the London-Catalogue, on the 4th of May, or IV. Nonas Maii. Stow places him Biſhop in 1153. and ſays (but untruly) that he was Archdeacon of Eſſex.

XL. Ibid. 60. Gilbertus Foliot ſucceeded; he was once Prebendary of Newington, in this Church of S. Paul; he was, after that, made Abbot of Gloceſter (ſome will have it Leiceſter) about the Year 1139. from whence he was promoted to the Sea of Hereford, in 1148. (Godwin ſays, 1149.) and from thence elected to the Sea of London, in 1163. March 24. (Godwin ſays, he was Tranſlated in 1161. which, according to his own account, was before his Predeceſſor died) and inthron'd the 28th of April following; and was the firſt Engliſh Biſhop that was canonically tranſlated from one Biſhoprick to another. In all the Stirs between Thomas Becket, Archbiſhop of Canterbury, and King Henry II. (as may be read at large in Dr. Brady's Complete Hiſtory) he ſtuck to the King moſt faithfully, and was Partaker of all his Counſels. He gave ſome Ground, within S. Paul's Church-Yard, whereon to build a Houſe for the Dean; beſides other Utenſils for the Church. He died at London, ann. 1187. Februar. 18. when he had ſate Twenty Three Years, Ten Months, and Seventeen Days. Stow will have it, that he died in 1186.

XLI. Ibid. 70. Ricardus de Ely. After the Death of Gilbert, the Sea of London was void for more than Two Years; at length, the ſaid Richard de Ely, ſurnam'd Fitz-Neal (becauſe Son to Nigellus, Biſhop of Ely) a Canon of London, viz. Preb. of Kentiſh-Town, Archdeacon of Colcheſter and Ely, Dean of Lincoln, and the King's Treaſurer, was, by King Richard I. (according as his Father, King Henry II. had before deſign'd) nam'd to the Biſhoprick of London; to whoſe Election he willingly conſented, at Pipewell, 15. Septemb. 1189. He was conſecrated at Lambeth, by Baldwyn, Archbiſhop of Canterbury, ann. 1189. December 13. and inthroniz'd the ſame Day. He founded a Chantry in the Church of S. Paul, at the Altar of S. Thomas of Canterbury; and another at the Altar of S. Dionis, and aſſign'd Eight Marks, yearly Rent, to be receiv'd out of the Church of Ceſtrehunt (now Cheſhunt, in Hertfordſhire;) and gave to S. Paul's School all the Tyths of his Demeans at Fulham and Horſett. He died ann. 1198. Septemb. 10. when he had ſate Eight Years, Eight Months, and Ten Days.

XLII. Ibid. 73. Willelmus de S. Maria, (ſo call'd of S. Mariæ Eccleſia, a Norman) a Canon of York, and Dean of S. Martin's, London; alſo a Canon of S. Paul's, from whence he was choſen Biſhop of London, Septemb. 16. ann. 1198. and conſecrated at Weſtminſter, by Hubert, Archbiſhop of Canterbury, May 23. (Godwin ſays, June 22.) 1199. He was one of thoſe Biſhops that interdicted the whole Realm at the Pope's Command, March 24. 1208. and went privately out of England, and was exiſ'd Five Years. But this our Biſhop, in 1209. refus'd (tho' commanded) to excommunicate the King by Name. The King, whilſt the Biſhop was in Exile, demoliſh'd his Caſtle at Stortford: But afterwards, to make amends, gave him, and his Succeſſors, the Mannor of Stoke, near Gildeford, in Surry. At length, all things being reconcil'd, he return'd to his Biſhoprick, where, after he had ſate above One and Twenty Years, he, of his own accord, reſign'd, January 26. 1221. and took upon him the Habit of a Canon-Regular of S. Oſyth; where he is ſaid to have died, 1224. March 27. the London-Catalogue will have it X. Cal. June, ann. 1226. but erroneouſly, as appears hereafter by his Succeſſor. He founded a Chantry of One Prieſt, in the Church of S. Paul, to pray for the Souls of himſelf and Succeſſors.

XLIII. Wharton, 75. Euſtachius de Fauconberge, one of the King's Juſtices, Privy-Counſellor to King John, and King Henry III. ſent Twice by them Embaſſador into France; afterwards High-Treaſurer of England; was choſen Biſhop of London, in 1221. Februar. 25. conſecrated at Weſtminſter, by the Biſhop of Bath, Sarum, and Rocheſter, April 25. 1222. (the London-Catalogue, and Stow, ſay 1221. miſtaking, I ſuppoſe, his Election or Confirmation for his Conſecration. The Regiſter of the Dean and Chapter ſays, II. Cal. Novemb. 1222. Lib. A. fol. 88.) The Year following, a great Controverſie was ended between him and the Dean and Chapter of S. Paul, on the one part; and William, the Abbot, and the Monks of Weſtminſter, on the other, by the Arbitrators, who were the Archbiſhop of Canterbury, the Biſhops of Winton and Sarum, and the Priors of Merton and Dunſtable; whereby it was agreed, That the Monaſtery of Weſtminſter, and the Church of S. Margaret, adjoyning, ſhould be wholly exempt from the Juriſdiction of the Biſhop of London; that the Church of Stanes ſhould be apply'd to the Uſe of the Monks of Weſtminſter; and that the Mannor and Church of Sunebery, ſhould be in the Biſhop of London, and the Canons of the Church of S. Paul. And this, my Author is of opinion, is the firſt Exemption that the Church of Weſtminſter ever had; notwithſtanding the many Charters of Exemptions formerly granted to theſe Monks, as is pretended, from ſeveral Kings and Popes, for ſeveral Reaſons by him ſet forth. This Biſhop appropriated the Church of Bumſted (and Turrim, in Eſſex) to the Clerks celebrating daily at the Altar of the Bleſſed Virgin. He ſate Seven Years and Six Months, and died 1228. October 21. according to his Epitaph; but my Author ſeems rather to believe, that he died the 2d of November, according to the Annals of London. He was buried in the South-Wall of S. Paul's Church, about the Choir. He founded a Chantry at the Altar of S. Michael, in S. Paul's Church. He occurs Preb. of Holborn.

XLIV. Ibid. 84. Roger, ſurnam'd Niger (in the London-Catalogue, Roger le Meyr, and there ſaid to be Archdeacon of Colcheſter, which is confirm'd by other Authorities. Videretur Archidecan. Colcheſt. in the Paul's Catalogue, le Vier (my Author thinks it ſhould be le Noir) by ſome call'd S Roger de Byleie; (by others, Roger Niger de Bileye) ſucceeded Euſtachius; he is ſaid to have been conſecrated at Canterbury, by Henry, Biſhop of Rocheſter, 1229. June 10. together with Richard, Archbiſhop, and Hugh, Biſhop of Ely, by ſome; by others, that he was conſecrated by Joceline, Biſhop of Bath (the London-Catalogue ſays, by Richard, Archbiſhop of Canterbury, but erroneouſly.) He is ſaid to be, "Virum in literatura profundi pectoris, honeſtum, & per omnia laudabilem, religionis amatorem, ac defenſorem, omni genere ſuperbiæ carentem, vitâ venerabilem, & miræ ſanctitatis, ſcientiâ præclarum, & prædicatione perſpicuum. He was alſo very ſtout and couragious, as may appear at his threatning the King's Officers with Anathema, who violently took Hubert de Burgh, Earl of Kent, from the Altar, unleſs they brought him back to the ſame place; and never left the King till he reſtor'd him to his Liberty: As alſo, in excommunicating the King's Officers, for hindring Walter Biſhop of Carliſle, at Dover, when he was going beyond Sea, becauſe he had not the King's Leave; and in renewing (or repeating) the ſame Sentence, even in the King's Preſence, at Hereford. He ordain'd, That all the Citizens of London ſhould pay to their Pariſh-Prieſts a Half-penny out of every Pound, and a Farthing out of every Ten Shillings, every Lords'-Day, and alſo every Feſtival whoſe Vigils were to be obſerv'd as Faſts; which Conſtitution was afterwards confirm'd by Thomas Arundel, Archbiſhop of Canterbury, ann. 1397. by Pope Innocent VII. in 1404. by Pope Nicclas V. in 1453. And in 1464. March 3. the Common-Council of London decreed the Bull of Pope Nicolas to be obey'd, and oblig'd themſelves to perform the ſame. He beſtow'd much in building the Church of S. Paul; and in 1240. October 1.

in the preſence of the King himſelf, and Otho, the Pope's Legat, and of many of the Magnates of both Orders, he ſolemnly conſecrated the Choir, then finiſh'd. He died at his Mannor of Stepney, near London, ann. 1241. September 29. according to ſome, particularly his Epitaph; on the 28th of September, according to others; and, according to the London-Catalogue, and others, on the V. None, or 3d of October, 1243. but erroneouſly, as will appear by the Time of the Election of his Succeſſor. He was buried in the North-Iſle, near the Choir; and after his Death had for a Saint. He founded a Chantry in his Cathedral-Church, for the Souls of Ralph and Margery, his Parents. The Repreſentation of his Monument, and alſo his Epitaph, in Hiſt. Paul. p. 86, 87. may be ſeen.

XLV. Fulco Baſſet, a Perſon no leſs illuſtrious for his Family than his Virtues, againſt the King's liking, who would have removed Peter, Biſhop of Hereford, to London, was, by the Canons of London, choſen their ſucceeding Biſhop, ann. 1241. in the Month of December. He had been Dean of York from the Year 1230. and Provoſt of the Collegiat-Church of S. John of Beverley, at leaſt from the Year 1225. The Sea of Canterbury being void, his Conſecration was delay'd for almoſt Three Years; but, at laſt, after much ado, he he was conſecrated in the Monaſtical-Church of the Holy Trinity, in London, in 1244. October the 9th. In the Year 1250. there began a grievous Controverſie between Boniface, the Archbiſhop of Canterbury, and him, about the Metropolitan-Viſitation of this Dioceſe, which laſted long, and may be ſeen in my Author, pag. 91. But in 1255. a greater Contention happen'd between him and the Pope's Legat, Ruſtane, who, by the King's Command, held a Council at London, in the Month of October; where, after he had ſhew'd the Pope's Commiſſion, he demanded an immenſe Sum of Money from the Clergy: This Biſhop riſing up, declar'd, That before he would conſent to ſuch a Slavery, and intolerable Injury, and Oppreſſion of the Church, he would ſuffer his Head to be chopt off. This his Conſtancy animated the reſt, inſomuch, that they decreed to have no regard to the Authority or Cenſures of Ruſtane. The Legat complains of him to the King, who reviles him, and threatens him with the Pope; to which, when he heard of it, he reply'd, My Biſhoprick, the Pope and King, who are mightier than I, may take away, tho' unjuſtly; they may take away my Mitre, but my Helmet will remain. In the Year 1256. he began to build S. Faith's Church, the Foundation whereof, call'd the New Work of S. Paul's, at the Eaſt-end of the Choir, was (according to Stow) laid Five Years before. In his latter Years he too much favour'd the rebellious Barons, which was a Blemiſh to his former Actions. He died of the Plague, ann. 1259. (Godwin ſays, 1258.) in the Month of May; tho' Authors differ ſomewhat about the Day of the Month. His Obiit was us'd to be celebrated on the 20th of May, according to the Obituary in the Hiſt. of S. Paul's, pag. 42. but in a Regiſter-Book belonging to that Church (but now in other Hands) on the 21ſt. of July, or XII. Kal. of June. He was buried in his Church of S. Paul, as ſome will have it; but, as others, at Fulham. He founded Two Chantries in his own Cathedral; one at the Altar of the Bleſſed Virgin, for his own Soul; and the other at the Altar of S. Catharine, for the Souls of Alan and Alice, his Parents.

XLVI. Wharton, 35. Henry de Wengham, or Wingham (who occurs Prebendary of Newington) ſucceeded; he was a Perſon of extraordinary Parts, and in great favour with King Henry III. who heaped on him Preferments both in Church and State: Beſides the many Eccleſiaſtical Benefices and Churches which the King beſtow'd upon him, he made him, in the Year 1252. Chamberlain of Gaſcony; in 1255. Dean of Totenhale, and of S. Martin in London; and alſo, High-Chancellour of England. In 1259. in the Month of January, he was elected Biſhop of Wincheſter, which he refus'd, fearing the King's Diſpleaſure. But, towards the latter end of the ſame Year, he was choſen Biſhop of London (being ſtill the King's Chancellour) and was conſecrated in the Church of the Bleſſed Virgin Mary, in Southwark, ann. 1260. Febr. 15. by Boniface, Archbiſhop of Canterbury) and when the King reſtor'd him his Temporalities, he granted him licence to retain all his Eccleſiaſtical Benefices, which, at the time of his Promotion, were of the King's Patronage, (Collec. D.Matth. Hatton.) The London-Catalogue ſays, he was conſecrated about the Feaſt of S. John Baptiſt, ann.

1259. and died III. Id. or July 13. 1261. with which Godwin agrees. But as to the Time of his Death moſt agree (and ſo it appears by his Epitaph) that he died in 1262. tho' ſome will have it on the 13th. others, on the 22d. of July. He was buried on the South-Wall of S. Paul's Church, above the Choir, next to Euſtace de Fauconberge ; a Repreſentation of both whoſe Tombs and Epitaphs may be ſeen in Hiſt. Paul. p. 80. He founded a Chantry in his Cathedral, of Two Prieſts, at the Altar of S. Michael, to pray for his Soul ; the Revenues of which were to be receiv'd yearly, out of the Church of Great Wakering in Eſſex, by the Hands of the Abbot of Bileigh ; each Chaplain's Portion was Six Marks, beſides Four Marks yearly for his Obiit, 25 s. yearly to the Poor, on the Day of his Anniverſary, and half a Mark to the Chapter of S. Martin-le-Grand. Whilſt, by his Death, the Biſhoprick of London was vacant, the old Controverſie was reviv'd between the Archbiſhop of Canterbury and the Chapter of S. Paul's, about the Juriſdiction ; but happily concluded by a Compoſition made betwixt them, ann. 1262. Auguſt 21. which is obſerv'd to this day ; whereby 'tis agreed, That upon every Vacancy of the Sea of London, the Chapter ſhall name Two, Three, or Four of their Canons to the Archbiſhop, of which he ſhall conſtitute One to be his Official, to exerciſe Juriſdiction in the Dioceſe of London, in his ſtead, and by his Authority, upon certain Conditions, during the Vacancy. The Compoſition may be ſeen in Wharton, De Epiſc. Lond. p. 255.

Henry de Sandwich. In the place of Wengham, Richard Thalebot, or Talbot, Dean of S. Paul's, was choſen, Auguſt 18. confirm'd Septemb. 20. ann. 1262. but died in few Days after, before he receiv'd Conſecration ; upon which, Henry de Sandwich (who, by the way, occurs Preb. of Wildland) was elected the 13th of November following, and conſecrated at Canterbury, by John, Biſhop of Wincheſter, ann. 1263. May 27. He took part with the rebellious Barons ; for which he was ſuſpended by one of the Popes Legats, in 1265. and excommunicated by another of them in the Year following : To extricate himſelf out of which Bonds, he went to Rome ; and after almoſt Six Years ſtay there, he at laſt got his Abſolution, return'd into England, in the beginning of the Year 1273. and died in Auguſt or September following (and was buried in his own Cathedral-Church ; but his Monumental-Stone or Inſcription being broken or torn away in the Time of Edward VI. or Elizabeth, under pretence of Reformation, the place of his Burial became at laſt unknown.) After his Death, a Controverſie began again, between the Archbiſhop and the Dean and Chapter of S. Paul's, about obſerving and interpreting the Compoſition before-mention'd, but was ſoon allay'd by another Compoſition, or rather a Declaration or Explanation of the former, dated October 11. 1273. and may be ſeen with the other, p. 261. XLVII. Wharton, 98.

John de Chiſhul, Provoſt of Beverley, Archdeacon of London, and Keeper of the Great Seal, which he ſurrender'd in 1265. but being made Dean of S. Paul's, receiv'd it again in 1268. October 30. Anno 1270. he was declar'd Treaſurer of England, and had been Chancellor of the Exchequer before that, in the Year 1264. He was elected Biſhop of London in 1273. Decemb. 7. and conſecrated at Lambeth, in 1274. April 29. and the ſame Day enthroniz'd in his own Church. In his Time, the new Work at the Eaſt-end of his Cathedral, dedicated to the Bleſſed Virgin, was built. But, after ſome time, growing infirm, and, by reaſon thereof, unable to execute his Paſtoral Office, John, Archbiſhop of Canterbury, in his Metropolitical Viſitation, ann. 1270. aſſign'd him the Dean and Treaſurer of the Church of S. Paul, for his Coadjutors : But their Commiſſion being (it ſeems) ſhortly after revok'd, Fulk Lovell, Archdeacon of Colcheſter, was aſſign'd his Coadjutor alone, in 1280. February 6. Within a Day or Two after which he died, and was buried in the North-Wall of S. Paul's Church, over againſt the Choir ; a Repreſentation whereof may be ſeen in Hiſt. Paul. p. 98. He founded a Chantry at the Altar of the Bleſſed Virgin, in the Nave of the Church, and endow'd it. And he ordain'd 40 s. to be paid by the Vicars of Halſted, in Eſſex, at the celebrating his Exequies in this Cathedral-Church, on the Day of his Obit ; as may be ſeen in Halſted. XLVIII. Ibid. 101.

Richard de Graveſend. After the Death of John de Chiſhull, Fulco Lovell, a Preb. of York, and Archdeacon of Colcheſter, was rightly choſen by the Canons XLIX. Ibid. 104.

of S. Paul's to ſucceed; but he renounc'd his Election the ſame day, (the Reaſons are variouſly gueſs'd at) as he had but few Days before, his Election to a better Biſhoprick, that of Lincoln. The Canons therefore having again the King's licence to chuſe, elected Richard de Graveſend (who occurs Preb. of Totenhale, and had been Treaſurer of this Church, but had left it about Two Years before, as may be ſeen among the Treaſurers) and Archdeacon of Northampton, for their Biſhop: He was conſecrated by John, Archbiſhop of Canterbury, ann. 1280. Auguſt 11. at Coventry, and enthron'd the Firſt of October following. In 1283. between this Biſhop and the Archbiſhop there happen'd ſome Difference, occaſion'd by the citing of a Rector of the Dioceſe of London, into the Archbiſhop's Court of Arches; the Biſhop contending, that Cauſes in the firſt inſtance could no way legally be brought before the Metropolitan: But this Conteſt, it ſeems, was only Epiſtolary. (Vide Wharton, de Epiſc. Lond. in Appendice, numeris 6, 7, & 8.) In 1289. the Archbiſhop aſſign'd the Dean and Treaſurer of S. Paul's to be Coadjutors to this our Biſhop; tho' he was not ſo diſabled either by Sickneſs or Age, but that the King, in 1294. employ'd him as his Ambaſſadour in France; and in 1298. made him one of the Guardians or Keepers of his Kingdom during his Abſence. This Biſhop firſt inſtituted the Office of Sub-Dean, in the Church of S. Paul, ann. 1290. and decreed, That the Chancellour of that Church ſhould read a Divinity-Lecture in the ſame; and that thenceforth none may be ordain'd Chancellour there, unleſs he were a Doctor or Bachelor in Divinity. By his Will, dated in 1302. Septemb. 12. he aſſign'd the place of his Sepulture cloſe by the Tomb of Henry de Sandwich, his Predeceſſor, whom he acknowledg'd to be his Raiſer. He allotted 140 Marks (Pounds, as in Hiſt. Paul. p. 32.) for his Funeral-Expences (and to be diſtributed to the Poor;) gave 100 Marks to the new Fabrick of the Church; and laſtly, appointed, that 10 l. per annum value ſhould be bought within the City of London, for the founding of a Chantry in his Cathedral-Church for his Soul, and the keeping his Anniverſary. Moreover, he is commemorated among the Benefactors of the Univerſity of Cambridge. He died at his Mannor-Houſe at Fulham, Decemb. 9. 1303. and was buried in his Cathedral-Church, on the 15th of the ſame Month. He gave many Veſſels and Ornaments to his Church. His Tomb was demoliſh'd with that of Henry de Sandwich, and others. He was the principal Founder of a Priory at Maldon in Eſſex, for Carmelites or White-Friars, as may be ſeen in Maldon.

L. Wharton, 108. Radulphus de Baldock (in the London-Regiſtry Baudake) Dean of S. Paul's, was elected Biſhop on the Vigils of S. Mathias, 1304. (on the Feſtival of S. Mathias 1303. according to the London-Catalogue; Godwin will have it on the ſame Feſtival, 1305.) confirm'd by the Archbiſhop the 10th. of May, according to the Regiſtry of the Church of Canterbury (on the 5th. Id. (or 11th) of May, according to the London-Catalogue) with which agrees the Regiſter-Book, Winchelſey, in the Lambeth-Library; but in another Book, Winchelſey, on the 10th. of June: But this laſt cannot be right, becauſe my Author ſays, he finds his Temporals were reſtor'd to him June 1. 1304. The Archbiſhop of Canterbury having ſuſpended Three of the Canons of the Church of S Paul, in his Viſitation of that Church, whilſt the Sea was vacant, theſe Canons (whereof Peter de Dene was one) required their Places (or Votes) in the Election, but were refus'd; upon which, they appeal'd to the Pope, and afterwards from the Confirmation alſo. Upon the Day appointed for the Hearing at Rome, both the Biſhop elect, and the ſaid Peter, appeared perſonally; but the ſaid Peter renouncing his Appeal, the Pope ratifi'd the Confirmation of the Biſhop elect, and commanded his Conſecration, which was accordingly perform'd at Lyons, January 30. 1306. (Godwin, and the London-Catalogue, will have it 1305.) by Peter Hiſpanus, a Cardinal. The Biſhop return'd into England, and was enthron'd in S. Paul's Church, July 17. 1307. He appropriated the Church of Yelling (in Middleſex) to the Chancellor of S. Paul's, reſerving 10 l. per ann. for the Vicar's Portion. He was a Learned Man, and wrote a Hiſtory of England, and alſo a Book of the Statutes and Cuſtoms of his own Cathedral-Church. He gave Two Hundred Marks per annum to the Building our Lady's Chappel, or new Fabrick; and in the ſame founded a Chantry of Two Prieſts, at the Altar of S. Erkenwold. He died at Stepney, July 24. 1313. and was buried in the midſt of the ſaid Chappel of our Lady, under a goodly Marble, whereon his Portraiture in Braſs was curiouſly repreſented, but torn away. He was educated at Merton-College in Oxford, had been Archdeacon of Middleſex, and was made Lord Chancellour of England, but reſign'd within a Year. See more of him among the Deans of S. Paul's.

LI. Wharton, 113. Gilbertus de Segrave, Canon of Lincoln, Keeper of the Chappel of S. Sepulchre, in the Church of York, to which he was inſtituted about the Year 1301. but turn'd out of it in 1303. He occurs Preb. of Portpool, and Precentor of the Church of S. Paul, from whence he was elected Biſhop, ann 1313. Auguſt 17. confirm'd by the Chapter of Canterbury (the Archiepiſcopal Sea being void) Septemb. 17. had his Temporalities reſtor'd the 28th. of the ſame Month, and by the ſame Authority conſecrated at Canterbury, November 25. following, by Henry, Biſhop of Wincheſter. In 1314. on the 9th. Cal. of April, he was enthron'd, and on the ſame Day laid the firſt Stones of the new Shrine of S. Erkenwald, as the Founder. He dedicated ſeveral Altars in the new Fabrick, 10. Cal. of June following. The Reliques of divers Saints were put by him, in ſolemn Proceſſion, in the Croſs, which was to be ſet on the top of the Spire, the 4th None of October; and the ſame Year were the Dimenſions of the whole Fabrick taken, of which there is mention before. He died ann. 1316. 15. Cal. of January, (or 18th of December) the London-Catalogue will have 7. Cal. of December, or 25th of November, 1317. but this is a Miſtake, for he was ſucceeded before that time; and was buried the 30th of December, 1316. He was of the antient and noble Family of the Segraves of Segrave in Leiceſterſhire, educated in Oxford, and was a very learned Man.

LII. Ibid. 118. Richardus de Newport, Archdeacon of Middleſex, from the Year 1304. (but now Dean of S. Paul's) ſucceeded: He was elected Biſhop of London, Jan. 27. 1317. according to Adam Murimouth (who is ſuppoſed to begin the Year on the Firſt of January) to whoſe Election the King gave his Aſſent, Febr. 11. He was confirm'd at Lambeth, according to the London-Catalogue, on the 26th of March 1317. and conſecrated by Walter, Archbiſhop, at Canterbury, on the 15th of May following, the Biſhops of Coventry, Sarum, and Wincheſter, aſſiſting him. He died ann. 1318. on the Feaſt of S. Bartholomew, Auguſt 24. on a ſudden at the Vicar's (or Parſon's) Houſe, at Ilford; was forthwith carried thence, in the Night, to Stepney, and buried on the 28th of the ſame Month, in the Cathedral-Church of S. Paul. See more of him among the Deans of London, and Archdeacons of Middleſex.

LIII. Ibid. 120. Stephanus de Graveſend, Nephew to Richard de Graveſend, late Biſhop of London, ſucceeded. He was elected September 11. 1318. confirm'd at Peterborough, November 3. following; and, on the 14th of the next January enſuing, was conſecrated by Walter, the Archbiſhop, at Canterbury; and laſt of all, enthron'd on the 30th of September, 1319. Adam Murimouth tells us, That he was conſecrated January 14. 1319. with which agrees another Regiſter of the Church of Canterbury, ann. 1326. February 1. The Body of S. Erkenwald was in the Night-time, to avoid too great a Confluence of People, remov'd to the Chappel of the Bleſſed Virgin, and ſolemnly placed there in the new Shrine; as was alſo, within Eight Days after, that of Roger de Byleie (or Niger) from the place where it lay, to another prepar'd for it. After the Year 1320. the Archbiſhop order'd a Metropolitical Viſitation throughout his Province; and to enlarge his Authority, had procur'd a more than ordinary Power from the Pope: This our Biſhop (of all the Biſhops of the Province) alone oppos'd it, and, appealing to the Pope, refus'd to admit the Viſitation; but at laſt was fain to ſubmit. After the Death of Archbiſhop Walter, ann. 1327. a Conteſt happen'd between our Biſhop and the Convent of Canterbury. You muſt know, that by a Compoſition, dated the 24th of June, 1278. the Monks of Canterbury (who were wont to have Archiepiſcopal Juriſdiction during the Vacancy of that Sea) were to preſent Two fit Perſons to the Biſhop of London, as Dean of the Province, of which he was to chooſe One, who was to exerciſe the Juriſdiction during the Vacancy; but theſe Monks had given this Power to one of their Fellow-Monks, without applying themſelves to the Dean of the Province, according to the ſaid Compoſition; this the Biſhop oppos'd, and at length forc'd them to comply, and to preſent Two to him, according to the ſaid Compoſition, which may be ſeen in my Author, De Epiſc. Lond. Append. n. 9. This our Biſhop openly oppos'd the dethroning of Edward II. and refus'd to ſwear Fealty to the new King, at leaſt, did not ſwear when others did. In 1329. upon a Report that King Edward (who was barbarouſly murder'd ſome time before) was ſtill alive, but in Priſon, he was accus'd, with Edmund, Earl of Kent, and William, Archbiſhop of York, for conſpiring his Releaſe, and convicted, but was afterwards pardon'd. By his Will, dated February 19. 1337. he bequeathed his Body to be buried in the Church of S. Paul, near his Uncle Richard, before remembred; and a Chantry to be founded for the Souls of himſelf and his ſaid Uncle, of Two Prieſts; which was afterwards done by his Executors. He died ann. 1338. April 8. at the Rector's Houſe at Stortford, addeth Murimouth; and was buried the 27th of the ſame Month, by the Archbiſhop of Canterbury; the King, Two Cardinals, and many Biſhops and Nobles being preſent. He was a Benefactor to the Nunnery of S. John Baptiſt, of Halywell, without Biſhopſgate, London. He occurs Prebendary of Wenlakesbarne, and alſo of Chamberlain-Wood, where may be ſeen more of him.

LIV. Wharton, 126. Richardus de Bentworth, vel de Wentworth, was made one of the Canons of S. Paul's, by the aforeſaid Stephen, Biſhop of London, who confer'd on him the Prebend of Mora, in 1337. Decemb. 3. (where may be ſeen more of him) He occurs likewiſe Preb. of Kentiſh-Town. In the ſame Year he was admitted to the Preb. of Bedewynd, in the Church of Sarum, Auguſt 1.a He was domeſtick Chaplain to Richard de Bury, Biſhop of Durham, Chancellor to Simon, Archbiſhop of Canterbury, in 1332. In the Year 1338. after his Election to the Biſhoprick of London, May 4. he was confirm'd by John, Archbiſhop of Canterbury, at Otteford, the 23d. of the ſame Month; by whoſe Precept he was conſecrated at Lambeth, July 12. following, and enthron'd the ſame Day by the Archdeacon of Canterbury. He was made Chancellor of England, July 6. 1338. and died ann. 1339. Decemb. 8. and on the 13th of the ſame Month, was buried in his own Cathedral-Church.

LV. Ibid. 129. Radulphus de Stratford, a Canon of London, and Nephew to John de Stratford, Archbiſhop of Canterbury, ſucceeded: He was elected in 1340. Jan. 26. conſecrated at Canterbury, the 12th of March following; the Regiſtry of Canterbury will have it, that he was confirm'd the ſame Day. Before he was Biſhop, he was admitted to the Preb. of Erebersfont, in the Church of Winton, 1333. Decemb. 15. and exchang'd it for the Preb. of Blibury, in the Church of Sarum, 1335. Septemb. 5. Whilſt he was Biſhop, the Roof of the Church of S. Paul was burnt by Lightning, as was before mention'd. He bought a waſt Piece of Ground near Smithfield, which he conſecrated for a Burying-place. He built a Chappel to the Honour of S. Thomas, in Stratford upon Avon, the place of his Birth. He died at Stepney, 1354. April 7. (on the 15th Cal. of May (April 17.) ſaith the Archbiſhop's Regiſtry, Iſlip fol. 81.) having ſate Biſhop about the ſpace of Fourteen Years.

LVI. Ibid, 131. Michael de Northburg, L. D. a Canon of London; in the ſame Month that his Predeceſſor died, was elected Biſhop of London, as appears by his Letter (which my Author has ſeen,) dated 1354. April 23. wherein he writes himſelf Londinenſem, Electum, Confirmatum. He was confirm'd by Simon, Archbiſhop of Canterbury, before the Pope's Bull was produc'd, which was not till 1354. May 7. for which reaſon both the Election and Confirmation were accounted void. The Archbiſhop therefore committed to him the Spiritualities of the Biſhoprick, July 3. not by virtue of his Election, but of the Pope's Proviſion (The London-Catalogue, Godwin, and Weaver, ſay, he was confirm'd, July 7. 1355.) Hiſtoriola Londinenſis, June 13. but all in an Errour: The Time of his Conſecration has been ſought for in vain. Before he was Biſhop, he had ſeveral Eccleſiaſtical Benefices; for he was Prebendary of Lym, in the Church of Sarum, which he exchang'd for a Canonry in the Church of Hereford, and the Deanery of the Free Chappel of S. Clement, in the Caſtle of Pomfreit, 1339. May 21. The Prebend of Netherbury, in the Church of Sarum, was confer'd on him by Robert, Biſhop of Salisbury, 1351. May 6. He was Archdeacon of Suffolk, and Prebendary of Donyngton, in the Church of York; both which he exchang'd for the Preb. of Strenſhale, in the ſame Church, 1353. June 29. He was alſo Rector of Pulham, in the Dioceſe of Norwich. And King Edward III. gave him the Preb. of Mapesbury in the Church of S Paul, London, September 1. 1351. Pat. 25. Edward III. p. 2.) There was one Mic. de Northburgh, who was Preb. of Brownſwood, and Archdeacon of Colcheſter, but by the time of his Admiſſion to both, which was in 1363. he could not be the ſame with our Biſhop, becauſe the Biſhop died above a Year and half before. By his Will, dated May 23. 1361. he order'd the Place of his Sepulture to be at the Entrance into this Cathedral, without the Weſt-Door, and founded a Chantry for his own Soul, and thoſe of his Succeſſors. He gave 2000 l. for the Founding of the Charter-Houſe near Smithfield, and Lands for the Endowment of the ſame, as may be ſeen more at large in what I have written of that Monaſtery. After the Death of the Biſhop, Sir Walter Manny took care to have his Money laid out upon his Building, beſtow'd much of his own Eſtate upon it, and finiſh'd it in 1370. This Biſhop alſo gave a thouſand Pounds (Marks according to Hiſt. Paul.) to be laid up in a Cheſt in the Treaſury of this Church, out of which, ten, twenty, or forty Pounds might be borrow'd upon good Security, by certain Perſons, according to their different Qualities mention'd in the ſaid Legacy. He died at Copford in Eſſex (of the Plague ſay ſome) in the Year 1361. September 9. after he had ſate Biſhop ſeven Years and forty Days. In the time of Edward III. (but whether before the Death of this Biſhop my Author knows not) it was granted to the Dean and Chapter of S. Paul's, that during the Vacancy of this Biſhoprick, they ſhould ever hereafter keep the Temporalities of the ſame, paying the King 1000 l. per annum, or pro rata.

LVII. Ibid. 124. Simon de Sudbury, ſo call'd from Sudbury the Place of his Nativity, his Surname otherwiſe being Tybold or Tibald, for he was the Son of Nigel Tibald and Sarah his Wife, of S. Gregories in Sudbury; he was Doctor of Laws, and domeſtick Chaplain to Pope Innocent VI. and Auditor of Cauſes in the Rota at Rome; which Pope, by way of Proviſion, thruſt him firſt into the Chancellorſhip of Saliſbury, and after that into this Biſhoprick of London; the Bulls of Proviſion bear Date 1361. Octob. 22. by virtue of which, his Spirituals were deliver'd to him by the Archbiſhop on the 3d. of November following. He is ſaid to be conſecrated in 1362. May 20. (rather March.) He founded a College in Sudbury to the Honour of S. Gregory in 1365. He was tranſlated to Canterbury by the Pope's Bull, ann. 1375, ſolemnly publiſh'd in that Church May 26, others ſay May 12. He was barbarouſly murder'd by the Rebels in Richard II. Days, ann. 1381. His Body after all Stirs ended, was carried to Canterbury, and there honourably interr'd.

LVIII. Ibid. 137. Willielmus de Courtney (Son to Hugh Courtney Earl of Devonſhire) Biſhop of Hereford, was tranſlated thence to London 1375. Sept. 12. He receiv'd his Spirituals from the Archbiſhop, December 3. in the 34 Year of his Age. Anno 1376. he withſtood the granting of a Subſidy to the King by the Clergy in a Synod then held at London. He too haſtily publiſh'd the Bull of Pope Gregory II. at Paul's-Croſs, againſt the Florentines, without acquainting the King, for which, by the King's Command, he was conven'd before the Biſhop of Exeter, Lord-Chancellor, where being queſtion'd for the ſame, and anſwering that he did it by the Pope's Command, the Chancellor bid him take his Choice, either to loſe his Temporals, or retract thoſe Words with his own Mouth; but with much ado he obtain'd ut per alium revocare poſſet. The Year following, by the Pope's Command, he conven'd John Wicliff before him in S. Paul's Church, but being over-aw'd by the Preſence of the Duke of Lancaſter and other great Men, who ſecretly favour'd Wicliff's Doctrine, he did nothing elſe but enjoyn Silence to him, and his Followers. The Duke, notwithſtanding, inſolently revil'd the Biſhop, which irritated the Citizens of London to ſuch a degree, that had not the Biſhop interceded, they had torn the Duke Limb from Limb. In 1381. Auguſt 10. this our Biſhop was made Lord-Chancellor, and in January following, tranſlated to the See of Canterbury, where we leave him.

LIX. Ibid. 140. Robert de Braybroke, was promoted to the See of London by the Bull of Pope Urban, 1381. September 9. was Conſecrated at Lambeth on the 5th. of January following, and receiv'd his Spirituals the next Day, but his Temporals on the 17th. of December before. In September 1382. he was made Lord-Chancellor, but held not that Place above half a Year. In 1386. he ordain'd, that the Days of the Converſion and Commemoration of S. Paul ſhould be celebrated throughout his Dioceſe, equally with the higheſt Feſtivals. In 1390. he united and incorporated ſeveral Chantries in the Church of S. Paul, by reaſon of the incompetency of their Revenues. In 1393. he decreed, that all the Clergy of his Dioceſe, in their Prieſtly Ornaments, ſhould every Year be preſent in S. Paul's Church in Proceſſion on the Days of the Converſion and Commemoration of S. Paul. In this Church an ill Cuſtom for many Years paſt had prevail'd, which was this; The Canons reſidentiary would admit no Canon to reſidence, unleſs he would expend 1000, 800, or 700 Marks in the firſt Year after his Admiſſion in Eating and Drinking, and other exceſſive and ſuperfluous Expences. This Cuſtom the Biſhop had in vain for ſome time attempted to remedy; at laſt this Matter, by Conſent of the Biſhop and Reſidentiaries being referr'd to the King, he interpos'd his Sentence 16th. of April 1399, whereby he enjoyn'd, that for the future, the Reſidence in the Church of S. Paul ſhould be obſerv'd according to the Form of the Statutes and Uſe of the Church of Sarum. Before he was Biſhop he was Rector of Hinton near Cambridge, which Rectory be extorted from the Fellows of Peter-Houſe, by virtue of the Pope's Proviſo, about the Year 1360. and in 1379. (being then Canon of Lincoln) exchang'd the ſame for the Rectory of Girton, and that too, a little after for Horſendon, in the Dioceſe of Lincoln. He was made Canon of York in 1366. November 11. and after that of Lichfield. He exchang'd the Preb. of Fridaythorp in the Church of York for the Archdeaconry of Cornwal, and the Preb. of Combe prima in the Church of Wells in 1377. March 3. In like manner he exchang'd the Archdeaconry of Cornwal for the Rectory of Bideford, in 1381. July 26. From a Canon-Reſidentiary he was confirm'd Dean of Sarum by the Biſhop in 1380. February 28. Authors differ much about the time of his Death; but according to the trueſt Account, which appears by his Epitaph, he died Auguſt 27. ann. 1404. and was buried in his own Church in the Chapel of the Bleſſed Virgin. After this Church was laid waſte by that late dreadful Fire in 1666. there was a Body dug up in the Place where this Biſhop was buried, whole and uncorrupt, as if it had been lately buried; I ſaw it myſelf, and handled it, it was very light, and had Hair on the Face, and was probably the Body of this very Biſhop, which is now immur'd in the New Buildings of the Church. One thing more of mine own Obſervation I cannot omit, which is this, viz. tho' the Sculptures in Braſs were by ſacrilegious Hands torn away from all the Tombs in the Church, yet this alone, which was one of the coſtlieſt, having the Biſhop's Effigies in Braſs at length engraven upon it in his Epiſcopal Habit, and his Epitaph in Braſs likewiſe inſcrib'd about it (a Repreſentation whereof may be ſeen in Hiſt. Paul. 84.) was left untouch'd, till it was buried in the Ruins by that dreadful Fire, notwithſtanding it was the moſt Conſpicuous of any; the Lord-Mayor and his Brethren, and the greateſt part of the Congregation paſſing over it every Sunday as they came to hear Sermons there, after it was made a Preaching Place for the Saints of thoſe times, who entred not in at the Door, but like Thieves and Robbers came in at the Window, where they had made one.

LX. Roger de Walden. This Perſon, from the Eſtate of a very poor Man (ſaith Godwin) was ſuddenly rais'd. The firſt mention I find of him, is in the Year 1391, who on the 8th. of June that Year, was admitted to the Rectory of Fordham in Eſſex at the Preſentation of King Richard II. by reaſon of the Cuſtody of the Lands of John de Haſtings, late Earl of Pembroke, Patron of that Church, which he exchang'd with Nicolas Baggs on the laſt Day of February following; both which appear by the London Regiſtry. After this, he was made Treaſurer of Calis, then Secretary to the King, and after that Lord-Treaſurer of England, which Office was conferr'd on him 1395. September 20. In 1392, January 6. he was admitted to the Preb. of Gillingham in the Church of Sarum. And on the 10th. of September following (he being then Treaſurer of Calis) Thomas Biſhop of Exeter conferr'd on him a Preb. in the Church of Exeter. As did the Biſhop of London the Preb. of Willeſdon in the Church of S. Paul, February 10. 129$\frac{2}{3}$. He was likewiſe Archdeacon of Wincheſter (which he reſign'd in 1395.) and Dean of York. And at laſt, at the King's Requeſt, advanc'd to the Sea of Canterbury by Pope Boniface, about the beginning of February 139$\frac{7}{8}$. in the Room of Thomas Arundel, then baniſh'd the Realm. But this Honour he enjoy'd not long, for upon the depoſing of Richard II. ann. 1399. Thomas Arundel was again reſtor'd by Henry IV. and the ſaid Roger forc'd to lead a private Life for more than five Years, till at laſt, by the kind Endeavour of the Archbiſhop (his charitable Adverſary) he had this Biſhoprick of London beſtow'd upon him by the Pope's Bull of Proviſo, publiſh'd in 1404, December 10. (but would not accept thereof without the King's Licence) into which he was ſolemnly inſtall'd 1405, June 30. which he enjoy'd but a ſhort time, for he died about the Month of January 140$\frac{5}{6}$, and was buried in the Priory Church of S. Bartholomew near Weſt-Smithfield. Weaver gives us the Epitaph on his Monument, where it is ſaid he died the 2d. of November 1406. But that muſt be a Miſtake, for he was ſucceeded in this his Biſhoprick ſome time before that, as will appear hereafter.

Nicolas Bubbewich or Bubwich ſucceeded. In 1392. he exchang'd the Church of Southille in the Dioceſe of Exeter for a Canonry of Lichfield, March 27. He was alſo admitted to the Preb. of Hegges or Heyes in the Dioceſe of Exon 1396, June 2. He was collated alſo to a Prebend in the Church of Exon. 1399, September 5. Admitted before that to a Canonry of Rippon the 19th. of April in the ſame Year. He was Archdeacon of Richmond, which he exchang'd for the Preb. of Drifeld in the Church of York 1402. March 18. He was collated to the Archdeaconry of Dorſet in 1400. July 9. and to the Preb. of Cherminſter in the Church of Sarum in 1402. November 27. He was alſo made Maſter of the Rolls in 1402. September 24. by the King; then Keeper of the Privy-Seal. And being now elected Biſhop of London, he was declar'd Treaſurer of England in 1406. April 15. His Papal Bulls of Proviſion are dated in 1406. May 13. by virtue of which he was conſecrated at Mortlake on the 16th. of September following. The next Year he was tranſlated to Saliſbury by the Pope's Proviſo, June 22. and to Bath and Wells (according to Godwin) the ſame Year October 5. He died October the 27th. ann. 1424. and was buried in his Cathedral Church of Wells.

LXII.

Richard Clifford ſucceeded; to whom the King gave the Preb. of Cadington-Major in February 1385. [Pat. 9. Ric. II. p. 2.] This Perſon had divers Preferments in the Church after this, and before he was Biſhop, ſome of which my Author mentions, viz. that he was admitted to the Preb. of Iwarn in the Church of Sarum in 1392. January 6. To the Preb. of Chiſwick in the Church of S. Paul in 1397. April 18. which he reſign'd the Year following. He was made Archdeacon of Canterbury, between the 6th. of March 1396. and the 26th. of March 1397. and at length Keeper of the Privy-Seal, which he held in 1399. (the Pope by way of Proviſion, beſtow'd upon him the Biſhoprick of Bath and Wells in 1401. but the King being againſt it, he was content to let go his Hold, and towards the latter end of the ſame Year, he obtain'd the Biſhoprick of Worceſter: thus Godwin) from Worceſter, after he had ſate about ſix Years, he was tranſlated to London, October 13. 1407. He was a Man endow'd with great Wiſdom and Probity, for which he was belov'd both by the Prince and People. In 1414. October 15. by the Conſent of the Dean and Chapter, he ordain'd, That from the firſt Day of December following, beginning then at Veſpers, The ſolemn Celebration of Divine Service in the Church of S. Paul, which before that time had been according to a peculiar Form antiently uſed, and call'd Uſus Sancti Pauli, ſhould from thenceforth be conformable to that of the Church of Sarum. He was ſent to the Council at Conſtance, by Decree of the Synod at London, held in 1416. April 1. where he was the firſt that gave his Vote for the Electing the Cardinal of Columna (afterwards call'd Martin V.) to the Popedom, and that with Succeſs, in 1417. November 11. He gave 1000 Marks to the poor Scholars of Burnel's-Inn in Oxford, which from this Biſhop's Gift began to be call'd London-College. He died in 1321. Auguſt 20. after he had ſate thirteen Years and ten Months, and was buried under a Marble Stone, between the Place where formerly ſtood the Shrine of S. Erkenwald, and the Monument of the Lord Chancellor Hatton.

John

LXIII. Whart. 157. John Kemp. After the Death of Richard Clifford, the Chapter of S. Paul's elected Thomas Palton Biſhop of Hereford for their Biſhop, 1421. September 22. and ſent a Certificate of this their Election to Pope Martin V. But he (by way of Proviſion) had tranſlated John Kemp Biſhop of Chicheſter to the See of London the 17th. of November before. And having done this, ſubſtituted the ſaid Thomas in the See of Chicheſter. This John, Biſhop of London, receiv'd his Spirituals from the Archbiſhop in 1422. May 20. and his Temporals from the King on the 20th. of June following. He was declar'd Lord-Chancellor of England in March 1426. which Office he held till the beginning of the Year 1432. In the mean while he was tranſlated from London to York about the Year 1426. where he continu'd about twenty eight Years; and in his extreme old Age was remov'd from thence to Canterbury about a Year and half before his Death. (I find this John Kemp Rector of S. Michael Crooked-Lane, London, which he reſign'd about the beginning of 1408. alſo Dean of the Archbiſhop's Peculiars or Arches; and he is ſaid to be the Archbiſhop's Vicar-General.) Godw. de Præſul. He was Doctor of Laws, Dean of Durham, and made Biſhop of Rocheſter, ann. 1419. from whence he was tranſlated to Chicheſter. He was created Cardinal, ann. 1439. December 18. by the Title of S. Albine; and after he came to Canterbury, he was promoted to that of S. Ruffine. He was twice Lord-Chancellor. He was born at Wey in the County of Kent, where, whilſt he was Archbiſhop of York, he converted the Church into a College of Secular-Prieſts. He was educated in Merton-College in Oxford, where he was created Doctor of Laws; and afterwards, when Archbiſhop of York, gave 500 Marks towards the Divinity-School there. To conclude, he died March 22. 145$\frac{3}{4}$. and his Body was buried at Canterbury under a ſeemly Monument, on the South-ſide of the Presbytery.

LXIV. Whart. 159. William Gray. Upon the Tranſlation of John Kemp to York, this William Gray, Doctor of Laws and Dean of York, at the King's Command was elected Biſhop of London by the Canons of S. Paul's, and being elected was confirm'd, and afterwards conſecrated in 1426. May 6. by the Archbiſhop of Canterbury, Papa inconſulto, to which, at laſt, the Pope was forc'd, as it were, to conſent by his Bulls of Proviſion, bearing Date July 20. 1426. This our Biſhop was tranſlated from London to Lincoln about the middle of the Year 1431. Whilſt he was Biſhop of London, he refounded, or rather reſtor'd the College of Thele in Herefordſhire, for a Maſter and four Canons, and made it a Cell to Elſing-Spittle in London. See Elſing-Spittle.

LXV. Ibid. 161. Robert Fitz-Hugh, Doctor of Laws, Son of the Lord Henry Fitz-Hugh, ſucceeded. Before he was Biſhop, he was admitted to the Rectory of S. Leonard Eaſtcheap, London, November 21. 1401. which he exchang'd for a Canonry in the Cathedral Church of Liſmore in Ireland, with John Whitacre, in July 1406. He was ordain'd Sub-deacon of the Biſhop of Ely at Downham, ann. 1417. being then Prebendary of Little-Melton in the Church of Lincoln. Deacon in 1418. Made Canon of York the ſame Year, September 10. afterwards Archdeacon of Northampton. He was Maſter of King's-Hall (afterwards with other Religious Houſes incorporated into Trinity-College) in Cambridge, 1425. He was alſo Chancellor of that Univerſity, and whilſt ſuch, obtain'd a Decree in a Synod at London, 1428. November. 15. That all the greater Eccleſiaſtical Benefices ſhould from henceforth be beſtow'd on the Scholars of each Univerſity. He was ſent Embaſſador to Rome and Venice in 1429. and at his Return, obtain'd the Biſhoprick of London, to which he was conſecrated, ann. 1431. September 16. In 1434. he was ſent by the King to the Council of Baſil, and ſhortly after his Return (which was before the End of the Year 1435.) he was elected Biſhop of Ely, but died at S. Oſyth before his intended Tranſlation, viz. January 15. 1436. and was buried in the midſt of the Quire of S. Paul's, under a large Marble, whereon was his Effigies in-laid in Braſs, in his Epiſcopal Habits. A Repreſentation whereof, together with his Epitaph, may be ſeen in Hiſt. Paul. p. 60.

LXVI. Ibid. 164. Robert Gilbert ſucceeded; he was Doctor of Divinity, educated in Merton-College, Oxford, of which he was afterwards Warden. In 1415. Octob. 31. he was admitted to the Church of Alhallows, Lombardſtreet; and the Year following, June 4. he exchang'd it for the Rectory of Norburg, in the Dioceſe of *Lincoln, Reg. ber 1. he exchang'd the Prebendſhips of Chermiſtre and Bere, in the Church of Sarum, for the Precentorſhip of the ſame Church. In 1426. he was created Dean of York; and in 1436. May 21. he was, by Pope Eugenius, promoted to the Biſhoprick of London, by way of Proviſion; and was conſecrated the 28th of October following, being the Feaſt of S. Simon and Jude, at Lambeth, by Henry, Archbiſhop of Canterbury, (with which agrees his own Regiſtry, Lib. Gilbert. fol. 1.) But the London-Catalogue, with that of the Dean and Chapter, will have it in September 1432. Godwin and Stow, 1435. but all in an Error. He died in 1448. June 22. ſays one; but according to the Certificate of his Death, made by the Chapter, 'tis July 27.

LXVII. Wharton, 166. Thomas Kemp, ſucceeded; he was Nephew to John Kemp, Archbiſhop of York; educated in Merton-College, in Oxford; and was Proctor of that Univerſity in 1437. firſt made Canon of York, in 1431. after that, in 1435. April 4. he was admitted to the Preb. of Stillington; and on the 7th of July following, to that of Driffield; on the 2d. of the next December, to that of Langtoft, all in the ſame Church of York; in 1439. May 28. to the Preb. of Southcore, which he reſign'd in 1442. Novemb. 19. and was admitted again to the ſame, June 25. 1447. In 1442. November 19. he was made Archdeacon of Richmond; and, after that, Archdeacon of Middleſex; and Chancellor of York; at length he obtain'd this Biſhoprick of London, by virtue of a Bull from Pope Nicolas, publiſh'd ann. 1448. Auguſt 21. But by reaſon of ſome Averſeneſs thereto in the King (who firſt wrote to the ſaid Pope on his behalf) or rather of ſome factious Nobles about him, he was not conſecrated till a Year and a half after; which at laſt was perform'd by the ſaid Archbiſhop of York, his Uncle, ann. 14$\frac{49}{50}$. in the Chappel of his own Palace, call'd York-Place (now White-Hall.) He died in 1489. March 28. having ſate Thirty Nine Years, and Eighty Four Days, more truly Forty Eight Days. He new-built the Pulpit-Croſs in S. Paul's Church-yard. He founded and endowed a Chantry of One Prieſt, about the Year 1478. at the Altar of the Holy-Trinity, and the Office of Penitentiary in the ſame, to which he united the Church of Chigwell, in Eſſex, and the Preb. of S. Pancras, for ever; from which time that Prebend began to be call'd The Office or Dignity of the Penitentiary. (See the Preb. of S. Pancras.) He was buried in a beautiful Chappel built for that purpoſe, betwixt the North-Iſle and the Body of the Church of S. Paul; wherein his Body was afterwards interr'd (a perfect Repreſentation whereof may be ſeen in Hiſt. Paul. pag. 40.) Ann. 1478. he gave a Thouſand Marks towards the finiſhing of the Divinity-School in Oxford; and in 1487. gave many Books to that Univerſity.

LXVIII. Ibid. 171. Richard Hill, B. D. Dean of the King's Chappel, Prebendary of Bemyſter, in the Church of Sarum; to which he was collated in 1486. May 19. (collated to the Rectory of Fulham in 1488. November 23. Reg. London) from whence he was elected Biſhop of London, by the Canons of that Church, 1489. Auguſt 19. On the 15th of November following, he was conſecrated at Lambeth, by John Archbiſhop of Canterbury, according to his own Regiſtry. There was a long Suit between him and John Morton, Archbiſhop of Canterbury, about the proving of Wills of ſuch as had Goods in divers Dioceſes at the time of their Death; the Archbiſhop challenging ſuch to belong to his Court; from which the Biſhop appeal'd to Rome, where the Archbiſhop got the better, and obtain'd his Prerogative to be confirm'd by a ſolemn Diploma. He ſate Biſhop of London about Six Years; and died the 20th of February, 149$\frac{5}{6}$. Stow and Godwin tell us, that John Marſhal was Biſhop of London from 1489. to 1493. but that appears to be a Miſtake (i. e.) London for Landaven.

LXIX. Ibid. 174. Thomas Savage ſucceeded; he was of a Knightly Family, born at Macleſfield, in Cheſhire; where he beſtowed much in the enlarging and adorning the Church, and on the South-ſide thereof founded and endow'd a College of Secular-Prieſts. (He was educated in the Univerſity of Cambridge, where he had the Degree of Doctor of Laws. Godwin, de Præſul.) He was at firſt Biſhop of Rocheſter, and tranſlated from thence to London by papal Proviſion from Pope Alexander, * 1469. Auguſt 3. confirm'd by the Archbiſhop of Canterbury, on the 22d. and inſtall'd the 27th of October following, and had his Temporals from the King on the 2d of the next December; from whence he was tranſlated to York, ann. 1501. by the Bull of Pope Alexander VI publiſh'd in the Church of York, April 12. where, after he had ſate about Seven Years, he died at Cawood. He order'd his Body to be buried at York, but his Heart at Maclesfield, aforeſaid, in a Chappel there built by him. Godwin, de Præſul. Ebor.

LXX. Wharton, 176. William Warham ſucceeded; a Man born to tranſact great Affairs, and at length, deſervedly promoted to the higheſt Degree of the Engliſh Church. He was born of a gentile Family, at Okely, in Hampſhire; bred up at Wickham's College, at Winton; then at that other of his in Oxon, where he was admitted Fellow, in 1475. took the Degrees in Law, left the College in 1488. and about that time became an Advocate in the Court of Arches, and ſoon after Principal, or chief Moderator of the Civil-Law-School, then ſituate in S. Edward's Pariſh, in Oxford. He was admitted Precentor of the Church of Wells, 1493. November 2. He was Prebendary of Tymsbury, in the Church of   and Rector of Shirborn S. John, in the Dioceſe of Winton, in April 1501. Rector likewiſe of Cotenham, in the Dioceſe of Ely, 1509. He was alſo Rector of Barley, in the Dioceſe of London, and a Benefactor to that Church; and Canon of S. Paul's, ſays my Author (out of Weaver, as I ſuppoſe) as appears by an Inſcription in one of the Windows of that Church. He was made Maſter of the Rolls, in 1494. February 13. as a Reward for his prudent Management of the King's Affairs, in his Embaſſy to Philip, Duke of Burgundy. At length, having gotten into great Favour with the King, he had this Biſhoprick of London beſtow'd upon him; to which being elected, he was afterwards conſecrated; but the Day of his Conſecration doth not appear. But, by the London-Regiſter, it plainly appears, that he was inſtall'd in 1502. October 5. and receiv'd his Temporals of the King on the Firſt Day of the ſame Month; being then one of his Privy-Council. In 1502. he appropriated the Church of Wethersfield, in Eſſex, to the Collegiate-Church of Stoke juxta Clare. And towards the end of the next Year, he was tranſlated to Canterbury; the Pope's Bull bearing date in 1503. November 29. which was publiſh'd in the Chapter at Canterbury, January 23. following. He was made Keeper of the Great Seal, ann. 1502. Auguſt 11. and Lord-Chancellour of England the Firſt of January following; which great Office he executed till the end of the Year 1515. LXXXVII. William Laud, Doctor of Divinity, and Biſhop of Bath and Wells, ſucceeded. Of this great and religious Arch-Prelate and Martyr, I ſhall ſay little, but refer the Reader to his Life, written by Dr. Peter Heylin, and to the Hiſtory of his Troubles, and Trial publiſh'd by the late Mr. Wharton; and only give a ſhort Account of his Birth, his Preferments in the Church, and his Death extracted for the moſt part out of his Diary. This great Man was born at Reading in Berks, was Son of William Laud, by Lucia his Wife, Widow of John Robinſon, Daughter of John Webb, both in the ſame Town; the Day of his Birth was the 7th. of October 1573. Proceeded Doctors in Divinity in the Art the ſame Year: And Auguſt 5. that Year, was made Chaplain to Dr. Neil Biſhop of Rocheſter. He chang'd his Advowſon of North-Kilworth for Weſt-Tilbury in Eſſex, to which he was inducted, October 28. 1609. The Biſhop of Rocheſter gave him Cuckſtone in Kent, May 1610. He reſign'd his Fellowſhip in S. John's-College, October 2. following, and left Oxford, the 8th. Day of the ſame Month. He left Cuckſtone, and was inducted into Norton, November 1610. He was choſen Preſident of S. John's-College, May 10. 1611. Was ſworn the King's Chaplain, November 3. following. The King gave him the Deanery of Gloceſter, November 1616. He reſign'd his Parſonage of Weſt-Tilbury, and ſet forward with the King towards Scotland, March 14. 1616. He reſign'd the Preſidentſhip of S. John's on the 17th. of November, and on the 18th. was conſecrated Biſhop of S. Davids, 1621. He was inſtituted to the Parſonage of Creek (given him into his Commendam) January 29. 1622. He was elected Biſhop of Bath and Wells, Auguſt 16. 1626. which was confirm'd, September 18. following. On the 3d. of October, he was made Dean of the King's Chapel; was tranſlated to London, July 15. 1628. and choſen Chancellor of the Univerſity of Oxford, April 12. 1630. And laſtly, he was tranſlated to the Archiepiſcopal Sea of Canterbury, September 19. 1633. After this he was accus'd by the Houſe of Commons of High-Treaſon, December 18. 1640. committed to the Cuſtody of the Black-Rod, and after that to the Tower, whither he was carried on the firſt of March following. He reſign'd his Chancellorſhip of Oxford, which he ſent down, June 25. 1641. And now, after about four-Years Impriſonment in the Tower, and a long and tedious Trial before the Houſe of Lords, wherein it was unanimouſlly declar'd by the Judges, that nothing which was charg'd againſt him was High-Treaſon; he was at laſt, by a Bill of Attainder or Ordinance of Parliament, which paſs'd the Houſe of Commons, November 13. 1644. and the Houſe of Lords, which was very thin and ſlender (not above ſix or ſeven in Number being preſent) on the fourth of January following, condemn'd to die; and accordingly, on the 10th. of the ſame Month was beheaded on Tower-Hill, and his Body buried in the Neighbouring Church of Alhallows Barking, where it remaining intire, till July 1663. it was remov'd to Oxford, and on the 24th. of the ſame Month, depoſited with Ceremony in a little Vault built of Brick, near to the High-Altar of S. John's-College Chapel. Thus died, and thus was buried this moſt reverend, renown'd and religious Arch-Prelate, when he had liv'd ſeventy one Years, thirteen Weeks, and four Days, if, at leaſt, he may be properly ſaid to die: The great Example of whoſe Virtue ſhall continue always, not only in the Minds of Men, but in the Annals of ſucceeding Ages, with Renown and Fame.

LXXXVIII. Athen. Oxon. II. vol. 662.

William Juxon, Doctor of Laws, ſucceeded in London; he was born (as is ſaid) at Chicheſter, in Suſſex; brought up in Merchant-Taylors-School, in London; became Fellow of S. John's College, in Oxford, in 1598. and Bachelour of Civil-Law, in 1603. being, about that time, a Student in Grays-Inn. Soon after, he took holy Orders, and in 1609. was made Vicar of S. Giles's, in the North-Suburb of Oxon. In 1621. he was elected Preſident of S. John's College, aforeſaid; and the next Year he proceeded in the Civil-Law. In January 1627. he being then one of his Majeſty's Chaplains in Ordinary, was made Dean of Worceſter; and, on the 10th of July, 1632. he was ſworn Clerk of the Cloſet. In the beginning of the Year 1633. he was elected Biſhop of Hereford, in the place of Dr. Francis Godwin, deceas'd, ſaith my Author (he ſhould rather have ſaid, toward the latter end of the Year; for Biſhop Godwin died not till the 20th of September, that Year, according to the Dean and Chapter of Hereford's Certificate thereof to the Archbiſhop of Canterbury;) about that time he was alſo made Dean of the King's Chappel, and, upon the Tranſlation of Dr. Laud to the Archbiſhoprick of Canterbury, he was promoted to the Sea of London, October 23. 1633. (at which time his Election was confirm'd, conſecrated the 27th of the ſame Month, and enthron'd, November 5. following.) About this time he was made one of His Majeſty's Privy-Council; and on March 6. 1635. Lord-Treaſurer, which Office he enjoy'd till 1641. In the Rebellion he ſuffer'd as other Biſhops did. In 1648. he attended the King in his moſt diſconſolate Condition, and was with him on the Scaffold, when he was beheaded; after which, he retir'd to his little Mannor of Little-Compton, in Gloceſterſhire. After the Reſtauration of King Charles II. he was tranſlated to the Sea of Canterbury, Septemb. 20. 1660. He died in his Palace at Lambeth, June 4. 1663. aged Eighty One Years; his Body was convey'd to Oxford, July 7. following, and on the 9th (lying in the mean while in State) was ſolemnly inter'd in S. John's-College Chappel, at the upper end thereof, before the Altar, in a Grave wall'd with Brick. He was eſteem'd a Perſon of Primitive Sanctity, of great Wiſdom, Piety, Learning, Patience, Charity, and all Apoſtolical Virtues. He gave, in 1663. to the ſaid College of S. John, 7000 l. with which is bought 350 l. per annum, out of which is allotted to every Fellow and Scholar, beyond the Allowance of the Founder, 6 l. per annum; and what remains, is reſerv'd for the Uſe of the College.

LXXXIX. Athen. Oxon. II. vol. 678.

Gilbert Sheldon, Doctor of Divinity, ſucceeded in London; he was born in Stanton, in Staffordſhire, and was the youngeſt Son of Roger Sheldon. In the latter end of 1613. he became a Commoner in Trinity-College, Oxon, and proceeding in Arts Seven Years after, was in 1622. elected Fellow of All-Souls-College, and about the ſame time took holy Orders; he was afterwards domeſtick Chaplain to Thomas, Lord Coventry, Lord-Keeper of the Great Seal, and by him recommended to King Charles I. as a Perſon well verſ'd in Politicks. In 1633. he was admitted to the Vicarage of Hackney. In 1634. he proceeded in Divinity, being then, as it ſeems, Prebendary of Gloceſter; and in the latter end of the Year following, was elected Warden of his College; about the ſame time he became Chaplain in Ordinary to His Majeſty, was afterwards Clerk of his Cloſet, and by him deſign'd to be Maſter of the Savoy-Hoſpital, and Dean of Weſtminſter: But his Settlement in them was prevented by the Rebellion; and during that, he was ejected his Wardenſhip, and impriſon'd, anno 1648. After he was releas'd, he retir'd to his Friends in the Country. On the 4th of March, 1659. Dr. John Palmer, who had uſurp'd his Wardenſhip almoſt Twelve Years, died; at which time there being an eminent foreſight of his Majeſty's Return, there was no Election made of a Succeſſor, only a Reſtitution of Doctor Sheldon, who, inſtead of retaking poſſeſſion in Perſon (which he never did) was made Dean of his Majeſty's Chappel Royal; and upon Doctor Juxon's Tranſlation to Canterbury, was made Biſhop of London, to which he was elected, October 23. 1660. and conſecrated upon the 28th. Upon the Death of Dr. Juxon, he was tranſlated to Canterbury, Auguſt 31. 1663. In 1667. he was elected Chancellour of the Univerſity of Oxford, where he built a noble Theatre, which coſt him more than 16000 l. At length, arriving to a fair Age, he died, November 9. at Lambeth, and was buried (according to his own direction) in the Church of Croydon, in Surry, near the Tomb of Archbiſhop Whitgift; where, ſoon after, was a moſt ſtately Monument erected, by his Heir, Sir Joſeph Sheldon. In my Author you may read more at large of this Archbiſhop, and of his Works of Piety and Charity, which amounted in all to about 66000 l.

XC. Athen. Oxon. vol. I. 829. Humphrey Henchman, Doctor of Divinity, and Biſhop of Salisbury, ſucceeded; he was Son of Thomas Henchman, of London, Skinner, and born (as is ſaid) in the Pariſh of S. Giles Cripplegate; educated in Clare-Hall, in Cambridge, of which he was Fellow. He was Chanter of Salisbury, in 1622. and Prebendary of South-Grantham, in the ſame Church, in 1628. and after the Reſtauration of King Charles II. promoted to that Biſhoprick, to which he was conſecrated, October 28. 1660. where having ſate near Three Years, he was tranſlated thence to London, September 15. 1663. about which time he was made Biſhop-Almoner (and was likewiſe one of his Majeſty's Privy-Council.) He died in October, 1675. and was buried in his Pariſh-Church of Fulham. He was, for his Wiſdom and Prudence, much valu'd by King Charles II. whoſe happy Eſcape, after the Battle at Worceſter, this pious Prelat did admirably well manage, eſpecially when his Majeſty came in a Diſguiſe near Salisbury. He built the Chappel in the Biſhop's Palace, in Alderſgate-ſtreet, now call'd London-Houſe.

XCI. Henry Compton, Doctor of Divinity, Biſhop of Oxford, ſucceeded; he was the youngeſt Son of the Right Honourable Spencer Compton, Earl of Northampton; was originally of Queens-College, in Oxford; being afterwards Maſter of Arts of Cambridge, was incorporated in the ſame Degree, at Oxford, April 7. 1666. he became, at length, Canon of Chriſt-Church, in Oxford, Maſter of the Hoſpital of S. Croſs, near Wincheſter, was made Doctor of Divinity, June 28. 1669. conſecrated Biſhop of Oxford, December 6. 1674. and thence tranſlated to London, December 18. 1675. where he ſtill continues Biſhop.

Deans of London.

AS touching theſe Deans (commonly call'd Deans of S. Paul's) Sir William Dugdale, in his Appendix to the Hiſtory of that Church, having given a particular Account of their Creation, Office, and of their chuſing a Sub-Dean, and of his Office, I ſhall wholly refer the Reader to what he has largely ſet forth; and, according to my propounded Method, give their Names in Succeſſion, as I have taken them out of Mr. Wharton's fore-cited Book, and ſome ſhort Account of them, as I have extracted thence, and from ſome Collections of that learned and laborious Antiquary, and my much eſteemed Friend, Dr. Matthew Hutton, and ſuch other Authors as I have perus'd.

Biſhop Godwin hath given a Catalogue of the Deans of S. Paul's, which (as Mr. Wharton has obſerv'd) is in many places falſe and imperfect: But Sir William Dugdale has publiſh'd another of better account (tho' not altogether right) out of the Archives of that Church, in Monaſticon Anglicanum, Tom. III. pag. 366. (and alſo in his Hiſtory of S. Paul's Church, p. 288.) in which the Names of Three only of the Deans occur before the Norman-Conqueſt; which Catalogue Mr. Wharton often quotes by the Name of Catalog. Paulin.

Leovegarus.

Godwinus.

Syredus: But next to theſe, Mr. Wharton would rather have choſen to place Two others, which, in that Catalogue, were placed after the Norman-Times; becauſe their Names agree to the Times before the Normans, viz.

Elſwinus.

Luiredus. But in another Catalogue belonging to the Dean and Chapter of S. Paul's, which I have ſeen among the Archives of that Church, there is one Guilermus plac'd next after Syredus, and then immediately follow Elſwinus and Luiredus.

After the coming of the Normani, theſe hereafter following ſucceeded in the Deanry of S. Paul's.

DEANS of London, after the Norman-Conqueſt.

Ulſtanus, by others call'd Wlmannus, in the Time of Maurice, the Biſhop; when it was ordain'd by the Biſhop and his Chapter, "Pſalterium quotidie "dici inter triginta canonicos & quinos Pſalmos. He was Prebendary of Totenbale. His Obit was kept on the 6th None of October. I.

After Ulſtan, the aforeſaid Pauline-Catalogue has diſpos'd the Order of theſe Deans thus; Guilielmus, Elſwynus, Luiredus, Radulphus, Anno 1150. Alardus de Burnham, Robertus de Watford, Hugo de Marinis, Radulphus de Diceto, An. 1183. Martinus de Paſthull, Walter de Langford, Galfridus de Lucie, 1237. Will. de S. Mariæ Eccleſia, 1237. Henricus de Cornhil, 1245. And in that other Catalogue of the Dean and Chapter, which I have ſeen, Radulphus, 1150. is not there. Radulphus de Diceto, 1197. is placed next to Alardus de Burnham; Martin Paſthull next to Robert de Watford; Hugo de Marinis next to Martin Paſthull; and Walter de Langford next to Hugo de Marinis. So that theſe fore-cited Catalogues ſeem to be confus'd in their Series of theſe Deans hitherto; but Mr. Wharton has given us a more certain Order of them, and next to Ulſtan has placed Willelmus, who was Nephew to Richard de Belmeis, Biſhop of Lond. by Adeline, his Siſter. (He was Prebendary of Chiſwick, and occurs Dean in 1111. the 14th Kal. of Auguſt.) He held this Deanry under the ſaid Richard Gilbert Univerſalis, and Robert de Sigillo, Biſhops of London; and died, ann. 1138. according to Ralph de Diceto. Imag. Hiſt. p. 507, 508. II. Wharton, de Dec. 201.

Radulphus de Langford, was domeſtick Chaplain to William, the Dean, abovemention'd; a Canon of S. Paul's (viz. Prebendary of Totenbale) Nephew to Richard de Belmeis the Firſt, by Walter de Belmeis, and Brother to Richard de Belmeis, the Second of that Name, Biſhops of London. In 1138. he, with his Brother and Fellow-Canon, Richard de Belmeis, were ſent to Rome, by the aforeſaid William, the Dean, as Ralph de Diceto tells, Imag. Hiſt. p. 506. (One Ralph occurs Dean, in 1142. Reg. Dec. & Cap. lib. L. fol. 34.) and enjoy'd his Deanry, anno 1145. (Ibid. fol. 45.) In the Pauline-Catalogue, he is plac'd Dean in 1150. (in which Year he was likewiſe preſent at the Conſtitution De Pane & Servitio. Dr. Hutton.) In the Epiſtle of Theobald, Archbiſhop of Canterbury, to Pope Adrian (who ſate Biſhop of Rome, from the end of the Year 1154. to 1159.) it is ſaid, That Richard, the Biſhop, had newly delegated the Cogniſance of a certain Cauſe to Ralph, Dean of London, and Hugh, the Archdeacon. He was likewiſe Witneſs to the Confirmation of the Church of Thurrock-Greys, in Eſſex, to the Knights-Hoſpitallers made by the ſame Biſhop. Nero E. fol. 205. III. Wharton, ut ſupra.

Mr. Wharton will have it, That Taurinus de Stamford was the next Dean; and that he enjoy'd this Deanry in the Time of the Second Richard de Belmeis, Biſhop of London, between the Years 1154. and 1162. quoting an old Chartulary of that Biſhop (wherein mention being firſt made of Gilbert, his Predeceſſor) it is thus ſaid, "Taurinum de Stamford, Decanum noſtrum admi"ſimus ad Vicarium de Dunton. But it ſeems, Mr. Wharton was not ſo exact in looking over this Chartulary; for Dr. Hutton, who Wharton. 202.

has ſince perus'd this very original Chartulary, which is in the Church of S. Paul's, with a Seal and Witneſſes to it (which Witneſſes are Alardus, Archdeacon of London, and William de Ely, Dom. Regis Theſaurarius) ſays, there is no mention made at all of Richard's * Predeceſſor: Beſides, there does not appear any Alard to have been Archdeacon of London, till many Years after the Death of the ſaid Richard de Belmeis, the Second: So that this Taurinus de Stamford, in all likelyhood, was never Dean of this Church; neither do I find him mention'd in any of the aforeſaid Catalogues; therefore, leaving him out, I proceed to the next.

* See Dunton Waylet, in Eſſex, where is a Tranſcript of the ſaid original Chartulary, and more ſaid of this matter.

IV. Wharton, 202. Hugo de Marinis, or de Marny (was Prebendary of Totenhale.) He is ſaid, in a certain Regiſtry, to have this Deanry between the Years 1152. and 1161. ſays Mr. Wharton; and in another, ſays Dr. Hutton, to have been an Archdeacon before he was Dean. By the Regiſtry of the Dean and Chapter, it appears, he gave his Conſent, as Dean, about the Church of S. Mary Magdalen; (vide S. Mary Magdalen, Milkſtreet.) and conſented to the endowing of the Treaſurerſhip of S. Paul's, in the Time of Richard de Belmeis the Second, who died in 1162. The Church of Heybridg, in Eſſex, was dedicated when he was Dean. He is thought to have ſate Dean of S. Paul's, from about the Year 1160. to 1183. according to the Paul. Catal. but more truly, till about the Year 1181. as will appear by his Succeſſor.

V. Radulphus de Diceto, ſucceeded the ſaid Hugo, as well, it ſeems, in his Prebendſhip of Totenhale, as in his Deanry, to which he was promoted in the Year 1181. as appears by the Archives of the Church; for, upon ſurveying the State of the Church belonging to the Dean and Chapter, Lib. B. fol. 26. I find it thus recorded, "Inquiſitiones fuerunt factæ, Anno Domini "1181. Henrici II. Ann. 27. Tranſlationis Gilberti London Epiſcopi 18. decana-"tus Radulphi de Diceto, Anno primo. He is ſaid to be Archdeacon of London before he was Dean of S. Paul's, and ſeveral times ſtil'd Archdeacon of London; it being uſual, in thoſe antient Times, to ſtile any Archdeacon, in a Dioceſe, by the Title of the Cathedral; ſo that it ſeems uncertain, whether he was ever Archdeacon of London; beſides, Nicolas was Archdeacon of London, in 1162. as appears by a certain Agreement then left in his Hands, about the Church of S. Mary, above-mention'd, wherein it is thus expreſs'd, "Hanc Conventionem in manu Nicolai Archid. London. "Acta ſunt hæc in Capitulo S. Pauli, anno M. C. LXII. and continu'd in that Office many Years after, as may eaſily be prov'd by his being Witneſs with Ralph de Diceto, after he was Dean, to a certain Agreement between the Abbot of Combe and the Canons of Kenelworth. That Ralph de Diceto was Archdeacon of Middleſex, may be deduc'd from this following Letter of Hugh, Biſhop of Lincoln, about the Inſtitution of Rad. de Vireneto to the Church of Aynho, in the County of Northampton. "Omnibus Chriſti fidelibus,--- "Hugo, D.G. Lincoln, Epiſcopus, ſalutem. Noveritis nos ad Reſignationem "dilecti filii noſtri Radulphi de Diceto, & ad Præſentationem Abbatis & Con-"ventus de Walendena recepiſſe dilectum filium noſtrum Rad. de Vireneto ad "Eccleſiam de Aynho, & ipſum in eadem de canonice inſtituiſſe.—— Ad pe-"titionem etiam R. de Vireneto confirmavimus Twiberto filio Twiberti in perpe-"tuam in jamdictam Eccleſiam vicariam, quam ad Præſentationem R. de Di-"ceto, & conſenſu etiam & voluntate Willielmi tunc Prioris de Wallenden, ex "Inſtitutione Roberti, bonæ memoriæ, Lincoln. Epiſcopi adeptus eſt. Te-"ſtibus Archid. Leiceſt. & aliis. For the farther clearing of the ſaid Ralph de Diceto's being Archdeacon of Middleſex, I muſt add what is in a Manuſcript in the Library of Greſham-College, Num. 29. f. 47. where it is ſaid, "Rad. "de Diceto tunc Archidiaconum Middleſex aſſenſum præbuit. (i. e.) gave his conſent to the Payment of an annual Penſion out of certain Churches given to the Monaſtery of Walden, of which Aynho was one; according to a Compoſition or Agreement made between William, Earl of Eſſex, and Reginald, the Prior, and Convent of Walden. Theſe forecited Authorities were tranſmitted to me by Dr. Hutton, to prove, that the ſame Ralph de Diceto, who is often ſtil'd Archdeacon of London, before he was Dean of S. Paul's, was Archdeacon of Middleſex, and conſented to the aforeſaid Compoſition between Reginald the Prior, and Convent of Walden, and the ſaid Earl of Eſſex; and that he was Rector of Aynho when William was Prior, i. e. before the Year 1164. for William the Prior died that Year, as appears by the fore-cited Manuſcripts, fol. 52. and that he continu'd Rector till after the ſaid Priory was made an Abby, which was on the Kal. of Auguſt 1190. by Richard Biſhop of London, as appears by the ſame Manuſcripts, fol. 52.

He built the Dean's-Houſe, with the Chapel annext, and towards the latter End of Henry II. granted them to his Succeſſors in that Office for ever. In March 1189. he, with ſome of his Fellow-Canons ſail'd into Normandy, being call'd thither by the King, in Order to chuſe a Biſhop, but the King dying in fourteen Weeks after, he return'd re infecta. On the 2d. of September following, he was preſent at the Coronation of King Richard, and the Sea of London being ſtill void, miniſtred the Holy Oil and Chriſm to the Archbiſhop. He choſe William (de S. Mariæ Eccleſia) Biſhop of London, who was conſecrated to that Sea, 10. Kal. June, 1199. and after two Years, finiſh'd his Hiſtory; and if Bale and Pitts may be believ'd, this our Dean was living, anno 1210. Beſides the Tithes of the Mannor of Totenhale, which he granted to the Chapter and Canons of S. Paul's, he beſtow'd many Ornaments and Reliques on the Church. Of his Writings, you may ſee in the learned Selden's Preface to the X. Scriptores; and in Mr. Wharton's Preface to his ſecond Part of his Angl. Sacr. Bale and Pitts, aſcribe many other Writings to him, which need not be added here. His Obit was wont to be kept, 10. Kal. December.

VI. Alardus de Burnham, is ſaid to ſucceed Ralph; but before that, he was Archdeacon of London, and as ſuch atteſted a Deed of Ralph de Diceto to the Church of Erdeley (now Ardely in *Hereford*ſhire.) One Alardus, Archdeacon, was Prebendary of Cadington-Major about this time, and probably was the ſame with our Archdeacon of London; but it is very plain, that he was once Prebend. of Holborn, as will appear by what I have written of that Prebend. After he was Dean, he atteſted the Confirmation of the Church of Shoreditch to the Office of Precentor of S. Paul's, by William Biſhop of London; and if that Confirmation was made ſoon after the Grant of that Church by King John, which was on the 26th. of March, in the fifth Year of his Reign (1204) as in all likelihood it was, then muſt this our Dean ſucceed Ralph de Diceto, near ſix Years before 1210. when Bale and Pits will have it (as is ſaid before) that the ſaid Ralph was living. He was alſo Witneſs to the Appropriation of the Church of Great-Bardfield in Eſſex, by the ſame Biſhop, to the Priory of Stoke juxta Clare, dated 14 Kal. of October, 1214. He, by Name, ſucceeded Ralph de Diceto in the Preb. of Totenhale, and died Auguſt 14. 1216.

VII. Gervaſius ſucceeded, but was forthwith depos'd by the Pope's Legate, as a Schiſmatick. This was Gervaſius de Hobrugg, who was Prebendary of Hoxton, and Chancellor of this Church, among which Chancellors may be read more of him.

VIII. Robert de Watford, by ſome nam'd Dowtford, was Prebend. of Sneating, and was Dean of this Church, ann. 1218. November 22. as appears by the Regiſtry of the Hoſpital of S. Thomas of Southwark; alſo on the 3d. Ide of May, in the fifth Year of the Conſecration of Euſtace Biſhop of London, ann. 1227. in which Year, 12 Henry III. there was a final Agreement made at the King's Court at Chelmsford, on the Morrow after the Feaſt of S. Martin, before Martin de Pateſhull, Archdeacon of Norfolk, between Harding Son of Brandult, on the one part, and the ſaid Robert de Watford Dean of S. Paul's, on the other, about certain Lands in Tidwaldinton. This Robert, Dean of S. Paul's, when William (de Sancta Maria) was Biſhop of London, was Witneſs to a Compoſition made between the Rector of S. Botolph-Biſhopſgate, and the Prior and Convent of S. Mary-Spittle.

IX. Martin de Pateſhull was Archdeacon of Norfolk, and the King's Juſtice-Itinerant, ann. 1218. alſo in 1224. he reſign'd the Church of Dillon, in the Dioceſe of Hereford, was Prebendary of Cadington-Minor, and at length Dean of S. Paul's, ann. 13 Henry III. 1228. and died, November 14. 1229. And afterwards there was a Chantry of two Prieſts ordain'd in the Church of S. Paul, at the Altar of the Holy Apoſtles, July 2. 23 Henry III. to celebrate Divine Service daily for his Soul. He was a Perſon of wonderful Prudence, and extremely well skill'd in the Laws of the Kingdom.

X. Walter de Langford, in the aforeſaid Paul. Catal. is plac'd next after Martin de

But I have met with no other Authority for his holding this Deanry.

XI. Galfry de Lucy, occurs Prebendary of Iſledon, and perhaps of Totenhale, in which laſt (if he be the ſame) he is nam'd Galfridus filius Decani. He is ſaid Reg. Dec. & Cap. lib. A. f. 88. to be a Canon of this Church about 1224. He was Archdeacon of London in the time of Euſtace the Biſhop, and Robert de Watford the Dean. He appears to be the Dean of S. Paul's in 1231. William de Fauconberg being Treaſurer the Ibid. f. 25. & 37. ſame Year, which William, was ſucceeded in that Office by Alexander de Swerford that very Year; for it appears that the ſaid Alexander was Treaſurer of Ib. lib. A. f. 19. S. Paul's, 15. January 12. [Pat. 16. Hen. III. m. 9.] And if ſo, then if William de Fauconberg was Treaſurer, when Galfry de Lucy was Dean, as is ſaid above, the ſaid Galfry muſt be Dean in 1231. He likewiſe occurs Dean in 1234.
Ib. Cart. Oril. (19 Henry III.) In 1239. on the Feaſt of S. Peter ad Vincula, there was an Agreement made between him and the Chapter of S. Paul's, on the one Part, and R. de Wendover, on the other, about the Mannor of Sandon. And about the middle of the ſame Year, the Biſhop being abſent, he accurs'd all thoſe that had preſumptuouſly attempted to lay Hands on Ranulph de Brito, a Canon Mat. Par. 490. of this Church, and put his own Church under Juriſdiction. According to the Regiſtry of Bermondſey, he died 1240. July 30. but according to the Records Reg. Dec. & Cap. Cart. Oril. of his own Church, there was a Controverſie mov'd before him and his Chapter, in the Year 1241. about ſome Lands alledg'd by Roger de Horſet to belong to his Prebend of Portpool. He died in the Month of September the ſame Year, according to Matth. Paris, p. 576. which he ſeems to be farther confirm'd by the Patent 26. Henry III. 1241. wherein John de Manſel was preſented to the Prebend of Totehale, quæ fuit (as 'tis there expreſs'd) Magiſtri Galfridi de Lucy, Hiſt. Paul. 24. quondam Decani S. Pauli, London. He founded a Chantry in the Church of
S. Paul. To which Church he gave his Mannor, Houſe and Lands at Acton, reſerving one hundred Shillings per annum, to be paid to a Prieſt, celebrating Divine Service there, for the Health of his Soul, and for the Souls of Euſtace de Fauconberg, Biſhop of London, and Philip de Fauconberg, Archdeacon of Huntingdon, and paying twenty Shillings yearly on the Day of the ſaid Galfry's Obit, which according to an Obituary of S. Paul's, was held the 7th Ide of September, and a Mark at the Obit of the ſaid Philip de Fauconberg.

XII. William de S. Maria, ſucceeded; this was not that William de S. Maria, who was Biſhop of London, for he died about 1224. but this was a Canon of S. Paul's (for he occurs Preb. of Cadington-Minor, and alſo of Ealdſtreet) and Chancellor of the Church, from whence he was choſen Dean, about the End of Mat. Par. 576. the Year 1241. Before he was Chancellor, he was Witneſs to the abovemention'd Agreement between Galf. the Dean, and R. de Wendover, ann. 1239.
On the 18th of January, 1243. he was preſented by King Henry III. to the Church of Arton in Middleſex; the Sea of London having been void, by the Death of Roger Niger, the Biſhop, [Pat. 28. Henry III. m. 9.] ſoon after which Reg. Dec. & Cap. Cart. Oril. he died, as will appear by his Succeſſor. His Executors were William de Faceto, Bartholomew de Bennua, William de Parr, John Vicar of Willeſdon, and Hiſt. Paul. 25. Nicolas Vicar of Kenelworth. Theſe Executors aſſign'd a Portion of Bread and Beer to be yearly paid to a Prieſt, for ever, to celebrate Maſs at the Altar of
S. Stephen for his Soul, and for the Souls of his Predeceſſors, Succeſſors, Parents
Reg. præd. Cartis Oril. and Benefactors, for the purchaſing whereof, they gave to the Dean and Chapter 120 Marks. His Obit was kept 4. Id. March. He was Witneſs, but without Title to the Will of P. de Sancta Mariæ Eccleſia, ann. 1226. Was a Canon of the Church in the 1237, and 1241. Was Stationary when Robert de Watford was Dean.

XIII. Henry de Cornhill ſucceeded; he occurs Preb. of Holiwell, alias Finsbury, and alſo of Wildland. He was made Chancellor of the Church upon the Deprivation of Jervas de Hobrugg, ann. 1217. after which he had the King's Letter of Preſentation to a Prebend in Capella Domini Regis de Bruges, June 6. [Pat. 10.
Henry III. m. 5.] which he reſign'd 19 Henry III. in which Year he was ſent by that King to the King of France, to conferr with him about the State of Reg. Dec. & Cap. lib. A. f. 29. that Kingdom. [Pat. 19. Henry III. m. 14.] Whilſt he was Chancellor, he left his Houſes in S. Paul's Church-Yard, on the South-ſide of the Church, to his Succeſſors in that Office, paying a Mark on the Day of his Anniverſary.

He was Dean from the Year 1245. or rather 1244. for in that Year, Octob. 9. the Dean and Chapter of S. Paul's ſent a Caution under their Seal, to the Convent of Canterbury, that no Prejudice ſhould come to the Church of Canterbury, becauſe they had favourably granted, that Fulco, their Biſhop elect, might be conſecrated in the Church of Holy-Trinity, London. But I find that he was Dean of S. Paul's the preceding Year, which appears by the Endowment of the Vicarage of Heybridge in Eſſex, by Henry the Dean, and the Chapter of S. Paul's, London, dated on the Feaſt of S. Margaret the Virgin, Aug. 15. Ann. Dom. 1243. He died Ann. 1254. according to Matt. Paris, and on April 9. according to the Obituary of S. Paul's, on which Day his Obit was kept, for which there was an Allowance of 20 s. per annum. Whart. 207.

XIV. Walter de Salerne, otherwiſe nam'd Walter de London, by which laſt Surname he was elected Dean of S. Paul's about the Feaſt of Eaſter, 1254. He was afterwards elected Archbiſhop of Tuam in Ireland, October 16. 1256. and died at London, 1258. in the middle of the Month of Auguſt. Matth. Paris writes him Archbiſhop of Armagh, but 'tis a Miſtake. He is ſaid to be one of the Canons of S. Paul's, and it appears hereafter, that he was Preb. of Rugmere, and Stationary, when his Predeceſſor Henry de Cornhill was Dean. Mat. Par. 884. Whart. 208.

XV. Robert de Barthone or de Barton, ſucceeded; he was Preb. of Willeſdon, and collated to the Precentorſhip of this Church, ann. 1246. [Reg. Groſted Linc.] He, with W. de Lichfield, one of his Brother-Canons, with the Dean and others, went to Rome, to lay before the Pope the Tyranny of Boniface, Archbiſhop of Canterbury, over the Clergy of this Dioceſe. He ſucceeded in this Deanry, ann. 1256. and was Dean 1259. for about the Month of October, that Year, Peter Archdeacon of London, Richard Talbot Treaſurer, and Henry Chancellor of this Church, in the time of Robert the Dean, were Witneſſes to a certain Charter in 45 Henry III. [Reg. Dec. & Cap. lib. A. f. 59.] He was likewiſe Dean in 1260. for he then, with Giles Biſhop of Saliſbury, made the Compoſition between the Abbot, and Convent of Abingdon, and the Vicar of Kenſington, about the Tithes there. See Kenſington. Mat. Par. 782.

XVI. Peter de Newport. The time of his being elected Dean appears not, nor in what Year he was ſo, only in the Catalogue of the Dean and Chapter, and in the Pauline Catalogue, he is plac'd as next Succeſſor to Robert de Barthone. His Obit was kept, 4. Kal. March, or according to Mr. Wharton, March 27. He inſtituted a Chantry at the Altar of S. Thomas the Martyr, in this Church; but before he was Dean, he was Archdeacon of London, when Galfry de Lucy was Dean (which was between the Years 1231, and 1241.) when Roger Biſhop of London, confirm'd the Determination made by Peter Archdeacon of London and Henry the Chancellor, of a Controverſie then depending between the ſaid Galfry the Dean and Roger Abbot of Walden, about the Vicarage of Rickling in Eſſex, [ſee Rickling] was one of the Witneſſes to the Endowment of the Vicarage of Heybridge in 1243. and continu'd Archdeacon till the Year 1259. as above. Whart. 209.

XVII. Richard Talbot appears to be Treaſurer of this Church in 1259, and 1260. [Reg. Dec. & Cap. lib. A. f. 59.] He was afterwards choſen Dean, and from being Dean, was elected Biſhop of London, ann. 1262. Auguſt 18. but in the following Month died before the Conſecration. Three Days after his Election, Auguſt 21. a Compoſition was made between Boniface Archbiſhop of Canterbury, and the Dean and Chapter of London, about the Exerciſe of the Juriſdiction during the Vacancy of that Sea. Whart. 209.

XVIII. Galfry de Feringes ſucceeded, and was Dean 1263. [Statut. de Officio Puerorum Epiſcoporum, f. 47, 48.] Dean in 1266. as appears in Heybridge; and was in being in 1267. He was Preb. of Wenlakesbarn, as appears among thoſe Prebendaries. Whart. ut ſupra.

XIX. John de Chiſhull was Dean of this Church in 1268. afterwards made Biſhop of London. He had been formerly Archdeacon of London, among whom, and the Biſhops of London, may be ſeen of him. Ibid. 210.

XX. Herveius de Borham ſucceeded before the 2d. of February 127½. his Predeceſſor, John de Chiſhul, being elected Biſhop of London in December before; he did not die in the Year 1275. October 6. Mr. Wharton ſeems to intimate; for he was alive in the Year 1276. as appears by what follows, viz. Simon-Peter de Leghas and his Wiſe, oblige themſelves and Succeſſors to pay every Year to the Coll. D. Hutton.

the Dean and Chapter of London ten Pounds, to make an Anniverſary for the Soul of Hervey de Borham, nunc (it is ſaid) now Dean of the Church of London. This Obligation bears Date in the Year 1276. To this I may add what I find in the Regiſtry of London of this Hervey de Borham, ann. 1274. 5. Kal. Febr. he was Witneſs (being then Dean) to the Endowment of the Vicarage of Southwold in Eſſex. He gave the Advowſon of the Pariſh-Church of Matching in Eſſex, to the Prior and Convent of Leighs, and after he was Dean, was Witneſs to the Endowment of the Vicarage, dated 4. Kal. March 1274. On Friday next after the Feaſt of S. Dionys, October 9. being then Dean, he paſs'd away his Houſes in Bradeſtrade, London, to Fulk de Lovell, Archdeacon of Colcheſter, and his Succeſſors, who were to pay a Mark yearly, to the Dean and Chapter of S. Paul's, on the Anniverſary of Adelard, the late Dean. Before he was Dean, he had the King's Letters of Preſentation to the Church of Sticheneth, by reaſon of the Vacancy of the Abby of Weſtminſter, directed to the Biſhop of Lincoln, Auguſt 2. 1259. [Pat. 43. Henry III. m. 4.] And the like Letters to the Church of Morden, by reaſon of the Vacancy of the ſame Abby, directed to the Official of the Archbiſhop of Canterbury, dated February 8. [ib. m. 13.] He was Precentor of the Church of Hereford, and whilſt ſuch was preſent at the Reſtitution of the Temporalities of Robert Archbiſhop of Canterbury, in 1272. He ſubſcrib'd the Compoſition made between the Archbiſhop of Canterbury, and the Chapter of S. Paul's, in 1273. October 11. Titulo Hervici de Borham, Canonici Londinenſis, but was not as yet Dean. He was Patron of the Moiety of the Church of Halſted in Eſſex; and the Prior and Convent of Leighs, Patrons of the other; and whilſt he was Precentor of the Church of Hereford, procur'd them to give up their ſaid Moiety, as he did his, to the Dean and Chapter of S. Paul's, as appears in Halſted. He had the King's Letters of Preſentation to the Church of Ivelden, by reaſon of the Cuſtody of the Lands, &c. of John de Truilly deceas'd, directed to the Biſhop of Lincoln, dated January 28. 1273. [Pat. 2. Edward. 1.] In 3. Edward I. Hervey de Borham, then Dean of this Church, founded a Chantry of one Chaplain at the Altar of S. John the Evangeliſt, to pray for the Soul of John de Bruinford; ſhortly after which, the ſaid Hervey died as it ſeems; for in the next enſuing Year, did Robert Kilwarby, Archbiſhop of Canterbury, grant an Indulgence of fifteen Days Pardon to all ſuch as being heartily penitent of their Sins and truly confeſt, ſhould come hither, his Body being here interr'd, and pray for his Soul. This muſt be in the Year 1276. for according to what is above-written, and the Annals of Canterbury, Hervey de Borham died that Year, and Thomas de Hingelthorp was elected Dean. His Obit was held on the 6th or according to another Obituary, on the Nones, i. e. 7th of October. He was one of the Juſtices of the King's-Bench, ann. 1265.

Thomas de Ingaldeſthorp, or Inglethorp, Rector of Pegham in the Dioceſe of Chicheſter, Preb. of Newington in the Church of S. Paul, and Archdeacon of Middleſex, ſucceeded about the latter End of February, or the beginning of March 1276; for the Letters requiſitory for his Induction into the Church of Lambourn, in the Dioceſe of Sarum, which are uſually decreed on the Day of the Confirmation of the Election of the Dean of S. Paul's, bear Date on the 6th Id. of March 1276. He, with the Biſhop and others, gave his Conſent to the Building of Blackfriers-Church, as hath been ſaid before, in 1278. and to the Appropriation of the Church of Hillingdon in Middleſex, in 1281. (1278.) he founded a Chantry for One Prieſt to celebrate Divine Service for his Soul, before which he ſhould be buried; and an Aſſignation of a certain Annuity for the Keeping his Obit, which, after his Death, was held on the 15th Kal. of December. He got this Deanry of London, to which he was prefer'd, on the 8th Kal. of November, anno 1283. and was inſtall'd on the Vigil of the Apoſtles S. Simon and S. Jude. He died in 1285. Auguſt 18. according to a Manuſcript of Florilegus, in the Lambeth-Library (and alſo according to the Regiſtry of the Dean and Chapter [lib. F. fol. 64.] as will appear by his Succeſſor) but, according to Adam Murimouth, he died, Auguſt 18. 1287. Before he was Archdeacon, the King granted to his Chaplain, Roger de la Leye, 20 l. to be paid yearly out of his Exchequer, as long as he continu'd Remembrancer in that Office, until he could better provide for him. This Grant was dated May 11. 1251. [Pat. 44. H. III. m. 6.] In 1261. the King granted to him and John Giſors, Citizen of London, Cambia ſua London. & Cantuar. Jan. 18. XXV. Raymond de la Goth, was Nephew to Pope Clement V. by him made Cardinal-Deacon, Titulo S. Mariæ Novæ; and by his Gift got this Deanry of London, before the end of the Year 1306. as he did alſo many fat Benefices in England, beſides. From this Deanry he was made Dean of Lincoln, in 1307. or the Year following; and from thence tranſlated to that of Sarum, anno 1311. which laſt he held till his Death, which happen'd towards the end of the Year 1346.

Presbyter, by the Title of S. Marcellus, and made Dean of London by Papal-Proviſo, anno 1308. but, it ſeems, he had that Deanry a Year before; for it appears, that Arnoldus de Cantilupo tarried in the Parts beyond the Seas by virtue of the King's Licence, dated May 16. 1307. (wherein he is call'd Dean of the Church of S. Paul) [Pat. 35. Edw. I.] He had the King's Letter of Attorny, whilſt at Rome, October 12. following [Pat. 1. Ed. II. p. 1.] It is ſaid he died at Avinion, anno 1310. but it ſeems otherwiſe; for it appears, that he was at the Court of Rome in 1311. October 20. [Pat. 5. Edw. II.] and further, in Pat. 7. Edw. II. October 12. (1313.) it is thus recorded, "Arnol-"dus de Cantilupo, S. R. E. Cardinal & Decanus S. Pauli, London, in curia "Romana commemorans habet Literas Regias de Attornat. That one William de Baſing was Dean of S. Paul's in 1309. (as Godwin) or that the ſaid Dean founded a Nunnery of S. Helen, in Biſhopſgate-ſtreet, London (as Stow will have it) is a manifeſt Error, as appears by what is hereafter written of that Nunnery.

XXVII. John de Sandale, he is ſaid to be choſen Dean of this Church, and to ſucceed, in 1311. but that cannot be, if his Predeceſſor was Dean in 1313. as is ſaid above; neither does it appear any where, that I can find, at what Time he was elected Dean of S. Paul's. However, I take it for granted, that he was Dean thereof, ſince he is ſo nam'd in ſome Catalogues. But to give what account of him I can otherwiſe: He was Chaplain to King Edward II. who committed to him the Office of Chancellor of the Exchequer, Auguſt 20. 1307. [Pat. 1. Edw. II. p. 1.] was collated to the Church of Wymbledon, in 1309. Auguſt 19. he held then the Church of Dunbar, in the Dioceſe of S. Andrew, in Scotland. The Church of Simondesborn, in the Dioceſe of Dublin. The Church of Mims in the Dioceſe of Lincoln. The Church of Wimbes (or Wymbiſk) in the Dioceſe of London. The Chancellorſhip of the Church of Dublin. And a Prebendary in the Church of Wells. The Archbiſhop confer'd on him the Treaſurerſhip of the Church of Lichfield, Jan. 12. 1311. And he was admitted to the Church of Solyhall, in Warwickſhire, the ſame Year, October 29. In 1313. July 24. he had the King's Letters of Protection, as Treaſurer of Lichfield, and Prebendary of Sallow [Pat. 7. Ed. II. p. 1.] And the 17th of March following, he was made Prebendary of Fynglas, in the Church of S. Patrick, in Dublin. [ibid. p. 2.] He was Prebendary of Newington, in this Church, and had the King's Letters of Protection, 1314. January 9. [Pat. 8. Edw. II. p. 1.] He was Maſter of the Hoſpital of S. Katharine, 9. Edw. II. (See S. Katharins.) He was made Locum-Tenens of the King's Treaſury, 1312. October 4. And Treaſurer, May 23. 1313. Admitted Canon of York, 1314. May 6. And made Chancellor of England before the middle of the Year 1315. for, in that Year, February 22. Walter, Biſhop of Exeter conferr'd on John de Sandale, the King's Chancellour, a Preb. in the Church of S. Karantoc. Finally, he was Biſhop of Winton; to whoſe Election the King gave his Royal Aſſent, Auguſt 5. 1316. and reſtor'd his Temporalities the 23d of September following [Pat. 10. Edw. II. p. 1.] And before his Conſecration he was made Prebendary of S. Andrew, in the Church of Beverley [ibid.] He was Prebendary of Normanton, in the Church of Southwell, 1318. and had then the King's Letters of Protection. [Pat. 12. Ed. II. p. 1.] He died in 1319. (as ſome, or as others) November 8. and was buried in the Church of S. Mary Overies of whoſe Death the King was certifi'd, and his Licence to chuſe another was obtain'd, dated Nov. 24. the ſame Year [Pat. ut ſupra.] His Deanry of S. Paul's, it ſeems, became void, 1614. as appears by his Succeſſor.

XXVIII. Richard de Newport, from being Archdeacon of Middleſex, was elected Dean of this Church, anno 1314. and from thence was promoted to the Sea of London. See more of him among the ſaid Archdeacons, and Biſhops.

XXIX. Vitalis de Teſta. This Vitalis Mr. Wharton inſerts among the Deans of London, by the Name of Vitalis de Furno; and after he has acquainted us, That he was a Gaſcoin-Cardinal Presbyter, by the Title of S. Equitius, a Theologue, of the Order of the Minorites, made Dean of London, in 1317. and created Cardinal-Biſhop of S. Alban, by Pope John XXII. He tells us, that he died at Avinion, anno 1320.

Now, according to what I have had from Dr. Hutton, this could not be the ſame with Vitalis de Teſta, who really was Dean of this Church; becauſe he out-liv'd the Year 1320. wherein 'tis ſaid the other Vitalis died ſome Years before; and if you look into the Patent-Rolls of King Edward II. you will find Vitalis de Teſta ſeveral times call'd Dean of S. Paul's; as in the 10th, 11th, and 14th of that King, who, in all thoſe ſeveral Years, being in the Parts beyond the Seas, had the King's Letters of Attorney ſent him, wherein he is ſtil'd Dean of S. Paul's. In the Catalogue of the Deans of S. Paul's, inſerted by Sir William Dugdale, in Hiſt. Paul. and in Monaſticon, he is nam'd Vitalis Baſco; in Godwin, Magiſter Vitalis; in that of the Dean and Chapter, Vitalis Teſta Gaſco. Furthermore, this Vitalis de Teſta, in Pat. 18. Edw. II. p. 2. m. 29. Auguſt 26. 1324. had Letters of Protection granted him by the Name and Titles of Vitalis de Teſta, Prebendary of Torleton, in the Church of Sarum, Canon of the Collegiate-Church of Wyngham, and Parſon of Henny. Now John de Everdon, Succeſſor to this our Dean, was Prebendary of Torleton, aforeſaid, and exchang'd that Preb. with Vitalis de Teſta for his Deanry of S. Paul's, in 1323. after which, as you ſee, Vitalis de Teſta is call'd Prebendary of Torleton. And hence it farther follows, that John de Stratford, whom Mr. Wharton has plac'd among our Deans, as the next Succeſſor to his Vitalis de Furno (but not nam'd in any of the afore-mention'd Catalogues) was not Dean of S. Paul's; but the ſaid Vitalis de Teſta was immediately ſucceeded therein by

XXX. Whart. 218.

John de Everdon, who ſucceeded in the Deanry by way of Exchange, 1328. ſays the Pauline-Catalogue, but in truth in 1323. for thus writes Adam Murimouth (who was a Canon of S. Paul's at that time) "M. Johannem de "Everdon, Decanum S. Pauli feciſſe introitum ſuum honorificè, ann. 1323. "Septemb. 15. die Dominica. This John de Everdon (who occurs Preb. of Newington) was made Baron of the Exchequer, 1307. November 28. [Pat. 1. Edw. II. p. 1.] and continu'd ſo, it ſeems, in 1313. In 1307. about October, he reſign'd the Church of Stoke-Baſſet, in the Dioceſe of Lincoln [Pat. 1. Edw. II. p. 1.] In 1308. May 20. the King gave him the Chancellorſhip of Exon [ibid.] In 1311. May 1. he was Dean of Wolverhampton [Pat. 4. Ed. II.] and on the 23d of June following, he was collated to the aforeſaid Preb. of Torleton; and in the ſame Year he occurs Prebendary of Giveldale, in the Church of Ripon. In 1317. March 7. the King revok'd his Collation, which he had granted to Walter de Iſtlep, of the Deanry of Wolverhampton, which he was inform'd was void by the Demiſe of John de Everdon; whereas the ſaid John had neither left, nor intended to leave the ſaid Deanry [Pat. 11. E. II. pag. 2.] He and the Canons aſſign'd that Place which was the Dean and Chapter's Garden, together with the old Chapter-Houſe near it, for the building of a new one, which was begun to be built in 1332. And in 1336. this our Dean died, January 15. (for, on that Day his Obit was held) and was buried before the Altar of S. Radegund, in the Church of S. Faith, under Paul's; whereon, the 23d of Edward III. the Dean and Chapter founded a Chantry, upon the reception of a Sum of Money from the Executors of William (it ſhould be John) de Everdon, heretofore Dean of S. Paul's, for Two Chaplains to celebrate Divine Service daily, for his Soul, at the ſaid Altar; and alſo, for the Soul of Ralph de Dungeon. The Revenues of which being afterwards deem'd too little for the Support of them both, they were reduc'd into One.

XXXI. Wharton, 220.

Gilbert de Bruera ſucceeded in this Deanry, anno 1336. exchang'd the Prebends of Donyngton, in the Church of York (of which, by the way, he occurs Canon, in 1324.) and of Rayton, in the Church of Lichfield, for that of Edyndon, in the Church of Sarum, Nov. 6. 1338. He was Parſon of the Church of Aſtbury, March 5. 1325. [Pat. 19. Edw. II. p. 2.] By his Will made in 1353. he founded a Chantry in the Church of S. Paul, in the Chappel of S. Katharine, new-built by him; gave certain Tenements on Paul's Wharf, to maintain a Prieſt to celebrate Divine Service perpetually in that Chappel, for the Health of his Soul, and the Souls of his Parents, aſſigning a particular yearly Sum to be paid to the ſucceſſive Dean and Canons of this Church, for the keeping his Anniverſary, which, by one Obituary, is ſaid to be kept on the 5th Kal. of April. Godwin calls him William; and in another other Obituary of S. Paul's, he is recorded by the Name of William Brewſter; where it is ſaid, that his Obit is kept on Nov. 3. and the Allowance for it is 53 s. 4 d. But that his right Name was Gilbert, and that he was Dean of this Church in 1345. is ſufficiently prov'd by Mr. Wharton, and by his Will above-mention'd, that he was living in 1353. He occurs Prebendary of Rugmere, in this Church; and was Archdeacon of Ely, 6. Edw. III. His Executors were Thomas de Newenton, Rector of the Church of S. Michael Quern; John de Littlyngton, Rector of S. Bennet Paul's Wharf; and Rob. de Keteryngham, Rector of S. Gregory's. [Reg. Dec. & Cap Pix Y. & H.]

XXXII. Wharton, 221. Richard de Kilmyngton, a Theologue, of great Fame in Oxford, ſucceeded in 1353. or the Year following. He was domeſtick Chaplain to Richard de Bury, Biſhop of Durham, a great Oppoſer of the Mendicant-Friars, and wrote much againſt them. He was living in 1360. but died before the end of the Year 1361. If he be the ſame with Richard de Kilvyngton, who was Archdeacon of London; you may ſee more of him there.

XXXIII. Reg. Lond. Sudbury. Walter de Alderbury, was collated to this Deanry, ann. 1362. by Sim. Sudbury, Biſhop of London, Jure devolutionis. But before this, he was Prebendary of Holborn, in which he was confirm'd Dec. 10. 1361. [Pat. 35. Edw. III. p. 3.] and before that, he had the King's Letters of Preſentation to the Vicarage of Watford, in this Dioceſe, Apr. 30. 1349. [Pat. 23. Ed. III. p. 3.] and to the Church of Bycheneſtoke, in the Dioceſe of Sarum, Jan. 30. the Year following. He likewiſe occurs Preb. of Portpole. But, after all, I do not find him nam'd in any of the afore-mention'd Catalogues, among the Deans of this Church; beſides, he appears to be only a Prebendary of this Church above Two Years after he was collated to this Deanry, as is ſaid above; for on Dec. 12. 1364. he, with other of his Fellow-Prebendaries of this Church, conſtituted John de Ware their Proctor to appeal to the Pope; ſo that it ſeems as if his Collation to this Deanry took no effect.

XXXIV. Wharton, 221. Thomas Trilleck, was admitted Canon of Wells, in 1329. Apr. 20. (Dean of Hereford, as I have it out of ſome of Dr. Hutton's Collections, if I miſtake not, in 1359.) and being elected Dean of London, was confirm'd by the Biſhop, Apr. 11. 1363. From Dean of London he was promoted to the Biſhoprick of Rocheſter, by Pope Urban V. Mar. 6. 1364. receiv'd his Spiritualities from the Archbiſhop, July 23. following; and his Temporalities, Dec. 6. He was conſecrated at Lambeth, Jan. 5. 1365. and died about the Feaſt of the Nativity of our Lord, ann. 1372.

XXXV. Wharton, 222. John de Appleby, L. D. was, by virtue of a Papal Proviſion, made Dean of this Church, ann. 1364. By the Statutes of the Church of S. Paul, and antient Cuſtom, the Dean, unleſs he be a Prebendary, and ſhall reſide as a Canon in the ſame, ought not to be preſent at the Election of a Biſhop, or at any Buſineſs that is done in the Chapter, but only to call a Chapter, and then to withdraw: Upon which, this our Dean, by way of Permutation, got the Preb. of Chamberlainwode, in this Church, as was certifi'd by the Biſhop and Chapter, Nov. 22. 1368. [Wharton, ut ſupra, 284.] But the Time of his getting this Prebend doth not appear; yet of his Reſignation it doth, which was on or before the 13th Kal. of Nov. 1366. near Two Years before the Date of the ſaid Certificate. In 1371. he, with the Chapter, granted Licence of Ingreſs and Egreſs to a certain Chappel of S. Faith's, under S. Paul's [Hiſt. Paul. 118.] And the ſame Year, 46. Edw. III. was one of the Commiſſioners appointed by Edw. III. to treat with the Ambaſſadours of France, about a Peace. He was living in 1388. at which Time William, Archbiſhop of Canterbury, at the Petition of the Chapter of S. Paul's, tranſlated and reintegrated the Church of Bernes, in Surry, from a Vicarage, appropriated to the Church of S. Paul, to a Rectory, which was confirm'd afterwards by Thomas, Archbiſhop of Canterbury, Mar. 31. 1396.

XXXVI. Thomas de Evere, or Eure, L. D. obtain'd this Deanry by Papal Proviſion, before the end of the Year 1389. He was likewiſe Preb. of Mora, and voided both by his Death, which happen'd, October 9. 1400. as appears by his Epitaph, in the 12th Year of his being Dean. He was buried at the Entrance of the Quire, over whom was laid a large Marble Stone, with an Inſcription round the Edges; within that, the twelve Apoſtles; and in the midſt, his own Effigies in his Stall, at full length; and over the Head of the Stall, the Annun-

He Ibid. 22. gave 100 l. by his Will, for the Building of Houſes in Knight-Rider's-Street, to be employ'd upon the Reparation of the Shrine of S. Erkenwald, and to maintain Lights about it on the two Feaſt-Days of that Saint, and for the Support of a Chaplain, celebrating for the Fraternity of that bleſſed Confeſſor. In the 11th of Henry IV. Walter Cook and others, the Executors of this our Dean, Ibid. 38. founded a Chantry of one Prieſt, to celebrate Divine Service for the Soul of the ſaid Dean, and all the Faithful deceaſed, within the Chapel of S. Thomas the Martyr, in the new Work, for ever, and for keeping his Obit, which was held on the 5th Ide of October. He occurs Rector of Hendon in Middleſex, to which he was admitted, September 30. 1372. but how long he held it, appears not.

XXXVII. Whart. 223. Thomas Stow, LL.D. a Canon of this Church, viz. of Mapesbury, to which he was collated, July 25. 1390. He was Vicar-General to the Biſhop, from the Year 1396. in which Year he was collated to the Archdeaconry of London, Nov. 10. but not to the Archdeaconry of Eſſex, Febr. 16. 1397. (as Mr. Wharton hath it); for it appears, that Henry Wynterton was made Archdeacon of Eſſex, in 1369. and held it to the Year 1399. when it became void by his Death. Thomas Stow, from being Archdeacon of London, was elected Dean of this Church in 1400. Octob. 25. and confirm'd by the Biſhop the 29th of the ſame Month. His Preb. of Mapesbury (as I ſuppoſe this his Deanry) became void by his Death, before the 19th of November 1405. In 2d Henry VI. Hiſt. Paul. 39. there was a Chantry founded for his Soul, and the Souls of his Parents and Benefactors, and all the Faithful deceas'd, at the Altar of the Bleſſed Virgin, in the Body of this Church, by John Weyſterd, Citizen and Vintner of London, and forty Shillings yearly, aſſign'd for the keeping of his Anniverſary on the Octaves of S. Martin in the Winter. There was one Thomas de Stow, admitted to the Rectory of Holland-Magna in Eſſex, Aug. 7. 1367. which he aſſign'd in ann. 1469. but whether the ſame with this our Dean, I am not certain.

XXXVIII. Whart. 223. Thomas Moor, was collated to the Preb. of Newington, June 6. 1391. To the Archdeaconry of Colcheſter, Nov. 3. 1398. But before this, he was admitted to the Preb. of Shipton in the Church of Sarum, being then Treaſurer to Queen Anne, Nov. 9. 1389. He was elected Dean of this Church in the Month of January, 1406. He died in 1421. and was buried in a certain Cloiſter on the North-ſide of S. Paul's Church, call'd Pardon-Churchyard, Hiſt. Paul. 131. where antiently ſtood a Chapel, founded by Gilbert Berket (Portgrave or Prætor of this City in the Reign of King Stephen) wherein he lay buried, and was rebuilt by this our Dean, wherein he got Licence from Henry V. to found a Chantry of three Prieſts, but dying before it could be accompliſh'd, the Work was perfected by his Executors, appointing the ſaid Chantry-Prieſts to celebrate Divine Service therein for themſelves, &c. and for the Souls of the ſaid Thomas Moor, and ſeveral of the Kings and Nobles of England; and to keep his Obit on Dec. 23. for which there was forty Shillings aſſign'd yearly. He is numbered among the Benefactors of Pembroke-Hall in Cambridge, of which he had formerly been Fellow.

XXXIX. 1396 Reginald Kentwode, ſucceeded by Election. He was collated to the Preb. of Chamberlaynwode, being then L. Bac. Oct. 16. 1396. which he voided by Ceſſion in 1400. Whart. ut ſupra. and was the ſame Year made Archdeacon of London, Nov. 12. and on Dec. 25. following, Prebendary of Totenhale. Whart. ut ſupra. He continu'd Archdeacon of London in 1415. He was elected Dean of this Church, ann. 1421. Jan. 20. He was Preb. of Faringdon in the Church of Sarum, and Vicar-General to William Biſhop of London, in 1428. In 1432. he was ſent to the Mon. Aug. Vol. II. 894. Council at Baſil. In 1439. June 21. he and his Chapter made Conſtitutions for the Priory of S. Hellens, London. He died Octob. 8. 1441. and on the next Day was ſucceeded in his Preb. of Totenhale, as void by his Death.

XL. Whart. 226. Thomas Liſieux, was elected Dean of S. Paul's, 1441. Dec. 11. and confirm'd by the Biſhop, Jan. 20. following. He was Rector of S. Michael's Cornhill, London, to which he was admitted, Jan. 30. 1432. and reſign'd it in 1447. He was Preb of Rugmere, but the time of his Admiſſion appears not, which he reſign'd in 1452. and accepted the Prebend of Totenhale, April 8. the ſame Year, being then Bachelour of Divinity, which he held till his Death. He was Keeper of the King's Privy-Seal in 1456. being Procurator of Thomas

Beckington, Biſhop of Wells, he oftentimes ſate under that Name in the Upper-Houſe of Parliament, between the Years 1452. and 1456. in which Year he died, Octob. 13. and there was aſſign'd for his Anniverſary, twenty ſix Shillings and eight Pence yearly.

He was made Rector of the Brotherhood of Jeſus-Chapel, under the Choir of S. Paul's Church, ann. 1459. founded, or rather confirm'd by King Henry VI. where after the Death of the ſaid William, a Chantry was founded in 17. Henry VII. for one Prieſt, to perform Divine Service in a certain Chapel there, where the Body of the ſaid William was interr'd, for his Soul, and the Souls of ſeveral of his Relations, and a yearly Allowance of forty Shillings, aſſign'd for the keeping of his Anniverſary for ever. To which was afterwards added another Chantry, founded in 18. Henry VIII. by William Vale, Citizen and Cutler of London, who by his Teſtament, gave ſeveral Meſſuages for the Maintenance of a Prieſt to celebrate and pray for the Soul of the ſaid William Say, in the fore-mention'd Chapel, for ever. This our Dean, died on the 23d of Nov. 1468. whereby his Deanry and Preb. of Wenlakesbarn became void. and dying that Year, could not be the ſame William Say, who, Stow ſaith, was Maſter of the Hoſpital of S. Anthony in 1474.

Thomas Wynterburne, LL. D. was elected Dean of this Church, Sept. 25. 1471. but before that, he was collated to the Church of Alhallows, Breadſtreet, Jan. 19. 1458. being then LL. He was collated to the Rectory of Harrw on the Hill, Oct. 17. 1471. by Thomas Bourchier, Archbiſhop of Canterbury, who made him his Commiſſary, and Judge of his Court of Audience. He held the Archdeaconry of Canterbury in 1468. Sept. 1. and was ſucceeded in the Month of Febr. 147$\frac{8}{9}$. He died Sept. 6. 1678. according to his Epitaph, [Hiſt. Paul. 63.] Dec. 7. according to Weaver. [Fun. Mon. 370.] However, it is certain, that he died Dean of S. Paul's, Archdeacon of Canterbury, Rector of Harrow, and Preb. of Totenhale, ann. 1478. for in that Year, after the Month of December, he was ſucceeded in all theſe Places, as void by his Death.

William Worſeley, S. T. D. (but according to his Epitaph, Legum Doctor) was a famous Preacher in London, and ſucceeded in his Deanry, being elected, Jan. 22. 1479. and confirm'd the 4th of March following, he, with his Chapter, confirm'd the Approbation of the Hoſpital of S. Giles in Maldon, to the Abby of Bileigh, July 5. 1484. [Reg. Lond. Kemp. inter fol. 221. & 222.] But in the beginning of the Year, 1495. (11 Henry VII.) giving Aid to Perkin Warbeck, he was condemn'd at London for High-Treaſon, yet out of Reſpect to his Order and Learning, he obtain'd the King's Pardon; [ſo ſaith Hall in his Chron. Par. 5. fol. 34.] But my Lord Bacon in his [Hiſt. of Henry VII. p. 131.] ſaith, that he paſs'd Examination, but came not to a publick Trial. This our Dean, at laſt died, Aug. 14. 1499. as appears by his Epitaph, [Hiſt. Paul. 77.] His Epitaph in Weaver, [p. 368.] placeth the time of his Death in 1488. Aug. 15. but much in the wrong (as he often is) for his being concern'd in the Buſineſs of Perkin, above-mention'd, demonſtrates the contrary. Beſides, his Preb. of Welleſdon was given to Richard Rawlins, Sept. 7. 1499. as void by his Death. The Preb. of South-Cave, in the Church of York, void alſo by his Death, was given to Hugh Oldham, 1499. And his Archdeaconry of Nottingham, becoming void in like manner, is in the Month of Auguſt, the ſame Year, given to Thomas Creſſeley.

XLVI. Whart. 132.

Robert Sherbon was made Fellow of New-College, Oxon. in 1474. and afterwards Maſter of Arts (to which College he was a Benefactor, Antiq. Oxon. lib. 2. 130.) He was Preb. of Wildland, to which he was admitted, Aug. 26. 1489. which he exchang'd for that of Haliwell, alias Finsbury, Nov. 2. 1483. and reſign'd it in 1494. as appears in thoſe Prebends. In 1496. March 17. he was collated to the Preb. of Mora, which he held till it became void by his Promotion to the Biſhoprick of S. Davids in 1505. He was inſtituted to the Church of Alresford, in the Dioceſe of Winton, between March and June 1501. He was Canon of Lincoln; Prebendary of Whitechurch and Beneger, in the Church of Wells, which Preb. he reſign'd, ann. 1493. in October. And upon the Reſignation of William Worſeley, LL. D. in December 1496. was made Archdeacon of Taunton; and about the ſame time Archdeacon of Huntingdon. He was alſo Archdeacon of Buckingham. He was elected Dean of S. Paul's in 1499. continued in it in 1503. and 1504. then conſtituted the King's Orator or Embaſſador in the Court of Rome. He was elected Biſhop of S. Davids in 1505. under the Title of Conſiliarius Regius; receiv'd his Temporalities that Year, April 12. and on the 24th of that Month, obtain'd Licence to be conſecrated out of the Church of Canterbury. After three Years he was tranſlated to Chicheſter, viz. Nov. 8. 1508. and having ſate there twenty eight Years, he reſign'd his Biſhoprick, and died Aug. 21. 1536. aged 96 ſaith Godwin, 86 ſaith Wood, and was buried in the ſaid Cathedral-Church. He was a Hampſhire Man born, brought up in Wickam's School near Winton. He was much given to Hoſpitality, charitable to the Poor, munificent to his College, and beſtow'd much Money in Beautifying and Adorning his Cathedral-Church at Chicheſter. He was a Perſon of great Prudence and Dexterity in Tranſacting publick Affairs; and was after employ'd in publick Embaſſies by King Henry VII. and King Henry VIII. both before and after his being Biſhop.

John Colet, or Collet, S. T. D. ſucceeded in this Deanry. Of this moſt religious and learned Perſon, I have extracted this following ſhort Account out of Mr. Wharton, and Wood's Athen. Ox. where there is much more ſaid of him. He was the eldeſt Son of Sir Henry Colet, Citizen and Mercer, and Twice Lord-Mayor of London (viz. 1486. 1495.) by Chriſtiana, his Wife; born in London (in the Pariſh of S. Antholine, as it ſeems) in 1466. ſent to Oxford ford in 1483. where, after he had ſpent ſeven Years in Logick and Philoſophy, he was licens'd to proceed in Arts, being then exquiſitely well learn'd; after which, he travell'd into France and Italy, where he advanc'd himſelf much in Divinity, and returning again to Oxford, publickly and freely, without Stipend or Reward, expounded all S. Paul's Epiſtles, about 1497, 1498, and 1499. where, in that time, he contracted an intimate Acquaintance with Eraſmus, who made this Report of him, that there was neither Doctor, Abbot, or Maſter in the whole Univerſity, who frequented not, and, which is more, took Notes of his Lectures. In 1493. he was admitted to the Preb. of Botevant, in the Church of York. In 1502. to the Preb. of Durnesford, in the Church of Sarum. He was Preb. of Good-Eaſter in Eſſex, in the Collegiate-Church of S. Martin-le-Grand, London, which he reſign'd, Jan. 26. 1503. In 1505. May 5. he was admitted Preb. of Mora, being then Doctor of Divinity; and in the ſame Year, and (as it ſeems) in the ſame Month, was made Dean of this Church; about which time he left the Vicarage of Stepney, (his Admiſſion to which does not appear) being ſucceeded therein, Sept. 21. following. After he was Dean, he became a frequent Preacher in his own Cathedral, and many other Churches in the City. In 1512. he founded S. Paul's-School, which coſt him 4500 l. and made William Lily the firſt Maſter thereof. He committed the Over-ſight thereof to the Mercers-Company, whom he endow'd with 120 l. per annum, for the Maintenance of the ſame, which is much increas'd ſince. He and his Chapter, in 1518. July 12. confirm'd ſeveral Acres of Land, given by the Executors of King Henry VII. to the Hoſpital of the Savoy; and the Year following, Sept. 16. 1519. aged 53, died of the Sweating-Sickneſs in the Monaſtry of the Carthuſians, at Sheen in Surrey, and was buried in the South-Iſle of the Quire in S. Paul's Church, where ſoon after, was a comely Monument ſet over his Grave, which remaining whole and intire till 1666. was then conſum'd by that dreadful Conflagration; a Reſemblance whereof may be ſeen in Hiſt. Paul. p. 64.

XLVIII. Whart. 237. Richard Pace ſucceeded, anno 1519. When a Youth, he was Amanuenſis to Thomas Langton, Biſhop of Wincheſter, was train'd up at School at his Charge, and ſent by him to Padua. After his Return into England, he retir'd to Oxon, and ſettled (as it is ſuppos'd) in Queen's-College, where ſoon after, he was receiv'd into the Service of the then Provoſt, Dr. Chriſtopher Bainbrige, afterwards Biſhop of Durham, then Archbiſhop of York, and Cardinal; from his Service, he was receiv'd into the Royal-Court, made Secretary of State, and employ'd in Matters of high Concern. In 1514. he was admitted to the Preb. of Bugthorp in the Church of York; and the ſame Year, March 20. collated to the Archdeaconry of Dorſet. He was admitted to the Vicarage of Stepney in Middleſex, May 12. 1519. And Oct. 22. following (being ſtill the King's Secretary) had the Preb. of Haliwell, alias Finsbury, conferr'd on him and three Days after, viz. 25. of the ſame Month, he was elected Dean of S. Paul's, and confirm'd by the Biſhop, Nov. 27 following; having been before that, viz. Febr. 16. 1518. collated to the Archdeaconry of Colcheſter, which he reſign'd within a Year after. He was collated to the Preb. of Combe, in the Church of Sarum, Dec. 16. 1521. and choſen Dean of Exeter after the middle of the Year 1522. which he reſign'd in 1527. July 8. as he did alſo his Preb. of Haliwell about June before, but whether ever he was Dean of Sarum, doth not appear. Athen. Oxon. Vol. I. 25, &c. He was ſent Embaſſador to Venice, where he was much commended and admired; but whilſt there, Cardinal Wolſey became his Enemy, upon which, he in a manner, fell quite beſides himſelf. Soon after, he was ſent for Home, and ſo carefully look'd after by Phyſicians, and at the King's Command, that in a ſhort time he came to his Wits again, charg'd the Cardinal with ſome things, of which, inſtead of clearing himſelf, by his Power, he caus'd Pace to be committed to the Tower, where he fell again more diſtracted than before, yet reſign'd not his Deanry of S. Paul's, as ſome have it; but Oct. 10. 1529. had Richard Sampſon, Dean of the King's Chappel, aſſign'd him for a Coadjutor: At laſt, after two Years Impriſonment, he was diſcharg'd by the King's Command, but never throughly recover'd his Senſes. At length, ſometime before his Death, he retir'd to Stepney, where he had been Vicar till the Year 1527. when he reſign'd it, and was ſucceeded therein by the ſaid Sampſon, Jnne 18. that Year; and dying there in 1532. (ſcarce fifty Years of Age) was buried in the Chancel of that Church, near the great Altar. He was very familiar with Eraſmus, who gives him this Character, viz. "Vir erat inſigni utriuſque literaturæ peritia præditus, apud Regiam Majeſtatem multis nominibus gratioſiſſimus, fide ſinceriſſima, moribus pluſquam niveis, totus ad gratiam & amicitiam natus.

XLIX. Wharton, 240. Richard Sampſon, LL. D. ſucceeded as Dean, not in 1530. as ſome have it, but in 1536. (about Four Years after Pace's Death; this Deanry having, for ought appears, continu'd void all that time) being elected, July 24. that Year, and confirm'd by the Biſhop on the 27th of the ſame Month: But before this, was ſome time of Trinity-Hall, in Cambridge; afterwards collated to the Archdeaconry of Cornwall, Feb. 3. 1517. inſtall'd Dean of Windſor, by Proxy (he being then in foreign Parts, about the King's Affairs) Nov. 14. 1523. and in his own Perſon, May 20. 1526. which Deanry he left when he was made Dean of S. Paul's. [He was admitted to the Vicarage of Stepney, June 18. 1526. which he reſign'd, Mar. 31. 1534. as he did alſo, the ſame Day, his Preb. of Chiſwick (the Time of his Admiſſion to it does not appear) and at the ſame time was admitted to the Rectory of Hackney, upon the Reſignation of Richard Sparchford, who immediately ſucceeded him in the ſaid Preb. Reg. Lond.] He was admitted Treaſurer of the Church of Sarum, Mar. 16. 1535. made Dean of Lichfield, in 1532. from whence he was promoted to the Sea of Chicheſter, in which he was confirm'd, June 10. 1536. then Dean of the King's Chappel; and in July following, made Dean of this Church, as above-mention'd; which Deanry he held, with his Biſhoprick, till 1540. when, falling under the King's Diſpleaſure, he was forc'd to quit it; but ſtill retain'd his Biſhoprick. At length, he was remov'd to Lichfield, to which he was choſen, Feb. 19. 1543. and confirm'd Mar. 9. following. Pitts tells us, That he was a Man pious, learned, modeſt, grave, and wonderfully indear'd to King Henry VIII. to pleaſe whom, he wrote ſomething for aſſerting the King's Supremacy in England, and abrogating the Pope's Power. Notwithſtanding which, in 1539. he was ſent to the Tower, for relieving certain Priſoners with Money, that had deny'd the King's Supremacy. Upon his removal to the Sea of Lichfield, he was forthwith made Preſident of Wales, in which Office he continu'd till 2. Edw. VI. at which time he began to ſhew himſelf a Papiſt, notwithſtanding his former Writings againſt the Pope; and ſuffer'd much, ſays Pitts, for the Profeſſion of the Catholick Faith, in which he perſever'd till his Death, which happen'd at Eccleſhall, Sept. 25. 1554.

L. Whart. 242, &c. John Incent, LL. D. born at Berkhamſted, in Hertfordſhire, ſucceeded in this Deanry, ann. 1540. He was the Son of Robert Incent, and Katharine, his Wife. Was made Bachelour of both Laws, by the Name of John Incent, or Innocent of All-Souls-College, in Oxford, in Jan. 1507. and created Doctor of Laws, in 1513. In the mean time, and perhaps a little after, he was the Biſhop of Wincheſter's Commiſſary, and Preſident of the Epiſcopal Conſiſtory. He was collated to the Preb. of Wildland, in 1519. June 1. and was one of the Canons-Reſidentiary of S. Paul's, in 1534. when that Chapter (and he among the reſt) made their Submiſſion to Hen. VIII. as Head of the Engliſh Church; and determin'd againſt the Supremacy of the Pope. The Author of the Athen. Oxon. ſays, That he was Dean of S. Paul's, ann. 1537. when Sampſon, his Predeceſſor was promoted to the Biſhoprick of Chicheſter; and about the ſame Time made Maſter of S. Croſs-Hoſpital, near VVinton: But, more truly, he was elected Dean of S. Paul's, June 4. 1540. and confirm'd on the 10th of the ſame Month [Reg. Bonner] upon the Reſignation of the the ſame Deanry by Sampſon, in that Year. The Year following he founded a Free-School at Berkhamſted, the place of his Nativity, and endow'd the ſame with 20 l. per ann. for the Maſter, and 10 l. for the Uſher. He died before the 12th of Sept. 1545. for on that Day he was ſucceeded in his Preb. of VVildland by Gilbert Bourn, as void by his Death [Reg. Bonner, 152.]

While he was a Child, being apt to learn, and having a natural Inclination to what was good, was taken into the Abby of Eveſham, and when he was about the Age of Eighteen, was ſent by his Abbot to Glocester-College, in Oxford. Afterwards, being call'd home by his Abbot, and that Abby ſoon after diſſolv'd, viz. Nov. 17. 1535. he had an Allowance made to him from the Exchequer, of an annual Penſion of an Hundred Florins, during his Life, and then retir'd to the ſaid College of Gloceſter again. In 1539. he was admitted to the reading of the Sentences; being about that time Chaplain to Dr. John Bell, Biſhop of Worceſter. After this, he was entertain'd by Dr. Bonner, Biſhop of London, with whom continuing till 1549. (at which time he was depriv'd, and put into the Marſhalſea) he, the ſaid Feckenham, was committed to the Tower; from whence he was ſoon after releas'd, or rather borrow'd for a time by Sir Philip Hobie, to manage ſeveral Diſputes, at ſeveral times and places, about Matters of Religion; which being ended, he was remanded again to his Priſon in the Tower, where he continu'd till the Firſt of Q. Mary, was then releas'd, and Reg. And Sept. 23. following, was inſtituted to Greenford Magna, in the ſame County; which he vacated in 1556. per Religionis ingreſſum. In the beginning of which Year he was actually created Doctor of Divinity; and in November, the ſame Year, remov'd from the Deanry of S. Paul's, and made Abbot of Weſtminſter, and Chaplain to the Queen: All the time of whoſe Reign, he employ'd himſelf in doing good Offices to the afflicted Proteſtants; and interceded with the Queen (tho' by it he gain'd her Diſpleaſure for a time) for the Lady Elizabeth; after whoſe coming to the Crown, he deny'd her Supremacy over the Church, ann. 1559. The Year following he was committed again Priſoner to the Tower; and, in 1563. to the free Cuſtody of Dr. Horne, Biſhop of Wincheſter, with whom he tarried only One Winter, and was ſent again to the Tower; thence, after ſome time, to the Marſhalſea; then to a private Houſe, in Holborn; and, in 1580. to Wisbich-Caſtle, in Cambridgeſhire, where he remain'd to the time of his Death in great Devotion and Sanctity of Life. He died in 1585. leaving behind him this Character, viz. "He was a Perſon full of Offices of Piety and Humility, and "was always ready, tho' of a contrary Opinion, to do good to the Proteſtant-"Party, eſpecially, in the Reign of Q. Mary, when they ſuffer'd. Henry Cole, LL. D. was another that ſucceeded in this Deanry, after the Deprivation of Dr. May. This Henry Cole was born at Godſhyll, in the Iſle of Wight; brought up at Wickham's-School, near Winton; made Fellow of New-College, in 1523. ſtudied the Civil-Law; travel'd, ſome Years after, into Italy; was at Padua; a zealous Maintainer, for a while, of the Roman-Catholick Religion; and afterwards, notwithſtanding all this, he did acknowledge King Hen. VIII. to be the Supream Head of the Church of England. In 1540. he took the Degree of Doctor of Civil-Law; and the ſame Year reſign'd his Fellowſhip, being then an Advocate in the Court of Arches, Prebendary of Yatminſter Secunda, in the Church of Sarum; and, about that time, Archdeacon of Ely, in the place (as it ſeems) of Richard Coxe. In the ſame Year, 1540. Sept. 11. he was admitted to the Rectory of Chelmsford (Eſſex) and, Oct. 5. following, was collated to the Preb. of Holborn, which he reſign'd, Apr. 19. 1541. and was the ſame Day collated to that of Sneating; and voiding that by Ceſſion, on or before Mar. 22. next enſuing, was, on that very Day, collated to the Preb. of Wenlakesbarne. In 1542. he was elected Warden of New-College. And in 1545. was made Rector of Newton Longvil, in Bucks. Soon after, when King Edw. VI. came to the Crown, he was altogether for Reformation; frequented the Proteſtant-Service, and communicated with them. In 1547. he reſign'd his Church of Chelmsford, and in 1551. his Wardenſhip; and the Year following, his Rectory of Newton Longvil. But, after Q. Mary came to the Crown, he became again a zealous Roman-Catholick; and, in the Second of her Reign, was made Provoſt of Eaton-College; of which Houſe he had been Fellow. And, the ſame Year, had the Degree of Doctor of Divinity confer'd on him. Soon after, he was appointed One of the Commiſſioners to viſit the Univerſity of Cambridge; was elected Dean of S. Paul's, Dec. 11. 1556. void by the removal of Feekenham; made Vicar-general of the Spiritualities under Cardinal Pole, Archbiſhop of Canterbury, Aug. 8. 1557. and Oct. 1. following, Official of the Arches, and Dean of the Peculiars; and, in November next, Judge of the Court of Audience. In the Reign of King Edw. VI. and perhaps before, he taught School at Weſtminſter: But when Q. Mary began to reign, he, much averſe to the Roman-Catholick Religion, left the Kingdom, and liv'd in Germany; whence, upon Queen Elizabeth's coming to the Crown, he return'd; and, Jan. 1. 1559. was collated to the Archdeaconry of Middleſex, [*Reg. Afterwards he became a frequent and painful Preacher, and a zealous Writer againſt the Engliſh Catholicks that had fled their Country upon account of Religion. Dec. 3. 1560. he was collated to the Preb. of VVildland; and Dec. 28. 1562. to the Rectory of Hadham Magna, in Hertfordſhire. In 1558. voiding his Preb. of VVildland, he was collated to that of Totenhale, Nov. 11. which he held till his Death. About 1589. he reſign'd his Church of Hadham; and in 1594. was inſtall'd Canon of Windſor; Sept. 6. 1595. he was elected Principal of Brazen-noſe-Coll. and, in Octob. following, actually created Doctor of Divinity, with allowance of Seniority over all the Doctors then in the Univerſity; not only in regard had to his Age, but Dignity in the Church. For Thirty Years together he preach'd the Firſt and Laſt Sermons in the time of Lent, before the

He was a learned Man, charitable to the Poor, eſpecially if they had any thing of a Scholar in them; and a great Comforter of afflicted Conſciences. He died, Feb. 13. $160\frac{1}{2}$. and was buried within the Chappel of the Virgin Mary, in his own Cathedral-Church; where ſoon after was a comely Monument ſet over his Grave, a Repreſentation whereof, and alſo the Inſcriptions thereon, both in Proſe and Verſe, may be ſeen in *Hiſt. LV. John Overall, S. T. P. was ſome time Fellow of Trinity-College, in Cambridge; then Maſter of Katharine-Hall; and at length, the King's Profeſſor of Divinity in that Univerſity. In 1592. I find him admitted to the Vicarage of Epping (Eſſex) at the Preſentation of Sir Thomas Heneage, Knt. and May 29. 1602. he had the Preb. of Totenhale confer'd on him; and the ſame Day was elected Dean of S. Paul's; and whilſt Dean, was one of the firſt Fellows, and the firſt in Order of the College of Chelſey, in Middleſex, appointed by King James I. himſelf, May 8. 1610. [Vid. Chelſey-College.] He was Prolocutor of the Lower Houſe of Convocation, call'd ann. 1603. (1. Jac.) and continu'd by Adjournments and Prorogations to 1610. and drew up, in Three Books in Manuſcript, the Acts and Canons that paſs'd therein, and now lately publiſh'd in 1690. by Archbiſhop Sancroft, under the Title of Biſhop Overall's Convocation-Book. From the Deanry of S. Paul's he was promoted to the Biſhoprick of Coventry and Lichfield, to which he was conſecrated Apr. 3. 1614. and from thence tranſlated to the Sea of Norwich, to which he was elected, May 21. 1618. confirm'd Sept. 30. following; and dying May 12. 1619. was buried in the Cathedral-Church of Norwich. About the time of the Reſtauration of King Charles II. Dr. John Couſin, Biſhop of Durham (who had been his Secretary) did, in Honour to his Memory, as having been one of the profoundeſt School-Divines of our Nation, erect a Monument on the next Pillar to his Grave.

LVI. Valentine Carey, S. T. King James I. gave him the Rectory of Weſt-Tilbury, Eſſex, to which he was admitted Jan. 30. that Year, he being then alſo S. T. LVII. John Donne, S. T. P. was the next Succeſſor in this Deanry. His Life is incomparably well written by Mr. Iſaac Walton, publiſh'd anno 1670. to which I refer the Reader, and therefore out of it ſhall only give this ſhort Account of him. He was born in London, of good and virtuous Parents, had his firſt Breeding in his Father's Houſe, under a private Tutor, until he was nine Years old, when ten, he was ſent to the Univerſity of Oxford, where he remain'd in Hart-Hall, until the 14th Year of his Age; and then was tranſplanted thence to Cambridge, where he ſtaid till his 17th Year, about which time he was remov'd to Lincolns-Inn. About the 19th Year of his Age, he reſolv'd to travel, and therefore took the Advantage of waiting on the Earl of Eſſex, going firſt to Cales, and afterward the Iſland-Voyages, but return'd not back into England till he had ſtaid ſome Years, firſt in Italy, then in Spain.

Not long after his Return, the Lord Chancellor Elſemere took him to be his Ibid. 17.
chief Secretary, which Employment he continu'd for five Years, from whoſe Service he was diſcharg'd for marrying the Lady Elſemere's Niece, Daughter to Sir George Moor, then Chancellor of the Garter and Lieutenant of the Tower, without the Allowance of her Friends; but after ſome time, his Father-in- Ibid. 21.
Law was reconcil'd, and would have gotten him re-admitted into the Lord Chancellor's Service, but could not prevail. Dr. Moreton (afterwards Biſhop Ibid. 27. of Durham) both importun'd and encourag'd him to enter into Holy Orders, but he thankfully declin'd the Offer. In this mean while, he and his Family liv'd with his noble and courteous Kinſman, Sir Francis Wolly, at Pyrford in Surrey, till the Death of the ſaid Sir Francis; after that at Wickham, for about two Years, then at London, where Sir Robert Drury aſſign'd him a Houſe, Rent-free, next his own in Drury-Lane. His Majeſty had formerly both Ibid. 32. known, and put a Value upon his Company, and had given him ſome Hopes of State-Imployment; and about this time, there growing many Diſputes about the Oaths of Supremacy and Allegiance, in which the King had engag'd himſelf by his publick Writings, now extant; he commanded Donne to draw the Arguments into a Method, and then write his Anſwers to them;
he accordingly, in ſix Weeks time perform'd it, and brought them to his Majeſty, under his own Hand Writing, as they are now printed, under the Title Pſeudo-Martyr; when the King had read and conſider'd that Book, he perſuaded
Mr. Donne to enter into the Miniſtry, to which, at that time, he appear'd unwilling; and tho' he did not then deny, yet he deferr'd it for almoſt three Years; but at laſt yielded, and was, anno 1614. in the Forty ſecond Ibid. 37.
Year of his Age, ordain'd both Deacon and Prieſt, by Dr. John King, Biſhop of London; preſently after which, the King made him his Chaplain in Ordinary; and that Summer, attending his Majeſty in his Progreſs, who was entertain'd at Cambridge by the Univerſity; Mr. Donne, at his Majeſty's Recommendation, was there made Doctor of Divinity the ſame Month that he entred into Orders. Within the firſt Year after his entring into Orders, he Ibid. 40. had Fourteen Advowſons of ſeveral Benefices preſented to him; but they were in the Country, and he could not leave his beloved London. Immediately after his return from Cambridge, his Wife died, leaving him a Man of an unſetled Eſtate, and Father of Seven Children then living; upon which, he betook himſelf to a retired and ſolitary Life; but, at length, was prevail'd Ibid. 43. upon, by the Importunity of his Friends, the Benchers of Lincoln's-Inn, to accept of their Lecture, where he continu'd for Two Years, faithfully and conſtantly preaching to them, and they liberally requiting him. About which time, he was appointed by his Majeſty's ſpecial Command, to attend the Earl of Doncaſter, his Embaſſador, into Germany; and about fourteen Months after, return'd again to his Friends at Lincolns-Inn. About a Year Ibid. 76. after which, the King gave him this Deanry of S. Paul's, to which he was elected, November 27. 1621. and ſoon after, admitted to the Vicarage of S. Dunſtan in the Weſt, the Advowſon of it, having been given to him long before by Richard Earl of Dorſet, and confirm'd to him by Edward his Brother.
This Year he was choſen Prolocutor to the Convocation. He was made Dean in the 50th Year of his Age, which he enjoy'd ten Years, four Months and three Days, and then having languiſh'd in a Conſumption for ſome Months before, he with much Piety and Patience, ſurrendred his Soul to Almighty God, March 31. 1631. He was buried in the South-Iſle of S. Paul's Church, behind the Choir. A Reſemblance of whoſe Monument, and his Epitaph, may be ſeen in Hiſt. Paul. p. 62. and what Books he publiſh'd in into Holy Orders, he became a noted Preacher, and Tutor. In 1608. Reg. Lond.

they became void by his Promotion to the Sea of Lincoln. He was Chaplain to Prince Henry, and afterwards to Prince Charles. He took the Degrees of Doctor of Divinity at Oxford, July 5. 1619. He fell into Diſpleaſure of Prince Charles, and alſo of King James I. in 1622. for comparing Frederick, King of Bohemia to a Lamb, and Count Spinola to a bloody Wolf, and for expreſſing himſelf an Enemy to the Prince his Marriage to the Infanta of Spain, for which Matters he had like to have loſt his Spiritualties, had not the King highly valu'd him for his Learning, who not long after gave him the Deanry of Gloceſter, into which he was inſtall'd, Nov. 10. 1624. and after the ſaid King's Death, being made Chaplain to his Succeſſor, King Charles I. had this Deanry of S. Paul's conferr'd on him, to which he was elected, April 18. 1631. (about which time, or ſomewhat before, he was Preb. of Mora) afterwards, upon the Tranſlation of Dr. Williams to York, in 1641. this our Dean was nominated by the King, Biſhop of Lincoln, and was ſoon after conſecrated; but the Rebellion breaking out the next Year after, he receiv'd little or no Profits from the Lands belonging to his Sea, only Trouble and Vexation, as a Biſhop. Afterwards he retir'd to Lambourn (the Advowſon whereof he had bought, which he afterwards gave to his Nephew, Peter Mews (late Biſhop of Winton) ſpent there for the moſt part, the remainder of his Days, and juſtly obtain'd this Character from a learned Biſhop, " That none was more " mild, modeſt and humble, yet learned, eloquent and honeſt, than Biſhop " Winniff. He died in the Summer time, in 1654. and was buried in the Church at Lambourn, where ſoon after was erected a comely Monument over his Grave with an Inſcription.

After Dr. Winniff was promoted to the Sea of Lincoln, Dr. Richard Steward was nominated, at leaſt deſign'd for this Deanry; but it being in the Rebellious Times, was never elected; of whom I ſhall have occaſion to ſpeak among the Prebendaries of S. Pancras, and ſo ſhall paſs on to ſuch as have been Deans of this Church ſince the Reſtauration of King Charles II. the firſt whereof was,

John Barwick, S. T. P. was formerly Fellow of S. John's-College in Cambridge, but ejected thence for his Loyalty, and ſuffer'd much in thoſe Rebellious Times, by Impriſonment and otherwiſe. After His Majeſty's Return, he became Doctor of Divinity, Chaplain in Ordinary to His Majeſty, and was in Conſideration of his great Sufferings, inſtall'd Dean of Durham, Nov. 1. 1660. which he held but a little while, being elected Dean of this Church, Oct. 15. 1661. collated to the Preb. of Oxgate on the next Day, and inſtall'd Dean on the 19th following. In the late Rebellious Times, he boldly attempted, and ſucceſsfully manag'd Matters of greateſt Difficulty and Danger in behalf of the King and Church, and for that Cauſe, was ſhut up in a dire and loathſom Priſon, where he ſuffer'd inhuman and barbarous Uſage, yet with a conſtant and undaunted Spirit, and ſaw at laſt both King and Church reſtor'd, tho' he liv'd not many Years after; for in 1664. he died, and was buried in this Cathedral-Church, having an Epitaph in Latin ſet over his Grave, which the Author of the Athenæ Oxonienſes hath tranſlated and inſerted in his 2d Volume, p. 732.

Rector of S. Andrews Holborn, and Prebendary of Newington, ſucceeded, and was elected Dean of this Church on the 16th, and inſtall'd on the 19th of January 1677. in which Year he was admitted to the Archdeaconry of London, May 4. after it had been void, well-nigh three Years. The ſaid Dr. Edward Stillingfleet being in October 1689. promoted to the Biſhoprick of Worceſter, John Tillotſon, D. D. On May 28. 1691. he was promoted to the Archbiſhoprick of Canterbury, to which he was conſecrated on the 31ſt of the ſame Month, and was ſucceeded by Reg. Lond. & Dec. & Cap.

Having ſet down the Order of the Dignities and Prebends, as above; I think it moſt proper to give what account I can; Firſt, Of all the Archdeaconries, according to their Priority, becauſe of the Juriſdictions belonging thereunto: Next, Of the Office of the Precentor, Treaſurer, and Chancellour, according to their Precedency: And, Laſt of all, Of the Prebends, not as they are diſpos'd in the Choir, but in an Alphabetical Order; becauſe it is the Method I intend to purſue throughout the enſuing Treatiſes, as well in what concerns the Parochial-Churches and Religious Houſes within this Dioceſe, as in what concerns the Prebends belonging to this Cathedral-Church, as being the moſt exact, as alſo the moſt convenient and eaſie Method; with ſuch Obſervations as I can meet with, Of the Lives, Qualifications, and Preferments of ſeveral of the Archdeacons, Prebendaries, Abbots, Priors, and Incumbents of ſeveral Pariſh-Churches within the Limits of this Dioceſe, as well of Peculiars and Exempts, as of ſuch as are ſubject to the Juriſdiction of the Biſhop of London.

The Antiquity and Office of an Archdeacon.

AS for the Title of an Archdeacon, it is of no leſs Antiquity than the Primitive Times of Chriſtianity; the Uſe then being, That the Deacons did elect out of themſelves, One, whom they knew to be moſt eminent for his Induſtry, and gave him that Title. Howbeit, of late Years, he that was more grave and prudent than the reſt, has commonly been advanc'd to that Place.

Spelm. Gloſſ. 39.

As to his Office, he is bound yearly to viſit all his Archdeaconry throughout; then to enquire of all Crimes, and Miſgovernment of the People, as well the Clergy as the Laity, by Churchwardens and others; and to reform whatſoever they find otherwiſe than well, either committed heinouſly againſt the Laws of God, or the Ordinance of the Prince for a quiet Common-weal, diſſonant to God's Laws, to Man's Laws, and Politick Order of the World; to reform the ſame, either by godly Perſuaſion, or good Advice, or by Pains and Penalties, according to the Humility and humble Subjection of the Offender, and Repentance of his Offence.

Antiq. Warw. 126.

For this his Viſitation he hath Procurations; and for the like Viſitation at Eaſter, by the Archdeacon, or his Officers, Synodals.

Archdeacons of the Dioceſe of London.

The Archdeacons belonging to this Dioceſe, are in Number Five, (viz.)

1. London.
2. Eſſex.
3. Middleſex.
4. Colcheſter.
5. S. Albans.

Theſe Archdeaconries are all in the Gift of the Biſhop of London, who beſtows them on ſuch Perſons as he thinks fit, by Inſtrument of Collation under his Epiſcopal Seal; wherein he gives them Inſtitution thereinto, inveſts them with all the Rights, Members, and Appurtenances to them belonging; and aſſigns them Stallum in Choro (but not Vocem & Locum in Capitulo; for they have no Voice or Place in the Chapter, unleſs they are likewiſe Prebendaries of the ſame Church;) and iſſues out his Letters-Mandatory to the Dean and Chapter for their Induction and Inſtallation.

Concerning the Firſt Four of theſe Archdeaconries (for that of S. Albans was added after the Suppreſſion of Religious Houſes, in the Reign of King Henry VIII.) I find it thus recorded in the fore-mention'd Regiſter-Book.

“ Archidiaconorum quatuor Poteſtas & Officium in exteriori Juriſdictione

Archdeaconry of London.

CONcerning the mean Eſtate and Poverty of old of this Archdeaconry, Peter Bleſenſis (of whom more hereafter) Archdeacon thereof in the time of King Richard I. in a Letter written to Pope Innocent III. complains as follows:

Wharton, de Epiſc. Lond. p. 71, 72.

“ Archidiaconatus ille Draco eſt, non habens unde poſſit vivere, niſi vento. Ille ſiquidem Honor eſt in ſolis & nudis, & puris intellectibus. Nam cum ſint in illa civitate XL millia Hominum atque CXX Eccleſiæ, nec à Laicis Decimas, vel Primitias, vel Oblationes, quamvis fungar Sacerdotio (à Ricardo Epiſcopo ordinatus) accipio nec ab aliqua Eccleſiarum Synodalia, vel Cathedraticum, ſive Procurationes, nec auxilia ſeu hoſpitia; nec aliquas conſuetudines debitas Archidiaconis poſſum elicere à Subjectis. Præcipite, quæſo, Elienſi & Wintonenſi Epiſcopis; ut ad locum accedant, & ſecundum ſtatum aliorum Archidiaconorum iſtum ordinent.

The Archdeacon of London hath the Precedency of the reſt of the Archdeacons of this Dioceſe, and has the Firſt Stall on the Left-ſide of the Choir, oppoſite to the Deans: But tho' he be the Firſt in Honour, he was then the Laſt and Leaſt in Revenue, having no manner of Endowment belonging to his Archdeaconry; as appears by our poor Archdeacon Peter's Complaint above-recited; who, it ſeems, was far from prevailing with his Holineſs for himſelf; for thus my Author, after the Recital of the aforeſaid Complaint, goes on. “ Alterius rem egit infelix Petrus, ipſe enim Archidiaconatu brevi poſt privatus eſt, de turpi crimine priùs falſò deſamatus, à juvene quodam ambitioſo autoritate literarum à Papa ſubdole impetratarum.

Ibidem.

However, ſome time after this (but when I have not found) this Archdeaconry was endow'd with Procurations, and with the Church of S. Leonard Shoreditch (otherwiſe at firſt given to the Precentorſhip of this Church, as will appear hereafter) which the Archdeacons of London have to this Day for their Corps, and are Parſons thereof, and Patrons of the Vicarage.

As to this Archdeacon's Juriſdiction, it extends to all the Pariſhes in London, and the Liberties thereof, except the Thirteen Peculiars belonging to the Archbiſhop of Canterbury. The Pariſh of S. Botolph without Biſhopſgate, which, in all Eccleſiaſtical Matters, belongs to the Biſhop of London. And the Four other Pariſhes, which are Peculiars, to the Dean and Chapter of S. Paul's; of all which in their proper places. It extends likewiſe to theſe Three following Pariſhes in Middleſex, viz. S. James Clerkenwell, S. Leonard Shoreditch, and S. Mary Iſlington; all which Pariſhes of his Juriſdiction he viſits by himſelf, or his Official, Twice every Year; ſwears the Churchwardens every Eaſter; receives their Preſentments, and proceeds judicially thereupon; and yearly receives Procurations of the Clergy, who are Incumbents of thoſe Churches. He likewiſe proves the Wills, and grants Letters of Adminiſtration of Inteſtates Goods, of ſuch as die within the ſaid Pariſhes, not having Bona notabilia; except ſuch as in the following Catalogue have the Letters (Com.) at the end of their Names; for the Pariſhes ſo mark'd are ſubject to the Commiſſary of London, as to proving of Wills and granting Adminiſtrations only. He likewiſe inducts into all the Churches within his Juriſdiction, except ſuch as are in the Collation of the Biſhop of London, which have the Letters (Ep.) before them; or in the Collation of the Dean and Chapter of S. Paul's, with the Letter (D.) before them.

The Thirteen Pariſhes following lie within the Limits of this Archdeaconry, but are Peculiars belonging to the Archbiſhop of Canterbury, and are wholly exempt from the Juriſdiction both of the Biſhop and Archdeacon of London:

S. Dunſtan Eaſt.
S. John Evangeliſt.
S. Leonard Eaſtcheap.
S. Mary le-Bow.
S. Mary Bothaw.
S. Michael Crookedlane.
S. Michael Royal.
S. Pancras Soperlane.
S. Vedaſt Foſterlane.

The Four following Pariſhes lie within the ſame Limits, but are exempt from the Archdeacon, being Peculiars belonging to the Dean and Chapter of S. Paul's, and wholly ſubject to their Juriſdiction, ſaving only when the Biſhop viſits Tam in Capite quam in Membris.

S. Giles without Criplegate.
S. Gregory by S. Paul's.
S. Faith under S. Paul's.
S. Helen near Biſhopſgate.

Note, That in ſome of the before-mention'd Pariſhes, which are ſubject to the Archdeacon of London, there are certain Precincts which are alſo exempt from his Juriſdiction, and ſubject only to the Dean and Chapter of S. Paul's, namely, The Precinct of Portpole, in the Pariſh of S. Andrew Holborn; and the Precinct of Hoxton, in the Pariſh of S. Leonard Shoreditch: In each of which Precincts they ſwear One Churchwarden, and prove Wills and grant Adminiſtrations.

Alſo in the Precinct of Norton Falgate, near Shorditch (which the Inhabitants ſay is in the Pariſh of S. Faith under S. Paul's) and the Precinct of Goſwel-ſtreet, in the Pariſh of S. Botolph without Alderſgate; in both which they prove Wills, and grant Adminiſtrations: And laſtly, in the Precinct of Iſlington, where they likewiſe prove Wills, and grant Adminiſtrations, and, till of late Years, did ſwear One Churchwarden for that Precinct; but now he is ſworn by the Archdeacon of London.

I do not find ever any Synodals were paid to the Archdeacon of London; but his Procurations amount to the Sum of 2 per annnum; his Firſt-Fruits to 23 l. 13 s. 4 d. (not to 33 l. 13 s. 4 d. as in the Valor Beneficiorum, publiſh'd in 1680.) His Tenths to 2 l. 7 s. 4 d. yearly.

But this Archdeacon pays no Penſion to the Biſhop Ratione exercitii exterioris Juriſdictionis (as the other Three Archdeacons are charged with) it being in old Time remitted, by reaſon of the Poverty or Meanneſs of this Archdeaconry, as hath been ſaid before.

Wharton, de Epiſc. Lond. 84.

Roger Niger, Biſhop of London, in the Time of King Henry III. made certain Statutes, and preſcrib'd them to the Rectors and Prieſts of the Archdeaconry of London; which are in a certain old Manuſcript-Book of Statutes, in the publick Library of the Univerſity of Cambridge.

Archidiaconi.

a Willelmus.
b Nicolas.
c Alardus.

a Willelmus was Arch-Deacon of London in the time of Galfr. de Mandevil, Founder of the Monaſtery of Walden, who died in 1144. for he was one of the Witneſſes to the Endowment thereof, which Monaſtery is ſaid to have been founded in 1136. [Mon. Angl. vol. 1. p. 448. 459.] and very likely it was endowed at the ſame time, or ſoon after. He was one of the Witneſſes to the Charter of Foundation of the Priory of the Holy Trinity in Boſco, with Jeoffry, Abbot of S. Albans (who died 5 Kal. Mar. 1146) with Hugo, Abbot of Colcheſter, Norman, the firſt Prior of the Holy Trinity, London, Ralph de Langford, Dean of S. Pauls, and others, [Mon. Angl. 2. Vol. 872.] Finally he was preſent at the Conſtitution made by the ſaid Ralph the Dean, and the Chapter of S. Pauls, Anno 1150. [Reg. Dec. & Cap. lib. B. f. 35.] How long he enjoyed this Archdeaconry afterwards, appears not.

b Nicolas was Arch-Deacon of London, 1162. as appears by a certain Agreement then left in his Hands, about the Church of S. Mary Magdalen, [Reg. dec. & cap. lib. A. f. 23.] That he continued Arch-Deacon of London many Years after, appears likewiſe, in that he was Witneſs with Ralph de Diceto, after he was Dean, to an Agreement made between the Abbot of Combe, and the Canons of Kenelworth [Dr. Hutton.] He was Arch-Deacon of London in the time of Gilbert de Glanvil, Biſhop of Rocheſter, who was Conſecrated to that, Sept. 29. 1185. [idem. & Angl. Gac. p. 1. Pag. 346.] Nicolas, the Son of Nicolas Arch Deacon of London, occurs Preb. of Oxgate. [vide Oxgate.]

d Walterus was Arch-Deacon of London when Alardus (de Burnham) was Dean, and was Witneſs with him, and Ric. and Ric. Arch-Deacons of Eſſex and Colcheſter, and Peter the Treaſurer, [Carta Oril. penes Dec. & Cap. & lib. A. f. 27. & 31.] And perhaps was the ſame Walter who ſucceeded Peter Bleſenſis in the Preb. of Hoxton, as the ſaid Peter did him in this Arch-Deaconry: And very likely was the ſame with Walter the Son of Walter, Precentor of this Church, who Subſcribed the Statute of Hubert, Archbiſhop of Canterbury, concerning Reſidence in the Church of Lichfield, with the ſaid Peter Bleſenſis then Arch-Deacon of Bath, [vitel. A. 10. f. 176.] He was Arch-Deacon of London in 1197. and then laid the firſt Stone in the Building of S. Mary Spittle. [Stow's Surv. 175.]

e Petrus Bleſenſis was Witneſs to the Charter of Confirmation of certain Churches to the Monaſtery of Eynſham, by Richard, Archbiſhop of Canterbury (who was promoted to that See in 1171.) And to the like Confirmation by Baldwin, who ſucceeded him in 1184. [Charta in Thecis Ædis Chriſti Oxon, f. 20, 21.] He was preſent, when Arch Deacon of London, to the making of a Statute by Ralph de Diceto, the Dean, Anno 1192. [Lib. L. f. 57.] And with the aforeſaid Walter, the Precentor, Subſcrib'd the Statute above-mentioned, by Hubert, Archbiſhop of Canterbury, by the Title of Arch-Deacon of Bath; which Hubert was promoted to that Sea in 1193. This Peter Bleſenſis (or of Blois) was by Nation a Frenchman, but of an Engliſh Stock;

he was a learned Man and a great Writer, much in Favour with King Henry II. in whoſe time he was Famous, who gave him firſt the Arch-Deaconry of Bath; then (as Bale ſaith) this of London; and at length that of Canterbury. He inveighed much againſt the Vices of the Clergy. (Bale Cent.) Of this Peter Bleſenſis, let me add what I find in Degory Whear, the firſt Camden-Reader of Hiſtory in Oxford, viz. That he was the Continuator of Ingulphus his Hiſtory to the Year 1117. which was the 17*th* of Henry I. tho' he mentions ſome Things ſcatteringly after that time. He was firſt Arch-Deacon of Bath, and afterwards of London, and Vice-Chancellor to the King. He wrote about the Year 1190, and died in the Year 1200. [Whear's Method and Order for Reading Hiſtory, Pag 151.] He ſaith nothing of his being Arch-Deacon of Canterbury; but be that as it will, he was certainly of great Eſteem with Richard and Baldwin, Archbiſhops of Canterbury, in the time of Henry II. and was, with Gerard de Pucilla, ſucceſſively imploy'd by them in their reſpective Controverſies at Rome with the Monks of S. Auſtins. [10 Script. 1821. and 1498.] As to his dying in 1200, it ſeems to be an Error, for he was Witneſs to ſeveral Deeds about Sandon, now in the Cuſtody of the Dean and Chapter of S. Pauls, when Alardus de Burnham was Dean, who was next Succeſſor to Ralph de Diceto, who at ſooneſt does not appear to be Dean till 1204. He was Preb. of Hoxton, and was depriv'd of this Arch-Deaconry, as hath been ſaid before.

f Gilbertus (ſometimes written Ailbertus) de Pleſſeto, was a Canon of this Church, 16. Kal. Jan. 1213. [Baga Dioc. Lond. in Surio.] was Arch-Deacon of London, when Alardus de Burnham was Dean, and was Witneſs with him, and Peter, the Treaſurer of this Church, to the Confirmation of the Appropriation of the Church of Great Burdfield in Eſſex, 14 Kal. Oct. 1214. [Bib. Cot. Cler. 54.] He occurs Preb. of Harleſton in 1215.

g One Willelmus was Arch-Deacon of London, 3 Hen. 3. (1218) and Witneſs to the Deed made by Terricus de Allegoth, of the Mills at Wapping, to the Hoſpital of S. Thomas of Acon, London. [Bib. Cot. Tib. c. 5. f. 156.] Alſo to the Agreement made between William de Trumpington Abbot of S. Albans, and Robert, de Watford, Dean of London, May 1. next after the Conſecration of Euſtace to the Sea of London, [ib. Otho. D. f. 78.] Alſo to the Ordination of the Vicarage of Witham, (Eſſex) on the Kal. of March, 1222. [v. Witham.]

h Galfridus de Lucy. [v. inter Decanos Lond.]

i This Willelmus was William de Riſing, who was Witneſs (with others) to the Confirmation of the Churches of Alfamſton and Lambourne, (Eſſex) to the Canons of Waltham, Anno 1218. [Reg. Ab. de Waltham penes D. Le-Neve f. 113.] was Precentor of this Church An. 1226, [ib.] was afterwards made Arch-Deacon of London, and ſucceeded Galfry de Lucy in that Arch-Deaconry. And when Arch-Deacon, was made Preb. of Rugmore, next after Cynicus Romanus. His Obit was held 7. Id. July.

k Petrus de Newport, [v. inter Decanos Lond.]

l Johannes de Chiſhull was Preb. of Chamberlainwode; and by the Title of Arch-Deacon of London, and one of the Executors of Henry de Wengham, late Biſhop of London, had a Mandamus ſent to him and his Co-Executors by King Henry III. [Pat. 43. H. 3. m. 19.] whence it is plain, That he was Arch-Deacon of London, Anno 1262, to whom that King, in the 48*th* of his Reign, granted a Prebend in the Church of Wells, which Godefred de Giffard lately had in that Church, void by Commutation for the Prebend of Duddecote, [48. H. 3. m. 13.] And in the 49*th* of his Reign gave him the Provoſtſhip of Beverly, void by the Death of John Manſel, by reaſon of the Vacancy of the Sea of York. [49. H. 3. m. 24.] which, and alſo this Arch-Deaconry he held in 51 Hen. 3. Anno 1266. After which, he was Dean of this Church, and thence promoted to this Sea of London, [v. inter Dec. & Epiſcopos London.] but before he had any of theſe Preferments: He was in 1252 Rector of Iſhelham, [Pat. 37. H. 3. m. 8.] and in 1256 had the King's Letters of Preſentation to the Church of Upwell, in the Dioceſs of Ely, by reaſon of the Vacancy of that See, directed to the Biſhop Elect of Norwich, [Pat. 41. H. 3. m. 1.]

m Theobaldus Placentinus was Arch-Deacon of London in 1272, and afterwards choſen Pope. [Collect Leland penes D. Hutton. Vol. 2. Pag. 356.

n Galfridus de Mortuo Mari, Arch-Deacon of London, and Witneſs with the Biſhop and others to the Grant of the Church of Blackfriers, Anno 1278 [v. Blackfriers.] And in 1279 was one of the Witneſſes to the Deed of Tho. de Inguldeſthorp, Dean of S. Pauls, whereby he granted a Spring or Conduit, in the Pariſh of Stepney, to the Hoſpital of S. Mary without Biſhopſgate, [*Lib. o Richard de Swyneſead, Swyneſeud or Swyneſeld, was Preb. of S. Pancras, and Arch-Deacon of London in 1181, for on Nov. 2. that Year, he was one of the Witneſſes to the Grant of the Church of Hillingdon, [*v. [Godw. de Præſul. Heref.]

p Robert de Ros, it ſeems, ſucceeded Richard de Swynfeld in the Preb. of S. Pancras, where I find him placed next after him, and very probably in this Arch-Deaconry alſo, for I can find none between them. He was Rector of Great Hadham in Hertfordſhire in 1300, when a Compoſition was made between him and the Prior and Convent of Ely that Year. [v. Hadham.] He was one of the Stationaries of this Church, and continued a Canon here in 1310. [Dr. Hutton Coll.] but voided his Arch-Deaconry many Years before, for he was ſucceeded by

[*Whart. de Epiſc. [Pat. 1. E. 2 p. 2. m. 15.] He occurs Treaſurer of this Church Anno 1310. and in 1313. 14. Kal. Sept. he was ſent with Walter de Thorpe, a Canon of this Church, to the King, to ſignify the Death of Ralph de Baldock, their Biſhop, and to deſire his Conſent to the Election of Gilbert de Segrave, [Dr. Hutton Coll.] He continued Treaſurer till it became void by his Death in 1329. [v. Theſaur.]

r John de Bedeford was Preb. of Mapesbury, and occurs Arch-Deacon of London in 1300, [Prin. ps. 309.] and alſo in 1304, as appears by an Inſtrument dated that Year, between Rad. de Baldock Dean of this Church of London, and Biſhop Elect of the ſame; and this John de Bedeford, Arch-Deacon of London, Richard de Newport, Arch-Deacon of Middleſex, and Stephen de Graveſend, Executors of Richard, Biſhop of London, [Reg. Dec. & Cap. cart. Oril.] Being to go to Rome, he had the King's Letters of Protection, dated Sept. 1. 1307. [Pat. 1. Ed. 2. p. 1.] And in 5 Ed. 2. had the King's Letters of Preſentation to the Church of Penras, in the Dioceſs of Bangor. [Pat. 5. Ed. 2.]

s Reginaldus de Sancto Albano, occurs Preb. of Bromesbury; and alſo of Wildland, and ſucceeded John de Bedeford in the Arch-Deaconry of London in 1309. [Dr. Hutton.]

v Radulphus, vel Richardus de Aſton, occurs Arch-Deacon of London in 1323, for then, as he was Arch-Deacon of London, he was Patron of the Vicarage of Shorditch, and preſented to it. One Richard de Aſton, occurs Preb. of Holiwell, alias Finsbury, in 1358. But whether he was the ſame with our Ra. or Ric. de Aſton, I am not certain.

w Pontius de Podio Boſato appears to be Arch-Deacon of London in 1324; for on the 28 Oct. that Year he had the King's Letters of Protection by that Title. He was likewiſe at the ſame time a Canon of York, and Parſon of Shorditch; and as Preb. of Bolun, in the Church of York, he had the King's Letters of Protection, dated 27. of January following. [Pat. 18. Ed. 2. p. 1.]

x Johannes de Concorato was Arch-Deacon of London in 1332, and as ſuch preſented to the Vicarage of Shoreditch, by the Name of Icherus de Concorato, that Year. In 1327, July 11, the King confirm'd him in the Prebend of Farendon, in the Church of Sarum, and in the Church of Elveley in the Dioceſs of York. [Pat. 4. E. 3. p. 1.] He had the King's Letters of Protection, Aug. 3. 1338. under the Denomination of Arch-Deacon of London, Preb. of Ealdland in the Church of S. Paul of Weſtfeld, of Farendon in the Church of Sarum, of Heynton in the Church of Hereford, and of Portionary in the Church of Ledebury: [11. E. 3. p. 2.] But Anno 1350, July 12. a Controverſie then depending about the ſaid Preb. of Ealdland, the Jury ſaid that Stephen de Graveſend, the Quondam Biſhop of London, conferred the ſaid Prebend on Icherius de Concorato, then the Pope's Nuncio in England, and Inſtalled him in the ſame in the time of Peace; and that it was void at the time, when the Temporalities of the Biſhoprick of London were in the Hands of the King's Father: Upon which the Biſhop was in Miſericordia. a Johannes Barnet was Preb. of Chamberlainwode, and one of the Canons Reſidentiary of this Church; was Arch-Deacon of London, and by that Title Summoned to Parliament in 34 Ed. 3. (1359.) [Dugd. Sum. to Parl. 263.] was Elected Biſhop of Worceſter about the latter end of the Year 1361, was Conſecrated in 1362. and the ſame Year was made Treaſurer of England. He was Tranſlated to the Biſhoprick of Wells Nov. 24. 1363, from thence to Ely in 1366, and was Inthronized there on the Day of the Aſſumption of the bleſſed Virgin, and being very old, died at Biſhops-Hatfield, 7. Id. of June, after he had ſate 7 Years; where he was buried, as Godwin ſuppoſeth; but according to others, in his own Church of Ely, near the High Altar on the South-ſide, An. 1373. [Angl. Sat. 1. P. Pag. 664. Godw. de Præſul.]

b Adam de Hortingdon was Arch-Deacon of London in 1368, for then, as ſuch, he preſented to the Vicarage of Shoreditch. He was alſo Preb. of Willeſdon, where may be read more of him.

c Thomas Baketon occurs Arch-Deacon of London in 1382 and 1385, for in thoſe Years, as ſuch, he preſented to the ſaid Vicarage of Shoreditch. He was admitted to the Rectory of Chelmsford, (Eſſex) 1374, made Dean of the Peculiars in London in 1381. He likewiſe occurs Preb. of Willeſdon, which, as alſo this Arch-Deaconry, became void by his Death, before the 10th. of Feb. 1396. [Reg. Lond.]

d Thomas Stow, [v. inter Decanos London.]

e Regin. Kentwood, [v. inter Decanos London.]

f John Snell, reſign'd the Church of S. John Baptiſt, London, about June 1442, was Collated to the Preb. of Wildland, Aug. 27. 1426, was made Arch-Deacon of London about the ſame time, and reſigned both thoſe two laſt Preferments about January 1430. [Reg. Lond.]

g Richard Moresby was Collated to the Preb. of Hoxton May 31, 1427: To the Rectory of Fulham, (Mid.) May 31, 1428. which he exchang'd with Henry Mereſton, Feb. 27. following, for the Church of S. Magnus, London, where he was Rector in 1433, when Robert Gilbert, Biſhop of London confirm'd the Compoſition made between the Mayor and Commonalty of London, and him (the ſaid de Moresby) about the Oblation made in the Chappel of S. Thomas the Martyr, upon London-Bridge. He was Collated to this Arch-Deaconry in 1430, which he reſigned in 1442, and his Preb. of Hoxton in 1443. [Reg. Lond.]

h William Fallan was admitted to the Rectory of S. Clement Danes October 22, 1431, which he reſigned in Nov. following; and on Nov. 14, 1432, was admitted to the Church of S. Andrew, Holbourn, which September 18. 1433, he exchanged with John Dygou for that of Hedingham Sible in Eſſex, which he reſign'd about Nov. 1438, and on the 10th of that Month was admitted to the Church of S. Magnus, London, which he held till 1458, and then voided it by Reſignation, having been in the mean time Collated to this Arch-Deaconry of London Feb. 23 1442, into which he was Inſtalled on the 26th [Reg. Loud.]

i Richard Martyn was Arch-Deacon of London in April 1469, for then, as ſuch, he preſented a Clerk to the Vicarage of Shoreditch. He was Collated to the Preb. of Ealdland, July 28, 1471, being then B. D. which he voided in 1472. He occurs likewiſe Preb. of Hoxton, as well as Arch-Deacon of London; but tbe time of his admiſſion to either, appears not: However he reſigned them both, and was ſucceeded in them by John Giglis on one and the ſame Day, viz. June 22, 1482. [Reg. Lond.] One Richard Martyn (perhaps the ſame with ours) ſucceeded John Morton in the Arch-Deacokry of Berks, Sept. 30, 1478. [Dr. Hut.] And alſo one Richard Martyn, D. B. was admitted Vicar of Hendon, (Middleſex.) June 29. 1478. But cannot be the ſame with ours, for according to the London Regiſtry, that Vicarage became void by his Death, about the beginning of the Year 1480.

k John Giglis ſucceeded in this Arch-Deaconry, June 22, 1482, as above. This John Giglis, or de Lilliis was an Italian, born in Lucca, was the Pope's Queſtor, or Inquiſitor here in England, by the Title of the Collector of the Apoſtolick Chamber, was a Ganon of Wells, admitted in 1478. Dec. 7. He Preach'd before the Synod in London, March 21. 1481. and in his Sermon, preſs'd, with great Earneſtneſs, for a Tenth to be granted to the Pope by the Clergy, but in vain. In 1489. he had Authority from Pope Innocent VIII. to pardon Uſury, Simony, Thefts, Murders, Rapines, Adulteries, and almoſt all ſorts of Crimes, and alſo to Diſpenſe with any Body to retain other Mens Goods with a ſafe Conſcience, tho' gotten by Fraud, provided he pay any part thereof to the Pope's Commiſſioners, or their Agents. [Ang. Sac. P. 1. Pag. 538] He reſigned his aboveſaid Preb. of Hoxton, and this Arch-Deaconry, and was ſucceeded in both by John Forſter Nov. 16. 1490. and at the ſame time was Collated to the Preb. of Mora, which he held till he reſign'd it about March 1496. l John Forſter ſucceeded in this Arch-Deaconry, and Preb. of Hoxton, Nov. 16. 1490. as above. Hoxton he voided by his Death in 1512; but the time of his voiding this Arch-Deaconry appears not. [Reg. Lond.] Of both theſe Names, of John Forſter, there were Perſons admitted about this time to the Churches of Hackney, S. Margaret Lothbury, and to ſeveral other Churches in this Dioceſs; but both the Names are ſo common, that it is not an eaſie matter to determine which of them (if any) was the ſame with our Arch-Deacon, who was alſo Preb. of Mora, and voided it by Ceſſion, when he was made Arch-Deacon. [Reg. præd.]

m William Horſey was Arch-Deacon of London, and Prebend of Holywell; the time of his Admiſſion to either, does not appear; but he reſign'd both in 1413, and March 27. 1514. was made Precentor of this Church. [Reg. Lond.] He was Chancellor to Richard Fitzjames, Biſhop of London, and prefer'd Articles of Hereſie againſt Richard Hunne, the Story of which may be ſeen in Foxe's Acts and Monuments, who tells us there, that after Horſey was found not guilty of the Murder, having yet a guilty Conſcience, retired to Exeter, and durſt not after, for ſhame, return to London: Whether ever he return'd to London is not certain. However he held his Precentorſhip till he reſign'd it in 1531, and was Collated that Year to the Prebend of Totenhall, in the Church of S. Paul, which he kept till it became void by his Death, about April 1543. [Reg. Lond.]

n This John, Biſhop of Calipoli, or Galipoli, in Thrace, was made Titular Biſhop of that Place, and alſo Dean of Chicheſter, by the endeavour of Cardinal Wolſey; his Srname was Young. He was born at Newton Longvil, in Bucks, brought up at Wincheſter College, and became Fellow of New College, Oxon, in 1482, and left it in 1502, being then, or about that time, Doctor of Divinity, and Rector of S. Martins Church in Oxford, and perhaps was the ſame John Young who was Rector of Alhallows, Hony-lane, for he was Doctor of Divinity, and reſign'd that Church about 1419. [Reg. Lond.] He ſucceeded Horſey in this Archdeaconry, March 28, 1514, as appears before: This our Doctor, John Young, was Judge (as 'tis ſaid) of the Prerogative Court of Canterbury, about 1517, and Warden of New College in 1421, which Wardenſhip (and this Archdeaconry) he held till his death, which happened on March 28, 1526. He was buried (as is ſuppoſed) in the Chapel of New College, under a Marble Stone that he had laid there ſome time before his death, with an Inſcription thereon, and a Blank for the time of his death, which was never filled up. [Ath.Ox. 1.Vol. 567.]

o Galfr. Wharton was Collated to the Preb. of Iſledon, Nov. 25. 1523. to the Rectory of Fulham, March 23 following; to this Archdeaconry March 29, 1526, and was admitted to the Vicarage of Sawbrigeworth in Hertfordſhire, April 17 following. All which Preferments became void by his death, about October 1529. He was admitted Vicar of Totenham (Middleſex.) May 21, 1525, and reſigned it in 1526. He was Vicar-General to Cuthbert Tunſtall, Biſhop of London, [Reg. Lond.]

p William Clyff was Collated to the Preb. of Twyford, Nov. 11. 1526, to this Archdeaconry Oct. 30. 1529. which he reſigning in Auguſt 1533, [Reg. Lond.] was in the ſame Month made Archdeacon of Cleveland; Chanter of the Church of York in 1534. Inſtalled Treaſurer of the ſame Church April 13, 1539. [Ath. Ox 1. Vol. 647, &c.] In 1548. he reſign'd his Preb. of Twyford, and was the ſame Year, June 11, Collated to that of Hoxton, which he held till his Death, [Reg. præd.] As for his Treaſurerſhip of York, he by his Letters reſign'd it into the Hands of King Edw. VI. which being confirmed under the Common Seal of the Dean and Chapter of York, he was afterwards made the third Dean of Cheſter, and died at London about December 7. 1558. [Ath. Ox. & Supra.]

q Thomas Bedyll, or Bedell, was of New-College, Oxon, and took the Degree of Batchelor of Civil Law, Nov. 5. 1508. [Ath. Ox. 1 Vol. 647] In 1522, Nov. 20. he was Collated to the Rectory of Bocking in Eſſex, by the Archbiſhop of Canterbury, and admitted to that of S. Dionis Backchurch, London, March 12, 1527, which he reſign'd about December 1530, as he did that of Bocking about May 1532 [Reg. Cant.] In June 1533 he became Archdeacon of Cleveland, which he reſigning in Auguſt following, [Ath. Ox. & Supra.] was on the 5th of the ſame Month, Collated to this Archdeaconry, as appears above. About which time he became Archdeacon of Cornwall, and ſoon after was appointed one of the Commiſſioner to Viſit Religious Houſes, in order to their Diſſolution, [Ath. Ox. & Suprea.] In 1537, Dec. 17. he was Collated to the Preb. of Mapesbury, which he reſign'd in 5 days after; as he did this Archdeaconry, at, or about the ſame time. And on the 30th of the ſame Month and Year was admitted to the Rectory of Alhallows the Great, and held it to his death, which happened before the 18th. of September 1537 [Reg. Lond.]

r Richard Gwent, was of All-Soul's-College, Oxon, admitted Bachelour of the Canon-Law, in 1518. and Doctor of the Civil-Law, June 30. 1524. He was Archdeacon of Brecknock about the ſame time, [Athen. Oxon. Vol. I. 659. and 670.] He was admitted Rector of S. Peter's-Cheap, April 17. 1534. and to this Archdeaconry of London, Dec. 19. following. [*Reg. [Reg. Lond.]

v John Harpsfield, a grand Zealot for the Roman Catholick Religion, was born in the Pariſh of S. Mary-Magdalen, Old-Fiſhſtreet, London; educated in Wincheſter-School; admitted Fellow of New-College, Oxon. in 1534. took the Degrees in Arts and Holy Orders, was made Chaplain to Bonner, Biſhop of London, and left his Fellowſhip about 1551. In 1554. April 20. he took the Degree of Doctor of Divinity, having taken that of Bachelour of Divinity in 1551. [*Athen. In 1558. he was made Dean of Norwich. [Athen. Oxon. ut ſupra.] On the 14th of May, that Year, he having about that time reſign'd his ſaid Church of S. Martin, Ludgate, was collated to the Church of Laingdon, cum Cap. de Baſilden in Eſſex, and on the 10th. of December following, to the Preb. of Mapesbury; of all which Preferments he was depriv'd after Queen Elizabeth came to the Crown, [Reg. Lond.] and was committed Priſoner to the Fleet, where, continuing for a Year, or more, he was releas'd upon Security given, that he ſhould not act, ſpeak, or write againſt the Doctrine of the Church of England; whereupon, retiring to a Houſe of a near Relation of his, dwelling in S. Sepulchre's Pariſh, London, he ſpent the remainder of his Days in great Retiredneſs and Devotion; and dying in 1578. was buried (as is conceiv'd) in that Pariſh-Church. [Athen. Oxon. ut ſupra.]

w John Mullins, Molens, or Molins, was born in Somerſetſhire, elected Probationer-Fellow of Magdalen-College, Oxon. in 1541. and afterwards being made Bachelour of Divinity, became a zealous Man for Reformation. In Queen Mary's time, he left the Nation for Religion's ſake, and ſettled at Zurich, where he was eſteemed a Learned Man of Credit and Authority, and (as 'tis ſaid) Greek Reader amongſt the Natives of England. When Q. Elizabeth came to the Crown, he return'd, [*Athen. He was admitted into Orders by the Biſhop of Chicheſter, in 1656. and aſſiſted Mr. John Tell, in keeping up the Orders and Ceremonies of the Church of England, in a private Houſe. After the Reſtauration, he was inſtall'd Canon of Chriſt-Church, July 27. 1660. and ſoon after, was created Doctor of Divinity. In 1661. April 29. his Uncle Sheldon, then Biſhop of London, conferr'd on him the Preb. of Cadington-Major; and on the 11th of October 1662. this Archdeaconry. On Nov. 15. following he was collated by the Dean and Chapter of S. Paul's, to the Vicarage of S. Giles without Cripplegate, London; and on the 5th of the next Month, he was inſtall'd Dean of Weſtminſter, upon the Promotion of Dr. Earl to the Biſhoprick of Worceſter, in whoſe Place he was likewiſe made Clerk of the Cloſet. His Vicarage of S. Giles, he reſign'd in 1663. and this Archdeaconry, then, or ſoon after. In 1666. he was promoted to the Sea of Rocheſter, to which he was conſecrated, Nov. 25. that Year, whereupon his Preb. of Cadington became void, but he held his Deanry of Weſtminſter in Commendam, and was afterwards Biſhop-Almoner; at length, he was tranſlated to the Archiepiſcopal Sea of York, to which he was elected July 28. 1683. confirm'd Aug. 16. and enthroniz'd the 23d of the ſame Month. He died of the Small-Pox at Biſhops-Thorp, April 11. 1686. and was buried in the Cathedral of York, where was a large and comely Monument erected over his Grave, with a long Inſcription. He was a Man of a free, generous and noble Diſpoſition, and withal, of a natural, bold and happy Eloquence. As he imitated his Uncle, Biſhop Williams, in the Greatneſs of his Parts and Abilities, ſo by a certain hereditary Right, ſucceeded him in his Honours, both in his Deanry of Weſtminſter and Archbiſhoprick of York, [Athen. Oxon. Vol. II. 600, 601.] where may be read the long Inſcription on his Monument, and what he publiſh'd.

a Thomas Lamplugh was of Queen's-College, Oxon. collated to this Archdeaconry, May 27. 1664. made Preb. of Worceſter in 1669. and the Year following, July 1. collated to the Vicarage of S. Martin in the Fields, Middleſex, whence he was promoted to the Biſhoprick of Exeter in Nov. 1676. This Biſhop, upon the Prince of Orange's arrival in the Weſt, left Exeter, and retir'd to London to pay his Reſpects to King James II. which being taken very kindly by the King, he tranſlated him to York, Nov. 15. 1688. [Athen. Oxon. Vol. II. 684. 825. & Reg. Lond.

b Edw. Stillingfleet, Rector of S. Andrews Holborn, and Archdeacon of London, in the Year 1688. [V. inter Decanos Lond.] Upon the Promotion of the ſaid Dr. Edward Stillingfleet to the Biſhoprick of Worceſter, c Thomas Tenniſon D. D. Vicar of S. Martin the Fields, Middleſex, Oct. 26. 1689. ſucceeded in this Archdeaconry of London, and the ſaid Dr. Tenniſon being promoted to the Biſhoprick of Lincoln.

d William Stanley, D. D. thereupon had this Archdeaconry conferr'd on him, March 5. 1692. He was formerly Fellow of Corpus-Chriſti, commonly call'd, Benet-College in Cambridge, afterwards he was choſen Maſter of the ſaid College, which he reſign'd in May 1689. He was alſo Clerk of the Cloſet to the late Queen Mary, to the time of her Death. He is at preſent Rector of Much-Haddam in Hertfordſhire, to which, upon the Death of Dr. Goodman, he was collated Aug. 13. 1690. which together, with the Prebend of Cadington-Major, and the ſaid Archdeaconry he enjoys this preſent Year 1707. Note, That in this Archdeaconry theſe Pariſhes following pay no Procurations nor Synodals to the Archdeacon, viz. Weſt Thurrock, in the Deanry of Chafford; Burſted parva; Laingden, cum Cap. de Baſildon; and Orſet, in the Deanry of Barſtable; Foulnes, in the Deanry of Rochford; Althorne and Mayland, in the Deanry of Dengy; and Chelmesford, in the Deanry of Chelmesford.

The Archdeacons of Eſſex have all along of old, as appears by the London-Regiſtry, paid an annual Penſion of 10 l. to the Biſhop's Ratione & pro Exercitio Juriſdictionis exterioris ejuſdem Archidiaconatus, every Year at the Feaſts of Eaſter and Michaelmas, by equal Portions, according to that antient Ordination mention'd before. For the true Payment whereof, every Archdeacon did uſe to make Oath at the Time of his Admiſſion to the ſaid Archdeaconry.

But when Bonner was Biſhop of London, there happen'd a Controverſie between him and Richard Rawſon, the then Archdeacon of Eſſex, about the Payment of this Penſion; the ſaid Biſhop alledging the aforeſaid Penſion to have been paid to his Predeceſſors time out of mind, for and in Recompence, as well of and for the Right and Intereſt of the ſaid Biſhop, as alſo of and for the Exerciſe of ſuch Juriſdiction as the ſaid Archdeacon of Eſſex hath in the ſaid Archdeaconry. And he, the ſaid Archdeacon, on the other hand, alledging for his part, That he ought not to pay the ſaid Penſion, for that he cannot obtain, in the King's Court of Record, the yearly Allowance of Twenty Shillings for the Tenth part thereof due to our Sovereign Lord the King, by Act of Parliament. But this Matter being refer'd by both Parties to the Arbitrement and final Award and Determination of Richard Gwent, then Official of the Arches Court of Canterbury, he awarded and determin'd as follows:

Firſt, That the ſaid Richard Rawſon, his Executors or Aſſigns, ſhould, before the Feaſt of the Nativity of S. John Baptiſt, then next following, pay to the ſaid Biſhop, or his Aſſigns, the Sum of 10 l. Sterling, in full of all Arrears due at Eaſter laſt paſt.

Alſo, That as long as the ſaid Richard ſhould continue Archdeacon of Eſſex, he ſhould pay to the ſaid Biſhop, or his Aſſigns, the Sum of 9 l. Sterling, in the Name, and for the ſaid Penſion of 10 l. at the Feaſts of Michaelmas and Eaſter, by equal Portions every Year, as long as he ſhould continue Archdeacon there; and in caſe he ſhould get the Payment of the ſaid Twenty Shillings to the King exonerated, then, and from thenceforth he ſhould pay the Sum of 10 l. Sterling, yearly, in the manner as aforeſaid, to the ſaid Biſhop, or his Aſſigns, in the Name of, and for the ſaid annual Penſion.

Laſtly, That the ſaid Richard Rawſon, as long as he continu'd Archdeacon there, ſhould quietly and peaceably enjoy the ſaid Archdeaconry, and exerciſe all manner of Juriſdiction within the ſame, as his Predeceſſors had done.

This Award bears Date April 25, 1541, and it ſeems took Effect only in the Matter then in Debate between the ſaid Biſhop and Rawſon; for Edward Mowle, his immediate Succeſſor in this Archdeaconry, was at the time of his Admiſſion into the ſame, ſworn to Pay 10 l. per Annum Penſion to the ſaid Bonner and his Succeſſors, Biſhops of London, as appears by the Act of his Inſtitution: And tho' afterwards it doth not appear by theſe Acts, that any of the ſaid Mowle's Succeſſors in this Archdeaconry, were at the time of their Admiſſion ſworn to Pay this Penſion of 10 l. per Annum till George Goldman was made Archdeacon of the ſame, which was in 1609; yet he, at his Admiſſion was ſworn to Pay it, as appears by the Act made thereupon: As doubtleſs his Succeſſors ever ſince ought to have been, however it hath been of late times neglected, or at leaſt, if they have been at any time ſworn, not inſerted in the Acts.

a Theobaldus, Archdeacon of Eſſex, was Preb. of Portpole, and occurs ſo by that Title. He occurs alſo a Preb. of Cadington-Minor, by the Name of Tethbaldus; and whilſt Canon of S. Paul's, was preſent with Reugerus, Quintilianus, Walterus and Robertus, the four firſt Archdeacons of this Dioceſe, that I have met with, at an Agreement made by the Canons of this Church in 1103. [Reg. Dec. & Cap. lib. 5. L. f. 17. 40.] was a Canon of this Church in 1104. alſo in 1111. when William was Dean, [ibid. f. 19. 156.]

b Richardus. I take this Richard (elſewhere call'd Richard Ruffus or Rufus) to be the ſame Ricardus, Archdeacon, who was Witneſs with Richard de Belmeis and Ailwardus, Archdeacons, to a certain Grant made by R. (i. e. Robert de Sigillo) Biſhop of London, in 1142. [lib. L. f. 39.] alſo to be preſent at the making of the Conſtitution by Ralph de Langford, Dean of London, anno 1150. He is alſo believ'd to be Archdeacon of Eſſex in 1162. when the Agreement was made about the Church of S. Mary-Magdalen, London, formerly mention'd, when Nicolas was Archdeacon of London. He occurs Preb. of Twyford, where may be ſeen more of him.

c Robertus was Archdeacon of Eſſex in 1168. [Collect. è Cotton. p. 107.] was Witneſs to the Gift of S. Nicolas-Olave's Church, Lond. by Gilb. Foliot, Biſhop of London, [*lib. e Theobaldus de Valen. One Theobaldus occurs Preb. of Cadington-Major, and I take him to be the ſame with our Theobaldus de Valen, or de Valoniis, who was Archdeacon of Eſſex in 1218. (3. Henry III.) [lib. A. f. 12] becauſe he ſucceeded Richard de Hegham in that Canonry, as it is likely he did alſo in this Archdeaconry. This Theobald de Valen, Archdeacon of Eſſex, had the Cuſtody of the Biſhoprick of Carliſle, being void, committed to him, June 23. 1223. Dec. & Cap. Cart. Orig.*] was Archdeacon of Eſſex, 37. Hen. III. 1252. [lib. Sept. 1262. [lib. A. f. 63.] In 1275. there was an Agreement made to celebrate for his Soul in the Church of Heyberg. [lib. A. f. 49.]

l Robert de Wynſhale or Winchelſey, was bred at School in Canterbury, and came at laſt to be Archbiſhop of that Sea, of whom may be read at large in Antiq. Brit. Godw. de Præſul. and Angl. Sac. p. 1. to which Authors I refer the Reader; and only acquaint him here, that he was Prebendary of Oxgate, and Archdeacon of Eſſex, which, 'tis ſaid, were the firſt ſpiritual Promotions that he had; alſo, that he reſided on his Prebend, preach'd almoſt every Day in his Cathedral, or ſome other Place, and duly viſited his Archdeaconry in Perſon every Year. He is ſaid to be Rector of Wadington in Oxfordſhire, and that he reſign'd it in 1294. [*Reg. Sutton in Eccl. by Roger Niger, Biſhop of London, who was Biſhop of that Sea from 1229. to 1241. [Laud 2c.] He occurs Preb. of Bromesbury.

i Johannes de Northampton was Archdeacon of Middleſex in 1242. [Cleop. A. 7.] And in 1243. being then a Witneſs to the Endowment of Vicarage of Heybridg in Eſſex, [Cart. Orig.] and died towards the latter end of that Year, as will appear by his Succeeſſor. He occurs Preb. of Willeſdon.

k Fulco de Sanford had this Archdeaconry of Middleſex conferred on him in April 1244. by Fulco Baſſet, then Biſhop of London, as void by the Death of John, Archdeacon of Middleſex, as appears by the Mandate for his Inſtallation [Penes Dec. & Cap.] He likewiſe occurs Preb. of Ealdland.

l R. One R was Archdeacon of Middleſex in 1248. and 1251. and one Richard Foliot, by the Title of Archdeacon of Middleſex, occurs among the Preb. of Wenlakesbarne, whom I take to be the ſame with our Archdeacon R; and if ſo, then he was Witneſs to the Deed of Henry de Cornhull, the Dean, of the Woodwharf near the Thames, by the Name and Title of Richard Foliot, Archdeacon of Middleſex, [Lib. A. f. 58.] and I gueſs he was the ſame with R. Archdeacon of Middleſex, who with R. the Precentor, were ſent to the King by the Dean and Chapter of this Church in 1259. to deſire his Licence to choose a Biſhop, which he granted, Dated May 24. that Year. [Pat. 43. H. 3. m. 9.] He was one of the Executors of Thomas de Fanconberg, Archdeacon of Eſſex, and died before the 10. Kal. April 1266. for then the Maſter and Brethren of Hounſlow alledged, That they had received 20 Marks of Walter de Northampton, Executor of the ſaid Richard Foliot towards Celebrating the Anniverſary of the ſaid Thomas de Fauconberg in their Houſe. I likewiſe find one Richard Foliot among the Preb. of Chamberlainwode.

m Hen. de Wengham ſucceeded in this Archdeaconry, and probably was the next; but he was not that Hen. de Wengham who was conſecrated Biſhop of London in 1260. For this Henry was one of the ſaid Biſhop's Executors, as appears by the King's Mandatory-Letters to thoſe Executors [of which this Hen. de Wengham is nam'd for one] to acquit his Majeſty, dated Jan. 5. 1262, wherein he is call'd Archdeacon of Middleſex [Pat. 47. Hen. III. m. 19.] He was Preb. of Newington, in which he ſucceeded Hen. de Wengham, the Biſhop. He was Archdeacon of Middleſex in 1266. for then he had the King's Letters of Protection, dated Jan. 20. that Year [Pat. 51. Hen. III. m. 11.] and died 10. Kal. Nov. following.

p Rad. de Malling, Preb. of Harleſton, ſucceeded in this Archdeaconry, which, as appears above, was confer'd on him by Rob. de Winchelſey, Archbiſhop of Canterbury, 8. Kal. Maii, 1295. per Aſſumptionem Baldock ad Decanatum S. Pauli. How long he continu'd in it appears not: But the next I meet with is q Ric. de Newport, Preb. of Iſledon, who was Archdeacon of Middleſex, in 1304. Dean of S. Paul's, in 1314. and Biſhop of London, in 1317. [v. inter Epiſc. & Dec. Lond.]

r Rob. de Baldock ſucceeded in this Archdeaconry, in 1314. He was Preb. of Holywell, and, with John de Colcheſter, another Preb. of this Church, was preſented by the Chapter of S. Paul's to the Chapter of Canterbury, July 29. 1313. (both Seas being then void) that out of one of them they ſhould make an Official of the Dioceſe of London. He was a mighty Man in thoſe Times, and in great Favour with King Edward II. who at length made him Chancellour of England. That King, in the Thirteenth of his Reign, gave him the Preb. of Alesbury, in the Church of Lincoln. In the Fourteenth he was in Commiſſion with the Archbiſhop of York, and Biſhop of Carlile, to treat with the Scots about Peace. In the Fifteenth, the King granted him the Preb. of Flixton, in the Church of Lichfield; the Preb. of Eccleſhall, in the ſame Church; and gave him his Letters of Preſentation to the Church of Bradford, in the Dioceſe of York. In the Eighteenth, he gave him the Preb. of Tatton, in the Church of Wells; and confer'd on him again the Preb. of Aylesbury, with the Portion of Milton thereunto annex'd: But withall (with the Conſent of the ſaid Robert) order'd Guillard de Mota, Cardinal-Deacon, by the Title of S. Lucy, ſhould enjoy the ſaid Portion as long as he liv'd. In the Nineteenth, (he being elected Biſhop of Norwich) the King gave his Aſſent to the ſaid Election, July 28. which being confirm'd by the Archbiſhop of Canterbury, the King reſtor'd him to his Temporalities, Aug. 12. following; and on Mar. 30.

next enſuing, the King made him Lord-Chancellour. [All which appears by the ſeveral Patents of thoſe Years.] Howbeit, he could not obtain the Biſhoprick, by reaſon that Will. de Ayremin, by the Pope's Authority, was placed in that Sea. In a ſhort time after, he was depriv'd of his other Dignities, and alſo of his Life, being thrown into Newgate by the Mobb, where he died, May 28. 1327. and was buried in the Church of S. Paul's, Two Days after. [Wharton, de Epiſc. Lond. 111, 112.]

ſ Roger de Hales, ſucceeded in this Archdeaconry, in 1326. as above, and was collated to the Preb. of Ealdſtreet, Febr. 1327.

t Tho. Truſſell, had this Archdeaconry given him by the King, Febr. 15. 1350. [Pat. 5. Edw. III. p. 1.]

v Tho Aſtley, or de Aſteley, ſucceeded in this Archdeaconry ; but the Time of his Admiſſion appears not. However, it appears that he reſign'd it in 1333. which was by way of Exchange for the Treaſurerſhip of this Church, with Rob. de Reddeſwell, his Succeſſor. But before this, the King gave him the Preb. of Swythington, in the Church of Hereford, Apr. 8. 1325. [Pat. 18. Edw. III. p. 2.] but it was revok'd the ſame Day. Dec. 12. 1326. (he being then the King's Chaplain) he gave him the Preb. which John de Bruton had in the Church of Exeter [Pat. 20. Ed. II.] He occurs likewiſe Preb. of Holywell, (where may be ſeen more of him) and alſo of Iſlington.

w Rob. de Reddeſwell, ſucceeded the ſaid Aſtley, as well in the Preb. of Iſledon, as in this Archdeaconry. He was admitted Rector of Kelveden, aliàs Eaſterford, Eſſex, in 1321. to the Office of Treaſurer in this Church, in 1329. and to the Preb. of Wildland, in 1330. He died before 17. Kal. of Sept. in 1337. for then he was ſucceeded in this Archdeaconry, as void by his Death. [Reg. Lond.] x Tho. Durant, was collated to the Office of Chancellour of this Church, in 1333. to the Preb. of Harleſton, in 1336. His Chancellourſhip he reſign'd in 1337. about the Time he was collated to this Archdeaconry ; but when or how that, as alſo his Preb. became void, appears not. His next Succeſſor in his Archdeaconry, that I have met with, is

y Andr. Offard, or Ufford, who ſucceeded therein, by Papal Proviſion, Ann. 1349. [Weaver's Monuments, 224.] He was Doctor of Laws, Preb. of Maſsham, which Reginald de Brien, late Biſhop of S. David's had at the time of his Promotion to that Sea, May 25. 1350. [So it is ſaid in Reg. Zouch, York.] Godwin ſays, he was confirm'd Biſhop of S. David's, Feb. 6. 1349. March 30. 1345. the King gave him the Preb. of Netherbury and Berminſter, in the Church of Sarum [Pat. 19. Edw. III. p. 1.] In July following, he was one of the Council, aſſign'd by the King, upon his going to Sea, to Leonel, Duke of Clarence, who was left Cuſtos of the Kingdom, [ib.] Alſo one of the Commiſſioners appointed by the King to treat with the King of Portugal, about a Marriage between Edward, Prince of Wales, with any of that King's Daughters, and about the Portion, [Pat. 8. Nov. 19. Edw. III. p. 3.] The King confer'd to him his Stall in the Church of Overe ; his Preb. of South-Newbald, in the Church of York ; of Rameſey, which is call'd the Portion of S. Laurence ; and of Timberley, with the Chappel of Inmore, annext to the Preb. of Ramſey, Aug. 27. 1347. [Pat. 21. Edw. III. p. 1.] He gave him the Sub-Deanry of the Church of York, Jan. 24. following, [ib.] He was one of the Commiſſioners to treat of a Marriage between Peter, the Infanta of Portugal, and Joane, the King's Daughter, Feb. 1. [Pat. 22. p. 1.] His Collation to the Subdeanry of York, was revok'd, Apr. 12. [23. Edw. III. p. 1.] but his Preb. of Ramſey and Timberley were confirm'd to him, June 18. following, [Ibid.] And his aforeſaid Preb. of Maſsham, May 14. [Pat. 24. p. 1.] The Pope gave him the Provoſtſhip of Wells, which the King confirm'd, Feb. 26. [25. p. 1.] and ratifi'd him in the Poſſeſſion of this Archdeaconry of Middleſex, and his Preb. in the Church of Beverley, the ſame day, [Ibid.] He died about the end of 1358. for his Preb. of Maſsham was ſequeſtred by the Dean and Chapter, Jan. 28. that Year, for his Cope and Palfrey, and diſpos'd of, May 15. 1359. [Reg. Dec. & Cap. Eboracen.]

z Matthew Crump, ſeems to have ſucceeded Offard in this Archdeaconry (tho' but for a ſhort time) for the King ratifi'd him in it, Aug. 19. 1361. [Pat. 35. Edw. III. p. 2.]

a William de Pelmogna or Palmerna, the King's Chaplain, ſucceeded Crump in this Archdeaconry ; for the King gave it him Sept. 21. 1361. to which he was admitted 8. Kal. Oct. following, as above.

c Bartholomew Sidey; after he had been almoſt ſix Years Archdeacon of Middleſex, was collated to the Preb. of Meaſden; how, or when he voided that, appears not, but his Archdeaconry became void by his Death before May 10. 1393. for on that day he was ſucceeded in it by d William Stortford, who, about the time of his Admiſſion to this Archdeaconry, left the Treaſurerſhip of this Church; and in 1399. was collated to the Preb. of Iſledon. He was ſummon'd, as Archdeacon of Middleſex, to the Convocation at Oxford. [Reg. Lond.] He made his Will, Aug. 1. 1416. which was prov'd, Nov. 4. following. [Reg. Dec. & Cap.] e Richard Bruton ſucceeded Stortford, both in his Archdeaconry of Middleſex and Preb. of Iſledon, to which he was admitted Nov. 20. 1416. [Reg. Dec. & Cap.] and died before March 17. 1417. (perhaps he was the ſame that was collated to the Preb. of Rugmore, anno 1409.) for on that day he was ſucceeded by f Richard Clifford in his Preb. of Iſledon, as void by the ſaid Bruton's Death, and on May 2. 1418. in this Archdeaconry. This was not that Richard Clifford, who was Biſhop of London, but, perhaps, his Nephew, and was collated to the Preb. of Chiſwick, Dec. 21. 1398. upon the Reſignation of the laſt nam'd Richard, who being made Biſhop of Worceſter in 1401. collated this our Richard Clifford, to the Church of Hampton upon Avon, in that Dioceſe, in 1402. May 4. and being afterwards tranſlated to London in 1407. conferr'd on this our Richard Clifford, the Preb. of Twyford in 1408. and afterwards the Preb. of Pancras in 1417. as alſo that of Iſledon and this Archdeaconry, as above, which laſt became void by his Death before Sept. 6. 1422. for on that day he was ſucceeded therein by h William Bothe, who was ſometime a Student in Gray's-Inn, but upon a ſudden, forſaking that Courſe, became a Preb. of Conſumpt. per mare in 1421. and Chancellor of this Church, but the time of his admiſſion appears not. He was collated to this Archdeaconry in 1429. which he reſigning in 1441. and having voided his ſaid Preb. by Ceſſion in 1443. was admitted to the Preb. of Chamberlainwode the ſame Year, Nov. 2. which afterwards became void, by his being promoted to the Biſhoprick of Lichfield and Coventry in 1447. [Reg. Lond.] at which time he was alſo Rector of Preſcott, in the County of Lancaſter, after he had ſate five Years (ſix ſaith Godwin) in the ſaid Biſhoprick, he was tranſlated to the Archiepiſcopal Sea of York, July 21. 1452. [Ang. Sac. Part I. p. 453.] where he ſate twelve Years, and died at Southwell, Sept. 20. 1464. and was buried in the Chappel of our Lady, near the Archbiſhop's Palace. [Godw. de Præſul.]

k Robert Wyott, was the next Succeſſor in this Archdeaconry, as above, after which he was collated to the Preb. of Bromesbury, Sept. 29. 1444. and after that, he was admitted to the Rectory of Barley in Hertfortſhire, Febr. 22. 1453. which he reſign'd in 1455; but when, or how he voided this Archdeaconry, or his ſaid Preb. appears not.

In 1475. he had this Archdeaconry conferr'd on him, which he reſign'd before Octob. 30. 1476. [Reg. Lond.] And, being about that time Dean of Windſor, and of the King's Chappel, and a Canon of Wells, he was promoted to the Biſhoprick of Durham, receiv'd his Temporalities, Oct. 14. 16. Ed. IV. 1476. and was conſecrated in 1477. He was brought up in Univerſity-Coll. Oxon. being the Third Son of John Dudley, aliàs Sutton, Lord Dudley, as by his Epitaph (now in part eraſed) appears. He died, ann. 1483. after he had ſate about Six Years Biſhop of that Sea; and was buried in the Abby-Church of Weſtminſter, in the Chappel of S. Nicolas, to wit, that which is South from the Monument of King Edw. III. where he has a Tomb in the Wall, of grey Marble, with his Portraiture engraven on Braſs, in his Epiſcopal Habits, with a Mitre on his Head, and a Croſier in his Hand, canopi'd with an Arch of curious wrought Stone. [Godw. de Præſul. Dur. Keep. Monaſt. Weſtminſt. 74.]

o Ric. Lichfield, ſucceeded upon Dudley's Reſignation; but before that, he was collated to the Preb. of Cadington Minor, Sept. 25. 1467. which he reſign'd the Year following, Nov. 24. and was the ſame Day collated to the Preb. of Wenlakesbarn. In 1471. he was collated to the Sine Cure-Rectory of Stepney, Aug. 26. voiding, about that time his Preb. of Wenlakesbarn; and had the Preb. of Newington confer'd on him, Feb. 20. 1472. His Rectory of Stepney he reſign'd, about the time he was admitted to this Archdeaconry, Ann. 1476. [Reg. Lond.] I ſuppoſe he was bred up in the Univerſity of Oxford, and took his Degrees there; for I find him among the Benefactors to the rebuilding of the Civil-Law-Schools there, about 1489. [Antiq. Ox. lib. 2. p. 19.] He died Feb. 27. 1496. and was buried in the South-Iſle of the Cathedral-Church of S. Paul, over againſt the Choir, under a flat Marble-Stone, with his Portraiture and Epitaph engraven on Braſs; by which it appears, that at the time of his Death he was a Canon-Reſidentiary of this Church, and Archdeacon of Middleſex and Bath [Hiſt. Paul. 74, 75.] One Richard Lichfield was admitted Vicar of Wakering magna, in Eſſex, Nov. 17. 1489. but being ſet down but Maſter of Arts, I queſtion whether he was the ſame with our Archdeacon, who was Doctor of Laws long before.

p Joh. Aleyn, upon the Death of Lichfield, ſucceeded in this Archdeaconry; but, before that, he was collated to the Church of Much-Hadham, Hertfordſhire, Mar. 2. 1477. to the Preb. of Portpole, being then LL. B. May 31. 1484. which he ſoon after voided by Ceſſion, and was collated to that of Meaſdon, Oct. 20. following. Mar. 8. 1496. he had this Archdeaconry conferr'd on him, being then D. D. And not long after he reſign'd his Preb. of Meaſdon; as he did alſo his Church of Hadham, about Apr. 1515. and before Aug. 11. the Year following, this Archdeaconry became void by his Death, as appears above. [Reg. Lond.]

q Richard Eden was admitted Rector of Geſtingthorp (Eſſex) Apr. 1514, which he reſign'd about Auguſt 1516, and upon the Death of Aleyn, ſucceeded him in this Archdeaconry on the 11th of the ſame Month and Year, and held it till it became void by his Death, which happened before Apr. 9. 1551, and was on that Day ſucceeded in it by r Henry Hervie, who was afterwards admitted to the Sine-Cure Rectory of Littlebury (Eſſex) March 12. 1553. This Archdeaconry he reſign'd, on, or before April 11. 1554, and on the 28th of the ſame Month and Year, was collated to the Office of Precentor in this Church, which he held till his Death, which happened before April 29. 1585. but Littlebury he reſign'd about 1582. [Reg. Lond.]

ſ John Wymunſley was Archdeacon of London (where may be ſeen more of him) and upon his reſigning of that in 1554, he was collated to this of Middleſex, Apr. 11. that Year, and held it till his Death, which happened before Oct. 10. 1556, as appears above.

t William Chedſey ſucceeded in this Archdeaconry upon the Death of Wymunſley, as above. He was a Somerſetſhire Man born, brought up in Corpus Chriſti College, Oxon, where he was admitted Scholar March 16. 1528. Probationer-Fellow in 1531. and two Years after compleat, Fellow. In 1534. he proceeded in Arts, and in 1542. was admitted to the reading of the Sentences, being about that time Chaplain to Biſhop Bonner. In 1536. he proceeded in Divinity, [Ath. Ox. Vol. I. 104.] In 1548. July 9. he was collated to the Preb. of Twyford, which he reſign'd in 1554. [Reg. Lond.] About 1549. he learnedly Diſputed with Peter Martyr in the Divinity School, from which time he ſeemed ſo Moderate in his Religion, in the remaining part of King Ed. VI. that the Proteſtants took him to be one of their Number. In the beginning of Queen Mary he was Canon of Winſor, zealous againſt the Proteſtants. And in 1557. (having been in the mean time collated to this Archdeaconry) he was made Canon of Chriſt-Church, Oxon; and in 1558. elected Preſident of the ſaid College of Corpus Chriſti. But the Year after he was deprived of that, and all other his Eccleſiaſtical Preferments, of which the Church of Alhallows in Breadſtreet was one. He diſputed with the three Biſhops that were burnt at Oxford in Queen Maries time, of which you may read at large in Foxe's Acts and Monuments. At laſt he was committed to the Fleet-Priſon; but when or where he died is uncertain, [Ath. Ox. ut ſupra.] where may be read more of him.

v Alexander Nowell ſucceeded in this Archdeaconry, upon the deprivation of Chedſey, held it about a Year, and then reſign'd it upon his being made Dean of S. Pauls, where may be ſeen more of him.

w Thomas Watts was Collated to the Preb. of Totenhale in 1559. Jan. 1. and ſucceeded Nowell in this Archdeaconry Jan. 31. 1560. being then Maſter of Arts. He had the Rectory of Bocking, (Eſſex) confer'd on him by the Archbiſhop of Canterbury, Aug. 1570. and was Commiſſioned to the Deanry there, April 5. 1571. being now Doctor of Divinity. All theſe his Preferments became void by his Death, before May 28. 1577. [Reg. Lond. & Cant.] He was of Pembroke-Hall in Cambridge, to which he was a Benefactor, giving certain Farms in Aſhwell and Sauſton, for the Maintenance of 7 Scholars, by the Name of Greek Scholars. [Ful. Hiſt. of Camb. 42.]

x Adam Squire was Maſter of Baliol-College, Oxon, a Learned Man, and Married the Daughter of Dr. John Aelmer, Biſhop of London; by whoſe favour he ſucceeded Dr. Watts in this Archdeaconry. [Ath. Ox. Vol. I. 740.] And alſo in his Prebend of Totenhale, to both which he was Collated in one Day, viz. June 12. 1577; and both became void by his Death before Oct. 26. 1588. [Reg. Lond.]

y Ric. Vaughan ſucceeded in this Archdeaconry upon the Death of Squire, as above. He was afterwards Biſhop of London, where may be ſeen more of him.

z Rob. Tigh ſucceeded next, it ſeems, in this Archdeaconry; but the time of his Admiſſion appears not. He was born at Deeping in Lincolnſhire; was ſometime, it ſeems, of Magdalen College, Oxon, then of Cambridge, where he took the Degrees in Arts; and returning to the ſaid College again, was not only Incorporated in the ſame Degree, but admitted to the Degree of Bachelor of Divinity, June 23. 1596. In 1598 May 22. he was admitted Vicar of Alhallows Barking, (Lond.) and whilſt ſuch, took the Degree of Dr. of Divinity at Cambridge, and was Incorporated in Oxford in 1610. (being then Archdeacon of Midd.) He was an Excellent Textuary, and a profound Linguiſt, which was the reaſon (as 'tis ſaid) why he was Employ'd by King James I. in the Tranſlation of the Bible in 1604. [Ath. Oxon. Vol. I, 358.] He died before May 4. as appears upon the avoidance of his Vicarage of Barking, by which this his Archdeaconry alſo became void, in which he was ſucceeded by a Will. Goodwyn, who was Sub-Almoner to Queen Eliz. in 2590, well Benefic'd in Yorkſhire, and Preb. of York. In 1605. he was Collated to the Chancellorſhip of the Church of York, as alſo to another Preb. in that Church, and a Rectory in that Dioceſs. In 1611. he became Dean of Chriſt-Church, Oxon. And in 1616. Archdeacon of Midd. as above. He was alſo Rector of Great Alhallows, London, which he reſign'd in 1617; but the time of his Admiſſion appears not. He died June 11. 1620. and was buried in one of the North Iſles, joyning to Chriſt-Church Quire, Oxon. [Ath. Ox. Vol. I. 787. Reg. Lond.]

b Ric. Cluet, upon the Death of Goodwyn, ſucceeded in this Archdeaconry, as above. He was alſo Preb. of Newington, and Vicar of Fulham; but the time of his Admiſſion to either of them appears not. He was likewiſe Rector of S. Anne within Alderſgate, London, to which he was Collated June 20. 1617. After the Rebellion broke out in 1642. he was Sequeſtred of his Eccleſiaſtical Preferments for his Loyalty.

Archdeaconry of Colcheſter.

THIS Archdeaconry hath the laſt Stall on the Right-ſide of the Choir. Its Corps conſiſts in Procurations, and in the Moiety of the Church of Ardelege, or Ardley, in the Deanry of Tendring, in Eſſex.

Synodals — —	16	06	11

In the Reign of King Stephen (Robert de Sigillo being then Biſhop of London) one Robert de Ram, (or de Ramis) gave the ſaid Church of Ardley, by the Name of Eccleſia de Erdelega, and Aerlega, to the Monaſtery of S. John in Colcheſter, and to the Monks of that place, in free and perpetual Alms; as may be ſeen in Ardley.

Afterwards, viz. Ann. 1237. (Galfridus de Lucy, Dean of S. Paul's, William de S. Maria, and Hugo de S. Edmundo, Canons of the ſame Church, with the Conſent and Authority of Roger (Niger,) then Biſhop of London; and alſo with the Conſent of the Abbot and Convent of the ſaid Monaſtery of S. John in Colcheſter, ordain'd and diſpos'd of this Church of Ardley (inter alia) as follows:

Gilbert 200. " De Eccleſia ſiquidem de Ardleya ita diſponimus, ut in ea ad Præſentatio-" nem dictorum Abbatis & Monachorum Vicarius futuris inſtituatur tempo-" ribus, cujus Vicariam decem Marcas valere volumus annuatim, cui compe-" tenter providebitur in domibus per Archidiaconum Colceſtriæ juxta dictam " Eccleſiam aſſignamus. So that from hence it appears, that after the Endowment of the Vicarage, the whole reſidue of this Church of Ardley was ſettled upon the Archdeacon of Colcheſter, and his Succeſſors for ever; paying out of it the yearly Penſion of Thirteen Marks, as is above-mention'd. And this whole Reſidue is computed, and call'd the Moiety of the Church of Ardley, and is part of the Corps of the Archdeaconry of Colcheſter, as is ſaid above.

The aforeſaid Roger Niger, Biſhop of London, when Archdeacon of Colcheſter, gave his Court and Houſes in S. Paul's Church-Yard to his Succeſſors in that Office, as follows:

Reg. Dec. & Cap. lib. A. f. 29. " Omnibus ——— Roger. Archidiac. Colceſtr. Salutem. ——— Aream meam, " & domos, quos in atrio S. Pauli in Lond. ad Auſtralem partem Eccleſiæ poſ-" ſideo de conſenſu — Euſtachii, Lond. Epiſcopi, & Capituli ipſi Eccleſiæ re-" linquo; ita quod is, qui pro tempore in officio Archidiaconatus mihi ſuc-" ceſſerit in Eccleſia beati Pauli domos prædictas, cum Area poſſideat, & tertio " die Decembris in Anniverſarium ſcil. Teſtibus Galfrido de Lucy, Decano " S. Pauli, Henr. Cancellario, Magiſtr. W. de S. Mariæ Eccleſia, Will. de Purle, " Tho. de Storteford.

Ibid. f. 60. Anno 1274. on Friday next after the Feaſt of S. Dionys, by Agreement in Chapter, the Biſhop being preſent, Herveius de Borham, the Dean of S. Paul's, paſs'd away his Houſes in Bradeſtrade, London, to Fulco de Lovell, Archdeacon of Colcheſter, and to his Succeſſors for the future, paying One Mark yearly to the Dean and Chapter of S. Paul's, on the Anniverſary of Adelard, the late Dean; for which the ſaid Fulco granted to the ſaid Hervie, and his Succeſſors, his Meſſuage and Garden near the Houſe of the ſaid Dean.

The Archdeacon of Colcheſter is to pay the like annual Penſion of 10 l. to the Biſhop, for the ſame Reaſon, at the ſame Times, and after the ſame Manner, as the Archdeacons of Eſſex and Middleſex are. To the true Payment whereof, he likewiſe was uſually ſworn at the time of his Admiſſion to his Archdeaconry.

i R. One R. ſucceeded in this Archdeaconry, but of him I find no more, ſaving that he was Archdeacon of Colcheſter in 1248. [Dr. Hutton.] k Hugo de Sancto Edmundo was Archdeacon of Colcheſter, ann. 1250. for Dec. 13. that Year, he atteſts under that Title, the Gift of 30 Marks to the Hoſpital of S. James, near London, by Ric. de Wendover. [Reg. Dec. & Cap. Pix. K.] He was Archdeacon of Colcheſter in 1258. for in the Month of October, that Year, there was a Conteſt between him and the Archdeacon of Middleſex, about Precedency; alſo in 1260. for about the Month of October, that Year, he was Witneſs with Peter de Newport, Archdeacon of London, and Steph. de Sandwico, Archdeacon of Eſſex, to a Grant of King Henry III. in 45. of his Reign, to Will. de Cockfield. [Pat. 45. Hen. III.] whilſt he was only a Canon, he occurs Prebendary of Ealdſtreet; and in 1237. he, with Will. de Sancta Maria, his Brother-Canon, appropriated the Church of Ardley to this Archdeaconry, as hath been ſaid before; alſo in 1239. when he was one of the Witneſſes to the Agreement made between Galfry de Lucy, the Dean and Chapter of S. Paul's, and Ric. de Wendover, about Sandon, [Cart. Orig.] alſo in 1243. when he was Witneſs to the Endowment of the Vicarage of Heybridge; likewiſe in 1250. being then a Witneſs to the Deed of Ric. de Wendover, whereby he gave 40 Marks to the Prior and Convent of Tremhale in Eſſex, to pray for his Soul, [Cart. Orig.] at which time he was not yet Archdeacon, ſubſcribing his Name only as Canon.

l Fulco Lovell occurs Preb. of Cadington-Major and Iſledon, was Archdeacon of Colcheſter, July 1. 1267. [Pat. 51. Hen. III. m. 16.] alſo in 1268. or 1269. for then, this our Archdeacon, with Godfry de S. Dunſtan, having the Cuſtody of the Biſhoprick of London (Henry de Sandwich, the Biſhop, being then under Excommunication) made an Agreement with the King, to pay him for the Tenths of the Benefices within the City and Dioceſe of London, according to their true Value, 3300 Marks. [Pat. 53. Hen. III. m. 7.] In 1270. this our Archdeacon, with John de Witham, the King's Chaplain, had the Cuſtody of the Abby of Bileig, in Eſſex, by reaſon of a Difference there between the Abbot and Convent. [Pat. 55. Hen. III.] In 1280. Feb. 6. he was aſſign'd ſole Coadjutor to John de Chiſhull, Biſhop of London, who died within three Days after; of whoſe Death, this our Archdeacon, with Godfry de Mortuo-Mari, Archdeacon of London, were ſent to give Notice to the King, who on the 18th of that Month, granted them Licence to chuſe another Biſhop, [Pat. 8. Ed. I. m. 23.] upon which, they elected this our Archdeacon, Fulco Lovell; but he, either becauſe he reap'd greater Profit from his Eccleſiaſtical Benefices (which were more than twenty) than he could hope for from the Biſhoprick of London, or for fear the Archbiſhop ſhould reject him, by reaſon of his Pluralities; or rather (as he pretended) out of his Infirmity of Body, or other Matters of Conſcience, refus'd it. [Whart. de Epiſc. Lond.] He died according to Murimuth, and the Annals of London in 1287. Nov. 21. but more truly, according to the Manuſcripts of Florilegus, 1285. Nov. 21. [Whart. ut ſupra, p. 105.] for in ſix Days after, one Hugo de Kendale had the King's Letters of Preſentation to the Church of Ledered, void by the Death of Fulco Lovell, directed to the Biſhop of Winton, dated Nov. 27. 1285. [Pat. 14. Ed. I.] His Anniverſary was kept 11. Kal. of Dec. for which, there was an Allowance of 50 s. per annum; when he was dying, he founded a Chantry of two Prieſts at the Altar of S. John Baptiſt, in the Church of S. Paul, to celebrate for his Soul. [Mon. Aug. 3. To. p. 320.]

m Egidius de Fylol occurs Preb. of Mapeſbury, and was Archdeacon of Colcheſter, ann. 1286. [Prin. Vol. I. p. 1288.] In 1289. 16. Kal. Aug. he with his other three Archdeacons of London, Eſſex and Middleſex, were Witneſſes to the Ordination of the Chancellor of this Church, made by Richard de Graveſend, the Biſhop. [Hiſt. Paul. 17.] He held this Archdeaconry in 1298. [lib. A. f. 70.] and died that Year. [ibid.]

n Ric. de Newport, who was Archdeacon of Middleſex, then Dean, and at laſt Biſhop of London, is once found in an old Cartulary, 31. Ed. I. 1302. mention'd by the Title of Archdeacon of Colcheſter; Sir John Bland or Blunt, being then Mayor of London.

o John de Chiſhull: this was not John de Chiſhull, who was Biſhop of London, but perhaps, his Nephew, or ſome other Relation; he was Preb. of Mora, and one of thoſe Canons, who, with the ſaid Biſhop, and the Dean and Chapter of this Church, granted the Place for the Building of Blackfriers Church, in London, ann. 1278. [vid. Blackfriers.] He occurs Archdeacon of Colcheſter, ann. 1310. [Cart. Orig.] but the time of his admiſſion to it, and voidance of it appears not. However, in all probability p Will. de Meleford ſucceeded him both in his Preb. of Mora and in this Archdeaconry, for he was Archdeacon of Colcheſter in the Year 1312. and after that, in 1319. 1328. and 1331. [Cart. Orig.] He was Farmer of the Mannor of Heybridge in 1322. and died in 1330. for he was ſucceeded in his ſaid Preb. 6. Id. Oct. that Year, as void by his Death. He occurs Parſon of Tolleſbury, in Eſſex, in 1311. His Obit was kept on the 2. Kal. of October, for which there was 40 s. per annum allow'd.

q Will. de Stow, ſucceeded in this Archdeaconry, upon the Death of Meleford, as appears above. He occurs Preb. of Portpool. He had the King's Letters of Preſentation to the free Chapel of Creſswell, 1334. [Pat. 8. Edw. III. p. 2.] He was the King's Chaplain, who ratifi'd him in the Church of Sawbridgworth, Mar. 11. 1350. [Pat. 25. Edw. III. p. 1.] alſo in the Preb. of Holborn, in this Church; and in the Preb. of Diura, in the Church of Wells, Feb. 12. 1351. [Ibid.] He being ſtill Parſon of Sawbridgworth, in 1352. the King granted him licence to give One Meſſuage in that Pariſh for the Dwelling of Two Chaplains, to celebrate Divine Offices every Day in the Church there [Pat. 26. p. 1.] He was Preb. of S. Paul's, Nov. 26. 1357. [13. p. 1.] and Chancellour of the Exchequer, Jan. 22. the ſame Year [32. p. 2.] One Willelmus Canonicus de Stow-Market, was admitted Vicar of Bradfield, in Eſſex, 16. Kal. May 1327. but whether he be the ſame with our Will. de Stow, Archdeacon, I cannot affirm.

r Ric. de Pleſſis, was Archdeacon of Colcheſter, An. 1342. and probably was the next that ſucceeded Stow therein; for the Time of his Avoidance thereof doth not appear. He occurs Preb. of Meaſdon, by the Name of Ric. Pleſſi: He is ſometimes call'd Ric. de Pleſſetis; and was Dean of the Peculiars, An. 1351. One Ric. de Pleſſis was Prior of Dunmow, about the Year 1365. for, on May 8. that Year, the King conſented to the Election of Nic. de Helmendon, as Prior of that Houſe, void by the Reſignation of Ric. de Pleſſis, [Pat. 39. Edw. III. p. 1.] who, perhaps, was the ſame with our Archdeacon; tho' he voided this Archdeaconry before the 3. Id. of April 1363. as appears by his Succeſſor, ſ Mic. de Nortburg, who ſucceeded him in this Archdeaconry that Day and Year. This was not Mic. Northburgh, who was Biſhop of London, but doubtleſs of Kin to him; and was the King's Clerk; and was admitted to the Preb. of Browneſwode, 10. Kal. May 1363. to both which he was preſented by King Edw. III. by reaſon of the late Vacancy of this Sea, by the Death of the ſaid Biſhop Michael. But, on July 5. following, revok'd his ſaid Preſentation of this our Michael to the ſaid Preb. becauſe he had ratifi'd Will. de Wenlock in the ſame before, [Pat. 37. Ed. III. pag. 2.]

t Ric. de Piriton, upon the Reſignation of Mic. de Northburg, ſucceeded in this Archdeaconry, 6. Kal. Oct. 1373. as above, and enjoy'd it till his Death. He was alſo a Stagiary or Reſidentiary of this Church; both which appears by his Epitaph, engraven on

One John de Carleton was Official of the Arches, in 1350. was elected Prior of S. Bartholomew's in Weſt-Smithfield, Apr. 18. 1355. voided by the Ceſſion of Edm. de Braughing, [Pat. 29. Edw. III. p. 1.] but whether the ſame with our Archdeacon, I cannot ſay.

w Tho. More, or Moore, ſucceeded in this Archdeaconry, in 1398. as above; was alſo Dean of S. Paul's, where may be ſeen more of him. How long he held this Archdeaconry appears not.

x Ric. Kingſton, occurs Archdeacon of Colcheſter, in 1407. which he reſign'd in 1411. by way of Exchange for the Church of Berughby, in the Dioceſe of Lincoln. He was collated to the Preb. of Mapesbury, Nov. 19. 1405. and to the Rectory of Stepney, Jan. 9. following, [Reg. Lond.] But how he voided either of them appears not.

y Will. Spigurnell, aforeſaid, ſucceeded Kingſton in this Archdeaconry, Nov. 25. 1411. as above; but how or when he voided it appears not.

z Pet. Hendewyck, was inſtall'd Preb. of Ealdſtreet, Jun. 9. 1419. Archdeacon of Colcheſter, Feb. 14. 1424. as above; but how or when he voided this, appears not; but his Preb. became void by his Death, before Mar. 26. 1426.

a Will. Duffeld, ſeems to have ſucceeded Hendewyck in this Archdeaconry, being inſtall'd Archdeacon of Colcheſter, Mar. 23. 1425. which he reſign'd before May 19. 1433. as above. I find one Will. Duffeld Rector of S. Michael Milend, which he reſign'd in 1469. Rector of S. Leonard Colcheſter, to which he was admitted July 1. 1477. and reſign'd it in 1481. admitted Rector of Langham, July 4. 1482. which he reſign'd in 1483. Rector of Miſtley (all in Eſſex) to which he was admitted Aug. 1. 1488. and exchang'd it for the Church of the Holy Thinity (London) Feb. 8. 1489. and he reſign'd that about Oct. 1492. But, if he be the ſame with our Archdeacon, he muſt be of a great Age.

b Joh. Stopyngton, ſucceeded Duffeld in this Archdeaconry, as above. And before that, he was inſtall'd Preb. of Cadington-Minor, Jan. 9. 1424. which he reſign'd before Jan. 9. 1429. His Archdeaconry he reſign'd about Apr. 1440. and on July 29. following, was made Archdeacon of Dorſet, which became void by his Death in 1447. [Dr. Hutt.] Before this, he was made Maſter of the Rolls, Nov. 13. 1438. [Pat. 17. Hen. VI. m. 14.]

c Rob. Aiſcogh, or Ayſcough, T. B. was collated to the Preb. of Wildland, May 18. 1446. being then S. T. P. which he reſign'd about Dec. 1447. and having ſucceeded Stopyngton in this Archdeaconry in 1640. and in that of Dorſet, May 25. 1457. he voided both by his Death, before Feb. 15. 1448.

d Nic. Cloos, or Cloſe, ſucceeded in this Archdeaconry, as above; he was one of the firſt ſix Scholars appointed by King Henry VI. in the Foundation of King's College in Cambridge, and made Maſter of his Works there. Afterwards he proceeded Doctor of Divinity, became Chancellor of that Univerſity, was conſecrated Biſhop of Carliſle in 1450. tranſlated thence by Pope Nicolas to Coventry and Lichfield, in 1452. Aug. 30. made his Profeſſion at Lambeth, Oct. 15. that Year, and died before Nov. 1. following. [Godw. de Præſul. & Ang. Sac. 453.]

e Rob. Stillington is the next Archdeacon of Colcheſter, that I meet with in the London Regiſtry, tho' the time of his Admiſſion thereto doth not appear; but if, according to the Regiſtry of Exon, he was ſo made in 1462. (as I have it from Dr. Hutton) then doubtleſs, there muſt be another Archdeacon of Colcheſter, between Cloos and him. But to proceed, this our Archdeacon Stillington, was Fellow of All-Souls College, Oxon. admitted Canon of Wells, Aug. 2. 1445. Chancellor of Wells, June 6. 1447. (being then Doctor of Laws) Archdeacon of Taunton, Apr. 20. 1450. Canon of York in 1451. Dean of the King's Chappel in 1460. Keeper of the Privy-Seal in 1461. He was elected Biſhop of Bath and Wells, and according to Godwin, conſecrated in April 1456. but according to the Regiſtry of Stillington himſelf, he is ſaid to be confirm'd by the Archbiſhop of Canterbury, Jan. 11. 1466. and conſecrated by George, Archbiſhop of York, March 16. 1466. in York-Houſe at Weſtminſter. He was great in Favour with King Edward IV. under whom he always flouriſh'd in great Authority, being imploy'd by him in ſundry Embaſſies, particularly to the Duke of Britain, for apprehending the Earl of Richmond (afterwards King of England, by the Name of Henry VII.) in which Buſineſs he ſo beſtirr'd himſelf, as that his Double-diligence therein, prov'd afterwards his Over-throw. He temporiz'd with K. Richard III. and was a Man ſpecially imploy'd in his Coronation; but with King Henry VII. he ſorted not ſo well, for in 1487. he was accus'd of Treaſon, for yielding (as may be ſuppos'd) ſome Aſſiſtance to Lambert Simnell; but whatever his particular Fault was, it ſeemes, that having a guilty Conſcience, he betook himſelf to the Univerſity of Oxford, as hoping that the Privilege of the ſame, might be ſome Shelter or Defence for him. But after two or three Refuſals of the Chancellor of the Univerſity, to deliver him to the King's Officers, he was at laſt arreſted, and committed Priſoner to the Caſtle of Windſor in Oct. 1487. where he lay till his Death, which happen'd in May 1491. He built that goodly Chappel in the Cloiſters at Wells, which was afterwards pull'd down by Sir John Gates, who deſtroy'd alſo the great Hall in the Palace. In that Chappel he was buried, but his Body reſted there but a ſhort time, for it is reported, that divers old Men, who in their Youth, had, not only ſeen the Celebration of his Funeral, but alſo the Building of his Tomb, Chappel and all, did alſo ſee Tomb and Chappel deſtroy'd, and the Bones of the Biſhop that built them, turn'd out of the Lead in which they were interr'd. [Ang. Sac. P. I. p. 574. & Godwin. de Praſul.]

f Benedict Burg, Burges or Burd, who ſucceeded in this Archdeaconry in 1465. as above, was admitted Rector of Sandon, Jul. 6. 1440. which he reſign'd about Sept. 1444. Rector of Hedingham, Sibele, both in Eſſex, Oct. 19. 1450. He was collated to the Preb. of Ealdland, Feb. 23. 1472. which, as alſo Hedingham, he reſign'd about Feb. 1476. And laſtly, voided this Archdeaconry by his Death, before July 18. 1483. [Reg. Lond.]

g Tho. Barow, his Succeſſor in this Archdeaconry, 1483. was Fellow of King's College in Cambridge, Doctor of Civil-Law, Chancellor to the Houſe of King Richard III. and gave 240 l. towards the Building of S. Mary's Church in Cambridge. [Ful. Hiſt. Camb. 90.] He voided this Archdeaconry, by his Death, before July 9. 1499. as above.

h Joh. Maynwaring, who ſucceeded in this Archdeaconry, July 9. 1499. was admitted Vicar of Stepney, Oct. 13. following, but when, or how, he voided that or this Archdeaconry, appears not.

i Rob. Perott, was the next Archdeacon that I can find, but the time of his Admiſſion thereunto appears not, but voided it by his Death, before Feb. 16. 1518. and was ſucceeded therein by k Ric. Pace, as above, who reſign'd it within a Year, and was afterwards made Dean of S. Paul's, where may be ſeen more of him.

l Joh. Clerk or Clark, upon the Reſignation of Pace, was collated to this Archdeaconry, Oct. 22. 1519. He was Doctor of Law of Bononia, but brought up in the Univerſity of Cambridge, Chaplain to Cardinal Wolſey, Dean of Windſor, one of his Majeſty's Privy-Council, before the Year 1520. made Maſter of the Rolls, Oct. 20. 1522. He was promoted to the Biſhoprick of Bath and Wells, in 1523. upon which, this Archdeaconry became void. He was much imploy'd in forein Meſſages and Embaſſies by the ſaid Cardinal and the King. He was at length ſent Embaſſador to the Duke of Cleves, to give a Reaſon of the King's Divorce from his Siſter Anne. He fell ſick at Dunkirk, in his Return from thence, in Sept. 1540. occaſion'd, as ſome ſay, by Poyſon, whereupon, making his laſt Will at that Place on the 23d of the ſame Month and Year, within a few Days after which, he died. He bequeathed his Body to be buried in the principal or chief Church in the Town of Calais, and withal, that there be a Stone laid over his Grave, with this Inſcription, "Hic jacet Johannes Epiſcopus Bathonienſis & Wellenſis Anglus, qui, cum obiiſſet "plures inſignes Legationes, tandem obiit "diem ſuum in Legatione Clevenſi. In the beginning of Febr. 1529. he became Chancellor of the Church of Saliſbury, and was promoted to the Archbiſhoprick of York in 1431. upon which, this Archdeaconry became void. He was a great Divine, and very well ſeen in all kinds of Learning; famous, as well for his Wiſdom, as Virtue and Holineſs; a continual Preacher of the Goſpel, a Man very Liberal to the Poor, and exceedingly belov'd of all ſorts of Men, who greatly miſs'd, and bemoan'd the want of him, when dead. He gave way to Fate, Sept. 1544. and was buried in the South-Iſle, above the Quire, in the Cathedral-Church of York. [Athen. Oxon. Vol. I. p. 53. Godw. de Præſul. Ebor.]

n Rob. Alderidge, or Aldrich, ſucceeded in this Archdeaconry, upon the Promotion of Lee, as above. He was born at Burnham in Bucks, brought up at Eaton School, elected Scholar of King's College in Cambridge, in 1507. where he took the Degrees in Arts, and about that time, was ſtiled by Eraſmus, blandæ eloquentiæ juvenis. Afterwards he became Proctor of that Univerſity, School-Maſter of Eaton, Fellow of the College there, and at length Provoſt. In 1529. he retir'd to Oxon, where he was incorporated Bachelour of Divinity, and ſoon after proceeded Doctor, about which time he was admitted to this Archdeaconry. In 1534. May 7. he was inſtall'd Canon of Windſor, and in the ſame Year, conſtituted Regiſter of the Garter. In 1537. he was conſecrated Biſhop of Carliſle, July 18. by which he voided this Archdeaconry. He died at Horn-Caſtle in Lincolnſhire, March 5. 1555. and (as is ſuppos'd) was buried there. [Athen. Oxon. Vol. I. p. 97. Godw. de Præſul.]

q Joh. Standiſh, upon the Death of Belaſis, was admitted to this Archdeaconry, Jan. 10. 1553. at the Preſentation of Sir Ed. North, Kt. but ſubducted, and had his Inſtitution obliterated in few Days after, as appears afore, upon which

This John Standiſh was born of an antient Family in Lancaſhire, and at about ſeventeen Years of Age, in 1524. was by the Care of his Uncle, Dr. Henry Standiſh, Biſhop of S. Aſaph, ſent to Brazen-noſe College in Oxford, where he making great Proficiency in Logick, was elected Scholar of Corpus-Chriſti there, in Jan. 1528. he there went through the uſual Claſſes of Logick and Philoſophy, became a noted Diſputant, took the Degrees in Arts, Holy Orders, and drudging in the Faculty of Divinity, proceeded Doctor therein, ann. 1542. at which time he was one of the Fellows of Whittington College in London. In 1544. he was collated to the Vicarage of Northall, in Middleſex. In the time of King Edward VI. he ſeem'd to be a zealous Reformer; was then (if not before) made Rector of Wigan in Lancaſhire, and took to him a Wife. In 1550, Aug. 2. he was inſtall'd Canon of Worceſter; but when Queen Mary came to the Crown, he was depriv'd of his Vicarage of Northall, becauſe he was marry'd; but it ſeems, he and his Wife were ſoon ſeparated, and he wheeling about again, tho' he could not get his Vicarage of Northall again, yet Biſhop Bonner collated him to the

After Queen Elizabeth came to the Crown, he was ſoon depriv'd of his Archdeaconry, and Packleſham, but voided Ealdland (as I gueſs) by Reſignation before. My Author tell us in his *Antiq. t Joh. Pulleyne ſucceeded in this Archdeaconry upon the deprivation of Standiſh, as above. He was a Yorkſhire Man born, Educated in New-College, Oxon, and in 1547, being then three Years Maſter of Arts, and thirty Years of Age, was admitted one of the Senior Students of Chriſt-Church, Oxon, and much in eſteem for his Latin and Engliſh Poetry. About that time he became a frequent Preacher, and a Zealous Reformer. (He was admitted Rector of S. Peters Cornhill, London, Jan. 7. 1552; but after Queen Mary came to the Crown, he was deprived of it in 1555. Reg. Lond.) Upon which he abſconded, but privately Preached in the Pariſh of S. Michael Cornhill for ſome time after; but at length was forced beyond the Seas to Geneva, whence he returned, when Queen Elizabeth came to the Crown, and was reſtor'd to his ſaid Church again, [Ath. Ox. Vol. I. 125.] After which he was admitted to this Archdeaconry, Dec. 13. 1559. To the Rectory of Copford in Eſſex, March 8. following; and having reſign'd S. Peters, was Collated to the Preb. of Wenlakesbarne, Sept. 12. 1561. all which became void by his Death, before July 16. 1565. [Reg. Lond.] and was ſucceeded in this Archdeaconry by v Joh. Calfhill, who was a Shropſhire Man born, made his firſt Entry in the Univerſity of Oxford about 1545. brought up a Student in Chriſt Church there; and in 1560. made a Canon thereof, admitted to the reading of the Sentences the Year following, and afterwards became Doctor of Divinity, [Ath. Ox. Vol. I. 127.] In 1562. May 16. he was admitted to the Church of S. Andrews Wardrobe, London, and Oct. 4. following, Preb. of S. Pancras. In 1565. May 4. he was Collated to the Rectory of Bocking in Eſſex, by Archbiſhop Parker, and to this Archdeaconry July 16. following, by Biſhop Grindall, [Reg. Lond. & Cant.] At length, upon the Tranſlation of Dr. Edwyn Sandys from Worceſter to London, in 1570. he was nominated by the Queen to ſucceed him; but before his Conſecration thereto he died (having a little before reſigned his Canonſhip of Chriſt-Church, and alſo his Church of S. Andrews Wardrobe) and was buried in the Chancel of Bocking, about the latter end of the Month of Auguſt that Year. He was in his younger Days a noted Poet and Comedian, and in his elder an exact Diſputant, and had an excellent Faculty in Speaking and Preaching. [Ath. Ox. ut ſupra.]

w Geo. Wythers, Maſter of Arts of Cambridge, and Incorporated in the ſame Degree at Oxon. Feb. 21. 1565. ſucceeded in this Archdeaconry upon the Death of Calfhill, to which he was Collated Oct. 11. 1570, being then Doctor of Divinity; and in 1572. Nov. 17. was admitted to the Rectory of Danbury in Eſſex, which he voided in 1605. but this Archdeaconry he held till his Death, which happened before April 10 1617. [Reg. Lond.]

x Hen. King upon the Death of Wythers ſucceeded in this Archdeaconry. He was eldeſt Son to Dr. John King (late Biſhop of London) was born at Wornal in Bucks, in January 1591. Educated in Grammar-Learning, partly in the Free-School at Thame in Oxfordſhire, and partly in the College-School at Weſtminſter, from which laſt he was Elected Student of Chriſt-Church in Oxford, in 1608. Afterwards he took the Degrees in Arts, entred into Holy Orders (was Collated to the Preb. of S. Pancras, Jan 24, 1615. to the Rectory of Fulham (Midd.) but the time of his Admiſſion appears not; to this Archdeaconry April 10. 1617. [Reg. Lond.] He became a moſt Florid Preacher, and was ſucceſſively, Chaplain in Ordinary to King James I. Archdeacon of Colcheſter, Reſidentiary of S. Pauls, Canon of Chriſt-Church, Chaplain in Ordinary to King Charles I. Doctor of Divinity and Dean of Rocheſter, in which Dignity he was Inſtalled Feb. 6. 1638. In 1641. Decem. 9. he was Conſecrated Biſhop of Chicheſter (upon which his Archdeaconry, Preb. of Pancras, and Rectory of Fulham became void.) His Biſhoprick (ſaving only during the time of the Rebellion) he enjoyed till the time of his Death, which happened Oct. 1. 1669. He was buried on the South-ſide of the Choir, near the Communion Table, belonging to the Cathedral Church of Chicheſter, where ſoon after was a comely Monument put over his Grave, with an Inſcription thereon. When he was young he delighted much in the Studies of Muſick and Poetry, when elder, he applied himſelf to Oratory and Philoſophy, and in his reduced Age he fixed on Divinity, in which Faculty he became Eminent. [Ath. Oxon. Vol. II. 308.]

c Will. Sill ſucceeded in this Archdeaconry. He was Educated in the Univerſity of Cambridge, and Chaplain to the preſent Biſhop of London, who confer'd on him the Preb. of Meaſdon, July 10, 1678, this Archdeaconry Sept. 24 following, and on Dec. 22, the Preb. of *S. a Will. Eaſt, is the firſt Archdeacon of S. Albans that I have met with; but the Time of his Admiſſion appears not; which he voided by Reſignation, about Feb. 1556. He was alſo Rector of S. Alban's Church, which he, at the ſame time, voided by Ceſſion; and was ſucceeded in both, [Reg. Lond.] by b Ja. Dugdale, or Duckdale, who was depriv'd of this Archdeaconry in 1560. but for what cauſe appears not, nor upon what account his Rectory of S. Albans became void. [Reg. Lond.] but I take him to be the ſame with James Duckdale, who was made Maſter of Univerſity-College, Oxon, Dec. 10. 1558. and Three Days after was put out by Q. Elizabeth's Viſitors. [Antiq. Ox. lib. 2. *p.*60.]

c Dav. Kempe, upon Dugdale's Deprivation, ſucceeded in this Archdeaconry, in 1560. as above; but whether in his Rectory, of S. Albans, appears not. He was collated to the Preb. of Harleſton, Apr. 14. 1561. and to the Vicarage of Rickmonſworth, March 15. 1562. which he held till about Jan. 1580. and then reſign'd both that and this Archdeaconry; but his Preb. he held till his Death, which happen'd before Mar. 29. 1582. [Reg. Lon.]

d Giles Laurence, ſucceeded Kempe, both in this Archdeaconry and Rickmonſworth, Jan. 30. 1580. and reſign'd both about July. the Year following, [Reg. Lond.] He was of All-Souls-College, Oxon, Greek-Profeſſor of that Univerſity; and took the Degree of Doctor of Law there, Feb. 12. 1578. He was a Gloceſterſhire Man born, was admitted Scholar of Corpus-Chriſti-College, Oxon, with his individual Friend, John Jewell, An. 1539. And in 1542. was admitted Probationer-Fellow of All-Souls. On Sept. 18. 1564. he became Archdeacon of Wilts, being then in great Eſteem for his Learning. A certain Author, of no mean Fame, tells us, “ That “ this Dr. Laurence was the Light and Ornament of this Univerſity (Oxford;) that he “ was brought up and nouriſh'd in the Boſom “ of Pallas; and that into him, as alſo into “ Bartholomew Dodington, the Ornament of “ Cambridge, Nature, and unwearied Induſtry had infus'd and plac'd all the Greek “ Treaſures and Riches imaginable. In the Time of Queen Mary, he was Tutor to the Children of Sir Arthur Darcy, living near the Tower of London, and was in being in 1584. [Ath. Ox. I. Vol. 744.]

e William Hutchinſon, ſucceeded the ſaid Dr. Laurence in this Archdeaconry and Rickmonſworth both in one Day, viz. July 5. 1581. was collated to the Church of S. Chriſtopher's, Lond. Jan. 17. following, which he reſign'd about Octob. 1587. to the Church of S. Botolph's Biſhopſgate, May 26. 1584. which he reſign'd in 1599. Aug. 2. 1588. he was admitted to the Vicarage of Hutton, in Eſſex, which he reſign'd before Apr. 30. following; and the ſame Year, 1588. Feb. 18. was collated to the Preb. of Wildland, which he reſign'd before Octob. 22. 1590. and on Apr. 10. following, being then S. T. B. to the Preb. of Hoxton, which he reſign'd before Feb. 22. 1605. [Reg. Lond.] in which Year, one William Hutchinſon, who was of S. John's Coll. Oxon. and went out Bachelour of Divinity, in 1590. occurs Archdeacon of Cornwall [Ath. Ox. I. vol. 764.] whom I take to be the ſame Perſon with this our Archdeacon of S. Albans; but when or how he voided this Archdeaconry, appears not.

f Tho. Rayment, occurs Preb. of Chamberlainwode, and Rector of Hanwell, in Middleſex, as well as Archdeacon of S. Albans; but the Time of his Admiſſion to any of them appears not, tho' the Time of his voiding of them doth, which was before Nov. 14. 1631. by his Death, as above. [Reg. Lond.]

g Tho. Weſtfield, who ſucceeded in this Archdeaconry, as above, was born in Ely, brought up in Jeſus College, Cambridge, of which he was made, ſucceſſively, Scholar and Fellow; afterwards he became Curate or Aſſiſtant to Dr. Nic. Felton, whilſt he was Miniſter of S. Mary-le-Bow, Lond. He was admitted Rector of Great S. Bartholomew's, Lond. Dec. 12. 1607 being then Bachelour of Divinity (in which Degree he was incorporated at Oxford, July 9. 1611.) He was Rector of Hornſey, and Preb. of Cadington major; but the Time of his Admiſſion to either appears not. Hornſey he reſign'd in 1637. and in 1641. was advanc'd to the Sea of Briſtol, where dying, June 25. 1644. he was buried in the Cathedral Church there, at the upper end of the Iſle adjoyning to the Choir, on the North-ſide [Athen. Ox. I. vol. 812. & Reg. Lond.] I do not find that he was ſucceeded in his Church of S. Bartholomew till the Month of December, next after his Death; which makes me think, that he held that Church in commendam with his Biſhoprick; and this Archdeaconry, and his Preb. till by ſacrilegious Hands laid hold on, which was ſoon after he was made Biſhop; for it does not appear that he was ſucceeded in either of them, till after the Reſtauration of King Charles II. in 1660.

k Will. Bell, ſucceeded in this Archdeaconry, but not till the Year 1671. it lying all that while, from the Death of Shute, vacant. This *Will. Afterwards he liv'd in ſeveral Parts, as opportunity ſerved; was in France, Ann. 1649. and about 1655. he had a ſmall Benefice in Norfolk conferr'd on him, but could not paſs the Tryers. When his Majeſty was reſtor'd, in 1660. he became Chaplain in the Tower of London, to Sir John Robinſon, Lieutenant thereof; and in the Year after, he was actually created Bachelour of Divinity. In 1662. he was admitted Vicar of S. Sepulchres, London; and Mar. 23. 1665. collated to the Preb. of Reculverland. In 1667. he was ſworn Chaplain in Ordinary to his Majeſty; and in 1668. he proceeded Doctor of his Faculty, and was, for his Eminency in Preaching, made ſoon after one of the Lecturers of the Temple. He died July 19. 1683. and was buried in the Chancel of his own Pariſh-Church; over whoſe Body lies a Marble-Stone, with an Inſcription [Ath. Ox. II. vol. 554. & Reg. Lon.] His Eccleſiaſtical Preferments became void by his Death.

l Edw. Carter, was admitted Rector of S. Alban's Church, Feb. 20. 1662. and collated to this Archdeaconry Aug. 9. 1683. upon the Death of Bell: Both which became void by his Death, in 1687. and was ſucceeded therein [Reg. Lond.] by m Joh. Cole, who was admitted Vicar of the Church of S. Michael, in S. Albans, Mar. 3. 1662. Rector of S. Alban's Church, Dec. 16. 1687. and had this Archdeaconry confer'd on him by the Archbiſhop of Canterbury (the Biſhop of London being then under Suſpenſion) June 5. 1688. of all which he is the preſent Poſſeſſor; but voided his Vicarage of Redburne, in this Archdeaconry (the Time of his Admiſſion to which doth not appear) by Ceſſion, upon his being made Rector of S. Alban's Church. [Reg. Lond.]

The Office of Precentor, in the Cathedral Church of S. Paul's.

THE Precentor is likewiſe call'd Cantor or Chanter of the Church; his Office is chiefly to look after the Singing-Men and Singing in the Choir. He hath under him a Succentor, or Sub-Chanter, who is to officiate for him in his abſence. He is likewiſe to conſtitute the Maſter of the Singing-School. Of all which may be ſeen at large, in Hiſt. Paul. p. 244.

The Precentor hath the Second Stall on the Left-ſide of the Choir, and his Corps is in the Church of Stortford, in Hertfordſhire, valu'd at 46 l. per Annum; which Church was of old, it ſeems, annex'd and appropriated to the Dignity of the Precentor of the Cathedral Church of S. Paul's, who is Rector and Proprietor of the ſame, and Patron of the Vicarage.

King John, in the Fifth of his Reign, gave to William de S. Mariæ Eccleſia, Biſhop of London, the Church of Shoreditch, near the City, to the Office of Chief Chanter or Precentor of this Church, as appears by his Charter following.

" Johannes —— Sciatis nos pro ſalute Animæ noſtræ, & pro Anima 5. Joh. m. 8. n. 65.

Soon after this, the ſaid William, Biſhop of London, having inſtituted Benedict de Sanſetun into his Office of Precentor, confirm'd the ſaid Church of Shoreditch, with its Appurtenances to him, and his Succeſſors in the ſaid Office, as appears by the Inſtrument following.

" Omnibus —— Willielmus, Dei Gratia, London. Epiſcopus, Salutem, ad

" giſtro Michaele; Willielmo de Hatfield; Johanne de Waltham; & pluribus aliis.

After this, it ſeems, this Church of Shoreditch was alienated from this Office of Precentor, and appropriated to the Archdeaconry of London; but when, by whom, or upon what Occaſion or Conſideration I have not yet met with; however, it hath been of antient Time, and is ſtill, the Corps of that Archdeaconry.

Pat. 36. E. III. p. 1. m. 18. Ralph, Biſhop of London, petition'd King Edward III. that he might have licence to annex the Church of Hackney, valu'd at Fifty Marks, to this Office of Præcentor, inſtead of the Church of Storteford, valu'd at Twenty Marks per Annum, for the better Maintenance of that Dignity; which licence the King granted Mar. 7. 36th of his Reign. But I do not find it was ever effected.

He was collated to this Office of Precentor by Walter, Archbiſhop of Canterbury, in 1313. in which Year, on the Kal. of Novemb. he, with *Jo. de S. How long this Worſton continu'd in this Office of Precentor, appears not, nor how he voided it; but probably was ſucceeded by

q Will. de Plumſtok, who was Precentor of this Church in 1341. for, June 15. that Year, he obtain'd a Prohibition from the King, whereby the Biſhop, and Dean and Chapter of London, were forbid to exact any more from him, or his Succeſſors, Precentors of this Church, than an annual Penſion of Two Marks for the Anniverſary of John de Wengham, formerly Precentor, otherwiſe impoſ'd by them upon theſe Precentors. [Pat. 15. Edw. III. p. 2.]

r Will. de Borſton, ſucceeded next in this Office; for, July 3. following, he being Precentor, obtain'd the like Prohibition, [Pat. 15. Edw. III. p. 2.] but how long he held this Office, or how it became void, appears not.

ſ Joh. de Wynchcomb, is the next Precentor I meet with; but the Time of his Admiſſion appears not; however, of his Reſignation it doth, viz. before Nov. 1. 1370. but whether he was the ſame with John de Wynchcombe, who was admitted Rector of Snoreham, in Eſſex, Mar. 20. 1390. and voided it by his Death before July 17. 1392. I cannot ſay.

t Phil. Melreth, ſucceeded in this Office, as above; but when or how he voided it, appears not.

v Tho. Horton, is the next Precentor that I can find: He was Clerk of the Spicery to the King, and occurs Preb. of Wenlakesbarn; but the Time of his Admiſſion to that or this Precentorſhip, appears not, only that both became void by his Death, about July 1394.

w Joh. Ethenham, vel Edenham, who ſucceeded in this Precentorſhip, July 26. 1394. and reſign'd it in Aug. following; was afterwards collated to the Preb of Morn, Oct. 16. 1400. and Dec. 5. following, to the Rectory of Orſet, in Eſſex; both which became void by his Death, before Feb. 26. 1437. [Reg. Lond.] x Joh. Wyke; before he ſucceded in this Precentorſhip, was collated to the Rectory of Stamford-Rivers, (Eſſex) Januar. 18. 1385, which he reſign'd about Oct. 1386. and this Office of Precentorſhip, to which he was collated Aug. 5. 1394. he reſign'd June 15. 1397. and was the ſame Day collated to the aboveſaid Church of Orſett; and to the Preb. of Reculverland, Octob. 11. 1398. Orſett he reſign'd in 1400. and Reculverland became void in 1419. but how, appears not. And if he be the ſame Perſon with John Wykes, who was collated to the Preb. of Willeſdon, Jun. 4. 1419. then he died not till the Year 1427. when he voided that Preb. by his Death, before March 14. that Year. [Reg. Lond.]

y Joh. Drewery, or Drury, upon the Reſignation of Wykes, ſucceeded him in this Office of Precentor, as above. He was Vicar of Northall, (Middleſex) to which he was collated June 21. 1386. and reſign'd it about June 1391. He was likewiſe Rector of Stamford-Rivers (Eſſex:) The Time of his Admiſſion appears not; but he reſign'd it in 1397. about the time he was collated to this Precentorſhip. Jan. 4. 1399. he was collated to the Preb. of Meaſdon; but the Time of his voiding it, doth not appear; nor of his Admiſſion to the Rectory of Dengy, in Eſſex, which he reſign'd about Sept. 1426. As Precentor of this Church, he was Rector of Biſhops-Stortford, (Hertford) where he made a Compoſition in 1427. with the Rector of the neighbouring Pariſh of Farnham, (Eſſex) about the Tyths of certain Fields, which were in diſpute between them. [Vid. Biſhop-Stortford & Farnham] He continu'd Precentor till 1442. and then reſign'd it, as above. [Reg. Lond.]

In 1452. he reſign'd his Preb. of Reculverland, May 23. and was on the ſame Day collated to that of Kentiſh-Town, and in July following, the Church of Fulham became void by his Reſignation, where he had been Rector for ſome time before; but this his Precentorſhip, and Preb. of Kentiſh-Town, became void by his Death, about June 1454. [Reg. Lond.]

a Tho. Graunt was Rector of S. Margaret-Lothbury, London, to which he was admitted, Dec. 30. 1450. and in 1451. April 9. he was collated to the Preb. of Wenlakesbarn; and in 1454. to this Office of Precentor. In Oct. 1457. he reſign'd Wenlakesbarn; and on the 28th of the ſame Month and Year, he was collated to that of Totenhale, which in 1473. July 30. he exchang'd with Tho. Wynterburne for the Preb. of Mora; which, together with his Precentorſhip, he held till both became void by his Death, before July 9. 1474. as appears above. He was a Prebendary of the prebendal Church of Weſt-Thurrock, in Eſſex, which was appropriated of old, to the King's Royal-Chappel, or Collegiate-Church of Haſtings in Suſſex, and as Rector of that Church, was Patron of that Vicarage, and preſented to it in 1457. [Reg. Lond.]

b Will. Wylde (whom I take to be the ſame with our Precentor) was admitted to the Rectory of S. Leonard, Colcheſter, Mar. 16. 1464. which he reſign'd about July 1467. and was collated to the Church of S. Mary-Hill, London, the next Month; to the Preb. of Oxgate, Sept. 2. following; and on the ſame Day, to the Treaſurerſhip of this Church, which he reſign'd in 1474. about July, and was on the 9th of that Month, collated to this Precentorſhip; Oxgate he reſign'd, on, or about March 31. 1477. and was on the ſame Day collated to the Preb. of Bromesbury; but how, or when he voided that, or this Dignity, appears not; whether he was the ſame Will. Wyld, who was admitted to the Rectory of Little-Ilford, in Eſſex, July 5, 1488. and reſign'd it in 1490. I am not certain; but it appears that was the ſame that preſented one of both his Names to the Rectory of Barkway, Hertfordſhire, ann. 1494. for there he preſented, by the Name and Title of VVill. VVyld, Decretorum Doctor-Canonicus & Præcentor Eccleſiæ Cathedralis Sancti Pauli, Lond. and the ſame Year preſented to the Vicarage of Biſhops-Stortford, as Rector thereof. [Reg. Lond.]

c Gundeſalvus Ferdinand was admitted to to the Rectory of Bradwell, juxta mare, Dec. 2. 1499. which he reſign'd about Sept. 1504. he was likewiſe Preb. of Totenhale, Chancellor and Precentor of this Church; but the time of his Admiſſion to any of them appears not. His Chancellorſhip he left in 1504. but his Preb. and Dignity of Precentor, he held till his Death, which happen'd before June 27. 1513. as appears by Totenhale. [Reg. Lond.] He was alſo Preb. of Fordington and Writhington in the Church of Sarum, which alſo became void by his Death. [Athen. Oxon. Vol. I. p. 14.]

d Tho. Wulcy or Wolſey, the great and mighty Cardinal in King Henry VIII's time, was the next that ſucceeded in this Dignity; he was born at Ipſwich, in Suffolk, but it ſeems, not the Son of a Butcher, as ſome will have it; educated in Magdalen College, Oxon. where, he making a wonderful Progreſs in Logick and Philoſophy, became Batchelour of Arts at fifteen Years of Age, ann. 1445. afterwards Maſter of Arts, Fellow and Maſter of the Grammar-School there; and in 1498. Burſar of that Houſe. In 1500. he became Rector of Limmington in Somerſetſhire, at the Preſentation of Thomas Grey, Marquis of Dorſet, which Rectory he conferr'd on him, for the great Care he had of his Sons, under his Tuition in the Grammar-School before-mention'd; but the Marquis dying in 1501. he got to be Chaplain to Sir John Naphaut, Treaſurer of Calais, who minding the good Ser- he had done him, got him at length, to be the King's Chaplain, and thereby, being become known to Ric. Fox, Biſhop of Winton, and Sir Tho. Lovell, two of the King's Counſellors, and they finding his excellent Parts, recommended him to the King's Service, who ſent him in Quality of an Ambaſſador to Maximilian the Emperor, then in Flanders, near Calais; which Embaſſie he perform'd with ſuch Dexterity and Quickneſs, that the King took ſpecial Notice of it, and ſoon after conferr'd upon him the Deanry of Lincoln, in which he was inſtall'd, March 25. 1509. After the Death of King Henry VII. he ſoon got into Favour with his Succeſſor, King Henry VIII. that he was by him preſented to the Rectory of Turrington, in the Dioceſe of Exeter, Nov. 28. 1510. and on Feb. 17. following, made him Canon of Windſor, and about that time, Regiſtrary of the Garter. In Jan. 31. 1512. he, by the Name of the King's Almoner, was made Prebendary of Bugthorp, in the Church of York, and Febr. 21. following, Dean of the ſame Church. In 1523. the King having newly taken Tournay, in France, not only gave him the Revenues of that Biſhoprick, but (as ſome ſay) actually made him Biſhop thereof; in the ſame Year, July 8. he was collated to this Precentorſhip, which became void the next Year, by his being promoted to the Sea of Lincoln, to which he was conſecrated, March 26. and in November following, was made Archbiſhop of York. In 1515. Sept. 7. he was created Cardinal of S. Cecilia, and in the Year following, Dec. 7. he was conſtituted Lord-Chancellor of England, and about the ſame time Legate-à-latere for the ſame Kingdom. In 1518. Aug. 28. he had the Temporalities of Bath and Wells conferr'd on him, with Liberty of holding the ſame Sea, being perpetual Commendatary thereof, with the Abbotſhip of S. Albans, and other Eccleſiaſtical Livings in commendam with York. About the ſame time, he laid in at Rome for the Papacy, but miſs'd it. In 1523. he had the Biſhoprick of Durham given him, and thereupon he reſign'd Bath and Wells; and ſoon after, began the Foundation of his two moſt noble Colleges at Oxford and Ipſwich. In 1529. he had the Sea of Winton conferr'd on him, whereupon he renounc'd Durham; but before he was quite warm in Wincheſter, he fell into the King's Diſpleaſure, upon which, being ſoon after commanded to live in his Dioceſe of York, about the beginning of 1530. he retir'd to the Archbiſhop's Palace at Cawood, where ſpending the Summer following in great Hoſpitality, he was about the latter end of October enſuing, arreſted for High-Treaſon, whereupon being to be convey'd to London to anſwer for it, he died at Leiceſter, in the way thither, Nov. 29. following, and was buried in S. Mary's Chapel, within the Precincts of that Abby-Church. Thus have I given a ſhort Account of this famous Cardinal, out of the Athen. Oxon. Vol. I. p. 569, &c. who, as it is ſaid there, was of all the Clergy-Men of his time, before and after him, indiſputably the greateſt; in which Author may be read more at large of him, and in ſeveral of our Hiſtorians, but more particularly, in his Life written by Tho. Cavendiſh, who was his Gentleman-Uſher.

e Will. Horſey. [Vid. inter Archid. Lond.]

f Geo. Wyndham did ſucceed in this Dignity, Nov. 11. 1531. at which time he was Archdeacon of Norwich; but long before this, he was Rector of Danbury in Eſſex, to which he was admitted, March 23. 1512. and reſign'd it in 1514. but this Precentorſhip became void by his Death, before Nov. 27. 1543. at which time he was ſucceeded therein, as appears above, by g Joh. Shery: the Author of Antiq. Oxon. Lib. II. p. 195. and Athen. Oxon. Vol. I. p. 63. tells us of one Ric. Sherry or Shirry, whom in his Index to the latter, he names John, who was a Demy of Magdalen College, Oxon. about 1522. took the Degrees in Arts, that of Maſter being compleated in 1531. about which time, he was either Uſher or Maſter of the School joyning to the ſaid College. He tells us farther, out of Bale, that he was a Perſon elegantly Learned, that he had written ſeveral Treatiſes, and had written and tranſlated other Things than what he there mentions, which made him to be much eſteemed by learned Men in the Reign of K. Edward VI. but whether this might be the ſame with our John Shery the Precentor, who voided this Dignity by Death, about Aug. 1551. I know not, and was ſucceeded therein by

i Henry Hervy ſucceeded next in this Precentorſhip, and voided it by his Death, before Apr. 29. 1585. at which time he was ſucceeded therein by k Joh. Duport, who was collated to the Sine-Cure Rectory of Fulham, Middleſex, Dec. 24. 1583. which probably he voided by his Death, as he did this his Precentorſhip, in 1617. This Joh. Duport, I take to be the ſame, who was Maſter of Jeſus College in Cambridge, and ſometime Vice-Chancellor of that Univerſity.

l Tho. Goad ſucceeded in this Precentorſhip; he was Maſter of Arts of King's College in Cambridge, afterwards Chaplain to Archbiſhop Abbot, Rector of Hadley in Suffolk, Doctor of Divinity, Prebendary of Canterbury, Precentor of this Church as above, and Rector of Black-Notley in Eſſex, but the time of his Admiſſion thereto appears not. He was made Dean of Barking, joyntly with Dr. Joh. Barkham, Oct. 22. 1633. His Precentorſhip and Rectory of Notley, became void by his Death, not in or about 1636. as my Author has it, but rather about Aug. 1638, for in that Year and Month, he was admitted to theſe two laſt Preferments at the Collation and Preſentation of the proper Patrons, otherwiſe they would have faln to the Biſhop, Archbiſhop or King, by Lapſe. He was a great and general Scholar, exact Critick and Hiſtorian, a Poet, School-man and Divine. [Athen. Oxon. Vol. I. p. 828. Reg. Lond. & Cant.]

m Tho. Wykes, upon the Death of Goad, ſucceeded in this Precentorſhip; he was collated to the Vicarage of Great-Dunmow, April 28. 1635. to the Preb. of Holywell, Oct. 27. 1636. to this Dignity of Precentor, Aug. 27. 1638. to the Rectory of S. Botolph-Biſhopſgate, Nov. 28. 1639. he having voided Dunmow; to the Rectory of Finchley, Middleſex, Mar. 27. 1640. which two laſt, he reſign'd about 1641. and March 26. 1642. He was admitted to the Rectory of Tey-Magna, Eſſex, which became void by his Death, about Aug. 1644. [Reg. Lond.] n Joſ. Crowther, ſoon after the Reſtauration, was admitted to this Dignity, Aug. 25. 1660. as void by the Death of Wykes. In Aug. 1. 1660. he was created Doctor of Divinity at Oxford, and about that time, made Rector of the rich Church of Tredington, in the Dioceſe of Worceſter; and March 7. 1661. was inſtall'd Preb. of that Cathedral Church. On Dec. 26. he was admitted Principal of S. Mary's-Hall in Oxford. In his laſt Days, he was committed Priſoner to the Fleet-Priſon, in London, for refuſing to renew the Leaſe of the Corps of his Preb. then in Poſſeſſion of Sir Tho. Draper, which the Doctor intended to wear out, as 'tis ſaid, for the Benefit of the Cathedral-Church of S. Paul's. He died Dec. 16. 1689. and was buried in S. Paul's Cathedral. [*Ath. The Office of Treaſurer in the Cathedral-Church of S. Paul.

THE Treaſurer of S. Paul is to keep the Treaſury of the whole Church, as, the Reliques, Books, Veſſels, Veſtments, Chalices, &c. for the true Cuſtody whereof, he is bound by Oath to the Dean and Chapter.

Under him, he hath a Sacriſt for a Coadjutor, whom he is to preſent to the Dean, to be approv'd, and admitted by him upon Oath, to be faithful and diligent in his Office, which is to open the Church-Doors at the firſt Ringing of the Bell, every Day, for Morning and Evening Service, and to do ſeveral Things about the Altar, and Things belonging thereunto, too long here to inſert, which if he neglect, he is to be corrected by the Dean and Chapter.

The Sacriſt hath three Servants under him, call'd Vergers, which are likewiſe to have Servants under them; theſe are to make clean the Church, toll the Bell, blow the Organ-Bellows, and to do any other ſervile Offices in the Church, at the Command of the Vergers, who are to anſwer for their Truth and Fidelity; what farther belongs to the Treaſurer, Sacriſts, and thoſe under him, may be ſeen at large in Hiſt. Paul. p. 212.

The Treaſurer hath the third Stall on the Right-ſide of the Choir; his Corps is in the Church of Pelham and Aldebri, valu'd at ſixty three Marks, ſecundum taxationem Norwicen.

Reg. Dec. & Robert de Sigillo, Biſhop of London in King Stephen's time, gave to one Godfrey

- a Godefredus.
- b Henricus Banaſter.
- c Petrus de Sancta Maria.
- d Willelmus'de Fauconberg.
- e Alexander Swerford.

a Godefredus, as above, was the firſt that was made Treaſurer of this Church. He occurs Preb. of Harleſton by the Name and Title of Godefredus Theſaurarius. He continued Treaſurer in 1162, for then he was one of the Witneſſes to the Agreement about the Church of S. Mary Magdalen, London, made between the Canons of S. Paul's, and Barthol, the Son of Gaulfridus. [lib. A. fol. 23.] How long this Godfrey enjoy'd this Office afterwards doth not appear; but the next I can find, which ſucceeded therein, was

b Hen. Banaſter, who was Witneſs to the Grant made by Ralph de Diceto, the Dean, and the Chapter of S. Paul's of Norton (Mandevil in Eſſex) to Joh. de dan-Martin, with the ſaid Ralph the Dean, Nicolas Archdeacon, Ric. de Storteford, Magiſtor Scholarum, and others, by the Name and Title of Henry, the Treaſurer; [Reg. Dec. & Cap. Cart. Orig.] but this Hen. Banaſter ſeems to have ſucceeded the ſaid Godfrey in this Office ſoon after the Conſtitution thereof, ſo that his Predeceſſor did not long enjoy it; for the ſaid Henry, by the Name and Title of Henry Banaſter, Treaſurer, atteſted the Confirmation of the Church of Greys-Thurrock in Eſſex, by Ric. de Belmeis II. who died in 1162. with Ralph the Dean (that is, Ralph de Langfrrd) Ric. Foliot Archdeacon, who was about that time Archdeacon of Colcheſter, and others. [Bib. Cot. Nero. E. 6. f. 205.] He was alſo Treaſurer in 1192. for then he gave his aſſent to the Statute of Reſidence, made by Ralph de Diceto the Dean. [Lib. l. f. 57.]

c Peter is the next Treaſurer. that I meet with, and it was Peter de Sancta Maria, as will appear by and by. He was Treaſurer, by the Name and Title of Peter Theſaurarius, Sancti Pauli London. 16. Kal. Jan. 1213. Simon de Gloceſter, Gilbert de Pleſſet, and Radulphus de Biſac, being then Canons of S. Paul's; [Baga in Sacccario Dioc. Lond.] alſo 14. Kal. Oct. Alard the Dean, Gilbert Archdeacon, and Peter the Treaſurer of London, being then Witneſſes to the Confirmation of the Appropriation of the Church of Great Berdfeid in Eſſex. by William, Biſhop of London, in the 16. Year of his Pontificate. [Bib. Cot. Clere f. 54.] He was alſo Witneſs in 1218. 5 Kal. Dec. 3. Hen. III. by the Title of Peter Theſaurar. to the Deed of Rob. de Watford, the Dean, and the Chapter of S. Paul's, about the Mills in Wapping, with the ſaid Dean and others, [Lib. C. 5. f. 156.] and was Rector of Fering in Eſſex, as appears in Fering. This was Peter de Sancta Maria (and perhaps Nephew to William of that Name, Biſhop of London) as appears by his Will, 10 Hen. II. 1226. on the Morrow after the Feaſt of S. Lucy, wherein he gives 20 Marks (to a certain Chantry in this Church) to provide a yearly Rent of 20 Shillings for the keeping of his Anniverſary. [Hiſt. Paul 25. Cart. Orig.] As alſo by his being Witneſs with Rob. de Watford, the Dean, and others, to a Licence granted by William, Biſhop of London, to Richard, Abbot of VValtham, to celebrate Divine Offices in his Chapel, in the Pariſh of S. Mary Hill, Lond. which Licence he atteſts by the Name and Title of Petrus de Sanctæ Mariæ Eccleſia Theſaur. London, as appears in S. Mary Hill. He alſo occurs Preb. of Iſledon, Kentiſh-Town, and Mora, by the Name and Title of Peter Theſaurarius. [Reg. Lond]

d Will. de Fauconberg ſucceeded the aforeſaid Peter, both in his Preb. of Kentiſh-Town, and Treaſurerſhip, and was Treaſurer here when Euſtace de Fauconberg, (to whom I ſuppoſe he was Kin) was Biſhop of London, [Lib. A. f. 37.] and alſo in the time of Roger Niger his ſucceeſſor, when Galfry de Lucy was Dean, [ib. f. 19.] Annò 1231. in which year he was ſucceeded in this Office by e Alex. Swerford, who was Archdeacon of Salop, and Treaſurer of S. Pauls, Jan. 15, 1231. [Pat. 16. H. 3. m. 9.] He was the King's Chaplain; and when he was Archdeacon of Salop (before he was Treaſurer) his Maſter King Henry III. Nov. 7. 1227. gave 20 Marks per Annum, to ſuſtain him for his Service till he ſhould otherwiſe provide for him in Eccleſiaſtical Preferments, [Pat. 12. H. 3. m. 7.] whilſt Archdeacon of Salop he was one of the Witneſſes to the abovementioned Licence granted to the Abbot of Waltham. After he was Treaſurer of this Church he had 40 Marks per Annum out of the Exchequer to maintain him there in the King's Service till he was otherwiſe provided for, [Pat. 18. H. 3. m. 1. Oct. 21.] Anno 1233. He was Preb. of Lichfield, which he reſign'd, and the King thereupon granted the ſame to Simon de Glouceſter, Nephew to the ſaid Alexander, Oct. 18. 1234. [19. H. 3. m. 3.] In 1241. he was one of the Witneſſes to the Determination of the Controverſy between Rog. de Horſet, and the Maſter and Brethren of S. Bartholomew's-Hoſpital, about Lands in the Preb. of Portpool; and laſtly, the King, Aug. 14. 1243. order'd Alex. de Swerford to be provided for in any Church of the King's Gift worth 100 Marks per Annum [Pat. 37. H. 3. m. 5.] How long he continued Treaſurer of this Church appears not; but he died in 1246. between Michaelmas and Chriſtmas, [Lib.

f Ric. Talboth, or Talbot, is the next Treaſurer of this Church, that I can fix on, (tho' doubtleſs there muſt be one or more that ſucceeded in this Office before him) for the firſt time that he appears Treaſurer is in 1259. and alſo in 1260. [Lib. A. f. 59.] He occurs Preb. of Holywell, and of Mora; he was Nephew to Fulk Baſſet, late Biſhop of London, and was afterwards Dean of S. Pauls, where may be ſeen more of him.

g Rob. le Moyn was Treaſurer of this Church when Galfry de Feringes was Dean, and was then Witneſs to a Deed made by him of Land in Sandon, with Hen. de Wengham, Archdeacon of Middleſex. [Cart. Orig.] He was likewiſe Treaſurer when John de Chiſhul was Dean (i.e. between the Years 1268. and 1273. and was then Witneſs with Adam de Feverſham, Archdeacon of Eſſex, to a Deed made by the ſaid Dean, for the Payment of the Obit. of Will. Pottern, one of the Canons of this Church. [Cart. Orig.]

h Ric. de Graveſend (whom Mr. Wharton will have to be Treaſurer of this Church, when he was elected Biſhop of London, about May, 1280.) I am apt to believe ſucceeded le Moyn in this Dignity; but left it about two Years before he was made Biſhop, as will appear by the time of his Succeſſors being Treaſurer.

i Rob. de Drayton was Treaſurer of this Church in 1278. and under that Title, on the Morrow, after the Feaſt of S. John Baptiſt that year, with the Biſhop, Dean, and others, Canons of this Church, gave his Conſent to the Building of Blackfriers Church in London, [lib. A. f. 70.] but voided it that Year (but how appears not) for one k S. ſucceeded him, and was Treaſurer the ſame Year; for on 2. Kal. Mar. 1298. S. Treaſurer of S. Pauls, was Witneſs to the Confirmation of the Church of Ulting in Eſſex, to the Abby of Bileigh, [lib. A. f. 71.]

l Ric. de Graveſend was Preb. of Chiſwick, Treaſurer of this Church, and Archdeacon of London, [vid. inter Archid. Lond.]

m Rob. de Reddeſwell & Tho. de Aſteley. [v. inter Archid. Middleſex.]

n Ric. de Wagham was Treaſurer of this Church 4. Kal. Nov. 1344. [Reg. Dec. & Cap. Pyxide B.]

o Joh. Cok appears to be Treaſurer June 3, 24 Ed. III. 1350. [Pix. K.]

p Tho. Street de Kneſworth ſucceeded in this Office of Treaſurer, 5. Kal. Oct. 1361. and reſigning it, was collated to the Preb. of St. Pancras, 4. Id. of Feb. 1368. which he had by way of Exchange with Henry de VVakefield his Succeſſor, [Reg. Lond.] One Tho. Street was collated to the Rectory of Much-Hadham (Hertf.) Jan. 17, 1385. which became void by his Death in 1390; but whether he was the ſame with this our Street of Kneſworth, I am not certain, nor whether Tho. Street, who was admitted Rector of Stanmore Magna, (Midd.) in 1373. be the ſame.

q Hen. de VVakefield, who ſucceeded in this Dignity, was Rector of Hendon, (Mid.) which he reſign'd March 15. 1362. and was at the ſame time admitted to the Preb. of S. Pancras, by way of exchange with Joh. Cruſe, in which he was confirm'd by the King, May 25, 1363. [Pat. 37. Ed. III. p. 1.] I take this Hen. de VVakefield, our Treaſurer, to be the ſame who was Archdeacon of Canterbury. He was Treaſurer of the King's Houſhold, elected Biſhop of Ely, 1373. but in vain; however at laſt made Biſhop of VVorceſter, by Papal Proviſion in 1375. and Treaſurer of England in 1377. He died in March 1395, and was buried in the Body of his Church, towards the Weſt-end, which he had made longer, by adding two Arches to it. He built alſo the North-Porch. [Godw. de Præſul. Wignor Angl. Sac. p. 1. 535.] See more of him among the Preb. of S. Pancras.

feld therein, becauſe the time of his voiding thereof doth not appear, tho' it might probably be upon his being made Biſhop of Worceſter: However this Will. Storteford, after he left this Dignity, was made Archdeacon of Middleſex, where may be ſeen more of him, and was ſucceeded herein by ſ Ro. Albryghton Aug. 20. 1393. which he reſign'd within a year after, as appears above. He was collated to the Preb. of Holywell, Aug. 2, 1391. and reſigning that about May 1393. was ſoon after made Treaſurer of this Church. [Reg. Lond.]

t Guido Mone ſucceeded in this Dignity upon the Reſignation of Albryghton; but before that he was Rector of Bradwell juxta Mare in Eſſex, which he reſign'd about June 1384. In 1386, Oct. 7. he was collated to the Preb. of Cadington major, by Biſhop Braybroke, and to the Rectory of Harrow on the Hill (Mid.) by Archbiſhop Courtney Dec. 26, 1387; his Preb. he reſign'd in 1389, and was ſucceeded in his Rectory of Harrow, Oct. 1, 1390. In 1394. he became Treaſurer of this Church, which he reſign'd in 1397. [Reg. Lond. & Cant.] He was Keeper of the Privy-Seal, and made Biſhop of S. Davids by the Name of Guido de Mona, or Mohun, Anno 1401, and died Aug. 31, 1407. He was twice Treaſurer of England, viz. 22. Ric. II. and 4. Hen. IV. he was (ſaith Walſingham) whilſt he lived, a cauſe of great Miſchief. [Godw. de Præſul. Meneven.]

v Joh. Doneys, on the Reſignation of Mone, ſucceeded in this Treaſurerſhip; but how or when he voided it appears not.

w Walt. Cook: the time of his admiſſion to this Dignity appears not; he ſeems to be next Succeſſor therein, and reſign'd it about Jan. 1400. of whom I find nothing more, than that he was one of the Executors of Tho. d'Evere, Dean of S. Paul's, and with other Executors founded a Chantry of one Prieſt in this Church, for the Soul of the ſaid Thomas.

x Walt. Medeford ſucceeded next, as above; but the time of voiding it appears not. After he was Treaſurer of this Church he was Chancellor of the Church of Sarum, Sept. 26, 1402. which he voided by Ceſſion in 1404. [Dr. Hutton.] He was collated to the Preb. of Portpool, Dec. 9, 1417. which he exchang'd for that of Cadington minor, with Will. Barton Feb. 19, 1418. [Reg. Lond.]

y Joh. Chandler is the next Treaſurer I have met with; but the time of his admiſſion appears not. He was Treaſurer of the Church of Sarum, Apr. 12, 1394. [Dr. Hutton] was Treaſurer of this Church in 1409. which he voided by Reſignation in 1420. I find one John Chandler (the ſame perhaps with ours) admitted to the Rectory of Greenford magna (Midd.) June 26, 1418. but when or how he voided it, appears not.

z Joh. Symonsburgh, upon the Reſignation of Chandler, ſucceeded next in this Dignity, reſign'd it about Nov. 1423. and was ſucceeded therein by a Alex. Sparma, of whom I find no more.

b Tho. Mordon is the next Treaſurer I have met with, who was collated to this Office Nov. 6, 1433. and after he had enjoy'd it almoſt 25 years, voided it by his Death before June 19, 1458. as appears above, and was ſucceeded therein by c Joh. Drewell, who was collated to the Sine-Cure Rectory of Fulham July 15, 1452. which he reſign'd in 1458. and June 2, that year, had this Office of Treaſurer confer'd on him, having been collated the Year before, May 27, to the Preb. of Oxgate; both which he reſign'd in 1476. and was ſucceeded in both Sept. 2, that year by d Will. Wyld. [vid. inter Præcentores hujus Eccleſiæ.]

e Rob. Ballard, upon the Reſignation of Wyld, ſucceeded in this Dignity, July 9, 1474. as above. He was admitted Rector of Shepperton (Midd.) May 31, 1451. and reſign'd it in 1452. was collated to the Sine-Cure Rectory of Fulham in Sept. 1458. which he reſign'd Nov. 24, 1465. by way of exchange with Joh. Waynflete, for the Preb. of Kentiſh-town. He was Rector of Hadham magna (Hertf.) but the time of his admiſſion appears not, and was collated to this Treaſurerſhip, as above; both which two laſt he reſign'd about the latter end of the year 1477. and the Preb. of Kentiſh-Town about a year after. [Reg. Lond.]

f Walter Knightly ſucceeded in this Treaſurerſhip upon Ballard's reſignation March 2, 1477. and reſign'd it again before March 11,

g Tho. Danett, upon the Reſignation of Knightly, ſucceeded in this Treaſurerſhip. He was Principal of Alban-Hall, Oxon, ann. 1468. being then Doctor of Divinity, Canon, and at laſt Dean of Windſor, where he died, September 18. 1483. [Reg. Lond.]

i Chr. Bainbrigge, Bainbridg, or Bambridg, upon the Promotion of his Predeceſſor, ſucceeded in this Dignity; he was born at Hilton, in Weſtmorland; educated in Queen's-Coll. Oxon, of which he was Provoſt before the Year 1495. and a liberal Benefactor thereunto; Doctor of Laws, Rector of Aller, in Somerſetſhire, Treaſurer of this Church, as above; and after he had been Preb. of South-Grantham, then of Chardſtock, then of Horton, (all in the Church of Sarum) and Treaſurer of this Church, as aforeſaid, which he reſign'd in 1503. Sept. 8. that Year, he was admitted Preb. of Strenſhall, in the Church of York; and on Dec. 21. following, inſtall'd Dean of the ſame Church. In 1505. he was made Dean of Windſor, Maſter of the Rolls, and one of the King's Counſellors; in 1507. he was promoted to the Biſhoprick of Durham; and the Year following tranſlated to York. In 1511. he was made Cardinal of S. Praxedis; and in 1514. was poiſon'd at Rome, by one Renaldo de Modena, an Italian Prieſt. He died July 14. 1514. and was (as certain Authors ſay) buried in the Engliſh Hoſpital (now call'd the Engliſh-College) at Rome. Others ſay, he died at Roan, in France, being then and there the King's Embaſſadour, [Ath. Ox. I. Vol. 556. & Godw. de Præſul. Ebor.] k Edw. Vaughan, ſucceeded in this Dignity, upon Bainbrigg's Reſignation, in 1503. as above. He was of the Univerſity of Cambridge; admitted Rector of S. Matthew Fridayſtreet, London, Jan. 21. 1487. being then Doctor of Laws; but the Time of his voiding it appears not. He was collated to the Preb. of Reculverland, Apr. 15. 1493. which he reſign'd in 1499. and had the Preb. of Harleſton confer'd on him, Nov. 16. that Year, which he reſign'd in 1503. He was alſo Vicar of Iſlington (Middleſex,) Preb of Bromeſbury; but the Time of his Admiſſion to either of them appears not; and Treaſurer of this Church. All which laſt Preferments became void, by his being promoted to the Biſhoprick of S. Davids, ann. 1.509. [Reg. Lond.] to which he was conſecrated, July 22. that Year. In which Cathedral-Church he built the Chappel of the Holy-Trinity, a little before his Death, at his own Charge; and dying in November, 1522. was buried in the ſame. [Godw. de Præſul. Menev.] He was, upon his Promotion, ſucceded in his Preb. of Bromesbury and Treaſurerſhip, by l Joh. Edenham, or Ednam, who was admitted to them both on one and the ſame Day, viz. July 23. 1509. but reſign'd his Preb. about the beginning of March following. Before this, he had been Rector of Toppesfield, in Eſſex, to which he was admitted, Jan. 6. 1492. being then Doctor of Divinity, which he reſign'd in 1504. He was likewiſe Rector of Wimbiſh, in the ſame County; but the Time of his Admiſſion appears not: But, both that, and this Treaſurerſhip, became void by his Death, before Febr. 7. 1516. as appears by Wimbiſh, [*Reg. m Tho. Hede, or Hedde, who ſucceeded next in this Dignity, was admitted Rector of S. Anne Alderſgate (Lond.) being then D. Mar.* 31. 1545. and Preb. of Holborn, Sept. 14. following. S. Laurence he reſign'd before Apr. 11. 1549. His Preb. he voided by Ceſſion, May 26. 1554. being, on that very Day, collated to that of Mora; and to this Office of Treaſurer, Oct. 16. 1558. and Dec. 30. following, he was admitted to the Rectory of Greenford magna (Middleſex;) but, upon Queen Elizabeth's coming to the Crown, he was depriv'd of his Preb. of Mora, 1559. and in all likelyhood, his Treaſurerſhip, and Greenford, after the ſame manner. [Reg. Lond.]

p Will. Saxey, who, I preſume, ſucceeded next in this Treaſurerſhip, tho' the Time of his Admiſſion appears not, I take to be the ſame Perſon who was admitted to the Vicarage of S. Brides (London,) by the Name of William Saxim, LL. B. Aug. 11. 1530. He was collated to the Preb. of Willeſdon, Aug. 20. 1533. under the Title of LL. B. S. Brides he reſign'd about Nov. 1543. but his Preb. and Office of Treaſurer became void by his Death, about July 1567, as appears by his Preb. [Reg. Lond.] and thereupon was ſucceeded, in his Treaſurerſhip, by q Herbert, or Harbert Weſtphaling, who was Son of Harbert Weſtphaling, Son of Harbert, a Native of Weſtphalia, in Germany, from whom, by a popular Error, the Son, who liv'd moſtly in London, and this his Grandſon, were call'd Weſtphaling. He was one of the firſt Students of Chriſt-Church, Oxford, after King Henry VIII. had put his laſt Hand to the Foundation thereof; of which, in 1561. he was made Canon, being about that time Rector of Brightwell, Oxfordſhire: In 1567. he had this Office of Treaſurer confer'd on him; and in 1577. he was inſtall'd Canon of Windſor; Dec. 12. 1585. he was conſecrated Biſhop of Hereford, where, as throughout the Nation, he was eſteem'd a Perſon of great Gravity, Integrity, and moſt worthy of his Function. He died Mar. 1. 1601. and was buried in the North-Tranſcept in the Cathedral Church of Hereford. He bequeath'd the Mannor of Batrhe, in Herefordſhire, to Jeſus Coll. Oxon, for the Maintenance of Two Fellows and Two Scholars, conditionally, That his Kindred be prefer'd, before all others, to the ſaid Places. [Athen. Ox. I. Vol. 272.]

r Ric. Bancroft, upon the Promotion of Weſtphaling, ſucceeded in this Dignity, Feb. 10. 1585. and voided it in 1597. upon his own Promotion to this Biſhoprick of London; among which Biſhops may be ſeen more of him.

ſ Egid. Fletcher, ſucceeded next in this Dignity, June 20. 1597. upon the Promotion of his Predeceſſor. I take him to be the ſame, who was Brother to Ric. Fletcher, at this time Biſhop of London; and, if ſo, he was a Kentiſh Man born, as 'tis ſaid, bred in Eaton-School; elected Scholar of King's-College, Cambridge, 1565. where he became a learned Man, an excellent Poet, and Doctor of Laws: Afterwards he was ſent Commiſſioner into Scotland, Germany, and the Low-Countries; Embaſſadour to Ruſſia; was made Secretary to the City of London, and Maſter of Requeſts. He died in the Pariſh of S. Katharine Coleman, Feb. 1610. and was buried, as is preſum'd, in the Pariſh-Church there, [Ath. Ox. I. Vol. 734.] This Treaſurerſhip was given to him by Queen Elizabeth, and became void by his Reſignation, (I rather think by his Death) before Feb. 7. 1610. as appears above; and was ſucceeded therein by t Lodowick or Lewis Bayly, who was born in the antient Borough of Caermarthen, in Wales; and, as a Member of Exeter-Coll. was admitted to the reading of the Sentences, in 1611. being about that time Miniſter of Eveſham, in Worceſterſhire, Chaplain to Prince Henry, and Rector of S. Matthew Fridayſtreet (Lond.) but the Time of his Admiſſion thereunto appears not. He proceeded in Divinity Two Years after; much about the ſame Time, he being fam'd for his Eminence in Preaching, was made one of the Chaplains to King James I. who naming him Biſhop of Bangor, he was conſecrated thereunto, at Lambeth, Dec. 8. 1616. whereupon his Church of S. Matthew Fridayſtreet became void, as I ſuppoſe, as did this his Treaſurerſhip likewiſe, tho' it does not appear. He publiſh'd the Practice of Piety; and dying in the beginning of the Year 1632. was buried in his Church of Bangor. [Ath. Ox. I. Vol. 485.]

[Reg. Lond.] and was ſucceeded in his Treaſurerſhip by

The Office of Chancellour, in the Cathedral Church of S. Paul's.

Hiſt. Paul. 245.

THE Chancellour of this Church (in old Records, call'd Magiſter Scholarum) is Scribe or Secretary of the Church and Chapter; for to him it belong'd to indict or write the Letters or Epiſtles of the Chapter, and to read before them ſuch as are ſent to them.

He chiefly keeps the Seal, and ſeals ſuch things as are to be ſeal'd: He is to take care, that the Leſſons be well and diſtinctly read in the Choir; to teach thoſe that are ignorant in that kind; to encourage thoſe that do well, and to correct thoſe that do not. When the Biſhop reads the laſt Leſſon, he is to hold the Book to him.

In the greater Feſtivals, Sexta Lectio is to be read by the Chancellour. He hath the chief Authority and Charge Literaturæ (or the Grammar-Learning) not only of the Church, but of the whole City, where all the Teachers of Grammar are to be ſubject to him (whence it was, I preſume, that in old Time he had the Title of Magiſter Scholarum.) In S. Paul's School (not that long after founded by Dean Colet) but that School, which in old Time did belong to this Cathedral Church, and was endow'd by Ric. de Belmeis I. Biſhop of London, in the Reign of King Henry I. He is to appoint a fit Maſter, whom he is to preſent to the Dean and Chapter; and is to keep in repair the Houſe belonging to the School at his own Charge: He is to keep all the School-Books of the Church, and to give an account of their Number, and of their being perfect and well kept, as often as he ſhall be thereunto requi-red: He is to read to his Auditory holy Books, ſuch as tend to the Knowledg of God, and the Inſtitution of good Life and Manners.

The Maſter of the Grammar-School, is to be an honeſt Man, and well learn'd; he is to teach the Boys, eſpecially thoſe of the Church, Grammar and good Manners, and is to be to them not only a Maſter of Grammar, but of Virtue alſo. In place of the Chancellour, he is to write down in a Table or Book, in order, what every one is to read in the Church. This Maſter is to wear a Habit in the Choir, and to read the firſt Leſſon.

The Chancellour hath under him a Scribe, Clerk, or Under-Secretary, who is to regiſter the Acts and Proceedings which concern the Church, keeping a due Order of the Things done, and the Times when.

The Chancellour hath the Third Stall on the Left-ſide of the Choir. His Corps is in the Church of Borham and Telling, and is valu'd at 33 l. per Annum.

As to the Dignity of this Office of Chancellour, I find it thus recorded among the Archives of the Archbiſhop of Canterbury, at London, in the Vicar-General's Office.

Reg. Langham. 17.

The Magiſter Scholarum, or Maſter of the Schools (the ſame originally who had afterwards the Title of Chancellour of the Church, as hath been intimated before) and the School of S. Paul's, were doubtleſs the chief Maſter and School in the City; becauſe, from this Magiſter Scholarum the other School-Maſters therein were to receive their Licence or Authority to teach.

To the Maſter of this School of S. Paul's (namely) one Hugh, and to his Succeſſors in that Employment, the Firſt Richard de Belmeis, Biſhop of London, in the Time of King of Henry I. by his Chanter, granted the Habitation of Durandus, at the corner of the Turret (that is, the Clochier or Bell-Tower) where William, Dean of S. Paul's, had plac'd him by the ſaid Biſhop's Command, together with the Cuſtody of the Library belonging to this Church.

Reg. Dec. & Cap. lib. A. f. 28. Hiſt. Paul.

To this Hugh, Henry, a Canon of the ſame Biſhop's, that had been bred up under the ſaid Hugh, ſucceeded, and to him the before-ſpecifi'd Biſhop, beſides the Houſe, which the ſaid Hugh enjoy'd, granted a Meadow at Fulham, together with the Tyths of Telling and Madeley.

Ibid.

This was that Henry, for whom Henry de Blois (who was Biſhop of Wincheſter from 1129. to 1171. and Nephew to the King) had ſuch great reſpect, that by vertue of his Legantine-Power, he commanded the Chapter of S. Paul's, and William, the Archdeacon, and their Miniſters, by virtue of their Obedience, that after Three times calling, they ſhould pronounce the Sentence of Anathema againſt all thoſe, who, without Licence of Henry, the Maſter of the Schools, ſhould preſume to teach within the whole City of London, except thoſe who were Maſters of the Schools of S. Mary-le-Bow and S. Martin-le-Grand.

Ibid. 29.

In farther Augmentation of the Revenues of this Office, Richard Fitz-Neal, Biſhop of London, conſidering, at his firſt coming to that Sea, that the Maſter of the Schools had but ſmall Profits coming to ſupport his Maſterſhip, reſolv'd to ſettle a farther Endowment on this Office, whereby the Maſter might receive ſome Benefit, with the Name of his Dignity, which he did, as follows, viz. “——Procedente itaque (as 'tis expreſs'd in the Charter) tempore communicato cum viris prudentibus conſilio, aſſenſu Decani & Capituli Eccleſiæ beati Pauli, hæc quæ ſubſcripta ſunt ipſi Magiſter' aſſignavimus, decimas ſcil. totius Manerii noſtri de Fulham, tam de frugibus, quam de aliis fructibus, & de fœno, & alias minutas decimas omnes, decimas quoque aſſartorum, & novalium, quæ ante tempora noſtra ad cultum reducta ſunt, ſcil. de decem & ſeptem acris in Bernes, & de viginti acris in Stroda, & de viginti acris in campo diſpenſatorum, & de xx. acris in Wargenſie, & de VIII. acris Hiſt.Paul.29. After this, Henry de Cornhill, that was poſſeſs'd of this Dignity, by the Name of Chancellour, Anno 1217. left his Houſe in S. Paul's Church-Yard, on the South-ſide of the Church, to his Succeſſor in that Office for ever, paying a Mark on the Day of his Anniverſary. Witneſs Galfrey, the Dean of S. Paul's, and William of S. Mary-Church.

Ibid. 17. Ric. de Graveſend, Biſhop of London, in the Reign of King Edward I. conſidering with himſelf, that tho', in divers other Cathedrals of this Realm, ſome learned Doctors in Divinity had antiently read in that Faculty, but not in this of London, which was more famous than any; ſo that they were conſtrain'd to procure others from far to that purpoſe; at his firſt Ordination, by the Conſent of his Chapter, decreed, That the Chancellour of this Church, as a Man moſt proper for ſuch a Service, by reaſon of his Office, ſhould perform the ſame Lecture, for the time to come. And that thenceforth none might be ordain'd Chancellour there, unleſs he were a Maſter or Bachelour of Divinity, and who, by himſelf, ſhould perform that Task; or, in caſe he were lawfully hindred, procure another fit Perſon to do it. And foraſmuch as the Revenues belonging to the Chancellour were not ſufficient Support for the undergoing this Duty, and that of this Office, it appears, that Ralph de Baldock, the ſucceeding Biſhop, by his Grant, bearing Date at London, the morrow after the Feaſt of S. Andrew the Apoſtle, 2. Edward II. by the Advice and Conſent of his Chapter, in farther Augmentation of the Revenues belonging to this Office of Chancellour, gave, and appropriated thereunto, the Church of Ylling, excepting 10 l. per ann. payable out of it, for the Maintenance of a Vicar.

p *Tho. q Will. de Askeby, of whom I find nothing more, than that he was Chancellor of this Church (tho' the time of his Admiſſion thereto appears not) by reſigning it before 16. Kal. June 1363. and was then ſucceeded in it by r Tho. Young, who reſign'd it before the Kal. of July 1369. whom I take to be the ſame, who was Dean of the Arches in 1364.

ſ Rog. Holme was Rector of Wimbiſh, in Eſſex, and Preb. of Kentiſh-Town, the time of whoſe Admiſſion to either of them, appears not; but the firſt he voided by Reſignation, about June 1383. and the latter (as he did this his Chancellorſhip, in which he ſucceeded upon the Reſignation of Young) by his Death, before June 30. 1395. This Roger Holme, Adam Holne his Brother, and John Pirywell, were Executors of Adam de Bury, Lord-Mayor of London, in 1364. and according to the Will of the ſaid Adam de Bury, by which he ordain'd, that out of his perſonal Eſtate, proviſion ſhould be made to find three Chaplains, perpetually, to celebrate Divine Service in a certain Chappel, newly built in this Cathedral-Church, near the North-Door, for the Health of his Soul, and the Souls of all the faithful deceas'd, did by their Deed, dated April 30. 1376. aſſign to the Dean and Chapter of S. Pauls, divers Lands and Rents for the Maintenance of the ſaid Chaplains, which the ſaid Roger, being Chancellor of London, as alſo a Canon-Reſident, and Preb. of Kentiſh-Town, before the Death of the Teſtator, increas'd to the number of ſeven, to celebrate for ever in the ſaid Chappel, dedicated to the Holy Ghoſt, towards the Building whereof, he was at extraordinary Coſts. Hence it was call'd Holme's College; and their Common-Hall in S. Paul's Church-yard, on the South ſide, near to a Carpenter's Yard (which College was ſuppreſs'd in the Reign of King Edward VI. Stow's Surv. 354.) This Rog. Holme did likewiſe reſtore and eſtabliſh a certain Chantry, of one Prieſt, for the Soul of John de Wengam, ſometime chief Chanter in this Cathedral, which was then utterly come to nothing. [Hiſt. Paul. 35, 36.]

t Nic. Hereford ſucceeded in this Chancellorſhip, upon the Death of Holme, in 1395. July 1. as above. I take him to be the ſame with Nicolas Hereford of Queen's College, Oxon. who in the latter end of K. Edward III. and beginning of K. Richard II. was a great Follower of Wickliffe, and an Aſſertor of his Doctrines, for which he was queſtion'd by the Archbiſhop of Canterbury; the Proceedings againſt whom may be ſeen in Fox's Acts and Monuments, Vol. I. p. 498. but afterwards forſook thoſe Doctrines, and was one of them which ſate with the Biſhop of Hereford, upon Walter Brute, for maintaining the ſame, [Ibid. 250.] after which, it ſeems, he was collated to this Dignity, which he reſign'd in 1396. and was ſucceeded by

v Joh. Godmeſton, of whom I find nothing more, than that he was collated to this Chancellorſhip, Dec. 17. that Year, and voided it by his Death, ann. 1401. nor of his Succeſſor w Tho. Lentwardin ſo much; for how, or when he voided this Chancellorſhip, appears not.

x Will. Booth is the next Chancellor of this Church I meet with, but the time of his Admiſſion, or Voiding it, appears not; he was collated to the Archdeaconry of Middleſex, May 2. 1429. where may be ſeen more of him.

y Tho. Thate, of whom I find no more, than that he was collated to this Chancellorſhip in 1423. and voided it by his Death in 1449. before April 28. and was ſucceeded therein on that Day and Year, by z Hen. Seber or Sever, ſome Years after which, he was made Warden of Merton-College, Oxon. ann. 1455. (but before he was Chancellor, he was Preb. of Harleſton, to which he was collated, May 29. 1445. Reg. Lond.) all which became void by his Death, which happen'd July 6. 1471. as appears by his Epitaph in Merton-College Chappel, where he was buried, to which College he was a great Benefactor. [Antiq. Oxon. Lib. II. p. 86. & 91.] King Henry VI. when he founded his College at Eaton, ann. 1444. made one Henry Sever Clerk, the firſt Provoſt thereof, [Mon. Ang. Vol. III. Part II. p. 197.] but whether he was the ſame with this our Chancellor, I am not certain.

a Tho. Smith, upon the Death of Seber, ſucceeded next in the Chancellorſhip, Aug. 15. 1471. and voided it by his own Death, before Jan. 16. 1488. but both his Names are ſo common, that where to find, or what to ſay more of him, I know not.

b Walter Knightly ſucceeded next in his Chancellorſhip, as appears above, but before that, he was Treaſurer of this Church, where may be ſeen more of him.

c Gundiſalvus Ferdinand was the next Chancellor I met with, but the time of his Admiſſion appears not; he left it before Dec. 20. 1504. He was alſo Precentor of this Church, where may be ſeen more of him.

d Will. Lichfield, upon Ferdinand's leaving this Dignity, ſucceeded therein on the Day and Year abovesaid. He was admitted Rector of Alhallows the Wall, London, March 1. 1474. being then LL.D. which Church he reſign'd in 1479. he was collated to the Preb. of Chamberlainwood, Dec. 7. 1485. to this Chancellorſhip in 1504. as above, both which became void by his Death, before Nov. 24. 1517. but this was not that Will. Lichfield, who was Rector of Alhallows the Great, Lond. for he died in 1447. [Reg. Lond.]

e Joh. Edmunds, who did ſucceed next, was collated to the Preb. of Bromesbury, March 6. 1509. being then S. T. B. (and therefore, I think, could not be that Joh. Edmunds, who was admitted Vicar of Harmondſworth, in Middleſex, Jan. 20. 1510. for he is call'd there but Capellanus) which Preb. he reſign'd before Nov. 25. 1517. and was collated to this Chancellorſhip the Day before, being then S. T. P. which he reſign'd before Febr. 22. 1529. but whether he was the ſame John Edmunds, who was Chancellor of Salisbury, and died in 1544. [Dr. Hutt.] or the ſame who was Maſter of Peter-Houſe in Cambridge, and a Benefactor to that College, being in neither of thoſe Places diſtinguiſh'd by any Title, I know not.

f Tho. Bage, alias Williams, ſucceeded next in this Chancellorſhip, of whom I can find no more, but that he was collated to it, Febr. 22. 1529. and voided it by his Death before Feb. 7. 1557. as above.

g Joh. Watſon, who was the next Succeſſor therein, was born at Eveſham in Worceſterſhire, admitted Fellow of All-Souls College in Oxford, in 1540. took the Degree of Maſter of Arts two Years after, and about that time, applied himſelf to the ſtudy of Phyſic. At length, about the time that Queen Elizabeth came to the Crown, if not before, he entred into Holy Orders, was made Preb. of Wincheſter, Archdeacon of Surrey, and Chancellor of this Church, as above. In 1575. he was admitted to the Degree of Doctor of Phyſick. In 15. Eliz. (which was in 1572.) he was inſtall'd Dean of Wincheſter; and in 1580. he was conſecrated Biſhop of that Sea, Sept. 18. He died Jan. 23. 1583. aged 63. and was buried in the Body of this Cathedral-Church, under a Marble-Stone, with an Inſcription thereon, as followeth. "D. Joannes Watſon, hujus Eccleſiæ Winton. This Perſon was famous for his ſtandin up in Defence of the Proteſtant Religion and Church of England, againſt Campian, Saunders, Raynolds; Bellarmin, Stapleton and others; was born at Holme, in the Pariſh of Burndley, in Lancaſhire, initiated there in Grammar-Learning, taken thence by his Uncle Alex. Nowell, Dean of S. Paul's, and by him maintain'd at his Houſe, and put to the Free-School there; ſent thence at 18 Years of Age to Trinity-College in Cambridge, where he took the Degrees in Arts; and the firſt thing that made him known for his Excellency in the Greek Tongue, was his turning his Uncle's Catechiſm into that Language: Afterwards being famous for Theology, he was made the King's Profeſſor in that Faculty (had this Chancellorſhip given him by the Queen); at length, having much impoveriſh'd his weak Body, by continual Study, he was freed from this Body of Fleſh, and loſt his Life, having left behind him the Deſire and Love of the preſent Times, and the Envy of Poſterity, that can not bring forth his Parallel. After he had entred into Holy Orders, he became a practical uſeful Preacher, which he kept up to the very laſt, and was much reſorted to, by thoſe, whoſe Principles were Orthodox. Afterwards, he was made domeſtick Chaplain to Archbiſhop Laud, Chaplain in Ordinary to King Charles I. and in 1629. Apr. 14. had the Preb. of Newington conferr'd on him, and on Oct. 29. following, this Chancellorſhip, by his ſaid Patron, Archbiſhop Laud, [*Reg. He was Canon-Reſidentiary of this Church, and in 1641. Febr. 26. he was inſtall'd Dean of Rocheſter, in the Place of Dr. Henry King, promoted to the Sea of Chicheſter; ſoon after which, he was ſequeſtred from his Church of S. Olaves, Southwark, plunder'd, carry'd thence Priſoner by a Party of the Rebels Horſe, and at length, forc'd to fly to ſave his Life. In 1643. he had the Deanry of Canterbury beſtow'd on him by his Majeſty, on the Death of Dr. George Eglionby, ſo that he conſtantly adhering to the King's Cauſe, in the worſt of his Calamities, particularly in Hampton-Court, and afterwards in the Iſle of Wight, ſuffer'd afterwards great Miſery himſelf, during the times of Uſurpation, which he bore with good Courage, being then, as always before, eſteem'd a great Exemplar of Humanity, Chriſtian Simplicity, and of moſt fervent Zeal to the Church. After the Reſtauration of King Charles II. he contented himſelf only with thoſe Spiritualities, which he before had loſt for his Loyalty. And dying on Oct. 8. 1672. aged 81. or thereabouts, was buried in the 17th of the ſame Month, within the Cathedral-Church of Canterbury. He left behind him ſeveral Sons, by his Wife Margaret, Daughter of Sir Francis Windebank, Knight, ſometime Secretary of State to King Charles I. of whom, Francis was one, late Biſhop of Ely. [Athen. Oxon. Vol. I. p. 876.

n Ant. Saunders, upon the Death of his Predeceſſor, ſucceeded in this Dignity, and is the preſent Chancellor of this Church, and Rector of Acton in Middleſex, 1700.

Prebends or Canonries in the Cathedral-Church of S. Paul's, London.

THESE Prebends or Canonries in this Cathedral-Church, are Thirty in Number; of which, and of ſuch Prebendaries or Canons, as I have met with, which have from time to time been inveſted in them, and are reducible to their particular Corps, I ſhall now give the beſt Account I can, not as they are diſpos'd or plac'd in their reſpective Stalls in the Choir, but in an Alphabetical Order, as I have before intimated.

But before I proceed farther, I think it neceſſary to acquaint the Reader, That all the Prebends or Canonries, are in the Collation of the Biſhop of the Dioceſe; and that among theſe thirty Canons, there are Reſidentiaries beſides the Dean, ſo call'd from their continual Reſidence in the Church, where they ought always to reſide; for to them belongs the Care of the whole Church, where they may be Examples in the Choir; frequently tranſact the Buſineſs of the Church in the Chapter, and daily take Care of the Concerns of the Church.

What is meant by their Reſidence, how, and upon what Occaſion they came to be call'd Reſidents; they are likewiſe call'd Stagiaries, and what their Duty is, &c. may be ſeen at large in Hiſt. Paul. p. 250. &c. to which I refer the Reader.

Bromesbury Prebends.

THE Prebendary of Bromesbury, Browndisbery, Brunesbery or Brandesbury, hath the fourteenth Stall, on the Left-ſide of the Choir, and the Corps of this Preb. lies in the Pariſh of Willeſdon, in Middleſex.

p Pet. de Wotton was Preb. of Bromesbury, tho' the time of his Admiſſion to it appears not; for he was confirm'd in it, and alſo in the Preb. of Staunton, in the Collegiate-Church of Wilton, by the King, ann. 1348. Nov. 14. v VVill. Newbold was Preb. of Bromesbury, as appears by his voiding of it by his Death in 1418.

y. Tho. Bonyfaunt is the next Preb. of Bromesbury that I meet with, the time of his admiſſion appears not. He reſign'd it before Oct. 17. 1468. on which day and year he was ſucceeded therein by a Will. Wyld, who was in 1474. collated to the Precentorſhip of this Church, where may be ſeen more of him. How or when this Preb. was voided by Wyld, appears not.

b Edw. Vaughan probably was his next Succeſſor in it, tho' the time of his admiſſion doth not appear. He was likewiſe Treaſurer of this Church, where may be ſeen more of him, and how he voided both by his Promotion to the Biſhoprick of S. Davids, and was ſucceeded in both by c Joh. Edenham, who being admitted to this Preb. in 1509. July 23. reſign'd it before March 6. the ſame year, but held his Treaſurerſhip till his Death, where may be ſeen more of him.

d Joh. Edmunds, upon the reſignation of Edenham, ſucceeded in this Preb. as above, who reſign'd it before Nov. 25. 1517. and was on the 24th. collated to the Chancellorſhip of this Church, [vid. inter Cancellarios.]

He was Rector of Whitechappel, to which he was admitted March 2. 1512. and to the Church of Geſtingthorp (Eſſex) Aug. 14. 1516. which three laſt Preferments he held till his Death, which happened about Oct. 6. 1537. [*Reg. bendaries of Brownſwood, ſaving that the ſaid Laur. Romanus occurs alſo Preb. of Oxgate.

d Hen. de Newerk, Dean of York, as Preb. of Brownſwood, was Taxed 5 Marks to the Subſidy mentioned before, granted by Pope Gregory X. [Lib. F. f. 62.] vid. Phil. Wileweby inter Preb. de Bromesbury.

e Adam de VVrittle, all that I find of him is, that he and Reginald de Brandon, being to go with Ralph, the Dean of S. Paul's, to the Parts beyond the Seas, had the King's Letters of Protection, Dec. 13. [Pat. 24. Ed. I.]

f Rog. de la Legh occurs Preb. of Brownſwood, was alſo Dean of this Church, [vid. inter Decanos Lond.]

g Joh. de Leiceſter was a Canon of this Church when Ra. de Baldock was Archdeacon of Middleſex (i. e.) in 1281. for then he was Witneſs, with him, and others, to the Appropriation of Hillingdon in Midd. as appears in Hillingdon. He was at the ſame time Rector of VVethamſted, and Chaplain to the Biſhop of London, [*Cart. h Hen. Brande vel Branke, & Saraceni de Urbe, of whom I find nothing more, than that they were Preb. of Brownſwood.

i VValt. de London, Dean of VVells, who occurs Preb. of Brownſwood, I take to be the ſame VValt. de London, who was admitted Rector of S. Vedaſt, alias Foſter, (Lond.) 16. Kal. July 1308. [vid. S. Vedaſt.] He had the King's Letters of Preſentation to the Church of Esſha in the Dioceſs of Winton, dated Mar. 1. 4 Ed. II. 1309. He was preſent with Joh. de Everden, the Dean, and others, Canons of S. Paul's, at the making of the Statute for not Letting their Manors during Life, dated 16. Kal. Nov. 1331. [Reg. Dec. & Cap. lib. Statut. f. 51.] was Dean of Wells, An. 1336. [Godw. de Præſul.] k Rob. de Donnsbrugg was Preb. of Brownſwood, as appears by his reſigning of it as above. He was Parſon of the Churches of Werpleſden, near Windſor, Bydyndon, Lechewerte, and Creyk, and had the King's Letters of Protection, 1315. June 12. [Pat. 8. Ed. II. p. 1.]

l Galfr. de Eyton, was Clerk, or Chaplain to King Ed. II. who gave him this Preb. Ap. 14. 1325. by reaſon the Sea of London was lately void. [Pat. 18. Ed. II. p. 2.] He was one of the Executors of Walt. de Thorp, one of the Canons of this Church. [Cart. Orig.] This Preb. became void by his Death before Kal. Feb. 1327. and was then thereupon ſucceeded in it by

n Ivo de Glynton, was the Kings Chaplain, and the King gave him this Preb. June 10. 1344. [Pat. 18. Ed. III. p. 2.] but before this, viz. An. 1334. this Ivo, being then alſo a Canon of this Church, was ſent by King Ed. III. with Sir Hugh de Nevil, with his refuſal of the Offer of being elected Emperor of Germany, upon the Death of Lewis de Bavaria, which Offer, ſeveral of the Electors, met at Colen, had ſent by their Ambaſſadors to the ſaid King, [Brad. Compl. Hiſt. Vol. II. 245.] How or when he voided this Preb. appears not.

o Mic. de Northburgh is the next Prebendary that I find of this Preb. who was admitted to it 10. Kal. May, 1363. at the King's Preſentation, by reaſon this Sea was lately void; but the King revok'd his Preſentation, July 5. following, becauſe he had Ratify'd Will. de Wenlock in the ſame Prebend before, [Pat. 37. Ed. III. p. 2.]

p Will. Wenlock it ſeems had this Preb. before Mic. de Northburg was preſented to it, tho' the time of his admiſſion thereto appears not. He occurs Rector of S. Andrews Holborn, (Lond.) which he reſign'd about Oct. 1362. In or about the later end of 1393. he was Patron (with others) and preſented to the Rectory of Eaſt-Hanningfield, pro hac Vice. [*Reg. 18. 1392, on which day and year he was ſucceeded therein by q Regin. Braybroke (a Relation doubtleſs of Rob. Braybroke, Biſhop of London, at this time) who conferr'd it on him. And upon his leaving of it in 1394. collated him to that of Holywell July 23. the ſame year; but how or when he voided that appears not.

r Hugo Cotingham ſucceeded next in this Preb. as above; but before that he occurs Rector of Great Alhallows (Lond.) which he reſign'd in 1381; but voided this Preb. by his Death before Feb. 11, 1409. at which time he was ſucceeded therein by ſ Rob. Manfeld, who was collated to the Preb. of Rugmere Sept. 16, 1409. which it ſeems he voided ſoon after, and was collated to this on Feb. 19. following, and voided it by his Death before June 18, 1419. One Rob. Manfelt, or Mansfeld, was Maſter of the Hoſpital of S. Giles in Maldon (Eſſex) but I queſtion whether he was the ſame with this our Prebendary, becauſe he was not ſucceeded in that which became void by his Death till the year 1422.

t Tho. de la Pole upon the Death of Manfeld, ſucceeded in this Preb. June 18, 1409. and voided it by his Death before July 15. 1433. and was then ſucceeded therein by v Joh. Burdet, but how or when he voided it appears not.

w Rob. Kyrkham was the next that I meet with, that ſucceeded in this Prebend, which was on Jan. 29, 1448. He was Rector of Grinſted near Colcheſter, to which he was admitted Aug. 28, 1439. and reſign'd it the Year following. He occurs Rector of Chigwell (both in Eſſex) but neither the time of his admiſſion to it, or voidance of it appears. In 1447. he was admitted to the Rectory of S. Mary Woolchurch (Lond.) May 25, which he reſign'd in 1450. To the Rectory of Fordham (Eſſex) July 21, the ſame year, which he reſign'd within a Month after. In 1456. May 10. he was collated by the Archbiſhop of Canterbury to the Church of S. Dunſtan in the Eaſt. In 1462. he was made Maſter of the Rolls, 1462. [Pat. 1 Ed. VI. p. 3. m. 15.] and on Dec. 12, 1467. he was made Precentor of the Church of Sarum (about which time this his Preb. became void by his Reſignation; but how or when he voided S. Dunſtans appears not. He likewiſe occurs Rector of Harrow on the Hill, (Midd.) which, as alſo his Precentorſhip, became void by his Death in 1471. [Reg. Lond. & Cant.]

x Joh. Alcock, upon Kyrkhams reſignation, ſucceeded in this Preb. as above. I do not take him to be the ſame John Alcock, who was admitted Rector of Stapleford-Tauny in Eſſex, Aug. 18. 1470. by the Title only of Capellanus; for ours was Doctor of Laws, when Collated to this Preb. in 1468. nor could he be that John Alcock, who was admitted to the Church of S. Peter's Cheap, (Lond.) becauſe he voided that by his Death in 1491. whereas ours liv'd till the Year 1500. as will appear by and by; but ours doubtleſs was the ſame John Alcock, Doctor of Laws, who was collated to the Church of S. Margaret, New Fiſhſtreet, (Lond.) In 1461. was Dean of Stephens, Weſtminſter, and made Maſter of the Rolls Apr. 29, 1462. [Pat. 1. Ed. 4. p. 1. m. 28.] and was afterwards ſucceſſievely Biſhop, firſt of Rocheſter, to which he was Promoted in 1471. then of Worceſter, to which he was Tranſlated in 1476. and laſt of all of Ely, to which he was alſo Tranſlated in 1486. He was born at Beverley in Yorkſhire, brought up in Cambridge, and before he was Biſhop of Rocheſter, was Dean of S. Stephens, Weſtminſter, and from thence made Maſter of the Rolls; whilſt Biſhop of Worceſter he was Preſident of Wales. He enlarged the Church of Weſtbury, founded a Free-School at Kingſton upon Hull, built a Chapel there on the South-ſide of the Pariſh-Church, where his Parents were buried, for whom he ordained a Chantry: When Biſhop of Ely, he was for a while Lord-Chancellor of England. He built that ſtately Hall in the Palace of Ely, together with the Gallery, and in almoſt every Houſe belonging to his Biſhoprick, beſtowed very great Coſt. Laſtly, he was the Founder of a very goodly College in Cambridge, called Jeſus College: What was not expended upon theſe Buildings, and to other good Purpoſes, he wholly expended in Hoſpitality and Houſe-keeping. Having ſate Biſhop of Ely 14 Years, and ſomewhat more, he was taken out of this Life (to that Place, where no doubt he findeth the Reward of his doings) Oct. 1. 1500. at Wisbich. He lieth buried in a Chapel of his own Building on the North-ſide of the Presbytery of the Church of Ely, under a goodly Tomb, erected in Memory of him, but ſince much defac'd. [Godw. de Præſul. Eli. Ang. Sac. 1. *p.*675.]

y Will. Dudley ſucceeded in this Preb. Feb. 20. 1472. upon Alcock's Reſignation, and voided it the next Year by Reſignat. as above. He was afterwards Archdeac. of Midd. [V. ib.]

(being then Keeper of the Hanaper, in the King's Court of Chancery) and reſign'd it about June following; and the next Year, Nov. 30. to this Preb. being then Dean of Windſor; in which Year he likewiſe occurs Dean of Sarum; as alſo in 1485. but in that Year, it ſeems, the ſaid Deanry, as well as this Prebend, became void by his Death, before Octob. 26. as appears above.

a Ric. Fox, upon Daviſon's Death, ſucceeded next, as above. He was born at Ropeley, near Grantham, in Lincolnſhire; educated in Grammar-Learning, in Boſton, in the ſame County; in Academical for a time, in Magdalen-College, Oxon. after that, at Cambridge, where, at length, he became Maſter of Pembroke-Hall, Preb. of Biſhopſton, in the Church of Sarum; and, in Febr. 1485. (being the ſame Year, wherein he was, in Octob. before, made Prebend. of Browneſwood, and Vicar of Stepney) Preb. of South-Grantham, in the ſame Church. This Perſon having been a conſtant Adherent to Henry, Earl of Richmond, was by him, when King of England, in the beginning of his Reign, made Secretary, and one of his Privy-Council, then Biſhop of Exeter, and Keeper of the Privy-Seal, Anno 1486. In 1491. he was tranſlated to the Sea of Bath and Wells, thence to Durham, in 1494. elected Chancellour of the Univerſity of Cambridge; and, laſt of all tranſlated to Winton, in 1500. ſaith Wood, in his Athenæ; in 1502. in his *Antiq. [Ath. Ox. I. Vol. 568. &c. Antiq. Ox. l. 2. 227. Godw. de Præſul.]

b Tho. Jan, ſucceeded in this Preb. Apr. 11. 1487. upon the Reſignation of Fox, and voided it by his Promotion to the Sea of Norwich, in 1499. as above. He was Archdeacon of Eſſex, where may be ſeen more of him.

c Joh. Perott, upon the Promotion of Jan, ſucceeded next in this Preb. as above; but how, or when he voided it, appears not.

d Tho. Hulſe, is the next Preb. of Browneſwood, that I find, tho' the Time of his Admiſſion appears not; but it became void by his Death, before Nov. 29. 1515. at which time he was ſucceeded therein by e Will. Warham: but how, or when he voided it appears not. He was Archdeacon of Canterbury, and of Kin (I ſuppoſe) to Archbiſhop Warham, who confer'd on him the Rectory of Harrow on the Hill, April 5. 1532. which he reſign'd in 1537. he likewiſe occurs Rector of Hayes (both Peculiars in Middleſex, belonging to the Archbiſhop of Canterbury;) but the Time of his Admiſſion thereto appears not, nor to the Preb. of Newington, both which Two laſt became void by his Death, before Oct. 14. 1557. [Reg. Lond. & Cant.]

f Will. Halſey, is the next Preb. of Browneſwood, I meet with, tho' the Time of his Admiſſion appears not; but it became void by his Death, before Febr. 10. 1530. at which time he was ſucceeded therein by Sometime before this, when Hugo (de Marinis) was Dean of S. Paul's, there was, it ſeems, ſome Conteſt about Cadendon, between Paris, Archdeacon of Rocheſter, and Alexander Sachevil, Canons of this Church, on the one part ; and the ſaid Hugo, the Dean and the Chapter, on the other ; but both Parties quitted their Pretenſions before G. (i. e. Gilbert Foliot) the Biſhop.

About the Year 1184. Walter de Conſtanciis, Biſhop of Lincoln (who was Biſhop there but part of the Years 1183. and 1184.) gave and granted this Pariſh-Church, and that of Sandon, to the Dean and Canon of S. Paul's, as appears by the Charter of Confirmation following.

x Guido Mone, [Vid. inter Theſaurarios hujus Eccleſiæ.]

z Joh. Colle, and Rob. Breche, of whom I find nothing more that what is written above.

a Rob. Felton, appears to be Prebendary of this Prebend ; tho' the Time of his Admiſſion to it appears not. He was collated to the Church of S. Vedaſt, alias Foſter (Lond.) Apr. 10. 1425. and voided both by his Death, before Jul. 20. 1438. [Reg. Lond. & Cant.]

b Tho. Wodeford, having reſign'd this Preb. as above, about the beginning of Oct. 1441. was, on the 9th of that Month, collated to that of Totenhall, which became void by his Death, before Apr. 8. 1452. [Reg. Lond.]

c Fulco Bermingham, was Preb. of Chamberlainwood ; but the Time of his Admiſſion thereto appears not. He reſign'd it juſt before he was collated to this of Cadington major ; but how or when he voided this, doth not appear. [Reg. Lond.]

d Maſculinus Coſyn, of whom I find nothing more, than that he was Prebendary of this Prebend. and reſign'd it before Febr. 4. 1466. in which he was ſucceeded by e Hen. Sharpe, who was admitted to the Rectory of S. Mary Abchurch (Lond.) Jul. 26. 1455. (being then Doctor of Laws) which he reſign'd in 1457. to the Rectory of S. Leonard Colcheſter, 21. of the ſame Month and Year ; but reſigning it about the latter end of 1459. was on Feb. 20. that Year, collated to the Preb. of Conſumpt. per Mare ; and Dec. 4. 1463. to the Rectory of Hackney. His Preb. he reſign'd before Nov. 23. 1464. and Feb. 4. 1466. was collated to this of Cadington, as above ; which he reſign'd about Auguſt 1471. and was on Aug. 7. the ſame Year, collated to that of Chiſwick ; and, on the 13th to the Rectory of Muck-Hadham (Hertford) having reſign'd the Rectory of S. Brides, (Lond.) juſt before, and his Preb. of Chiſwick, about Apr. 1472. (in which Year he occurs Archdeacon of Bedford.) He was alſo Maſter of S. Laurence Pountney-College (London,) which he reſign'd in 1481. as he did his Rectory of Hackney, in 1487. but how or when he voided Hadham appears not.

f Tho. Chaundeler, whom I take to be the ſame, who was Warden of New-Coll. Oxon, was born in the Pariſh of S. Cuthbert's, in Wells, in Com. Sommerſet ; educated in Wickham-School, near Winton ; then Fellow of New-College ; Maſter of Arts, and Bachelour of Divinity ; choſen Warden of the ſaid College, about the latter end of Febr. or beginning of March, 1453. then Doctor of Divinity, Chancellour of the Univerſity, Rector of Hardwick, Bucks, Dean of the King's Chappel, and alſo of Hereford. After he had govern'd New-College Twenty One Years, he reſign'd his Wardenſhip. (He was collated to this Preb. in 1471. which he reſign'd in 1472. as above ; and in 1475. had that of Wildland confer'd on him, Jan. 27. but how, or when he voided it, appears not. He was admitted Rector of Alhallows the Great (London,) Dec. 18. 1467. which he reſign'd in 1470. Reg. Lond.) He was great in Favour with *Tho. ſeems not to be the ſame with John Pemberton, Capellanus, who was admitted Rector of S. Mary Whitechappel, Mar. 23. 1502. becauſe it appears above, that our John Pemberton died almoſt Five Months before: However, it appears that our John Pemberton was Prebendary of the Prebendal-Church of Shalford, in Eſſex, belonging to the Cathedral Church of Wells, by his preſenting ſeveral times to the Vicarage there, between the Years 1465. and 1475. [Reg. Lond.] He was Prebendary of Rippon, and died Sept. 12. 1499. and was buried in the Chancel of the Church of S. Ann Alderſgate, as appears by his Epitaph in Stow's Survey, p. 326.

i Joh. Peeſe, was collated to the Preb. of Cadington minor, Aug. 15. 1471. which became void before Jan. 27. 1475. but how, appears not; but, that Year, Nov. 19. he was collated to this of Cadington major, which became void by his Death, before Apr. 11. 1487. as appears above. [Reg. Lond.]

k Joh. Smith, L. B. (tho' the Chriſtian and Sur-Name be very common) ſeems to be the ſame John Smith, L. B. who was collated to the Preb. of Portpool, Feb. 13. 1481. and reſigning it before May 31. 1484. was collated the Day before to the Preb. of Ealdſtreet: And voiding that by Ceſſion, before Apr. 12. 1487. was collated to this of Cadington major the Day before; but how, or when this became void, appears not. [Reg. Lond.]

l Joh. Salvage, is the next Prebendary that I find, which ſucceeded in this Prebend; tho' the Time of his Admiſſion appears not. I take him to be the ſame with John Savedge, who was collated by Lapſe to the Rectory of Chipping-Ongar the latter end of Febr. 1487. which became void before the Firſt of April, 1493. and April 25. by the Name of John Savage, was admitted to the Rectory of Stapleford-Tauny (both in Eſſex) which became void by his Death, before Octob. 25. 1514. about which Time (tho' it doth not appear how) this Prebend alſo became void, as I gueſs. [Reg. Lond.]

m Chr. Plummer, was admitted to it July 9. 1515. but how, or when he voided it, appears not, as above. He was a Canon of Windſor; and in 1536. was depriv'd of it by Attainder. [Ath. Ox. I. vol. 676.]

n Joh. Salvago, was ſometime Preb. of Cadington major, tho' the Time of his Admiſſion to it appears not, but of his Reſignation it doth, which was before Octob. 11. 1524. for then he was thereupon ſucceeded in it by o Joh. Pennand, as appears above. Whether this Joh. Pennand, Doctor of Decrees, be the ſame with John Pennant, who was admitted Rector of Chelſey, (Middleſex) July 11. 1454. and reſign'd it in 1455. I am not certain; but he ſeems to be the ſame with John Pennant, Doctor of Decrees, who was Chancellour to the Biſhop of Bath and Wells, and by him conſtituted his Vicar-General, in the beginning of June 1526. and died in April or May 1529. [Athen. Oxon. I. Vol. 664.] about which Time this Prebend became void by the Death of our John Pennand, as appears above.

p Will. Boleyn, who was admitted Rector of S. Peter's Cheap, Lond. June 23. 1516. and reſign'd it in 1529. was collated that Year, May 23. to this Prebend, upon the Death of Pennand, as above; and reſign'd it about Jan. following; in which Year, one William Bolen (whom I take to be the ſame with our Will. Boleyn) ſucceeded Ric. Pates, in the Archdeaconry of Wincheſter. [Athen. Oxon. I. Vol. 79.]

q Joh. Pate, upon the Reſignation of Boleyn, ſucceeded in this Prebend; but how, or when he voided it, appears not.

r Pet. Vanne, is the next Prebendary of this Prebend, that I meet with, whom I take to be the ſame with Peter Vannes, who was the Son of Stephen de Vannes, of the City of Luca in Italy. He was brought into England by Andrew Ammonius, his Mothers Brother, and made Secretary of the Latin-Tongue to King Henry VIII. who ſent him to Rome with Stephen Gardener, and others, to ſolicit a Divorce from Queen Katherine. In 1527. he was made Preb. of South-Grantham, in the Church of Sarum: And, Dec. 4. 1529. Preb. of Bedwyn, in the ſame Church. In 1534. he was made Archdeacon of Worceſter: And, Febr. 25. the ſame Year, was admitted Preb. of Bool, in the Church of York. In 1539. he became Dean of Salisbury; and, if he was depriv'd of it in King Edward VI. Time, he had it again in Q. Mary's. March 12. 1543. he was made Preb. of Shipton-Underwood, in the Church of Sarum: And, in 1545. he occurs one of the Canons of the College of King Henry VIII. in Oxon. and ſoon after Rector of Tredington, in the Dioceſe of Worceſter; the Time of his Admiſſion to this Preb. appears not. May 6. 1563. he reſign'd his Deanry of Salisbury, and in few Days after ſ Joh. Young, ſucceeded in this Prebend, upon the Death of Vanne; but how, or when he voided it, appears not, as above. Now, whether this John Young, S. T. P. be the ſame with John Young, S. t Joh. Flower, of whom I find nothing more, than that he was admitted to this Preb. July 7. 1579. and voided it by his Death, in 1599. before Apr. 16. on which Day and Year he was ſucceeded therein by

v Pet. Lillye, who was Grandſon to William Lillye, the firſt Maſter of S. Paul's School, in London. He was ſometime Fellow of Jeſus-College, in Cambridge; afterwards a Brother of the Hoſpital of the Savoy; admitted Vicar of Fulham, Mar. 17. 1598. being then S. T. B. collated the next Year to this Prebend, as above. To the Rectory of Hornſey, Middleſex, Nov. 1. 1610. and was then S.T.P. Reg. Lond. He was a Preb. of the Church of Sarum; Archdeacon of Taunton; and one of the Fellows of Chelſey-College. How, or when he voided this Preb. and Hornſey, appears not; but the Vicarage of Fulham became void by his Death, before May 15. 1615. and he was buried in the Savoy-Church. [Ath. Ox. I. Vol. 15.]

w Geor. Downham, is the next Preb. of Cadington major which I meet with; but the Time of his Admiſſion to it appears not. He was Son of William Downham, Biſhop of Cheſter; educated in Chriſt-College, Cambridge, of which he became Fellow in 1585. and at length Biſhop of London-derry in Ireland, in 1616. where dying, April 17. 1634. was buried in the Cathedral-Church there, [*Athen. He was admitted to the Preb. of Cadington minor, Dec. 13. 1598. but how, or when he voided it, appears not. His Preb. of Cadington major became void by his Promotion, as appears above, [*Reg. x Tho. Some, Feb. 17. 1616. as of the King's Gift Jure Prærogativæ; who alſo preſented him to the Vicarage of Stanes, in Middleſex, to which he was admitted Auguſt 9. 1616. [*Reg. elected Biſhop of London; was Overſeer of the Will of Thomas de Northflete, his Succeſſor in this Prebend, dated Sept. 3. 1317. and finally, was elected Biſhop of London in 1318. where may be ſeen more of him.

o Tho. de Nortflete or Northflete, occurs alſo Preb. of VVildland. In 1281. he was a Canon of Lincoln, and Witneſs to the Grant of the Church of Hillingdon, formerly mention'd; he was a Canon of this Church in 1310. [Cart. Orig.] He made his Will in 1317. as aforeſaid; and his Obit was held 19. Kal. Jan. His Will was prov'd on Friday next after the Feaſt of S. Lucy the Virgin, 1317. by which it appears, that he was the Parſon of the Churches of VVeltone, Bykeleſwade and Therfeld. [Dr. Hutton.]

p Joh. de Middletone occurs likewiſe Preb. of Holborn, and was Canon of this Church in 1326. and 1329. [Cart. Orig.]

q VVill. de Hoo, of whom I find nothing more, than that he occurs Preb. of Chamberlain-VVood.

r Joh. de Barnet; this was that John de Barnet, that was Biſhop of VVorceſter, [Vid. inter Archid. Lond.] ſ Joh. de Stretllee occurs Preb. of this Prebend, which is all I find of him.

t Joh. de Apleby. [Vid. inter Decanos Lond.]

v Joh. de Edington was collated to this Preb. in 1366. upon the Reſignation of Apleby, as above; but how, or when he voided it, appears not. One John Edyngton war admitted Rector of VVodham-Ferrers, Eſſex, in 1392. but whether the ſame with our John de Edington, I cannot ſay.

w Joh. Cokenache, occurs Prebendary of this Prebend, but the time of his Admiſſion appears not; however, it appears that he reſign'd it before Jul. 28. 1391. and was then ſucceeded therein by x Tho. de Middleton, the ſame (I ſuppoſe) with Thomas Middleton, who was admitted Rector of Littlebury, Eſſex, 5. Id. Nov. 1368. which he reſign'd about March 1371. and was collated to the Rectory of Hackney, in Middleſex, April 3. following (both which were Sine Cures) admitted alſo to the Church of S. George in Botolph-Lane, Oct. 12. 1373. but how, or when he voided either of the two laſt, appears not; but this Prebend, to which he was collated in 1391. became void by his Death, before Oct. 16. 1396. [Reg. Lond.]

z Joh. Skyfteling, upon the Ceſſion of Kentewode, ſucceeded in this Preb. in 1400. as above; he was admitted Rector of S. Leonard, Colcheſter, 29. Oct. 1396. which was void in 1401. but how, appears not; but this Preb. became void by his Death, before Jan. 8. 1405. and was then ſucceeded therein by a Joh. Malverne; there were ſeveral of this Name and Surname; one of Oriel-College in Oxon, who was Author of the Book call'd, Peirce Plowman, he was famous in the Year 1342. and was living in the Year 1369. but, I ſuppoſe, he died before our John Malverne obtain'd this Prebend. Another was a Doctor of Phyſick, and therefore, I think, not the ſame with ours, who was Doctor of Divinity, tho' he liv'd about the ſame time, and perhaps, was the ſame, who was Canon of Windſor, ann. 1414. [of the firſt you may read in Pitt's Appendix p. 878. and in Antiq. Oxon. Lib. II. p. 106. and of the latter, ibid.] However, I take John Malverne, who was collated to the Church of S. Dunſtan in the Eaſt, by the Archbiſhop of Canterbury, Mar. 8. 1401. to be the ſame with this our Prebendary, becauſe that Church became void (tho' it appears not by what means) about March 1421. which I preſume, was much about the time, that this Preb. became void by the Death of our John Malverne, as appears above; he likewiſe occurs Preb. of Holywell.

b Jac. Cole ſucceeded next in this Preb. June 12. 1422. upon the Death of Malverne; he was Preb. of Harleſton, which became void by his Death, before Nov. 28. 1439. but, as the time of his Admiſſion to that Preb. appears not, ſo neither by what Means he voided this.

f Will. Wytham was collated to the Church of Laingdon cum Cap. de Baſildon, Eſſex, Nov. 18. 1445. and reſign'd it about May 1449. He was admitted to this Preb. in 1447. and occurs Dean of the Peculiars in 1448. Oct. 5, and Rector of S. Mary-le-Bow in 1454. which he reſign'd that Year, and was ſucceeded in that, as alſo in this Preb. by Edmund Both, the ſame Year, viz. Nov. 8. in this Preb. and in the Church of Bow, Nov. 12. He was likewiſe admitted Rector of S. Michael, Cornhill, July 13. 1454. [Reg. Lond. & Cant.]

g Edm. Both, who ſucceeded the ſaid Wytham in this Preb. and the Church of Bow, as above-ſaid, voideded them both by his Death, before April 17. 1456. as appears in Bow; but how or when he voided S. Michael, Cornhill, appears not.

h Will. Saunder ſucceeded next in this Preb. which became void by his Death, before Oct. 20. 1472. as above. Perhaps, he was the ſame with Will. Saunders; who was admitted Rector of S. Mary-Abchurch, Lond. May 12. 1439. and reſign'd it about May 1440.

i Joh. Iſaak, who ſucceeded next, was Rector of Acton (Middleſex) to which he was collated, Sept. 12. 1452. admitted Vicar of Biſhop's-Stortford (Hertf.) May 8. 1472. to this Preb. Oct. 20. following; Stortford he reſign'd, June 18. 1476. and was the ſame Day collated to the Rectory of S. Mary, in Colcheſter, (being then Bachelour of Law) which he reſign'd about Oct. 1483. and was on the 7th of that Month, collated to the Church of S. Chriſtopher's (Lond.) which, as alſo his Church of Acton, became void by his Death, about the latter end of the Year 1485. and very likely, this Prebend too, tho' in the Registry, it is ſet down, by Reſignation. [Reg. Lond.]

k Will. Lichfield. [vid. inter Cancellar. Lond.]

l Will. Knight was a Londoner born, educated in Wickham's School, near Winton, Secretrary to K. Henry VII. and K. Henry VIII. by the laſt, ſent Ambaſſador to Maximilian the Emperor, who favour'd him ſo much, that, beſides great Gifts, he granted him by Letters-Patents, a particular Coat of Arms. In 1514. he was collated to the Church of Alhallows, Breadſtreet, March 10. by Archbiſhop Warham, which he reſign'd in 1537. In 1517. Dec. 15. he had this Preb. conferr'd on him, which he held till his Promotion to a Biſhoprick. In Sept. 17. 1523. he was inſtall'd Archdeacon of Huntingdon, and in 1529. he being then, or about that time, one of the Prebendaries of the King's Chappel of S. Stephen's, Weſtminſter, was made Archdeacon of Richmond. In 1531. he was incorporated Doctor of Laws, as he ſtood in an Univerſity beyond the Seas, and was afterwards made Archdeacon of Cheſter. In 1541. May 29. he was conſecrated Biſhop of Bath and Wells, and died 29. Sept. 1547. He ordain'd 100 l. for the conveying his Body from London to Wells, for the interring of it in the Body of the Church there (in the Nave whereof he was buried) and for a Tomb to be laid or ſet over it; he gave 40 l. to New-College, and to Wickham's College, near Winton, 20 l. [*Athen. n Cuthb. Scott, who ſucceeded May in this Prebend, was brought up in Chriſt-College in Cambridge, of which, he was choſen Maſter, ann. 1553. He was one of thoſe Doctors of Divinity of Cambridge, who in the Year 1554. were commanded by their Chancellor, *Steph. o Joh. Fuller, who was admitted to this Prebend upon the promotion of Scott, I take to be the ſame who was of All-Souls-College, Oxon. and took the Degree of Doctor of Laws, in Jan. 1545. (He was admitted Rector of Hanwell, Middleſex, Jul. 16. 1547. which he reſign'd in 1551.) He was Preb. of Ely; Chancellour to the Biſhop thereof; and Maſter of Jeſus-Coll. Cambridge, [*Ath. Of this John Fuller may be read more in Fox's Acts and Monuments, under the Year 1555.

Rector of Alhallows the Great, May 10. 1543. (and then Bachelour of Divinity) which, together with this Prebend, to which he was collated Dec. 4. 1558. became void by his Death, before July 2. 1569. [Reg. Lond.] q Tho. Drante, occurs Archdeacon of Lewis, Ann. 1571. [Dr. Hutton] and being collated to this Prebend, July 2. 1569. reſign'd it before Apr. 20. 1570. as above.

He was collated by the Archbiſhop of Cant. to the Rectory of S. Mary-le-bow, (London,) Jan. 17. 1595. being then Bachelour of Divinity; which he reſign'd before Apr. 28. 1617. He was admitted Rector of Eaſton magna (Eſſex,) Oct. 23. 1616. but how, or when he voided it, appears not; and collated to this Prebend, Mar. 4. following (being then Doctor of Divinity.) Dec. 14. 1617. he was conſecrated to the Biſhoprick of Briſtol (holding, it ſeems, this Prebend in Commendam, till he reſign'd it, about Nov. 1618.) and, Mar. 11. following, was tranſlated to the Sea of Ely, [Reg. Cant.] He was the Son of a Sea-faring Man in Yarmouth; Scholar, Fellow, and at laſt, Maſter of Pembroke-Hall, in Cambridge; Doctor of Divinity, and Parſon of S. Antholines, where, ſaith my Author, he had been Miniſter Twenty Eight Years; and dying Oct. 5. 1626. was buried in that Church, under the Communion-Table. He was a great Scholar, a painful Preacher in London for many Years, with no leſs Profit to others, than Credit to himſelf. He had a ſound Head and ſanctifi'd Heart, belov'd by God and all good Men, very hoſpitable to all, and charitable to the Poor. [Ful. Church-Hiſt. lib. II. p. 134.]

He was of Magdalen-College, Oxon; took his Degree of Doctor of Divinity, July 10. 1618. and Nov. 14. following, was admitted to this Prebend. This learned Perſon was at this time, when he commenc'd Doctor, Domeſtick Chaplain to William, Earl of Pembroke; Chancelour of the Univerſity of Oxford; became Canon of Windſor, being at that time one of the King's Chaplains. l Will. de Scotho, occurs Prebendary of this Prebend ; but of him I find nothing more.

m Phil. Weſton, had this Prebend given him by the King, Sept. 12. 1338. [Pat. 12. *Ed.*III. p. 2.] who ratifi'd him in it, Mar. 6. 1340. [15. Edw. III. p. 1.] He was likewiſe Prebend of Middleton, in the Conventual-Church of Wherewell, in the Dioceſe of Winton, which he had Licence to exchange with Tho. de Brembre, for the Prebend of Alvythele, in the Free Chap. of Bruggnorth, June 12. 1355. [Pat. 29. Edw. III. p. 2.] In 1357. he was made Dean of Wolverhampton, May 4. [Pat. 31. Edw. III. p. 1.] He was Preb. of the Collegiate-Church of Derlington, in the Dioceſe of Durham ; and had the King's Licence to exchange it with Hen. de Ingleby, for the Preb. of Wylmyncote, in the Collegiate-Church of Tamworth, in the Dioceſe of Lincoln, Feb. 24. 1357. [32. Edw. III. p. 1.] Oct. 8. 1359. the King gave him (being then his Chaplain) the Preb. of Longtoft, in the Church of York, [33. Edw. III. p. 3.] He had Licence again to exchange his ſaid Preb. of Middleton for the ſaid Preb. of Alvythelee, with the foreſaid Tho. de Brembre, [35. Edw. III. p. 2.] He reſign'd his Preb. of Wylmyncote, aforeſaid, which the King gave to John Ronhall, Oct. 26. 1366. [40. Edw. III. p. 2.]

n Will. de Wenlyngburgh, had this Prebend given him by King Ric. II. Sept. 15. 1377. [Pat. 1. Ric. II. p. 1.]

o Will. Bryan, who is the next Prebend. of Chiſwick, which I have met with, was Rector of Stapleford-Abbots ; but the Time of his Admiſſion appeats not; but he reſign'd it about Dec. 1373. In 1390. he was admitted Rector of Miſtley, Oct. 7. which he reſign'd about Decemb. following ; and on the 4th of that Month and Year, was collated to the Church of Orſett (all in Eſſex.) He was likewiſe Preb. of S. Pancras (but the Time of his Admiſſion appears not) which he left in Sept. 1395. and Sept. 26. was collated to this Preb. which, together with his Church of Orſett, became void by his Death, before Apr. 18. 1397. as appears above, [*Reg. q Ric. Clyfford. [Vid. inter Archid. Midd.]

r Joh. Notingham, and Tho. Pool. All that I can find of theſe Two, is, That the former died Preb. of Chiſwick, before Feb. 20. 1418. and that on that Day, the latter ſucceeded him therein.

ſ Ric. Clyfford, ſucceeded in this Prebend, June 19. 1419. as above ; but whether he be the ſame with the laſt above-mention'd Ric. Clyfford, I know not.

t Will. Cleve, is the next Prebendary of Chiſwick, that I meet with ; the Time of whoſe Admiſſion appears not. He reſign'd it on or before Nov. 11. 1469. and was on that Day admitted Rector of S. Nicolas Cole Abby, Lond. he being then Bachelour of Law, which became void by his Death, before Decemb. 30. 1470. [Reg. Lond.]

v Joh. Colvile, ſucceeded in this Preb. upon the Reſignation of Cleve, which became void by his Death, before Aug. 7. 1471. and was then ſucceeded therein by

w Hen. Sharpe. [Vid. inter Præb. de Cadington major.]

x Rob. Newbald, upon Sharp's Reſignation, ſucceeded next in this Preb. but held it not long ; for the next Year, July 12. he was ſucceeded therein by

y John Morton, or Moreton, who was collated by the Archbiſhop of Canterbury to the Church of S. Dunſtan in the Eaſt (London.) Oct. 11. 1472. and to the Preb. of Iſledon, by the Biſhop of London, Oct. 26. the ſame Year; which became void before Oct. 27. 1473. but by what means appears not ; as did that alſo of S. Dunſtan, before Aug. 13. the Year following, July 12. 1473. he was collated to this Preb. which he reſign'd before June 29. 1478. [Reg. Cant. & Lond.] This Dr. John Moreton was born at Beer, in Dorſetſhire, and brought up a while in the Univerſity of Oxford, where he proceeded Doctor of both Laws, and then became an Advocate in the Arches; and by the Bounty and Favour of Tho. Bourchier, Archbiſhop of Canterbury, to whom he was much endeared; by reaſon of his Knowledge in the Law, and great Prudence, he not only got good Spiritual Preferments, but was alſo commended by him to King Hen. VI. who made him of his Privy-Council, and to whom he ſtuck faſt in all his Afflictions. And for ſuch his Loyalty to that King, King Edw. IV. never ceaſed till he allur'd him over to his Service, and made him one of his Privy-Council; and at laſt, promoted him to the the Biſhoprick of Ely, to which he was conſecrated Jan. 31. 1479. having, before that, been Prebend. of S. Decuman's, in the Church of Wells; and Maſter of the Rolls. But King Edward dying not long after, made him one of his Executors: After which King's Death, Richard, Duke of York, intending the Deſtruction of King Edward's Children, and thinking it impoſſible to draw this Biſhop to be a Partner in his wicked Deſign, committed him to the Tower for pretended Treaſons; then to the Duke of Buckingham, at Brecknock-Caſtle in Wales, the principal Inſtrument of diſplacing King Edward's Children from the Crown, and procuring the ſame for their wicked Uncle, the ſaid Duke of York. But as to the Hiſtory of this matter, I refer the Reader to our Engliſh-Chronicles, and ſhall only ſay, That from the Wiſdom and Device of this Dr. Moreton, ſprung that happy Conjunction of the Two Royal Houſes of York and Lancaſter, after ſo many Years War between them. King Henry VII. having obtain'd the Crown, made him Chancellour of England; and Bourchier being dead, found means to have him elected and confirm'd Archbiſhop of Canterbury, Octob. 6. 1486. by Bull from Pope Innocent VIII. Sept. 20. 1494. he was created a Cardinal, by the Title of Anaſtaſius, by Pope Alexander VI. Thirteen Years he quietly enjoy'd the Archbiſhoprick, and died on the 16th Kal. of Octob. according to the Obituary of Canterbury. Septemb. 15. (which was the Day before) according to the Manuſcript-Regiſtry of that Church (and not in Octob. as Godwin hath it) Ann. 1500. at his Mannor of Knoll; being then Chancellour of the Univerſity of Oxford; and lieth buried under a Marble-Stone, in a ſumptuous Chappel which he built in the Undercoft or Vault, which is under the Choir at Canterbury, where a goodly Tomb is erected in memory of him, upon the South-ſide of the ſaid Chappel. z Rob. Moreton, upon the Reſignation of the ſaid Dr. John Moreton, in 1478. ſucceeded him in this Prebend, June 29. that Year; but how, or when he voided it, appears not, otherwiſe than he was ſucceeded in it, Feb. 20. 1486. by a Chr. Urſwick, a Perſon in great Favour with King Henry VII. He was Recorder of London, in part of the Reign of Edward IV. during the Time of Richard III. and part of Henry VII. to whom he was Chaplain, and by him imploy'd in ſeveral Embaſſies; (In 1486. he was collated to this Prebend, as above) and May 22. 1488. (he being then Doctor of Laws) was confirm'd Dean of York; and Nov. 14. following, was admitted to the Rectory of Bradwell, juxta Mare, in Eſſex, which he reſign'd before Jan. 5. 1496.) In 1490. he was made Canon of Windſor; and, about the ſame time, Archdeacon of Wilts. Mar. 21. 1493. he was made Preb. of Botevant, in the Church of York; and alſo, Archdeacon of Richmond; and reſigning his Deanry of York, was ſucceeded therein by William Sheffield, L.D. in June 1494. Nov. 20. 1495. he was inſtall'd Dean of Windſor; and about the ſame time became Regiſtrary of the Noble Order of the Garter, (in 1502. he was collated to the Sine-Cure Rectory of Hackney, Middleſex,) having been before that, upon the Death of James Goldwell, Biſhop of Norwich, which happen'd in 1498. offer'd that Biſhoprick, but refus'd it. In the beginning of Febr. 1504. he became Archdeacon of Oxford. At length, after he, in the chief part of his Life, had refus'd great Honours, and ſo conſequently, Riches, he retir'd to his Pariſh of Hackney (where he ſtill, I preſume, enjoy'd his Rectory, and alſo this Prebend; for it doth not appear when, or how either of them became void) and there in a contented Condition, and cloſe Retirement, he ſpent ſeveral Years, even to his Death, which happen'd in a good old Age, Oct. 24. 1521. and was buried in the Chancel of the Church there, [*Athen. a Rob. Epiſc. Hereford. This was Robert, ſirnamed Lozing. He was a Lorainer Born, much favoured by William the Conqueror, for his Parts and Learning, and prefer'd by him to the Biſhoprick of Hereford, to which he was Conſecrated, Dec. 29. 1079. There was a great League of Friendſhip betwixt him, and S. Wolſtan, Biſhop of Worceſter. He dyed June 26. 1095. and lieth buried in his own Church of Hereford, which he Built anew, [Godw. de Preſul. Heref. where may be read more of him.]

But refuſing Profeſſion of Subjection to the Archbiſhop of Canterbury, was denied Conſecration, upon which he renounc'd his Election; but ſoon repenting of it, he at laſt (Anno 1119.) obtained Conſecration by the Pope himſelf at a Counſel at Rhemes, without making Subjection to the Metropolitical Sea of Canterbury. After he had continued in his Sea for 26 Years, and upward, from the time of his Election, he reſign'd his Biſhoprick, and became a Monk, at Penfract, Jan. 15. 1140. and died there on the Nones of Feb. following, where he was Buried. He was Learned, Wiſe and Diſcreet, and with great Care and Painfulneſs govern'd well the Charge committed to him. [Godw. de Preſul Ebor.]

e Richardus Archiepiſcopus. I take this to be Richard, a Benedictine Monk, Prior of the Monaſtery of S. Martins in Lover, and elected Archbiſhop of Canterbury, Anno 1171. and ſoon after Conſecrated. The old Quarrel was renewed between him, and the Archbiſhop of York, about the Supremacy. and Rob. de Northwell. Of theſe, I find nothing more than what is written above.

w Will. Burton, occurs Preb. of this Place, tho, the time of his Admiſſion appears not. But of his Reſignation it doth, viz. before May 28. 1421. Perhaps he is the ſame with Will. Burton, who was collated to the Vicaridge of Northall (Mid.) Dec. 3. 1400. But how, or when, he voided it appears not.

x Will. Both. [V. inter Archid. Midd.]

y Hen. Sharpe. [V. inter Præb. de Cadington Major.]

z Will. Bolton. [V. inter Rectores de Harrow on the Hill. Midd.]

a Hen. Sutton, I take to be the ſame who occurs Treaſurer of the Church of Sarum, in 1494. [Dr. Hutton] and alſo in 1505. and was ſometimes Fellow of Merton Coll. Oxon. [Ath. Ox. Vol. 2. 643.]

b Joh. Pykering, having reſign'd this Preb. about Jan. 6. 1504. was on the ſame Day collated to that of Newington, which he held till his Death, which happen'd before Feb. 10. 1511. [Reg. Lond.]

c Ric. Dudley, I take to be the ſame, who was Southern Proctor of the Univerſity of Oxon, in 1503. of which Univerſity he was Maſter of Arts. But whether he took any Degree in Divinity, my Author ſays he finds not. [Ath. Ox. 1 Vol. 640.] However, he elſewhere tells us, That he was Doctor of Divinity, Chancellor of the Church of Sarum, and one of the Fellows of Oriel Coll. Oxon. To which, he gave the Manner of Swainſwick, near Bath, in Somerſetſhire, Anno 1529. for the Maintenance of two Fellows, and ſix Exhibitioners. To whoſe Memory the Provoſt and Fellows of that College bound themſelves to Celebrate a Dirige and Placebo yearly, on the Feaſt of S. Luke. [Antiq. Ox. lib. 2. p. 104.] He died, as appears above, before June 7. 1536. and was ſucceeded in this Prebend that Day and Year by d Tho. Thornham, who on Aug. 31. following, was admitted to the Rectory of Fobbing, in Eſſex. And voided both by his Death before Mar. 8. 1547. [Reg. Lond.] and was then ſucceeded in this Prebend, by e Joh. Leyff, Leff, or Leefe, who was of New-College, and commenced Doctor of Civil Law, July 6. 1520. He was afterwards Warden of the College of Maidſtone, in Kent, Vicar General, and Keeper of the Spiritualities to Doctor Warham, Archbiſhop of Canterbury, and Maſter of the Hoſpital of S. Croſs, near Wincheſter. He died Aug. 19. 1557. Aged 66. (whereby this Prebend became void) and was Buried in the Chappel belonging to Wickam's School, near to the ſaid City, of which College he was Fellow. [Ath. Ox. Vol. I. 662.]

f Will. Maſſenger, who ſucceeded next in this Prebend upon the Death of Leeſe, was depriv'd of it, in 1562. as appears above. But for what cauſe I find not.

g Joh. Atherton upon the Deprivation of Maſſenger, ſucceeded next in this Prebend; but how, or when, he avoided it, appears not. He was the ſame, I conceive, who was admitted Vicar of Hatfield Regis, Sept. 20. 1548. which became void before March 20. 1553. Rector of Roding Plumben (after he was collated to this Preb.) Jan. 13. 1562. which became void by his Reſignation before Nov. 26. 1571. [Reg. Lond.] one John Atherton (perhaps the ſame with ours) was Rector of Bawdripp, in Somerſetſhire, in 1584. and was Father of that unhappy John Atherton, Biſhop of Waterford, in Ireland, who being found guilty of a Crime not fit to be named, was hang'd at Dublin, Dec. 5. 1640. [Ath. Ox. Vol. I. 632.]

h Rob. Temple, who was our next Prebendary that I can find, was an Oxfordſhire Man born, Maſter of Arts of Magdalen Coll. Oxon, and took the Degree of Batchelor of Divinity, July 4. 1588. He was Chaplain to Dr. John Aelmer, Biſhop of London, [Ath. Ox. Vol. I. 761.] who confer'd on him this Preb. Oct. 5. 1592. he having about July before reſign'd the Church of S. Nicolas Acon, in London, of which he had been ſometime Rector. In 1593. March 19. he was collated by the ſame Biſhop to the Preb. of Harleſton, which he reſign'd before March 24. 1596. But how, or when he voided this of Conſumpt. per Mare, appears not. k Hen. Wayland, ſucceeded in this Preb. upon the Reſignation of Dee, as above; but how, or when he voided it, appears not.

l Alex. Strange, was our next Prebendary that appears by the Regiſtry. He was Rector of Roding Alba, in Eſſex, which he reſign'd before Sept. 22. 1617. but the time of his Admiſſion appears not. He was Inſtituted to the Vicaridge of Layſton (Hertf.) Apr. 16. 1604. and, whilſt, there procured a Chappel to be erected at the Neighbouring Town of Buntingford, as may be ſeen more at large, in Layſton, and where may be read more of him. [15. Edw. III. p. 1.] He had the King's Letters of Preſentation to the Church of Bledelow, May 7. 1342. [16. E. III. p. 1.] The King likewiſe gave him (being now his Chaplain) the Preb. of Wisbergh, in the Church of Chiceſter, Aug. 23. 1345. z Will. Morland was collated by the Archbiſhop of Canterbury, to the Church of S. Mary-le-Bow, London, Nov. 20. 1457. which he reſign'd about 1470. I take him to be the ſame, who was Maſter of the Rolls in 1469. Febr. 12. [Pat. 49. Hen. VI. m. 1.] Some Years after which, he had this Prebend conferr'd on him, which became void by his Death, before May 10. 1492. as above.

a Adrianus Caſtellen. [Vid. inter Rectores S. Dunſtani in Orien. Lond.]

b Will. Bennet, I take to be the ſame Will. Bennet, who became Archdeacon of Dorſet, upon the Conſecration of John Stokeſley to the Sea of London, ann. 1530. and the ſame, who about that time, was conſtituted the King's Orator, to go to Rome, to expedite the Matter of Divorce from his Conſort, Queen Catharine. I find him there (ſaith the Author of the Athen. Oxon.) in 1532. as by the Dates of his Letters ſent thence to the Engliſh Court, appears; and in the Year following, being dead, Edward Fox (who was afterwards Biſhop of Hereford) ſucceeded him in his Archdeaconry, Nov. 24. 1533. Now, this Author, takes this to be the ſame Will. Bennet, who took the Degree of Bachelour of Civil-Law, at Oxford, Febr. 18. 1527. but it ſeemeth to me, more likely, that Will. Bennet, Archdeacon of Dorſet, and the King's Orator at Rome, who, as above-ſaid, was dead in 1533. was the ſame with our Will. Bennet, Prebendary of Ealdland, becauſe this his Prebend became void by his Death the ſame Year, as appears above, and is a different Perſon from my ſaid Author's Will. Bennet; for our Will. Bennet appears to be Doctor of Law, when he was collated to this Prebend, Nov. 26. 1526. which was the Year before the other Will. Bennet took his Degree of Bachelour in the ſame Faculty. [Ath. Ox. Vol. I. p. 675.]

c Hugo Baker was collated to the Vicarage of Aveley, Dec. 30. 1531. which he reſign'd before April 12. 1532. to the Rectory of Burſted parva (both in Eſſex) but the time of Admiſſion, appears not, which he reſign'd before May 2. 1533. to this Preb. Oct. 5. following, to the Rectory of Finchley, 20th of the next November, and to the Vicarage of Northall in twenty Days after, viz. Dec. 10. Finchley he reſign'd the ſame Year, how long he kept Northall, appears not, but very likely, till that, as well as this Prebend, became void by his Death, before Sept. 30. 1536. [Reg. Lond.]

d Joh. Tendring was admitted Rector of Sandon, Nov. 18. 1487. which he reſign'd about Oct. 1494. Vicar of South-Bemflete, Jan. 20. 1529. Rector of Stanford-le-Hope, May 20. 1531. Rector of Rawreth, July 4. 1534. Preb. of Ealdland, Jan. 4. 1538. Rector of Wickford, Oct. 5. 1546. (all in Eſſex.) South-Bemflete he reſign'd in 1534. but Stanford-le-Hope, Rawreth, this Prebend and Wickford, he held till his Death, which happen'd before April 7. 1548. as appears by Stanford-le-Hope. [Reg. Lond.]

e Will. Ibrye was admitted to the Rectory of S. Mary Mounthaw (Lond.) July 21. 1554. which, as alſo this Preb. became void by his Death before Oct. 21. 1557. [Reg. Lond.]

g Rob. Willanton, Willarton vel Willerton, was collated to the Preb. of Wildland, Nov. 7. 1548. to this Preb. in 1557. or 1558. as I gueſs, and was ſucceeded in both by John Morren. In 1556. he was admitted Rector of Hornſey, Jan. 25. In 1557. Febr. 10. to the Preb. of Reculverland, and to the Preb. of S. Pancras, Oct. 6. 1558. of which, and the Church of Hornſey, he was depriv'd before Jan. 1. 1559. as appears by S. Pancras, and I believe, of his Preb. of Reculverland too, tho' it doth not appear how, or when it became void. [Reg. Lond.]

h Joh. Morren, Morwen or Morenus, as he writes himſelf, was a Devonſhire Man born, admitted Scholar of Corpus-Chriſti College, Oxon, Febr. 23. 1535. and afterwards Fellow and Maſter of Arts; about which time, entring into Holy Orders, he became noted ſoon after, for his profoundneſs in Divinity, and his great Knowlege in the Greek Tongue, being in the latter end of King Henry VIII. Reader thereof, in his College, and a private Inſtructer of John Jewell, tho' afterwards a hater of his Opinions. In 1551. he was admitted Bachelour of Divinity, and about the ſame time ſtudied Phyſick, as having no good Wiſhes for Reformation, which tended to the Ruin (as he thought) of the Church. Afterwards he was patroniz'd in his Studies, by William Roper Eſquire, whoſe Daughter, by Margaret his Wife (Daughter of Sir Tho. More) he inſtructed in the Latin and Greek Tongues, what became of him after Queen Elizabeth came to the Crown, (if he liv'd till that time) my Author ſays, he knows not. [Athen. Ox. Vol. I. p. 67.] As to the Preferments, which he had in the Church, they were all conferr'd on him after Queen Mary came to the Crown. He was made Preb. of Wildland, but the time of his Admiſſion appears not; collated to the Church of Wickham-Epiſcopi, July 21. 1554. to the Church of S. Martin-Ludgate, May 14. 1558. to this Preb. July 22. following, and on next Nov. 28. to the Church of Copford; and laſt of all, to the Vicarage of Aſheldam (all in the Dioceſe of London) Nov. 1559. of all which, he was depriv'd in few Months after. [Reg. Lond.]

He died April 3. 1614. upon which, this Preb. became void, as above, and was buried in the Chappel of the ſaid College. Over his Grave is a fair Monument, with his Buſt, and an Inſcription, which may be read in Antiq. Oxon. lib. 2. p. 244. Non. Feb. 1327. by the Name of Adam Mupimouth, Clerk) occurs Prebendary of Harleſton; but the Time of his Admiſſion, or voiding it, appears not. Bale tells us, he was a faithful, tho' not very elegant Writer; and compil'd the Story of our Engliſh Kings, from 1325. to 1367. Pitts ſays, he began his Hiſtory from 1302. and continu'd it till 1380. (A late Author ſays he was the moſt eminent (indeed) of the Continuers of the Work of Matth. Weſtminſter.) He was a moſt expert Lawyer, and very dexterous and expeditious in Buſineſs. At length, leaving the Study of the Law, he betook himſelf to the reading and writing of Hiſtory. He compos'd his Hiſtory of about Eighty Years, which was continu'd in Two Volumes; the Firſt Part beginning at 1302. and reaching only to 1343. and the Second continuing the Story till 1380. Of what was contain'd in the latter, he was, for the moſt part an ocular Witneſs; but what was in the former, he had only by Information; but ſo, that non niſi à viris fideliſſimis inquireret rerum veritatem, aut acciperet teſtimonium. He died about 1380. ſurviving not long the completing of his Hiſtory. But at laſt, by the Advice and Means of John Manſell, a principal Counſellor of the King's, he procur'd the King's Favour, but not without the Payment of 1000 Marks; nevertheleſs, he was remov'd from his Office of Treaſurer, not without a great deal of Shame; but the next Year, by the Interceſſion of Alexander King, of Scotland, who had newly marry'd the King's Daughter, and to whom the ſaid Philip (when the Earl of Wincheſter's Steward) had oftentimes been very kind and reſpectful, the King forgave, the ſaid Philip, all his Offences; but in 1258. the ſaid Philip, being then the King's Clerk, ſpecial Counſellor and Treſurer, upon an Information given againſt him of the Damages he had done the King's Foreſt, the King was ſo incens'd againſt him, that he commanded him to be taken into Cuſtody, and tho' he gave noble Sureties, until he ſhould make his Innocence appear, yet it ſtuck ſo by him, that on the Feſtival of S. Thomas the Martyr, the next Year he died at his Church at Hameſtable (as 'twas ſaid) thro' Grief, becauſe he was not reconcil'd to the King. In 1534. he was inſtall'd Archdeacon of Bucks. July 21. 1537. he was collated to the Rectory of Harrow on the Hill, (Midd.) being then Doctor of Laws; and in 1539. was admitted to the Preb. of Ulleskelf, in the Church of York, purpoſely to capacitate him for the Deanry of that Church, which he had July 26. following: All which Preferments (unleſs he voided that of Bucks) he held till his Death, which happen'd before Sept. 28. 1544. as appears by Harrow. He was Chaplain and Counſellor to King Henry VIII. and did act much to pleaſe the unlimited Deſire of that King; under pretence of whoſe Pleaſure, he, in Oct. 1541. converted the Silver Capſula gilt (in which were then the Bones of the Head of S. William, Archbiſhop of York repos'd) with the Jewels and Ornaments of it, to the publick Uſe and Benefit of the Church of York. He was made one of the Commiſſioners to viſit religious Houſes, in order to their Diſſolution, [Ath. Oxon. I. Vol. 644. & Reg. Lond. & Cant.]

d Joh. Bradford, our Prebendary, was he, who ſuffer'd Martyrdom in Q. Mary's Reign. After Q. Mary came to the Crown, he was in Aug. 1553. committed to the Tower, for the Reaſons mention'd in Fox. In Jan. 1555 he was condemn'd; and after having been in ſeveral Priſons, he ſuffer'd Death, by being burnt at a Stake in Smithfield, in July following. i *Rob. On the laſt of Febr. 1607. he was collated to the Vicarage of Witham, Eſſex; and, Aug. 23. 1608. to this Prebend, [Reg. Ox. I. Vol. 351.] He died before Dec. 21. 1616. as appears in Witham, in which Church (as is conceiv'd) he was buried.

k Joh. King, was ſecond Son of Dr. John King, Biſhop of London, who confer'd on him this Preb. as above. At Fourteen Years of Age he became a Student of Chriſt-Church, Ann. 1608. afterwards he proceeded Maſter of Arts, was Publick Orator of the Univerſity, Prebendary of the ſaid Church of Chriſt, in 1624. and the next Year Doctor of Divinity, and Canon of Windſor, and alſo Rector of Remingham in Berks. He died Jan. 2. 1638. aged 43. and was buried near the Monument of *Rob. [Athen. Oxon. II. Vol. 814, 815.]

n Tho. Henchman, was Nephew to Dr. Humfrey Henchman, Biſhop of London, who, when Biſhop of Saliſbury, conferr'd on him the Archdeaconry of Wilts, Aug. 1. 1663. and after he was Biſhop of London, collated him to the Church of Hadham magna (Hertfordſhire) Nov. 25. 1669. and to this Prebend, as above; which Two laſt became void by his Death, before Septemb. 22. 1674. as above. He was ſometime Rector of S. George Botolph-Lane, but voided it by Ceſſion, about July 1661. [Reg. Lond.]

o Will. Wiggan, was Chaplain to Biſhop Henchman, when Biſhop of London, who collated him to the Church of Wennington (Eſſex) Oct. 27. 1671. and to the Prebend of S. Pancras, Mar. 12. following, which he reſign'd, 1674. and is the preſent Prebendary of Kentiſh-Town, and Rector of Orſett in Eſſex; both which were confer'd on him by the ſame Biſhop; as was alſo the Vicarage of Kenſington, to which he was collated Aug. 31. 1672. and is likewiſe the preſent Vicar thereof, 1700.

c Gaufredus, fil. Regis, I take to be Geoffry, King Henry II's baſe Son, and Archdeacon of Lincoln, whom he caus'd to be elected Biſhop of Lincoln; but he contenting himſelf with the large Revenues of that Biſhoprick, never ſought Conſecration, but under colour of his Election, reap'd the Fruits of the Sea for Seven Years together; and then, by his Father's Command, reſign'd all his Intereſt in the ſame, became an entire Courtier for Eight Years more; and at laſt, returning to the Church again, by his Brother King Richard's means, he became Archbiſhop of York; and being ordained Prieſt, by John Biſhop of Candida Caſa, was conſecrated at Tours in France, by William Archbiſhop of that Sea, in Auguſt 1191. and prov'd a better Biſhop than was expected. After he had continu'd Archbiſhop ſomewhat more than One and Twenty Years, he died in 1213. of whom may be read more in Godwin de Præſul. Ebor. and others, our Hiſtorians.

q Rog. de Scrop had this Preb. given him by the King, June 12. 1375. [Pat. 49. E. III. p. 1.] But the time of his Admiſſion appears not.

r Will. Packington, perhaps, the ſame with *Will. x John Arundell. I find one John Arundell Prieſt, who was collated to the Church of Chelmsford (Eſſex) Sept. 30. 1442. and was depriv'd of it (but for what cauſe appears not) in 1456. And was ſucceeded therein by John Wode, S. T. B. who likewiſe appears to be Prebendary of this Prebend, in 1464. whether this be the ſame with our John Arundell, Doctor of Phyſick, I am not certain. I find alſo our John Arundell, who was Dean of Windſor, and Preb. of Shalford (Eſſex) in the Church of Wells, and as Patron of that Vicarage, preſented to it in 1427. 1431. and 1432. where may be ſeen more of him. This, probably, may be the ſame with our John Arundell; but be that as it will. Our John Arundell, at the time of his Admiſſion to this Prebend, appears to be a Doctor of Phyſick, which, and what follows, induceth me to believe that he was the ſame John Arundell, who Mr. Wood, in his Athenæ Oxon. Vol. I. 552. tells us, that he was of Exeter College Oxon, one of the Proctors of that Univerſity, in 1426. afterwards Doctor of Phyſick, Phyſician to King Henry VI. and Dean of the Cathedral Church of Exeter, and takes him to be the ſame with John Arundell, M. of Durham, and had for his Succeſſor in that Dignity John Both, collated to it in May 1459. Now our John Arundell appears to have ſucceeded the ſaid Laurence Both, in this Prebend, in 1456. and very likely ſucceeded him in the ſaid Archdeaconry the Year following, wherein, he, the ſaid Laurence, had for his next Succeſſor but one, the ſaid John Both, who as appears above, was the next Succeſſor to the ſaid John Arundell, in this Preb. of Mapesbury. But whether this our John Arundell ever was Dean of Exeter, I know not. But that he became Biſhop of Exeter, as Mr. Wood, in the ſame Place ſeems to intimate, is an Error; for John Arundell, Biſhop of Exeter, was, before that, Biſhop of Lichfield and Coventry, which our John Arundell, who appears to be promoted from this Prebend of Mapesbury, to the Sea of Chiceſter, never was, that I can find.

y John Both, was Brother to Will. Both, of Lichfield and Coventry, afterwards Archbiſhop of York; and to Laurence Both, Biſhop of Durham, tranſlated alſo to the ſame Archiepiſcopal-Sea. This John, was made Biſhop of Exeter, to which he was conſecrated Feb. 22. 1466. He govern'd his Church very well, and built the Biſhop's Throne in the Choir of his Church; ſuch an exquiſite Piece of Work, as no Church in England can ſhew the like. But being weary of the great Troubles between Edward IV. and the Earl of Warwick, he removed to his Houſe at Horſley, in Hampſhire, where he died on the Firſt of Apr. 1478. and lieth Buried in the Church of S. Clements Danes without Temple-Bar, London. He procured the Parſonage of Cudſdon (five Miles diſtant from Oxford) to be annexed to that Sea, and there built a Palace for thoſe Biſhops who had none before. And tho' in the time of the late War it was burnt down, yet, after the Reſtauration, it was again rebuilt by Dr. John Fell, late Biſhop of that Sea. [8. p. 2.] He conſtituted him, with Ric. de Byntworth and others, his ſpecial Procurators, to treat of a ſecure Paſſage on the Seas, between England and France, as is above-mention'd: The King gave him the Prebend of Caſtravit, in the Church of Lincoln, Nov. 5. 1341. [15. p. 3.] the Preb. of Southcave, in the Church of York, April 8. 1342. [16. p. 1.] and ratify'd him in it by Papal Proviſion, June 28. 1346. [20. p. 2.] The King gave him his Mandate, to be admitted into the Church of Weſt-Thurrock, a Prebend belonging to the Free-Chappel of Haſtings, at the Preſentation of Sir Will. de Wanton, Knight, Febr. 8. 1342. [17. p. 1.] The King gave him the Prebend of Naſſington, in the Church of Lincoln, Oct. 15. 1349. [23. p. 3.] but on Aug. 8. 1351. the King declar'd his Preſentation of him to the aforeſaid Prebend of Southcave, to be void, becauſe it took not effect in due time. [25. p. 2.]

p Sim. Iſlep was the King's Chaplain, to whom he gave this Prebend of Mora, Jan. 20. 1347. by reaſon the Sea of London was lately void, [Pat. 22. Ed. III, p. 3.] but before this, he was a Canon of Lincoln, and notify'd to the King the Death of Henry de Burgherſh, Biſhop of that Sea, and had the King's Licence to chuſe another, Jan. 4. 1340. [14. p. 3.] On June 28. 1343. the King gave him the Archdeaconry of Canterbury. [17. p. 1.] He was aſſign'd one of the Council to Leonel, Duke of Clarence; made Cuſtos of the Kingdom, whilſt the King was to be at Sea, July 1. 1345. [19. p. 1.] and on Aug. 1. following, the King retain'd him one of his Council, and granted him 50 l. per annum, as long as he ſhould be ſo. [Ibid. p. 2.] The King protected him in the Church of Horncaſter, and in the Prebend of Weſton-Bekhale, in the Church of Lincoln, May 10. 1346. [20. p. 1.] and on Febr. 9. following, he notify'd to the King the Death of Thomas le Becke, Biſhop of Lincoln, and had the King's Licence for the Electing of another, [21. p. 1.] He was made the King's Secretary, July 24. 1348. [22. p. 2.] and had the King's Preſentation to the Church of Pageham, in the Dioceſe of Chicheſter, April 15. 1349. [23. p. 1.] which Church he exchang'd with Rob. de Askeby, for the Preb. of Keten, in the Church of Lincoln, Aug. 15. following. [Ibid. p. 2.] Soon after this, he was elected and confirmed Archbiſhop of Canterbury, but before his Conſecration, viz. Nov. 20. the King granted him Licence to give certain Lands, &c. to the Abbot and Convent of Thorney, for the Maintenance of a Chaplain, to celebrate in their Conventual Church, for the Souls of John de Iſlep, and Margery his Parents, and Thomas and William his Brothers. [23. p. 3.] He had his Temporalities reſtor'd on Nov. 15. aforeſaid, 1349. and was conſecrated in the Cathedral-Church of S. Paul's, by the Biſhop of London, on the Eve of S. Thomas the Apoſtle following, and afterwards was privately enthron'd, to ſave Expences. Having brought him to his Metropolitical-Sea, I leave him to be read of, by ſuch as pleaſe, in Antiq. Brit. Angl. Sac. and Godw. de Præſul. Cant.

q Nic. de Heth was ratify'd by the King in the Church of Hodinet, in the Dioceſe of Lichfield; in this Preb. of Mora; in the Preb. of Huderton, in the Church of Hereford; and in the Prebend or Portion of Overhale in the Church of Ledbury, Febr. 15. 1356. [Pat. 31. Ed. III. p. 1.] In 1360. Sept. 10. the King gave him the Preb. of Morehall, in the Collegiate-Church of in the Dioceſe of Lichfield. [34. p. 1.] On Dec. 18. 1361. the King gave the Preb. which Nic. de Heth had in the Cathedral-Church of S. Paul, to John Aleym, [35. p. 3.] but if it was this of Mora, it ſeems to have taken no Effect; for it appears above, that Heth voided it by Reſignation, in 1362. and was then ſucceeded therein by Will. Wyvell. In 1376. Oct. 30. the King confirm'd Nic. Heth in the Preb. of Tyrvyn, in the Church of Lichfield. [50. p. 1.]

r *Will. y Walt. Shyryngton, our Prebendary of Mora, was one of the Canon-Reſidentiaries of this Church, and Chancellor of the Duchy of Lancaſter, to King Henry VI. He founded a Chantry of two Prieſts, in a Chappel near the North-Door of this Cathedral-Church, the Building whereof was begun by him in his Life-time, and perfected by his Executors, dedicated to the bleſſed Virgin and S. Nicolas, and call'd Shyrington's-Chappel; he began alſo the Building of a goodly Library upon the Weſt-Quadrature of the Cloiſter, environing Pardon-Church, which his Executors perfected, and ſtor'd with very excellent Books, all Manuſcript, in thoſe Days, of no ſmall Coſt. He died very Wealthy, leaving behind him the Sum of 3233 l. 18 s. and 4 d. moſt in Gold, beſides two Standing-Cups of Gold, with Covers, weighing more than 65 Ounces. [*Hiſt. z Joh. Kirkeby or Kyrkby, I take to be the ſame, who was admitted to the Rectory of Pentlow, March 17. 1441. which he reſign'd the Year following, and on June 21. that Year, was admitted to the Sine-Cure Rectory of Little-Badow. In 1443. he was made Dean of Bocking, all in Eſſex, and having reſign'd this Preb. of Mora, about the latter end of 1450. as I gueſs, was collated to the Church of S. Pancras, Soperlane, Nov. 21. that Year. Barking appears to be void (but not how) before Oct. 12. 1452. and Badow-parva, by his Death, before Jan. 29. 1454. and very likely S. Pancras too; for there is no conſtat, how or when that Church became void by Kirkeby. c Joh. Ruſſel, who reſign'd this Preb. in 1476. was the ſame Year made Biſhop of Rocheſter, to which he was conſecrated Sept. 20. He had the Tuition of Edward Prince of Wales, Son to King Edward IV. From Rocheſter he was tranſlated to Lincoln, 1480. He had been Archdeacon of Berks, from the Year 1472. till his Promotion to Rocheſter, [*Ang. In the 22d of whoſe Reign, he was promoted to the ſame, but before he was Biſhop, he was Prebendary and Rector of the Prebendal-Church of Weſt-Thurrock in Eſſex, and preſented to it in 1468. 1470, 1471, and 1473. [Reg. Lond.] He was Maſter of S. Anthony's-School in London, and Archdeacon of Oxford; after he was Biſhop, he was for a while Chancellor of the Univerſity of Oxford. Godwin tells us, That a near Kinſman of this Biſhop hath aſſur'd him, that Stephen Gardener, Biſhop of Winton, was begotten by him; who to cover his own Fault, married his Mother unto one Gardener, one of his meaneſt of his Followers, and caus'd another of better ſort to bring up the Child, as it were at Alms; how or when he left his Biſhoprick, appears not. In 1485. Henry Duke of Buckingham (who marry'd his Siſter) was beheaded at Salisbury, by the Command of the Tyrant, Richard III. who, beſides King Edward V. and his Brother, had deſtroy'd many of this Biſhop's near Relations; if therefore, about this time, with Grief and Diſcontent, to ſee ſuch a Deſtruction of his Friends, he died, it is no Wonder. [Reg. Lond.]

r Rob. Crowly was born in Gloceſterſhire, became a Student in the Univerſity of Oxford, about 1534. and was ſoon after made a Demy of Magdalen-College there. In 1542. he being then Bachelour of Arts, was made Probationer-Fellow of the ſame Houſe; but when Edward VI. began to reign, he exercis'd the Profeſſion of Printing in Ely-Rents in Holborn, ſold Books, and at leiſure-time, exercis'd the Gift of Preaching in the great City, and elſewhere; but upon the Succeſſion of Queen Mary, he, among other Engliſh Proteſtants, left the Kingdom, and went to Francfort in Germany, where he continu'd till Queen Elizabeth came to the Crown, and then returning, had ſeveral Benefices conferr'd on him, as namely, this Prebend of Mora, for one; of which, he was, it ſeems, depriv'd in 1565. but for what Cauſe appears not: However, in 1566. it ſeems, he had got the Vicarage of S. Giles without Cripplegate, of which Church he wrote himſelf Vicar that Year, where continuing his pretended Gifts in Preaching, was followed and reſpected by the Neighbourhood of thoſe Parts, and by others for his Skill in Rhimes and Poetry. In 1576. May 5. he was collated to the Vicarage of S. Laurence-Jewry, then in the Gift of the Biſhop of London, by Lapſe, but that, I find, became void in 1578. He was a very forward Man for Reformation, in the time of Edward VI. and Queen Elizabeth, and after he had written and publiſh'd ſeveral Books (ſpecify'd in my Author) he departed this Life, June 18. 1588. and was buried in the Church of S. Giles aforeſaid. [Ath. Oxon. Vol. I. p. 190.]

ſ Will. Palmer, after his Collation to this Prebend, was admitted Vicar of S. Laurence-Jewry (Lond.) Dec. 20. 1566. which he reſign'd before Oct. 11. 1570. as he did this Prebend, before Aug. 14. 1574.

v Tho. White was born in Briſtol, entred a Student in Magdalen-Hall, Oxon. in 1566. or thereabouts, took the Degrees in Arts, Holy Orders, and became a noted Preacher. He was made Miniſter of S. Gregory's Church, near S. Paul's, and at length Vicar of S. Dunſtan in the Weſt, (Lond.) In 1584. March 8. he was licens'd to, and did proceed in Divinity, and took the Degree of Doctor in that Faculty; and not in November, the Year following, but on Dec. 12. 1588. he had this Prebend of Mora, not that of Wenlakesbarn, conferr'd on him, as appears above. In 1590. he was made Treaſurer of the Church of Saliſbury; in 1591. Canon of Chriſt-Church, and in 1593. Canon of Windſor. He died March 1. 1623. and was buried in the Church of S. Dunſtan in the Weſt, aforeſaid. He was an honeſt and generous-minded Man, and a great Encourager of Learning. In 1613. he founded an Alms-Houſe in Temple-Pariſh in Briſtol. In 1621. he founded a Moral-Philoſophy Lecture in Oxford, which he endow'd with the Mannor of Langdon-Hills in Eſſex, out of which, he order'd an Exhibition of viii l. a Year, apiece, to five Students in Magdalen-Hall, above-mention'd, and iv l. per annum for the Principal; [*Ath. He commenc'd Bachelour of Divinity in 1623. was preferr'd by him to be Chaplain to King James I. and the next Year, by Recommendation of his Maſter, preſented to the Church of S. Andrews, Holborn, then in his Majeſty's diſpoſal, by reaſon of the Minority of Thomas Earl of Southampton, and preſently, he was by the ſame Means made Parſon of Cheam in Surrey, faln likewiſe in his Majeſty's Gift, by the Promotion of Dr. Ric. Senhouſe, to the Biſhoprick of Carliſle, which two Livings he held till the moſt execrable Rebellion broke out in 1642. and was conſtantly Reſident upon one of them. In 1628. he commenc'd Doctor of Divinity at Cambridge. In 1631. his old Maſter, the then Biſhop of Lincoln, gave him the Archdeaconry of Bedford, to which Charge he uſually went once in a Year (commonly after Eaſter) and exhorted the Clergy thereof, to keep ſtrictly the Orders of the Church. About the Year 1639. he had obtain'd divers Thouſands of Pounds for the Repair of his Church of S. Andrew's, then much in Decay; all which, as well as what was collected for the Repair of S. Paul's Cathedral, was ſeiz'd on by the Members of the Long-Parliament, to carry on the Rebellion againſt their KING. In 1642. he was admitted to this Prebend, as above. In the beginning of the Rebellion, he was nam'd one of the Committee, with divers eminent Biſhops and Paſtors, to conſider what was amiſs in the Engliſh-Liturgy and Church Government, and to rectifie the ſame, in hopes, by that means, to expel the Cloud then appearing over the Church, but the Lords and Commons daſh'd that good Intent, by paſſing a Bill for taking away the Government of the Church, by Biſhops: yet before the paſſing thereof, he was the Mouth of the Clergy to ſpeak their Senſe of the Matter, which he perform'd with general Applauſe, tho' ſoon after, by a new Queſtion, it paſs'd, without a ſecond Hearing of the Learned Doctor; afterwards, being ſilenc'd by them at S. Andrew's, he retir'd to Cheam, where he us'd the Liturgy, till forbidden by the Parliament; after this, he ſuffer'd Impriſonment by the Army, under Robert Earl of Eſſex, and being releas'd, he retir'd to Cheam, which he kept during the time of Uſurpation. After his Majeſty's Reſtauration, he being now one of the Canons-Reſidentiary of S. Paul's, as well as Rector of S. Andrew's and Cheam, the Biſhoprick of Gloceſter was offer'd to him, which he refus'd, but afterwards was made Biſhop of Lichfield and Coventry, to which he was conſecrated, Dec. 27. 1661. and not long after, repair'd thither, where finding the Cathedral quite ruin'd, in the time of the moſt wicked Rebellion, he ſet himſelf to the Re-building thereof, and finiſh'd the ſame in about eight Year's time, making it far more beautiful than it was before, with the Expence of 20000 l. a thouſand Pounds of which, he had of the Chapter, and the reſt was of his Charge, and of his procuring from Benefactors. On Chriſtmas-Eve, in 1669. the ſaid Cathedral was dedicated by him, with the uſual Ceremonies, and in Feaſting three ſeveral Parties of Men for three Days; he alſo laid out 1000 l. in Repairing the Houſe of his Reſidence; that of his Predeceſſors having been deſtroy'd in the time of the ſaid Rebellion, and did much endeavour to ſettle a pious and laborious Clergy in his Dioceſe, by his own Example of conſtant Preaching. He died on Oct. 28. 1670. and was buried in his own Cathedral, where is a very noble and conſpicuous Monument over his Grave, erected by his Son, Sir Andrew Hacket of Moxhull, in Warwickſhire, ſometime one of the Maſters in Chancery; after his Death, were a Century of Sermons, that had been preach'd by the ſaid Biſhop, publiſh'd, with his Life written at large ſet before them, by Thomas Plume, D. D. of Cambridge, Vicar of Greenwich, and afterwards Archdeacon of Rocheſter. [Ath. Oxon. Vol. II. p. 665, &c.] y Joh. Prichett, Son of Walter Prichett of Hillingdon, in Middleſex, afterwards Alderman of London, as my Author was told by his Relations, was born there, or in that County, admitted a Student of Queen's-College, Oxon. in Michaelmas Term, 1622. aged 18 Years, took the Degree in Arts, as a Member of S. Edmund-Hall, that of Maſter being compleated in an Act celebrated 1629. afterwards marrying an Oxford Woman, of inferiour Note, he became benefic'd in his own Country; but whether he ſuffer'd for any Cauſe in the rebellious Time, my Author ſaith, he knows not; but I find that he was collated to the Rectory of S. Andrew-Underſhaft, (Lond.) June 14. 1641. by the then Biſhop of London, and was afterwards ſequeſtred by the Rebels; but was repoſſeſs'd of that Church again, upon the Reſtauration of King Charles II. In 1661. July 18. he was admitted Rector of Harlington, in Middleſex; and on Jan. 25. following, to this Prebend, as above. On March 18. 1663. he was collated by the Dean and Chapter of S. Paul's, to the Vicarage of S. Giles without Cripplegate, about which time the Church of S. Andrew's, aforeſaid, became [illegible] by his Reſignation. [Reg. Lond. Dec. & Cap.] He being eſteem'd (as indeed he was) a rich Man, by the Endeavour of the Archbiſhop of Canterbury, had the poor Biſhoprick of Gloceſter conferr'd on him, with Leave allow'd him to keep the ſaid Vicarage of S. Giles (and alſo as it ſeems, the Rectory of Harlington and this Prebend of Mora too, for neither of them appears to be void till his Death) in commendam with it, ſo that being conſecrated thereto on Nov. 3. 1672. he ſate Biſhop there till the time of his Death, which happening at Harefeld in Middleſex (where he had an Eſtate) on Jan. 1. 1680. was buried on the 7th of the ſame Month, under the Pulpit of the ſame Church, there. b Will. de Ver. was a Canon here, and Witneſs to the Agreement made about the Church of S. Mary Magdalens, An. 1162. formerly mentioned. He was Biſhop of Hereford, where he is ſaid to Build much. He was conſecrated to that Sea, An. 1186. and died Dec. 24. 1199. He lieth buried in the South Wall of that Church over againſt the Presbytery. [Godw. de Præſul. Hereford.]

c Will. de Norhall, was a Canon when Hugo (de Marinis) was Dean, and was Witneſs with him and other Canons of this Church to the Agreement made about certain Lands in Sandon. [*Cart. He was afterwards elected Biſhop of Worceſter, by Ralph the Prior, and Monks of that Church, in Sept. 21. 1186. and conſecrated the ſame Day according to Ral. de Diceto. [*Imag. d One Ralph Foliot, was Witneſs (with many others) to the Charter of Brien Fitz-Count, whereby he gave the Church of Hillingdon, in Middleſex, to the Monaſtery of Eveſham. [Bib. Cot. Veſp. B. f. 9.] But whether he was the ſame with our Canon, I am not certain.

e Benedictus, was a Canon here, when Ralph de Diceto was Dean [Pyx. P.] alſo; when Alard was Archdeacon of London [Pyx. H.] and likewiſe when he was Dean [Pyx. B.] and probably was the ſame with Benedict de Sanſeton; who about this time was made Precentor of this Church. [Vid. inter Præcent.]

f Will. de Purle, was a Canon here, and Witneſs with others his Brother Canons to the Appropriation of the Churches of Alphamſton and Lamborn (Eſſex) to the Abbot and Canons of Waltham Holy-Croſs, An. 1218. [Reg. Ab. de Walth. penes M. le Neve.] Alſo when Galfr. de Lucy was Dean. He died before Feb. 17. 1238. For on that Day the Prior and Convent of Horton, receiv'd from P. Archdeacon of London, five Marks for his Houſes in London, which he gave them for a Pittance for the holding of his Anniverſary, which was kept yearly 3. He was ordain'd Deacon by John Pecham, Archbiſhop of Canterbury, at Tenham (Godwin ſays Lenham) in Kent, and his Election confirm'd there the ſame Day; was ordain'd Prieſt at Bocking in Eſſex, by the ſame Archbiſhop, 16. He died on the Feaſt of the Annunciation, 26. Edw. I. on Mar. 27. according to the Annals of Worceſter; on the 28th according to the Obituary of Ely; and was buried in the South-part of the Church, between Two Pillars near the high Altar, at the Entrance of the old Lady-Chappel. v Edw. Underwood, was admitted Rector of S. Margaret Moſes, Oct. 21. 1468. which he reſign'd, in 1481. to the Church of S. Leonard Foſter-Lane, in 1494. But how, or when, he voided it, appears not. He was Warden of the College of S. Michael Royal (all in London) but the time of his Admiſſion appears not. However, he reſign'd it, before Apr. 19. 1496. In 1492. he was collated to this Prebend, which he held till his Death, as appears above. He was admitted to the Rectory of Bradwell juxta Mare, in Eſſex, in 1499. Oct. 28. but that he reſign'd before Dec. 2. following. [Reg. Lond.]

w Rolland, or Rowland Phillips, was Rector of S. Margaret Pattens, London, the time of whoſe Admiſſion appears not; but he reſign'd it in 1515. In 1517. Aug. 14. he was admitted Rector of S. Michael Cornhill; and on Nov. 28. following, he was collated to this Prebend. S. Michaels he reſign'd, before Sept. 24. 1538. but how, or when, he voided this Prebend doth not appear. [Reg. Lond.] I take this to be the ſame Rowland Phillips, who on June 2. 1522. ſupplicated for the Degrees of Bachelor and Doctor of Divinity at Oxford, and was, it ſeems, admitted ſoon after, or rather before; for Mr. Wood, in his Antiq. Oxon, lib. 2. p. 86. makes him Warden of Merton-College, in the Year 1521. as thruſt in by the Power of the Archbiſhop of Cant. tho' he never had been Fellow or Scholar of that Houſe. He was now Vicar of Croydon, in Surry, Canon of S. Pauls. A famous and a notable Preacher, and a forward Man in the Convocation of the Clergy, An. 1523. in acting and ſpeaking much againſt the Payment of a Subſidy to the King. [Ath. Ox. Vol. I. 667.]

x Brian Higden (the time of whoſe Admiſſion to this Prebend appears not) was a Bachelor of Law of Broadgates-Hall (now Pembroke-College) in Oxford, and was admitted Doctor of Civil Law, June 28. 1506. In 1515. May 26. he was admitted Archdeacon of York, or of the Weſt-Riding in Yorkſhire. In 1516. June 20. Preb. of Ulleskelf, in the Church of York. And on the 27th of the ſame Month Dean thereof. He died June 5. 1539. (by which means this Prebend of Neaſdon became void) and was Buried in the Cathedral Church of York. [Ath. Ox. Vol. I. 641.] He gave a Sum of Money to Brazennoſe-College to purchaſe Lands for the maintenance of One Fellow to be choſen out of the Counties of York and Lincoln by turns, which afterwards was accordingly done. [Antiq. Ox. lib. 2. p. 214.]

y Will. Ermſted (before he was collated to this Prebend) was admitted Rector of Frierning (Eſſex) Mar. 12. 1533. and reſign'd it before June 17. 1534. But how, or when, this Prebend became void, appears not.

z Ric. Marſhal (whom I take to be the ſame with our Prebendary) was of Chriſt-Church, in Oxford, where he took the Degree of Doctor of Divinity, in 1552. Soon after which he was Prebendary of Wincheſter. And in 1553. by the Interceſſion of the Lord Arundel (whoſe Chaplain he was) Q. Mary made him Dean of his ſaid College. In the Reign of King Edw. VI. he ſeemed to be a great Reformer, and recanted what he had zealouſly held in the Reign of King Hen. VIII. After the Death of King Edw. VI. He returned to his former Opinions, and was more zealous for the Catholick Cauſe, than before. But when Q. Elizabeth came to the Crown, he abſconded for a time, and went from place to place. (And our Ric. Marſhal, being depriv'd of this his Prebend, in 1561. as appears above; induceth me to believe he was the ſame Ric. Marſhal, who was Dean of Chriſt-Church.) At length the ſaid Dean being taken, and convey'd to London, retracted again in hopes of being ſettled in his Deanry of Chriſt-Church, which might have been, had he behaved himſelf moderately in the Reign of Q. Mary. Afterwards, it is ſaid, he went into Yorkſhire, where he lived obſcurely. [Ath. Ox. Vol. I. 707. Antiq. Oxon lib. 2. 253.]

a Joh. Fox, after he was Preb. of this Church, was collated to the Rectory of Hanwell (Midd.) Sept. 20. 1596. but how, or when, he voided either of them, appears not. [Reg. Lond.] Perhaps he might be the ſame with Doctor John Fox, who, in 1606. was inſtalled Canon or Prebendary of the Third in the Church of Weſtminſter.

When Queen Mary came to the Crown, he was made Archdeacon of Ely, her Secretary of State, Prebendary of Wincheſter, and Warden of Wincheſter-College in 1554. In July 1557. he was made Dean of Peterborough; and on Nov. 20. following, inſtall'd Dean of Norwich; and about the ſame Time, Dean of Windſor; ſworn Regiſtrary of the Garter, Febr. 6. 1557. and the Year following, actually created Doctor of Divinity; made Prebendary of York and Sarum (and alſo of this Church, as above) After Queen Elizabeth came to the Crown, he was depriv'd of all his Eccleſiaſtical Preferments which he then had; was committed to free Cuſtody in the Archbiſhop's Houſe at Lambeth, with Thirlby Biſhop of Ely, Tunſtall Biſhop of Durham, and others; but ſoon after falling ill of a Feaver, had liberty to go over the Water to London, and ſettling in the Houſe of a near Relation, recover'd, and enjoy'd himſelf in great Retiredneſs for ſome Years after; and died in London, towards the latter end of 1570. He is noted to have been a Perſon of great Modeſty, Learning and Knowledg; and that there was in him "Tanquam à natura, ingenita modeſtia comitaſque ſumma, qua quoſcunque notos ad ſe diligendum aſtrinxit, [*Ath. He was born an Italian, came firſt over into England to collect the Pope's Peter-pence. In the Reign of Edw. VI. being then well ſtricken in Years, he procured an Order or Licence from the King to depart from England, and to go into his Native Country, dated June 2. 1550. wherein (inter alia) he had leave quietly to enjoy all the Profits of the Archdeaconry of Wells, and the Prebend of Nonyngton, in the Cathedral Church of Hereford. He was likewiſe Subdean of York, and Prebendary of Carlile. He would Preach and Pray ex tempore, and would Travel over moſt parts of England, like a new Apoſtle, and Preach from Pariſh to Pariſh, inſomuch, that many would ſay, That he was troubled with a Divinity-Squirt. He was reputed to be a ſevere Calviniſt, and, that by the Liberty he took, he did a great deal of harm by his preaching in Corporation-Towns. He died at Cawood, in Yorkſhire, Feb. 26. 1617. and was buried in the South Iſle joining to the Choir of York-Cathedral. John of S. Laurence, a Canon of S. Pauls, ſucceeded the ſaid William de Belmeis, in this Prebend of S. Pancras, and confirm'd the Gift of the ſaid William his Predeceſſor of the ſaid Church.

Thomas Kempe, Biſhop of London, in the Reign of Edward IV. by Licence obtain'd of that King, in the Fifth of his Reign, Founded a Chantry in the Cathedral Church of S. Paul (afterwards, vulgarly, call'd Kemp's Chantry) of one Prieſt, who ſhould be the Biſhop of London's Confeſſor, in the ſaid Cathedral, for the time being to celebrate Divine Service daily at the Altar of the Holy Trinity, in the Body thereof towards the North ſide, for the good Eſtate of the ſaid King, and Q. Elizabeth his Conſort; as alſo of the ſaid Biſhop during their Lives in this World, and for the Health of their Souls after their departure hence. And, moreover, for the Souls of the ſaid King's Progenitors; the Parents and Benefactors of the ſaid Biſhop, and all the Faithful deceas'd; and united it to the Office of Confeſſor in this Church for ever. And endowed it with 1 Meſſuage, 1 Dove-houſe, 140 Acres of Land, 6 Acres of Meadow, with 8 Acres of Wood call'd Grays, lying in Great Clacton, in the County of Eſſex: As alſo another Meſſuage, 20 Acres of Land, 2 Acres of Meadow, and 2 Acres of Wood with the Appurtenances, in the ſame Town; and 2 Acres of Land lying in Chigwell, together with the Advowſon of the Church of Chikewell, in the ſame County. Which Chantry this Reverend Biſhop founded, in a beautiful Chappel built for the Purpoſe, betwixt the North Iſle, and the Body of the Church, wherein his Body was afterwards interred; a perfect Repreſentation whereof may be ſeen in Hiſt. Paul. p. 41.

From the time of the Founding and Endowing this Chantry (called Kemp's Chantry) and uniting it to the Office of Confeſſor, or Penitentiary; whoever was Prebendary of S. Pancras, was admitted with the Office of Penitentiary thereto annext.

[*Reg. When Queen Elizabeth came to the Crown, he had this Prebend conferr'd on him, as above; was made Reader of the Divinity-Lecture, in this Cathedral-Church, was call'd hence to the Biſhoprick of Exeter, to which he was conſecrated, July 14. 1560. In the beginning of Queen Mary, he abſconded for a while, but at laſt was fain to go beyond Sea to Strasburgh, upon Queen Elizabeth's coming to the Crown, he return'd into England, became a frequent Preacher in London, and in the North parts. In 1560. the Queen deſign'd him to be Biſhop of Norwich, but he refus'd it, out of diſaffection (as 'tis ſuppos'd) to the Hierarchy and Ceremonies of the Church of England. In Michaelmas-Term, 1561. he was inſtall'd Dean of Chriſt-Church in Oxford, but being too ſevere a Calviniſt to govern that noted College, he was, at length, ann. 1564. remov'd from that Deanry, by the Sentence of Matthew Parker, Archbiſhop of Canterbury; afterwards he got the Maſterſhip of the Hoſpital of William de Wygſton, at Leiceſter, and this Preb. as above; and, at laſt, by the Queen's Favour, was permitted to be a Theological-Lecturer in Whitington's-College, London; but before he had enjoy'd that Place ſix Years, he was taken with a Palſie, whereupon he retir'd to his Hoſpital, where he ſpent the remaining part of his Days, in Preaching and Writing. q Joh. Gyles; one John Gyles was admitted Vicar of Stebbing, Eſſex, in 1514. by the Title of Chaplain; therefore, I think, could not be the ſame with John Gyles our Prebendary, who at the time of his Admiſſion to this Prebend in 1479. was Doctor of Law.

He was likewiſe Dean of the Collegiate-Church of Aukeland, as appears by the Inſcription, in-laid in Braſs, round the Edge of his Tomb, under which his Body was buried in the South-Iſle of the Chappel of our Lady, in this Cathedral-Church of S. Paul, and is as followeth. [Reg. Lond.] x Joh. Dowman was admitted Rector of S. Nicolas-Acon, April 4. 1506. which he reſign'd before May following; the time of his Admiſſion to this Preb. appears not, but he reſigning it about April 1514. was collated on the 20th of that Month to the Preb. of Twyford, which he held till his Death, happening before Nov. 11. 1526. as appears in Twyford, [*Reg. [Hiſt. Paul. p. 41.]

y Joh. Palgrave or Palſgrave, was born in London, and educated in Grammar-Learning there, ſtudied Logick and Philoſophy at Cambridge, till he was Bachelour of Arts; afterwards he went to Paris, where ſpending alſo ſeveral Years in Philoſophical and other Learning, took the Degree of Maſter of the ſaid Faculty, and became ſo excellent in the French Tongue, that he was thought fit to be Tutor to the Daughter of King Henry VII. call'd the Lady Mary, when ſhe was about to be marry'd to Lewis XII. King of France; but that King dying ſoon after, the ſaid Palſgrave came with her into England, taught the French Language to divers of our young Nobility, and became well benefic'd, particularly, he was collated to this Benefice, by Richard FitzJames, Biſhop of London, in 1514. as above. In 1531. he ſettled in Oxford for a time, and the next Year after, being incorporated Maſter of Arts, was in few Days after, admitted to the Degree of Bachelour of Divinity, he being then Chaplain to King Henry VIII. In 1533. he was collated, by Archbiſhop Cranmer, to the Church of S. Dunſtan in the Eaſt, London; he was eſteem'd the firſt Author of our Nation, or of the French Men that had reduc'd the French Tongue under Rules, and the firſt in that kind, that did begin to labour, [Athen. Oxon. Vol. I. p. 48.] where, and alſo in Pitts's ſub Anno 1530. may be ſeen more of him, and what he publiſh'd. He died before Sept. 12. 1554. as appears above, by his voiding this Prebend, but how, or when, he voided S. Dunſtans, appears not.

z Edm. Brygotte, whom I take to be the ſame with Edm. Brycotte or Brickett, who was a Minorite or Franciſcan-Frier, and took the Degree of Doctor of Divinity at Oxford, Febr. 1. 1529. [Athen. Oxon. Vol. I. p. 679.] He was collated to the Rectory of Thorley (Hertf.) Oct. 22. 1545. to the Rectory of Wiley (Eſſex) Jan. 31. 1547. which he reſign'd before April 1. 1549. having been on Nov. 2. before, collated to the Rectory of Hadham-Magna, (Hertf.) where, as Fox tells us, he fell under the Diſpleaſure of Biſhop Bonner, for that his Lordſhip, then going thither upon his Viſitation, in 1554. was not receiv'd with that Honour, and Things in the Church were not in that Order, as was expected, notwithſtanding he had conferr'd on him that great Living, and but juſt before, viz. Sept. 12. 1554. this Prebend of Portpoole; for if this Viſitation began the ſecond of that Month, and the Biſhop went thro' Eſſex, as Fox tells us, before he came to Hadham, it muſt be then after Brygott's Admiſſion to this Prebend; but be that as it will, Brygott held that Church and this Prebend, till the time of his Death, which happen'd before Dec. 5. 1565. as appears above; but Thorley is ſaid to become void by his Death, where he is nam'd Brygate and Bricket, before Sept. 28. 1562. but this, I am apt to believe, is a Miſtake for Reſignation or Ceſſion.

a Ric. Wood was Bachelour of Divinity of Cambridge, and incorporated in the ſame Degree at Oxford, in June 1579. He was afterwards Doctor of his Faculty, and became a Prebendary of Weſtminſter in May 1587. [Ath. Oxon. Vol. I. p. 476.] the time of his Admiſſion to this Prebend appears not, but he was admitted Vicar of Alhallows-Barking, London, Jan. 27. 1583. which he reſign'd about the Year 1591. being then, as I conceive, in great Favour with the Archbiſhop of Canterbury, perhaps, one of his Chaplains; for, on May 26. that Year, he conferr'd on him the Rectory of Bocking, and in June 9. 1600. the Rectory of Stilſted, both in Eſſex, and made Dean of Bocking, joyntly with Mr. George Meriton, May 24. the Year before; all which, together with this Prebend, he held till his

b Gabr. Powell; one Gabriel Powell, Son of David Powell, the famous Britiſh Hiſtorian, was born at Ruabon, in Denbighſhire, of which Place his ſaid Father was Vicar, and baptiz'd there, Jan. 13. 1575. was educated in Grammar-Learning in thoſe Parts, entred into Jeſus-College, Oxon. in Lent-Term, 1591-2. took the Degree of Bachelour of Arts, and then departed for a time, and was (as 'tis ſaid) Maſter of a Free-School, founded by Gabriel Goodman, Dean of Weſtminſter, at Ruthen, in Denbighſhire: Sure it is, that whilſt he remain'd in the Country, he did exerciſe himſelf much, in Reading of the Fathers, and in the Study of Philoſophy, and laid a Foundation for ſeveral Books, that he intended afterwards to publiſh; and being not in a poſſibility of compleating his Endeavours, where he remain'd, he therefore retir'd to Oxford, became a Commoner of S. Mary-Hall, publiſh'd certain Books, whilſt he was there, and ſupplicated to be Bachelour of Divinity, but whether really admitted, appears not; ſo that his Name being famous for thoſe Things he had publiſh'd among the Puritans, Dr. Richard Vaughan, Biſhop of London, call'd him thence, and made him his domeſtick Chaplain, gave him a Dignity, and would have done much for him, had he liv'd, but dying in 1607. this Gabriel Powell liv'd not long after. He was eſteem'd a Prodigy of Learning in his time, being but a little above 30 Years of Age, when he died; and 'tis thought, had he liv'd to the Age of Man, he would have gone beyond John Rainolds, or any of the learned Hero's of that Age. Thus my Author, who farther tells us, that he departed this Life at London, in 1607. dying ſhortly after his Patron, Biſhop Vaughan, as he ſaith, he was inform'd by one or more antient Divines, that knew him. [Athen. Oxon. Vol. I. p. 294.] Now, if my Author, by the words ſhortly after, in his Information (which Words will admit of a larger Latitude than he gives them) be led into a Miſtake of the time of the Death of the ſaid Gabr. Powell, 'tis not improbable, that Gabr. Powell, our Prebendary, might be the ſame Man, for he had a Dignity in the Church, as appears above, tho' not conferr'd on him, till after Biſhop Vaughan's Death, and died within four Years (which may be ſhortly after, which my Author's Informers meant, when they told him of his Death) after the Death of the ſaid Biſhop, viz. before Dec. 18. 1611. for then the ſaid Gabriel's Vicarage of Northall in Middleſex, as void by his Death, was ſupply'd by a Succeſſor, to which the ſaid Gabriel had been admitted Oct. 15. the Year before. [Reg. Lond.]

c Tho. Sanderſon was of Baliol-College, Oxon. the Maſter and Scholars whereof, preſented him to the Vicarage of S. Laurence, Jewry, London, to which he was admitted, Aug. 27. 1564. being then Bachelour of Divinity; he was likewiſe admitted Rector of Alhallows the Great, London, Novemb. 15. 1603. [Reg. Lond.] He took the Degree of Doctor of Divinity, July 4. 1605. and was inſtall'd Archdeacon of Rocheſter, Aug. 1. 1606. [Athen. Oxon. Vol. I. p. 793.] after which, he had this Preb. conferr'd on him, as above, but how long he held theſe Preferments, or any of them, appears not.

e Car. Maſon was of King's-College in Cambridge, and ejected thence for his Loyalty; after which, he was created Doctor of Divinity at Oxford, Nov. 1. 1642. [Athen. Oxon. Vol. II. p. 713.] After the King's Reſtauration, he was admitted to the Rectory of S. Mary, Woolchurch, June 15. 1661. out of which he was burnt by the late dreadful Fire of London, in 1666. whereupon he was collated to the Church of S. Peter-le-Poor, May 14. 1669. by the Dean and Chapter of S. Paul's; but before this, in 1663. he was collated to this Preb. as above. He died in 1677. by which this Prebend and the Church of S. Peter, became void. [Reg. Lond. & Dec. & Cap.]

w *Joh. After his return, he became Chaplain to Cardinal Wolſey ; was Judg of his Court, as he was Legate à Latere, and aſſiſted him in viſiting firſt, and afterwards in diſſolving Forty little Monaſteries, at leaſt, for the erecting his Colleges at Oxford and Ipſwich. In the latter end of 1525. he was incorporated Doctor of Laws of the Univerſity of Oxford : on Jan. 12. 1526. he was collated to this Prebend, from whence he was elected to the Archbiſhoprick of Dublin, in 1528. as appears above, to which he was conſecrated Mar. 13. that Year ; and about that Time was made Chancellour of Ireland ; at length, being taken, in a Time of Rebellion, by Tho. Fitzgerard or Gerald, eldeſt Son of the Earl of Kildare, was, by his Command, cruelly murdered, by being brain'd like an Ox, at Turtain in Ireland, July 28. 1534. [*Athen. cellour of the Dioceſe of Worceſter; and, about the ſame Time, Archdeacon of Gloceſter; and Warden of the Collegiate Church of Stratford upon Avon, in Warwickſhire. At length he was imploy'd by King Henry VIII. beyond the Seas, upon State-Affairs; was made Doctor of Laws there, and one of the King's Counſellors, at his return, (admitted to this Prebend, as above) a chief Agitator for the King, in Defence of his Divorce from his firſt Wife, Queen Katharine, eſpecially in the Univerſity of Oxford, where, in 1531. he was incorporated Doctor of his Faculty, as he ſtood beyond the Seas. In 1539. (he continuing till that Year Archdeacon of Gloceſter. Dr. Hutton) was made Biſhop of Worceſter; and in 1545. he abdicated, or rather, reſign'd his Sea; but, for what Cauſe, is yet, it ſeems, uncertain; whereupon, retiring to Clerkenwell, near London, he liv'd there for ſome Years; and dying Aug. 11. 1556. was buried in the North-ſide of the Chancel of the Church of Clerkenwell, (not Iſlington, as my Author hath it) under a Marble Stone, whereon is fixed this Epitaph, as Stow has it in his Survey, p. 484.

Anno Domini 1556. die Auguſti 11.

By his laſt Will, dated Aug. 10. 1556. he bequeathed very liberally to the Poor of Stratford upon Avon, and alſo to the Poor of Bromeſgrove, in Worceſterſhire, Tadcaſter, Wymberſley, &c. at which places, probably he had been benefic'd, [Ath. Ox. I. Vol. 584.]

z Hen. Pendilton, a zealous Man for the Roman-Catholick Cauſe; was born in Lancaſhire; became a Student in Brazen-Noſe-College, Oxon. about 1538. took the Degrees in Arts, and afterwards thoſe in Divinity, in the Reign of King Edw. VI. he being then benefic'd and dignifi'd in the Church. In the Reign of Queen Mary, Apr. 11. 1554. he was collated to this Prebend; and Febr. 14. following, to the Church of S. Martin Outwich (it falling to the Biſhop by Lapſe) upon the depriving of Dr. Kirkham, for being a married Prieſt, (Reg. Lond.) He ſhew'd himſelf ſo grand a Zealot for the Cauſe then profeſs'd, in ſeveral Sermons by him preach'd, that when in one by him deliver'd at S. Paul's Croſs, June 10. 1554. which was very ſharp againſt the Hereticks, as they were then call'd, a Gun was then diſcharg'd at, but miſs'd him. He reſign'd S. Martins on or before April 1. 1556. and was on that day admitted to that of S. Stephen Walbroke, which, and alſo this Prebend, became void by his Death, before Febr. 10. 1557. [Reg. Lond.] My Author tells us, that this Henry Pendilton liv'd till after Queen Elizabeth came to the Crown, and was impriſon'd for a time; but when, or where he died, he ſays, he knows not. (But whether he, or the Regiſtry be in the right, I ſhall not determine.) He farther tells us, That this Pendleton was ſo endear'd to the Catholick Religion, that he made a ſolemn Proteſtation in Queen Mary's Time, That he would ſee the utmoſt Drop of his Greaſe molten away, and the laſt Gobbet of his Fleſh conſum'd to Aſhes, before he would forſake God, and his Truth; meaning, as my Author ſeems to be of opinion, the Roman-Catholick Religion, by his uſhering in this Proteſtation, with his ſaying, Pendleton was ſo endear'd to the Catholick Religion. [Athen. Oxon. I. Vol. 106.] But Fox, who ſeems to me to be in the right, in his Acts and Monuments, nova Editio, p. 115. tells us, That Pendleton, in the beginning of Queen Mary's Time, made this Proteſtation to Laurence Sanders, who then ſeem'd to be very diffident of his own Stedfaſtneſs to the Proteſtant Religion, which he and Pendleton had earneſtly preach'd up in King Edward's Time, to encourage him to ſtick faſt to God and his Truth, as he term'd it, which he himſelf ſoon after forſook, and the other had Courage to ſuffer for.

When Queen Mary came to the Crown, he left the Land for Religion-ſake, and liv'd moſtly at Stratsburgh, in Germany. After her Death, he return'd, and was made one of the Chaplains to Queen Elizabeth; became a zealous Aſſerter of the Proteſtant Religion; but refuſing conſiderable Preferments which were then offer'd him, he accepted only of a Prebend in the Church of Wincheſter for the preſent, as alſo of the Rectory of Crawly, near that City. In 1573. he took the Degrees in Divinity; and in 1575. was made Archdeacon of Wincheſter; in 1583. he was collated to this Prebend: All which he voided by his Death, which happen'd Aug. 26. 1609. aged 89. In 1599. he was inſtall'd Canon of the ſame Church, being then Bachelour of Divinity, and Vicar of Flower in Northamptonſhire; and the next Year he proceded in that Faculty. His younger Years were beautifi'd with all kind of polite Learning; his middle with Ingenuity and Judgment; and his reverend Years with great Wiſdom in Government, having been often Sub-Dean of his Houſe. He was alſo an excellent Grecian, well read in the Fathers and School-Men, and not meanly vers'd in the Hiſtories of our own Nation. He ſucceded Renniger in this Prebend, as above; and died May 17. 1632. and was buried in the Divinity-Chappel belonging to the Cathedral of Chriſt-Church, before mention'd. He was alſo collated to the Church of S. Clement Eaſtcheap, May 2. 1637. and in 1638. to this Prebend; but was outed of all by the Rebels in 1642. was plunder'd, ſequeſter'd, and ſent Priſoner to Plimouth by Sea, [Merc.Ruſt.] but ſurviving the Storm, was re-inſtated in all, upon the Reſtauration of King Charles II. in 1660. Abchurch he reſign'd in 1661. but he held his other Church and this Prebend till they became void by his Death, before Mar. 13. 1665. f Ric. Owen. How he came to be collated to this Prebend, I do not well apprehend, ſeeing it was the Preb. of the aforeſaid Mr. *Ben. But ſo I found it in a looſe Paper in the Regiſtry, wherein ſeveral others, that were admitted to Benefices in this Dioceſe, ſoon after the King's Reſtauration (and not regiſtred in any Book) are written. ſame John Sutton, who was Vicar of Stebbing, Eſſex, and reſign'd it in 1440. I am not certain; but he could not be the ſame John Sutton, who was that Year made Prior of Dunmow, becauſe he died in 1444. [Reg. Lond.]

y Oliver King, was of King's-College in Cambridge (was admitted Rector of Allhallows the Great, Lond.) May 16. 1480. which he reſign'd in 1482. was collated to this Prebend in 1487. which became void by his Promotion to the Biſhoprick of Exon, in 1492. [Reg. Lond.] He was formerly Archdeac. of Taunton. From Exon he was tranſlated to the Sea of Bath and Wells, in which he was inthroniz'd Mar. 12. 1496, -7. He pulling down the old Abby-Church of Bath, began the Foundation of a fair and ſumptuous Building, but died, leaving it much unfiniſh'd; how it was brought to perfection afterwards, may be ſeen in my Authors following. He died Aug. 29. 1503. according to the Regiſtry at Wells, from which that at Canterbury little differs, placing it in September; and was buried, as 'tis thought, at Windſor, in a little Chappel on the South-ſide of the Choir; and by what is written over-againſt that place, upon the intercloſe of the Choir, it appears (inter alia) that he was Doctor of Laws, and principal Secretary to Edward IV. and Henry VII. Regiſtrary of the Garter, and Canon of Windſor, in 1489. [Godw. de Præſul. Bath. & Well. Angl. Sac. 1. P. pag. 575.]

z Joh. Morgan. There was one Joh. Morgan, a Doctor of Laws, of Oxford, who was conſecrated Biſhop of S. Davids, in 1503. died in the Priory of Carmarthen, June 1504. and was buried in his own Church, (thus Godwyn.) Of this Biſhop Morgan, A. Wood tells us, That he was inſtall'd Dean of Windſor in 1484. That being elected Biſhop of S. Davids, he had Reſtitution made of his Temporalities, 23. Novemb. 12. Henry VII. An. 1496. (I take this Joh. Morgan to be the ſame with our Prebendary, who was Doctor of Laws, and reſign'd this Prebend ſome ſhort Time before the Reſtitution of the Temporalities aforeſaid) but know not how to reconcile Godwyn and Wood, as to the Time of Dr. Morgan's being made Biſhop of S. Davids; the one ſaying, that he was conſecrated in 1503. and the other, that being elected, he had the Reſtitution of his Temporalities, Novemb. 23. 1496. for which he quotes Pat. 12. Hen. VII. p. 1. m. 5. [Godw. de Præſul. Menev. Athen. Ox. I. Vol. 552.] If Wood's Quotation be right, Godwyn muſt certainly be in the wrong. I find one John Morgan collated to the Vicarage of Aldham, in Eſſex, June 7. 1490. which became void before Apr. 27. 1492. but how appears not; which, perhaps, was the ſame with our Preb. for the ſame Biſhop collated both. [Reg. Lond.]

a Tho. Bennet. [Vid. inter Theſaurarios hujus Eccleſiæ.]

b Triſtr. Swaddle, was admitted to the Sine-Cure Rectory of Stepny, Dec. 10. 1558. but was depriv'd of that, as well as of this Prebend, not long after Queen Elizabeth came to the Crown.

c Tho. Cole. [Vid. inter Archid. Eſſex.]

d Matth. Smalwood, was Rector of S. Martin Outwich, before the Reſtauration, in 1660. in which Year he was collated to this Prebend, and made Dean of Liechfield, in 1671. and was ſo when he died.

e Joh. Williams, was Rector of S. Mildred Poultry, Lond. He was Dec. 10. 1696. promoted to the Biſhoprick of Chicheſter, where he now preſides, and was ſucceeded in this Prebend by f Joh. Wright, the preſent Prebendary, 1700.

Sneating Preb.

THE Prebendary of Sneating, or Sneting, hath the Fourteenth Stall on the Right ſide of the Choir. And the Corps of his Prebend is in the Pariſh of Kirkeby, in the County of Eſſex.

c Benedictus Capellanus Dom. Gregorii-Papæ, probably, Chaplain to Pope Gregory the Ninth.

d Reginaldus de Brandon, was Canon here in 1279. [Cart. Orig.] was Canon and Stationary here, when Ralph de Malling was Archdeacon of Midd. which was in, or after the Year 1295. [Cart. Orig.] In 1306. Ric. de Newport ſignified to the Dean of S. Pauls, Apr. 8. that J. de Ruſſendone, and J. de Theverſham, two of the Executors of Reginald de Brandon, had carried away divers Sums of Money, otherwiſe left in the ſaid deceaſed's Will, for the ordaining certain Chantries in the Church of S. Pauls, and depoſited in the Treaſury. [Pyx. H.] However, the ſame Year, the ſaid Reginald's Executors founded a Chantry of one Prieſt to celebrate perpetually for the ſaid deceaſed's Soul within the New work (viz. Eaſtward of the Choir.) *Hiſt. e Joh. de Ditton, was Canon here in 1310. [*Cart. [Pat. 10. E. II. p. 2.] He was a Stagiary here, Oct. 3. 1326. [*Cart. [Reg. Lond.]

f Alanus Hotham, was Canon here Oct. 12. 1331. for then the King ratified him in this Prebend; as alſo in the Church of Eſte-Derham, and in the Preb. of Dunde, in the Church of Wells. [Pat. 5. E. III. p. 2.] He was Reſidentiary here, in July 1329. [lib. A. f. 82.] And Stagiary, Nov. 6. 1342. [Pyx. H.] He was living in the Year 1350. for by his Teſtament bearing date 25. Edw. III. he bequeath'd all his Lands lying within the City of London, to find two Prieſts to Celebrate for his Soul, and for the Souls of his Parents and Benefactors, and all the Faithful deceaſed, at the Altar of S. Sebaſtian, in the Church of S. Faith (where his Body was buried) each Prieſt to receive for his Salary yearly 100 Shillings. [Hiſt. Paul. 117.]

g Tho. Brember, was the King's Chaplain, to whom he gave this Prebend, June 18. 1354. [Pat. 28. E. III. p. 1.] At which time he was Dean of the Free-Chapel of Wymbournminſter, and the King granted him Licence to give to the Canons of the ſaid Collegiate Chapel the Advowſon of the Church of Shapwick, which was in the Right of his Deanry. [Ib.] He was Prebendary of Alvythlee, in the Free-Chapel of Brugnorth, and had the King's Licence to exchange it with Phil. de Weſton, for the Prebend of Middleton, in the Conventual Church of Wherwell, in the Dioceſs of Winton, June 12. 1355. h Will. Tyrington, was the King's Chaplain, to whom he gave this Prebend upon the voiding of it by the above-named Tho. Brember, Oct. 28. 1361: [Pat. 35. E. III. p. 3.] On 20. of Jan. following, he had the King's Letters of Preſentation to the Church of Shipdam, in the Dioceſs of Norwich; and again after that on the 15. of next May. [36. p. 1.] On June 22. 1363. he was Witneſs with others between Peter, King of Caſtile, and the King of England. [37. p. 1.] On June 20. 1367. the King gave him the Free-Chapel within the Caſtle of Shrewsbury. [41. p. 1.] He reſign'd this Preb. before July 24. 1394. as appears above. One Will. Tyrington, was Rector of S. Leonard Foſter-lane, and alſo of S. Leonard Eaſt-cheap; but the time of his Admiſſion to either appears not. The former he reſign'd before May 9. 1325. and the later before the 4. Non. of May 1353. [Reg. Lond. & Cant.] But whether he was the ſame with our Prebendary, I am not certain.

i Ric. Courtney, was of the Noble Family of the Courtneys, Earls of Devonſhire, and a near Kinſman of William Courtney, Archbiſhop of Canterbury, who took care to educate him in Learning at Exeter-College, Oxon. (He was collated to this Preb. in 1394. as above.) He was made Dean of S. Aſaph before the Year 1402. Admitted Canon of York on June 1. 1403. Chancellor of Oxford in 1407. Canon of Wells in 1408. and made Dean of Wells on June 19. 1410. And again Chancellor of Oxford in 1411. And at length promoted to the Biſhoprick of Norwich in 1413. To which he was conſecrated by Tho. Arundell, Archbiſhop of Canterbury; King Hen. V. and divers Nobles being preſent thereat. He was a Perſon of great Lineage, great Learning, and great Vertue, very Perſonable, Comely, and Eloquent, much favour'd and employ'd by the King; by reaſon of the Multiplicity of whoſe Affairs he never was inſtall'd. He attended King Hen. V. into Normandy, and died at the Siege of Harfleur of a Flux, on the 14, or 16, of Sept. 1415. in the Second Year of his Conſecration. His Body was brought over into England, and interr'd at Weſtminſter, near S. Edward's Tomb. [Whart. inter Decanos S. Aſaph. Angl. Sac. 1. P. 416. Godw. de Præſul. Norw.]

l Joh. Weſton, before he was collated to this Preb. was Rector of S. Mildred Poultry, to which he was admitted Oct. 20. 1454. and reſign'd it before Aug. 15. following. [Reg. Lond.]

m Will. Poteman, was Rector of Chelmsford; but the time of his Admiſſion thereto appears not. In Nov. 9. 1459. he was elected Warden of All-Souls-College, having been a little before that Principal of the Halls of S. George, and Wodecock, in the Pariſh of S. Maries, in Oxford; and Principal, and Moderator of the School of the Cæſarean-Law there. [Antiq. Ox. lib. 2. p. 175.] He was admitted Rector of High-Reding, in Eſſex, which he held not long. Chelmsford, this Prebend [Reg. Lond.] and his Wardenſhip he reſign'd in 1466. and at the ſame time got the Rectory of Treng, of the Gift of the ſaid College. [Antiq. Ox. ut ſupra.]

n Galfr. Blith, was admitted a Scholar of Kings-College, in Cambridge, An. 1436. In the ſecond Year after, he was Maſter of Arts. He was made Archdeacon of Cliveland, and Prebendary of Strenſhall, in the Church of York, to which he was admitted Apr. 8. 1493. and not long after made Dean of the ſame Church, viz. Mar. 24. 1498. (He was alſo made Treaſurer of the Church of Sarum, Novemb. 1. 1494. and Archdeacon of Sarum, Aug. 22. 1498. [Dr. Hutton] In 1502. he reſign'd this Prebend of Sneating; but the time of his Admiſſion to it appears not.) In 1503. he was pomoted to the Sea of Lichfield and Coventry, to which he was Conſecrated in or about the Month of September. He was admitted Vicar of Ware, in the ſame County, Oct. 19. 1633. but the time of voiding of either of them doth not appear otherwiſe, than that he being a zealous Man for the Church of England, ſuffered much in the time of the Rebellion, raiſed by the long Parliament againſt King Ch. I. and was caſt out of his Benefice of Anſty by the Committee of Religion, in 1643. and loſt other Spiritualities. But that King being accidentally kill'd by the Glance of an Arrow, in New-Forreſt, in Hampſhire, in about a Year and two Months after, his Succeſſor K. Hen. I. clapt up the ſaid Biſhop Priſoner in the Tower of London; out of which not long after making his eſcape, he fled into Normandy, incited Duke Robert to attempt England, which he did with the Biſhop in his Company. In Edw. II. time, this James de Hiſpania, was one of the Chamberlains of the Exchequer: For in Pat. 16. Edw. II. it is ſaid, That King Edw. II. in the Place of his beloved Couſin James de Hiſpania, late one of the Chamberlains of his Exchequer, aſſign'd his beloved Clerk, or Chaplain, to be Chamberlain thereof. He died before Dec. 17. 1327. [Pat. 1. E. III. p. 3.] He had been Preb. of Losk, in the Ch. of S. Patrick, in Dublin, which the King afterwards gave to Ric. de Bury [6. p. 3.]

[Pat. 30. E. III. p. 3] And in 1360. May 24. the King granted him 40 Marks per Ann. till he could provide for him the like yearly Sum in a Benefice without Cure. In 1638. Sept. 20. he was inſtalled Canon of VVindſor. But he being ſoon after made Prebendary of Canterbury, reſign'd that Canonry. He was a great Licenſer of Books; but Publiſher (as my Author thinks) of none. He gain'd a great deal of Envy from the Puritans for his Partiality in that Office. For which, and his great Reſpects for the Tenents of Arminius; he was in the Beginning of the Rebellion Purſuivanted and Impriſoned, and at length depriv'd of his Spiritualities. [*Ath. In May 1619. he was inſtall'd Canon of Chriſt-Church, and the ſame Year proceeded in Divinity, being about that Time domeſtic-Chaplain to King James I. In 1626. he was made Margaret-Profeſſor, and conſequently Prebend. of Worceſter (which was about that Time annex'd to the Profeſſorſhip) he being then a Calviniſt; at length, leaving his Opinion, he became a Favourite of Archbiſhop Laud's, by whoſe means he was made Dean of Lichfield, in 1637. and the Year after Dean of Chriſt-Church. In 1647. he was ejected from his Deanry and Vicechancellorſhip, after he had ſuffer'd much for his Loyalty, and for preſerving the Statutes and Liberties of the Univerſity. Afterwards, retiring to his Rectory of Sunninwell near Abendon, in Berks, he ſpent the ſhort remainder of his Life in Obſcurity, and died at his Parſonage-Houſe there, on the Firſt of Febr. 1648. and was buried in the Chancel of that Pariſh-Church. Fellow of All-Souls, in 1531. and in the Year following proceeded in Arts, being then eſteemed a good Orator, and Diſputant. In 1541. he was made Preb. of Worceſter. And in June 30. 1543. In 1549. he cloſed ſo much with the Reformation then on foot, that he became Archdeacon of Bedford (to which he was inſtalled July 7. that Year. But neither about that time, nor at any time elſe, was he either Archdeacon of Eſſex, or Midd. as Wood, or of London, as Godwyn will have it; as appears by the uninterrupted Succeſſions of theſe Archdeacons in the London-Regiſtry. In the Beginning of Q. Mary he turn'd about, and became ſo zealous for the Roman Catholick Cauſe, that preaching at S. Paul's-Croſs, on the behalf of the ſaid Bonner then preſent, againſt his late unjuſt Sufferings, and againſt the unhappy Times of King Edw. VI. he had a Dagger thrown at him by one of the Auditors. But when Q. Elizabeth ſucceeded, he was depriv'd of his Biſhoprick for denying her Supremacy, notwithſtanding he had done many good Offices for his Cathedral Ch. and had been a Benefactor thereunto. Afterwards, he being committed to the Free-Cuſtody of the Dean of Exeter, gave himſelf up wholly to Reading and Devotion. At length dying at Sylverton, in Devonſhire, Sept. 10. 1569. was Buried in the Pariſh Ch. there, on the South-ſide of the Altar. He was very inſtrumental in Q. Mary's time, in recovering ſeveral Lands that were alienated from the Ch. of Wells, in the Beginning of the Reformation. And it is ſuppoſed, that had he ſtood but a little while longer, he had recovered divers of her Poſſeſſions to that Sea, which now are thought to be irrecoverably loſt. [*Godw. de Præſul. HAving thus given as particular an Account as I can of the Biſhops, and Deans of London, and alſo of the Archdeacons, Dignitaries, and Prebendaries or Canons belonging to this Dioceſe, and Cathedral Church of S. Paul, I think it not impertinent, to give the Names of ſuch Archdeacons and Canons (for ſome ſuch I find) as are only called *Archidiaconi & Canonici S. Petty-Canons.

H. Paul. 252. THE Petty-Canons are Twelve in Number, they are called alſo Minor-Canons, ſome of which ought to be Prieſts. They are to be choſen, if it may be, and if any are fit, out of the Miniſters or Officers of the ſame Church. They are to be above all of good Life and Converſation; They ought to have a good Sound, and pleaſant Voice, and to have good skill in Singing.

Ibid 24. Theſe Twelve Petty-Canons had anciently their Habitation in diſtinct Houſes, ſome within the Precinct of the Church-yard, and ſome without; but at length through the Devotion to God's Service of divers particular Perſons were reduced together in a Common-Hall or Refectory, where they uſed to meet and dine, which Hall ſtood on the North-ſide of the Church, and formerly adjoined to a Place called Pardon-Chirchhagh.

And in

Pat. 18. Ric. II. p. 1. m. 3. 18. Ric. II. they obtained the King's Letters-Patents to be a Body Politick for the Future, and called the College of the Twelve Petty-Canons of S. Paul's-Church, whereof one to be the Warden; as alſo to have a Common-Seal, &c. At which time in Augmentation of their Maintenance, divers Lands and Rents were by the ſaid King's Licence granted to them. And for their

Pat. 24. H. VI. p. 1. m. 27. better ſupport, they had in 24. Hen. VI. the Church of S. Gregory appropriated to them.

Theſe Twelve Petty-Canons here follow in Order, with the Firſt-Fruits and Tenths their Offices are particularly charged with.

Of all theſe Churches within the Walls which were Burnt. I ſhall treat, not as they are united and annext to others; but diſtinctly and ſeparately, in an Alphabetical Order, as I treat of the Reſt.

S. Alban Woodſtreet, Rectory.

THis Pariſh is a Rectory, and takes its Name from its Dedication to S. Alban the Protomartyr of Great-Britain, (of whom farther when I treat of the once famous Abby of S. Albans in Hertfordſhire) it is ſituated in Woodſtreet, where it ſtands on the Eaſt-ſide of the Street near Love-Lane, in the Ward of Cripplegate within. It is ſubject to the Archdeacon in Subordination to the Biſhop in all Eccleſiaſtical Matters, ſaving only as to the proving of Wills and granting Adminiſtrations of Inteſtates Goods, and what depends thereupon, which belong to the Biſhop's Commiſſary.

Sto. Surv. 308.

Stow tells us, that this Church was very antient; which he gathers, not only from the Dedication of it to S. Alban, as aforeſaid, from the manner of turning the Arches in the Windows, and Heads of the Pillars, (which in his time appear'd very antique, and were about to be taken down, in order to be new-built) and from the Roman Bricks here and there inlaid among the Stones of the Building; but alſo from the Probability, that it is at leaſt of as antient ſtanding as K. Adelſtan the Saxon, (who began his Reign about 924.) and, as Tradition ſays, had his Houſe at the Eaſt-end hereof; and having a Door into Adelſtreet in this Pariſh, gave Name to the ſaid Street, which in all antient Evidences is written King-Adel-ſtreet. One great ſquare-Tower of this Houſe was remaining in Stow's time, to be ſeen at the North-corner of Love-lane as you come from Aldermanbury; which Tower was of the very ſame Stone, and manner of Building with S. Alban's Church.

Mat. Par. vitis Abb. S. Albani. p. 50.

In the time of Paul the 14th Abbot of S. Alban's A. 1077, there were many Churches in London belonging to that Abby, of which this of S. Alban was one; the Donation whereof he chang'd for the Patronage of another (but not nam'd) with the Abbot of Weſtminſter. It is ſaid there to be the Chappel of King Offa, (Founder of S. Alban's Abby) whoſe Royal Palace was contiguous to it; but thro' the Careleſneſs and Sloth of his Succeſſors, was by the unjuſt ſeizing or encroaching thereon by neighbouring Citizens, reduc'd (tho' ſtill retaining its antient Liberty) to a ſmall Houſe.

The Patronage of this Church appears to have been in antient time in the Maſter, Brethren and Siſters of the Hoſpital of S. James near Weſtminſter, and ſo continu'd till Eton-College near Windſor was founded by King Henry VI. and ſome time after his deceaſe, viz. till the Year 1465, for then they preſented to it. But upon the next avoidance it was in the Provoſt and Fellows of the ſaid College, in whoſe Gift it ſtill remains.

S. Alb. Woodſtreet, and S. Olave Silverſtreet, annext. St. 22. Car. II. Stat. 22, 23. Car. II.

This Church was burnt down in the late dreadful Conflagration of the City of London, A. 1666; and is ſince rebuilt, or rather repair'd, being for the moſt part erected on the Walls of the old Church, and is now made the Pariſh-Church of S. Alban in Woodſtreet, and S. Olave in Silverſtreet, by the Act of Parliament, 22. Car. 2. entitl'd, An Additional Act for the rebuilding of the City of London, uniting of Pariſhes, and rebuilding of the Cathedral, and Parochial Churches, within the City of London. And both together are made of the yearly Value of 170 l. to the Incumbent in lieu of Tythes, by another Act, 22, 23. Car. 2. entitl'd, An Act for the better Settlement of the Rectors, Vicars and Curates of the City of London, burnt by the late dreadful Fire there.

Sion Col. Mſ.

In Sion-College-Library there is a Manuſcript Book, entitl'd, An Abſtract of the Values of the Glebe, Tythes, and of the caſual Profits (communibus Annis) independent, and ariſing by Offerings at Eaſter, &c. Burials, Marriages and Churchings belonging to the ſeveral Parſonages, and Vicarages of the Pariſh-Churches in London and the Liberties thereof, Anno 1636.

By which it appears, that the yearly Profits of this Church of S. Alban were then valu'd as follows.

Tythes	100	00	00
Caſualties	30	00	00
Glebe	12	00	00
A Parſonage-Houſe	00	00	00
Tythes of S. Olave in Silverſtreet then valu'd at	58	00	00
Total of both	158	00	00
Both now by Act of Parliament	170	00	00
Both now more than before	12	00	00

In 1693, the Biſhop of London made a Parochial Viſitation in and throughout the City of London, and Liberties thereof, of all ſuch Pariſh-Churches as are within his Juriſdiction: In which Viſitation the Church-Wardens of this Pariſh preſented, "The Parſonage-Houſe burnt down in the late "dreadful Fire; the Ground on which it ſtood leaſed out for forty one "Years at 4 l. per Annum, and two Houſes built upon it; but no other "Glebe, ſave a ſmall ſlip at one End of the Church-Yard. In which Preſentment they give an Account of ſeveral Gifts to the Poor, but of none to the Church; and therefore I ſhall take no farther notice of it. Reg. Lond.

Alhallows.

Alhallows.

THE Feſtivals of Alhallows, or All-Saints, is yearly celebrated on the Kalends, or Firſt Day of November, which happen'd on this occaſion. Feaſt, 1. Nov.

The Emperor Phocas, at the deſire of Pope Boniface IV. commanded, that on the old Temple, which was called Pantheon, formerly erected in Honour of all the Pagan Gods by the Emperor Domitian, purging it from the Dregs of Idolatry, the Church of the Virgin Mary and of all the Martyrs ſhould be built; that where formerly the Worſhip, not of all Gods, but of all Devils was Celebrated; there afterwards ſhould be Celebrated the Memory of All-Saints; which from that time was ſolemniz'd in Rome, Firſt on the Kalends of November, which was about the Year of our Lord 608. Afterwards, about the Year of our Lord 834. by the Perſuaſion of Pope Gregory IV. the moſt Pious Emperor Ludovicus, ordained, with the Conſent of all the Biſhops of his Kingdom and Empire, that in France, the Feſtivity of All-Saints ſhould yearly on the ſaid Day be ſolemnly Celebrated for ever, which Holy Conſtitution the whole Church with reverend Love hath embraced.

There are three ſpecial Reaſons alledged for the Cauſe of the Solemnity of this Feaſt. 1. For the ſupply of other Saints Feaſts which are omitted. 2. For Satisfaction for the Negligence in the Celebration of them. 3. That by the Interceſſion of the Saints, the Prayers may be the more readily heard by God. For they feign, that on this Day all the Saints meet together purpoſely to intercede for Men. [Hoſpin. de Feſt. Chriſt.]

To the Honour and Commemoration of All-Saints (commonly written Alhallows) theſe Eight Churches in London following were dedicated.

Alhallows Barking Vicarage.

AT the Eaſt End on the North-ſide of Tower-ſtreet, and in Tower-ſtreet Ward is the fair Church of Alhallows-Barking, which ſtandeth in a large, but ſometime far larger Church-yard. It was dedicated to the Bleſſed Virgin Mary, and All-Saints. St. Surv. 130.

The Church was of old in the Gift of the Abbeſs and Convent of Barking, in Eſſex, whence (I ſuppoſe) for diſtinctions ſake from the other Churches in this City, which had the ſame Dedication, it was called Alhallows-Barking; and the Rectory being in antient time appropriate to that Monaſtery, here was a Vicarage thereupon ordained and endowed, which ſeems to be not long before the Year 1387. For in the Firſt Act which I find in the London Regiſtry, upon the Inſtitution of any Clerk to this Vicarage (which is of one Will. Coles, who was inſtituted March 2. that Year) it is thus Recorded, viz.
"—Ad vicariam perpetuam Eccleſiæ Parochialis de Berkingcherch, Lon"don, noviter fundatam, ſive Ordinatam. Braybr. 59.

The Patronage of this Vicarage continued ever ſince in the ſaid Abbeſs and Convent till their Suppreſſion; upon which the Advowſon thereof (inter alia) was given and granted by King Hen. VIII. in 37. Year of his Reign by was of exchange to the Archbiſhop of Canterbury and his Succeſſors, in whom it hath continued ever ſince; but is ſubject to the Archdeacon of London, ſaving only as to Wills and Adminiſtrations which belong to the Commiſſary. Col. Mr. Jo. Onſley. Arch. Com. London.

On the North ſide of this Church was antiently built a fair Chapel, founded by King Ric. I. confirmed and augmented by *Edw.*I. King *Edw.*IV. gave Licence to his Couſin John, Earl of Worceſter (*) to found there a Brotherhood for a Maſter and Brethren; and he gave to the Cuſtos of that Fraternity which was Sir John Scott, Thomas Colt, John Tate and John Croke, the Priory of Totingbecke, and the Advowſon of the Pariſh-Church of Stretham, in the County of Surry, with all the Members and Appurtenances, and a Part of the Priory of Okeburne, in Wiltſhire, both Priories Alien, and appointed it to be called, The King's Chapel or Chantry, in Capella beatæ Mariæ de Barking.

But what was moſt remarkable in the ſaid Chapel, was the Image of the Glorious Virgin erected there by Edw. I. The Story of which as I find it among the Archives of the Biſhop of London. [Lib. Gilb. f. 194.] You may read at large in the Inſtrument tranſcribed in the Appendix. The Purport whereof is as followeth:

Append. N.1.

In the Chapel above-mentioned King Edw. I. before the Death of King Hen. III. his Father, being directed by a Viſion in his ſleep, cauſed the Image of the Glorious Virgin to be erected, upon his viſiting whereof five times every Year, when in England, and keeping the Chapel in repair, he was aſſured by the ſaid Viſion to be moſt Victorious over all Nations wherever he was, to be King of England when his Father was Dead, and to be a Subduer of the Welſh, and all Scotland. The like ſucceſs was promiſed to every juſt Engliſh Monarch upon the like Performances. After this, the ſaid K. Edward voluntarily making Oath before the Pope's Legate, that all things ſhewn unto him in his ſleep as aforeſaid, he had hitherto found to be moſt true; they thereupon, that the ſaid Chapel might with due Honour be frequented, releaſed 40 Days Penance to all true confeſſing Penitents, who out of Devotion ſhould come and contribute to the Lights, Repairs, and Ornaments of the ſaid Chapel; and for the Soul of King Richard, whoſe Heart lay buried there under the High Altar (cujus Cor in eadem Capella ſub ſummo Altari requieſcit humatum are the very Words in the Inſtrument) and for the Souls of all the Faithful deceaſed; ſhould ſay the Lord's-Prayer, with the Salutation in Engliſh, as often as they ſhould with a pious Mind ſay the ſame.

One thing I cannot but take ſpecial notice of in this Inſtrument (i.e.) The Intimation it gives that King Richard's Heart lay buried in this Chapel under the High Altar: Becauſe the generality, and moſt Authentick of our Hiſtorians tho' Stow ſays, Some, (but names them not) have written, that King Richard's Heart was buried here (in this Chapel) under the High Altar, agree, that King Richard's Heart was buried at Roan, according to his own Will and Command, at leaſt do not contradict it. What Credit therefore may be given to the ſaid Paſſage, or indeed to the whole Inſtrument, I leave to the Reader's Judgment. However, this Image of our Lady of Barking, was of great Repute; for great concourſe of People came hither to her in Pilgrimage, till it was ſuppreſs'd.

St. Surv. 131. King Richard III. new-built the ſaid Chapel, and Founded therein a College of Prieſts, &c. which was ſuppreſs'd in 1548. and the Ground employed as a Garden during the Reigns of K. Edw. VI. and Q. Mary, and part of Q. Elizabeth, till at laſt a ſtrong Frame of Timber and Brick was ſet thereon, and employed as a Stow-houſe of Merchant's Goods brought from beyond Sea by Sir William Winter.

Braybrok. 103. In this Church was a Chantry founded by Adam Blakeney in 1295. and endowed with Five Marks per Ann. And another founded by John de Cambridg, in 3. Edw. III. and being augmented by Godwyn-Turke, was endowed in the whole with 6 Marks per Ann. both which were at the Petition of Will. Bretford, Hen. Gyſors, Joh. Chynnore, and Will. Aſhford Patrons of the ſaid Chantries; united and annex'd for the Maintenance of one Chaplain to celebrate Divine Offices for ever for the Souls of the ſaid Founders, and all the Faithful deceaſed,

* This was John, Lord Tibetot, or Tiptoft, who was advanced to the Title of Earl of Worceſter, July 16. 27. Hen. 6. He was a great Traveller, and a learned Man, and wrote divers learned Tracts, whereof Bale and Pitts make mention. He was great with Edw. IV. was Treaſurer of his Exchequer; then Steward of his Houſhold, after that Deputy of Ireland under George, Duke of Clarence. In 10. Edw. IV. he was conſtituted Lieutenant of Ireland, then Conſtable of England, and again Treaſurer of the Exchequer. But having been a firm Adherer to the Houſe of York, and the Scene changing, through the Potency of Nevil, Earl of Warwick (King Edward being forced to fly beyond Sea, and K. Henry reſtored) he was neceſſitated to ſhift for himſelf; ſo that being found on the Top of an high Tree, in the Foreſt of Waybridg, in Huntingdonſhire, he was brought to London, and judged to ſuffer Death by John, Earl of Oxford, whereupon he left his Head on Tower-Hill, and was buried at Black-Friers, in that City. [Dug. Bar. 2. To. p. 41.]

ſed, and Buried in this Church; which Union was made and confirm'd by Robert Braybroke, Biſhop of London, Dec. 18. 1392.

Here was likewiſe another Chantry founded in 1388. by John Crolys, and Tho. Pike; and in the ſaid Chapel was likewiſe a Chantry for the Soul of Sir John Riſhley, Knight. Sto. & Supra.

Here have been ſome Perſons of conſiderable Note and Quality buried, which are, I think, fit to be taken notice of (namely) John Fiſher, Biſhop of Rocheſter; who for denying to acknowledge the King's Supremacy was beheaded on Tower-hill, June 22. 1535. and his Head ſet on London-Bridge; but his Body buried in this Church-yard.

Henry Howard, bearing the Title of Earl of Surrey, in his Father's Life-time, as a Dukes eldeſt Son, who was beheaded on Tower-hill, Jan. 19. 1546. (38. *Hen.*8.) was buried in this Church (Weaver ſaith, In the Tower-Chapel;) but afterwards tranſlated to Framlingham, in Suffolk, where he lieth honourably intomb'd. He was the firſt (ſaith Mr. Cambden) of our Engliſh Nobility, that did illuſtrate his Birth with the Beauty of Learning; and his Learning (ſaith Weaver) with the Knowledge of divers Languages. Dug. Bar. 2. To. 275.

Here was likewiſe buried, in the Chancel, the Body of that moſt Reverend, Renowned, and Religious Prelate, Archbiſhop Laud, who was beheaded on Tower-hill, on Jan. 10. 1644. where his ſaid Body remained till July, 1663. at which time being removed to Oxon, it was on the 24th of the ſame Month depoſited in a little Vault built with Brick, in S. John's-College-Chapel, near the High-Altar. [Vid. inter Epiſc. Lond.] Ath. Ox. 2. V. 32.

In the Year 1636. the yearly Profits of this Vicarage were return'd as followeth: Sion Coll. MS.

Tythes ——	126	00	00
Caſualties ——	10	00	00

But out of thoſe Tythes the Vicar for the time being, pays to the King Ten Pounds per Ann.

In 1639. there was great Offence taken by ſome of this Pariſh at the Picture or Image of the Holy Ghoſt, and a Croſs over the Font, the Removal of the Communion-Table out of the antient accuſtomed Place, and certain Images on the Rails placed round about it, and a Petition thereupon made to the Biſhop, who referring it to his Chancellor Dr. Duck, after ſeveral Hearings before him, and Propoſals made and conſented to by the Petitioners on one ſide, and the Vicar and Veſtry on the other; ordered, the Images or Pictures over the Canopy of the Font, and upon the Rails round about the Communion-Table to be taken down, and other Ornaments ſet up in the Place thereof. I thought it not impertinent to take notice of this Matter, becauſe of the Noiſe it made in thoſe times. Reg. Lond. lib. Vic. Gen. 13. p. 62.

On Jan. 4. 1649. this Church was much defaced and ruined by the blowing up of 27 Barrels of Powder in a Ship-Chandlers-houſe over againſt the South end of it. The Steeple was new Built in 1659. Reg. Lond.

In the aforeſaid Parochial Viſitation in 1693. the Vicar and Church-Wardens preſented, The Vicarage-Houſe burnt down by the Great Fire of London (tho' the Church was not) and rebuilt by Dr. Layfield then Incumbent, upon a Leaſe of 40 Years to his Son Dr. Cha. Layfield; the Houſe lett ſometimes for 70 l. per Ann. and the reſerve or Ground-Rent 4 l. yearly, into which is included the whole Glebe-Land; ſome of which being on the other ſide of the Church (beſides what the Vicarage-Houſe ſtands on) and yielding 40 s. yearly.

Near Two Years after the ſaid Viſitation, the ſaid Vicar gave in this following account of the Gift-Sermons belonging to this Church. Ibid.

Four quarterly Sermons to be preached on Chriſtmas-Day, Lady-Day, Midſummer-Day, and Michaelmas-Day, 10 s. per Sermon immediately after preached, payable by the Church-VVardens, which ariſes, and they are to gather, with other Rents and Gifts to the Poor, given by Mr. Hugh Bullock in his laſt VVill, from the Bell-Alehouſe in Mincing-lane.

Another Sermon on the 5th of November, given by Mr. Axtell, of 30 s. payable by the Church-VVardens, out of the Rent of a Houſe in Tower-ſtreet over againſt the Church, now inhabited by Mr. Meton, one of the Veſtry.

Another of 20 s. given by Mr. James Hixon, to be preach'd on New-Years-Day, and payable juſt after by the Brewer's-Company.

Another of 20 s. payable by the Truſtees of Mr. Will. Smith, late Curate of this Pariſh, from a Houſe of his Building upon part of the Glebe-Land.

Sto. Sur. 392.

This Church was ſuſpended for a Month, in 23. Hen. VIII. upon the falling out of Two Prieſts in it, and one drawing Blood of the other; they were both committed to Priſon, and on Oct. 15. being enjoyned Penance, went before a general Proceſſion Bare-headed, Bare-footed, and Bare-legg'd before the Children, with Beads, and Books in their Hands from S. Pauls through Cheapſide, Cornhill, &c.

The Church here had ſometime a fair ſpired Steeple of Stone, which on Sept. 5. 1559. about Mid-day was ſtruck with a great Tempeſt of Lightning and Thunder about 9 or 10 Foot below the Top, and tho' but little damnified thereby, was ſhortly after taken down for ſparing the Charges of Reparation.

Ibid. 820.

Thomas Beaumont, Salter, on the South-ſide of the Chancel in a little Part of this Church founded a Chapel (called the Salter's Chapel) in the midſt whereof in a fair Marble-Tomb, he and his two Wives lay buried. He died Aug. 14. 1457. having been Sheriff of London in 1442. and a Worthy Benefactor to the Salter's Company.

Ibid. 821.

Alhallows Great, Rectory.

THIS Pariſh-Church is ſituate on the South-ſide of Thames-ſtreet, in Downgate (or Dowgate) Ward, not far from the Steel-Yard, and call'd Alhallows the Moor (now Alhallows the Great) to diſtinguiſh it from Alhallows the Leſs, in the ſame Street, next unto it. It is allſo call'd Alhallows ad Fœnum, in the Ropery, becauſe Hay was ſold near thereunto, at Hay-Wharf, and Ropes, in old Time made and ſold in the High-ſtreet. The Church (dedicated to All Saints) is a Rectory, and the Pariſh ſubject to the Archdeacon.

Sto. Survey.
Archid. Lon.

The Patronage of this Church was, in antient Time, in the Noble Family of the Le Deſpenſers, and from them it came to the Beauchamps, Earls of Warwick, by the Marriage of Richard Beauchamp, Earl of Warwick, to Iſabel his Second Wife, Daughter of Thomas le Deſpenſer, Earl of Glouceſter (beheaded by the Rabble at Briſtol, 1. Henry IV.) who, by the Death of her Brother Richard, and elder Siſter Elizabeth, without Iſſue, became Heir to all his Lands; which Thomas was Son and Heir to Edward le Deſpenſer, Lord of Glamorgan, Patron of this Church, An. 1361. as was Elizabeth, his Widow, in 1382. and 1397. by reaſon of her Dower, as will appear hereafter. From the Beauchamps it came to Richard Nevil, Earl of Warwick and Salisbury, by his Marriage with Anne, the Daughter of the aforeſaid Richard Beauchamp, Earl of Warwick, who was Couſin and Heir to Anne (Daughter and Heir to Henry, Duke of Warwick) Patroneſs of this Church (but in her Minority) in 1148. But this Richard Nevil, Earl of Warwick and Salisbury, being ſlain at Barnet-Field, 11. Edw. IV. this, with the moiety of his Eſtate, came to Iſabel, his Eldeſt Daughter, married to George, Duke of Clarence, and after both their Deaths, to her Son Edward (afterwards beheaded on Tower-Hill, 15. Hen. VII.) At laſt, having been, it ſeems, ſome time in Edw. IV. it came to Henr. VII. by the aforeſaid Anne, Widow of the aforeſaid Richard Nevil, Earl of Warwick and Salisbury, who being reſtored to her Inheritance by Parliament, 3. Hen. VII. with Power to Alien, ſetled the ſame upon Henr. VII. and his Iſſue Male; by which means the Advowſon of this Church came at laſt to the Crown, where it continu'd, till by way of Exchange, it was paſt away (inter alia) to the Archbiſhop of Canterbury, and his Succeſſors, by King Henry VIII. in the 37. of his Reign; and they have continued trons thereof ever ſince.

About the Year 1396. or ſomewhat before, there was a Chantry founded by Ric. de Preſton, Citizen and Grocer of London, for the Souls of his Father and Mother, himſelf and his Two Wives, and others, and endow'd with Ten Marks per Ann. out of certain Tenements he had in this Pariſh, for the Maintenance of One perpetual Chaplain of the Altar of S. Katharine in this Church.

Braybroke, 150.

Here was likewiſe another Chantry founded for the Souls of Sir Nic. Lovin, Knight, and Dame Margaret, his Wife. But about what Time founded, or how endow'd, I find not.

This was a fair Church, with a large Cloiſter on the South-ſide thereof, about the Church-Yard; and with much Coſt beſtow'd on the Steeple, was in many parts of it repair'd, and throughout richly and worthily beautified, in the Years 1627. and 1629.

Sto. Survey, 251. 281.

But it was burnt down in the late dreadful Fire. However, it is ſince rebuilt, and, by Act of Parliament, made the Parochial-Church for this, and the Pariſh of Alhallows the Leſs, which is annext to it; and both together are made of the yearly Value of 200*l.* in lieu of Tyths, to the Incumbent.

Sion-Coll. MS. In 1636. the yearly Profits of this Church were returned as follows:

Tyths	140	00	00
Caſualties	20	00	00
Glebe	14	00	00
A Parſonage-Houſe.

Alhallows the Leſs, is an Impropriation, and no Tyths belong to the Curate. But 200 l. per Ann. being allotted by Act of Parliament to the Incumbent, in lieu of the Tyths of both Pariſhes, it is augmented in Tyths more than before — 60 : 00 : 00

Reg. Lond. In 1693. The Churchwardens preſented Two ſmall Tenements belonging to the Rector of this Pariſh before the Fire, in 1666. but never uſed for a Parſonage-Houſe, ſo far as they know, but lett out to Tenants, which were burnt down in the great Fire, and lett out, to be built upon, by Dr. Tho. White, the then Incumbent, to Thomas South, by Leaſe, coming at Midſummer 1670. for Forty Years, at 10 l. per Ann. and there are now a Houſe and Stable built upon the ſaid Ground; and other Parſonage-Houſe or Ground they knew of none.

They did likewiſe ſpecifie ſeveral Gifts, but not the Uſes. They are yearly Rent-Charges upon Houſes, which I preſume are for the Uſe of the Poor, and none to the Church, therefore I omit them.

Alhallows Leſs, Curacy.

Sto.Surv.251. THIS Church ſtood on the South-ſide of Thames-ſtreet, in Dowgate-Ward, to the Eaſt of Alhallows the Great, and by ſome was antiently call'd Alhallows on the Cellars, in Latin Records, Eccleſia Omnium Sanctorum ſuper Cellarium, becauſe it ſtood on Vaults; as alſo, Eccleſia Omnium Sanctorum Parva, to diſtinguiſh it from Great Alhallows; and was ſaid by ſome, to be built by Sir John Poultney, or Pountney. The Steeple and Choir of this Church ſtood on an arch'd Gate, being the Entry to a great Houſe, call'd Cold Harbrough. The Choir being formerly fallen down, was again, at length, in 1594. new built by the Pariſhioners.

ibid. 252. Philip S. Clere gave Two Meſſuages pertaining to Cold Harbrough, in the Ropery, towards the enlarging of this Pariſh-Church and Church-Yard, in 20. Ric. II.

This was anciently a Rectory, in the Gift of the Biſhop of Wincheſter, till Sir John Poultney founded a College in the Church of S. Laurence Poultney, about 20. Ed. III. and finding no Preſentation to this Church after 1334. induces me to believe, that the ſaid Sir John Poultney, who appropriated it to his ſaid College, purchaſed the Advowſon of this Church, and new built it.

It was burnt down in the late dreadful Fire, ſince which it was annext to the Church of Great Alhallows, and the Site thereof, with the Church-Yard, made a Burying-place for the Inhabitants of this Pariſh.

This is now (and, I ſuppoſe, ever ſince it was appropriated to the ſaid College of S. Laurence Poultney, hath been) neither Rectory nor a Vicarage; but a Donative or Curacy, and pays neither Firſt-Fruits, Tenths, nor Procurations, ſaving only to the Archdeacon of London 2 s. 6 d. to whoſe Juriſdiction it hath been always ſubject. Archid. Lon.

Collect. Mr. W. Grimes. This Rectory and Pariſh-Church was granted by Queen Elizabeth, in the Nineteenth of her Reign, to Will. Verle, for the term of 21 Years; and after that, by King James I. in the Second of his Reign, to Richard Blake, and others, and their Heirs for ever in free Soccage.

Sion-Coll. MS. As to the annual Profits of this Church; it was thus return'd in 1636. an Impropriation; Mr. Shaw hath the Inheritance, valu'd per Ann. at 30 l. beſides the Vicar's and Curate's Profits, chiefly maintain'd by the Pariſh.

Gifts. Mrs. Eliz. Baniſter, by Deed dated Sept. 24. 1562. gave 5 l per Ann. 15 s. whereof is to be paid for a Sermon on Chriſtmas-Day every Year, 3 s. to the Clerk, and 2 s. to the Sexton, and the other 4 l. to the Relief of the Poor.

Roger Daniel, by his Will, dated in Aug. 1624. gave 8 l. per Ann. 5 l. whereof was allotted for Twelve Sermons yearly, viz. One Sermon to be preach'd upon every Firſt Thurſday in the Month; and the other 3 l. to the Poor of the Pariſh.

The Patrons and Rectors of this Church, whilſt it was a Rectory, as I find them in the London-Regiſtry, are as follows;

Alhallows

Alhallows Honylane, Rectory.

THIS is a Rectory, and was a ſmall Pariſh-Church, which ſtood in Cheap-Ward, on the North-ſide of Cheapſide, in Hony-Lane; a place not ſo call'd for the Sweetneſs thereof, being very Narrow, and ſomewhat dark, but rather from the often Waſhing and Sweeping to keep it clean.

Sto.Surv.282.

The Patronage of this Church was of old in the Giſt of private Perſons, Citizens of London, the laſt whereof Tho. Knoles, who in 1399. was Mayor of London; and being by Company a Grocer, in all likelihood either he or his Heirs gave the Advowſon thereof to that Company: For it appears by what follows, that it has been in their Patronage ever ſince the Year 1471. and probably for ſome Years before. It is ſubject to the Archdeacon, ſaving only as to Wills and Adminiſtrations, which belong to the Commiſſary.

Archid.Commiſſar. Lond.

Sir John Norman, Draper, Mayor of London in 1453. was buried in this Church. He was Son of John Norman, of Banbury in Oxfordſhire; and was the Firſt Mayor that was row'd by Water to Weſtminſter to take his Oath: He caus'd a Barge to be made at his own Charge, and every Company had ſmall Barges well deck'd and trim'd to paſs along with him; for Joy whereof the Watermen made a Song in Praiſe of him, beginning thus, Row thy Boat Norman, &c.

Sto. Sur. 567.

The Orig. of the Mayor's going to Weſtminſter by Water to be ſworn.

This Church being burnt down in the late dreadful Fire, was annext to S. Mary-le-Bow. And on the ſite thereof, by Act of Parliament, is now part of Honey-Lane-Market.

Vid. S. Mary-le-Bow.

In 1636. the yearly Profits of this Church were return'd as follows:

Sion-College MS.

Tyths	40	00	00
Caſualties	04	00	00
Glebe	13	00	00
Tyths now of this Pariſh, S. Mary-le-Bow, and S. Pancras, as united, are yearly	200	00	00

In 1693. the Rector and Churchwardens preſented a Parſonage-Houſe before the late dreadful Fire, but then burnt down, and the Ground thereof ſince ſwallow'd up by the Market. And the Pariſh of S. Mary-le-Bow (to which this is united) hath receiv'd all the Moneys paid for the Site of the Ground of the Church and Church-yard.

f Tho. Gerrard, or Garret, was of the Univerſity of Oxford, where he was admitted Bachelour of Arts, Ann. 1517. This Garret (whom Fox, in his Acts and Monuments, ſtiles Curate) but was indeed Rector, as appears above, being much addicted to the Opinions of Martin Luther, was at length, after ſeveral Flights from place to place, and ſculking up and down (having diſpers'd ſeveral Books, which were prohibited, among his Acquaintants and Contemporaries at Oxford) taken up, and impriſoned; and at laſt, attainted in Parliament, and burnt in Smithfield, with Dr. Rob. Barnes, and Will. Jerome, [An. 1540. Athen. Ox. I. Vol. 658.]

g Ric. Beneſe. Of both theſe Names, and about this Time, I find Three Perſons: 1. Ric. de Beneſe, a Secular-Chaplain, who, in 1519. ſupplicated the venerable Congregation at Oxford, for the Degree of Bachelour of Arts. 2. Ric. Beneſe, Clerk, Parſon of Long Ditton, in Surry, who by his Will, dated Nov. 3. 1546. and prov'd Oct. 20. 1547. bequeath'd his Body to be buried in the Yard belonging to the Church there. 3. Sir Ric. de Beneſe, ſometime Canon of Merton-Priory; but which of theſe Three was the ſame with our Ric. Beneſe, Rector of this Church, I cannot ſay; however I am apt to think it was the laſt; becauſe Tho. Paynell, who is the next that appears to have ſucceeded our Rector, wrote a Preface to a Book of Meaſuring of Land, &c. printed at London, in the Time of Hen. VIII. which Book was written by the ſaid Ric. de Beneſe, Canon of Merton; but corrected and made fit for the Preſs by the ſaid Paynell. [Ath. Ox. I. Vol. 112.]

h Tho. Paynell, or Paganell, was deſcended of an ancient Family of his Name in Lancaſhire; made a Canon-Regular of Merton-Priory, in Surry, in his juvenile Years; ſent thence to the College of S. Mary the Virgin, in Oxford, where he improv'd much in divine Learning; return'd to his Monaſtery, and a little before the Diſſolution of that, and others, became Prior of a certain Monaſtery, of Canon-Regulars, near London, as Bale ſays, tho' the Name of the Place he tells us not; but being ſoon after ejected, had a Penſion allow'd him during his Life. He wrote and tranſlated ſeveral Books, what they were may be ſeen in Ath. Ox. By a Will which my Author hath ſeen, and taketh to be made for this Tho. Paynell, he concludes, that he died in the Winter-time, 1563. but where buried he could not tell. [Ath. Ox. I. Vol. 112.]

Alhallows Lombardſtreet.

THIS Pariſh-Church, in Latin Records, is call'd Eccleſia Omnium Sanctorum Garſcherch, and ſometimes Gerſcherch; in Engliſh, Alhallows Graſſe-Church in Lombardſtreet, for that the Graſs-Market went down that way, and is ſituate near the North-Eaſt Corner of that Street, behind the Houſes in Langborn-Ward.

Sto. Survey, 219.

This is a Rectory, and one of the thirteen Peculiars belonging to the Archbiſhop of Canterbury; in which Pariſh, one Meſſuage and the Parochial-Church, were given to the Church of Canterbury, by one Brihtmerus, a Citizen of London, Anno 1053, or 1054. For thus I find it in Somner, "A. D. MLIII. " (in Monaſticon) MLIV. Brihtmerus Civis London, dedit Eccleſiæ Cantuar. " Meſſuagium ſuum apud Gerſcherche, & de Licentia, & Conſenſu Stigandi " Archiepiſcopi, & Godrici Decani, dedit eidem Eccleſiam Omnium Sanctorum. " Teſtimonio Lieſſtani Portreve, & aliorum.

Antiq. Cant. 219.
Mon. Ang. Vol. I. p. 22.

Near 200 Years ſince this Ch. was new built, John Warner, Armourer, and then Grocer, Sheriff in 1494. built the South-Iſle; his Son, Robert Warner, finiſh'd it in 1516. The Pewterers were Benefactors towards the North-Iſle, the Steeple, or Bell-Tower thereof, was finiſh'd in 1544. The fair Stone-Porch thereof, was brought from the late diſolv'd Monaſtery of S. John of Jeruſalem, near Smithfield, ſo was the Frame of their Bells; but the Bells being bought, were never brought thither, by reaſon that one old Warner, Draper of that Pariſh, deceaſing, his Son, Mark Warner, would not perform what his Father had begun and appointed; ſo that fair Steeple had but one Bell, as Friers were wont to uſe.

Sto. ut ſupra.

The Patronage of this Church continu'd in the Prior and Chapter of Canterbury, till the Diſſolution of the Priory there, by King Henry VIII. in the Year 1540. at which time, the Prior and Monks were ejected and diſplac'd, and in lieu of them, a Dean and 12 Prebendaries plac'd, in whoſe Gift, as a Dean and Chapter, this Church continues to this Day.

Saints, he voided by his Death, as above. [Reg. Lond.]

p Fra. Dee was Maſter of Arts, and Fellow of S. John's College in Cambridge, and incorporated in the ſame Degree at Oxford, July 12 1603. in 1606. he was admitted Rector of Trinity the Leſs, which he reſign'd in 1620. having been admitted to this Ch. above ſix Years, as appears above. [Reg. Lond.] He was the Son of David Dee of Shropſhire, of whom you may read among the Prebends of Conſumpt. per mare; whilſt the ſaid Francis was Rector of this Pariſh, he took the Degree of Doctor of Divinity, was Chancellor of the Ch. of Salisbury, and in 1630. was made Dean of Chicheſter. In 1634. Apr. 9. he was elected Biſhop of Peterborough, and on May 18. following, he was Conſecrated, and inſtall'd by Proxy on the 28. of the ſame Month, being then eſteem'd a Perſon of a pious Life, and of a very affable Behaviour. He died, after he had been twice married, Oct. 8. 1638. and was buried at the upper End of the Choir, belonging to his own Cathedral-Church, near to the Epiſcopal-Seat. A little before his Death, he gave to the Maſter and Seniors of S. John's-College aforeſaid, the impropriate Parſonage of Pegham in Suſſex, held by Leaſe of the Cath. Ch. of Canterbury, for the maintaining of two Fellows and two Scholars therein for ever, the Scholars to be elected out of Peterborough-School. [Ath. Ox. Vol. I. p. 789.

q Joh. Weſton, was for his Loyalty ſequeſtred by the Rebels, about 1642. [Merc. Ruſt. p. 253.]

Alhallows Staining, Rectory, Curacy.

ON the South-ſide of Langborne-Ward, and ſomewhat within Mark-Lane, on the South-ſide thereof, is this Pariſh-Church of Alhallows, commonly call'd Stane-Church, for a Difference (as may be ſuppos'd) from other Churches of that Name in this City, which of old time were built of Timber, but ſince were built of Stone, for Stan, in the Saxon Language, ſignifieth a Stone. It is ſubject to the Archdeacon, ſaving only as to Wills and Adminiſtrations, which belong to the Commiſſary. Sto. Surv. 222.

This was of old a Rectory, and in the Patronage of the de Walthams, and after them, of William Hyneland Prieſt, who preſented to it in 1366. as will appear hereafter. Archid. Commiſſar. Lond.

But the next Year, on 14. Kal. of March 1367. this Rectory and Pariſh Ch. was by Simon Sudbury, Biſhop of London, at the Petition of the Abbot and Convent of this Abby of Graces, near the Tower of London, then newly founded for ſeveral Reaſons therein expreſſed, appropriated to them and their Succeſſors for ever, with Power for them to convert the Profits of this Church, to their own Uſe, and to ſupply the Cure, either with a profeſs'd Monk, or a Secular-Prieſt, removable at their Pleaſure. The ſaid Biſhop, reſerving out of the Profits of this Church, an annual Penſion of vi s. viii d. to himſelf and Succeſſors for their Indemnity, and iii s. iv d. per annum, to the Dean and Chapter of S. Paul's, and their Succeſſors. Sudbury, 105. Penſions.

About the Reign of Edward III. Will. de Greenſted founded a perpetual Chantry in this Church. Sudbury, 20.

About the Year 1615. the North-Iſle of this Ch. was enlarged by taking down the Veſtry by Licence from the Ordinary. Lib. Vic. Gen. 9. p. 182.

And John Mun or Man, Citizen and Mercer of London (who died that Year) gave 100 l. towards the Repair of this Church, which in 1630. was repaired and beautified at the Charge of the Pariſh. Sto. ut ſupra.

This Church was not burnt down in the late dreadful Fire, but ſome Years after, the Body of it fell down on a ſudden, but is again new built at the Charge (for the moſt part, if not wholly) of the Pariſhioners.

Sion-College, MS. In 1636. the yearly Profits of this Ch. were return'd as follows, viz. Hugh Bancroft Impropriator, Fee-Farm to the King. The Impropriation leas'd to the Pariſh for 70 l. per ann. Worth per ann. 86 l. 6 s. The Pariſh to diſcharge the Cure.

Reg. Lond. Here was no Parſonage-Houſe then return'd, but in 1693. the Miniſter and Church-Wardens in their Preſentment ſay, There is a Parſonage-Houſe, in which their Miniſter now dwells. They likewiſe gave an Account of their Benefactors, among which, thoſe that gave to pious Uſes, or partly thereto, are as followeth. John Aſh Eſq;, in 1656. gave to the Church v l. Mr. Tho. Pulley, to the Miniſter and Poor, xv l. Mr. Will. Winter, in 1671. for the Education of ſix Youths, xxx l.

This Ch. is now a Donative or Curacy, in the Gift of the Company of Grocers, to whom, probably, it was given by George Bingly, or his Heirs, for I find, that on Oct. 7. 4 Jac. I. he and others had a Grant of this Rectory and Pariſh-Church to be held of the Crown in Socage.

Procurations. This being a Donative, pays no Firſt-Fruits nor Tenths to the King; but (beſides the Penſions above-mention'd) is chargeable with vi s. vi d. Procurations to the Biſhop, and xviii d. to the Archdeacon.

The Rectors and Patrons of this Church before it was appropriated, are as followeth:

Sto. Surv. 184. THIS Pariſh Church is ſo call'd from ſtanding cloſe to the Wall of this City. It is in Broadſtreet-Ward, and ſtands Eaſtward from the Little-Poſtern leading into Moor-Fields, and not far diſtant from it. It was repair'd and beautified at the Charge of the Pariſhoners in 1613. and again in 1627.

Archid. Lond. This is a Rectory, and the Patronage thereof was antiently in the Priory and Convent of the Holy-Trinity, London; but upon the Diſſolution of that Houſe it came to the Crown, in which it hath continued ever ſince; and in matters Eccleſiaſtical is ſubject to the Archdeacon.

S. Auguſtin-Papey, Rectory.

Sto. Surv. 166. IN former times there was a Pariſh-Church in this City, call'd S. Auguſtin-Papey, which was annext afterwards to the aforeſaid Church of Alhallows the Wall, which Church of S. Auguſtin ſtood againſt the North-End of S. Mary-ſtreet (now call'd S. Mary-Axe) in Limeſtreet-Ward, and was of old call'd, S. Auguſtin in the Wall, becauſe it ſtood adjoyning to the Wall of the City; Ibid. 159. otherwiſe, S. Auguſtin-Papey, or the Poor, bearing that Name in Records, in the Reign of Edward III. near which Church there was a Houſe, wherein was kept a Fraternity or Brotherhood of S. Charity, and S. John-Evangeliſt, call'd the Papey, or poor impotent Prieſts (for in ſome Languages Prieſts are call'd Papes) founded (ſaith Stow) in 1430. by William Oliver, Cleave William Barnaby and John Stafford, Chaplains or Chantry-Prieſts in London, for a Maſter, two Wardens, Chaplains, Chantry-Prieſts, Conducts, and other Brethren and Siſters, that ſhould be admitted into the Church of S. Auguſtin-Papey in the Wall, which Church, in 1430. or thereabouts, was allow'd to the Brethren of the Papey, which Brethren becoming Lame, or otherwiſe falling into great Poverty, were here reliev'd, ſo as to have Chambers, with certain Allowances of Bread, Drink and Coals, and one old Man and his Wiſe to ſee them ſerv'd, and to keep the Houſe clean. This Brotherhood (among others) was ſuppreſs'd in the Reign of Edward VI.

Grey, 50. In the Reign of Henry VI. the Revenues of this Church were grown ſo mean, that no Prieſt would accept thereof, for which Cauſe, principally, the Prior and Convent of the Monaſtery of the Holy-Trinity, London, being Patrons, as well of this Church of S. Auguſtin, as that of Alhallows the Wall, procur'd William Grey, then Biſhop of London, to unite and appropriate this Church to that of Alhallows the Wall; after which, I ſuppoſe (for the Inſtrument of Appropriation hath no Date) it was, that the ſame was allow'd to the Brethren of the Papey, as is above-mention'd; for, from the time of the ſaid Union (which muſt be between the Years 1426. and 1431. for during that time only, the ſaid William Grey was Biſhop of London) the Rector of Alhallows (who was alſo become this Pariſh-Prieſt, by reaſon of the ſaid Union) was enjoyn'd only once in a Year, viz. on the Day of the Dedication of this Church of S. Auguſtin, ſolemnly to celebrate that Feaſt in it with Maſſes and other Divine Offices, according as it had been accuſtom'd in times before, which Rector of Alhallows was likewiſe to undergo all the Burthens of this Church of S. Auguſtin, both Ordinary and Extraordinary, which the Rector of the ſame was chargeable with before the ſaid Union, as may be ſeen more at large in the Inſtrument it ſelf, regiſtred in Lib. Grey, fol. 50.

Sto. Surv. 166. Upon the Suppreſſion of the Fraternity of the Papey, this Church was pull'd down, and in place thereof, a Stable and Hay-Loft, &c. and after that a Dwelling-Houſe was built.

Before the uniting this Church to that of Alhallows, I find theſe Rectors of S. Auguſtin-Papey, in the London Regiſtry, as follows:

Nom. R. Lib.	Rectores.	Patroni.
50	Ste. de Benyton, Cl. 13. Apr. 1321.	Prior & Conventus Monaſterii S. Trinitatis, Lond.

S. ALPH.

S. ALPHAGE.

THERE is only one Church in London dedicated to this Saint, of whom take this ſhort Account.

S. Alphage or Elphege, was born of great Parentage, and ſpent his younger Years in the Monaſtery of Hirſt, where he firſt entred into Religion; after his departure thence, he became Prior of Glaſtenbury (as Malmsbury ſaith) which Place, after a Seaſon, he left, and gave himſelf to a very ſtrict kind of Life at Bath, for which he was ſo much admir'd (the rather becauſe he was a Perſon of great Lineage) as many went about to imitate him, and joyning themſelves to him, made him their Governour, by the Name of Abbot. Having liv'd ſo a certain ſpace, he was call'd to the Biſhoprick of Wincheſter, Anno 984. where he continu'd 22 Years, and Anno 1006. was remov'd to Canterbury. He was a Man of wonderful Abſtinence, ſpent his time altogether in Prayer, Study and other neceſſary Buſineſs, and what with Preaching, and Example of Holy Life, he converted many unto Chriſt. At length in the Year 1012. it happen'd the Danes to be diſappointed of certain Tributes, for want whereof, they ſpoil'd and burnt the City and Church of Canterbury, of the Monks and People thereof, they put nine in ten to the Sword. As for the Archbiſhop, they kept him in Priſon ſeven Months, tormented him, and at laſt put him to Death at Greenwich on 13. Kal. of May (where afterwards that Pariſh-Church was built and dedicated to his Memory.) His Body was firſt buried in S. Paul's Church in London; afterwards carried to Canterbury by the Command of King Knute, and interr'd. He ſat ſix Years Archbiſhop, was afterwards made a Saint, and allow'd the 19th of April for the Celebration of his Memory.

S. Alphage, Rectory.

AS to the Pariſh-Church of S. Alphage, it is a Rectory, and before the Diſſolution of Religious Houſes by King Henry VIII. ſtood near unto the Wall of the City, by Cripplegate, in Cripplegate-Ward within, but was pull'd down, and made a Carpenter's-Yard; and one Iſle of the Church, that did belong to Elſing-Spittle, which I take to be the South-Iſle, the North-Iſle being pull'd down, and a Frame of four Houſes ſet up in the place thereof, from the Steeple upward, was converted into the Pariſh-Church of S. Alphage, and ſo remains.

Sto. Surv. 305.

This Church was of old in the Gift of the Deans of S. Martin-le-Grand, in London, and probably was given, at leaſt confirm'd to that Collegiate-Church by William the Conqueror (among ſeveral others) in and without this City, for by his Charter to that Church, bearing Date 1068. he grants to it in theſe words, viz. “Concedo etiam ei omnes Eccleſias, & omnes decimas, terras “quoque, & domos, quas fideles Chriſti infra London, vel extra, jam dedere “vel in futurum donabunt. Hæc igitur omnia, &c.

Mon. Angl. Vol. III. Par. II. p. 26.

This Church continu'd in the Gift of the Deans of S. Martin, till King Henry VII. annext that Collegiate-Church to the Monaſtery of S. Peter's, Weſtminſter, by Vertue whereof, the Abbot and Convent, and after them, the Biſhop of Weſtminſter, remain'd Patrons of this Church, till Queen Mary, in the firſt of her Reign, by her Letters-Patents, bearing Date March 3. gave the Advowſon thereof (with ſeveral others) to Edmund Bonner, Bp. of London, and his Succeſſors in that See for ever, in whom it hath continued ever ſince. It is ſubject to the Archdeacon.

w Joh. Sedgwick was born in S. Peters Pariſh in Marlborough, where he was educated in Grammar Learning, and in Logick in Queens-College, Oxon, where he made his firſt Entrance in Eaſter-Term, 1619. Aged 18. but making no longer ſtay there, he tranſlated himſelf to Magdalen-Hall, where he applied himſelf to Divinity before he was Bachelor of Arts. In the time of Chriſtmas, 1621. he was admitted to the Order of Deacon by the Biſhop of London, belying the Univerſity by uſing the Title of Bachelor of Arts, before he was admitted to that Degree; for which he was afterwards forced to beg Pardon, and make a publick Submiſſion before the Venerable Houſe of Congregation of Regents before he was admitted to that Degree, to which he was at laſt admitted, Dec. 6. 1622. After this he had ſome ſmall Cure about Biſhopſgate in London, took the Degree of Maſter of Arts, and at length that of Bachelor of Divinity, about which time he was Preacher at Chiſwick, in Middleſex, and afterwards Miniſter of Cogges-Hall, in Eſſex, ſaith my Author; (but 'tis a Miſtake; for it was his Brother Obadiah that was Miniſter there: And at length a Member of a Sub-Committee for advancing of Money to carry on the War againſt the King; and by a factious Party (who, I ſuppoſe, prevail'd with the Biſhop of London to beſtow it on him) became Rector of this Church. He died in October, 1643. and on 15. of that Month was buried in the Chancel of the ſaid Church. He had been ſome time Vicar of S. Peter's Church, in Marlborough, and afterwards of Ogbourne S. Andrew, in Wilts [Ath. Ox. 2. Vol. 16. where you may ſee more of him, and what he Publiſh'd.] He occurs likewiſe Vicar of Clavering, in Eſſex; but the time of his Admiſſion or Voiding of it appears not. [*Reg. S. Andrew the Apoſtle.

TO the Memory of this Apoſtle there are three Churches within this City dedicated, namely S. Andrew { Hubbard. Underſhaft. Wardrobe. And one without the City, but within the Liberties; viz. S. Andrew Holborne.

Our Apoſtle S. Andrew, was the Son of Jonas, or John, and Brother of Simon Peter the Apoſtle. He was born in Bethſaida, a City of Galilee, on the Lake of Geneſareth, by Profeſſion a Fiſherman, was one of the Diſciples of S. John Baptiſt, by whom being ſent to Chriſt, he followed our Saviour, taking along with him his Brother Simon, [Joh. 1. 35. &c.]

From his Fiſhing he was called by Chriſt, with his Brother Simon, who at firſt Call caſting away their Nets follow'd him, who told them, That he would make them Fiſhers of Men, [Matth. 4. 19. &c.]

After our Lord's Aſcenſion, and the Deſcent of the Holy-Ghoſt, it is generally affirm'd by the Ancients, that the Apoſtles agreed amongſt themſelves (by Lot ſay ſome) what Parts of the World they ſhould ſeverally take to Preach the Goſpel. In this diviſion, S. Andrew had Scythia, and the neighbouring Countries primarily allotted him for his Province. He firſt travell'd through Cappadocia, Galatia, and Bithynia, and inſtructed them in the Faith of Chriſt, paſſing all along the Euxine Sea. And after having Preach'd the Goſpel at ſeveral Places, and wrought Miracles with good ſucceſs, tho' not without meeting with great difficulties and diſcouragements, and barbarous Uſage, he purpoſed at laſt to return to Jeruſalem, whence after ſome time, he betook himſelf to his former Province, preaching ſucceſsfully at Sebaſtopolis, ſituate upon the Eaſtern Shore of the Euxine, and after that at Cherſoneſus, a great and populous City, within the Boſphorus; thence ſailing croſs to Sinope, to encourage and confirm the Churches which he had lately planted in thoſe Parts; he there ordained Philologus, formerly one of S. Paul's Diſciples Biſhop of that Place.

Hence he came to Byzantium (ſince called Conſtantinople) where he inſtructed them in the Knowledge of the Chriſtian Religion, founded a Church for Divine Worſhip, and ordained Stachys (whom S. Paul calls, his beloved Stachys, tho' Baronius aſcribes this Honour to S. Peter) firſt Biſhop of that Place. But baniſh'd out of that City, he fled to Argyropolis, where he preach'd the Goſpel for two Years together with good Succeſs. After this, he travell'd over Thrace, Macedonia, Theſſaly, &c. in all which Places for many Years he preached and propagated Chriſtianity, and confirm'd the Doctrine that he taught with great Signs and Miracles. At laſt, he came to Patras, a City of Achaia: where by Ægeas the Proconſul for refuſing to Sacrifice to the Gods, he was firſt committed to Priſon, then ſcourged by ſeven Lictors ſucceſſively on his naked Body, and laſt of all crucified; but by the Proconſuls command not faſtned to the Croſs (which was made of two Pieces of Timber croſſing each other in the Middle, in the Form of the Letter X, hence uſually known by the Name of S. Andrew's-Croſs) with Nails, but Cords; whereon he hung two Days teaching and inſtructing the People all the time: And when great Importunities in the mean time were uſed to the Proconſul to ſpare his Life, he earneſtly begg'd of our Lord, that he might at this time depart, and Seal the Truth of Religion with his Blood. God heard his Prayer, and he immediately expired on the laſt Day of November, tho' in what Year no certain account can be recovered, tho' Moreri ſays, It was Anno 69.

His Body being taken down, and embalm'd, was decently and honourably interr'd by Maximilla the Proconſul's Wife (whom, as alſo his Brother Stratocles, he had both cured and converted.) It was afterwards by Conſtantine the Great ſolemnly removed to Conſtantinople, and buried in the Great Church, which he had built to the Honour of the Apoſtles, which being taken down ſome hundred Years after by Juſtinian the Emperor in order to its Reparation, the Body was found in a Wooden Coffin, and again repoſed in its proper Place. You may read more at large of this Apoſtle in the Learned Dr. Cave's Antiquitates Apoſtolicæ, Pag. 132. &c. Some write, That his Head was brought to Rome, and placed there in S. Peter's-Church.

Feaſt, Nov. 30.

His Feſtival is celebrated yearly on the laſt Day of November.

The Scots Titular Saint.

He was reckon'd the Titular Saint of Scotland, upon occaſion of a great Victory obtain'd by Hungus King of the Picts, at Hadington, in 790. over Athelſtan King of England; S. Andrew appearing to Hungus the Night before the Battle, in a Viſion, and promiſing him Victory, and his Croſs in Form of an X appearing the next Day in the Air, at the Beginning of the Battle. And the Scots having ſucceeded the Picts in thoſe Countries, thought they had alſo a Right to S. Andrew's Tutelage. Achaius, King of Scotland, inſtituted an Order of Knighthood in Honour of S. Andrew; and after a long Diſuſe, it was again revived by K. James VII. of Scotland, and II. of England.

THIS Pariſh Church (ſometimes called S. Andrew juxta Eaſtcheap) before the late dreadful Fire, in which it was burnt down, ſtood, as to the Eaſt-part of it, in a Lane, of old time, called Rope-lane, ſince Lucas-lane, of one Lucas owner of ſome part thereof, and now corruptly call'd Love-lane, in Billingſgate Ward. It is a Rectory, and ſubject to the Archdeacon, ſaving only as to VVills and Adminiſtrations which belong to the Commiſſary.

I find nothing more, as to the Fabrick of this Church, or any thing in it; but that it was repaired in 1630. and richly Beautified at the Coſt and Charges of the Pariſhioners, which amounted to above 600 l.

As to the Patronage of this Church, it appears, that in 1389. it was in the then Earl of Pembroke, which was John, Lord Haſtings, a Minor; but he being accidentally ſlain in a Turnament, at Woodſtock, by Sir John St. John, and leaving no Iſſue, the Crown lays Hands on the Preſentation for ſome time, till it came to John, Lord Talbot, afterwards Earl of Shrewsbury (which was that John, whom our Hiſtorians do ſo deſervedly extol for his Great and Heroick Atchievements) to whom (I ſuppoſe) it deſcended from his Father Sir Ric. Talbot, who, in 15. Ric. II. was found to be one of the Couſins and Heirs of the aforeſaid John, Earl of Pembroke; and after the Death of this John (who was kill'd at the Battle of Chaſtilion, Jul. 20. 31. Hen. VI.) to his Son John, Earl of Shrewsbury, ſlain in the Battle of Northampton, Jul. 10. 36. Hen. VI. fighting ſtoutly for the Lancaſtrian Intereſt. After whoſe Death (whether upon that Account, or becauſe John, the Son and Heir of the laſt mentioned John was in his Minority appears not by the Regiſtry) Edw. IV. within the ſpace of five Years Preſented three times ſucceſſively, ſoon after which, it came to the laſt mentioned John, Earl of Shrewsbury, and from him continued down in that Noble Family till the Year 1598. but how long after appears not. In 1622. one Ric. Chambers (as I have been informed) was preſented to this Church; but the Patron that preſented him is not yet diſcovered; for there is no conſtat of his Admiſſion, or his Patron in the Regiſtry; only I have elſewhere found, that this Ric. Chambers was Rector of this Church, and ejected out of it in or about the Year 1642 by the Parliament, who thruſt in ſome one of their own Party in his Place. And one Thomas Parker was admitted to it by the Commiſſioners for Approbation of Preachers, May 30. 1659. at the Preſentation of Algernoon, Earl of Northumberland; but by what Right is now under enquiry, which Parker (Chambers it ſeems being dead before the Reſtauration, in 1660.) enjoyed this Living, till he was burnt out by the Fire, in 1666.

Sion-College MS. In the Year 1636. (Dr. Chambers being then Rector) the yearly Profits of this Church were returned as followeth:

Tyths	68	04	08
Caſualties	12	00	00
Three Sermons	03	00	00
A Parſonage-Houſe Lett per An. for	11	00	00

Reg. Lond. In 1693. the Church-VVardens preſented the Ground on which their Parſonage-Houſe ſtood before the Fire (it being then burnt down) ſold to the City for 75 l. to be laid out for the Advantage of the Rector, and his Succeſſors; which Sum was by Mr. Tho. White, the Incumbent of S. Mary-Hill (to which this Church is united) transfer'd from the Coal-Money to the Chamber of London, and is now become a bad Debt.

They likewiſe preſented the Ground of their Church and Church-yard diſpoſed of by the City for publick Uſes, part of it laid to the Streets, and the Money allowed for it paid to S. Mary-Hill, for the Pewing of their Church (now the Parochial Church for both Pariſhes.) On the Reſt, the Lord Mayor and Court of Aldermen have erected the King's Weigh-houſe; but paid for no more than the Miniſter's-houſe above-mentioned, and the Pariſhes Veſtry and Coal-houſe, allotting them Ground at the Eaſt-end of their Weigh-houſe, on which the Pariſh have built their Veſtry, under which there is a Portico, publick Stocks, a Cage, and a little Room.

This Pariſh Church being burnt down in the late dreadful Fire, was united to that of S. Mary-Hill, which is made the Parochial Church for both Pariſhes, and both together are made of the yearly Value of 200 l. in lieu of Tyths to the Incumbent.

AT the North-Weſt-Corner of Ealdgate (or Aldgate) Ward, in the High-Street, ſtands this fair and beautiful Church of S. Andrew the Apoſtle, with an Addition (to be known from other Churches of that Name) of the Knape, or Underſhaft; becauſe that of old time every Year on May-day in the Morning, it was uſed, that a high or long Shaft, or May-Pole, higher than the Steeple, was ſet up there in the Midſt of the Street before the South-door of the ſaid Church; but it has not been raiſed ſince Evil-May-day, ſo called of an Inſurrection made by the Prentices, and other young Perſons againſt Aliens, in the Year 1517. This Church, in old Records, is likewiſe written Eccleſia Sancti Andreæ Apoſtoli ſuper Cornhill, of the High-Street called Cornhill, which ſtretcheth from Limeſtreet, on the South ſide to the Weſt-corner of Leadenhall. He deceas'd in the Year 1524. and was buried in the Greyfriers-Church. This Work was fully finiſh'd in the Year 1532.

Claidich*, for the Term of 90 Years, for the yearly Rent of 4*s.* Sterling, under pain of Diſtreſs and Re-entry: Of which Sum the Rector for the time being was to have one Moiety, and the other Moiety was to go to the Uſe of the Fabrick of the Body of the Church; and after the Expiration of the ſaid Term, the ſaid piece of Ground, and whatever was Built thereon, was to revert to the Rector, Church-Wardens, and Pariſhioners, and their Succeſſors for ever, as appears by the Deed in the Biſhops Regiſtry, *Lib. S. Mary at Axe.

S. Mary Axe united to S. Andrew Underſhaft.

IN the Year 1561. the Pariſh-Church of S. Mary the Virgin, S. Urſula, and the 11000 Virgins, which was commonly called S. Mary at the Axe, of the Sign of the Axe over againſt the End thereof; or S. Mary Pelliper, of a Plot of Ground lying on the North-ſide thereof, pertaining to the Skinner's Company, was united and annexed to this Church of S. Andrew Underſhaft by Edm. Grindall, Biſhop of London; which Church of S. Mary Axe, ſtood on the Weſt-ſide of S. Mary-ſtreet, in Lime-ſtreet-Ward; where in October 1634. the Pariſhioners of this Pariſh having built a Room over the lower Part of the ſaid Church (which before that was converted to prophane Uſes) obtain'd a Confirmation from Dr. William Juxon, then Biſhop of London, for the ſaid lower Part to be a burying Place for the Pariſhioners, and the Room over it to be a Free-Grammar-School; The Maſter whereof was to be nominated by the Rector, Church-Wardens and Pariſhioners, in order to be Licenſed by the Ordinary. The School-Maſter was to teach Four poor Children of this Pariſh gratis, and in conſideration thereof, he was to enjoy the Room or School rent-free, as appears by the Inſtruments of Union and Confirmation in the Appendix.

Appendix, N. 3, & 4.

The Patronage of the Ch. of S. Mary Axe (or at Nax, as I find it ſometimes in old Records) did belong to the neighbouring Prioreſs and Convent of S. Helen, till the Diſſolution of that Monaſtery. After which, I find Edw. VI. Preſented once to it (to wit) in the Year 1549. but from that time till it was united to the aforeſaid Ch. of S. Andrew Underſhaft, I find no Preſentation to it. However, Q. Elizabeth, in the IV. Year of Her Reign granted the Right of Patronage thereof to the Biſhop of London, and his Succeſſors for ever; which according to the aforeſaid Inſtrument of Union, was to be procured before that Union was to take Effect. After which the ſaid Biſhops have from time to time ſucceſſively, as the ſaid Ch. of S. Andrew has happen'd to be void, collated to it with the Ch. of S. Mary at Axe thereunto annex'd. Moreover, the ſaid Queen, at the ſame time granted the Church-yard for burying of the Dead, and all the Houſes, Buildings, Rents, &c. belonging to the ſaid Ch. of S. Mary, to the Rector and Church-Wardens of the ſaid Pariſh of S. Andrew, and their Succeſſors for ever, to the Uſe, Suſtaining, and Reparation of the ſaid Ch. of S. Andrew, as appears more at large by the ſaid Inſtrument.

S. Andrew Wardrobe, Rectory.

Sto. Sur. 408. THIS Pariſh-Church (which is a Rectory) ſome time called S. Andrew juxta Baynards-Caſtle, ſtands hard by that Houſe, which was the King's Great Wardrobe, thence called S. Andrew Wardrobe, in the Ward of Caſtle-Baynard, which Houſe was built by Sir John Beauchamp, Knight of the Garter, Conſtable of Dover, Warden of the Cinque-Ports, and Son to Guido de Beauchamp, Earl of Warwick, who died in 1359. It was ſold by his Executors to King Edward III. after which, Complaint, being made to the ſaid King by the Parſon of this Pariſh, that the ſaid Sir John had pull'd down divers Houſes in their Places to build this Houſe, whereby he was hindred of the accuſtom'd Tythes paid by the Tenants; the King, thereupon, ordered and granted him and his Succeſſors 40 s. per Ann. out of this Houſe for ever. [Pat. 43. E. III.]

Archid. Lon. This Pariſh is ſubject to the Archdeacon. And as to the Patronage of this Church, it appears, that it was in the Ancient and Noble Family of the Du. Bar. 22c. Fitzwalters, to whom, probably, it came as they were Conſtables of the Caſtle of London, called Baynard's-Caſtle; and had a Soke or Juriſdiction allow'd them in the City of London, which was all this Pariſh of S. Andrew.

Sto. Sur. 407. After the Extinction of this Family, it was, it ſhould ſeem, in Thomas Lord Berkeley, to whoſe Family there was alſo a Houſe in this Pariſh anciently belonging, ſituate by the South-end of Adle-ſtreet, called by the Name of Berkeleys- ley's-Inn, and from him came to Richard, Earl of Warwick, who married Elizabeth, his Daughter and Heireſs; and after her Death, came to her Three Daughters and Heireſſes; Margaret married to John Lord Talbot and Furnival, afterwards Earl of Shrewsbury; Eleanor firſt married to Thomas Lord Roos, afterwards to Edmund Beaufort, firſt Earl, then Marqueſs of Dorſet, afterwards Duke of Somerſet; and Elizabeth married to George Nevill, Lord Latimer: All which Three Noblemen, viz. Beaufort, Talbot, and Nevill, preſented to this Church in Right of their Wives, Ann. 1439. as appears by the following Act upon the Inſtitution of the Clerk whom they preſented.

Gilbert. 27.

“ Viceſimo nono die menſis Januarii 1439. After this, upon a Partition of the Eſtate, which deſcended to them from Thomas Lord Berkeley aforeſaid (of which the Advowſon of this Church was a part) their Heirs continu'd to preſent to this Church by turns, for the ſpace of Fourſcore and Nineteen Years, as may appear by a Return made in 1542. upon a Jus Patronatus, too long to be inſerted here, but may be ſeen in Lib. Bonner 80.

After which the Right of Patronage continu'd down to their Deſcendents, till 1663. For John Smith, one of the Barons of the Exchequer, who preſented to this Church in 1542. did it by virtue of an Advowſon granted to him for that turn, by Arthur Plantagenet, Viſcount Liſle, ſecond Husband to Elizabeth Grey, one of the Daughters, and, at length, one of the Co-Heirs of Edward Grey, Viſcount Liſle, by Elizabeth his Wife, who was Siſter and Co-Heir to Thomas Talbot, Viſcount Liſle, Son of John Talbot, Viſcount Liſle, Son of the aforeſaid John, Earl of Shrewsbury, by the aforeſaid Margaret, who was his ſecond Wife, and one of the Daughters and Heirs of the ſaid Richard, Earl of Warwick. And Tho. Hanford, who preſented upon the next Vacancy, Anno 1558. did it by virtue of an Advowſon granted to him for that Turn, by the Executors of Thomas, late Earl of Rutland, deceaſed, who came to have a Right to this Advowſon by his Deſcent from the above-mentioned Eleanor, one of the Daughters and Co-Heirs of the aforeſaid Richard, Earl of Warwick, as will appear by and by. Upon the next Vacancy, Ann. 1562. it fell to the Biſhop of London by Lapſe. And upon the next after that, An. 1570. to the Queen, by reaſon that Edward, Earl of Rutland, was then Her Majeſty's Ward; which Edward, by Deſcent from the aforeſaid Eleanor, one of the Daughters and Heirs of the aforeſaid Richard, Earl of Warwick, came to have a Right to the Patronage of this Church; for he was the Son of Henry,

Upon the next Vacancy it fell to the Queen (which was in 1591.) by reaſon of the Minority of William Lord Roos, her Ward, Son and Heir of William Cecil, Eſq; and Elizabeth Lady Roos, his Wife; which Elizabeth, was ſole Daughter and Heir to Edward Mannors Earl of Rutland, by means whereof the Title of Lord Roos came to her ſaid Son William: And notwithſtanding this Title of Lord Roos was controverted in the 14th. of King James I. by John Earl of Rutland, Brother of the ſaid Edward; yet the Arguments on each part being heard before the Commiſſioners for the Office of Earl-Marſhal, they adjudg'd that Title of Lord Roos to the ſaid William, and he had the King's Declaration thereupon, dated 22. July, 14. Jacobi. Upon the next Vacancy, Ann. 1608. Lodowick Proud preſented for that turn; but from whom he obtain'd the Grant of that Advowſon appears not. But in 1615. which was the next Vacancy, K. James I. preſented, by reaſon of the Attainder of John, late Duke of Northumberland, above-mention'd; and notwithſtanding there was one Clerk preſented then by William Lord Roos, and another by Sir Robert Sidney, Viſcount Liſle, yet upon a full hearing, it was adjudg'd for the King's Title, and his Clerk receiv'd Inſtitution, Mar. 16. 1615. In 1629. (being the next Vacancy) K. Charles I. preſented, but upon what occaſion appears not. But I am apt to think, that the Title, which the aforeſaid William, Lord Roos, had to this Church, might devolve to the Crown by the Death of the ſaid William without Iſſue, an. 1617. William Iſaacſon, who was inſtituted Mar. 26. 1629. liv'd till after the Rebellion broke out, in 1642. ſo that who the Patron was that preſented Seabroke, appears not by the Regiſtry. But in 1663. upon the Death of Seabroke, Robert Earl of Leiceſter preſented, whoſe Title to this Turn ſeems to come from the aforeſaid Margaret, one of the Daughters and Heirs of the ſaid Richard, Earl of Warwick; for this Robert, was Son of Robert Earl of Leiceſter, Viſc. Liſle, and Lord Sidney of Penſhurſt in Kent, and he the Son of Sir Henry Sidney by Mary his Wife, eldeſt Daughter to John Dudley Duke of Northumberland; and how it came to the Family of the Dudleys, hath been mention'd above. The next Turn to preſent came, it ſeems, to the Crown, and there I leave it.

This Church ſuffer'd the common Fate with others, in that dreadful Fire in 1666. but is ſince rebuilt, and made the Parochial-Church for this, and the Pariſh of S. Anne Blackfriers, which is annext unto it, and both together are made of the yearly Value of 140 l. in lieu of Tyths to the Incumbent.

Sion-Coll. MS.

In 1636. the yearly Profits of this Church were return'd as follows:

	l.	s.	d.
Tyths —	80 :	00 :	00
Caſualties —	07 :	00 :	00
Glebe — —	20 :	00 :	00

S. Anne Blackfriers, which is united to it, is a Curacy, and hath no Tyths belonging to it, but the Inhabitants uſually maintain'd a Preacher; but 140 l. per Ann. being allotted by Act of Parliament to the Incumbent of both Pariſhes, in lieu of Tyths, he is now to receive 60 l. yearly, more than the Tyths of this Pariſh of S. Andrew came to before.

Reg. Lond.

In 1693. the Churchwardens preſented a Parſonage-Houſe, on the North-ſide of the Church, before the Fire, leaſed out for 50 s. per Ann. for Years to come, to one Lilly, now Hughes living on the Premiſes. There are Two other Houſes, part of the Glebe, leaſed out to one Ruſhead, for about 40 Years, for 40*s.* per Ann. there being about Twenty Years to come, but no other Glebe.

A Houſe and Wharf, ſituate in Thames-ſtreet, in this Pariſh, leaſed out to Mr. James Friend, at 30*s.* per ann. which Houſe and Wharf was given by Mr. John Lee, to the Reparation of this Pariſh-Church.

S. Andrew Holbourne, Rectory.

THIS Church (which is without the Walls, but within the Liberties of this City) ſtands on the Weſt-ſide of Shoo-Lane, near Ouldbourn (now Holborne) Hill, and thence call'd S. Andrew Holborne, in a pretty large Church-Yard, in the Ward of Faringdon-without; and is ſubject to the Archdeacon.

Archid. Lond.

This Church was given at firſt to the Church and Canons of S. Paul's, on condition, that the Church of Bermondſey ſhould hold the ſame of that Cathedral, as appears by what follows.

Reg. D. & C. Lib. L. f. 30.

"Notum ſit cunctis fidelibus, &c. Quod Dominus Gladerinus, Presbyter, "dedit S. Paulo, & Canonicis ibidem Deo ſervientibus, Eccleſiam S. Andreæ, "quæ eſt de ſuo patrimonio, ea tamen conditione, ut Eccleſia S. Salvatoris de "Bermondſey, & Monachi ejuſdem Eccleſiæ teneant eam de S. Paulo, & de Canonicis prædictis, & reddant ſingulis annis xii. denar. pro Recognitione in "prædicta Eccleſia.

Hence it appears, that this Church (which is a Rectory) was given of old to the Church of S. Paul; and that the Abbot and Convent of Bermondſey were to hold it of that Cathedral, and upon what Condition: Which Abbot and Convent continu'd Patrons thereof till the Diſſolution of their Monaſtery: After which, it was by K. Hen. VIII. in the 37th of his Reign, granted to Thomas, Lord Wriotheſley, Son of William Wriotheſley, York-Herald; which Thomas was advanc'd to the Dignity of a Baron of this Realm, in 35. Hen. VIII. by the Title of Wriotheſley of Tichfield, in Com. Southampton; and in 36. Hen. VIII. made Lord-Chancellor; and, about the end of that Year, Knight of the Dugdal. Bar. III. To. 383.

Moſt Noble Order of the Garter; and Three Days before the Coronation of Edw. VI. had the Title of Earl of Southampton confer'd on him: But not many Days after, being opinionative, and obſtinately oppoſite to the reſt of the Lords, he was diveſted of his Office of Chancellour, and put from his place in Council. In 4. Edw. VI. he was confin'd, by the Procurement of Dudley, Earl of Warwick; and dying at his Houſe, call'd Lincoln-Palace, in Holborn (but afterwards Southampton-Houſe) July 30. 1550. (4. Edw. VI.) was buried in a Vault under the Choir, near the high Altar of this Church, where he had a fair Monument erected to his Memory. After whoſe Death, Jane, his Counteſs-Dowager, preſented to this Church, as will appear hereafter.

The Patronage of this Church for the moſt (excepting when, at the latter end of Q. Elizabeth, it was for a while forfeited to the Crown, by reaſon of the Condemnation of Henry, Earl of Southampton, for confederating with Robert, Earl of Eſſex, in his deſperate Projects; and ſaving when it fell to the Crown, upon the Promotion of ſome of its Rectors to Biſhopricks) continu'd in this noble Family till the Death of Thomas, late Earl of Southampton, Lord High-Treaſurer of England, in May 1667. after whoſe Deceaſe, he dying without Iſſue-Male, it came, as did the reſt of his Eſtate, to his Daughters and Co-Heireſſes. But to whoſe ſhare the Advowſon of this Church is fallen, I know not; becauſe, ſince the ſaid Earl's Death, there has happen'd no Vacancy, but upon the Promotion of the laſt Rector, ſince the Year 1688.

Will. Sidnam, founded a Chantry in this Church, ſays Stow: However, Tunſtall 15. I find there was a Chantry founded here, and endow'd, for the Souls of Henry Linch, alias Bacalf, and Will. Edeman, as appears by the London-Registry.

This Church being very old and ruinous, was lately pull'd down (all but the Steeple) and a very ſtately one new-built in the place of it.

In 1608. there was a parcel of Ground lying between this Church-Yard lib. 8. Vic. gen. 34. and Thavy's-Inn-Garden, added to the ſaid Church-Yard, and encloſ'd with it for the enlarging thereof, and Authority was given by the Biſhop of London, to Dr. King, then Rector of this Pariſh, for the conſecrating thereof.

There is another Church-Yard, lying on the Eaſt-ſide of Shoo-Lane, which belongs to this Pariſh.

In 1636. there was no Parſonage-Houſe, Glebe, or Caſualties return'd, but Sion-College MS. only Tyths 350 l. but lately there is a very good Parſonage-Houſe, new-built, in the Church-Yard.

In the Preſentment made by the Rector and Churchwardens, in 1693. the Reg. Lond. Benefactors to this Church are ſpecifi'd as follows:

John Thavie, Eſq; in 1348. by his Will, gave to the Fabrick of this Church, a Tenement, and Three Shops, with a parcel of Ground belonging to the ſame, which has been ſince built into ſeveral Tenements, part of which are leaſed out, toward the Charge of re-building and repairing this Church, and the remaining part is kept for, and apply'd to the yearly Repairs thereof.

Richard Barton, of Staple-Inn, Gent. in 1609. gave to the Rector of this Church, xiii s. iv d. to preach a Sermon the Second Sunday in Eaſter-Term.

Alexander Stafford, Eſq; by his Will, in 1651. gave to the Miniſter of this Pariſh xx s. to preach Two Sermons, one in Eaſter, the other in Michaelm.-Term.

There was of old time an Hoſpital for the Poor in this Pariſh, which was a Sto. Survey, 428. Cell to the Houſe of Cluny, in France, and was therefore ſuppreſs'd among the Priories alien.

Here was likewiſe a Free-School, which was one of thoſe which Hen. VI. Ibid. in 24. and 25. of his Reign, erected by Act of Parliament.

Over againſt the Church-Yard of S. Andrew, ſtands the Biſhop of Ely's Inn Ely-Houſe. (commonly call'd Ely-Houſe) belonging to the Biſhops of Ely, and given to ibid. 426. them by William de Luda, Biſhop of that Sea, in the Reign of Edw. I. by the Name of his Mannor of Ouldbourne, with the Appurtenances; on condition, that the next Succeſſor ſhould beſtow a Thouſand Marks to provide Maintenance for Three Chaplains to ſerve in the Chapel there, which is to this Day a very fair, large, old Chapel.

This Houſe (ſaith Stow) was not only repair'd, but rather new-built, by Tho. Arundell, Biſhop of Ely, in the Reign of Edw. III. and Ric. II. and augmented with a large Gate-Houſe or Front towards the Street.

S. ANNE.

TO whoſe Memory there are Two Churches in this City dedicated; was Mother of the Virgin Mary. She was the Daughter of Matthan, a Prieſt of Bethlehem, of the Tribe of Aaron. She was married to Joachim, and after 20 or 22 Years Barrenneſs, bore Mary the 8th of Septemb. in the 739. of Rome. Some great Authors are of opinion, that S. Anne had Three Daughters by Joachim; others, with Gerſon, ſay, that ſhe had them by Three ſeveral Husbands: This Opinion they confirm by S. John, cap. 19. 25. mentioning, that the Mother of Jeſus, her Siſter Mary Wife of Cleophas, and Mary Magdalen, ſtood near the Croſs; yet Baronius, and other modern Authors aſſert, that theſe pretended Daughters were Anne's Siſters; ſaying, that ſhe did not marry after ſhe bore the Virgin Mary; and anſwer the Words of S. John thus, That in Scripture near Kinsfolks are often term'd Brothers and Siſters. [Collier's Geograph. Dictionar.]

Haræus, in vitis Sanctorum, p. 532. tells us, That Anne, the Mother of the bleſſed Virgin Mary, was the Daughter of Gazirus, of the Tribe of Juda, and born in the Town of Bethlehem; that ſhe was the Wife of Joachim, who was of the ſame Tribe; and a Galilean, of the Town of Nazareth; that ſhe died Feaſt, Jul. 26. on the 7th Kal. of Aug. (on which Day her Feſtival is celebrated) and was buried in Bethlehem, in the Sepulchre of her Father.

NB. That there is a conſtant receiv'd Tradition in this Pariſh, that SS. Anne and Agnes were two Siſters, who firſt built this Church at their own charge; and that hence it was and is denominated SS. Anne and Agnes within Alderſgate.

S. Anne Alderſgate, Rectory.

ON the North-ſide of Pope-Lane ſtands this Pariſh-Church of S. Anne, now call'd S. Anne Alderſgate, becauſe ſituate near Alderſgate (one of the Sto. Surv. 23. principal Gates of the City) in Alderſgate-Ward, and formerly S. Anne in the Willows (as ſome ſay) of Willows growing thereabouts. It is a Rectory, Archid. Lon. and ſubject to the Archdeacon.

This Church, by Caſualty of Fire, was burnt in 1548. ſo far as it was combuſtible; but after that, newly repair'd. It was afterwards much decayed, but beautifully repair'd, Ann. 1624.

Sometime in the Reign of Edw. III. here was a perpetual Chantry, Sudbury 23. founded for the Souls of Tho. Juvenall, and Alice his Wife; for I find a Chaplain inſtituted to it in 33. Ed. III. as then lately founded.

Sto. Sur. 326. Sir Will. Gregory, Kt. Citizen and Skinner of London, and Mayor thereof, in 1451. was buried in this Church, and (as Stow ſays) founded a Chantry there.

The Advowſon of this Church was of old in the Gift of the Dean of the Collegiate-Church of S. Martin-le-Grand, London, and probably was given, or at leaſt confirm'd to him and his Succeſſors by William the Conquerour, as was Vid. S. Alphage. that of S. Alphage, before treated of, and, like that, continu'd in the Gift of the ſaid Dean and his Succeſſors, till Hen. VII. annex'd that Collegiate-Church, with all its Appurtenances, to the Abby of Weſtminſter; by vertue whereof the Bonner. Abbot and Convent, and after them, the Biſhop of Weſtminſter, continu'd Patrons of this Church of S. Anne, till Q. Mary, in the Firſt of her Reign, by her Letters Patents bearing date Mar. 3. gave the Advowſon of this Church (among others) to the then Biſhop of London and his Succeſſors for ever, in whom it hath continu'd ever ſince.

This Church being burnt down in the late dreadful Fire, was rebuilt, and S. Ann, and S. Jo. Zac. annext. made the Parochial-Church for this and the Pariſh of S. John Zachary, which is annext unto it; and, both together, are made of the yearly Value of 140 l. in lieu of Tyths, to the Incumbent.

In 1636. the yearly Profits of this Church were return'd as follows:

	l.	s.	d.

Total of both	137	12	00
Both now by Act of Parliament	140	00	00

In 1693. the Rector and Churchwardens preſented as follows, viz. Two little Houſes in S.Anne's Lane, and the Ground-Rent receiv'd 10 l. per ann. and 10 s. per ann. for a Sermon on New-Years-Day, given by Mr. Minge.

a Rob. de Gloceſter. One Nic. de Killum had the King's Letters of Preſentation to this Church, Feb. 20. 1353. by reaſon the Deanry of S. Martin-le-Grand was lately void; but it doth not appear that he was ever inſtituted to it [Pat. 28. Edw. III. *p.*1.] March 14. following, one Galf. de Newerk had the like, but very likely was never admitted; for on 28. of the ſame Month and Year, this our Robert de Glouceſter was ratifi'd by the King in this Ch. at the Preſentation of Will. de Cuſance, Dean of S. Martin-le-Grand [ibid. p. 1.] who had that Deanry given him by the King, in 1349. S. Anne Blackfriers, Curacy.

THere is a Pariſh-Church (ſays Stow) of S. Anne, within the Precinct of Blackfriers (and Ward of Faringdon within) which was pull'd down, with the Friers Church, by Sir Thomas Corden: But, in the Reign of Q. Mary, he being forc'd to find a Church for the Inhabitants, allow'd them a Lodging-Chamber above Stairs, which, ſince that Time (to wit) in the Year 1597. fell down, and was again (by Collection therefore made) new-built and enlarg'd with an Iſle on the Weſt 50 foot in length and 15 in breadth, the Ground being purchas'd of Sir Geo. Moore, Knight; for which they built at their own Coſt, a fair Warehouſe under the Iſle, for the Uſe of Sir Jerome Bowes, Knight, who then had the ſaid Ground in Leaſe: And alſo gave him 133 l. beſides which, the new building of their Church coſt 300 l. 18 s.

Sto. Survey, 374. ibid. 826.

This Church, or Chapel, was, Dec. 11. 1597. conſecrated by Dr. Edward Stanhop, Doctor of Laws, by virtue of a Commiſſion from Dr. Ric. Bancroft, Biſh. of London, and dedicated to S. Anne, and decreed to be call'd for the future, The Church or Chappel of S. Anne, within the Precinct of Blackfriers.

Grindall 297.

But this Church or Chapel, in proceſs of time, proving too little for the Inhabitants of the ſaid Precinct, who were greatly increas'd, they, at their own Coſt, purchas'd in the Year 1613. on the South-ſide of their Church, ſo much Houſing as enlarg'd their Church 35 foot 11 inches in breadth, and 54 in length, whereon they built an Iſle as an Addition to it; and alſo a Vault underneath, for a Burying-place: Both which were conſecrated by Dr. John King, then Biſhop of London, July 29. 1617.

Sto. Surv. 826 Grindall 415.

In 1607. they paid to Sir Geo. Moore for their Preacher's Houſe, their Church-yard, Church, and Porch appertaining thereunto, together with the Right of Patronage of the ſaid Church, 120 l.

Ibid.

In 1632. they purchaſed the Rooms directly under the above-mention'd upper Room converted to a Church, which ſaid Rooms they bought to repair the Foundation and Walls whereon the Church ſtood, which Walls were very much decay'd; the Purchaſe whereof and Repair of Decays, coſt 500 l.

Ibid.

The Sum of all beſtow'd on this Church of Blackfriers, with the Charges of purchaſing and fitting up that part of it which was conſecrated in 1597. ſince the Reformation in England, amounted to 2600 l. 4 s.

This Church was burnt down in the late dreadful Fire, and ſince united and annex'd to that of S. Andrew Wardrobe, which is made the Parochial Church for both Pariſhes, and both together are made of the yearly Value of 140 l. in lieu of Tyths to the Incumbent, as may be ſeen in S. Andrews. And the Site of this Church of S. Anne remains now only as a Burying-place for the Inhabitants of the Precinct of Blackfriers.

This

Archid. Commiſſar. Lond.

This is a Donative or Curacy in the Gift of the Pariſhioners, and ſubject to the Archdeacon, ſaving only as to Wills and Adminiſtrations, which belong to the Commiſſary. It pays neither Firſt-Fruits, Tenths, nor Procurations, ſaving only 2 s. 6 d. for Procurations to the Archdeacon.

In 1636. it was thus return'd, viz. A religious Houſe diſſolv'd, and granted by the King to a private Man, who ſold it to the Inhabitants, and they maintain a Preacher, which, at that time was Mr. Gouge.

Having now done with the Parochial-Church of S. Anne Blackfriers, it follows I ſhould give ſome account of the Order of Blackfriers, and of their Houſes in the Suburbs of this City, and in this Precinct.

BLACKFRIERS.

Hoſp. de Orig. Monach. Cap. 4, 5, 6, 7.

They are call'd Dominicans from S. Dominick, the firſt Founder of their Order: He was a Spaniard, born at Calagora or Calaborra, in the Dioceſe of Oſma in Spain, Ann. Dom. 1170. of the Noble Family of the Guſmans. He was elected the firſt general Maſter of his Order, and made the Firſt Maſter of the ſacred Palace at Rome, to whoſe Order the Government thereof doth regularly belong, tho' it hath been ſometime interrupted. He died at Bononia in Italy, 8. Id. Aug. 1221. (others ſay 1223.) aged 53 Years, and was canoniz'd by Pope Gregory, Aug. 9. 1233. of whom you may read more at large in Hoſpinian. His Order was approv'd by Pope Innocent 3. in the Council of Lateran, 1215. and confirm'd by Honorius 3. under S. Auſtin's Rule, and the Founder's particular Conſtitutions.

They were call'd Preaching Friers from their Office; which Title was firſt given them by Pope Innocent 3. confirm'd by Honorius 3. and Gregory 9.

d'Emil. of Monaſtical Orders 152.

They were call'd Blackfriers from their black Weed or Garment, which conſiſts in a white Caſſock and a Patience, over which they wear a Hood all of the ſame Colour: But when they go abroad, they put over their white Cloaths a black plighted Cloak with a black Hood.

Laſtly, they were call'd Jacobins in France; becauſe their firſt Convent in France, was in S. James's ſtreet.

Hoſp. ut ſupr.

S. Dominick made three Diviſions of this Order; Preaching Friers, who made it their buſineſs to apply themſelves, with him, to Preaching and Converſion of Hereticks; Nuns, who liv'd inclos'd in Monaſteries; and a Military Order, eſtabliſh'd by him againſt the Albigenſes, nam'd the Militia of Jeſus Chriſt, or Brethren of S. Dominick, to whom he preſcrib'd a way of living different from the Laity; they had a black and white Croſs with Flower-de-Luces.

This Order has afforded to the Church of Rome ſeveral Popes, great Numbers of Cardinals, Archbiſhops and Biſhops: And the Inquiſition againſt Hereticks doth ſtill continue in their Hands.

d'Emil. ut ſupra, 151.

They have ſpread themſelves all over the World, and about the Year 1494. were already reckon'd about 4143. Convents of this Order: And from that time they continu'd to increaſe more and more, building every day new Monaſteries.

Houſes of Blackfriers.

There were 2 Houſes of Preaching or Blackfriers heretofore in and without the City of Lond. the firſt in Chancery-Lane near Holbourne; the laſt within Ludgate.

Sto. Surv. 487.

On the Weſt-ſide of the New-ſtreet (now call'd Chancery-Lane) towards the North-end, was of old Time the Church and Houſe of the Preaching Friers; of which Houſe I find (ſays Stow) that in the Year of Chriſt 1221. the Friers, Preachers, 13 in number, came into England (Fuller ſays but 12. an Apoſtolical Number) who having to their Prior one Gilbert de Fraxineto, in Company of Peter de la Roche, Biſh. of Wincheſter, came to Canterbury, where preſenting themſelves before the Archbiſhop Steven, he commanded the ſaid Prior to preach, which Sermon he liked ſo well, that he ever after lov'd that Order. The Friers came to London, and had their Houſe without the Wall of the City, by Oldbourne, near unto the old Temple.

Ibidem.

Hubert de Burgo, Earl of Kent, was a great Benefactor to theſe Friers, and deceaſing at his Manour of Banſted, in Surry, or after ſome Writers, at his Caſtle of Berkhamſted in Hertfordſh. in 1242. was buried in their Church, unto which Ch. he had given his Place at Weſtminſter, which the ſaid Friers afterwards ſold to Walter Grey, Archbiſhop of York (in the Reign of Hen. III.) who left it to his Succeſſors in that Sea for ever to be their Houſe, when they ſhould repair to the City of London; and therefore the ſame was call'd York-Place, which Name ſo continu'd until 1529. when as King Hen. VIII. requiring it of Thomas Wolſey, then Cardinal and Archbiſhop of York, he either for Fear, or Hope of currying a little Favour with the King, yielded it to the King, and then the King gave it the Name of White-Hall.

York-Place, now White-Hall.

Sto. Sur. 487.

In 1250. the Friers of this Order of Preachers throughout Chriſtendom, and from Jeruſalem, to the Number of 400. were by a Convocation aſſembled together (at Whitſontide) in this their Houſe by Oldbourne, to treat of their Eſtate; having Meat and Drink found them of Alms, becauſe they had no Poſſeſſions of their own. The firſt day the King came to their Feaſt, and found them Meat and Drink, and dined with them; another day the Queen found them Meat and Drink; afterwards the Biſhop of London; then the Abbots of Weſtminſter, S. Albans, Waltham, and others.

Ibid. 488.

This old Frier-Houſe juxta Holborn (ſaith the Patent) was, by K. Edw. I. in the 16th of his Reign, given to Hen. Lacy, E. of Lincoln, who in the Place thereof, and in the place where Ralph de Nevil, Biſh. of Chicheſter had built a Houſe, not far from the New Temple, and Houſe of Converts, built his Inn, in which he died in 1310. and was buried in the new Work in S. Paul's Church.

Lincoln's-Inn.

This Inn is now an Inn of Court, retaining the Name of Lincoln's-Inn, of which (ſays Stow in his Annals, p. 1073.) it is moſt probable the Benchers of this College took an Eſtate of long Time by Leaſe, ſoon after the Death of the ſaid Earl of Lincoln, by which Eſtate they held this Houſe, until their Purchaſe of the Inheritance thereof, with the Appurtenances, from Sir Edward Saliard, in the Reign of Q. Elizabeth. This Houſe is of late increaſed much with fair Buildings, repleniſh'd with Gentlemen Students in the Common Laws, and hath an elegant Chapel built not long ſince, and conſecrated on the Feaſt of the Holy Aſcenſion, A. D. 1623. by Dr. George Montague, Biſh. of London.

Sto. Sur. 487.

As to the Houſe of Blackfriers, within the City of London, in 1276. Gregory Rokeſley, Mayor, and the Barons of London, granted and gave unto Rob. Kilwarby, Archbiſh. of Canterbury, two Lanes or Ways next the Street of Baynard's-Caſtle, and the Tower of Mountfitchet, to be deſtroyed; on the which place the ſaid Robert built the Church of Blackfriers, with the reſt of the Stones that were left of the ſaid Tower, which were not uſed by the Biſh. of London about the repairing of S. Paul's Church; upon which, theſe Preaching Friers in Holborn remov'd to this their new-erected Priory within the City of London.

To this new-erected Priory King Edward I. and Dame Eleanor his Conſort, were great Benefactors; which King (with much ado) at length got a Grant from the Biſh. of London, and the Dean and Chapter of S. Paul's, or leave for them to build their Priory-Church, and other Buildings within their Precinct, as appears by their Charter following:

Reg. Dec. & Cap. l. A. 107.

Sto. Sur. 374.

This Priory-Church, when built, was very large, where divers Parliaments, and other great Meetings have in former Times been holden, particularly in 1450. 1522. 1524. and 1529. when Cardinal Campejus the Legate, with Cardinal Wolſey, ſate here, where before them, the Marriage of K. Hen. VIII. with Q. Katharine of Spain was queſtion'd. And the ſame Year, in October, began a Parliament in Blackfriers, in which Cardinal Wolſey was condemn'd in a Præmunire.

Many and great were the Privileges and Liberties which the Blackfriers heretofore enjoy'd, too long to inſert here; but particularly ſet down in Stow's Survey, p. 375. &c.

This Priory was valu'd at 104*l.* 15*s.* 5*d.* and ſurrender'd into the King's Hands, the 30th of Hen. VIII.

S. ANTHONY.

S. Anthony (to whoſe Memory there is a Church in this City ſuppos'd to be Dedicated, as there was alſo a School and Hoſpital) was in his time a Famous and Holy Eremite, and Abbot of the Monks in Egypt, in the time of the Emperor Conſtantine the Great, and of his Sons. He liv'd in the Country of Thebais, which S. Jerome takes to be the Land of Goſhen, wherein Jacob the Patriarch with his Sons dwelt.

This Anthony was famous for his Holy Life and Miracles; whoſe Acts written by Athanaſius in Greek, were tranſlated into Latin by Evagrius.

In the 20th Year of his Age he ſold all that he had, giving the one half to his Siſter, and the Reſt to the Poor. At firſt he liv'd in a Solitary Place not far diſtant from his own Town; when he was about 35 Years old he withdrew himſelf into the Wilderneſs, living there a moſt auſtere Life; where after he had lived 20 Years ſolitarily, he then came abroad, and convers'd with other Monks, to whom he often reſorted; and he came into the Cities where he boldly preach'd Chriſt. At laſt, he retired again into a Wild Deſert, where he ſeated himſelf on the Top of a ſteep Hill living with ſlender Fare and Proviſion, An. Chriſti 271.

Eremites. From him are derived the Eremites of the Order of S. Antony, who live only with Bread, Wine, and Salt; S. Athanaſius, with whom a while he convers'd and liv'd, wrote a Treatiſe of his Life, which, as Evagrius, ſo S. Jerome alſo tranſlated out of Greek into Latin at the requeſt of Damachius. [Baron. Martyrol. Rom.]

It is ſaid, That God gave a Privilege to S. Antony, or a Preſervative againſt Fire; not only againſt the Diſeaſe call'd S. Antony's Fire; but alſo from the Fire of Hell.

The Monks of the Order of S. Antony uſe a black Habit, with the Letter T of a blue Colour on the fore part of their Breaſt, in imitation of S. Antony, as they brag.

Theſe Monks with their importunate begging (contrary to the Example of S. Antony) are ſo troubleſome, as, if Men give them nothing, they will preſently threaten them with S. Antony's-Fire. So that many ſimple People, out of Fear or blind Zeal, every Year uſe to beſtow on them a fat Pig or Porker (which they have ordinarily Painted on their Pictures of S. Anthony) whereby they may procure their good Will and their Prayers, and be ſecure from their Menaces.

S. Antony having liv'd a very devout Life 105 Years, died at Thebais, in Egypt, Jan. 17. Anno Chriſti 358. His Body (ſaith Uſuardus) was buried by two of his Diſciples privately by his own Directions; ſo that it was unknown a long time where it lay. At laſt, in the time of the Emperor Juſtinian, it was found by Divine Revelation, and tranſlated thence to Alexandria, as Sigebert ſaith, An. 529. Marianus Scotus ſaith, An. 531. Coſpian, An. 541. others ſay at other times, and laid there in the Ch. of S. John Baptiſt. It is ſaid, That his Body was afterwards tranſlated from Alexandria (Miræus ſaith, From Conſtantinople) unto Vienna, in the Province of Narbon, in France, as ſome relate; and from thence he is otherwiſe ſtiled S. Antony of Vienna.

The Order of S. Antony of Vienna was inſtituted by Ghaſton, and Girone, Noblemen of Vienna, under the rule of Auguſtin, about the Year 1095. [Pavin. in Chron. Greſter de Feſt, p 308.]

Many grave and credible Authors make honourable mention of S. Antony, as S. Jerome, S. Auſtin, and others.

Feaſt, Jan. 17. The Commemoration of S. Antony is Celebrated yearly on the 17th of January.

S. Antony of Padua. Beſides this Holy Abbot Antony, there was alſo S. Antony of Padua, born at Lisbon, in Portugal, called Malleus Hæreticorum; by whom ſuch Miracles have been reported to have been wrought as are almoſt incredible. He died June 13. An. Dom. 1231. being not above 36 Years old. He was canoniz'd a Saint by Pope Gregory IX. at Spoletum the next Year after his Death.

S. Antholianus alſo was an Holy Martyr, who ſuffer'd (with others) at Aver-gue, in France, whoſe Commemoration is celebrated Feb. 9. of whom mention is made by Bede, Cardinal Baronius, and others; whoſe Name coming near the vulgar Name of our Church S. Antlins, I thought good here to inſert, if any ſhould fancy, that our Church of S. Antlins might be ſo named from him. But, doubtleſs, this Church of S. Antlins (corruptly ſo call'd from S. Antony) was dedicated to the Memory of that famous Egyptian Abbot and Eremite S. Antony, and to none other of that Name.

S. Antholianus.

Thus much of S. Antony out of Mr. Smith's MS.

S. Antony, or Antlins, Rectory.

THIS Church of S. Anthony (vulgarly more known by the Name of S. Antlins) ſtands on the North-ſide of Budg-row, in Cordwainer-ſtreet-Ward. It is a Rectory; of which the Dean and Chapter of S. Pauls are not only Patrons, but alſo give Inſtitution to it; notwithſtanding, which, it is ſubject to the Archdeacon in all other Eccleſiaſtical Matters, ſaving only as to Wills and Adminiſtrations which belong to the Commiſſary.

Dec. & Cap. Patrons.

Archid. Com. Lond.

When Ralph de Diceto was Dean of S. Pauls, the State of this Church ran thus:

" Eccleſia Sancti Antonii eſt Canonicorum, & reddit eis duas marcas per " manum Albini Sacerdotis. Solvit Synodalia xii. Archid. ii. Sol. ſed tem" pore Willielmi Archid. non reddidit habet Cœmeterium.

R. D. & Cap. lib. B. f. 36.

It was re-edified by Sir Tho. Knowles, Grocer (Mayor of London, in the Years 1399. and 1410.) and by Thomas Knowles his Son; who were both buried in this Church, and Benefactors to it: Repair'd in 1616. at the Coſt of 900 l. and upwards.

Sto. Sur. 265, 827.

In this Church at the Altar of S. Katharine, was a perpetual Chantry founded by King Richard II. for the Soul of Nicholas Bole, Citizen and Skinner of London; the Patronage, whereof, was in the Crown; but the Nomination of the Chaplain, in Four of the Chief of the Pariſhioners; of which, in the Years 1397. and 1398. I find the above named Thomas Knowles, the Father, to be one.

Braybr. 154.

Ibid. 162.

Stow tells us, That John Grantham (who was one of the Sheriffs of London, in 1322.) had a Chantry here, as alſo Nicolas Bull, which, I ſuppoſe, was the ſame with Nicolas Bole above-named.

Sto. ut ſupa.

Here was buried in this Church one Maſter Walter Lempſter, Doctor of Phyſick; He was Phyſician to K. Henry VII. He gave to this Church two Chains of Gold, weighing 14 Ounces and a Quarter, for to make a certain Ornament to put on the Bleſſed Body of our Saviour Jeſus. He died March 9. 1487. and his Body lay buried under a black Marble-Stone.

Weav. fun. Mon. 404.

Hugh Acton, Merchant-Taylor, buried in this Church in 1520. gave 36 l. to the Repair of the Steeple. And Tho. Hind, Mercer, buried here in 1528. was a Benefactor to this Church, as alſo to Aldermary and Bow.

This Church ſuffered the common Fate with other Churches, in the late general Conflagration of this City, in 1606. but is now new built (having a Tower with a very curious Spire on it of all Free-Stone) and is made the Pariſh-Church of this, and the Pariſh of S. John Baptiſt, which is annext to it; and both together are made of the yearly Value of 120 l. in lieu of Tyths to the Incumbent.

S. Antlins, S. Joh. Baptiſt, annext.

SionColl.Mſ. In 1636. the yearly Profits of this Church were return'd as follow eth:

	l.	s.	d.
Tyths	36	00	08
Gift of a Benefactor yearly	10	00	00
Caſualties	08	00	00

Total of both	102	14	00

Reg. Lond. In 1693. the Rector preſented the Parſonage-Houſe (which not long before the Year 1636. was built at the Charge of the Pariſh) burnt down in the late dreadful Fire; but ſince rebuilt, and Leaſed out at 4 l. per Ann. Ground-Rent to the Rector. Alſo a Bequeſt of 10 l. per Ann. to the Rector, given by one Mr. Parker, either in K. James I. or K. Charles I. time, and paid on S. Thomas's-Day by the Merchant-Taylors-Company; who, likewiſe, at the ſame time pay 5 l. per Ann. to the Clerk, and 5 l. per Ann. to the Poor of the Pariſh. He, likewiſe, then preſented Part of the Ground of the Parſonage-Houſe of S. Anthonius, taken in by the Leſſee Mr. Atwell, to enlarge his own Houſe and Yard.

I can give no farther Account of the Succeſſion of the Incumbents of this (or any other Church) belonging to the Dean and Chapter of S. Pauls, other than ſince the Reſtauration of K. Charles II. in 1660. by reaſon ſuch of their Regiſter-Books, wherein, were Recorded their Acts of Collation before that time, were burnt in the late dreadful Fire. Saving that one Mr. Charles Ofspring was Rector of this Church, when the above mentioned Return was made, in 1636.

a Ben. Parry was born (as my Author conceives) in Dublin, admitted in Arts, in Trinity-College there, Dec. 5. 1648. came to Jeſus-College, Oxon, took the Degree in Arts; and after His Majeſties Reſtauration, was made Greek Reader, and ſo conſequently Fellow of Corpus-Chriſti-College. In 1663. he was inſtalled Preb. of Knaresbergh, in the Church of York, which he reſign'd (as, I ſuppoſe, he did this of S. Antlins) upon his going into his own Country; where on the Firſt of May, 1674. he was made Dean of Kilkenny; and thence was tranſlated to the Deanry of S. Patrick, at Dublin, on March 24. following. On June 27. 1677. he was conſecrated Biſhop of Oſſory, and died Oct. 4. 1678. and was buried in S. Andrew's-Church, in Dublin. [Ath. Ox. 2. Vol. 462.]

Stow. Surv. 190, &c.

IN the City of London, in the Pariſh of S. Bennet Finke, in Threeneedle (now, commonly, called Thredneedle) ſtreet, on the North-ſide thereof, and in Broadſtreet-Ward; not many Years ſince (ſaith Stow) was the Hoſpital of S. Antony, ſometime a Cell of S. Antony of Vienna, in France. For, I read (ſaith he) that King Henry III. granted to the Brotherhood of S. Antony of Vienna, a Place among the Jews; which was ſome time their Synagogue, and had been built by them about the Year 1231. but the Chriſtians obtained of the King, that it ſhould be dedicated to our Bleſſed Lady. And ſince an Hoſpital being there built, it was called S. Antonies, in London.

It was founded in the Pariſh of S. Bennet Finke for a Maſter, two Prieſts, a Schoolmaſter, and 12 Poor Men. After which Foundation (among other things) was given to this Hoſpital one Meſſuage, one Garden, whereon was builded the fair large School, and one other parcel of Ground containing 37 Foot in length, and 18 Foot in breadth, whereon were built the Alms-houſes of hard Stone and Timber, in the Reign of Hen. VI. who gave unto (*) John Carpenter, Doctor of Divinity, and Maſter of S. Antony's-Hoſpital, and to his Brethren, and their Succeſſors for ever; his Manor of Poinington with the Appurtenances, with certain Penſions and Portions of Milburn, Burnworth, Charlton, and Up-Wimburne, in Com. Southampton, towards the Maintenance of five Scholars, in the Univerſity of Oxford, to be brought up in the Faculty of Arts, after the rate of ten Pence per Week for every Scholar; ſo that the ſaid Scholars be firſt inſtructed in the Rudiments of Grammar at the College of Eaton, founded by the ſaid King.

In 1474. K. Edw. IV. granted to William Say, Bachelor of Divinity (not he that was Dean of S. Pauls, for he died in 1408.) Maſter of the ſaid Hoſpital, to have Prieſts, Clerks, Scholars, poor Men, and Brethren of the ſame; Clerks, or Laymen, Choiriſters, Proctors, Meſſengers, Servants in Houſhold, and other things whatſoever, like as the Prior and Convent of S. Antony of Vienna. He alſo annex'd, united, and appropriated the ſaid Hoſpital to the Collegiate Church of S. George, in Windſor.

A. M. 3. Vol. Par. 2. p. 74.

Sto. ut ſupra.

The Proctors of this Hoſpital were to collect the Benevolence of Charitable Perſons, towards the Building and Supporting thereof: And among other things obſerv'd in my youth (ſaith Stow) I remember, that the Officers (charged with the Overſight of the Markets in this City) did divers times take from the Market-people Piggs ſtarv'd, or, otherwiſe, unwholſome for Man's ſuſtenance; theſe they did ſlit in the Ear. One of the Proctors of S. Antony tied a Bell about the Neck, and let it feed among the Dunghills, and no Man would hurt it, or take it up; but if any gave them Bread, or other feeding, ſuch would they know, watch for, and daily follow, whining till they had ſomething given them; whereupon was raiſed a Proverb: Such a One, will follow ſuch a One, and whine as it were an Antony-Pigg; but if ſuch a Pig grew to be fat, and come to good liking (as oft-times they did) then the Proctor would take him up to the Uſe of the Hoſpital.

S. Antony's-Pig.

Ibid.

In 1499. Sir John Tate, ſometime Ale-brewer, then a Mercer, cauſed his Brew-houſe, called the Swan, near adjoyning to this Hoſpital, to be taken in for the Enlarging of the Church; which was then newly built, toward the Building whereof, the ſaid Tate gave great Sums of Money, and finiſh'd it in the Year 1501. He died in 1514. and was there buried under a fair Monument by him prepar'd.

This Hoſpital was valued in 37. Hen. VIII. to be 55 l. 6 s. 8 d. per An.

* This Dr. John Carpenter, was brought up in Oriel-College, Oxon, where he was firſt Fellow, then Provoſt of the ſaid College, and at length Chancellor of the ſaid Univerſity, in 1437, and 1438. He was made Biſhop of Worceſter, in 1443. He was wonderfully Liberal in reſtoring, rebuilding, and endowing the old College at Weſtbury, near Briſtol, where he deſign'd to be buried. By his Will, in 1476. he gave certain Lands in Oxfordſhire, and Exhibitions to the ſaid College of Oriel. He built the Gate-houſe at Hartlebury, and having firſt reſign'd his Biſhoprick, he died at Biſhops-Northweek, and was buried at Weſtbury according as he had deſign'd. [Godw. de Præſul. Vigorn, Angl. Sac. 1. P. pag. 538.]

Ibid. 191. One Johnſon (School-maſter of this famous Free-School) became a Prebendary of Windſor, and then by little and little, followed the ſpoil of this Hoſpital. He firſt diſſolv'd the Choir, convey'd away the Plate, and Ornaments, then the Bells, and, laſtly, put out the Almſmen from their Houſes, appointing them Portions of xii Pence the Week to each; but now (ſaith Stow) I hear of no ſuch matter perform'd; for their Houſes, with others, be letten out French Chur. for Rent, and the Church is a preaching Place for the French Nation.

The College of Windſor loſt at leaſt 1000 Marks per An. upon the Reformation of Religion, in the Profit made by S. Antony's-Pig, which the Appropriation of this Hoſpital brought to it. Thus it is ſaid in the Hiſtory of the Garter, 172.

Sto. ut ſupra. This School was in requeſt, in the Reign of K. Hen. VI. and ſithence commended above others; but long ſince decay'd, and come to nothing, by taking that from it which thereunto belonged.

Ibid. 65. The Free-School of S. Antony, commonly preſented the beſt Scholars of all the other Schools, out of which have ſprung divers famous Perſons, of which theſe were ſome in Stow's remembrance (namely) Sir Tho. Moore, Knight, Lord-Chancellor of England; Dr. Nic. Heath, ſometime Biſhop of Rocheſter, then of Worceſter, and laſtly, Archbiſhop of York, and Lord Chancellor of England; Dr. Joh. Whitgift, Biſhop of Worceſter, and, after, Archbiſhop of Canterbury, &c.

S. AUGUSTIN, Archbiſhop of Canterbury.

IT is confidently believ'd, and not without probable Reaſon; that the Church of S. Auguſtin (vulgarly call'd S. Auſtins) near S. Paul's-Cathedral, in London (of which I am now to treat) was (as, likewiſe, divers other Churches in England were) dedicated to the Memory, not of S. Auguſtin, Biſhop of Hippo, in Africa, that great and famous Father, call'd by ſome (and not unworthily) Doctor Doctorum; but, rather, of S. Auguſtin the Monk, the Firſt Archbiſhop of Canterbury, in relation to that peculiar Benefit, which this Nation by his Means principally, under God, receiv'd in the firſt Converſion of the Engliſh-Saxons to the Chriſtian Faith, which not without great care and pains (with God's aſſiſtance) he did in a good meaſure Effect, converting firſt Ethelbert, King of the Kentiſh-Saxons, and his People; by whoſe Example, afterwards, divers others alſo of this Nation were converted. And, therefore, with all reverend Reſpect letting paſs that ancient Holy Father, I ſhall proceed to ſpeak only in this place of S. Auguſtin the Monk, to whom the aforeſaid Church of S. Auſtin is preſum'd, ſolely, to have been dedicated.

This Auguſtin, therefore (as all Writers agree) was a Roman, and Head of the Monaſtery of S. Gregory at Rome, and of the Order of S. Benedict, ſent into England from Rome by Pope Gregory the Firſt, Anno Dom. 596. to convert the Engliſh-Saxons to Chriſtian Faith; which great Work he having begun, went out of England the next Year, An. 597. unto Arles, in France, and by Eleutherius, Archbiſhop of that City, he was there ordain'd Archbiſhop of the Engliſh-Nation the 16. Kal. of December; thence he then return'd into England, where the King confirm'd on him his Royal Palace at Canterbury for his Epiſcopal Seat.

This Auguſtin, afterwards (with the King's Approbation) removed the Archiepiſcopal Sea, which then was at London to Canterbury, where he himſelf was, then by Commiſſion from the Pope conſecrated the firſt Archbiſhop of that new Sea, turning the Archbiſhoprick of London into a Biſhoprick, whereof he conſecrated Melitus the Firſt Biſhop, Anno Dom. 604.

In Memory of this Archbiſhop the Monaſtery at Canterbury, erected firſt by King Ethelbert, and this Archbiſhop Auguſtin under the Name of S. Peter, and S. Paul, was afterwards by Archbiſhop Dunſtan, An. 978. dedicated to the Honour of S. Peter, and S. Paul the Apoſtles, and to S. Auguſtin; and from thence called by the Name of S. Auguſtin's Monaſtery, which continued famous till the Suppreſſion of it by King Henry VIII.

Concerning the preciſe Year when Auguſtin died Writers much diſagree; for ſome ſay he died in the Year 611. and others in 608. and others in 614. His Body was buried, firſt without doors, near to the Church of his Monaſtery, becauſe the Church was not yet finiſh'd; but afterwards was removed into the North-Porch of the ſaid Church. In which place all the Bodies of the Archbiſhops following were laid till Theodore, who was firſt buried in the Church, becauſe the Porch was full. This Auguſtin, is ſaid to have been a Man of exceeding tall Stature, well-favour'd, and of a very amiable Countenance.

Thus much of S. Auguſtin the Archbiſhop, extracted chiefly out of Mr. Ric. Smith's MS.

S. Auguſtin, or Auſtin, Rectory.

THIS Church (which is the only Parochial-Church in this City dedicated to that Saint) ſtands on the Weſt-End of Watling-ſtreet, on the North-ſide thereof, in the Ward of Farindon-Within; and in Records is call'd Eccleſia Sancti Auguſtini ad Portam, becauſe it ſtood near the Gate that formerly gave entrance into S. Paul's-Church-yard out of Watling-ſtreet. This Church is a Rectory, in the Collation of the Dean and Chapter of S. Pauls, but ſubject to the Archdeacon. Archid. Lon.

The State of this in the time of Ralph de Diceto, Dean of S. Pauls, was thus return'd.

I can give no farther account of the Succeſſion of the Rectors of this Church than ſince the Reſtauration, for the Reaſons mention'd in S. Antlins. S. Auguſtin's, Priory.

Sto. Sur. 185. THIS Religious-Houſe was founded by Humfry Bohun, Earl of Hereford and Eſſex, An. Dom. 1253. on the Weſt-ſide of Broad-ſtreet, in the Ward of that Name; and was afterwards re-edified, An. 1351. by another Humfry Bohun, Earl of Hereford and Eſſex, Lord of Brecknock, and Conſtable of England, who died in 1361. and was buried in the Choir of this Church; which was a very fair large Church, and had a moſt fine ſpired Steeple, ſmall, high, and ſtreight, which was overthrown by a tempeſt of Wind, in the Year 1362. but was raiſed of new, and ſtill (ſays Stow) might have ſtood, had not private Benefit (the only devourer of Antiquity) pull'd it down. Both that goodly Steeple, and all that Eaſt-part of the Church, hath lately (ſaith he) been taken down, and Houſes (for one man's Commodity) raiſed in the Place, whereby London hath loſt ſo goodly an Ornament, and times hereafter may now talk of it.

Many Noblemen and Perſons of Eminency were buried in this Priory-Church, as you may ſee in Stow, but their Monuments are all defaced.

After the Diſſolution of this Religious-Houſe, the Site thereof, and the other Buildings within its Precincts were diſpoſed of to divers Perſons. Many of them were granted to Wriotheſley, in 32. Hen. VIII. others of them to William Lord S. John, in 33. Hen. VIII. others to Sir Ric. Rich, in 38. Hen. VIII. and ſome to Laurence Hereward and others by way of exchange, in 38. Hen. VIII. And laſt of all the upper Part of the Church, viz. the Choir, the croſs Iles, and other parts of this Religious-Houſe were granted by Edw. VI. in the 4th of his Reign to the ſaid Lord S. John (now Earl of Wiltſhire) and to his Heirs in Soccage. Coll. M. W. Grimes.

This William, Lord S. John, Earl of Wiltſhire (afterwards Lord Treaſurerer and Marqueſs of Wincheſter) built in the Reign of Hen. VIII. and Edw. VI. a large Houſe, in place of Auguſtin-Frier-Houſe, Cloiſter, and Gardens, which was called Wincheſter-Houſe. The Church he pull'd not down; but the Weſt-end thereof incloſed from the Steeple and Choir, was in the Year 1550 granted to the Dutch Nation in London to be their preaching Place, which ſtill ſo continues.

Auguſtin

Auguſtin-Friers, their Order.

THE Friers, in this Monaſtery, were term'd by Mr. Fuller, Auguſtine-Eremits; who (ſaith he) are of far later date than the Auguſtinian-Monks, as, who firſt entred into England, Anno 1252. and had (if not their firſt) their faireſt Habitation at S. Peters the Poor, London, thence taking the Denomination of Poverty (otherwiſe at this Day one of the richeſt Pariſhes in the City) becauſe the Auguſtinian-Eremits went under the Notion of Begging-Friers. To give the Auguſtinian-Friers their due (ſaith he) they were good Diſputants; on which account they were remembred ſtill in Oxford by an Act performed by Candidates for Maſterſhip, call'd Keeping of Auguſtins.

Ful. Ch. Hiſt. B. 6. p. 273.

Keep. of A. whence ſo called.

These Auguſtin-Friers (ſaith Mr. Ric. Smith, in his late forecited MS.) came out of Italy, An. 1252. who, afterwards, for the Seditious dealing of Tho. Penkoth Provincial of that Order, and of others of the ſame Order about 1485. loſt all their Authority and Reputation in England, by labouring by their Seditious Sermons to deſtroy the Progeny of Edw. IV. as much as in them lay, that the Uſurper Ric. III. might be ſeated in the Throne.

M. R. Smith's MS.

Pitts tells us, That various are the Opinions concerning the Time, that theſe Auguſtin-Friers came firſt into England; ſo that it is not eaſie to find out the Truth, nor is it much matter; for, however, it is confeſs'd, that they flouriſh'd there a long time, and then ſets down particularly by Names about 70 famous Writers of England, who were Auguſtinians: But theſe conſiſted as well of Regular-Canons and Monks, as Friers.

Pit. de illuſt. Aug. Scrip. pag. 974.

They, who are of this Order of the Auguſtinian-Eremits, confidently affirm, That S. Auguſtin, Biſhop of Hippo was the firſt Author or Founder of this Order; but others are of Opinion, That the Order of theſe Auguſtinian-Eremits was in the beginning form'd of ſeveral Eremitical Congregations, which were ſpread in ſeveral Places under different Names, and eſpecially of the Williamites and Zambonites, and were united by Pope Alexander IV. unto the Rule of S. Auguſtin under one Head or General, who order'd them to wear the ſame Habits (to wit) a long Gown with broad Sleeves, a fine Cloth Hood, and under theſe black Garments, other white ones; and that they ſhould tie about their Waſt a Leathern Girdle faſtned with an Ivory Bone. This Order being confirm'd by the following Popes, ſo prodigiouſly increas'd, that a very little while after, they had 2000 Convents of Men, and 300 of Women.

The Hoſpital }

S. Bartholomew was one of the 12 Apoſtles. He was by Birth a Galilean of a Noble Extraction, being Nephew to the King of Syria. By ſome, he is thought to have been a Syrian of a Noble Extract, and to have derived his Pedegree from the Ptolomies of Ægypt, from no other Ground, as I believe (ſaith Dr. Cave) than from the Analogy of his Name. And ſome are of Opinion, that S. Bartholomew was that Nathanael mention'd in the Holy Scripture, in whom there was no Guile: Their Opinion being grounded on this Obſervation, That almoſt in every place, where the Names of the Apoſtles are rehears'd, Bartholomew followeth next to Philip, as Nathanael follows Philip in the Number of the Diſciples, Joh. 1. 45. 'Tis plain (ſaith he) That he (as the reſt of the Apoſtles) was a Galilean. And of Nathanael, we know, it is particularly ſaid, That he was of Canaa in Galilee.

All Writers agree, that after Chriſt's Aſcenſion, S. Bartholomew journy'd into India, and after his Labours there, he return'd to the more Weſtern and Northern Parts of Aſia. At Hieropolis in Phrygia, we find him in Company with S. Philip; hence probably he went into Lycaonia, the People whereof, Chryſoſtom aſſures us, he inſtructed and train'd up in the Chriſtian Diſcipline. His laſt remove was to Albanople in Armenia the Great, where, whilſt he ſought to reclaim the People from Idolatry, he was by the Governour of the Place commanded to be crucified with his Head downwards. He was buried at Albanoble, where he ſuffer'd, whence his Body was afterwards tranſlated, firſt to Duras, a City in the Borders of Perſia, thence to Liparis, one of the Ionian Iſlands, thence to Beneventum in Italy; and laſt of all to Rome, by the Emperor Otho II. in the time of Pope Gregory V.

Feaſt, Aug. 24

The Feſtival of S. Bartholomew is yearly celebrated with us on Aug. 24.

S. Barthol. Patron of the Curriers and Tanners.

As divers Trades aſſume to themſelves peculiar Patrons, to whom they particularly apply themſelves for Protection; ſo S. Bartholomew is the reputed Patron of the Curriers and Tanners, who deal in Dreſſing whole Leather, as Criſpinus and Criſpinian are the Patrons of the Shooemaker, who cut out and diſſect the Leather prepar'd by the Bartholomeans, into Boots and Shooes for Man's Uſe.

S. Bartholomew-Exchange, Rectory.

THIS Pariſh-Church in old Records, call'd Little S. Bartholomew's, ſtands at the South-Eaſt Corner of Bartholomew-Lane in Broadſtreet-Ward, over-againſt the Royal-Excharge, and therefore now call'd, S. Bartholomew-Exchange. It is a Rectory, and ſubject to the Archdecaon.

James Wilford, Taylor, one of the Sheriffs in 1499. appointed by his Teſtament, a Doctor of Divinity, every Good-Friday, for ever, to preach here a Sermon of Chriſt's Paſſion, from ſix of the Clock, till eight in the Afternoon.

Ibidem.

Miles Coverdale, Biſhop of Exeter, was buried in the Chancel of this Church, of whom you may read among the Rectors of S. Magnus.

As to the Patronage of this Church, it appears by what follows, that it was ſome hundred of Years ſince, in one Simon Godart, Citizen and Draper of London. But after the Founding and Endowing the Abby of Graces, near the Tower of London, by Edward III. in 25. of his Reign, ann. 1350. it was in the Abbot and Convent of that Monaſtry (two Turns, one in 1388. and the other in 1398. only excepted) till their Diſſolution in the Reign of Henry VIII. upon which it came to the Crown, and hath continu'd in it ever ſince.

This Church was burnt down in the late dreadful Fire, and ſince rebuilt, and made of the yearly Value of 100 l. in lieu of Tyths to the Rector.

In 1636. the yearly Profits thereof were return'd as followeth: Sion-College, MS.

He was always eſteem'd a Learned Man, and a painful Preacher. He died in 1623. and was buried near to the Body of his Wife, in the Chancel of this Church. [Ath. Ox. Vol. I. p. 791.

m Rad. Bridoake was born (as my Author was inform'd) at Chitham-Hill, near Mancheſter in Lancaſhire, admitted Student in Brazennoſe-College, Oxon. July 15. 1630. aged 16 Years, took one Degree in Arts, determin'd ſoon after, and was forthwith made Por-Chaplain of New-College by Doctor Pink, Warden of that Houſe, and Vice Chancellor of that Univerſity. In 1636. he was created Maſter of Arts, and after that, Curate of Wytham, near Oxford, and Corrector of the Preſs in Oxford; in which Employ, he ſo well pleas'd Dr. Jackſon, Preſident of Corpus-Chriſti-College there, upon Correcting a Book of his, that he made him Maſter of the Free-School at Mancheſter, of which, the Preſident of the ſaid College, for the time being, is Patron. Afterwards he became Chaplain to James Earl of Derby, and was in Latham-Houſe all the while it was beſieg'd, where he did good Service; when the King's Cauſe declin'd, he ſtuck faſt to that noble Family, and became a diligent Solicitor for his noble Patron's Life, after he was taken Priſoner in 1651. in which Buſineſs he ſo plied William Lenthall, the Speaker of the Houſe of Commons, in particular, that (when he ſaw nothing could ſave his Lord's Life) made him his Chaplain, and ſoon after, Preacher of the Rolls in Chancery-Lane. By Lenthall's Endeavours, he became Vicar of Witney, in Oxfordſhire, and by his Patron's means, got the Rectory of that Place to be annex'd to the Vicarage, and not long after, was made Miniſter of this Church of S. Bartholomew, to which, after the Reſtauration, he was regularly admitted, Sept. 8. 1660. at the King's Preſentation, as appears above. On March 14. 1659. he was appointed one of the Commiſſioners, by Act of Parliament, for the Approbation and Admiſſion of Miniſters; but that Act vaniſhing upon the King's Reſtauration, he was made Chaplain to his Majeſty, and inſtall'd Canon of Windſor, July 11. and created Doctor of Divinity in Auguſt following, Ann. 1660. About this time he became Rector of Standiſh in his native Country, given to him formerly by the Earl of Derby, but not enjoy'd till now. In Sept. 1667. he was made Dean of Salisbury, and after that, Biſhop of Cheſter, and conſecrated thereunto, April 18. 1675. with Liberty to hold his Canonry of Windſor in commendam, which he did to his dying Day. He died ſuddenly as he was viſiting his Dioceſe, Oct. 5. 1678. and was buried in Bray's Chappel in the Collegiate-Ch. of Windſor, where ſoon after, was a fair Altar-Monument erected, by his Wife, over his Grave, with his Statue from Head to Foot, adorn'd with Pontificalia (all curiouſly cut from one entire piece of Alabaſter) lying thereon, with an Inſcription graven upon it, too long to inſert here, but may be ſeen, and much more of this Reverend Prelate in [*Ath. S. Bartholomew's Priory.

ON the Eaſt-ſide of Duck-Lane, and alſo of Weſt-Smithfield, ſtood the late diſſolv'd Priory of S. Bartholomew, founded by Rahere, a pleaſant, witty Gentleman, and therefore in his time, call'd the King's Minſtrel, about, or rather after the Year of Chriſt 1102. for Canons of the Order of S. Auguſtin; himſelf became their firſt Prior, and ſo continu'd till his dying Day.

Sto. Surv. 418.

Of this Rahere, and his Founding this Priory and Hoſpital of S. Bartholomew, there is a long Story or Legend, taken by Sir William Dugdale, out of Sir Robert Cotton's Library, and inſerted in his Monaſticon, which, becauſe not common, I thought it not altogether impertinent to tranſmit the Subſtance thereof here, which take as follow.

Mon. Angl. Vol. II. pag. 176, &c.

This Rahere having ſpent his Youth in Noble Men's Houſes, and the King's Palace, where, for his facetious Behaviour, he became familiar, as well with his Prince, as with the Nobility at Court, at length repented him of the Follies and Vanities of his younger Years; and that he might attain a full Remiſſion of all his Sins, went to Rome, where he heartily bewailed his former Courſe of Life, and promiſed Amendment for the future; but whilſt he remain'd there, falling very Sick, and thinking he ſhould die, he made a ſolemn Vow to build an Hoſpital to the Poor, if it ſhould pleaſe God to reſtore him to his Health.

He recover'd, and in order to perform his Vow, he return'd homeward, and as he was on his Journey, one Night, being aſleep, he ſeem'd to be carry'd by a certain monſtrous Creature, that had four Feet and two Wings, and plac'd on a very high Precipice, where, juſt under him, he ſaw a horrible Pit, which had no Bottom: He (conſcious of his ill Life) imagining himſelf juſt falling into it, in a great horror cry'd out; upon which, there appear'd to him a certain Man, with Majeſty in his Countenance, but of a wonderful Beauty, and asking him what he would give to be deliver'd out of ſo great a Danger of Death, and he anſwering, That he would give all that ever he could; he told him, That he was Bartholomew, an Apoſtle of Jeſus Chriſt, and came to ſuccour him in his Diſtreſs, and to diſcover the Secrets of a heavenly Myſtery to him. Know then, ſaid S. Bartholomew, that by the Will and Command of the Higheſt Trinity, and the Favour and Counſel of the Celeſtial Court, I have choſen a Place at Smithfield, in the Suburbs of London, where thou ſhalt build a Church to my Name; and after having told him how propitious God would be to thoſe faithful People, who ſhould offer up their Prayers in this Temple; encourag'd him to go on with the Work, not troubling himſelf about the Coſt of it, and with a Promiſe, that he ſhould be the Lord and Patron of it, he vaniſh'd.

Rahere awak'd, and was in great Doubt with himſelf, whether he ſhould take this for a fantaſtick Illuſion, or a heavenly Oracle; but at laſt, after ſome Diſpute within himſelf, inclines to the latter, and reſolv'd to obey it, as a Command from Heaven.

Home he came, and was joyfully receiv'd by his Friends and Acquaintants, to whom he diſcovers his Viſion and his Deſign thereupon, and conſults with them, how to go about ſo great a Work, and they (ſome of them being Citizens of London) informing him, that he muſt firſt get the King's Licence, and the rather, becauſe the Ground whereon he was by S. Bartholomew appointed to build, was the King's; he thereupon applied himſelf to the Court, and by the Aſſiſtance of Richard, Biſhop of London, obtain'd both the King's Title to the Ground, and his Licence to build what he intended thereupon.

Having thus far ſucceeded, he ſet himſelf heartily to the Work, and to clear the Ground (which for the moſt part was mooriſh and full of Water and Mud, and on what was dry of it, was the common Place of Execution) and to get Stones and other Materials ready for his Building, he feign'd himſelf an Idiot or Fool (concealing what his Deſign was) and by playing the Changeling, got a great Company of Rabble about him, whom, by his own Example, he daily employ'd to clear the Ground, and to bring Stones and other Neceſſaries to this Place, till at laſt, having gotten what he thought requiſite, he diſcover'd what he intended; and in performance of his Vow, firſt built the Hoſpital, and after, in obedience to the heavenly Viſion, the Church and Priory, which he founded, or rather (as I ſuppoſe) finiſh'd in the Year 1123. born in the Memory of S. Bartholomew, and had the Church conſecrated by the ſaid Richard, Biſhop of London.

Rahere having thus finiſh'd this Priory of S. Bartholomew, plac'd therein Canons-Regular, of the Order of S. Auguſtin, and became the firſt Prior thereof himſelf, where, after he had continu'd Prior 22 Years, he died, and his Body was buried at the Eaſt-End of the Choir of this his own Church, and on the North-ſide thereof, over which was a fair Monument erected, and afterwards renewed by William Bolton, the laſt Prior of this Houſe, and remains very freſh and decently kept to this Day, where his Figure lies at length in Plaiſter of Paris, in his Monaſtical Habit, having four Coats of Arms on that ſide which is next the Altar, and two Monks kneeling on each ſide of it, with Books in their Hands, and an Angel at his Feet, with a Coat of Arms, and this Inſcription on the Edge of it. " Hic jacet Raherus primus Canonicus, & primus Prior iſtius Eccleſiæ.

Theſe Canons-Regular, otherwiſe call'd (from their Habit, which was a white Coat and Linen Rochet, under a black Cope, with a Scapular to cover their Heads and Shoulders) Black-Canons of the Order of S. Auſtin, pretend S. Auguſtin of Hippo to be their Founder, who ſay they erected a Monaſtery of Clerks and Prieſts, with whom he himſelf liv'd and converſ'd, and gave them a Rule how they ſhould live without Propriety, and that they ſhould promiſe the Three ordinary Vows of Religious Men. Theſe were the Canons of the Orders of S. Auguſtin, but in proceſs of time, growing diſſolute, and far diverting from the Rule of S. Auguſtin and their old Conſtitution, another ſort of Canons did ſucceed in their Places, who more nearly following the Preſcript of the Rule, were call'd Regular-Canons, who were not Eminent till the 10th and 11th Century, and not in England till after the Conqueſt.

Rahere having it ſeems, contracted many Enemies, who confederated againſt him to take away his Life, upon Diſcovery thereof to him, by one of the Confederacy, addreſs'd himſelf to King Henry I. who took him under his Protection, and in Order thereto, by his Charter, bearing Date at Weſtminſter, 1133. in the 33d of his Reign, granted to Rahere the Prior, and Canons of this Church, and to the Poor of the ſaid Hoſpital, very great Privileges and Immunities, and (among the reſt) a Fair at Bartholomewtide for three Days, to wit, the Eve of the Feaſt-Day of S. Bartholomew, the Day, and the Day following (which Stow will have to be granted by King Henry II.) and King Henry III. afterwards by his Charter, dated at Winton, June 15. in the 37th of his Reign, confirmed to them all their Lands and Churches, which had been given and granted them by the ſaid King Henry I. and other Benefactors.

Cart. Orig.

Alexander de Swerford, Treaſurer of S. Paul's, gave to Peter the Prior, and the Canons of S. Bartholomew, London, " Totam terram ſuam de Tywings, cum Advocatione Eccleſiæ ejuſdem villæ, &c. perpetuo poſſidend', ad ſuſtentationem quatuor Canonicorum in perpetuum divina celebratur. pro eo in Eccleſiaconventuali; and they regranted them again to him to enjoy during Life.

To omit the Story of the Fray related by Stow out of Matth. Paris upon Boniface the Archbiſhop of Canterbury's viſiting this Priory, Ann. 1250. I ſhall here ſhew, that this Priory was ſubject to the Biſhop of London, and to his Juriſdiction (not excluding its ſubjection to the Archbiſhop's Viſitation;) and the Priors thereof, after they have been elected, have from time to time been confirm'd by the Biſhop of London, for the time being, or his Vicar-General, as appears in ſeveral Books of Records in the Biſhop of London's Regiſtry, where it likewiſe appears, that it is ſubject to the Archbiſhop of Canterbury, when he viſits Metropolitically, and was thus viſited in the Year 1303. by Robert Winchelſey, Archbiſhop of Canterbury, who made Injunctions for them at that time, and Rules for their better Government.

Sto. Surv. 419.

This Priory was again new-built (as Stow tells us) Ann. 1410. and the Priory-Church, with the Pariſh-Church adjoyning; and the Offices and Lodgings belonging to the Priory, were afterwards repair'd by Prior Bolton, who likewiſe new-built the Mannor of Canonbury (now Cambury) at Iſlington, which belong'd to the Canons of this Houſe; and his Device, which was a Bolt thro' a Tun, remains to this Day in ſeveral Places of the Garden-Wall there, as alſo in this Priory-Church, and in ſeveral Houſes within S. Bartholomew's-Cloſe.

This Priory was ſurrendred in 30. Henry VIII. and was then valu'd at 653 l. 15 s. per ann. Dugdale; 757 l. 8 s. 4 d. Speed; and with its Appurtenances within S. Bartholomew's-Cloſe, was granted to Sir Ric. Rich, Knight, in 36. Hen. VIII. and again, to the ſame Perſon, by the Title of Ric. Lord Rich, and to his Heirs in free Socage, by Queen Elizabeth, in the 2d of her Reign.

Great S. Bartholomew, Rectory.

THE Parochial-Church (now call'd Great S. Bartholomew's) was an old Pariſh-Church, and ſtood next adjoyning to the Priory-Church, which Priory-Church (by the way) having ſix tunable Bells in the Tower, they were ſold to the Pariſh of S. Sepulchres, and then the Church being pull'd down to the Choir, the Choir was by the King's Order annex'd for the enlargeing of the ſaid old Pariſh-Church thereto adjoyning, and ſo was us'd till the Reign of Queen Mary, who gave the Remnant of the Priory-Church, to the Friers-Preachers, or Black-Friers, which was us'd as their Conventual-Church, till the firſt of our Sovereign Lady, Queen Elizabeth; then thoſe Friers were turn'd out, and all the ſaid Church, with the old Pariſh-Church, was wholly as it ſtood in the laſt Year of Edward VI. given by Parliament, to remain for ever a Pariſh-Church to the Inhabitants within the Cloſe, call'd Great S. Bartholomew's; ſince which time, the old Pariſh-Church was pull'd down, except the Steeple of rotten Timber, ready to fall of itſelf, which in the Year 1628. was pull'd down to the very Foundation, and a New one rebuilt of Brick and Stone, and very fairly finiſh'd.

Sto: Surv. 873.

In Matters Eccleſiaſtical, this Pariſh is ſubject to the Archdeacon, and the Patronage of the Church hath been in the Noble Family of the Riches, ſince the Earls of Holland, from the time of the firſt Grant of the Advowſon thereof, to Sir Ric. Rich, by King Henry VIII. in 36. of his Reign; but before that, it was, doubtleſs, appropriated to the aforeſaid Prior and Monks, and their Succeſſors, and the Cure ſupplied from time to time by them, or ſuch as they appointed; for I find no Inſtitution to it, till after the ſaid Priory was ſurrendred, ſince which time, it has been all along preſented to, under the Denomination of a Rectory, which (I preſume) was ſo conſtituted by the aforeſaid Act of Parliament.

In 1636. there was no return made of the Profits of this Church, but in 1693. the Rector and Church-Wardens preſented, that they had no Parſonage or Vicarage-Houſe, nor ever had.

S. Bartholomew's Hoſpital.

Sto. Surv. 415. THIS Hoſpital ſtands on the South-ſide of Weſt-Smithfield, in the Ward of Faringdon without, and was founded by the before-mention'd Rabere, the Founder and firſt Prior of the aforeſaid Priory of S. Bartholomew, in the Year 1102. 2. Hen. I.

Ibidem. Alfune, that had not long before built the Pariſh-Church of S. Giles without Cripplegate, became the firſt Hoſpitaler or Proctor for the Poor of this Houſe.

King Henry I. in his Charter, bearing Date in 33. of his Reign, endowed the ſaid Priory and this Hoſpital, with very great Privileges and Immunities; the firſt and principal Clauſe whereof, becauſe ſome of late have pretended this Hoſpital to be exempt from the Biſhop's Juriſdiction, I have thought fit to inſert here, which is as followeth.

Mon. Angl. Vol. II. 386. “ In nomine ſanctæ & individuæ Trinitatis, &c. Ego Henricus, &c. Sciatis “ me conceſſiſſe, & hac Carta mea confirmaſſe Eccleſiæ beati Bartholomei de “ Londoniis, & Raberio Priori, & Canonicis-Regularibus in eadem Eccleſia Deo “ ſervientibus, & pauperibus Hoſpitalis ejuſdem Eccleſiæ, quod ſint liberi ab “ omni terrena ſervitute, & terrena poteſtate, & ſubjectione præter Epiſco-“ pales conſuetudines, viz. tantùm conſecrationem Eccleſiæ, baptiſmum & or-“ dinationem Clericorum, ut ſicut aliqua Eccleſia in tota Anglia magis eſt “ libera, ſic & hæc Eccleſia libera, & omnes terræ ad eam pertinentes, quas “ nunc habet, vel quas rationabiliter acquirere poterit Raberus Prior vel Ca“ nonici, ſive emptione, ſive dono, & habeat ſoccam, &c. By which Clauſe this Priory and Hoſpital are exempted from all terrene or earthly Servitude, and earthly Power and Subjection, except Epiſcopal Cuſtoms, to wit, Conſecration of the Church, Baptiſm and ſetting in Order, Regulating or Governing the Clerks, for ſo the word Ordinatio ſignifies. Hence I think it plain, that Epiſcopal Authority and Juriſdiction were preſerved in both theſe Houſes, which farther appears by the following and continued Practices of Richard Baudake, 40. Newport, Biſhop of London, who viſited this Hoſpital in the Year 1318. Jure Ordinario (as it is expreſſed) and then made ſeveral Injunctions for the Ibid. 50. better Regulating thereof. Likewiſe of Stephen Graveſend, Biſhop of London, in 1321. who iſſued out his Commiſſion to ſeveral Perſons therein named, to viſit this Hoſpital.

Afterwards, there happening ſome Difference between the Maſter and Brethren of this Hoſpital, and the Prior and Convent of the ſaid Priory of S. Bartholomew, about a Compoſition formerly made between them, by Euſtace Biſhop of London; there was another Compoſition made on the 11th of April Braybroke, 286. 1373. by Simon Sudbury, then Biſhop of London, by which all Matters in Difference were compos'd, wherein it was (inter alia) ordain'd, That upon the chuſing of a Maſter, the Brethren of the Hoſpital ſhould firſt petition the Prior to have his Licence to elect, and having thereupon elected their Maſter, they ſhould then preſent him to the ſaid Prior, and if he found him a fit Perſon, he ſhould then preſent him to the Biſhop of London for his Confirmation; and after he had confirm'd the Election, then the Perſon ſo elected and confirm'd ſhould ſwear Obedience to the Prior, and Fidelity to the Prior and Convent.

The Elections of the Maſters of this Hoſpital down from this time to its Diſſolution, have from time to time been confirm'd by the Biſhop of London, or their Vicars-General; and thoſe Maſters, upon ſuch Confirmations, have continually ſworn Canonical Obedience to the ſaid Biſhops, as appears in the Proceedings upon ſuch Elections, recorded in theſe following Books in the London-Regiſtry (namely Braybroke, fol. 264. 272. 291. Fitzjames, 15. 66. Tunſtall, 80. 87.) and Stokeſley, 80. 84. 91. 93. And after the Diſſolution and Refounding the ſame by King Henry VIII. by this Hoſpitals being charg'd with Procurations to the Biſhop and Archdeacon of London (which are never paid, but upon their reſpective Viſitations:) And their Vicars receiving Inſtitution from the Biſhop, and Induction from the Archdeacon. All which conſider'd, I think the Officers of this Hoſpital have little reaſon to pretend (as ſome of them lately have, for which reaſon I have been the more exact and large in this matter) an Exemption from the Biſhop's Juriſdiction; when notwithſtanding ſuch Pretence, and ſince they have ſo pretended, they have been fain to preſent Two Vicars ſucceſſively to the Biſhop for his Inſtitution and Admiſſion of them into their Vicarage.

King Henry III. granted to Katharine, late Wife of William Hardell, 20 Foot in length and breadth in Land in Smithfield, next to the Chapel of S. Barthol. to build a Recluſe or Ankorage, commanding the Mayor and Sheriffs of London to aſſign the ſaid 20 Foot to the ſaid Katharine [Carta 11. Hen. III.] Sto.Sur. 415.

Richard Whittington, ſome time Mayor of London, of his Goods repair'd this Hoſpital, about the Year 1423. Ibidem.

This Hoſpital was valu'd at the Suppreſſion, Ann. 1593. (31. Hen. VIII.) at 305 l. 6 s. 7 d. It was refounded by King Hen. VIII. in 1546. and the Biſhop of Rocheſter, on Jan. 13. the ſame Year, preaching at S. Paul's Croſs, declar'd the Gift of the ſaid King (who died about a Fortnight after) to the Citizens for relieving the Poor, which contain'd the Church of Grey-Friers, the Church of S. Bartholomew, with the Hoſpital, and divers Meſſuages, with their Appurtenances in divers places; and thereupon, a voluntary Contribution was made by the Citizens, towards the Preparation and Furniſhing theſe Hoſpitals, upon the Motion of the Mayor, Aldermen, and other grand Citizens, to that purpoſe; ſo that Jul. 26. 1552. the Repairing of the Grey-Friers Houſe for the poor fatherleſs Children, was taken in hand; and in the latter end of the ſame Month began the Repairing this Hoſpital for the poor diſeas'd Perſons, and was of new endowed and furniſhed at the Charges of the Citizens. Ibid. 417.

Little S. Bartholomews, Vicarage.

THIS Church (which was the Chapel of the Hoſpital) upon the Suppreſſion, remain'd a Pariſh-Church for the Tenants, dwelling within the Precincts of the ſaid Hoſpital, and is now call'd Little S. Bartholomews: It is a Vicarage, ſubject to the Archdeacon in Subordination to the Biſhop; and the Patrons are the Mayor, Commonalty, and Citizens of the City of London, Governours of the Hoſpital for the Poor, call'd Little S. Bartholomews, near to Weſt-Smithfield, of the Foundation of King Henry VIII. Archid.Lond.

Jan. 13. 38. Hen. VIII. there was an Agreement made between that King and the Mayor and Commonalty of London, dated Dec. 27. by which (inter alia) the Vicar of this Church was to have 13 l. 6 s. 8 d. Sto. Sur. 342.

S. BENEDICT.

S. Benedict or Bennet (to whoſe Memory the Four following Churches in this City are dedicated) was born at Nurſia, a Town in Umbria in Italy, in 480. was Patriarch of a famous Order call'd by his Name Benedictins, which Order is ſaid to begin about 516. and that he was the firſt that brought a Monaſtical Life to be eſteem'd in the Weſt, where the moſt antient Monks are thoſe of the Benedictines, who alſo are the moſt famous of the Roman Church. He founded Twelve Monaſteries in his own Country, the chief whereof is Mont-Caſſin; and gave them a Rule, which was afterwards approved by Pope Gregory the Great, Ann. Dom. 595. They were call'd alſo Black Monks, from the Colour of their Habit, which was a black looſe Coat of Stuff, reaching down to their Heels, with a Cowl or Hood of the ſame, and a Scapular, and under that Coat another white Habit as large as the former, made of white Flannel, and Boots on their Legs. Of this Order were all our Cathedral Priories, except Carliol, and moſt of the richeſt Abbies in the Kingdom.

S. Benedict continu'd at the Monaſtery of Caſſino (of which he was the firſt Abbot) until 542. or 543. as moſt Writers affirm. In the Sixteenth Year after he had finiſh'd his illuſtrious Monaſtery of Caſſino, as Bede writes, on Mar. 21. about the 62. Year of his Age, as Trithemius writes, he gave up his Ghoſt to the Lord, and was buried with his Siſter Scholaſtica at Caſſino, where he died. His Feſtival is celebrated yearly on Mar. 21. Feaſt, Mar. 21

The Order of S. Benedict has been the ſource of ſeveral others, who follow the Rule of the firſt Founder, and have made new Branches of Monks in the Church of Rome.

The Four Churches in this City, which are dedicated to S. Benedict or S. Bennet, are

S. Bennet Fincke, Curacy.

THIS Pariſh-Church (in old time a Rectory, now a Donative or Curacy) ſtands on the South-ſide of Threadneedle-ſtreet, between Finch-Lane and the Royal-Exchange, and is call'd S. Bennet-Finck of Robert Finck the elder, who new-built it, but about what Time I find not. It is in Broadſtreet-Ward, and ſubject to the Archdeacon, ſaving only as to Wills and Adminiſtrations, which belong to the Commiſſary.

Sto.Surv.189.

Archid. Comiſſar. Lond.

The Advowſon of this Rectory and Pariſh-Church appears to be of old in the noble Family of the Nevils, which, very likely, was given by ſome one of them to the before-mention'd neighbouring Hoſpital of S. Antony of Vienna: For I find, that at the Petition of John Carpenter, the Maſter, and the Brethren of that Hoſpital, this Church of S. Bennet was in 1440. by Robert Gilbert, then Biſhop of London, appropriated to the ſaid Hoſpital, upon their erecting of a Free-School within the Precincts of the ſame, or thereabouts, and maintaining of the ſame, as appears by the ſaid Inſtrument: By means whereof, this Church became ever after a Donative or Curacy, and the Cure ſupply'd by ſuch as were appointed by the Maſter and Brethren of the ſaid Hoſpital.

Pat. 17. Hen.6.Jul.13.

Afterwards this Hoſpital, with all its Appurtenances, was by King Ed. IV. in 1474. given and granted (as hath been before obſerved) to the Dean and Chapter of Windſor, to be held and enjoy'd by them and their Succeſſors for ever, in pure and perpetual Alms; by reaſon whereof the Advowſon of this Church has been in the ſaid Dean and Chapter ever ſince, and is at this Day ſupply'd by none, but one of the Canons of Windſor, or ſuch as they ſhall appoint, who is to be licens'd by the Biſhop of London, or his Chancellour.

Vid. S. Ant. Hoſpit.

This Church was burnt down in the late dreadful Fire, but is ſince rebuilt, and made of the yearly Profit of 100 l. to the Incumbent.

In 1636. the yearly Profits of this Church were return'd as follows: viz. An Impropriation in the Dean and Chapter of Windſor worth 100 l. per Ann. lett to Mr. Warefield, which Mr. Warefield was then Curate of this Church, and ſo continu'd till he was turn'd out by Sequeſtration, in the beginning of the Rebellion, in 1642.

In 1693. the Churchwardens preſented, the Glebe rebuilt upon ſince the Fire, by Mr. Mic. Wood, for 40 Years, at 15 l. per Ann. Ground-Rent. Given towards the rebuilding of the Church, by George Holman, Eſq; 1000 l.

Reg. Lond. In 1693. the Churchwardens preſented the Parſonage-Houſe burnt down in the late dreadful Fire, but ſince rebuilt, leaſed out, and now enjoy'd by Tobiah Bilrah, at 40 s. per Ann. for 40. Years.

In an additional Preſentment they added, That Rob. Offley, the Elder, by Indenture dated July 11. 30. Eliz. did grant, enfeoff, and confirm to Nine Feofees, all that Tenement, with the Appurtenances in this Pariſh, which did formerly belong to the late Chantry of the Lady Joan Roſe above-named, and is on the Eaſt thereof; the Rents and Profits of the ſame to be employ'd towards the Repairs of this Church, and the ſaid Tenement; and the Reſidue to be employ'd to ſuch good and godly Uſes, as the ſaid Feofees and their Succeſſors, and the Churchwardens, ſhould think fit.

Alſo, That William Jordan, by his Will, dated Dec. 10. 1610. gave to the then Rector and Churchwardens of this Pariſh, another Tenement, next adjoyning to that above-mention'd; the Profits thereof to be employ'd by them and their Succeſſors, to the ſuſtaining and ſupporting all the Works, Ornaments, and other Burthens of this Pariſh-Church for ever. Theſe Tenements were both burnt down in the late dreadful Fire, and are now rebuilt, and made into one, by John Butts, upon a Leaſe granted him of the Ground whereon they both ſtood, at 17 l. per Ann. Rent, which is employ'd (as they ſay) according to the Will of the Donors.

Likewiſe, That Mrs. Doxie, Widow, by her Will, dated in 1605. gave 50 l. for purchaſing of the yearly Value of 50 s. to be paid yearly to the Parſon of this Pariſh, and his Succeſſors for ever, for his better Maintenance; provided he be reſident, and preach every Sabbath-day within this Pariſh-Church: Which Gift was received and taken into the Churchwardens Accompts, and has been formerly paid to the Parſon; but the preſent Miniſter being not reſident, it is given to the Lecturer.

Alſo, That Mrs. Joan Newton, Widow, by her Will, dated Mar. 23. 1631. gave to the Churchwardens 30 l. for payment of 40 s. per Ann. after the Death of John Doone and his Wife, for the Maintenance of a Lecturer upon the Sabbath-day in this Church, which is now paid to the preſent Lecturer.

And laſtly, That the Lady Elizabeth Newton, by her Will, gave 40 l. to the Miniſter, Churchwardens, and Veſtry-men of this Pariſh, for a Sermon every Chriſtmas-day, and to buy and give a Chaldron of Coals to the moſt poor Men and Widows every Year, which Sermon is preach'd by the preſent Lecturer, and the Coals yearly provided for the Poor.

I can give no account of the Rectors of this Church (ſave only of Two) but ſince the Reſtauration of King Charles II. for the reaſon mention'd in S. Antlins. One whereof, namely VVill. Stodeley, was Parſon of this Church, in July 1375. for on the 13th of that Month and Year, he had the King's Licence to exchange this Church with VVill. de Greſeley, for that of Biſhop's-Hampton, in the Dioceſe of Worceſter [Pat. 49. Edw. III. p. 1.] The other was —— Adams, Parſon of the ſame, the Return above-mention'd was made, in 1636.

a —— Adams, was ſequeſtred for his Loyalty in the late Rebellion, was eſteemed an excellent Preacher; but died before the Reſtauration.

b Peter Lane, was born in the City of Norwich; bred up in S. John's-Coll. Cambridge, of which he had been Fellow, and a Maſter of Arts; benefic'd at in Kent, but ejected thence by Sequeſtration, in the late Rebellion; reſtor'd upon the King's Reſtauration, but left it when he was admitted to this of S. Bennet Paul's-Wharf, where he continu'd to do his Duty during all the time of the late great Plague in 1665. out of which being burnt in 1666. Dr. Henchman, Biſhop of London, not long after, confer'd on him Padington, in Midd. a Curacy endow'd with 80 l. per Annum. He liv'd till his Church of S. Bennet was rebuilt, and enjoy'd that (with the Church of S. Peter annext) as alſo his ſaid Curacy for ſome time; and aged about 75. died at Padington aforeſaid, and was buried in the Chancel of the Ch. there, in May 1688.

c Edw. Gee, the preſent Rector, 1700.

S. Bennet Sherebog, Rectory.

THIS was a ſmall Pariſh-Church, at firſt dedicated to S. Oſyth (contracted into S. Syth) who was a Queen and Martyr, from whence the Street near this Church is call'd S. Syths-lane at this Day. Of which Saints Life I intend to give an Account when I come to treat of the Abby of S. Oſyths, in Eſſex.

This Church of S. Syth hath alſo an Addition of Bennet Shorne, or Shrog, or Shorebog (vulgarly Sherebog) for by all theſe Names, Stow ſaith he hath read it, but the antienteſt (ſaith he) is Shorne; ſeeming to take that Name of one Benedict Shorne, Citizen, and Stock-Fiſhmonger of London, a new Builder, Repairer, or Benefactor thereof, in the Reign of Edw. II. ſo that Shorne (ſaith he) is but corruptly called Shrog, and more corruptly Shorebog; which Church being very much decayed, was at the Pariſh Charge very amply Repaired and Beautified, Anno 1628. It ſtood near S. Syths-lane, at the Eaſt-end of Needlers-lane, in Cheap-Ward.

Sto. Sur. 276.

By the Name of Shorebog, I find it written in 1323. (16. Edw. II.) It is a Rectory ſubject to the Archdeacon, ſaving only as to Wills and Adminiſtrations which belong to the Commiſſary.

Thomas Romain, who was Mayor of London in 1310. and hath a Chantry in the Church of S. Antlins, and another in that of S. Thomas the Apoſtle, founded alſo a Chantry in this Church, and endowed it with ſix Marks per An. for the Souls of Ralph le Fever, and Lucy his Wife, endowed with five Marks per Ann.

Braybrok. 35.

Edward Hall, who wrote the large Chronicle from Ric. II. to the End of Hen. VIII. was buried in this Church. He was a Gentleman of Greys-Inn, Common Serjeant of this City, and then Underſheriff of the ſame.

Sto. ut ſupra.

The Patronage of this Church (as will appear hereafter) was of old in the Prior and Convent of S. Mary Overies, in Southwark, upon the Diſſolution of which it came to the Crown, and hath continued in it ever ſince.

This Church being burnt down in the late dreadful Fire, it was afterwards annext to that of S. Stephen Walbrooke (which is now the Parochial Church for the Inhabitants of both theſe Pariſhes) and both together are made of the yearly Value of 100 l. in lieu of Tyths to the Incumbent; and the ſite of this Church remains now only as a Burying-place for the Inhabitants of this Pariſh.

In 1636. the Profits of this Church were return'd as followeth:

In 1693. it was thus preſented: A Parſonage-Houſe burnt down by the late dreadful Fire; rebuilt ſince by Mr. Abraham Woolley, upon a Leaſe of 40 Years approv'd by the Biſhop, paying to the Parſon 5 l. per Ann. The Parſon hath no other Houſe nor Glebe in this Pariſh; no Revenue belonging to the Pariſh, nor Gift, nor Legacy, except 5 l. per Ann. left by Mr. Daviſon for the keeping in Repair a Vault belonging to his Family, which is accordingly done, and the Remainder employ'd for the Uſe of the Poor.

o Matth.Griffith was born of Gentile Parents in London, became a Commoner of Braze-noſe-College, Oxon, in the beginning of May 1615. Aged about 16 Years or more, took one Degree of Arts as a Member of Gloceſter-Hall, then Holy Orders, and ſoon after became Lecturer of S. Dunſtan in the Weſt, under the Inſpection (as 'tis ſaid) of Dr. John Donne, whoſe Favourite he was. In 1640. he was inſtituted to this Ch. He was likewiſe collated by the Dean and Chapter of S. Pauls to the Church of S. Mary Magdalen Old-Fiſhſtreet, but the time of his Admiſſion appears not; where ſhewing himſelf a hearty Epiſcoparian, he was in the Beginning of the Rebellion ſequeſtred, plundred, and impriſon'd in Newgate, whence being let out, he was forced to fly; but taken, and afterwards impriſon'd in Peter-Houſe (London.) At length getting looſe thence, he retir'd to the King at Oxon, by Vertue of whoſe Letters, he was actually created Doctor of Divinity, in June 1643. and made one of his Chaplains. Afterwards, upon the continu'd ſucceſſes of the Rebels, he returned to London, and there privately read and continued Prayers and other Ordinances according to the Church of England (particularly, to my own knowledge, at the little obſerv'd Church of S. Nicolas Olaves, on the back ſide of old Fiſhſtreet) to the poor Cavaliers during the Uſurpation, for which he ſuffer'd ſeven violent Aſſaults (as it is ſaid) and five Impriſonments; the laſt of which, was in Newgate, in the Beginning of the Year 1660. preſſing too zealouſly the Royal Cauſe in a Sermon preach'd by him at Mercers-Chappel, March 25. on Prov. 24. 21. Publiſh'd afterwards under the Title of The Fear of God, and the King, before General Monk before he durſt own that Cauſe, but was ſoon after releas'd. After the King's Return, he was reſtored to his Ch. of S. Mary Magdalen, which he held till his Death, was made preacher to the honourable Societies of the Temples, and Rector of Bladon near Woodſtock, in Com. Oxon, where he died Oct. 14. 1665. and was buried in the Chancel of the Church there. [Ath. Ox. 2. Vol. 249.]

p Joh. Beadle, I gueſs, continued Rector of this Church till he was burnt out by the Fire, in 1666.

One Will. Santre was the firſt Engliſh Proteſtant that was burnt for a Heretick, and in Fox's Acts and Monuments, Ed. Nov. 1. Vol. 586. and in Fuller's Church-Hiſtory, Book IV. Sect. 2. p. 156. he is written Pariſh-Prieſt of S. Scyth, or S. Oſyth, in London (meaning this Church) which ſurely muſt be a Miſtake; for Santre ſuffer'd in 1400. by the Statute againſt Hereticks, 2. Hen. IV. Cap. 15. and it appears above, that John Newton was Pariſh-Prieſt or Parſon of this Church from 1396. to 1427. no other Rector intervening. Therefore, I rather think, that if Santre was at all a Prieſt of this Pariſh, he was only a Chantry-Prieſt, or what we now call a Curate under the ſaid Newton.

S. BOTOLPH.

S. Botolph (to whom four Churches within this City, and the Liberties thereof are dedicated) was an Engliſh Saxon, as moſt writers affirm, and no Scotchman as ſome pretend. Bale (from that great Antiquary Leland) writes thus, Botolph and Adolph (illuſtrious Names) are celebrated by ancient Writers, not only for their Piety, but alſo for their Learning; who were both Brethren and Monks, born of noble Race, but much pleas'd with a Monaſtical Life; unto whom Ethelmund, a Prince among the South-Angles, freely deſign'd a Place in Icanboe (then a deſart Place, haunted, as it is ſaid, with Evil-Spirits) not far from Lincoln Eaſtward, where Botolph, in the Year 654. began to build a Monaſtery. Mr. Cambden ſaith, That the Town of Boſton, more truly nam'd Botulphs-Town, carried that Name from one Botolph a moſt Holy and Devout Saxon, who at Icanboe had a Monaſtery.

Then by the care of S. Ethelwold they were tranſlated, Part to the Monaſtery of Ely, Part to that (51. Edw. III.) and confirm'd by Hen. IV. in the 6th Year of his Reign. Penſions.

This Church was of old a Rectory, in the Gift of the Dean of S. Martin le Grand. But King Ric. II. by his Letters Patents bearing date at Pembroke, May 21. in the 22d Year of his Reign gave Licence to Tho. Stanley the Dean of S. Martins, and Patron of this Church, at that time, not exceeding five Marks per Ann. to appropriate the ſame to that Collegiate Church, to celebrate a perpetual Anniverſary for Anne his Queen upon the Day of her Death (which happen'd on June 7. 1393.) during the ſaid King's Life: And after his deceaſe, the ſaid Anniverſary to be kept both for himſelf and his ſaid Queen on the Day of his Death for ever, which happen'd in Pomfrait-Caſtle, on Feb. 14. 1399. where he was impriſon'd, ſome ſay, by being ſtarved to Death; others, by being barbarouſly murder'd by Sir Pierce Exton, and his Accomplices, which Church was accordingly united and appropriated to the ſaid Royal Chapel of S. Martin le Grand, Decemb. 18. 1399. by Virtue of a Commiſſion granted to that purpoſe by Rob. Braybroke then Biſhop of London, to Tho. Stow Dr. of Laws, his Official, as may be ſeen in the London-Regiſtry; by which Appropriation there is expreſly reſerv'd an annual Penſion of vi s. viii d. to the Biſhop of London and his Succeſſors, of iii s. iv d. to the Dean and Chapter of S. Pauls; and vi s. viii d. (beſides ii s vi d. which was uſually paid) for Procurations to the Archdeacon of London for their Indemnity; to be paid to them reſpectively, and their Succeſſors at the Feaſts of Eaſter and S. Michael by equal Portions, by the ſaid Dean of S. Martins, and his Succeſſors yearly for ever; as alſo a ſufficient Maintenance (but to what Sum or Value is not expreſs'd) for one Parochial Chaplain to ſerve the Cure. Theſe Penſions were afterwards paid, viz. July 24. 1403. by Ric. Derham, Dean of S. Martins, as appears by the Regiſtry of the Dean and Chapter of S. Pauls, Pixide T.

From the time that this Church of S. Botolph was thus appropriated to the Deanry of S. Martin le Grand, it hath to this Day continued a Donative. And when K. Hen. VII. annex'd the ſaid Church or Chapel of S. Martin le Grand to the Monaſtery of S. Peter in Weſtminſter, which was in the 18th Year of his Reign, this Church of S. Botolph by Virtue thereof, as a Member or Appurtenance of the ſaid Royal-Chapel, became annext to the ſaid Monaſtery of S. Peter. And after the ſuppreſſion of Religious-Houſes by King Hen. VIII. it was granted by him in the 32d Year of his Reign to the Biſhop of Weſtminſter, that Monaſtery being by him newly converted into a Biſhoprick. But Queen Mary bringing the Monks in again, ſhe grants it to the Abbot and Convent of Weſtminſter, in the 3. and 4. Year of Philip and Mary; but they being not long after expulſ'd by Act of Parliament, Queen Elizabeth converted it into a Collegiate-Church; and in the 2d Year of Her Reign (inter alia) gave this Rectory and Pariſh-Church of S. Botolph to the Dean and Chapter of Weſtminſter, in whom it hath continued ever ſince; but is ſtill ſubject to the Biſhop, and under him to the Archdeacon of London, to both which it pays Procurations. But being a Donative or Curacy, is not taxed with Firſt Fruits and Tenths to the King.

S. Botolph Aldgate, Curacy.

THIS Parochial-Church (ſuppoſed to be built about the time of K. William the Conqueror) is ſituate a little without Aldgate, on the North-ſide of the Street, in the Soke, anciently call'd Knighten Guild, now Portſoken-Ward.

Sto. Sur. 118.

In the Year 1115. certain Burgeſſes of London of the Progeny of the 13 Noble Engliſh Knights, to whom King Edgar gave this Soken, gave the ſame to the Church and Canons of the Holy Trinity within Aldgate, then newly founded by Queen Matilda, Wife to King Hen. I. taking upon them the Brotherhood and Participation of the Benefits of that Houſe, by the Hands of Norman the Prior, and did put the ſaid Prior in ſeizing thereof by this Church of S. Botolph which is built thereon, and is the Head of that Land, which Grant the ſaid King Henry did afterwards confirm by his Charter.

Mon. Angl. 2. Vol. 81.

The uniting and appropriating this Church of S. Botolph to the ſaid Priory of the Holy Trinity, was likewiſe confirm'd by William, Biſhop of London (which I take to be William de S. Maria, who was the firſt William that was Biſhop of London after the Founding of the ſaid Monaſtery) in theſe Words, viz.

Stokeſl. 111. " Eccleſiam vero S. Botolphi memoratam eiſdem Canonicis, cum omnibus ad " ipſam pertinentibus in uſus proprios confirmamus, ſalva honeſta Competenti " Suſtentatione Capellani in eadem per ipſos pro tempore Miniſtrants.

Soon after this Pope Innocent (the 3d if I miſtake not) in the 4th Year of his Pontificate, confirm'd the uniting and annexing of this Church (together with the Chapel of S. Katharine and S. Michael, in the Church-yard of the ſaid Monaſtery of the Holy Trinity) to the ſaid Canons; and, thereupon, ordain'd that they ſhould be ſerved by two Canons of the ſaid Monaſtery, removeable at the Pleaſure of the Prior, allowing no ſtipend for a Vicar, upon this provident Conſideration, becauſe the incorporating of this Church, and the ſaid Chapel to the ſaid Canons, would be of no profit to them by reaſon of the meanneſs of their Revenue, if Portions of a Vicarage ſhould be aſſign'd out of them, as may be ſeen in the London Regiſtry. Stok. ut ſupra

The whole Profits of this Church after the ſaid Appropriation, were ſwallow'd up by the ſaid Canons, and the Cure from time to time ſerv'd by ſome or one of them till the Diſſolution of the ſaid Monaſtery, upon which it devolved to the Crown. Coll. Magiſt. Grimes. And in 19. Eliz. this Rectory and Pariſh-Church were granted by that Queen to Robert Hallywell for a certain Term of Years; and in the 30th Year of her Reign to George Puttenham for another Term of Years. In the 7th Year of King James I. this Rectory and Tyths, and other Profits thereof were granted to Francis Morrice and others, and this preſent Year 1688. the Premiſes are in Charles Humfravill, Eſq;.

Sudbury 38. Here was a perpetual Chantry founded for the Soul of John Romeney, or Romany, to which, I find a Chaplain admitted in 1365. at the Preſentation of Adam Bury then Mayor of London.

Sto. Sur. 118. Stow ſays, That John Romany, Olarie and Agnes his Wives were buried in this Church (perhaps he was the Son of the other John Romany.) Alſo that Henry Ib. & 878. Jorden founded a Chantry here.

Before the Suppreſſion, this Church was new-built at the Charge of the Priors of the Holy Trinity the Patrons thereof, as appears by the Arms of that Houſe engraven on the Stone-work: And ſince the Suppreſſion, it was repaired and beautified in 1621. and now again of late.

Sto. ut ſupra. Tho. Lord Darcy of the North Knight of the Garter (who was beheaded for High-Treaſon on Tower-Hill, 20. of June, 30. Hen. and ſeveral of his Family; and alſo Sir Nic. Carew, Knight of the Garter, and Maſter of the Horſe to King Hen. VIII. (who loſt his Head likewiſe on Tower-Hill, 9. Jan. 30. of the ſame King, with Henry Courtney, Marqueſs of Exeter, for deviſing to promote Reginald Pole to the Crown, and put down King Henry) were buried in this Church in a fair Vault under ground, over which is a fair and ancient Tomb of Alabaſter, with an Inſcription, containing the Names of ſuch of theſe Families that lye in the ſaid Vault.

Sto. ut ſupra. Stow tells us, that under the Head of the Communion-Table lieth an ancient fair Stone, and theſe Lines engraven thereon: " Hic jacet Johannes " Epiſcopus Bathen & Wellen, qui cum obiiſſet plures inſig. Legation. tandem obiit Summum in Legatione Clevenſis in Januarii MDXL. cujus Animo " propitietur Deus. This was John Clerk, or Clark, Biſhop of Bath and Wells, of whom you may read much among the Archdeacons of Colcheſter, and where you will find Authors differ about the Place of his burial.

This being a Donative or Curacy, pays no Firſt Fruits and Tenths to the King; but being ſubject to the Biſhop and Archdeacon, is charg'd with Procurations as followeth:

In 1693. the Church-Wardens preſented, That they never had any Parſonage or Vicarage-Houſe or Glebe; that there is 8 l. per Ann. payable to their Miniſter from the Impropriator. And as to Gifts and Charitable Bequeſts, they preſented and ſpecified ſo many as came to the yearly Sum of 151 l. 15 s. 8 d. out of which there is about 12 l. odd Money (as near as I can compute, for Sermons, which comes far ſhort of 30 l. per Ann. for Sermons, return'd as above, in 1636. Sion Col. Mſ.

Beſides (if I calculate right) there is 84 l. per Ann. mentioned in Stow, as given to the Poor, which is not ſpecified in the ſaid Preſentment. Sto. Sur. 123.

On April 18. 1615. there was a new Church-yard near Roſemary-lane, conſecrated by Dr. John King, Biſhop of London, for the Burial of the Dead of this Pariſh. Grindal. 400.

S. Botolph Billinſgate, Rectory.

THIS Church ſtood over againſt S. Botolph-Lane-End, on the South-ſide of Thames-Street, in Belinſgate-Ward. Stow ſaith, it was a proper Church, and ſeems to have been very antient; for, he ſaith, Botolphſgate, which was known by that Name, in the time of Edward the Confeſſor, was ſo called of the Pariſh-Church of S. Botolph near adjoining. It is a Rectory, and ſubject to the Archdeacon. Sto. Sur. 225. Ib. 39. Archid. Lon.

This Church of S. Botolph was given to the Canons of S. Pauls (as alſo the Church of S. Martin juxta Candlewick-ſtreet) by Odgarus, or Ordgarus: For by the Regiſtry of the Dean and Chapter of S. Pauls it appears, that in the Reign of King Ric. I. John Bocumter and Dioniſia his Wife, ſued the Canons of S. Pauls before the King's Juſtices for the aforeſaid two Churches of S. Botolph and S. Martin: But upon inſpection of a Charter of the ſaid Canons, whereby it appeared, that they had the ſaid Churches of the Gift of the ſaid Odgarus, of his Sons, and of Chriſtina the Mother of the ſaid Dioniſia, they renounced their Suit, and quitted all Claim to the ſaid Churches under their Seals, and the ſaid Canons thereupon promiſed yearly to celebrate the Obits of the ſaid John and Dioniſia, and alſo of the ſaid Ordgarus; all which was done in pleno Huſtingo per Conceſſionem & Licentiam Dom. Ranulphi de Glanvill Dom. Regis Juſtic. R. D. & C. lib. A. f. 17.

When Ralph de Diceto was Dean of S. Pauls, the State of this Church ſtood thus:

"Eccleſia S. Botolphi eſt Canonicorum, & reddit xviii d. per manum Chriſtinæ Perſonæ, ſolvit Synodalia iv d. Archid. xii d. Regi de funda Eccleſiæ i d. Ib. lib. B. f. 37.

This Church hath been all along in the Collation of the Dean and Chapter of S. Pauls; but of the Incumbents I can give no account for the Reaſon mention'd in S. Antlins, ſave only of Dr. John Mullens, who was Rector here, when Dr. Aelmer was Biſhop of London; of whom you may read more among the Archdeacons of London. And of Mr. Philip King, who was Rector here in 1636. of whom you may read among the Prebendaries of S. Pancras. And Dr. Sherlock the preſent Dean of S. Pauls, 1700.

In the Year 1636. the Profits of this Church were return'd as followeth: Sion Col. Mſ.

Caſualties ——— ———	15	00	00

But this Church being burnt down in the late dreadful Fire, was afterwards annext to that of S. George Botolph-lane, which is now made the Parochial-Church to the Inhabitants of both theſe Pariſhes, and both together are made of the yearly Value of 180 l. in lieu of Tyths to the Incumbent; and the Site of this of S. Botolph (or rather Part of it) remains now only as a burying Place for the Inhabitants of this Pariſh.

In

Reg. Lond. In 1693. the Church-Wardens, in their Preſentment, ſay, That moſt part of that Ground whereon the Chancel ſtood was ſince the Fire taken by Sir Joſiah Child into the Paſſage to Botolph-Wharf; for which he was to pay the Pariſh 100 l.

And upon part of that Ground, where the Body of the Church ſtood, there is a Houſe built by Leaſe from the Pariſh, who had (as is thought) 200 l. Fine, and have a Ground-Rent of 6 l. per Ann. This Houſe is in the Poſſeſſion of Francis Minſhall as Tenant to the Pariſh, the reſt is Walled in for a burying Place.

About the Year 1677. a Vault was built for the burial of their Dead in part of their Church-yard, and for the Benefit of the Poor a Shop or Shed was built thereon, and leaſed out Jan. 28. 1677. by the then Church-Wardens to the ſaid Francis Minſhall for 21 Years, commencing from our Lady-day, 1676. at 4 l. per An. Rent.

Alſo upon a Faculty lately obtain'd from the Biſhop of London, another Vault was built in another part of the ſaid Church-yard, and the Church-Wardens and Pariſhioners having Power by the ſaid Faculty, to build or erect a Covering or Shed over this Vault, did, for the Benefit of their Poor, at a publick Veſtry on March 22. 169⅔. order the ſaid Minſhall to be treated with for the Building of a Shed or Shop over the ſaid Vault, and did thereupon agree, that the ſaid Minſhall, ſhould build a Shop over the ſaid Vault, and lett him a Leaſe thereof for 61 Years, in conſideration of a Fine of 150 l. (as is ſince certify'd) paid by him to the ſaid Church-Wardens, and 2 l. a Year Rent for the Uſe of the Poor; and the ſaid Minſhall accordingly built a Shop over the ſaid Vault, and over that a low Room, which Room (as is conceiv'd) was not intended by the ſaid Pariſhioners to have been built, and they wou'd fain have it appropriated to the Pariſh, and uſed for a Veſtry.

They farther preſented another Church-yard or Burying-place in Botolph-lane, belonging to this Pariſh, adjoyning to which on Jan. 30. 1670. the then Rector and Church-Wardens of this Pariſh leaſed out for the Benefit of their Poor a parcel of Ground to Joſhua Green for 71 Years, commencing from Lady-day then next enſuing at 20 l. per Ann. whereon the ſaid Green built a Houſe, now in the Poſſeſſion of the ſaid Minſhall.

They preſented likewiſe a Parſonage-houſe burnt down by the Fire in 1666. but ſince rebuilt, and leaſed out for 40 Years from Lady-day, 1670. for 6 l. per Ann. Ground Rent.

As for Gifts and Bequeſts, they preſented and ſpecified ſeveral to the Poor and other Uſes; but for Sermons only theſe that follow.

Twenty Shillings for a Sermon to be preach'd on every New-years-day, given by Mrs. Maudlin Stokes, Ann. 1650.

The Intereſt of 25 l. given by Mr. Rob. Fellows, Ann. 1658. to be diſpoſed of as follows, viz. 13 s. 4 d. for a Sermon every Chriſtmas-day, 2 s. to the Clerk, 1 s. 6 d. to the Sexton, four Dozen of Bread yearly to the Poor, and 5 s. for a Diſh of Meat to the Church-Wardens.

Alſo the Intereſt of 25 l. given by Mr. Will. Fellows, Ann. 1659. to be diſpoſed of as follows, viz. 20 s. for a Sermon every Year on the 5th of November, 2 s. to the Clerk, 1 s. 6 d. to the Sexton, and the reſt to be diſpoſed of by the Pariſhioners.

S. Botolph Biſhopſgate, Rectory.

THIS Pariſh-Church (which is a Rectory) ſtands a little without Biſhopſgate, in the Ward of that Name, in a fair Church-yard adjoyning to the Town-Ditch, upon the Bank thereof; but of old time, incloſ'd with a comely Wall of Brick, repair'd by Sir William Allen (Lord-Mayor in 1571) becauſe he was born in this Pariſh, where alſo he was buried.

Sto.Surv.169.

The Collation of this Church hath been all along in the Biſhops of London, and being wholly exempt from all manner of Archidiaconal Juriſdiction, pays no Procurations to him, but is wholly ſubject to the Biſhop of London and his Commiſſary.

Epiſc. Lond.

By an antient Compoſition, bearing Date May 20. 1362. (36. Ed. III.) made between the Maſter and Brethren of the Houſe of the Bleſſed Mary of Bethlehem, without Biſhopſgate, and John de Bradeley, the then Rector of this Pariſh-Church, it was agreed (inter alia) that upon the Erecting and Finiſhing the Chappel of that Houſe, the Maſter and Brethren thereof ſhould receive the Oblations and Obventions of all that were buried in the ſaid Chappel or conſecrated Places there, except of the Pariſhioners of the ſaid Rector, of whoſe Funeral Oblations, the ſaid Rector was to receive one Moiety, and the ſaid Brethren the other. Likewiſe, that the ſaid Maſter and Brethren ſhould receive all the Tyths of Gardens, Fruits and Herbage of Cattel, but ſhould abſtain from all other Tyths, Oblations, Obventions and Parochial Rights of the ſaid Church of S. Botolph; and that the ſaid Rector of S. Botolph, and his Succeſſors, in Compenſation of the Premiſes, ſhould yearly receive of the ſaid Maſter and Brethren, and their Succeſſors, the Sum of 13 s. 4 d. at Michaelmas and Eaſter, by equal Portions.

Stokeſley, 122.

Penſion to the Rector.

In 1546. the Mayor and Commonalty of London, purchas'd the Hoſpital of S. Mary-Bethlehem aforeſaid; and at a Court of Aldermen, holden on Tueſday, April 7. ann. 5. Ed. VI. it was order'd, That the Inhabitants within the Precinct of Bethlehem, ſhould be from henceforth united to this Pariſh-Church of S. Botolph without Biſhopſgate, and ſo by the Parſon and Pariſhioners of the ſame Pariſh, be accepted and taken, and to be allotted and charged with them to all Offices and Charges, Tyths; and Clerk's Wages excepted. In conſideration whereof, the Parſon of the ſaid Pariſh was to receive yearly out of the Chamber of London, 20 s. and the Pariſh-Clerk, 6 s. 8 d.

Sto.Surv.175.

Penſion from the City.

Mrs. Joan Wood (Wife to Robert Wood Citizen and Brewer of London) who died Nov. 25. 1600. and lies buried at the Entrance into the Choir, in the middle Iſle of this Church (among other Legacies to this Pariſh) gave 10 s. yearly, for a Sermon on Midſummer-Day; and to the Parſon of this Pariſh, yearly, for ever, 10 s. To the Clerk 6 s. 8 d. and to the Sexton 5 s.

Ibid. 169.

The City of London gave to this Pariſh a needleſs Cauſey or Paſſage to Petty-France, for a Church-yard, which after the Pariſhioners had incloſ'd with a Brick-Wall, was on June 4. 1617. Conſecrated for that Uſe, by Dr. John King, Biſhop of London.

Ibid. 172.

Grindall, 407.

In 1620. this Church was repair'd and beautify'd, which coſt 600 l. and upwards.

Sto.Surv.878.

In 1636. the yearly Profits of this Church were return'd as followeth:

Sion-College, MS.

Tyths — — — —	200 :	00 :	00
Caſualties — — — — —	100 :	00 :	00
Glebe at preſent, 2 l. after a Leaſe of 16 Years expir'd —	30 :	00 :	00

No Parſonage-Houſe was then return'd; but in 1693. the Church-Wardens preſented a Parſonage-Houſe in very good Condition, ſtanding in the Church-yard, but they knew no Glebe belonging to their Miniſter, excepting one Houſe, now in the Poſſeſſion of Francis Daſhwood, Eſquire.

Reg. Lond.

As to Gifts and Bequeſts to the Church, and Sermons, &c. they preſented 7 s. yearly towards the Reparation of the Body of the Church, and 4 s. yearly to the Pariſh-Clerk, to be paid (inter alia) by the Skinners Company, as the Gift of Sir Willam Allen.

They preſented likewiſe the above-mention'd 10 s. for a Sermon by Mrs. Joan Wood, 6 s. 8 d. to the Clerk, and 5 s. to the Sexton (but mention not the 10 s. yearly, for ever, to the Parſon.) Theſe Legacies, and ſeveral others, were to be paid out of the yearly Rents of the Half-Moon, in Half-Moon-Alley; and the reſidue ſhe order'd to be employ'd towards the Reparation of the Church and other Uſes. Her Will, wherein theſe and other Legacies are given, bear Date Oct. 22. 1600.

They preſented likewiſe, 20 s. for a Sermon every Michaelmas-Day in the Morning, if it fall not out on a Sunday, if it does, then on the next Day following, and 3 s. 4 d. to the Clerk, and 1 s. 6 d. to the Sexton, given by Mrs. Joan Ford, by her Will, dated July 13. 1644. payable out of divers Houſes in Half-Moon-Alley, given in the ſame to the Rector and Church-Wardens.

They further preſented, That John Quince, by his Will, dated Oct. 9. 1656. gave to the then Church-Wardens, 10 l. to the Purpoſes following, viz. 40 s. for a Dinner for the Parſon, Church-Wardens and Common-Council-Men of this Pariſh, and ſuch as have been ſo, to be had on a certain Day; 10 s. to the Parſon for a Sermon on that Day; 1 s. 4 d. to the Clerk, and 8 d. to the Sexton.

S. BRIGIT.

Mr. Richard Smith's MS. THERE were two Saints nam'd Brigit (or Bride) of eſpecial Note, the one a Virgin born in Scotland, or (as others ſay) in Ireland. The other a Widow, born in Swedland or Denmark, ſome term her the Queen of Swedland.

Sudbury, 18. But it's plain, that our Church of S. Bride's London, was firſt dedicated to the Virgin Brigit, and not to the Widow, becauſe it appears by what follows hereafter, that there was a Clerk inſtituted to this our Church of S. Bride, under the Denomination of S. Bride or S. Brigit, Ann. 1362. which was before the Widow Brigit was canoniz'd for a Saint, which was not till the Year 1391. as Heræus, or 1400. as Hoſpinian. I ſhall therefore here, only treat of the Virgin S. Brigit.

Mr. Smith's MS. S. Brigit or S. Bride the Virgin, as moſt Writers affirm, was born in Scotland of honourable Parents, her Father's Name, ſaith Poſſevin, was Daboth, who ſaid Dempſter, was Vice-Roy of Cathnes in Scotland. Of this Brigit writes venerable Bede, Volaterran, and many others; but Giraldus Cambrenſis, Capgrave, Surius, and ſome others write, that ſhe was born in Ireland, whoſe Father's Name, ſay they, was Dubtacus, come from a renowned Stock in Ireland, and her Mother was nam'd Broſeca, a young Woman of an admirable Beauty, whom Dubtacus her Maſter got with Child, of whom came this Brigit or Bride, famous afterwards for her holy Life and Miracles.

Whether ſhe was a Scotiſh or Iriſh Woman by Birth, is not much material. However, it is agreed on all ſides, that ſhe was a Holy Virgin, living and dying in the time of Juſtinus major Emperor, about the Year of our Lord 518. as ſome write; others 525; the Engliſh Martyrologue, 540. John I. (as ſome ſay) being Pope of Rome, or as others ſay, Boniface II.

The Engliſh Martyrologue relates, that this Virgin Brigit was born in the County of Kildare, in Ireland, in a Town call'd Focart, and that after many Miracles done in ſign of her Sanctimony and Innocency of Life, ſhe died in the Year of our Lord 540. and that there was a fair Church erected in her Honour in the City of London, which till this Day is yet remaining, commonly call'd S. Brides, as alſo many others in England, Scotland, and the Iſle of Man, and where it is recorded that ſhe liv'd ſometime, and where is an antient Town and Church of her Name ſtill, retaining the vulgar Denomination of S. Brides.

Her Body was interr'd in the Town of Daune or Dune, in the Province of Ulſter, in a Tomb, together with the Bodies of S. Patrick and S. Columbe, which was afterwards miraculouſly reveal'd to the Biſhop of that Place, as he was praying one Night, late in the Church, in the Year 1176. over which there ſhone a great Light.

Camb. Brit. E. N. 1014. Dunum (now nam'd Down) is very antient, a Biſhop's Sea, and remarkable for the Tomb of SS. Patrick, Brigit and Columba, who have this chiming Diſtich written upon them.

Hi tres in Dun[illegible]cumulo tumulantur in uno, Brigida, Patricius, atque Columba pius.

One Tomb three Saints contain, one Vault below
Does Brigid, Patrick, and Columba ſhow.

This Monument of theirs, is ſaid to have been demoliſh'd by Leonard Gray, Lord Deputy in Henry VIII's time.

She is ſaid to be a Diſciple of S. Patrick, and very Famous both in Ireland, Scotland and England; her Miracles, and the Fire which never goes out (being preſerv'd and cheriſh'd in the inner Sanctuary, like that of Veſta, by the Sacred Virgins) and ſtill burns without any addition or increaſe of Aſhes, are related by ſome Authors.

Camd. Brit. E. N. 1013.

It is ſaid, this Holy Virgin, S. Brigit, came out of Ireland into Britain, to obtain ſome Reliques of her dear and honour'd Patron, S. Patrick, where ſhe paſs'd ſome Years in a certain ſmall Iſland, near Glaſtenbury, where there was an Oratory conſecrated to the Honour of S. Mary-Magdalen; the Iſland was call'd Bekery or Little Ireland; afterwards having left behind her Scrip, Chain, Bell, and other Veſtments of her own wearing (which for the Memory of her Sanctity are there expos'd) ſhe return'd into Ireland, where not long after, ſhe reſted in the Lord, and was buried in the City of Down.

S. Brides, Rectory, Vicarage.

THIS Pariſh-Church of S. Brigit (vulgarly call'd S. Brides) is the only Church in London, dedicated to that Saint, and ſtands on the South-ſide of Fleetſtreet, behind the Houſes, between Bride-Lane and Salisbury-Court, in the Ward of Faringdon without. It is ſubject to the Archdeacon, ſaving only as to Wills and Adminiſtrations, which belong to the Commiſſary.

Archid. Conſ. Lond.

It was in old time a ſmall Church, but afterwards increas'd with a large Body and Side-Iſles towards the Weſt, at the Charges of William Vener (or Viner) Eſquire, Warden of the Fleet, about the Year 1480. all which he caus'd to be brought (or wrought about) in Stone, in the Figure of a Vine with Grapes and Leaves, &c. the old Work remain'd only as a Choir; and it was likewiſe repair'd, and very worthily beautified at the Charge of the Pariſhioners, in the Years 1630, 31, and 32.

Here was a Chantry founded, and endow'd ſometime before the Year 1364. for the Souls of William de Eveſham, Joh. de Uggeley and Lettice his Wife; and another to Tho. Bryx and Elen his Wife, ſometime before the Year 1383.

Reg. Lond.

The Patronage of this Church was in the Abbot and Convent of Weſtminſter, till their Diſſolution by King Henry VIII. which was antiently a Rectory, and ſo continu'd till the Year 1485. but how long after, appears not; but it ſeems it was appropriated to the ſaid Abbot and Convent ſometime before their Suppreſſion, and a Vicarage here ordain'd and endow'd; for in 1529. I find an Inſtitution to it as a Vicarage, and as ſuch it hath continu'd ever ſince.

After the Diſſolution of the ſaid Abby of Weſtminſter, King Henry VIII. firſt erecting a Dean and Prebend there, gave this Rectory and Pariſh-Church, and the Advowſon of the Vicarage to them; then making it a Biſhoprick, gave the ſame to that Biſhop; that being diſſolv'd by King Edward VI. and a Dean and Preb. being again ſettled by him, he gave the Premiſes to them; and Q. Mary bringing in again the Abbot and Monks, gave it to them; but Q. Elizabeth, at laſt, converting the ſaid Abby into a Collegiate-Church, in the ſecond of her Reign, ſettled the Premiſes (inter alia) on the ſaid Dean and Chapter, in whom they have continued ever ſince.

Coll. Mr. W. Grime.

In 1636. the yearly Profits of this Church were return'd as followeth:

This Church ſuffer'd the common Fate with others, in the late dreadful Fire, but is now rebuilt, and made of the yearly Value of 120 l. to the Vicar.

In 1693. the Vicar and Church-Wardens preſented, as followeth: A Parſonage-Houſe, before the Fire, in Bride-Lane, but whether the Miniſter did dwell in it, doth not appear, for it was long ſince leas'd out by the Church of Weſtminſter, which has the Impropriation and Parſonage of S. Brides. It is now divided into ſeveral Tenements, and there are no remains of the antient Houſe or Ground-Dimenſions, but only that the place is now call'd Parſon's-Court. They have no other Houſes or Glebe belonging to their Pariſh.

The annual Maintenance of their Miniſter is 120 l. by Act of Parliament; which is paid by the Churchwardens every Quarter, without any Abatement.

It is part of the Tyths, which the Pariſh holds by Leaſe of the Dean and Chapter of Weſtminſter. The Tyth-Roll is about 270 l. per Ann. The Rent to the Church is 40 l. and by the laſt Leaſe, in 1682. is added 13 l. 6 s. 8 d. which is allow'd as an Augmentation to the Vicar, by Act of Chapter, together with the Eaſter-Book.

There are no other Gifts or Bequeſts (which they know of) due to their Miniſter, ſave 20 s. for Two Sermons, one on Chriſtmas-day, the other on the firſt Sunday in July, 10 s. for each, the Gifts of Mrs. Lowman and Mrs. White. They farther add, That Mr. John Hill left 10 s. for a Sermon every New-years-day for ever.

In 1610. the then Earl of Dorſet gave to the Inhabitants of this Pariſh a parcel of Ground, on the Weſt of the Fleet-Ditch, for a new Church-yard, which was conſecrated for that Uſe by Dr. Geo. Abbot, then Biſhop of London, on Thurſday, Aug. 2. 1610.

Bridewell-Hoſpital.

IN place where now ſtands this Houſe, call'd Bridewell, ſtood a Tower or Caſtle, in old time belonging to the King, which, in the Time of William the Conqueror, or before, it ſeems, was deſtroy'd; but, notwithſtanding that, there remain'd a large Houſe; ſo that the Kings of this Realm, long after, were lodg'd there, and kept their Courts. But of later Times being neglected, it fell to decay, and ſo lay waſte, until King Hen. VIII. built a ſtately and beautiful Houſe thereupon; giving it to Name Bridewell, of the Pariſh of S. Brides, and a fair Well which is there. This Houſe he purpoſely built for the Entertainment of Charles V. who, in 1522. came into England, and was magnificently entertain'd in London, with rare Shews and pompous Pageants; he himſelf was lodg'd in the Blackfriers, and his Nobles and Retinue at the King's Houſe in Bridewell.

Sto. Surv. 61, &c.

Sto.Sur.436.

It came afterwards to be a Houſe of Correction, or Hoſpital for poor and idle Perſons upon this occaſion; In 1553. 7. *Edw.*VI *Apr.*10. Sir George Barne, Mayor of this City, was ſent for to the Court at White-Hall, and there at that Time, the King gave unto him (for the Commonalty and Citizens, to be a Working-Houſe for the poor and idle Perſons of this City) his Houſe of Bridewell, and 700 Marks Land, late of the Poſſeſſions of the Houſe of the Savoy, and all the Bedding and other Furniture of the ſaid Hoſpital of the Savoy, towards the Maintenance of the ſaid Work-Houſe of Bridewell, and Hoſpital of S. Thomas in Southwark.

Ibidem.

This Gift the King confirm'd by his Charter, dated June 26. next following; as it was alſo afterwards by Q. Mary, his Succeſſor. And in Febr. 1555. Sir William Gerard, Mayor, and the Aldermen, enter'd Bridewell, and took Poſſeſſion thereof, according to the Gift of the ſaid King Edward: And ſo it continues, to this Time, in the Hands of the City, imploy'd to the Uſe for which it was ordain'd.

In this Hoſpital of Bridewell there is a Chappel, where there are Prayers and a Sermon at the uſual Times, as in Pariſh-Churches, for the Inhabitants of the Precincts of Bridewell. The Chaplain whereof, upon all Vacancies, is choſen by the Preſident and Governours of this Hoſpital, and admitted and licenſed by the Biſhop of the Dioceſe; and hath 80 l. per Ann. paid him as a Salary, and a Houſe, Coals, and Small-Beer.

This Chapel was enlarg'd and beautifi'd at the Coſt and Charge of the Governours and Inhabitants of the Precinct, Ann. 1620. by taking in a large Room that joyn'd upon the Head of the Chapel, thereby adding to the length of it 24 Foot, and better.

Chriſt-Church, Vicarage.

THIS Pariſh-Church being dedicated to the Name and Honour of our Bleſſed Saviour Chriſt, I ſhall refer the Reader, as to the Hiſtory of his Life, to the Holy Scriptures, and proceed to what concerns this Church:

Which is ſituate near Newgate-ſtreet, on the North-ſide thereof, behind the Houſes, in the Ward of Faringdon within. It is a Vicarage, and ſubject to the Archdeacon.

Archid. Lon.

Before the Diſſolution of religious Houſes by King Henr. VIII. it was the Church of the Grey-friers or Franciſcans; of which Order, and their Monaſtery, I ſhall treat in their proper place, and only take notice of the Church here, as made Parochial, which, ever ſince the Diſſolution, has been call'd by the Name of Chriſt-Church, having been formerly (as Weaver tell us) dedicated to the Honour of God, and our alone Saviour Jeſus Chriſt.

Fun. Mon. 387.

Sto.Sur. 341, &c.

This Church then (which was very large, the particular Dimenſions whereof may be ſeen in what I have written of the Grey-Friers) was by K. *Hen.*VIII. in the 38. of his Reign, beſtow'd on the Mayor, Commonalty, and Citizens of the City of London, to make a Pariſh-Church thereof, in the place of the Two Churches of S. Ewen, in Newgate-Market, near the North-Corner of Eldeneſs (now Warwick) Lane, and S. Nicolas, in the Shambles, ſituate on the North-ſide of Newgate-ſtreet, where there is now a Court; which were thereupon both demoliſh'd, and the reſpective Pariſhes thereto belonging, with ſo much of Sepulchres Pariſh as then lay within Newgate, laid to this new-erected Pariſh-Church, which was then order'd to be call'd by the Name of Chriſt-Church, founded by King Henr. VIII.

S. Ewen and S. Nicolas Shambles demoliſh'd.

For the Maintenance of which with Divine Service, Reparations, &c. he gave in Lands 500 Marks per. Ann. for ever: In conſideration whereof, the ſaid Mayor, Commonalty, and Citizens, were to covenant and grant (inter alia) to find and ſuſtain One Preacher at this Church, who was to be from time to time Vicar thereof; giving unto him yearly for his Stipend xxvi l. xiii s. and iv d. to the Viſitor of Newgate (being a Prieſt) x l. and to other Five Prieſts in Chriſt-Church, all to be helping in Divine Service, miniſtring the Sacraments and Sacramentals, viii l. apiece, to Two Clerks vi l. to each, and to a Sexton iv l. yearly.

The Endowment of the Vicarage.

After the general Suppreſſion, this Church was ſhut up for a time, and us'd as a Store Houſe of Goods taken Prizes from the French: But Jan. 3. 1546. 38. Hen. VIII. it was again ſet open; on which Day preached at S. Paul's Croſs the Biſhop of Rocheſter, where he declar'd the King's Gift of this Houſe to the City, for the Relieving of the Poor.

The Patrons of this Church, from the Time it was made a Vicarage and Pariſh-Church, have been, and ſtill are, the Mayor, Commonalty, and Citizens of the City of London, Governours of the Poor, call'd the Hoſpital of Little S. Bartholomew, of the Foundation of Henr. VIII. late King of England.

This magnificent Church ſuffer'd, with others, in the late dreadful Fire, being burnt down; ſince which Time, the Choir, or Eaſt-end thereof is only rebuilt (which alone makes a goodly large Pariſh-Church) with a Tower added to it, (having none before) and is made the Parochial-Church for the Inhabitants of this, and the Pariſh of S. Leonard Foſter-Lane, which is annext unto it; and both together, are made of the yearly value of 200 l. in lieu of Tyths to the Incumbent.

In 1693. the Churchwardens preſented a Vicarage-Houſe rebuilt, together with a Copy of the Leaſe, bearing date Feb. 7. 1671. by virtue whereof the Leſſee was to build the ſaid Vicarage-Houſe in Butcher-Hall-Lane, at his own Coſt and Charge, within One Year after the date of the ſaid Leaſe; and to enjoy the ſame for the term of Forty Years coming from Chriſtmas before, paying 8 l. per Ann. Rent to the Vicar.

Chriſt's-Hoſpital.

AFter the Diſſolution of the Church of Grey-Friers, before-mention'd, viz. On Jan. 13. 38. Hen. VIII. an Agreement was made between that King and the Mayor and Commonalty of London, dated Dec. 27. by which (inter alia) the Gift of the Grey-Friers-Church, with all the Edifices and Ground thereto belonging, and the Lead, Stone, Iron, &c. were confirm'd to the ſaid Mayor and Commonalty, and to their Succeſſors for ever, for the relieving of the Poor, to hold the ſame in Soccage. Sto. Sur. 341.

In 1552. began the repairing of the Grey-Friers, for the poor fatherleſs Children, and in November the Children were taken into the ſame, to the number of almoſt 400. On Chriſtmas-day, in the Afternoon, while the Lord-Mayor and Aldermen rode to S. Paul's, the Children of Chriſt's-Hoſpital ſtood from S. Laurence-Lane end in Cheap towards Paul's, all in one Livery of Ruſſet-Cotton, 240 in number; and at Eaſter next they were in blue at the Spittle, and ſo have continu'd ever ſince. ibid. 342.

King Edw. VI. towards the latter end of his Reign, granted this Houſe of Grey-Friers to the Mayor, Commonalty, and Citizens of London, for the Poor by Impotency, particularly, the fatherleſs poor Mens Children (as he did the Hoſpitals of S. Thomas in Southwark; and Little S. Bartholomew's near Weſt-Smithfield, for the Poor by Caſualty; and Bridewell for the thriftleſs Poor) made the Governours a Corporation, and gave them the Lands belonging to the Savoy-Hoſpital (the ſame being firſt ſurrendred by the Maſter and Fellows there) of the yearly Value of 600 l. for the Maintenance of this Foundation, and Leave to purchaſe Lands of the yearly Value of 4000 Marks; and liv'd not above Two Days after the Eſtabliſhment of this Foundation. ibid. 344.

Chriſt's-Hopital, Bridewell, and S. Thomas, aforeſaid, are incorporated by the Name of the Mayor, Commonalty, and Citizens of the City of London, Governours of the Poſſeſſions, Revenues, and Goods of the Hoſpital of Edward King of England the Sixth, of Chriſt, Bridewell, and S. Thomas the Apoſtle.

S. CHRISTOPHER,

TO whom this Church is dedicated, by moſt Writers is held to have been a Champion, and faithful Martyr of Chriſt; he is reported to be of the Race of the Canaanites. He, being as yet a Pagan, came to the City of Samos, in the Time of King Dagnus; but being, by God's Power, converted himſelf, he alſo converted a great Multitude of People to the Faith of Jeſus Chriſt, to whom he conſtantly preach'd; and the believing People he often baptized. He brought to Repentance two Harlots, Nicea and Aquilina (ſent by King Dagnus to debauch him in the Priſon) whom, with ſome Courtiers, he put to Death. Mr. R. Smith MS.

Chriſtopher, after many Diſputations with the King, of the living God againſt the vain Gods, &c. was tortur'd with exquiſite Torments, and at laſt beheaded, Ann. 254. as ſome write, under Darius the Emperour.

S. Chriſtopher, (whoſe Pagan Name, before he was baptized, was Reprobus) was ſo named (as is vulgarly conceived) from his carrying of Chriſt upon his Shoulders over a River, and is uſually pictur'd with a great Staff or Pole in his Hand, ſo carrying of our Saviour, as aforeſaid. His Feſtival is annually ce-Feaſt, *Jul.*25. lebrated on July 25.

S. Chriſtopher's, Rectory.

NOW as touching the Pariſh-Church of S. Chriſtophers, it is a Rectory, and ſtands on the North-ſide of Threadneedle-ſtreet, toward the Weſt-end thereof, in Broad-ſtreet Ward; and in old Records is call'd S. Chriſtopher's le Stocks, becauſe ſituated near Stock's-Market.

Sto. Sur. 192. It was re-edifi'd of new (ſays Stow;) for Richard Shore, one of the Sheriffs, in 1506. gave Mony towards the building of the Steeple.

Richard Sherington, (who died in 1392.) and John Clavering, (who died in 1421. and were both buried in this Church) gave Lands unto it.

ibidem 197. Mr. John Kendrick, Citizen and Draper of London (who dwelt in this Pa-riſh, and was buried in this Church) by his Will, bearing date Dec. 29. 1624.
(among a great many other pious and charitable Legacies) gave to the Dra-pers Company 2400 l. to purchaſe Lands of the clear yearly Value of 400 l.
for ſeveral good Uſes, among which was this that follows, viz. 20 l. yearly for ever, to be given to the Curate of S. Chriſtophers, to read divine Service Morn. Prayer in the ſaid Pariſh-Church, at Six of the clock in the Morning, every Day in at Six-a-clock the Week, for ever, in manner as was then uſed in the Chapel of the great North-Gate of S. Paul's Church, in London; to the Clerk and Sexton of this Pariſh, to each of them 50 s. yearly, for ever, to do their ſeveral Attendance and Aſſiſtance at Time of divine Service every Morning; and to the Churchwardens of this Pariſh 5 l. yearly for ever, for the maintenance of Lights in the Winter-time.

Sudbury 80. In the Reign of Edw. III. here was a perpetual Chantry founded for the Soul of Thomas Legg, which had a Chaplain preſented to it by his Executor, in Jan. 1370.

Another likewiſe for the Soul of John Watley; but about what time I find Tunſtall 13. not; but there was a Chantry-Prieſt admitted to it, Feb. 3. 1525.

And a Third for John Gedney, or Godney (Mayor of London in 1427.) He was buried in this Church; but the Time of founding it appears not: How-ibidem 22. ever, I find a Chantry-Prieſt admitted to it, Dec. 16. 1527. Stow tells us, that Sto. Survey, this John Godney, in 1444. wedded the Widow of Rob. Large, late Mayor; which 193. Widow had taken upon her the Mantle and Ring, and the Vow to live chaſte during Life; for the Breach whereof (the Marriage done) they were troubled by the Church, and put to Penance, both he and ſhe.

This Church has been in the Collation of the Biſhops of London, for above 300 Years; but before that, it appears to have been in the Noble Family of the Nevils, and by one of them probably given to the Biſhops of London. It is Archid. Com- ſubject to the Archdeacon, ſaving only as to Wills and Adminiſtrations, which miſſar. Lond. belong to the Commiſſary.

ibidem 821. It was repair'd and beautifi'd at the proper Coſt of the Pariſh, in 1621.

This Church ſuffer'd much in the late dreadful Fire, all the inſide of it being conſum'd, but the outward Walls and Steeple being left ſtanding. It was again repair'd, and is now as fair a Church as ever; and is made of the yearly Value of 120 l. in lieu of Tyths to the Incumbent; ſo that it is now more than before, as to the Tyths, 57 l per Ann.

Reg. Lond. In 1693. the Churchwardens preſented a Parſonage-Houſe burnt down by the Fire, and part of the Glebe leaſed out to certain Truſtees for the Pariſh by a Leaſe dated May 2. 1672. at the Ground-Rent of 5 l. per Ann. and the Truſtees have granted another Leaſe, dated May 3. 1672. to Robert Grove, Clerk, in truſt for the Rector Mr. John Hall, and his Succeſſors, at the Rent of 20 l. per Ann. Theſe Leaſes are for the Term of Forty Years from the Date.

Alſo another Leaſe of ſome part of the Glebe, dated Dec. 8. 1670. for Forty Years, to Jeremy Malpas, whereon Four Houſes are built, and for which there is paid 24 l. per Ann. Ground-Rent.

Likewiſe another Leaſe of a ſmall Slip of Glebe, upon which are built three little Shops with Lofts over them, dated Sept. 3. 1672. for Forty Years, at 40 s. per Ann. granted to Peter Aylworth.

Oppoſite to theſe Shops there is an antient Vault under part of the Church, always belonging to the Parſon of the Pariſh, and now lett from Year to Year at 40 s. yearly Rent.

Mr. Benedict Harlewing gave certain Houſes in Fleetſtreet, now lett by Leaſe from the Parſon and Churchwardens for Sixty One Years, from Lady-day 1669. at the Ground-Rent of 42 l. per Ann. out of which 20 l. per Ann. is ſetled for reading Prayers every Day of the Week, at Six of the Clock in the Evening. The Records of this Settlement are regiſtred in the Pariſh-Book, and in the Records at Guild-Hall. Even. Prayers at Six-a-clock

There are no Encroachments made upon the Church, Church-yard, or Glebe, except of one ſmall irregular piece of the Church-yard, which is taken into a Houſe or Houſes of one Nicolas Buckeridge, of which there is a Leaſe granted (now in the Churchwardens Hands) from the Parſon and the Churchwardens, and at the annual Rent of 3 l. 2 s. 6 d.

S. Clemens Eaſtcheap.

THIS Pariſh-Church, and another in the Suburbs, without Temple-Bar, were dedicated to S Clemens, of whom I ſhall give a ſhort Account of his Life, written by the Learned Dr. Cave, among his Lives of the Primitive Fathers, beginning pag. 78.

S. Clemens was born at Rome, upon Mount Cælius, his Father's Name was Fauſtinus; he was a Diſciple of S. Peter, mention'd by S. Paul. [Phil. 4. v. 3.] as one of his Fellow-Labourers in the Goſpel; ordain'd Biſhop of Rome in the Year of our Lord 93. and was (as moſt Writers agree) the 4th Biſhop of that Sea, where (according to Dr. Cave) he ſate ſole Biſhop of that whole Church, nine Years, eleven Months and twelve Days.

By his Piety and Learning, he converted many to the Chriſtian Faith, for which Cauſe, he was baniſh'd by Trajan the Emperor to the Cherſonneſus, a diſconſolate Place, beyond the Pontick-Sea, to dig in the Marble-Quarries, and labour in the Mines, where he found vaſt Numbers of Chriſtians condemn'd to the ſame miſerable Fate, whoſe Minds were not a little erected under all their Preſſures, at the ſight of ſo good a Man, by whoſe conſtant Preaching, and the frequent Miracles he wrought, their Enemies were converted to a better Opinion of them and their Religion, the Inhabitants of thoſe Countries daily flocking over to the Faith, ſo that in a little time Chriſtianity had beaten Paganiſm out of the Field, and all Monuments of Idolatry thereabouts were defac'd and overturn'd.

The Fame whereof ſo incens'd the Emperor, that he caus'd great Numbers of them to be put to Death; but this not availing, but rather increaſing the Number of Converts, S. Clemens was pitch'd upon, as one of Note above the reſt, whoſe exemplary Puniſhment might ſtrike Dread and Terror into the reſt, and therefore he was carry'd a-Board, and thrown into the Sea, with an Anchor about his Neck, where the Chriſtians might deſpair to find him.

His Martyrdom happen'd on November 24. according to Baronius and the ordinary Computation; but on the 9th of that Month, according to the Little Martyrology, publiſh'd by Bucherius, and which unqueſtionably (ſaith Dr. Cave) was one of the true and genuine Calendars of the antient Church, in the third Year of Trajan, Ann. Chriſti 100.

I ſhall ſay nothing of the miraculous Diſcovery of his Body, becauſe few would believe what is written of it. He is honour'd at Rome, by a Church Feaſt, Nov. 23. erected to his Memory; and his Feſtival is yearly celebrated on the 23d of November.

S. Clemens Eaſtcheap, Rectory.

THIS Pariſh-Church (ſo diſtinguiſh'd, becauſe ſituate near Eaſtcheap) and ſometimes written in old Records, S. Clemens near Candlewick-ſtreet, becauſe ſituate near that Street, and in the Ward of that Name, ſtands on the Archid Commiſſar. Lond. Eaſt-ſide of S. Clemens-lane, and is a Rectory; ſubject to the Archdeacon, ſaving only as to Wills and Adminiſtrations, which belong to the Commiſſary.

Sudbury, 82. Here was a perpetual Chantry founded for John Chardeney, and Margaret his Wife, of which, the Abbot and Convent of Stratford were Patrons, and preſented to it in the Year 1370. and ſo downward from that time.

Fitzjames, 50. Here was likewiſe another founded for Will. Ivory, of which the Rector and Church-Wardens were Patrons, and preſented to it in 1513.

This Church, before the Suppreſſion of Religious Houſes, was in the Gift of Bonner, 378. the Abbot and Convent of Weſtminſter; but in the firſt of Queen Mary, was (among other Churches) given by her to the Biſhop of London and his Succeſſors in that Sea, for ever, who have continu'd Patrons of it ever ſince.

Sto. Surv. 378. It was repair'd and beautify'd in the Year 1632. at the Coſt and Charge of the Pariſhioners, and (if my Memory fails not) it was again repair'd about the Year 1657. or 1658. and the Roof of the Church (formerly of Tyle) cover'd with Lead, at the Coſt of Dr. Aimy, an eminent Phyſician.

This Church was burnt down in the late dreadful Fire, but is now new built, S. Clemens and S. Mart. Org. annext. and made the Pariſh-Church of this and the Pariſh of S. Martin-Orgar, which is annext unto it, and both together are made of the yearly Value of 140 l. in lieu of Tyths to the Incumbent.

g Ric. Mokett was born in Dorſetſhire, elected from Brazen-Noſe to be Fellow of All Souls College, 1599. being then near four Years ſtanding in the Degree of Bachelour of Arts; afterwards he proceeded in that Faculty, took on him the Sacred Function, became Domeſtick-Chaplain to George, Archbiſhop of Canterbury, Warden of All Souls, Rector of Monks-Risborow in Bucks, and of Newington near Dorcheſter in Oxfordſhire, Doctor of Divinity, and one of the King's Commiſſioners, concerning Eccleſiaſtical Affairs. He publiſh'd in the Latin Tongue, "The Liturgy of the Church of "England. Greater and Leſſer Catechiſm. "Thirty Nine Articles. Book of Ordination "of Biſhops, Prieſts and Deacons. Doctri-"nal Points extracted out of the Book of "Homilies. To which is added, his own Book written in Latin, entituled, De Politia Eccleſiæ Anglicanæ, which Collection he publiſh'd in a pious Zeal, for gaining Honour to the Church of England among forein Nations. But this his Zeal was accompany'd with ſo little Knowledge of the Conſtitution of this Church, or ſo much byaſs'd towards thoſe of Calvin's Platform, that it was thought fit, not only to call it in, but to expiate the Errors of it in a publick Flame; and the true Cauſe which was conceiv'd, why the Book was burnt, was, that in publiſhing the 20th. Article concerning the Authority of the Church, he totally left out the firſt Clauſe of it, viz. "Habet Eccleſia "Ritus ſive Ceremonias Statuendi Jus, & in "Controverſiis Fidei Authoritatem. By means whereof, the Article was apparently falſify'd, the Church's Authority diſown'd, and conſequently a wide Gap open'd to diſpute her Power in all her Canons and Determinations of what ſort ſoever. He yielded up his laſt Breath with Grief (as 'tis thought) for what had been done to his Book on the Day before the Nones of July, in 1618. and was buried at the upper End of All-Souls College-Chappel, juſt before the Steps leading to the high Altar. [Ath. Ox. Vol. I. Col. 3. 68.] To this I may add, that he was Rector of this Church, but reſign'd it within a Year, to which he was collated by his great Patron, Dr. George Abbot, when Biſhop of London; and the next Year, Oct. 1. 1611. to that of S. Michael Crooked-Lane, by the ſame Patron, when Archbiſhop of Canterbury, which he reſign'd before June 17. 1614. Croſſed or Crutched-Friers.

THE next thing (according to my Alphabetical Method) that comes under the Letter C. is the Order and Priory of the Croſſed, Crutched, or Crowched-Friers, or Fratres Sanctæ Crucis.

Hoſpital. de Orig. Mon. lib. 5. cap. 15. This Order was inſtituted, or at leaſt reform'd by one Gerard, Prior of S. Mary of Morello, at Bologna, and confirm'd in the Year 1169. by Pope Alexander III. who brought thoſe Religious under S. Auſtin's Rule, and made ſome other Conſtitutions for their Government.

But the Opinions of the Original of this Order being various, I ſhall ſay no more of that, but proceed to acquaint the Reader, That they firſt came into England, Ann. 1244. and had their firſt Cloiſter at Colcheſter in Eſſex, but their greateſt Monaſtery here in London, near Tower-Hill. They did not of late, as they did at their firſt Inſtitution, carry the Croſs in their Hands, but wore a Croſs of red Cloth or Scarlet, fix'd to their Habit on their Breaſt, which Habit, Pope Pius II. in the Council at Mantua, Ann. 1406. appointed to be blue. Matth. Weſt-monaſt. ſub ann. 1244.

Crutched-Friers, Priory.

Sto. Surv. 156. THE Monaſtery belonging to theſe Friers here in London, was founded by Ralph Hoſier and William Sabernes, about the Year 1298. and ſtood at the South-Eaſt Corner of Hartſtreet, in the Pariſh of S. Olave Hartſtreet, in Aldgate-Ward.

Ibidem. Stephen the 10th (or rather the 12th) Prior of the Holy Trinity (for this was Stephen de Watton) granted three Tenements for xiii s. viii d. by the Year, unto the ſaid Ralph Hoſier and William Sabernes, who afterwards became Friers of the Holy-Croſs. Adam was the firſt Prior of this Houſe. Thoſe Friers founded their Houſe in the Place of certain Tenements purchaſed of Richard Wymbluſh (or de Wymbiſh) the 12th (or rather the 14th) Prior of the Holy Trinity, in the Year 1319. which was confirm'd by Edward III. in the 17th of his Reign.

Ibid. 934. In 8. Henry VIII. at a Common-Council held Aug. 1. there was an Act paſs'd for the Grant unto the Prior and Convent of this Houſe (to the intent that they ſhould pray for the good Eſtate of the City) of the common Ground of the ſaid City, for the enlargement of their Church from the main Wall thereof, on the North part into the high Street there, five Foot of Aſſize, and at the Weſt-End of their Church in breadth, four Foot and half; ſtretching from the Eaſt to the Weſt part, ſeven Score and eight Foot and half.

Ibidem. Afterward, at a Common-Council held on Tueſday Sept. 12. ann. 12. Hen. VIII. the ſaid Prior and Convent petition'd them for Succour towards the edifying and maintenance of their new Church, and to take upon them and the whole City to be their ſecond Founders; whereupon it was agreed, That ſeveral Exhortations ſhould be made in Writing to every Fellowſhip in London, to ſee what they would do of their Devotions towards the ſame; and ſuch Sums to be certify'd to the Mayor and Aldermen, to the intent it may be known to what it will amount.

Fitzjames, 134. I find certain Statutes and Ordinances made by the Fraternity of this Houſe, for their better Government, which were confirm'd by Richard Fitzjames, Biſhop of London, under his Seal, dated at Fulham, Aug. 5. 1521. Anno Tranſlationis ſuæ 16.

Sto. Surv. 156. This Priory ſurrendred 12. Nov. 30. Henry VIII. and was then valu'd at lii l. xiii s. iv d. and in 32. of his Reign, he granted the Site thereof to Sir Thomas Wyatt. [32. Hen. VIII. p. 2.]

S. DIONIS.

S. Dionis, Dionyſius or Dennis (to whom this Church is conceiv'd to be dedicated) was born at Athens in Greece, about ann. Chriſt. 9. ann. Auguſti Imperatoris 50. His Parents were Gentiles, but we may ſafely conclude them to have been Perſons of noble Quality, at leaſt of a better Rank than ordinary, ſeeing none were admitted to be Areopagite Judges, as this our Saint afterwards was, unleſs they were nobly born, and eminently Exemplary for a virtuous and ſober Life.

Being a Youth, he learn'd the Liberal Sciences at home in his own City, from thence he travell'd into Egypt, being about the Age of 25 Years, where he attain'd into more abſtruſe Knowledge in Philoſophy, Aſtrology, and the like; and here he was in the City of Heliopolis, at ſuch time as Chriſt was crucify'd. On which Day, obſerving the Eclipſe of the Sun to be wonderful and preternatural, he ſaid, "That either God ſuffer'd, or ſympathiz'd and "bore part with him that did.

Having finiſh'd his Studies in Heliopolis, he return'd to Athens, where he was advanc'd to be one of the Areopagus, which was a famous Senate-Houſe built upon a Hill in Athens; and thence call'd Areopagita.

In this grave and venerable Judicature, ſate our S. Denis, when S. Paul about the Year 49. or 50. came to Athens, where he reſolutely aſſerted the Cauſe of Chriſtianity againſt the Attempts of the Stoic and Epicurean Philoſophers, upon which he was brought before the Areopagite Senate, where he gave an Account of his Doctrine, which he Preach'd, affirming the Reſurrection of the Dead, and a Day wherein the World ſhould be judg'd by Chriſt. His Diſcourſe, however, entertain'd by ſome with Scorn and Laughter, yet others were convinc'd, and clave unto him and believ'd; among whom was our Dionyſius the Areopagite, and Damaris, who ſome Writers ſay, was his Wife.

Being baptiz'd, he was made the firſt Biſhop of Athens, and probably by S. Paul's own Hands. As to his being diſpatch'd into France, and founding an Epiſcopal Sea at Paris, where he is ſaid to ſuffer Martyrdom, and to carry his Head, after it was cut off, two Miles, I ſhall ſay no more, the Story being ſufficiently made appear to be fabulous by Dr. Cave, Dr. du-Pin and others, but proceed to tell the Reader, that this one Saint Dionyſius after a moſt reſolute and eminent Confeſſion of the Faith, after having undergone ſeveral of the ſevereſt Torments, gave the laſt and great Teſtimony to it, by laying down his Life at Athens under the Reign (as is moſt probable) of Domitian. Feaſt. Oct. 9.

S. Dionis Backchurch, Rectory.

THIS Pariſh-Church of S. Dionis, with the Addition of Backchurch, ſtands at the South-Weſt Corner of Lyme-Street in Langbourn-Ward. It is a very fair Church, and was ſo before it was burnt down in 1666. Having been new-built in the Reign of King Henry VI. Joh. Bugg was a great Benefactor to that Work, as formerly appear'd by his Arms graven in the Stone-Work in the Choir, at the upper End, on the North-ſide, where he was buried. Sto. Surv. 218.

Joh. Darby, Alderman, added to this Church a fair Iſle or Chapel on the North-ſide, and was there buried about the Year 1466. He gave (beſides ſundry Ornaments) his Dwelling-Houſe and others, unto this Church.

The Lady Wich, Widow to Sir Hugh Wich, Mayor of London, in 1461. was buried here, and gave Lands for Sermons.

The middle Iſle of this Church was new-laid in 1629. and the Steeple was repair'd, a new Turret built, new Frames were made for the Bells, and the Church decently beautified in 1632. Ibid. 832.

The Church here is a Rectory, and one of the 13 Peculiars belonging to the Archbiſhop of Canterbury, and was of old, in the Prior and Chapter of the Church of Canterbury; but after their Diſſolution in 1540. in the Dean and Chapter of that Church, who are ſtill Patrons of this.

This Church being burnt down in the late dreadful Fire, is ſince rebuilt, and made of the yearly Value of 120 l. in lieu of Tyths to the Rector.

Reſtauration he again enjoy'd his Biſhoprick, till October 14. 1666. and then gave way to Fate. He was buried in the Cathedral-Church of Rocheſter, and ſoon after had a ſtately Monument erected over his Grave with a large Epitaph thereon, wherein it is ſaid, that he died in the 86. Year of his Age, (tho' all the Inſcription he aſſign'd in his Will, to be ſet on his Grave-Stone, was only theſe few Words, viz. Hic jacet Cadaver Johannis Warner totos Annos XXIX. Epiſcopi Roffenſis in ſpem Reſurrectionis ad Vitam Æternam.) By which Will he left his perſonal Eſtate for an Hoſpital or Alms-Houſe, to be built as conveniently as might be, near the Cathedral-Church of Rocheſter, (but after his Death this Hoſpital was built at Bromley in Kent, (where the Biſhops of Rocheſter have their Houſe or Seat) and a very noble Structure it is;) and Lands for the Maintenance of twenty poor Widows (tho' himſelf had always led a ſingle Life) the Relicts of Orthodox and loyal Clergy-Men; and a Chaplain to adminiſter holy Things to them according to the Church of England: To which Chaplain he bequeathed 50 l. per ann. and to each of the Widows 20 l. per ann. always reſerving ſo much out of their Exhibition, as may keep in good Repair the ſaid Hoſpital. (Having in his Life time given 300 l. and after that, 1000 l. more, for increaſe of the Library of Magdalen-College with Books) he only gave 50 l. more by his Will, as alſo 50 l. more to the Repair of S. Paul's-Cathedral in London, he having given 1000 l. to it before, five hundred Pounds to the late erected Library at (Rocheſter in the Athenæ Oxon. but in the Will, 'tis) Canterbury. For the Repair of Rocheſter Cathedral-Church he gave in his Life, 200 l. and at his Death, 800 l. more. To the Buying of Impropriations in the Dioceſe of Rocheſter, to be laid to the ſmalleſt Vicarages, in the ſaid Dioceſe, 2000 l. To S. Clemens-Danes, 20 l. To Bromley, aforeſaid, 20 l. and a yearly Penſion to S. Dionis Backchurch. And 80 l. per ann. for the Maintenance of four Scholars of the Scotch Nation, to Live and abide in Baliol-College, to be choſen by the Archbiſhop of Canterbury, and Biſhop of Rocheſter, and each to have 20 l. yearly, till they were Maſters of Arts, and then to return to their Country, and there be Miniſters of Gods Word, &c [Vid. *Teſtamentum in Offic. g Nathanael Hardy, Son of Anthony Hardy, was born in the Old-Baily, in the Pariſh of S. Martin Ludgate (Lond.) Sept. 14. 1618. became a Commoner in Magdalen-Hall in 1632. went thence to Hart-Hall, and took the Degree of Maſter of Arts in 1638. and in the next Year was admitted into full Orders. Afterwards he retir'd to London, became a florid Preacher, and at the turn of the Times was enſnar'd with the fair Pretences of the Presbyterian Party. But being preſent at the Treaty of Uxbridge, ann. 1644. was fully convinc'd of his Errour, chiefly by the Arguments of Dr. Hen. Hamond; ſo that then being in the 26. Year of his Age, he immediately (as 'tis ſaid) upon his return to London, Preach'd a Recantation-Sermon, and ever after, even in the very worſt of Times, he atteſted his Loyalty to the King, and Conformity to the Church, being all, or moſt part of thoſe times Miniſter of this Pariſh (and to confirm him therein, took Inſtitution to this Church, Aug. 10. 1660. at the Preſentation of the Dean and Chapter of Canterbury, as appears above.) In the ſame Year 1660. he went with the Commiſſioners, appointed by the City of London, to the Hague, in Order to his Majeſty's Reſtauration, where on May 20. he Preach'd a Sermon before his Majeſty, which much ſatisfy'd his Auditory, who much admir'd his Elegancy and Learning. After his Majeſty's return, he was actually created Doctor of Divinity, as a Member of Hart-Hall; was admitted to the Vicarage of S. Martin in the Fields (at the King's Preſentation, as void by Lapſe, Apr. 6. 1661. upon which, this his Church of S. Dionis became void;) was made Archdeacon of Lewes and Dean of Rocheſter, in which laſt Dignity, he was inſtall'd, Dec. 10. 1660. being about that time Rector of Henley in Oxfordſhire, and a frequent Preacher before his Majeſty. He died at his Houſe in Croydon in Surry, June 1. 1670. and was buried on the 9th Day of the ſame Month, in the Church of S. Martin in the Fields, above-mention'd, where his Widow ſoon after erected a Monument on the North-Wall of the Chancel to his Memory, with an Inſcription thereon. [Ath. Ox. Vol. II. p. 337. &c.]

h Hen. Carpenter, ſome time of Exeter-College, was Son of Richard Carpenter, Miniſter of Culleton in Devonſhire, became Preb. of Yatminſter in the Church of Sarum, in Aug. 1660 (in June 7. 1661. he was inſtituted to this Church, and on July 17. following, to the Church of Stapleford Tany, in Eſſex. Reg. Cant. & Lond.) On May 20. 1662. he was made Preb. of Windſor, he having been the 19th of April before, declar'd Doctor of Divinity in the Univerſity of Oxford, by a Diploma then dated, upon the earneſt Requeſt of his Nephew, Sir Edward Turner, Speaker of the Houſe of Commons (to whom he was then Chaplain) made to the Chancellor of [Ath. Ox. Vol. II p. 815.] But in ſome Collections of Doctor Hutton, I find he was inſtall'd Dean of Rocheſter, March 6. 1672. which doubtleſs is the right, for I do not find that Doctor Lamplugh was ever Dean of Rocheſter; and Doctor Hardy was ſucceeded in that Deanry by Doctor Mews, who upon his Promotion to Bath and Wells (to which he was Conſecrated, Febr. 9. 1672.) voided this Deanry, and was ſucceeded therein by this Doctor Caſtilion, in March following, as above.

S. Dunſtan in the Eaſt, Rectory.

S. Dunſtan (to whom two Churches in this City are dedicated) was born in the Weſtern-parts of England, then called Weſt-Saxony (ſome will have it in Somerſetſhire) of good Parents; but having written ſomething of him among the Biſhops of London, I need ſay no more of him here, but proceed to the two Churches conſecrated to his Memory; namely, S. Dunſtan in the Eaſt, and S. Dunſtan the Weſt.

S. Dunſtan in the Eaſt is a Rectory, and was, and ſtill is a very fair Pariſh Church ſtanding on the South of Towerſtreet, behind the Houſes, between the two Church Lands, within a large Church-yard in Towerſtreet-Ward, and in old Records is written ſometimes S. Dunſtan, juxta Turrim London.

Pecul. Cant. It is one of the Archbiſhop of Canterburys 13 Peculiars in this City, and was originally in the Gift of the Prior and Chapter of Canterbury; but granted by them Apr. 24. 1365. to Simon Iſlep, Archbiſhop of Canterbury, and his Succeſſors for ever (together with thoſe of Alhallows Breadſtreet, and S. Pencras Soper-lane) upon the Conſideration mention'd in the Grant, as may be Append. N.2. ſeen in the Appendix.

Stow. Surv. 138. William Hariot, Draper, Mayor of London, 1481. was buried in a fair Chapel built by him in this Church, 1517.

Sir John Hawkins, famous in our Engliſh Hiſtory for his diſcoveries of Foreign Lands, particularly in the Weſt-Indies, liv'd in this Pariſh at leaſt 30 Years, and tho' he died in the Weſt-Indies, Nov. 12. 1595. and his Body being coffin'd was thrown into the Sea; yet Dame Margaret his ſecond Wife on the North-ſide of the Chancel of this Church erected to his Memory a fair Monument in the Wall, with an Inſcription; and by his Tomb hung a fair Table faſtned in the Wall, with a long Copy of Verſes containing his Life and Ibid. 140. Death, both which may be ſeen in Stow.

R. C. Bourchier, 121. Here was a Chantry founded for the Souls of John Joſham, and Alice his Wife, and the Soul of John Potyn, and was call'd Potyn's Chantry.

Sto. Sur. 832. This Church being very much decay'd, was in 1630, 31, and 32. fully repair'd, and richly beautified. The Charge whereof amounted to 2400 l. and upwards.

It ſuffer'd much in the late dreadful Fire, which burnt down a very lofty Spire made of Timber cover'd with Lead, and conſum'd all the Inſide of the Church; but the outſide Walls of the Church for the moſt part ſtanding firm, it was again repaired chiefly (if not wholly) by the Bounty of the Lady Dionys Williamſon of Hales-Hall, in the County of Norfolk, who gave 4000 l. for the Rebuilding thereof, ſince which the Walls of the old Tower have been pull'd down, and in the Place thereof, a new Tower erected from the very Foundation with a curious Spire, all of Free-ſtone.

In 1636. the annual Profits of this Church were return'd as followeth:

Pope Innocent VIII. ſent him to appeaſe a dangerous Sedition rais'd againſt James III. King of Scots; but he ſtop'd at London being certified, that the ſaid King was ſlain in the Battle by his Subjects. Being at London, he grew into the acquaintance of Archbiſhop Moreton (who collated him to this Church May 17. 1492. he being at that time ſtiled Apoſtolicæ Sedis Prothonotarius, & nuncius Sanctiſſimi Papæ in Regno Angliæ Collector generalis (Richard Hill, Biſhop of London, having but ſeven Days before confer'd on him the Prebend of Ealdland.) But Moreton being much delighted with his Learning, and diſcreet Carriage, commended him ſo effectually to King Henry VII. that he thought good to conſtitute him his Proctor for the diſpatch of all his Cauſes at Rome, where he ſo well behaved himſelf, that the King at laſt in reward of his Pains and Fidelity was a means of his Preferments, firſt to the Biſhoprick of Hereford, and ſoon after to that of Bath and Wells. Pope Alexander VI. in the mean time a little before his Tranſlation thither having made him Cardinal, being before that time the Pope's general Treaſurer, and principal Secretary. In theſe Places having gathered exceeding great Wealth, the good Pope thirſting after it, determin'd to poiſon him; but by miſtake of the Butler, drank the poiſon'd Wine himſelf, and ſo died. But Adrian continued in his See of Bath and Wells until in 1518. he was depriv'd of this, and all other Promotions, upon occaſion of Conſpiring with Cardinal Alfonſo Petruccio, and other Cardinals, the Death of Pope Leo X. which being diſcover'd, Petruccio was executed for the ſame; but Adrian and ſome others confeſſing and begging Mercy were pardon'd by the Pope. Howbeit Adrian, either fearing the worſt, or aſham'd to ſhew his Face, ſhortly after ſtole ſecretly away, and was never either ſeen or heard of afterwards. [*Godw. de Præſul. S. Dunſtan in the Weſt, Rectory, Vicarage.

THIS Church of S. Dunſtan in the Weſt (ſo call'd to diſtinguiſh it from S. Dunſtan in the Eaſt) ſtands without the Walls, but within the Liberties of the City, in the Weſtern-part thereof; viz. on the North-ſide of Fleet-ſtreet, between Fetter-lane, and Chancery-lane, in the Ward of Farindon-without. It is ſubject to the Archdeacon, ſaving only as to Wills and Adminiſtrations, which belong to the Commiſſary.

Richard Newport, Biſhop of London, finding upon his Viſitation in the Year 1317. that this Church of S. Dunſtan, and the Fruits and Profits thereof were by King Henry III. Patron of the ſame (to which King this Church was given by Richard de Barking the Abbot and the Convent of Weſtminſter, Anno 1237) upon his founding in this Pariſh a Houſe for the converted Jews (which is now that which is call'd the Rolls) aſſign'd (inter alia) to the Maintenance of the ſaid Houſe to be paid to the Cuſtos thereof for the ſuſtenance of ſuch Jews as were, and ſhould be converted to the Chriſtian Faith, and for the ſuſtenance of their Chaplains and Clerks, who did officiate in their Chapel. And finding alſo that the care of this Pariſh-Church of S. Dunſtan did not remain in the Power of the ſaid Cuſtos, or any other, as by Canonical Sanctions it ought: The ſaid Biſhop thereupon willing, according to his Office, to provide for the State of the ſaid Church, and for the Health of the Souls there, ordained (with the conſent of King Edward II.) that for the future, the King and his Heirs ſhould preſent a fit Perſon to the Biſhop and his Succeſſors to be inſtituted and admitted Rector of the ſaid Church, who ſhould wholly receive all the Fruits and Obventions of the ſame, and bear all the Burthens ordinary and extraordinary belonging thereunto. And beſides that, ſhould pay to the converted Jews for the better Suſtentation of them, and their Chaplains and Clerks to be miniſtred to them by their Cuſtos, the Sum of iv l. yearly at four quarterly Payments within the Octaves of the four uſual Feaſts; and the Rector upon his Inſtitution to this Benefice, was to take his Oath for the true Payment thereof, which was accordingly done by Will de Hitch, preſented to this Church by the ſaid King Edward, upon his Inſtitution and Admiſſion thereunto on the Kalends of March, 1318.

Thus the Right of the Advowſon of this Church continued in the Crown till the Year 1361. incluſive, as will appear hereafter. Hence it was (as may be ſuppoſed) that there was no Rector or Vicar inſtituted to this Church for above 70 Years, till there was here a Vicarage ordained and endowed, which, probably, was in the Year 1437. when (as appears by the Regiſtry) there was a perpetual Vicar inſtituted to this Church. The Patronage of which Vicarage continued in the ſaid Abbot and Convent till their Suppreſſion by King Hen VIII. after which I find that in 7. Edw. VI. the Advowſon of this Vicarage was granted to the Lord Dudley; but not long after that both the Rectory and Advowſon of the Vicarage were granted, it

Domus Converſorum: Or, The Rolls.

THIS Houſe was founded on the Eaſt-ſide of Chancery-lane (in old time call'd New-ſtreet) in the aforeſaid Pariſh of S. Dunſtan in the Weſt for the converted Jews by King Hen. III. in place of a Jews Houſe to him forfeited, in the Year 1233. and the 17th of his Reign (about the 20th ſaith Weaver) and was call'd Domus Converſorum: He built here for them a Church, now call'd the Chapel, and uſed for the Cuſtody of the Rolls and Records of Chancery.

Sto. Sur. 435.

By his firſt Charter he gave them 700 Marks to be paid them out of his Exchequer yearly, till he could provide otherwiſe for them. And by another Charter gave them all the Lands and Tenements in London, which did belong to one Conſtantine the Son of Alufus, who was hang'd for Felony, whereby his Eſtate eſcheated to the King. The ſaid King alſo gave them the Church of S. Dunſtan in the Weſt as is mention'd before.

Mon. Aug. 2. Vol. 450.

In this Houſe all ſuch Jews and Infidels as were converted to the Chriſtian Faith were ordain'd and appointed (under an honeſt Rule of Life) ſufficient Maintenance, whereby, in a ſhort time, it came to paſs that there were gather'd a great number of Converts which were baptiz'd and inſtructed in the Doctrine of Chriſt, and there liv'd under a learned Chriſtian appointed to govern them.

Sto. ut ſupra.

In the Year 1279. (8. Edw. I.) a great number of Jews were hang'd for Clipping and Falſifying the King's Coin. And the Year following the King to promote the Converſion of the Jews, and for their ſupport, when converted, granted to the Friers-Preachers, who deſired to preach to the obſtinate Jews to convert them; one half of the forfeited Eſtates of the Jews, to be diſtributed for the Maintenance of the ſaid Friers, and the other half ſhould go to the Houſe of Converts for the Support of the Converts there; and farther, that the Moiety of the forfeited Eſtates of the Jews, and all Deodands be diſtributed in Alms according to the Patent pro Suſtentatione Judæorum Converſorum.

D. Brad. Ed. I. p. 8.

Ibib. 9. Yet for all this incouragement the Preachers made no work of it, the Jews remain'd ſo ſtill; they were the ſame Uſurers and Brokers (accounted then wicked People) as before, and the ſame Infidels; only ſome poor Jews, rather to get a Livelyhood, than out of affection to Chriſt and Chriſtianity, pretended to be Converts: For about 10 Years after they were all baniſh'd the Kingdom, as appears by theſe Writs de Judæis Regno Angliæ exeuntibus [Clauſ. 18. E. I. m. 6.] and de Paſſagio & Conductu Judæorum Angliæ. [Pat. 18. E. I. m. 14.]

Sto. ut ſupra. By this means the number of Converts in this Place was decay'd. And, therefore, in the Year 1377. this Houſe was annext by Patent to William Burſtall, Clerk, Cuſtos Rotulorum, or Keeper of the Rolls of the Chancery by Edw. III. [Pat. 51. E. III.] And this firſt Maſter of the Rolls was Sworn in Weſtminſter-Hall at the Table of Marble Stone, ſince which time this Houſe hath been call'd the Rolls in Chancery-lane.

Ibid. Notwithſtanding, ſuch of the Jews and other Infidels as have in this Realm been converted to Chriſtianity, and Baptiz'd, have been reliev'd there; for (ſaith Stow) I find in Record, That one William Piers, a Jew that became a Chriſtian, was Baptiz'd in 5. Ric. II. and had two Pence a Day allowed him by the ſaid King during his Life.

But to return a while to this Houſe, whilſt it remained a Houſe of the converted Jews, and to give ſome account of the Maſters thereof whilſt it ſo remain'd. The firſt Maſter that I find was Adam de Ceſtreton; who was the King's Chaplain, was Maſter of this Houſe, in 51. Hen. III. as appears by that King's Mandatory Letters to him, to conſtitute a third Chaplain to be added to the other two Chaplains, ſo that this Houſe might have three Chaplains. [Pat. 51. E. III. m. 20.] He died within two Years after this.

Thomas de la Ley was the King's Chaplain; and tho' it does not appear that the King granted him the Maſterſhip of this Houſe, yet in all likelihood he was ſo; for the King granted to him thoſe Houſes within the Precincts of the Converts, which Adam de Ceſtreton, late his Chaplain deceas'd had. [Pat. 53. H. III. m. 21.] He died within two Years after this, and was ſucceeded by

Joh. de S. Dionyſio, the King's Chaplain alſo, to whom King Hen. III. in 55. of his Reign, granted Cuſtodiam, the Cuſtody or Maſterſhip of this Houſe, to hold for the term of his Life, after the ſame manner that Adam de Ceſtreton held it; ſo that thoſe Houſes, wherein the ſaid Adam, and Tho. de la Ley dwelt, he the ſaid John, might dwell therein at his pleaſure. [Pat. 55. H. III. m. 19.] This Joh. de S. Dionyſio had the King's Letters of Preſentation to the Church of Bodeham, directed to R. Biſhop of Norwich [55. H. III.] which were confirm'd, afterwards, by King Edw. I. [Pat. 1. E. I. m. 16.] He was likewiſe Archdeacon of Rocheſter.

Rob. de Scardeburgh the King's Chaplain (who was alſo Preb. of Ealdland, in the Ch. of S. Paul) had the Cuſtody of this Houſe committed to him by the King during pleaſure, to enjoy it after the ſame manner that John de S. Dionyſio, late Archdeacon of Rocheſter, deceas'd, was wont to enjoy it.

Walter de Agmodeſham ſucceeded the ſaid Rob. de Scardeburgh in this Maſterſhip; and was ſucceeded in the ſame by

Hen. de Blunteſdon the King's Almoner, who had the Cuſtody thereof committed to him Apr. 10. during the King's Pleaſure in as ample manner as Walter de Agmodeſham had it. [Pat. 26. E. I.]

Adam de Oſgotaby had the Cuſtody thereof committed to him during the King's Pleaſure. [Teſt. 7. Nov. 1. Ed. II.] And after that during his Life. [Pat. 7. E. II.]

Will. de Ayrmin was the next to whom the Cuſtody of this Houſe was, with the Aſſent of the Chancellor, committed. [Clauſ. 10. E. II. in dorſo. m. 28.] He was Preb. of Kentiſh-Town by the Name of Will. Hyremin, where may be ſeen more of him.

Hen. de Clyff had the Cuſtody of this Houſe committed to him, 4. Jul 1325. [18. E. II. p II.] in dorſo m. 1. Orig. Jurid.]

Ric. de Airmyn, the King's Chaplain, had the Cuſtody of this Houſe committed to him for his Life, Mar. 8. 1326. [Pat. 1. Ed. III. p. 1.] And on Dec. 9. following, the King granted him his Letters of Preſentation to the Church of Dormton in the Dioceſe of Sarum; and on Jan. 1. following, he gave him the

Preb. Wydeford in the Church of Lichfield. [Ib.] In 1329. the King preſented him to the Preb. of Thyrlbly and Carleton, in the Church of Lincoln, and being moleſted, defended him in it, Jul. 4. [Pat. 3. Ed. III. p. 1.]

Mic. de Worth was made Maſter of this Houſe, Jan. 1. 1334. [Clauſ. 8. Ed. III. in Dorſo m. 35. Orig. Jurid.] Tho' it ſeems by what follows, that Ric. de Airmyn, ſtill had it till 1339. for on June 7. that Year,

Joh. de S. Paul, the King's Chaplain, had the Cuſtody of the Rolls in Chancery, and alſo this Houſe committed to him during his Life, as void by the Reſignation of the ſaid Ric. de Airmyn. [Pat. 13. Ed. III. p. 1.] This John de S. Paul, in 1331. Mar. 24. had the King's Letters of Preſentation to the Church of Aſheby Davie. [Pat. 6. Ed. III. p. 1.] Had the King's Licence to give certain Lands in Skelaker-Croft and Ouſton, to find a Chaplain to celebrate daily in the Chappel of S. John Baptiſt, in the Church of All-Saints, Ouſton, for the good Eſtate of Henry de Cliff, and of Robert and Thomas de S. Paul, and for the Soul of William de S. Paul his Brother, deceas'd, dated Apr. 10. 1333. [Pat. 7. Ed. III. p. 1.] The King protected him, and Will. de Bramewell, Executors of Henry de Cliff. Febr. 8. following [8. p. 1.] He gave him the Prebend of Brightling, in the Free-Chapel of Haſtings, Sept. 23. 1336. [10. p. 2.] And on Dec. 6. 1337. the Prebend of S. Michael, in the Free-Chapel of Penerick. [11. p. 3.] On Febr. 15. following, the King granted him Licence to found a Chantry in the ſaid Church of Ouſton, for the ſaid Henry de Cliff, and himſelf. [12. p. 1.] In 1339. a certain new-made Great-Seal, for the Government of the Kingdom, as appears in a memorandum on the back of the cloſe Roll, was deliver'd to him. [14. m. 34.] In 1343. Apr. 10. the King preſented him to a Preb. in the Church of Exon. [17. p. 1.] And on Febr. 27. following, the King gave him the Preb. or Portion of Overhall, in the Collegiate-Church of Ledbury. [18. p. 1.] And on June 14. following, the King ratify'd the Exchange that he made of his Preb. in the Chappel of Penerick, for another Preb. in the Church of Exeter. [Ibid.] In 1347. July 21. the King ratify'd him in the Archdeaconry of Cornwall. [21. p. 2.] And on Nov. 9. 1349. he was elected Archbiſhop of Dublin. [23. p. 2.] He occurs likewiſe Preb. of Ealdland, in the Cathedral-Church of S. Paul, about 1347.

Joh. de Eveſham was made Maſter of this Houſe about 1340. [Clauſ. 14. Ed. III. p. 2. m. 9. in Dorſo. Orig. Jurid.]

Joh. de Thoresby had the Cuſtody of this Houſe committed to him, Febr. 21. $134\frac{0}{1}$. [Clauſ. 15. Ed. III. p. 1. m. 34. in. Dorſo. Orig. Jurid.]

H. de Ingleby, not nam'd among the Maſters of this Houſe in Orig. Jurid.

Hen. de Ingleby was the King's Chaplain, and in great Favour, it ſeems, with his Maſter, King Edward III. for he, not only committed to him the Cuſtody of this Houſe, Jan. 28. 1349. [Pat. 24. Ed. III. p. 1.] but for ſeveral Years before, and ſeveral Years after, continu'd to heap up Preferments upon him, as Churches, Prebends, and the like, as appears by the ſeveral Patents granted by that King, for that purpoſe, too long to inſert here. Sir William Dugdale, in his Orig. Jurid. names David Wollore, among the Maſters of this Houſe, to whom the Cuſtody thereof was committed, Mar. 15. 1361. [Clauſ. 36. Ed. III.] But by Patent 42. of that King, p. 1. it appears, that the ſaid Henry de Ingleby continu'd ſtill Cuſtos of this Houſe in 1367. and by Patent, 45. Ed. III. p. 2. it appears that he reſign'd it in 1370. for by that Patent, as void by the ſaid Inglesby's Reſignation, he committed the Cuſtody of this Houſe to his Chaplain, Will. de Burſtall, and in 51. of his Reign, annext it to him by the Name of William Burſtall Clerk, Cuſtos-Rotulorum, as hath been before obſerv'd, ſince which time, he and his Succeſſors have been always ſtil'd Maſters of the Rolls. Hen. de Ingleby died before Jan. 28. 1375. for then the King granted his Preb. of Dermyngton in the Church of Durham, as void by his Death, to Joh. de Weſtwyke. [50. p. 1.]

Will. de Burſtall was Parſon of Flamſted, which he exchang'd, Dec. 7. 1373. with Will. de Wenlock, for the Preb. of Momerfeld, in the Free-Chappel of Bruggeworth, Pat. 47. Ed. III. p. 2.] which Preb. he reſign'd before May 2. 1377. for then the King gave it to Rob. de Crull, as void by the Reſignation of Burſtall, [51. p. 2.] about which time Burſtall was made Maſter of the Rolls.

Joh. de Waltham was conſtituted Maſter of the Rolls, quamdiu ſe bene geſſerit, by the King, Sept. 8. 1381. and a Mandate iſſu'd out the ſame Day to the above-nam'd Will. de Burſtall, to deliver the Records. [Pat. 5. Ric. II. p. 1.]

Joh. de Burton ſucceeded; he was the King's Clerk, and by his Majeſty conſtituted Maſter of the Rolls, quamdiu ſe bene geſſerit, Oct. 1386. with a like Mandate to the ſaid Joh. de Waltham, to deliver the Records. [Pat. 10. Ric. II. p. 2.]

Joh. de Scarle made Maſter of the Rolls, quamdiu, &c. July 22. 1394. [Pat 18. Ric. II. p. 1. m. 28.] [Vid. S. Brides inter Rectores, & Northall (Midd.) inter Vic.]

Tho. Stanley, conſtituted Maſter, &c. by K. Ric. II. 11. Sept. 1597. [Clauſ. 21. Ric. II. p. 1. m. 26.] And again, by K. Hen. IV. in 1400. quamdiu, &c. [Pat. 1. Hen. IV. p. 1.] He was likewiſe Dean of S. Martin-le-Grand, where may be ſeen more of him.

Nic. Bubwith was conſtituted Maſter, &c. Sept. 24. 1403. quamdiu, &c. [Pat. 3. Hen. IV. p. 2. m. 3.] He was afterwards Biſhop of London, where may be ſeen more of him.

John Wakering, Clerk, made Maſter, &c. Mar. 2. 140$\frac{4}{5}$. [Pat. 6. Hen. IV. p. 1. m. 14.] quamdiu, &c. whether he was the ſame Joh. Wakering, Clerk, who was admitted Rector of S. Bennet Sherehog, Febr. 21. 1389. and reſign'd it in 1396. I am not certain.

Sim. Garnſted, Clerk, made Maſter, &c. June 1415. [Pat. 3. Hen. V. p. 1. m. 7.]

Joh. Frank, Clerk, Archdeacon of Suffolk, was conſtituted Maſter, &c. Oct. 28. 1423. [Pat. 2. Hen. VI. p. 1. m. 31.]

Joh. Alcock, Dean of the Free-Chapel of S. Stephen's Weſtminſter, made Maſter, &c. Apr. 29. 1462. [Pat. 1. Ed. IV. p. 1. m. 28.] whether he was the ſame with Joh. Alcock, L.D. who was afterwards made Preb. of Brownſwood, I am not certain; if he was, more may be ſeen of him there.

Will. Morland, Clerk, conſtituted Maſter of the Rolls, by K. Henry VI. Feb. 12. 1469. [Pat. 49. Hen. VI. m. 1.] This was about the 9th of Edward IV. for then Henry VI. left to be King in 1460. living 12 Years after; in which ſpace of time, there was a certain viciſſitude of things, that ſometimes he was a King, and ſometimes no King; and this Will. Morland was made Maſter, when King Henry's Forces had the better of it. I take him alſo to be the ſame, who was Preb. of Ealdland, where may be ſeen more of him.

Joh. Morton, made Maſter, &c. Mar. 16. 147$\frac{1}{2}$. [Pat. 12. Ed. IV. p. m. 15.] He was again conſtituted Maſter, &c. May 2. 1475. [Pat. 15. Ed. IV. p. 1. m. 9.] He was Preb. of Chiſwick, where may be ſeen more of him.

David Williams, made Maſter, Nov. 26. 1487. [Billa ſign. 3. Hen VII.] I take this to be the ſame David Williams, who was D.D. and was May 8. 1479. collated by the Archbiſhop of Canterbury to the Church of S. Vedaſt, alias Foſter; and reſigning it in 1482. was by the ſame Archbiſhop, collated to that of S. Dunſtan in the Eaſt, May 24. the ſame Year, and voided it by his Death in 1492. and was ſucceeded in his Maſterſhip the ſame Year, by

S. EDMUND.

S. Edmund the King and Martyr (to whom this Church is dedicated) was Nephew to Offa King (at leaſt in Right) of the Eaſt-Angles, who adopted him his Succeſſor in that Kingdom; which, when after King Offa's Death, he had govern'd Chriſtian-like, 15 Years; he was, in the firſt Daniſh Perſecution, under Hunguar and Hubba, being taken at Hengleſdune (now Hoxon) in Suffolk, for his Confeſſion of Chriſt, firſt whipp'd ſorely, then bound to a Tree, and Arrows ſhot at him, then beheaded, and his Head thrown into a thick Grove of Buſhes and Briars; but afterwards, it being miraculouſly (as ſome will have it) found, it was, with the Body there buried, and a wooden Chapel erected over his Grave; but from thence, in proceſs of time, tranſlated to another Town in Suffolk, where in Honour of him a very great Church was built, wrought with a wonderful Frame of Timber, whence it began to be call'd S. Edmundi Burgus (now commonly S. Edmunds-Bury, or more ſhort, Bury.) And afterwards, King Canutus to expiate the ſacrilegious Impiety of his Father Swenus, againſt this Church, being affrighted with a Viſion of S. Edmund's, built it again of a new Work, enrich'd it, offer'd his own Crown to the holy Martyr, brought into it Monks, with their Abbot, and gave unto it many fair and large Mannors, and (inter alia) the Town itſelf full and whole. Here then this holy King and Martyr was laid in a goodly Shrine ſet with Jewels and precious Stones.

Feaſt, Nov. 20.

He was beheaded 12. Kal. Dec. Anno Dom. 866. according to ſome, as others 870. [X. Script. 805.] which Day is celebrated to his Memory.

S. Edmund Lombardſtreet, Rectory.

Sto.Surv.220.

THIS Pariſh-Church of S. Edmund Lombardſtreet, call'd alſo ſometimes, S. Edmund Graſs-Church, becauſe the Graſs-Market came down ſo low, ſtands in Lombardſtreet, near the Corner of Birchover (now Birchin) Lane, in Langbourn-Ward. It is a Rectory, ſubject to the Archdeacon, ſaving only as to Wills and Adminiſtrations, which belong to the Commiſſary.

Reg. Dec. & Cap. Pix Y.

There was of old, a Controverſy about this Church, between the Chapter and Canon of S. Paul's, and the Convent of the Brethren of the Holy-Trinity, which depended ſome time before Gilbert (Foliot) Biſhop of London; but at laſt, there was this end made of it, by the Aſſent of the ſaid Biſhop, viz. Hugh the Dean, on behalf of the Chapter, took inveſtiture from the Hands of the Biſhop, and the Biſhop at the Petition and Preſentation of the ſaid Chapter, gave the perpetual Vicarage to the Convent of the Brethren of the Holy-Trinity, Stephen their Prior taking upon him the Cure of Souls; but the ſaid Convent was to pay yearly to the Chapter of S. Paul's xii d. as long as Goceline the Prieſt held the ſaid Church: But after that, the ſaid Convent ſhould place a Clerk there, and aſſign a certain Penſion, ſuch as could be well rais'd for the common Benefit of the ſaid Brethren and Canons, half whereof was to be yearly paid to the ſaid Canons, and was to increaſe or decreaſe to both Parties, as the Caſe would admit.

Hence it appears, that the Advowſon of this Church hath been of old in the Prior and Convent of the Holy-Trinity, Chriſt-Church, London, and ſo continu'd till their Suppreſſion; after which, it was in the Crown for ſome ſhort time, but was ſoon granted, it ſeems, to the Archbiſhop of Canterbury and his Succeſſors, in whom it hath continu'd ever ſince.

About the Year 1362. here was a perpetual Chantry founded in this Church, for the Soul of Richard Toky, for I find, that on 13. Kal. of Nov. in that Year, there was a Chaplain admitted to it, as then newly founded at the Preſentation of Matilda, the Wife of the ſaid Richard. Sudbury, 19.

There was another perpetual Chantry founded alſo in this Church, to the Honour of S. John, S. Peter, and S. Thomas the Martyr, about the Year 1382. by Matilda at Vume the elder, the Relict of John at Roſe. Braybroke, 12.

Upon an Inquiſition of the Right of Patronage of this Church, made in October 1510. it was (amongſt other things) certified, that the true Value of the Tyths, Oblations, Fruits, and Eccleſiaſtical Emoluments of this Church, did then extend to the Sum of xxiv l. per ann. and alſo, that it paid a Penſion of xiii s. iv d. yearly to the Prior and Convent of the Holy-Trinity, London. Fitzjames, 147.

This Church was repair'd, and worthily beautify'd at the proper Coſt and Charges of the Pariſhioners, to the Sum of 248 l. in the Years 1631. and 1632. Sto.Surv.833.

In 1636. the annual Profits of this Church were return'd as followeth: Sion-College, MS.

But this Church being burnt down in the late dreadful Fire, is ſince rebuilt and made the Parochial-Church for this, and the Pariſh of S. Nicolas Acons, both which are made now of the yearly Value of 180 l. in lieu of Tyths to the Incumbent.

Afterwards having paſs'd thro' ſome petit Employments, he became Parſon of this Church, where he continu'd many Years, even till the horrid Rebellion, on the breaking out of which, he was ſo moleſted and troubled, that meerly for Quietneſs ſake, he was forced to leave this his Benefice in his old Age, being then commonly called Old Father Ephraim; ſo that retiring to Deptford in Kent, he ſpent there the ſhort remainder of his Days in great Devotion and Retiredneſs. At length ſurrendring up his pious Soul to God, in the beginning of the Year (in April it ſeems) 1647. he was buried according to his Will in Deptford Church-yard. [Ath. Ox. Vol. II. p. 51.

S. Edilburga or Ethelburgh.

S. Ethelburga (to whom this Church is dedicated) was a Saxon Queen, Wife to holy Edwyn, the firſt Chriſtian King of Northumberland, and Daughter to King Ethelbert of Kent, which Ethelburga, after the Martyrdom of her Lord and Huſband, fled out of Northumberland into Kent, her native Country, with Paulinus Archbiſhop of York, taking with her Eanfled her Daughter, and Vuſofrean her Son, together with Iſſi the Son of Offrid, who was the Son of the ſaid King Edwyn, and ſlain in the ſame Battel with his Father, where they were honourably receiv'd by Honorius Archbiſhop of Canterbury, and her Brother Eadbaldus, King of Kent; and having ſent the two Youths into France, where they ſoon died, ſhe determin'd to exclude out of her Mind all temporal Things, and to employ in a religious Solitude all her Thoughts and Deſires upon Heaven and God alone; which Intentions of hers being known to her Brother, King Eadbald, he beſtow'd on her a Village call'd Liming, where ſhe built a Monaſtery, and for ought appears, was the firſt Widow (ſaith Creſſey) among the Saxons, which with a religious Veil (receiv'd from S. Paulinus) conſecrated herſelf to ſerve our Lord.

There ſhe continu'd in that godly Vocation for many Years, full of Virtue and Sanctimony of Life, and died about the Year 647. Her Memory is celebrated on the 10th of September in our Martyrologe.

S. Ethelburgh, Rectory.

THIS Pariſh-Church, Stow calls the Church of S. Ethelburgh, Virgin, but it ſeems to be a Miſtake, (ſhe being, as appears above, a Widow.) It is a ſmall Church, and ſtandeth on the Eaſt-ſide of Biſhopſgateſtreet, in Biſhopſgate-Ward within. It is ſubject to the Archdeacon, but the Advowſon having been granted to the Biſhop of London and his Succeſſors, ſince the Diſſolution, thoſe Biſhops have ever ſince collated and inducted to this Church.

The Patronage of this Church, was of old, in the Prioreſs and Convent of S. Helen, (which ſtood next unto it) till the Suppreſſion of that Houſe; after which, it was granted by the Crown to the Biſhop of London and his Succeſſors, in whom it hath continu'd ever ſince.

Here was a Chantry founded for the Souls of Gilbert Maryon, and Chriſtine his Wife, as appears by the Admiſſion of a Chaplain to it in Dec. 1436. at the Preſentation of the Rector, Church-Wardens and Pariſhoners of this Pariſh, as the true Patrons thereof.

BEneath the Church of S. Mary Aldermanbury is Gayſpurr Lane, which runneth down to London-Wall, in which Lane, at the North-end thereof, in Cripplegate-Ward within, was of old time a Houſe of Nuns, which Houſe being in great decay, William Elſing, Mercer, in the Year of Chriſt 1329. (3. Ed. III.) began in place thereof, the Foundation of an Hoſpital, for Suſtentation of 100 blind Men, towards the Erection whereof, he gave his two Houſes in the Pariſh of S. Alphage, and our bleſſed Lady in Aldermanbury, and alſo his Houſes and Rents in S. Laurence Jewry and S. Martin Pomroy.

This Houſe was afterwards call'd a Priory, or Hoſpital of S. Mary the Virgin, founded in the Year 1332. by William Elſing, for Canons-Regular; the which William, became the firſt Prior thereof himſelf. Robert Elſing, Son of the ſaid William, gave to the ſaid Hoſpital, xii l. per ann. for the finding of three Prieſts.

Thus this Hoſpital, at firſt, conſiſted of a Cuſtos or Rector, and four Secular-Prieſts, beſides the poor miſerable People; but afterwards, viz. Non. Nov. 1340. the Founder, with the Conſent of the ſaid Dean and Chapter, obtain'd of Ralph Stratford, then Biſhop of London, Licence to change the ſaid Secular-Prieſts into Canons-Regular, of the Order of S. Auguſtin, and to be govern'd by a Prior, which was accordingly done; and the ſaid Biſhop added alſo one more to the Number of Canons, making them five in all, and order'd them to be under the Government of the Prior, which Prior, upon every Vacancy, was by Licence firſt had from the Dean and Chapter, to be choſen by the ſaid Canons, and being choſen, to be preſented to the ſaid Dean and Chapter, to be approv'd of by them, and then they were to preſent him to the Biſhop, who was to confirm him. The ſaid Biſhop did then declare, That he did not hereby intend to derogate from the Rights of the Archdeacon of London in any thing.

Ibid. Vol. III. P. II. p. 190.

After this, William Grey, Biſhop of London, Patron and Ordinary of a College at Thele in Hertfordſhire (but in the Dioceſe of London) conſiſting of a Maſter and four Chaplains, in regard the Maſters of the ſaid College, thro' their Careleſneſs and Negligence, had ſuffer'd much of the Lands, belonging to the ſame, to be loſt, obtain'd Licence of King Henry VI. dated at Weſtminſter, Mar. 14. 1430. in the 9th Year of his Reign, to transfer the remaining Poſſeſſions of the ſaid College, to this Priory of Elſing-Spittle (among which were the Churches of Thele and Aldham) to find two Canons-Regular in the ſaid Church of Thele, and three in the ſaid Priory, to pray for the Souls of the Founders

Vid. Stanſted Thele. of the ſaid College, which was accordingly done, as may be ſeen in what I have written of that College.

This Priory was ſurrendred May 11. 22. Henry VIII. and then valu'd at 193 l. 15 s. 05 d. per ann. Dugdale. 239 l. 13 s. 11 d. Speed.

Thus much, as to what this Hoſpital or Priory was before it was ſuppreſs'd; and now, in ſhort, as to what it is at preſent known by the Name of Sion-College.

Sto.Surv.304. IN the ſame Place where Elſing-Spittle and Priory were formerly ſituate, there is now a College erected for the Clergy of London, and the Suburbs thereof, by the Name of Sion-College, and Alms-Houſes for twenty poor People, viz. ten Men and ten Women.

Laud, 18. Theſe Clergy were incorporated by King Charles I. by his Letters-Patents, bearing Date the 3d of July, in the ſixth Year of his Reign, by the Name of the Preſident and Fellows of the College of Sion within the City of London.

Sto. ut ſupra. Thomas White, Vicar of S. Dunſtan's Church in the Weſt (Prebendary of Mora) and one of the Canons-Reſidentiary of S. Paul's, was the Founder of this College, and gave 3000 l. to purchaſe and build the ſaid College, which was done by the ſpecial Care and Pains of John Simpſon, Rector of S. Olaves Hart-ſtreet, one of his Executors.

Ibidem. The ſaid Dr. White gave to this College and Alms-Houſes, 160 l. per annum, for ever, whereof there is 120 l. yearly allow'd for the Maintenance of the the poor Alms-People, and the remaining 40 l. for the Support of the common Burdens of the ſaid College, out of which they have four Dinners yearly for the Clergy, who are to have four Latin Sermons in the Year, one every Quarter, and upon theſe Days, they are to Dine together in the College.

Laud ut ſupra. The Biſhop of London and his Succeſſors, by the ſaid Letters-Patents, are made Viſitors of this College, which conſiſts of a Preſident, two Deans and four Aſſiſtants, to be choſen every Year on the Tueſday three Weeks after Eaſter, and all the Rectors, Vicars, licens'd Lecturers and Curates, within the City of London and the Suburbs thereof, are by the ſaid Letters-Patents, conſtituted Fellows of the ſame; and the Preſident, Deans and Aſſiſtants, are Governours and Rectors of the ſaid Alms-Houſes and Alms-People there, for the time being, and have Power upon the Death or Removal of any of them, to chuſe others in their Room, as alſo to give and grant Lands, Tenements and Hereditaments, to the uſe of the ſaid Alms-Houſes and Poor, and to diſpoſe thereof to the better Benefit and Advantage, and to do all things according to Ordinances to be made for the Government of the ſaid Alms-Houſes and Poor.

Sto. ut ſupra. In the ſame College, the above-nam'd, John Simpſon, did in his Life-time, at his own proper Coſt and Charges, build a very fair and ſpacious Library, containing 120 Foot in length, within the Walls, and above 25 Foot in breadth, and furniſh'd it with Wainſcot, Stalls, Deſks, Seats and other Neceſſaries, and uſeful Ornaments befitting the Place. To which Library, there have been divers bountiful and well-diſpos'd Benefactors, who have given large Sums of Money towards the furniſhing of it with Books, whoſe Names, Legacies, Gifts, and Books bought therewith, are by way of grateful Memorial, regiſtred in a fair Book, kept in the ſaid Library.

Ibidem. The ſaid Mr. Simpſon, likewiſe at his own Coſt and Charges, erected the New-Building, adjoyning to the aforeſaid Library, all along the South-ſide of the College-Court, for Lodgings for the Governours, or others at their Appointment.

S. FAITH.

Mr. Richard Smith's MS.

S. Faith, or Sancta Fides (to whom this Church is ſuppos'd to be dedicated, and not to that other S. Faith, who with her Siſters Hope and Charity, ſuffer'd Martyrdom under Adrian the Emperor) was an holy Virgin and Martyr, of the City of Agenum (that is, Agen in Aquitain in France) and ſuffer'd (as ſome write) under Dacian the Preſident, under the Emperor Diocleſian, becauſe profeſſing Chriſt, ſhe would not offer Sacrifice to the Idol-Gods. Her Body was at firſt ſtretch'd out upon a Grate of Braſs, with burning Coals put under it, and Fat thrown into the Flame to make it burn more fiercely, yet ſhe remain'd unhurt. At laſt, under many other Torments, which ſhe endur'd for Chriſt's ſake, ſhe was beheaded and buried in Agen, the Day before the Nones of October, about the Year of our Lord 286. Her Feſtival is celebrated on the 6th of October.

Feaſt, Oct. 6.

S. Faith, Rectory.

Sto. Surv. 355.

THE Pariſh-Church dedicated to this Saint (heretofore call'd Eccleſia Sanctæ Fidei in Cryptis, in the Crowds according to the vulgar Expreſſion) was at the Weſt-End of Jeſus Chappel, under the Choir of the Cathedral-Church of S. Paul, which ſerv'd as a Pariſh-Church for the Stationers, and others dwelling in S. Paul's Church-Yard, Pater-noſter-Row, and the Places near adjoyning.

The ſaid Chappel of Jeſus being ſuppreſs'd in the Reign of Edward VI. the Pariſhioners of S. Faiths were remov'd into the ſame, as to a place more ſufficient for Largeneſs and Lightſomneſs, in the Year 1551. which continu'd as a Church to this Pariſh, till the Cathedral was burnt down in the Year 1666. after which it was by Act of Parliament annext to the Church of S. Auſtin, treated of before, which is made the Pariſh-Church for the Inhabitants of both the Pariſhes, and of the yearly Value of 172 l. in lieu of Tyths to the Incumbent, as may be ſeen in S. Auſtins.

S. Faiths and S. Auſtins annext.

This Church of S. Faith is a Rectory, and one of the Peculiars belonging to the Dean and Chapter of S. Paul's, where they are both Patrons and Ordinaries, and is wholly exempt, not only from the Archdeacon, but alſo from the Biſhop, except when he Viſits, Tam in capite quam in membris.

In this Church of S. Faith, or within the Precincts of the Undercroft, there were four Chantries; namely, of John de Everdon and *Will. As for the Rectors of this Church I can give no Account of them, for the Reaſons mention'd in S. Antholins, ſaving only, that one Dr. Brown was Rector here in 1636. when the annual Profits of this Church were return'd, and was ejected by Sequeſtration for his Loyalty ſoon after the Rebellion broke out in 1642. and died before the Reſtauration. [Merc. Ruſt. 254.] After which one Dr. Jackſon was ejected for Non-conformity, and Mr. Brian Turner was collated to it by the ſaid Dean and Chapter, Aug. 29. 1662. who enjoy'd it till the Church was burnt down in 1666. ſoon after which he voided it by taking another Living in the Country.

S. Gabriel Fenchurch, Rectory.

THO' this Church hath all along in the London-Regiſtry been recorded by the Name of S. Mary Fencherch, till the Year 1517. for then is the firſt time I find it there call'd by the Name of S. Gabriel Fencherch; and the next Year after Allſaints Fencherch; whence, I conjecture, it may, probably, be dedicated to the Bleſſed Virgin Mary, to the Holy Angel Gabriel, and to Allſaints; yet, in regard, ſince that time I find it regiſtred by no other Name than S. Gabriel Fenchurch. I ſhall here treat of this Pariſh Church, only as dedicated to the Glorious Angel Gabriel, of whoſe ſeveral Apparitions may be read in the Holy Scriptures.

Sto. Sur. 217. This Pariſh Church, then of S. Gabriel, ſtood in the midſt of Fenchurch (corruptly Fanchurch) Street, in Langbourn-Ward; which Street (ſaith Stow) took that Name of a fenny or mooriſh Ground, ſo made by means of a Bourn of ſweet VVater, which paſſed thorow it; and therefore until this Day (ſaith he) in the Guild-Hall of this City, Langbourn-VVard is call'd by the Name of Langborne and Fenny about; yet others be of opinion, that it took that Name of Fœnum, that is Hay ſold there; as Graſs-ſtreet took the Name of Graſs or Herbs ſold there.

Archid.Com. Lond. This is a Rectory ſubject to the Archdeacon, ſaving only as to VVills and Adminiſtrations, which belong to the Commiſſary.

Ibid. 836. This was a ſmall Church; but enlarg'd in length nine Foot, and richly and very worthily beautified in the Year 1631, and 1632. at the proper Coſt and Charges of the Pariſh ariſing to 537 l. 7 s. 10 d.

Ibid. 217. Helming Legget, Eſq; by Licence of Edw. III. in the 49th of his Reign, gave one Tenement with a Curtelage thereto belonging, and a Garden, with an Entry thereto leading, to Sir John Hariot (Hontoft I think it ſhould be, for it will appear that he was Parſon here at that time) Parſon of Fenchurch, and to his Succeſſors for ever, the Houſe to be a Parſonage-Houſe, and the Garden to be a Church-yard or Burying-place for the Pariſh.

Stokeley 54. In 28. Hen. VIII. John Bayly, Clerk, Parſon of this Church, with the Conſent of the Biſhop of London, the Dean and Chapter of S. Pauls, and the Lord Chancellor, Patron of this Ch. in right of the King, lett a Leaſe of certain Tenements and Houſes with a Garden adjoining to the ſame, belonging to the Rectors of this Church, ſituate in Church-Alley, for the Term of 61 Years to Richard Caryngdon and his Wife for the annual Rent of 40 s.

Sion Coll. Mſ. In 1636. the annual Profits of this Church were return'd as followeth:

This Ch. ſuffer'd the common Fate of a great many others in the late general Conflagration of this City, upon the new building whereof, it was by Act of Parliament totally demoliſh'd, and the Site thereof laid into the Street; S. Gab. Fen. S. Margaret Patt. annext. but yet united and annex'd to the Pariſh Church of S. Margaret Pattens; both, which, together are made of the yearly Value of 120 l. in lieu of Tyths to the Incumbent, as may be ſeen in S. Margarets.

Reg. Lond. In 1693. the Church-Wardens preſented the Parſonage-Houſe burnt down in the late dreadful Fire; but ſince rebuilt, and leaſed out to one Mrs. Earl for 7 l. per Ann. Ground Rent; but ſay, there is no other Houſe or Glebe belonging to this Benefice.

S. George Botolphlane, Rectory.

M. R. Smith's Mſ. S. George (to whoſe Memory this Church is dedicated) was Born in Cappadocia, of Chriſtian Parents, by whom he was Educated from his Infancy in the Chriſtian Religion. He was train'd up in the Wars under the Emperor Diocleſian, by whom for his dexterity in Martial Affairs (before he was diſcovered to be a Chriſtian) he was made a Tribune, and then an Earl (Comes). After his Parents Death, being of the Age of 20 Years, he took part of his Eſtate left him, and deſirous of Honour, repair'd to the Emperor; but when he ſaw ſuch ſavage Cruelty exerciſed againſt the Chriſtians, he diſtributing all his Wealth and Apparel to the Poor, went of himſelf without fear to the Emperor, aſſembled with his Councel, and there boldly upbraided them for their Cruelty and profane Idolatry, profeſſing himſelf a Chriſtian; for which, when he would not be reclaim'd, he was by the Command of the Emperor, firſt caſt into Priſon, then tormented with cruel Tortures, as, torn with ſharp Hooks, caſt into burning Lime, rack'd with Cords, hack'd with ſharp Bills, and cut and ſlaſh'd with Swords; and, yet, in all theſe Torments, he was not perceiv'd to be of a dejected or abject Spirit, but retain'd a generous Conſtancy to the laſt Breath of his Life: At laſt, he was Beheaded on the 23d Day of April; which is yearly celebrated in Memory of his Martyrdom. Feaſt, April 23.

This S. George is the Patron of the Engliſh Nation, and alſo of the noble Order of the Garter; but the Story of his killing the Dragon is look'd upon to be a Fable or Allegory.

This Church of S. George Botolphlane, ſo call'd, becauſe ſituate in Botolphlane, a pretty way up the Hill, on the Weſt-ſide thereof, in Billinſgate-Ward, call'd alſo ſometimes S. George de Eaſtcheap; becauſe near that Place, is but a ſmall Church, and was newly Beautified and Repaired in the Year 1627. (Sto. Sur. 836.) It is ſubject to the Archdeacon, ſaving only as to Wills and Adminiſtrations which belong to the Commiſſary. (Archid. Com. Lond.)

The Patronage of this Church, which is a Rectory, was of old in the Abbot and Convent of S. Saviours Bermondſey, and ſo continued till the general Diſſolution; upon which it came to the Crown, and hath continued in it ever ſince. Stokeſley 6. In this Ch. there was a perpetual Chantry founded for the Soul of Roger de la Bere (Stow Names him de la Kere) about the Year 1530. as I conceive, becauſe in the Year is the firſt and only Preſentation to it that I can find; of which the Prior and Convent of the Hoſpital of the Bleſſed Virgin Mary without Biſhopſgate were Patrons.

Sion Col. Mſ. In 1636. the annual Profits of this Church were return'd as followeth:

But this Church being burnt down in the late dreadful Fire, is ſince rebuilt, and made the Parochial Church for this and the Pariſh of S. Botolph Billinſgate which is annext to it, and both together are made of the yearly Value of 180 l. in lieu of Tyths to the Incumbent.

In 1643. he was nominated one of the Aſſembly of Divines, but whether he ſate among them my Author knew not; becauſe he was forced by the giddy Faction, at that time, to reſigh his Cures of this Church, and S. Gregories near S. Pauls. S. Giles without Cripplegate, Vicarage.

S. Giles (to whom this Church, and one in the Out-Pariſhes in Middleſex call'd S. Giles in the Fields are dedicated) was born at Athens, in Greece, of a Royal Progeny; his Fathers Name was Theodorus, and his Mothers Pelagia. He was of a ſingular Charity, and gave much to the Poor. After his Parents Death, who left him a plentiful Eſtate, he diſtributed his Patrimony among the Poor. He gave away the very Coat from his Back, to cover a poor ſick Man, who, ſo ſoon as he put it on, was perfectly well. From his Infancy he was ſo addicted to Divine Learning, and to Charity, that he ſeem'd to have care of nothing elſe.

He went into France to Cæſareus, Biſhop of Arles in Provence, where having ſtay'd about two Years with the Biſhop, and having a deſire to live more Solitary from the Pleaſures of the World, and concourſe of People, he privily departed thence into a Wilderneſs, where he obſcur'd himſelf in a horrid Cave; unto which Place Charles Martell, King of France (as my Author calls him) following his Hounds in hunting purſuing an Hind, accidentally came, which Hind gave Milk to nouriſh this Giles, and flying from the Hounds for ſuccour to the Cave, the Hounds by the Prayers of Giles, were not able to purſue her farther than a Stones caſt from the Cave, but there making a ſtand, return'd howling to the Hunters; which being reported to Charles, he with his Retinue came in perſon to the Cave, where Charles finding this Giles, wondering to ſee ſo grave an holy Man in ſuch an uncouth Place, demanded of Giles what he was, and what he did there? who anſwer'd, that he hid himſelf there for Religion and for Pieties ſake. Upon which Anſwer and Conference with him, admiring his Sanctity, he took ſuch an Affection to him, that this Charles Martel cauſed a Monaſtery to be erected in that Place, with much entreaty for Giles his conſent, over which, not without great importunity, he made this Giles the Governour or Abbot, who was very unwilling to accept thereof. This was at the City of Niſmes, near to Roan, ſaith Ranulph Ceſtrenſis. [Lib. 5. Cap. 28.] This Relation is alſo written by Peter de Natalibus in Catal. Sanctorum and others.

Beſides Theology, this Giles profeſſed Phyſick, and wrote in Verſe de Paralyſi as ſome write. He died in his Abby at Niſmes, as ſome write, Anno Chriſt. 700. and was afterwards canoniz'd for a Saint.

There is a Church in Rome dedicated to S. Giles, which on his Feſtival is much frequented by Women for the help of this Holy Abbot Giles: For they are confident, that S. Giles having been nouriſh'd by the Milk of an Hind, can help ſuch as have Fevers, or which are in danger of Child-birth, or want Milk, or are Barren. So [Mirabilia Romæ, Edit. 1618. p. 38.]

His Feſtival is commonly celebrated Sept. 1. Feaſt, Sept. 1.

Thus much of S. Giles out of Mr. Smith's MS.

This Pariſh Church of S. Giles without Cripplegate was built nigh a Gate of the City call'd Porta Contractorum, or Cripplegate, about the Year 1090. by Alfune, who afterwards became the firſt Hoſpitaller or Proctor of S. Bartholomew's Hoſpital. And Aelmund the Prieſt gave this Church, after the Death of himſelf, and his only Son Hugh, to S. Paul, and his Canons for ever, as appears by his Charter following. Sto. Sur. 34.

When Ralph de Diceto was Dean, the State of this Church ſtood thus:

“ Eccleſia S. Egidii eſt Canonicorum, & reddit eis xv. Marcas per manum Johannis filii Gerardi, & ſolvit Synodalia xii d. habet Cœmiterium. Ib. Lib. B. f. 37

The Dean and Chapter of S. Pauls are Ordinaries of this Pariſh, Proprietaries of the Rectory, and Patrons of the Vicarage; ſo that it is wholly exempt from the Archdeacon, and alſo from the Biſhop, ſaving only when he viſits tam in Capite quàm in Membris. Pecul. Dec. & Cap.

It is a very fair and large Church, and being burnt in the Year 1545. was again repair'd. It ſtands in the Ward of Cripplegate without. Sto. Sur. 312.

In 1623. all the Roof of the Chancel was on the Outſide repair'd, and the Inſide very curiouſly clouded. And in 1629. the Steeple very much decay'd was repair'd; all the four Spires (ſtanding on four Towers at the Corners of it) taken down, with new and ſubſtantial Timber-work rebuilt, and with the Lead new-caſt, cover'd, every one of thoſe Spires enlarg'd ſomewhat in the Compaſs, a great deal in Height, but moſt in their ſtately, eminent, and graceful Appearance. In the midſt of theſe, where there was none before (gracing and being graced by them) was a very fair Turret erected, the Head of it (which much overpeer'd theſe Spires) cover'd with Lead, as alſo the Props that ſupported it; this and the Spires having every one a Croſs, with very fair Vanes upon them. All which was done at the ſole Charge of the Pariſhioners. Ib. 883.

But the ſaid Turret and Spires growing to decay were very lately taken down; and in place of the Turret, a round Cupola of Timber cover'd with Lead erected, and in place of each of the four Spires at the Corners, a Cap of Freeſtone eight-ſquare running upward Spirewiſe ſet up, with a Vane on each of them, as alſo one on the Cupola, as now appears.

Speed tells us, That in this Ch. there was a Brotherhood dedicated to S. Mary and S. Giles, founded by Q. Maud his Wife to King Henry I. and that John Belancer repair'd it in 1360. (35. E. III.) Speed's Chr. 813.

Stow ſays, That this Fraternity or Brotherhood of our Bleſſed Lady, or Corpus Chriſti; and S. Giles was founded by the ſaid John Belancer in the ſaid 35. E. III. Sto. Sur. 317.

Fun. Mon. 661. In this Ch. under a large Marble Stone (ſaith Weaver) whereupon no Inſcription was in his time remaining, neither any Effigies of the deceaſed left both of which were inlay'd and engraven, as he ſaith, he was credibly inform'd; lieth inter'd the Body of Sir John Wriotheſley, Knight, alias Garter, principal King at Arms, Father of William Wriotheſley, York, Herald, who had Iſſue Thomas Wriotheſley, Knight of the Garter, Lord Chancellor of England, and the firſt of that Sur-name Earl of Southampton.

The Body of Mr. John Fox the Engliſh Martyrologiſt lies buried here, and hath a very fair Marble Stone, as a Monument for him ſet up on end on the South-Wall of the Chancel, with this following Inſcription:

Sto. Sur. 313. Chriſto, S. S.

Likewiſe the ſamous Chronologer and Hiſtoriographer John Speed, lies buried here, and hath a Monument on the South-ſide of the Chancel, with this Inſcription on one ſide for him, and on the other for his Wife.

The Inſcription on the other ſide for his Wife, I omit for brevities ſake, and only obſerve out of it, That ſhe brought her Husband 12 Sons, and ſix Daughters; and after ſhe had liv'd with her Husband 57 Years, died in the 70th Year of her Age, on March 28. 1628.

Ibid. 314. Here likewiſe lay interr'd the Body of Robert Glover, aliàs Somerſet, Herald, an indefatigable Searcher of Antiquities, over whoſe Grave is a comely Monument in the South-Wall of the Choir, with an Inſcription (too long here to inſert) whereby, it appears (inter alia) that he died on the 10th Day of April, 1588. and in the 45th Year of his Age.

Ibid. 418. In Whitecroſs-ſtreet (in this Pariſh) King Hen. V. built one fair Houſe, and founded there a Brotherhood of S. Giles to be kept; which Houſe had ſometime been an Hoſpital of the French Order, by the Name of S. Giles without Cripplegate. In the Reign of Edw. I. the King having the Juriſdiction, appointed a Cuſtos thereof for the Precinct of the Pariſh of S Giles, &c. [Pat. 15. Ric. II.] which Hoſpital being ſuppreſs'd, the Lands were given to the Brotherhood for Relief of the Poor.

Reg. Dec. & Cap. On Wedneſday, Oct. 9. 1667. John, Lord Biſhop of Rocheſter, by Vertue of a Commiſſion from Humfrey, Lord Biſhop of London, conſecrated a piece of Ground adjacent to the South-part of this Church and Church-yard containing in length 170 Foot, and breadth 35 Foot, or thereabouts, purchaſed and incloſed with a Brick-wall and Palliſadoes thereon, at the Coſt and Charges of the Pariſhioners, for an additional Cemitery or Church-yard.

After he had left the Univerſity he was Rector of North-Fambridge, in Eſſex (but the time of his Admiſſion thereto appears not; nor by whom preſented; but, probably, by Robert, Earl of Eſſex, whoſe Chaplain he was, and, he, Patron of this Church about this time; and which, he, the ſaid Doctor Buckeridge reſign'd in 1599.) He was likewiſe Rector of North-Kilworth, in Leiceſterſhire; Vicar of this Church of S. Giles; Archdeacon of Northampton; Canon of Windſor, and Hereford; Chaplain to King James; and at length Preſident of S. John's-College aforeſaid, An. 1605. At which time his eminent Abilities in the Pulpit had brought him into great Credit with K. James, inſomuch, that he was choſen to be one of the Four (Dr. Andrews, Biſhop of Chicheſter; Dr. Barlow, Biſhop of Rocheſter; and Dr. Joh. King, then Dean of Chriſt-Church, in Oxford, being the other Three) who were appointed to Preach before his Majeſty at Hampton-Court, in Sept. 1606. for the Reduction of the two Melvins, and other Presbyterian Scots, to a right Underſtanding of the Church of England; in performance of which Service, he came off to the Satisfaction of all the Hearers, only it griev'd the Scot's Miniſters to hear the Pope and Presbytery ſo often equalled in their Oppoſition to Sovereign Princes. After he had ſate Preſident of S. John's-College for a little more than five Years, he became Biſhop of Rocheſter, to which he was conſecrated June 9. 1611. Afterward, by the endeavours of his ſome times Pupil Dr. Laud, Biſhop of Bath and Wells, he was tranſlated thence to Ely, in 1627. A Perſon, he was, of great Gravity and Learning, and both by Preaching and Writing defended and propagated the true Religion here by Law eſtabliſh'd againſt the Papiſts on one hand, and the Puritans and Non-conformiſts on the other. The Day and Place when and where he died, my Author ſays he knows not, only, that he was buried in the Pariſh Ch. of Bromly, in Kent (the Mannor of which belongs to the Sea of Rocheſter) on the laſt of May, 1631. He was the Son of Andrew Fuller of Hadleigh, in Suffolk, at which Place he was born, and educated in all kind of Learning in Cambridge, and afterwards became famous for it, his Prudence and Piety. He was alſo a good Linguiſt, and an excellent Preacher; preach'd ſeveral times before his Majeſty (to whom he was Chaplain in ordinary, as he had been to King James) while he was in Oxford this Year to his great Approbation. In the Beginning of the Rebellion, in 1642. he was ſequeſtred from this his Ch. of S Giles, plunder'd, impriſon'd, and ſpoil'd of all, for his Loyalty to his Prince by the impetuous and reſtleſs Presbiterians. S. GREGORY,

Mr. R. Smiths MS. SUR-nam'd the Great (to whom this Church is dedicated) was by Nation a Roman, by Art a Philoſopher, Son of Gordian, a Man of Quality, and the bleſſed Silura (or Silvia) his Wife. He was at firſt a Monk, and a Deacon under Pelagius II. his Predeceſſor. He being a very learned and ſtudious Man, was created (tho' unwillingly) the 66th Biſhop of Rome, Ann. Chr. 590. being the firſt Pope of that Name. He was of ſo meek a Spirit, as that he ordain'd, That both he himſelf, and his Succeſſors, Biſhops of Rome, ſhould from thence forward be ſtiled Servi Servorum Dei, which Title the Popes continue to this day. He condemn'd the Stile of Univerſal Patriarch (or Biſhop) which John Biſhop of Conſtantinople aſſum'd to himſelf, as a proud, diabolical, and prophane Title.

He erected ſix Monaſteries out of the Eſtate his Father left him, and dedicated his Houſe at Rome to a religious Uſe. He was termed Magnus, both for the extraordinary Matters perform'd by him, as alſo for his Learning.

This holy Pope ſent Auguſtin the Monk, and other pious and learned Men, into this our Country, to convert the Engliſh or Saxon Nation to the Chriſtian Faith, which in ſome meaſure they did; which Auguſtin was the firſt Archbiſhop of Canterbury, that Archiepiſcopal Sea being, by his Procurement, tranſlated thither from London, where it had been all along before that Time.

This Pope Gregory was the Author of many Eccleſiaſtical Ceremonies and Rites of the Church. He inſtituted the Litanies in Time of great Mortality, reform'd the Church, where need was, ſuppreſs'd Simony, ſtoutly reprov'd the Emperour Mauritius upon juſt Cauſe. Tho' afterwards he playd the Politician with the ſaid Mauritius his Preſerver, and graced too much the Traitor Phocas that ſlew him. He wrote divers pious and learned Works extant in print. He is by ſome term'd the laſt Good and firſt Bad Pope of Rome, how juſtly I affirm not. He died 4. Id. Mar. Ann. Chr. 604. and the Second of Phocas the Emperour, having ſate 13 Years, 6 Months, and 10 Days. His Feſtival is obſerv'd Mar. 12. and his Life is written at large by moſt, who have written the Lives of the Saints, or of the Biſhops and Popes of Rome. Feaſt, Mar. 12

Beſides this Gregory, there were others of that Name, antient Fathers of the Church, as Gregory Nazianzen, Gregory Niſſen, Gregory Thaumatergus, &c. But this Gregory the Great is reputed to be the Patron of the Churches dedicated to his Name.

S. Gregory's by S. Paul's.

THIS Pariſh-Church of S. Gregory was contiguous to the Lollard's Tower (which Tower had been formerly uſed as the Biſhop's Priſon for ſuch as were detected for Opinions in Religion contrary to the Faith of the Church) and ſtood at the South-ſide of the Cathedral-Church of S. Paul, near the Weſt-end, in the Ward of Caſtle-Baynard.

Sto. Surv. 34.

This hath been a very antient Pariſh-Church; for 'tis ſaid, that the Body of Edmund, King of the Eaſt-Angles, who was martyr'd by the Danes about the Year 870. when it was cauſed by Alwyne, Biſhop of Helmeham, to be brought up to London from Bury S. Edmunds, reſted for the ſpace of 3 Years in the Pariſh-Church of S. Gregory, near the Cathedral-Church of S. Paul.

Pat. 40. E. III. p. 2. m. 3.

This Church was antiently a Rectory; for I find, that towards the Maintenance of the Petty-Canons of S. Paul's, to ſing Divine Service daily in the Church of S. Paul, for the good Eſtate of King Edward III. and of Queen Philippa, his Conſort, as alſo for all their Children during their Lives in this World, and for their Souls after their Departure hence, and for the Souls of all the faithful deceaſed, the ſaid King in the 40th of his Reign gave Licence to one Rob. de Keteringham, then Rector of S. Gregories, and others, to grant certain Meſſuages and Lands of the Value of vi l. xiii s. iv d. per ann. to the Dean and Chapter of S. Paul's.

Pat. 18. R. II.
Pat. 24. H. VI. p. 1. m. 27.

Likewiſe in the 16. Rich. II. I find a Rector inſtituted to this Church at the Preſentation of that King. But in the 18th of that King, the ſaid Petti-Canons having obtain'd his Letters Patents to be a Body-Politick for the future, and call'd the College of the 12 Petti-Canons of S. Paul's Church, whereof one to be the Warden; as alſo to have a common Seal, &c. They, in 24. Hen. VI. had this Church of S. Gregory appropriated to them for their better Support; ever ſince which Time, they have been Parſons and Proprietaries of this Ch. And by the late Act of Parliament, 22. and 23. Car. II. for the better Settlement of the Rectors, &c. of the City of London, burnt by the late dreadful Fire; the ſaid Petti-Canons are to receive and enjoy all Tyths, Oblations, and Duties ariſing and growing due within the ſaid Pariſh, in as large and beneficial manner as formerly they have, or lawfully might have done, any thing in the ſaid Act to the contrary notwithſtanding: So that beſides this, the Pariſhioners of this Pariſh are to pay yearly their Quota of 120 l. per ann. which by the ſaid Act is to be levied upon this, and the Pariſh of S. Mary Magdalen Old Fiſh-ſtreet (to which it is annext) in lieu of Tyths to the Incumbent.

Sion-College MS.

In 1636. the Return then made of the Profits of this Church was as follows, viz. An Impropriation belonging to the Petti-Canons, lately lett for 21 Years for 50 l. per ann. Rent, and 200 l. Fine, tho' the Farmers had then 10 Years to come. Mr. Styles, Preacher, maintain'd by the Pariſh.

Pec. Dec. & C.

This is one of the Peculiars belonging to the Cean and Chapter of S. Paul's, where they are both Patrons and Ordinaries. The Church is not charged with Firſt-Fruits and Tenths, but only with Procurations yearly to the Commiſſary of the Dean and Chapter of S. Paul's.

GREY-FRIERS.

THE Brethren of this Order of the Grey Friers, were ſo call'd from the grey Garments which they wore; and Franciſcans, from S. Francis, the Founder of their Order.

Hoſp. de Orig. Monac. 403.

This S. Francis was born at Aſſiſi, an Epiſcopal Town in Umbria in Italy; was firſt a Merchant, bred ſo under Peter Bernardo, his Father, and having much Money running through his Hands, he ſpent prodigally, and gave himſelf wholly over to Delights, Feaſting, and vain Company; and at this rate he liv'd till he was 25 Years of Age. But at length, being converted by a Viſion, as is fabulouſly related, he became the Founder of this Order that bears his Name, which was confirm'd, at leaſt approv'd, by Pope Innocent III. in 1215. and afterwards confirm'd by Honorius III. in 1223.

Hoſp. de Orig. Monac. 427. S. Francis inſtituted Three different Orders: The Firſt of the Minors, in the Year 1206. whom he oblig'd to three Vows, and who are divided now into Conventual, Obſervantines, and Capucins, and are again ſubdivided into other Branches. The Second of Nuns, in the Year 1212. who are likewiſe divided into Conventuals, Obſervantines, and Capucins, &c. The Third, in 1221. which was common to both Sexes, and did not oblige to any Confinement, permitting every one to live at home in his own Hermitage.

ibid. 432. The Habit of the Franciſcans, at this day, is long Garments reaching down to their Ancles, great Cowls of grey colour, conſiſting of white and black. They all gird themſelves with Cords, and go bare-foot.

S. Francis died Oct. 4. 1226. aged 46. and was canoniz'd by Pope Gregory IX. two Years after his Death, Ann. 1228. ſay Bonaventure and Cardinal Baronius. He was buried at Aſſiſi. His Feſtival is yearly celebrated, Oct. 4.

Sto. Sur. 340. In 1224. (8. Henr. III.) there came out of Italy Nine Friers of the Order of Franciſcans, or Friers minors, Five whereof were Prieſts, and the other Four Laymen. The Prieſts plac'd themſelves at Canterbury, but the other Four came to London, and were lodg'd for ſome ſhort time among the Preaching Friers, who liv'd in Oldborn; afterwards they obtain'd to be plac'd in Cornhill, London, in an Houſe belonging to one John Travars, who was then one of the Sheriffs of London in the ſame Year 1224. in which Houſe they made themſelves Cells, and inhabited there for a certain time, till their Number ſo increas'd, and the Citizens Devotions grew ſo great, that within few Years after they were thence remov'd by the means of one John Ewin, Mercer, who purchaſed a void Plat of Ground near S. Nicolas Shambles, there to erect an Houſe for the ſaid Friers, which he, with the Help of other Benefactors, built. A great part whereof was erected at the proper Coſts of this John Ewin, who appropriated the ſame to the Commonalty of London, and then he himſelf entred into the ſame Order of Friers, as a Lay-Brother, and therein, together with them, liv'd.

In divers Years after, ſeveral Mayors, Aldermen, and others (whoſe Names, and what they did, may be ſeen in Stow and Speed) largely contributed to the building and finiſhing this Church and Priory. Among which Queen Margaret, ſecond Wife to King Edw. I. began the Choir of their new Church, Ann. 1306. to the building whereof ſhe gave 2000 Marks in her Life-time, and 100 Marks by her Teſtament, and dying in 1317. was there buried before the high Altar. And John de Dreux, Earl of Britain and Richmond, gave 300 l. towards the building of the Body of the Church, glaz'd all the Windows on the South-ſide, and alſo gave many rich Jewels and Ornaments to be uſed in the ſame.

This whole Church of the Grey Friers contain'd in length 300 foot, in breadth 89. and in height, from the Ground to the Roof, 64 foot 2 inches. It was conſecrated in 1325.

Fun. Mon. 388. Which Church (Weaver tells us) has been honour'd with the Sepulchre of 4 Queens, 4 Ducheſſes, 4 Counteſſes, 1 Duke, 2 Earls, 8 Barons, and ſome 35 Knights, whoſe Names are ſet down in Stow's Survey: And in all, from the firſt Foundation to the Diſſolution, 663 Perſons of Quality were here inter'd. In the Choir were 9 Tombs of Alabaſter and Marble, inviron'd with Bars or Strikes of Iron. One Tomb in the Body of the Church, coped alſo with Iron; and 140 Grave-Stones of Marble, in divers places: All which were pull'd down and taken away, and ſold for 50 l. by Sir Martin Bowes, Mayor of London, in 1545. The reſt of the Monuments (ſays he) are now wholly defaced, not any one remaining at this day, ſave ſuch, which are of later Times.

At the general Suppreſſion this Priory was valu'd at 32 l. 19 s. 10 d. per An. ſays Speed. And after the Diſſolution, this Church was made Parochial, and the Priory an Hoſpital; of both which I have treated before. Vid. Chriſt-church.

Guild-Hall-Chapel or College.

As to this Chapel or College of our Lady Mary Magdalen and of All Saints, by Guild-Hall, call'd London-College, I read (ſays Stow) that the Sto. Sur. 283. ſame was builded about 1299. and that Peter Fanlore, Adam Francis, and Henry Frowick, Citizens, gave One Meſſuage, with the Appurtenances in the Pariſh of S. Vedaſt, to William Brampton, Cuſtos of the Chantry by them founded in the ſaid Chapel, with Four Chaplains; and One other Houſe in the Pariſh of S. Giles without Cripplegate, 27 Ed. III. was given to them.

Moreover (ſays he) I find that Ric. II. in the 20th of his Reign, granted to Stephen Spilman, Mercer, Licence to give One Meſſuage, Three Shops, and One Garden, with the Appurtenances, being in the Pariſh of S. Andrew Hubbard, to the Cuſtos and Chaplains of the ſame Chapel, and to their Succeſſors, for their better Relief and Maintenance. Speed ſays thus, which Four Perſons are nam'd in his Catalogue as Founders of this Chapel or College, in 1299.

Now I have juſt reaſon to ſuppoſe, that both Stow and Speed may be miſtaken, as to the Time of the Foundation of this Chapel or College; and Speed, as to the Name of one of the Founders, viz. Peter Stambery, inſtead of Peter Fanlore; for I find, that the very Charter of Foundation of this College or Bonner 10. Chapel, under the Seals of two of the Founders, viz. Adam Francis, and Hen. de Frowick (for which Sur-name Speed has left a Blank.) The other Founder, Peter Fanlore (not Peter Stanbery, as Speed has it) being dead ſome while before, bears date on the Morrow after the Annunciation of the Bleſſed Virgin Mary, Ann. 1368. (42. Edw. III.) which is about 69 Years after the Time of its Foundation by them mentioned, and confirm'd on the ſame day by Simon Sudbury, Biſhop of London, in the Seventh Year of his Conſecration; tho' it is mention'd alſo in the ſame Charter to be dedicated ſomewhat before by Michael (i. e. Mich. Northburgh) Biſhop of London, who was made Biſhop of that Sea in 1354. and was Biſhop Simon's immediate Predeceſſor. It appears farther by the ſaid Charter, that this Chapel or College was dedicated as well to the Honour of God, and the bleſſed Mary Genitrici ſuæ, as to Mary Magdalen and All Saints; that it was founded for 5 Chaplains, whereof one of them was to be the Cuſtos, to celebrate therein divine Offices for the Souls of Roger de Frowick, and Mary his Wife, Reginald and Sabina, John Luter, and Iſabel his Wife; the aforeſaid Peter Fanlore, who (as 'tis there expreſs'd) "Ante obitum ejus "præſentem Cantariam propoſuit nobiſcum fundaſſe; ante tamen hujuſmodi "Cantariæ ordinationem & fundationem completas ab hac luce præmaturè "deceſſit. For the Souls alſo of Mary, John, Alice, and Joan Anabille; for the State and Health of King Edward III. and his Queen, and his Sons; for the Soul of Michael Biſhop of London; for the State of Simon Biſhop of London; and of the Mayor or Cuſtos, Sheriffs, and Chamberlain of London; for the State of the two Founders, Adam Francis and Henry Frowick, and their Relations then living, and for their Souls when dead; as alſo for the Souls of their Parents and Relations already departed; and for the Souls of the Kings of England, Biſhops of London, Mayors, Cuſtos's, Sheriffs, and Chamberlains of this City; and for the Souls of all the Faithful deceas'd. It was endow'd with Three Tenements and their Appurtenances, two of them in the Pariſh of S. Foſters, and the other in that of S. Giles Cripplegate: Out of the Rents of which the Four Prieſts to have 10 Marks apiece yearly, and the Cuſtos 13. The Mayor and Chamberlain for the Time being were ordain'd Superviſors after the Death of the Two Founders, and the Survivor of them; and the Overplus of the Rents was to be kept in a Cheſt with 3 Locks and Keys in the Chamber of Guild-Hall; one Key to be kept by the Founders or Survivor of them whilſt living, and after their Death, by the Mayor and Chamberlain; another by the Cuſtos of the ſaid College; and the third by the Four Chaplains. This Overplus of Rent was from time to time to be laid out in Repairs of the College, and ſome other annual Charges ordain'd by the ſaid Founders, to be laid out about celebrating the ſaid Roger Frowick's Anniverſary, which was to be perform'd in the Pariſh-Church of S. Mary Magdalen Milkſtreet, where he lay buried. The Mayor was to have Forty Pence, and the Chamberlain half a Mark yearly, for ſuperviſing the Premiſes.

Bonner 52. Hen. VI. in the 8th of his Reign, at the Petition of the Mayor, Aldermen, and Commons of London, granted his Licence for the pulling down the ſaid Chapel, being old and ruinous, and the new-building and enlarging the ſame, by the taking down a certain Meſſuage on the South-ſide of it, wherein John Barnar the Cuſtos, and the other Chaplains did dwell, and adding the Ground thereto; in Compenſation whereof, the Mayor and Commonalty were, by virtue of the ſame King's Licence, to aſſign over to the ſaid Cuſtos and Chaplains, and their Succeſſors for ever, one other Meſſuage on the North-ſide of Guild-Hall, for their Habitation.

Sto. Sur. 384. And the ſame King Henr. VI. in the 27th of his Reign, granted to the Pariſh-Clerks in London a Guild of S. Nicolas for Two Chaplains, by them to be kept in the ſaid Chapel of S. Mary Magdalen near to the Guild-Hall, and to keep Seven Alms-People.

Ibid. Henry Barton, Skinner, Mayor, founded a Chaplain there. Roger Depham, Mercer, and Sir William Langford, Knights, had alſo Chaplains there. This Chapel or College had a Cuſtos, 7 Chaplains, 3 Clerks, and 4 Choireſters. The Mayor and Chamberlain were Patrons, and the Biſhop of London Ordinary of this Chapel. And in Oct. 1542. Biſhop Bonner made Statutes for the ſaid Cuſtos and Chaplains to obſerve. Bonner 14.

There have been ſundry Monuments in this Chapel, but they are all defaced, ſaving ſuch as have been ſet up for Perſons buried there ſince the Diſſolution thereof; at which Time it was valu'd at 12 l. 18 s. 09 d. per Ann. But the Site of this College and Chapel, with the Appurtenances, were granted by King Edw. VI. in the 4th of his Reign to the Mayor and Commonalty of the City of London, and their Succeſſors, to be held in Soccage of the Mannour of Eaſt-Greenwich: And the Chapel remains to the Mayor and Commonalty, wherein they have Service weekly, as alſo at the Election of a Mayor, and at the Mayor's Feaſt, &c. Coll. Magiſt. Grimes.

S. HELEN,

TO whom this Priory was dedicated, by Conſtantius Chlorus, Governour of Britain under the Romans, was Mother of Conſtantine the Great, the firſt Chriſtian-Emperour of Rome. She was the Daughter of Coel, Prince of the Britains, and born at Colcheſter, in Eſſex, according to the Britiſh Chronicles. But ſome Greek Writers (among whom Nicephorus) relate, That ſhe was born at Drepanum in Bithynia in Aſia, being the Daughter of an Hoſt in that City, who brought her to Conſtantius, then happening to be there in his Paſſage as Embaſſadour into Perſia, who being enamour'd with her rare Beauty and Comlineſs, had the Uſe of her Body, and got her with Child, which Child being afterwards born, ſhe nam'd Conſtantin. But Cardinal Baronius, in his Annals, Ann. Chriſti 306. by ſome Arguments confutes this Relation, averring, that ſhe was both by birth a Britain, and no Concubine to Conſtantius Chlorus, but his lawful Wife.

This is that Helena, which in antient Writings is named Piiſſima & Venerabilis Auguſta. She went to Jeruſalem, and there found out Chriſt's Croſs; and ordain'd Quirinus Biſhop of Jeruſalem. She afterwards return'd to Rome, where ſhe died, and was interred about the Year of our Lord 326. aged 80 Years. From Rome ſhe was afterwards tranſlated by her Son Conſtantine to Conſtantinople, and from thence, as Peter de Natalibus writes, unto Venice, where, ſays he, her Body lies buried in a Monaſtery dedicated to her Name: But others ſay her Body was tranſlated to Rhemes, where her Tranſlation is celebrated yearly, Feb. 7. and at Rome her Feſtivity is kept Auguſt 18.

Feaſt, Aug. 18.

Before ſhe came from Jeruſalem ſhe repair'd that City, adorning the ſame with many goodly Churches and Monuments. In many other places ſhe erected divers Churches dedicated to her Name. In her native Country of Great Britain (for ſo the moſt authentick Writers affirm) ſhe left ſome Memorials of her ſelf; for ſhe built (as it is ſaid) the Walls of London and Colcheſter, and erected alſo a goodly Church at Bedford, which being turn'd into a Monaſtery, was afterwards deſtroy'd by the Danes, about the Year 868. Whoſo deſires to read more of S. Helen, may ſatisfie himſelf out of Euſebius in vita Conſtantini, Ruffinus, Sozomen, Peter de Natalibus, Nicephorus, and divers others.

S. Helen, Priory and Church.

IN a Court on the Eaſt-ſide of Biſhopſgate-ſtreet, in Biſhopſgate-Ward, ſtands the fair Church of S. Helen, ſome time a Priory of Black Nuns, and in the ſame, the Pariſh-Church of S. Helen.

That there was a Church here before the founding of the ſaid Priory, which was granted to the Canons of S. Pauls by Ranulph, and Robert his Son, appears by the Agreement following.

“Hæc eſt conventio inter Capitulum S. Pauli, & Ranulfum, & Robertum filium ejus, ſcil. Quod Ranulfus & Robertus concedunt Canonicis S. Pauli Eccleſiam S. Helenæ, ita tamen quod eandem tenebunt toto tempore vitæ ſuæ, reddendo ſingulis annis xii d. Quibus autem defunctis, tertius ſuorum quem elegerint, tenebit ſupradictam Eccleſiam reddendo duos ſol. per Ann. eiſdem fratribus: Illo autem defuncto remanebit eadem Eccleſia Canonicis ſoluta & quieta & libera. Etiam Ranulfus obtinuit à fratribus ſuis, quod ſingulis annis anniverſarium Turſtini Eborac. Archiep. celebrabunt. Ad hanc conventionem fuerunt iſti Archidiaconi, Willimus Archidiaconus, Ric. & Ric. fratres ejus, Robertus de Cadomo, Robertus de Auco, *Nicol. Reg. Dec. & Cap. lib. A. f. 32.

After this, in 1181. (the firſt Year of Ralph de Diceto being Dean) in the ſtate of the Mannors and Churches belonging to the ſaid Dean and Chapter, I find it thus recorded:

Ibid. lib. f. 37.

After this Church fell into the Hands of the ſaid Dean and Chapter by the Death of the Granters above-nam'd, and of the Third Perſon to whom they had reſerv'd it during his Life; they granted the Right of Patronage it ſeems to one William the Son of William the Goldſmith, who afterwards applying himſelf to Alard the Dean, and the Chapter of S. Paul's, got leave of them to found a Priory for Nuns here, as appears by this following Inſtrument.

“Sciant præſentes & futuri, Quod ego Alardus Eccleſiæ S. Pauli Decanus & ejuſdem Eccleſiæ capitulum, conceſſimus Willielmo fil. Willielmi Aurifabri Patrono Eccleſiæ S. Helenæ, London, ut conſtituat in eadem Eccleſia moniales Deo ibidem in perpetuum ſervituras, & Collegio ibidem conſtituto jus Patronatus ejuſdem Eccleſiæ, quod à prædeceſſoribus noſtris ei fuerat conceſſum, conferat. Si autem in loco prædicto, aliquo caſu fortuito, converſatio monialium eſſe deſierit, conceſſimus ut ibidem viri religioſi abſque contradictione ſecundum formam de Monialibus ſuperius expreſſum conſtituantur, & ſimili modo Decano London & Capitulo

Hence then we may date the original Foundation of this Priory of S. Helen, viz. When Alard (de Burnham) was Dean of S. Paul's, which muſt be before Aug. 14. 1216. for then he died, and probably might be about the Year 1212. as Weaver ſays; but not founded by William Baſing, Dean of S. Paul's, as Stow and he have it; for it doth not appear by any Catalogue of thoſe Deans, or any other Record that I have met with, that there ever was any Perſon of that Name Dean of that Cathedral Church. Tho' I agree with them, that William Baſing, one of the Sheriffs of London, in 2. Edw. II. was a great Benefactor to this Priory, which he augmented both in Building and Revenue; for which probably he was alſo holden to be a Founder.

Mon. Ang. ut ſupra. Reginald Kentwood, Dean of S. Paul's, and the Chapter, made ſome Conſtitutions for the Nuns of this Houſe, in 1439.

Somn. Antiq. Cant. p. 71. This religious Houſe was repleniſh'd with Black Nuns, whoſe Habit was a black Coat, Cloak, Coul, and Veil.

Sto. Sur. 181. Sir John Crosby (who was Sheriff of London, Ann. 1470.) built Crosby-Houſe (now pull'd down for the moſt part, and built into a Square) in the place of certain Tenements, with the Appurtenances, letten unto him by Alice Aſhfield, Prioreſs of S. Helens, for 99 Years, from the Year 1466. unto 1565. for the annual Rent of 11 l. 6 s. 8. He died in 1475. and was buried in this Pariſh-Church, where was raiſed a fair Monument for him and his Lady. He gave to the reforming of this Church 500 Marks.

This Priory was ſurrendred 25. Nov. 30 Hen. VIII. and then valu'd at 314 l. 2 s. 6 d. per Ann. Dugdale: 376 l. 6 s. Speed.

Coll. Magiſt. Grimes. Bonner 275. After the Suppreſſion King Hen. VIII. in 33. of his Reign, gave the Site of this Priory and Church, call'd the Nuns Church, to Richard Williams, alias Cromwell. And Edw. VI. in the 4th of his Reign, by his Letters Patents bearing date the Firſt of April, gave (inter alia) the Juriſdiction of this place to the Biſhop of London, and his Succeſſors; which was afterwards confirm'd by Queen Mary, by her Letters Patents dated Mar. 2. in the Firſt of her Reign: Ibid. 375. Tho' ſince that, it ſeems, it has been granted back, as alſo the Advowſon of the Church to the Dean and Chapter of S. Pauls, who are both Patrons and Ordinaries of the place, and collate to this Church as a Vicarage. Pec. Dec. & Cap.

Sto. Sur. 179. The Nuns Hall, and other Houſes thereto appertaining was ſince Diſſolution purchaſed by the Company of Leatherſellers, and is their Common-Hall at this Day.

Ibid. The Pariſh-Church was within the Priory-Church; but after the Diſſolution, the Partition between them was taken down, and the whole now remains to the Pariſh; but wants ſuch a Steeple as Sir Thomas Greſham promis'd to have built in recompence of Ground in this Church fill'd up with his Monument. This Church was repair'd by the Pariſhioners in 1633. at the Coſt of 1300 l. and upwards.

Sion-Colleg. MS. In 1636. there was this Return made of this Church, viz. An Impropriation belonging to the Earl of Northampton, worth 60 l. per Ann. now in the Hand of Sir John Langham, Alderman of London.

I do not find this Vicarage charg'd with Firſt-Fruits, Tenths, or Procurations, ſaving only with vi s. viii d. Procurations to the Commiſſary of the Dean and Chapter of S. Paul's; and vi s. viii d. Penſion to the Dean and Chapter.

I can only give an account of the Vicars of this Church ſince the Reſtauration in 1660. for the reaſon mention'd in S. Antlins; only one Mr. Miller was turn'd out by the Rebels, and died before the Reſtauration, [Mercur. Ruſticus, 254.]

S. JAMES.

THERE are two Pariſh-Churches in this City, viz. S. James Garlickhith, S. James Dukes-place; and two in the Suburbs, of which in their proper Place, viz. S. James Clerkenwel, S. James Weſtminſter, which are dedicated to S. James.

Now there are two S. James's that were nam'd among the twelve Apoſtles, the one call'd S. James the Great, ſo call'd, either becauſe of his Age, being much elder than the other, or for ſome peculiar Honours and Favours which our Lord conferr'd on him. He ſuffer'd Martyrdom under Herod Agrippa, being beheaded at Jeruſalem, and was the firſt of the Apoſtolick Order, that gain'd the Crown of Martyrdom.

The other call'd S. James the Leſs, ſurnam'd the Juſt, who after Chriſt's Aſcenſion, was choſen Biſhop of Jeruſalem, where he was thrown down from a Pinnacle or Wing of the Temple, but being not kill'd with the Fall, had his Brains beaten out with a Fuller's-Club, in the 96th Year of his Age.

But having no where found to which of theſe Apoſtles, any of theſe Churches were dedicated, I ſhall ſay no more of them, but refer the Reader to the Learned Dr. Cave's Antiquitates Apoſtolicæ, where he hath largely written of them both, and proceed to the Churches dedicated to S. James in their proper Places; and firſt of

S. James Garlickhith, Rectory.

I Find this Church dedicated to S. James and S. John, Apoſtles, which induceth me to think, that S. James the Great, was the chief Patron-Saint, to whoſe Honour this Church was dedicated, becauſe the Apoſtle S. John and he were Brothers.

Bonner, 378.

This Church of S. James (which is a Rectory) call'd Garlickhith or Garlickhive, for that of old time, on the River Thames, near to this Church, Garlick was uſually ſold, ſtands on the Eaſt-ſide of the Street, call'd Garlick-Hill, in Vintrey-Ward, and was a proper Church (and the new-built one ſince the Fire is, indeed, ſo now) whereof Richard Rothing, one of the Sheriffs of London, ann. 1326. is ſaid to be the New-Builder, and was buried there.

Sto. Surv. 262.

This Church was honour'd with the Monuments of many worthy Perſons, ſaith Weaver, but in his time, there were none remaining. However, in Stow's Survey, you may read of ſome of them, particularly of Lyons, a famous Merchant of Wines and a Lapidary, ſome time one of the Sheriffs, beheaded in Cheap, by Wat. Tyler and other Rebels, in the Year 1381.

Richard Goodcheape, John de Creſſingham and John Whittborn; and before them, Galfrid Moncley, 1281. Stow tells us, had Chantries here.

Sto.Surv.838. In 1624. the North-Iſle of this Church was new-built, and the whole Church repair'd and beautify'd, the Charge of it amounted to 700 l. and upwards.

Bonner, 377. This Church was formerly in the Gift of the Abbot and Convent of Weſtminſter; but coming to the Crown upon the Diſſolution, was in the firſt of Queen Mary, given (among others) by Vertue of her Letters-Patents, dated March 3. to the Biſhop of London, and his Succeſſors for ever, in whoſe Collation it ſtill continues. It is ſubject to the Archdeacon, ſaving only as to Wills and Adminiſtrations, which belong to the Commiſſary. Archid. Commiſſar. Lond.

Sion-College, MS. In 1636. the annual Profits of this Church were return'd as followeth:

Tyths	92	00	00
Caſualties	10	00	00
A Parſonage-Houſe	10	00	00
More taken by Mr. Ed. Marbury (the then Rector) out of certain Lands given to the Pariſh for the Fabric of the Ch. and increaſe of Divine Service	28	00	00

But this Church being burnt down in the late dreadful Fire, is ſince rebuilt, and in lieu of Tyths by Act of Parliament, made of the yearly Value of 100 l. which is 8 l. per ann. more than the Tyths were before.

Reg. Lond. In 1693. the Rector and Church-Wardens preſented the Parſonage-Houſe, new-built, and lett out to Richard Corbet for 41 Years, from March 24. 1670. which Houſe contains in Length, from Eaſt to Weſt 12 Foot, and in Depth from North to South 26 Foot and 2 Inches, and is ſituate in Thames-ſtreet, over-againſt Vintners-Hall. It hath a ſmall Yard, about 12 Foot long, and 4 Foot 4 Inches broad.

The Rector hath 20 l. per ann. payable out of the Donation of Laurence Smith, Citizen and Cordwainer of London.

John de Roothing, Citizen and Vintner of London, did give for ſuperſtitious Uſes, divers Meſſuages in this Pariſh, and that of Mary Mounthaw, and alſo in S. Martins-Lane and Cloak-Lane, London, all which are now lett for the yearly Rent of about 66 l. but they are made over with other Rents after-mention'd, to George Baron, Merchant, for a Term of Years (whereof about 14. are yet to come) at 13 s. 4 d. per ann. and this was done to raiſe Money to finiſh their Church; all the Rents ſo given being appropriated for the Suſtentation, Support and Repair of their ſaid Pariſh-Church.

They farther preſented three Houſes in Smithfield, and ſome other Houſes in Cloak-Lane and S. Martin's-Lane, given by one Mr. Hayward and Mr. Adams for the Repair of their Church, which are now lett for 13 l. per ann. but are all made over to the ſaid Mr. George Baron.

Alſo the Gift of the aforeſaid Mr. Laurence Smith, given by him for the augmentation of Divine Service in this Church, and conſiſteth in certain Houſes in the Pariſh of S. Martin Vintrey, which are now lett for 20 l. per ann. and that Sum ſettled upon the Rector, by the Decree of the Judges at Clifford's-Inn, Dec. 15. 1674.

Sto. Surv. 126.

THIS Church of S. James, call'd Dukes-Place, was built within the Memory of Man, and conſecrated and dedicated the Morrow after New-Years-Day, in the Year 1622. It was rais'd out of the long decay'd Ruins of the Priory of the Holy-Trinity, in Aldgate-ward, and made a very beautiful and comely Pariſh-Church, by the means of Sir Edward Barkham, then Lord-Mayor of London, the Court of Aldermen, and the State of the City. It is in the Donation of the Mayor, Commonalty and Citizens of London, and is the Pariſh-Church for the Inhabitants dwelling within the Precincts of Dukes-Place, who after the Diſſolution of the ſaid Priory, and until this Church was built, reſorted to the Pariſh-Church of S. Katherine Creechurch, and in a manner, became equal Pariſhioners with them, exerciſing and accompliſhing all Duties there; but this being diſlik'd by ſome, who had a Deſign to raiſe a ſufficient Pariſh-Church to themſelves, on Ground within their own Precinct, but wanting Strength to bring it about, and perceiving their Ground (intended for ſo good a Uſe to themſelves) aim'd at for buildings to private Mens Benefit; at laſt, by Petition, ſolicited the Lord Archbiſhop of Canterbury, who obtain'd of King James, under his Broad Seal, a ſufficient Warrant for their Proceedings to the building of their Church, which was at laſt effected, conſecrated, and dedicated to S. James the Day and Year above-mention'd.

What particular Benefactors there were to the building of this Church, may be ſeen in Stow's Survey, 148.

Sion-College, MS.

In 1636. the annual Profits of this Church were thus return'd;

The Mayor, Commonalty and Citizens of London, as Lords of the Mannor and Patrons of this Church, have of late pretended an Exemption from the Juriſdiction of the Biſhop of London, in Matters Eccleſiaſtical; but I hope I ſhall make it appear in what I have written of the ſaid Priory of the Holy-Trinity, that they have no ſuch Priviledge.

S. James Chapel on the Wall.

Sto. Surv. 304, &c.

BEſides, the aforeſaid two Churches of S. James, there was likewiſe an Hermitage or Chappel, dedicated to S. James, call'd S. James's Chapel on the Wall, becauſe ſituate in, or near London-Wall, at the North-Corner of Monkſwell-ſtreet, in the Weſt-ſide thereof, near Cripplegate, which Street took its Name of the Monks of this Hermitage, and of a Well pertaining to them.

This Hermitage did belong to the Abbot and Convent of Garradon or Gerondon, in Leiceſterſhire, as appears by a Record, 27. Edw. I. and 16. Edw. III. William Lyons was Hermit there, and the Abbot and Convent of Garradon found two Chaplains, Ciſtercian-Monks of their Houſe, in this Hermitage, one of them for Aymer de Valence, Earl of Pembroke, and Mary de S. Paul, his Counteſs.

Baudake, 29.

I find, that in the Year 1311. (Ralph de Baldock, being then Bp. of London) and Thomas de Wyreford, an Hermit of this Cell (a preſumptuous, troubleſome Man, it ſeems) took upon him to hear Confeſſions of People of the neighbouring Pariſhes, to enjoyn Penances, to grant Indulgences for 500 Days to ſuch as frequented his Hermitage, and the like, having no lawful Authority ſo to do. For which Offences he was judicially proceeded againſt by the Biſhop, and pronounc'd Guilty, and to be a Tranſgreſſor of the Canons; whereupon he was admoniſh'd to make Satisfaction for the ſame, within 15 Days, and inhibited to do the like, as alſo were the People warn'd not to follow, or to be ſeduc'd by him, under Pain of Excommunication.

The Cuſtody of this Hermitage was committed to Walter Kemeſey, Sept. 16. 1315. [Pat. 9. Edw. II.]

Bonner, 275.

Ibid. 375.

I find that Edw. VI. by his Letters-Patents, dated Apr. 1. in the 4th of his Reign (among other Peculiars and pretended Exempts in his Dioceſe) ſubjected this Chapel of S. James to the Juriſdiction of the Biſhop of London, which was afterwards confirm'd by Queen Mary, in the firſt of her Reign.

Coll. Mr. W. Grime.

Sto. Surv. 340.

This Chapel with its Appurtenances, was granted by King Henry VIII. in March 13. in 34. of his Reign to William Lamb, and I ſuppoſe, confirm'd by (tho' Stow ſays, purchas'd from) Edw. VI. to the ſaid William Lamb, one of the Gentlemen of the King's Chapel, Citizen and Clothworker of London, from whom it hath been ſince, and at this Day is frequently call'd by the Name of Lambs-Chapel.

He (the ſaid Lamb) died (ſaith Stow) in the Year 1577. which muſt be a Miſtake; for his Will prov'd in the Prerogative-Office, [lib. Arundel, Quire 19.] bears date March 10. 1579. and a Codicil annext to it, Apr. 1. 1580. both which were prov'd, June 2. 1580. ſo that it is plain he died between the firſt of April, and the beginning of June, that Year. Stow likewiſe tells us, that then (i. e. in 1577) he gave this Chapel to the Clothworkers of London, with other Tenements, to the Value of 50 l. per ann. to the intent they ſhall have a Miniſter to ſay Divine Service there; tho', I am induc'd to believe, that it was about two or three Years before that time; for in this very Will of 1579. he ſpeaks of Lands and Tenements given by him in a Will, dated in the 16th of Queen Elizabeth (which muſt be in 1573. or 1574.) but mentions not to what Uſes, to the Company of Clothworkers, which former Will, as to that part of it, he confirms in this latter.

He was buried (according to his own Appointment in his Will) in the Church of S. Faith under S. Paul's, near whoſe Grave there was a Braſs-Plate fixt to the Pillar, containing a long Inſcription in Verſe of this William Lamb, which may be ſeen in Dugd. Hiſt. of S. Paul's, p. 119. but no Date in it of the time of his Death.

S. JOHN Baptiſt.

S. John Baptiſt, the fore-runner of our Lord (to whom this Church is dedicated) was the Son of Zachary, the Prieſt, and Elizabeth his Wife (one of the Daughters of Aaron) of the Tribe of Levi. As to his Conception, Nativity and Circumciſion, it may be read in the firſt Chapter of S. Luke's Goſpel. His Preaching and Baptiſing in the 3d, alſo in the 3d of S. Matthew and firſt of S. Mark. His bearing Witneſs of Chriſt in the firſt of S. John; and his Death and Burial in the 14th of S. Matthew, and 6th of S. Mark. So that from the Conception of the Baptiſt, to his Burial, there is his whole Hiſtory in the four Evangeliſts. What relates to him afterwards, I ſhall give a ſhort Account out of Mr. R. Smith's often forecited Manuſcript, which he hath more at large collected out of ſeveral Authors.

S. John Baptiſt being beheaded by the Command of Herod, and his Diſciples having leave of Herodias to bury his Body, they convey'd it to the City of Sebaſte, in Latin Auguſta, call'd alſo Samaria, which was a long Journey, but out of the Dominion of Herod; which place they made choice of the rather, that they might lay this chief Prophet of the Lord, among the Prophets; for it is reported, that the Body of S. John Baptiſt was laid up and interr'd at Sebaſte between the Monuments of Abdias and Eliſeus. So Nicephorus, Ruffinus, and others.

It ſeems, Herodias kept his Head and hid it, fearing leſt that if his Diſciples ſhould find it, and joyn it to the Body, he might revive. Now divers are the Reports concerning the Invention and Tranſlation of his Head from Place to Place, till it came to Rome. Some write that it was found, miraculouſly, at Sebaſte, others at Emeſa, others at Jeruſalem; but it is affirm'd by the moſt probable Greek and Latin Authors, that there are celebrated only two Inventions of S. John Baptiſt's Head, the one at Jeruſalem, Febr. 24. the other at Emeſa, Aug. 29. or as others ſay, May 25.

Feaſt, Feb. 24. Aug. 29.

Concerning the Tranſlation of the Baptiſt's Head to Rome; Firſt, it is moſt likely, that it was tranſlated from Galilee, where the Baptiſt was beheaded, to Jeruſalem, for that the firſt of the Invention of it, was at Jeruſalem, Febr. 24. Secondly, from Jeruſalem to Emeſa in Phœnicia, ſo Sozomen, Metaphraſtes and others. The third Tranſlation was from Emeſa into the Fields, to ſecure it from Sapor King of Perſia, that intended to deſtroy Emeſa. The fourth from the Fields of Emeſa to Conſtantinople, by Theodoſius the Emperor, which is confirm'd by the Teſtimony of Socrates, Sozomen, and divers other Writers; which Emperor, in the 6th of his Reign, erected there a fair Church, in Memory of S. John Baptiſt, laying up his Head therein, where it continu'd, till it was afterwards, for fear it ſhould be abus'd in the time of Trouble and Perſecution there ariſing, to the Monaſtery of Speloum or Spoleum, which was the fifth Tranſlation; and afterwards thence to Emeſa, which was the ſixth; where it was plac'd in a ſtately Temple, ann. 760. as the great Annals relate. At laſt the Eaſtern Empire being waſted, not only by Hereticks, but likewiſe by Barbarians and Turks, ſome Religious Greeks took it away from Emeſa and carried it to Rome, whither they fled, as to a Place of great Security, and this was the ſeventh and laſt Tranſlation of the Baptiſt's Head, where it was plac'd in the Church formerly call'd S. Silveſter Cata Pauli, from Pope Paul I. and Founder thereof; but now call'd S. Silveſter de Capite, from the Head of S. John Baptiſt there reſerv'd.

Concerning the Tranſlation of the Right Hand of S. John Baptiſt to Conſtantinople, it is related, that at Sebaſte (where the fore-runner of our Lord is ſaid to have been interr'd) Luke the Evangeliſt, took the Right Hand from the Body, and carried it away with him to Antiochia, whence it was afterwards taken or ſtoln away by a certain Deacon nam'd Job, and tranſlated to Conſtantinople, which the Emperor (a Religious Promoter of Piety) with Alacrity kiſs'd, and laid up in his Palace.

In commemoration of the Tranſlation of the Depoſition of this Hand of S. John Baptiſt, a Feſtival was ordain'd and celebrated yearly, on the 7th of September.

Feaſt, Sept. 7.

The Feſtival of the Nativity of S. John Baptiſt, is celebrated yearly, on June 24. commonly call'd Midſummer-Day, and of his Decollation, October 29.

Feaſt, Jun. 24. Oct. 29.

S. John Baptiſt, Rectory.

Sto. Surv. 246.

THIS is a Rectory, and the Church ſtood in Walbrook-Ward, the Eaſt-end whereof was in Dowgate-ſtreet, and the Weſt-end (ſaith Stow) upon the very Banks of Walbrook, and from thence it hath been after call'd S. John upon Walbrook.

Ibidem.

About the Year 1412. this Church was new-built; for about that time Licence was granted by the Mayor and Commonalty of London, to the Parſon and Inhabitants of this Pariſh, for the enlarging this Church, with a Piece of Ground on the North-part of the Choir, 21 Foot in Length, 17 Foot in Breadth and three Inches; and on the South-ſide of the Choir, one Foot of the common Soil.

Ibid. 838.

It was re-edify'd and adorn'd in 1621. Rob. Peterſon being then Rector. Will. Combarton gave Lands to this Church, and was there buried.

This Church (which is a Rectory) ſeems to have been, of old, in the Canons of the Church of S. Paul's; for I find, in the State of that Church, in the time of Ralph de Diceto, the Dean, it thus recorded.

« Eccleſia Sancti Johannis ſuper Walbroc eſt Canonicorum, & reddit eis ii. Sol. « per manum Vitalis Clerici, ſolvit Synodalia iv d. Archidiacono xii d. & ha- « bet in Domino ſuo quondam Terram, quæ reddit ii. Sol. & eſt de feodo « Willimi de la Mare, & etiam Terrulam, quæ eſt inter Eccleſiam & Walbroc, « & reddit iii. Sol. Non habet Cœmiterium. R. D. & Cap. lib. B. f. 36.

After this, it ſeems the Deans and Canons of S. Paul's gave or granted the Patronage of this Church to the Prioreſs and Convent of the Monaſtery of S. Helen, London; for (as will appear hereafter) they were and continu'd Patrons thereof from the Year 1373. till their Suppreſſion in the Reign of Henry VIII. upon which it came to the Crown, and hath remain'd in it ever ſince. It is ſubject to the Archdeacon. Archid. Lond.

In 1636. the yearly Profit of this Church were return'd as followeth: Sion-College, MS.

On which, as appears by the Preſentment given in by the Rector in 1693. there have been great Incroachments made ſince the Fire, to ſome of which, the Pariſh had conſented; and others have been done by the Lord-Mayor and Court of Aldermen, without the Conſent of the Archbiſhop and Biſhop of London (as 'tis ſaid) and the Chamberlain of London receives the Rent for them. q Zacheus Mountague, I ſuppoſe, was Rector here when the Church was burnt.

S. John the Evangeliſt.

S. John Evangeliſt (to whom this Church is dedicated) was a Galilean, the Son of Zebedee and Salome, younger Brother to S. James, together with whom he was brought up in the Trade of Fiſhing. Before his coming to Chriſt, he ſeems for ſome time to have been Diſciple to John the Baptiſt, being probably that other Diſciple that was with Andrew, when they left the Baptiſt to follow our Saviour. He was at the ſame time call'd by our Lord, with his Brother, both to the Diſcipleſhip and the Apoſtolate. He was, by far, the youngeſt of all the Apoſtles, as the Antients generally affirm; and his great Age ſeems to evince, he living near 70 Years after our Saviour's ſuffering.

He was peculiarly dear to his Lord and Maſter, being the Diſciple, whom Jeſus loved, as may be obſerv'd in ſeveral Inſtances mention'd in the Holy Goſpel. He follow'd our Lord thro' ſeveral Paſſages of his Trial, and at laſt waited upon him (and for any thing we know, was the only Apoſtle that did ſo) at his Execution, where he appointed him Guardian to his own Mother, the Bleſſed Virgin, whereupon he took her to his own Houſe.

At the firſt News of our Lord's Reſurrection from the Dead, he, accompanied with Peter, preſently haſted to the Sepulchre, between whom, by ſeveral Paſſages in the Sacred Story, there ſeems to have been a mutual Intimacy, more than the reſt.

In the Diviſion of the Provinces, which the Apoſtles made among themſelves, Aſia fell to his Share, tho' he did not preſently enter upon his Charge, at leaſt, not till the Death of the Virgin Mary, which (Euſebius ſaith) happen'd, Ann. Chriſt. 48. there he propagated the Goſpel, founded many Churches of Note and Eminency, as Smyrna, Pergamus, Thyatira, Sardis, Philadelphia, Laodicea and others, but his chief Reſidence was at Epheſus, where S. Paul had, many Years before, ſettled a Church, and conſtituted Timothy Biſhop of it, and 'tis probable he planted the Chriſtian Faith in Parthia.

He was condemn'd at Rome, by the Emperor Domitian, to be caſt into a Caldron of boiling Oil, but by Divine Providence, was to a Miracle brought ſafe out of it; the cruel Emperor not ſatisfy'd with this, baniſh'd him into the Iſle of Patmos, where he remain'd for ſeveral Years, inſtructing the Inhabitants in the Faith of Chriſt, and there, as 'tis ſaid, wrote his Apocalyps.

After Domitian's Death, he left Patmos and return'd into Aſia, his antient Charge, but chiefly fix'd at Epheſus, the Care and Preſidency whereof (Timothy their Biſhop having been lately martyr'd) he took upon him, and by the Aſſiſtance of ſeven Biſhops, govern'd that large ſpacious Dioceſe, and at the Requeſt of thoſe Biſhops and Embaſſadors from ſeveral Churches, wrote his Goſpel.

Beſides his Goſpel and his Apocalyps (the Subject whereof is very ſublime and myſterious, for which he is honour'd with the Title of The Divine) our Apoſtle wrote the three Epiſtles recorded in the New Teſtament.

He died about the beginning of Trajan's Reign, about the 98th or 99th Year of his Age, tho' ſome will have it, that he liv'd 120 Years; ſome likewiſe conceive, that he died a Martyr; others, that he died not at all, but rank him in the ſame Capacity with Enoch and Elias.

His Humility was admirable, Love and Charity he practis'd himſelf, and affectionately preſs'd it upon others to the laſt; he ſeem'd always to have led a ſingle Life, and ſo the Antients tell us.

The Feſtival of the Nativity of S. John the Apoſtle and Evangeliſt, is yearly celebrated, December 27. Feaſt, Dec. 27.

There is another Feaſt of this S. John, held on the 6th of May, call'd the Feaſt of S. John ante Portam-Latinam, in Memory of his Deliverance out of the Veſſel of boiling Oil, which was before the Gate of the City of Rome, call'd Porta-Latina, near to which Gate, there was a Chapel likewiſe erected, and dedicated to this S. John. S. John Port-latine Feaſt, May 6.

S. John Evangeliſt.

IN Friday-ſtreet (ſo call'd of Fiſhmongers dwelling there, and ſerving Friday's Market) on the Eaſt-ſide thereof, next Watling-ſtreet (and therefore written in Records, ſometimes by the Name of S. John in Watling-ſtreet, and ſometimes of S. John in Friday-ſtreet) in Bread-ſtreet-Ward, ſtood before the Fire in 1666. this ſmall Pariſh-Church of S. John the Evangeliſt, which in 1626. was repair'd and beautify'd at the Coſt of the Pariſhioners, and a Gallery therein then new-built and beautify'd at the only Coſt of Tho. Goodyear, Citizen and Draper of London, one of the Pariſhioners. Sto. Surv. 395. Ibidem.

About the Year 1361. here was a perpetual Chantry founded by William de Angre, Citizen and Marſhal of London, for the Souls of himſelf and Margaret his Wife, and alſo of John Kingſton and his Wife. Reg. Cant. lib. Iſlip, 281.

This is a Rectory, and one of the 13 Peculiars in this City, belonging to the Archbiſhop of Canterbury, the Patronage whereof was in the Prior and Convent of Canterbury, and ſo continu'd till their Suppreſſion, and in their ſtead, a Dean and Chapter ſettled in that Metropolitical Church, by K. Henry VIII. ann. 1540. in whom it hath ever ſince remain'd. Reg. Cant.

In 1636. the annual Profits of this Church were thus return'd with a Memorandum, as followeth: Sion College, MS.

But both united are made of the yearly Value of 140 l. in lieu of Tyths to the Incumbent.

[p] Geo. Walker, of the Univerſity of Cambridge, was incorporated in that of Oxford, July 10. 1621. being then Bachelor of Divinity. This Learned Perſon was born at Hawkeſhead, in Furnivals, in Lancaſhire, educated in S. John's-College, in Cambridge, where he was eſteem'd an excellent Logician, Orientaliſt, and Divine. He was about this time Chaplain to Doctor Felton, Biſhop of Ely, and Rector of this Church, where he was ready upon all occaſions to encounter with any Learned Catholick Prieſt. On the laſt of May, 1623. was a ſet and ſolemn Diſputation between him, and one that went by the Name of Smith, at which, being preſent, a great Auditory, it was publiſh'd for the ſatiſfaction of both Parties with this Title, "The "Sum of a Diſputation between Mr. Walker, "Rector of S. John Evangeliſt, &c. and a "Popiſh Prieſt calling himſelf Mr. Smith, but "indeed Norris, Printed 1623. In the Year following, he (the ſaid Walker) had to do with Father Joh. Fiſher the Jeſuit, as being Dr. Daniel Featly's Second; and, thereupon, publiſh'd, Fiſher's Folly Unfolded: Or, The Vaunting Jeſuits Challenge Anſwer'd (Lon. 1624.) Afterwards, when our Author Walker (who was a ſevere Puritan) beheld the Prophanation of the Lord's-Day, he preach'd againſt it; and other Practices and Opinions, which procur'd him Trouble, and two Years Impriſonment, as 'tis ſaid. After the Long-Parliament began, he preach'd againſt the King and His Followers, and publiſh'd ſeveral things, which before, he was not permitted to do. In 1643. he was choſen one of the Aſſembly of Divines; preach'd ſometimes before the Members of Parliament, and had his Sermons made publick. He died in 1651. and was buried in this his Church of S. John [Ath. Ox. 1. Vol. 840.]

S. John Zachary, Rectory.

THIS S. John Zachary (to whoſe Memory this Church is dedicated) is taken to be S. John Baptiſt; ſo call'd, perhaps, becauſe he was the Son of Zachary the Prieſt; which manner of Appellation, is uſual among writers, or elſe, becauſe at his Circumciſion, they firſt nam'd him Zachary; but his Mother and Father would have him call'd John.

That it was John the Baptiſt to whom this Church was dedicated, appears by an ancient Grant thereof; by that Name to one Zachary, whence perhaps, to diſtinguiſh it from the other Church of S. John Baptiſt, in Walbroc, it was, afterwards, call'd, S. John Zachary. The ſaid Grant runs thus:

"Hæc eſt conceſſio Capituli S. Pauli, quâ Canonici concesſerunt Zachariæ "in Elemoſina Eccleſiam S. Johannis Baptiſtæ ad diu turnitatem vitæ ſuæ, ita "ut Zacharias Matrem viſitet Eccleſiam unoquoq; Anno in Karitate offerendo vii. Sol. Teſtes Gilbert Sacerdos, Osbert Sacerdos S. Athegi.

Reg. Dec. & cap. lib. f. 29.

This Church hath been all along in the Collation of the Dean and Chapter of S. Pauls; the State whereof, when Ralph de Diceto was Dean, was as followeth:

"Eccleſia S. Johannis Zachariæ eſt Canonicorum, & reddit eis xx. Sol. per "manum M. Petri. Solvit Synod. xii d. Archid. xii d. & habet Cœmiterium.

Ib. lib. A. f. 38.

This is a Rectory ſubject to the Archdeacon; and the Church before the late dreadful Fire ſtood in Eugaine lane, or Maiden-lane, at the Northweſt-corner thereof, in Alderſgate-Ward. It was a fair Church, and the Monuments well preſerv'd, of Thomas Lichfield, who founded a Chantry there in 14. Edw. II. of Sir Nicolas Twiford, Goldſmith, Mayor in 1388. and of Dame Margery his Wife; of whoſe Goods the Church was made, and new-built, with a Tomb for them, and others of their Race in 1390.

Sto. Sur. 321.

Pat. 14. E. II.

This Chantry of Tho. Lichfield was very ancient; for, I find, that Roger Beynyn, and Robert de Tobeworth, Inhabitants and Tenants of certain Houſes in this this Pariſh which were formerly Tho. Lichfields (whom I take to be the Founder of this Chantry) as Patrons (among others) of another Chantry founded in this Church by Rog. Beynyn, for the Souls of himſelf and his Wife Iſabel, about the Year 1324. (Father, probably, of the above-nam'd Roger Beynyn) who preſented to Beynyn's Chantry, in the Year 1336. ſo that Lichfield's Chantry ſeems to be founded ſomewhat before. Now this Thomas Lichfield was a Clerk or Clergy-Man; for, in Records, I find him written Clericus (he was alſo ſtil'd Medicus) and in all likelihood was Rector of this Pariſh; and, I ſuppoſe, the Rector of this Church for the time being was Patron of Lichfield's Chantry: For in the Year 1363. I find a Chaplain preſented to a Chantry in this Church (but not nam'd) by the then Rector as true Patron thereof; whereas a certain number of Pariſhioners were all along Patrons of Beynyn's Chantry. But it ſhould ſeem, that the Right of Patronage of Lichfield's Chantry did not all Sudbury 31. along continue in the Rector for the time being: For in the Year 1537. and ſo downward, till the Suppreſſion thereof, it was in the Maſter and Wardens of the Goldſmith's Company, by reaſon of the Tranſlation thereof to them and their Succeſſors. Now the cauſe of this Tranſlation (as I conceive) may be, for that Sir Bartholomew Read, Goldſmith (Mayor of London in 1502.) gave to this Pariſh 100 l. and tho' he was buried (as Stow ſaith) at the Charter-houſe, yet his Wife was buried here with a fair Monument, who, probably, might procure the Right of Patronage of this Chantry to be tranſlated to the ſaid Company of Goldſmiths; for after ſuch Tranſlation the Chaplain, who Stokeſley 33. was preſented to this Chantry, was enjoin'd to pray not only for the Soul of the ſaid Thomas Lichfield, but alſo for the Souls of the ſaid Sir Barthol. Read, Knight, and Elizabeth his Wife.

Full. Hiſt. Camb. 73. One William Bingham, Rector of this Church founded a little Hoſtle at Cambridge, Anno 1442. to be govern'd by a Proctor, and 25 Scholars, which the Year after was freely ſurrendred up into the Hands of King Henry VI. for the improving and perfecting his College there, to which it was contiguous.

Sion Col. Mſ. In 1636. the annual Profits of this Church were return'd as followeth:

	l.	s.	d.

And the Site of this Church remains now only as a Burying-place for the Pariſhioners of this Pariſh; but both as united are made now of the yearly Value of 140 l. in lieu of Tyths to the Incumbent.

Reg. Lond. In 1693. the Church-Wardens preſented a Parſonage-Houſe for the Dwelling of the Miniſter, which he hath free to himſelf without paying any Ground-Rent; but they make no mention of any other Glebe.

The Patronage of this Church continues ſtill in the Dean and Chapter of S. Pauls, who collate to it every other turn; and to whom the like Penſion of xx s. per Ann. is payable, as was in the time of Ralph de Diceto.

As to the Rectors of this Church I can give little account for the Reaſons formerly mention'd; ſaving only that I find one Mr. Rolph was Rector here in 1636. and one Mr. *Phil. S. KATHARINE.

THere are three Churches in this City dedicated to S. Katharine, namely, S. Katharine { Coleman. / Creechurch. / Near the Tower.

S. Katharine (to whom theſe Three Churches are dedicated) was a Virgin of Alexandria, Daughter (as ſome write) of a certain King nam'd Coſtus; ſhe was very well learned, bred up in the Study of Philoſophy from her Youth; being afterwards converted to the Chriſtian Faith, when Maxentius the Emperor, cruelly handled all ſuch as refuſed to Sacrifice to Idols, ſhe not only reſiſted him Face to Face, taxing him with his inhumanity, but comforted thoſe Chriſtians, that then were ſorely afflicted for Chriſt's ſake. And for that Cauſe ſhe was impriſon'd, and kept ſeven Days without ſuſtenance. She converted to Chriſt Fauſtina the Empreſs, and Porphyrius a Nobleman; both which afterwards ſuffer'd Martyrdom.

When that neither by fair means, nor by threats, nor by impriſonments ſhe could be turn'd from Chriſt; the Emperor cauſed her to be tormented and cruſh'd between Wheels made of Iron Saws and Swords (whereupon ſhe is uſually pictur'd with a VVheel) but in vain, for the VVheels by the Prayers of S. Katharine were broken, and caſt aſunder; ſo that they did more hurt to the ſtanders by, than to her ſelf. Finally, ſhe yielded her Neck to the Sword of the Executioner with a couragious Heart, being but 18 Years old, Anno Chriſti 310. as Antoninus writes, or Anno 312. as others, on the 7. Kal. of December.

Of other incredible Miracles wrought after ſhe was beheaded it is not worth relating; as how Milk ſhould flow out of her dead Corps; and that the Angels ſhou'd carry her Body unto Mount Sinai, and there bury it, and the like. Travellers report, That they have ſeen her Tomb full of Oil, and her Head, Hair and Bones ſwimming therein.

The Day celebrated in her Commemoration is the 25th of November. Feaſt, No. 25.

S. Katharine Coleman, Rectory.

THIS Church of S. Katharine call'd Coleman; (of a great Haw, Yard, or Garden, of old time call'd Coleman-Haw, in the Pariſh of the Trinity, now call'd Chriſt-Church; and in the Pariſh of S. Katharine and All-ſaints, call'd Coleman-Church;) ſtands towards the Eaſt-end of Fenchurch ſtreet, on the South-ſide thereof, a little behind the Houſes, in Aldgate-VVard. It is a Rectory, and ſubject to the Archdeacon. Stow. Surv. 158. Archid. Lon.

The South Iſle of this Church is ſuppos'd to be built, or at leaſt wholly repair'd by Sir William White, Draper, who was Mayor of London, in 1489. The whole Church was repair'd and beautified in 1620. And in 1624. their Veſtry was built, and a Gallery new-made for the Poor of the Pariſh to ſit in. Ib. 160. Ib. 839.

This Church was of old in the Dean of S. Martin le Grand, London, and ſo continued till K. Henry VII. annext that Religious Houſe, with the Appurtenances to the Abby of Weſtminſter; by which means the Right of Patronage of this Church came to that Abbot and Convent, and ſo remain'd till Q. Mary, in the firſt of her Reign, by her Letters Patents dated March 3. gave this (with other Churches in this City) to the Biſhop of London, and his Succeſſors for ever; in whom the Right of Collation thereof hath continued ever ſince. Bonner 378.

In 1636. the yearly Profits of this Church were return'd as followeth: Sion-Coll. MS.

Tyths ——	80	00	00
Glebe ——	10	00	00
Caſualties ——	08	03	00
A Parſonage-Houſe	12	00	00

Reg. Lond. In 1693. the Church-Wardens preſented as followeth, viz. The Miniſter hath a Reſidence-Houſe in the Pariſh ſtanding upon the Glebe; and a Ground-Rent of 7 l. per Ann. for another Houſe adjoining to it; lett out by Leaſe for about 16 l. per Ann. which Leaſe expires about 16 or 17 Years hence. The Miniſter alſo hath another ſmall Tenement, for which he receives 6 l. per Ann.

They farther preſented thus: Sir Henry Billingſly, Knight and Alderman of London, about the Year 1586. having taken to Farm part of the Church-yard of the Miniſter and Pariſhioners of this Pariſh, at the yearly Rent of 4 s. to the Miniſter, and 4 s. to the Church-Wardens. On Aug. 6. 1606. made his Will, and thereby gave to the Poor of this Pariſh the yearly Profits of 200 l. when laid out in Land, or the Intereſt thereof, till ſo laid out, for ever. Upon this condition, that his Heirs and Aſſigns ſhou'd peaceably hold and enjoy the ſaid Part of the Church-yard, whereupon he had then erected a Coach-houſe, and part of his Dwelling-houſe; which Premiſes are ſtill ſtanding, and are in the Poſſeſſion of Lucy Blackman, Eſq;.

[t] Tho. Harper the preſent Rector of this Church, and alſo Rector of Orſet, in Eſſex, 1700.

S. Katharine Creechurch, Curacy.

THIS Church ſtands in the High-ſtreet, on the North-ſide thereof, leading from Aldgate towards Cornhill, in Aldgate-Ward, in that Ground, which was the Cemitery of the late diſſolv'd Priory of the Holy Trinity Chriſtchurch, and was therefore call'd S. Katharine Chriſtchurch; (now Creechurch) it is neither Rectory nor Vicarage, but a Donative or Curacy; of which more hereafter. It is ſubject to the Archdeacon, ſaving only as to VVills and Adminiſtrations which belong to the Commiſſary.

Arch. Com. Lond.

Stow tells us, That this Pariſh, and alſo the Pariſhes of S. Mary Magdalen, S. Michael and the Bleſſed Trinity, were made but one Pariſh of the Holy Trinity, upon the founding of that Priory in the ſame Place, where Siredus began ſometime to erect a Church in Honour of the Holy Croſs, and S. Mary Magdalen, and, in old time, was call'd the Holy Croſs, or Holy Rood Pariſh.

Sto. Sur. 145.

This Church, as alſo the Chapel of S. Michael aforeſaid, were appropriated to the ſaid Priory of the Holy Trinity; which Appropriation, I find, was confirm'd by Pope Innocent (the Second as I take it, for he was the Firſt Pope of that Name after the Foundation of the ſaid Priory;) but without any allowance to a Vicar, becauſe of the Smallneſs of the Revenue belonging to it; and the Cure was to be ſupplied by one of the Canons, removable at the Pleaſure of the Prior.

Ibid. 110. But long after this, viz. Anno 1414. Richard Clifford, then Biſhop of London, at his Viſitation then held in the Conventual-Church of the Priory, upon ſome Differences and Suits that had happen'd between that Prior and Convent on the one Part, and the Pariſhioners of this Pariſh on the other, about the Inconveniences, which they ſuffer'd upon their reſorting to the Altar of the Bleſſed Mary Magdalen, in the South-part of the ſaid Conventual-Church, to perform Divine Offices upon ſome certain Days (which it ſhould ſeem they had of a long time been bound to do) did by the conſent of both Parties order to this effect, viz. That the Font for Baptiſm of Children of this Pariſh ſhould be again erected in their own Pariſh-Church or Chapel; that they ſhould come to the ſaid Conventual-Church only on the Feaſts of Holy Trinity, and Dedication of that Conventual-Church (which was the Morrow after the Feaſt of S. Bartholomew the Apoſtle) yearly, and make their accuſtom'd Offerings; allowing them to celebrate the Dedication of their Church or Chapel in their own Church or Chapel. Alſo, that their Cure ſhould be ſerv'd by one of the Canons of the ſaid Convent, removable at the Pleaſure of the Prior, or by any other Canon or Secular Prieſt to be deputed in his abſence. And, finally, that the ſaid Prior and Convent ſhould not be bound for the future to find Ornaments, or to ſupport the Burthens of this Church or Chapel. All which Premiſes were ſolemnly agreed to by the Parties on both ſides.

Ib. 111, 114. But, notwithſtanding this Order or Agreement, in proceſs of time, the ſaid Prior and Convent, and the ſaid Pariſhioners again differ'd about the Obſervance thereof; whereupon Richard Fitzjames, Biſhop of London, by his Chancellor Dr. Will. Horſey, upon a full Hearing of the Cauſe in the ſaid Church or Chapel between the two Parties on both ſides, on March 17. 1509. confirm'd the ſaid Order or Agreement made by his Predeceſſor Biſhop Clifford.

Sto. Sur. 149. Stow tells us, That this Church in his time ſeem'd to have been very old, giving this Reaſon for it; becauſe ſince the Building thereof, the High-ſtreet hath been ſo often rais'd by Pavements, that Men were fain to deſcend by divers Steps into it, viz. ſeven in Number. But the Steeple or Bell-Tower thereof, hath been lately built, viz. about the Year 1504. for Sir John Percivall, Merchant Taylor, then deceaſing, gave Money towards the Building thereof.

Ibid. 839. This Church was ſome Years ſince new-built, and in building thereof, they took in a Cloiſter which ſtood on the Backſide of the North-VVall of the old Church of ſeven Foot and above in breadth, by means whereof the new one was ſo much the more enlarg'd.

In digging under the VVall of the old Church, there was found the Figure of half the Face of a Man caſt in Lead, the Mould ſetting likewiſe upon it this word Comes.

Digging under the South-row of Pillars, they found the Skull of a Man, the thickneſs of which was three Quarters of an Inch, meaſur'd by many, and admir'd by all that have ſeen it.

At the Weſt-end of this Church adjoining to the Steeple ſtands a Pillar of the old Church as it ſtood and was there erected. This Pillar (from the Baſis or Foot to the Chapiter or Head upon which the old Arch was rais'd) being 18 Foot high, and but three to be ſeen above Ground; ſhews the Meaſure or Height to which the Floor of this new Church hath been rais'd above that of the Old, which is the hidden Part of the Pillar, or the 15 Foot of it buried.

The Foundation of the new Work was begun to be laid upon June 23. 1628. was finiſh'd in the Year 1630. and conſecrated the 16th Day of January the ſame Year by Dr. Will. Laud then Biſhop of London, which became afterwards a Charge againſt him upon his Trial before the Houſe of Lords.

After the Surrender of the aforeſaid Priory of the Holy Trinity into the Hands of King Henry VIII. in 23. of his Reign, that King gave it to Sir Thomas Audley (afterwards Lord Chancellor) together with this Church of S. Katharine, and all the Tyths, &c. thereto belonging; which Church and Tyths, and other Eccleſiaſtical Profits, the ſaid Lord Audley by his laſt Will and Teſtament bearing Date Apr. 19. 1544. gave to the Maſter and Fellows of Magdalen-College, in Cambridge, and to their Succeſſors; by which Will, they were from time to time enjoyn'd to ſerve the Cure here. Since which, they have uſually lett a Leaſe of this Parſonage to a certain number of the Pariſhioners, for a certain number of Years, and under a certain yearly Rent, with all manner of Tyths, Rights, Profits, Oblations, &c. thereunto belonging, with a Covenant, That it ſhould be lawful for the Leſſees, and the reſt of the Pariſhioners to have the Nomination and Election of their own Miniſter, for ſupply of the Cure here from time to time, as often as need and occaſion ſhould require; which Curate is to be licens'd by the Biſhop of London, who commits the Cura Animarum to him; and thus he is intitled to be Curate of this Church.

In 1636. the Return was as followeth: Sion-College, MS.

The Impropriation worth ———	60 :	00 :	00
Curate for reading Divine Service —	06 :	00 :	00

Mr. Ruſh was Curate here when the Rebellion broke out in 1642. and was turn'd out, [Merc. Ruſt.] And Mr. Audley was the Curate 1688. Nicolas Brady, Clerk, was July 16. 1691. licens'd to perform the Office of Curate in this Church, and upon his Reſignation, William Grove was July 6. 1696. licens'd thereto, and is the preſent Curate, 1700.

In 1693. the Curate and Church-Wardens preſented as followeth, viz. There is no Parſonage-Houſe or Glebe belonging to their Church. Out of their whole Tyths, which amount to 35 l. or 36 l. per ann. they pay 25 l. per ann. to Magdalen-College in Cambridge, and the remainder to the Miniſter, which is increas'd by voluntary Gifts and Subſcriptions. Reg. Lond.

This being a Donative or Curacy, is not charg'd with Firſt-Fruits and Tenths, but only with 2 s. Procurations to the Biſhop, and 2 s. Procurations to the Archdeacon.

S. Katharine near the Tower, Hoſpital and Church.

THO' the Hoſpital of S. Katharine near the Tower, and the Precincts and Liberties thereof, and particularly the Pariſh-Church within the ſaid Hoſpital, is reckon'd in the Bills of Mortality, among the Out-Pariſhes in Middleſex, yet in Stow it being plac'd, and plainly prov'd to be within Portſoken-Ward, I ſhall here treat of it, as ſituate within the Liberties of the City of London. Sto.Stur.928.

Ralph the Prior, with the Canons of the Holy-Trinity within Aldgate, did grant to Maud, Queen of England, Wife to King Stephen, a certain Parcel of Land in the Soken, call'd Knightenguild (now Portſoken-Ward) whereon the ſaid Hoſpital of S. Katharine was founded, together with all the Mill there in the Shambles, in lieu of ſix Yard Land in the Mannor of Bracching in the County of Hertford. Ibidem. Mon. Angl. Vol. II. 81.

Queen Alianor, Widow to King Henry III. by her Character, bearing Date, July 5. 1273. gave to this Hoſpital, and to Thomas de Lechlade, " Quem (as " as are the words of the ſaid Charter) in eodem Hoſpitali Magiſtrum & Cu" ſtodem, de conceſſu venerabilis Patris Henrici, London, Epiſcopi, præfecimus; and to the Brethren, ſerving God there, and to their Succeſſors for ever, certain Lands in the Villages of Renham and Herclope in Kent, others in the Village of Roed (now Reed) in Hertford-ſhire, and ſome in Eaſt-Smithfield, for the ſuſtaining of three Brother-Prieſts, together with the Maſter of the ſaid Hoſpital, to celebrate Maſſes for the Soul of King Henry, her Lord, for her own Soul, and the Souls of the Kings and Queens, her Predeceſſors and Succeſſors, as therein is directed; and that every Day in the Year, to the 16th of November, viz. the Day of S. Edmund the Archbiſhop and Confeſſor, there is given to 24 poor People (whereof ſix of them to be Scholars, who might aſſiſt the Chaplains in the Church in Divine Offices) the Sum of 12 d. and on the ſaid Day of S. Edmund the Confeſſor, viz. the Day of the Death of her ſaid Lord, King Ibid. 460.

Henry, there be given to a Thouſand poor People, to every one of them one Half-Peny; by which Charter, ſhe reſerves Power to herſelf, and the Queens of England, her Succeſſors, to conſtitute a Maſter, or Cuſtos of the ſaid Hoſpital, when, and as often as it ſhould happen to be void; and ordains, That the Queens of England ſhould have the right of Patronage of the ſaid Hoſpital, from time to time, for ever.

Mon. Angl. Vol. II. *p.*82.

But, tho' this Queen reſerv'd to herſelf and Succeſſors, Queens of England, the Power to conſtitute a Maſter or Cuſtos, and the Right of Patronage of the ſaid Hoſpital, yet it appears by the Charter of King Henry III. whereby he confirms to the Prior and Canons of the Holy-Trinity, aforeſaid, all their Lands and Donations, that he grants and confirms to the ſaid Prior and Convent, the Guardianſhip or Cuſtody of this Hoſpital, as they had it by the Grant of King Stephen and Queen Maud his Wife. [Pat. 11. Hen. III. p. 1. m. 34.]

Sto.Surv.117.

Queen Elianor, Wife to King Edward I. (a ſecond Foundreſs) appointed to be in this Hoſpital, one Maſter, three Brethren, Chaplains, and three Siſters, ten poor Women (Speed ſays 18.) and ſix poor Clerks. She gave to them the Mannor of Clarton in Wiltſhire, and Upchurch in Kent.

Ibidem.

Queen Philip, Wife to King Edward III. ann. 1351. founded a Chantry here, and gave to this Hoſpital, 10 l. in Land by the Year. It was of late time call'd a Free-Chapel, a College, and an Hoſpital for poor Siſters.

Godwin. de Præſul.

Thomas Beckington (of whom may be read more among the Prebendaries of Holborn) Biſhop of Bath and Wells, in the Reign of King Henry VI. (once Maſter of this Hoſpital) gave many Veſtments to it, and 50 s. in Money.

Reg. Cant. lib. Stafford, p. 160.

* John Holland, Duke of Exeter, by his laſt Will and Teſtament, dated July 16. 1447. order'd his Body to be buried in this Chapel of S. Katharine's Hoſpital, at the North-end of the High-Altar, in a Tomb ordain'd for him, with Anne his Wife, his Siſter Conſtance, and Anne his ſecond Wife; and founded there a Chantry for four Prieſts, each of which was to have xii Marks per ann. payable out of his Mannor of Much-Gaddeſden, in Com. Hertford, to pray for the Souls of himſelf, his two Wives and his Siſter, who were all there buried according to his Will, and the Monument (tho' foully defac'd) with the Figures of himſelf and his ſaid Wives, lying on it, ſtill remain on the North-ſide of the Upper-End of the Choir.

Mon. Angl. Vol.II.*p.*476.

King Edward III. gave Licence to Robert de Denton, to found an Hoſpital in the Pariſh of Barking-Church, for the Cure of mad People, and an Oratory, and to endow the ſaid Hoſpital; but the ſaid Robert's mind afterwards altering, King Richard II. at his Requeſt, gave him leave to beſtow the ſaid Endowment upon this Hoſpital of S. Katharine.

Sto.Surv.117.

The Choir, which of late Years, ſaith Stow, was not much inferior to that of S. Paul's, was diſſolv'd by Dr. Wilſon, a late Maſter there, the Brethren and Siſters remaining. This Houſe was valu'd at the late general Suppreſſion, at 315 l. 14 s. 2 d.

Beſides Tho. de Lechlade, Tho. Bekinton and Dr. Wilſon, Maſters of this Hoſpital above-nam'd, I think it not improper to give an Account of ſuch Maſters of the ſame, as by the help of Dr. Hutton's Collections, I have ſince met with, which are as followeth:

Walter de Redinges had the Cuſtody of this Hoſpital committed to him, void by the Reſignation of Tho. de Lechlade, to hold during his Life, July 21. [Pat. 21. Edw. I.]

Joh. de Sandale (of whom you may ſee more among the Deans of London) was Maſter of this Hoſpital in 1315. and had granted to him and his Brethren, the Convent thereof, by John Crombwell and Idonea his Wife, the Advouſon of the Church of Winterſlow, by Vertue of the King's Licence, dated Sept. 1. that Year. [Pat. 9. Edw. II. p. 1.]

Adam de Eglesfeld, the King's Chaplain, had the Cuſtody and Government of this Hoſpital given him by the King, Dec. 14. 1317. [Pat. 11. Ed. II. p. 1.]

Will. de Killesby or Kildesby (of whom you may ſee more among the Preb. of Portpoole) was Maſter of this Hoſpital, ann. 1345. [Pat. 19. Ed. III. p. 1.]

Joh. de Hermeſthorp was Maſter of this Hoſpital, Dec. 26. 1368. [Pat. 42. Ed. III. p. 2.] but before this, ann. 1363. May 13. the King gave him (being then his Chaplain) the Preb. which John de Blebury had lately in the Free-Chapel of S. Stephen, Weſtminſter. [Pat. 37. p. 1.] On the 22d of January following, the King gave his Preb. of S. Stephen, which (I ſuppoſe) he reſign'd to Ric. de Ravenſore; for, ſix Days before, viz. Jan. 16. the King gave the ſaid John his Preſentation to the Church of S. Vedaſt (Lond.) [38. p. 1.] and on the 7th of March following, the Archdeaconry of the Eaſt-Riding, in the Dioceſe of York, [ibid.] In 1364. Jan. 24. he gave him his Letters of Preſentation to the Church of Greyſtock, in the Dioceſe of Carliſle, [39. p. 2.] And in Dec. 24. 1366. the King gave him again that Preb. of S. Stephen, which the ſaid Ravenſore had, [40. p. 2.] He was Maſter of this Hoſpital, when it was viſited by the Lord-Chancellor and others, in the 3d of Richard II. ann. 1380. [Coll. Dr. Hutton.] and perhaps he is the ſame Joh. de Hermeſthorp, who was Preb. of Weſt-Thurrock in Eſſex, in the Collegiate-Church of Haſtings, and preſented to that Vicarage in 1409.

I find one Joh. Preſton was Maſter of this Hoſpital, May 26. 1511. for then he preſented Tho. Percy, Prior of the Holy-Trinity, to the Vicarage of Braughing. [Fitzjames 29.]

The Maſter and Brethren of this Hoſpital, for ſome Years paſt, pretending themſelves to be exempt from the Juriſdiction of the Biſhops of London, I think it not amiſs to inſert here, what may be alledg'd for the Biſhop's Right in that Point.

Whether this Hoſpital was ſubject to the Biſhop of London before the Suppreſſion of Religious Houſes in Henry VIII's time, or how long, or when exempted, I think it needleſs (if I could) to trouble the Reader withal; but I take it for granted, that at the time of the Suppreſſion it was an Exempt, becauſe I find it particularly nam'd among thoſe Exempts, which are ſpecified as ſuch in the Letters-Patents of King Edward VI. granted to Nicolas Ridley, Biſhop of London, dated April 1. in the fourth Year of his Reign.

By theſe Letters-Patents, granted by the ſaid King, in purſuance of an Act of Parliament of 31. Henry VIII. whereby, "All ſuch Monaſteries, Abbies, "&c. as were exempted from the Juriſdiction of the Ordinaries in this Realm, "were from thenceforth enacted to be within the Juriſdiction and Viſitation "of the Ordinary or Ordinaries within whoſe Dioceſe they be ſituate or ſet, "or within the Juriſdiction and Viſitation of ſuch Perſon or Perſons as by the "King's Highneſs, his Heirs and Succeſſors ſhall be limited and appointed. He, the ſaid King Edward (among other exempt Juriſdictions within this Dioceſe) by the Name of "Eccleſia ſive Capella & Parochia Sanctæ Katharinæ juxta Turrim London, una cum Præcinctu & Territorio ejuſdem; did unite and annex the ſame to the Dioceſe of London, and thereby ſubject it to the Juriſdiction and Viſitation of the Biſhop of this Dioceſe and his Succeſſors for ever, as appears more at large in the ſaid Letters-Patents recorded in the London Regiſtry. [Lib. Bonner, p. 375. &c.]

Theſe Letters-Patents were afterwards confirm'd by the like Letters-Patents of Q. Mary, bearing Date March 2. in the firſt Year of her Reign. [Ibid. 375.]

S. LAURENCE.

THere are two Churches in this City dedicated to S. Laurence; namely, S. Laurence Jewry and S. Laurence Poutney.

S. Laurence (to whom theſe Churches are dedicated) was born at Hueſca in the Kingdom of Arragon, and made Archdeacon of the Church of Rome by Pope Sixtus II. in 260. who truſted him with the Treaſures of the Church. This was when the Emperor Valerian was putting forward a cruel Perſecution of the Chriſtians; in which, Pope Sixtus being taken among others, was viſited by Laurence rence his Archdeacon, whom he charg'd to diſtribute the Church-Treaſures, he was intruſted with, to the poor Chriſtians that hid themſelves in ſubterranean Caves, from the Fury of that Perſecution. S. Laurence having perform'd this Command, the next Day ſaw them leading the Pope to his Martyrdom, to whom he ſaid aloud, That he had according to his Command, diſtributed the Church-Treaſures to the Poor. The Soldiers hearing him ſpeak of Treaſures, laid hold on him, who appearing before the Emperor, he charg'd him to declare, where theſe Treaſures were, which he had mention'd; S. Laurence demanded three Days time to get them together, and preſent them to him; at the end thereof he preſented a great Number of poor People to the Emperor, and told him, that they were the Treaſures of the Church he had ſpoken of. Valerian incens'd at this Diſappointment, order'd his Skin to be torn in pieces with Iron-Scourges, and afterwards to be whipp'd with Rods, and Laſhes that had Lead at the end of them, and then to be ſet on the Wooden-Horſe, and have all his Limbs diſlocated; and laſt of all, order'd a kind of Gridiron, with a ſlow Fire under it to be made ready, upon which the Tyrant caus'd him to be laid down and roaſted, which Laurence endur'd with ſuch conſtancy and unconcernedneſs, as aſtoniſh'd the Tyrant, and ſo chearfully rendred his Spirit to God, on the 10th of Auguſt 261. on which Day his Paſſion and Martyrdom are yearly celebrated.

S. Laurence Jewry, Vicarage.

Archid.Com: Lond.

THIS Pariſh-Church of S. Laurence, is ſituate at the entrance into Guild-Hall-Yard, Weſtward in Cheap-Ward, call'd in the Jewry, becauſe, in old time many Jews inhabited thereabouts. It is ſubject to the Archdeacon, ſaving only as to Wills and Adminiſtrations which belong to the Commiſſary.

In 22. of King Edward I. Hugo de Wickenbroke, vulgo Hugo de Wyen, alias Hugo de Vienna, gave the Right of Patronage of this Church (inter alia) to Baliol-College in Oxford, then newly founded by John Baliol and Dervorguilla his Wife, Parents to John Baliol King of Scots, and was the firſt Benefactor to that Houſe. For thus I find it in Antiq. Ox. Lib. II. p. 71. “ Poſt manum operi ultimam à Since which time, this Church hath been ſupply'd by a Vicar, and the right of Patronage of this Vicarage, hath continu'd down all along in the ſaid Maſter and Scholars of Baliol-College; only for ſome Years paſt, the Pariſhioners of this Pariſh, have from time to time preſented to the Vicarage, by Vertue of a Leaſe granted to them of the impropriate Tyths and right of Patronage, by the Maſter and Scholars of the ſaid College.

In this Church (among others) lay buried the Body of Sir Geffray or Godfrey Bullen, Citizen, Mercer, and Mayor of London, in 1457. He was Grand-Father to Thomas Bullen, Vicount Rochford, the Father of Anna Bullen, Marchioneſs of Pembroke, the ſecond Wife of King Henry VIII. and Mother of Queen Elizabeth. The Fall of which Anna Bullen, and her Brother, George, Viſcount Rochford, is ſo frequently related in our Hiſtorians, that 'tis needleſs to ſay any thing of it here. Weav. Fun. Mon. 398.

Here likewiſe were buried Richard Rich of London, Eſquire, the Father; and Richard Rich his Son, Mercer, one of the Sheriffs of London in 1442. He died in 1469. He was Father to John, Father to Thomas, who was Father to Richard, Lord Rich, advanc'd to the Degree of a Baron of this Realm, and conſtituted Lord-Chancellor of England, 1. Ed. VI. Walter Blundell had a Chantry here, 14. Ed. II. Sto.Surv.284.

This Church was repair'd and beautify'd at the Charge of the Inhabitants in 1618. Ibid. 840.

In 1636. it was thus return'd; the Impropriation purchas'd by the Pariſh. The Vicar then paid in Money 20 l. per ann. Caſualties, 16 l. yearly Rent for two Tenements 8 l. and a convenient Houſe. Sion-College, MSS.

But in the Preſentment 1693. given in by one Church-Warden, it is aſſerted, that there was no Parſonage or Vicarage-Houſe before the Fire, that he knew of; but ſince the Fire, the Pariſhioners took a Piece of Ground of the City of London, for a certain Number of Years, of the Rent of xx l. per ann. and there built a Houſe for their Vicar, but makes no mention of the aforeſaid two Tenements lett for 8 l. per ann. Reg. Lond.

This Church ſuffer'd the like Fate with others, in the late dreadful Fire, but is ſince rebuilt, and made the Parochial-Church for this and the Pariſh of S. Mary-Magdalen Milkſtreet, which is annext unto it, and both together are made of the yearly Value of 120 l. to the Incumbent.

His Father was an Attorney of good Reputation; when fitted for the Univerſity, he was ſent to Sidney-College in Cambridge, where he became Servitor to Dr. *Sam. In 1643. he, with the Maſter, and ſeveral of his College, were for the King's Cauſe impriſon'd in S. John's-College there, and ejected from their Places; much about which time, he, and Mr. Peter Gunning, and others, wrote a well pen'd Treatiſe againſt the Covenant, which was made Publick. After his releaſe, he was kindly receiv'd by Ralph Freeman at Aſpden in Hertfordſhire, Eſquire, and after the War ceas'd, he was entertain'd as a Chaplain to Thomas, Lord Wenman of Thame-Park in Oxfordſhire. In Octob. the ſame Year he was incorporated Maſter of Arts, and admitted to his Profeſſorſhip. In 1662 he was advanc'd to that Sea, being conſecrated thereto, July 20. upon the Promotion of Dr. John Gauden to the Biſhoprick of Worceſter. In Sept. 12. 1667. he was tranſlated to Sarum, on the Death of Dr. Hyde. In 1671. he was made Chancellor of the moſt Noble Order of the Garter, by the Reſtitution of K. Charles II. after that Place had been occupy'd by Lay-Perſons 154 Years. He was a Benefactor to the Royal-Society. About 1672. he gave a conſiderable Sum of Money towards the making of the River at Salisbury navigable to Chriſt-Church in Hampſhire; and in 1679. he beſtowed 1000 l. on Sidney-College in Cambridge. In 1683. he built an Hoſpital or College at Salisbury for ten poor Widows of Clergy-Men; and in 1684. an Alms-Houſe at the Place of his Nativity, for four antient Men, and four antient Women, who had liv'd handſomely, and were brought by Misfortune to Poverty. In 1683. there aroſe a Controverſie between him and his Dean, Dr. *Tho. thereabouts, he marry'd Robina (Widow of Peter French, ſome time Canon of Chriſt-Church) Siſter to Oliver Cromwell. In the beginning of 1659. by the favour of Ric. Cromwell, who ſucceeded Oliver in the Protectorſhip, he had the Headſhip of Trinity-College in Cambridge conferr'd upon him, on the Death of Dr. John Arrowſmith; but being ejected thence the next Year, about the time of his Majeſty's Reſtaurarion, he became Preacher of Grays-Inn (was admitted Rector of Cranford in Middleſex, Dec. 10. 1660. at the Preſentation of George Lord Berkley) and upon the Promotion of his Friend Dr. Ward, to the Sea of Exeter, he ſucceeded him in this Vicarage, as above, voiding Cranford by Reſignation. He became a Member of the Royal-Society, of, and to which he was one of the Council, and at length a conſiderable Benefactor. Soon after, he was made Dean of Rippon; was collated to the Preb. of Chamberlain-Wood, in the Cathedral-Church of S. Paul, July 19. 1667. and at length, he was promoted to the Biſhoprick of Cheſter, to which he was conſecrated at the Chapel at Ely-Houſe in Holborn, Nov. 15. 1668. This Dr. Wilkins was a Perſon endow'd with rare Gifts, he was a noted Theologiſt and Preacher, a curious Critick, an excellent Mathematician, and throughly vers'd in Experiments, and one as well ſeen in Mechaniſms, and new Philoſophy (of which he was a great Promoter) as any of his time. He alſo highly advanc'd the ſtudy and perfecting of Aſtronomy. It is ſaid of him, that all that knew Biſhop Wilkins, muſt needs acknowledge him for his Univerſal inſight into all Parts of Learning, ſolid Judgment, rare Prudence, and Dexterity in the Management of worldly Affairs, and Tranſactions, univerſal Charity, Ingenuity, Temper and Moderation of Spirit, to have left behind him but few equals. He died of the Stone at Dr. Tillotſon's-Houſe, then in Chancery-Lane, in London, Nov. 19. 1672. and was bury'd on Dec. 12. following, under the North-Wall of the Chancel of this Church of S. Laurence. Of this excellent and renown'd Prelate may be ſeen more, and what Books he publiſh'd in [Ath. Ox. Vol. II. p. 370. &c.]

THIS Pariſh-Church of S. Laurence, ſtood on the Weſt-Side of S. Laurence-Lane (ſo call'd of this Church) which runs down from Canon-Street to Thames-ſtreet, in Candlewick-ſtreet Ward, and being near Candlewick (now Canon) Street was in old time call'd S. Laurence Candlewick-ſtreet Church.

Sto.Surv.239. It was in antient time increas'd with a Chapel of Jeſus, by Thomas Cole, for a Maſter and a Chaplain; the which Chapel and Pariſh-Church was afterwards made a College of Jeſus and Corpus-Chriſti, for a Maſter and ſeven (or rather twelve) Chaplains, by John Poultney, Mayor, and was confirm'd by Edward III. in the 20th of his Reign, having the Year before, viz. July 1. 1345. granted Licence to the ſaid John, to give and aſſign to the Cuſtos of the Chantry, founded by him, to the Honour of Corpus-Chriſti, and of the Church of S. Laurence, near Candlewick-ſtreet, London, and to the twelve Chaplains celebrating there, the Advowſons of the Churches of Napton, Weſt-Tilbury, Chevele, Sheule, and Spelſhurſt. (Pat. 19. E. III. p. 1.)

Of this Founder, * Sir John Poultney, was this Church afterward call'd S. Lau-

[*] This Sir John Poultney was a Citizen and Draper of Lond. of which he was four times Mayor, viz. ann. 1330, 31, 33, and 36. Beſides the founding of this College, he built the Church of Little-Alhallows in Thames-ſtreet, and the Church of the Carmelite-Fryers in Coventry; alſo a fair Chapel in the Cathedral-Church of S. Paul, in the North-part thereof, wherein Stow ſays, he was buried; but Sir Will. Dugdale in his Hiſtory of that Church, p. 30. intimating, as if he extracted it out of his Will, ſaith, he diſpos'd his Body to Sepulture within the Church of S. Laurence in Candlewick-ſtreet. In this Chapel in S. Paul's, he ordain'd three Chaplains, enjoyning them their particular Offices; and for the more ſolemn Performance of his Anniverſary, aſſigning particular yearly Pittances to the principal Canons, Petti-Canons, Vicars-Choral and Officers of the Church; and alſo to the Lord-Mayor, Recorder, and other Officers of the City, if preſent thereat, for accompliſhment of all which, he gave certain Lands and Rents in the City of London to the Warden and Chaplains of this College of S. Laurence, who by Indenture demis'd the ſame to the Dean and Canons of the ſaid Cathedral, to undergo that Task. The Chaplains of this College of S. Laurence, in Candlewick-ſtreet ; were Patrons thereof, and from time to time preſented the Maſter or Cuſtos of the ſame to the Biſhop, who thereupon gave him Inſtitutions wherein the Government, Care, and Adminiſtration of all the Goods, as well Spiritual as Temporal, of the ſaid College, were committed to him. But after the Diſſolution thereof, I find an Inſtitution to this Church, with the Pariſh-Church of Alhallows the Leſs (which was likewiſe built by the ſaid Sir John Poultney, as aboveſaid) annext unto it, at the Preſentation of King Philip and Queen Mary, true Patrons thereof ; ſince which time I find no farther Inſtitution to it, but it hath ever ſince continu'd as a Donative or Curacy, and is ſubject under the Biſhop to the Archdeacon, ſaving only as to Wills and Adminiſtrations, which belong to the Commiſſary.

In 1. Edw. VI. this Rectory and Church were granted to John Cheek and others, and in 23. Eliz. to Edward Downing and others, and their Heirs.

After the Diſſolution of this College, one Walter Meers, bought certain Houſes over-againſt this Church-yard, and belonging to the ſaid College, which were chargeable by the Donor with a Load of Charcoles of 30 Sacks, to be given yearly to 30 poor Folks of this Pariſh, and were accordingly paid by the Maſters of the ſaid College before the Diſſolution thereof, which was made appear upon Oath, before the Chancellor of London, Jan. 16. 1561. in the preſence of the ſaid Meers.

In this Church were buried Robert Radcliffe, Earl of Suſſex, who died Nov. 27. 1542. and alſo Hen. Radcliffe his Son, who died Feb. 17. 1556. but from this Church the Remains of theſe two Earls were remov'd to Borham in Eſſex, where according to the laſt Will and Teſtament of Tho. Radcliffe, Earl of Suſſex, Son and Heir of the ſaid Henry, they were (with the ſaid Thomas, who departed this Life June 9. 1583.) buried in a Chapel at Borham aforeſaid, under a ſumptuous Monument, which by his ſaid Will he order'd to be Erected there for that purpoſe.

This Church (which on the Steeple had a very lofty Spire of Timber and Lead, new-leaded in 1631. and 1632.) was burnt down in the late dreadful Fire, and after that, united to that of S. Mary Abchurch, which is made the Parochial-Church for both Pariſhes ; both which are made of the yearly Value of 120 l. in lieu of Tyths to the Incumbent, and the ſite of this remains only as a Burying-place for the Inhabitants of this Pariſh.

THere are Two Churches in this City dedicated to S. Leonard; namely, } S. Leonard { Eaſtcheap. Foſterlane.
And one in the Suburbs, viz. S. Leonard Shordich.

This S. Leonard was born at Mans, in France. He was Diſciple of Remigius, Archbiſhop of Rhemes, by whom he was converted to Chriſtianity. He became afterwards Biſhop of Limoges. [Hen. de Erdford, cap. 49.]

Clodoveus, King of France, newly converted to Chriſt, granted that Biſhop, that whoſoever were detained in Priſon, if he would viſit them, they ſhould be forthwith releas'd. And, therefore, whereſoever he underſtood any Captives were detained, he haſted thither for their delivery. [Pet. de Natal. lib. 10. cap. 29.] But Surius, in his Life (inter alia) ſays, That God did ſo adorn and illuſtrate Leonard, that if any, who was caſt into Priſon did call on his Name, the Fetters would inſtantly break aſunder, and without any one hindring him, he might freely depart. And, thereupon, it happen'd, that many of far Countries being freed through him of their Bonds and Impriſonments came unto him, bringing with them their Fetters and Chains, whereupon he was wont to be invocated by Captives a God. He died about the 8. Id. of November, Anno Dom. 500. [Pet. de Natal. ut ſupra.] Others ſay, he died Idibus Octobris, Anno 569.

Feaſt, Nov. 6. The Day of his Commemoration is the ſixth Day of November.

Pecul. Cant. This is a Rectory, and one of the 13 Peculiars in this City, belonging to the Archbiſhop of Canterbury; the Patrons whereof were of old the Prior and Convent, and of latter time, the Dean and Chapter of Chriſt-Church, Canterbury.

Ibidem. In this Church were Monuments of the Doggets, one of which, namely, John Dogget, Vintner, who (together with Alice his Wife, were about 1456. buried here) gave Lands to this Church.

In the Year 1618. this Church, and alſo the Steeple (which was a Spire cover'd with Lead) was by caſualty of Fire ſo defaced and ruin'd, that the ſaid Steeple, and the Weſt-end of the Church thereto next adjoining were fain to be pull'd down, a new Foundation laid, enlarg'd three Foot towards the Eaſt, and new-built; and the Steeple being finiſh'd, the South-Wall towards the Church-yard being much decay'd, was alſo taken down and new-built, and the Church in other Parts repair'd, not without great Charge to the Inhabitants of the Pariſh. nor had any Relation to Lewiſham that I could ever find or hear of; therefore, I ſuppoſe, is ſo far miſtaken. He tells us, likewiſe, that Iſaac Colf was a Kentiſh-Man, born of gentile Extraction, educated in Chriſt-Church, Oxon, and as a Member thereof took the Degrees in Arts; that of Maſter being compleated, Anno 1611. How far this may be true of this our Abraham Colf I know not, ſaving that it appears above, that this our Abraham was Maſter of Arts when he was admitted Rector of this Church, which was Jan. 30. 1609. two Years before Iſaac Colf compleated that Degree. But to proceed, this our Abraham Colf died Decemb. 5. 1657. and was buried in the Church-yard at Lewiſham, hard by the South Wall of the Chancel, where is this Inſcription: viz. Here under lieth buried the Body of Abraham Colf late Miniſter of this Pariſh-Church of Lewiſham, who departed this Life the fifth Day of December, Anno Dom. 1657.

S. Leonard Foſterlane, Rectory.

THIS Church of S. Leonard is a Rectory, and was a ſmall Pariſh-Church for them of S. Martin le Grand. It ſtood on the Weſt-ſide of Foſterlane, in the Ward of Alderſgate, and in old Records is written Eccleſia S. Leonardi in Venella S. Vedaſti, London.

This Church (I gueſs) was founded between the Years 1231, and 1241. by the Dean and Canons of S. Martin le Grand. For, in the London Regiſtry lib. Baudake, at the Beginning thereof againſt the Inſide of the Cover, I find, an Inſtrument enter'd, whereby, upon a Difference like to ariſe between R. (is Rog. Niger) Biſhop of London, and Galfridus (de Lucy) the Dean (who was ſo between theſe Years) and the Chapter of S. Pauls on the one Part; and Walt. Kirkham, Dean of S. Martin le Grand, and his Canons on the other; upon their building of a Chapel in the Court of their Church, and propoſing to have the Pariſhioners, which were wont to reſort to the Altar of S. Leonard in their Conventual-Church, to come to this new Chapel as to their Pariſh-Church, to the Prejudice of the Church of London. It was agreed by and between the Parties above mention'd, that the ſaid Dean and Canons of S. Martin ſhould proceed to the Building of their ſaid Chapel, and that the whole Pariſh ſhould reſort to it, as to their Pariſh-Church; but ſo, as that the Rector thereof, which they ſhould preſent, ſhould be inſtituted thereto by the Biſhop of London, and he the ſaid Rector, and the Pariſhioners be ſubject to the Biſhop, and to the Archdeacon of London for ever; and ſhould anſwer to the ſaid Biſhop and Archdeacon all ſuch Dues and Duties, as other Pariſhes within this Dioceſe did.

Grey 60. Long after this, viz. in Novemb. 1429. one Thomas Newton then Rector of this Church, having in ſeveral things contemn'd the Biſhop's Juriſdiction over this Church, did before William Grey, Biſhop of London, then ſitting in Judgment in the ſame Church, humbly confeſs his Crimes by him committed in that reſpect; and ſubmitted himſelf to the ſaid Biſhop and his Succeſſors, and acknowledg'd the Juriſdiction, which the ſaid Biſhop, and his Succeſſors had over him, and his ſaid Church.

This Church from the firſt Erecting thereof, continued in the Patronage of the Dean of S. Martin le Grand, till ſuch time as King Hen. VII. annext that Deanry to the Abby of Weſtminſter; and from that time it has continued in that Abbot and Convent, and after them in the Dean and Chapter of Weſtminſter till this preſent. But according to the firſt Conſtitution thereof, ſubject to the Juriſdiction of the Biſhop of London, and under him to the Archdeacon in all Matters of Spiritual Cognizance, ſaving only in that of proving of Wills, and granting Adminiſtrations which belong to the Biſhop's Commiſſary.

Without this Church on the Eaſt-end was engraven this Name John Brokeitwell, an eſpecial founder, or new-builder of the ſame, and theſe Rhimes following: Weav. Fun. Mon. 393.

In this Church was the Monument of Robert Traps, Goldſmith (who died in 1526.) with an Epitaph thereon, beginning as followeth: Ibid.

When the Bells be merely roung
And the Maſſe devoutly ſoung
And the Meate merely eaten
Then ſall Robert Trappis, his Wyffs, and his Children be forgetten.

But this hapned not ſo to this Robert Traps; for he had a Daughter named Jodoca (or Joyce) the Widow of one Frankland; who by her munificent Benefaction to the Principal Fellows and Scholars of Brazenoſe-College, in Oxford, hath eterniz'd her Name among them; of whom Mr. Wood ſpeaks thus: viz. "Aliis pleriſq; Sodalitii Benefactoribus munificentia tantopere antecel-"luit, ut ab Æneanaſenſibus in publica poſt cibum gratiarum Actione nomi-"natim Commemoretur. And not only ſo; but in a grateful acknowledgment of her munificence towards them, they farther took care to make it known to others alſo, by erecting a fair Monument in the North-Wall of the Chancel of this Church, with a large Inſcription deſtroy'd in the late dreadful Fire of London, too long to be inſerted here, but may be ſeen in Stow's Survey, p. 325. or Weaver's Fun. Mon. p. 392. Antiq. Ox. 2. lib. 214.

In 1579. the old Church-yard belonging to this Pariſh, ſituate on the North-ſide of the Church, containing about 90 Foot in length, and about 12 Foot and Half in breadth, being too little for their Burying-place, was by agreement of the Dean and Chapter of Weſtminſter, Patrons of this Church, and the Parſon and Chief of the Inhabitants of this Pariſh leaſed out for 61 Years to John Weaver and others, Church-Wardens and Pariſhioners of the ſaid Pariſh; and a greater Piece of Ground containing in breadth at the Eaſt-end 79 Foot, and at the Weſt-end 75 Foot and three Inches, and in length at the North-ſide 93 Foot and Half, and on the South-ſide 79 Foot or thereabouts, within the Precinct of S. Martins aforeſaid called The Deans Garden, taken by the ſaid Church-Wardens and Pariſhioners for the Term of 62 Years, and being walled in for a Burying-place for the Inhabitants of this Pariſh, and call'd the the new Church-yard, was granted by way of exchange for 61 Years to the ſaid Parſon and Pariſhioners; all which was confirm'd by Dr. John Aelmer, then Biſhop of London, on Octob. 25. 1579. but ſo, that it ſhould not be prejudicial to the ordinary Juriſdiction of the Biſhops or Archdeacons of London for the future. Grindal 90.

In 1631. this Church was enlarg'd at the Coſts of the Pariſhioners, the Charge whereof amounted to the Sum of 500 l. and upwards. Sto. Sur. 844.

S. MAGNUS.

S. Magnus the Martyr (to whom this Church, probably, is dedicated; for there were divers other Martyrs of this Name, but none of them, of whom ſuch ſpecial notice is taken, as of this) ſuffer'd in Cæſarea, in Cappadocia, in the time of Aurelian the Emperor, Anno Dom. 276. under Alexander the Governour; who after he had expos'd this Holy Martyr, for refuſing to Sacrifice to the Pagan Gods twice to the fiery Furnace to be conſum'd in the Flames; thrice to Wild Beaſts to be devoured by them, but in vain; at laſt commanded him to be ſton'd; and when they had laid an heap of Stones on him, and thought he was dead, on a ſudden the Martyr of Chriſt, in every ones hearing, prayed to the Lord, that he would take away his Soul in Peace, and preſently gave up the Ghoſt. His Body was buried, in that City, in a new Coffin on the 14. Kal. Decemb. that is Aug. 18.

Some obſerve the Feſtivity of S. Magnus on the 19th of Auguſt; on which Day the Feaſt of S. Magnus the Martyr, Biſhop of Anagnia is celebrated.

S. Magnus, Rectory.

THIS Church of S. Magnus, call'd ſometimes Eccleſia S. Magni Martyris Civitatis London, juxta Pedem, vel ad Pedem Pontis, London, ſtandeth near the North-end of the Bridg, at the corner of Thames-ſtreet, in Bridg-Ward within. It is a Rectory, and ſubject to the Archdeacon.

Gilbert 201.

In the Year 1433. (Sir John Brockle then Mayor of London) upon a Controverſie that was then like to ariſe between the ſaid Mayor, and Commonalty of London, and the Bridg-Maſters on the one Part; and Richard Morysby Archdeacon of London, and Rector of this Church, on the other, about the Oblations, and other Spiritual Profits, which were made in a certain Chapel, call'd The Chapel of S. Thomas the Martyr upon the Bridg, within the Precincts of this Pariſh: There was a Compoſition or Agreement then made and confirm'd by Robert (Fitzhugh) then Biſhop of London, whereby (inter alia) it was agreed, That the Chaplains of the ſaid Chapel, and their Succeſſors, ſhould receive all the Profits of the ſaid Chapel to the Uſe of the ſame, and the Bridg, and ſhould pay yearly at Michaelmas the Sum of xx d. to the ſaid Church of S. Magnus, and to the Rector of the ſame, and to his Succeſſors for ever.

S. Thomas Chapel.
Sto. Sur. 28.

This Chapel of S. Thomas the Martyr, which was large, was built from the Foundation by a Maſon (being Maſter-Workman of London-Bridg) at his own Charge, before the Stone-Bridg was finiſh'd: For Stow tells us, That Peter Colechurch, who begun to Found that Bridg of Stone about the Year 1176. and deceas'd four Years before the ſame was finiſh'd (which was in the Year 1209.) was buried in the Chapel on the Bridg, in the Year 1205. which Chapel was then endowed for Two Prieſts, Four Clerks, &c. beſides Chantries ſince founded by John Hatfeld and others. After the finiſhing of this Chapel (which was the firſt Building upon thoſe Arches, but after in proceſs of time turn'd into a Dwelling-houſe;) ſundry Houſes at times were erected, and many Charitable Men gave Lands, &c. towards the Maintenance of the ſame Bridg.

Baudake 83.

In this Church of S. Magnus, Hugh Pourt (one of the Sheriffs of London, in the Year 1302.) and Margaret his Wife founded a perpetual Chantry.

Fitzjames 53.

Here was alſo another founded at the Altar of the Bleſſed Virgin (but about what time I find not) for the Souls of Sir John Depeden, Knight, and Elizabeth his Wife, and Robert Ramſey, and Joan his Wife, and of their Parents, and Beneſactors, and all the Faithful deceas'd.

Sto. Sur. 844.

In 1623, 24, and 25. this Church had many Repairs amounting to 500 l. and upwards. And in 1629. was richly and worthily Beautified at the Charge of the Pariſhioners.

The Patronage of this Church was formerly in the Abbot and Convent of Weſtminſter, and in the Abbot and Convent of Bermondſey, who were wont to preſent to it Alternis vicibus, till the general Suppreſſion in Hen. VIII. Reign. After which Q. Mary by her Letters Patents, dated the Third of March, in the firſt Year of her Reign, gave it (with other Churches in this City) to the then Biſhop of London, and his Succeſſors for ever, in whom it ſtill continues.

In the Year 1633. there hapned a moſt raging diſmal Fire on the North-ſide of London-Bridg, which by computation conſum'd above a Third Part of the Building there; by which means I find the Tyths of this Pariſh were much leſſen'd; for in the Return made of the annual Profits of this Church, in the Year 1636. it is ſaid thus: 90 Houſes before the Fire 109 l. and now about 40 Houſes fired.

This Church ſuffering the like Fate with others in the late general Conflagration of this City, is ſince rebuilt, and made the Parochial-Church for this, and the Pariſh of S. Margaret New-Fiſhſtreet, which is annext to it; and both together are made of the yearly Value of 170 l. in lieu of Tyths to the Incumbent.

In 1693. the Churchwardens preſented their Parſonage-Houſe in Church-yard-Alley, being burnt down in the late dreadful Fire, is ſince rebuilt, and leaſed out to Tho. Warner for Fourty Years, at 8 l. per Ann.

Alſo part of their Church, before the rebuilding thereof, laid into the Street for enlarging the Paſſage.

Likewiſe a Gift of xx s. to their Parſon for preaching on the 12th of Febr. yearly (which I ſuppoſe was the Day on which the aforeſaid Fire on London-Bridge happen'd) for preſerving their Church from being burnt.

About the firſt Foundation of Wadham-College, he tranſlated himſelf thither, and, as a Member thereof, took the Degree of Bach. of Arts; afterwards retiring to Lincoln-College, he proceeded in the ſame Faculty, took Holy Orders (was inſtituted to the Vicarage of Watford in Hertfordſhire, Dec. 21. 1618. but the Time of his Admiſſion to the Church of S. Magnus appears not.) At that time, and ſeveral Years after, he ſhew'd himſelf a zealous Man for the Church of England. But at length having not that Preferment which he expected, tho' he was a Pluraliſt, and look'd upon by the High Commiſſion as one guilty of Adultery, and a Vexer of two Pariſhes with continual Suits of Law, wherein he could find little or no Remedy, he became a ſcandalous and ſchiſmatical Lecturer, moving the People to Sedition; for which alſo being queſtion'd, he became incenſed againſt the Biſhops. And in 1640. upon the approach of the rebellious Times, preach'd (with others of the ſame ſtamp) "That for the "Cauſe of Religion it was lawful for the "Subjects to take up Arms againſt their law-"ful Sovereign. In the beginning of the Long-Parliament he was appointed by the Lords one of the Sub-Committee to ſettle Religion; became one of the Leaders up of Tumults to the Parliament-Doors; a Preacher before them; one of the Sub-Committee for the Advancement of Money to carry on the War againſt the King; and was, with John White the Centuriſt, Aſſeſſors to the Aſſembly of Divines; but before that, was Chaplain to Eſſex the Generals own Regiment of Horſe. In 1643. he was by the Long-Parliament made Lecturer on Sundays in the Evening in the Cathedral-Church of S. Paul's, for which he had a Penſion of 400 l. per An. and the Dean's Houſe ſetled upon him by Act of Parliament. Afterwards growing rich, he purchaſed ſeveral Lands, as the Mannour of Wells, belonging to the Biſhop thereof, and the Habitation of the Dean there, which he moſtly pull'd down and rebuilt. But upon the King's Reſtauration he loſt all; whereupon he retired to Watford aforeſaid, where exerciſing himſelf much in Penitence, and in obſerving the Duties of the Church, he was at length reduced to ſuch Poverty, that he was forc'd to ſell all, or moſt part of his Library, to buy Bread. He was much troubled with a Cancer in his Neck and Cheek, and died obſcurely, and in want, and was obſcurely buried in the middle of the Body of the Church at Watford, June 9. 1665. [*Ath. S. MARGARET.

THere are Four Churches, in this City, dedicated to S. Margaret, namely —— } — S. Margaret { Lothbury.
Moſes.
New Fiſhſtreet.
Pattens.

Mr. R. Smith's MS.

S. Margaret (call'd alſo by ſome Writers S. Marina and Marina) unto whoſe Commemoration, probably, theſe Four Churches, and alſo a Fifth in the Suburbs, call'd S. Margaret at Weſtminſter, were dedicated, was a holy Virgin and Martyr. She was born at Antioch in Piſidia, being the Daughter of Ædeſius, by others nam'd Theodoſius, a famous Prieſt of the Gentiles.

Olybrius, Preſident of the Eaſtern-Parts, was much enamour'd with her rare Beauty, and had a deſire to make her his Wife; but underſtanding that ſhe was a Chriſtian, when as by no means he could turn her from her Faith in Chriſt, nor mollifie her Zeal by any fair Perſuaſions, he try'd her by many cruel and unheard of Torments; but theſe nothing prevailing, ſhe was at laſt beheaded, on 31. Kal. Aug. or as ſome write, on the 3. Id. July, Ann. Chriſti 292. under the Reign of the Emperour Decius.

Feaſt, July 20.

The Feſtival Day of her Commemoration, is yearly celebrated on the 20th of July.

There are Three other Margarets, which were ſainted; but being of a later Date, are none of them held to be the Margaret to whoſe Memory theſe Churches above-mention'd are dedicated; for that very few Churches have been founded or newly erected in this City of London ſince the Norman Conqueſt, ſince which Time the ſaid Three Margarets were living, as appears by the ſeveral Stories related of them.

S. Margaret Lothbury, Rectory.

Archid. Lon.

THIS Church of S. Margaret ſtands on the North-ſide of the Street, call'd Lothbury, upon the Water-Courſe of Walbrook in Colemanſtreet-Ward. It is ſubject to the Archdeacon.

Sto. Sur. 292.

It ſeems, ſays Stow, to have been new-built in 1440. for Robert Large, then Mayor of London, gave to the Choir of this Church One Hundred Shillings, and 20 l. for Ornaments; more to the vaulting over the Watercourſe of Walbrook, by the ſaid Church, for enlarging thereof, 200 Marks.

Ibid. 845.

It was repair'd and beautifi'd at the Coſt and Charges of the Pariſhioners, in 1621.

Ibid. 292.

In this Church was buried Reginald Coleman, Son of Robert Coleman, in the Year 1483. which Robert may be ſuppoſed, ſays Stow, the firſt Builder or Owner of Colemanſtreet.

Anſelm Becket, John Julian, and Will. Ilford (ſays Stow) had Chantries here.

The Patronage of this Church (which is a Rectory) was of old in the Abbeſs and Convent of Barking in Eſſex, and ſo continu'd till the Diſſolution, upon which it came to the Crown, and hath remain'd in it ever ſince.

Sion-Colleg. MS.

In 1636. the yearly Profits of this Church were return'd as follow.

	l.	s.	d.
Tyths —— ——	79	00	00
Caſualties ——	10	00	00
A Parſonage-Houſe.

This Church was burnt down in the late dreadful Fire, but is ſince rebuilt, and made of the yearly Value of 100 l. in lieu of Tyths to the Incumbent; ſo that 'tis increas'd 21 l. per Ann. more than it was before.

In 1693. the Chureh-Wardens preſented the Parſonage-Houſe, burnt down in the late dreadful Fire, rebuilt ſince, and leas'd out for the term of 40 Years, at 40 s. per ann. Ground-Rent, no Gifts to the Church.

S. Margaret Moſes, Rectory.

Sto. Surv. 395. THIS Church of S. Margaret ſtood on the Eaſt-ſide of Friday-ſtreet in Bread-ſtreet-Ward, over-againſt Diſtaff-lane end, and is call'd S. Margaret Moſes, from one Moſes or Moyſes (as it ſeems) that was the Founder or New-builder thereof. It is likewiſe written, ſometimes, S. Margaret in Friday-ſtreet. Archid. Lond. It is a Rectory, and ſubject to the Archdeacon.

Mon. Angl. Vol. I. 415, &c. This Church was given to the Priory of S. Faith of Horſham or Horsford, in the County of Norfolk, by Robert Fitzwalter, the Founder thereof, in the Year 1105. (6. Henr. I.) and confirm'd to the Prior and Convent thereof, and to their Succeſſors, by Pope Alexander III. by his Bull, bearing Date at Turon, 7. Kal. June 1163. in the 4th Year of his Pontificate, which Priory was annext as a Cell to the Abbey of Conches in France, by the ſaid Robert, in performance of a Vow which he had made unto S. Faith, for looſing the Fetters from him and Sibyl his Wife, and bringing them out of Priſon, into which they were caſt by Thieves, who had robb'd them, as they were returning home thro' France, in Pilgrimage from Rome, into their own Country, and ſetting them in the right way to the ſaid Abby of Conches, where S. Faith lieth enſhrin'd, and where they were receiv'd with great Solemnity, and entertain'd there for twelve Days.

From the time then, that the ſaid Robert Fitzwalter gave this Church of S. Margaret (which was ſometime in the Reign of Henry I.) to the ſaid Priory of Horſham, it may be ſuppos'd, that that Prior and Convent continu'd Patrons thereof, till Edward III. and Richard II. ſeiz'd on the ſaid Priory, as a Priory-alien. And notwithſtanding it was made Prioratus-indigena, in the 16th of his the ſaid, King Richard's Reign, ann. 1392. yet it will appear by what follows, that from the 31. of May 1386. (10. Richard II.) the Patronage of this Church hath continu'd in the Crown all along to this Day.

Sto. Sur. 593. Here was of elder times (ſaith Stow) buried Nicolas Stanes and Nicolas Bray, who founded Chantries here.

Ibid. 485. This Church was repair'd and beautify'd in 1627. at the Coſt and Charges of the Pariſhioners.

In 1636. the annual Profits of this Church were return'd as followeth :

Sion-College, MS.

Tyths	59	02	04
Caſualties	10	00	00

In which return it is likewiſe ſaid, that there was an increaſe of Tyths of this Pariſh, in 20 Years, near 30 l. per. ann. but it does not appear, that there was any Parſonage-Houſe or Glebe belonging to the Rector of this Pariſh.

S. Mildred Bread-ſtreet, S. Margaret Moſes annex.

This Church being burnt down in the late dreadful Fire, was afterwards annext to that of S. Mildred Bread-ſtreet, and both together are made by Act of Parliament of the yearly Value of 130 l. in lieu of Tyths to the Incumbent ; but one part of the ſite of this Church, was by Virtue likewiſe of an Act of Parliament, ſold to the City for the widening of an Alley, call'd Piſſing-Alley, lying between Friday-ſtreet and Bread-ſtreet, and the Money ariſing by the Sale thereof, imploy'd towards the Paving and Beautifying of the ſaid Church of S. Mildred, which is now the Parochial-Church for both Pariſhes ; and the other part remains now, only as a Burying-place for the Inhabitants of this Pariſh.

He was ſome Years after made Miniſter of this Church (but whether he took Orders from a Biſhop my Author knows not) where continuing till after the Reſtauration he was ejected for Non-conformity ann. 1662. He died at North-Wauborough, in Hampſhire (where for ſome Years he had exercis'd his Function in private) in the Month of May or June 1682. and was buried frugally in ſome Churchyard, in that of North Wauborough as 'tis thought. S. Margaret

S. Margaret New-Fiſhſtreet, Rectory.

THIS Church of S. Margaret (ſometimes call'd S. Margaret juxta Pontem, London, ſometimes S. Margaret Bridgeſtreet, but now commonly, S. Margaret New-Fiſhſtreet) ſtood on the Eaſt-ſide of Fiſhſtreet-Hill, where now the Monument ſtands, in Bridge-Ward within, and is a Rectory ſubject to the Archdeacon, ſaving only as to Wills and Adminiſtrations, which belong to the Commiſſary. Archid.Com. Lond.

The Patronage thereof was formerly in the Abbot and Convent of Weſtminſter, till Q. Mary, in the firſt of her Reign, by her Letters-Patents, dated March 3. gave it (with others) to the Biſhop of London and his Succeſſors, for ever, in whoſe Collation it ſtill continues. Bonner, 377.

In this Church one Monument of Note was found, when Mr. Wood was Rector thereof; it was the Figure of a Man of good Reſpect, lying upon his Tomb according to the manner of Perſons of Antiquity, with this Inſcription, Sto.Surv.230.

> Joannes de Coggeſhall, Cives & Cordarius de Parochia S. Margaretæ de Bridgeſtreet, London, Anno 1384. An. Reg. Ricardi Secundi Octavo. Teſtamentum irrotulat. in Huſtingo London die Lunæ in Feſto S. Leonardi Abbatis, An. Reg. Richardi Secundi 9.

He lay buried in this Church under the Marble-Stone, in the Window, next to S. Peter's Altar, on the North-ſide of the Church.

It appears by a Leaſe, dated June 18. 1562. that the Parſon of this Pariſh, did lett two Shops and two Chambers, Parcels of this Parſonage-Houſe, for 21 Years, at four Marks per annum. Grindall, 11.

It appears likewiſe by another Leaſe, dated March 25. 1633. that the then Rector lett out two Shops, one Ware-houſe and two Tenements, next adjoyning and belonging to the Parſonage-houſe, for forty Years, which Parſonage-houſe and Premiſes were to be new-built by the Leſſee, and he to pay yearly for the ſaid Ware-houſe, to the Parſon, and Church-wardens, and their Succeſſors, 30*s.* towards the Reparations of this Church, and 25*l.* yearly to the ſaid Parſon and his Succeſſors, during the ſaid Term for the ſaid Shops, Ware-houſe and Tenements, upon Conſideration, that before the Feaſt of All-Saints, next enſuing the Date of the ſaid Leaſe, the Leſſee ſhould new-build, not only the Parſonage-houſe, for the Uſe and Benefit of the ſaid Parſon and his Succeſſors, but alſo the reſt of the Premiſes, upon which he was oblig'd to lay out at leaſt 300*l.* Laud, 37.

In 1636. the yearly Profits of this Church were return'd as followeth: Sion-College, MS.

This being the neareſt Church to that part of Pudding-Lane, where the late dreadful Fire of London, in the Year 1666. Sept. 2. firſt began, was (as I ſuppoſe) the firſt Church that was conſum'd thereby; and in the 19th of King Charles II. the better to preſerve the Memory of this dreadful Viſitation, in the Act of Parliament for the Re-building of the City of London, it was (inter alia) enacted, "That a Column or Pillar of Braſs or Stone ſhould be erected "on, or as near to the Place where the ſaid Fire ſo unhappily began, as "conveniently may be in perpetual Remembrance thereof, with ſuch Inſcri-"ption thereon, as hereafter by the Mayor and Court of Aldermen in that "behalf ſhall be directed. Upon which, the ſite of this Church and Church-yard was made Choice of, whereon to erect the ſaid Pillar, which ſince hath been there magnificently built of Portland-Stone. It is of the Doric Order, 175 Foot high from the Superficies of the Ground, and 15 Foot Diameter, all of ſolid Portland-Stone, with a fair Stair-Caſe in the middle, of black Marble, and a large Iron-Balcony at the Top. The Pedeſtal is likewiſe all of Portland-

Stone, 21 Foot ſquare, and 40 Foot high, carv'd with moſt exquiſite and ſignificant Figures to the Street-ſide, and on the other three ſides hath Inſcriptions (carv'd in large Letters) in Latin, too long to inſert here. This is commonly call'd, the Monument, the whole Height whereof, from the Bottom to Top, is 202 Foot, being the Diſtance between the Place where the Fire began, and where the Pillar is erected.

S. Magnus S. Margaret annext.

This Church is now united to that of S. Magnus, which is made the Parochial-Church for the Inhabitants of both the Pariſhes, which together, are made of the yearly Value of 170 l. in lieu of Tyths to the Incumbent.

Reg. Lond.

In 1693. the Church-Wardens preſented, That there was a Parſonage-houſe before the Fire of London, which was then burnt down, and the Ground whereon it ſtood was lett by Leaſe to George Ligoe to build on; but upon farther Conſideration, he reſign'd his Leaſe over to the City of London, for which the Miniſter receives 21 l. and the Pariſh 30 s. per annum.

They likewiſe preſented Mr. Moſyer's Gift out of the Pomgranate (now the Lobſter) and a little Shop adjoyning, to the uſe of the Church, 30 s. per annum.

Alſo more for the uſe of the Church, part of a Tenement of the Blue Boar in New-Fiſhſtreet, at 7 l. per ann. out of which is paid a Quit-Rent of 20 s. per ann. to the King.

S. Margaret Pattens, Rectory.

Sto. Surv. 228.

THIS Church of S. Margaret (which is a Rectory, and is in Billinſgate-Ward) ſtands at a Corner of a Lane, call'd S. Margaret Pattens, becauſe of old time Pattens were there uſually made and ſold; but of later time, call'd Rood-Lane, of a Rood there plac'd in the Church-yard of S. Margaret, whilſt the old Church was taken down and new-built; during which time, the Oblations made to this Rood, were imploy'd towards the Building of the Church. But in the Year 1538. about the 23d of May, in the Morning, the ſaid Rood was found to have been by People unknown, broken all to pieces, together with the Tabernacle wherein it had been plac'd.

Here were ſeveral Chantries founded for the Family of the Atwynes and others, at the Altar of the Bleſſed Virgin, in this Church.

It is ſubject to the Archdeacon, ſaving as to Wills and Adminiſtrations, which belong to the Commiſſary. Archid. Commiſſar. Lond.

As to the Patronage of this Church, it appears to have been in old time, in the Family of the Nevils, till the Year 1392. and, I ſuppoſe, ſome time after; for it appears by what follows, that the Lady Alice Nevil, Widow of Sir John Nevil, Kt. on the 3d of January that Year, had a Clerk admitted to this Church, at her Preſentation; not long after which, viz. Anno 1408. Stow tells us, that Robert Rikeden of Eſſex, and Margaret his Wife, confirm'd to Ric. Whitington and other Citizens of London, the Mannor of Leaden-Hall, with the Appurtenances, the Advowſon of S. Peter's Church (i. e. S. Peter's Cornhill) S. Margaret Pattens, &c. and in 1411. the ſaid Whitington and others confirm'd the ſame to the Mayor and Commonalty of London, whereby the Premiſes came to the Poſſeſſion of the City; ſo that from thenceforth, till this preſent, ſometimes the Mayor alone, ſometimes the Mayor and Aldermen, ſometimes the Mayor and Commonalty, and ſometimes the Mayor, Commonalty and Citizens of London, have from time to time preſented to this Church, as hereafter appears. Sto. Surv. 162.

This Church was repair'd and beautify'd at the Coſt and Charges of the Pariſhioners in 1614. Ibid. 845.

S. Martin (to whom theſe Churches, beſides one in the Suburbs, namely, S. Martin in the Fields, were dedicated) was born in Sabaria, a Town in Hungary. His firſt Education was at Ticinum or Pavie, in Italy, under his Parents, who were Pagans. From his Infancy he affected the Chriſtian Religion, which his Father being a Soldier, perceiving, ſent him into the Wars, firſt under Conſtantius, and then into France under Julian; following this Courſe about three Years, on a time, he met at the Gate of the City Amiens, a poor naked Man, and Martin having nothing about him, but his Cloak which he wore (for he had beſtow'd the reſt to like Uſes) he cut off one half of it with his Sword and gave it the poor Man, keeping the other half to himſelf. He was afterwards baptis'd, and going to S. Hilary, Biſhop of Poitiers, he abode a while with him, being firſt made an Exorciſt, or as others ſay, a Reader. He publickly oppos'd the Arrians, whereupon he was openly ſcourg'd, and driven out of the City in Illyricum. He return'd again into France, and was afterwards made Biſhop of Tours, Anno Chriſti 376. where he had terrible Conflicts with the Arrians, not without Peril of his Life and Fortunes; when he had govern'd the Church of Tours 26 Years (others ſay 36.) in the 81ſt Year of his Age, Arcadius and Honorius being Emperors, he fell ſick of a Fever, whereof he died, Anno Chriſti 399. or as others write, 404.

S. Martin Ironmonger-Lane, Rectory.

Sto.Surv.282. THIS Church of S. Martin (which is a Rectory) ſtood at the Eaſt-ſide of Ironmonger-Lane (ſo call'd from Ironmongers dwelling there) in Cheap-Ward; it was a ſmall Church, call'd S. Martin Pomary, upon what Occaſion, Stow ſays, he knows not, but it is ſuppos'd of Apples growing there. It is Archid.Com. Lond. ſubject to the Archdeacon, ſaving only as to Wills and Adminiſtrations, which belong to the Commiſſary.

This Church was given to the Prior and Canons of S. Bartholomew in Weſt-Smithfield, by Ralph Triket (who by the way was alſo a Benefactor to the Priories of the Holy-Trinity, Chriſt-Church, and of S. John of Jeruſalem) for in a Mon. Angl. Vol.II. *p.*171. Charter of King Henry III. dated at Wincheſter, June 15. in the 37th of his Reign, I find this Church in theſe Words, viz. “Ex dono Radulphi Triket Eccleſiam Sancti Martini in Pomario, confirm'd (among others) to the ſaid Prior and Convent of S. Bartholomew and their Succeſſors, for ever; in whom the Patronage thereof continu'd till the general Suppreſſion, upon which it came to the Crown, and hath remain'd in it ever ſince.

Bonner, 40. Henry at Roth, Citizen and Chandler of London, in the 22. Edward III. founded a Chantry in this Church, and order'd ſix Marks to be paid yearly to a Prieſt to officiate there, and forty Pence for a Torch, out of his great Inn in S. Ethelburgh's-Pariſh, in Biſhopſgate-ſtreet, which in 24. Hen. VIII. upon the then Tenants refuſal to pay the ſaid reſpective Sums, out of the Rents thereof, was confirm'd to the ſaid Chantry by the King, with the Advice and Conſent of the Lords-Spiritual and Temporal, and Commons aſſembled in Parliament, with Power to diſtrain for the ſaid Sums and their Arrears.

Braybroke, 92. Here was likewiſe another perpetual Chantry founded for the Soul of William Forbour, to which the Biſhop of London collated in 1391. as devolv'd to him by Lapſe.

Sto.Surv.852. In 1627. a great Part of the North-Wall of this Church, being very much decay'd, was rebuilt, and in 1629. the whole Church was repair'd and beautify'd at the Charge of the Pariſhioners.

In 1636. the yearly Profits of this Church were thus return'd; Sion-College, MS.

A Parſonage-Houſe

This Church, being burnt down in the late dreadful Fire, is ſince annext to that of S. Olave's Jewry, which is now the Parochial-Church for both the Pariſhes, and both together are made of they early Value of 120 l. in lieu of Tyths to the Incumbent; and the ſite of this Church remains now only as a Burying-Place for the Inhabitants of this Pariſh. S. Ol. Jewry, S. Mart. Ironmonger-Lane annext.

In 1693. the Church-Wardens preſented the Parſonage-Houſe, burnt down in the late dreadful Fire, but was with the Toft of Ground adjoyning to it, demiſ'd and lett out by Dr. Hibbert, the late Rector, on Aug. 21. 1673. to ſeveral of the Pariſhioners for forty Years, at the reſerv'd Rent of 8 l. per ann. to the ſaid Parſon and his Succeſſor; in which Leaſe, and under the ſame Ground-Rent, is alſo contain'd a Shed or Ground-Houſe, abutting on the Weſt-end of the Church-yard. Reg. Lond.

They preſented likewiſe, that Mr. Stodder (beſides 50 s. yearly to the uſe of the Poor of this Pariſh) left 40 s. yearly for a Sermon, to be preach'd on S. James's Day, by an unbenefic'd Miniſter, in the Commemoration of the Deliverance, in the Year 1588. both which Sums are to be paid by the Ironmongers Company.

He was Doctor of Divinity of Cambridge, and ſupplicated, that he might be incorporated in the ſame Degree at Oxford, ann. 1539. but whether really he was ſo, my Author ſays, he knows not. v Edw. Sparks (long ſince Doctor of Divinity) was for his Loyalty in the late Rebellion, ejected out of this his Church by Sequeſtration, and plundred by the Rebels, [Merc. Ruſt. 255.] but out-living the Storm, was reſtor'd again to it, upon the coming in of King Charles II. ſoon after which, he reſign'd it, and became Miniſter of S. James Clarkenwel, after that, of Walthamſtow in Eſſex, to which he was admitted Vicar, Dec. 26. 1662. but reſign'd it about the latter end of 1665. and was on Jan. 23. that Year, inſtituted to the Vicarage of Tottenham, in Middleſex, to which he was preſented by the Dean and Chapter of S. Paul's, where he was Reſident, ann. 1688. [Reg. Lond.] He is the Author of Scintilla Altaris. a Book formerly of no little Eſteem among ſome People.

w Tho. Neaſt was originally of Jeſus-College in Cambridge, but made Fellow of New-College, Oxon. by the Viſitors, where in 1650. Jan. 14. he took the Degree of Maſter of Arts, and afterwards, by his Warden and Society, was preſented to the Rectory of Hardwick in Bucks; thence going to London, he liv'd for ſome time after his Majeſty's Reſtauration, a Nonconformiſt, and preach'd in Conventicles. Afterwards conforming, he was admitted Rector of this Church, as above (which being burnt down in 1666. he was (not) before the grand Conflagration (as my Author hath it) but ſome Years after) preſented to the Church of S. Stephen Coleman-ſtreet. [Ath. Ox. Vol. II. p. 773.] to which Church he was admitted May 11. 1671. and voided it by his Death, before Dec. 19. 1678.

S. Martin Ludgate, Rectory.

Sto. Sur. 372.
Archid. Lond.

On the North-ſide of Ludgate-ſtreet (formerly call'd Bowyer-Row, of Bowyers dwelling there in old time) next unto Ludgate, in the Ward of Faringdon within, ſtands this Church, and is a Rectory ſubject to the Archdeacon.

Weav. Fun. Mon. 386.

Our old Engliſh Writers affirm, That Lud King of the Britains (whom they make to be the Repairer or New-builder of London, and particularly of Ludgate (which he built, as Jeffery of Monmouth ſaith, about 66 Years before Chriſt's Nativity) and to this Day retaineth his Name, and is call'd Ludgate) was buried much about this Place.

Ibidem.

And the Britains record, that Cadwallo (call'd the Valiant King of the Britains) after he had reign'd in great Honour the ſpace of 48 Years, died in Peace, Nov. 20. Anno Chriſti 677. and was buried in this Place; in whoſe time, the Church of S. Martin was built, as Robert of Gloceſter tells us, who ſpeaking of this Noble King Cadwallo, ſaith,

> A Chirch of Sent Martyn livyng he let rere,
> In whyche yat men ſhold goddys ſeruyſe do,
> And ſing for his Soule and al Chriſtene alſo.

Sto. Sur. 372.

But to ſpeak of this Church of later times; it was new-built about the Year 1437. For Sir John Michael, then Mayor, and the Commonalty of this City, granted to William Downe, Parſon of S. Martin Ludgate, a parcel of Ground, containing in Length 28 Foot, and in Breadth 24 Foot, to ſet and build their Steeple upon. This Church was repair'd and beautify'd at the Coſt of the Pariſhioners, Anno 1623. Ibid. 852.

Ibid. 88.

Will. Sevenoke, Grocer, who founded a Free-School and Alms-Houſes in the Town of Sevenoke in Kent, and was Mayor of London in 1419. was buried in this Church, where he had a Monument.

Bonner, 377.

This Church was formerly in the Gift of the Abbot and Convent of Weſtminſter, and ſo continu'd till Q. Mary, by her Letters Patents, dated March 3. in the firſt Year of her Reign, gave this Church (with others) to the Biſhop of London and his Succeſſors, for ever, in whoſe Collation it hath remain'd ever ſince.

Grindall, 41.

There was a Parſonage-Houſe belonging to the Rector, lying on the North-ſide thereof (but the Dimenſions of it are not ſpecify'd) which was lett by Leaſe, dated July 17. 1566. by the then Parſon of this Pariſh, for 21 Years, at 26 s. 8 d. per ann. Rent, and the Leaſe was confirm'd by the Biſhop.

But this Parſonage-Houſe, ſituate as it ſhould ſeem, within the Wall of the Church, is now laid into the Church, and made part of it, but in lieu thereof, the Tyths are in the new Settlement augmented to 30 l. per annum.

On the 21ſt of March, in the 2d of Queen Elizabeth, it was agreed upon by Common-Council, that Ludgate-Priſon ſhould pay Tyths, Clerk's-Wages, and Church-Duties to this Church of S. Martin Ludgate.

Sion-College, MSS.

In 1636. there having been lately an increaſe of Tyths in this Pariſh, of 60 l. per ann. the yearly Profits of this Church were then return'd as followeth:

	l.	s.	d.
Tyths —— ——	120 :	00 :	00
Caſualties ———	20 :	00 :	00
A Parſonage-Houſe

But this Church being burnt down in the late dreadful Fire, is again new-built, and made of the yearly Value of 160 l. in lieu of Tyths to the Rector, ſo that the Parſon hath 40 l. per ann. more than the Tyths were before, but 30 l. per ann. of it is in lieu of the Parſonage-Houſe, as is above-ſaid.

Reg. Lond. In 1675. March 1. the then Parſon and Church-Wardens of this Pariſh, lett a Leaſe for 31 Years to William Simmons, of a Room newly built by him over their Veſtry, being in Length 35 Foot 9 Inches; and in Breadth, at the Eaſt-end, about 13 Foot; and at the Weſt-end, about 11 Foot 8 Inches, at 40 s. per ann. Rent.

Here was no Church-yard (as the Inhabitants ſay) belonging to this Church, but before the late dreadful Fire, they had a Burying-place allow'd them in the Cathedral-Church of S. Paul.

In 1693. the Church-Wardens preſented four Gift-Sermons, which are ſtill maintain'd at 10 s. a Sermon, but were at firſt 13 s. 4 d.

Alſo, that upon the Rebuilding of the City of London, there was an Encroachment made upon this Church, part of the Front being laid to the Street.

S. Martin Orgar, Rectory.

Archid. Commiſſar. Lond.

THIS Church of S. Martin (which is a Rectory) ſtood in S. Martin's-lane, near Candlewick-ſtreet, in Candlewick-ſtreet Ward, and therefore is ſometimes recorded by the Name of S. Martin juxta Candlewick-ſtreet, but more commonly, S. Martin Orgar. It is in the Collation of the Dean and Chapter of S. Paul's, but ſubject to the Archdeacon, ſaving only as to Wills and Adminiſtrations, which belong to the Commiſſary.

Reg. Dec. & Cap. lib. A. f. 17.

It is call'd S. Martin Orgar, from Odgarus or Ordgarus, who gave this Church (with that of S. Botolph Billinſgate) to the Canons of S. Paul's, for by the Regiſtry of the Deans and Chapters of that Church, it appears, that in the Reign of King Richard I. John Bocumter and Dionyſia his Wife, ſu'd the Canons of S. Paul's, before the King's Juſtices, for the two Churches; but upon inſpection of a Charter, which the ſaid Canons produc'd, whereby it appear'd, that they had theſe Churches aforeſaid, of the Gift of the ſaid Ordgarus, and of his Sons, and of Chriſtina, the Mother of the ſaid Dionyſia, they renounc'd their Suit, and quitted all Claims to the ſaid Churches under their Seals; and the ſaid Canons thereupon, promis'd to celebrate the Obits of the ſaid John and Dionyſia, and alſo of the ſaid Ordgarus; all which was done in pleno uſtengo per Conceſſionem & Licentiam Domini Ranulfi de Glanvil, Domini Regis Juſtic.

When Ralph de Diceto was Dean, anno 1181. (which was before the commencing of the aforeſaid Suit) the State of this Church ſtood thus.

" Eccleſia Sancti Martini eſt Canonicorum, & reddit eis xviii d. per ma-
" num Chriſtine perſonæ. Solvit Synodalia xii d. Archidiacono xii d. Habet " Cœmiterium.

Reg. Dec. & lib. B. f. 37.

In 1356. July 26. the King granted Licence to Simon de Morden and Alice his Wife, to give one Piece of Ground, containing in Length 47 Foot, and in Bredth 33 Foot, lying between this Church and that of S. Michael Crooked-Lane, contiguous to this Church-yard, for enlarging the ſaid Church-yard, John Houghton being then Parſon of S. Martins.

Pat. 30. Ed. III. *p.*2. *m.*1.

Sir William Crowmer or Cromer (Mayor of London in 1413.) built a proper Chapel on the South-ſide of this Church, and was buried there in an antient Tomb, 1533. (I ſuppoſe it ſhould be 1433.)

Sto. Surv. 238.

In 1630. the Steeple of this Church was repair'd, the Eaſt-Window of the Chancel, and three great South-Windows were glaz'd anew, which with the Plummer's Work and Tiling, amounted to 122 l. 6 s. 6 d.

Ibid. 853.

In 1636. there having been an increaſe of Tyths in this Pariſh, of 30 l. per ann. the yearly Profits thereof were return'd as followeth:

But this Church being burnt down in the late dreadful Fire, is annext to that of S. Clement Eaſtcheap, which is made a Parochial-Church for the Inhabitants of both Pariſhes, and both together are made of the yearly Value of 140 l. in lieu of Tyths to the Incumbent; and the ſite of this Church remains now, only as a Burying-place for the Inhabitants of this Pariſh.

S. Clement Eaſtcheap, S. Martin Orgar annext.

In 1693. the Church-Wardens preſented the Parſonage-Houſe burnt down in the late dreadful Fire, but ſince rebuilt, and leas'd out for 40 Years from the Year 1673. upon a Ground-Rent of 5 l. per annum, to be paid to the Parſon and his Succeſſors.

Reg. Lond.

Likewiſe, that Sir Will. Cromer (above-named) by his Will in 1421. gave to this Pariſh, his Houſe or Tenement in Sweetings-Lane, and likewiſe his Houſes and Gardens in Crutchet-Friers, for the Repairs and Ornaments of the Church, and for the uſe of the Poor.

Alſo, that Sir Humfry Walwyn, in 1613. gave by his Will (inter alia) 10 s. yearly for a Sermon to be preach'd on the 5th of November, for ever.

He was Bachelor of Arts of Cambridge ; ordain'd Deacon by the Biſhop of Worceſter , Sept. 26. 1563. and Prieſt by the ſame Biſhop on the 19th of December following, aged 25 Years. S. Martin Outwich, Rectory.

Sto. Sur. 187. ON the South-part of Theeneedle (now Threedneedle) Street, at the Eaſt-end thereof by the Well with Two Buckets (now turn'd to a Pump) in Broadſtreet-Ward is this Pariſh-Church of S. Martin, call'd Oteſwich (now corruptly Outwich) of Martin de Oteſwich, Nicholas de Oteſwich, William Oteſwich, and John Oteſwich Founders thereof (ſaith Stow) and all buried there, as appear'd by their antient Monuments.

Archid. Com. Lond. This is a Rectory, and ſubject to the Archdeacon, ſaving only as to Wills and Adminiſtrations, which belong to the Commiſſary.

This Church, in antient time, was in the Gift of John, Earl of Warren and Surrey ; for it appears, that he preſented to it in the Reign of Edw II. and any lawful Iſſue, Anno 1347. (21. Edw. III.) and leaving his Lands to the Crown, from whence, probably, the Advowſon of this Church was purchaſed by John Churchman (who preſented to it in 1387.) for William and John Sto. Sur. 188. Oteſwich ; for Stow tells us, That this John Churchman (who was one of the Sheriffs of London in 1385. and was buried in this Church) for William and John Oteſwich (by Licence of Hen. IV. in the 6th of his Reign) gave the Advowſon or Patronage of this Church, Four Meſſuages, and Seventeen Shops, with the Appurtenances in the Pariſh of S. Martin Oteſwich, &c. to the Maſter and Wardens of the Taylors and Linnen-Armorers (now call'd Merchant-Taylors, by which name they were incorporated by King Hen. VII. in the 17th of his Reign, Anno 1501.) Keepers of the Guild and Fraternity of S. John Baptiſt, in London, and to their Succeſſors in perpetual Alms, to be employ'd upon the poor Brethren and Siſters ; by Vertue of which Grant the ſaid Company hath continued Patrons of this Church ever ſince.

Stokeſley 41. The Inhabitants of this Pariſh for want of room in their own, did formerly uſe to bury their Dead in a Cœmitery contiguous to the Cathedral-Church of S. Pauls. But having about the Year 1539. with the Conſent of the Dean and Chapter of S. Pauls, and of the then Rector of Alhallows on the Wall gotten ten a ſmall Piece of Ground in this Pariſh, lying along next London-Wall, containing in length 52 Foot, and in breadth 21 Foot towards the Eaſt, and 18 Foot towards the VVeſt, with an intent to make a Burying-place thereof: They procured a Commiſſion or Faculty bearing date 13. of June, 1539. of John Stokeſley then Biſhop of London, for the Conſecrating of the ſame to that End and Purpoſe; which being accordingly done, they continue to make uſe of it for a Burying-place to this Day.

S. Martin Vintry, Rectory.

Sto. Sur. 261. AT the South-corner of Royal-ſtreet was the fair Church of S. Martin, call'd in the Vintry, ſometimes call'd S. Martin de Beremand-Church, in Vintry-VVard, and is a Rectory, ſubject to the Archdeacon, ſaving only as to Archid. Com. Lond. VVills and Adminiſtrations, which belong to the Commiſſary.

This Church ſeems to be at leaſt as old as the Conqueror's time, for, I find, Mon. Angl. 1. Vol. 117. that Ralph Peverell (who liv'd in his Reign) gave the Church of S. Martin, in London (which I take to be this Church) to the Abby-Church of S. Peter, in Gloceſter. And it will appear by what follows, that the Abbot and Convent of that Church preſented to it in 1388. and ſo down along from that time till the diſſolution or alteration of that Abby by King Hen. VIII. from a Conventual to a Cathedral-Church, upon which diſſolution this Church of S. Martin came to the Crown; for it appears, that King Hen. VIII. in 1540. preſented to this Church as devolved to him per Extinctionem & diſſolutionem nuper Monaſterii S. Petri Gloceſter.

VVhen King Hen. VIII. preſented to this Church as aforeſaid, it was at the nomination of John Wellysburn, Eſq; and others, to whom it ſeems the right of nomination for that Turn did belong by reaſon of a Grant thereof made to them by the Dean and Chapter of the Collegiate-Church of Weſtbury upon Trym, in the Cioceſe of Worceſter, to whom it appears the Right of Nomination to this Church did for ſome time before appertain; for in 1488. and 1519. it appears, That the ſaid Abbot and Convent of Gloceſter preſented both times at the Nomination of the ſaid Dean and Chapter of Weſtbury. But before that, it likewiſe appears, that the ſaid Abbot and Convent preſented all along without any ſuch Nomination. So that in the Year 1488. or ſomewhat before, it ſhould ſeem the ſaid Abbot and Convent of Gloceſter granted the nomination to this Church to the ſaid Dean and Chapter of Weſtbury, which Nomination, as well as the Patronage (ſaving the abovementioned Grant to John Wellysburn and others) devolving to the Crown, upon the Diſſolution became extinct. And in 38. Hen. VIII. Decemb. 10. to the Advowſon of this Church (which it ſhould ſeem was ſomewhat before granted to Sir Ralph Sadler) was by him granted back to the King again (together with the Advowſon of the Vicarage of Kemſey, in Worceſterſhire) for which the ſaid Sir Ralph had in recompence the Right of Nomination to the Parſonage of Wolford, in the County of Gloceſter, granted to him and his Heirs. After which King Edw. VI. granted the Advowſon of this Church of S. Martin to the Biſhop of Worceſter and his Succeſſors, who have continued Patrons thereof ever ſince. Col.M.Grim.

This Church was new built about the Year 1399. by the Executors of Mathew Columbars, a Stranger born, a Burdeaux Merchant of Gaſcoign and French Wines: And new Roofed by Sir Ralph Aſtry, Mayor of London, in 1493. who died in 1494. and was buried in the Body of this Church, over whoſe Grave was a good Plate-ſtone, at the Entrance into the Choir, with an Inſcription in it, which may be ſeen in Stow. Sto. Sur. 261.

Here were likewiſe buried in this Church Sir John Giſors, Mayor of London, in 1311. and his Son Henry Giſors, and John his Brothers; which Sir John Giſors was alſo Conſtable of the Tower, and dwelt over againſt this Church of S. Martin in a large Houſe built of Stone and Timber, with Vaults for the Stowage of Wines, and was call'd the Vintry. Ib. 225. In which Houſe afterwards Henry Picard, Vintner (who was Mayor in the Year 1356.) feaſted Four Kings, viz. the Kings of England, France, Cyprus, and Scots, and other great Eſtates all in one Day. Ibid. 553.

Here was a Chantry founded for the Souls of John Giſors, Citizen of London, and Iſabel his Wife. And the firſt Patron that I find, which preſented unto it was Bartholomew, Lord Burgherſh, which was in 1368. and after him John Cornwallis, Citizen, who preſented to it ſeveral times. Sudbury 57.

This Church was in Part re-edified, and in many Parts repair'd and beautified in 2. Jac. I. at the Coſt and Charges of the Pariſhioners, which amounted to above 460 l. and was again at their Coſt repair'd and beautified in 1632. Sto. Sur. 853.

In 1636. the yearly Profits of this Church were return'd as followeth: Sion Col. MS.

Caſualties	12	00	00

But this Church being burnt down in the late dreadful Fire, was ſince united to that of S. Mic. Royal, which is made the Parochial-Church for both the Pariſhes, and both together are made of the yearly Value of 140 l. in lieu of Tyths to the Incumbent. But the Site of this Church remains now only as a Burying-Place for the Inhabitants of this Pariſh. S. Mic. Roy. S. Mart. Vint. annext.

In 1693. the Church-Wardens in their Preſentment ſay, That there is no Parſonage-houſe nor Glebe belonging to this Church, nor any Legacies or Bequeſts given to it. Reg. Lond.

h Joh. Leiſley, or Leſley was born of the antient Family of his Name of Balqubaine, in the North Parts of Scotland, and nearly related to both the Count Leſleys, who ſucceſſively rendred themſelves conſpicuous by their Arms in Germany; receiv'd ſome Academical Education in his own Country (at Aberdenee, as my Author ſaith he hath heard;) and afterwards for ſome time in Oxford; but whether he took a Degree there in Arts, it appears not. Afterwards he travell'd into Spain, Italy, and Germany, but moſt in France; where he perfected his Studies, and became remarkable for the moſt polite and abſtruſe Points of Learning. He ſpake French, Spaniſh, and Italian, equal to the Natives, and had ſuch an extraordinary command of the Latin-Tongue, that it was ſaid of him when he was in Spain, Solus Leſleius Latine loquitur. He was from his tender Years converſant in Courts, where he learned that Addreſs and Freedom which was peculiar to his Education, and gave a particular Air even to his Preaching; whence it was ſaid of him, and of another Biſhop of his Name, That no Man Preach'd more gracefully than the One, nor with more Authority than the Other. Theſe Accompliſhments introduc'd him to be treated even with familiarity by ſeveral Princes and Great Men abroad: And he was particularly happy in the good Eſteem of his Maſter King Charles I. who admitted him to ſit at his Council-Table in Scotland and Ireland (as his Father King James had done for the Firſt) in both which he was continued by King Char. II. (He was Rector of this Church of S. Martin, but the time of his Admiſſion to it appears not; but it became void Anno 1628. by his being promoted to the Biſhoprick of the Iſles in Scotland, as appears above;) the chiefeſt Advancement he had in that Kingdom: Where ſitting ſeveral Years, not without ſome trouble from the Rebels, he was tranſlated thence to the Sea of Rapboe, in Ireland, Ann. 1633. and the ſame Year was made one of his Majeſties Privy Council in that Kingdom. When he firſt came to the ſaid Dioceſe, he found the Revenue of that Biſhoprick much embezeld, ſeveral Gentlemen in that Country having engroſs'd great part of it to themſelves, and combin'd together to maintain what they had got: But ſo it was, that he by his activity did, tho' a Stranger, retrieve from them by an expenſive Suit at Law, what they had gotten; and by that means increas'd the Revenue of the ſaid Sea near a third Part. He built a noble and ſtately Palace for his Succeſſors the Biſhops of Rapboe, there being none in that Dioceſe before his acceſs to it; he contriv'd it for Strength as well as Beauty, which prov'd of good Uſe in that broken Country, for it held out againſt the Iriſh during the whole Rebellion in 1641. and preſerv'd great Part of that Country when the ſaid Rebellion broke out, and the Iriſh Rebels ſpread over the Country, and all Men forc'd to fight for their Lives, and particularly thoſe under his Protection, and in his Dioceſe, yet he would not take upon him any Military Command, as not becoming his Character, tho' in effect he perform'd the Office of a General among them, even to the expoſing his Perſon, whenever there was occaſion. Of which a remarkable Inſtance is told us in the Epiſtle to the Reader to the Hiſtory of the Execrable Iriſh Rebellion, written by Dr. Edward Borlaſe, viz. "That when Sir Ralph Gore, at Matchribeg, " with many other Britiſh Inhabitants were " reduc'd to great extremity, by a long Siege, " and a neceſſity of a ſudden ſurrender of " themſelves without hope of Quarter, to " the outraged Cruelty of the Iriſh; the Bi- " ſhop ſallied amidſt the Flames of the whole " Country, and reliev'd him, at the time re- " duc'd to ſuch ſtreights, as he and they were " forc'd to caſt their Diſhes into Ball. I ſay, " that after the Loggan Forces, conſiſting of " three Regiments had refuſed to hazard a " Relief, the ſaid Biſhop with his Company, " Tenants and Friends did attempt and perfect " it, evidencing in that Inſtance as much per- " ſonal Valour, as regular Conduct, which " is at this Day remembred in Ireland with " much aſtoniſhment. After the Rebellion, when His Majeſties Cauſe (King Char. I.) was there maintain'd by the Royaliſts, and ſuch as had fled into Ireland after the declenſion of His Cauſe in England, he raiſed a Foot-Company, and maintain'd them at his own Charges, while his Affairs had any Proſpect, for he was Loyal, if it were poſſible, to exceſs. He endured a Siege in his Caſtle of Raphoe, before he would ſurrender it to Oliver, and held out the laſt in that Country. He declar'd then againſt the Presbyterian, as well as Popiſh pretences for Rebellion, and would neither join in the Treaſon nor Schiſm of thoſe times, but held unalterably to the Practice as well as Principles of the Church of England, whoſe Liturgy he continued always in his Family after he was thruſt out of the Church; and even in Dublin he had frequent Confirmations and Ordinations; for which, tho' he was perſecuted by the Rebels, yet he perſiſted, and ſeveral of the preſent Iriſh Clergy (of whom the Archbiſhop of Tuam is one) were then as Confeſſors admitted into Holy Orders by him. After his Majeſties Reſtauration, he went into England to preſent himſelf, and flew with that zeal, that he rode from Cheſter to London, which is 150 Miles in 24 Hours. In 1661. he was tranſlated to the Sea of Cloghere upon the Tranſlation thence of Dr. Hen. Jones to Meath (who had ſucceeded in Cloghere, Dr. James Spotſwood a Scot, buried in S. Benedict's Chapel, in the Abby-Church of Weſtminſter, March 31. 1645.) and afterwards His Majeſty would have promoted him to a Sea more profitable, in requital of his great Sufferings, but he excus'd himſelf, and was reſolv'd to end his Labours among thoſe with whom he had ſuffer'd, and where his influence was moſt beneficial. He was a Perſon very temperate, which was the Reaſon that he attain'd to a great Age, and was ſo great a ſtranger to Covetouſneſs, that he hardly underſtood Money, which yet he took care to employ to the beſt Uſes. His Memory was prodigious in his younger Years, not only natural but acquir'd, for he had ſtudied and written of the Art of Memory, and improv'd it to great Advantage. He wrote ſeveral Treatiſes curious and learned, which were deſign'd to ſee the Light, but were all loſt, together with his great Library of many Years collection, and ſeveral Manuſcripts, which he had brought from ſeveral Countries, partly by the Iriſh, and partly by the Proteſtant Army in the time of King Will. III. Ann. 1689, 90. He died in 1671. aged 100 Years and more; being then as 'twas computed, the antienteſt Biſhop in the World. His death happed at his Seat, call'd Caſtle-Leſley, alias Glaſlogh, and was there buried in a Church of his own Building, which he had made the Pariſh-Church by Vertue of an Act of Parliament for that purpoſe in Ireland, which Church was conſecrated to S. Salvator. Sir James Ware, in his Commentaries of the Iriſh Biſhops, tells us, That this Biſhop Leſley, was Doctor of Divinity of Oxon. And it hath been obſerv'd that after his Name he did write D. L. L. (i. e. Doctor of both Laws) but where he took theſe or either of theſe Degrees is not certainly known. [Ath. Ox. 2. Vol. 674, 675.]

i Bruen, or Bruno Ryves was born in Dorſetſhire, made one of the Clerks of New-College in 1610. where he continued till he was Batchelor of Arts, became one of the Chaplains of Magdalen-College in 1616. ſoon after he proceeded in Arts, became a noted and florid Preacher, was Rector of this Church of S. Martin, Vicar of Stanwell, in Middleſex, Chaplain to his Majeſty King Charles I. and in 1639. proceeded Doctor of Divinity. But the Rebellion breaking out ſoon after, he was ſequeſtred of his Rectory by the Presbyterians, plunder'd, and forc'd to fly; and at length loſing his Vicarage, he ſhifted from place to place, and, by the Favour of his Majeſty, had the Deanry of Chicheſter, and the Maſterſhip of the Hoſpital there confer'd upon him, tho' little or no Profit accru'd thence, till after the Reſtauration of King Charles II.

S. Martin-le-Grand, College.

Sto. Surv. 327. IN S. Martin's Lane, within Alderſgate, was of old time a fair and large College, of a Dean and Secular Canons or Prieſts, and was call'd S. Martin-le-Grand; founded by Ingilricus and Edwardus (or Girardus) his Brother, in the Year of Chriſt 1056. and confirmed by William the Conqueror, by his Charter bearing date 1068. in the Second Year of his Reign: By which (among other great Priviledges and Exemptions from temporal Juriſdiction granted to the Canons of this College) he exempted it from all the eccleſiaſtical Juriſdiction in theſe Words, viz. " Sit verò ipſa prænominata Eccleſia (S.Martini) " & ejuſdem Eccleſiæ Canonici Epiſcoporum, Archidiaconorum, Decanorum, Miniſtrorumve ſuorum univerſali Exactione, & Inquietudine quieta " & omnino ſequeſtrata. Mon. Angl. III. Vol. P. II. pag. 26. &c.

As to the many and great Privileges which were confirm'd to the Canons of this Church by ſeveral Kings, and enjoy'd by them, I refer the Reader to Stow's Survey, p. 920. &c. not omitting the Sanctuary granted to them by William the Conqueror, whereby they were priviledg'd to have Tuition and Immunities of all thoſe Perſons which for Treaſons, Felonies, Treſpaſſes, or any other Cauſe, ſhould flee for Succour, or abide therein, which they had heretoſore and enjoyed.

This College was repaired at the vaſt Expences of William de Wickham, Dean of the ſame, about the Year 1367.

Edmund de Hemenhale, Citizen and Mercer of London, appointed all his Tenements mention'd in his Will, to found a Chantry here; and Thomas de Uſflete, Dean, gave his Tenement to the ſame Chappel.

This Church or Chapel of S. Martin, with the Sanctuary and Precinct thereof, and all Advouſons, Gifts, Collations of all Canonries, Prebends, Churches, Vicarages, Chapels, Chantries, Hoſpitals, &c. belonging thereunto, were, by King Henr. VII. on July 23. in the 18th Year of his Reign, given and granted to the Monaſtery of S. Peter in Weſtminſter.

Bonner 248. Afterwards, when that Monaſtery was made a Biſhoprick by King Hen. VIII. this Church or Chapel of S. Martin, with the Premiſſes (inter alia) were granted by that King, in the 32. of his Reign, to the Biſhop of Weſtminſter; and afterwards, in the 34th of his Reign, to the Dean and Chapter of Weſtminſter, upon the Endowment of them. But upon the Diſſolution of the Epiſcopal Sea by King Edw. VI. that King, by his Letters Patents, bearing date

April 1. in the 4th of his Reign, granted the Juriſdiction of the Site of this College, together with the Precinct and Territory of the ſame (among other exempt Juriſdictions in this Dioceſe) as to Eccleſiaſtical matters, to the Biſhop of London, and to his Succeſſors for ever. Tho' afterwards, in the ſame King's Reign, this, with the reſt of the Juriſdictions, Privileges, and Immunities belonging to the Ch. of Weſtminſter, were by Act of Parliament reſtor'd to the Dean and Chapter there; which, in Q. Mary's Time, when ſhe again made it a Monaſtery, were enjoy'd by the Abbot and Convent during her Reign; and to this very Day by the Dean and Chapter, from the time that Queen Elizabeth converted it into a Collegiate Church, in 1560. Bonner 367.

Since the time that K. Hen. VII. gave this College to the Church of Weſtminſter, all Proceſſe to be executed within this Liberty, are directed by the Sheriffs of London to the Conſtable of the Dean and Chapter of the Collegiate Church of Weſtminſter, of their Liberty within the Precinct of S. Martin-le-Grand in the City of London, to whom the Execution of ſuch Proceſs within that Liberty belongs to be done. Mr.R.Smith's MS.

This is the ſole and only Liberty acknowledg'd to be within the City of London where Foreigners dwell, and uſe their Trades, without the Juriſdiction of the Lord Mayor or Sheriffs of London, and where they keep a Court of their own, within their own Precinct, of which there is a Steward or Judge, and Attorneys; and alſo there is a Priſon, to which ſuch are committed and detained there as are convict, or arreſted within that Liberty. Ibid.

This College was ſurrendred to King Edw. VI. in the Second Year of his Reign, An. 1548. and the ſame Year the College-Church being pull'd down in the Eaſt part thereof, a large Wine-Tavern was built, and withal down to the Weſt, and throughout the whole Precinct of that College many other Houſes were built, and highly priz'd, letten to Strangers born, and other ſuch, as there claimed Benefit of Priviledge granted to the Canons ſerving God day and night there (for ſo be the Words in the Charter of K. William the Conquerour) which may hardly be wreſted to Artificers, Buyers and Sellers, otherwiſe than mention'd in S. Matthew's Goſpel. Sto. Sur. 330.

The Deans of this College were, and continu'd Patrons of theſe ſeveral Churches in London following, viz. S. Alphage, S. Anne Alderſgate, S. Botolph without Alderſgate, S. Leonard Foſterlane, S. Katharine Coleman, and S. Nicolas Coleabby, till Henr. VII. gave the ſaid College and all its Appurtenances to the Ch. of Weſtminſter, aforeſaid, upon which the Patronage of them came to that Abbot and Convent till their Diſſolution; after which, S. Alphage, S. Anne Alderſgate, and S. Katharine Coleman, were granted by Q. Mary, in the Firſt of her Reign, to the Biſhop of London, and his Succeſſors for ever. S. Nicolas Coleabby, by Queen Elizabeth, in the Second of her Reign, to Tho. Reve, and Geo. Evelin, and their Heirs: But S. Botolph Alderſgate, and S. Leonard Foſterlane, continue ſtill in the Church of Weſtminſter.

I ſhall now give an Account of as many of the Deans of this Collegiate-Church as I can; and the firſt I have met with is

William de S. Mariæ Eccleſia, who was afterwards Biſhop of London. [Vid. inter eoſdem Epiſcopos.]

Galfrey de Bocland, was Dean of this Church, Mar. 25. 1216. [Pat. 17. Joh. m. 5.] He died before Sept. 14. 1225. for then the King confer'd this Deanry, as void by his Death, on

L. his Majeſty's Chaplain, who was Dean of Lichfield at that time [Pat. 9. H.III. m. 2.] afterwards the King gave him his Letters of Preſentation to the Church of Bamburgh, directing them to the Archbiſhop of York, dated Jan. 25. 1227. [Pat. 12. Hen. III. m. 12.] After this, he was elected Archbiſhop of Dublin, to which the King gave his Aſſent, Dec. 13. 1228. [13. *Hen.*III. m. 11.]

Walter de Kirkham ſucceeded next: He had the King's Letters of Preſentation to this Deanry, dated Octob. 10. 1229. directed to the Conſtable of the Tower of London, to put him in full poſſeſſion of the ſaid Deanry. [Pat. 13. *Hen.*III. m. 2.] In this Dean's time the Church of S. Leonard Foſterlane was built, as hath been obſerv'd before. This Walter de Kirkham was alſo Dean of York, from whence he was elected Biſhop of Durham, to which he was conſecrated on the firſt Sunday in Advent, 1249. [Mat.Paris, 769.] He died Aug. 9. 1260. and was buried on the 16th, at Durham. [Angl. Sac. 1. P. 738.]

Guido de Ruſſillon had this Deanry confer'd on him by the King, Apr. 18. 1244. [Pat. 28. H. III. m. 6.] and died at Burdeaux about 1254. the King being then there. [39. H. III. m. 14.]

Hen. de Wengham ſucceeded in this Deanry not long after, and was at length made Biſhop of London, where may be read more of him.

William de Champvont had this Deanry granted him by the King, Jul. 8. 1262. [Pat. 46. H. III. m. 8.] In 1265. the King conſtituted him his Procurator in the Court of Rome, to repreſent the Damages and Injuries by reaſon of the Diſturbances in this Kingdom. [50. H. III. m. 25.] And Nov. 8. the Year after, the King gave him the Sub-deanry and a Preb. in the Ch. of York, that Sea being void. [51. H. III. m. 37.] He was at length promoted to the Biſhoprick of by King Edw. I. before Apr. 24. 1274. for

Lewis de Sabaudia, on that Day and Year, had this Deanry granted him by that King, by reaſon of the ſaid Promotion of the ſaid Champvont. [Pat. 2. Edw. I. m. 19] To this Lewis de Sabaudia the King (calling him his Coſin) on Apr. 1. 1278. granted his Letters of Preſentation to a Prebend in the Church of S. Patrick in Dublin, [6. E. I. m. 19.] but the ſaid Lewis reſigning this Deanry before Jan. 20. 1279. the King thereupon granted it on that day to

Geffery de Newband, [Pat. 8. E. I. m. 24.] This Geffery was the King's Clerk or Chaplain, to whom he gave a Preb. in the Church of Hereford (that Sea being void) which Preb. became vacant by the Reſignation of Edm. de Mortuo Mari, Dec. 7. 1282. [Pat. 11. E. I.] This Geffery was likewiſe Chancellour of the Exchequer, but died before Jan. 8. following; for on that Day the King gave this Deanry, as void by his Death, to

William de Luda, [Pat. 11. E. I.] who was Preb. of Neaſden, where may be ſeen more of him. This Deanry became void upon his being elected Biſhop of Ely, to which the King gave his Aſſent, May 14. 1290. [Pat. 18. Ed. I.] and was ſucceeded in this Deanry by

William de Marchia, to whom the King granted this Deanry, on Jul. 14. following, [ibidem] in which he was ſucceeded by

Peter de Sabaudia, Clerk, the King's Coſin; but the preciſe Time of his coming to this Deanry I have not met with; but however, he being Dean of S. Martins, and to go into the Parts beyond the Seas; had the King's Letters of Protection for Four Years, dated June 27. 1294. [Pat. 22. E. I.] He was likewiſe the King's Attorney beyond Sea, Mar. 6. 1304. [Pat. 33. E. I.] But in the beginning of Edw. II. upon the Promotion of this Peter de Sabaudia to the Archbiſhoprick of Lyons, the King granted this Deanry to

William de Melton, Aug. 27. 1308. [Pat. 2. Ed. II.] The next Dean of S. Martins, which I meet with, is

Richard de Elſefeld, the King's Chaplain, to whom his Majeſty granted this Deanry, by his Letters Patents dated Oct. 6. 1317. in the 11th of his Reign; but afterwards the King being inform'd, that the ſaid Dean was unjuſtly hindred in the Execution of his Place by the Chapter of this College, commanded them by his Letters, dated Dec. 4. 1326. to be obſervant to the ſaid Richard as to their Dean, [Pat. 20. Ed. II. p. 1.] One Richard de Ellesfeld (whom I take to be the ſame with our Ric. de Elſefeld) was about this Time Rector of Stanwell, in Com. Midd. which became void by his Death, before 10. Kal. Jul. 1328. [Vid. etiam inter Præb. de Ealdſtreet.]

Joh. de Wodeford, the King's Chaplain, had this Deanry given by the King, during his Life, May 8. and again, June 12. 1328. [Pat. 2. Ed. III. p. 1.] He was Preb. of Oxgate, where may be read more of him. Apr. 17. 1343. he had the King's Licence to exchange this Deanry for the Church of Hatfield, with John de Heſlerton, [Pat. 17. Ed. III. p. 1.] who, July 2. 1345. had the King's Licence to exchange this Deanry with Tho. de Uſeflete for the Church of Davy-Norton, [Pat. 19. E. III. p. 2.] This John de Heſlerton was alſo Preb. of Wertling, Neverfeld, and Hoo, in the King's Free Chapel of Haſtings, which he reſign'd about Jan. 22. 1347. [21. Ed. III. p. 3.] Perhaps he was the ſame Joh. de Heſlerton who was Rector of Stapleford Tany in Eſſex, which he reſign'd in 1321.

Thomas de Uſeflete had this Deanry by way of Exchange, as above; but his next Succeſſor ſeems to be the above nam'd

John de Wodeford, by what is written of him among the Preb. of Oxgate; for there it appears by Pat. 23. E. III. that he was Dean of S. Martins, Apr. 25. 1349.

William de Cuſancia, was the King's Chaplain, to whom he gave this Deanry, June 19. 1349. [Pat. 23. Ed. III. p. 1.] He was Dean of S. Martins in 1354. for on Mar. 28. that Year, the King ratifi'd Rob. de Glooeſter in the Rectory of S. Anne Alderſgate, at the Preſentation of Will. de Cuſance, Dean of S. Martin-le-Grand, [Pat. 28. Ed. III. p. 1.] He was Preb. of Wenlakesbarne, where may be ſeen more of him.

William de Wickam (who beſtow'd much on the Reparation of this College, as is obſerv'd above) was probably the next that ſucceeded in this Deanry; for Will. de Cuſance died not till about 1360. as will appear by what is written of him in Wenlakesbarne. And the King gave this Deanry to the ſaid Will. de Wickham during Life, May 5. 1360. [Pat. 34. Ed. III. p. 1.] He was Preb. of Oxgate, where may be ſeen more of him.

Simon de Northwode ſeems to be the next; for he was Dean of this Church in 1363. of whom I find nothing more.

William de Mulſho ſucceeded next, to whom the King gave this Deanry, Oct. 30. 1364. [Pat. 38. Ed. III p. 2.] Feb. 21. following, he gave him the Office of Chamberlain of the Exchequer, [39. p. 1.] On Mar. 9. following, the Preb. which Rob. de Elmham had in the Chapel of S. Stephen Weſtminſter [ib.] And May 26. following, the Preb. of Swerdes, in the Church of S. Patrick in Dublin [ib.] Apr. 7. 1366. he had the King's Letter of Preſentation to the Preb. of Peſmerſh, in the Free-Chapel of Haſtings, [Pat. 40. p. 1.] He had alſo a Preb. in the Free-Chapel of S. George, Windſor, which, upon his Reſignation thereof, the King gave to his Chaplain Adam de Hertingdon, May 5. 1368. [42. p. 1.]

Walter Skirlaw occurs Dean of this Church, in 1379. [Pat. 3. Ric. II. p. 1.] He was a Doctor of Law of Oxford; was conſecrated Biſh. of Lichfield, Jan. 14. 1385. where he ſate One Year, and was tranſlated thence to Wells, where he continu'd but Two Years; and in 1388. was tranſlated by the Bull of Pope Urban VI. dated Apr. 3. to Durham, and receiv'd his Temporalities in Septemb. following. He was a great Benefactor to the Churches where he govern'd, and to other places. He was 18 Years Biſh. of Durham, and died March 24. 1406. and was buried in the North-ſide of the Choir of the Church of Durham, between two Pillars before the Altar of S. Blaſe, which was afterwards call'd the Altar of Skirlaw. Of him may be read much more in Godw. de Præſul & Angl. Sac. 1. P. 774, &c. But I muſt not omit, That in 1403. he procur'd the Mannour of Rothing S. Margaret, in Eſſex, to be transfer'd to Univerſity-Coll. Oxford; to which he gave certain Books in Manuſcript, [Antiq. Ox. lib 2. p. 57.]

John Bacun occurs Dean of this Church, in 138$\frac{4}{5}$. and ſeems to be the next Succeſſor therein to the aforeſaid Walt. Skirlaw; his being conſecrated Jan. 14. that Year, to the Sea of Lichfield; and this John Bacun being ratifi'd by the King the very next Day in this Deanry; as alſo in the Preb. of Driffield in the Ch. of York, in the Preb. of Sutton, with the Chapels annex'd in the Church of Lincoln; in the Preb. of Chalk in the Conventual Church of Wilton; in the Preb. of Langamorſh, with the Chapel of Lansford, which belonged to the Treaſury of Aberguilly, and in the Parſonage of Haddele, all at the ſame Time. [Pat. 8. Ric. II. p. 2.]

Richard de Medeford ſucceeded in this Deanry, Ann. 1386. was Prebendary and Rector of the Prebendal-Church of Weſt-Thurrock, in the Free-Chapel of Haſtings, to which he was admitted Oct. 29. 1383. [Pat. 7. R. II. p. 1.] to the Vicarage whereof he preſented, as Patron, in 1384, -85, -87, and -88. He was at laſt made Biſhop of Chicheſter, and from thence tranſlated to the Sea of Sarum, in 1395. where he ſate about 12 Years, and died Ann. 1407. [Godw. de Præſul.]

William de Aſheton occurs Dean in 1395. of whom I find no more.

Tho. Stanley, who was Maſter of the Rolls in 1398. and 1400. was the next (I gueſs) that ſucceeded in this Deanry, of which he occurs Dean in 1399. for Ric. II. by his Letters Patents, bearing date May 21. that Year, gave Licence to this Tho. Stanley, Dean of S. Martin, Patron of the Church of S. Botolph Alderſgate, to appropriate the ſame to this Collegiate-Church, as may be ſeen more at large in what is written of that Pariſh-Church. All I can farther ſay of this Thomas Stanley (ſuppoſing him to be the ſame Perſon) is, That he was admitted Rector of S. James Garlickhith, Dec. 30. 1405. at the Preſentation of the Abbot and Convent of Weſtminſter; but how or when he voided it appears not.

Ric. Derham occurs Dean of S. Martins, in 1409. and next to him

John Stena, in 1416.

John Stafford, the Ninth Son of Humfry Stafford, Duke of Bucks, occurs Dean of this Church, Ann 1422. He was born at Abbotsbury, in the County of Dorſet; brought up in Oxford, where he proceeded Doctor of Laws. He was Advocate in the Arches; then Vicar-General to Archbiſhop Chicheley, by whoſe Favour he obtain'd this Deanry, and a Preb. in the Ch. of Lincoln, and another in the Church of Sarum. He was made Keeper of the Privy-Seal by King Henr. V. and Lord-Treaſurer of England by King *Henr.*VI. *Dec.*18. 1422. which Office he laid down Mar. 18. 1426. He was made Preb. of Wells by Nicolas (Bubwith) the Biſhop of that Sea, in 1413. and Dean of the ſame Church, in 1423. and at length ſucceeded that Biſhop in the ſame Sea of Bath and Wells, to which he was conſecrated in the Church of the Friers Preachers in London, in May 27. 1425. being the Feaſt of Pentecoſt. Feb. 28. 1432. he was made Lord-Chancellour of England, which Office he executed till 1450. He was tranſlated from Wells (after he had ſate about 18 Years) to Canterbury, by virtue of the Bull of Pope Eugenius IV. dated May 3. 1443. was admitted to his Temporalities Aug. 6. following; and after he had ſate there 9 Years and 13 Days, died on the 8th Kal. of June, 1452. and lieth buried at Canterbury, in the place call'd the Martyrdom, under a flat Marble-Stone, [Angl. Sac. 1. P. 572. & 122. Godw. de Præſul. Cant.]

Joh. Eſtcourt occurs Dean of this Church, Ann. 1427. and perhaps was the next, but held it not long, being ſucceeded therein the next Year by

Thomas Bourchier, who occurs Dean of this Church in 1428. He was Son of William, Earl of Ewe, and Brother of Henry, Earl of Eſſex. He was brought up in Oxford (of which Univerſity he was Chancellour from 1434. to 1437.) was made Dean of S. Martins (and by the way, I likewiſe find him Preb. of Weſt-Thurrock, in the Free-Chapel of Haſtings, and as Patron of the Vicarage there, preſented a Clerk to it in 1432.) he was prefer'd to the Biſhoprick of Worceſter, by the Bull of Pope Eugenius, Mar. 9. 1434. to which he was conſecrated Apr. 20. 1435. whence, after he had ſate about 8 Years, he was tranſlated to Ely by a Bull from Pope Eugenius IV. dated Dec. 20. 1443. and having ſate there Ten Years and more, was tranſlated thence to Canterbury, to which he was elected 9. Kal. Maii 1454. which Election was confirm'd by Pope Nicolas V. about June, and his Bull of Confirmation publiſh'd 11. Kalend. Sept. following; and in the next Decemb. he receiv'd the News of his being made Cardinal of S. Cyriac in Thermis, the Cardinal's Hat being brought to him by the Archbiſhop of Ravenna; and at length he was enthroniz'd in the beginning of the Year 1455. on 7. Kal. Feb. He continu'd Archbiſhop 32 Years; liv'd after the Time of his Conſecration 51 Years; and died on 3. Kal. Apr. 1486. Godwyn tells us, That he found not that ever any Engliſh-Man continu'd ſo long a Biſhop; or that any Archbiſhop either before or after him, in 800 Years, enjoy'd that Place ſo long. He lieth buried in the Cathedral-Church of Canterbury, on the North-ſide of the High-Altar. [Angl. Sac. 1. P. 537, 669, 123. Godw. de Præſul. Cant.]

Ric. Cawdray occurs Dean of this Church, Ann. 1439. He was Preb. of Holywell, where may be ſeen more of him.

Rob. Stillington is the next I meet, who was Dean of this Church in 1463. He was Archdeacon of Colcheſter, where may be ſeen more of him.

James Stanley occurs Dean of this Church in 1493. He was Preb. of Holywell, where may be read more of him.

S. MARY, the Virgin.

WE know nothing to the contrary, but that all theſe Twelve Churches following, in the City (beſides ſeveral religious Houſes in and about the ſame, of which in their proper places) are dedicated to the Bleſſed Virgin Mary, whoſe Life is ſo fully written by ſeveral Authors, that it will be ſufficient for me to contract the ſame, as will hereafter follow.

The Churches dedicated to her, are

- Abchurch.
- Aldermanbury.
- Aldermary.
- le Bow.
- Bothaw.
- Colechurch.

- Hill.
- Mounthaw.
- Somerſet.
- Stayning.
- Woolchurch.
- Woolnoth.

The Bleſſed Virgin Mary was the Daughter of Joachim, a Galilean of Nazareth, and of Anne his Wife, a Bethlehemite, both of the Tribe of Judah; the Time of her Birth was about Ann. Mund. 3956. Anne, the Mother of the bleſſed Virgin, was barren till ſhe had been married 20 Years, which, among the Jews, was accounted a Shame and a Reproach; inſomuch as Joachim coming to Jeruſalem to offer Sacrifice, was repuls'd by Iſachar the High-Prieſt, for his Wife's Sterility; yet after that he had been married 20 Years, God heard his Prayers, and by an Angel it was reveal'd unto him, that he ſhould have a Child by his Wife Anne, which came to paſs, ſhe being in time deliver'd of a Female-Child, which was the Bleſſed Virgin Mary: The Day of whoſe Birth is yearly celebrated on Septemb. 8.

Feaſt of the Nativity of the Bleſſed Virgin, Sep. 8.

This Bleſſed Virgin was afterwards eſpouſed to Joſeph, a Carpenter; after which, the Angel Gabriel appearing to her, ſhew'd her how ſhe ſhould conceive by the Holy Ghoſt, and bear a Son, which ſhould be call'd Jeſus, and this was at Nazareth, 16 Miles from Jeruſalem. The Day of which Annunciation is yearly celebrated on Mar. 25. on which Day we begin our Year.

Feaſt of the Annunciat. Mar. 25.

Our Saviour Jeſus Chriſt was afterwards, according to the Angels Prediction, born at Bethlehem in Judea; after whoſe Birth, Three wiſe Men came from the Eaſt, by direction of a Star to Jeruſalem, to worſhip him that was born King of the Jews; which King Herod hearing, being much ſtartled thereat, enquired of the Prieſts and Scribes where Chriſt ſhould be born; they told him, in Bethlehem; ſo he ſent the Wiſe Men thither, requiring them to bring him word at their return, that he might go and worſhip him. But after they had been at Bethlehem, and worſhip'd the Child Jeſus, and offer'd their Gifts, Gold, Frankincenſe, and Myrrh, being warn'd of God in a Dream, they return'd home another way; and Joſeph alſo being warned in a Dream, took his Wife and Child, and fled into Egypt. Herod now being very angry, that he was deluded by the wiſe Men, ſlew all the Infants of Two Years old, and under, in Bethlehem and the Coaſts thereof.

After Herod's Death, Joſeph and Mary return'd with the Child into Judea, by direction of God in a Dream, and ſeated themſelves at Nazareth, where they liv'd together. It appears by the Evangeliſts (Luke 2. 42.) that the Parents of Jeſus, when he was Twelve Years old, went with him up to Jeruſalem, and that as they returned, the Child Jeſus tarried behind, and that after they had found him, he went down with them, and came to Nazareth, and was ſubject to them. But after this, how long Joſeph liv'd is not ſet down in Holy Scripture, nor in any authentick Author; but we read, that the Virgin Mary was at the crucifying of her Son Jeſus, ſtanding by the Croſs with other Women, to whom Jeſus ſaid (pointing to his Diſciple John, whom he lov'd) Woman, behold thy Son; and then ſaid to John, Behold thy Mother; and from that Hour that Diſciple took her to his own Home. So that from hence it is likely Joſeph was then dead, otherwiſe it is probable, that Chriſt would not have committed her to the Tuition of John, during the Life of her Spouſe Joſeph, if he had been living. But how long the Bleſſed Virgin liv'd after Chriſt's Aſcenſion, there is no Certainty.

Concerning

Feaſt of the Aſſumption, Aug. 15. Concerning her Aſſumption, the Commemoration whereof is celebrated on Aug. 15. it is reported by Tradition only, That at the Time of her Ceath all the Apoſtles diſpers'd over all the World, were in a moment lifted on high in the Air, and brought to Jeruſalem, where they were preſent at her Death, and that her Body being laid in a Coffin, was carried to Gethſemane, where a Choir of Angels attended on her ſacred Body Three Days, with Angelical Harmony, which then being ended, the Apoſtles looking into the Coffin, found the Body gone, concluding thereupon, that ſhe was aſſumed into Heaven.

S. Mary Abchurch, Rectory.

THIS Pariſh Church of S. Mary, call'd Abchurch, Apechurch, or Upchurch, (as Stow ſays he has read it) is ſituate on the Weſt-ſide of Abchurch-Lane, near to the South-end thereof, in Candlewick-ſtreet-Ward. It is a Rectory, and ſubject to the Archdeacon. Archid. Lond.

Braybro. 195. Simon de Wynchecombe, Citizen and Armorer, and one of the Sheriffs of London in 1383. founded a perpetual Chantry in this Church, by Licence from Ric. II. in the 19th of his Reign, at the Altar of the Holy-Trinity; of which Chantry the Rector and Churchwardens of this Pariſh were Patrons. After which (to wit) in 1437. the then Rector and Church-Wardens, with the Conſent of all the Pariſhioners, granted Licence to John Wall and John Skelton, two Chaplains of this Chantry, to build a Houſe upon 3 or 4 Poſts in the Weſt-part of this Church-yard, near to the Tenement of the Abbot of Gerondon, containing in Length 27 foot, and in Breadth 14, for themſelves and their Succeſſors for ever, which was confirm'd by the then Biſhop, and the Dean and Chapter of S. Pauls Tunſtal, 151. In 1526. by the Authority of Cuthbert Tunſtal, then Biſhop of London, and Conſent of the Rector and Church-Wardens of this Pariſh, one Rich. Rogers, of the ſame Pariſh, Citizen and Cloth-worker of London, built a Houſe conſiſting of two Chambers, in length 25 foot and an half, and breadth 12, and in height 9 and an half; at the Weſt-end alſo of this Church-yard, between the Chambers pertaining to Wynchcombe's Chantry, and the Houſe of Tho. Roche, which he by Indenture dated June 10. that Year, freely gave to the ſaid Rector and Church-wardens, and their Succeſſors for ever, to the Uſe of this Pariſh, with one half of the Profits thereof to keep the ſaid Houſe in repair, and with the other half to find the Paſchal within the ſaid Church yearly for ever; and what remain'd over above the Charge of the Paſchal, was to be diſtributed as Alms among the Poor of the Pariſh, on Good-Friday yearly for ever, for the Souls of him the ſaid Richard, his Wife, his Father and Mother, and all his Friends, and all Chriſtian-Souls: All which was to be done by the ſaid Rector and Church-wardens, upon certain Penalties mention'd in the ſaid Indenture.

Sto. Surv. 275. Ibid. 846. This Church was repair'd and beautifi'd at the Charge of the Pariſhioners, Ann. 1611.

The Patronage of this Church was of old in the Prior and Convent of S. Mary Overies in Southwark, and ſo continu'd, till about 1455. for in that Year it appears, that the Maſter and Chaplains of the College of Corp. Chriſti, near the Church of S. Laurence Pountney, became Patrons of this Church (but by what means I have not found) and ſo continu'd till the general Suppreſſion, upon which it came to the Crown, and continu'd in it till Q. Elizabeth's Time, when, in the Tenth Year of her Reign, Matthew Parker, Archbiſhop of Canterbury, gave (or at leaſt procur'd the ſaid Queen to grant) the perpetual Advouſon of this Church to the College of Corpus Chriſti in Cambridge. The Maſter, Fellows, and Scholars whereof have been and continu'd Patrons of this Church ever ſince. Godwin. de Præſul.

Sion-Colleg. MS: In 1636. the yearly Profits thereof were return'd as follows:

Tyths ——	83	00	00
Caſualties ——	10	00	00
A Parſonage-Houſe.

This

S. Mary Abchurch, and S. Laurence Pountney, annext.

This Church being burnt down in the late dreadful Fire, is ſince rebuilt, and made the Parochial Church for the Inhabitants of this Pariſh, and that of S. Laurence Pountney, which is annext unto it; and both together are made of the yearly Value of 120 l. in lieu of Tyths to the Incumbent; ſo that S. Laur. Pountney being an Impropriation, and the Curate (it being a Donative) having no Right to any of the Tyths of that Pariſh, we may compute the Increaſe of the Profits of both theſe Pariſhes ſetled by Act of Parliament upon the Incumbent in lieu of Tyths, to be 37 l. per Ann. more than in 1636. which being added to the aforeſaid Sum of 83 l. Tyths of S. Mary Abchurch, makes in the whole 120 l. per Ann. according to the ſaid Act.

Reg. Lond.

In 1693. the Church-wardens preſented the Parſonage-Houſe burnt down in the late dreadful Fire; but ſince rebuilt, and leaſed out to Hen. Whiſtler, Eſq; by Indenture dated June 24. 1677. for the Term of 60 Years (20 Years part thereof being by a Decree in Chancery added to the Term of 40 Years allow'd by Act of Parliament) the Ground-Rent reſerv'd to the Rector, during the ſaid Term, is 5 l. per Ann.

S. Mary Aldermanbury, Curacy.

Archid. Commiſſar. Lond.

THIS Church ſtands at the North-end of Aldermanbury, in Cripplegate-Ward within; before the late dreadful Fire it had a Cloiſter adjoining to it. It is a Donative or Curacy, ſubject to the Archdeacon, ſaving only as to Wills and Adminiſtrations, which belong to the Commiſſary.

The Church was in old Time part of the Poſſeſſions of the Dean and Chapter of S. Pauls; and when Ralph de Diceto was Dean, the State thereof I find thus;

R. Dec. & Ca. Lib. B. f. 37.

" Eccleſia S. Mariæ Aldermannesbire eſt Canonicorum, & reddit eis duos Sol.
" per manum Johannis, quos reddit modo Philippus capellanus Wintonienſis Epi-" ſcopi, & ſolvit Synodalia xii d. & habet Cœmiterium.

Ib. lib. L. f. 72.

In 16. Hen. III. there was a Queſtion mov'd to the Dean and Chapter, by Gerv. Aldermanbir, by virtue of the King's Writ before the Juſtices, after this manner. The ſaid Gervas alledg'd, That Alan de Aldermanbir, his Father, preſented one William de Aldermanbir to this Church, who died Parſon of the ſame 31 Years paſt, and that the Church hath been void from that Time. And the Dean and Chapter alledg'd, that the ſaid Church is not void, and that Nicolas, the Son of Jocey, is Parſon of the ſame, and was inſtituted by the Biſhop; and farther, That after the Death of the ſaid William, there have been Four Parſons inſtituted to the ſaid Church, viz. Joh. de S. Laurence, Jordan. de Glouc. Joh. de S. Peter, and after him, the ſaid Nicolas, who is preſent, and acknowledged himſelf to be Parſon of the ſaid Church. Gervas was in Miſericordia.

From this we may gather, that this Church was in thoſe Times preſentative, and the Parſons receiv'd Inſtitution from the Biſhop, and that the Right of Patronage thereof was in the Dean and Chapter of S. Pauls.

But afterwards it appears by the Charter of Foundation of the neighbouring Hoſpital of Elſing-Spittle, dated June 1. 1331. That the ſaid Dean and Chapter, Patrons of this Church, did by the Will, Authority, and Conſent of Stephen (Graveſend) Biſhop of London, appropriate the ſame to the ſaid Hoſpital; but ſo, that the ſaid Dean and Chapter ſhould have the Right of Patronage in both, as in Benefices united and conſolidated. And farther, that that upon the Inſtitution of the Cuſtos and Rector to this Hoſpital and Church, he was to ſwear Fealty to the ſaid Dean and Chapter, and to pay them yearly an antient Penſion of One Mark due from the ſaid Church, and half a Mark yearly from the ſaid Hoſpital, impoſed and granted by William de Elſing, the Founder thereof, in token of Subjection to the Church of S. Paul. To the Dean and Chapter of which Church, there is to this day a yearly Penſion of xx s. payable from this Church of S. Mary Aldermanbury. Mon. Angl. 2. vol. 462.

Farther alſo, That the Rector and Cuſtos of this Church and Hoſpital ſhould find a fit Pariſh-Prieſt to ſerve the Cure, and adminiſter the Sacraments to the Pariſhioners of Aldermanbury in the ſaid Church, which Prieſt was to be approv'd by the ſaid Dean and Chapter.

So that this Church was ſerv'd by a Curate (as it ſtill is) till the Diſſolution, ſince which Time the Rectory and Advouſon thereof hath been granted, it ſeems, to certain Perſons in truſt for the Pariſhioners of this Pariſh, by means whereof the Election of their Miniſter is in them, but the Licenſing of him in the Biſhop.

As to the Fabrick of this Church, Sir William Eaſtfield, Knight of the Bath, and twice Mayor of this City, viz. in 1429. and 1437. was a great Benefactor to it; for he built the Steeple, chang'd the old Bells into Five tunable Bells, and gave 100 l. to other Works of it. He was buried in this Church, under a fair Monument; and founded therein a perpetual Chantry at the Altar of S. George, of which the Wardens of the Mercers Company were Patrons. Sto. Sur. 302. Kemp. 12.

Here was likewiſe another Chantry founded for the Souls of Stephen Bokerell, William Bokerell, and Iſabel the Wife of the ſaid Stephen; which Iſabel, in 8. Ed. I. conſtituted a Chantry of Two Prieſts at the Altar before the Croſs, in the North-part of the Cathedral-Church of S. Pauls, before which Altar the aforeſaid Stephen, her Husband, lay inter'd, to celebrate for his and her Soul, and for the Souls of their Children, viz. Stephen, Andrew, and William Bokerell. Sudbury 31. Hiſt. Paul. 26.

This Church was repair'd and beautified in 1633. at the Coſt and Charges of the Pariſhioners. Sto. Sur. 847.

In 1636. the Return then made of the yearly Profits of this Church runs thus; An Impropriation held in Fee-Farm by the Pariſh, Dr. Staughton, Curate, who receives 16 l. per Ann. Sion-College MS.

But this Church being burnt down in the late dreadful Fire, is ſince rebuilt, and by Act of Parliament an annual Revenue ſetled for the Maintenance of the Incumbent, amounting to the Sum of 150 l.

In 1693. the Church-wardens preſented, that there is an uncertain Sum to be paid yearly, for the Maintenance of a Wedneſday-Lecture in this Church; but no other Gift or Settlement, nor any Parſonage or Vicarage-Houſe, nor any Glebe, Bequeſt, or Legacy belonging to it. Reg. Lond.

This being a Donative or Curacy, is not charg'd with Firſt-Fruits and Tenths, but with the Procurations and Penſion following.

S. Mary Aldermary, Rectory.

Pecul. Cant. THIS Church of S. Mary (which is a Rectory) is one of the three Peculiars in this City, which belong to the Juriſdiction of the Archbiſhop of Canterbury; it is ſituate on the South-ſide of Budg-Row, behind the Houſes, Sto.Surv.267. by the Weſt-Corner thereof, and on the Eaſt-ſide of Cordwainers-ſtreet in Cordwainer-ſtreet Ward. It is call'd Aldermary-Church, becauſe (ſaith Stow) the ſame was very old, and elder than any Church of S. Mary within the City, till of late Years the Foundation of a very fair Church was laid there, by Sir Henry Keeble, Grocer, who was Mayor of this City in 1510. He died in 1518. and was buried here in a Vault by him prepar'd, with a fair Moment rais'd over him, on the North-ſide of the Choir, now deſtroy'd and gone. He was a very worthy and charitable Citizen, for by his Teſtament (beſides what he otherwiſe dispos'd of in Charity) he gave 1000 l. towards the building up of this Church, and yet was not long permitted a reſting Place for his Bones there; for Sir William Laxton, who died in 1556. and Sir Tho. Lodge, who died in 1583. (both which were Grocers, and had been Mayors of this City) were buried in the Vault of this Sir Henry Keeble, his Bones unkindly caſt out, and his Monument pull'd down, in place whereof, Monuments were ſet up of the others.

Reg. Cant. Reynolds, 260. Thomas Romain (who was Mayor of this City in 1310.) by his laſt Will and Teſtament, bearing Date on Thurſday, being the Feaſt of S. Thomas the Apoſtle, Ann. Dom. 1312. gave (inter alia) for the Maintenance of one Chaplain, to ſay daily the Maſs of the Bleſſed Virgin in this Church, for ever, for the Souls of himſelf, his Wife Julian, their Parents, Friends, &c. a Rent-Charge of ſix Marks yearly to be paid out of his Capital Meſſuage in this Pariſh; Alſo 14 Marks more out of his new-built Tenement there, for two Chaplains (to each of them ſeven Marks per ann.) to ſay daily two Maſſes of requiem in this Church, for the Souls aforeſaid, which three Chaplains were to be collated by the Archbiſhop of Canterbury; alſo a Rent-Charge of 12 Marks yearly, for the celebrating two Maſſes daily in this Church, by two other Chaplains, viz. to each ſix Marks per annum, which were to be preſented by the Biſhop of London, to whom, as alſo to the Archbiſhop he gave xx s. apiece, yearly; and finally, to the Rector and Pariſhioners of this Pariſh, one Mark yearly out of his Houſe at the Corner of Cordwainer-ſtreet, and two Marks out of his Houſes in Alhallows Bread-ſtreet, to find Veſtments, Chalices, Books, &c. for ever; all which Sums were to be paid after the Death of Julian his Wife.

Sto. ut ſupra. Richard Chaucer (ſuppos'd to be the Father of Sir Jeffery Chaucer the Poet) gave to this Church, his Tenement and Tavern, with the Appurtenances, in the Royal-ſtreet, at the Corner of Kirion-Lane, and was here buried.

In this Church, Charles Blount, Lord Mountjoy, was buried, who died anno 1544. ſaith Weaver; and William Blount, Lord Mountjoy, was likewiſe buried here, ſaith Stow.

Ibid. 848. Will. Rodoway (who was born and buried in this Pariſh and Church, tho' from his Youth, to his End, he liv'd and dy'd in S. Michael Baſſiſhaw) at the time of his Death, ann. 1626. gave towards the Building of the Steeple of this Church, then greatly decay'd, the Sum of 300 l. and Richard Pierſon (who died in this Pariſh the ſame Year) gave alſo 200 Marks towards the better and more beautiful Building of the ſame, with Condition, that this Steeple thus to be built, ſhould follow its antient Pattern, and go forward, and be finiſh'd according to the Foundation of it laid 120 Years before, by Sir Hen. Keble, which within three Years after was ſo finiſh'd, the Coſt of it amounting to 1000 l. which Steeple, notwithſtanding the Church was burnt in the late dreadful Fire, is ſtill ſtanding Firm and Good.

The Church is now very nobly rebuilt, after the ſame manner as it was before it was burnt, by the Munificence of Henry Rogers Eſquire, as appears by the following Inſcription, engraven with Letters of Gold in a black Marble, ſet over the Weſt-Door of the Church.

As to the Patronage of this Church, it was of Old in the Prior and Chapter of Canterbury, till Thomas Arundell, their Archbiſhop, by Indenture, bearing Date the firſt of December 1400. between him and Thomas (Chiltenden) the Prior, and the Chapter of Chriſt-Church, Canterbury, did by Licence from the King, exchange the Advouſon of the Church of Weſtwell, in the County of Kent, for the Advouſon of this Church of S. Mary Aldermary, reſerving to himſelf and Succeſſors the Collation of the Vicarage of Weſtwell; and the ſaid Prior and Chapter reſerving to themſelves and Succeſſors, all ſuch Penſions as were payable to them out of the ſaid Church of Aldermary, before this Exchange was made; from the time of which Exchange, the Collation of this Church hath been and continu'd in the Archbiſhops of Canterbury.

In 1636. the Glebe being then improv'd from 50 l. per ann. to 100 l. the yearly Profits of this Church were return'd as followeth;

S. Mary-le-Bow, Rectory.

AT the upper End of Hoſier-Lane (now call'd Bow-Lane) towards Weſt-Cheap, ſtands this Pariſh-Church of S. Mary le Bow, which was (and now is) a very fair one, in Cordwainer-ſtreet Ward.

This Church, in the Reign of King William the Conqueror, being the firſt in this City (ſaith Stow) built on Arches of Stone, was therefore call'd New Mary Church, of S. Mary de Arcubus or le Bow, in Weſt-Cheaping: As Stratford-Bridge, being firſt built by Matilda the Queen (Wife to King Henry I.) with Arches of Stone, was call'd Stratford le Bow, which Names to the Church and Bridge remain to this Day.

It was call'd Bow-Church, of the Faſhion of the Steeple or Clocher thereof, whoſe Top was rais'd of Stone-Pillars, built Archwiſe like ſo many bent Bows, as ſome have written; but I rather think it was call'd Bow-Church, from the Arches underneath it, upon which it was built; for I no where read that this Steeple had any Arches on the Top of it, till it was new-built; which Work was finiſh'd but in the Year 1512.

This Church for divers accidents happening there, hath been made more Famous (ſaith Stow) than any other Pariſh-Church, in the City or Suburbs; for we read (ſaith he) that in the Year 1090. (3. W. Rufus) by Tempeſt of Wind, the Roof of the Church of S. Mary Bow, in Cheap, was over-turn'd, wherewith ſome Perſons were ſlain, and four of the Rafters, of 26 Foot in Length, with ſuch Violence were pitch'd in the Ground in the High-ſtreet, that ſcantly four Foot of them remain'd above Ground, which were fain to be cut even with the Ground, becauſe they could not be pluck'd out, for the City of London was not then pav'd, but a mooriſh Ground.

In 1196. Will. Fitzosbert, a ſeditious Tailor, took the Steeple of Bow, and fortify'd it with Munitions and Victuals; but it was aſſaulted, and he and his Complices taken, and being condemn'd, he was by the Heels drawn to the Elms in Smithfield, and there hang'd with nine of his Fellows.

In 1271. a great Part of the Steeple of Bow fell down, and ſlew many, and in 1284. one Laurence Ducket was murder'd in this Steeple, and the Church thereupon interdicted.

John Rotham or Rodham, Citizen and Tailor, by his Teſtament, dated in 1465. gave to the Parſon and Church-Warden of Bow (their Churchyard by Reaſon of the Incroachments being too little) a certain Garden in Hoſier-Lane for a Church-yard, which ſo continu'd for near 100 Years, but was afterwards built on, and was a private Houſe.

Bow-Bell to ring at nine a Clock every Night.

The old Steeple of this Church was by little and little re-edify'd and new-built up, at leaſt ſo much as was faln down, many Men giving Sums of Money to the furtherance thereof, ſo that at length, in the Year 1469. it was ordain'd by a Common-Council, That Bow-Bell ſhould be nightly rung at nine of the Clock, ſhortly after which, John Donne, Mercer, by his Teſtament, dated 1472. according to the Truſt of Reginald Longdon, gave to the Parſon and Church-Wardens of Bow, two Tenements with the Appurtenances, ſince made into one in Hoſier-Lane aforeſaid, to the Maintenance of Bow-Bell, the ſame to be rung as aforeſaid, and other things to be obſerv'd as by the Will appeareth. The Work of the Steeple was finiſh'd in 1512. and the Arches and Bows thereupon, with the Lanthorns five in Number, viz. one at each Corner, and one on the Top in the middle, upon the Arches, was alſo afterwards finiſh'd of Stone, brought from Caen in Normandy; which Lanthorns were meant to have been glaz'd, and Lights to have been plac'd in them nightly, in the Winter, whereby Travellers to the City might have the better Sight thereof, and not to miſs of their Ways.

'Tis ſaid, that William Copland, the King's Merchant, gave the great Bell before-mention'd (which made the 5th in the Ring) to be rung nightly, at nine of the Clock; but when this Tower was burnt in 1666. it had in it a moſt melodious Ring of 12 Bells, and now again there are eight.

John Coventry, Son of William Coventry, of the City of Coventry (who was Mayor of this City, Ann. 1525.) was buried in this Church, and had a Monument, with an Inſcription on it, which may be ſeen in Weaver's Monuments, p. 420. Chicheley, Par. I. p.410. He likewiſe founded a Chantry in the Chapel of S. Nicolas, in this Church, and endow'd it with 12 l. per ann. as appears by his Will He was a Man much commended in our Engliſh Chronicles, for his diſcreet Carriage in the Debate betwixt Humfry Duke of Gloceſter and Henry Beaufort, that wealthy Biſhop of Wincheſter.

Sto. Sur. 848. This Church was new-pew'd, and throughout repair'd and beautify'd, and the Chancel rais'd, ann. 1620.

This Church of S. Mary le Bow, hath been all along under the Juriſdiction and Patronage of the Archbiſhops of Canterbury, and is the Principal or Chief of the 13 Peculiars belonging to them in this City.

HAving now done with what concerns the Church of S. Mary le Bow, I think it very proper to treat of the Court of Arches, which was uſually kept therein; of which Court, I my ſelf have had the Honor to be one of the Proctors-General ever ſince Trinity-Term, 1668.

The Arches Court.

Cowell's Interp.

THIS Court (Curia de Arcubus) is the Chief and antienteſt Conſiſtory (ſaith Dr. Cowell) that belongeth to the Archbiſhop of Canterbury, for the Debating of Spiritual Cauſes, and is ſo call'd, of this Church, dedicated to the Bleſſed Virgin, commonly call'd Bow-Church, of the Faſhion (ſaith he) of the Steeple thereof, whoſe Top is rais'd of Stone-Pillar, builded Arch-wiſe, like ſo many bent Bows; tho' for the Reaſon above-mention'd, it rather ſeems to come from the Arches underneath the Church.

As to the firſt Inſtitution and Original of this Court, 'tis uncertain; for thus it is ſaid in Antiq. Brit. p. 31. “ Prima hujus fori (de Arcubus) inſtitutio & “ origo, aut monumentis tabulariiſque deletis & amiſſis, aut librariorum ne-“ gligentia, incerta eſt. Sed conſtat eſſe pervetuſtam, nam Alexander III. qui “ Romanus Pontifex fuit, Henrico ſecundo regnante ad Decanum de Arcubus “ reſcripſit. Et Robertus Kilwarbeius, Cantuar. Archiepiſcopus, qui ſedit Anno “ Domini 1272. abrogatis veteribus & obſoletis illius Curiæ Legibus novus “ condidit.

Ibidem.

The Judge of this Court is term'd, Deans of the Arches, or Official of the Arches Court. Dean of the Arches, becauſe with the Officiality, is commonly joyn'd a Peculiar Juriſdiction of 13 Pariſhes in London, term'd a Deanry, being exempted from the Authority of the Biſhop of London, and belonging to the Archbiſhop of Canterbury, of which, the Pariſh of Bow is one, and the Chief, becauſe the Court is there kept. Theſe exempt Pariſhes follow:

S. Mary-le-Bow.

Alhallows Breadſtreet.
Alhallows Lombardſtreet.
S. Dionis Backchurch.
S. Dunſtan in the Eaſt.
S. John Evangeliſt.
S. Leonard Eaſtcheap.
S. Mary Aldermary,
S. Mary Bothaw.
S. Michael Crookedlane.
S. Michael Royal.
S. Pancras Soperlane.

Ibidem.

Some others ſay, he was firſt call'd Dean of the Arches, becauſe the Official of the Archbiſhop being many times imploy'd abroad in Ambaſſages for the King and Realm, the Dean of the Arches was his Subſtitute in this Court, and by that means the Name came to be confounded.

Lib. Statut. Curiæ de Arcubus.

But there was a Statute made (inter alia) by John Stratford, Archbiſhop of Canterbury, dated 5. Id. Maii, Anno. Dom. 1342. and in the 9th Year of his Tranſlation, wherein it was ordain'd, “ Quod Officialis dictæ Curiæ (Can-“ tuarien.) qui pro tempore fuerit, teneatur Decanum Eccleſiæ beatæ Mariæ
“ de Arcubus, London, ſuum conſtituere Commiſſarium generalem, qui com-“ miſſione

The firſt Commiſſion which I find granted to the Judge of this Court, which was by Robert Winchelſey, Archbiſhop of Canterbury, runs thus; “ R. &c. Dilecto filio Johanni de Roſs, Archidiacono Salop. ſalutem, &c. Officialitatem Curiæ Cantuar. nec non poteſtatem inquirendi & puniendi ſubditorum exceſſus, & eoſdem à ſuis beneficiis & adminiſtrationibus amovendi, quorum punitio & amotio eſt ad dictam Curiam devoluta, vel in poſterum devolvend', vobis ſpecialiter committimus exercend' Dat. apud Lambeth, 5. Kal. Dec. MCCCVIII. Conſiſt. noſtræ XV.

R. C. Winchelſey, 25.

The Judge of this Court, hath of old been ſometimes call'd, Officialis Conſiſtorii Archiepiſcopi; and ſometimes, Officialis Archiepiſcopi, in the antient Statute of this Court, without any Addition; but the modern Title runs thus, viz. Venerabilis Vir T. E. Miles Legum Doctor Almæ Curiæ Cant. de Arcubus London Officialis principalis legitimè conſtitutus. But upon Motions in Court, he is uſually call'd, Dominus Judex, or Dominus Decanus, and ſeldom or never, Dominus Officialis.

The Juriſdiction of this Judge is Ordinary, and extendeth it ſelf thro' the whole Province of Canterbury (but after what manner, and how limited, may be ſeen in a Book call'd Clerk's Practice, Title the 5th) but upon any Appeal made to him, he forthwith, and without any farther Examination of the Cauſe, ſendeth out his Citation to the Party appeal'd, and his Inhibition to the Judge, from whom the Appeal is made.

To this Court belong an Actuary, a Regiſtrary, and a Beadle.

The Office of the Actuary is by himſelf, or Deputy, to attend the Court, ſet down the Judge's Decree, regiſter the Acts of Court, and ſend them in Books to the Regiſtry.

The Office of the Regiſtrary is by himſelf, or Deputy, to attend the Court, receive all Libels, Allegations and Exhibits, examin all Witneſſes, file all Sentences, and keep the Records of the Court.

The Office of the Beadle is to attend the Court, carry the Mace before the Judge, and call the Perſons in Court, which are cited to appear.

For the managing of Cauſes in this Court, there are Advocates and Proctors; the Advocates are all to be Doctors of Laws in one of our Engliſh Univerſities, who upon their Petition to the Archbiſhop of Canterbury, and his Fiat obtain'd, are admitted by the Judge of this Court, but ſo, that they are not to practiſe one whole Year after ſuch Admittance; and are aſſign'd their Places in the Court on his Right-hand, or on his Left.

The Judge and all the Advocates of this Court, wear their Scarlet Robes, with Hoods lin'd with Taffata, if they be of the Univerſity of Oxford; or of white Minever, if of Cambridge; and all of them round Velvet Caps, when they appear in the Court.

The Proctors that belong to this Court are Perſons that exhibit their Proxies for their Clients, and make themſelves Parties for them, and draw, and give in Pleas, or Libels, and Allegations in the behalf of their Clients, produce Witneſſes, prepare their Cauſes for Sentence, get them aſſign'd from Court-Day to Court-Day, till Sentence be given, which they porrect, and in the interim, attend the Advocates with the Proceedings. They are alſo admitted by the Fiat of the Archbiſhop, introduc'd by two Senior Proctors (as I ſhould have ſaid before, the Advocates are, by two Senior Advocates) and allow'd to practiſe immediately after their Admiſſion. In the Court they wear black Robes, and Hoods lin'd with white Furr, which ſort of Habit was enjoyn'd by Henry Chicheley, Archbiſhop of Canterbury, by a Statute made Oct. 16. 1423.

Thoſe who have been once admitted Proctors of this Court, may practiſe in any Biſhop's, or other inferiour Eccleſiaſtical Court within the Province of Canterbury, without any farther Admiſſion.

Lib. Stat. de Arcubus.

According to the Statutes of the Arches, all Arguments made by the Advocates, and all Petitions made by the Proctors in this Court, are to be in the Latin Tongue.

All proceſs of this Court run in the Name of the Official, and were returnable before him, or his Surrogate, &c. heretofore, in the Pariſh-Church of S. Mary-le-Bow, where the Court of Arches was always uſed to be kept (ſaving, in the Time of the late Rebellion, when the Biſhops, as well as their Courts were put down) till the ſaid Church was burnt down in that dreadful Fire in 1666. after which they were returnable in the Common-Hall of Exeter-Houſe, in the Strand, where this Court (with others) were ſome Years held. But ſince that (to wit) ſince the Society of the Civilians after the rebuilding of Doctor's-Commons return'd thither (which was in the Year 1672.) they have been returnable in the Common-Hall there; where this Court (as alſo the Admiralty, Prerogative, &c.) are now held.

The Places and Offices of this Court, are all in the Gift of the Archbiſhop of Canterbury, whoſe Court it is; as alſo in his Power to augment or reſtrain the Number of Advocates and Proctors as to his Grace ſhall ſeem meet.

The Names of the Officials, or Deans of the Arches, and Deans of the Peculiars, at leaſt of as many as I have found, and the Years wherein they were admitted, or occur ſuch

In 1323. June 20. then Archdeacon of Lincoln, and Canon of York, being at that time preſent in the Court of Rome, was by the Pope made Biſhop of Winton, to which he was conſecrated on the 26th of the ſame Month and Year, but againſt the King's liking; who deſign'd it for Robert de Baldock his Chancellor, for which he could not obtain his Temporalities till the later end of June the next Year. In 1331. he was declar'd Lord Chancellor of England, in Parliament, Nov. 28. after he had ſat 10 Years in the Sea of Winton, he was tranſlated to the Archbiſhoprick of Canterbury, where after he had ſat about 15 Years in that Archiepiſeopal Sea in a great deal of Trouble (as he had ſome alſo when Biſhop of Wincheſter) he at laſt ended his days in Peace, and in the King's Favour, on the Vigils of S. Bartholomew the Apoſtle, at Magfeld, Anno 1348. and was buried in a goodly Tomb of Alabaſter on the South-ſide of the High-Altar in the Church of Canterbury, leaving behind him the Character of a very gentle, merciful, and charitable Man, famous for his Learning and good Government. S. Mary Bothaw, Rectory.

Sto. Sur. 246. ON the South-ſide of Walbrook-Ward from Candlewick-ſtreet, in the Midway betwixt London-ſtone, and Walbrook-corner, is a little Lane, in the midſt whereof, and in the ſame ſtood this Pariſh-Church call'd S. Mary Bothaw, or Boathaw, by the Erbar. This Church being near Downgate, on the River Thames, hath the addition of Bothaw, or Boathaw, of near adjoining to an Haw or Yard, wherein of old time Boats were made, and landed from Downgate to be mended as may be ſuppos'd (ſaith Stow) for no other reaſon he, I find now, why it ſhould be ſo call'd.

Pecul. Cant. This Church is one of the 13 Peculiars in this City ſubject to the Archbiſhop of Canterbury, and hath been all along in the Gift of the Prior and Convent of that Metropolitical-Church till their ſuppreſſion, ſince which it hath continued in the Dean and Chapter of the ſame Church.

Sto. ut ſupra. Within this Church, and the ſmall Cloiſter adjoyning, divers Noblemen and Perſons of Worſhip have been buried, as formerly appear'd by Arms in the Windows, the defac'd Tombs, and print of Plates torn up and carried away; but the moſt Remarkable of all others (ſaith the enlarger of Stow) was that of Sir Henry Fitz-Alwine, Draper, the firſt Lord Mayor of London that ever was, and continued by ſeveral Elections in the Mayoralty about 24 Years, that is, from the Firſt of King Ric. I. to the 15th of King John. He dwelt in this Pariſh, and was buried in this Church, where his Monument (ſaith the ſaid Enlarger) can be prov'd to be, as his Arms in the Glaſs-VVindows and Grave-Stone do ſufficiently ſhew, notwithſtanding nam'd by Stow among thoſe that were buried in the Priory of the Holy-Trinity within Ealdgate.

Weav. Fun. Mon. 409. Here was likewiſe buried Robert Chicheley, Grocer, who was Mayor of London, Anno 1422. He appointed by his Teſtament, that on his Birth-day a competent Dinner ſhou'd be ordain'd for 2400 poor Men Houſholders of this City, and every Man to have two Pence in Money. Moreover he gave one Plot of Ground, thereupon to build the new Pariſh-Church near unto Walbrooke, call'd S. Stephens Walbrooke. Sto. Sur. 88.

In the Reign of Hen. VI. here was a Chantry founded by the Lady Joan Faſtolfe. Ric. Staff. 83.

This Church was repair'd and beautified at the Charge of the Pariſhioners in the Year 1621. Sto. Sur. 849.

In 1636. the annual Profits thereof were return'd as followeth: Sion Coll. MS.

S. Mary Cole-Church, Curacy.

Sto. Surv. 275. THIS Church of S. Mary, nam'd, Cole-Church, of one Cole (ſaith Stow) that built it, ſtood at the South-end of the Old-Jewry, Weſtward in Cheap-VVard. It was built upon a Vault above ground, ſo that Men were forc'd to aſcend up thereto by ſeveral ſteps.

Henry IV. granted Licence to Will. Marſhall and others, to found a Brotherhood of S. Katharine therein, becauſe Thomas Becket, and S. Edmund the Archbiſhop were Baptiz'd there.

I can find no Inſtitution to this Church in the London-Regiſtry: For which reaſon I conclude that this Church was appropriated time out of mind to the Maſter and Brethren of the adjoyning Hoſpital of S. Thomas Martyris de Acon, now call'd Mercer's-Chapel. The Site of which Hoſpital, together with the Advowſon of this Church was granted by King Hen. VIII. in the 33d of his Reign to the Company of Mercers, in London (whence it has been ſince call'd Mercer's-Chapel) and in them it has remain'd as a Donative ever ſince. And under the Title of their Donative or Parſonage of Cole-Church, the Maſter, VVardens, and Aſſiſtants of that Company have from time to time (till the late dreadful Fire of London) uſually given it to ſome Clergy-man to ſerve the Cure there, who to that End and Purpoſe, was licens'd by the Biſhop of the Dioceſe. And among thoſe that ſerv'd the Cure here, I find one Richard Turnball, Curate here about the Year 1583. who was then alſo Parſon of S. Pan- cras Soperlane, where may be ſeen more of him. And one Richard Cowdall, Clerk, licens'd in Decemb. 1593. who officiated as Curate hear for 44 Years, for, I find, he appear'd as Curate of this Church at the Biſhop's Viſitation in the Year 1637.

Thomas Cavendiſh, Citizen and Mercer of London, founded a perpetual Chantry in this Church in 1362. and by Vertue of his Will, made ſome of the Pariſhioners Patrons thereof. Sudbury 23.

The Mercer's Company as Impropriators of this Church were wont to allow the Curate 40 l. per Ann. for ſo I find it upon the Return of the yearly Profits thereof in 1636. beſides the Eaſter-Book then return'd to be worth 20 l. per Ann. Sion Col. MS.

This Church was repaired and beautified at the Charge of the Pariſhioners in 1623. Sto. Surv. 850.

This being a Donative or Curacy is not charg'd with firſt Fruits to the King, but only with 3 s. Procurations to the Biſhop, and 3 s. 4 d. to the Archdeacon, to whoſe Juriſdiction it belongs. Archid. Lond.

This Church being burnt down in the late dreadful Fire, was afterwards annext to that of S. Mildred Poultry now the Parochial-Church of both the Pariſhes. Both which together are made of the yearly Value of 170 l. in lieu of Tyths to the Incumbent. S. Mild. Poult. S. Mar. Cole, annext.

But upon the Site of this S. Mary Cole-Church, the Mercer's Company have built a Free-School, and other Buildings, which are ſetled upon them, and their Succeſſors for ever by Act of Parliament. Stat. 22. C. II.

In this Pariſh there was a ſtrong Tower of Stone over againſt Barge-yard, in Buckler's Bury, call'd Cornet's Tower; which was given by Edw. III. in 32. of his Reign to his College or Free-Chapel of S. Stephen, in Weſtminſter, and in his Charter is call'd Sewte's Tower. Mon. Angl. 3. Vol. pars 2. p. 62.

S. Mary Hill, Rectory.

IN S. Mary Hill-lane ſtands this Pariſh-Church, written in Latin Records, Eccleſia S. Mariæ ad Montem; in Engliſh, The Church of S. Mary Hill, or at Hill; becauſe of the Aſcent from Belinſgate, in Belinſgate-Ward. And is a Rectory ſubject to the Archdeacon. Arch. Lond.

The Patronage of this Church will hereafter appear to have been all along in the Hands of particular private Patrons. The Firſt that I have met with appears to be Richard Hackney hereafter mentioned, who preſented in 1337. but of late the perpetual Advowſon hath been purchaſed by the Pariſhioners, in whom it ſtill continues.

This Church was new-built about the Year 1490. for Stow tells us, That Robert Revell, who was one of the Sheriffs of London that Year, and was buried there; gave liberally to the new Building thereof. Sto. Sur. 227.

Here were likewiſe ſeveral Perſons, who had been Mayors and Sheriffs of this City buried in this Church, particularly Richard Hackney above-nam'd, who was one of the Sheriffs in 1322. and Alice his Wife, whoſe Body in the Year 1497. as Labourers were digging for the Foundation of a Wall within the Church, was found in a Coffin of rotten Timber, whole of Skin, and of Bones undiſſever'd, and the Joints of the Arms pliable without breaking the Skin. Upon whoſe Sepulchre this was engraven, " Here lie the Bodies of " Richard Hackney, Fiſhmonger, and Alice his Wife, which, Richard, was She- " riff in the 15th of Edward II. Her Body was kept above Ground three or four Days without Noyance, but then it waxed unſavory, and was again buried.

About the Year 1336. here was a perpetual Chantry founded by Roſe de Wrytel at the Altar of S. Edmund the King. Sudbury 43.

And another about the Reign of Ric. II. for the Soul of John Naſing, and his Father and Mother, and all the Faithful deceas'd; of both which the Rector and Pariſhioners were Patrons. Braybr. 139.

Sto. Sur. 850. This Church was repair'd and beautified in 1616. and for many Years after this, new Trimming was beſtow'd upon it every third Year.

Sion Col. Mſ. In 1636. the annual Profits of this Church were return'd as followeth:

	l.	s.	d.
Tyths	125	00	00
Glebe	24	00	00
Caſualties	30	00	00
A Parſonage-Houſe	16	00	00

This Church ſuffer'd much in the late general Conflagration of London, tho' not quite burnt down, as others generally were; but is ſince rebuilt, or rather repair'd, both Church and Steeple conſiſting for the moſt Part of the old Wall, which were left ſtanding after the Fire, and is made the Parochial-Church of this, and the Pariſh of S. Andrew Hubbard, which is annext unto it; and both together are made of the yearly Value of 200 l. in lieu of Tyths to the Incumbent.

S. Mar. Hill, S. Andr. Hubard, annext.

In 1636. Tyths of S.	Mary Hill	125	00	00
	Andrew Hubbard	68	04	08
	Total of both	193	04	08
	Both now by Act of Parliament	200	00	00
	Both now more than before	06	15	04

Reg. Lond. In 1693. the Church-Wardens preſented the Parſonage-Houſe burnt down and rebuilt at the Charge of the Pariſhioners, who pay 6 l. per Ann. Ground-Rent to the Rector for the ſame, to be held by them for 40 Years after the Rebuilding of it.

Alſo Two other Houſes, and part of a Third belonging to this Benefice, which together pay 10 l. per Ann. for the Term of 40 Years after the Rebuilding.

They preſented likewiſe, that they have ſome Chantry-Lands which were given them at the diſſolution of Abbies and Chantries, which they have hitherto imploy'd towards the Buying of the perpetual Advowſon of their Church, and the Pewing and Repairing of the ſame both before and ſince the Fire. And do deſign, according to the Intent of the Donation, with Part of it to pay the Organiſt to maintain their Organ, &c.

Alſo, that they have 40 l. per Ann. given them by Sir John Leman for the Maintenance of a Divinity-Lecture which is preach'd here every Thurſday Morning.

And here I cannot omit to give an account of a Solemn and Charitable Cuſtom us'd once a Year in this Church, which I had from the late Rector thereof, my honour'd Friend Dr. Edw. Lake, and is as follows:

On the next Sunday after Midſummer-day every Year, the Fellowſhip of the Porters of the City of London, time out of mind, came to this Church in the Morning, and whilſt the Pſalms are reading, they go up by two and two towards the Rails of the Communion-Table, where are ſet two Baſons, and there they make their Offerings, and ſo return into the Church again. After them the Inhabitants of the Pariſh and their Wives, and others alſo then at Church make their Offerings likewiſe; and the Money ſo offer'd is given to the Poor decrepid Porters of that Fellowſhip for their better ſubſiſtance.

S. Mary Mounthaw, Rectory.

Sto. Surv. 261, &c. THIS Church of S. Mary Monthaw, or de Montealto, Mounthaunt, or Mounthault (which ſtood on the Weſt-ſide about the middle of Old-Fiſhſtreet-Hill, in Queenhith-Ward) was a very ſmall Church, and at firſt but a Chapel for the Houſe of the Mounthaunts (a Family in Norfolk) which ſtood likewiſe upon the Weſt-ſide of this Hill, which Houſe together with the Patronage of this Church was bought by (*) Ralph de Maydenſtone Biſhop of Hereford, about the Year 1234. and given by him to the Biſhops of Hereford. By means whereof the Houſe for a long time was the Biſhops of Hereford's Inn or Lodging, tho' now and for many Years ſince turn'd into ſmall Tenements. Ever ſince the ſaid Biſhop Maydenſtone gave the ſaid Houſe and Advowſon of this Church to his Succeſſors, the Biſhops of Hereford have continued Patrons of it. It is a Rectory, and ſubject to the Archdeacon.

(*) This Ralph de Maidenſtone, or Maydenſtan was made Biſhop of Hereford in 1234. (19. Hen. III.) a Man of great Learning, and eminent in Theology. He reſign'd his Biſhoprick in 1239. and took on him the Habit of a Franciſcan-Frier at Oxford; he liv'd afterwards a Monaſtical Life at Glouceſter the ſpace of five Years, and then dying, was buried there. [Godw. de Præſul. Heref.]

Sto. ut ſupra, John Skip the Biſhop of Hereford in 1539. after he had ſat 12 Years Biſhop of that Sea, died in London in time of Parliament, and was buried in this Church. He was Vicar of Thaxted, in Eſſex, where may be ſeen more of him.

Braybroke 5. Sto. ut ſupra. John Glouceſter, Alderman about the Year 1345. founded a Chantry here, where he had a Monument, and gave Salt-Wharf for the Maintenance thereof.

Bonner 124. There were likewiſe two Shops, and a Tenement over one of them near the Gullet, in Old-Fiſhſtreet, in the Pariſh of S. Nic. Cole-Abby, belonging to this Church.

Sto. Sur. 850. This Church was in part new-built, and very much enlarg'd in the Year 1609. Rob. Bennet Biſhop of Hereford and others being Benefactors to it.

SionColl. Mſ. In 1636. the yearly Profits of this Church were return'd as followeth:

		l.	s.	d.
Tyths	———	25	15	04
Glebe	———	13	00	00
Caſualties	———	02	10	00
A Parſonage-Houſe		00	00	00

But this Pariſh-Church ſuffering the like Fate with others in the late dreadful Fire, is ſince annext to that of S. Mary Somerſet, which is now the Parochial-Church for both the Pariſhes, which together are made of the yearly Value of 110 l. in lieu of Tyths to the Incumbent. And the Site of this Church remains now only as a Burying-place for the Inhabitants of this Pariſh.

Reg. Lond. In 1693. the Church-Wardens preſented the Parſonage-Houſe burnt down in the late dreadful Fire, and rebuilt in the Year 1677. and leas'd out to Mr. Rob. Warner for 40 Years at 40 s. per Ann.

But they ſay, That the Shops and Tenements in Old-Fiſhſtreet-Row (which were thoſe above-mention'd) valued before the Fire at 16 l. per Ann. were ſold to the City, and little account given of it.

ON the North-ſide of Thames-ſtreet, over againſt Broken-Wharf, ſtands this Pariſh-Church of S. Mary Somerſet, or Summerſet, in old time call'd, Summer's Hith, of ſome Man's Name (as Stow thinks) that was owner of the Ground near adjoining, as Edred's Hith was call'd of Edred owner thereof. It is in Queenhith-Ward, a Rectory, and ſubject to the Archdeacon.

Dug. Bar. 2. Tom. 138, &c.

The Patronage of this Church appears to be of old in Sir John de Peyton, who preſented in 1335, and 1336. It was afterwards in the Bradeſtons; and tho' it appears to be for ſeveral turns in the Crown, yet the Reaſon of that I conceive to be (tho' not taken notice of in the Regiſtry) becauſe Thomas de Bradeſton, Son of Robert, Son and Heir of Thomas de Bradeſton, who was ſummon'd to Parliament from the 16th of Edw. III. until the 34th of that King's Reign, and then died, leaving behind him the ſaid Thomas his Grandſon and next Heir, eight Years of age, was for ſeveral Years in Wardſhip to the Crown; who departing this Life in 48. Edw. III. left Elizabeth his ſole Daughter and Heir then of the age of eight Months, which Elizabeth, being afterwards married to Walter de la Pole, he, thereupon, in right of his Wife became Patron of this Church, and (as appears) preſented to it in 1396. It likewiſe appears, that from the ſaid Walter de la Pole it came to Tho. Ingaldeſthorp, as Couſin and Heir to the ſaid Walter de la Pole. And from the Ingaldeſthorps to Sir William Norris, Knight, by his intermarriage with Iſabel the Daughter and Heir of Edmund Ingaldeſthorp. How it came afterwards to the ſucceeding Patrons I am to ſeek.

Sto. Sur. 321.

Archid. Lond.

Ibid. 851.

THIS was a ſmall Pariſh-Church of S. Mary, call'd Staining; becauſe it ſtood at the North-end of Staining-Lane; which Lane took its Name, as may be ſuppos'd, of Painter-Stainers dwelling there. But others ſay, The Word Steining is deriv'd of Stein, which is Saxon for a Stone, and ſignifies as much as Stone-Church. It is in Alderſgate-ſtreet-VVard within, a Rectory, and ſubject to the Archdeacon.

Here was nothing memorable in this Church, ſaving only, that in a Vault lay the Body of Sir Arthur Savage, Knighted at Cadiz, in Spain, 1596. (where he was hurt in the Fight at the entring in of the Town) General of Her Majeſties Forces, in the Kingdom of France, at the Siege of Amiens, 39. Eliz. Colonel, Vice-Treaſurer, Receiver-General, and Counſellor of State in Ireland. He died March 13. 1632. His Second Wife was Sarah, Daughter of Anthony Woolhouſe of Clapwell, in the County of Derby, Citizen and Haberdaſher of London; She was the Widow of George Smithes, Sheriff and Alderman of London, in 1611. which George (who died July 11. 1615.) was buried in this Ch. and had a goodly Monument in the South-VVall of the Chancel, erected at the proper Coſt and Charges of the ſaid Sarah his VVidow and Executrix. This Church was repair'd and beautified in 1630.

Sion Coll. Mſ.

In 1636. the yearly Profits of this Ch. were return'd as followeth:

	l.	s.	d.
Tyths	21	11	00
Caſualties	05	00	00
Glebe	08	10	00
A Parſonage-Houſe	00	00	00

S. Mic. Woodſtreet, S. Mary Staining.

But this Ch. being burnt down in the late dreadful Fire, is ſince annext to that of S. Mich. Woodſtreet, which is now the Parochial-Church for both the Pariſhes, which together are made of the yearly Value of 100 l. in lieu of Tyths to the Incumbent. And the Site of this Church remains now only as a Burying-place for the Inhabitants of this Pariſh.

In 1693. the Church-VVardens preſented the Parſonage-Houſe leas'd out for 40 Years, at 20*s.* per Ann. Ground-Rent, about 18 Years whereof are not expired.

t Iſrael, or Ezrael Tongue was born at Tickhill, in Yorkſhire, Nov. 11. 1621. ſent to Univerſity-College, in Oxford, in 1639. where he continued till the Rebellion began, and being Puritanically inclin'd, then left it, having firſt taken the Degree of Bachelor of Arts, March 4. 1642-3. and taught a little School at Churchhill, in Oxfordſhire; but upon the ſurrender of Oxford to the Parliament return'd thither again, and ſetled in his College, where he was by the Viſitors conſtituted Fellow, Anno 1648. in the Place of Mr. Hen. Watkins then ejected; where after he had ſpent a Year or more he went thence into Kent, and married Jane, the Daughter of Dr. Edward Simſon, who being antient, reſign'd his Living (Pluckley as is thought) to him, and then he took the Degrees of Divinity at Oxford. But he, being much vexed with the factious Pariſhioners and Quakers, left his Benefice; and in 1657. procured himſelf to be made Fellow of the new erected College at Durham. But that being diſſolved about the Beginning of 1660. or rather before, he return'd into the South-parts, ſetled at Iſlington near London, where for a while he taught School. Afterwards having a reſtleſs and freakiſh Head, he went with Coll. Edw. Harley to Dunkirk, and was there a Chaplain for ſome time; but that being ſold, he return'd, and that Colonel ſetled him in the Vicarage of Lentwarden, in Hertfordſhire; but that being a poor thing, he ſoon left it, and obtain'd this Ch. of S. Mary Staining, in 1666. as above; which, with the Pariſh being in September following burnt down, he went a Chaplain to the Gariſon of Tangier. But upon the Rebuilding of the Pariſh Church of S. Michael Woodſtreet (to which this was united) he return'd again (but was not made Rector of that Church, as my Author relates it; for Mr. Ric. Martin was then Rector of the ſaid Church of S. Michael, and had been ſo from the Year 1664. as will appear hereafter, and actually enjoy'd it ſeveral Years after Doctor Tongues Death, ſo that Doctor Tongue had only the Profits of his own Pariſh of S. Mary Staining) and theſe he enjoyed to his dying Day, which happen'd Decemb. 18. 1680. at the famous Proteſtant Joyner, Steph. College his Houſe in Blackfriers, London, and was on the 23d of the ſame Month convey'd from Scotch-Hall thereby, to the ſaid Ch. of S. Michael, where his Funeral Sermon was preach'd by one Mr. Tho. Jones, and after that, his Body repoſed in the Vault of his own Church-yard. He was a Perſon very well verſed in Latin, Greek, and Poetry, and always took a very great delight in inſtructing of Youth. He underſtood Chronology well, and ſpent much time in the Art of Alchymy. But above all that he is to be remember'd for, is, That he was the Firſt diſcoverer of the Popiſh Plot, by many call'd Oats his Plot, about Sept. 25. 1678. having a little before been told of it by Titus Oats, who confer'd together what to do in that Matter. S. Mary Woolchurch, Rectory.

Sto. Sur. 244.

THIS Ch. of S. Mary (which is a Rectory) ſtood near the Stocks in Wallbrook-Ward, and was call'd S. Mary Woolchurch, of a Beam placed in the Church-yard, which was thereof call'd Woolchurch-Haw, of the weighing of Wool there uſed. And to the verifying of this, Stow tells us, That he found among the Cuſtoms of London written in French, in the Reign of Edw. II. a Chapter entituled Les Cuſtomes, de Woolchurch-Haw, wherein is ſet down what was there to be paid for every parcel of VVool weighed, which Cuſtom there continued till the 6th of Ric. II. John Churchman then building the Cuſtom-Houſe upon Wool-Key to ſerve for that Uſe.

Mon. Angl. 2. Vol. 893.

This Church (I gueſs) was built about the Conqueror's time by one Hubert de Ria, Father of Eudo, Steward of the Houſhold to King William the Conqueror, and Founder of the Abby of S. John, in Colcheſter; for, I find, in the ſaid Eudo's Charter of Foundation and Endowment of that Abby, he gives to it (inter alia) this Church by the Name of S. Mary de Weſtcheping, London. quæ vocatur Niewecherche, in theſe words, viz. “ Et Eccleſiam S. Mariæ “ de VVeſtcheping, London. quæ vocatur Niewecherche, concedente Ailwardo Groſſo, Preſbytero, qui in eadem Eccleſia & donatione Anteceſſoris “ mei Huberti de Ria Perſonatum conſecutus fuerat. So that Ailward the Prieſt having this Church by the Gift of Hubert de Ria, it is plain, that the ſaid Hubert was Patron thereof, and probably the Founder too, by its being then call'd New-Church, as if then newly built. And hence, I think, it may alſo be concluded, that the Street which lies between Cheapſide and Cornhill, and is now call'd the Poultry, was in thoſe days part of Cheapſide, or that which was then call'd Weſtcheping, on the South-ſide of the Upper-end of which this Church ſtood.

As this Church was given to the Abbot and Convent of Colcheſter by the ſaid Founder of the ſaid Abby, ſo for ought appears to the contrary, they continued Patrons thereof till their Suppreſſion, upon which it came to the Crown, and hath remained in it ever ſince. It is ſubject to the Archdeacon, ſaving only as to Wills and Adminiſtrations, which belong to the Commiſſary. Archid. Com. Lond.

Sto. Sur. 244.

This was a reaſonable fair and large Church, and was new-built by Licence granted in the 20th Hen. VI. with condition to be built 15 Foot from the Stocks-Market for ſparing of Light to the ſaid Stocks.

Ibidem.

The Parſon of this Church was to have four Marks the Year for Tyths of the ſaid Stocks, paid him by the Maſters of the Bridg-Houſe by a ſpecial Decree made 2. Hen. VII.

Ibidem.

John Wingar, Grocer, Mayor of this City in 1504. was a great Helper to the Building of this Church, and was there buried in 1505. He gave unto it by his Teſtament two large Baſons in Silver, and 20 l. in Gold.

Ibidem. Richard Shore, Draper, one of the Sheriffs in 1505. was a great Benefactor to this Church in his Life-time, and by his Teſtament gave 20*l.* to make a Porch at the Weſt-end thereof, and was there buried. The Church was richly repair'd and beautifi'd in 1629.

Tunſtall 15. Here was a perpetual Chantry founded in the Chapel of S. Nicolas the Biſhop and Confeſſor, by Anne Cawood, VVidow, about the Beginning of the Reign of King Hen. VIII. of which the Parſon and Pariſhioners were Patrons.

Sion Coll.Mſ. In 1636. the yearly Profits of this Church were return'd as followeth:

	l.	s.	d.
Tyths ——— ——— ———	50	16	06
Glebe ——— ———	22	13	04
Caſualties ——— ———	13	06	08

This Ch. being burnt down in the late dreadful Fire, is ſince united to that of S. Mary Woolnoth, which is made the Parochial-Church for the Inhabitants of both the Pariſhes; but the Site of this Church, and alſo of the Church-yard are laid into the Stocks-Market place. And the Profits of both theſe Churches, in lieu of Tyths, are made of the yearly Value of 160 l. to the Incumbent.

Reg. Lond. In 1693. the Church-VVardens ſay in their Preſentment, That they believe there was a Parſonage-Houſe belonging to the Rector before the ſame was burnt down in the late dreadful Fire. And the preſent Rector ſays, That he receives for Glebe 16 l. 12 s. 4 d. per Ann. But note, That the Glebe in 1636. was 22 l. 13 s. 4 d. as above.

THIS Church call'd S. Mary Woolnoth of the Nativity; but the Reaſon thereof (Stow ſays) he hath not yet learn'd; is ſituate on the South-ſide, and towards the Weſt-end of Lombard-ſtreet, in Langborne-Ward. It is a Rectory, and ſubject to the Archdeacon.

Gilbert 85.

This Church was new built about the Year 1438. from the very Foundation, as it ſeems; for, I find a Commiſſion dated March 24. that Year granted by Robert Gilbert then Biſhop of London, to the Biſhop of Enachdun, in Ireland (a Biſhoprick now united to ſome other in that Kingdom) for the Conſecration thereof. By which Commiſſion he impower'd the ſaid Biſhop to Conſecrate, not only the Church, but alſo two Altars in it; One to the Honour of the Bleſſed Virgin S. Mary and S. Anne, and the other to S. John Baptiſt, and S. John Evangeliſt. And, farther, to aſſign the Feaſt of the Dedication of this Church to be on Thurſday next after the Feaſt of S. Anne the Mother of the immaculate Virgin, which is Thurſday next after July 26.

Sto. ut ſupra.

Sir Hugh Brice, Goldſmith, Mayor in the Firſt of Hen. VII. Keeper of the King's Exchange at London, and one of the Governours of the King's Mint in the Tower of London, under William, Lord Haſtings, in 5. Edw. IV. deceas'd, built in this Church a Chapel call'd the Charnel, as alſo part of the Body of the Church, and of the Steeple, and gave Money towards the Finiſhing thereof, beſides the Stone that he had prepar'd. He died in 1496. and was buried in the Body of this Church.

Ibidem.

Sir Simon Eyre a famous Merchant, ſometime an Upholſter, then a Draper, and Mayor of London in 1445. the Founder of Leaden-Hall, and a fair Chapel there; gave the Cardinal's-Hatt Tavern, in Lombard-ſtreet, with a Tenement annext on the Eaſt-part of it, and a Manſion behind the Eaſt-Tenement, together with an Alley from Lombardſtreet to Cornhill with the Appurtenances, all which were by him new-built, toward a Brotherhood of our Lady in this Church. He died Sept 18. 1459. and was buried in the ſame.

Ibid. 163.

Ibid. 223.

Geor. Lufken, ſometime Taylor to the Prince, built the Chapel of S. George in this Church.

Baudake 85.

Here was a perpetual Chantry founded for the Souls of Gregory de Rakeſley, and Amicia his Wife, of which the Pariſhioners were Patrons; which Gregory was the ſame, who was Mayor of London, from the Year 1275, to the Year 1282;

1282; and dying not long after, was buried in the Grey-Friers-Church, in which Priory he built Dorters and Chambers, and gave Beds to them.

Braybr. 188. Another perpetual Chantry was founded here at the Altar of the Bleſſed Virgin and S. Anne, about the Year 1400, for the Souls of Tho. Noket, Gregory Norton, and their Wives, and others their Relations, of which the Prioreſs and Convent of S. Mary Clarkenwell were Patrons. But theſe two Chantries, it ſeems, were afterwards united, by reaſon whereof, the Rector, Church-Wardens, and Chief of the Pariſhioners preſented ſometimes, and ſometime the ſaid Prioreſs and Convent of S. Mary Clarkenwell, as appears by the London-Regiſtry.

Sto. Sur. 224. The Advowſon of this Church was all along in the Gift of the Prioreſs and Convent of S. Helens, London, till their ſuppreſſion in the Reign of Hen. VIII. who ſoon after, viz. in 31. of his Reign granted it to Sir Martin Bowes, in whoſe Family the Right of Patronage hath continued ever ſince: Which Sir Martin Bowes, Goldſmith, and Mayor of London, Anno 1545. died Aug. 4. 1566. and with Cecily, Dame Ame, and Dame Elizabeth his Wives, was buried under a goodly Marble cloſe Tomb under the Communion-Table here.

Ibidem. There was a goodly Monument in the Eaſt-end of the Chancel of this Church erected by the Executors of Sir Tho. Rameſey, Knight, and Mayor of this City in 1577. in memory of the ſaid Sir Thomas, who died May 19. 1590. and of his two Vertuous Ladies Dame Alice, and Dame Mary, the later of which was very remarkable for her Charity to ſeveral Places, eſpecially to Chriſt's-Hoſpital.

This Church was not wholly conſum'd in the late dreadful Fire; but the Steeple remain'd unburnt, and part of the Walls of the Church which is now rebuilt chiefly on the old Walls, except the North-ſide which fronts Lombard-ſtreet, and is wholly new, by the Munificence (if I miſtake not) of the late Worthy and Generous (but unfortunate) Sir Robert Viner, Knight and Baronet, deceas'd. It is made the Parochial-Church for this, and the Pariſh of S. Mary Woolchurch, which is annext to it; and both together are made of the yearly Value of 160 l. in lieu of Tyths to the Incumbent.

HAving done with the ſeveral Pariſh-Churches in this City dedicated to the Bleſſed Virgin Mary: I now come to ſeveral Religious Houſes within the Liberties thereof, which were likewiſe dedicated to her, and are theſe Three which follows: vix. S. Mary Bethlem, S. Mary Graces, and S. Mary Spittle.

S. Mary Bethlem, Hoſpital.

IN the Pariſh of S. Botolph without Biſhopſgate, Northward of that Church, between the High-ſtreet and Moorfields, in the Ward of Biſhopſgate without, St. Surv. 173, &c. ſtood the Hoſpital of S. Mary of Bethlem (commonly call'd Bedlam) which was founded by Simon Fitzmary, one of the Sheriffs of London, Anno 1246. to be a Priory of Canons with Brethren and Siſters, who were to profeſs the Rule and Order of the Church of Bethlem, and bear the Token of a Star openly in their Copes and Mantles of Profeſſion, and to ſay Divine Service there for the Souls of the Founder, and of his Predeceſſors, his Father, Mother, and Friends, and eſpecially for the Souls of Guy of Marlow, and ſeveral others by Name; and, eſpecially to receive there the Biſhop of Bethlem, Canons, Brothers, and Meſſengers of the Ch. of Bethlem for evermore, as often as they ſhall come thither. The Prior, Canons, Brethren, and Siſters of this Houſe, were by the Founder for ever ſubjected tô the Viſitation, and Correction of the Biſhop of Bethlem and his Succeſſors, and the Chapter of his Church, and his Meſſengers, as often as they ſhall come thither, or ſhall ſeem to them expedient. And the ſaid Founder endowed this Houſe with all his Lands in the ſaid Pariſh of S. Botolph; and did put Godfry the Biſhop of Bethlem, then in England, into the Corporal Poſſeſſion of the ſaid Houſe. And in Token of ſuch Subjection as aforeſaid, ordain'd that this Houſe ſhould pay yearly one Mark ſterling at Eaſter to the Biſhop of Bethlem, or his Meſſenger in the Name of a Penſion. And if the Revenues of it increas'd, then it ſhould pay more, in the Name of a Penſion at the ſaid Term to the Mother-Church of Bethlem. Mon. Angl. 2. Vol. 381, As appears more at large in the Charter of Foundation, bearing date Anno 1247. the Wedneſday after the Feaſt of S. Luke the Evangeliſt.

I find (ſaith Mr. R. Smith in his Manuſcript often before quoted) a printed Form of an Inſtrument upon the Admiſſion of a Brother in this Houſe, Anno 1519. That this Hoſpital did not in any wiſe pertain to the Court of Rome, but was a Member or Coll. of the Bleſſed Virgin Mary of Bethlem, of the Order of the Militia of the Stars (ordinis Militiæ Stellarum) of the Rule of S. Auguſtin, of the Province of Syria, in the Holy Land, where our Lord Chriſt vouchſafed to be Born of the Womb of the ſame Virgin, in which Inſtrument is printed the Picture of a Star thus: *.

Reg. Dec. & Cap. Carta Orig. Tho. de Ingaldeſthorp, Dean of S. Pauls, and the Chapter on the 6. Id. of Auguſt, 2279. confirm'd the Charter of J. (i. e. John de Chiſhul) Biſhop of London, of a certain Spring or Fountain, in the Pariſh of Stepney granted to this Hoſpital (Novo Hoſpitali beatæ Mariæ extra Biſhopſgate, Lond.) Teſtibus Galfrido de Mortuo Mari, Rog. de la Legh, Rad. de Baudake, Fulco Lovel, Archid. Lond. Eſſ. Midd. & Colcheſter, Rob. de Drayton Theſaur. Joh. de Wengham Præcentor, Rad. de Ivinghoe Cancellar. Joh. Saudon, Sim. de Strambrugg, Joh. de S. Maria, Will. de Ewelle, Regin. de Brandon, Joh. de Chiſhull, & Edm. de Baton Canonicis S. Pauli.

St. Surv. 493. In the Pariſh of S. Martin in the Fields there was an Houſe, wherein ſometime there were diſtracted and lunatick People; of what antiquity Founded, by whom, or what time ſuppreſs'd (ſaith Stow) I have not read. But it was ſaid, That ſometime a King of England, not liking ſuch a kind of People to remain ſo near his Palace, cauſed them to be remov'd farther off, to Bethlem without Biſhopſgate, London. And to that Hoſpital the ſaid Houſe by Charing-Croſs doth ſtill remain. Upon which occaſion, it has been all along, till of late Years, an Hoſpital for diſtracted People.

Weav. Fun. Mon. 144. About the Year 1257. there was an Order of Bethlemite-Friers ſettled at Cambridge; who ſhould be their firſt Inſtitutor (ſaith Weaver) I do not read: Their Rule and Habit was much like that of the Dominicans, ſaving that they wore a Star on their Breaſt wrought upon their Habit, in memorial of the Star which appear'd at the time that our Saviour was born in Bethlem. This Order, ſaith he, was extinct before the Suppreſſion. And Matth. Paris tells us, That the Brethren of this Order dwell in Trumpenton-ſtreet, in Cambridge, and wore a Star on their Breaſt with Five Rays.

Matth. Par. 949.

But to return to this our Hoſpital of Bethlem. Stephen Gennings, or Jennings, Mayor in the Year 1509. gave 40 l. towards the Purchaſe of the Patronage of this Hoſpital by his Teſtament, 1529. And the Mayor and Commonalty purchaſed the Patronage thereof with all the Lands and Tenements thereunto belonging in the Year 1546.

Sto. Sur. 173.

The ſame Year King Hen. VIII. gave this Hoſpital to the City, the Church and Chapel whereof were taken down in the Reign of Queen Elizabeth, and Houſes built there by the Governours of Chriſt's-Hoſpital.

Ibid. 174.

At a Court of Aldermen holden the 7th of April, Anno. 5. Edw. VI. It was order'd, That the Inhabitants within the Precinct of Bethlem, ſhould from thenceforth be united to the Pariſh of S. Botolph without Biſhopſgate, as may be ſeen more at large in what I have written of that Church.

This Hoſpital of Bethlem being old, narrow, and not very pleaſant, the City of London reſolv'd to build a new one; which in April, 1675. was begun, and was finiſhed in July, 1676. wherein the Lunaticks have been kept ever ſince; which work Coſt above 18000 l. And of which you may read more at large in a late Book, entitled, The Preſent State of London, Pag. 91, 92.

S. Mary Graces: Or, New Abby.

THIS Abby call'd S. Mary of Graces; or, New Abby; was ſituate without the Walls of the City of London, Eaſt from Eaſt Smithfield, and was Founded by King Edw. III. in the Year 1359. upon the following Occaſion.

In the Year 1348. (23. Edw. III.) the firſt Great Peſtilence in his time began and increaſed ſo ſore, that for want of room in Church-yards to bury the Dead of the City, and of the Suburbs, one John Corey, Clerk, procured of Nicolas, Prior of the Holy Trinity within Ealdgate, one Toft of Ground near Eaſt Smithfield for the burial of them that died, with condition, that it might be call'd, The Church yard of the Holy Trinity; which Ground he cauſed by the aid of divers Devout Citizens to be incloſ'd with a Wall of Stone, and the ſame was dedicated by Ralph Stratford, Biſhop of London, where innumerable Bodies of the Dead were afterwards buried, and a Chapel built in the ſame Place to the Honour of God. To which King Edward ſetting his Regard (having before in a Tempeſt on the Sea, and in peril of drowning made a Vow to build a Monaſtery to the Honour of God, and the Lady of Grace, if God would grant him Grace to come ſafe to Land) builded a Monaſtery, cauſing it to be call'd Eaſt-minſter, placing an Abbot, and Monks of the Ciſtertian or White Order there.

In Order whereunto the ſaid King Edward, by his Letters Patents bearing date at Weſtminſter, March 20. in the 24th of his Reign (1349.) for the firſt Founding and Endowment of this Abby, gave to the Abbot and Monks thereof, all thoſe Meſſuages, with the Appurtenances at Tower Hill, which he had of Joh. Cory aforeſaid, in pure and perpetual Alms. Ordering this Houſe to be call'd, Liberam Capellam Regiam Beatæ Mariæ de Gratiis. And afterwards by other Letters Patents, dated Octob. 5. in the 50th of his Reign, he gave and granted to John, Duke of Lancaſter, Simon, Archbiſhop of Canterbury, John, Biſhop of Lincoln, and others, certain Mannours and Lands, which he purchaſed in Kent, and elſewere, for the farther Endowment of this Abby, which they after his Death granted and confirm'd to the ſaid Abbot and Monks for a certain term of Years.

And farther, gave Licence to the ſaid John, Duke of Lancaſter, and John, Biſhop of London, the ſurviving Feoffees of Edw. III. to releaſe and quit-claim the ſaid Mannours and Lands to the ſaid Abbot and Monks, and their Succeſſors, as appears by his Letters Patents, dated at Notingham, July 3.

Pat. 34. E. III. p. 2. Will. de Warden was made Abbot of this Houſe, Aug. 27. 1360.

St. Surv. 117. Since which time the ſaid Monaſtery being by King Hen. VIII. in 34. of his Reign granted to Sir Arthur Darcy, Knight, was clean pull'd down. And of late time in place thereof is built a large Store-houſe for Victual, and convenient Ovens are built there for baking of Biſquets to ſerve Her Majeſties Ships: and it is the Victualling Office for the Royal Navy to this day; the Grounds adjoining and belonging formerly to the ſaid Abby, are occupied by ſmall Tenements built thereon.

S. Mary Spittal, or Spittle.

Sto. Sur. 175. THIS Priory and Hoſpital, commonly call'd, S. Mary Spittle; was founded by Walter Brune, Sheriff of London, and Roſia his Wife, for Canons Regular of the Order of S. Auguſtin. Walter, Archdeacon of London, laid the firſt Stone in the Year 1197. And William of S. Mary-Church, Biſhop of London, dedicated it to the perpetual Honour of Jeſus Chriſt, and his Mother the Virgin Mary, by the Name of Domus Dei, & Beatæ Mariæ extra Biſhopſgate, in the Pariſh of S. Botolph. The Bounds whereof, as appears by Compoſition betwixt the Parſon of S. Botolph aforeſaid, and the Prior of the ſaid Hoſpital concerning Tyths, begins at Berwards-lane towards the South, and extendeth in breadth to the Pariſh of S. Leonard Shorditch towards the North, and in length, from the King's-ſtreet on the Weſt, to the Biſhop of London's-Field, call'd Lollesworth on the Eaſt.

Mon. Angl. 2. Vol. 385. This Compoſition before mentioned was made between John Witing, Rector of the Church of S. Botolph, on the one Part, and Godefrid the Prior, and the Canons, and Brethren of this Hoſpital, on the other, in the preſence of Will. Biſhop of London giving his aſſent, with the Dean and Chapter of S. Pauls; whereby the ſaid Prior, Canons and Brethren, and their Succeſſors, were, as much as pertain'd to them, to preſerve the Rights and Liberties of the ſaid Church of S. Botolph unhurt, and every Year to pay to the ſaid Church for its Parochial Right, and for all Tyths and Obventions of the Site or Bounds (ſpecified above) of their ſaid Hoſpital the Sum of 10 s. Sterling at the four moſt uſual Feaſts by even and equal Portions (i. e.) 2 s. 6 d. at each Feaſt, viz. Eaſter, Midſummer, Michaelmas, and Chriſtmas. But for all other their Lands in the ſaid Pariſh, which were not contained within the ſaid Bounds they were to pay Tyths. And as for their Servants, which were not profeſſed, they were by vertue of this Compoſition to come four times in the Year, and alſo on the Feaſt of S. Botolph, to their ſaid Pariſh-Church, and receive all Eccleſiaſtical Sacraments, as ſhall at ſuch times be there adminiſtrated, and all others were free from the Parochial-Right: Moreover, the ſaid Prior, Canons, nons, and Brethren, and their Succeſſors were not to admit any of the Pariſhioners of the ſaid Church living or dead to any Offering or Eccleſiaſtical Office, or to do any prejudicial Act to the ſaid Church or Parſon of the ſame. Nor to admit them to Sepulture, unleſs a competent Satisfaction for it was firſt made to the ſaid Church. And for the due Performance of the Premiſſes, the ſaid Godefrid the Prior made Oath before the ſaid W. Biſhop of London. And all his Succeſſors were bound for the future to make the like Oath before the Biſhop of London for the time being, or his Official. Robert (de Watford) Dean of S. Pauls, and others were Witneſſes.

Ibid. 383. This Hoſpital was endowed with ſeveral Lands and Tenements, &c. in and about the City of London, by the ſaid Walter Brune and his Wife, as appears by their Charter of Foundation. And where lately ſtood the Weſt-Gate of the new Church of this Hoſpital was the Eaſt-part of the old Church, before the Altar, of which part Brune the Founder with his Wife lay buried.

Ibid. 385. Beſides, the ſaid Walter Brune, there are named as Founders of this Hoſpital Walter the Alderman, Will. de Elie, John Bloundie, and Wymark de Elbegate. But I rather ſuppoſe them to be Benefactors.

Ibid. & Cart. 33. E. I. n. 49. King Edw. I by his Charter dated at Weſtminſter, April 8. gave and granted to the Prior and Convent of this Hoſpital for the Health of his Soul, and the Souls of his Progenitors Kings of England, and alſo for the increaſe of Divine Worſhip to be maintained in the ſaid Hoſpital, and for the better Suſtenance of the Poor coming thither, Two Meſſuages with ſeveral Acres of Land in Shaldeford, together with the Advowſon of that Church; and alſo the Advowſons of the Churches of Woghenerſh, Puttenham, and Duntesfeld, in the Dioceſe of Winton, with the Advowſon of the Chapel of Bromley annext to the ſaid Ch. of Shaldeford. And gave them Licence to appropriate the ſaid Churches of Shaldeford and Wogenerſh, with the ſaid Chapel of Bromlegh annext to the ſaid Church of Shaldeford; and to hold the ſaid Churches ſo appropriated, to themſelves and Succeſſors, in pure and perpetual Alms.

Sto. Sur. 175. A Part of the large Church-yard pertaining to this Hoſpital, and ſevered from the Reſt by a Brick-wall, till of late, remained as of old time with a Pulpit-Croſs therein; and againſt the ſaid Pulpit on the South-ſide before the Charnel and Chapel of S. Edmund the Biſhop, and Mary Magdalen (which Chappel was Founded about the Year 1391. by William Everſham, Citizen and Peperer of London, who was there buried) remained alſo one fair-built Houſe of two Stories in height for the Mayor and other honourable Perſons with the Aldermen and Sheriffs to ſit in, there to hear the Sermons preach'd in the Eaſter Holy-days. For it is to be noted, that, time out of mind, it hath been a laudable Cuſtom, That on Good-Friday in the Afternoon ſome ſpecial learned Man, by appointment, hath preach'd a Sermon at Pauls-Croſs, treating of Chriſt's Paſſion, and upon the Three next Eaſter Holy-days, Monday, Tueſday, and Wedneſday the like learned Men (to wit) on Monday a Biſhop, on Tueſday a Dean, and on Wedneſday a Doctor of Divinity, have by like appointment uſed to preach on the Forenoons in the ſaid Spittle on the Reſurrection; and then on Low-Sunday one other learned Man at Pauls-Croſs to make Rehearſal of thoſe Four Sermons; and that done, he was to make a Sermon of his own, which in all were five in one. At theſe Sermons, ſo ſeverally made, the Mayor and his Brethren the Aldermen were accuſtomed to be preſent, in their Violets at S. Pauls on Good-Friday, and in their Scarlets at the Spittle on the Holy-days, except Wedneſday in their Violets, and the Mayor with his Brethren on Low-Sunday in Scarlet at Pauls-Croſs.

This Cuſtom continued till the late Rebellion, in 1642. which then broke off. But after the Reſtauration of King Charles II. it was revived again, only the Sermons, which were wont to be preach'd at Pauls-Croſs, were preach'd in the Choir, becauſe the Pauls-Croſs Pulpit was demoliſh'd in thoſe late Rebellious times. And thus it continued till S. Pauls-Church was burnt down in the late general Conflagration of London, in 1666. ſince which time, all theſe Sermons (the Rehearſal only excepted, which hath ever ſince been laid aſide) have been continued as before, only inſtead of having been preach'd at S. Pauls and the Spittle, they have been ſince preach'd ſometimes at one Pariſh-Church, and ſometimes at another, at the Diſcretion of thoſe that appoint them. But the Spittle-Sermons moſtly at S. Bridgets-Church ſince the new Building thereof, and the Good-Friday in the Choir of S. Pauls, ſince it was opened.

Sto. ut ſupra. Touching the Antiquity of this Cuſtom; Stow tells us, that in the Year 1398. King Richard II. having procured from Rome a Confirmation of ſuch Statutes and Ordinances as were made in the Parliament begun at Weſtminſter, and ended at Shrewsbury, cauſed the ſame Confirmation to be read and pronounc'd at Pauls-Croſs, and at S. Mary Spittle, in the Sermons before all the People.

Ibid. Philip Malpas, one of the Sheriffs in 1439. gave 20 s. per Ann. to the Three Preachers at the Spittle. And Steph. Forſter, Mayor in 1594. gave 40 l. to the Preachers of Pauls-Croſs and the Spittle.

Gilbert 187. The Priors of this Hoſpital were from time to time elected by Licence from the Biſhop of London for the time being, or the Dean and Chapter of S. Pauls, the Sea being void; to which Biſhops they ſwore continual Obedience, as to their Founders Patrons, and Dioceſans.

Fitzjam. 161. The Priory of Byknacre, or Bykenacre, in the Pariſh of Danbury, in Eſſex, (of which King Henry II. was Founder) together with the Church, and all the Members thereunto belonging, as alſo the Mannor of Bykenacre, and its Appurtenances, for that the regular obſervance of Divine Worſhip, the uſual Hoſpitality, and other works of Piety, were through divers Occaſions and Misfortunes much decayed, and the Houſe left in a manner Deſolate, the Prior being dead, and there being but one Canon left; were by King Hen. VII. in the laſt of his Reign given and granted to the Prior and Convent of this Priory or Hoſpital of S. Mary, with Licence to appropriate the ſame to themſelves and Succeſſors for ever. All which were by Richard (Fitzjames) Biſhop of London, on the 9th of Nov. 1509. united, annexed, and appropriated to them, accordingly paying yearly a Penſion of 13 s. 4 d. to the Biſhop of London, of 6 s. 8 d. to the Dean and Chapter of S. Pauls, and 6 s. 8 d. to the Archdeacon of Eſſex, and to their Succeſſors reſpectively, for their Indemnity for ever. As alſo ſuch Procurations, as were uſed to be paid by the Prior of Bykenacre to the Biſhop upon his Viſitation. Likewiſe the Prior and Convent of the Hoſpital of S. Mary were to maintain for ever one Chaplain being a Regular Prieſt, and one of the Brethren of their own Houſe, who ſhould be continually reſident at Bykenacre, where he was daily to offer up Prayers for the Souls of Hen. VII. and alſo of Hen. II. the Founder of Bykenacre, and of Maurice de Tiltey a Benefactor, and of all other Benefactors and their Progenitors; for the good Eſtate alſo of Hen. VIII. And farther, that on the 26th, and 27th of October every Year, certain Maſſes ſhould be ſaid for the Souls of the Parties above-mentioned, as well in this Priory or Hoſpital of S. Mary, by the whole Convent, as in the ſaid Priory of Bykenacre, by the ſaid Chaplain; and in each of the ſaid Priories xx Pence ſhould be given and diſtributed among the Poor on one of the ſaid Days yearly for ever.

Penſions.

Sto. Sur. 176. Stow tells us, That the Prior of this Hoſpital of S. Mary, for the Emortizing and Propriation of this Priory of Bykenacre to this Hoſpital, gave to King Hen. VII. 400 l. in the 22th of his Reign.

Sto. Ann. 184. This Hoſpital was a Houſe of ſuch great Relief to the Needy, that there were found ſtanding at the Suppreſſion thereof 180 Beds for the Poor, well furniſh'd. And the Lands thereof were then valued at 478 l. 6 s. 6 d. per Ann. Dugd. 557 l. 14 s. 10 d. Speed. William Mayer was then Prior, and had a Penſion of 80 l. per Ann. allowed him.

P. 34. H. VIII. p. 10. Henry VIII. in 34. of his Reign granted the Site of this Hoſpital with the Appurtenances, the Priors Lodgings, the Church, &c. to Stephen Vaughan, from whoſe Family by the intermarriage of Oliver, Son and Heir to Sir Paulet S. John, ſecond Son to Oliver, Earl of Bullingbroke, with Elizabeth, Daughter and Heir to Sir Rowland Vaughan of the Spittle near Shordich, the Premiſſes (I conceive) came to the Noble Family of the S. Johns of Bletſo; in which (if not lately ſold) it ſtill remains.

S. Mary Magdalen.

THere are two Churches in this City dedicated to this Saint; namely, S. Mary Magdalen in Milkſtreet and in Old Fiſhſtreet.

This S. Mary Magdalen, or Maudlin, was ſo named either from the Town Magdala, wherein ſhe was born, or bred up, or from the Hebrew word Magdal, ſignifying a Tower or Caſtle.

There is often mention made of her in the Evangelical Hiſtory. As how Chriſt caſt out of her ſeven Devils, and how ſhe followed Chriſt, miniſtring unto him out of her means, Luke 8. 2. How with her Tears, ſhe ſtanding at his Feet behind him waſhed his Feet, and with the Hair of her Head wiped them, and kiſſing them, anointed them with her Ointment; whereupon, Chriſt ſeeing her Faith, told her, That her Sins were forgiven, and bade her go in Peace; at which Simon the Phariſee (in whoſe Houſe they were) was offended, becauſe ſhe was a Sinner, which Chriſt denied not, yet commended her Piety and Zeal towards him, Luke 7. 37. Matth. 26. 6.

She beheld Chriſt Crucified, Matth. 27. 56. And after the Sabbath, ſhe was one of the Firſt, that with her Ointment, betimes in the Morning, haſtned to the Sepulchre, Matth. 28. 1. Mark 16. 1. Luke 21. 1, &c. unto her, firſt of all, Chriſt after his Reſurrection manifeſted himſelf, Mark 16. 9.

Concerning Mary Magdalen, there hath been much debate among the learned Men, whether ſhe was the Siſter of Lazarus and Martha call'd Mary, or not; ſome of the Greek Church denying it, and thoſe of the Latin Church affirming it; ſome pretend there were Two, others Three Mary Magdalens.

The Three ſeveral pretended Mary Magdalens are theſe; Firſt, The Woman call'd, a Sinner; who in the Phariſees Houſe in Naim, waſh'd Chriſt's Feet with her Tears, wiped them with her Hair, kiſſed and anointed them, Luke 7. 37. The Second, Mary Magdalen, out of whom Chriſt caſt ſeven Devils, Luke 8. 2. The Third, Mary, the Siſter of Lazarus and Martha, which Lazarus Chriſt raiſed from the Dead, and which Mary, was the ſame Woman that anointed the Lord with Ointment, and wiped his Feet with her Hair, Joh. 11. 2. This is the Opinion of Faber Stapulenſis, and others. But the greateſt Part of learned writers affirm generally, That there was but one Mary Magdalen, and this is the general Tenet of the Church, and that was ſhe; who was Siſter to Lazarus and Martha, out of whom Chriſt caſt ſeven Devils.

Various are the Relations concerning this Holy Woman. Therefore the Advice of Card. Baronius is, To obſerve the Apoſtles Precept herein, viz. Prove all things; hold faſt that which is good.

As to the time of her Death, ſome ſay ſhe died Anno Chriſti 62. others 80. aged 80 Years. And as to the Place of her Death and Burial, ſome ſay ſhe being Dead, was buried in a City, in France, call'd Civitas Aquenſis; (now Ays, or D'ax) in Gaſcoigne; which being afterwards deſtroy'd by the Sarazens, her Body was thence tranſlated by Gerard, Earl of Burgundy, to the Monaſtery of Vicolincum by him erected, and there interr'd. Others write, That her Body reſteth at Epheſus. But others report, That the Body of Lazarus and Mary Magdalen were tranſlated from Cyprus to Conſtantinople, and there inter'd in the Church of S. Lazarus, erected by the Emperor Leo, Son of Baſilius.

But her Legend runs thus, Mary Magdalen, with her Brother Lazarus, her Siſter, and many others after Chriſt's Aſcenſion, were put out to Sea in a Ship without Sail, which brought them to Marſeilles, in France, whereof Lazarus became Biſhop, and Magdalen retiring her ſelf into a Wilderneſs lived there privately and devoutly 30 Years, and then died in a Cave, where ſhe had ſeated her ſelf from the Concourſe of People, her Soul being taken up into Heaven. [Breviar. Roman.]

Her Feſtival is yearly Celebrated on July 22. Feaſt, July 22.

Thus much out of Mr. R. Smith's MS. of S. Mary Magdalen, where he has treated of her much more largely.

S. Mary Magdalen Milkſtreet, Rectory.

THIS Church of S. Mary Magdalen ſtood on the Eaſt-ſide, and towards the South-end of Milkſtreet (ſo call'd of Milk ſold there) near Cheapſide, in Cripplegate-Ward within, and is a Rectory in the Collation of the Dean and Chapter of S. Pauls; but ſubject to the Archdeacon, ſaving only as to Wills and Adminiſtrations which belong to the Commiſſary. Archid. Com. Lond.

Among the Archives of the Dean and Chapter of S. Pauls, I find this Precept from the King Regiſtred, viz.

Lib. A. f. 22. " H. Rex Angliæ Willimo Decano, & Archid. Lond. & Miniſtris ſuis Lond. " ſalutem. Præcipio quod Eccleſia S. Mariæ Magdalenæ habeat Parochiam ſu- " am, & omnes Conſuetudines ſuas, ita bene & in pace, ſicut unquam meli- " us habuit, & Galfridus Canonicus, cujus Eccleſia eſt, bene & in pace " teneat.

Ib. 23. After this there was this following Agreement, viz. Conventio, inter Ca- " nonicos S. Pauli, & Barthol. filium Galfridi ſuper Eccleſia S. Mariæ Magda- " lenæ quam de ipſis tenet. Hanc Conventionem Affidavit Barthol. in manu " Nicolai, Archid. Lond. Acta ſunt hæc in Capitulo S. Pauli, Anno M C LXII. " Teſtibus Hug. Dec. Nichol. & Ric. Archid. Geofr. Theſaur. Will. de Ver, " Alberic. Nicol. Rodbert, fil. Gen. Alex. de Saccavil, Baldw. Hug. Ric. Hen. " & Hen. Theod. Canonicis.

That the Precept above-recited came from King Henry I. appears from the Direction of it to William the Dean; for William the Nephew of Ric. de Belmeis, the firſt of that Name, Biſhop of London, by Adeline his Siſter held the Deanry of S. Pauls in that King's Reign, and in the beginning of King Stephen; after whom, there was no William Dean of S. Pauls, till Will. de S. Maria came to be Dean above 100 Years after; but whether the Premiſſes concern this Ch. of S. Mary Magd. Milkſtreet, or S. Mary Magd. Old-Fiſhſtreet (for they were both belonging to the Dean and Chapter of S. Pauls) doth not appear. However, it ſeems to me to belong to this of S. Mar. Magd. Milkſtreet, by reaſon it was to pay to the Canons of S. Pauls ii. Shillings by the Hands of Bartholomew the Goldſmith (which I take to be the ſame Bartholomew mention'd in the ſaid Agreement) as will appear by the State of this Ch. taken when Ralph de Diceto was Dean, Anno 1181. and is as followeth:

Lib. B. f. 38. " Eccleſia S. Mariæ Magdalenæ, in Milkſtreet, eſt Canonicorum, & reddit " eis ii. Sol. per manum Bartholomei Aurifabr. Solvit Synodalia iv d. Archid. xii d. " non habet Cœmiterium.

This Church hath been all along in the Collation of the Dean and Chapter of S. Pauls. And in the Hiſtory of S. Pauls, Pag. 273. I find it thus, viz. Eccleſia S. Magdalenæ de Melkſtrete Penſionaria lii s. Eſtimatur nichil.

Baudake 98. Robert de Kelſey by his laſt Will founded a perpetual Chantry in this Church, which could not be long before the Year 1336. for in that Year one Henry de Kelſey was inſtituted to it at the Preſentation of Julian the Relict and Executrix of the ſaid Robert.

Sto. Sur. 306. William Brown, Mayor in 1513. and Thomas Exmew, Mayor in 1517. were both buried in this Ch. and each of them gave 40 l. to it. And Hen. Cantilow, Mercer, Merchant of the Staple, built here a Chapel, and was buried therein, Anno 1495.

Ibid. 854. This Ch. was repair'd and beautified in the Year 1616. at the Charge of the Pariſhioners.

Sion Col. Mſ. In 1636. the yearly Profits thereof were return'd as followeth:

	l.	s.	d.
Tyths ——— ——— ———	75 :	12 :	00
Caſualties ——— ——— ———	15 :	00 :	00

But this Ch. being burnt down in the late dreadful Fire, was afterwards annext to that of S. Laurence Jewry, which is made the Parochial-Church for both theſe Pariſhes, and both together are made of the yearly Value of 120 l. in lieu of Tyths to the Incumbent. And the Site of this Ch. of Milkſtreet, is by Act of Parliament laid into Honylane-Market.

In 1693. the Church-Wardens in their Preſentment ſay, That it does not appear that there was ever any Parſonage-Houſe or Glebe belonging to this Church, nor any Gifts, Legacies, or Bequeſts given or left for the Reparation of the ſame, or for Sermons, only for one Lecture, which is preach'd on Fridays; but what was given for the Maintenance thereof, or by whom they do not mention.

Reg. Lond.

I can give no account of the Succeſſion of the Incumbents of this Ch. for the Reaſons mention'd in S. Antlins; only, I find, that Dr. Spright was Rector thereof when the before-mention'd Return was made in 1636. Mr. Jones, when the Rebellion broke out in 1642. who was ſequeſtred for his Loyalty. And after the Reſtauration of King Charles II. Mr. Thompſon, A. M. was collated to it by the Dean and Chapther of S. Pauls, Sept. 9. 1662. and died Incumbent thereof ſometime after the Fire. And laſtly, that Dr. Ben. Calamy was admitted to it in 1683. at the Preſentation of the Dean and Chapter of S. Pauls, as united and annext to that of S. Laurence Jewry. [Vid. S. Laur. Jewry.]

S. Mary Magdalen Old-Fiſhſtreet, Rectory.

THIS Ch. of S. Mary Magdalen, with the Addition of Old-Fiſhſtreet; becauſe ſituate in or near that Place, ſtands over againſt the North-end of Lambart-Hill-lane, in Knight-Riders-ſtreet, in Caſtle-Baynard-Ward. It is a Rectory in the Collation of the Dean and Chapter of S. Pauls, but ſubject to the Archdeacon.

Archid. Lond.

When Ralph de Diceto was Dean, Anno 1181. the State of this Church ſtood thus:

" Eccleſia beatæ Mariæ Magdalenæ eſt Canonicorum, & reddit eis xvi Sol. " per iv Annos, & poſt iv annos reddit eis xx Sol. per manum Richardi perpe- " tui Vicarii. Et ſolvit Synodalia iv d. Archid. i s.

R. D. & Cap. Lib. B. f. 38.

By this it appears, that the Cure in thoſe days was ſupplied by a perpetual Vicar. Tho' by what will follow, it will appear, that it was a Rectory when Robert Gilbert was Biſhop of London (and doubtleſs many Years before.) For one John Lytlyngton, Citizen and Vintner of London, by his Will gave all his Tenements in this City to the Rector of this Pariſh, and to his Succeſſors for ever, to find a Prieſt to pray for the Souls of the ſaid John, and Alice his Wife, and Ric. Lytlyngton, &c. And, in proceſs of time, theſe Tenements growing ſo very ruinous, and in a manner deſerted, that the Rents of them were not ſufficient for the Maintenance of a Prieſt to perform that Office; one John Carpenter, Rector of this Church in the time of the ſaid Robert Gilbert (who ſate Biſhop of London from 1436, to 1448.) repaired the ſaid Tenements again; for which the ſaid Biſhop order'd, That the Name and Surname of the ſaid John Carpenter, together with the Names and Surnames of the ſaid John Lytlyngton, Alice his Wife, and Ric. Lytlyngton ſhould be inſcrib'd in a Table, and the ſaid Table to be laid on the Altar where the Prieſt did uſe to ſay Maſs for the Souls of the ſaid John, Alice, and Richard Lytlyngton, and there to remain for ever. And the ſaid Prieſt, for the future, to ſay Maſs for the Souls of the ſaid John, Alice, and Richard, and alſo for the good Eſtate of the ſaid John Carpenter whilſt alive, and for his Soul when dead. And, farther, granted 40 Days Indulgence yearly to the Rector of this Pariſh, and to the Prieſt, that ſhould pray for the Souls aforeſaid, for the time being reſpectively, and to their Succeſſors for ever.

All the Account I can give of the Rectors of this Church (for the Reaſons mention'd in S. Antlins) is only that the ſaid John Carpenter was Rector here in Biſhop Gilbert's time. *Tho. S. MATTHEW.

S. Matthew (to whom but one Church in this City is dedicated, namely S. Matthew Friday-ſtreet) call'd alſo Levi; was, tho' a Roman Officer an Hebrew of the Hebrews, and, probably, a Galilean, born at Nazareth, a City in the Tribe of Zebulun. He was the Son of Alpheus, and Mary Siſter, or Kinſwoman of the Bleſſed Virgin. His Trade, or way of Life, was that of a Publican or Toll-gatherer to the Romans; an Office of bad report among the Jews: But among the Romans, it was accounted a Place of Power and Credit, and honourable Reputation, not ordinarily confer'd on any but Roman Knights.

Our Lord having before cured a noted Paralytick, retir'd out of Capernaum to walk by the Sea-ſide, where he taught the People that flock'd after him. Here he eſpied Matthew ſitting in his Cuſtom-Office, whom he call'd to come and follow him, which he immediately did, notwithſtanding he was rich, and had a wealthy and gainful Trade which he muſt leave. He entertain'd our Lord, and His Diſciples at a great Dinner at his Houſe, where many Publicans and Sinners ſitting at Meat with Him, and the Phariſees, thereupon, taking occaſion to ſnarl at Him, ask'd His Diſciples why their Maſter did eat with Publicans and Sinners, Perſons infamous to a Proverb? but he preſently reply'd upon them, That they that were Whole needed not the Phyſician; and that He came not to call the Righteous, but Sinners to Repentance.

Mat. 9.9, &c.
Mar. 2.13, &c.
Luk. 5.27, &c.

After Matthew's Election to the Apoſtolate, he continued with the reſt till our Lord's Aſcenſion, and then for the firſt Eight Years, at leaſt, preach'd up and down Judea.

After which, being to betake himſelf to the Converſion of the Gentile World, he was intreated by the Convert Jews to commit to writing the Hiſtory of our Saviour's Life and Actions, and leave it among them as a ſtanding Record of what he had preach'd to them, which he did accordingly; and ſo compoſed his Goſpel.

Little certainty can be had what Travels he underwent for the Advancement of the Chriſtian Faith. Æthiopia is generally aſſign'd as the Province of his Apoſtolical Miniſtry, that is the Aſiatick Æthiopia lying near Judea, where moſt probable it is (what an antient Writer affirms) that he ſuffer'd Martyrdom at Naddaber, a City in that Country. [Dr. Cave's Life of S. Matthew.]

His Feſtival is yearly celebrated on the 21ſt Day of September. Feaſt, Dec. 21.

S. Matthew Friday-ſtreet.

THIS Church of S. Matthew, is ſituate on the Weſt-ſide of Fridayſtreet (thence call'd S Matthew Fridayſtreet) almoſt at the upper End thereof near Cheapſide, in the Ward of Faringdon within. It is a Rectory, ſubject to the Archdeacon, ſaving only as to Wills and Adminiſtrations which belong to the Commiſſary. Archid. Com. Lond.

Sir Nicolas Twyford, Mayor of London in 1389. gave to this Church an Houſe with the Appurtenances, call'd the Griffin on the Hope, in the ſame Street. Of which, Sir Nicolas, you may ſee more in the Church of S. John Zachary. St. Surv. 350.

Here was a perpetual Chantry founded for the Souls of Adam de Benteley, and Maud his Wife; to which I find a Chaplain admitted in 1334. Baudake 89.

Thomas Wyrlyngworth, Citizen and Goldſmith of London, founded likewiſe a perpetual Chantry in this Church at the Altar of S. Katharine. To which I find the Rector, and ſome of the Pariſhioners preſented in 1391. and continued down Patrons thereof from time to time. To this Chantry there was a Houſe given in Fridayſtreet, which was lett out in 23. Hen. VIII. by Leaſe for 40 Years at 4*l.* per Ann. Rent, to be paid to the Canturiſt and his Succeſſors, which Leaſe was confirm'd by Biſhop Bonner.

This Church was of old in the Gift of the Abbot and Convent of Weſtminſter, and ſo continued till 32. Hen. VIII. who having made that Church a Biſhoprick, gave it, inter alia, to the Biſhop of that Sea. But that Biſhoprick being diſſolv'd, Edw. VI. in the 4th of his Reign, gave it, inter alia, to the Biſhop of London, and his Succeſſors for ever; which was afterwards confirm'd by Queen Mary, in the Firſt of Her Reign, and hath continued down all along in the Collation of the Biſhops of London ever ſince.

This Church was repair'd and beautified in 1632, and 1633.

m Fr. James was of Chriſt-Church, Oxon. He ſtood in the Act. 1614. to compleat his Doctorſhip in Divinity; but when he was admitted appears not in the publick Regiſter. He was now in great Eſteem for ſeveral Specimens of Latin Poetry, which he before had made; eſpecially for his Poem publiſh'd in 1612. entituled, Threnodia Henricianarum Exequiarum ſive Panolethria Anglicana, &c. He was about this time Preacher or Reader at the Savoy near London. (And admitted Rector of this Church, Jan. 11. 1616. being then S.T.P. as above). At length departing this Life in 1621. was buried (as my Author thinks) at Ewhurſt, in Surry. [Ath. Ox. Vol. I. 819.]

n Hen. Burton. This was that Hen. Burton, who (with Will. Pryn, an utter Barreſter of Lincolns-Inn, and John Baſtwick, Doctor of Phyſick) was on June 14. 1637. cenſur'd in the Star-Chamber to loſe his Ears, in the Palace-yard at Weſtminſter, was fin'd 5000 l. to the King, and to be impriſon'd during Life. Burtons crime was for publiſhing a Sermon, which he preach'd on the 5th of November before, wherein the Prelates were charged for introducing ſeveral Innovations into Divine Worſhip, which was indeed a falſe Libel. [Baker's Chron. 477.] Burton having been firſt degraded of his Miniſtry in the High-Commiſſion-Court, and ſuffer'd part of his Sentence in the Pillory on the 30th of June (as did alſo the other Two) was committed Priſoner to the Caſtle of Lancaſter (as Pryn was to the Caſtle of Carnarvan, and Baſtwick to the Caſtle of Lanceſton, in Cornwall;) but ſuch a Haunt there was to the ſeveral Caſtles, that the State found it neceſſary to remove them farther for preventing all Intelligence and Correſpondence to be held between them; whereupon, Pryn was ſent to the Caſtle of Mount Orgueil, in the Iſle of Jerſey; Baſtwick to S. Maries-Caſtle, in the Iſle of Scilly; and this our Burton to Caſtle Cornet, in the Rode of Guernſey. [Heyl. Life of Laud.] After this, he and his two fellow-Turbulents were releas'd from their Impriſonment by an Order of the Houſe of Commons in Nov. 7. 1640. On the 28th of the ſame Month Pryn and he came in Company together from Guernſey to London, where they triumphantly enter'd, accompanied by Thouſands of filthy Fellows on Foot and Horſeback, and in Coaches with Roſemary and Bays in their Hats, crying Welcome home; welcome home; God Bleſs you; God be thank'd for your Return, &c. to the great Contempt of Authority and Juſtice. [Ath. Ox. Vol. II. 313.] Fuller tells us, That this Hen. Burton, rather took a Snap than any Meat in any Univerſity; was firſt Schoolmaſter to the Sons of the Lord Cary; (afterwards Earl of Monmouth) whoſe Lady was Governeſs to King Charles when Prince; and this opportunity (ſay ſome) more than his own deſerts prefer'd him to the Service of Prince Charles, being deſign'd (as hath been

He afterwards turn'd Independant, and he with Dr. Nathanael Holmes (then the intruded Rector of S. Mary Staining) ſet up their Independent Congregations in the Beginning of the Year 1643. [*Ath. p Hen. Hurſt, Son of Hen. Hurſt, ſometime Vicar of Mickleton, in Gloceſterſhire, was born there, enter'd a Butler of Magdalen-Hall, in Oxford, after the ſurrender of that Place. In the later end of 1649. he was made by the Viſitors, Probationer-Fellow of Merton-College, where, as in the Schools, he ſhew'd himſelf a quick, dexterous, and ſmart Diſputant. After he had taken the Degrees in Arts, he became a frequent Preacher in thoſe Parts (without any Orders from a Biſhop) eſpecially in the Church or Chappel of S. Croſs of Holywell, in the Suburbs of Oxford. Much about the time of his Majeſty King Charles the IId's Reſtauration, he left the College and preach'd in London, and was by the Inhabitants of this Pariſh by majority of Votes elected (ſaith my Author) Rector of this Church; And at their Solicitation (as I ſuppoſe) collated to this Rectory by the Biſhop of London, March 11. 1660. as above. But in 1662. ejected for Nonconformity; upon which he became afterwards a great Preacher in Conventicles. About 1675. his Preaching being much admir'd by Elizabeth, Counteſs of Angleſey, he was taken into the Service of that Family, and made Chaplain to her Lord. Upon breaking out of the Popiſh-Plot in Sept. 1678. he ſhew'd himſelf very active in aggravating the Concerns thereof in his Preachments and Common Diſcourſes: And it was uſual for him to vent his Mind in Conventicles (not without ſome Paſſion) many things ſavouring of Treaſon. But when the Fanatical-Plot broke out in 1683. he was fain to ſculk. When King James II. came to the Crown, and granted an Indulgence, ſoon after, he preach'd openly (as he had done before upon that granted by King Charles II. in 1671.) and continu'd his Lectures in and near London, to the time of his Death. At length, Preaching in a Meeting-Houſe in or near Covent-Garden, on Sunday Apr. 13. 1690. he was taken with an Apoplectick-Fit, whereof he died the next Day, and was buried in Covent-Garden-Churchyard, near the Sun-Dial, within the Rails. S. MICHAEL.

TO S. Michael the Arch-Angel, there are theſe Seven Churches in this City dedicated; namely,

- Baſſiſhaw.
- Cornhill.
- Crooked-lane.
- Queenhith.
- Quern.
- Royal.
- Woodſtreet.

S. Michael the Arch-Angel is mention'd in divers Places in the Holy Scripture, as Dan. 10. 13. where he is ſtiled one of the Chief Princes. Dan. 12. 1. He is nam'd the Great Prince. Jude, ver. 9. He contended with the Devil about the Body of Moſes. And, Revel. 12. 17. Michael and his Angels fought againſt the Dragon.

He was the Protector of the Jews, as we read in the forecited Place in Dan. 12. 1. where it is ſaid, At that time ſhall Michael ſtand up the Great Prince, who ſtandeth for the Children of thy People. And it is believed that he repreſented God's Majeſty in the Burning Buſh, and in Mount Sinai. He has been more particularly conſider'd as the Churches Protector by the Roman Catholicks, who relate many Apparitions of his, and chiefly one in Apuleia in 493. in the Popedom of Gelaſius I. whereof the Anniverſary is kept the eighth of May. Pope Boniface III. built a Church at Rome in his Honour on the top of Adrians Sepulchre, therefore call'd Mount S. Angelo. He is alſo Protector of France in particular, where there is a famous Monaſtery, nam'd, Mount S. Michael; which was built on a Rock, in the Middle of the Sea, after ſuch an Apparition to S. Aubert, Biſhop of Auranges, in Normandy, in 1709.

The Feſtival of S. Michael is yearly celebrated on the 3. Kal. of October (Sept. 29.) Feaſt, Sep. 29.

S. Michael Baſſiſhaw, Rectory.

THIS Church of S. Michael, call'd, S. Michael at Baſſing-Hall; (now Baſſiſhaw;) is a Rectory, and is ſituate on the Weſt-ſide of Baſinghall-ſtreet, in Baſinghall-Ward; which Ward took its Name of the Baſſings, a Family of great Antiquity and Renown in this Kingdom. Sto. Sur. 298. Builders and Owners of a great Houſe, call'd, Baſſing's-Haw, or Hall, in this Ward; (where Bakewell, or Blackwell-Hall now ſtands) ſeveral of which Family have been Sheriffs, and ſome of them Mayors of this City; as may be ſeen in Stow.

Stow tells us, That King Hen. III. in the 31ſt of his Reign (1246.) gave and confirm'd to Adam de Baſſing certain Meſſuages in Aldermanbury, and in Milk-ſtreet, and the Advowſon of the Ch. of Baſſing's-Hall (meaning as I ſuppoſe this Church of S. Michael) with ſundry Liberties and Immunities. Ibidem.

But, I find, that this Church was given (ſome Years before this) to the Prior and Canons of S. Bartholomew, in Weſt-Smithfield, by G. Biſhop of London (which muſt be either Gilbert Univerſalis promoted to that Sea in 1128. which was but five Years after the finiſhing of that Priory: Or Gilbert Foliot, elected to that Sea in 1163. Or Gulielmus de S. Mariæ Eccleſia, conſecrated to the ſame Sea in 1199. there being no other Biſhop of London, whoſe Chriſtian Name begun with G. from the time of the Foundation of that Priory till Henry III. time) which King confirm'd (inter alia) this Church by the Name of S. Michael Baſſingeſhagh, to the ſaid Prior and Canons as of the Gift of G. formerly Biſhop of London (ex dono G. quondam Epiſcopi Lond.) Mon. Angl. 2. Vol. 171.

But be this as it will. Many Years after this (it will appear by and by) viz. in 1327. there was a Clerk admitted to this Church at the Preſentation of Henry Bodyke, Citizen of London. But above 100 Years after that, viz. Anno 1437. (as will alſo appear) a Clerk was admitted to it by the Biſhop of London, at the Preſentation of the Dean and Chapter of S. Pauls; ſince which time, at leaſt, probably, they have continued Patrons thereof to this preſent. But how it came to be in their Collation, or how long it hath been ſo (as it ſeems it hath been, and ſtill is) doth not appear. Nevertheleſs, it is ſubject to the Archdeacon. Archid. Lon.

This was a comely Church to the re-edifying whereof, John Burton, Mercer of London (who died in 1460. and was buried in the Choir) and Agnes his Wife, were great Benefactors, as appeared by his Mark placed throughout the whole Roof of the Choir, and middle Iſle of the Church; which Church was repair'd and beautified in 1630. St. Surv. 299. Ibid. 855.

Sir James Yerford, or Yardford, Mayor of London in 1520. built a ſpecial Chapel on the North-ſide of the Choir of this Church, where he in the Year 1527. and his Lady in 1548. were both buried under a fair Tomb. Ibid. 299.

About the Reign of Richard II. here was a perpetual Chantry founded by John of London, Citizen of London, to which there was a Chaplain admitted in 1385. at the Preſentation of the Dean of London. But in regard, it was of no ſmall Value (viz.) not above ſeven Marks per Ann. the ſaid Chaplain was at the ſame time collated to another perpetual Chantry in this Church founded Braybr. 37 founded for the Soul of Thomas Weſt, and all the Faithful deceas'd, of about ſix Marks per Ann. for his better Maintenance.

In this Church were buried Adrian D'ewes, and Alice his Wife; which Adrian, was a lineal Deſcendent of the antient Family of Des Ewes, Duanaſts, or Lords of Keſſel, in the Dutchy of Gelderland, and came firſt into England, in the time of King Henry VIII. when that Dutchy had been much ruin'd by the Wars between Charles, Duke thereof, and Philip, the Archduke, and Charles V. his Son. He married Alice Ravenſcroft, and died 5. Edw. VI. Anno 1551. in July, of the Sweating-ſickneſs, his Wife died in July 1579. There was in one of the Windows of this Church (not far from which they were buried) a beautiful Repreſentation of them both, which may be ſeen in Weaver.

THIS Church of S. Michael, is ſituate on the South-ſide of Cornhill, whence it hath the Denomination of S. Michael Cornhill, in Cornhill-VVard. It is a Rectory, ſubject to the Archdeacon, ſaving only as to VVills and Adminiſtrations, which belong to the Commiſſary.

Archid. Com. Lond.

For the Antiquity of this Church, Stow tells us that he finds, That Alnothus the Prieſt gave it to the Abbot and Convent of Coveſham (Eveſham it ſhould be) Reynold (who was Abbot of Eveſham for about 27 Years, and died 8. Kal. Sept. 1149. Mon. Angl. Vol. I. 151.) and the Convent there did grant the ſame to Sparling the Prieſt, in all meaſures, as he and his Predeceſſors before had held it; to which Sparling alſo, they granted all their Lands which they there had (except certain Lands which Orgar le Powde held of them, and paid 2 s. yearly) for which Grant, the ſaid Sparling was to pay yearly one Mark of Rent to the ſaid Abbot of Eveſham, and to find him Lodging, Salt, VVater, and Fire when he came to London, and this was granted in 1133. about 34. Hen. I.

Sto. Sur. 212.

In farther confirmation of theſe Churches belonging to the Monaſtery of Eveſham, I find it thus; " In Londoniis Eccleſia S. Mich. de Cornhull, pertinet " ad Eccleſiam de Eveſham, cum tribus domibus, & reddit annuatim Eccleſiæ " duas marcas, & ſemel in anno Ignem, Salem, & Literiam.

Bib.Cot.Veſ. B. 24. f. 9.

In the Street call'd Cornhill, there was of old time an Hoſpitium or Inn, call'd, Coleyneſhyn; about the extreme, VVeſtern-part whereof, call'd, Vernivele; there was a great Controverſie between the Rector of this Pariſh of S. Michael, and that of S. Peters, in Cornhill, Anno 1391. to which of them the Oblations of the Inhabitants of that part of the Houſe did belong; but upon an Inquiſition it being found, that one part of the extreme VVeſtern-part thereof, containing in length from the Street North-ward 43 Foot and Half, and in breadth along the Street 41 Foot, was in the Pariſh of S. Michael; and the other Part thereof containing in length from Eaſt to VVeſt on the North-part 42 Foot, and in breadth 26 Foot, was in the Pariſh of S. Peter; it was at laſt finally compoſed and agreed between the ſaid Rectors, That the Rector of S. Michaels for the time being, ſhould admit the Inhabitants of that Part of the Houſe Coleyneſhyn, call'd, Vernivele; (about which the Controverſie was) to the Sacraments, and other Divine Offices, and ſhould receive whatever Fruits, Oblations, and Emoluments were due to God and the Church from the Inhabitants of that Part of the Houſe; and that thoſe Inhabitants, both preſent and future, ſhould come to the Pariſh-Church of S. Michael as Pariſhioners of that Pariſh, and there receive the Sacraments and Sacramentals, and pay their Oblations, according to the Cuſtom of the City, as other Pariſhioners do, which the Rector of the ſaid Church of S. Michael, for the time being, ſhall for ever receive without any moleſtation of the Rector of S. Peter for the time being. And for the Indemnity of the Rector of S. Peter, the ſaid Rector of S. Michael, for the time being, ſhall pay him xii d. at the Feaſt of the Nativity of our Lord yearly for ever, under pain of Sequeſtration, which Compoſition with the Conſent of both the Rectors of the ſaid Pariſhes, and with the Conſent and Aſſent of the whole Chapter of London, was confirm'd by Robert (Braybroke) Biſhop of London, under his Seal on the firſt Day of June, 1391. and in the 10th Year of his Conſecration.

Braybr. 336.

Sir Robert Drope, Draper, Mayor of London in 1474: (who was a great Benefactor to the Poor of this Pariſh and Ward) was buried in this Church, on the North-ſide of the Choir, under a fair Tomb of Grey Marble in 1485. and Jane his Widow matching with Edward Gray, Viſcount Liſle, was buried by her firſt Huſband, 1500. She gave 90 l. in Money to the beautifying of this Church, and her great Meſſuage with Appurtenances, which was by her Executors in 1517. aſſured to the Parſon and Church-Wardens of this Pariſh and their Succeſſors for ever, they to keep yearly her Obit or Anniverſary to be ſpent on the Poor or otherwiſe, in all 3 l. the reſt of the Profits to be employ'd in the Reparation of this Church.

Sto. Sur. 213

Which Meſſuage with the Appurtenances (call'd the Lady Liſle's Lands) was in the 34. Hen. VIII. leas'd out by the then Parſon and Church-Wardens of this Pariſh to T. Lodge, for 60 Years for the Rent of viii l. xiii s. iv d. the Year.

The Pariſhioners ſince gave it up as Chantry-Lands and wrong'd themſelves. Alſo the ſaid Rob. Drope, and Lady Liſle (notwithſtanding their Liberality to this Church and Pariſh) had their Tomb pulled down, and no Monument left remaining of them.

Ib. 214. John Tolns, Alderman, 1548. gave to John Willoby, Parſon of this Church, and to the Church-Wardens and their Succeſſors, towards the Reparation of this Church, and Relief of the Poor for ever, his Tenement, with the Appurtenances in this Pariſh; but the Pariſh never had the Gift, nor heard thereof by the ſpace of 40 Years, ſuch was the Conſcience of the Executors to conceal it to themſelves, and ſuch the Negligence of the Pariſhioners, that (being inform'd thereof) made no Claim thereto.

Braybr. 78. Here was a Chantry founded for the Soul of Walter de Billingham, to which, I find, the Biſhop of London collated, Anno 1390.

Sto. Sur. 213. Will. Comerton, and Sim. Smith, founded Chantries in this Ch. and were there buried. And Will. Rus was a ſpecial Benefactor to this Ch. His Arms then remained in the Windows.

Ibid. 214. In this Church lay buried Robert Fabian, Alderman and Sheriff of London, who compos'd a laborious Chronicle of England and France, with the Monuments and Succeſſion of the Lord Mayors of London, and died Anno Dom. 1511. with this Epitaph.

Like as the Day his courſe doth conſume,
And the new Morrow ſpringeth again as faſt,
So Man and Woman by Nature's cuſtom,
This Life to paſs, at laſt in Earth are caſt.
In Joy and Sorrow, which here their time do waſt
Never in one State; but in courſe tranſitory
So full of Change is of this World the Glory.

Ibid. 213. This was a fair and beautiful Church: But ſince the ſurrender of their Lands to Edw. VI. greatly blemiſh'd by the building of four Tenements on the North-ſide thereof towards the High-ſtreet, in place of a Green Church-yard, whereby the Ch. was darken'd, and otherwiſe annoy'd.

Grindal 71. Theſe four Tenements Richard Matthew, Rector of this Ch. by his Deed bearing date June 2. in the 11th of Queen Elizabeth, gave to James Hawes, Alderman, and other Citizens Inhabitants of this Pariſh, and to their Heirs and Aſſigns for ever (reſerving to himſelf and Succeſſors the Tyths of the ſaid Houſes) for the better Suſtentation of this Ch. and for the Reparation, and Ornaments of the ſame; which Gift was in the ſame Month and Year confirm'd by the Draper's Company Patrons thereof, and Edm. Grindall, Biſhop of London.

Sto. Sur. 215. This Ch. had on the South-ſide thereof a proper Cloiſter, and a fair Church-yard with a Pulpit-Croſs (not much unlike that in S. Paul's-Church-yard) built by Sir John Rudſtone (Mayor in 1528.) who cauſed the Church-yard to be enlarged by Ground purchaſed of the next Pariſh, and alſo proper Houſes to be rais'd for Lodging of Choir-Men, ſuch as were at that time Aſſiſtants to Divine Service, then daily ſung by Note in that Church; he appointed Sermons to be preach'd there, not now perform'd ſaith Stow. He died in 1531. and was buried in a Vault under the Pulpit-Croſs, but his Tomb before the ſaid Pulpit-Croſs was taken thence; and the Choir of the Ch. being diſſolv'd, the Lodgings of the Choir-Men were, by the grave Fathers of that time, Charitably appointed for the Receipt of antient decayed Pariſhioners; namely, Widows, and ſuch as were not able to bear the Charge of greater Rents abroad.

Ibid. 213. The fair and lofty Steeple of this Ch. was begun to be built in 1421. and being finiſh'd, a ring of five Bells was therein placed, to which about the Year 1430. a 6th was added, given by John Whitewell, Iſabel his VViſe, and the abovesaid Will. Rus, or Rous, and us'd to be nightly rung at eight of the Clock.

Theſe Six Bells were afterwards increas'd to the number of Ten, and was one of the moſt celebrated Rings of Bells in England. But in the late dreadſul Fire, 1666. were all melted down, and ſo mix'd with other Metals, that by ſkilſul Perſons it was judg'd unfit for the making of new Bells; upon which the Rector, Church-Wardens, and principal Inhabitants petition'd the Biſhop of London to conſent and allow that the ſaid Bell-metal might be ſold, and the Money rais'd thereby be diſpoſed of at Intereſt, and both Principal and Intereſt applied only for, or towards, the making of new Bells, when either the Pariſh ſhall be in a capable Condition of doing it, or the Biſhop or his Succeſſors ſhall require the ſame to be done; which Petition was approv'd and granted by the ſaid Biſhop and his Chancellor, Octob. 31. 1682. ſo that there remains a Stock for the making of new Bells.

But, I doubt (tho' the old Steeple ſtill remains a noble and graceful Ornament to the City) there muſt be a new one built; for if report be true, the old one is ſo weaken'd by the Fire, that it is not able to ſupport ſuch a Ring of Ten Bells as were there before. [This is ſaid, rebus ſic ſtantibus, ſoon after the Fire.] Ibid. 856.

The Church was repaired and beautified in 1618, 19, and 20. at the Charge of 644 l. and again in 1633. which coſt 300 l. more.

Fitzjam. 93. The Patronage of this Church was given (as is ſaid before) to the Abbot and Convent of Eveſham, in whom it continued till 1503. In which Year by their Deed bearing date Decemb. 3. they paſſed away the Advowſon thereof to the Maſter, Wardens, and Brethren, and Siſters of the Guild or Fraternity of our Bleſſed Lady of Drapers, in London, for the yearly Rent or Penſion of v l. vi s. viii d. to be paid them, and their Succeſſors for ever out of certain Lands or Tenements in this City, to be aſſured and aſſign'd over to them for that purpoſe, beſides the antient Penſion of vi s. viii d. cuſtomarily paid them out of the ſaid Church, as appears by a Jus Patronatus executed in the Year 1515. Tho' Stow tells us, That Eliz. Peak, Widow, gave the Patronage or Gift of this Benefice to the Drapers Company, but quotes no Authority for what he thus aſſerts. But it will appear by what follows, That from the time that the Abbot and Convent of Eveſham paſs'd over the Advowſon of this Church to the Company of Drapers, they have been and continued Patrons thereof ever ſince. Grevil* from Chriſtmas, 1679. for 20 Years at the yearly Rent of 5 s. all which is Glebe-Land belonging to the ſaid Church.

He likewiſe preſented 10 Gifts-Sermons, for the Performance of which there are ſeveral Bequeſts to the Value of 5 l. per Ann.

Beſides a Sunday Morning and Holiday Lecture, for the Maintenance of which John Rayney, Eſq; free of the Company of Drapers, by his VVill gave 40 l. per Ann. for ever, to be paid by the ſaid Company; and Houſes in Grace-church-ſtreet are charg'd therewith.

Theſe ſeveral Gift-Sermons are particularly ſpecified by the Church-VVardens in their Preſentment at the ſame time, together with ſeveral Gifts and Bequeſts to the Poor, not proper to be inſerted here.

Notwithſtanding this Church (among others in this City, that were burnt down in the late dreadful Fire) was order'd to be built by Act of Parliament out of the Duty laid upon Coals for that purpoſe, yet there were ſeveral Sums of Money given towards the rebuilding thereof by the Perſons following: viz. Sir John Langham 500 l. Sir John Mounſon 20 l. Sir John Cutler 20 l. Sir Andrew Riccard 100 l. James Clitherow, Eſq; 50 l. Mrs. Mary Scuttaw 20 l. in all 710 l.

Reg. Lond. lib. Vic. Gen. 15. fol. 125. In this Church-yard by Virtue of a Licence or Faculty granted by the Biſhop of London, dated Sept. 18. 1690. there are three or four Shops built at the South-VVeſt-corner thereof, and leas'd out for 999 Years at one Shilling per Ann. Rent, payable to the Rector, to certain Truſtees as a Security for the Payment of 5 l. per Ann. for the Benefit of the Poor of this Pariſh, being the Intereſt of 100 l. at 5 l. per Cent. order'd by Madam Hewitſon, Siſter to Sir *Will. THIS Church of S. Michael with the addition of Crooked-lane, from its ſituation in that Lane, is in Candlewick-ſtreet-Ward, a Rectory, and one of the 13 Peculiars in this City ſubject to the Archbiſhop of Canterbury. It was ſome time but a ſmall and homely Church ſtanding upon part of that Ground, wheron (if not now, yet) formerly ſtood the Parſonage-houſe, and the Ground thereabouts was a filthy Plot, by reaſon the Butchers, in Eaſtcheap, made the ſame their Lay-Stall. Per. Cant. St. Surv. 236.

Will de Burgo had a Licence granted him by the King to found a Chantry for his Soul in this Church, June 21. 1318. [Pat. 11. E. II. p. 1.] And the ſame Year gave Two Meſſuages to the ſame Church, for maintenance, I ſuppoſe, of the ſaid Chantry. Sto, ut ſupra.

Pentecoſtus Ruſſell founded a Chantry here, for which he had the King's Licence, July 14. 1321. [Pat. 15. E. III. p. 1.]

John Loveken, or Loufken, Stock-Fiſhmonger, four times Mayor of this City (whereof the laſt was in 1366.) built on the ſame Ground, where the Lay-Stall was, the late fair Church of S. Michael, and was there buried under a fair Tomb with the Image of him, and his Wife in Alabaſter; which John Loufken, built alſo an Hoſpital, call'd, Magdalens at Kingſton upon Thames, gave thereunto 9 Tenements, 10 Shops, 1 Mill, 125 Acres of Land, 10 Acres of Meadow, 120 Acres of Paſture, &c. Ibid. Ibid. 87.

Mon. Angl. 3. Vol. 2. P. p. 104. This Church hath been ſince increas'd with a new Choir and Side-Chapels, by Sir William Walworth, Stock-Fiſhmonger, Mayor (ſometime Servant to the ſaid John Louſken) famous in our Hiſtories for arreſting Wat Tyler in 1380.

Made a Collegiate Ch.

After which King Ric. II. having by his Letters Patents dated March 10. in the 4th of his Reign (Anno 1380.) granted Licence to the ſaid William Walworth, to unite ſeveral Chantries formerly founded by ſeveral Perſons in this Church (namely, the Chantries of the ſaid Will. de Burgo, and Pentecoſtus Ruſſell; and alſo of John Harewe, Hen. Gubbe, Will. Jordan, Walter Mordan, and Thomas at Leye) and out of them and their Revenue (then not ſufficient to maintain thoſe Chantries and ſuch as were to officiate;) and an Augmentation out of his own Eſtate, to found a College in this Church. He the ſaid Sir Will. Walworth accordingly founded the ſame, conſiſting (according to the Tenour of the ſaid Licence) of One Maſter, and Nine Prieſts, to celebrate Divine Offices for the good Eſtate of the ſaid King, and the ſaid Will. Walworth, and Margaret his Wife, whilſt living, and for their Souls when dead, and alſo for the Souls of all the Founders of the ſaid Chantries; and of the above-named John Louſken, and of all Benefactors, and all the Faithful deceas'd. And the ſaid Walworth, by Vertue of the ſaid Licence, ſetled his Houſe, which he had newly built near this Church for an Habitation of the ſaid Maſter and Chaplains for ever.

Sto. Sur. 237. Weav. Fun. Mon. 410. The ſaid Sir Will. Walworth, died in 1385. ſaith Stow in 1383. ſaith Weaver out of his Epitaph, and was here buried in the North-Chapel of his own Foundation by the Choir. But his Monument being (among others) by bad People defaced in the Reign of King Edw. VI. and ſince renewed by the Fiſhmongers, for lack of Knowledge of what before had been written in his Epitaph, they follow'd a fabulous Book, and wrote Jack Straw inſtead of Wat. Tyler, which was a great Error.

The ſaid Company of Fiſhmongers have likewiſe purſu'd another Error about the Dagger in the City-Arms, as appears by an Inſcription under the Statue of the ſaid Sir Will. Walworth, now ſtanding in their Hall, which is as followeth:

> Walworth, Knight, Lord Mayor, that ſlew
> Rebellious Tyler in his Alarms;
> The King, therefore, did give in lieu
> The Dagger to the City Arms.

As if in Reward of this Service done by the ſaid Walworth, King Richard II. added to the City-Arms (which was Argent a plain Croſs Gules) a Sword or Dagger, for which (Stow ſaith) he had read no ſuch Record; but to the contrary, as may be ſeen more at large in his Survey, p. 237. concluding, That the old Seal was the Croſs and Sword of S. Paul, and not the Dagger of William Walworth.

Pat. 1. Mar. p. 3. After the Suppreſſion of the aforeſaid College, it was with the Cloiſter and Appurtenances on the 29th of May, 1. Mariæ, granted to George Cotton, and Thomas Reeve, in Soccage.

Pat. 3. Eliz. p. 12. In the 3d of Elizabeth, the yearly Rent of iii s. x d. of the yearly Value of the tenth Part of the Rectory, was (among other like Rents) granted to the Archbiſhop of Canterbury.

Reg. Cant. lib. Moreton, 226. Rob. March, Stock-Fiſhmonger, gave to this Pariſh two Pieces of Ground to be a Church-yard, which was conſecrated in the Year 1392. by Vertue of a Commiſſion from the Archbiſhop of Canterbury.

This Church was of old in the Gift of the Prior and Convent of *Chriſt-*Church, Canterbury, and ſo continued in the Year 1408. But after that, viz. in 1440. it appears to be in the Archbiſhop, in whom, and his Succeſſors, it hath remain'd ever ſince; but how, or by what means, it came to them I have not found.

Sto. Sur. 856. This Church was repair'd and beautified in 1610. and the Roof rebuilt and cover'd with Lead in 1621. which coſt 500 l.

In 1636. the yearly Profits of this Church were return'd as followeth:

	l.	s.	d.
Tyths ———	80	00	00
Caſualties ———	06	13	04
A Parſonage-Houſe	00	00	00

But the Church being burnt down in the late dreadful Fire, is ſince rebuilt and made of the yearly Value of 100 l. in lieu of Tyths to the Incumbent.

More now than in 1636. —— —— ——	20	00	00

A Leaſe of the Glebe, on part whereof the Parſonage-houſe ſtood formerly, dated Mar. 20. 1681. was granted by Ric. Pearſon, Rector to Thomas Warren for 40 Years. For the firſt Two Years, whereof he is to pay a Pepper-Corn, and for the laſt 38 Years vi l. per Ann. upon which he is to build a Houſe.

When this Church (in place whereof was ſome time a Corn-Market, as aboveſaid) was built, I find not. However, it will appear by what follows, That here was a Church of S. Michael, in the Year 1181. the firſt Year of Ralph de Diceto's being Dean of S. Pauls, when a Survey was made of the Lands and Churches belonging to that Cathedral-Church; among which was the State of this Church of S. Michael, taken as followeth:

R. D. & Cap. Lib. B. f. 36.

"Eccleſia S. Michaelis de Macello eſt Canonicorum, & reddit eis ii. Marcas
" per manum Roberti Capellani, & ſolvit Synodalia iv d. Archid. xii d. non " habet Cœmiterium. Habet hæc Eccleſia in Dominio ſuo quandam Terram
" ad Oſtium Eccleſiæ verſus Aquilonem.

Sto. ut ſupra.

It ſeemeth (ſaith Stow) that this Church was new-built about the Reign of Edw. III. but was not then, in all likelihood, either Rectory or Vicarage; but made a Rectory many Years after, if what Stow ſaith farther be true; for he tells us, That Thomas Newton, firſt Parſon there, was buried in the Choir 1361 in the Year ~~1461~~. ſo that, probably, till this Tho. Newton was made Parſon or Rector of this Church, it was only a Donative or Curacy ſupplied by the Canons of S. Pauls, the Patrons thereof, or ſuch as they appointed or beſtowed it upon. And ſo it ſeems to be in the time of Ralph de Diceto, it being then ſaid as above, That Two Marks was paid to the ſaid Canons by the Hand of Robert the Chaplain.

In 1324. (18. Edw. II.) Robert Newcomen, Citizen of London, founded a perpetual Chantry in this Church at the Altar of the Bleſſed Virgin, for the Souls of himſelf Matilda and Petronell his Wives: Which Chantry, as alſo another in this Church, for the Soul of John Combe, were in the Year 1529. by reaſon of their inſufficiency to maintain Two Prieſts, united into One, and annex'd together, by Cuthbert Tunſtall then Biſhop of London. Tunſtall 157.

John Mundham had a Chantry here in the 4th of Edw. II.

At the Eaſt-end of this Church ſtood a Croſs, call'd, the Old Croſs, in Weſt-cheap, which was taken down in 1390. ſince which time, the ſaid Pariſh-Church was alſo taken down, but new built and enlarged in the Year 1430. In which Year (8. Hen. VI.) William Eaſtfield, Mayor, and the Commonalty granted of the common Ground of the City three Foot and half in breadth on the North-part, and four Foot in breadth toward the Eaſt for the enlarging thereof. Sto. ut ſupra.

In this Church was buried John Leland, or Leyland, the famous Antiquary. Of whom I think it not amiſs to give this ſhort account out of the Ath. Ox. 1. Vol. 67, &c. where may be read more largely of him, and his Works.

John Leland, that ſingular Light and Ornament of Great Brittain, was born in London, but in what Pariſh or Year appears not. In his younger Years being depriv'd of his Relations, he was taken into the Protection of one Tho. Myles, a great favourer of Learning, who not only exhibited to his wants, but took care to have him inſtructed in Grammar, and other Juvenile Learning under the famous William Lilye, from which School he went to Chriſt's-College in Cambridge, and from thence to Oxford, where he ſpent (as we have it from good Authority) ſeveral Years in All-ſouls-College. After which he went to Paris, where he profited himſelf much. Returning thence, he enter'd into Holy Orders, became a Chaplain to King Henry VIII. and Rector of Poppeling (Popering, or Pepling) in the Marches of Calais. Afterwards, he became Library-Keeper to the King, and had a Commiſſion from him under the Broad Seal, 25. Hen. VIII. to ſearch after England's Antiquities, and peruſe the Libraries of all Cathedrals, Abbies, Priories, Colleges, &c. as alſo all Places, wherein Records, Writings, and Secrets of Antiquity were repoſ'd. He ſpent more than ſix Years in rambling to and fro in this Nation, and in making reſearches into the Bowels of Antiquity. At the time of the Diſſolution of Monaſteries, he ſaw with great pitty, what Havock was made of antient Monuments of Learning, and if no remedy ſhould be taken, they would all Periſh: For Prevention of which, he wrote a Letter to Cromwell to give him aſſiſtance. On Apr. 3. 1542. he was preſented to the Rectory of Haſeley, in Oxfordſhire. And in the ſame Month in 1543. the King gave him a Canonry of King's-College (now Chriſt-Church) in Oxon, and about that time the Preb. of Eaſt-Knoll, and Weſt-Knoll near Salisbury, in Wiltſhire. But the Canonry of Chriſt-Church he loſt in 1545. upon the ſurrender of that College to the King, and in lieu thereof had no Penſion allow'd him, as other Canons had, but Preferment elſewhere. At length, having made a grand Collection of Antiquities, he retir'd to his Habitation in this Pariſh of S. Michael Querne, where ſpending about ſix Years more in compoſing ſuch Books, as he had promiſed to the King, he at length fell diſtracted, and was committed to the Cuſtody of his Brother John Leland, Senior, by Letters Patents dated Mar. 21. 5. Edw. VI. (1550.) who for his Maintenance was to receive the Profits of Haſeley, Popplyng, Eaſt and Weſt-Knoll before mention'd. He was eſteem'd by the generality of Scholars, in his time an excellent Orator and Poet, learned in the Greek, Latin, French, Italian, Spaniſh, Britiſh, Saxon, Welſh and Scotiſh Tongues; a moſt diligent ſearcher into Antiquities, and a favourer and lover of all thoſe that bent their Minds that way. He died Apr. 18. 1552. and was buried in this Church, as was ſaid above.

This our Leland, is call'd by Writers Lelandus Junior, in regard of another John Leland, who flouriſh'd in the time of King Hen. VI. taught a School in Oxford, and wrote certain Treatiſes of the Art of Grammar. Weav. Fun. Mon. 692.

S. Michael Royal, Rectory.

THIS Church of S. Michael, written in old Records Eccleſia beati Michaelis Paternoſter Cherch in la Ryol, vel in Riola, London, now S. Michael Royal, ſtands on the Eaſt-ſide of College-Hill, in Vintry-Ward.

Pecul. Cant.

It is one of the 13 Peculiars in this City, which are ſubject to the Archbiſhop of Canterbury; and the Prior and Chapter of Canterbury, appear to be all along Patrons of this Church, till ſuch time as it was made a College and then, tho' they ſtill continued Patrons, yet the Nomination of ſuch Perſon as they were to preſent (which was to be under the Title of Maſter, but to be Rector of the Church) was in the Wardens of the Company of Mercers, London. But after the Suppreſſion of this College, the Dean and Chapter of Canterbury became Patrons of the Church, and have continued ſo ever ſince.

Mon. Aug. 3. Vol. Par. 2, 178, &c.

This Church was new built, and made a College of S. Spirit and S. Mary, by Sir Richard Whitington, ſeveral times Mayor of London (the laſt whereof was in 1418. (7. Hen. V.) for a Maſter, and four Fellows Maſters of Arts, Clerks, Conducts, Choriſts, &c. viz. Two Clerks, beſides the Pariſh-Clerk, and Four Choriſts; and an Almſhouſe, call'd, God's-Houſe or Hoſpital, for 13 poor People; One of them to be the Chief under the Title of Tutor.

The Church was begun to be rebuilt by the ſaid Ric. Whitington, in his Life-time; but that, and the College and Almſhouſe, were finiſh'd by John Coventry, Jenkin Carpenter, and Will. Grove his the ſaid Richard's Executors after his Death, according to his laſt VVill and Teſtament.

The Licence for this Foundation was granted by Hen. IV. in the 11th of his Reign, and in his 12th the Mayor and Commonalty of London, granted to the ſaid Rich. Whitington, a vacant Piece of Ground, thereon to build his College in the Royal; all which was confirm'd by K. Hen. VI. in the 3d of his Reign, and again by Parliament in the 10th of the ſame King.

Sto. Sur. 256.

Hen. Chicheley, Archbiſhop of Canterbury, granted his Licence, dated Nov. 20. 1424. in the 12th of his Tranſlation, to erect and found this College and Hoſpital, in manner as aforeſaid, and to make Statutes for the better Governing of the ſame.

Reg. Cant. lib. Chicheley, Par. I. p. 168.

The ſaid Executors having gone thus far, went on with, and finiſh'd the Work, and proceeded to make Statutes for the Government of the ſaid College and Hoſpital. Thoſe for the College, bearing Date the 17th and 18th of December, 3. Henry VI. 1424. and alſo farther Statutes for the ſame College, dated Febr. 3. following; and thoſe for the Hoſpital, bearing Date the 21ſt of December, the ſame Year; all which may be ſeen at large in Mon. Angl. Vol. III. Part II. pag. 178. and 189. and in the ſame Volume, inter Additamenta, p. 99.

By theſe Statutes, the ſaid Maſter and Fellows of the ſaid College, were enjoyn'd to pray for the Souls of the ſaid Ric. Whitington and Alice his Wife (their Founders) and for the Souls of his and her Fathers and Mothers; and after them, for the Souls of K. Richard II. and Thomas of Woodſtock, Duke of Gloceſter, ſpecial Lords and Promoters of the ſaid Ric. Whitington, and for their Conſorts; and for the Souls of all the Faithful, deceaſed. Likewiſe for the good Eſtate of King Henry VI. the preſent Archbiſhop of Canterbury, the ſaid Executors, &c. whilſt living, and their Souls when dead. And finally, That the Souls of King Edward III. Walter de Waldeſhef, Citizen of London, and Joan his Wife, and Philip de Taylour and Sabina his Wife, be likewiſe nam'd, and eſpecially remembred among the Canons of the Maſſes, by one of the Chaplains of the ſaid College, to be deputed every Year, by the Maſter of the ſame, to that purpoſe.

In the ſaid Statutes of the 17th and 18th of December, the ſaid Executors conſtituted William Brooke (who was then, and had been ſome Years before, Rector of this Church of S. Michael) John White, Nicolas Gayton, Richard Oliver and Gregory King, Chaplains of the ſaid College, and ordain'd the ſaid William Brooke, Maſter of the ſaid Chaplains and College; and in the ſame Statutes (inter alia) ordain'd, That the Maſters of this College, for the future, ſhould be Rectors of this Church, but not to be nam'd Rectors, but Maſters of the College, and were to be choſen for the future, in one Month after every Vacancy, by the four Fellows or Chaplains of the ſaid College, and admitted into the Maſterſhip, by the Preſident of the ſame; which Choice and Admiſſion they were to certify, under their common Seal, to the Wardens of the Mercers Company, for the time being (whom they made Conſervators of the ſaid College and Hoſpital) who were to nominate the Perſon ſo elected and admitted, to the Prior and Chapter of Chriſt-Church, Canterbury; and they were to preſent the ſame Perſon to the Ordinary, to be inſtituted and admitted to this Church of S. Michael, according to a Compoſition made between the ſaid Prior and Chapter, and the Executors, and Wardens of the Myſtery of of Mercers aforeſaid, which Wardens, and the Mayor of London for the time being, and their Succeſſors, were made Viſitors of the ſaid College.

It was alſo farther provided by the ſame Statutes, That the Maſter of the ſaid College (beſides the accuſtom'd Rights and Profits of the ſaid Church as Parochial) ſhould have x. Marks, ſterling, per ann. out of the Revenues of the ſaid College: Every Chaplain xi. Marks, the firſt Clerk viii. Marks, and the ſecond c. Shillings, and every Choriſter v. Marks yearly; to be paid to the ſaid reſpective Perſons quarterly, by equal Portions, at the four uſual Feaſts.

In the additional Statutes of the 3d of February, it appears, that in regard this College was not as then ſufficiently endow'd, the ſaid Executors, out of the perſonal and real Eſtate of the ſaid Ric. Whitington, now in their Poſſeſſion, granted the Sum of ſixty three Pounds per Ann. for the Support of the Burdens of the ſaid College, till the ſame ſhould, by Virtue of the King's Licence, or by the Gift of ſome honeſt Citizen, be throughly endowed with the like yearly Sum.

And as to the Maintenance of the 13 poor People, in the aforeſaid Almshouſe or Hoſpital, it was provided by the aforeſaid Statutes of the 21ſt of December, that the Tutor ſhould be allowed xvi d. per Week, and the other Twelve iv d. (Stow ſaith xiv d.) per Week, with other Neceſſaries.

Weav. Fun. Mon. 408. This Sir Ric. Whitington flouriſh'd in the Reigns of K. Rich. II. Hen. IV. Hen. V. and died about the beginning of Hen. VI. having begun to build Newgate, and the Library of Grey-Friers at Chriſt-Church, London, with that of Guild-hall, all which were finiſh'd by his Executors, with his Goods.

Sto.Surv.257. The ſaid Sir Ric. Whitington, the Founder of this College, was (as Stow tells us) in this Church three times buried; firſt by his Executors, under a fair Monument: then in the Reign of Edw. VI. the Parſon of this Church thinking ſome great Riches (as he ſaid) to be buried with him, cauſed his Monument to be broken, his Body to be ſpoil'd of his Leaden-Sheet, and again the ſecond time to be buried: and in the Reign of Q. Mary, the Pariſhioners were forced to take him up, to lay him in Lead, as afore; to bury him the third time, and to place his Monument, or the like, over him again, and ſo he reſted.

Reg. Cant. lib. Moreton. 28. Edward Underwood, Doctor of Divinity, Maſter of this College, and the Chaplains, Clerks and Choriſters thereof, having founded a Fraternity here, call'd Fraternitas Sanctæ Sophiæ, for the Reading of a Divinity-Lecture, got the ſame confirm'd by Dr. John Moreton, Archbiſhop of Canterbury, under his Seal, dated at Lambeth, April 4. 1490.

Ibid. 337. Gilbert Heydok, Doctor of Divinity, by his Will, dated July 17. 1481. gave to the Maſter and Fellows of this College, 600 Marks, to find two fit Chaplains (beſides thoſe of the Foundation) which were to be Doctors or Bachelours of Divinity, at leaſt Maſters of Art, not only to pray for his Soul, &c. but alſo to preach and inſtruct the People; but after his Death, his Goods being not ſufficient, ſo that the Maſter and Fellows receiv'd no more than 100 Marks, they purchas'd one Houſe of 10 Marks yearly Rent; at whoſe Petition, Will. Warham, Archbiſhop of Canterbury, order'd, That the ſaid Fellows ſhould each of them receive one Mark yearly out of the ſaid Rent, on this Condition, that every one of them (beſide the Sermons they were to preach in their College) ſhould every Year, where-ever they pleas'd, either in the City, or out of it, preach two Sermons, and commend to the Prayers of their Audience, the Soul of the ſaid Gilb. Heydok, and the Maſter of the ſaid College was to receive 10 s. yearly, to take care that this Courſe of Sermons be performed; and likewiſe to cauſe the ſaid deceaſed's Obit to be yearly celebrated by the ſaid Maſters and Fellows, and others of the ſaid College, in which they were to receive nothing for themſelves, but to make ſuch a Diſtribution among the Clerks, as was wont to be made before at the ſame Obit; and farther order'd, That if the Rents of the ſaid Houſe did decreaſe, their yearly Salaries ſhould decreaſe in Proportion. This Order bears Date at Lambeth, Oct. 1. 1509.

This College was ſuppreſs'd by the Statute of Edw. VI. and was at that time valu'd at 20 l. 1 s. 8 d. per ann. Dugd. 20 l. 1 s. 10 d. q. Speed. but the Almshouſe with the poor Men did remain, and were paid by the Mercers.

2. Ed.VI p.4. The Capital-Houſe and Site of this College, was in 2. Edw. VI. ſold to Armigal Wade, and in 2. Eliz. the yearly Rent of xiv s. was (inter alia) granted to the Archbiſhop of Canterbury, out of the Rectory.

2. Eliz. p. 11. I have now done with this Church as a College, and muſt return to it again as a Rectory.

Weav. Fun. Mon. 700. Sir William Bayly Draper, Mayor of the City in 1524. with Dame Katherine his Wife, were buried here, leaving 16 Children behind them, and founded a Chantry in this Church. He was the Son of John Bayly of Thaxted in Eſſex.

Sto.Surv.859. This Church was repair'd and beautify'd in 1630. the Charge of it amounting to 120 l. 9 s.

i Ric. Smith, the greateſt Pillar for the Roman Catholick cauſe, in his time, was born in Worceſterſhire, admitted Probationer Fellow of Merton College in the beginning of the Year 1527. Maſter of Arts in 1530. and the Year after, was unanimouſly choſen the Publick Scribe or Regiſtrary of the Univerſity of Oxford. Afterwards he became Rector of Cuxham in Oxfordſhire, for a time; Principal of S. Albans-Hall; Divinity Reader of Magdalen-College; the King's Profeſſor of Divinity in the ſaid Univerſity, and Doctor of that Faculty; after he was Doctor, he was admitted Maſter of this College in 1537. as above; but being forc'd to leave his Profeſſorſhip in the Reign of King Edw. VI. to make Room for Peter Martyr (as alſo his Maſterſhip of this College) he went to Lovain in Brabant, where being receiv'd with Solemnity, he became Publick-Profeſſor of Divinity there for a time. When Queen Mary was advanc'd to the Crown, he was not only reſtor'd to his Profeſſorſhip in the Univerſity of Oxford (and to his Maſterſhip of this College) but alſo was made one of the Chaplains to that Queen, and Canon of Chriſt-Church. He occurs Rector of S. Dunſtan in the Eaſt, the time of his Admiſſion appears not, but he reſign'd it in 1557. before July 19. In 1559. Q. Elizabeth being then in the Throne, he loſt all his Preferments (that of this College being one) and was committed to the Cuſtody of Matthew. Archbiſhop of Canterbury, by whoſe Perſuaſion he recanted what he had written in Defence of the Celibacy of Prieſts; afterwards he gave the Archbiſhop the Slip, went to Doway in Flanders, and was conſtituted Dean of S. Peter's-Church in that Place, by Philip King of Spain, who erecting an Academy there at that time, made him the firſt King's-Profeſſor thereof. He was by thoſe of his own perſuaſion accounted the beſt School-man of his time, a ſubtle Diſputant, and admirably well read in the Fathers and Councils. The Roman-Catholick Writers of him, ſay, he did in a moſt egregious manner, ſeveral times baffle Peter Martyr in his publick Diſputations with him in the Divinity-School. The Proteſtant Writers report, that he was more a Sophiſter than a Divine, that he was non-pluſt ſeveral times by Peter Martyr, and that he was a gogle-ey'd Fellow, and very inconſtant in his Opinion. This learned Doctor gave way to Fate 7. Id. at July 1563. and was buried in the Chapel of our Lady, joyning to the Church of S. Peter in Doway aforeſaid, aged 63. [*Ath. However, he occurs Rector of S. Pancras Soperlane, but the time of his Admiſſion appears not, but of his Reſignation it doth, which was before the 4th of Octob. 1561. [Reg. Cant.]

Sto. ut ſupra.

In this Church, the Heads of James IV. King of Scots, ſlain at Flodden-Field, but afterwards hewn from the Body, out of fooliſh Pleaſure, as it lay wrap'd up in Lead in a waſte Room, among Rubble, in the Monaſtery of Sheine in Surrey, after the Diſſolution thereof, was buried by Lancelot Young, Maſter-Glaſier to Q. Elizabeth, who for the ſweet Odour he ſmelt to come from it, and ſeeing it dried from all Moiſture, and yet the Form remaining, with the Hair of the Head and Beard red, brought it to his Houſe in Woodſtreet, where for a time he kept it for the Sweetneſs, and at laſt cauſed the Sexton to bury it among other Bones taken out of their Charnel.

This Church was all along in the Gift of the Abbot of S. Albans, and ſo continued till the Diſſolution of that Monaſtery; after which, the Advowſon thereof, with the Appurtenances in 35. Hen. VIII. was ſold to William Burwell, and by him, in Q. Elizabeth's time, firſt to John Marſh Citizen of London, then to Thomas Marſh, Ric. Hanbury and others, in the 30th of Elizabeth, in Truſt (as I conceive) for the Pariſh, and has continu'd in the like Truſt ever ſince. 35. H. VIII. p. 8. 30. Eliz. p. 13.

This Church was repair'd and beautify'd at the Coſt of the Pariſhioners in 1620. Sto. Stur. 859.

In 1693. the Rector and Church-Wardens preſented as followeth, viz. the Ground-Rent of three Houſes in Lad-Lane, leas'd to Mr. Dios, at 22 l. 4 s. yearly for 61 Year, and about 35 Years unexpired.

The Ground-Rent of two Houſes in Huggin-Lane, leas'd to Mr. Aleming for 61 Years, and about 34 Years unexpired.

The Ground-Rents above-mention'd, they ſay, were given to the Pariſh by ſome Alderman of London, in the Reign of King Edward III. but the Deeds are ſo defac'd by time, that the particular Uſes cannot be aſſign'd, but Cuſtom has carried it for the Maintenance of the Poor, and diſcharging other Incidences.

The Church-Wardens, likewiſe, in their Preſentment ſay, there was no Parſonage-Houſe before the Fire, nor Glebe, that they ever heard of.

Quære, whether thoſe Houſes above-mention'd, or ſome of them, may not be the Gift of Ive, Foſter and Fikeldon, all before-nam'd, for the Repair of the Church, &c. and whether the two Houſes in Huggen-Lane are not on the Ground where the Parſonage-Houſe ſtood, or what is become of that Ground; for it appears plainly above, that there was ſuch a Houſe belonging to the Rectors of this Church in 1636.

S. MILDRED.

THere are two Churches in this City dedicated to the Memory of this Saint, namely;

S. Mildred { Breadſtreet.
Poultry.

This S. Mildred the Virgin, was Daughter to Merwaldus, a Prince (not King as ſome call him) of Weſt-Mercia, who was Brother (ſaith Matth. Weſtminſter) or Son (ſaith Polidore Virgil) of Penda King of the Mercians. The Mother of Mildred, and Wife of Merwaldus, was nam'd Dompnena (or Dompneva) ſaith Capgrave (not naming her Husband) and Daughter to Ermenred, eldeſt Son of Eadbald, King of Kent, who died before his Father. But Matth. Weſtminſter ſaith, That Mildred's Mother's Name was Emenburga (Daughter of Prince Ermenred) ſo likewiſe ſaith Polidore Virgil. However, Writers agree, That the Daughter of Ermemred, call'd Ermenburga by ſome, and Dompnena by Capgrave, as above, founded the Minſter Abby, in the Iſle of Thanet, by Grant and Aſſiſtance of King Egbert, Son of her Uncle Ercombert, whereof ſhe her ſelf became the firſt Abbeſs, and her Daughter Mildred, who ſucceeded, was the ſecond.

This holy Virgin S. Mildred (ſays the Author of the Engliſh Martyrologie) contemning the vain Pleaſures of the World, went over, in her tender Years, into France, and there dedicated her ſelf to God in a Monaſtery of Virgins at Kale; but afterwards returning into England, and gathering together 70 other Virgins, was conſecrated Abbeſs of a new Monaſtery in the Iſle of Thanet, by S. Theodore, Archbiſhop of Canterbury; where ſhe died the 3d Day before the Ides of July, Ann. 676. and was buried: Her Body was afterwards tranſlated, on July 13. to Canterbury, by Archbiſhop Lanfrank, with the Body of S. Edburga, and there plac'd in S. Gregory's Church, Anno Chriſti 1085. Part of her Reliques were tranſlated to Daventer in Gelderland. Her Depoſition was kept in Memory, Feb. 20. as her Tranſlation was, July 13.

Mon. Angl. 1. Vol. 84. In Monaſticon it is ſaid, the Tranſlation of S. Mildred from the Iſle of Thanet to Canterbury, was Ann. 1030. 15. Kal. of June, Ealſtan being then Abbot of Auguſtin, and there buried before the Altar of S. Peter, where ſhe had an eminent Tomb and an Altar. It is there alſo ſaid, That, Ann. 1033. Abbot Ethelſtan tranſlated S. Mildred from Thanet to S. Auguſtins.

Creſſ. Chur. Hiſt. Lib. 17. cap. 19. Creſſy tells us, That the determinate Year of her Death is uncertain; but certain it is, ſays he, That it is wrongfully aſcrib'd by ſome Writers to the Year of Grace 664. For ſince the ſame Authors affirm, That her Siſter Milburga and ſhe were conſecrated by S. Theodore, Archbiſhop of Canterbury, who came not into Britain till after that Year, it is evident, that in their Computation there is an Anachroniſm; we may therefore, ſays he, more commodiouſly aſcribe it to the Year of our Lord's Incarnation 676.

S. Mildred Breadſtreet, Rectory.

Archid. Commiſſar. Lond. THIS Church of S. Mildred, with the Addition of Breadſtreet from its Situation, ſtands on the Eaſt ſide of Breadſtreet, in Breadſtreet-Ward, and is a Rectory, ſubject to the Archdeacon, ſaving only as to Wills and Adminiſtrations, which belong to the Commiſſary.

Sto. Sur. 392. The Lord Trenchant, of S. Albans, Knight (who had a Monument in this Church) was ſuppoſed to be either the new-Builder of it, or beſt Benefactor to the Works thereof, about 1300. and certain Corniſh Gentlemen, in 1312. and alſo Will. Palmer, Blader, in 1356.

Grey 78. Sir John Chadworth or Shadworth (Mayor of London, in 1401.) by his Will bearing Date May 7. 1428. gave the Parſonage-Houſe, a Reveſtry and Church-Yard to the Rector and Pariſhioners of this Pariſh; notwithſtanding which, his Monument (which was on the North-ſide of the Chancel) was pull'd down. (Sto. ut ſupra.)

This Church was in the Gift of the Prior and Convent of S. Mary (Overies) in Southwark, till Bartholomew, the Prior there, and the ſaid Convent, on Jan. 8. 1533. granted the Advowſon thereof to John Iment and John Oliver, Clerks, and others, and to their Heirs, Executors, and Adminiſtrators, joyntly and ſeverally for a certain Number of Years (but the Number is not expreſſed) by Virtue of which Grant, and ſeveral Aſſignments made to ſeveral Perſons ſucceſſively, ſeveral Clerks have been admitted at the Preſentation of private Perſons from time to time, as the Church hath happened to be vacant, the laſt whereof was in June 1604. at the Preſentation of Will. Woodford, Patron for that turn, the Number of Years of the ſaid Grant being not then expired. (Grindall 134.)

Nic. Bradſhaw, who was then preſented, in 1604. continu'd Parſon of this Church till the Rebellion broke out, in 1642. and then was outed for his Loyalty, and Rich. Adams placed in his room by the uſurping Powers, who continu'd in it till he was ejected by Act of Parliament for Nonconformity: And then upon the Admiſſion of the next Incumbent, in 1663. the Patronage appears to be in Sir Nicolas Criſpe, in whoſe Family (for ought I know) it ſtill remains; which Family of the Criſps, when this Church was repaired and beautified, in 1628. were great Benefactors to it, as may be ſeen at large in Stow's Surv. 859. &c.

h John Durham, the preſent Rector of theſe two united Churches of S. Mildred and S. Margaret Moſes. 1700.

S. Mildred Poultry, Rectory.

Archid.Commiſſar. Lond.

THIS Church of S. Mildred (written in the old Records, Eccleſia S. Mildredæ ſuper Walbrooke, vel in Pulletria, unà cum Capella Beatæ Mariæ de Conyhop eidem annexæ) is ſituate on the North-ſide of the Poultry, in Cheap-Ward; is a Rectory, ſubject to the Archdeacon, ſaving only as to Wills and Adminiſtrations, which belong to the Commiſſary.

Sto.Surv.273.

In what Year this Church was firſt erected, or who was the firſt Founder of it (Stow ſays) we find not; but it appears from ſome ancient Evidences of the Church, that from the beginning it had not ſo much ſpare Ground about it, as to make a Church-yard of, till, in 1420. Tho. Morſted, Eſq; and Chirurgeon to K. Henry IV. V. and VI. (and afterwards, in 1436. Sheriff and Alderman of London) gave to this Ch. a parcel of Ground lying between his Dwelling-Houſe and the ſaid Church (and adjoyning to the ſaid Church towards the North) to make a Church-yard of for the Burial of the Dead; containing in Length, from the Courſe of Walbrook towards the Weſt, 45 foot; and in Bredth, from the Church towards the North, 35 foot.

Within ſhort time after, ſome Perſon, of religious and charitable Diſpoſition, erected upon the ſides of the ſaid Church-yard, but upon Poſts and Pillars, with Cloiſters underneath, towards the Weſt, a Parſonage-Houſe, or Manſion and free Dwelling for the Rectors of this Church; and towards the Eaſt, four Chambers, then call'd the Prieſts Chambers; afterwards converted into a Tenement or Dwelling-Houſe, and demis'd for yearly Rent. But the Church-yard was much abridg'd, and foully defac'd, and the Lights of the ſaid Parſonage-Houſe hindred by the Additions of pieces of Buildings to the ſaid antient Chambers, which ought not to have been.

This Church being old, the Parſon and Pariſhioners began to pull it down, and to build it new again, about the Year 1456.

Ibid. 274.

In 1594. this Church-yard, and the Buildings thereon, which had been thus long in the free Poſſeſſion of the Miniſters and Pariſhioners, were, through the Information of an ill Man, then Tenant in the Chambers, ſold for conceal'd Lands, whereby they were like to be loſt from the Poſſeſſion of the Ch. and the Miniſters to be charg'd with a yearly Rent of their Parſonage-Houſe for ever. But the Parſon and Pariſhioners, by a judicial Proceeding in the Court of Exchequer, at a Trial in Guild-Hall, London, clear'd all the whole Soil from that Incumbrance.

In the ſame Year, 1594. Tho. Lane, Citizen and Scrivener of London, by his laſt Will and Teſtament, gave his ſmall Tenement over againſt London-Wall, near Biſhopſgate, to this Church, towards the Reparations thereof, and Relief of the Poor. Sto. Sur. 275.

This Church had of old time a Chapel annext to it, as is ſaid above, ſituate at Conyhop-Lane end (now the Lane leading to Grocers-Hall) it was called the Chapel of Corpus Chriſti and S. Mary, at Conyhop-Lane end. It was founded by one Jonnirunnes, a Citizen of London, in the Reign of Edw. III. (ſays Stow) in which Chapel there was a Guild or Fraternity that might diſpend in Lands better than 20 l. per Ann. It was ſuppreſs'd by Hen. VIII. and purchaſed by one Tho. Hobſon, Haberdaſher, who turn'd this Chapel into a Ware-houſe, with Shops towards the the Street, with Lodgings over them. Ibid. Conyhop-Chapel.

But it will preſently appear, that this Chapel was founded before Edw. III. Time; for on 2. Id. May 1325. (18. Edw. II.) I find a Rector inſtituted to this Ch. of S. Mildred, unà cum Capella S. Mariæ de Conyhop eidem annexa, and for ought we know, might have been founded many Years before. Baudake 60.

Here were two perpetual Chantries in this Church, at the Altar of the Bleſſed Virgin, one for the Soul of Solomon Lanſare, Citizen and Cutler of London, founded about the Year 1337. and the other for the Soul of John Broun, about 1366. but both ſoon united together. Of both which the Rector, Church-wardens, and Pariſhioners of this Pariſh were Patrons. ibid. 102. Sudbury 43.

This Church was repair'd and beautifi'd in 1626. at the Charge of the Pariſhioners. Sto.Sur. 861.

In 1636. the annual Profits of this Church were return'd as follows: Sion-Colleg. MS.

A Parſonage-Houſe--

This Church was formerly in the Gift of the Prior and Convent of S. Mary Overye, and ſo continu'd till their Suppreſſion, upon which it came to the Crown, and hath remain'd in it ever ſince.

This Church being burnt down in the late dreadful Fire, is ſince rebuilt, and made the Parochial-Ch. for this and the Pariſh of S. Mary Colechurch, which is united to it, and both together are made of the yearly Value of 170 l. in lieu of Tyths to the Incumbent.

	l.	s.	d.
In 1636. Tyths of S. Mildred Poultry —— ——	80	00	00
Allowance to the Curate of S. Mary Colechurch by the Mercers Company, it being their Donative ——	40	00	00
Total of both —— ——	120	00	00
Both now more than before ——	50	00	00

In 1693. the Church-wardens preſented the Parſonage-Houſe (which was built upon Pillars, and Cloiſters under it for burying) burnt down by the late dreadful Fire, and ſtill remains unbuilt. Beſides which, there was no other Houſe nor Glebe. Reg. Lond.

They likewiſe preſented a ſmall part of the Ground of the Miniſter's Houſe about 8 foot by 6, taken into the preſent Veſtry-Houſe, for which a Recompence is made of 32 by 12 in the Church-yard, beſides the Veſtry-Houſe.

They farther preſented (beſides Gifts and Bequeſts to the Poor, which I omit) the Intereſt of 100 l. for a Preparation-Sermon for the Sacrament every Month, the whole of which was not paid to the Pariſh: what was receiv'd was laid out, by the Conſent of the Miniſter and Pariſhioners, and was loſt. The Pariſh allows 3 l. out of their Stock.

A Sermon to be on the 17th. of Novemb. yearly, for which the Miniſter has 25 s. payable by the Pariſh of S. Mary Colechurch.

Sermons to be on Faſt-Days, in the Afternoon; but the Money loſt.

Three Pounds per Ann. is left for the Repairs of the Church.

Two Hundred Pounds left by the Lady Allington, towards the rebuilding of the Church; the moſt of it left in Mr. Thompſon's Hands and Partners, and loſt.

They likewiſe preſented Two Houſes let to this Pariſh, on condition they have a ſelect Veſtry.

This was the Gift of one Will. Tudman, of this Pariſh (being 12 l. per Ann.) to oblige the Pariſhioners of the ſame (for the avoiding thoſe Inconveniences which did uſually ariſe from a general Veſtry) to tranſact the Buſineſs of the ſaid Church and Pariſh by a ſelect Veſtry, as it had been formerly done, till 1644. In order to which, on Mar. 23. 1656. it was agreed at a general Veſtry, That there ſhould be again a ſelect Veſtry: And Mar. 27. 1673. here was a ſelect Veſtry granted and confirm'd by Dr. Humfry Henchman, then Biſhop of London.

- Acons.
- Coleabby.
- Olave.

S. Nicolas, to whom theſe Three Churches in this City are dedicated, was born at Patara, a City of Lycia. His Study in Piety was ſuch, that when others were at their Sport, he was always at Church, hearing Sermons, and repeating them. He was at firſt a private and honeſt Houſholder.

The Biſhop of Myræa, or Myra, in Lycia, being dead, the other Biſhops and Prieſts agreed among themſelves, That whoſoever ſhould the next Day Firſt enter into the Church, ſhould be created Biſhop. When, therefore, Nicolas came firſt into it to make his Prayers, with every ones Gratulation and Acclamation he was ſaluted Biſhop: And altho' he took upon him this Office unwillingly, in that he was a Citizen and a Layman (as at this Day they call him) yet he obey'd this lawful Call, and honeſtly and diligently he perform'd his Duty. He lived temperately and ſoberly, and uſed great Liberality to the Poor.

There is a notable Story reported of him, how by his Liberality he preſerv'd Three Siſters from being proſtituted; but it is too long to inſert here, as are many other his pious Deeds and Miracles.

S. Nicolas at laſt falling ſick, religiouſly ended his Life 8. Id. Decemb. Anno Chriſti 343. and was buried at Myræa; from whence his Body was afterwards tranſlated to Bari, in Apulia, wherein is a ſtately Temple dedicated to him, where his Reliques remain. Feaſt, Dec. 6.

It is ſaid, That he aſſiſted at the general Council of Nice, where he ſtrongly oppoſ'd Arius.

It ſeems, that in former times many fooliſh and ſuperſtitious Ceremonies were uſually obſerv'd upon the Feaſt of S. Nicolas, as alſo of S. Katharine, S. Clement, &c. which being diſtaſted by King Henry VIII. were by him, with advice of his Council required to be no more uſed in his Realm; as by his Proclamation of July 22. in the 33. of his Reign appears.

S. Nicolas Acon, Rectory.

St. Surv. 223. THIS Church of S. Nicolas Acon, or Hacon (for ſo Stow tells us, he hath read it in Records) ſtood on the Weſt-ſide of S. Nicolas-lane near Lombard-ſtreet, in Langborn-Ward. Archid. Com. Lond. It is a Rectory, ſubject to the Archdeacon, ſaving only as to Wills and Adminiſtrations which belong to the Commiſſary.

Mon. Angl. 1. Vol. 53. Sir John Bridges, Brug, or Bruges (for by all theſe Names he is written in Stow) Mayor of London in 1520. newly repair'd this Church, and embattled it, and was here buried.

This Church ſeems to be very antient; for in the Reign of William the Conqueror, Anno 1084. Godwinus, with his Wife Turund, for the Redemption of their Souls, and the Remiſſion of their Sins, and of all Chriſtians, gave this Church of S. Nicolas, and all his Houſes, with their Appurtenances to S. Mary, and S. Aldelme the Confeſſor, in the Church of Malmsbury for ever. Ibid. 54. And, afterwards, Pope Innocent IV. by his Bull bearing date at Lyons, 3. Id. of October, in the 6th of his Pontificate, confirm'd (inter alia) to the ſaid Monaſtery of Malmsbury the Right of Patronage of this Church, and the annual Rent of v s. uſually paid out of it to the ſame, which Patronage continued in the ſaid Abbot and Convent till their Suppreſſion; upon which it came to the Crown, and hath remained in it ever ſince.

Sto. Sur. 862. This Pariſh-Church was repair'd and beautified in 1615. at the Coſt of the Pariſhioners.

Sion Col. Mſ. In 1636. the annual Profits of this Church were return'd as followeth:

	l.	s.	d.
Tyths	69	16	00
Caſualties	01	15	04
A Parſonage-Houſe	00	00	00

But this Church being burnt down in the late dreadful Fire, was afterwards annext to that of S. Edmund Lombardſtreet, which is made the Parochial-Church for the Inhabitants of both theſe Pariſhes; the Profits whereof in lieu of Tyths are made of the yearly Value of 180 l. to the Incumbent. And the Site of this Church remains now only as a Burying-place for the Inhabitants of this Pariſh.

Reg. Lond. In 1693. the Church-Wardens ſay in their Preſentment, That there were no Gifts, Legacies, or Bequeſts to their Pariſh-Church.

S. Nicolas Coleabby, Rectory.

Sto. Sur. 398. TOwards the Weſt-end of Knightrider-ſtreet (now call'd, Old-Fiſhſtreet) and on the South-ſide thereof ſtands the Pariſh-Church of S. Nicolas Coleabby, in Queenhith-VVard. It hath been call'd by many Coldenabby, by ſome Coldabby, or Coldbey, and ſo have the moſt antient VVritings, as ſtanding in a cold Place, as Coldharbour, and ſuch like. It is a Rectory, ſubject to the Archdeacon, ſaving only as to VVills and Adminiſtrations, which belong to the Commiſſary.

It was a proper Church, ſomewhat antient, as appear'd formerly by the VVays raiſed thereabouts, ſo that Men were forc'd to deſcend into the Body of the Church, tho' the Steeple and South Iſle did appear of later Building (to wit) the firſt of Ric. II. when it was meant that the whole Church ſhould have been new-built, as did alſo appear by the Arching begun on the Eaſt-ſide of the Steeple, under which, in the Stone-work, the Arms of one Buckland, and his VViſe, Daughter to Beaupere, were cut in Stone, and were alſo in the Glaſs VVindows, whereby, it appear'd, he was the Builder of the Steeple, and the Repairer of the Reſidue.

In 26. Edw. III. Tho. Frere, Fiſhmonger, gave one piece of Ground to this Pariſh Church, containing 86 Foot in length, and 43 Foot at one end, and 34 at another, in breadth, for a Church-yard.

In 20. Ric. II. Tho. Barnard, Caſtle-Clerk; John Senderaſh, Clerk, and John Nounſey, gave to the Parſon and Church-VVardens of this Pariſh, and their Succeſſors, one Meſſuage, and one Shop with the Appurtenances in Diſtaffe-lane, and Old-Fiſhſtreet, for the Reparation of the Body of this Church, and the Belfry or Steeple, and Ornaments.

Reg. Lond. VVhich Houſes, as appears by the Church-Wardens Preſentment in 1693. being burnt down in the late dreadful Fire, have been ſince rebuilt upon a Ground-Rent of 31 l. per Ann. out of which there is a quit-Rent of 2 l. 12 s. 8 d. per Ann. payable to S. Bartholomew's Hoſpital. But the reſt of the Profits are applied to the Uſes for which they were at firſt given.

This Church was of old in the Gift of the Dean of S. Martin le Grand. But when that Religious Houſe was by King Hen. VII. annext to the Monaſtery of Weſtminſter, this Pariſh-Church became then of the Patronage of the Abbot and Convent there, and ſo continued till their Suppreſſion; upon which it came to the Crown, and, for ought appears, reſted there, till ſuch time as Queen Elizabeth, in the ſecond of Her Reign, granted the Advowſon thereof to Thomas Reve and George Evelyn, and to their Heirs in Soccage, who by mean Conveyances, as it ſeems, granted it to others, till at laſt it came to the Family of the Hackers; one whereof, namely, Colonel Francis Hacker, commanding the Guard, which conducted King Char. I. to his Tryal, and bringing him at laſt to the Scaffold was after the Reſtauration of King Char. II. executed as a Traitor, and his Eſtate being forfeited to the King, the Advowſon of this Church came again to the Crown.

Sto. Sur. 863. In 1626. new Frames were made for the Bells, and in 1628. new Battlements were added to the Steeple, and in 1630. the Church was repair'd and beautified.

Sion Coll. Mſ. In 1636. the yearly Profits of this Church were return'd as followeth:

	l.	s.	d.
Tyths ———	70 :	00 :	00
Caſualties ———	04 :	10 :	00
A fair Parſonage-Houſe ———	00 :	00 :	00

But this Church being burnt down in the late dreadful Fire, is ſince rebuilt, and made the Parochial-Church for this, and the Pariſh of S. Nicolas Olaus, which is annext to it. And the Profits of both in lieu of Tyths are made of the yearly Value of 130 l. to the Incumbent.

		l.	s.	d.
In 1636. Tyths of S. Nicolas	Coleabby	70	00	00
	Olave	44	00	00
Total of both		114	00	00
Both now more than before		16	00	00

In 1693. the Church-Wardens preſented (beſides what is mention'd before) the Parſonage-houſe burnt down in the late dreadful Fire; but ſince rebuilt by Captain Ric. Growdon, who had a Leaſe thereof from the Miniſter and Church-Wardens for 40 Years from Midſummer, 1676. at 40*s. per Ann.*

They likewiſe preſented ſome Land in Suffolk, charged by one Mr. Haſlefoot by his Will, with the Payment of 20 l. per Ann. for a weekly Lecture on Thurſdays in this Church, which hath been conſtantly applied to that purpoſe.

Archid. Com. Lond.

THIS Church of S. Nicolas Olaves, or Olaus, was ſituate on the Weſt-ſide of Breadſtreet-Hill, on the Back-ſide of Old-Fiſhſtreet, in Queen-Hith-Ward. It is a Rectory in the Collation of the Dean and Chapter of S. Pauls; but ſubject to the Archdeacon, ſaving only as to Wills and Adminiſtrations which belong to the Commiſſary.

This Church was in old time in the Donation of Gilbert Foliot, Biſhop of London, who gave it to the Dean and Chapter of S. Pauls, as will appear by this Inſtrument following:

Reg. Dec. & Cap. lib. A. f. 6. & Cart. Orig. penes Dec. & Cap.

S. OLAVE.

THere are Three Churches in this City dedicated to this Saint, viz.

S. Olave Hartſtreet.
S. Olave Jewry.
S. Olave Silver-ſtreet.

There were ſeveral Kings and Noblemen of this Name, of the Danes, Swedes, and Norwegians. But S. Olave to whoſe commemoration theſe Three Churches are dedicated was S. Olave the Martyr, King of Norway, who was the Son of Herald Grinska, a great Man in that Country.

This Olave expelled the Swedes out of the Kingdom of Norway, and reſtored his Country to its priſtine Liberty, and afterwards recovered Gotland. And departing thence he went into England to the aſſiſtance of King Mildred (by the Engliſh, call'd, Etheldred;) againſt the Danes for three Years together, where he perform'd many noble Exploits, expelling them out of the Cities, Towns, and Fortreſſes, and with a great Spoil return'd to Norway. But not long after he was recalled into England by the Widow of King Etheldred deceas'd, to help her againſt Canutus, King of Denmark. But Canutus having made a Peace with the Engliſh, Olave return'd again ſpeedily into Norway, where the Norwegians created him their King.

After this he concluded a firm Peace with Olave King of Swethland, and married that King's Daughter, and thereby was ſo ſtrengthned, that during the King of Swethland's Life, he had no Troubles with the Danes. But after the Death of King Olave of Swethland, this Olave King of Norway, as well at home by his own Subjects, as abroad by the Danes, was continually moleſted with Wars; The Cauſe whereof chiefly was his taking upon him a ſtrict Courſe for the Defence of the Chriſtian Religion, which they affected not; for he profeſſed, That he had rather loſe his Life and Kingdom, than his Faith in Chriſt.

His Subjects the Norwegians complain'd to Canutus, King of Denmark, againſt their King Olave, charging him with altering their Laws and Cuſtoms, deſired Canutus to aſſiſt them againſt their King, and in fine, made Canutus their King. But Olave being aſſiſted by Amandus, King of Swethland (Son and Succeſſor to their late King Olave deceas'd, and who had been bred up under this Olave, King of Norway) overthrew King Canutus in a great Sea-fight. Yet Canutus, afterwards, having got 300 of Olave his Ships by bribery to revolt to him, ſet upon Olave afreſh, and vanquiſh'd him; ſo that he was forc'd to fly firſt into his own Country, where he was no otherwiſe entertain'd by his own Subjects than as an Enemy. Thence he fled to Jeriſlaus, King of Ruſſia (who had married his Siſter) where he abode till the Norwegians being at Diſcord among themſelves concerning their Government, ſent for him to return to his Kingdom, which he did. But no ſooner was he come, but he was oppos'd in open Arms by one Part of his Subjects there, whom Canutus had ſtirr'd up againſt him; who in a diſloyal Battle overcame him, and murther'd this Holy Friend of Chriſt, this moſt innocent King, which was done, Anno 1028.

It may be preſum'd, that this good King Olave had well deſerved, and was well beloved of our Engliſh Nation, as well for his Friendſhip for aſſiſting them againſt the Danes, as for his Holy and Chriſtian Life, by the erection of many Churches, which to his honourable Memory they built, and dedicated to him, whereof theſe Three before-mentioned are a Teſtimony.

Feaſt, July 29. The Day of his Feſtival is celebrated annually on July 29.

S. Olave Hart-ſtreet, Rectory.

THIS Church of S. Olave (now commonly written S. Olave Hart-ſtreet, and in the oldeſt Regiſter-Books of the Biſhop of London. S. Olave juxta Turrim Lond.) is ſituate in Hart-ſtreet, at the Northweſt-corner of Sydon (now corruptly Sythyng) Lane, in Tower-ſtreet-Ward. It is a Rectory, and Arch. Lond. ſubject to the Archdeacon.

Sto. Sur. 134 Richard and Robert Cely were principal Builders and Benefactors of this Church, and were buried in it.

There are ſeveral Monuments of Perſons of Worſhip, which were buried in this Church with Inſcriptions on them, which may be read in Stow's Survey. But one of more Modern erection is that of Sir Andrew Riccard, Knight, which is in the North-Iſle, againſt the Wall, between Two Windows, where his Statue is erected in Stone at full length ſtanding upright, with a Hammer or Mallet in his right Hand as Preſident of the Turky-Company, with this following Inſcription underneath.

By an antient Compoſition made in 1319. between Will. de Samford the Rector of this Pariſh, and the Prior and Brethren of the Holy-Croſs; (whoſe Priory was then building in this Pariſh) the ſaid Prior and Brethren were to bury any of the Pariſhioners of this Pariſh in their Monaſtery, that deſir'd there to be buried, and to pay Two Marks and half per Ann. to the ſaid Rector and his Succeſſors for ever, in compenſation of the Damage that might accrue to them upon the Building of the ſaid Priory in their Pariſh.

Baudake 46.

The Patronage of this Church appears to be of old in the Family of the Nevils; how it paſſed from them to others I have not found. But it appears many Years after them to be in Ric. Cely (whom I take to be one of the Builders and Benefactors of this Church before-mention'd) and his Heirs Female for near fourſcore Years; and after that, in the noble Family of the Windſors, for near fourſcore Years more.

In 1632, and 1633. this Church being very much decay'd, was repair'd and beautified by the Pariſhoners, which coſt them 437 l.

St. Surv. 863.

In 1636. the yearly Profits of this Church were return'd as followeth:

On March 25. 1680. there was a piece of Ground on the Eaſt-ſide of Sythyng-lane, over againſt the Eaſt-end of this Church, walled in, containing in length 36 Foot, aud in breadth 22 Foot, conſecrated for a Church-yard for this Pariſh by the preſent Biſhop of London.

Reg. Lond.

In 1693. the Rector and Church-Wardens of this Pariſh preſented the Parſonage-Houſe at preſent inhabited by the Incumbent, and ſituate next the Church to the Weſtward, but no other Glebe belonging to it.

Ibid.

They likewiſe preſented many and very conſiderable Gifts to the Pariſh, which I omit, becauſe they ſpeciſie none of them to the Church.

p Tho. Copping, the preſent Rector of this Church. 1700.

S. Olave Jewry, Vicarage.

Sto. Sur. 290.

THIS Church of S. Olave Jewry (in old Records call'd S. Olave Upwell) is ſituate in the Weſt-ſide, and about the middle of the Street call'd the Old Jewry (of Jews ſometime dwelling there) in Colemanſtreet-Ward, to which, in former time the now Pariſh-Church of S. Stephen Colemanſtreet was a Chapel annext.

This Church of S. Olave was in old time a Rectory, but now, and for above 300 Years paſt, a Vicarage. It is ſubject to the Archdeacon, ſaving only as to Wills and Adminiſtrations, which belong to the Commiſſary.

Arch. Commiſſar. Lond.

In old time this Ch. did belong to the Canons of S. Pauls, from whom it was held by the Prior of Butley in Suffolk (where a Priory was then newly founded, viz. Anno 1171. by Ranulph de Glanvill, chief Juſtice of England) at the Rent of Two Shillings yearly, as appears by the ſtate of this Ch. (among others) taken in 1181. in the firſt Year of the Deanſhip of Ralph de Diceto, as follows:

R. Dec. & C. lib. B. fol. 38.

" Eccleſia S. Olavi, eſt Canonicorum, & reddit eis ii s. per manum Prioris
" de Buteleia, ſolvit Synodalia xii d. Archidiac. xii d.

Ibid. lib. A. fol. 24.

Not long after this, the ſaid Ralph, the Dean, and the Chapter of S. Pauls, made a Grant of this Ch. of S. Olave, and Two parts of the Ch. of S. Stephen Colemanſtreet, of the Fee of Ralph de Ardern (who, by the way, married Amabil, one of the Daughters and Heirs of the ſaid Ranulph de Glanvill) to the ſaid Prior and Convent of Butley, to hold of them for ever, as Vicars of the Parſonage of S. Olave aforeſaid, paying them Four Shillings yearly, and by themſelves, or their Vicars, which they ſhall have in the ſaid Churches, to anſwer to the Biſhop of London, and his Officials, in all things that of right belong unto them. This Grant was corroborated under Seal: Ralph the Dean, Nicolas Archdeacon of London, and others, being Witneſſes. The Receipt of which Church of S. Olave, and the ſaid Two parts of the Ch. of S. Stephen, Gilbert the firſt Prior of the ſaid Conventual-Church of S. Mary of Butley, and the Convent, acknowledg'd under their Seal; Ralph the Dean, and the Chapter of S. Pauls, being Witneſſes.

Thus it appears, how this Church was held by the Prior and Convent of Butley; and probably they ſupplied the Cure, from time to time, by Members of their own Body, or ſuch as they appointed removeable at their pleaſure, till ſuch time as, by reaſon of the Loſſes that Priory had ſuſtained by Inundations, and otherwiſe, they procured Stephen Graveſend, Biſhop of London, to appropriate this Church, and the Chapel of S. Stephen Colemanſtreet, as annext unto it, to their Priory, which was done in Auguſt 1322. but with this expreſs Reſerve, viz. That the ſaid Biſhop, and his Succeſſors, ſhould, for the future, have the Power of inſtituting and admitting the Vicars thereunto, and of aſſigning a competent Maintenance for them; ſo that from henceforth the ſaid Prior and Convent became Proprietaries of this Church, and Patrons of the Vicarage, with the ſaid Chapel of S. Stephen annext, till ſuch time as the ſaid Chapel was made a Parochial-Church (which was in 1456.) and afterwards became Patrons of this Vicarage, and preſented to it as to a perpetual Vicarage, till the time of Suppreſſion, in the Reign of Hen. VIII. upon which it came to the Crown, and hath continu'd in it ever ſince; but never preſented to it with the ſaid Chapel of S. Stephen Colemanſtreet, as annext unto it, after the Year 1428. that I can find. And it will appear by what is written hereafter of S. Stephen Colemanſtreet, That King Hen. VI. in 1436. and 1451. preſented to that Church as a Vicarage, by reaſon the Appropriation thereof was made without the King's Licence; and that in few Years after, viz. in 1456. Nov. 6. the ſaid Church or Chapel of S. Stephen was made Parochial, and a Vicarage ordain'd and endow'd by Thomas Kemp, then Biſhop of London, as will appear more at large in S. Stephen Colemanſtreet.

Braybro.203.

Joh. Brian, Parſon of this Church, founded a Chantry in it, and gave two Meſſuages to this Pariſh, 16. Edw. II. which Gift was confirm'd by the ſaid King. Sto. Sur. 290.

After this I find, that upon ſome Conteſt that did ariſe between the Chanter of this Chantry, and the Vicar and Churchwardens of this Pariſh, about the Right and Diſpoſing of this Chantry, and the Lands and Tenements thereunto belonging, there was an Award made between them, Apr. 26. 1531. by John Stokeſley, then Biſhop of London; whereby (inter alia) it was awarded, That the ſaid Vicar and Churchwardens ſhould give up their pretended Right of Patronage to the ſaid Chantry, to the Prior and Convent of Butley, to whom the ſaid Right of Patronage did originally belong. Bonner 41.

Tho. Morſted, Eſq; (mention'd before in S. Mildred Poultry) built a fair new Iſle to the Enlargement of this Church, on the North-ſide thereof, wherein he was buried, 1450. Sto. ut ſupra.

This Ch. was repaired in 1608. And again repair'd and beautifi'd in 1628. ibid. 865.

Reg. Lond. In 1693. the Church-wardens preſented the Vicarage-Houſe burnt down in the late dreadful Fire; but ſince the Toft and Ground adjoining were on the 25th of Feb. 1674. let out by Dr. Hibert, then Vicar, to *Edw. The ſaid Dr. Hibert, after the Fire, did alſo, Mar. 5. 1671. leaſe out to Sir John Frederick, Knight, for the Term of 40 Years, at 4 l. per Ann. Rent, reſerv'd to himſelf and Succeſſors another Toft of Ground abutting upon the Church-yard, on the Weſt, upon which he built a Dwelling-Houſe.

They alſo preſented the Church-yard, as not now uſed for a Burying place, but laid to the Vicarage-Houſe for the Convenience of the Miniſter, containing 38 foot in Length, from Eaſt to Weſt; and 20 foot in Breadth, from North to South.

As for Gifts to the Church, they preſented a Wedneſday-Lecture, ſetled and founded by the Lady Weld, Mr. Vaughan, and Sir John Frederick, of the yearly Value of 29 l.

Alſo a Lecture on S. James's day, yearly, left by Mr. Stodder, Two Pounds.

The Friery of the Brethren de Pœnitentia Jeſu Chriſti, vel Fratrum de Sacca.

ON the South-ſide of Lothbury (extending to the Old-Jewry) in old time was a Synagogue of the Jews, which was defac'd by the Citizens of London, after they had ſlain 700 Jews, and ſpoil'd them of their Goods, in the the Year 1262. (47. Hen. III.) And not long after, Ann. 1291. King Edw. I. baniſh'd the Remnant of them out of England. Sto. Surv. 287.

The ſaid Synagogue being ſo ſuppreſs'd, certain Friers got poſſeſſion thereof; of which Friers, Matthew Paris, under the Year 1257. ſays, " Eodem " tempore novus Ordo apparuit Londini, de quibuſdam Fratribus ignotis & non " prævisis, quia Saccis incedebant induti, Fratres Sacci vocabantur. M. Par. 946.

Theſe Fratres Sacci, or de Pœnitentia, was an Order of Begging Friers, whereof the Franciſcans was one, out of which this Order was deriv'd, and was the Third Sort of the Order of Friers Minors. It was inſtituted for thoſe married Hoſp. de Orig. Mon. lib. 6.

People, who deſired Repentance, by S. *Francis, Ann.*1221. of which Order the firſt was one Lucius.

Hoſp.de Orig. Mon.l.6.427. The Men and Women of this Order are not call'd Religious, but they have a certain kind of religious Life, which Religion yet is not compleat binding to the Eſſentials of Religion, and therefore 'tis not a right Order. [Antoninus, Tit. 24. c. 2.] However, this Order was confirm'd by Pope Nicolas IV.

Ibidem. The Men of this Order are called Fratres de Pœnitentia Jeſu Chriſti; or by another Name, Sacci, from the Sackcloth wherewith they are clad; alſo Continentes, not becauſe they promiſe Continency, for they liv'd married, but for that on certain Days, weekly, they abſtain from carnal Work. The Women of this Order are call'd Sorores de Pœnitentia.

Ibidem. This Order was condemn'd in England, Anno 1307. but approved of again by Peter Tewkesbury, Miniſter of the Minorites in England, and much commended.

Full.Ch.Hiſt. lib. 6. p.274. The Brethren of this Order were fixed in Cambridg, Ann. 1257. whoſe Cell is turned into Peter-Houſe, ſays Mr. Fuller. However, Matt. Paris tells us, They appear'd in London the ſame Year, as is ſaid before.

Sto. Sur. 287. The Friers de Pœnitentia Jeſu, or de Sacca (ſays Stow) had their Houſe in London, near Alderſgate, without the Gate, and had Licence from King *Hen.*III. in the 54th of his Reign, to remove from thence to any other place; and in the 56th, he gave unto them this Jews Synagogue. After which, Eleanor the Queen, Wife to King *Edw.*I. took them into her Protection, and warranted to the Prior and Brethren de Pœnitentia Jeſu Chriſti of London, the ſaid Land and Building in Colechurch-ſtreet, or the Old Jewry, of the Pariſh of S. Olave in the Jewry, and S. Margaret in Lothbury, by her granted, with Conſent of Stephen Fulborn, Under-Warden of the Bridge-Houſe, and other Brethren of that Houſe, for 60 Marks of Silver, which they had receiv'd of the ſaid Prior and Brethren of Repentance towards the building of the ſaid Bridge.

Ibidem. This Order of Friers gather'd many good Scholars, and multiplied in Number exceedingly, until the Council of Lyons; by which it was decreed, That from that Time forth there ſhould be no more Orders of Begging Friers permitted, but only the Four Orders, viz. The Dominicans, or Preachers; the Minorites, or Grey-Friers; the Carmelites, or White-Friers; and the Auguſtines. And ſo from that time the Begging-Friers decreaſed, and came to nothing.

Ibid. 288. Now it follow'd, in the Year 1305. Robert Fitzwalter obtain'd of K. *Edw.*I. That theſe Friers of the Sack might aſſign to the ſaid Robert their Chapel or Church, of old time call'd the Synagogue of the Jews, near adjoyning to the then Manſion-Place of the ſame Robert, which was in the place now call'd Grocers-Hall.

So much for theſe Friers, and their Houſe, which was ſome time the Jews Synagogue; ſince a Houſe of Friers; then a Noble Man's Houſe; after that a Merchant's Houſe, wherein Mayoralties have been kept; and at laſt a Tavern. [Stow, ut ſuprà.]

S. Olave Silverſtreet, Rectory.

Sto.Sur. 324. THIS Church of S. Olave ſtood at the North-end of Noble-ſtreet (and on the South-ſide of Silver-ſtreet) in Alderſgate-Ward, and is a Rectory. It was a ſmall Church, and without any Monuments of note, but of John Darcy, ſecond Son of John Lord Darcy of Chich, who died in 1593. And of Griſield Windusor, Daughter of Henry Lord Windusor, who died June 27. 1600.

Archid.Lond. This Church has been all along in the Collation of the Dean and Chapter of S. Pauls, but is ſubject to the Archdeacon. And in old Records is written S. Olave de Mucwell, becauſe of the nearneſs of its ſituation to Mucwell (or rather Munkſwell) Street.

Sto.Sur. 865. This Ch. being greatly decay'd and periſh'd, was, in 1609. new-built and enlarg'd in Breadth 7 foot, and above. In 1619. it was again repair'd and beautified. And in 1632. Ric. Turner and John Morrell erected a very fair Gallery in it at their own Coſt.

In 1636. the yearly Profits thereof were return'd as follows : Sion Col.Mſ

This Church being in the Collation of the Dean and Chapter of S. Pauls, I can give little account of the Rectors thereof, only, That one Mr. Man was Rector thereof, in 1636. when a Return was made of the Profits of it. And that Dr. Booſje was Rector of this Ch. when the Rebellion broke out, in 1642. and was ſo abus'd by the Rebels, that he died with Grief, [Merc. Ruſt. 256.] And, ſince the Reſtauration, William King, A. M. was admitted Rector of this Church, *Mar.*13.1661. who, I ſuppoſe, enjoy'd it till he was burnt out, in 1666.

S. PANCRAS,

TO whom this Church is dedicated, was Son of Cledonius, a Nobleman of Phrygia. After his Father's Death he was committed to the Tuition of his Uncle Dionyſius, with whom he went to Rome, being 14 Years old. After the Death of his ſaid Uncle, he was apprehended for being a Chriſtian, and brought to the Emperor Diocleſian, who, by fair Words and large Promiſes, ſought to divert him from Chriſt, requiring him to offer Sacrifice to the Idol-Gods, which he refuſing, when by no perſuaſion he could be drawn thereunto, he was, by the Emperour's command, beheaded at Rome : His Body being ſtoln away by Night, was, by Octavilla, a Woman of good Eſteem, embalm'd with Spices, and buried. This was acted Ann. Chriſti 286. or, according to Baronius, 303. Mr. Smith's MS.

At Rome there is a Church, not far from the City-Wall, dedicated to this Saint, wherein is his Sepulchre. His Feſtival is kept on May 12. Feaſt, May 12.

There was another S. Pancras, Biſhop of Tauromenium in Sicily, martyr'd by Anhaganus, a Pagan, whoſe Life was written by Evagrius, his Diſciple. He was born at Antioch; and his Feſtival is the Third of April.

S. Pancras Soperlane, Rectory.

THIS Church of S. Pancras Soperlane (ſo call'd, becauſe near a Street formerly known by that Name ; but now, ſince the Fire, call'd Queen-ſtreet) was a ſmall Church, and ſtood in Needlers-Lane, in Cheap-Ward.

It is a Rectory, and one of the 13 Peculiars in this City, ſubject to the Juriſdiction of the Archbiſhop of Canterbury, of which the Prior, and Chapter of Chriſt-Church, Canterbury, were Patrons, till they granted the Advouſon thereof (and of Alhallows Breadſtreet, and S. Dunſtan in the Eaſt) to Sim. Iſlep, Archbiſhop of Canterbury, under their Chaptet-Seal, Apr. 24. 1365. (as may be ſeen more fully in Alhall. Breadſtreet.) Ever ſince which time this Church has been in the Collation of the Archbiſhops of that Sea. Pecul. Cant.

The Monuments that were in this Church were moſt of them ſpoil'd and defac'd ; but here was buried John Barnes, Mayor, in 1371. who gave a Cheſt with Sto.Surv. 87.

with Three Locks, and 1000 Marks therein, to be lent to young Men upon ſufficient Pawn, and for the uſe thereof to ſay De Profundis, or Pater Noſter, and no more. He alſo was a great Benefactor to S. Thomas Apoſtle's Church, as appear'd there by his Arms both in Stone and Glaſs.

R. C. Warh. John (elſewhere nam'd William) Cawſton, by his Will, bearing date July 30. 1353. ordered a Chantry to be founded, for his Soul, in this Church; after whoſe Death, Licence was granted to his Executors, dated Apr. 5. 1356. to give Two Meſſuages and Three Shops, in London, to Adam de Branketree, Parſon of this Church, to find Lights therein. [Pat. 30. Edw. III. p. 1.]

Ibid. 408. Simon Rice, and Lettice, his Wife, were afterwards nam'd Co-Founders of the ſaid Chantry with the ſaid Cawſton, by reaſon of a farther Endowment thereof made by them, as appears by a Leaſe dated Dec. 23. 1522.

Sto. Sur. 866. In 1621. this Church was repair'd and beautifi'd; and in 1624. Tho. Chapman, the younger, built a very fine Porch at the Entrance thereof, at his own Coſt.

Sion-College Mſ. In 1636. the yearly Profits of this Church were return'd as follows:

	l.	s.	d.
Tyths —— ——	37	13	00
Caſualties ——	03	06	08
A Parſonage-Houſe ——	15	00	00

But being burnt down in the late dreadful Fire, it is ſince annext to the Church of S. Mary-le-Bow (as is alſo that of Alhallows Hony-Lane) which Church of S. Mary-le-Bow is made the Parochial-Church for all theſe Three Pariſhes. And the Site of this remains only as a Burying-place for the Inhabitants of this Pariſh. And the Profits of 'em all, in lieu of Tyths, are made of the yearly Value of 200 l. to the Incumbent.

q Sam. Dillingham, Rector (I ſuppoſe) of this Church when it was burnt down, in 1666.

S. PETER.

TO this Saint and Apoſtle theſe Four Pariſh-Churches, in this City, and the Chapel in the Tower of London, are dedicated:

S. Peter { Cheap. / Cornhill. | S. Peter { Pauls-Wharf. / Poor.

S. Peter ad Vincula. Chapel.

S. Peter was the Son of Jona, of the Province of Galilee, of the Town of Bethſaida, Brother of S. Andrew the Apoſtle, and the Prince of the Apoſtles. The particular Time of his Birth cannot be recover'd, but probably he was at leaſt Ten Years elder than his Maſter.

The Name given him, at his Circumciſion, was Symon, or Symeon (to which our Saviour added the Title of Cephas, which in Syriac (the vulgar Language of the Jews, at that Time) ſignifying a Stone or Rock, as derived into the Greek Πέτρος, and by us, Peter. In his Youth he was brought up to Fiſhing, which Trade he follow'd for above a Year after he firſt ſaw our Saviour; but then, at our Saviour's Command, left all and follow'd him; and from this Time became his conſtant and inſeparable Diſciple.

He was crucifi'd at Rome, on the top of the Vatican-Mount, near Tybur, Ann. Chriſti 69. (ſays Euſebius) in the Fourth of Nero; in the Twelfth (ſays Epiphanius;) but, more probably in the Tenth, or the Year 65. (ſays Dr. Cave.) He deſired not to be crucifi'd the ordinary way, but with his Head downwards, and Feet upwards, affirming he was unworthy to ſuffer in the ſame Poſture in which his Lord had ſuffer'd before him.

His Body was buried in the Vatican, near the Triumphal-way; over his Grave a ſmall Church was ſoon after erected, which being deſtroy'd by Heliogabalus, his Body was remov'd to the Cœmitery in the Appian-way, Two Miles from Rome; whence it was afterwards remov'd back to the Vatican, where it reſted ſomewhat obſcurely until the Reign of Conſtantine, who rebuilt and enlarged the Vatican, to the Honour of S. Peter, and infinitely enrich'd it with Gifts and Ornaments, which in every Age increaſed in Splendor and Riches, till it is become one of the Wonders of the World at this Day.

This our Apoſtle has written Two Epiſtles, which have been receiv'd as Canonical. As to his Perſon, Authors give this ſollowing Account; That he was ſlender, and of a middle-ſize; his Complexion very pale; and his Hair curl'd and thick, but ſhort; his Eyes black, but ſpeck'd with red, which 'tis ſaid proceeded from his frequent weeping. As to his Temper, he was naturally fervent and eager, which was common to the Galileans; his Humility and Lowlineſs of Mind was ſingular, and his Love and Zeal for his Maſter admirable; his Courage was undaunted, and his Diligence in his Apoſtleſhip very wonderful.

The Hiſtory of this our Apoſtle may be read in the Four Evangeliſts, and in the Acts of the Apoſtles, and in Dr. Cave's Lives of the Apoſtles, where his Life is written at large.

Feaſt, Jun. 29. There are Three Feſtivals celebrated in Memory of S. Peter; the Firſt call'd the Feaſt of S Peter and S. Paul, June 29. in Memory of both their Paſſions, which fell on that Day together, and is by ſome call'd Bis Feſta Dies.

The Second is call'd the Feaſt of S. Peter ad Vincula, in Memory of S. Peter's Feaſt, Aug. 1. Chains, which is annually kept on the Calends or Firſt Day of Auguſt. The Original Inſtitution of which hath been very variouſly related, and the Truth of 'em very much ſuſpected.

The Third Feaſt of S. Peter, is call'd the Feaſt of S. Peter's Chair, kept on Feaſt, Feb. 22. Feb. 22. in Memory of S. Peter's Sea or Chair at Antioch, ſome ſay at Rome; which Feaſt having been of a long time celebrated in the Church of Remes, being grown out of uſe, and neglected, was by Pope Paul IV. in 1556. reſtor'd.

S. Peter's-Cheap, Rectory.

THIS Church of S Peter (in old Records written ſometimes Eccleſia S. Petri de Wodeſtreet, and ſometimes S. Petri de Weſt-Chepin; ſtood at the South-Weſt Corner of Woodſtreet, bordering on Cheapſide, in the VVard of Faringdon- Archid. Lond. Within. It is a Rectory, and ſubject to the Archdeacon.

Sto. Surv. 337. Sir John Shaw, Goldſmith, Mayor of London, (who died in 1503.) in 1501. appointed by his Teſtament, this Church and Steeple to be new built, of his own Eſtate with a flat Roof; notwithſtanding Thomas Wood, Goldſmith, one of the Sheriffs, in 1491. was accounted a principal Benefactor, becauſe the Roof of the middle Iſle was ſupported by Images of VVoodmen.

Sudbury 8. Nic. Faringdon, by his laſt VVill and Teſtament, dated in 1361. founded a perpetual Chantry in this Church, at the Altar of the Bleſſed Virgin, and made the Rector and Church-VVardens Patrons of it, and was here buried, as Stow Hiſt. Paul. 35. and Weaver tell us; but in Hiſt. Paul. it is ſaid, that about 35. Edw. III. 1361.
there was a Chantry ordain'd for the Souls of Nicolas de Farendon and William Veil, at the Altar of S. Dunſtan, in the new VVork of S. Pauls Church, before which Altar the ſaid Nicolas lay buried. But be this as it will, this Nicolas Faringdon was a Perſon of great Note in the City, having been four times Mayor thereof; and Sto. Surv. 336. from him and William Faringdon, his Father, one of the Sheriffs of London, in 1281. both the VVards of Faringdon, within and without took Name, which till
17. Ric. II. 1393. were but One; and then for the Greatneſs thereof divided into Two, and by Parliament order'd to have Two Aldermen. This Nic. Fa- ringdon built the Eaſt-Arch or Gate by S. Auſtins-Church, that led into S. Paul's Church yard.

This Church was, of old, in the Gift of the Abbots of S. Albans, and ſo con-
37. Hen. VIII. tinu'd till the Diſſolution; afterwards it was granted by King Hen. VIII. in 37.
pag. 1. of his Reign, to the Lord Wriotheſly, Anceſtor to the late Earls of Southampton, in which Family the Right of Patronage continu'd till the Death of Thomas, late Earl of Southampton, which happen'd May 16. 1667. and after him deſcended (as I ſuppoſe) to one of his Daughters and Heirs.

This Church was repair'd and beautifi'd in 1616. and 1617. which coſt the Pariſhioners 314 l. Sto.Surv.866.

In 1636. the yearly Profits thereof were return'd as follows: Si. Coll. MS.

Tyths	81	01	10
Caſualties	05	00	00

With a Memorandum, That within Twenty Years the Tyths were increaſed 29 l. per Ann.

This Church being burnt down in the late dreadful Fire, was ſince united to the Church of S. Matthew Friday-ſtreet, which is made the Parochial-Church for both Pariſhes, the Profits whereof together, in lieu of Tyths, are made of the yearly Value of 150 l. to the Incumbent. And the Site of this Church remains now only as a Burying-place for the Inhabitants of this Pariſh. S. Mat. Frid. ſtreet, S. Peter Cheap, annext.

In 1693. the Church-Wardens preſented a piece of Ground in Philip-Lane, in which, it hath been ſaid, there were Two Houſes before the Fire; one for the Miniſter of this Pariſh to dwell in, and the other for the Benefit of the Poor; but how the Title is, they ſay, they know not; and the Title being not well underſtood, the Ground, at preſent, is lett for a Timber-Yard, from Year to Year, at 6 l. per Ann. one half whereof, by Agreement of the Pariſhioners, is allow'd to the Miniſter. S. Peter Cornhill, Rectory.

Archid. Lond.

ON the South-ſide of Cornhill, at the Eaſt-end of the Street, in Cornhill-Ward, ſtands this Church of S. Peter, written in old Records Eccleſia S. Petri ſuper Cornhill. It is ſubject to the Archdeacon, and is a Rectory.

There remain'd in this Church, before the burning thereof, in 1666. a Table (which is now again renewed) containing in ſubſtance, That King Lucius, the firſt Chriſtian King of this Land, in the Year of our Lord 179. founded this Ch. of S. Peter, to be an Archbiſhop's Sea, and made it the Metropolitan and chief Church in this Kingdom, and that it ſo indur'd for the ſpace of 400 Years, to the coming of Auguſtine the Monk, who remov'd it to Canterbury.

The Truth of this Inſcription is queſtion'd by many of our Eccleſiaſtical Hiſtorians; but the common receiv'd Opinion is, That Lucius was the firſt Chriſtian King of this Iſland; that he founded an Archbiſhops Sea here in London; after which, Chriſtianity was always profeſs'd in ſome Parts of this Kingdom, and eſpecially in Wales.

Godwin, de Præſul. Lond.

It is ſaid, That Thean, the firſt Archbiſhop of London, built this Ch. of S. Peter Cornhill, by the help of one Cyran, chief Butler to King Lucius, and made it his Metropolitical Sea.

And that Elvanus (who is named the ſecond Archbiſhop) built a Library near to the ſame Church, and converted many of the Druids to Chriſtianity.

But it has been a Queſtion among our Hiſtoriographers, Whether this Church, which King Lucius built at London, ſtood at Weſtminſter or in Cornhill. I ſhall therefore leave this Point to the Determination of our learned Antiquaries, and proceed to treat of this Church of S. Peter's Cornhill, only as Parochial.

Sto.Surv.210.

Stow ſays, That this Church ſeem'd to be of antient building, but not ſo antient as Fame reports; for (ſays he) it has been lately repair'd, if not all new-built (except the Steeple, which is ancient) as appear'd by the Arms of Noblemen and Aldermen, in the Roof and Glazing, who were living in the Reign of King Edw. IV.

ibid. 211.

There was a Library pertaining to this Church, of old Time, built of Stone, and repair'd with Brick by the Executors of Sir John Crosby, Knight, who died about 1475. Stow tells us, That it was formerly well furniſh'd with Books, but in his Time they were gone, and the place occupy'd by a Schoolmaſter and his Uſher.

Before this Time, there was a Grammar-School kept in this Pariſh. And in 25. Hen. VI. (1447.) it was enacted by Parliament, to be one of the Grammar-Schools, that ſhould be maintain'd in London, viz. in the Pariſhes of Alhallows in Thames-ſtreet, S. Andrew in Holborn, S. Peter's upon Cornhill, and S. Thomas of Acres.

ibid. 162.

As to the Patronage of this Church, I find, that in 1309. the Manour of Leaden-Hall, with the Advouſons of this Church (and alſo of S. Margaret Pattens) did belong to the Family of the Nevils; for the Lady Alice, Wife to Sir Hugh Nevil, made a Feofment thereof, by the Name of Leaden-Hall, with the Advouſons of S. Peter in Cornhill, and other Churches, to Richard, Earl of Arundel and Surry, in 1362.

ibid.

In 1380. Alice Nevil, Widow to Sir John Nevil, of Eſſex, Knight, confirm'd to Thomas Coggeſhal, and others, the Manour of Leaden-Hall, and the Advouſons, &c. And it appears hereafter, that the ſaid Tho. Coggeſhal, and others, had Clerks admitted to this Church, at their Preſentation, in the Years 1395. and 3398.

ibid.

In 1384. Humfrey de Bohun, Earl of Hereford, had the ſaid Manour, (and, as appears hereafter, Robert Rykedon, and others, preſented to this Church, in 1405.) which Rob. Rykedon, of Eſſex, and Margaret, his Wife, afterwards, viz. in 1408. confirmed to Richard Whitington, and other Citizens of London, the ſaid Manour of Leaden-Hall, with the Appurtenances, and the Advouſons of S. Peter's Church, S. Margaret Pattens, &c. And in 1411. the ſaid Whitington, and others, confirm'd the ſame to the Mayor and Commonalty of London, whereby it came to the Poſſeſſion of the ſaid City. And in 1429. the Mayor, Aldermen, and Commons of the City, preſented to this Church, and have continu'd Patrons thereof ever ſince, as appears hereafter.

William Kingſton, alìas Eliott, Citizen and Fiſhmonger of London, gave his Tenement, call'd the Horſe-mill, in Graſs-ſtreet, to this Church, and was there buried, about the Year 1298. for whoſe Soul, and the Souls of his two Wives, and all the faithful deceas'd, here was a perpetual Chantry founded at the Altar of the Holy Trinity, of which the Rector and ſome of the chief of the Pariſhioners were Patrons.

Baudake 61.

Here was likewiſe another perpetual Chantry founded long ago, for the Soul of Rob. de la Hyde, to which I find the Dean of S. Pauls preſented, in 1328.

Stow, ut ſupr.

Hen. IV. in the Fourth of his Reign, eſtabliſh'd a Brotherhood or Guild of S. Peter in this Church, to which the Chantry founded there, at the Altar of S. George, by John Walleys, alìas Conysburgh, and John Foxton, Grocer, was appropriated and annext. And the Rector of this Pariſh, and the Wardens of this Fraternity, for the time being, were Patrons.

Bonner, 284.

On June 4. in 5. Edw. VI. there was a Grant made by the Mayor, Commonalty, and Citizens of London, Patrons; and Dr. Nicolas Ridley, Biſhop of London, and Ordinary, and Dr. John Taylor, Rector of this Church of S. Peter, to the Church-wardens, and Sixteen other Pariſhioners of this Pariſh, of a Meſſuage, with other Appurtenances newly built, partly upon the Ground where the Veſtry ſtood, and partly upon the Church-yard, to hold to the ſaid Church-wardens, and their Succeſſors, and to the ſaid Pariſhioners (with Power to the Four Survivors of them after the Death of the others, to chooſe Sixteen or Twelve of the beſt of the Pariſh as Truſtees) for ever, to the Uſes following, viz. out of the Profits thereof, not only to keep the Church in repair, but to ſuſtain, comfort, and relieve the poor Inhabitants of the ſaid Pariſh, and to pay the Rector and his Succeſſors, for ever, Two Pence a Year, at Michaelmas.

Bonner 390. As to the Glebe of this Church, in 1. and 2. of Q. Mary, Dr. John Hodgkins, then Rector thereof, leaſed out to Stephen Heath, two Meſſuages abutting on the Parſonage-Houſe, on the South, and on the King's High ſtreet, on the North-part (being Glebe belonging to this Church) for 31 Years, for 4 l. Rent per Ann.

Grindall 9. The Premiſes were again lett by Mr. John Pullen, Rector, in 2. of Queen Eliz: to John Hills, for 36 Years, for the like yearly Rent: Both which Leaſes were confirm'd by the Mayor and Commonalty, and alſo by the Biſhop of London.

Sto.Surv.866. The Steeple was repaired in 1628. and -29. and the Church it ſelf was begun to be repaired in Mar. 1632. and at the ſole Coſt and Charges of the Pariſhioners, without, within in all and every part of it richly and very worthily beautified, the Charge thereof amounting to about 1400 l.

Sion-College MS. In 1636. the yearly Profits of this Church were return'd as follows:

Reg. Lond. In 1693. the Rector and Church-wardens (beſides Gifts and Bequeſts to the Poor, and other Uſes of the Pariſh) as to what concern'd the Church, preſented

The Parſonage-Houſe, wherein the Rector of this Pariſh was wont to dwell, burnt down in the late dreadful Fire; ſince when, the Ground whereon it ſtood, was lett out by Dr. Hodges, the late Rector, to Sam. Purchas, by Indenture, dated Aug. 23. 670. for 40 Years, at the Rent of 15 l. per Ann. It lies at the Weſt-end of the Church and Church yard, in S. Peter's Ally, in Length about 70 Foot from South to North. There are now ſtanding on it a Barber's Shop, with a Door and Paſſage into another Man's Houſe behind; a Coffee-Houſe, with a little Yard; a Bake-Houſe; and two Ware-houſes running along the back ſide of the Glebe-Houſes.

The Rent of 15 l. per Annum reſerv'd upon this Leaſe, was parted with by Dr. Beveridge, the preſent Rector, upon condition, the Pariſh would make it up ſo much as to purchaſe the Leaſe of the Houſe where he now dwells; which being accordingly done, the Leaſe of the ſaid Houſe (which is in Corbett's Court) was aſſign'd over by Mr. Sam. Purchas, aforeſaid, in whoſe Hand it was, to Mr. Hinton, Mr. Bendy, and Mr. Trunkes, late of this Pariſh, in Truſt, for the Parſon of S. Peters, and his Succeſſors, by a Deed dated Feb 8. 1675. for the Term of 40 Years, commencing from Michaelmas 1674. for a Pepper-Corn a Year.

Land, 136. As to the Glebe belonging to this Parſonage, the ſaid Dr. Hodges, in Apr. 1663. did, by One Leaſe, lett out a parcel of this Glebe, known by the Sign of the Plough, to the aforeſaid Sam. Purchas, for 21 Years, at 30 l. per Ann. Rent. And by another Leaſe of the ſame Date, another parcel of this Glebe, known by the Name of the Croſs-Keys, to Tho. Laycock, for the like Number of Years, at 50 l. per Ann. Rent: Both which Leaſes were confirm'd by the foreſaid Patrons and the Biſhop. ibid. 138.

Reg. Lond. But ſince the Fire of London (as appears by the ſaid Preſentment) the Glebe now conſiſts in Three Houſes adjoyning to the North Weſt end of the Church, wherein Mr. Elford, Mr. Dalton, and Mr. Overton, now dwell. The Ground of which Houſes was alſo leaſed out by the ſaid Dr. Hodges, to the ſaid Sam. Purchas, by Indenture, dated May 18. 1668. for the Term of 56 Years, from the Feaſt of the Annunciation before, according to a Decree of the Judges of Clifford's-Inn, at the old Rent of 50 l. per Ann. which Leaſe is now come into the Hands of Tho. Dalton, dwelling in one of the ſaid Houſes, who conſtantly pays the reſerv'd Rent of 50 l. per Ann. at the Four uſual Feaſts.

They likewiſe preſented 3 l. 12 s. yearly, for ever, given by Rob. Warden, Poulterer, of which 52 s. is to be given to the Poor in Bread, by 12 d. every Sunday; and the other 20 s. to the Parſon of the Pariſh for preaching Two Sermons, one on Aſh-Wedneſday, and the other on May 10. every Year. This is paid by the Company of Poulterers, out of the Rents of a Houſe in Biſhopſgate-ſtreet.

Tho Hind, in 1635. gave 6 l. per Ann. out of which 20 s. was to be paid to the Miniſter for preaching a Sermon every Year, upon the Eve of Palm-Sunday, the reſt was for the Poor. This is to be paid out of the Rents of the *Black-Bull-*Inn in Leaden-Hall-ſtreet.

Mrs. Lucy Edge, about 1630. gave 21 l. 10 s. per Ann. whereof 20 l. is to be paid to the Lecturer; 20 s. to the Poor of the Pariſh; 6 s. 8 d. to the Clerk; and 3 s. 4 d. to the Sexton every Year.

Sir Benj. Thorowgood, Knight, and Alderman, in 1682. built Three Shops at the Weſt end of the Church-yard, and ſettled them upon the Pariſh for the Maintenance of the Organ, and the Organiſt to play upon it in time of Divine Service, on Sundays and Holidays for ever; which Shops are now lett, in all for 24 l. per Ann.

In the rebuilding of this City of London, there were about 10 foot taken off from the Eaſt-end of this Church, and laid into Gracechurch-ſtreet, to make that end of the Street wider.

Stow tells us, That Peter Maſon, Taylor, gave to this Church 7 l Sterling, yearly, for ever, out of his Tenements in Colechurch Pariſh; and deceaſed about 1616. but of this Gift I find no mention in the ſaid Preſentment. Sto.Surv.211;

Leaden-Hall Chapel.

Sto. Surv. 163. Within the Precincts of Leaden-Hall, in this Pariſh of S. Peter's Cornhill, Sir Simon Eyre, Merchant, ſometime an Upholſterer, and then a Draper, Founder of the ſaid Hall, built a Chapel, in the Eaſt-ſide of the Quadrangle thereof, in 1419. which was fair and large, over the Porch whereof he cauſed to be written Dextra Domini exaltavit me.

He gave 3000 Marks to the Drapers Company, upon condition, that they ſhould, within One Year after his deceaſe, eſtabliſh perpetually a Maſter or Warden, 5 Secular Prieſts, 6 Clerks, and 2 Choiriſters, to ſing daily Divine Service, by Note, for ever, in his Chapel of Leaden-Hall: Alſo One Maſter, with an Uſher for Grammar; One Maſter for Writing; and the Third for Song; with Houſes there newly built for them for ever. The Maſter to have for his Salary 10 l. every Prieſt 8 l. every Clerk 5 l. 6 s. 8 d. and every Choiriſter 5 Marks. If the Drapers refus'd to do this within One Year after his deceaſe, then the 3000 Marks to remain to the Prior and Convent of Chriſt-Church, in London, with condition to eſtabliſh as aforeſaid, within Two Years after his deceaſe: And if they refus'd, then the 3000 Marks to be diſpoſed by his Executors, as they beſt could deviſe in Works of Charity. But this was not perform'd, as to the eſtabliſhing Divine Service in the Chapel or Free-School. And how the Stock of 3000 Marks was diſpoſed of by the Executors, Stow tells us, he could never learn.

But in 1466. by Licence obtained from Edw. IV. was founded a Fraternity of the Trinity of 60 Prieſts (beſides other Brethren and Siſters) in the ſame Chapel, by William Rouſe, John Risby, and Thomas Aſhby, Prieſts; ſome of which, every Market-day in the Afternoon, did celebrate Divine-Service there to ſuch Market-People as repair'd to Prayer. And once every Year they met all together, and had Solemn-Service, with Proceſſion of all the Brethren and Siſters. This Foundation was, in 1512. by a Common-Council, confirm'd to the 60 Prieſts, and their Succeſſors, at the Will of the Mayor and Commonalty.

S. Peter's Pauls-Wharf, Rectory.

THIS Church of S. Peter, of old call'd S. Peter's Parva, or Little, becauſe it was but a ſmall Church, but of latter Times call'd S. Peter's Pauls-Wharf, becauſe ſituate near to that place, ſtood on the North ſide of Thames-ſtreet, at the South-Eaſt Corner of S. Peter's-Hill, in Queenhith-Ward. It is a Rectory, in the Collation of the Dean and Chapter of S. Pauls, but ſubject to the Archdeacon, ſaving only as to Wills and Adminiſtrations, which belong to the Commiſſary.

The State of this Church, when Ralph de Diceto was Dean, Ann. 1181. ſtood thus,

"Eccleſia S. Petri ſuper Tamiſiam eſt Canonicorum, & reddit eis xii d. per "manum Radulphi Sacerdotis, & ſolvit Synodalia iv d. Archidiacono xii d. non ha-"bet Cœmiterium.

Reg. Dec. & Cap. Lib. B. fol. 36.

In this Ch. were Two perpetual Chantries founded; one for the Souls of William Bernard, and Iſabel his Wife, endowed with 4 l. 6 s. 8 d. per Ann. And the other was founded by Walter Kent, and endowed with 4 l. 13 s. 4 d. per ann. of both which the Rector, Churchwardens, and Pariſhioners were Patrons.

This Ch. was repair'd and beautifi'd, in 1625.

Sto. Surv. 867.

Tho' this Ch. was but ſmall and inconſiderable, yet let me add ſomething of my own knowledge to the Glory of it, which is this, It was very famous ſome Years before the Reſtauration of King Charles II. by reaſon the Common-Prayer was much uſed therein, and the Holy Sacrament of the Lord's Supper duly adminiſtred, according to the Liturgy of the Church of England, which brought a great Concourſe and Reſort to it, both of the Nobility and Gentry; and the Galleries where they ſate, were richly hung with Turky-Work Carpets, and the like.

In 1636. the yearly Profits of this Ch. were return'd as follows:

Sion-College MS.

Tyths ——— ———	48 :	00 :	00
Caſualties —— ——	06 :	10 :	00
A Parſonage-Houſe ——	04 :	00 :	00

But being burnt down in the late dreadful Fire, it was ſince annexed to that of S. Bennet Pauls-Wharf, which is made the Parochial-Church for both the Pariſhes: And the Profits of both, in lieu of Tyths, are made of the yearly Value of 100 l. to the Incumbent. And the Site of this Church remains now only as a Burying-place for the Inhabitants of this Pariſh.

S. Bennet, and S. Peter Pauls-wharf, annext.

In 1693. the Church-wardens preſented, That there was no Parſonage-Houſe, that they knew of, notwithſtanding the contrary appear'd in the above-mention'd Return.

Reg. Lond.

Moreover, I have ſeen a Return made by a Jury impannel'd, and ſworn by Commiſſioners appointed for that purpoſe, in the late Times of Uſurpation, viz. Ann. 1657. wherein they gave it under their Hands and Seals, That the true Value and Worth of this Living was then about 60 l. per ann. beſides a Parſonage-Houſe, which they there valued at 6 l. per ann.

I can give but little account of the Rectors of this Ch. it being in the Collation of the Dean and Chapter, for the Reaſon mention'd in S. Antlins; only that one Ed. Marbury was Rector of this Ch. and that of S. James Garlickhith, when the Return was made, in 1636. the latter of which he reſign'd in 1642. but was turn'd out of this by Sequeſtration, in the late Rebellion, and died about 1655. And, after the Reſtauration, was ſucceeded in this Ch. by *Joh. Sto.Sur. 184. THIS Church of S. Peter is ſituate on the Weſt-ſide of Broadſtreet, call'd S. Peter le Poor, for a Difference from other Churches in this City dedicated to S. Peter; ſometime, perhaps, a poor Pariſh, but at this time, there are many fair Houſes poſſeſs'd by rich Merchants, and others, particularly, within the Precincts of Auſtin Friers, and is in Broadſtreet-Ward.

Other Repairs and Beautifying of this Church were made in 1616. and -17. and in 1629. and --30. the Steeple, and a very coſtly Gallery at the Weſt-end of the Church, were new built, and beautifi'd, and Bells new caſt and hung; the Charge of all this amounting to the Sum of 1587 l. and upwards: All which (deducting the 400 l. Coſt of the Iſle) was the Coſt and Charge of the Pariſh.

a Ric. Holdſworth was Rector of this Church, when the aforeſaid Return was made in 1636. But in the late Rebellion of 1642. was for his Loyalty ſequeſter'd, plunder'd, impriſon'd in Ely Houſe, and then in the Tower [*Merc. But the Principles of this reverend Doctor being wholly Orthodox, he ſuffer'd very much during the miſerable condition, which the Members of the Long Parliament had brought this Kingdom to, loſt moſt, if not all his Spiritualties, was ſeveral times impriſon'd: Yet afterwards being at Liberty, he attended his Majeſty in his diſconſolate and afflicted condition at Hampton-Court, and in the Iſle of Wight: At length, after he had ſeen him crown'd with Martyrdom, he ſurrender'd up his pious Soul to him that gave it on Aug. 22. 1649. and was buried in this Church, out of which he had been ejected. An account of whoſe Life you may ſee in his Prælectiones Theologicæ habitæ in Collegio Greſhamenſi apud Londinenſes, London, 1661. which Book was publiſh'd by Dr. Pearſon's Nephew, who ſet an account of his Life before that Book. He was Aug. 7. 1691. admitted to the Rectory of S. Giles in the Fields, Middleſex, at the Preſentation of King William and Queen Mary, upon the Promotion of Dr. Joh. Sharp the Incumbent thereof to the Archbiſhoprick of York, upon which this Church of S. Peter became void. S. Peter ad Vincula, Chapel.

THERE is an antient Chapel in the Tower of London, wherein the Inhabitants within the ſame pay their Devotions to Almighty God, dedicated to the Memory of S. Peter ad Vincula, or in Bonds or Chains; which is the Second Feſtival celebrated in commemoration of S. Peter, and is uſually kept on the Firſt of Auguſt, as hath been obſerv'd before.

Edw. III. by his Letters Patents, bearing date Feb. 10. 1353. conſtituted Three Chaplains, together with a Rector (which was to be the Firſt or Chief) to celebrate daily in this Chapel. Pat.28, E.III. p. 1.

In this Chapel hath been buried the Bodies of ſeveral Perſons of the greateſt Quality and Note; namely, of John Fiſher, Biſhop of Rocheſter, who was beheaded on Tower-Hill, June 22. 1535. His Body was firſt buried in the Church-yard of Alhallows Barking, and afterwards removed to this Chapel.

Sir Thomas More, Lord Chancellor of England, beheaded at the ſame Place July 6. following; but his Corps was afterwards removed hence by his Daughter Roper to the Church of Chelſey, in Middleſex.

Anna Bullen, Second Wife to King Henry VIII. who loſt her Head upon the Hill within the Tower, May 19. 1536. And her Brother George Bullen, Lord Rochford, who was beheaded two Days before on Tower-Hill.

Thomas Cromwell, Earl of Eſſex, who loſt his Head on Tower-Hill, July 28. 1540.

Katharine Howard, the Fifth Wife of King Hen. VIII. beheaded on Tower-Hill on the 13th (ſome ſay the 12th) of Feb. 1541.

Edward Seymour, Duke of Somerſet, who was beheaded on Tower-Hill, Jan. 24. 1552. And John Dudley, Duke of Northumberland, who loſt his Head at the ſame Place, Aug. 22. 1553.

The ſeveral Crimes for which theſe ſeveral great Perſons ſuffered, are fully ſet forth in our Engliſh Hiſtories; and therefore, I ſhall ſay no more of them here.

Bonner 275. Ibid. 375. As to the Eccleſiaſtical Matters this Chapel was exempt from the Biſhop of London. But Edw. VI. by his Letters Patents bearing date Apr. 1. in the 4th of his Reign, ſubjected it (among other Exempts) to the Juriſdiction of the ſaid Biſhop of London, which was afterwards confirm'd by Queen Mary by her Letters Patents dated March 2. in the Firſt of her Reign; but whether ever any Biſhop of London did by Vertue of theſe Letters exerciſe any Juriſdiction within the Tower I have not found.

S. Sepulchres, Vicarage.

Hoſp. de Orig. Monac. lib. 6. cap. 19. THIS Church is dedicated to the Commemoration of the Holy Sepulchre, or Grave of our Saviour Chriſt at Jeruſalem; of which there was ſuch regard in former times, that an Order of Knights of the Holy Sepulchre of Jeruſalem was inſtituted by Godfrey of Bullen (as ſome will have it) in the Year 1099. or (as others) by Baldwyn, ſecond King of Jeruſalem, anno 1103. To this Order was committed the keeping of the Holy Sepulchre, from whence they had their name.

Hiſt. Monaſt. Orders, p. 39. They follow the Rule of S. Auguſtin; and their antient Habit was a black Caſſock, a white Rochet over it, with a black Cloak; Upon which on the Left ſide were five black Croſſes, as ſome write: And that they wear alſo a long Beard, and a Cap after the Eaſtern faſhion.

Hoſp. ut ſupra. This Order of the Knights of the Holy Sepulchre being ejected out of Syria, was at length by Pope Innocent VIII. united to the Order of the Knights of Rhodes, Anno Dom. 1485. and thereby they ceaſed to be an Order of themſelves. And the Knights of the Order being expelled out of Jeruſalem, the Cuſtody of the Lord's Sepulchre was with the Aſſent and Command of the Soldan, committed to the Monks of the Franciſcan Family, which was profitable to the Sarazens and Turks. But Anno 1336. the Sepulchre, with the leave of the Biſhop of Rome, was committed to eight Franciſcan Monks, who have the Overſight thereof to this day.

Sto. Sur. 423. Archid. Com. Lond. Somewhat Weſt without Newgate on the right Hand, in the Ward of Faringdon without, ſtandeth this fair Pariſh Church, which is dedicated to the Holy Sepulchre (call'd of old S. Sepulchres in the Bayly, or by Chamberlain-Gate;) in a fair Church-yard, tho' not ſo large as of old time, part of it being let out for Buildings, and a Garden-Plot. It is ſubject to the Archdeacon, ſaving only as to Wills and Adminiſtrations which belong to the Commiſſary.

Sto. ut ſupra. This Church was re-edified or new built about the Reign of Hen. VI. or Edw. IV. One of the Pophams was a great Builder there; namely, of one fair Chapel on the South-ſide of the Choir, as appeared formerly by his Arms, and other Monuments in the Glaſs Windows thereof; and alſo of the fair Porch of the ſame Church towards the South, over which Porch his Image fairly graven in Stone was fix'd, but now defaced and beaten down. His Titles were theſe by Offices, Chancellor of Normandy, Captain of Vernoyle, Suſan and Bayon, and Treaſurer of the King's Houſhold. He died rich, leaving great Treaſure of ſtrange Coin, and was buried in the Charter-Houſe by Weſt-Smithfield.

Mon. Angl. 2. Vol. 171. Roger, Biſhop of Salisbury (which was Roger that rich and mighty Biſhop of Salisbury, in the Reign of Hen. I.) gave this Church of S. Sepulchre de Ballio, London. cum pertinentiis ſuis infra Burgum & extra, to the Prior and Canons of S. Bartholomew in Weſt Smithfield, as I find it confirm'd to them (inter alia) by the Charter of King Hen. III. bearing date at Winton, June 15. in the 37th of his Reign.

Pat. 7. Jac. p. 10. Thus this Church of S. Sepulchre became part of the Poſſeſſions of the ſaid Prior and Convent of S. Bartholomew; but when, or upon what occaſion it was appropriated to them, I find not. However it appears that there was a perpetual Vicarage ordain'd, time out of mind, of this Church; of which the ſaid Prior and Convent were, and continued Patrons till their Suppreſſion. Upon which it came to the Crown, and remained in it; till King James I. in the 7th of his Reign granted the Rectory and its Appurtenances, and Advowſon of this Vicarage to Fran. Philips and others. After which the ſaid Rectory, and its Appurtenances were purchaſed by the Pariſhioners, and held in Fee-farm of the Crown. And the Advowſon of the Vicarage by the Preſident and Fellows of S. John Baptiſt College, in Oxford, who continue Patrons thereof to this day.

There having been formerly ſome Controverſies between the ſaid Prior and Convent of S. Bartholomew the Patrons and Proprietaries of this Church, and Robert Dyker Vicar of the ſame about the Tyths and Profits thereof, John Stokeſley, Biſhop of London, did on the 4th of April, 1531. by the conſent of the Parties on both ſides make an Agreement or Compoſition between them, wherein he decreed, ordered, and awarded to the Effect following.

Stokeſley 49.

Firſt, that the ſaid Vicar and his Succeſſors ſhould have the third Part of all the Tyths, Oblations, and Profits that ſhall grow and come to the ſaid Church yearly through all the Year from thenceforth for ever, except the within excepted; and that all Tyths, Oblations, and Fruits (ſaving ſuch as ſhall be received at Feaſts of Eaſter, or within ſeven Days thereof, and ſuch as hereafter be excepted) ſhall from time to time be put into a Box in the Veſtry of the ſaid Church, and there ſhall remain, till it ſhall be indifferently divided at every Months end after the Rate aforeſaid, and as hath been accuſtom'd in times paſt. And if the ſaid Parties at any time hereafter ſhall vary between themſelves in their reckonings, that they cannot among themſelves within eight Days next after the Terms before aſſigned to reckon and part the ſame, agree upon the Sums by them received, and to be paid according to the ſaid Award; that then they ſhall within eight Days next after that, exhibit their Account before ſuch an Auditor as the ſaid Biſhop and his Succeſſors ſhall aſſign; and upon his Judgment the ſaid Arrears ſhall be divided and parted forthwith according to the Proportion aforeſaid.

Then (ſetling the Arrears that were then due) it goes on further thus, viz. And likewiſe if it ſhall happen at any Eaſter, or at any other time hereafter in the Year, any manner of Tyths, Oblations, or Profits of the ſaid Church to be behind unpaid, that then the ſame ſhall be gathered by both the ſaid Parties, or by both their Deputies, or by One to be deputed indifferently between them both, and ſo ſhall be divided after the Rate of the ſaid Decree and Order.

Furthermore, that the ſaid Vicar, and his Succeſſors ſhall yearly from thenceforth for ever, have the third Part of all the Tyths, and Profits Spiritual, of and by reaſon of the Compoſition that is made between the Prior and Convent of the Charter-Houſe, and the ſaid Prior and Convent of S. Bartholomew, and the Vicars of S. Sepulchres for the Houſes within the Precinct, and the Inhabitants of the ſame Charter-Houſe, without any manner of Let or Interruption of the ſaid Prior and Convent of S. Bartholomew, their Succeſſors, or Aſſigns; provided always and excepted, that the ſaid Vicar ſhall make no Claim, nor Title, neither ſhall have Tyths, Oblations, or other Profits coming or growing within the Precinct of the Monaſtery, or Cloſe of S. Bartholomew, or within the Precinct of the Hoſpital of the ſame. Neither of the Tyths of Clarkenwell Field, nor of any Tyths to be had by reaſon of any Compoſition made in times paſt between the Lord of S. John of Jeruſalem, in England, and the Prior and Convent of S. Bartholomew aforeſaid.

This is what is moſt material in this Compoſition as to our preſent purpoſe, what elſe is contained in it, refers only to the Offerings of Candles, Wax, Legacies to the High Altar, &c wholly caſt out of the Church upon the Reformation, and therefore of no validity now; for which reaſon I omit it, and come to the concluſion of this Award, wherein it is provided that this Decree, Order and Compoſition ſhall be of full ſtrength and effect for the whole ſpace of five Years, and five Weeks next following the Date thereof, viz. Apr. 4. 1532. And if the Prior and Convent of the ſaid Monaſtery of S. Bartholomew, or the Vicar of the ſaid Pariſh for the time being, do after the Expiration of the ſaid five Years and five Weeks, think themſelves aggrieved with this Award, and within two Months after do reclaim and proteſt againſt it before the Biſhop of the Dioceſe, or his Chancellor, that then this Decree, Order, and Compoſition ſhall be void, and of none effect. But I could never yet find any ſuch Reclamation or Proteſt made by any of the ſaid Parties. Therefore, I conclude, that this Compoſition is ſtill of Force and Effect. As will alſo appear by what follows hereafter.

Doctor Will. Bell late Vicar of this Church, deceaſ'd; exhibited a Paper under his own hand (now remaining in the Biſhop of London's Regiſtry) dated June 24. 1681. intitled, An Account of the Rights of the Vicar of S. Sepulchres: A Tranſcript whereof follows:

The Pariſh lieth four parts in London, and the 5th in Middleſex. The College of S. John, in Oxford, is Patron of the Living, and the Pariſh are Impropriators. Both by purchaſe from the Crown.

The Vicarage was formerly endowed with a third Part of the Tyths and Eaſter-Book, to be paid without defalcation for collecting.

By the late Act of Parliament its Maintenance of Tyths is to be 200 l. a Year; toward which, that part of the Pariſh that lies within pays 80 l. per Ann. by quarterly payments by the Church-Warden, and gives a Tyth-Book of 80 l. more, for which the Vicar pays the Collector 2 s. per pound: Middleſex ſhould pay the other 40 l. and have a Tyth-Book of 107 l. per Ann. but gather yearly not above 60 l. whereof they pay once a Year 20 l. as a Third, and are not included within the Act of Parliament for Augmentation. About 100 l. is gathered from the whole Pariſh, much being loſt by Tofts of Ground, or Built-Houſes unlet, and poor Inhabitants. The Eaſter-Book formerly 150 l. a Year to Pariſh and Vicar, is reduc'd to leſs than 9 l. yet collected.

The Exchequer pays about 19 l. a Year, whereof 14 l. for daily Morning-Prayer. Out of this 19 l. is deducted 1 s. in the Pound to the Pay-Maſter, and 5 s. for Debentur.

The Pariſh One Pound Six and Eightpence for a Coal-houſe. The Sexton a Sugar-Loaf. The Caſtle-Tavern One Pound for parcel of Glebe. One Pound every 4th Year for the Ward-mote Sermon, preach'd ſucceſſively by the Miniſters of S. Sepulchres, S. Andrews, S. Dunſtans, and S. Brides. Three Pounds for ſix Sermons on Anniverſary-days, 30th of January, 29th of May, S. James's day, 5th of November, 6th of December, and Mr. Shaws Gift by the Shoomakers Company. Six Shillings and Eightpence for Prayers with the Queſt.

Perquiſites for Burials, Marriages, Churchings as per Table collected gratis, and paid by the Clerks once in two Months.

A new Houſe free to the Succeſſors, with a Yard thereto. The Uſe of a Parlor, Kitchin, and Waſh-houſe under the Queſt-houſe that belongs to the Pariſh for my time, I being at the trouble to Build it, and brought in 200 l. towards it. The Uſe thereof reſerved to the Pariſh on publick occaſions of Queſt, or Burials, formerly no Lights in the lower Rooms, and high and narrow ones above, that juſt overlook the Vicar's Yard, and no Doors below, but all made by me for my own conveniency. A Watch-houſe built by the conſent of the Dioceſan and Vicar, at the Inſtance of the Pariſh, in the South-Eaſt-corner of the Church-yard on Snow-hill, for daily Uſe; of which Five Pounds paid yearly to the Pariſh, but claimed by the Vicar as built upon his Glebe, which I have not demanded, as thinking my ſelf compenſated by the Uſe of the Queſt-houſe, and under-Rooms.

Formerly three Seats in the Church, one in the Chancel, where the Common-Council ſit. The firſt Pew in the middle Iſle on the South ſide; but then not half ſo big as now. Two other Pews in the North Iſle, one above, the other behind the Pillar, over againſt the Pulpit, for Wiſe and Servants. Theſe I remitted for two Pews, formerly a Paſſage that led to the Pulpit, and partly under it.

The Choice of a Pew-keeper for the Chancel. The Collector of the Tyths and Eaſter-Book, both within and without, was formerly one Want, a Servant to one of my Predeceſſors.

A little Houſe of two Rooms next the North-Church-Door, let ſometimes for 40 s. a Year, with the Firſt incloſ'd in the Paſſage.

This Church was not burnt down, but very much damnified by the Fire. The outward Walls thereof, and the Tower ſtood, and are now very well repair'd, and the middle Iſle of the Church made with an arched Roof, which was not ſo before. The Steeple hath in it now an excellent Ring of Bells, which before the Fire conſiſted only of Six; which Bells did formerly belong to the Priory of S. Bartholomew, and were ſold to this Pariſh upon the Diſſolution of that Monaſtery.

On June 22. 1612. there was a new Church-yard near Chick-lane, for the Burial of the Dead of this Pariſh, conſecrated by Dr. John King then Biſhop of London, containing within the Walls of the ſame in the Eaſt-part 130 Foot, in the Weſt 108, in the North 121, and in the South-part 124 Foot. Grindal, 397.

Will. Horne a Maſter of Defence, and Yeoman of the Guard, in 1580. gave Lands and Tenements to the Clothworkers-Company, to pay 14 l. yearly to the Church-Wardens of this Pariſh towards the Repair of their Church, and Relief of the Poor. Sto. Sur. 486.

In 1693. the Church-Wardens preſented as an Incroachment a ſmall Spot of Ground at the Weſt end of the Church in the Poſſeſſion of the Widow Dioſe, for which ſhe refuſeth to make any acknowledgment. Reg. Lond.

Alſo (beſides Gifts to the Poor, which I omit) ſeveral Rents to their Church of the Gifts of Mr. Newcaſtle, Mr. Holmes, and Mrs. Shaw, and ſome ſmall Annuities which were laid out in repairing and adorning the Church.

Laſtly, ſeveral Gift-Sermons upon ſet Days of the Gifts of Dr. Bell, Mr. Glaſbrook, Mrs. Dove, Mrs. Lowman, and Mr. Bowes.

S. STEPHEN.

THERE are Two Churches in this City dedicated to this Saint, viz. — S. Stephen { Colemanſtreet. / Walbrook.

S. Stephen was one of the Seven Deacons ordain'd by the 12 Apoſtles to take care of the publick Stock, and juſtly to diſtribute the ſame among the Widows and Poor, leaving the Exerciſe of Prayer, and the Miniſtry of the Word to the Apoſtles.

He was the Firſt of the Seven that were choſen, and was a Man full of Faith and of the Holy Ghoſt; did great Wonders and Miracles among the People, and with great Wiſdom confuted the erroneous Opinions among the Jews concerning the Meſſias; whoſe Wiſdom and Spirit they being not able to reſiſt, they ſuborned falſe Witneſſes, who depoſed, that he ſpoke Blaſphemy againſt the Temple and the Law, ſaying, That Jeſus of Nazareth ſhould deſtroy that Place, and change the Cuſtoms that Moſes delivered them; and being brought before the Counſel to anſwer this Accuſation, the High Prieſt gave him leave to Anſwer for himſelf, which he did with great Boldneſs and Courage, upbraided them as ſtiffnecked and uncircumcis'd in Heart, and Ears, always reſiſting the Holy Ghoſt as their Fathers did; and how their Fathers perſecuted and ſlew the Prophets, which ſhewed before of the Coming of the Juſt One, of whom they now have been the betrayers and murtherers. Hereat the Jews being cut to the Heart, gnaſhed on him with their Teeth, and caſt him out of the City, and ſtoned him, calling upon God, and ſaying, Lord Jeſus receive my Spirit; and then kneeling down, cried with a loud Voice, Lord lay not this Sin to their charge; and having ſo ſaid he fell a ſleep (and died) and was buried by devout Men, making great Lamentation over him. [Acts vi. 7, 8.]

In Commemoration of this Protomartyr S. Stephen, there were two Feſtivals inſtituted, The one of his Paſſion; The other of the Invention of his Body. That of his Paſſion is celebrated on the 26th of December, whereas he ſuffer'd on the 3d of Auguſt, and that of his Invention on the 3d of Auguſt, whereas the Invention of his Body was on the 26th of December: Theſe Feſtivals at firſt were celebrated on their proper Days, but afterwards were changed the one into the Place of the other, in reverence to the Nativity of our Saviour Chriſt; and for that his Paſſion was more highly eſteemed than his Invention. Therefore it was thought fit that his Paſſion ſhould be more ſolemnly celebrated next to Chriſt's Nativity, and his Invention changed to be celebrated on the 3d of Auguſt. [Jo. Boleth. rational. cap. 143. Durand. lib. 7. cap. 21. Pet. de Natal. lib. 2. cap. 4.]

What is farther written of this Firſt Martyr S. Stephen, may be ſeen in Dr. Cave's Lives of the Fathers.

S. Stephen Coleman-ſtreet, Rectory.

THIS Church of S. Stephen is ſituate on the Weſt-ſide of Coleman-ſtreet, towards the South-end thereof in Coleman-ſtreet-Ward. Is ſubject to the Archdeacon, ſaving only as to Wills and Adminiſtrations, which belong to the Commiſſary.

Archid Com. Lond.

Stow tells us, That this Church was ſometime a Synagogue of the Jews, then a Pariſh-Church, then a Chapel to S. Olaves in the Jewry till the 7th of Edw. IV. and then made a Pariſh-Church.

Sto. Sur. 296.

Whether it was a Jewiſh Synagogue, and then a Pariſh-Church after it had been ſo, and before it was a Chapel to S. Olaves Jewry, I no where elſe read. But this I find, that in old time this Church or Chapel did belong to the Canons of S. Pauls, and was held of them by the Prior and Convent of Butley, in Suffolk, as appears by the State of this Church taken (among others) in the firſt Year of Ralph de Diceto's being Dean of S. Pauls, Anno 1182.

"Eccleſia S. Stephani eſt Canonicorum, & reddit eis ii. Sol. per manum Prioris
" de Buteleia. Solvit Synodalia xii d. Archid. xii d.

Reg. D. & C. lib. B. f, 38.

Not long after this, the ſaid Ralph the Dean, and the Chapter of S. Pauls made a new Grant of the Church of S. Olaves Jewry, and of this of S. Stephen Coleman-ſtreet, at leaſt of two Parts of it; of the Fee of Ralph de Arden to the ſaid Prior and Convent of Butley, as may be ſeen in what is written of the ſaid Church of S. Olaves.

In 1322. on the Kalends of Auguſt, this Church of S. Stephen, as a Chapel annext to the ſaid Church of S. Olaves, was with it appropriated to the ſaid Priory of Butley by Stephen (Graveſend) then Biſhop of London, and confirm'd by the Dean and Chapter of S. Pauls on the 4th Kal. of Aug. 1323. and ſo continued as a Chapel annext to S. Olaves, till it was made Parochial, except only in the Years 1436, and 1451. for then it appears, that two Clerks, (if not three) were admitted to this Church of S. Stephen as Vicars thereof, without any mention made of it as annext to S. Olaves, at the King's Preſentation, as devolv'd to him, becauſe appropriated to the Priory of Butley without the King's Licence.

Braybr. 203.

But in few Years after, Anno 1456. (35. Hen. VI.) on the 6th of November (which was near 10 Years before the 7th of Edw. IV. as is above-mentioned by Stow to be conſtituted a Pariſh-Church) this Church or Chapel was made Parochial, and a Vicarage ordain'd and endowed by Tho. (Kemp) then Biſhop of London, who convening before him the Prior and Convent of Butley aforeſaid (to whom this Church or Chapel was appropriated as aforeſaid) and the Pariſhioners of this Pariſh (between whom, and the ſaid Prior and Convent there had been great Conteſts about the ſame) and the Vicar of S. Olaves (to whoſe Church it was annext as a Chapel) did with the Conſent of them all create and ordain this Chapel from thenceforth to be a Pariſh-Church, and a Vicarage, and out of the Profits thereof the Vicar and his Succeſſors to have eleven Pounds per Ann. which was to be paid by the ſaid Prior and Convent, or their Deputy, yearly at the four uſual Feaſts by even and equal Portions. Provided, that if the Vicar did not reſide in the ſaid Pariſh, but lived out of it any where elſe without the Biſhop's Licence, he was then to have but 10 l. per Ann.

From this time it continued a Pariſh-Church, and a Vicarage diſtinct of it ſelf, and in the Gift of the Prior and Convent of Butley, till the Suppreſſion of that Houſe. After which, the Rectory and Pariſh-Church, and Advowſon of the Vi-
19. Eliz. p. 2. carage were granted by Queen Elizabeth, in the 19th of her Reign to Thomas Paſ-
32. Eliz. p. 5. kin and others. And again, in the 32d of Her Reign to William Daniel, Serjeant at Law (afterwards Knight, and one of the Juſtices of the Common Pleas) and others Pariſhioners of this Pariſh; which Pariſhioners have held this impropriate Rectory in Fee-farm of the Crown, and continued Patrons of this Vicarage ever ſince.

Baudake 57. About the Reign of Edw. II. here was a perpetual Chantry founded for the Soul of William Grapeſigg, and four of his Children, to which a Chantry-Prieſt was preſented by John Grapeſigg, and admitted 9. Kal. July, 1324.

Braybrok. 41. But the endowment of this Chantry afterwards proving, it ſeems, inſufficient to maintain a Chantry-Prieſt, I find one collated to this; and another in this Church founded for the Souls of Roger le Bourſer, and others his Relations, Decemb. 9. 1385.

Ibid. 89,133. Here was likewiſe another perpetual Chantry founded for the Souls of Steph. Fraunſord, and John Eſſex, Citizens of London, to which there was a Chantry-Prieſt admitted, Oct. 4. 1391. at the Preſentation of the Vicar of S. Olaves Jewry, with this Chapel of S. Stephen annext, and others Pariſhioners of this Pariſh of S. Stephen.

In this Church was buried the Body of Mr. Anthony Munday, Citizen and Draper of London, who with great coſt and diligence enlarged Stow's Survey, in the Year 1618. He died on Aug. 10. 1633. in the 80th Year of his Age, and had a Tomb

c Joh. Davenport. Son of Joh. Davenport, and elder Brother of Chr. Davenport, commonly call'd Franc. à Sancta Clara; was born in the City of Coventry, in Warwickſhire, anno 1597. and in Grammatical Learning there educated. In 1613. he was ſent to Merton-College, Oxon, where continuing about two Years, he was tranſlated to Magdalen-Hall, and there continued for ſome time under a ſevere and puritanical Diſcipline. He left it without a Degree, retir'd to London, became a noted Preacher among the Puritans, and at length Vicar of this Pariſh (but the time of his Admiſſion to it appears not). In 1625. he return'd to Magdalen-Hall for a time, perform'd his exerciſe for the Degree of Batchelor of Divinity, which he accumulated and took, and ſoon after return'd to London; where by the Brethren, he was eſteemed a Perſon of excellent Gifts in Preaching and other Qualities belonging to a Divine. About 1630. he was appointed one of the Feoffees for buying Impropriations; but that Project being quaſh'd, he about the Year 1633. reſign'd this Vicarage, leaving his Paſtoral Charge, under pretence of Oppoſition by the Prelates, becauſe he ſcrupled at certain Ceremonies; and went away for Amſterdam, where endeavouring to be a Miniſter in the Engliſh Congregation, he was oppos'd by Mr. John Pagett, one of the chief Miniſters there, and eſpecially for this Reaſon, that he would not agree with him in all things relating to Baptiſm, which put him upon writing ſeveral things. In the Beginning of the Rebellion he return'd into England, and had a Cure beſtowed on him; but finding Matters not to go current with his Humour, he by the perſuaſive Letters of Mr. Joh. Cotton of New-England, went into that Country, and became Paſtor of Newhaven there, where he continued in great Eſteem till the time almoſt of his Death, with thoſe of his perſuaſion. At length having liv'd beyond the age of Man, he died at Boſton in New-England, March 13. 1669. and was interr'd there in the Tomb of the ſaid Mr. Cotton, for whom in his Life-time he had an extraordinary reſpect [*Ath. S. Stephen Walbrook, Rectory.

THIS Church of S. Stephen is in Walbrook-Ward, and in old time ſtood on the Weſt-ſide of the Street, call'd Walbrook; in place, where before the late dreadful Fire, the Parſonage-Houſe ſtood. But Sir Robert Chichly, Grocer (who had been Mayor of this City in 1421.) gave to this Pariſh of S. Stephen, in the Year 1428. one Plot of Ground containing 208 Foot and half in length, and 66 Foot in breadth, thereupon to build their new Church, and for their Church-yard; which Plot of Ground lay on the Eaſt-ſide of the ſaid Street of Walbrook, and was bought, with the Houſes thereon, with the Goods of Sir Will. Standon, Grocer (who had been Mayor in the Years 1392, and 1407.) by the ſaid Sir Rob. Chichly, of the Company of Grocers for 200 Marks. The next Year being the 7th of Hen. VI. the ſaid Sir Robert laid the Firſt Stone for himſelf, the Second for the ſaid Sir William Standon. The ſaid Sir Robert gave 100*l.* more to the ſaid VVork, and did bear the Charges of all the Timber-work on the Proceſſion way, and laid the Lead upon it of his own coſt. He alſo gave all the Timber for the Roofing of the two ſide Iſles, and paid for the Carriage thereof. This Church was finiſhed in the Sto. Sur. 244.

the Year 1439. The length thereof was 125 Foot, and the breadth 67 Foot, the Church-yard 90 Foot in length, and 37 in breadth. It is ſubject to the Archdeacon; and is a Rectory. Arch. Lond.

Mon. Ang. 2. Vol. 892. Eudo, Sewer to King Hen. I. gave this Church of S. Stephen ſuper Walbrech (among others) to his new-founded Monaſtery of S. John, in Colcheſter, the Patronage whereof continued in that Abbot and Convent till the Year 1422. incluſive, as will appear hereafter. From which time I find nothing of it till the Year 1440. (being the next Year after the new Church, as aforeſaid, was finiſh'd). And then upon an Inquiſition it was found, That the right of Patronage was in Robert Whitingham, whoſe Clerk upon his Preſentation was admitted on the 20th of November that Year.

Sto. Sur. 245. This Rob. Whitingham (made Knight of the Bath) Stow tells us, purchaſed the Patronage of this Church in the Year 1432. from John, Duke of Bedford, (Uncle to Hen. VI.) and Edw. IV. in the 2d of his Reign (but how it came to the ſaid Duke, from the ſaid Abbot and Convent, I find not) and gave it to Sir Richard Lee (who had been Mayor of London in the Year 1460.) After which Richard Lee, Eſq; Son of the ſaid Sir Richard Lee (as I ſuppoſe) preſented to it in the Year 1474. And the Clerk ſo by him preſented, did upon his Inſtitution to this Church take an Oath of ſtanding to the Arbitrement of the Biſhop of London, about the Payment of a Penſion of 10*s.* yearly to the Abbot of S. John of Colcheſter, and his Succeſſors. But, I queſtion, whether upon this Arbitration the Biſhop determin'd for the Payment thereof; becauſe I do not find any mention made of the Payment of this Penſion upon the Inſtitution of any of the ſucceeding Rectors.

Ibid. 246. The above-named Sir Richard Lee (who was a Grocer by Company) gave the Parſonage (or Patronage) of this Church to that Company ſaith Stow. Tho' I rather think it was the Gift of the aforeſaid Richard Lee, Eſq; who kept the Title, and preſented to this Church ſome Years after the Death (as may be ſuppos'd) of the ſaid Sir Richard Lee.

Ibid. 870. In the Years 1622, 23, 26, and 32. were ſeveral Repairs made in the Chancel, Iſles, and Body of this Church and Steeple, which coſt the Pariſhioners 510*l.* 15*s.* 6*d.* and upwards.

I cannot omit acquainting the Reader, That in this Church a little before the late dreadful Fire, was buried the Body of Mr. Alexander Brome, an Attorny at Law, a very pleaſant Companion, and an ingenious Poet, as appears by his Book of Poems, Printed in 1668. who died at his Houſe in Barge-yard, in this Pariſh, in the Month of June 1666.

In 1636. the yearly Profits of this Church were return'd as followeth:

Tyths	40	00	00
Caſualties	10	00	00
A Parſonage-Houſe	00	00	00

But this Church ſuffering the like Fate with too many others in the ſaid Fire (ſaving that the Steeple remain'd unburnt, and the Bells unmelted) was again rebuilt, and made the Parochial-Church for this, and the Pariſh of S. Bennet Sherehogg, which is annext to it, and the Profits of both, in lieu of Tyths, are made of the yearly Value of 100*l.* to the Incumbent. S. St. Walbr. S. Ben. Sheer. annext.

	l.	s.	d.
In the Year 1636. Tyths of S. Stephen Walbrooke	40	00	00
In the Year 1636. Tyths of S. Bennet Sheerhogg	30	00	00
Total of both	70	00	00
More now than before	30	00	00

Reg. Lond. In 1693. the Rector and Church-Wardens preſented a Parſonage-Houſe burnt down in the late dreadful Fire; but ſince rebuilt by Mr. Jerome Ranſtorne, upon a Leaſe of 40 Years, dated June 13. 1674. by which is reſerv'd to the Parſon 17*l.* a Year Ground-Rent.

Alſo, ſome Incroachments made by Building upon the Church-yard, ſince the Fire, and by Lights in the Church-yard, for ſome of which, they have receiv'd a Compenſation in Money, and lett Leaſes, employing the Fines and Money receiv'd, towards the Building of a new Houſe for the Rector.

Alſo, the Income of 100 l. belonging to this Pariſh (but by whom, or to what Uſes given, they at preſent know not) but employ'd, partly, towards Repairing and Adorning their Church, and the remainder to the Relief of their Poor.

There hath alſo been built, by Order of the Veſtry, a Dwelling-houſe for the Rector, upon a void Piece of Ground, about twenty Foot Square, at the Weſt-End of the Church, where part of it ſtood before the late Fire; which Houſe is built by the leave of the Company of Grocers, Patrons of the Church, and with the Licence or Faculty of the Biſhop of London, dated Febr. 20. 169$\frac{2}{3}$. part with the Money that is to be rais'd by the Lights, aforementioned, into the Church-yard, one half whereof belongs to the Rector; and in part with the Income of the 100 l. per Ann. aforeſaid; and in Conſideration that the Rector hath a Title to ſome part of the Ground, on which it is built, and to half the Money that is to be rais'd by the Lights aforeſaid, and the Pariſh to the reſt. It is provided, that in caſe the preſent Rector, or any of his Succeſſors, ſhall at any time think fit, or not convenient to live in the ſaid Houſe, then the Veſtry of the ſaid Pariſh ſhall have Power to lett the ſame from Year to Year, and the Rector for the time being, is to have one Third part of the yearly Rent, and the other two Thirds are to be to the uſe of the Pariſh.

The Day of this Saint's Death, is commemorated in the Roman Martyrology, July 2. but his Tranſlation having been made July 15. his principal Feaſt is celebrated in the Engliſh Churches on that Day.

S. Swithin, Rectory.

THIS Church of S. Swithin is ſituate at the South-Weſt Corner of S. Swithin's-Lane, over-againſt London-Stone in Candlewick-ſtreet, but in Walbrook-Ward, and from the Situation thereof, hath been call'd S. Swithin in Candlewick-ſtreet, but more frequently of late, S. Swithin, London-Stone. It is a Rectory, ſubject to the Archdeacon, ſaving only as to Wills and Adminiſtrations, which belong to the Commiſſary.

Archid. Commiſſar. Lond.

In 1420. Licence was procur'd to new-build and increaſe this Church and Steeple; Sir John Hend, Draper, was a ſpecial Benefactor thereto, as formerly appear'd by his Arms in the Glaſs-Windows, and was buried in the Body thereof.

Sto. Sur. 241.

Here was a perpetual Chantry founded for the Soul of Roger de Depham, at the Altar of S. Katharine and S. Margaret, to which I find a Chantry-Prieſt admitted, Anno 1361. at the Preſentation of the Executor of the ſaid Roger, and afterwards at the Preſentation of the Mayor and Recorder of the City of London.

Sudbury, 9.

Stow ſpeaks of other Chantries founded in this Church, namely, by Tho. Aylesbourgh, Will. Neve and Matilda Claxton, but I find nothing of them in the London Regiſtry.

Sto. Sur. 870.

The Advowſon of this Church was of old in the Prior and Convent of Tortington, in the Dioceſe of Chicheſter, and continu'd in them till their Suppreſſion, upon which, it came to the Crown; and Hen. VIII. in the 31. of his Reign, granted the ſame, together, with a very fair Houſe on the North-ſide of this Church and Church-yard, belonging to the ſaid Priory, to John Earl of Oxford (and thence ſometime call'd Oxford-Place;) and again, in 15. Eliz. it was granted to Edward Earl of Oxford, which Edward, afterwards being highly incens'd againſt his Father-in-Law, Will. Cecil, Lord Burghley (whoſe Daughter Ann, he had then to his firſt Wife) for not preſerving his good Friend, Thomas Duke of Norfolk, from Deſtruction in the Buſineſs of the Queen of Scots, believing that it was in his Power to ſave him, in great Indignation, ſaid, he would do all he could to ruin his Daughter, and accordingly, not only forſook her Bed, but ſold and conſum'd his Eſtate, leaving very little for his Son and Succeſſor; among which, he ſold the ſaid Houſe and this Advowſon (as I gueſs) to Sir John Hart (Citizen and Lord-Mayor of London, in 1589.) who, as appears, preſented ſeveral times to this Church, and whoſe Body was buried in the South-Iſle of the ſame, under a goodly Tomb; from whom it came to Sir George Bolles (Lord-Mayor alſo of this City in 1617.) by his Marriage (as I conceive) with Joan, the eldeſt Daughter of the ſaid Sir John Hart, who after the Death of her Husband, erected a very fair Monument for him, on the South-ſide the Chancel of this Church; and from the Deſcendants of the ſaid Sir George Bolles, the Company of Salters, it ſeems, have purchaſed the ſaid Houſe and Advowſon, and thereby became the Patrons of this Church, and made the ſaid Houſe their Hall.

In the Years 1607. and 1608. this Church was repair'd and beautify'd at the Charge of the Pariſhioners.

The TEMPLE, and Order of the Knights of the Temple.

THE New Temple (ſo call'd, becauſe the Templers, before the Building of this Houſe had their Temple in Oldbourne) is ſituate at the Weſt-End of Fleet-ſtreet, on the South-ſide thereof, having that Street on the North, and the River Thames on the South-ſide of it.

Weav. Fun. Mon. 441. Sam. Brit. 172.

Some hold, ſaith Weaver, that it was built by Mulmutius Dunwallo, a King of the antient Britains, about the Year of the World 4748. (a groſs Miſtake as to the time, for he became ſole Monarch of this Iſland, anno Mundi 3529. which was 1219. Years before) and that he made the Precincts thereof a Sanctuary or Place of Refuge, for any Perſon therein to be aſſur'd of Life, Liberty and Limbs, and after forty Years Reign, was buried in this Place, with other Britiſh Kings. The Temples which he built, he call'd the Temples of Peace and Concord, one of which was in London, where now Blackwell-Hall is (with which others agree) and another he will have in Fleet-ſtreet, yet call'd the Temple-Church (meaning this Place) of which I find no mention made by any body elſe. But be this as it will,

The New Temple, of which we are now treating, was founded by the Knights-Templers in England, in the Reign of King Henry II. and dedicated to our Bleſſed Lady, by Heraclius, Patriarch of the Church call'd, the Holy Reſurrection in Jeruſalem, in the Year of Chriſt 1185. as appears by the Inſcription over the Church-Door towards the Cloiſters.

> ✠ Anno ab Incarnatione Domini, M. C. LXXXV. + Dedicata hæc Eccleſia in Honorem Beatæ Mariæ. + à Domino Eraclio Dei gratia Sanctæ Reſurrectionis Eccleſiæ Patriarcha. +. IV. Idus Februarii. +. Qui eam annatim petentibus de injuncta ſibi Penitentia LX. dies indulſit.

The Templers was a Military Order, and took their Beginning about 1118. at Jeruſalem, Hugo de Paganis, Godfrey of S. Aumer, with Seven others, whoſe Names are not known, devoted themſelves to God's Service, like Canon-Regulars, and made their Vows of Religion to the Patriarch of Jeruſalem. Baldwin II. gave them a Houſe near the Temple of Solomon, whence they had the Name of Temples or Knights of the Temple; but living on nothing but Alms, the King, Prelates, and great Men gave them Eſtates, ſome for ſet Term of Years, and others for ever, the End of the Inſtitution being to defend the Pilgrims from the Cruelty of the Infidels, and to keep the Paſſes free for ſuch as undertook the Voyage of the Holy-Land.

Theſe Nine received no more into their Society, till 1128. after the Celebration of the Council of Troyes in Champaign, where there were Rules made for the Order, and among the reſt, that they go in White, and afterwards in 1146. Eugenius III. added a red Croſs to be ſet upon their Cloaks. This Order flouriſh'd then for a time, and grew ſo very Rich, that Matth. Paris ſays, they had 9000 Houſes or Convents, beſides other great Wealth; this rendred them ſo Proud and Inſolent, that they refus'd to ſubmit to the Patriarch of Jeruſalem, plunder'd the Chriſtians as well as Infidels, and by their Advices, gave the Souldan of Egypt, an Opportunity of ſurpriſing Frederick II. who had made an Expedition into the Holy-Land. Being convicted of theſe, and other horrid Crimes, by Commiſſioners nam'd by Pope Clement V. and Philip the Fair, King of France; James of Molai, a Gentleman of Burgundy, Great Maſter of the Order was burn'd at Paris, and ſeveral others executed in other Provinces in 1313. the Order being aboliſh'd the Year before, at the General Council of Vienna, and a great Part of their Poſſeſſions given to S. John of Jeruſalem's Order, then of the Rhodes, but now of Malta. [Guil. Tyrius. lib. 12. c. 7. de Bello Sacro. Matth. Par. ſub. ann. 1117. p. 67. ſub. ann. 1244. p. 615. Walſing. in Ed. II. &c.

Some think, that the principal Cauſe of their Ruin, was their exceeding great Power and Wealth, which was to the Monarchs of the Chriſtian Commonwealths, both Formidable and Intolerable. And ſome condemn both the King of France and Pope Clement, as the Principal Actors of their Oppreſſion. The Truth is, they were in a cruel Manner exterminated through all Europe, and all ſorts of Barbarities, and Tortures inflicted upon them to make them confeſs what they were charg'd with, but for the moſt part without Effect, and tho' their Grand-Maſter, James Molai, before-mention'd, had been by the Violence of Torment prevail'd upon to acknowledge the Truth of what the Order was charg'd with, yet when he came to the Fire, he aſſerted their Innocence, and with his laſt Breath, cited Clement V. to anſwer it in forty Days at the Tribunal of God, who as it happen'd died within that time; neither did Philip the Fair, nor their other Proſecutors eſcape Divine Puniſhment. [Geogr. Dict. on the Word Templers.]

As for thoſe of this Order here in England (particularly thoſe of this Dioceſe of London) by Vertue of a Bull from Pope Clement V. dated at Poictou 2. Id. of Aug. in the 3d Year of his Pontificate, directed to Robert (Winchelſey) Archbiſhop of Canterbury and to his Suffragans, thoſe of the City and Dioceſe of London, were cited to appear before Ralph (de Baldock) Biſhop of London, on the 13. Kal. of Nov. in the Biſhop's Hall, to be proceeded againſt upon Hereſie, and other Articles whereof they were accus'd; and tho' ſeveral of them were examin'd upon theſe Articles, yet nothing could be found againſt them, which could by Law annul their State.

Mon. Angl. Vol. II. 559. &c.

Stow tells us, that they deny'd all of them, but one or two, notwithſtanding they all did confeſs that they could not purge themſelves fully as faultleſs; and ſo they were condemn'd to perpetual Penance in ſeveral Monaſteries, where they behav'd themſelves modeſtly.

Sto. Sur. 448.

They were likewiſe proceeded againſt, in the ſame manner, in the Province of York; but William (de Greenfield) Archbiſhop of that Province, (who was preſent at the Council of Vienna, when the ſaid Order of the Templers was condemn'd, ann. 1312.) out of Compaſſion to their poor oppreſs'd State, diſpos'd of them into ſeveral Monaſteries, in his Dioceſe, and commanded that they ſhould be ſupply'd with all Neceſſaries, as long as they liv'd.

After this, Edward II. 1313. gave unto Aymer de Valence, Earl of Pembroke, this New Temple, and alſo certain Lands call'd Fleet-Crofts, with all other the Lands in the City and Suburbs of London, which belong'd to the Templers, with remainder to the King and his Heirs.

Dugd. Bar. Tom. I. 777.

After Aymer de Valence, Hugh Spencer (ſay ſome) Uſurping the ſame, held it during his Life, by whoſe Death, it fell again to Edward III. and in the mean time, to wit, in 1324. by a Council holden at Vienna, all the Lands of the Templers (leſt the ſame ſhould be put to profane Uſes) were given to the Knights-Hoſpitaller's of S. John Baptiſt, called S. John of Jeruſalem. Therefore the ſaid King Edward granted the ſame to the ſaid Knights, who poſſeſs'd it, and in the 18th Year of the ſaid King, were forc'd to repair the Bridge of the ſaid Temple.

Sto. ut ſupra.

Theſe Knights-Hoſpitallers, in the Reign of the ſame King, granted for a certain Rent of 10 l. per Ann. the ſaid Temple, with the Appurtenances, to the Students of the Common-Law, in whoſe Poſſeſſion the ſame hath ever ſince remain'd, and is now divided into two Houſes of ſeveral Students, by the

Ibidem.

Names of Inns of Court, to wit, the Inner-Temple and the Middle-Temple, who keep two ſeveral Halls, but they reſort all to the ſaid Temple-Church.

Sto. Sur. 441. This Church had a Maſter and four Stipendiary Prieſts, with a Clerk; theſe for the Miniſtration of Divine Service there, have Stipends allow'd them out of the Poſſeſſion and Revenues of the late Hoſpital and Houſe of S. John of Jeruſalem, in England, as it had been in the Reign of King Edward VI.

The great Hall of the Middle Temple was newly built, Anno 1572. and ſince the dreadful Fire of London, both the Temples have been for the moſt part new-built, ſome Parts upon the occaſion of being burnt ſince by other Fires, and other Parts of it have been pull'd down, becauſe old and decay'd, and new-built again.

In the Round-Walk, without the Choir of the Temple-Church, there remain Monuments of Noble Men buried, to the Number of Eleven; eight of them are Images of arm'd Knights, five lying croſs-legg'd, as Men vow'd to the Holy-Land, againſt the Infidels; the other three ſtrait-legg'd, the reſt are coup'd Stones, all of gray Marble. The firſt of the croſs-legg'd was Will. Marſhal, the elder Earl of Pembroke, who died 1219. Will. Marſhal, his Son, Earl of Pembroke, was the ſecond; he died in 1231. And Gilbert Marſhal, his Brother, Earl of Pembroke, ſlain in a Tournament, near Hertford, in 1241. After this, Robert Roſe, otherwiſe call'd Furſan, being made a Templer in 1245. died, and was buried here.

Many other Monuments there are of Perſons buried in this Church, with Inſcriptions on them, ſome of which, eſpecially thoſe of Men of Note, finding no Memorial of them, in Stow or Weaver, or any other publick Authors; and that time, Fire, or other Accidents might not wholly obliterate, and render them altogether forgotten in time to come, I thought it not impertinent to inſert the Inſcriptions on the Monuments of the few Perſons following, and ſhall begin with that famous Lawyer, Edmund Plowden. He was Son of Humfry Plowden, by Elizabeth his Wife, Daughter of John Stury of Roſhall in Shropſhire, was born of an antient and genteel Family at Plowden, in the ſaid County. He ſpent three Years in the Study of Arts, Philoſophy and Medicine, at Cambridge, and afterwards (as is conceiv'd) was entred in the Inns of Court; ſoon after, coming to Oxford, he ſpent four Years more in the ſame Studies there; and in November 1552. he was admitted to practiſe Chirurgery and Phyſick, by the venerable Convocation of the Univerſity; but about that time, he chang'd his Studies from Phyſick to Common-Law, being then about 35 Years of Age. In 1552. he became Autumn or Summer-Reader of the Middle-Temple; and three Years after, Lent-Reader, being then a Serjeant at Law, and accounted the Oracle thereof. He died, Febr. 6. 1584. leaving this Character behind him, Ut in juris Anglicani Scientia, de qua Scriptis bene meruit facile Princeps; Ita vitæ Integritate inter Homines ſuæ Profeſſionis nulli ſecundus. He was buried in this Church of the Temples, between the Body of Catherine his Wife (Daughter of William Sheldon of Beoly in Worceſter-ſhire, Eſq;) and the North-Wall, near the East-End of the Choir. [Ath. Oxon. Vol. I. p. 176.) where ſtands his Monument with this Inſcription;

The next Inſcription that I ſhall inſert, is that of Mr. John Selden, the Glory of our Engliſh Nation, as Hugo Grotius worthily Stiles him, whoſe Birth, Education, Parts, Learning, the many Books he publiſh'd, and other Matters that concern him, are ſo largely ſet forth in the *Ath. Sir John Vaughan, Lord Chief Juſtice of the Common-Pleas, who died Dec. 10. 1674. was likewiſe buried in this Church, near the Grave of Mr. John Selden, but of him, and his Epitaph you may read in [Ath. Ox. Vol. II. p. 391.]

Sir William Morton, one of the Judges of the King's-Bench, lies buried in the South-Iſle of this Church, over whoſe Grave there is a Monument erected againſt the Wall, with this following Inſcription:

On a flat Marble Stone, underneath this Monument, is this Inſcription:

I crave leave here to add the Inſcription on a flat Marble laid over the Body of Toby Newcourt, Eſq;, becauſe he was a Relation of my own, and the Heir of our Family. He was buried in this Church, near Mr. Plowden's Monument; but upon the late Reparation of the Temple-Church, I find the Stone is remov'd thence, and laid in the Round-Walk, to the Eaſt of the Grate, under the Steeple or Cupola.

S. THOMAS Apoſtle.

S. Thomas (to whom this Church is dedicated) was one of the Twelve Apoſtles of our Saviour, call'd alſo Didymus, which ſignifies a Twin. Of what Parents he was, or how converted, appears not in the Holy-Scriptures. He was call'd to be an Apoſtle by our Saviour Jeſus Chriſt himſelf, being one of his Diſciples, as appeareth Matth. x. 1. Mark iii. 14. and Luke vi. 13. where it is ſaid Jeſus called unto him his Diſciples, and of them he choſe Twelve (among whom Thomas was one) whom alſo he named Apoſtles; from whence his Election to his Apoſtleſhip is apparent.

That he was a Jew is certain, and in all Probability a Galilean. He manifeſted his great Love to Chriſt, when upon Chriſt's Determination to go into Judea to raiſe Lazarus from the dead, notwithſtanding his Diſciples diſſuading him, for fear the Jews ſhould ſtone him; S. Thomas ſaid, Let us alſo go, that we may die with him. S. Joh. xi. 16. yet was he afterwards blam'd for his Incredulity in not believing that Chriſt was riſen, unleſs he might ſee in Chriſt's Hands the Print of the Nails, and thruſt his Hand into his Side, S. Joh. xx. 25. whereupon he was afterwards call'd, unbelieving Thomas; but when Chriſt had ſhewed himſelf to him, he preſently acknowledging him, ſaid, My Lord and my God. S. Joh. xx. 28.

Euſebius in his Eccleſiaſtical Hiſtory, lib. 1. cap. 14. writes, that Thomas, by our Saviour's Command, after Chriſt's Reſurrection and Aſcenſion, did ſend Thaddeus, one of the 70 Diſciples, unto Agbarus, King of Edeſſa in Meſopotamia, to cure his Malady, as Chriſt in his Letter to Agbarus (ſet down by Euſebius) had promis'd before; but this Story, by ſome, is look'd upon as improbable, for the Reaſons mention'd in Bibliotheca Patrum Vol. I.

The Apoſtolical Province, aſſign'd to S. Thomas, was Parthia (ſaith Dr. Cave, out of Origen) after which (ſaith he) Sephronius, and others inform us, that he preach'd the Goſpel to the Medes, Perſians, Carmans, Hyrcanians, Bactrians and neighbouring Nations. In Perſia, 'tis ſaid, he met with the Magi, or Wiſemen, who brought Preſents to our new-born Saviour, and baptiz'd, and took them along with him, as his Companions and Aſſiſtants, in the Propagation of the Goſpel. Thence he preach'd in, and paſſed through the Aſian Æthiopia, and at laſt came to India. He travell'd a great way in the Eaſtern Nations, as far as the Iſland Taprobane, ſince called Sumatra, and the Country of the Brachmans, preaching every where.

The Portugals tell us, that S. Thomas came firſt to Socotora, an Iſland of the Arabian Sea, thence to Cranganor, where having converted many, he travell'd farther into the Eaſt, and having ſucceſsfully preach'd the Goſpel, return'd back into the Kingdom of Cormandel where, at Malipas, the Metropolis of the Kingdom, he began to erect a Place for Divine Worſhip, till prohibited by the Prieſts, and Sagamo Prince of that Country, who himſelf, at laſt, embrac'd the Chriſtian Faith, as did alſo great Numbers of his Friends and Subjects. But at laſt, at a Tomb, not far from the City, whither the Apoſtle was wont to retire to his Solitudes and private Devotions, he was ſlain by the Beachmans or Brachmans, whilſt he was at Prayers. They firſt loaded him with Darts and Stones, till one of them coming nearer, ran him through with a Lance. His Body was taken up by his Diſciples, and buried in the Church, which he had lately built, and which was afterwards improv'd into a Fabrick of great Statelineſs and Magnificence.

Some will have his Body to have been afterwards tranſlated to Edeſſa, but the Chriſtians in the Eaſt, conſtantly affirm it to have remain'd in the Place of his Martyrdom, where (if we may believe Relations) it was after laid up with great Coſt and Care, and together with it, were found the Bones of Sagamo, whom he had converted to the Faith.

From thoſe firſt Plantations of Chriſtianity, in the Eaſtern Indies, by our Apoſtle, there is ſaid to have been a continu'd Series, and Succeſſion of Chriſtians (hence call'd, S. Thomas Chriſtians) in thoſe Parts unto this Day.

Feaſt, Dec. 21. July 3. The feſtival of his Martyrdom is celebrated on the 21. of December, and that of his Tranſlation to Edeſſa, July 3.

S. Thomas Apoſtle, Rectory.

THE Church which is dedicated to this Saint, commonly call'd by the Name of S. Thomas Apoſtle's Church, ſtood in Knight-Riders-ſtreet, on the North-ſide, towards the Eaſt end thereof, in Vintry-Ward.

This Church did from time immemorial, belong to the Canons of S. Pauls, the State whereof when Ralph. de Diceto was Dean, ann. 1181. I find thus.

Reg. Dec. & Cap. lib. B. f. 36.
" Eccleſia Sancti Thomæ, eſt Canonicorum, & reddit eis unam Marcam Ar-
" genti, ſcilicet, unam medietatem per manum Stephani Sacerdotis, & alteram
" medietatem per manum Henrici de Tantuna. Solvit Synodalia xii. d. Archi-

" hannis Pipercorn*, quæ ſolebat reddere annuam Marcam, quia tenet In" dulſus pro duobus ſolidis reddendis Stephano : habet cœmiterium.

Thus it appears, that this Church (which is a Rectory) was of old in the Canons of S. Paul's, and continues in the Collation of the Dean and Chapter of that Cathedral-Church to this Day, but is ſubject to the Archdeacon. Archid. Lond.

Here was a perpetual Chantry founded in this Church, for the Souls of Thomas Romain (who likewiſe founded another Chantry in the Church of S. Mary Aldermary) and of Julian his Wife, of which the Mayor of London, for Braybroke, 14. the time being, was Patron ; and in the Year 1382. the Endowment of this Chantry being very mean at that time, another Chantry founded here likewiſe for the Soul of Roger at Vine and others, of the yearly Value of three Marks and half, was united to it by the Name of a Portion ; and alſo in the Year Ibid. 194. 1401. another perpetual Chantry founded here by Will. Champneis, was united and annexed to Romain's Chantry for the better Maintenance of the Chantry-Prieſts.

Sto. Sur. 258. Stow tells us, H. Cauſton, Merchant, Fitzwilliams (both Benefactors to this Church) Will. Shipton and John de Burford, had alſo Chantries in this Church, but of theſe I find nothing in the London Regiſtry.

Ib. 258, &c. Sir Will. Littlesbury alias Horn (ſo nam'd, ſaith Stow, by King Edward IV.) becauſe he was a moſt excellent Blower of a Horn (tho' elſewhere, pag. 573. where he names him Mayor of this City, ann. 1487. he tells us, that he was the Son of Thomas Horn of Snaylewel in the County of Cambridge, and Knighted in the Field by King Henry VII.) was buried in this Church, and gave his Houſe, call'd the George in Breadſtreet, to the Company of Salters (of which he was a Member) to find a Prieſt in this Church, who was to have 6 l. 13 s. 4 d. yearly ; to every Preacher at Paul's-Croſs and at the Spittle 4 d. for ever ; to the Priſoners at Newgate, Ludgate, Marſhalſeys and King's-Bench, 10 s. at Chriſtmas, and 10 s. at Eaſter, for ever, which Legacies (ſaith Stow) are not perform'd. He appointed by his Teſtaments, the Bells in this Church to be chang'd for four new Bells, but that was not perform'd ; and gave 500 Marks towards the Repairing of the High-ways, between London and Cambridge, and his Dwelling-Houſe, with the Garden and Appurtenances, to be ſold, and beſtow'd in Charitable Actions, as his Executors would Anſwer before God.

Bonner, 128. William Bromwell, Citizen and Mercer of London, by his laſt Will and Teſtament, bearing Date, November 25. 1536. gave a Tenement and void Ground, with the Appurtenances lying in this Pariſh (after the Death of Joan his Wife) to Ricard Dean, Parſon of this Pariſh, and his Succeſſors for ever.

The ſaid Richard Dean, by Indenture bearing date February 2. in the firſt of Edward VI. lett a Leaſe of the aforeſaid void Ground or Garden-Plot, to Thomas White, Citizen, Alderman and Sheriff of London, and Avice his Wife, for 21 Years, paying 20 s. yearly to him and his Succeſſors, which Leaſe was confirm'd by the Biſhop of London, on the 8th of March 1548.

Bonner, 323.

On the 7th of July 1553. this Leaſe was renew'd by Ralph Bentley, Parſon of this Pariſh, to the ſaid Tho. White and his Wife, for 21 Years more, and confirm'd by the Biſhop, Jan. 22. following.

It farther alſo appears, that Will. Champneis, Citizen and Baker of London, by his laſt Will and Teſtament (but there is no Date mention'd) after the Death of John Atweild, Baker, and Iſabel his Wife, and the Heirs of their two Bodies (who both died without Iſſue) gave to the Parſon of this Pariſh and his Succeſſors, for ever, one Tenement, with all and ſingular the Appurtenances lying alſo within this Pariſh, charg'd with a yearly Rent, as in the ſaid Will is mention'd.

Grindall, 59.

The foreſaid Ralph Bentley Clerk, Parſon, and Nicolas Spencer, and Richard Henman, Church-wardens of this Pariſh, bearing Date, Febr. 10. 1567. Anno 10. Eliz. did lett a Leaſe of the Premiſſes (viz.) as well of the bequeſt of Will. Bromwell as of Will. Champneis, to one Will. Pottenger and others, for the Term of 99 Years, paying to the Parſon and his Succeſſors 20 s. yearly, in which Leaſe Bromwell's Tenement and void Ground are ſaid to abutt on the Queen's High-way, on the North, and reach all along Church-Lane, on the Eaſt, to the Queen's High way on the South; and to joyn and abutt upon the Houſes of Arthur Dawbeney and Tho. Pearſon, on the Weſt; and Champneis Tenement is ſaid to abutt on the Queen's High-way, on the Eaſt and South; on the Church-yard on the Weſt, and on the Houſes of Nicolas Spencer on the North.

In this Leaſe it was alſo covenanted, that the ſaid Pottenger and others, were, within 20 Years after the Date thereof, to build upon the ſaid void Ground, certain Tenements, and the yearly Profits thereof, after the neceſſary Expences, in and upon the ſame, were deducted, were wholly to remain and be at the Order and Direction of the Church-wardens, by the Conſent of the moſt diſcreet and ſubſtantial Inhabitants and Pariſhioners of the ſaid Pariſh, to the Uſe and Commodity of their Pariſh-Church only, and for the accompliſhment of the ſaid Wills. This Leaſe was confirm'd by the Biſhop of London, Febr. 13. 1567.

Sion-College, MSS.

In the Return made (inter alia) of the Glebe belonging to this Church, in the Year 1636. it is thus ſet down, " Ten Houſes, worth per Annum, 120 l. " Leaſed for 30 Years to come for 20 s. So that it appears hence, that according to the Covenant of the Leaſe above-mention'd, for 99 Years, there were Houſes built upon the Premiſſes, and that the Houſes built upon the void Ground with the old Tenements, were Glebe, and ten in Number, and agreeable to the Term of 99 Years, the Term of the ſaid Leaſe, dated Febr. 10. 1567. there were in the Year 1636. thirty Years to come and unexpir'd, and according to Computation, the ſaid Leaſe would expire on the 10th of February 1666. in which Year and Month of September before, theſe Houſes, together with great part of the City were burnt.

Reg. Lond.

In 1693. the Church-wardens of this Pariſh, in their Preſentment to the firſt Article of Inquiry, anſwer thus, viz. " We have no Parſonage-Houſe, or " any Glebe belonging to our Miniſter; there was a Houſe before the Fire, in " 1666. but being burnt, was laid into the New Street, call'd Queens-ſtreet, " eſtabliſh'd by Act of Parliament.

So that all theſe ten Houſes (except one laid into the Street) are ſwallow'd up, no Body knows how or by whom.

In 1636. the other Profits of this Church were return'd as followeth;

This Church being in the Collation of the Dean and Chapter of S. Paul's, I can give no farther Account of the Rectors thereof, for the Reaſon mention'd in S. Antlins, than what you meet with above of Richard Dean, and Ralph Bentley, ſave only, that one Mr. Cooper was Rector here when the Return was made in 1636. and for his Loyalty, was in the late Rebellion of 1642. ſequeſtred, plunder'd, and ſent Priſoner to Leeds-Caſtle in Kent. That after the Reſtoration, one Mr. Rumney died Rector of this Church, and was ſucceeded therein by Dr. Tho. Cartwright, who was collated thereunto, by the Dean and Chapter of S. Paul's, March 5. 1665. of whom you may read among the Prebendaries of Twyford.

S. Thomas of Acon, or Acres Hoſpital; now call'd, Mercers-Chappel.

THE Life of Thomas Beckett (to whom this Hoſpital or Chappel was probably dedicated) is written by divers Authors, and diverſly, according to their Affection; I ſhall therefore ſay little of it, referring the Reader to ſuch as have written of him; and only give a ſhort Account of his Birth and Parentage, alſo of his Death, and why this Hoſpital was dedicated by the Name of S. Thomas of Acon or Acres, out of Mr. R. Smiths often fore-cited Manuſcript.

This Thomas Beckett, was the Son of Gilbert Beckett, a Citizen of London, and of Matildis his Wife, who was the Daughter of a Pagan Prince, under whoſe Cuſtody, Gilbert being taken Priſoner, when he travell'd into the Holy-Land, was for a Year and half kept Priſoner, and at laſt eſcaping, by the help of this Matildis (who fell in Love with him, being converted by him to the Chriſtian Religion) he came again ſafe into England, whom Matildis, not long after, for Love of him, adventur'd to follow, and getting away from her Father, came at laſt to London, where finding Gilbert, he married her, and of her begat this Thomas, who was born in his Father's Houſe, which then was in the Place, where Mercers-Chappel in Cheapſide now ſtands.

He was murder'd in his own Cathedral-Church at Canterbury, on Innocent's-Day, at Even, ann. 1170. as he was going up the Steps towards the Choir by four Knights nam'd Reynald Fitz-Urſe, Hugh de Mortenill, William de Tracy and Richard Briton, none of which (as the Report is) liv'd above three Years after, and then died very penitent. His Body was firſt buried in the Undercraft of his own Cathedral-Church, whence, ſhortly after, it was taken up, put into a goodly Shrine beſet with coſtly Jewels and precious Stones, and plac'd at the Eaſt end of the ſame Church, where it continu'd till the time of Henry VIII. by whoſe Command his Monument was utterly deſtroy'd, and his Reliques burnt to Aſhes, Anno Dom. 1538.

Why this Chappel was dedicated to S. Thomas Beckett, by the Name of S. Thomas of Acon, I ſuppoſe (ſaith Mr. Smith) is not perfectly known. To find out therefore the Certainty thereof, I found it (ſaith he) a difficult matter, but upon diligent Search afterwards, I verily believe, I have found out the true Reaſon thereof, which I have collected out of two ſeveral Relations of good Authority, whereby I conceive the Truth, without Scruple, will manifeſtly appear, which is as followeth.

X. Script. 654. My firſt Author, ſaith he, is Radulphus de Diceto, Dean of London, who in his Hiſtory, intuled, Imagines Hiſtoriarum, living Ann. Dom. 1190. ann. 2. Ric. I. when the City of Acres or Acon in the Holy-Land (call'd alſo Ptolemais) was beſieg'd by the Chriſtians, writes as follows; About theſe Days, when the City of Acon was firſt beſieg'd, one William, an Engliſh-Man by Nation, being Chaplain to Radulphus de Diceto, Dean of London, when he went to Jeruſalem, bound himſelf by a Vow, that if he ſhould proſperouſly enter Acon, he would build a Chapel to S. Thomas the Martyr, at his own Charge, according to his Ability, and would procure there, to the Honour of the ſaid Martyr, a Church-yard to be conſecrated, which was done. Then many flocking from all parts to ſerve in this Chappel, William himſelf as a Token of his Chriſtianity, took on him the Name of Prior, who, whilſt he ſerv'd Bodily as a Souldier of Chriſt, had an eſpecial Care of the Poor, and he freely beſtow'd all his Diligence and Labour, in Burying of the Bodies of ſuch as died, as well naturally, as of others who were ſlain with the Sword, repreſenting himſelf in Mans ſight, the next Succeſſor of that great Tobias.

My other Teſtimony (ſaith he) is out of the Theatre of Honour, Lib. 9. cap. 11. where, repeating the Military Orders of the Holy Land, he ſaith thus, The Order of S. Thomas was inſtituted by the King of England, Richard, ſurnamed Cœur de Lyon, after the ſurprizal of Acres, and being of the Engliſh Nation, they held the Rule of S. Auguſtine, wore a white Habit, and a full red Croſs, charged in the middle with a white Scallop, they took for their Patron (as I have heard) the Archbiſhop of Canterbury, the Metropolitan of England, Thomas Becket, who ſuffer'd Martyrdom (as his Favourers ſay) under the King of England, Hen. II. of that Name. Peter de Rupibus, Biſhop of Wincheſter, who had been five Years in the Holy Land, removed the Church there of S. Thomas the Martyr, from an unfit place to a more convenient, and cauſed the Patriarch of Jeruſalem to take Order, that the Brethren of this Church who were before, Lay-men, might be under the Order of the Templers, wearing a Croſs on their Breaſt. He bequeathed alſo to this Houſe of S. Thomas of Acon 500 Marks. So much M. Paris in vita Hen. III. p. 472. ſub Anno 1238.

Hereby it is clear, that the Dedication of this Hoſpital or Chapel to S. Thomas of Acres or Acon, muſt have relation to the like Dedication of the Chapel and Holy Order in the City of Acre, in the Holy Land, to the ſame Archbiſhop: All theſe Three Dedications being near about one and the ſame time within few Years after the Archbiſhop's Death. And it is probable that in Imitation of thoſe Dedications at Acres, this in London might do the like.

The Hoſpital or Chapel.

THIS Hoſpital or Chapel of S. Thomas of Acon, ſtands on the North-ſide of Cheapſide, near the Eaſt-end thereof in Cheap-Ward, and was founded in the Reign of Hen II. by Thomas Fitztheobald de Heili, and Agnes his Wife, Siſter to Thomas Becket, to the Honour of Almighty God, and the Bleſſed Virgin Mary, and the moſt glorious Martyr S. Thomas, for a Maſter and Brethren, Militiæ Hoſpitalis S. Thomæ Martyris Cantuarienſis de Acon, ſaith the Record of Edw. III. in the 4th of his Reign. St. Surv. 281.

The ſaid Thomas Fitztheobald, and his ſaid Wife gave to the Maſter and Brethren aforeſaid the Lands with the Appurtenances that ſometime were Gilbert Beckets, Father of the ſaid Thomas, in which he was born, there to make a Church to the Honour of God, the Bleſſed Virgin Mary, and the glorious Martyr S. Thomas, as aforeſaid. Ibid.

After this there were a great many Benefactors to this Hoſpital, whoſe Donations were confirm'd (together with that of the Founders) by King Edw. III. in the aforeſaid Charter of the 14th of his Reign. Mon. Angl. 2. Vol. 411.

In the 5th of Hen. III. there was a firm Agreement made in the King's-Court at Weſtminſter, on the Quindens of the Holy Trinity, between Galfry the Dean, and the Chapter of S. Pauls, Plantiffs, and Terricus de Alegate, Defendant, concerning the Cuſtoms and Services which the Dean and Chapter challeng'd of the ſaid Terricus of a certain Mill, call'd Wapping; which Mill the ſaid Terricus gave to the Hoſpital of S. Thomas the Martyr de Acon, and to the Brethren of the ſame. The Grant whereof was confirm'd by the ſaid Dean and Chapter; which Confirmation was atteſted by Galfry. Reg. Dec. & Cap. lib. A. f. 34.

Mon. Angl. 2. Vol. 412. Hen. III. gave and granted to the Maſter and Brethren of this Hoſpital the Mannour of Rotheleg, with the Advowſon of the Church there, and the ſeveral Chapels thereunto annext, in pure and perpetual Alms. And altho' King Edw. I. might for divers Reaſons challenge a Right in the Advowſon of the ſaid Church and Chapels, yet he granted for himſelf and his Heirs, that the ſaid Maſter and Brethren, and Succeſſors ſhould have and hold the ſaid Church with the ſaid Chapels for a Pittance of the Brethren of their Convent for ever.

Ibid. 411. Jeoffrey Fitz-Peter, Earl of Eſſex, having committed the Cuſtody of the Hoſpital of S. John Baptiſt, in Berkhamſted, to the Brethren of S. Thomas the Martyr de Acon, committed to them alſo the Cuſtody of the Hoſpital of S. John Evangeliſt, for Lepers in the ſame Pariſh.

Pat. 1. E. III. p. 1. King Edw. III. gave to the Mayor and Commons of London, a Power of ſuperviſing this Hoſpital of S. Thomas of Acon in this City, Mar. 20. 1326.

Mon. ut ſupra 412. This Hoſpital was incorporated by Act of Parliament in the 23d of Hen. VI. wherein (inter alia) care is taken, That the Brethren upon any vacancy having choſen a Maſter (which by the ſaid Act they are impower'd to do, without Licence firſt had of the King) they preſent him to the Ordinary to be admitted, and being admitted, that he be inducted by the Archdeacon.

Fitzjam. 118. The Maſter and Brethren of this Hoſpital granted to the Warden and Aſſiſtants of the Mercer's Company upon every Vacancy for the future, a Power to nominate two or three of their Convent, out of which, they were to chuſe One to be their Maſter, who was to be preſented to the Biſhop for Admiſſion into that Office; which Grant was confirm'd by Richard (Fitzjames) Biſhop of London.

Sto. Sur. 281. This Hoſpital was valued to diſpend 277 l. 3 s. 4 d. It was ſurrender'd 30. Hen. VIII. (by Laurence Goſpeller the then Maſter, who had an annual Penſion of 66 l. 13 s. 4 d. allowed him) and was after purchaſed by the Mercers by means of Sir Ric. Greſham, and was again ſet open on the Eve of S. Michael, 1541. and is now call'd the Mercer's-Chappel; wherein was kept a Free-Grammar-School, as of old had been a Cuſtom, commanded by Act of Parliament. But ſince the Fire it is remov'd, and kept in a Place built over or near the Site of S. Mary Cole-Church, by the Mercer's Company, according to another Act of Parliament, Anno 22. Car. II.

Ibid. Before this Hoſpital towards the Street, was built alſo a fair and beautiful Chapel, arch'd over with Stone, and thereupon the Mercer's-Hall a moſt curious piece of Work. Sir John Allen, Mercer (who was Lord Mayor of London, Anno 1525. of Council to King Hen. VIII. and died in 1544.) built this Chapel, and was there buried. But, afterwards, his Tomb was remov'd thence into the Body of the Hoſpital-Church, and the Chapel divided into Shops, are letten out for Rent. And ſince the late dreadful Fire, there are ſeveral Houſes with Shops built upon the ſame Ground.

Many Perſons of Honour, particularly of the Duke of Ormond's Family, and ſeveral Citizens of the beſt Quality were buried in this Hoſpital-Church, whoſe Names may be ſeen in Stow's Survey, and ſome Inſcriptions on their Monuments or Tombs, in Weaver's Funeral Monuments.

The Church or Chapel of this Hoſpital before the Fire, according to my own Obſervation, was a large and noble Structure, conſiſting of a Choir, and the Body of a Church with ſide-Iſles. But ſince the Fire, is contracted to a little Room (more like a Parlour than a Church or Chapel) at the Eaſt-end, where the Choir ſtood, the Mercer's Company having built their Hall, at leaſt, part of it (which is ſupported by Pillars) over the Ground towards the Weſt, where their outward Chapel or Body of the Church ſtood, which ſerves only for Burials, and a Walking-place.

Trinity the Leſs, Rectory.

THIS Church dedicated to the Holy Trinity, and call'd Trinity the Leſs; or in Knight-Riders, is ſituate on the South-ſide of the ſaid Street, in the Eaſtern-part thereof, in Queen-Hith-Ward. It is ſubject to the Archdeacon, and a Rectory.

Archid. Lon.

It was a ſmall Church, and very old, and in danger of falling down, inſomuch, that in the Year 1606. they were conſtrained to pull it down to the Ground, and from thence with what ſpeed they cou'd, with much care and coſt, to rebuild it; which in the Years 1607, and 1608. was finiſh'd, with Contributions partly of the Pariſhioners, and partly of other Benefactors in and about the City.

Sto. Sur. 397, 872.

It was of old in the Gift of the Prior and Convent of S. Mary Overies, in Southwark, till the general Suppreſſion in Hen. VIII's time. After which by Grant, or by way of Exchange, as may be ſuppos'd, it came from the Crown to the Dean and Chapter of Canterbury, in whom it hath continued ever ſince.

In 1636. the yearly Profits of this Church were return'd as followeth:

This Church being burnt down in the late dreadful Fire, is ſince united to that of S. Michael Queen-Hith; which is now the Parochial-Church for both theſe Pariſhes, and both together are made of the yearly Value of 160 l. in lieu of Tyths to the Incumbent.

S. Michael Queenhith, and Trinity, annext.

In 1693. the Church-Wardens did not preſent any Parſonage-Houſe; but ſay, There is a Piece of Glebe belonging to this Church, built and leaſed out; there being 20 Years of the ſaid Leaſe unexpired, and that the reſerv'd Rent is 3 l. per Ann.

Reg. Lond.

This Church, notwithſtanding it is united to another, is again new-built by the Lutherans, and made the Church for that Congregation, and now commonly call'd, The Swedes-Church: Which Lutherans, after the Fire of London, were incorporated by King Char. II. by Letters Patents under the Great Seal of England (but when dated I have not yet ſeen, the Copy which I had ending with an &c. inſtead of the Date). By theſe Letters Patents, the Ground whereon this Church formerly ſtood (but not the Church-yard, for that remains ſtill as a Burying-place for the Pariſhioners) was given by the King (the Archbiſhop of Canterbury, and the Biſhop of London, ſubmitting therein to his Majeſty as Head of the Church, and the City of London being willing thereunto) to this Lutheran Congregation with all the old Materials to build their Church thereon; which was order'd to be call'd, The Church of the Holy Trinity, for the future. They were incorporated, Per nomen Miniſtri & Superintendentis & Miniſtrorum Eccleſiæ Congregationis, vel ejuſdem Præpoſitorum exterorum Auguſtanæ confeſſionis ex Fundatione Regis Caroli ſecundi, in Civitate Londinenſi. The King appointed Mr. Gerhard Martens to be the firſt Miniſter; and gave them liberty upon every Vacancy for the future to chuſe their own Miniſter, commanding as well the Mayor, Sheriffs, and Aldermen of London, as the Biſhop thereof, and his Succeſſors; and alſo all Archbiſhops, Biſhops, Juſtices, Officers and Miniſters whatſoever to permit this Lutheran Congregation, and their Succeſſors freely and quietly to enjoy and exerciſe their own Rites and Ceremonies, and ſuch Eccleſiaſtical Diſcipline, as is proper and peculiar to them, without any let, moleſtation or diſturbance, altho' they do not in all things agree with the Rites and Ceremonies uſed in England: Any Statute, Act, Proclamation, Injunction, Reſtriction or Uſe, to the Contrary notwithſtanding.

But to return to this Church as it was Parochial.

The Priory of the Holy Trinity, call'd Chriſt-Church, London.

Sto.Sur. 930. Ib. 145.

IN the Year 1108. and in the 8th Year of King Hen. I. was the Church of the Holy Trinity, within Aldgate, founded by the venerable Lady Maud, Wife to the ſaid King, by the perſuaſion of Archbiſhop Anſelm, in the ſame place where Siredas ſometime began to erect a Church in Honour of the Croſs, and of S. Mary Magdalen, of which the Dean and Chapter of Waltham were wont to receive Thirty Shillings. The Queen was to acquit her Church thereof, and in exchange gave them a Mill.

Ibid.

This Priory was built on a piece of Ground in the Pariſh of S. Katharine towards Aldgate, and within the Limits thereof were contained the Pariſhes of S. Mary Magdalen, S. Michael, and S. Katharine, and the Bleſſed Trinity; which now was made but one Pariſh of the Holy Trinity, and was of old time of the Holy Croſs, or Holy Rood Pariſh, extending in length betwixt the King's High-ſtreet by which Men go towards Aldgate, near to the Chapel of S. Michael towards the North, and contains 83 Ells half-quarter, and half-quartern of the King's Iron Eln, and lieth in breadth, &c.

Ibid. 932.

Queen Maud the Foundreſs of this Priory, by the Counſel of Archbiſhop Anſelm, and by the Grant and Confirmation of King Hen. I. her Husband gave and confirm'd this Church of Chriſt within the Walls of London to be free and acquitted from all Subjection, as well of the Church of Waltham, as of all other Churches, excepting the Church of S. Paul, and the Biſhop of London, together with all the Appurtenances, to the Honour of God, and to the Canons Regular there ſerving God with Norman the Prior for ever, and that for the Redemption of their Souls, and the Souls of their Parents; which Norman, Prior to whom ſhe gave this Church, was (ſaith Stow) the firſt Prior, not only there, but the firſt Canon Regular in England, and took upon him to be Prior thereof in the Year 1108. Tho' by the way Mr. Somner tells us, That S. Gregories, in Canterbury, was the firſt Houſe of Regular Canons in the whole Kingdom, that being built by Archbiſhop Laufranck, Anno Dom. 1084. [Antiq. Cant. p. 89. Not. Monaſtic. p. 99]. To this I add, what is ſaid of S. Botolphs, in Colcheſter, founded Anno 1110. That it was a Houſe of Canons Regular of the Order of S. Auguſtin, and Pope Paſcal II. in his Bull bearing date in Auguſt, 1616. ſpeaks of them as of the firſt Canons Regular of that Order in England, and therefore Decrees them to be the Chief of that Order, &c. [Mon. Angl. 2. Vol. p. 45.] But to go on with this Priory of the Holy Trinity.

Queen Maud by the ſame Charter gave them the Gate call'd Aldgate, with the Soken thereunto belonging; which was of her own Demeaſnes, and two parts of the Revenues or Rents of the City of Exeter, with command that the ſaid Canons ſhould well, peaceably and freely, and honourably poſſeſs thoſe Lands, and all belonging to their Church together with thoſe Cuſtoms and Liberties, which her Lord King Henry had by his Charter confirm'd to them. This Charter of the Queens was dated at Weſtminſter; William, Biſhop of Wincheſter, Roger, Biſhop of Sarum, Robert, Biſhop of Lincoln, and others being Witneſſes; which Charter may be ſeen in Guild-Hall, London, lib. C. fol. 136.

Mat. Par. 63.

Matth. Paris under the Year 1107. ſaith, Norman the Prior founded the Church of Chriſt, in London, and placed Canons there under the Rule of S. Auguſtine.

Vol. II. 80.

In Mon. Angl. it is ſaid, out of a Manuſcript in Corpus Chriſti-College, Oxon, That Richard Beaumeis, a Norman, Biſhop of London, founded the Church of Chriſt, in London, in which he placed many Canons.

Sto. Surv. 930, &c.

The multitude of Brethren praiſing God in this Church, in a ſhort time ſo increas'd, that all the City was delighted in beholding them, inſomuch, that in the Year 1125. certain Burgeſſes of London, of the Progeny of theſe Noble Knights; which had beginning in the Days of King Edgar, and being then 13 in number, were by him made a Guild, coming together into the Chapter-Houſe of the Holy Trinity, gave to the ſame Church and Canons, all the Land and Soken call'd, Knighten-Guild (now Port-Soken-Ward); which was formerly ly given to the ſaid Guild, of 13 Knights by the ſaid King Edgar, at their firſt Inſtitution, and ſurrender'd (among other Writings which they had for it) the Charter of S. Edward, and then put the Prior in Seiſin of it by giving him Entrance into, and Poſſeſſion of the Church of S. Botolph without Aldgate, which is built thereon; and is the Head of that Land, becoming Friers, and partaking of the Benefits of that Place by the Hands of Norman the Prior, who receiv'd them into the Society, by an Oath taken upon the Text of the Goſpel.

Ibid. 145. By this means the Priors of this Religious Houſe for the future became Aldermen of the City of London (to wit) of Port-Soken-Ward, and ſo continued till near the general Suppreſſion in King Hen. VIII's Reign, and ſat, and rode among the Aldermen of the City in Livery like to them, ſaving that their Habit was in Shape of a Spiritual Perſon, as I my ſelf (ſaith Stow) have ſeen in my Childhood. At which time the Prior kept a moſt bountiful Houſe of Meat and Drink both for Rich and Poor, as well within the Houſe, as at the Gate, to all comers according to their Eſtates.

Mon. Angl. 2. Vol. 81.

Sto. ut ſupra.

Great were the Poſſeſſions wherewith this Priory was endowed by Kings, Queens, Nobles, and others, as may appear by the Charter of King Hen. III. bearing date at Weſtminſter, Feb. 8. in the 11th of his Reign, whereby they were confirm'd. And in proceſs of time it became a very fair and large Church, rich in Lands and Ornaments, and paſs'd all the Priories in London, and Shire of Middleſex.

Thus flouriſhed this Priory for many Years till the time of King Hen. VIII. and then in July 1532. (24. Hen. VIII.) it was ſurrender'd by Compoſition with the Prior; and the Canons were ſent to other Houſes by the ſame Order; and the Priory with the Church, Lands, and Plate thereto belonging were given by the King in 25. of his Reign to Sir Thomas Audley, who at laſt offered the Church and Steeple to whomſoever that would pull it down, but none would accept of it; ſo that he was fain to pull it down at his own coſt. In this Priory Church there was a Ring of nine Bells, four of the greateſt were ſold to Stepney, and five of the leſſer to S. Stephens, in Coleman-ſtreet.

Dug. Bar. 3. Tom. 383.

The aforeſaid Sir Thomas Audley, made Lord Chancellor by King Hen. VIII. in 24th of his Reign, and created Lord Audley of Walden by Letters Patents bearing date Nov. 29. in 30th of the ſame King, dwelt in this Priory, and died there, Apr. 30. 1554. and according as he had order'd in his Will, his Body was buried at Walden, in Eſſex. After whoſe Death this Priory came to Thomas, Duke of Norfolk, by vertue of his Marriage with Margaret the Daughter and Heir of the ſaid Lord Audley, and from thence was call'd, The Duke's Place; from which Duke (who loſt his Head on Tower-Hill, June 2. 15. Eliz.) it deſcended to Thomas Howard, Earl of Suffolk, eldeſt Son to the ſaid Duke by the ſaid Margaret his ſecond Wife. And he by Indenture of Bargain and Sale, bearing date July 21. 34. Eliz. with Katharine his Wife ſold the ſame to the Mayor, Commonalty, and Citizens of London, to have and to hold to them and their Succeſſors, in as large and ample a manner as the ſaid Earl and his Wife, or the ſaid Lord Audley, or the ſaid King Hen. VIII. or the ſaid Prior and Convent, or their Predeceſſors, at any time before their ſaid Diſſolution, or any other time, had, uſed, or enjoy'd the ſame, by vertue of any Grant, Privilege, Preſcription, Law, Cuſtom, or any other ways or means whatſoever.

The Mayor, Commonalty, and Citizens of London, as Lords of this Manor, and Patrons of a Church; which they have ſince built there (call'd, S. James Duke's-Place) have of late pretended an Exemption from the Juriſdiction of the Biſhop of London in matters Eccleſiaſtical, tho' by what follows, I hope, I ſhall make it appear, that they have no ſuch Privilege.

Firſt, From the Charter of Queen Maud the Foundreſs, wherein it is expreſly ſaid, “ That the Church of Chriſt, within the Walls of London (meaning this Priory of the Holy Trinity) ſhould be free and acquit from all Subjection, as well of the Church of Waltham; (becauſe that Church (as I conceive) had an Intereſt on the Ground whereon this Priory or Part of it was built, till there was a Mill, as aforeſaid, given in exchange for it) as of all other Churches, excepting the Church of S. Paul, and the Biſhop of London, as hath been before-mention'd.

Secondly, From the Charter of King Hen. III. before ſpoken of, whereby (inter alia) He, to the ſame Effect, granted and confirm'd to this Church of the Holy Trinity in theſe words, viz. "Quod Eccleſia prædicta S. Trinitatis libera ſit & quieta ab omni Subjectione tam Eccleſiæ de Waltham, quam omnium aliarum Eccleſiarum præterquam Eccleſiam S. Pauli, London, & Epiſcopi, cum omnibus ad eam pertinentibus, ſecundum Tenorem Cartarum M. Reginæ Fundatricis ejuſdem Eccleſiæ S. Trinitatis, & H. Regis primi viri ſui. Et H. Henrici ſecundi Avi noſtri. So that hence it appears, That not only Hen. III. but Hen. I, and II. had granted the like Charters of Confirmation to this Church.

Mon. Angl. 2. Vol. 81.

Thirdly, From the conſtant Exerciſe of Epiſcopal Juriſdiction in this Priory by the Biſhop of London from time to time, as appears by the Records and Muniments in the London Regiſtry. For, beſides, that it was viſited by Robert Winchelſea, Archbiſhop of Canterbury, in the Year 1303. who then made Injunctions for the better regulating this Religious Houſe, it was viſited Epiſcopally by John Chiſhull, Biſhop of London in 1276. by Biſhop Baldock in 1306. and by Biſhop Gilbert in 1438.

And laſtly, From the Election and Confirmation of the Priors of this Houſe; who have from time to time had their Elections confirm'd by the Biſhop of London, or his Chancellor. At which times they ſwore Canonical Obedience in theſe words following, viz. "In Dei nomine Amen, coram venerabili viro Magiſtro G. W. Reverendi in Chriſto Patris, & Domini C. permiſſione Divina London. Epiſcopi Vicario in Spiritualibus generali. Ego N. H. electus in Priorem Domus ſive Prioratus S. Trinitatis, Ordinis S. Auguſtini, London. Dioc. & Juriſdictionis. Juro ad hæc Sancta Dei Evangelia per me hic corporaliter tacta. Quod Reverendo in Chriſto Patri & Domino meo C. permiſſione Divina London Epiſcopo moderno, meo, & dicti Prioratus mei Ordinario, & Dioceſano ſuiſq; Succeſſoribus Canonice Intrantibus, & ſuis Miniſtris in omnibus licitis, & Canonicis Mandatis Obediens ero, & Canonicam Obedientiam exhibebo; nec non in factis debitam Reverentiam dicto Reverendo Patri & ſuis Miniſtris impendam, & in verbis effectualiter exhibebo. Then after ſome Clauſes in the Oath, containing his ſwearing to the Good and Benefit of the Houſe. He farther Swears thus, "Quodq; ad Synodum ſeu Viſitationem dicti Reverendi Patris, aut ſucceſſorum ſuorum, etiam cum conſenſu capituli mei, non alienabo, nec impignorabo, nec diminuam neq; divaſtabo, ſed Bona dicta Domus diſperſa pro poſſe meo Congregabo, ſic hac Deus adjuvet, &c. This was done at the Election of Nicolas Hancock (the laſt Prior of this Houſe before its Suppreſſion); which was confirm'd July 27. 1524. by Dr. Geffery Wharton, then Vicar-General to Cuthbert Tunſtall, Biſhop of London. And this was the Tenour of the Oath, which he (as well as his Predeceſſors; of which there be ſeveral Inſtances in the ſaid Regiſtry) took at the Confirmation of his Election.

Tunſtal 51.

Thus I think it ſufficiently appears, That this Priory from the very firſt Foundation thereof, to its final Diſſolution by King Hen. VIII. was ſubject to the Juriſdiction of the Biſhop of London as Ordinary of the Place. And after its ſaid Diſſolution, and before the Building of the ſaid Church of S. James there (to wit) at the Biſhop's Viſitations in the Years 1589, 1598, and 1612. the Church-Wardens and Side-Men of this Precinct (then ſo call'd) were Sworn, and gave in their Preſentments. And after the Building of the ſaid Church at the like Epiſcopal Viſitations in the Years 1628, and 1637. (which was the laſt Epiſcopal Viſitation before the late Rebellion broke out in the Reign of King Charles I.) The Rector and Curates of this Church appear'd, and exhibited their Inſtruments, and the Church-Wardens and Side-Men were Sworn, and gave in their Preſentments. And laſt of all, after the Reſtauration of King Charles II. at the firſt Epiſcopal Viſitation, which was in the Year 1664. Mr. Will. Harriſon the then Rector of S. James Duke's-Place (tho' ſome Years after to defend himſelf or Curate there, in that illegal and ſcandalous way of marrying People without Banns or Licence contrary to the Canons of the Church, he oppoſed the Spiritual Juriſdiction) appear'd before the Biſhop, and exhibited his Inſtruments. And the Church-Wardens and Side-Men were Sworn, and gave in their Preſentments as their Predeceſſors had conſtantly done before. And ever ſince they have had Church-Wardens, and Side-Men, to this preſent, they have every Year been Sworn into their reſpective Offices by the Archdeacon of London, or his Official. And to conclude, the Rectors or Curates of this Church have ever ſince the Building and Conſecration thereof, been from time to time licens'd to Officiate therein by the Biſhop of London or his Chancellor, till of late Years. All which will appear by the Regiſtries of the Biſhop and Archdeacon of London; and by the Subſcription-Books of the Biſhops of London, if they were to be had.

Having thus ſufficiently clear'd (as I think) the Biſhop of London's Juriſdiction, as Ordinary of this Place, it will be proper for me to give a Catalogue of the Priors of this once famous Monaſtery (at leaſt of as many as I have met with) from the firſt Foundation till the Suppreſſion thereof by King Hen. VIII. which take as followeth:

PRIORS.

NOrman (as appears above) was the firſt Prior of this Houſe, Anno 1108. and was Prior there in the Year 1125. when the aforeſaid Burgeſſes of London gave their Land and Soken, call'd Knighten Guild to this Priory, for then (as it is ſaid before) they were admitted into this Society by the Hands of Norman the Prior. How long he liv'd or continued Prior here afterwards doth not appear; but, probably, his next Succeſſor was

Ralph; who was Prior of this Houſe, when Queen Maud (Wife to King Stephen) confirm'd one hundred Shillings worth of Land in Braching, in the County of Hertford, to this Ralph the Prior, and the Canons of this Houſe, which King Stephen had given them in perpetual Alms for the reſt of the Souls of Baldwin, his Son, and Maud his Daughter, who were buried in this Church. [Mon. Angl. 2. Vol. 81.]

S. was Prior here, when Richard (which I take to be Richard Fitzneal) was Biſhop of London; which muſt be between the Years 1189, and 1198. [Cart. Antiq. in Baga de London Dioc. in Scacc.]

P. was Prior here, when Walter (i. e. Walter filius Walteri) was Precentor of S. Pauls. [In Baga de diverſ. Dioc. in Scacc.] Which Walter, when Precentor, ſubſcribed the Statute of Reſidence in the Church of Lichfield, made by Hubert, Archbiſhop of Canterbury, who died in 1205. [Vid. Walter, inter Archid. Lond.]

Gilbert was elected Prior of this Houſe by Vertue of the King's Licence; to which the King gave his conſent, July 2. 1214. [Pat. 16. Joh. m. 9.]

P. was Prior here, and gave his Licence to build an Oratory in the Pariſh of Totham, when William (de S. Mariæ Eccleſia) was Biſhop of London [Baga Antiq. in Scacc.] which muſt be in or before the Year 1221. for then the ſaid Biſhop reſign'd his Biſhoprick.

R. was Prior here Anno 1224. [Bag. præd.]

Richard was Prior here, 1241. [Bag. præd.] He died in 1250. for on the 26th of Auguſt that Year, the King granted his Licence to chuſe another as void by the Death of the ſaid Richard. [Pat. 34. Hen. III. m. 2.] Upon which

Joh. de Toting, Sacriſt of this Priory was elected Prior, to which the King gave his Aſſent on the 5th of October following. [Ibid.] He was Prior here in 1257. [Bag. Cant. & Roffen. Dioc. in Scacc.]

Euſtachius, a Canon of this Houſe, was elected Prior thereof, and the King reſtored to him his Temporalities, Jan. 12. 1268. [Pat. 53. Hen. III.] Stow tells us that he hath read, That Euſtachius the 8th Prior (but according to this Catalogue he is the 10th) about the Year 1264. becauſe he would not deal with Temporal Matters; inſtituted Theobald Fitz-Ivonis, Alderman of Portſoken-Ward, under him. [Stow's Surv. 145.] The time of this Euſtachius his Election doth not appear; but his Temporalties were not reſtor'd till 1268. as above.

Will. Aygnell, or Aynell, by Vertue of the King's Licence, dated Dec. 27. 1284. for chuſing a Prior of this Houſe, void by the Death of Euſtachius, was elected Prior thereof on the 10th of January following, and was reſtor'd to his Temporalities the 19th of the ſame Month. [Pat. 13. E. I.]

Steph. de Watton by Vertue of the King's Licence, dated May 24. 1294. for chuſing a Prior of this Houſe, void by the Death of William was elected Prior thereof, to whoſe Election the King gave his Aſſent on the 29th of the ſame Month, and reſtored his Temporalties on the 4th of June following. [Pat. 22. E. I.]

Ralph de Cantuaria by Vertue of the King's Licence, dated March 8. 1302. for chuſing a Prior of this Houſe, void by the Ceſſion of Stephen, was elected Prior thereof, and was reſtored to his Temporalties on the 19th of the ſame Month. [Pat. 31. E. I.]

Ric. de Wymbiſh. The King being certified of the Death of the ſaid Ralph, and granting his Licence for the chuſing of another Prior, the Canons of this Houſe proceeding thereupon elected the ſaid Richard de Wymbiſh for their Prior; to whoſe Election the King gave his Aſſent June 27. 1316. and reſtored his Temporalties July 12. following [Pat. 9. E. II.]

Roger de Polay. The King being likewiſe certified of the Ceſſion of the ſaid Ric. de Wymbiſh, granted his Licence for the chuſing of another Prior, dated May 29. 1325. upon which the Canons elected the ſaid Rog. de Polay, to whoſe Election the King gave his Aſſent on the 7th of June following, and reſtored his Temporalties on the 21ſt of the ſame Month. [Pat. 18. E. II.]

Thomas Heron was elected Prior of this Houſe, void by the Ceſſion of the ſaid Roger de Polay, to whoſe Election the King gave his Aſſent May 26. 1331. and reſtored his Temporalties June 11. following. [Pat. 5. E. III. p. 1.]

Nicholas de London by Vertue of the King's Licence, dated Feb. 20. 1339. for chuſing a Prior of this Houſe, void by the Death of the ſaid Thomas, was elected Prior thereof; to whoſe Election the King aſſented on the 29th of the ſame Month, and reſtored his Temporalties on March 20. following. Tho. Percy was Prior of this Houſe in 1492. and was admitted Vicar of Bromfeld (Eſſex) that Year of the Preſentation of Tho. Tod, and Lodowick Bampton, Patrons for that Turn, which he reſign'd before June 12. 1493. And, being ſtill Prior, was admitted Vicar of Braughing, in Com. Hertford, May 26. 1511. at the Preſentation of John Preſton, Maſter of S. Katharines-Hoſpital near the Tower of London, Patron for that Turn; the Advowſon of both theſe Vicarages being in the Prior and Convent of this Monaſtery: But voided the latter by his Death before Octob. 27. 1512.

Nicolas Hancock was elected Prior of this Houſe, whoſe Election was confirm'd July 27. 1524. as hath been ſaid before; he was the laſt Prior of this Houſe, which was ſurrender'd by him by Compoſition into the Hands of King Hen. VIII. in July, 1532. as hath been alſo obſerv'd before. But what that Compoſition was, and in what ſort the ſaid Prior was recompenc'd, Stow ſaith he never heard. But, I find, that he was preſented by Thomas, Lord Audley, aforeſaid (to whom this Priory, with the Church, Lands, &c. were given by the King) to the Vicarage of Braughing, in Hertfordſhire, and was, thereupon, admitted to it, July 30. 1541. and reſign'd it in 1545. Trinity Minories.

Mr. Smith's MS.

THIS Religious-Houſe was founded for Nuns of the Order of S. Clare; which S. Clare the Virgin, was Born in the City of Aſſiſium, in Umbria, and contemporary there with S. Francis, to whoſe advice ſhe wholly conform'd her ſelf from her Childhood. She firſt took upon her the Habit of a Penitentiary, againſt her Friend's Wills, through the perſuaſions of S. Francis, who, afterwards, aſſign'd her the Church of S. Damian; where, about the Year 1212. ſhe inſtituted the Order of the Poor Ladies, call'd Clariſſes, or Minoriſſes; which Order was confirm'd by Pope Innocent III. and, afterwards, by Honorius III. in 1223. It was, afterwards, divided into Damianiſts, and Urbaniſts. The firſt follow its ancient Diſcipline in all its rigour; but the other the Rule with Urban IV's allowance. This Clara was a Virgin of wonderful Humility towards the Poor, of prodigious Auſterity and Mortification in her Habit and lying at Reſt, and extreamly rigid in her Diet and Faſting. Forty Years ſhe continued in her ſtate of Poverty; of which, 28. ſhe was in a languiſhing Condition, yet always cheerful in the Lord. In the time of her laſt Sickneſs, Pope Innocent IV. viſited her himſelf. She died on the Morrow after the Feaſt of S. Laurence, Anno 1253. when Pope Alexander IV. canoniz'd her for a Saint, Anno 1255. Her Commemoration is celebrated yearly on the 12th of Auguſt.

Trinity Minories, Curacy.

IN the Street, between the Tower of London and Aldgate, without the Walls of the City (now call'd the Minories) in Portſoken-Ward, and on the Eaſt-ſide of that Street, there was an Abby founded by Edmund, Earl of Lancaſter, Leiceſter, and Derby (Brother to King Edw. I. by Vertue of Letters Patents granted by that King, bearing date at Weſtminſter, June 18. in the 21ſt of his Reign, Anno 1293. for Nuns of the Order of S. Clare, call'd Minoreſſes; which were to come over into England by the Order of the Lady Blanch, Queen of Navarr, Wife of the ſaid Earl Edmund.

Baudake 17.

Soon after this Monaſtery was founded, there was a Bull procured from Pope Boniface VIII. dated at Anagnia, in Italy, 5. Non. Julii, in the Second Year of his Pontificate, whereby it was made an Exempt, and ſo continued, for ought I can find, till its Suppreſſion. After which it was (with many other the like Exemptions in the Dioceſe of London) reſtored to the Juriſdiction of the Biſhop of that Sea and his Succeſſors by King Edw. VI. by his Letters Patents bearing date Apr. 1. in the 4th of his Reign, and confirm'd by Queen Mary by her Letters Satents dated March 2. in the firſt of her Reign.

This Houſe was valued at the Suppreſſion at 318 l. 8 s. 5 d per Ann. Dugd. 342 l. 5 s. 10 d. ½. Speed. 418 l. 8 s. 5 d. Stow. And was ſurrender'd by Dame Elizabeth Savage (the laſt Abbeſs there) to King Hen. VIII. in the 30th of his Reign.

The Site whereof was afterwards by Act of Parliament granted to John Clark, Biſhop of Bath and Wells, and his Succeſſors for ever, to be held of the Crown by fealty and payment of the yearly Rent of 4 l. 6 s. 8 d. half yearly by equal Portions, at the Feaſt of S. Michael, and the Annunciation of the Bleſſed Virgin, into the King's Court of Augmentations.

Sto. Sur. 118.

The Place of this Houſe of Nuns after the Diſſolution, was built with divers fair and large Store-houſes for Armour, and Habiliments of War, with divers Work-houſes, ſerving to the ſame purpoſes; but now ſeemeth for the moſt part to be converted into Dwelling houſes.

There is alſo a ſmall Church dedicated to the Holy Trinity, now a Pariſh-Church, call'd Trinity Minories, for the Inhabitants of the Cloſe, or ſuch as dwell within the Precincts of this late diſſolved Monaſtery; which is in the Gift of the Crown, and the Incumbent or Curate thereof (for it is neither Rectory nor Vicarage inſtitutive) holds the ſame by an Inſtrument of Donation under the Great Seal of England; but of late theſe Curates have pretended tended Exemption from being ſubject to the Biſhop of London as Ordinary, on purpoſe to defend their marrying without Banns or Licence, notwithſtanding the reſtoring the Place by the aforeſaid Letters Patents of King Edw. VI. and Queen Mary, and the Curates thereof from that time (till of late) have been licens'd from time to time to ſerve the Cure here by the Biſhop of London, or his Chancellor; and appear'd at their Viſitations, where they have exhibited their Inſtruments, and the Church-Wardens have been Sworn, and exhibited their Preſentments: And to this day are annually Sworn into their Office, at the Archdeacon's Viſitation at Eaſter, to whom the Curate is to pay 2 s. 6 d. for Procurations. And in the Biſhop of London's Viſitation in 1664. Dr. Elkanah Downes, then Incumbent or Curate of this Place, exhibited his Title from the King (Charles II.) bearing Date, March 18. in the 13th of his Reign, and his Licence to ſerve the Cure under the Biſhop of London's Seal, dated Apr. 5. 1661. All which appears by the Regiſtries of the Biſhop, and Archdeacons of London.

In the Year 1618, 1620, and 1628. this Church and Steeple were repair'd and beautify'd, and 1623. the Church-yard, that before was only pal'd in with Boards, was encompaſs'd with a Brick-Wall, and a very handſom Entrance into it; but in 1636. I do not find any Return made of the annual Profits thereof, as there were of all other Churches within this City and Liberties. Sto. Sur. 888.

S. VEDAST alias FOSTER.

S. Vedaſt (to whom this Church is dedicated) was once Biſhop of Arras, in Artois, concerning whom, Clodoveus or Clovis, King of France (the firſt Chriſtian King of that Nation) about Ann. Chriſti, 484. going to S. Remigius, Biſhop of Rhemes, took along with him this Vedaſt, a very devout Man, who in their Journey reſtor'd a blind Man to his Sight; the King being come to Remigius, was baptiz'd by him, and returning home, left this Vedaſt with Remigius, who abiding with him, grew Famous for his worthy Deſerts and Virtue, being Religious and Charitable, continually Praying and Faſting, and pitiful to all that were in Diſtreſs. At laſt, he was ſo well eſteem'd by S. Remigius, that he ordain'd him Biſhop of Arras; this Biſhop then going towards his Biſhoprick, met two Beggars, the one lame, the other blind, who begging ſomething of him, he having no Money, with Tears, ſo effectually pray'd for them, that he reſtor'd inſtantly, the one to his Sight, the other to his Feet. He afterwards meeting with a cruel Bear among the Ruins of an old demoliſh'd Chriſtian-Church, at his Command the Bear departed thence into the Wilderneſs, and never return'd thither again, which is the Reaſon, that he is ordinarily pictur'd with a Bear.

He died under the Reign of Clotarius, King of France, Anno Dom. 566. Sigebert ſaith, he died in 570. Of him write Beda and others. To ſhew this Biſhop's Worth, ſaith Uſuardus, A Pillar of wonderful Brightneſs ſhone from Heaven over the Houſe, where he lay ſick, preſaging his Death.

His Feſtivity is celebrated yearly on the ſixth of February. Feaſt, Feb. 6.

S. Vedaſt alias Foſter, Rectory.

AS to the Pariſh-Church of S. Vedaſt, alias Foſter, it ſtands on the Eaſt-ſide of Foſter-Lane, near the South-end thereof, ſome time call'd S. Foſters (tho', by the way, Mr. R. Smith, in his fore-cited Manuſcript ſaith, that he finds not in any Author, the Name of S. Foſter given to any Saint, therefore rather conceives, that it was firſt given, either from the Street where ſituate, or from ſome eminent Man there dwelling, perhaps (if not the Founder) yet ſome ſpecial Benefactor to this Church or Place. It is in the Ward of Faringdon within. Sto. Sur. 338.

Stow tells us, it was a fair Church, newly Built, not many Ages ſince, Henry Coot, Goldſmith, one of the Sheriffs of London, deceas'd in 1509. built Ibidem.

S. Dunſtan's Chappel here. John Throwſton, another of the Sheriffs of London, in 1516. gave to the Building of this Church 100 l. by his Teſtament, John Brown, Serjeant-Painter, Alderman, deceaſ'd in 1532. was a great Benefactor and was here buried.

Stafford, 96. Here was a Chantry founded for the Souls of Jeffery at Gate, Joan and Alice his Wives, and others.

Sto. Sur. This Church was repair'd and beautify'd in 1614. and at the Chancel-End, was added twenty Foot of Ground, which Ground, ſo to lengthen the Church, was given to the Pariſh, out of a fair Court then belonging to Sadlers-Hall.

This Church of S. Vedaſt is a Rectory, and one of the thirteen Peculiars within this City, belonging to the Archbiſhop of Canterbury, of which the Prior and Chapter of Canterbury appear to have been Patrons, till the Year 1351. incluſive; but ſome time after that, it appears likewiſe, that the ſaid Archbiſhops have been and continu'd Patrons thereof, from the Year 1421. to this time, but how it came to them I have not found.

In the Year 1636. the annual Profits of this Church (there having been an encreaſe of Tyths, lately made of 14 l. 10 s. 8 d. per Annum) were return'd as followeth;

This Church ſuffer'd much in the late dreadful Fire, yet not ſo, but that it was afterwards repair'd for the moſt part, upon the old Walls, and the Tower or Steeple ſtood till the Year 1694. but it being very much weaken'd by the ſaid Fire, the Pariſhioners have caus'd it to be wholly taken down, and are now building it a-new, from the Foundation, at their own Charges, and ſuch Benefactions (as I have been inform'd) as they can get. It is made the Parochial-Church for this, and the Pariſh of S. Mic. Quern, which is annex'd to it, and both together are made of the yearly Value of 160 l. in lieu of Tyths to the Incumbent.

Provoſt of Beverly; Keeper of the King's Privy-Seal, and then Biſhop of Rocheſter, in 1467. WHITE-FRIERS.

BEfore I treat of the Houſe call'd, White-Friers, in London, it will be requiſite to ſay ſomething of the Order of White-Friers, or Carmelites; the Title of which Fraternity, is this, Fratres B. Mariæ de Monte Carmele, or Carmelite-Friers.

This Order had its Original in Mount Carmel, in Syria, where Elias and Eliſeus the Prophets inhabited; there, in proceſs of time, many Anchorets firſt ſetled themſelves, who afterwards, by means of Almeric, Biſhop of Antioch, the Pope's Legate, were brought together, and having been there a long time diſpers'd one from another, they were reduc'd to live together under one Government.

There was on that Mount, near to Elias Fountain, a Church dedicated to the Bleſſed Virgin Mary, where they laid the firſt Foundation of their Convent; there this Almeric built their firſt Monaſtery, ann. 1121. for before, they liv'd in Caves and Dens. Afterwards, this Order was brought into Europe, by Albert, Patriarch of Jeruſalem, Legate to Pope Innocent III. about the Year 1216. who gave them a certain Rule to follow, taken much from the Rule of S. Baſil.

Theſe Hermits of Mount Carmel, firſt profeſs'd Begging in Europe, after the Dominicans and Minorites; and then they were permitted to preach and hear Confeſſions. Their Order was confirm'd firſt, by Pope Honorius III. or, as others ſay, Honorius IV. Pope Gregory IX. Innocent IV. and other Popes.

Theſe Carmelites procur'd a Licence from the Pope to creep out of the Wilderneſs into the Cities, contrary to their firſt Inſtitution; againſt which Courſe, Nicolas Gallus wrote bitterly, deploring their State with pious Tears.

Pope Honorius (ſaith Bale) granted to the Carmelites this Privilege, that they ſhould be free from the Juriſdiction of all Princes and Biſhops.

Trithemius Abbas, ſaith, that the Colour of the Habit of this Order, at firſt, was White, whereby the inward Purity of the Brethren was ſignify'd, with ſuch a Cloak, they ſay, as Elias was clad; and that Eliſeus and the Children of the Prophets went in ſuch a Habit. After many Years, when the Holy-Land came into the Hands of the Infidels, the Brethren were forc'd to change their Habit, the Saracens compelling them thereunto, who held it lawful only for the Nobility to wear a white Garment; ſo by Neceſſity, changing their old Habit, they took to themſelves, Hoods ſtreak'd with two Colours, White and Black.

After many Years, the Brethren were compell'd by the Malice of the Infidels, to depart out of the Holy-Land, and then coming into Europe, that they might not ſeem ridiculous in a ſtrange Habit, they reſum'd their old Habit, which is White, and which to this Day they uſe, and which was confirm'd by the Popes.

But ſome may deſire to know, why theſe Friers are call'd, Brethren of the Bleſſed Virgin Mary of Mount Carmel; the Cauſe thereof, is this, Not long after the Paſſion of our Lord, the Brethren of Mount Carmel built a Chappel on the ſide of that Mount, to the Honour of the Mother of God, and choſe her for the Advocate and Patron of their Order, and thereupon afterwards, they were call'd, her Brethren; as therefore they are call'd Carmelites, from Mount Carmel, ſo from the Chappel, which they built, they are to this Day called, Brethren of the Bleſſed Virgin the Mother of God. Thus Trithemius.

Albeit, this be the more general and approv'd Opinion of the original Cauſe of this Title, aſſum'd by the Carmelites, yet ſome there have been that affirm, that the Bleſſed Virgin Mary, appear'd unto one of their Order, and preſented to him a Scapulary, ſaying, Receive, my beloved, this Scapulary, which I give unto thy Order in Sign of my Fellowſhip; whereupon they uſurp the Title of Fratres Ordinis beatæ Mariæ Virginis de Monte Carmelo. But the former Opinion is moſt current.

Weav. Fun. Mon. 139.

Now, for that, Mr. Weaver omits the Name of him, to whom the Bleſſed Virgin is ſaid to appear, and beſtow this Scapulary (which is a narrow Piece of Cloth, which the Monks wear over their Habit, hanging down before and behind) his Name, I find to be Simon Stock, of whom, ſays Mr. Fuller in his Church-Hiſtory, the Carmelites boaſt very much, who, as he ſays, was a Kentiſh Man born, and being a Boy of twelve Years of Age, fed on Roots, and wild Fruit in the Woods, and liv'd in the Trunk of an Hollow-Tree, from whence he had his Name Stock, who was afterwards Maſter-General of the Order of Carmelites, and is ſaid to have been famous for Miracles, which for brevity ſake, I omit, and only tell you, what Bale (inter alia) ſays of him.

Book VI. p. 272.

That this Simon Stock, hearing that the Carmelites were come into England, took a cheerful Journey to them, being then near eighty Years of Age, and for the Fame of his Life and Doctrine, was entertain'd by them, as one ſent from Heaven, and in their next general Synod, which was held at Aylesford in Kent, Anno Dom. 1245. was made the univerſal Preſident of their Order, throughout Europe; Alan Armoric, who was their fifth Preſident, reſigning it to him, which, as General, he rul'd about twenty Years, he went over into France, and in the hundredth Year of his Age, died there, in Gaſcoigne, and was buried at Bourdeaux, ann. 1265. or as ſome ſay, 1266. After his Death, for his great Devotion and Holineſs of his Life, he was canoniz'd a Saint, whoſe feſtival is celebrated yearly, May 6.

Bale (who was a Carmelite-Frier himſelf) ſaith, that the Carmelites, firſt began to be famous in Europe, ann. 1220. after that, Angelus Hieroſolomit. (a Jew by Birth) an Hermit of that Order, had preach'd at Rome, that the Commonwealth of the Church ſhould ſhortly be afflicted.

Bale, Cent. 3. cap. 82.

Moreover, Ralph Fresburne, a Carmelite Frier, ſaith Bale, laid the firſt Foundation of the Society of the Carmelites in England, ann. 1224. as Poet Mantuan, a Carmelite, writes, lib. 8. and in his own Lordſhips founded the Priories near Alnewick, in Northumberland, and in Aylesford, in Kent, in 1240. which were the firſt Houſes for theſe Carmelites in England. Theſe Friers (ſaith Bale) were not then ſhaven or anointed, nor did they obſerve ſingle Life, nor Poverty, in England, for fourteen Years together after they had firſt built themſelves Priories or Convents, during which time the ſaid Ralph Fresbourne was their Governour.

Fuller ſaith, that Ralph Freeborn (ſo he nameth him) in the Reign of Ric. I. brought over into England theſe Carmelite-Friers, and plac'd them at Alnwick, in Northumberland, in a Wilderneſs. I ſuppoſe Fuller miſtakes Richard I. for Richard Duke of Cornwall, younger Son of King John, under whom he had ſerv'd as a Souldier againſt the Saracens.

Ful. ut ſupra, 271.

The firſt Entrance of the Carmelites into England, ſaith Lambard, was about the midſt of King Henry III. when as they made their Neſt at Newenden, in Kent, a woody and ſolitary Place.

Lamb. Peramb. Kent. p. 208.

When Milverton, the Provincial of the Carmelites in England, ſaith Bale, was firſt impriſon'd by Pope Paul II. about the Year 1460. both the School-Learning, and therewithal, the Eſtimation of the Carmelites in England, which till then they upheld, above all other Mendicants, fell to decay.

Bale, Cent. 5.

This Order was vertical, and in the higheſt Exaltation thereof, in the Reign of King Edward IV. under Nicholas Kenton, their 25. Provincial, they reckon'd no fewer than 1500 of their Order; but when John Milverton, his Succeſſor, begun in Favour of Friery, furiouſly to engage againſt Biſhops, and the Secular Clergy, the Carmelites good Maſters and Dames began to forſake them, and they never recover'd their Credit, till they were utterly diſſolv'd. They were very careful in keeping the Records of their Order, preſerving the ſucceſſive Series of their Provincials, from their Original here in England, till their Diſſolution; a Catalogue whereof made by John Bale, may be ſeen in Fuller's Eccleſiaſtical Hiſtory. B. VI. p. 272.

The Priory.

Sto. Sur. 437. THIS Houſe of the Carmelites or White-Friers, here in London, ſtood on the South-ſide of Fleet-ſtreet, between the New Temple and Saliſbury-Court, in the Ward of Faringdon without.

This Priory or Church, was founded by Richard Gray, Knight, Anceſtor to the Lord Gray of Codnor, in the County of Derby, in the Year 1241. King Edward I. gave to the Prior and Brethren of this Houſe, a Plat of Ground in Fleet-ſtreet, whereupon to build their Houſe, which was after re-edify'd or new-built, by Hugh Courtney, Earl of Devonſhire, about the Year 1350. being the 24th of Edw. III.

Joh. Luſken, Mayor, and the Commonalty of the City of London, granted a Lane, call'd Crockers-lane, reaching from Fleet-ſtreet to the Thames, to build the Weſt-End of that Church. Sir Robert Knolles, Kt. (Anceſtor to the Earls of Walſingham, 166. Banbury) was a great Builder here alſo, in the Reign of Rich. II. and Hen. IV. who, tho' born of mean Parentage (in the County of Cheſter) was by his valiant Behaviour, advanc'd from a common Soldier, in the French Wars, under Ibid. 419. Edw. III. to a great Commander. He built the goodly, fair Bridge of Rocheſter, over the River Medway, and founded a College of Secular-Prieſts at Pontefract; and dying full of Years, at his Mannor of Stone-Thorp, in Norfolk, Ann. 1407. was brought to London, and honourably buried by the Lady Conſtance, his Wiſe, in the Body of this Church of White-Friers, which he had newly built.

Godwin de Præſul. Hereford. Here, ſometime, lay intomb'd, in a goodly Monument of Alabaſter, the Body of Robert Maſcall, Biſhop of Hereford, a Man for his great Learning and good Life, admir'd and belov'd of all Men. He was often employ'd by Hen. IV. (to whom he was Confeſſor) upon Embaſſies to forein Princes, and was ſent, with two other Biſhops, to the Council of Conſtance. He built the Choir, Presbytery and Steeple of this Church, and gave many rich Ornaments to this Religious Houſe, wherein he died, Dec. 21. 1416.

Weav. Fun. Mon. 437. Stephen Patrington, Biſhop of S. Davids, who died Sept. 22. 1417. and Nic. Kenton, who died Sept. 4. 1468. and John Milverton, who died Jan. 30. 1486. all Provincials, of the Order of Carmelites, and Men of great Eminency and Worth, for their Parts and Learning, were buried in this Church.

Alſo ſeveral Nobles, Knights and Eſquires were buried here, whoſe Names may be ſeen in Stow's Survey, 438.

This Houſe was valu'd at the Suppreſſion, at 26*l.* 7*s.* 3*d.* and was ſurrendred Nov. 10. 30. Hen. VIII.

Pat. 32. Hen. VIII. p. 8. After the Diſſolution of this Priory, K. Hen. VIII. in the 32. of his Reign, granted the Chapter-Houſe, and other Parts of this Priory, to Will. Butts; and the Library, and other Parts of it, to Richard Morriſon. In 36. of his Reign, Pat. 36. Hen. VIII. p. 1. he granted a Meſſuage and Chamber, with the Appurtenances, and the Houſe and Buildings, under the Premiſes, and two Gardens and two Stables, with the Appurtenances, to the Lord De-la-Ware; and one Meſſuage and Tenement, with the Appurtenances, to Tho. Bochier.

Pat. 1. Ed. VI. p. 4. Edward VI. in the firſt of his Reign, granted one Houſe, that was lately belonging to Sir Will. Butts, and the whole Church belonging to this Priory, with the Appurtenances, to the Biſhop of Worceſter and his Succeſſors, in pure and perpetual Alms.

MIDDLESEX.

MIDDLESEX.

HAVING done with the Parochial-Churches, and Religious Houſes, in the City and Liberties of London, I come now to thoſe in Middleſex, which is a County, and Part of an Archdeaconry of that Name, the other Part of it lying in Eſſex and Hertfordſhire, of which, in their proper Places.

This County of Middleſex then, is part of the Dioceſe of London, and borders North upon Hertfordſhire, Eaſt upon Eſſex, divided there by the River Lea, South upon Surry and Kent, having the famous River Thames the Bound and Limit between them, and Weſt upon Buckinghamſhire, Coln-River, and the Shire-Ditch being the Diviſion between them. The County is ſmall, in Length not above 20 Miles, in Breadth ſcarce 12, and in Circumference (as it were by the Ring) not above 70. In which are contain'd ſix Hundreds, viz. Edmunton, Goare, Oſulſton, Iſtleworth, Elthorne and Speltborne, and the Liberties of Finnesbury and Wenlakesbarne: Sixty nine Pariſh-Churches, beſides Chappels of Eaſe; ſix of which Pariſhes, viz. Chiſwick, Friern-Barnet, S. Pancras alias Kentiſh-Town, Stoke-Newington, Weſt-Drayton and Willeſdon, are Peculiars belonging to the Dean and Chapter of S. Paul's, and two more of them (to wit) Harrow on the Hill and Hayes, are Exempts to the Archbiſhop of Canterbury. The reſt of them (except S. Margaret Weſtminſter, which belongs to the Dean and Chapter of the Collegiate-Church of S. Peter there) are under the Juriſdiction of the Biſhop of London; part of them, in Subordination to the Biſhop, being ſubject to the Archdeacon of Middleſex, and part of them to the Commiſſary of London and Middleſex; and three of them, namely, Clerkenwell, Iſlington and Shorditch, to the Archdeacon of London. All which, as alſo the Religious Houſes, which were in this County, before their Suppreſſion in the Reign of King Henry VIII. I ſhall proceed to treat of in Order, according to the Alphabet.

The Pariſh Churches. Acton, Rectory.

THIS Pariſh of Acton (which ſeems to take its Name from the Saxon words Ac an Oak, and Ton a Town or Village, from the Multitude of Oaks formerly growing there) call'd alſo Weſt-Acton, to diſtinguiſh it from Eaſt-Acton, a Hamlet belonging to it; is in the Liberties of Finnesbury and Wenlaxbarne, or Wenlakesbarne, about ſix or ſeven Miles weſt from London. It is wholly exempt from the Archdeacon, and ſubject only to the Juriſdiction of the Biſhop and his Commiſſary, who in ſpiritual Matters, have here all manner of ordinary Juriſdiction, as well in Cauſes of Correction, Swearing Church-wardens, &c. as in proving Wills, and granting Adminiſtrations, &c.

Commiſſar
Lond.

As to the Pariſh-Church here (which is dedicated to   ) it is a Rectory, and hath been all along in the Collation of the Biſhops of London.

Peter, the Son of Alulf, gave to Euſtace, Biſhop of London, forty Acres of arable Land in Acton, in the Field call'd Pulla, he paying yearly, to the ſaid Peter, one Pound of Cumin-ſeed, which, after the Death of the ſaid Biſhop, the Dean of S. Paul's, accuſtom'd to pay yearly, to the ſaid Peter; but he afterwards, for the Health of his Soul, remitted and quit-claim'd to God, and the Church of S. Paul, and to William de Sanctæ Mariæ Eccleſia, the Dean of the ſame, and to his Succeſſors, the ſaid yearly Rent of Cumin-ſeed, and ſuch Homages and Reliefs as his Predeceſſors were us'd to pay him.

Reg. Dec. & Cap. Cart. Orig.

In the Reign of King Henry III. Galfry de Lucy, Dean of S. Paul's, founded a Chantry in S. Paul's Cathedral-Church, to which Church he gave his Mannor, Houſe and Lands in this Pariſh of Acton, reſerving 100 s. per Annum to be paid to a Prieſt, celebrating Divine Service at the ſaid Chantry, for the Health of his Soul, together, with the Soul of Euſtace de Fauconbergh, ſometime Biſhop of London, and his Succeſſors; alſo for the Soul of Philip de Fauconbergh, Archdeacon of Huntingdon, and paying xx s. a Year on the Day of his, the ſaid Geffery's Obit, and a Mark at the Obit of the ſaid Philip de Fauconbergh. Witneſſes to this Charter, were Roger, Biſhop of London; William de Ralegh, Treaſurer of the Church of Exon; Rog. de la Dun, Hen. de Buccomt, John the Son of Ralph de Belmeis, Hamond de Bedefont.

Reg. Dec. & Cap. Cart. Orig. After the founding and endowing of the before-mention'd Chantry, by the ſaid Galfry de Lucy, there were three Meſſuages in this Pariſh, and two Shillings yearly Rent, given by Gregory, the Son of Walter, Rector of this Church, to the Dean and Chapter of S. Paul's, for the farther Maintenance of a Chaplain to celebrate in the ſaid Chantry, which, after the Death of the ſaid Galfry, was by Peter, the Son of Alulf, confirm'd to the ſaid Dean and Chapter by his Deed, dated 6. Id. May 28. Henry III. 1244.

Braybroke, 226. In the firſt of King Edw. III. Adam de Herwinton, Clerk, in Conſideration of a certain Sum of Money paid, gave and granted to the Prior and Convent of S. Barthol. in Weſt-Smithfield, certain Lands and Tenements, which he held, in this Pariſh, of the Biſhop of London, which Grant, Stephen Graveſend, Biſhop of London, in the Month of March 1327. confirm'd to the ſaid Prior and Convent and their Succeſſors, doing all uſual Services, and paying 2 s. a Year, and a Relief to the ſaid Biſhop and his Succeſſors, according to the accuſtom'd Knights-Fee, by which the Tenants have formerly held, upon every new Creation of a Prior.

Weav. Fun. Mon. 531. Sir Tho. Cornwall, Baron of Burford, in the County of Salop, Knight and Baronet, was caſually interr'd in this Church, and is cover'd with a Marble-Stone, he happening to die in this Town, Aug. 19. 1537. as he was paſſing from London into his own Country.

h Dan. Featly (ſo commonly call'd, tho', in truth, his Surname was Fairclough) was born at Charlton upon Otmore, in the County of, and near unto the City of Oxford, on, or about the 5th of March 1582. Educated in the School joyning to Magdalen-College there; admitted Scholar of Corpus-Chriſti-College, Oxon. Dec. 13. 1594. Probationer-Fellow, Sept. 20. 1602. being then Bachelour of Arts; afterwards a ſevere Student in Divinity. He went Chaplain to Sir Tho. Edmunds (whom King James I. ſent Embaſſador into France) and ſpent three Years there, during which time, he became the Honour of the Proteſtant Religion, and the Engliſh Nation; inſomuch, as his many Conflicts with, and Conqueſts of the learned Sorboniſts, in Defence of the Proteſtants, and Oppoſition to the Papiſts, caus'd, even thoſe his Adverſaries to give him this Encomium, that he was Featlæus acutiſſimus & acerrimus. Upon his Return into England, he repair'd to his College, took the Degree of Bachelour of Divinity, 1613. and ſoon after, became Rector of Northill in Cornwall. But before he was well warm there, he was ſent for from thence to be Domeſtick Chaplain to Archbiſhop Abbot, and by him was ſoon after preferr'd to the Rectory of Lambeth, in Surry. In 1617. he proceeded in Divinity, was made a Brother in the Savoy-Hoſpital, by the Archbiſhop of Spalato, the Maſter thereof; about the ſame time, the Archbiſhop of Canterbury collated him to the Church of Alhallows Bread ſtreet, which he ſoon after chang'd for this of Acton, and at length became the third and laſt Provoſt of Chelſey-College. In 1625. he left Canterbury's Service, and being marry'd retir'd to Kennington near Lambeth. In 1642. after Brentford Fight, ſome of the Rebels took up their Quarters at Acton, who after they had miſs'd this our Dr. Featley, whom they took to be a Papiſt, or at leaſt, that he had a Pope in his Belly, they drank and eat up his Proviſion, burnt down a Barn full of Corn, and two Stables, the loſs amounting to 211 l. and at the ſame time, did profane the Church, by their beaſtly Actions, burnt the Rails, pull'd down the Front, broke the Windows, and I know not what. In February following, the Rebels ſought after him in Lambeth-Church, on the Lord's Day, to murder him, but he having timely Notice of their coming, withdrew and ſav'd himſelf. In 1643. he was appointed one of the Members, of the Aſſembly of Divines, but there he refus'd to take the Covenant, and became a great Stickler againſt it, and in a Letter to Archbiſhop Uſher, then at Oxford, ſhewed him his Reaſons, why he excepted againſt it, a Copy of which, or elſe another, which he wrote about the ſame time, being treacherouſly got from him, was carried to the Houſe of Commons, whereupon, being judg'd to be a Spy, and a Betrayer of the Parliament's Cauſe, was on Sept. 30. ſeiz'd upon, and committed Priſoner to Peter-Houſe in Alderſgate-ſtreet, and his Rectories taken away; this of Acton being given to Phil. Nye, and that of Lambeth to John White of Dorcheſter. He continu'd Priſoner in Peter-Houſe, till the beginning of March 1644. but being drawu very weak and low, by the Dropſie, was by much Supplication to the Parliament, remov'd for his Health-ſake to Chelſey-College, where he died, April 17. 1645. and was according to his Will buried in the Chancel of Lambeth-Church. Over whoſe Grave was a comely Monument erected, with an Epitaph engraven thereon, a Copy whereof may be ſeen in Antiq. Ox. Lib. II. p. 242. He was eſteem'd by the generality, to be one of the moſt reſolute and victorious Champions of the reform'd Proteſtant Religion in his time, a moſt ſmart Scourge of the Church of Rome, a Compendium of the Learned Tongues, and of all the Liberal Arts and Sciences, he was moſt ſeriouſly and ſoundly Pious and Devout, and tam ſtudio, quam Exercitio Theologus inſignis, &c. as 'tis expreſs'd in his Epitaph. [Ath. Ox. Vol. II. p. 37. &c. where may be read more largely of him, and what he publiſh'd.]

S. Ann Weſtminſter, Rectory.

THIS is a new Pariſh taken out of S. Martin in the Fields, the Parochial-Church whereof, is dedicated to S. Ann (concerning whom, ſee S. Ann Alderſgate) and is a Rectory, ſtanding in a Place call'd, Kemps-Field, before the Building thereof; but after the Ground was ſet out for it, and a Church-yard, and the Fabrick of a Church and Steeple, built to ſome Height above the Ground (to wit) in the 30th Year of the Reign of King Charles II. an Act of Parliament paſs'd, for making part of the Pariſh of S. Martin in the Fields (being grown ſo Populous, by reaſon of the great Increaſe of New Buildings therein erected, that the Church could not contain a fourth part of the Pariſhioners) a New Pariſh, to be call'd, the Pariſh of S. Ann within the Liberties of Weſtminſter. By which it was enacted, That from and after the 24th of March, which ſhall happen next after the Conſecration of this Church, all the Precinct, included within the Bounds expreſs'd in the ſaid Act, ſhould be, and were thereby made a Pariſh, which Bounds and Conſtitution of the ſaid Pariſh and Church, becauſe not any where publiſh'd, but in the ſaid Act, I think it not improper to inſert here.

The perpetual Advowſon ſettled in the Biſhops of London.

The Rector's Dues, 100 l. per Ann. to be rais'd for him.

The perpetual Advowſon of this Rectory, was likewiſe ſettled in the Biſhop of London and his Succeſſors, for ever, and the Rector and his Succeſſors were to enjoy the like Oblations, Obventions, Mortuaries, Eaſter-Book and Eccleſiaſtical Duties, as the Vicar of S. Martins enjoyeth; and alſo, one Annuity or yearly Sum of 100 l. to be aſſeſs'd yearly, on Thurſday in Eaſter-Week, by four or more ſubſtantial Houſholders, upon the Inhabitants, according to a Pound Rate, not exceeding eight Pence upon every twenty Pounds, perſonal Eſtate, which Aſſeſſment is to be confirm'd by two Juſtices of the Peace, dwelling within the City or Liberty of Weſtminſter, under their Hands, and to be collected by ſuch Perſons, as ſhall be yearly nominated to that Service by the Aſſeſſors, or any three of them, and authoriz'd thereunto, by Warrant under the ſaid Juſtices Hands and Seals, and to be paid yearly to the Church-wardens, at the four uſual Feaſts, and the Collectors to have the like Power as Overſeers of the Poor, by the Act 43. Eliz. for the Relief of the Poor, and to be ſubject to the like Penalties for not performing their Duty.

To be paid by the Church-wardens.

The Church-wardens, or one of them, are to pay the Money to the Rector every Quarter, within ten Days after it is receiv'd, under the Penalty of Impriſonment till Payment be made, and the Deficiences of one Year, are to be added to the Aſſeſſment of the next Year.

The time of making the Aſſeſſment.

For the making this Aſſeſſment, the Church-wardens, on every Eaſter-Day, are to give Notice in the Church for a Meeting to that purpoſe, on Thurſday following, and if the Aſſeſſment be not made within the time limited by the ſaid Act, every Perſon therein Offending is to forfeit 5 l. to the Rector, which is to be levied by Diſtreſs. Perſons alſo that are griev'd by this Aſſeſſment, are to be reliev'd at the General Quarter-Seſſions, by the Juſtices, whoſe Order ſhall be final, without Appeal.

Choice of the Pariſh-Clerk.

The Rector, with the Conſent of the Chief of the Inhabitants, is to chuſe the Pariſh-Clerk, who is to be allow'd the like Fees, as the Pariſh-Clerk of S. Martins hath.

Choice of Church-wardens.

The firſt Church-wardens and other Officers, are to be choſen out of the Inhabitants of this Pariſh, by the Veſtry of S. Martins, on Tueſday in the next Eaſter-Week, after the Conſecration of this Church, and all the ſucceeding Church-wardens, &c. ſhall be choſen by the Laws now in Force.

Church-Rate

The Church-wardens, and four or more of the diſcreet Houſholders, are hereby authoriz'd to make Rates, from time to time, for the Repair of the Church, which Rates are to be made, collected, and allow'd in manner as is before-appointed, for the raiſing of the yearly Sum of 100 l. for the Rector as aforeſaid.

Glebe.

By this Act, the Rector and his Succeſſors are ſeiz'd in their Demeans, as of Fee in a Parcel of Ground in King-ſtreet, near the Church-yard, containing in Length 213 Foot, and in Depth 45 Foot, with Power to make Leaſes to build for 41 Years, at 4 s. a Foot, reſerv'd yearly Rent for each Foot fronting the Street, and at the Expiration of that Term, the Rector may lett the Houſes built thereon, for the Term of 40 Years, upon a reaſonable improv'd yearly Rent, without taking any Fine for the ſame.

Biſh. Juriſdiction.

And laſt of all, the Biſhop of London and his Succeſſors, ſhall exerciſe the like Eccleſiaſtical Juriſdiction in this Pariſh, as in the Pariſhes within the Dioceſe of London.

As to Rules for High-ways, Choice of Burgeſſes and of Pariſh-Officers, as Conſtables, Scavengers and the like, I refer to the Act, as not altogether pertinent to ſuch Matters as concern the Church.

Act 1. Jac. II.
Bp. of London appointed Commiſſioner.
They to be Veſtry-men.

But to proceed in what farther concerns this Church, by another Act of Parliament in the firſt of King James II. intituled, An Act to Enable the Inhabitants of S. Ann, within the Liberty of Weſtminſter, to build a Church, to be the Pariſh-Church there: the Inhabitants were impower'd to raiſe Money for that purpoſe, and a Method for the raiſing thereof, therein Specified; and the Biſhop of London thereby authoriz'd by an Inſtrument in Writing, under his Seal of the Office, to conſtitute 30 Perſons to be Commiſſioners for the Church, who were to continue in that Office, till the Church was built and paid for; and after that, they were to be Veſtry-men of the Pariſh, as in other Pariſhes, and no otherwiſe (if they ſhall ſo long inhabit there) except for ſome Offence they ſhall be diſplac'd by the Biſhop, and when any of them ſhall be ſo diſplac'd, die, or leave the ſaid Pariſh, the remaining Commiſſioners, or any Seven of them, are thereby impower'd to elect another, of the ſaid Inhabitants, to ſucceed in his Room.

The Pews to be ſold towards the Building of the Church, &c.

Towards the Charge of the Building and Finiſhing this Church, and all things thereto belonging, as alſo a Houſe for the Rector (of all which there was an Eſtimate to be made) the Pews therein to be erected, were to be ſold; and ſuch Sum, for the ſaid Charge, as they were not able to raiſe by the Sale of the ſaid Pews, the Commiſſioners were hereby impower'd to aſſeſs the ſaid Sum (not exceeding 5000 l.) in four Years, by 16 Quarterly Payments (over and above the Charge of Collecting the ſame) upon the Inhabitants, according to an equal Pound-Rate, or otherwiſe, as to the Commiſſioners ſhould ſeem meet; provided, that no Tenant ſhould be tax'd at leſs than a fifth Part of the Sum aſſeſs'd upon the Land-lord; and the Commiſſioners are enjoyn'd to account under their Hands yearly to the Biſhop, till the Premiſſes were finiſh'd; whoſe Allowance thereof, under his Epiſcopal Seal, was to be to them a ſufficient Diſcharge.

The Church conſecrated.

This Pariſh-Church being finiſh'd, was, together with the Church-yards, Conſecrated by the Right Reverend Father in God, Henry, Lord Biſhop of London, on Sunday the 21th of March Anno Dom. 1685. Engliſh-Stile, and in the 10th Year of his Tranſlation.

Dimenſions.

It is a very fair Church, containing in Length from Eaſt to Weſt 100 Foot, or thereabouts; and in Breadth, from North to South, 70 Foot, or thereabouts. And the Church-yard contains in Length, 233 Foot from Eaſt to Weſt; and 184 Foot in Breadth, from North to South.

The firſt Rector.

Mr. John Hearne, Bachelour of Divinity, was made the firſt Rector of this Church, which was conferr'd on him, by the aforeſaid Biſhop of London, on the firſt Day of April 1686. and is the preſent Rector thereof, 1700.

Bedfont, Vicarage.

THIS Pariſh of Bedfont or, Eaſt-Bedfont, to diſtinguiſh it from Weſt-Bedfont, a Village or Hamlet belonging to it, lies in Spelthorne Hundred, toward the South-Weſt from London, about 13 (old) or 16 (new) Miles from it; in old Records written Bedefunt. It is ſubject to the Archdeacon, and is a Vicarage.

Reg. Dec. & Cap. lib. A. f. 52.

As to the Church here (which is dedicated to   ) it was appropriated to the Religious Houſe of the Holy-Trinity of Hounſlow, in this County, by Gilbert Segrave, Biſhop of London, 2. Id. of May, Ann. 1316. and a Vicarage here ordain'd and endow'd, of which, the Maſter and Brethren of that Houſe were, and continu'd Patrons, till their Diſſolution in the Reign of K. Hen. VIII. after which, it remain'd in the Crown till the 33d of Eliz. (as I ſuppoſe) who by her Letters-Patents, bearing Date, April 23. that Year, gave and granted this Rectory and Pariſh-Church (inter alia) to John Aelmer, then Biſhop of London, and to his Succeſſors in that Sea, for ever, with all its Rights Rights and Appurtenances, by Virtue whereof, this impropriate Rectory, and Advowſon of this Vicarage, hath continu'd in them ever ſince.

Bromley (S. Leonard) Nunnery.

THIS Pariſh of Bromley, ſo call'd, probably, from the Saxon Word Bpom, which ſignifies Broom, and Leaʒ a Field, as much as to ſay, a Pariſh among Broom-Fields, or perhaps, the latter Term Ley, or Lea, from the River Lea, which divides the Counties of Middleſex and Eſſex, on whoſe Bank this Place is ſituate, with the Addition of S. Leonard, from an antient Monaſtery here dedicated to that Saint, call'd alſo in old Records, S. Leonard de Stratford becauſe contiguous to the Hamlet of Stratford-Bow. It is a very ſmall Pariſh in the Hundred of Oſulſton, diſtant about three Miles Eaſtward from London.

Speed, Hiſt. 814. As to the Founders of the ſaid Monaſtery, and Benefactors to it, Speed tells us, they were King Henry II. William, Biſhop of London, and that Sir Ralph Joſſiline, Knight, gave to this Monaſtery the Mannor of Bomley.

Weav. Fun. Mon. 541. Weaver tells us, that this Religious Structure was ſome time a Monaſtery, repleniſh'd with White Monks, dedicated to our Saviour Jeſus Chriſt and S. Leonard, founded by King Henry II. in the 23d of his Reign.

Whether Mr. Weaver, be under a Miſtake, in ſaying it was ſometimes repleniſh'd with White Monks, I cannot tell; but that it was a Benedictine Nunnery before the Reign of King Henry II. appears from what Mr. Tanner tells us, in

Not. Mon. 141. his Notitia Monaſtica, that this Houſe at Stratford-Bow, was a Benedictine Nunnery, dedicated to S. Leonard, and founded by William Biſhop of London, in the time of William the Conquerour. Furthermore, it appears in Monaſticon, that it was a Nunnery in King Stephen's time, by a Charter of his, granted to the Nuns

Mon. Angl. Vol. I. 443. of this Houſe, which runs thus, viz. "Stephanus Rex Angliæ Epiſcopo Elien. "Sciatis me conceſſiſſe Monialibus de Stratford in perpetuam Elemoſynam illam "donationem, quam Chriſtiana de Sumeri, & filii ejus fecerunt de terra de "Haſelingfelda, & quicquid ad illam pertinet. Quare volo, &c.

Ibidem. Richard I. by his Charter, dated at Weſtminſter, Oct. 9. in the firſt Year of his Reign, confirm'd, "Deo & Eccleſiæ Sancti Leonardi de Stratford, & Monialibus "ibidem Deo ſervientibus Eccleſiam de Northim, quam habent de donatione "Galienæ, & filii ejus Bartholomei de Danmartin, ipſius Eccleſiæ Patroni. Quare "volumus, &c.

Gilbert, 173. The ſaid Bartholomew de Danmartin, confirm'd this Gift of the Church of Northim, which his Mother Galiena gave to theſe Nuns in the time (as I gueſs)

Vid. Norton Mandevil. when Gilbert Foliot, was Biſhop of London; and Renulfus de Mandevil, who afterwards marry'd the ſaid Galiena (for ſhe gave it when ſhe was a Widow) confirm'd the ſame, after he was marry'd to her.

Ibidem. Robert de Burgate, and Galiena his Wife, gave them likewiſe "Omnes "decimas de Glarco ſuo, & de Boſco ſuo, qui vocatur Alwood in Norton; and alſo confirm'd unto them the ſaid Church (here call'd, Norton, which before was call'd Northim) which was given to them by Galiena de Danmartin, and Bartholomew her Son, which, as is intimated in the Inſtrument of Confirmation, had been confirm'd by H. Archbiſhop of Canterbury, G. and W. Biſhops of London, which I take to be Hubert Walter, Archbiſhop of Canterbury, in the time of Ric. I. Gilbert Foliot, Biſhop of London, in the Reign of Henry I. and Will. de Sancta Maria, Biſhop in the Reign of King John.

The Index Villaris cannot furniſh me with any Pariſh or Place call'd Northim, ſo nam'd in the Charter of King Ric. I. aforeſaid; neither does it appear by any thing above-written, in what County the ſaid Church of Norton (which is a very common Name of Pariſhes here in England) is; but it ſeems to be that Norton, which goes by the Name of Norton-Mandevil, in the Deanry of Ongar, and County of Eſſex; which Church hath been all along part of the Poſſeſſions of theſe Nuns of S. Leonard, and probably, after the Marriage of the aforeſaid Renulf de Mandevil, with the ſaid Galiena de Danmartin (who had an Eſtate here) it might be call'd Norton-Mandevil, to diſtinguiſh it from another Pariſh in the ſaid County, call'd, Cold Norton.

In this Abby-Church (ſaith Weaver) ſometime lay intomb'd the Body of John de Bohun eldeſt Son and Heir of Humfry Bohun, Earl of Hereford and Eſſex; which John, after the Death of his Father Humfry, was 5th Earl of Hereford, and Patron of the Abby of Lanthony, 4th Earl of Eſſex of that Surname, and 5th Lord of Brecknock. He died at Kirby-Thure in Weſtmorland, upon the Feaſt-Day of S. Fabian and S. Sebaſtian, ann. 1335. (9. Edw. III.)

This Monaſtery was valu'd at the Suppreſſion, to be worth 108 l. 1 s. 11 d. per ann. Dugd. 121 l. 16 s. Speed.

After the Diſſolution of this Monaſtery, King Henry VIII. in 32. of his Reign, April 21. granted (inter alia) the Site thereof, and the Church with its Appurtenances, and the Mannor with its Appurtenances, as alſo the Rectories with the Advowſons of the Vicarages of this Church of Bromley, and that of Iſlington, in this County, to Sir Ralph Sadler, Knight, one of his Privy-Counſellors.

32. H. VIII. p. 8.

After which, in 38. of the ſame King, there was an Exchange made between his Majeſty and the ſaid Sir Ralph, of this Mannor and Parſonage of Bromley, and many other Mannors, Lands, &c. for ſeveral Mannors, Lands, &c. elſewhere in England, granted to him in lieu thereof; in Conſideration of which Exchange, the ſaid Sir Ralph, deliver'd into the Kings Majeſty's own Hands (as it is ſaid) 500 Marks, Sterling, upon which it came to the Crown again.

Collect. Mr. J. Onſeley.

After which, Q. Eliz. in 15. of her Reign granted this Rectory and Pariſh-Church of Bromley, with the Appurtenances, to Ric. Pickman, for 21 Years; and in 28. of her Reign, granted the ſame to Ambroſe Willoughby, for 40 Years more.

The Mannor of Bromley, was alſo granted by King James I. in 17. of his Reign, to Charles, Prince of Wales, who, after he came to the Crown (to wit) in the 4th of his Reign, granted the ſame to Edward Dichfield and others, and to their Heirs.

The Church, Curacy.

As to the Church here that is Parochial, it is very ſmall, and ſeems to be only a Part of that Church, which did belong to the late diſſolv'd Monaſtery aforeſaid. It is a Donative or Curacy, and was lately in the Gift of Sir John Roberts, Knight, deceas'd, who dwelt in a goodly Houſe, built whereabouts the ſaid Monaſtery ſtood; and whilſt he liv'd, pretended this Church to be exempt from the Biſhop of London's Juriſdiction; but (with Submiſſion) without any Ground for ſuch Pretence, as I conceive, for it appears by the London Regiſtry, that the Prioreſſes of this Houſe were from time to time choſen by Licence from the Biſhop, and their Elections confirm'd by his Vicar-General, in which Elections they expreſly own'd the Biſhop of London, for the time being, for their Ordinary, Patron and Founder, and to be under his Juriſdiction, and when ſuch Elections were confirm'd, they ſwore Obedience to the ſaid Biſhop of London and his Succeſſors, whom in the very Oath, is ſtil'd, Founder and Patron of the ſaid Priory, and their Ordinary and Dioceſan.

Thus ſtood the Juriſdiction of the Biſhop, over this Houſe, before its Diſſolution; and ſince that time, the Curates (for here is neither Spiritual Rector nor Vicar) of this Church have from to time been licenc'd by the Biſhop or his Vicar-General, and appear'd at Epiſcopal Viſitations; where likewiſe the Church-wardens have alſo appear'd and been ſworn, as they conſtantly are, by the Archdeacon of Middleſex, or his Official, at his Viſitation; and the Biſhop's Commiſſary of London and Middleſex, hath the proving of Wills, and granting Adminiſtrations of ſuch as die in this Pariſh, to this very Day, and ſo hath had from time immemorial.

The Carthuſians.

Before I give an Account of this Religious Houſe, it will not be improper to ſpeak ſomething of the Order of the Carthuſian Monks; concerning whoſe Original it is related, that one Bruno, born at Cologne, of Worſhipful Parents, whilſt he gave himſelf to his Study at Paris, where he was a Profeſſor of Philoſophy, was converted to his Religion, by a dreadful Prodigy, which happen'd in our Lady-Church, at Paris, when the Body of a famous Doctor (whoſe Name was Diocre) at what time Maſs was ſaying for him, in that Church, lifted up his Head from off the Bier, and cry'd out firſt, that he was accus'd, then judg'd, and finally damn'd by the juſt Judgment of God; which did (among others) ſo terrify Bruno, who was there preſent, that prevailing with ſix of his familiar Friends (whereof two were Laicks) to bid the World adieu, they ſet forward, and came to Hugh Biſhop of Grenoble, in France, who beſtow'd on them a Place in the ſteep Mountains, call'd, Chartreuſe or Carthuſia, in Dauphine, which gave Name to this famous Order, which S. Bruno founded there, where, tho' it be a moſt diſmal, ſolitary Place, yet they began to inhabit about the Nativity of S. John Baptiſt, Anno Dom. 1084. or 1086.

Hoſp. de Orig. Mon. Lib.V.Cap.7.

But it is a Subject of Debate among the Learned Roman-Catholicks, whether the aforeſaid Prodigy was the Occaſion of Bruno's Retreat, as you may ſee in the Great Hiſt. Diction. publiſh'd by Mr. Collier, where we are likewiſe told, that Bruno was canoniz'd for a Saint, by Pope Leo X. ann. 1514.

However, this is certain, that Bruno founded this Order about the Time, and at the Place above-mention'd; to which Family, the ſaid Biſhop Hugh, not long after, joyn'd himſelf.

Then they built themſelves a Church, or rather a Monaſtery, upon the ſteepeſt Part of the Hill, which is now call'd, B. Maria de Caſalibus, and alſo little Cells at a Fountain, which to this Day is call'd, Bruno's Fountain, not far diſtant from the Church, but one ſeparated from the other, that the one might not diſquiet the Peace of the other. And in every one of theſe Cells, two Brethren dwelt together, and like the old Egyptian Monks, gave themſelves to Silence, Prayers and Reading; and at certain Hours, they labour'd with their Hands, eſpecially in writing Books, as well to provide for their Wants, as alſo that they might not give any Occaſion of Slandring their Order, to ſuch as ſought for ſuch an Occaſion, as if they did beſtow no Pains for the Church of God, but labour'd only for their own Ends.

Amongſt all the Monks, theſe obſerve the ſtricteſt Rule; for firſt their inward Garment is of Hair-Cloth, their outward is Black, and under it a white Robe, and a Cowl is the Cover of their Head. They never eat Fleſh all their Life long, not in their greateſt Weakneſs or Sickneſs; ſo that if any one will feed on Fleſh, he muſt not remain in their Cloiſter with the reſt any longer. They never Buy any Fiſh, but if they be given them, they receive them. They uſe Bread made of Bran, and Wine allay'd with Water. Many other Rules they have, which may be ſeen in Hoſpinian, ut ſupra. They propos'd to follow the Rule of S. Bennet, adding thereto ſeveral other great Auſterities.

Alexander III. confirm'd their Order, about the Year 1178. (ſome ſay 1174.) at firſt they vow'd Poverty; but afterwards, and at this Day, they are equal to the greateſt Princes for Riches.

They came firſt into England, about the Year 1180. and then ſeated at Witham, near Bath in Somerſetſhire.

Domus Carthuſiana.

THIS late diſſolv'd Monaſtery, was founded by Sir Walter de Manny, Knight, a Stranger born, Lord of the Town of Manny, in the Dioceſe of Cambray, who for Service done to King Edward III. was made Knight of the Garter. Sto. Sur. 477.

This Houſe he founded upon Occaſion of a great Peſtilence, which overſpread all England, ſo waſting the People, that ſcarce a tenth Perſon was left alive, and Church-yards were not ſufficient to receive the Dead, but Men were forc'd to chuſe certain Fields for Burials; whereupon, Ralph Stratford, Biſhop of London, ann. 1348. bought a Piece of Ground, call'd, No-Mans-Land, which he incloſ'd with a Brick-Wall, and dedicated it for the Burial of the Dead, and built thereupon a Chappel, which Stow tells us, was in his time made a Dwelling-Houſe, and the Burial-Plot was made a fair Garden, retaining the old Name of Pardon-Church-yard.

About this time, the ſaid Sir Walter de Manny, purchas'd a Piece of Ground, adjoyning to the ſaid No-Mans-Land, near S. Johns-ſtreet, call'd, Spittle-Croft, without the Bars, in Weſt-Smithfield, of the Maſter and Brethren of S. Bartholomew's Spittle, containing 13 Acres and a Rod, caus'd the ſame to be incloſ'd for Burials, and conſecrated by the ſaid Ralph Stratford, Biſhop of London, in which Place, in that Year, were more than 5000 Perſons buried, as is affirm'd by the King's Charter, and this following Inſcription, which Stow ſays, he read upon a Stone-Croſs, ſome time ſtanding in the ſame Church-yard.

Anno Dom. MCCCXLIX.

Regnante magna Peſtilentia Conſecratum fuit hoc Cæmiterium, in quo, & infra ſepta præſentis Monaſterii ſepulta fuerunt Mortuorum Corpora pluſquam Quinquaginta Millia, præter alia multa abhinc uſque ad præſens. Quorum Animabus propitietur Deus. Amen.

In Conſideration of the Number of Chriſtian People here buried, Sir Walter caus'd firſt a Chappel to be here built, where, for the Space of 23 Years, Offerings, were made, and Maſſes ſaid, for the Souls of ſo many Chriſtians departed; and it is to be noted, that above 100000 Bodies of Chriſtian People had in that Church-yard been buried; for the ſaid Knight had purchas'd that Place for the Burial of People, Travellers, and others that ſhould chance to die thereabouts, remain for ever.

But in the Year 1371. the ſaid Sir Walter de Manny, founded here a Houſe of Carthuſian-Monks, which he built in Honour of the Salutation of the Mother of God, as may be ſeen at large in King Edward III. Letters-Patents, and in the Bull of Pope Urban V. by which Bull, it appears, that Sir Walter de Manny, firſt intended here only a College of 12 Chaplains, whereof one was to preſide; but afterwards, as it is therein expreſs'd, "Bonæ Memoriæ Michael, "Epiſcopus Londinenſis, & idem Miles, prædicto Collegio nondum inſtituto "conventum duplicem Monachorum Ordinis Cartuſienſis in loco prædicto "(mutato Propoſito dicti Militis) fundaverunt. Here it is to be noted, that this Bull, which was obtain'd of the Pope, at the Petition of the Prior and Convent of this Houſe, for the uniting ſome Eccleſiaſtical Benefices to it, to the Value of 200 l. per Annnm, bear Date at Rome, on the Day before the Ides of December, in the firſt Year of his Pontificate, which was in the Year 1362. ſo, that tho' it be generally ſaid by Stow and others, that have written of this Houſe, that it was founded by Sir Walter de Manny, in the Year 1371. it appears Mon. Angl. Vol. I. p. 961.

pears plainly, by the ſaid Bull, that this Houſe of Carthuſians, was founded by the ſaid Sir Walter de Manny, and Michael (de Northburgh) Biſhop of London, and not by the ſaid Walter above; and that it was founded, and a Prior and Convent there ſettled before the Date of the ſaid Bull, which muſt be in, or before the Date of the ſaid Bull, which muſt be in, or before the Year 1362. tho' the Letters-Patents, above-mention'd, of Edward III. whereby he granted Licence to the ſaid Sir Walter de Manny, to found this Houſe of Carthuſian-Monks, and to give and aſſign to the Prior and Monks there, 20 Acres of Land, &c. together with the Chappel and other Houſes built upon the ſame, bear Date in the 45. of his Reign, on the 6th of February, which was in the Year 137$\frac{0}{1}$. from whence, I ſuppoſe, they have dated the Foundation of this Houſe.

Hiſt. Paul. 34. This Biſhop Michael (who died in 1361.) by his Will, gave 2000 l. for the Founding, Building, and Finiſhing of this Houſe of Carthuſians, according to the Form and Faſhion proper for that Order, in a certain Place call'd, New-Church-Haw, where then ſtood a Church dedicated to the Annunciation of the Bleſſed Virgin; which Place, with the Patronage thereof, he purchas'd of Sir Walter de Manny (as it is ſaid) and the ſaid Houſe, when fully perfected, he appointed that his two beſt Silver Baſons ſhould be deliver'd, to ſerve at the Altar there, with a Veſſel of Silver enamell'd (in which the Hoſt us'd to be put) as alſo another Veſſel of Silver for Holy-Water, and a Silver Bell.

Ibidem. To the better Accompliſhment of this pious Work, and moſt ample Endowment of this Houſe, he likewiſe deviſ'd all his Leaſes whatſoever, for the Term of four Years, after his Deceaſe; and moreover, all his Rents and Tenements, which he poſſeſs'd within the City of London, with whatever Reverſions he had likewiſe in that City, he likewiſe gave thereunto, for ever, ſome few excepted: Hereunto, he alſo added the total Number of all his Divinity-Books, not otherwiſe diſpoſ'd of, with the two beſt Veſtments he had, bequeathing the perpetual Patronage thereof to his Succeſſors, Biſhops of London, and deſiring, with all Humility, that they would have a ſpecial Regard to the Building and Compleating of this eminent Work.

Harp. Hiſt. Eccl. Angl. 544. Harpsfield tells us, that this Houſe was endow'd with great Privileges and Immunities, by King Edw. III. Ric. II. and other ſucceeding Princes, by which the Monks were exempted from all publick Rates and Taxes to the King.

Dugd. Bar. Tom. II. p. 150. Sir Walter de Manny (who had Summons to Parliament, among the Barons of this Realm, from the 21. Edw. III. till the 44. of that King's Reign incluſive) by his Teſtament bearing Date at London, upon S. Andrews Day, ann. 1371. bequeathed his Body to be buried in the midſt of the Choir of the Carthuſians, near Weſt-Smithfield, and ordain'd, that a Tomb of Alabaſter, with his Image, as a Knight, and his Arms thereon, ſhould be made for him like that of Sir John Beauchamp, in the Cathedral of S. Paul's, London, as a Remembrance of him, and that Men might pray for his Soul; and (among other Legacies in his ſaid Will) he appointed an old Debt, which the King ow'd him, by Bills of his Wardrobe, to be given to the Prior and Monks of this Houſe, if it could be had; and, whereas there was due to him from the Prince, from the time he had been Prince of Wales, the Sum of 100 Marks, per Annum, for his Salary, as Governor of Hardelagh-Caſtle, he bequeath'd the one half thereof, to the ſaid Prior and Monks of the Charter-Houſe, and departing this Life, upon the Thurſday following, the Feaſt of S. Hilary, in 46. Edw. III. 1371.

Weav. Fun. Mon. 433. was buried here in his own Church, much lamented (ſaith Weaver) by the King, the Nobility, and Commons of England; and his Obſequies were perform'd with great Solemnity (notwithſtanding by his Will, he had order'd his Burial to be without any great Pomp) King Edw. III. himſelf, and all his Children, with the greateſt Prelates, and Lord Barons of England being preſent.

Ibidem. His Wiſe Margaret, who was Daughter and Heir to Tho. Brotherton, Earl of Norfolk, Widow of John Lord Segrave, and in 21. Ric. II. made Dutcheſs of Norfolk, dying March 24. 1399. was likewiſe here buried, ſaith Stow, yet the Catalogue of Honour, will have her to be buried in the Minories; and Walſingham, p. 396. tells us, ſhe was buried in the Church of the Friers-Minors, in London, "Cujus Corpus in Eccleſia Fratrum minorum tumulatur.

Philip Morgan, Doctor of Law, Chancellor of Normandy, and Biſhop of Ely, a very Wiſe Man, who, with great Commendations govern'd that Sea, died died at Biſhops-Hatfield, Oct. 25. 1434. (in 1435. as in Angl. Sac. Par. I. p. 667.) was interr'd in this Church. Weav. Fun. Mon. 433.

Many Funeral Monuments were in this Church, as you may find them mention'd in the Survey of London.

This Religious Houſe was ſuppreſs'd in the Reign of King Henry VIII. at which time it was valu'd at 642 l. 4 d. half-peny, per Annum Dugd. 736 l. 2 s. 7 d. Speed.

Thus much of the Charter-Houſe, till it was ſuppreſs'd; now as it was afterwards an Hoſpital by the Name of,

SUTTON's Hoſpital.

Hearn. Dom. Carth. 83. AFter the Diſſolution, King Henry VIII. beſtow'd this Monaſtery, and that of the Holy-Trinity (now call'd Duke's-Place) in London, upon Sir Tho. Audley, Speaker of that Parliament, which diſſolv'd the Religious Houſes. It paſs'd from him to his ſole Daughter and Heireſs, Margaret, by Marriage, to Thomas Howard, Duke of Norfolk, and ſo by Deſcent, to Thomas Earl of Suffolk, of whom Thomas Sutton, Eſq; purchas'd it, by the Name of Howard-Houſe, otherwiſe call'd, the late diſſolv'd Charter-Houſe, near Smithfield, in Middleſex, conſiſting of four or five Courts, a Wilderneſs, Gardens, Orchards, and Walks thereunto belonging, with Pardon Church-yard, and the two Meſſuages adjoyning, call'd Willbeck, with all Buildings, &c. known to belong to the ſaid Houſe, or other mention'd Premiſſes, paying down for the ſame 13000 l. May 9. Jac. 9. 1611. and on the 22. of June following, ſettled an Hoſpital here, which he deſign'd before to have founded in the Pariſh of Hallingbury-Bouchiers, in Eſſex, for which he had gotten an Act of Parliament.

But afterwards, conceiving the Charter-Houſe to be a fitter Place, he by Letters-Patents, from King James, under the Great-Seal, erected it here, to be call'd, The Hoſpital of King James, founded in the Charter-Houſe, in the County of Middleſex, at the humble Petition, and only Coſt and Charges of Thomas Sutton, Eſq;, which Stile is to be inviolably obſerv'd and expreſs'd in the ſame formal Words, upon all Evidences, Conveyances, Leaſes, and Writings of Records. Ibid. 110.

After the Death of the ſaid Thomas Sutton, there being an Attempt made by Simon Baxter, the ſaid Mr. Sutton's only Siſter's Son, as next Heir of the Founder, to overthrow the Incorporation and Foundation of this Hoſpital, the Caſe, after it had been pleaded by Counſel Learned in the Law, on both ſides, was ſolemnly argu'd in the Exchequer-Chamber, by all the Judges of the Land (except the Lord Chief Juſtice of the King's-Bench, who was then Sick) and judg'd for the Defendants, the Governours of the Hoſpital; and after this, there was an Act of Parliament procur'd in the 3d of Charles I. for the Confirmation of the Settlement thereof, to put it beyond all Queſtion. Ibid. 88. Ibid. 94. Ibid. 156.

Of this Hoſpital, there are 16 Governours (of which the Maſter is always to be One) which are incorporated by the Name of, The Governours of the Lands, Poſſeſſions, Revenues and Goods of the Hoſpital of King James, founded in the Charter-Houſe, within the County of Middleſex, at the humble Petition, and only Coſt and Charges of Thomas Sutton, Eſq;. Ibid. 157.

Theſe Governours are uſually the moſt honourable Grandees of our State, and the moſt reverend Prelates of our Church; and when any of them happen to die, another is to be choſen, within two Months, by the Voices of the major Part. Ibid. 177. Ibid. 86.

This Hoſpital conſiſts of a Maſter, a Preacher, a Free-School, with a Head-Maſter and a ſecond Maſter, 80 decay'd Gentlemen, who have been Soldiers, or elſe decay'd Merchants, or aged, poor Houſholders, tho' primarily intended for old Gentlemen-Soldiers; and therefore, ſuch qualify'd Perſons, by the Orders of the Governours, are to be admitted, ten Years ſooner or younger, than other Men, who are not to be admitted, if they are under the Age of fifty. Ibid. 181.

Ibid. 186. Theſe Perſons are choſen by particular Governours, every one in their Order, only the King puts in two in his Courſe, the Queen and Duke of York, one a piece; then the Governours in their reſpective Turns, as Places happen to be vacant. This they do, by Warrant ſent to the Maſter and Regiſter of the Houſe.

Ibid. 187. There are alſo 44 Boys at School, choſen by the ſame honourable Perſons, after the ſame manner with the Penſioners; they are only capable of Admiſſion, between the Years of 10 and 15, and are to continue in the Houſe but eight Years at moſt.

Ibid. 188. Such of theſe as go to the Univerſities (of which they allow to the Number of 29) have 20 l. a piece, per Ann. duly paid quarterly, which continues eight Years; ſuch as go out Apprentices, have 40 l.

Ibid. 191. The Number now (1677.) maintain'd and kept, is above 188 Perſons, beſides the 29 Scholars at the Univerſities, and the ſtanding Council of the Houſe, and ſeveral other Perſons, who are mention'd in the firſt Eſtabliſhment, as Phyſician, Regiſter, Receiver, &c.

Sto. Sur. 581. This is the greateſt and moſt bountiful Gift, that ever at any time was given in England; no Abby (at the firſt Foundation thereof) excepted, or therewith to be compar'd, being the Gift of one Man only.

Hearn, ut ſupra, 38, &c. This moſt bountiful and magnificent Founder, Thomas Sutton, Eſq; was born at Knaith in Lincoln-ſhire, Ann. 1531. His Father was Edward Sutton, Son of Thomas Sutton, Servant to Edward IV. His Mother was Jane Stapleton, the Daughter of Rob. Stapleton, Eſq; of the moſt generous and worthy Family of the Stapletons in York-ſhire. He was brought up by Mr. Cox (afterwards Dr. Cox, Bp. of Ely) three Years at Eaton, and four Years in Magdalen and Jeſus-College, in Cambridge; ſoon after, he was plac'd a Student in Lincolns-Inn, and not long after, travell'd into forein Parts, as Spain, Italy, France, and the Low-Countries, from whence (after a Year or two ſpent in the Italian Wars) he return'd accompliſh'd with Experience and Obſervation. After which he became Steward to the Earl of Warwick, then Secretary to the Earl of Eſſex, and to both he approv'd himſelf ſo able and faithful, that they declar'd him fit for more publick Imployments; ſo that he was ſoon taken notice of, by Queen Elizabeth, and by her was made Maſter of the Ordinance, at Berwick, which Office he enjoy'd 14 Years; then he was Pay-Maſter to the Northern Army, and afterwards one of the Commiſſioners for the Sequeſtration of the Lands of the Northern Rebels ſome Years after, he became Victualler of the Navy, and ſome Gariſons in the Low-Countries; and laſtly, a Commiſſioner for Prizes, under the Earl of Notingham, Lord High-Admiral of England, who gave him Letters of Mart, againſt the Spaniard, from whom he took a Ship richly laden, worth 20000 l.

Having by theſe profitable Imploys, laid the Foundation of a good Eſtate, upon ſome Miſunderſtanding between him, and the Northern Nobility, he retires to London, to enjoy and improve it, where his Riches increas'd, and came upon him like a Tide, by the juſt Arts and Methods which he us'd; here he was made a Freeman, Citizen and Girdler of London.

He was happy in a Wife, as well as Eſtate, which was advanc'd by her, near 20000 l. She was the Lady Popham, and ſo enjoy'd the Wealth of great Rich Popham, but he had no iſſue by her.

At length, after a numerous Train of worthy and religious Actions, for his Liberality and Charity, were not altogether confin'd to this Hoſpital, as appears by his laſt Will and Teſtament, bearing Date, November 2. 1611. in a good old Age, within one of 80 Years, he died at Hackney, in Middleſex, on the 12th of December 1611. from whence he was remov'd to Dr. Law's Houſe (one of his Executors) in Pater-noſter-Row, and from thence was convey'd to his Grave, with all the Pomp and Solemnity, which might become the Funeral of ſo great a Man. Six Thouſand People attended his Corps, thro' the City, whoſe Paſſage laſted ſix Hours, till they came to Chriſt-Church, where his Body lay till his Foundation at the Charter-Houſe (which was about three Years) Anno Dom. 1614. from whence he was in a decent manner remov'd, Dec. 12. in the aforeſaid Year, to the Charter-Houſe, upon which Day, is duly kept an anniverſary Commemoration, and a Sermon is appointed, with a Gratuity to the Preacher. Thus has this Founder been brought to his Place of reſt, where, in the Chappel, on the North-ſide, is a noble Monument erected, by his Over-ſeers, with this following Inſcription, on a fair Marble-Stone, in Golden Letters.

> Sacred to the Glory of God.

> In grateful Memory of Thomas Sutton, Eſquire, late of Caſtle-Camps, in the County of Cambridge, at whoſe only Coſt and Charges, this Hoſpital was Founded and Endowed with large Poſſeſſions for the Relief of Poor Men and Children. He was born at Knaith, in the County of Lincoln, of Worthy and Honoured Parentage. He lived to the Age of 79 Years, and Deceaſed, Decemb. 12. 1611.

Thus much of this Hoſpital and its Founder, taken for the moſt part out of a larger Hiſtory of the ſame, intituled, Domus Carthuſiana, publiſh'd by Mr. Sam. Herne, Fellow of Clare-Hall (who had his Education in this Houſe) Anno Domini 1677.

Chelſey, Rectory.

I Find this Pariſh of Chelſey, written in old Records, in the London Regiſtry various ways; as Checheth, Chelchebeth, Chelchybeth, Chelchyth, Chelchith, Chechithe, Chelſeth, Chelſith, Chelſyth, and not Chelſey, till the Year 1554. and again, not after that, till the Year 1574. but from that time till now, Chelſey. The Etymologies which Authors give of it, are likewiſe various.

Skinner in his Lexicon, ſays thus of it; Chelſey in Com. Middl. q. d. Shelſsey, from Shelves of Sand, in Archivis tamen dicitur Cheche-Hyth, fort. ab A S Cealc, Calx, ſeu potius Creta, & hyð, portus, terminatio enim ey, A S. Ea, Aqum, item Terram juxta aquam ſitam notat.

Norden ſaith it is ſo call'd, of the Nature of the Place, whoſe Strand is like the Cheſel, which the Sea caſteth up of Sand and Pebble-Stones, thereof call'd Cheſelſey, briefly Chelſey, as is Chelſey in Suſſex, North of Chicheſter, which ſtandeth upon the very Edge of the Sea, as this of Chelſey, on the Thames.

And if I may offer my own Conjecture, why may not Chelchith (for ſo it is moſtly written in old Records) come from the Saxon Word Ceald or Cele, which ſignifies Cold or Coldneſs (for Ch, is one of the eight Engliſh Aſpirats, not known to the old Engliſh-Saxons, ſaith Mr. Somner) and the aforeſaid Saxon Word hyð, a Port or Haven, ſo that Chelch-hith may ſignify a cold Port or Haven, which ſeems to agree very well with the Situation of this Place, it ſtanding open on the Bank of the River Thames, which is here very wide, and in Winter very cold and bleak. But to proceed;

The Pariſh Church here (which is dedicated to S. Luke) is about two or three Miles diſtant from the Abby-Church of Weſtminſter, to the South-weſt, in the Liberty of Fineſbury and Wenlakesbarn, and ſubject to the Archdeacon.

Archid. Middleſex.

It is a Rectory, and was formerly in the Gift of the Abbot and Convent of Weſtminſter, till the Suppreſſion of that Abby, upon which it came to the Crown, and continu'd in it for ſome time, till it was otherwiſe diſpos'd of by Q. Elizabeth, as I gueſs, for in her time, viz. in 1574, and 1585. it appears to be in the Ducheſs of Sommerſet, and afterwards in the Earl of Nottingham and his Counteſs, and ſince the Reſtauration, in Charles Cheney, Eſq; afterwards Lord Cheney.

Grindall, 40. I find no Terrier of the Glebe belonging to this Rectory, in the Biſhop's Regiſtry; but there I find a Deed entred, whereby it appears, that on the 3d of May 1566. Robert Richardſon, the then Rector of this Church, granted by his Deed, to William, Marquis of Wincheſter, the Parſonage-Houſe, and two Cloſes adjoyning and belonging to it, containing 14 Acres and 22 Perches, alſo half a Rood of Meadow, and three Acres of Arable-Land, lying in the Eaſt Field of Chelſey, to hold to him, the ſaid Marquis, and his Heirs, and Aſſigns for ever, which Grant was on the next Day confirm'd by Edmund Grindall; then Biſhop of London, for which, Q. Elizabeth, by her Letters-Patents, bearing Date May 6. in the ſame Year, being the 8th of her Reign, gave Licence to the ſaid Marquis, to give and grant to the ſaid Robert Richardſon, one Cloſe of Land, with the Appurtenances, in this Pariſh of Chelſey, lying between the Lands of the ſaid Marquis on the Eaſt, and leading from Chelſey-Church Northward on the Weſt, the common Field on the North, and Mr. Hungerford's Houſe on the South, which Field contains in Breadth, from Eaſt to Weſt, 85 Foot, and in Length from North to South, 380 Foot, and a Houſe with the Appurtenances newly built upon the ſame; and alſo one other Cloſe of Arable-Land, containing 18 Acres, more or leſs, adjoyning to the Cloſe before-mention'd, lying between the Queen's Land, parcel of the Mannor, then in the Tenure of Stephen Claybroke, on the Eaſt, and the aforeſaid Cloſe on the Weſt, the common Field on the North, and the Queen's Mannor of Chelſey on the South, to hold to him and his Succeſſors, Rectors of Chelſey, for ever.

Dudg. Bar. 311. In this Church there have been ſeveral Perſons of Quality buried, as namely, Sir Edmund Bray, Knight, Lord Bray, who died about the Year 1540.

Sto. Sur. 786. Gregory, Lord Dacres, who died Sept. 25. 1594. and the Lady Ann his Wife, who died May 14. 1595. This Gregory was Son and Heir to Tho. Lord Dacres, who being found guilty of Murder, for the Death of a Man kill'd by him, or rather by his Accomplices, in a Fray, as they were going to Courſe, by Night, in Laughton-Park, in Suſſex, belonging to Nic. Pelham, Eſq;, was on the 29th of June 1541. hang'd at Tyburn, and buried afterwards in S. Sepulchres-Church, near Newgate, in London.

Ibid. Alſo the Lady Jane Guilford, Wife of John Dudley, Duke of Northumberland, (who caus'd the Lady Jane Grey to be proclaim'd Queen, and was condemn'd for Treaſon, for which he loſt his Head on Tower-Hill 22. Aug. 1. Mariæ) ſhe died January 22. 2. Mariæ 1555. and was buried in the North-Iſle of this Church.

Dugd. Bar. Tom. III. 219. But moſt famous it is for the Burial of Sir Tho. More, Lord-Chancellor of England, in the Reign of Henry VIII. who for denying the King's Supremacy, was beheaded on Tower-Hill, July 6. 1535. His Body lies on the South-ſide of the Choir of this Church, under a plain Monument, over which there is an Inſcription (made by himſelf, ſaith Weaver, who inſerts it at large) a little after he gave over his Office of being Chancellor.

Weav. Fun. Mon. 522. The Character of this ingenious and learned Lord-Chancellor, is deliver'd at large by all our late Engliſh Hiſtoriographers, as alſo by many Forein Writers, and of late in the Ath. Ox. Vol. I. p. 32. &c.

Chelſey-College.

Sto. Sur. 927. Within the Bounds and Limits of this Pariſh of Chelſey, in the Eaſtern Part thereof, King James I. by his Letters-Patents, under the Great-Seal of England, founded a College for certain Learned Divines, and incorporated the ſame, by the Name of the Provoſt and Fellows of the College of King James in Chelſey, near London, of the Foundation of the ſame James King of England, &c. and endow'd the ſame with certain Lands, Privileges and Immunities, and enabled them to receive and take, from his Majeſty, or any of his Subjects, Lands, &c. not exceeding the yearly Value of 3000 l. And the better to ſupply this College with Water, they were enabled by an Act of Parliament, in the 7th of King James, to bring it from the River Lea, by a Trench, &c.

Ibid. 531. This College was founded for Learned Divines, to be imploy'd to write, as occaſion ſhould require, for maintaining the Religion profeſs'd in his Majeſty's Kingdoms, and confuting the Impugners thereof; and Dr. Sutcliffe, the deſign'd Provoſt thereof, upon divers Promiſes of Help and Aſſiſtance, towards the Erecting and Endowing of the ſame, at his own Charge, began, and well proceeded in the Building, as appears by his Majeſty's Letter, directed to the Archbiſhop of Canterbury, for the carrying on, and perfecting the ſame.

Ful. Ch. Hiſt. Book X. p. 51, &c. Concerning this College, Mr. Fuller ſaith, that King James incorporated this Foundation, by the Name of, King James his College in Chelſey; and beſtow'd on the ſame, by his Letters-Patents, the Reverſion of good Lands in Chelſey, then in the Poſſeſſion of Charles, Earl of Nottingham, the Leaſe thereof not expiring till 30 Years after, or thereabouts.

The Fabrick of this College was begun on a piece of Ground call'd, Thameſhott, containing about ſix Acres, and then in the Poſſeſſion of Charles, Earl of Nottingham, who granted a Leaſe of his Term, to the ſaid Provoſt, at the yearly Rent of vii l. x s. King James laid the firſt Stone thereof, and gave all the Timber, requiſite thereunto, which was to be fetch'd out of Windſor-Foreſt; notwithſtanding which, that long Range of Building, which alone (was lately) extant and ſcarce ever finiſh'd, and was not an eighth Part of what was intended, coſt (ſaith Mr. Fuller) as he was inform'd 3000 l.

None, who were actual Biſhops, were capable of Places in this College, and when ſome of theſe were afterwards advanc'd to Biſhopricks, others tranſlated to Heaven, King James by his Letters-Patents, 1622. Nov. 14. ſubſtituted others in their Rooms, among whom the Archbiſhop of Spalato (but then no more than Dean of Windſor in England) was moſt Remarkable.

To advance this Work, his Majeſty, Anno 1616. ſent his Letters to the Archbiſhop of Canterbury to ſtir up all the Clergy in his Province, to contribute to ſo pious a Work; a copy of which his Grace ſent to the ſeveral Biſhops of his Province, with an Additional Letter of his own; yet for all theſe hopeful Endeavours and Collections, in all the Pariſhes of England, ſlow and ſmall were the Sums of Money brought in to this Work.

My Author gives us the various Conjectures of Men, concerning what was the Obſtruction of ſo hopeful Proceedings, but being but Conjectures, I omit them, and ſhall only add what he farther ſays: That it was decreed in Chancery, by the joynt Conſent of Dr. Dan. Featly, the third Provoſt of this College, and Dr. John Prideaux, the ſurviving Feoffee intruſted in Dr. Sutcliff's Will, that the aforeſaid Farms of Kingſton, Hazzard and Appleton, ſhould return again to the Poſſeſſion of Mr. Halce, as the Heir-general to the ſaid Dr. Sutcliffe, and that there was a Controverſie about the College it ſelf, coſtly Suits being commenc'd betwixt the Lord Mountjoy (who marry'd the Widow of the aforeſaid Earl of Nottingham) and the then Provoſt thereof, about the Title of the very Ground, whereon it was ſituate. Ibid. 53. Ibid. 55.

What became of this Suit, I find not, but I have been inform'd, that at laſt there remaining not Fellows enough to continue the Corporation, the Land on which this College was to be built, fell to the Crown; after which, it was leas'd out for Years, and King Charles II. after his Reſtauration, gave it to the Royal-Society, who bought out the remaining Term of the Leaſes, and having kept it for ſome Years to little purpoſe, ſold it to Sir Stephen Fox, who (I ſuppoſe) purchas'd it for the ſaid King Charles II.

Chelſey-Hoſpital.

THIS Place being again in the Crown, King Charles II. cauſ'd the old Buildings to be pull'd down, and erected there a Royal-Hoſpital, for the Maintenance of old and maim'd Soldiers: it was for the moſt part built in his time, and in a manner, finiſh'd and furniſh'd by King James II. but ſettled ſince the Revolution.

It is ſo noble a Structure now, and ſo well accommodated with Out-houſes, Gardens, Walks, &c. and all things neceſſary, both for Uſe and Pleaſure, as perhaps, all Europe can ſcarce boaſt of the like, for ſuch a purpoſe.

The Chappel of this Hoſpital (which is a very large and ſtately one, as is alſo the Hall, which is of the ſame Dimenſions) is 108 Foot long, and 37 Foot and nine Inches wide, to which there is a Cemitery or Burying-Place belonging, wall'd Round with Brick, containing 542 Foot four Inches in Length, and 105 Foot in Breadth. Theſe were both conſecrated by the Right Reverend Father in God, Henry, Lord Biſhop of London, on Sunday, Aug. 30. 1691. In the Sentence of Conſecration of the Chappel, are ſpecially reſerv'd, the Rights of the Mother-Church of Chelſey, to the Rector and his Succeſſors, for ever, in all Tyths, Profits, Privileges and Emoluments whatſoever, formerly belonging to the ſaid Church and Rectors thereof, by Law or Cuſtom; and there is alſo reſerv'd to the Biſhop of London and his Succeſſors, and their Officers and Miniſters, and to the Archdeacon of Middleſex, and his Succeſſors, all manner of Right, Juriſdiction, Power and Authority, in as ample Manner and Form, as they and their Predeceſſors reſpectively enjoy'd the ſame, before the Building of this Royal-Hoſpital.

The Reſervation of the Rights of the Sea of London and the Church of Chelſey, are expreſs'd to be reſerv'd in the Order for the Conſecration, under the Sign-Manuel, ſubſcrib'd by the Earl of Nottingham, then Principal Secretary of State.

There are two Chaplains which are to officiate here in Divine Offices, for whom there is provided a competent Maintenance, who are from time to time to be approv'd, admitted, and licenſ'd by the Biſhop of London, for the time being, or his Chancellor.

Chiſwick, Vicarage.

THE Pariſh-Church of Chiſwick, or Cheſwick (which is dedicated to S. Nicolas) is ſituate up the River of Thames, on the North-ſide thereof, diſtant about ſeven Miles Weſt-South-Weſt from London, in the Liberties of Finesbury and Wenlakesbarne.

Here is a Mannor that belongs to the Prebendary of Chiſwick, in the Cathedral-Church of S. Paul, which together, with the Manſion-Houſe, and all the Mannors, Meſſuages, Lands, Tenements, Rents, Reverſions, Services, Leaſes, &c. Courts, Profits of Courts, &c. is lett to the Dean and Chapter of Weſtminſter, and hath been ſo ever ſince Q. Elizabeth's Reign, which Leaſe was laſt renew'd to them, March 2. 1684. for three Lives, by the preſent Prebendary of Chiſwick, where there is a fair Houſe, whereunto, in the time of any common Plague or Sickneſs, as alſo to take the Air in the Summer time, the Scholars of Weſtminſter-School do uſually withdraw.

Here is alſo another Mannor, call'd the Deans-Mannor, belonging to the Church of S. Paul; the Dean and Chapter whereof, are Lords of the ſaid Mannor, and Rectors of the Church; lett out the great Tyths and the Mannor by Leaſe, collate to the Vicarage, and are Ordinaries of the Place. Pec. Dec. & Cap.

Pat. 23. Ed. III. p. 1. In 1349. John de Bray had the King's Licence to give half an Acre of Ground to enlarge the Church-yard.

William Bordale (whom Weaver calls Boydale) Vicar of this Church, built the Steeple, as appears by the following Inſcription that was on his Grave-

Stone, in this Church. Hic jacet Willimus Bordale Principalis Vicari. hujus Ecclie, & fundator campanitis ejuſdem. Qui Obiit XV. die Meſſ. Octobri, Anno Domini MCCCCXXXV. cujus aie. propitietur Deus. Amen.

S. Clement Danes, Rectory.

THIS Pariſh-Church (dedicated to S. Clement) is a Rectory, and is ſituate in the Liberty of the Dutchy of Lancaſter. It ſtands without Temple-Bar, Weſtward, and therefore written in old Records, Eccleſia Sancti Clementis Dacorum extra Barras novi Templi London. It is call'd S. Clements Danes, becauſe Harold a Daniſh King, and other Danes, were buried there. It is ſubject to the Archdeacon.

Archid. Mid.

Which Harold, for his Swiftneſs, ſurnam'd Harefoot, the Son of Canute, by Algiva of Northampton (tho' ſome ſpeak doubtfully, as if ſhe bore him not, but had him of a Shoomaker's Wife, as Swain before of a Prieſt; others of a Maid-Servant, to conceal her Barrenneſs) in a great Aſſembly at Oxford, was by Duke Leofric and the Mercians, with the Londoners, according to his Father's Teſtament, elected King; but after he had reign'd three or four Years, he died at London, ſome ſay at Oxford, and was buried at Wincheſter. But afterwards, Hardicanutus, Son of Canutus, by Q. Emma, in Revenge of the ſaid Harold's expelling the ſaid Emma out of the Realm, and murdering his Brother Alured, commanded the Body of Harold to be dug out of the Earth, and to be thrown into the Thames, where it was by a Fiſher-man taken up, and convey'd to a Church-yard in London, belonging to the Danes, and there interr'd again with Honour.

Milt. Hiſt. of Engl. 318.

Others ſay, that the Danes, after having deſtroy'd the Monaſtery of Chertſey, continuing in their Fury throughout the whole Land, deſirous at length to return home into Denmark, were (by the juſt Judgment of God) all ſlain in London, in a Place, which is call'd, the Church of the Danes.

Sto. Sur. 492.

King Henry II. gave (inter alia) to the Knights-Templers, this Church of S. Clement Danes, without the City of London.

Mon. Angl. Vol. II. 552.

But ſoon after the Diſſolution of that Order, the Advowſon of this Church, it ſeems, came to the Canons-Regular of the Church of the Holy Sepulchre, in Warwick, who had likewiſe in this Pariſh five Meſſuages, one Carucate of Land, and x s. x d. yearly Rent (which Meſſuages and Lands, I take to be that third Part of the Temple, which was formerly call'd the Outer-Temple, lately Eſſex-Houſe.) Theſe Premiſſes the Prior and Canons of the Holy Sepulchre, exchang'd away unto (†) Walter Stapleton, Biſhop of Exeter, to the uſe of his Biſhoprick, Antiq. Warw. 364.

(†) This Walter Stapleton, a Man Learned and Wiſe, and of great Parentage, was conſecrated Biſhop of Exeter, March 18. 1307. was greatly in Favour with King Edw. II. who made him firſt of his Privy-Council, then Lord-Treaſurer of England, and imploy'd him in divers Embaſſies, and other Buſineſs of great Importance; but at laſt, for his Loyalty to his Maſter, who had committed to him the Cuſtody of London, during his Abſence, in his Journey to Briſtol, was by the Commons (who altogether favour'd his Queen's Party) then approaching towards London, violently ſet upon, drawn into Cheapſide, and there, with his Brother, Sir Ric. Stapleton, beheaded by them, and his Body they baſely buried in a Heap of Sand, in the Back-ſide of this his own Houſe, where it lay for a while, but was afterwards taken from thence, and with all Funeral-Pomp, convey'd to Exeter, and ſolemnly interr'd there. [Godw. de Præſul. Exon.]

Biſhoprick, for eight Acres of Land in Snitfield, in the County of Warwick, and the Advowſon of the Church there, in the 17th of Edw. II. This being done, the Right of Advowſon of this Church of S. Clement, became inveſted thereby, in the Biſhops of Exeter, as did alſo the reſt of the Premiſſes, which the ſaid Biſhop Stapleton converted to a Houſe for himſelf and Succeſſors, Sto. Sur. 489. Biſhops of Exeter, whence it was for many Years after call'd, Exeter-Houſe; ſince that, Paget-Houſe, becauſe, William, Lord Paget, enlarg'd and poſſeſs'd it; then Leiceſter-Houſe, from Robert Dudley, Earl of Leiceſter, who new builded there; and at laſt, Eſſex-Houſe, of the Earl of Eſſex his Lodging there; but of late, pull'd down and built into Streets and Tenements.

1. Ed. VI. p. 6. The ſaid Biſhop and his Succeſſors, Biſhops of Exeter, continu'd Patrons of this Church, till the Reign of Edw. VI. who in the firſt of his Reign, granted the Advowſon thereof, to Edward, Duke of Somerſet, but it ſoon after devolv'd to the Crown again, by his Attainder, and remaining there for ſome time, Queen Elizabeth, at length, granted the ſaid Advowſon to William Cecil, Lord Burghley, in whoſe Family it hath continu'd ever ſince.

Fitzjames, 118. By a Compoſition made, May 1. 1517. between William Holgill, the then Maſter, and the Chaplains and Fellows of the Hoſpital of the Savoy (not long before erected in this Pariſh) on the one Part, and James Fitzjames, the then Rector of this Church, on the other: It was agreed, That the Maſter, Chaplains, and Fellows of the ſaid Hoſpital, ſhould for the future, receive all the Tyths, &c. and other Eccleſiaſtical Emoluments, due from all ſuch Perſons as did inhabit within the Limits and Precincts of the ſaid Hoſpital, and were before this Compoſition, payable to the Rector of S. Clement, and in lieu thereof, ſhould pay to the ſaid Rector and his Succeſſors yearly, and every Year, at the Feaſts of S. Michael the Archangel, and the Annunciation of the Bleſſed Virgin, by equal Portions, the Sum of xxvi s. viii d. and that the Burden of Adminiſtring all Sacraments and Sacramentals, to the Inhabitants within the Precincts of the ſaid Hoſpital, ſhould lie upon the ſaid Maſter and his Succeſſors; and the ſaid Rector and his Succeſſors, ſhould be exonerated from the ſame, which Compoſition was made perpetual, and confirm'd by Richard Fitzjames, then Biſhop of London.

I find no Terrier of the Glebe belonging to this Church in the London Regiſtry, Bonner, 384. but in the 2d and 3d of the Reign of Philip and Mary, Joh. Rixman, Clerk, then Rector thereof, leas'd out to James Baſſet, Eſq;, for the Term of fourſcore Years, at the Rent of 40 s. per Ann. that Meſſuage, Curtelage and Garden, ſituate over-againſt the Hoſpital of Savoy, lately in the Poſſeſſion of Sir Thomas Palmer, Kt. attainted for High-Treaſon, in the firſt of Q. Mary, excepted and fore-priz'd one Houſe, call'd the Parſonage-Houſe, wherein one Francis Nicolas then dwelt.

To the aforeſaid Sir Thomas Palmer, King Edw. VI. in the 6th of his Reign, granted the Advowſon of this Rectory and Pariſh-Church of S. Clement, and with it, in all likelihood, the aforeſaid Meſſuage, Curtelage and Garden, Sto. Sur. 493. which Stow ſays] but probably by Miſtake) belong'd to the Parſon of S. Martin in the Fields, and by Compoſition, came to Sir Thomas Palmer, in the Reign of King Edw. VI. who began to build the ſame of Brick and Timber, very large and ſpacious; but afterwards, was far more beautifully increas'd by Sir William Cecil, Baron of Burghley, Lord-Treaſurer, and great Counſellor of State, whence it was then call'd, Cecil-Houſe, and after that, Exeter-Houſe, from his Son and Heir, Thomas, created Earl of Exeter, 3. Jac. But preſently after, Doctors-Commons, upon S. Bennets-Hill, London, being burnt down in the dreadful Fire of London, 1666. this Houſe was taken by the Society of the Doctors of the Civil-Law, where, till the Year 1672. (that Doctors-Commons was rebuilt) the Civilians lodg'd, and kept their Courts of Arches, Admiralty and Prerogative; but now of late, this Houſe is turn'd into an Exchange, and call'd, Exeter-Exchange.

Ibid. 889. In 1608. upon 26 Foot of the Church-yard in Length, and 20 Foot in Breadth, taken in at the Eaſt-End of the Church, was built a very fair Chancel, the Charge of this Building and Repairing, amounting to the Sum of 1000 l. and upwards.

In the Year 1616. was laid out upon the Steeple, in Repairing and Enlarging it, with ſome other needful things in the Church, 496 l.

And not long after the Fire of London, the Steeple being faulty, was endeavour'd to be repair'd, but it being found too weak to ſupport what they had begun, they were fain to take it wholly down, and to erect a new Steeple, from the Foundation, which was finiſh'd in the Year 1669. and not many Years after, the whole Church being very old and ruinous, was pull'd down, and a new one built from the Foundation, for the moſt part, if not wholly, at the Charge of the Pariſhioners, which was finiſh'd, Anno Domini 1680.

Reg. Lond.

The Inhabitants of this Pariſh, about the Year 1638. purchas'd their new Church-yard, near Little-Lincolns-Inn Fields, as appears by a Commiſſion for a Rate to wall it in, dated in July that Year, granted to them by Dr. William Juxton, then Biſhop of London, and on the 20th of Octob. 1674. Biſhop Henchman, granted them a Licence to build ſome Houſes and Steps on part of the North-ſide of the ſame.

In this Church, on the South-ſide of the High-Altar, under a Tomb of Marble, inlaid with Braſs, was buried the Body of John Arundel, Biſhop of Exeter; he died at the Houſe belonging to the Biſhop's of Exeter, in this Pariſh, March 15. 1503. THIS Pariſh of Cranford, is ſo nam'd of the Ford or Brook, call'd by the Name of Crane (ſaith Norden) that runs by it; it lies in the Hundred of Elthorne, about 12 or 13 Miles Weſtward from London; is ſubject to the Archdeacon, and is a Rectory.

Mon. Angl. Vol. II. 543.

Pat. 4. Ed. II.

As to the Mannor here, it was given by John de Cranford, to the Knights-Templers; for thus I find it among the Gifts to that Order and the Hoſpitallers, viz. " John de Craunford dedit dominium & villam de Craunford cum pertinentiis; and as to the Pariſh-Church (which is dedicated to) it ſeems to be an appendant to the Mannor; for I find that Walter de Sutton had the King's Letters of Preſentation to the Church of Cranford, in the Dioceſe of London, on the March 18. 1310. as belonging to the King, by reaſon the Lands of the Knights-Templers were in the King's Hands; ſoon after which, that Order being diſſolv'd, their Lands, &c. were given to the Knights-Hoſpitallers of S. John of Jeruſalem, in England; and tho' for ſome time after that, the Advowſon of this Church appears to be in other Hands, yet at laſt, both the Mannor and Advowſon of the Church came to that Order. And in 1363. the Prior of S. John of Jeruſalem, preſented to it, from which time (ſaving only when it was granted by themſelves, to others, on certain Terms) the Right of Patronage continu'd in the ſaid Priors, till their Suppreſſion, as hereafter will appear.

34. Hen. VIII. p. 10.

2. Jac. I. p. 7.

16. Jac. I. p. 6.

After which, King Henry VIII. in 34. of his Reign, granted this Mannor and Advowſon, to William, Lord Windſor; and King James I. in 2d of his Reign, granted this Advowſon to Sir Roger Aſton, Knight, and laſt of all, both the Mannor and Advowſon were granted by the ſame King in the 16th of his Reign, to Elizabeth, Lady Berkeley, and to her Heirs, to be held in capite; which Lady Berkeley, was Mother of George, Lord Berkeley, Father of George, Earl of Berkeley, the preſent Patron of this Church, 1688.

There are 14 Acres of Glebe belonging to this Church, as appears by a Terrier exhibited in 1610. Bund. Midd.

Pecul. Dec. & Cap.

THIS Pariſh of Drayton, commonly call'd, Weſt-Drayton, is in the Hundred of Elthorne, about 14 or 16 Miles diſtant, Weſt from London, and as to Matters Eccleſiaſtical, is a Peculiar belonging to the Juriſdiction of the Dean and Chapter of S. Pauls, where they are now only Ordinaries; but before the Reformation, in King Henry VIII. time, were both Ordinaries of the Place, Proprietaries and Rectors of the Pariſh-Church (which is dedicated to S. Martin) and Patrons of the Vicarage.

Hiſt. Paul. 5. Among the ſeveral Lordſhips, wherewith King Athelſtan, very amply endowed the Cathedral-Church of S. Paul, this of Drayton was one, of which, in Domeſday-Book it is thus recorded;

The Canons of S. Paul's, hold Drayton. It is rated or taxed at x. Hides, the Arable-Land at vi. Carucates. To the Demeſnes, belong five Hides, and one Carucate. There the Villans have ten Carucates; there eight Villans have two Hides, and ſix Bordars have xxx. Acres, and two Cotars have four Acres, and one Bordar hath five Acres. There is one Mill, rented at thirteen Shillings and five Pence. One Acre of Meadow, Paſture for the Cattle of the Village. There is one Pool made, thirty and two Pence Rent. In the whole Value, it is worth ſix Pounds, when in the time of King Edward it was worth eight Pounds. This Mannor lay and ſtill lies in the Lordſhip of S. Paul.

In the often mention'd Inquiſition, made of the Churches and Mannors belonging to the Church of S. Paul, London, Anno 1181. the State of this Church and Mannor of Drayton, was return'd as followeth;

Reg. Dec. & Cap. lib. B. f. 27. “ Eccleſia de Drayton eſt in dominio Canonicorum, & reddit annuam

In 7th Edw. II. the Canons of S. Paul's, had this Immunity granted unto them throughout all their Mannors, that no Purveyor of the King's ſhould take any Corn within the Precincts of them, among which this of Drayton is nam'd for one.

Hiſt.Paul.18.

Thus ſtood the State and Condition of this Church and Mannor, from the time of King Henry II. and as to its Immunity from Edw. II. (for ought I can find) down to the Reign of King Henry VIII. who about the time of the general Suppreſſion of Religious Houſes, getting into his Hands (inter alia) ſeveral Mannors and Lands, &c. belonging to the Dean and Chapter of S. Paul's, by way of Exchange, or otherwiſe, got this of Drayton, among the reſt, and having ſo done, in 37. of his Reign, granted this Lordſhip and Mannor, and alſo the Rectory and Pariſh-Church, and Advowſon of the Vicarage, with their Appurtenances, to Sir William Paget, Knight, then one of the Principal Secretaries of State.

37. H. VIII. p. 3.

The ſaid King having before this, viz. in 31. of his Reign, made Weſtminſter a Biſhoprick, and allotted the whole County of Middleſex (the Pariſh of Fulham, only excepted) for its Dioceſe, this Pariſh and Church from being an Exempt or Peculiar to the Dean and Chapter of S. Paul's, was become ſubject to that new Biſhop, and ſo continu'd, till Edw. VI. by his Letters Patents, bearing Date, Apr. 1. in the 4th of his Reign, diſſolv'd that Biſhoprick, and by Vertue thereof, uniting the County of Middleſex again to the Dioceſe of London, made this Pariſh of Drayton (as well as other Exempts) by Name, ſubject to the Biſhop of that Sea, which afterwards Queen Mary, by her Letters-Patents of the 4th of March, in the firſt of her Reign confirm'd. But afterwards the Juriſdiction of this Place, as to Matters Eccleſiaſtical (tho' neither the Mannor, Rectory, nor Advowſon of the Vicarage) was again, it ſeems, reſtor'd to the ſaid Dean and Chapter of S. Paul's, whereby they (as formerly) became Ordinaries of the Place, and ſo continu'd.

Bonner, 275.

Ibid. 375.

As to the Mannor and Parſonage of Drayton, granted as aforeſaid, to the ſaid Sir Will. Paget, by King Henry VIII. notwithſtanding the ſaid Grant, they ſeem again to be in the Hands of the ſaid Dean and Chapter of S. Paul's, for King Edw. VI. in the firſt of his Reign (but neither the Day nor Month are ſpecify'd in what I have ſeen) made an Exchange with the ſaid Dean and Chapter, whereby they aſſign'd to his Majeſty (inter alia) this Mannor and Parſonage of Drayton, in Exchange (inter alia) for the Parſonage of Charing, in the County of Kent. The Iſſues, Revenues and Profits of which Mannor of Drayton, the King was to have from the Feaſt of S. Michael the Archangel, in the 37. of the late King Henry VIII. and in Recompence thereof, the ſaid Dean and Chapter were to have the Profits of the ſaid Parſonage of Charing, from the ſaid Feaſt, in the ſame Year; but be this as it will, the ſaid King Edw. VI. in the ſame firſt Year of his Reign, on the 21. of March, granted ſeveral Mannors (tho' not this of Drayton) to the ſaid Sir Will. Paget; but confirm'd Free Warren to the ſaid Sir William and his Heirs, in this Mannor of Drayton by Name, as well as in other Mannors he had then granted to him.

Coll. Magiſt. J. Ouſeley.

Beſides, the ſaid Sir William Paget and his Heirs (ſaving only ſome few Years at the latter End of Queen Elizabeth's Reign, by the Attainder of Thomas, Lord Paget) have enjoy'd this Mannor, Parſonage, and Advowſon of the Vicarage, down to this time; and on the 30th of April 1558. had a Clerk admitted to this Vicarage, at his the ſaid Sir William's Preſentation, being then Lord Paget of Beaudſert (to which Honour he was advanc'd 4. Edw. VI.) and Lord Privy-Seal; but he dying in 1563. and alſo his eldeſt Son Henry (who ſucceeded him in his Honour) dying in 1568. or 1569. without Iſſue Male, the Honour came to Thomas, his Brother, who being zealouſly affected to the Romiſh Religion, and fearing to be entrapp'd by the ſubtle Artifices of Robert, Earl of Leiceſter, and Secretary Walſingham, got into France, and ſome Diſcoveries being made by Letters, which betray'd his well-Wiſhes to the Queen of Scots, he was for that, in the 29. of Elizabeth attainted in Parliament, after which, in 32. Elizabeth he died at Bruxells, leaving William, his Son and Heir, who was reſtor'd to his Lands and Honour in the Parliament, held 1. Jac. I.

Dugd. Bar. Tom. III. p. 390.

This William, Lord Paget, dying about the end of Auguſt 1628. was buried with his Anceſtors, viz. the firſt William and Henry, Lord Paget his eldeſt Son, in this Church of Drayton, and laſt William, Lord Paget, who ſucceeded him in his Honour, and ſince the Reſtauration of King Charles II. preſented to this Church, who is ſince alſo deceas'd, leaving William, Lord Paget, his Son and Heir, to Inherit his Honour and Eſtate.

Edgware, Curacy.

THIS Pariſh of Edgware or Edgeworth, conſiſteth of one main Street, the Weſt-ſide whereof belongeth to Little-Stanmore, call'd alſo Whitechurch; the other Part hath a Church in it ſelf: ƿorþ in the Saxon Tongue, ſignifieth a Place fruitful, and fit in regard of the apt Situation thereof, to be inhabited. This ƿorþ ſtanding in the very Edge of the Shire, may be call'd Edgeworth, of ſome (but corruptly) Edgeware. Thus Norden in Middleſex.

Archid. Commiſſar. Midd. It lies in the Hundred of Goare, about 10 Miles Northweſtward from London, and is ſubject to the Archdeacon of Middleſex, ſaving only as to Wills and Adminiſtrations, which belong to the Commiſſary.

As to the Church here (which is dedicated to) it is very ſmall and is a Donative or Curacy, in the Gift of the Lord Coventry, and to whom he gives it, the Cure is committed by the Biſhop of London, or his Chancellor. 33. Hen. VIII. p. 11. The Rectory did formerly belong to the Priory of S. John of Jeruſalem, and in 34. Henry VIII. was granted by that King, to John Williams and others.

I find this Church charg'd with 13 s. 4 d. Procurations to the Archdeacon, and 3 s. 5 d. Synodals, but with no Firſt-Fruits and Tenths to the King, nor with any Procurations to the Biſhop.

Edmonton, Vicarage.

THIS Pariſh of Edmonton (variouſly written in old Records, viz. Edelmethon, Edelmeton, and Eddmedon) is about ſeven Miles diſtant, North from London, and gives Name to the Hundred wherein it lies, viz. Edmonton-Hundred. Archid. Commiſſar. Midd. It is ſubject to the Archdeacon, ſaving only as to Wills and Adminiſtrations, which belong to the Commiſſary.

As to the Church here (which is dedicated to All-Saints) Galfry de Mandevil, Mon. Angl. Vol. I. p. 459. Earl of Eſſex, (Founder of the Abby of Walden, in Eſſex, Anno 1136.) gave this Church of Edmunton (among ſeveral others) to that Monaſtery, which in proceſs of time, it ſeems, was appropriated to the ſame, and thereupon a Vicarage here ordain'd and endow'd; the Patronage whereof continu'd in the Abbot, and of that Religious Houſe, till its Suppreſſion, in the Reign of Henry VIII. who, in the 30th Year of his Reign, granted this Rectory and Pariſh-Church to Thomas, Lord Andley, after which, in the 36th of his Reign, it was granted to the Dean and Chapter of S. Paul's, and to their Succeſſors for ever, in pure and perpetual Alms; by Vertue of which, they continue Proprietaries of the Rectory, and Patrons of the Vicarage to this Day.

30.Hen.VIII. p. 5.
36.Hen.VIII. p. 21.

Galfry de Mandevil, eldeſt Son to aforeſaid Galfry, for the Enlargement of his own Demeſnes at Edelmeton, did unjuſtly take away from that Parochial-Church, a large and fruitful Field, which was part of the Glebe adjoyning thereunto.

Mon. Angl. Vol.I. p.451.

Peter Fanelour (the ſame, as I take it, who was one of the Founders of Guild-Hall Chappel, in London) built a Chappel in this Church, in which there was a Chantry founded of two Prieſts, to pray for his Soul, and the Souls of all the faithful deceas'd, and was to be call'd Peter Fanelour's Chantry. The Patronage whereof was inveſted in the Vicar of this Church, and his Succeſſors, and was endow'd with about 20 Marks per Annum, to be paid out of certain Houſes in London. This Chantry was founded ſomewhat before the Year 1385. for on the 15th of March, that Year, one John Holme was inſtituted to it, as void by the Death of Tho. Byeſton, and perhaps, on or about the Year 1368. about which time the ſaid Peter Fanelour died.

Gilbert, 203.
Braybroke, 52.
Guild-Hall College.

In this Pariſh (as appears by the Charter of King Henry III.) there were 42 Acres of Arable-Land, one Acre of Meadow, with the Appurtenance, 15 s. 6 d. yearly Rent, and half a Pound of Pepper given by Ralph de Hierun, and William de Thruſſe, and William de Berking, to the Priory of the Holy-Trinity in London.

Southſtreet Chappel.

Grindall, 402. J*Ohn Weld*, Eſq; having a Houſe in this Pariſh, call'd Arnolds, about two Miles diſtant from the Mother-Church, for the more Eaſe and Convenience of his Family and Neighbours, living in the Hamlets or Wards, call'd Southſtreet and Bows, within this Pariſh, built a Chappel to his Houſe, containing 42 Foot in Length, and 20 Foot in Breadth, which was conſecrated on the 24th of May, Anno Domini 1615. by Dr. John King, then Biſhop of London; and by the Sentence of Conſecration, it was decreed to be call'd, for ever the, Chappel of John Weld, Eſquire. In which Sentence, Power was reſerv'd to the Founder, his Heirs and Aſſigns, to nominate a fit Perſon to Officiate in the ſaid Chappel, and to beſtow it upon him, he having firſt deſir'd the Aſſent and Conſent of the Vicar of the Mother-Church, for the time being, after which he was to be approv'd and licens'd by the Biſhop, or his Chancellor. It is alſo provided by the ſaid Sentence, that the Inhabitants of the ſaid Houſe, call'd Arnolds, and the two before-mention'd Hamlets or Wards, ſhall at the Feaſt of Eaſter, every Year, receive the Sacrament of the Lords Supper, in the Mother-Church of Edmunton, and not in this Chappel, without a ſpecial Licence for that purpoſe, firſt had and obtain'd from the Biſhop or his Vicar-General. Alſo, that none of the ſaid Inhabitants were to be baptiz'd or marry'd in the ſaid Chappel, without Licence from the Vicar of the Mother-Church, or unknown, or againſt the Will of the Poſſeſſor, for the time being, of the ſaid Houſe, call'd Arnolds. Likewiſe that the ſaid John Weld, Eſq; his Heirs and Aſſigns, and the Inhabitants of the ſaid Wards, were from time to time to maintain a Chaplain to Officiate in the ſaid Chappel, and to allow him xiii l. vi s. viii d. per Annum at leaſt; and laſt of all, that the ſaid Founder, his Heirs and Aſſigns ſhould pay the ſame Fees for burying any of their Family, in this Chappel, that they were by Law or Cuſtom to have paid, if they had buried them in the Chancel of their Mother-Church.

Enfield, Vicarage.

THIS Pariſh of Enfield, Enefeld, Enfyld, or Enfeld, is in the Hundred of Edmunton, diſtant about nine Miles from London, to the North. It is ſubject to the Archdeacon, ſaving only as to Wills and Adminiſtrations, which belong to the Commiſſary.

Archid. Com. Midd.

It is call'd (ſaith Norden) of ſome Enſen, and ſo recorded in regard of the fenny Situation of ſome Part thereof, upon the Marſhes, or Meeriſh Ground, which (tho' now brought to be good Meadow and profitable Paſture) hath been in time paſt Fenny, thereof taking the Name Enſen or Inſen, now Enfield.

As to the Church here (which is dedicated to) it was given by Galfr. de Mandevil, to his Abby of Walden, as that of Edmonton was, and like that appropriated to the ſame Monaſtery, in all likelihood, much about the ſame time, and a Vicarage here thereupon ordain'd and endow'd. The Patronage whereof continu'd in the Abbot and Convent of that Houſe, till the Diſſolution thereof in King Henry VIII. time, who beſtowing the Temporalities of that Monaſtery upon Thomas, Lord Audley, he thereupon became Patron of this Vicarage, and preſented to it in 1540. "Ratione donationis & con-"ceſſionis temporalium diſſoluti Monaſterii de Walden eidem Domino Thomæ, as the Record hath it. But in the Year 1545. the King, as the undoubted Patron thereof, preſented to it, but by what means it came again into the King's Hands, I have not found; but it being ſo, the King having founded Trinity-College in Cambridge, and endowing the ſame, in 38. of his Reign (inter alia) aſſign'd this Parſonage of Enfield, and Advowſon of the Vicarage, late Parcel of the Poſſeſſions of the late Lord Audley (as it is mention'd in the Record) to the Maſter, Fellows, and Scholars of the ſaid College, as part of its Endowment, in whom the Premiſſes have continu'd ever ſince.

Archid. Middleſex. THIS Pariſh is in the Hundred of Spelthorne, about 12 or 15 Miles South-weſtward from London, and is ſubject to the Archdeacon.

Mon. Angl. Vol. II. 381. The Church here (dedicated to) was given to the Hoſpital of S. Giles in the Fields (in old Records, written S. Giles without London) by Hawyſia, Counteſs of Rumaze, which Gift (inter alia) was confirm'd by King Henry II.

The ſaid Hoſpital of S. Giles, being but a Cell to the Hoſpital of Burton S. Lazar of Jeruſalem, in Leiceſterſhire, the Maſter and Brethren thereof, became the Cuſtodes or Wardens of the ſaid Hoſpital of S. Giles, and as ſuch were the Patrons of this Church; which in Proceſs of time, being appropriated, as it ſeems, to the ſaid Hoſpital of S. Giles, here was a Vicarage thereupon ordain'd and endow'd, of which they continu'd Patrons, till the Diſſolution; after which, King Henry VIII. in the 36. of his Reign, granted this Rectory, and Pariſh-Church, and Advowſon of the Vicarage, with the Appurtenances (as he did alſo at the ſame time the whole Hoſpital of S. Giles aforeſaid, with its Appurtenances) to the Lord Dudley. But how the Advowſon of this Vicarage came from him ſo ſoon (being the next Year after) to Andrew Bury, Gent, who in the very Act upon the Inſtitution of his Clerk to it in 1546. Jan. 28. is ſtil'd pleno jure Patronus, and from the ſaid Bury, to ſeveral other private Patrons ſucceſſively, I have not ſeen. 36. Hen. VIII. p. 9.

All I find more of this Church is, that an annual Rent of xxiv s. iv d. which was to be paid out of this Rectory, lately belonging to the Hoſpital of Burton S. Lazar, aforeſaid, was granted by Q. Elizabeth in the 6th of her Reign to Edw. Downing and his Heirs. 6. Eliz. p. 7.

Finchley, Rectory.

THIS Pariſh of Finchley, Fincheſleye, or Fincheſlee, is in the Liberties of Finesbury and Wenlakesbarne, about ſeven Miles Northweſtward from London. It is exempt from the Archdeacon of Middleſex, and wholly ſubject to the Biſhop and his Commiſſary in all Eccleſiaſtical Matters.

Commiſſar. Lond.

As to the Church here, it is dedicated to the Bleſſed Virgin Mary, is a Rectory, and hath been all along in the Collation of the Biſhops of London.

Baudake, 90. In this Church there was a perpetual Chantry founded for the Souls of Will. de Hadſtock and his Anceſtors, above 350 Years ſince.

Weav. Fun. Mon. 533. Upon the North-Wall of this Church (ſaith Weaver) the laſt Will and Teſtament of one Tho. Sanny is hung up in a Table, bearing Date, Nov. 8. 1509. wherein (inter alia) he wills, that after the Death of his Wife, the Houſe call'd Fordis and Stockwoodfeeld, ſhall while the World laſts, pay out of the ſaid Houſe and Lands, 40 s. yearly, to Prieſts, to ſing for his Soul, and the Souls of his Wife, Children and Kindred, and all Chriſtian Souls, and a Noble to the Reparation of the ſaid Houſe, and to diſpoſe to High-ways, and poor People, and other good Deeds of Charity, and alſo, that the Church-wardens ſhall yearly ſee this done for ever; and he wills, that this be graven in a Marble-Stone, that all Men may ſee it, Jeſu Mercy, Lady Help.

The ſaid Lands, ſo given by the ſaid Tho. Sanney, are two Crofts, containing ſeven Acres, one whereof adjoyns to the ſaid Houſe, and is now call'd Fore-Riders; the other Croft, is call'd Stuckfield alias Stokefield, and are now in the Poſſeſſion of Richard Sanney, Yeoman.

John Hine, alias Haynes, of this Pariſh, did alſo in, and by his Will, give four Crofts of Land, lying in this Pariſh call'd Poyntells, containing eight Acres, now in the Tenure of Edmond Cook, and alſo four ſmall Houſes, for the Habitation of poor Folks, with Gardens thereto belonging, for the performing divers charitable Deeds.

Robert Warren, Eſquire, deceas'd, did alſo for the Performance of divers charitable Deeds, give a Meſſuage, with a Garden, Orchard, and Field thereto adjoyning, call'd Rye-Field or Burky-Field, with a Barn and other Edifices, lying in Nether-ſtreet, in Finchley, which Field containing eleven Acres, is now ſever'd into three Parts or Parcels, and in the Tenure of John Nicholl, Junior.

Which ſaid Houſes and Lands were in the Hands of Feoffees, who miſimploying the ſaid Charities, contrary to their Deed of Feoſment, and Direction of the ſeveral Donors, Complaint was thereupon, in the Year 1684. made to the then Lord-Keeper of the Great-Seal, who for the better Regulating of the ſaid Feoffees, and to the end, the Charities included in the ſaid Feoſment, might be rightly employ'd, did order and appoint, that the ſame be laid out to ſuch Uſes, as in the ſaid Deed of Feoſment is expreſs'd, viz. To pay all Quit-Rents and other Charges for Reparations, or otherwiſe, and to pay 40 s. at Midlent-Sunday, at Finchley-Church, to the Poor there yearly, and the reſidue of all the Rents and Profits of the Premiſſes, to be imploy'd for ſuch Ornaments, or other neceſſary Things, for the Uſe of the Church of Finchley, for the Reparation of the ſaid Church, and for the Repairing of foul and noiſom High-ways.

Here likewiſe lieth intomb'd, the Body of Sir Tho. Frowick, Lord Chief Juſtice of the Common Pleas. He was promoted to that Office, Sept. 30. in the 18. of Henry VII. and died Oct. 17. in the 22d of the ſame King, Anno 1506. His Lady, alſo, lies buried near him.

THIS Pariſh of Friarne Barnet, or Bernet, is in the Liberties of Finesbury and Wenlakesbarne, about eight Miles Northward from London.

As to the Church here (dedicated to St James) it is written, Capella ſive Eccleſia, in old Records, and hath been, and ſtill is in the Collation of the Dean and Chapter of S. Paul's, and in their Peculiar Juriſdiction, as Ordinaries of the Place. I do not find it charg'd with First-Fruits and Tenths, and it pays only Procurations to the Dean and Chapter ; as for its Incumbents, I can give no farther Account of them, but only ſince the Reſtauration in 1660.

Fulham, Rectory, Vicarage.

FUlham, of the Saxons, Fullenham, which (as Mr. Camden taketh it) ſignifieth, Volucrum Domus, the Habitacle of Birds or Place of Fowls. Fullon and Fuglas, in the Saxon Tongue, do ſignify Fowls, and Ham or Hame, as much as Home in our Tongue, ſo that Fullon-Ham and Fuglas-Hame, is as much as to ſay, the home Houſe or Habitacle of Fowl. It may alſo be taken for Volucrum Amnis, for Ham alſo in many Places, ſignifies, Amnis, a River ; but it is moſt probable it ſhould be of Land-Fowl, which uſually haunt Groves and Cluſters of Trees, whereof in this Place, it ſeemeth, hath been Plenty.

Mr. Somner in his Saxon Dictionary, ſpeaking of this Place, writes thus, viz.
" Fullan-ham (vp Hamme) villæ nomen (à Loci uligine, ut opinor, derivatum)
" in agro Middelſexienſi, de quo in Chron. ad Ann. 879. hodie Fulham, q. d. cœnoſa habitatio, Foul-ham.

Fulham (ſays the Additions to Camden, 327.) is remarkable, not only for the Biſhops of London's Houſe, but (as the Saxon Chronicle, and that of Mailros both tell us) for an Army of Danes wintering there, Anno Dom. 879. whence they decamp'd, and went the ſame Year into Flanders.

This Place is near ſix Miles diſtant from London, Southweſtward, on the North-ſide of the River Thames, in the Liberties of Finesbury and Wenlakesbarne; as to Matters Eccleſiaſtical, it is wholly exempt from the Archdeacon, and only ſubject to the Juriſdiction of the Biſhop of London, and his Commiſſary.

Commiſſar. Middleſex.

The Biſhops of London, are Lords of this Mannor of Fulham, and were ſo in the Conquerour's time, and long before; for it is ſaid to be given to Erkenwald, Biſhop of London, who was conſecrated to that Sea, Anno 675. Thus I find it in Mr. Wharton, viz. "Huic (i. e. Erkenwaldo) in loco, qui dicitur Fulanham, "ſc. terram 50 manentium, cum conſenſu Sigehardi Regis Eaſt-Saxonum, & "Coenredi Regis Merciorum, Tyrbtilus, Epiſcopus, dediſſe dicitur in vetuſto "Eccleſia Paulinæ Rotulo inter Thomæ Jameſii collectiones MSS. Here the Biſhops of London have all along had a Houſe or Palace, where they often reſide.

Whart. de Epiſc. Lond. 18.

The Canons of S. Paul's alſo, held Lands here in the Conquerour's time; for thus it is recorded in Domeſday-Book, "In Fulham manerio Epiſcopi tenent "Canonici S. Pauli, London, de Rege quinque Hidas pro uno Manerio; terra "eſt quinque Carucarum, ad dominium pertinent tres Hidæ. Ibi ſunt duæ Ca-"rucæ, & tertia poteſt fieri. Ibi octo Villani, quiſque de una Virgata, & "ſeptem Villani, quiſque de quinque Acris; xvi Coterelli, & duo Servi. "Pratum quinque Acrarum, Paſtura ad Pecora Villæ, Silva ad CL. Porcorum, "inter totum valet, viii l. quando recepit. Sed tempore Regis Edwardi X. "Hoc Manerium tenent idem Canonici in dominio tempore Regis Edwardi, "& eſt de victu illorum.

Hiſt. Paul. 191.

Richard de Belmeis (the firſt of that Name) Biſhop of London, in the Reign of Henry I. granted to Henry, the Maſter of the School, belonging to the Cathedral-Church of S. Paul, a Meadow at Fulham, together with the Tyths of Yling and Madeley; and Richard, ſurnam'd Nigel (who ſate Biſhop here in the time of Ric. I.) Gave unto this School all the Tyths ariſing in his Demeſnes at Fulham and Horſet, with an Acre of Land, in the ſaid Town of Horſet, for the Reception of them in gathering.

Ibid. 8. &c.

As to the Pariſh-Church of Fulham, (which is dedicated to All-Saints) all I can ſay, is, that here is a Rectory, which is a Sine-Cure, whereof the Biſhops of London have been always Patrons; and a Vicarage endow'd, which is in the Gift of the Rector, at whoſe Preſentation, the Biſhop inſtitutes and inducts.

Hamerſmith Chappel.

HAmerſmith, is a Hamlet belonging to the ſaid Pariſh of Fulham, and Doctor Laud, when Biſhop of London, did by an Inſtrument under his Epiſcopal Seal, bearing Date, June 4. 1631. in the third Year of his Tranſlation, for himſelf and Succeſſors, give and grant to the Inhabitants of the Village of Hamerſmith, a parcel of Ground, lying in the ſaid Hamlet, but within the Biſhop of London's Mannor of Fulham, containing in Length, from North to South, 105 Foot; and in Breadth, from Eaſt to Weſt, 132 Foot, or thereabouts, to the End they might have it, for the uſe of a Chappel, and a Cemitery or Burying-Place, which Ground, with an Addition of ſome more of their own, given by them to the ſame Uſe, they having wall'd in, and built therein a Chappel, at their own Coſt and Charges, the ſaid Biſhop, on Tueſday the 7th of the ſame Month, did Conſecrate the ſame, together with the ſaid Cemitery or Burying-Place, and dedicated it to the Service of God, and decreed it to be call'd by the Name of the Chappel of Saint Paul.

But before the Conſecration thereof, there was an Agreement executed in Writing, between Dr. Ric. Cluett, the then Vicar of Fulham, and the Earl of Mulgrave, Nicolas Criſpe and others, as followeth, viz.

That the Inhabitants, perpetually, for the time being, ſhall find, and maintain at their own Coſt and Charge, a Curate to officiate the Cure in the ſaid Chappel; and ſhall at their own Coſt and Charges repair and maintain the ſaid Chappel. And the Vicar of Fulham, and Inhabitants of Fulham, and Fulham-ſide, for the time being, ſhall be freed and diſcharg'd from the finding a Curate in the ſaid Chappel, and from any Charge or Contribution thereunto, and from Repairing and Maintaining the ſaid Chappel, and from any Charge and Contribution thereunto.

That the Inhabitants of Hamerſmith, ſhall be perpetually liable to the Reparation of the Church of Fulham, from time to time, as heretofore they have been.

That all and every the Inhabitants of Hamerſmith, ſhall once every Year, at the leaſt, viz. at the Feaſt of Eaſter, for ever, receive the Holy Communion at the Church of Fulham, and may at all other times have free Liberty to repair to the Church of Fulham, at times of Divine Service and Sermons, and there to receive all Sacraments and Sacramentals, as heretofore they have done.

That all Tyths, Oblations, Obventions, and Emoluments whatſoever, to the Church and Vicar of Fulham belonging, ſhall be yielded and pay'd by the Inhabitants of Hamerſmith, to the ſaid Church and Vicar, as heretofore they have been, without any Defalcation or Diminution, by reaſon of the Erection of the ſaid Chappel, or otherwiſe.

And for all Marriages, Chriſtnings, Churchings and Burials, which ſhall be celebrated and done in the ſaid Chappel, or within the Precincts of Hamerſmith, and all Fees, Duties, and Profits whatſoever ſhall be paid to the Vicar of Fulham, for the time being, and to the Church and Pariſh of Fulham, as if they had been celebrated and done in the Church or Church-yard of Fulham, reſpectively; and if any Sermon ſhall be preach'd at any the ſaid times, it ſhall be preach'd by the Vicar only, and no other, without his Allowance and Conſent, if he be then at Fulham, and his Conſent may be taken.

And to the intent, that the ſaid Duties and Profits for the ſaid Marriages, Chriſtnings, Churchings, and Burials at Hamerſmith, aforeſaid, may be truly and juſtly paid to the Church, and Vicar of Fulham, for ever, the Curate of Hamerſmith, and that Church-Warden of Fulham-Pariſh, which ſhall be on Hamerſmith-ſide, ſhall weekly, on Saturday, from time to time, bring to the Vicar of Fulham, a true Note of all ſuch as have been the Week before marry'd, chriſten'd, church'd, and buried at Hamerſmith, together with the Fees, Profits, and Duties belonging to the ſaid Vicar, and the ſaid Marriages, Chriſtnings, Churchings and Burials, ſhall be regiſtred in the Regiſter-Book of the Church and Pariſh of Fulham, as heretofore they have been.

And the ſaid Vicar of Fulham, for the time being, for ever, ſhall be freed and diſcharg'd from the burden and charge of executing his Miniſterial Office in the ſaid Chappel, unleſs at any time he ſhall at his own free Will and Pleaſure, repair to the ſaid Chappel, and preach, or perform any other Miniſterial Act, ſuch as he ſhall be pleas'd at any time to do; and for that purpoſe, there ſhall be a convenient Seat or Pew, allotted out, in the ſaid Chappel, which ſhall belong to the ſaid Vicar, for the time being, for ever, to have the ſaid Pew to himſelf, at ſuch time as he ſhall make Repair to the ſaid Chappel.

S. Giles in the Fields, Hoſpital.

IN old Records, this Place is written, S. Giles extra London, where was formerly an Hoſpital founded by Matilda, the Queen, Wife to King Henry I. about the Year 1117. for Lepers. She endow'd it with lx s. yearly Rent, out of Queenhith, call'd Athereſheth, to buy Food for the poor Lepers.

After which, King Henry II. for the Health of the Souls of his Grand-Father, King Henry, and his Grand-Mother, Queen Matilda, and for his own Health, and the Health of his Anceſtors and Succeſſors, confirm'd to the ſaid Lepers, the Place where the ſaid Hoſpital was built, with the ſaid lx s. yearly Rent, which Queen Matilda, aforeſaid, had given them, and granted them lx s. more to be paid them yearly, at the Feaſt of S. Michael the Archangel, out of his Exchequer, to buy them Cloaths, and xxx s. v d. more out of his Rents in Surrey, in perpetual Alms, to buy them Lights; and then confirm'd all other Gifts and Benefactions, which had been by others granted, and beſtow'd upon them; among which, he confirm'd to them the Church of Feltham, of which I have treated before.

Mon. Angl. Vol. II. 400.

King Edward III. by his Charter, dated at Weſtminſter, April 4. in 27. of his Reign, granted to the Maſter and Brethren of the Order of Burton S. Lazar, in England, the Cuſtody of this Hoſpital of S. Giles, in Conſideration of the Remiſſion of 40 Marks, and the Arrearages thereof, which was to be paid them yearly out of his Exchequer; by which means, it became a Cell to the ſaid Hoſpital of Burton S. Lazar, of Jeruſalem, in Leiceſterſhire.

Ibidem.

At this Hoſpital, the Priſoners that were convey'd from London, towards Tyburn, to be there executed for Treaſons, Murders, &c. were preſented with a great Bowl of Ale, thereof to drink at their Pleaſure, as to be their laſt refreſhing in this Life.

Sto. Sur. 488.

Galfry de Briſtou, Maſter of this Hoſpital of S. Giles, being to go to the Parts beyond the Seas, had the Kings Letters of Protection, 6. Jan. 1369. [Pat. 43. Edw. III. p. 2.]

After the Diſſolution of this Hoſpital, it was, with its Appurtenances, granted by King Henry VIII. in the 36. of his Reign, to the Lord Dudley.

The Pariſh-Church of S. Giles.

HERE is now the Pariſh-Church of S. Giles in the Fields, which Pariſh, in the Bills of Mortality, is reckon'd one of the 14 Out-Pariſhes in Middleſex and Surrey. The Church ſtands beyond Holborn, incloſ'd within a large Church-yard on the Left-hand of the High-way, leading toward Uxbridge, in the Liberties of Finesbury and Wenlakesbarne, and is ſubject to the Archdeacon, ſaving only as to Wills and Adminiſtrations, which belong to the Commiſſary.

Archid. Commiſſar. Midd.

I find no Inſtitution to any Church in this Pariſh, till after this Hoſpital was ſuppreſs'd, which makes me conclude, that the Church belonging to this Hoſpital, was the Place to which the Inhabitants of this Pariſh did in thoſe Days reſort to perform their Religious Worſhip. Now this Church being very Old, and in Danger of Falling (as it ſeems, ſome of it did fall) was pull'd all down, and new-built, which was begun to be rais'd in the Year 1623. finiſh'd in 1625. and encompaſs'd with a Brick-Wall in 1631. by many good and great Benefactors, particularly by the Munificence of the Right Honourable the Lady Alice Duddeley, as appears by an Inſcription over the North-Door of this Church, and is inſerted at large in Stow's Remains, p. 899, &c. where we are likewiſe told, that the Glazing of this Church was very rich and coſtly, giving a particular Deſcription of the Windows, and at whoſe Charge they were done.

The firſt Inſtitution that I find to this Church, as Parochial, and a Rectory, was on the 20th of April 1547. (1. Edw. VI.) which was at the Preſentation of Sir Wimund Carew, as true and undoubted Patron thereof, upon the Death of whoſe Clerk, his Succeſſor was inſtituted, Nov. 8. 1571. at the Preſentation of Queen Elizabeth, as true and undoubted Patroneſs; from which time, the Advowſon of this Rectory, hath continu'd down all along in the Crown, to this preſent, as hereafter appears.

I no where find this Church charg'd with Firſt-Fruits and Tenths, but with Procurations and Synodals, as followeth.

In 1636. he was actually created Doctor of Divinity, about which time he became Rector of this Church of S. Giles; and in 1638. was made Canon of the 11th Stall in the Collegiate-Church of Weſtminſter, but he being eſteem'd by the Puritans, a Licenſer of Popiſh Books, a Purger of Orthodox Paſſages againſt Popery, Papiſts, Arminianiſm, a great Creature of Doctor Laud, and a Practiſer of Popiſh Ceremonies, was in the beginning of the Rebellion thrown out of this his Vicarage (Rectory it ſhould be) upon the Petition and Articles exhibited againſt him in the Long-Parliament, by his Pariſhioners, was impriſon'd in the Compter, Ely-Houſe, and in the Ships, forc'd to fly, and his Wife and Children turn'd out of Doors. At length, being reduc'd to great Want, he was forc'd to keep a private School in Wiltſhire, under, and in the Name of his Son John, afterwards Fellow of Oriel-College. But upon the Return of King Charles II. he was reſtor'd to this his Church, Canonry, and other Preferments, which he enjoy'd in quietneſs to his dying Day. He was buried in the Collegiate-Church of Weſtminſter, near the Bottom of the Stairs, leading up to the Pulpit, July 17. 1663. leaving then behind him the Character of an excellent Tutor, whilſt he was Fellow of S. John's-College, a general Scholar, and a meek Man in Temper and Converſation. [Ath. Ox. Vol. II. p. 218.] where may be ſeen more of him, and what he publiſh'd.

g Rob. Bourman, Brother to Sir William Bourman, Clerk of the Green-Cloth, to King Charles II. was Fellow of Trinity-College in Cambridge, and afterwards Rector of this Church, and Doctor of Divinity, who after he had ſpent his Life in Celibacy, died at Greenwich in Kent, in the Winter-time, 1675. [Ath. Ox. Vol. II. p. 716.] where may be ſeen what he publiſh'd.

h Joh. Sharp was formerly of Chriſt-College in Cambridge, and afterwards Chaplain to the Right Honourable, Heneage, Lord Finch, Lord Keeper of the Great-Seal of England; he was upon the Promotion of Dr. Peter Mewes to the Sea of Bath and Wells, Anno 1672. made Archdeacon of Berks, and upon the Promotion of Dr. Bredoake to the Sea of Chicheſter, he was preſented by King Charles II. to the Rectory of S. Bartholomew Exchange, to which he was inſtituted, Apr. 23. 1675. where he continu'd but a ſhort time; for this Church of S. Giles becoming void, by the Death of Robert Bourman, he was in January following, inſtituted thereto, upon the Preſentation of the ſaid King; afterward the Deanry of Norwich was conferr'd on him, in which he was inſtall'd, June 8. 1681. after which he was made Dean of Canterbury, upon the removal of Dr. John Tillotſon, from thence to the Deanry of S. Pauls in Nov. 1689. and at length, upon the Death of Dr. Tho. Lamplugh, promoted to the Archbiſhoprick of York, to which he was conſecrated, July 5. 1691.

Greenford-magna, Rectory.

Archid. Middleſex.

THIS Pariſh of Greenford, with the Addition of Magna, to diſtinguiſh it from Greenford-parva (in old Records, ſometimes written Grenfeld, ſometimes alſo Gernford) is in the Hundred of Elthorn, and about 11 Miles diſtant Weſtward from London. It is ſubject to the Archdeacon, ſaving only as to Wills and Adminiſtrations, which belong to the Commiſſary.

Mon. Angl. Vol. I. p. 61.

Edward the Confeſſor, by his Charter, bearing Date, 5. Kal. Jan. Anno 1066. (among other Lands, given by ſeveral Kings, before his time, to the Church of Weſtminſter) confirm'd to the ſaid Church, xii Hides, and one Rod of Land in Greneford; and tho', there be no mention made of any Church in Greneford (nor indeed of any other Church in any of the Pariſhes there nam'd) yet it is probable that the Church (if there was then any here) was included in the Confirmation of thoſe Lands to the ſaid Monaſtery, or built afterwards by the Abbot and Convent thereof; for it appears by the oldeſt Records in the London-Regiſtry, that they were Patrons of it, and ſo continu'd till their Suppreſſion: which Church is dedicated to and is a Rectory.

Bonner, 353.

By an Inquiſition, de Jure Patronatus, of this Rectory and Pariſh-Church, taken in Sept. 1554. upon a Conteſt, which happen'd between two Clerks preſented to it, the one by Thomas Thornton, the other by Sir Edward Walgrave, it appear'd, that the Right of Preſentation lay in the ſaid Tho. Thornton, by reaſon of Survivorſhip, by vertue of a Leaſe, which was granted to Richard Thornton, and the ſaid Thomas, his Son, by the ſaid Abbot and Convent of Weſtminſter, of the Mannor of Great-Greenford, with all its Appurtenances, for a certain Number of Years, not then expir'd; the ſaid Sir Edw. Walgrave pretending a Right, by vertue of an Advowſon granted to him by Sir Thomas Wroth, who, it ſhould ſeem, had a Grant of the Advowſon of this Church from the Crown, to him and his Heirs, after the Suppreſſion, ſeparate from the Mannor; for the Mannor was granted by King Edward VI. in the 4th of his Reign, to the Biſhop of London and his Succeſſors, for ever, and confirm'd afterwards by Queen Mary, in the firſt of her Reign. Thornton's Right continu'd for two or three Preſentations following, till his Leaſe (I ſuppoſe) was expir'd; after which, the ſaid Sir Edw. Walgrave preſented to this Church, as appears by vertue of the ſaid Advowſon, granted to him by Sir Tho. Wroth; that done, the Right of Patronage came to the Wroths again, and by that Family was alienated at laſt, as it ſeems, to others.

l Edw. Terry was born at Leigh, near Penſhurſt, in Kent, educated in Grammar in the Free-School at Rocheſter, entred into Chriſt-Church-College, Oxon, in 1607. and in the Year after, was elected Student thereof, where, with incredible Induſtry, going through the Courſes of Logick and Philoſophy, took the Degrees in Arts, that of Maſter being compleated in 1614. In the Year following, he took a Voyage with certain Merchants into Eaſt-India, where after his arrival, he was ſent for by Sir Tho. Roe, Ambaſſador from the King of England, to the Great Mogul, with whom he liv'd, as Chaplain, in the Court of that mighty Emperor, for more than two Years; at his Return, he retir'd to his College, and having ſome ſmall Cure beſtow'd upon him, became at length Rector of this Pariſh, which he enjoy'd above 30 Years, as appears above, and ſubmitted to the Men that bore ſway in the time of the Rebellion. He was an ingenious and polite Man, of a pious and exemplary Converſation, a good Preacher, and much reſpected by the Neighbourhood, where he liv'd. He wrote and publiſh'd ſeveral Things mention'd in the Ath. Oxon. amongſt which, he wrote the Character of King Charles II. in Quarto, printed at London, 1660. from which King (ſaith my Author) he expected the Deanry of Windſor; but upon what Ground, ſeeing that he ſuffer'd neither for his, or his Father's Cauſe (ſaith he) I know not. He died the 8th of Oct. 1660. and was buried in the Chancel of this Church. [Ath. Ox. Vol. II. p. 164.]

m This Edw. Terry was Son of the aforeſaid Edw. Terry, and ſucceeded his Father in this Church, as above, but reſign'd it within a Year. He was a Non-Conformiſt-Divine, ſometime Maſter of Arts, and Fellow of Univerſity-College in Oxford. [Ath. Ox. ut ſupra.]

Archid. Commiſſar. Midd.

THIS Pariſh of Greenford-parva, call'd alſo Perivale, is about a Mile diſtant from the other Greenford, to the South-Eaſt, in the Hundred of Elthorne, and ſubject to the Archdeacon, ſaving only as to Wills and Adminiſtrations, which belong to the Commiſſary.

Dudg. Bar. II. Tom. 50.

As to the Church here, it is dedicated to   and is a Rectory, the Advowſon whereof was granted to Lord Henry de Beaumont (or Bellomont) in the 7th of Edw. II. and continu'd, it ſeems, in that Family for ſeveral Years; but at length (but by what means I have not read) came into the Hands of ſeveral private Patrons, one after another, as will appear hereafter.

I am apt to believe, that this Pariſh has not gone by the Name of Perivale for many Ages paſt, for the firſt time I find it ſo written in the London-Regiſtry, is in Dec. 1540.

Hackney, Rectory, Vicarage.

THIS Pariſh of Hackney or Haquenye, is in the Hundred of Oſulſton, about three Miles diſtant North-Eaſtward from London.

As to Matters Eccleſiaſtical, it is wholly exempt from the Archdeacon of Middleſex, and only ſubject to the Juriſdiction of the Biſhop of London and his Commiſſary. Commiſſar. Middleſex.

This Church has of late Years gone by the Name of S. John of Jeruſalem, at Hackney, as if dedicated to S. John, which I take to be a great Miſtake, becauſe I find that Arthur Wood was in Dec. 1509. inſtituted to the Vicarage of S. Auguſtine of Hackney, to which Saint, I rather believe this Church to have been dedicated, no Preſentation having been made by the Name of S. John of Jeruſalem, at Hackney, till after the Reſtoration of King Charles II. One Heron Eſq; is taken by ſome to be the Founder of it, by his Arms engraven in Stone upon every Pillar of the ſame, which is a Cheveron-Ermin, between three Herons, but I rather think he was a very great Benefactor to the New-Building or Repairing of this Church, for which Reaſon his Arms is on every Pillar; and in the North-Iſle thereof, in a Tomb of white Free-Stone, but without any Inſcription, his Body lies.

In the Choir, or Chancel of this Church, was bury'd Henry, Lord Percy, Earl of Northumberland, who died at his Houſe here in Hackney, 29. June, 29. Henry VIII. This was that Earl of Northumberland who (King Henry VIII. would have the World believe) was contracted to Anna Bolen, and from thence grounded a Sentence of Divorce or Nullity of Marriage with her, after her Condemnation, and before her Execution, which by due Order and Proceſs of Law (as an Act of Parliament hath it, 28. Henry VIII.) was perform'd by Cranmer, the Cauſes being not yet ſet down, otherwiſe than that they were declar'd, juſt, true and lawful Impediments of Marriage. Dugd. Bar. I. Tom. p. 283. Horb. Hen. 8. p. 448.

Chriſtopher Urſwick, Rector of this Church (of whom I have ſpoken at large among the Prebendaries of Chiſwick) was buried in the middle of the Chancel here, and tho', his chief Monument was erected of white Free-Stone, on the North-ſide of the ſame, with this Inſcription, Chriſtopher Urſwyke, Rector. Miſericordiam. Yet over his Grave was laid a grey Marble-Stone, with his Picture in Braſs on it, with a much larger Inſcription, which is as followeth; > Chriſtopherus Urſwicus Regis Henrici ſeptimi elimoſinarius, vir ſua ætate clarus, ſummatibus & infimatibus juxta charus. Ad exteros Reges undecies, pro Patria Legatus. Decanatum Eborum, Archidiaconatum Richmondiæ; Decanatum Windeſoriæ habitos vivens reliquit. Epiſcopatum Norwicen. oblatum recuſavit. Magnos honores tota vita ſprevit, frugali vita contentus, hic vivere hic mori maluit. Plenus Annis obiit ab omnibus deſideratus. Funeris Pompam etiam Teſtamento vetuit. Hic ſepultus Carnis Reſurrectionem in adventum Chriſti expectat. Obiit Anno Domini 1521. 24. die Octob.

Here is both a Rectory and a Vicarage; the Rectory (which is a Sine-Cure) was all along in the Collation of the Biſhops of London, who likewiſe were Lords of the Mannor, till Dr. Nicolas Ridley, Biſhop of that Sea, by Indenture, bearing Date, April 12. in the 4th of King Edward VI. granted this Mannor Bonner, 400.

(with that of Stepney and others, belonging to that Biſhoprick) to the ſaid
4.Ed.VI. p.8. King, and his Heirs and Succeſſors, for ever, who on the 16th of the ſame Month, granted both theſe before-nam'd Mannors, to Thomas, Lord Wentworth, Chamberlain of his Houſhold, by which means the Wentworths became Patrons of this Rectory, till ſuch time as they paſs'd it away, which Patronage is now in the Hands of Tho. Cooke, Eſquire.

The Vicarage hath been all along in the Gift of the Rector (which has been always, and to this Day is a Clergy-man) till of late Years it hath come into the Hands of Lay-Patrons, by being Poſſeſſors or Farmers (as I ſuppoſe) of the Parſonage or great Tyths.

Bund. Midd. There is a Terrier, in the London-Regiſtry, of all the Lands that belong, as well to the Parſonage as Vicarage of this Place; but it is ſo ſullied, that the Numbers of Acres and Rods, that belong to either, cannot be read, only, it is ſo far legible, that to the Parſonage (beſides a Houſe) there belongs about five Acres.

l In the Ath. Ox. Vol. I. p. 3. we are told of one Chriſtopher Carlile (living about this time) who in a Commencement held at Cambridge, in 1552. maintain'd the Tenet of Chriſt's deſcent into Hell, and was oppos'd in Diſputations, by Sir John Cheek, and afterwards came out with a Book entituled, Concerning the immediate going to Heaven of the Souls of the faithful Fathers before Chriſt, and concerning his Deſcent into Hell, &c. but whether he was the ſame with our Chriſtopher Carlile, I am not certain.

p Dav. Daulben or Dolben, was a younger Son of Robert Winn Dolben, of Denbigh, in Denbighſhire, was Doctor of Divinity of S. John's-College in Cambridge, a learned Divine, and promoted to the Biſhoprick of Bangor, about the Year 1632. but he enjoy'd it not long, for he died at Bangor-Houſe, near S. Andrews-Church in Holborn, on the 27th or 28th of Nov. 1633. and was buried in the Church of Hackney, which he kept in Commendam with his Biſhoprick. [Ath. Ox. Vol. I. p. 628.] But my Author is miſtaken, in ſaying that he kept Hackney in Commendam, for it appears above, that Gilbert Sheldon was admitted to this Vicarage, by reaſon of the Promotion of the ſaid Biſhop to the Sea of Bangor, whereby it became void.

r Calibutus Downing, eldeſt Son of Calibutus Downing, of Shermington in Gloceſterſhire, became a Commoner of Oriel-College, in Oxon, 1623. where he took one Degree in Arts, then went to Cambridge, or beyond the Seas, and took another, entred into Orders, and was made Rector of Hickford, in Bucks, Doctor of Laws, and had the Rectory of Weſt-Illeſley, in Berks, beſtow'd upon him, which my Author ſays, he exchang'd for the Rectory (it ſhould be, Vicarage) of Hackney, wherein it ſeems he ſucceeded Dr. Gilb. Sheldon, tho' before that, he ſtood in Competition with him for the Wardenſhip of All-Souls, and loſt it. He was a great Suitor, to be Chaplain to Thomas, Earl of Strafford, Lord-Lieutenant of Ireland, thinking that Employment the readieſt way to get a Biſhoprick, and whilſt he had hopes of that Preferment wrote ſtoutly in Defence of Biſhops, but failing in his Deſigns, turn'd to the rebellious Party, became a great Promoter of theirs ; and in a Sermon preach'd by him, before the Artillery-Company, Sept. 1. 1640. poſitively affirm'd, that, " for the Defence of " Religion, and Reformation of the Church, " it was lawful to take up Arms againſt the " King : But for this, for fear of being queſtion'd, he retir'd privately to Little-Lees, in Eſſex, to the Houſe of Robert, Earl of Warwick. He was afterwards Chaplain to the Lord Roberts his Regiment, in the Earl of Eſſex his Army, a great Covenanter in 1643. and ſoon after, a zealous Independent ; but at laſt died ſuddenly, at Hackney, in the Year 1644. He was the Father of Sir George Downing, Baronet, late one of the Commiſſioners of the Cuſtoms. [Ath. Ox. Vol. II. p. 26. &c.] where may be read more of this our Vicar, and what he publiſh'd.

ſ Will. Spurſtow was the Son and Heir of William Spurſtow, Citizen and Mercer of London, deſcended of the Spurſtows of Spurſtow, in Cheſhire, was educated in Katherine-Hall in Cambridge, incorporated in the Degree of Bachelour of Arts at Oxford, July 15. 1628. was afterwards Maſter of Arts, a grand Presbyterian, one of the five Smectymnui (Steph. Marſhal, Edm. Calamy, Tho. Young, and Matth. Newcomen, being the other four) one of the Aſſembly of Divines, Vicar of this Pariſh, a Preacher before the Long-Parliament, Maſter of Katherine-Hall aforeſaid, in the Place of Dr. Ralph Brownrig, and Doctor of Divinity. He was afterwards outed of his Maſterſhip, for refuſing to take the Ingagement, ſaith Mr. Fuller, and in 1662. was ejected from this Vicarage, for Nonconformity, where, and in the Neighbourhood he liv'd (exerciſing his Parts in private, among the Brethren) till his Death (which was at Hackney, as I conceive) in January or February, 1665. [Ath. Ox. Vol. I. p. 861.]

t Tho. Jeamſon was Rector of Shabington, in Bucks, [Ath. Ox. Vol. II. p. 846.] and (if I miſtake not) a Sufferer for his Loyalty, in the late times of Rebellion.

Hadley, Curacy.

THIS Pariſh of Hadley (call'd Hadley-Monachorum, or Monkton-Hadley, becauſe formerly it did belong to the Monks of Walden, in Eſſex) is in the Hundred of Edmunton, about 10 Miles towards the North-weſt from London; ſubject to the Archdeacon, ſaving only as to Wills and Adminiſtrations, which belong to the Commiſſary.

Archid. Commiſſar. Midd.

As to the Church here (dedicated to) I find that Galfr. de Mandevil, Earl of Eſſex, in his Charter of Foundation of the ſaid Monaſtery of Walden, gave (inter alia) to the Monks of that Houſe, the Hermitage of Hadley, in theſe Words; " Concedo autem eis & confirmo Heremitagium de " Hadley, cum omnibus ad eundem locum pertinentibus, introitum & exitum " & communem Paſturam Pecoribus eorum in Parco meo in quo Heremitagium " illud ſitum eſt, &c. So that probably, this Church of Hadley was at firſt but a Chappel to that Hermitage; or if it was in thoſe times a Pariſh-Church, yet it was in the Donation of the Abbot and Monks of Walden; but be that as it will, I no where find, that it was ever Preſentative, either as a Rectory or Vicarage, from whence I conclude, that it was always a Donative or Curacy, and that till the Diſſolution of that Monaſtery, in Henry VIII. Reign, the Cure here was ſupplied, from time to time, by ſuch as were authoriz'd thereunto by the Abbots and Monks of Walden, and licens'd by the Biſhop, and ſince that time, ſtill remains a Donative or Curacy, ſubject to the Biſhops of London, and to their Viſitation, as was the ſaid Monaſtery of Walden, before its Suppreſſion, to which this Religious Houſe of Hadley was but a Cell.

Mon. Angl. 459.

Since the ſaid Suppreſſion, the Lords of the Mannor of Hadley, have had the Donation of this Chappel or Church, which was by King Henry VIII. in the 30th of his Reign, granted (inter alia) to Thomas, Lord Audley. In the 4th and 5th of Queen Mary, it was granted to Sir Tho. Pope; and in the 18th of Eliz. William Kympton, Citizen and Alderman of London, Lord of this Mannor, gave this Church by the Name of a Free-Chappel, and pleno Jure of his Donation, to Bernard Carrier, Clerk, during the Life of him the ſaid William, if he the ſaid Bernard ſhould live ſo long, upon theſe Conditions, viz. That he ſhould bear Fealty to him the ſaid William; that he ſhould demean himſelf well in his Life and Converſation; that he ſhould perform Divine Offices, and Adminiſter the Sacrament, as he ought; that he ſhould keep the Chancel in Repair, and pay xxvi s. viii d. to the ſaid William and his Heirs, according to Cuſtom, out of which, the ſaid William was to pay back vi s. viii d. for his Tyths according to like Cuſtom.

30. Hen. VIII. p. 5.
4 & 5. Mar. p. 14.
Grindal, 186.

This Church or Chappel being a Donative or Curacy, pays no Firſts or Tenths to the King, but Procurations to the Biſhop, and Procuration and Synodals to the Archdeacon, as followeth;

Hampton, Vicarage.

THIS Pariſh of Hampton is ſituate on the North-ſide of the River of Thames, and the chiefeſt Part of it, on or near the Banks thereof, in the Hundred of Spelthorne, about 12 or 13 Miles from London, and is ſubject to Archid. Mid. the Archdeacon.

As to this Church here (dedicated to) it ſeems to have been of Old, appropriated to the Priory of Takely in Eſſex, and a Vicarage thereupon ordain'd and endow'd; for the firſt Inſtitution to it, that I can find in the London-Regiſtry, was at the Preſentation of the Prior of that Religious Houſe, Anno 1362. as appears hereafter; tho' out of Dr. Hutton's Collections, I find ſeveral Clerks before that, preſented by King Edward III. to this Vicarage, upon his ſeizing the Temporalities of that Priory, as a Priory-alien (as I gueſs) it being a Cell to the Abby of S. Walleric, in Picardy, by reaſon of his Wars with France. However, after the ſeizing of them by King Richard II. for the ſame Reaſon afterwards, William of Wickham, Biſhop of Wincheſter, got this Rectory and Advowſon of the Vicarage in that King's Reign, and ſettled it as part of the Endowment of his new-founded College of the bleſſed Virgin Mary, near Winton (commonly call'd Wincheſter-College) the Maſters, Fellows, and Scholars whereof, became Patrons of this Vicarage, and preſented to it in 1394. (which was the very next Year after their taking Poſſeſſion of the ſaid College) and ſo continu'd, as alſo Proprietaries of the Rectory, till K. Hen. VIII.
35. Hen. VIII. p. 11. in 35. of his Reign, got the Rectories of Harmondſworth, Heſton, Iſtleworth, Twickenham, and this of Hampton, together with the Advowſons of the Vicarages of the ſaid Churches (all being Parcels of the Poſſeſſions of the ſaid Colleges) into his Hands, by way of Exchange with the Warden, Fellows, and Scholars of the ſame, for the Lordſhip and Mannor of Harmondſworth, by means whereof, the Patronage of this Vicarage came to the Crown, and continu'd there-
5. Jac. I. p. 26. in, till King James I. in the 5th of his Reign, gave this Rectory, with the Advowſon of the Vicarage, to Michael Cole and others, from which time, for ought I can find, it hath continu'd in the Hands of private Patrons to this Day.

King Henry VIII. granted to the Vicar of Hampton and his Succeſſors, a perpetual Penſion of fifty five Shillings, in lieu of Tyths, iſſuing out of the Mannor of Hampton-Court.

King James I. by Letters-Patents, dated 26. of September, in the 18th of his Reign, did grant to William Maneſton, Clerk, Vicar of Hampton, in Middleſex, an annual or perpetual Penſion of 26 l. 13 s. 4 d. payable at two Portions, one at Lady-Day, the other at Michaelmas, yearly, unto him and his Succeſſors, Vicars of Hampton, for ever, by the Receiver-General of the County of Middleſex, in lieu of Tyths, and for 14 Acres and one Rod of the Glebe-Lands, to the ſaid Vicar belonging, and three Cottages built thereupon, which had been, by his Majeſty, incloſ'd within his Park, adjoyning to his Manſion-Houſe at Hampton-Court.

There is alſo a Penſion or Stipend of 6 l. 13 s. 4 d. due to the Chaplain of the Chappel, within the Mannor of Hampton-Court, which, together with the ſaid Penſions of 55 s. and 26 l. 13 s. 4 d. have been paid yearly; to the preſent Vicar, at the Receipt of the Exchequer.

Bund. Midd. Terrier 1610. a Dwelling-Houſe with a little Back-ſide, a Barn and Stable at the End of it, with a ſmall Yard and Orchard, all containing about one Acre, five Acres of Land, part Arable, and part Paſture; three Acres of Meadow, ten Acres of Arable-Land, nine Acres of Lot-Lands. Penſions. One Penſion of 50 s. per Annum, from Hampton-Court; and another of 5 s. per Annum, from Sir Will. Killegrew, for Tyths of parcel of Cole-Kennington-Park.

Which ſaid Orchard is wall'd round, at the Expence of Mr. Cawthorn, the preſent Vicar; and there is now paid to the ſaid Vicar, yearly, the Sum of 10 l. in lieu of Tyths, for 60 Acres of Lands, incloſ'd in Cole-Kennington-Park, commonly call'd, Kenton-Park.

Hampton-Court.

I Cannot well paſs by the Royal-Palace of Hampton-Court, which lies within the Limits of this Pariſh, without taking Notice of what hath been ſaid of it. It is a very magnificent Structure, built by Cardinal Thomas Wolſey, purely out of Oſtentation to ſhew his great Wealth, ſaith Mr. Camden; yet, ſaith my Lord Herbert, he wiſely conſidering, that it would but add to that Envy, for which he had already ſuffer'd ſo much, gave it the King, who in Exchange, ſuffer'd him to live in Richmond-Houſe. It was enlarg'd and finiſh'd by King Henry VIII. and has five large Courts ſet round with neat Buildings, the Work whereof is very curious; but the Additions made to it of late, do ſo far excel what it was before, that they evidently ſhew what vaſt advancements Architecture has receiv'd ſince that time. The Gardens alſo are improv'd to a wonderful Degree, not only in the Walks both open and cloſe, and the great variety of Topiary Works, but with green Houſes too, having Stores under them, ſo artificially contriv'd, that all forein Plants are there preſerv'd in gradual Heats, ſuitable to the Climes of their reſpective Countries, whereof they are Natives. In ſhort, the whole ſeems to be deſign'd with ſo much Magnificence, that when it is finiſh'd, the nobleſt Palaces muſt fall ſhort of it; both Houſe and Parks are invirom'd on three ſides, with the River Thames, and conſequently enjoying as pleaſant a Situation, as the Prudence of its firſt Founder, Cardinal Wolſey, could ſelect for it.

Hamſted-Chappel, Curacy.

THIS Pariſh of Hamſted (ſaith Norden) ſtandeth under a Hill, in a very healthful Air, having London in a very pleaſant Proſpect, from which it is diſtant between four and five Miles to the North-weſt, and is ſituate in the Liberties of Finsbury and Wenlakesbarne.

King Ethelred, Father to King Edward the Confeſſor, gave Hamſted to the Church of Weſtminſter, which the ſaid King Edward confirm'd to it by his Charter, dated 5. Kal. Jan. Anno Domini 1066. Mon. Angl. Vol. I. 362.

As to the Church here (which is dedicated to St John —) it was of old, a Chappel annext to the Church of Hendon, the Rectors whereof were for ſome time inſtituted to it, Cum Capella de Hamſted eidem annexa; and after this manner it continu'd from the Year 1461. till about the Year 1478. about which time, the Abbot and Convent of Weſtminſter, who were Patrons of the Rectory of Hendon, became Proprietaries thereof, and from thenceforth, this Chappel of Hamſted, was no longer recorded as a Chappel annex'd to the Church of Hendon, but became (what it ſtill is) a Donative or Curacy, in the Gift of the Abbot and Convent of Weſtminſter, till their Suppreſſion by King Henry VIII. who in 32. of his Reign, granted this Chappel and the Advowſon thereof, to the new-made Biſhop of Weſtminſter; but that Biſhoprick being diſſolv'd by King Edw. VI. he in the 4th of his Reign, granted the Mannor and Chappel of Hamſted, to Sir Tho. Wroth, pro ſervicio, as it is ſaid in the Record.

Hanwell cum Cap. de Brentford annexa, Rect.

Archid.Midd.

THIS Pariſh of Hanwell is in the Hundred of Elthorne, about 10 Miles Weſt from London, and ſubject to the Archdeacon.

Bonner, 377.

As to the Church here (dedicated to St Mary) it is a Rectory, and was of old (with the Chappel of Brentford, thereunto annext) in the Gift of the Abbot and Convent of Weſtminſter, and ſo continu'd till that Abby was turn'd into a Biſhop's Seat, by King Henry VIII. in the 32. of his Reign, and then he (inter alia) gave the Advowſon of this Rectory and Pariſh-Church, with the Chappel of Brentford annext, and the Appurtenances, to the Biſhop of Weſtminſter; but that Biſhoprick being ſoon after diſſolv'd by King Edw. VI. Queen Mary by her Letters-Patents, bearing Date, March 3. in the firſt of her Reign, gave (inter alia) the Mannor of Hanwell, and alſo the Advowſon of the Rectory, with the Chappel of Brentford, to Edm. Bonner, then Biſhop of London, and to his Succeſſors in that Sea, for ever; in whoſe Collation it hath continu'd ever ſince.

Mon. Ang. Vol. I. p.61,

Hanwell was, it ſeems, before Edward the Confeſſor's time, in the Church of Weſtminſter; for he, by his Charter, Anno 1066. among other Donations given to that Church, by the Kings his Predeceſſors, confirm'd no leſs than eight Hides in Hanawelle to that Church.

Brentford, Chappel.

Norden, Middleſex.

AS for Brentford (where this Chappel ſtands) ſo call'd from the Brent, the Name of a Brook which Runs through it, it is about two Miles from the Mother-Church of Hanwell, to the South-weſt, in the ſame Hundred and Juriſdiction, and is call'd, Great-Brentford, or Braynford, Weſt-Brentford, Market-Brentford, and alſo New-Brentford, of the late Purchaſe (as Norden takes it) of the Market which was in the time of King Edward VI. for the Chappel (ſaith he) argueth it of greater Antiquity than the other, which hath the Name of Old-Brentford, and belongs to the Pariſh of Yealing, tho' Norden tells us, that New-Brentford belongs to that Pariſh, which is a miſtake; for it is notorious, that New-Brentford belongs to the Pariſh of Hanwell, and that the Chappel there is a Chappel of Eaſe annext to the Church of Hanwell, and ſo hath been for theſe 360 Years and more, for John de Thoryndon was inſtituted to the Church of Hanwell, with the Chappel of Brentford thereunto annext, in 1335. as appears hereafter.

Dug. Bar. Tom. III. p. 472.

Brentford is memorable for two Battles, firſt it is the Place where Edmund Ironſide, after he had oblig'd the Danes to draw off from the City of London, did ſo attack them, as to force them to a diſorderly Flight, wherein he kill'd great Numbers of them. The other is for the Fight which did happen here in 1642. when King Charles I. (coming after his Victory at Edge-Hill, with his Forces from Oxford, towards London) with the Loſs but of ten Men, beat two of the beſt Regiments, of the Rebellious Party, out of this Town, kill'd their Ring-Leader in Chief, took 500 Priſoners, as many Arms, eleven Colours, fifteen Pieces of Canon, and then march'd to Oatlands, Reading, and ſo back again to Oxford; in which Action, the Right Honourable, Patrick Ruthen, Earl of Forth, in Scotland, performing the Part of an expert and valiant Commander, was firſt made General of the King's Army, and in Conſideration of his eminent Services, by Letters-Patents, bearing Date, May 27. 20. Car. I. advanc'd to the Dignity of an Earl, by the Title of Earl of Brentford, in this County, upon account (no doubt) of that particular Service he did here. This Right Noble Earl, died at Dundee in Scotland, An. 1651. and was there buried.

THIS Pariſh of Harefield, Haresfeld, or Harvill, in old time Herefeld (the Poſſeſſion in William the Conqueror's time, of Richard the Son of Count Giſelbert) is in the Hundred of Elthorne, about 16 or 17 Miles Northweſt-ward from London.

Mon. Angl. Vol. II. 507.

As to the Church here (dedicated to) I find that the Advowſon thereof was, of old, given by Beatrix de Bollers, to the Brethren of the Hoſpital of S. John of Jeruſalem, in England, in theſe Words, "Notum ſit "omnibus, &c. Quod Ego Beatrix de Bollers, quondam uxor Baldwini, filii "Galfridi, aſſenſu & conſenſu Galfridi filii mei, dono, & carta mea confirmo "Deo & Fratribus Hoſpitalis Jeruſalem advocationem Eccleſiæ de Herefeld, cum "omnibus pertinentiis ſuis, in boſco, ſcilicet, & in agro, in pratis, in paſcuis "in liberam & perpetuam elemoſinam. His Teſtibus Richardo, capellano, "&c.

Reg. Lond. Lib. Viſitat. Ann. 1550.

This Rectory and Church, with its Appurtenances, parcel of the Poſſeſſions of S. John of Jeruſalem, in England, together with the Advowſon of the Vicarage, with its Appurtenances, after the Diſſolution of that Priory, was granted by King Henry VIII. in 34. of his Reign, to Rob. Tirwitte, but afterwards, I find it in the Newdigates, one of which Family appears to be Proprietary thereof, in the 4th of Edw. VI. and it continues in the ſame Family, viz. in Sir Richard Newdigate, to this Day.

Bonner, 275.

The Church is now a Donative or Curacy, and being parcel of the Poſſeſſions of the ſaid Priory of S. John of Jeruſalem, was (I doubt not) exempt from the Juriſdiction of the Biſhops of London, till the Diſſolution of that Religious Houſe; after which, that Priory or Hoſpital (among other Exempts in the Dioceſe of London) was by King Edward VI. by his Letters-Patents, bearing Date, April the firſt, in the 4th of his Reign, annext to the Juriſdiction of the Biſhop of London; ever ſince which time (till of late) this Church, as well as others of like Nature, have been ſubject to the Juriſdiction of the ſaid Biſhops, in all Matters of Eccleſiaſtical Cognizance, as appears in the ſaid Biſhops Regiſtry, by the Curates of the ſaid Church, having been licens'd from time to time, by the ſaid Biſhops, or their Vicars-General; by the ſaid Curates and the Church-wardens of the ſaid Pariſh, appearing from time to time at Epiſcopal Viſitations, and alſo by the proving of Wills, and granting Adminiſtrations of ſuch as have from time to time died in the ſaid Pariſh, by the Biſhops Commiſſaries; notwithſtanding Sir Richard Newdigate, the preſent Poſſeſſor and Proprietary, hath of late conteſted the ſame.

This Church being a Donative or Curacy, pays no Firſt-Fruits and Tenths, neither can I find that it ever paid any Procurations to the Biſhop, tho' the Curates have from time to time appear'd at Viſitations, and exhibited their Inſtruments.

THIS Pariſh of Harlington (antiently call'd Hardington, and ſometimes Herdington) is in the Hundred of Elthorne, about 14 Miles Weſt from London.

As to the Church here (dedicated to) it is a Rectory, and hath been all along in the Gift of private Patrons, but moſtly in the Lovells, as will appear hereafter; and is ſubject to the Archdeacon.

Harmondſworth, Vicarage.

THIS Pariſh of Harmondſworth, or Hermondeſworth, is in the Hundred of Elthorne, about 16 Miles Weſt from London, and ſubject to the Archdeacon.

Archid. Midleſex.

In the Conqueror's Survey, it is written Hermodeſword, where Earl Roger held one Hide.

But after this, it ſeems this Mannor of Harmondſworth was given to the Abbot and Convent of S. Audoen, in Normandy, together with the Church (which is dedicated to) which Church in proceſs of time, it ſeems, was appropriated to that Abby, and a Vicarage here ordain'd and endow'd, of which, the ſaid Abbot and Convent continu'd Patrons till at firſt, King Edw. III. ſeiz'd both the Mannor, Church, and Advowſon of the Vicarage, as belonging to a Priory-Alien, by reaſon of his Wars with France. How long it continu'd in the Crown, appears not; but towards the latter End of Richard II. viz. Anno 1392. it appears that there was a Clerk inſtituted to this Vicarage, at the Preſentation of the Warden and Scholars of the College of the bleſſed Virgin Mary, near Wincheſter, then newly founded by William of Wickham, Biſhop of that Sea, they being by an Inquiſition, found to be Patrons of this Vicarage, pro iſta vice; and after that, appear'd to be Patrons, pleno jure, and Proprietaries of the Rectory and Pariſh-Church, and ſo continu'd till King Henry VIII. by way of Exchange for this Lordſhip and Mannor, got the ſaid Rectory, and Advowſon of the Vicarage, into his Hands, with other Rectories and Advowſons, as may be ſeen in Hampton; and his Son Edward VI. in the firſt Year of his Reign (inter alia) gave this Rectory and Advowſon of the Vicarage, to his chief Secretary, Sir William Paget, Knight, one of the Noble Order of the Garter (and the firſt Baron of that Family) as late parcel of the Poſſeſſions of the ſaid College of Winton, for his good Services, and to his Heirs for ever. In which noble Family, the Advowſon of this Vicarage, and (as I preſume) the impropriate Rectory hath continu'd ever ſince.

In the Year 1438. there was a Return made to Robert Gilbert, then Biſhop of London, by certain Commiſſioners, impower'd to that purpoſe, of the Endowment of this Vicarage, which, according to that Return, amounted in all, but to lxxiv s. viii d. per Annum, in which they reckon'd the Manſion-Houſe, and xii. Acres of Land belonging to it, at xiv s. per Annum, out of which, the Vicar paid for Procurations and Synodals, to the Archdeacon, xi s. ii d. and the Rectory was then valu'd at xl. Marks, per Ann. and upward.

Harrow on the Hill, Rectory, Vicarage.

THIS Pariſh of Harrow on the Hill, is ſo call'd from its Situation, which Mr. Camden ſays, is on the higheſt Hill in this County; it lies in the Hundred of Gore, about 11 or 12 Miles diſtant North-weſt from London, and is a Peculiar belonging to the Archbiſhop of Canterbury, and wholly ſubject to his Juriſdiction in all Spiritual Matters, and reckon'd among the Pariſhes belonging to the Deanry of Croydon in Surry. Pecul. Cant.

This Place of Harrow, was in the time of the Saxons, and in old Records call'd Herghes, perhaps from the Saxon Word Heꞃᵹhe, Heꞃiᵹe or Heꞃe, which ſeveral Words ſignify an Army, an Hoſt, or Legion of arm'd Men, having been probably in old time encamp'd here. In the Archbiſhop of Canterbury's Records, it is ſometimes written Harewes.

This Place of Herges or Harges, was given to the Church of Canterbury of old, but by whom, I no where find; but in the Year 822. it being, it ſeems, ſome time before, taken from that Church by Cenulfe or Kenulfe, King of the Mercians, it was with ſeveral other Lands recover'd by Wlfred, Archbiſhop of Canterbury, as appears in Mr. Somner's Antiquities of Canterbury p. 213. in theſe Words " Eod. Anno (i. e. DCCCXXII. Wlfredus, Archiepiſc. Dorobernia " Concilium celebravit, in loco præclaro qui dicitur Cloveſho, præſente " Beornulpho Rege Merciorum, ſuper Libertate Eccleſiæ, ubi idem Archiepiſcopus " recuperavit quaſdam terras Eccleſiæ Chriſti Dorobernia ablatis: ſcilicet Harges, Herefordingland, Wamblean, Gedding & Cumbe. X.Script.Col. 2214.

It farther likewiſe there appears, p. 214. as followeth, “ Anno Domini DCCCXXX. Werhardus, Presbyter; prepotens in Anglia, de præcepto Archiepiſcopi dedit monachis Eccleſiæ Chriſti Dorobernia terras prius ablatas, ſcilicet Harges CIV. Hydas, Otteford C. &c. thus we ſee when, and by whom this Place of Harrow was recover'd and reſtor'd to the Church of Canterbury.

Ibid. 2216.

As to the Parochial-Church of Harrow (which is dedicated to) there was formerly a Rectory and a Vicarage; the Rectory was a Sine-Cure, to which the Archbiſhop collated a Rector, who thereupon became Patron of the Vicarage, which Vicarage was endow'd by S. Edmund, Archbiſhop of Canterbury, and the Endowment, I find exemplify'd by Archbiſhop Courtney, April 13. 1396. and afterwards by Archbiſhop Warham, May 23. 1512. the Subſtance of which Endowment is as followeth; “ Edmundus, Dei Gratia, Cant. —— Noverit univerſitas veſtra, nos divinæ caritatis intuitu, & propter divini cultus honorem, ad præſentationem Magiſtri E. de Derham, Rectoris Eccleſiæ de Herges, admiſiſſe Johannem de Holtuna, Capellanum, ad perpetuam Vicariam dictæ Eccleſiæ de Herges, & capellarum de Pinnore & de Thokintone in Denariis, in pane, in candelis, & in omnibus aliis, quæ ſolent de Altare offerri. In this Church there was a Chantry founded to the Honour of God and the bleſſed Virgin, by William de Boſco, Rector of this Church (of whom more hereafter) who endow'd it with one Meſſuage, and 52 Acres of Land; alſo with 42 Acres of Land more, and five Acres and half of Meadow, and 4 s. 4 d. q. yearly Rent, for a Chaplain to celebrate Maſs daily, for ever, for the good Eſtate of himſelf, for the Archbiſhops of Canterbury, for the Rectors, Vicars, and other Eccleſiaſtical Miniſters of Harwes, and for all the Pariſhioners of the ſame, as well living as dead. He ordain'd alſo, how the Chantry-Prieſts, in Succeſſion, ſhould be choſen, and by whom, what Duties they ſhould perform, what Charities they ſhould diſtribute, and what they ſhould leave their Succeſſors, when they voided this Chantry, either by Death or Ceſſion. The Inſtrument of Foundation bears Date, at Kynton, on Wedneſday next after the Feaſt of S. Barnaby the Apoſtle, Anno 1324. and was confirm'd by the Prior and Chapter of Canterbury, on the firſt of July following.

Rectores.

a Edw. de Derham.
b Will. de Boſco.
c Tho. de Lytlington.
d Joh. de Leech.
e Pelegrin Reymond.

a Edw. de Derham, by what is before written, appears to be Rector of this Church, when S. Edmund was Archbiſhop of Canterbury, who died, 16. Kal. Dec. 1242. [Antiq. Brit. 172.]

b Will. de Boſco was Rector of this Church in 1313. for upon an Inquiſition taken about the Vacancy of this Church, he the ſaid William being, de facto, Incumbent of the ſame, was on the 17. Kal. of October, that Year, cited, or order'd to be cited, to ſhew a Diſpenſation, or Cauſe, why Roger de Northburgh, Clerk, preſented by King Edward II. (May 16. 1313.) to this Church, ſhould not be inſtituted to the ſame; whether he appear'd, or the Cauſe heard by John de Sancto Claro, and Joteus de Kinnebarton, Profeſſors of Civil-Law, and Canons of S. Paul's, Commiſſioners appointed for that purpoſe, by the Prior and Chapter of Canterbury, on the Kalends of November following, I am not certain. However, it is certain that he continu'd Rector here, for afterwards there was a Controverſy between William, Cardinal-Presbyter of S. Cyriac in Thermis, who pretended Right to this Church, by Apoſtolical Proviſion, on the one part, and the ſaid William de Boſco, preſent Poſſeſſor of the ſaid Church, by ordinary Collation, as Rector, on the other, which being ſubmitted to Walter, Archbiſhop of Canterbury, Patron and immediate Ordinary of the ſame; he for ſeveral Reaſons, gave his Sentence for the Right of the ſaid William de Boſco, as true Rector of Harrow, but in regard the ſaid Lord-Cardinal was a great Pillar of the Univerſal Church, and very profitable, not only to the Church of Harrow, but to the Church of Canterbury, and alſo the Church and Kingdom of England, for the better Support of the ſaid Lord-Cardinal's Expences, he order'd and decreed, that he ſhould receive an annual Penſion of 40 l. Sterling, out of the Profits of the Church of Harrow, as long as he liv'd, but no longer. This Decree bears Date 23. of Oct. 1317. [Collect. Doct. Matth. Hutton] that the ſaid William de Boſco continu'd Rector of Harrow, in the Year 1322. will appear by his having a Vicar admitted to this Church, July 8. that Year, at his Preſentation as Rector; and by his founding the fore-mention'd Chantry in this Church in 1324. we may conclude, that he was at that time Rector of the ſame, but how long after, appears not.

c Tho. de Lytlington was Rector of this Church, Anno 1330. for on the 23. of March, that Year, the King ratified him therein. [Pat. 5. Edw. III. p. 1.]

d Joh. de Leech, vel Letch, was Rector of this Church in 1351. for as Rector thereof, he preſented a Vicar, who was admitted to the ſame, 7. Kal. Aug. that Year, as will appear hereafter; and ſoon after leaving this Church, by way of Exchange, by Vertue of the King's Licence, for that of Crandale, in the Dioceſe of Winton, he was confirm'd therein by the King, Mar. 15. 1352. [Pat. 27. Edw. III. p. 1.]

e Pelegrin Reymond was Rector of this Church, and ratify'd therein by the King, Jan. 28. 1352. [Pat. 27. Edw. III. p. 1.]

n Will. Bolton was Preb. of Conſumpt. per Mare, to which he was collated, Apr. 3. 1481. and reſign'd it before Nov. 6. 1488. but what he is moſt to be taken Notice of is, as he was Prior of S. Bartholomews, near Smithfield, London, concerning whom it is ſaid in the late Additions to Camden's Britannia, Col. 325. &c. that this Place, of Harrow on the Hill, being the higheſt Ground in the whole County, was therefore made Choice of, by William Bolton, the laſt Prior, of S. Bartholomews, in Smithfield, to build him a Houſe on, to preſerve him from a Deſign which was prognoſticated from certain Eclipſes in watery Signs, and was to happen in the Year 1524. with this, not only the vulgar, but learned Men were ſo unreaſonably infatuated, that they victualed themſelves (as both Hall and Speed confidently report) and went to high Grounds for fear of being drown'd, amongſt whom was this Prior, who not only prided himſelf with a Houſe here, at Harrow, but carry'd all ſorts of Proviſions with him thither, to ſerve him for the ſpace of two Months. Mr. Stow (ſaith the Author) I acknowledge, would have all this for to be a Fable, and that Prior Bolton, being alſo Parſon of Harrow, did only repair his Parſonage-Houſe, and build a Dove-Coat to ſerve him with that ſort of Fowl, after he was ſpoil'd of his Priory, [Sto. Surv. 419.] but the Date of this Deluge, and the Diſſolution of the Priory) which was not till Anno 1539. 30. Hen. VIII.) not well agreeing, I know not (ſays he) what to ſay to it, but leave it to the deciſion of the Reader. Thus far in the ſaid Additions. But to rectify ſome Errors in what is above related, Hall and Speed, indeed, (and that rightly) call the above-nam'd William Bolton, only Prior, and not the laſt Prior, as our Author does, who therein is miſtaken; for this Prior Bolton died April 5. 1532. and Robert (that is Robert Fuller, Abbot of Waltham Holy-Croſs) was on the 28. of June following, choſen to ſucceed him, as Prior of S. Bartholomew, as appears by the London-Regiſtry, [Stokeſly 80.] which Robert Fuller (by the way) was both the laſt Abbot of Waltham, and (as far as I can find) the laſt Prior of S. Bartholomews; ſo that this Prior Bolton dying ſeven Years before the Diſſolution of the ſaid Priory, and having a Succeſſor choſen in his Place, cannot be ſaid to be the laſt Prior; neither can he well be ſaid to build a Dove-Coat at Harrow, after he was ſpoiled of his Priory (as Stow hath it) ſince it became void by his Death, ſo many Years before the Diſſolution thereof; neither is it likely that he made Choice of Harrow, as the higheſt Ground in the whole County to build a Houſe on, to preſerve him from the pretended Deluge, as is above related, ſeeing he was collated to the Parſonage there in September 1522. and that Deluge was not to happen till February 1524. which was above two Years after; for if the Books of Ephemerides and Prognoſtications made in thoſe Days, were publiſh'd as our Almanacks are now (to wit) about a Month or two before the Year begins, for which they are calculated, Prior Bolton could have no fore-ſight of that Deluge from them, before he was actually inveſted with the Parſonage of Harrow; neither do I think a Man can properly be ſaid to make Choice of a Place, when it is conferr'd on him by the Free-Gift of another. All I can farther ſay of this Prior Bolton, is, that he was a great Repairer of his ſaid Priory, and other Buildings belonging thereunto, as may be ſeen in what I have written thereof.

Pinnour

Pinnour and Thokingtone Chappels.

BY the Endowment (recited before) of the Vicarage here, it appears, that there were then two Chappels of Eaſe belonging to this Church of Harrow, namely, Pinnour and Thokintone, the Chappel of Pinnour, is about a Mile and half, or two Miles, diſtant from the Mother-Church of Harrow to the Northweſt, and ſtill remains a Chappel of Eaſe to it.

But as for that of Thokintone (perhaps the ſame Place, which in our Maps is written Kenton, about a Mile diſtant from the Church of Harrow, to the Eaſtward) I ſuppoſe it is wholly diſſolv'd; and in the 5th of King James I. was granted to Sir Will. Herick and others.

Hayes cum Cap. de Norwood, Rectory, Vicarage.

Pec. Cant.

THIS Pariſh of Hayes (in old Records Hees and Heſe, and ſometimes Herſe and Heys) is in the Hundred of Elthorne, about 13 or 14 Miles Weſt from London. It is (like Harrow) a Peculiar belonging to the Archbiſhop of Canterbury, and wholly ſubject to his Juriſdiction, in all Spiritual Matters, and reckon'd among the Pariſhes belonging to the Deanry of Croydon in Surry.

Reg. Dec. & Cap. S. Pauli, Pix. y.

There happening a Controverſy in old time between Peter de Lymoniten, Rector of Heſe, on the one Part, and Richard de Flammavil Prior of Riſelep, on the other, in the Arches-Court of Canterbury, about certain Tyths in this Pariſh, it was at laſt referr'd to Hugo de Mortuo Mari, a Canon of S. Paul's, who determin'd it after this manner, viz. "Quod Rector Eccleſiæ de Heſe, qui pro "tempore fuerit, omnes decimas de dicta terra provenientes totaliter & in- "tegraliter percipiat, & Rector, qui pro tempore fuerit ſolvat ſingulis annis in "recompenſationem dictarum decimarum in feſto Purificationis, Procuratori "dictorum Abbatis & Conventus, qui pro tempore fuerint in Anglia, vel ejus

" nuntio apud Heſe, viii. Sol. Dat' apud Lambeth, die Dominica prox. poſt Fe-
" ſtum Sancti Matthæi Apoſtoli, 1259.

To the Parochial-Church here (which is dedicated to) there is annex'd the Chappel of Norwood, but in all the Archbiſhop's Regiſtry, at Doctors-Commons, I find no Inſtitution to this Church, either as Rectory or Vicarage, till Archbiſhop Warham's time, which Archbiſhop, in the Year 1520. at the Petition of William Warham, Archdeacon of Canterbury, and at that time (as may be ſuppos'd) Rector of this Church, for it appears that the Rectory here became void afterwards, by his Death, tho' the time of his Admiſſion thereunto, appears not, ordain'd a Vicarage here, reſerving the Advowſon thereof to himſelf and Succeſſors, and endow'd the ſame with xx l. per Annum, to be paid by the Rector to the Vicar, at the four uſual Feaſts, by equal Portions, which Sum he then judg'd to be ſufficient for the Maintenance of the Vicar, and for the Supply of the Chappel of Norwood, and the Support of ſuch Burdens as were incumbent upon him; and then, upon the Vacancy of this Vicarage, he ordain'd, that the Rector ſhould not be bound to pay any thing to the future Vicar, during the Vacancy, but retain it for the Supply of the Cure, and of the Chappel of Norwood, during that time. Warham, p. 388.

Alſo, that during the Vacancy of the Rectory, the Archbiſhop and his Succeſſors (to whom the Profits of the ſame did of Right belong) ſhould pay the Vicar his Penſion, pro rata.

He farther ordain'd, that a competent Houſe, with an Orchard and Garden thereunto adjoyning, ſhould be built and provided, at the Coſts of the preſent Rector or his Succeſſors, for the ſaid Vicar and his Succeſſors, which being once built, the ſaid Vicar ſhould keep in Repair.

Alſo, that the Vicar ſhould from time to time, provide a fit Chaplain to officiate in the Chappel of Norwood, and upon the Vacancy of the ſaid Vicarage, the ſaid Chaplain (beſide his officiating in the ſaid Chappel) ſhould miniſter holy Things to the Pariſhioners of Hayes.

The Vicar, likewiſe, to pay Procurations and Synodals, due to the Dean of Croydon, by Reaſon of the ſaid Church and Chappel.

He likewiſe farther ordain'd, that the ſaid Vicar and his Succeſſors, ſhould receive no more than his ſaid Portion of the ſaid Rector and his Succeſſors, but ſhould be wholly excluded from demanding any ſort of Tyths, Oblations, Mortuaries, or any thing whatſoever belonging to the ſaid Church.

Finally, if the Rector or his Succeſſors require it, the ſaid Vicar and his Succeſſors, or their Chaplains, were to gather the Profits of the ſaid Church and Chappel for them, of which they were to give an Account, when required, and for ſo doing, they were to receive beyond the ſaid xx l. the Sum of xl s. which was to be paid them at Michaelmas or Eaſter, or within 15 Days after; neither were they to ſupport any other Burdens than what are above expreſs'd, but whatever elſe there are, the Rectors were to undergo; and the ſaid Vicar and Chaplain, and their Succeſſors, were to make Oath before the ſaid Rector and his Succeſſors, that they have not uſurp'd upon the Rights of the Rector, nor wrong'd him in his Profits, but ſhall ſuffer the ſaid Rector and his Succeſſors, quietly and wholly, to enjoy the Profits of the ſaid Church and Chappel, under the incurring the Penalty of Perjury. This is the Subſtance of the Ordination and Endowment of this Vicarage, which bears Date, May 4. 1520. and may be ſeen at large in the Archbiſhop's Regiſtry, Lib. Warham, Fol. 388.

The Mannor of Hays (or Heeſe) as alſo the Advowſons of the Rectory and Vicarage, were part of the Poſſeſſions of the Archbiſhops of Canterbury, till the 37. of Henry VIII. in which Year, upon Aſſurance made to that King and his Heirs, for ever, by Archbiſhop Cranmer, of this Mannor, and the Advowſons of the ſaid Rectory and Vicarage, with ſeveral others, his Majeſty did, by way of Exchange, in Recompence thereof, grant to the ſaid Archbiſhop and his Succeſſors, for ever, ſeveral other Mannors, Lands and Parſonages, &c. about the ſame Value. Collect. Magiſtri J. Ouſeley.

The Premiſſes thus coming to the Crown, the ſaid King, in the ſame 37. of his Reign, granted the Advowſons of this Rectory and Vicarage to Sir Edward North, Knight, for a certain Sum of Money out of which, Queen Elizabeth in the 3d of her Reign, granted the annual Rent of 4 l. as the Tenths of the 37. Hen. VIII. p. 14. 3. Eliz. p. 3 Rectory, and 40 s. as the Tenths of the Vicarage, to Matthew Archbiſhop of Canterbury.

But after the above-mention'd Grant, to Sir Edward North, it appears, that the Archbiſhop of Canterbury collated to this Vicarage twice; but how this came to paſs, I know not, and after that (ſaving once) it appears to be in private Patrons; and as to the Advowſon of the Rectory, in 1557. it appears to be in the Earl of Pembroke, in whoſe Family it hath continu'd for the moſt part, ever ſince, till of late Years, Ralph Hawtry, Eſq; and Chriſtopher Craſford, Gent. were become Patrons thereof.

Norwood, Chappel.

About two Miles and half from the Pariſh-Church of Hayes, to the South-eaſt, ſtands this Chappel of Norwood, or Northwood, which remains a Chappel of Eaſe to the Mother-Church of Hayes, to this Day; to which Church, the Vicars are preſented and inſtituted, with this Chappel of Norwood thereunto annext.

a Pet. de Lymonicen, appears by what is above written, to be Rector of this Church in 1259.

b Adam Murimouth, was Parſon of this Church of Heſe 1314. for on the 22d of November, that Year, the King granted him his Letters of Protection, as Parſon of the ſaid Church, [Pat. 8. Edw. II. p. 1. vid. inter Præb. de Harleſton.]

He was Rector of Borton upon the Water, in Gloceſterſhire; Canon-Reſidentiary, and Treaſurer of Wells, Chaplain in Ordinary to King James I. and in 1613. the firſt Warden of Wadham-College, but reſign'd that Office ſoon after. In 1622. he was made Biſhop of Briſtol, to which he was conſecrated March 3. that Year (upon which he reſign'd this his Church of Hayes) but had not Reſtitution made to him of his Temporalities of that Sea, till the 4th of April following. In 1632. he was tranſlated to Lichfield and Coventry, the Temporalities whereof, he receiv'd on the 3d of December that Year, at which time he gave up the Treaſurerſhip of Wells. In 1641. he was with nine other Biſhops committed to the Tower, by the Houſe of Commons, for drawing up a Proteſtation againſt their unreaſonable Actions; but before he was convey'd thither, he made an eloquent Speech, at their Bar, in Anſwer for himſelf, which was afterwards printed in one Sheet. After he had continu'd Priſoner about 18 Weeks, to his great Charge, he was releas'd, whereupon retiring to Eccleſhall-Caſtle (the Seat belonging to his Biſhoprick, and then a Garriſon for the King) he there died in July or Auguſt 1643. THIS Pariſh of Hendon (of the Saxons, Hiȝhendune, ſaith Norden, which ſignifies high Wood, of the Plenty of Wood there growing on the Hills) is in the Hundred of Gore, about ſeven or eight Miles Northweſtward from London. Dr. Holland in his Interpolations of Camden's Britannia, tells us, that Archbiſhop Dunſtan, born for the Advancement of Monks, purchas'd for ſome few Gold Bizantines (which were Imperial Pieces of Gold, coin'd at Bizantium or Conſtantinople) this Place of Hendon, and gave it the Monks of S. Peter's Weſtminſter. However this might be, I find, xx. Hides of Land in Heandune, confirm'd to that Monaſtery, by King Edward the Confeſſor, in his Charter, dated 5. *Kal. As to the Church of Hendon (dedicated to S. Mary) when Fulco Baſſet was Biſhop of London, Richard de Crokeſley, then Abbot of Weſtminſter, reſign'd this Church (of which, it ſeems, he was then Rector) to that Biſhop, with certain Salvo's, as appears by what follows. "Ven'li Patri F. Dei Gratia, London. "Epiſcopo R. eadem Gratia, Abbas Weſtminſter, Domini Papæ Capellanus, "ſalutem. Eccleſiam de Hendon, quam juxta Gratiam nobis à ſede Apoſtolica "conceſſam de conſenſu veſtro in Dioc. London. obtinemus, Ven'li Paternitati "veſtræ omnino reſignamus——Salvo nobis & Eccleſiæ noſtræ Weſtminſter, per "omnia jure Patronatus, cum annua Penſione dictæ Eccleſiæ noſtræ debita in "eadem. Dat' Winton, in craſtino Tranſlationis Sancti Benedicti Abbatis. "Anno Gratiæ 1258.

Cart. Orig. penes Dec. & Cap. S. Pauli.

But farther, as to this Parochial-Church, here was of old a Rectory, and a Vicarage; the Rectory (which was a Sine-Cure) was in the Gift of the Abbot and Convent of Weſtminſter, and ſo continu'd for a long time; and from the Year 1461. I find the Rectors, whom they preſented, were admitted to it cum Capella de Hamſted eidem annexa. The Vicarage was in the Gift of the Rectors, and ſo continu'd all along, till 1478. and then the ſaid Abbot and Convent preſented to it, and ſo preſented from time to time, ſtill, as it fell void, till the Diſſolution of Religious Houſes in King Henry VIII. time.

Vid. Hamſted

By the two laſt Inſtitutions to this Rectory, viz. thoſe in 1466. and 1477. it appears, that there was a Penſion of xxvi s. viii d. yearly, paid to the Monaſtery of Weſtminſter, by the Rectors of this Church, and is ſaid in the Acts, to be ab antiquo debita which indeed is intimated in the Abbots Reſignation above-mention'd, in 1258. and it ſeems to me, that this Penſion was continu'd to be paid to that Monaſtery after it was ſuppreſs'd, and made firſt a Biſhoprick, by King Henry VIII. then that diſſolv'd by King Edward VI. and made a Body-Politick and Corporation, conſiſting of a Dean and 12 Prebendaries, by the Name of the Dean and Chapter of the Cathedral-Church of S. Peter's Weſtminſter; for, I find, in the Year 1550. among the Procurations, payable by the Churches in the Archdeaconry of Middleſex, to the Biſhop of London, upon his Viſitation, the Church of Weſtminſter, under the late Title of the Abbot of Weſtminſter, rated xii d. for the Procurations of his Penſion, payable out of the Profits of this Church of Hendon, ſo that if the Church of Weſtminſter (which is now Collegiate) ſtill receives this Penſion out of the Profits of this Church of Hendon, that Collegiate-Church is ſtill liable to pay the ſaid Procuration of xii d. to the Biſhop, when he viſits.

After the 27. of Sept. 1477. (at which time the Biſhop of London did collate to this Rectory and Pariſh-Church, cum Capella de Hamſted, eidem annexa per lapſum temporis vacant.) I find no farther Inſtitution to this Rectory at all, for which reaſon, I conceive, that from thence forward, the Abbot and Convent of Weſtminſter aforeſaid, became Rectors and Proprietaries of it themſelves, tho' I do not find when, or how this Rectory came to be appropriated, nor the ſaid Abbot and Convent ſtil'd Rectors and Proprietaries thereof, upon the Inſtitutions of the Vicars, which they preſented till the Year 1513. and then one Peter Burnell was inſtituted to this Vicarage; "Ad præſentationem venerabilium "& religioſorum virorum Abbatis & Conventus monaſterii beati Petri, Weſtminſter, Rectorum & Proprietariorum Eccleſiæ Parochialis de Hendon, ipſius "Vicariæ verorum Patronorum, &c.

Vide the Act of Appropriat— by Tho. Kemp. Lond. Episc— among the Records of the Dean & Chapter of Westm—

The Advowſon of this Rectory (among others) was by Queen Mary in her Letters-Patents, dated March 3. in the firſt Year of her Reign (whereby ſhe granted and confirmed ſeveral Mannors, Lands, Rectories, &c. to Edmund Bonner, Biſhop of London, and to his Succeſſors, for ever, many of which did before that belong to the Church of Weſtminſter) reſerv'd to the Crown, how it was afterwards diſpos'd of, I know not, unleſs it was to the Noble Family of the Herberts, who (if I miſtake not) had the Mannor; and it appears that the Patronage of this Vicarage, in 1557. was in William Herbert, Earl of Pembroke (who died in 1569. and afterwards came to his ſecond Son, Sir Edward Herbert, Knight, and probably, deſcended to William his eldeſt Son, who was advanc'd to the Dignity of a Baron of this Realm, by the Title of Lord Powis of Powis, in the Marches of Wales, in 5. Car. I. and dying, March 7. 1655. in the eighty third Year of his Age, was bury'd in this Church, as appears by his Epitaph in Dug. Bar. This Powis Family (if I miſtake not) are ſtill Lords of this i Meſhach Smith, the preſent Vicar of this Church, 1700. was born at Sible-Hedningham in Eſſex, Aug. 7. 1637. was ſometime of Jeſus College, Cambridge, where he commenc'd Maſter of Arts; he was in May 1673. admitted Parſon of the Church of Chipping-Ongar in Eſſex, to which he was preſented by Mrs. Gouldesburgh, of the ſame Place: about the Year 1639. he reſign'd this Parſonage, being preſented to this Church of Hendon; he is alſo a Prebendary in the Cathedral-Church of Wells.

Heſton, Vicarage.

THIS Pariſh of Heſton (famous for the delicate Wheat that grows about it, the Flower whereof (ſaith Mr. Camden) has been particulary made Choice of, by our Kings, for their own Bread) is in the Hundred of Iſleworth, Archid. Mid. about 11 or 12 Miles Weſtward from London, and ſubject to the Archdeacon.

The Church (dedicated to S. Leonard) was given in ancient time, to the Mon. Angl. Vol. II. 1003. Abby of S. Walerick, in Picardy; to which it was confirm'd (inter alia) by King Henry III. in 54. of his Reign. The Rectory it ſeems, was of old, appropriated to that Monaſtery, and a Vicarage thereupon ordain'd and endow'd, of which that Abbot and Convent were Patrons, and to which the Priors of Takeley, in Eſſex (a Cell to that Abby) as their Procurators, did uſually preſent; but after the ſeiſing of the Temporalities of that Priory (amongſt others) as a Priory Alien by King Edward III. and after him by King Richard II. by reaſon of their Wars with France, the ſaid Kings thereupon preſented to it, till ſuch time as William of Wickham, Biſhop of Wincheſter, having founded his College, near that City, procur'd, of the ſaid King, this Rectory and Pariſh-Church, and Advowſon of the Vicarage (among others) and made them part of the Endowment of the ſaid College; whereby the Warden, Fellows and Scholars thereof, became Proprietaries of the ſaid Rectory, and Patrons of the Vicarage, and ſo continu'd, till in the Reign of King Henry VIII. the Premiſſes came to the Crown, by way of Exchange, as may be ſeen in Hampton. After which, Queen Elizabeth, in the 4th of her Reign, and afterwards by her Letters-Patents, dated Apr. 23. in the 33. of her Reign, gave and granted, this Rectory (among others) with all its Rights and Appurtenances to the Biſhop of London, and his Succeſſors, in pure and perpetual Alms, for ever. By Vertue whereof, this impropriate Rectory, and the right of Patronage or Collation of this Vicarage, hath continu'd in the Biſhops of London ever ſince.

Grindal, 352.

And although it appears hereafter, that one Richard North, was in 1581. inſtituted to this Vicarage, at the Queen's Preſentation, as void by Lapſe, yet he procur'd it by ſuggeſting, that Mordecai Bownell, the Incumbent, held this Vicarage, with the Church of Cranford, in this County, without Qualification and Diſpenſation, whence aroſe great Suits between them, but at laſt it was put to Arbitration, and it appearing before the Arbitrators, that Bownell was duly qualify'd (tho' through Miſtake, or Negligence, he had omitted to plead or prove it) they awarded the Vicarage again to Bownell, and 60 l. Coſts to North, upon which, Bownell, to prevent all Advantage that might be taken, by reaſon of Lapſe, got the Queen's Preſentation to corroborate his Title, and was again, thereupon, inſtituted to this Vicarage, by Vertue thereof, tho' above 20 Years after his firſt Admiſſion.

Stanhope, P. I. Vic. Gen. f. 9.

There are two Terriers of the Glebe belonging to this Vicarage, in the London-Regiſtry, one of which was exhibited in 1610. and the other in 1628. by both which, it appears, that there was about 14 Acres of Land belonging to it; and by the latter of them, that there was likewiſe a Vicarage-Houſe, one Barn, one Stable, and a Pigeon-Houſe, well maintain'd, and a Garden well fenc'd, and alſo nine Parcels of Tyth-Land, in Home-Mead, whereof ſeven of them be call'd Leets, and two Half-Leets.

Hillingdon, Vicarage.

THIS Pariſh of Hillingdon, Hyllyndon, Hyllyngton (otherwiſe call'd Great Hillingdon, to diſtinguiſh it from a Hamlet or Houſe, call'd Little Hillingdon) in old Records Hildendona, is in the Hundred of Elthorne, about 14 or 15 Miles from London, toward the North-Weſt, and is ſubject to the Archdeacon. Archid. Midd.

Among the great Poſſeſſions which Milo Criſpin had here in England, in the time of the Conqueror's Survey, this Lordſhip of Hillingdon, it ſeems, was a part; for by what follows, it will appear, that the Church of Hillingdon had a Hide of Land, half of which was of the Demeſnes of the Lord of that Place, which Milo Criſpin gave to Walter the Abbot (which Walter was Abbot of Eveſham, in the Conqueror's time, and died in 1086. *Mon. Out of this Church of Hillingdon, there was one Mark yearly, to be allow'd to the Pitanciary of the ſaid Church of Eveſham. Mon. Ang. Vol. I. p. 148.

Many Years after this, this Church of Hillingdon was granted to Godefrid, Biſhop of Worceſter, and to his Succeſſors, to their own proper Uſes, and a Vicarage thereupon ordain'd and endow'd, Anno 1281. 2. Non. Novembris, to which were Witneſſes, Tho. de Inglethorp, Dean, Ric. de Swynefend, Archdeacon of London, Ra. de Baudake, Archdeacon of Middleſex, Rog. de la Legh, Archdeacon of Eſſex, and Fulco Lovel, Archdeacon of Colcheſter, Joh. de Wengham, Precentor, Ra. de Ivinghoe, Chancellor, Joh. de Drayton, Treaſurer of the Church of S. Pauls, Joh. de Lenca and Rob. de Stowa, Canons of the ſame Church, Tho. de Northflete, Canon of Lincoln, and Joh. de Leyceſter, Rector of Wethamſted. Reg. Dec. & Cap. S. Pauli. Cart. Orig.

It is very probable, that upon the appropriating this Church to the Biſhops of Worceſter, the Biſhop of London did reſerve to himſelf and Succeſſors, for ever, the Collation of this Vicarage, which hath continu'd in them ever ſince; and this I am the rather induc'd to believe, becauſe the Juriſdiction (in ſubordination to the Biſhop) in all ſpiritual Matters (except only the Right of Induction, and when the Biſhop viſits) has been all along in the Archdeacon, and not in the Biſhop, in whom it has always been, where the right of Patronage hath been originally in the Biſhop.

In the Year 1453. John (Carpenter) Biſhop of Worceſter, as Proprietary of this Church of Hillingdon, ſued John Spigernell, Rector of the neighbouring Pariſh of Ickenham, and after his Deceaſe, Thomas Veyſey, his Succeſſor, in a Cauſe of Subtraction of Tyths, before the Judge of the Court of Audience, and on the 30. of July, that Year, obtain'd Sentence in that Cauſe, for the Tyths of a certain Place and Lands, call'd Tykenham, which the ſaid Rectors of Ickenham had for ſome Years before receiv'd, as belonging to their Pariſh; but by this Sentence, the ſaid Lands were pronounc'd to be within the Pariſh of Hillingdon, and the great Tyths to belong to the Impropriator, and the ſmall Tyths to the Vicar thereof; a particular of which Lands, which were then adjudg'd thus Tythable to the Impropriator and Vicar of Hillingdon, I think it not improper to inſert here, becauſe it may chance, at ſome time or other, to be of uſe, and they are in the very words of the Sentence as followeth, viz.

The Biſhops of London have collated to this Vicarage, with the Chappel of Uxbridge thereunto annex'd (of which Chappel more hereafter) ever ſince the Year 1469. as appears by the London-Regiſtry, which was about 22 Years after the Building thereof, that Chappel being built about the Year 1447.

Braybroke, 152. In this Church of Hillingdon, there was a perpetual Chantry, founded about the Reign of K. Henry V. for the Soul of Walter Rabb (call'd Rabb's Chantry) dedicated to the Bleſſed Virgin ; the Patronage whereof continu'd in that Family and Name for above 100 Years.

Weav. Fun. Mon. 530. In this Church lieth buried, under a Tomb cover'd with a Marble-Stone, John, Lord Strange, of Knocking, with an Inſcription, by which it appears, that he marry'd Jagutta (or Jaguetta) Siſter of Elizabeth Queen of England, Wife of Edward IV. and that he died 15. Oct. in the 17th of that King ; and alſo, that Joan (who was his ſole Daughter and Heir) caus'd this Tomb, together with the Picture of the ſaid Jaguetta, to be made at her own Coſt and Charges, Ann. 1509.

o One Ric. Turner, a Staffordſhire Man born, was educated in Magdalen-College, Oxon, of which Houſe he became afterwards Fellow, and eſteem'd in the Univerſity, eſpecially by the reform'd Party, a right godly and learned Man, and a good Preacher, afterwards he belong'd to the Church of Windſor, where he help'd, or rather adviſ'd John Merbeck or Marbeck, in making the Concordance of the Bible; but when Queen Mary came to the Crown, he fled beyond the Seas, and ſetled at Baſil, in Germany, among the Engliſh Exiles there, where he died in the Year 1558. [Ath. Ox. Vol. I. p. 91.] but whether he was the ſame with Ric. Turuer, our Vicar, I am not certain, tho' this Vicarage became void by the Death of our Vicar the ſame Year.

Uxbridge, Chappel.

Skin. Lexic- UXbridge, antiently call'd Woxbridge, and ſometimes Oxbridge; Skinner ſays, olim Waxbridge, forſan à Luto, quod inſtar ceræ molle pedibus ſubjectum eſt, lieth about a Mile Weſtward from Hillingdon aforeſaid, upon the River Colne, and is a Market-Town, where the Market is held on Thurſday; it is govern'd by two Bayliffs, two Conſtables, and four Tything-men, call'd alſo Headboroughs. It is no Pariſh of it ſelf, but a Member of Great-Hillingdon, above-mention'd, and as ſuch I have treated of it in this Place.

Dugd. Bar. I. Tom. 104. About the 22. of Edw. I. Henry de Lacy, Earl of Lincoln, procur'd a Market to be held here on Mondays (which is now on Thurſdays, as aboveſaid) and a Fair yearly on the Eve and Day of S. Nicolas (viz. 5th and 6th of December) but inſtead thereof, there are now two Fairs in the Year held here, one on the 20th of July, being the Feſtival of S. Margaret the Virgin, to whom the Chappel here is dedicated; the other on the 29th of September, being the Feſtival of S. Michael the Archangel. The aforeſaid Henry Lacy, had this Mannor of Uxbridge (with many others) as alſo the Earldom of Salisbury, by marrying with Margaret, the ſole Daughter and Heir to William Longspe, Son of William Longspe, Earl of Salisbury.

Speed Chron. 814. Speed in his Catalogue of Religious Houſes, tells us of a Monaſtery founded here by Hugh Rowſe, dedicated or S. Mary, but gives us no Account of the time when it was founded, nor for what Order, nor of what Value.

This Town of Uxbridge, being a Member or Hamlet belonging to Great-Hillingdon aforeſaid, and about a Mile diſtant from it, for the Eaſe of the Inhabitants, here was at length a Chappel built by Robert Oliver, Tho. Maudin, John Palmer and John Barford, of the ſame Town, in 26. Hen. VI. Anno 1447. and dedicated to S. Margaret (to whom ſeveral Churches in London are probably dedicated) which ſeems to be imply'd, by reaſon of the Fair kept here annually, on the Day of her Feſtival, viz. July 20. It was valued at the Suppreſſion of Religious Houſes at vii l. xiii s. 4 d.

Dr. Edwyn Sands, Biſhop of London, and Patron of the Vicarage of Hillingdon aforeſaid, with the Conſent of the Vicar thereof, and ſeveral of the Pariſhioners, did at the Requeſt of ſeveral of the Inhabitants of Uxbridge, and upon Articles agreed upon between all the Parties, grant his Licence, bearing Date, under his Epiſcopal Seal, and under the Hand of James Hankinſon, then Vicar of Hillingdon, on the 19th Day of May, 1576. to the ſaid Inhabitants of Uxbridge, to bury their Dead in their Chappel, and in their new Church-yard, which they intended to make, ſaving all Duties due thereby unto Hillingdon, their Mother-Church, as before time were accuſtomably paid, viz. to pay to the Repairs of Hillingdon-Church, and to repair ſo much of that Church-yard, as they did heretofore; to pay vi s. viii d. to Hillingdon-Church, for every one they bury in their Chappel, and for every one they bury in their Church-yard, 2 d. to the Clerk of Hillingdon, and he to be diſcharg'd from making the Grave. Grindall, 82.

Afterwards, upon Complaint made to George, Biſhop of London, by the Pariſhioners of Hillingdon, that the Inhabitants of Uxbridge did not pay their Burial-Duties to the Church of Hillingdon, according to the above-mention'd Agreement, the ſaid Biſhop, upon a full Hearing of the Parties on both ſides, decreed the ſaid Sum of vi s. viii d. to be paid (as by the former Articles of Agreement) to the Church of Hillingdon, for Burials for the future, but remitted what was paſt and unpaid. Lib. Marten Vic. Gen. Pars II. 204.

That afterwards, on 14. March 1628. Complaint being made to the Right Reverend Father in God, William, Lord Biſhop of London, by the Miniſter, Church-Wardens, and divers Pariſhioners of Hillingdon, againſt the Chappel-Wardens and Inhabitants of Uxbridge, refuſing to pay towards a Rate for the Reparation of the ſaid Church of Hillingdon, and re-edifying the Steeple thereof, then taken down, being very ruinous and paſt Repairs; his Lordſhip upon peruſal of the ſaid Articles of Agreement, made in 1576. did ratifie and confirm the ſaid Articles, and did order and decree, that the ſaid Inhabitants of Uxbridge ſhould pay their ſeveral Rates towards Repairing the ſaid Church, and Re-edifying the ſaid Steeple. Duc. Lib. Vic. Gen. 67.

Geo. Townſend of Lincolns-Inn, Eſq; by his laſt Will, dated 14. Dec. 1682. did give eight or nine Tenements, in or near Cradle-Alley in Drury-Lane, within the Pariſh of S. Martin in the Fields, Middleſex, to Ralph Hawtry, John Hawtry and others, in truſt, to pay the Rents and Profits thereof in manner following, viz. one Moiety thereof towards the Maintenance of a Miniſter, to be reſident in or near this Town of Uxbridge, and to officiate in the Chappel there; and the other Moiety to a Miniſter reſiding in or near Colebrooke, in the County of Bucks, and to officiate in the Chappel there. Cur. Prærog. Lib. Drax, 132.

In this Chappel there was a perpetual Chantry founded for the Soul of ——— Sherrington (commonly call'd Sherrington's Chantry) of which the Provoſt and Fellows of Eaton-College were Patrons, which Chantry, it ſeems, was founded not long after the Building of the ſaid Chappel, for I find a Chantry-Prieſt admitted to it in the Year 1470. then void by the Reſignation of a former Chantry-Prieſt.

I have nothing more to ſay of this Town of Uxbridge, only that it was famous for that fruitleſs Treaty had there in 1641. between that glorious Martyr, King Charles I. of ever bleſſed Memory, and his rebellious and unreaſonable Subjects; of which we have a full Relation given us by Sir William Dugdale, in his View of the late Troubles, printed at Oxford in 1681.

Hornſey, Rectory.

THIS Pariſh of Hornſey or Harnſey, in old Records, Haringeye, Haryngay, Harringhay, or Heringhay (for ſo many ways I have found it written) is about four or five Miles North from London, in the Liberties of Finsbury and Wenlakesbarn; but in all Matters of Eccleſiaſtical Cognizance, exempt from the Archdeacon of Middleſex, and intirely ſubject to the Biſhop and his Commiſſary of London and Middleſex; both the Mannor and Advowſon of the Church, having been beyond all Records that I have ſeen (as they ſtill are) in the Biſhop of London.

Commiſſar. Middleſex.

This Pariſh (ſaith Norden) ſtands near the Biſhop of London's Woods or Parks, which of this Place heretofore had, and ſtill retain the Name of Hornſey-Parks; a Place memorable in our Hiſtories, for the meeting together of the Nobles, in the 10th of Ric. II. in an Hoſtile manner, to rid the King of thoſe Traytors he had about him (namely) Robert de Vere, Duke of Ireland, Alex. Nevil, Archbiſhop of York, and Michael de la Pool, Earl of Suffolk, and others, who had conſpir'd together how they might murder the Duke of Gloceſter, and the Earls of Arundel, Warwick, Derby and Nottingham.

In this Park (ſaith Norden) there is a Hill or Fort, call'd Lodg-hill, ſeeming, by the Foundation, rather to have been in old time a Caſtle, whereon ſometimes ſtood a Lodg, when the Park was repleniſh'd with Deer; with the Stones which came from the Ruins of this Place, the Church of Hornſey (ſaith he) is ſaid to be built.

This Church of Hornſey is dedicated to S. Mary, and in antient Records is call'd, the Church of S. Mary of Haringy or Hornſey: it is a Rectory in the Collation of the Biſhop of London.

Bund. Midd. Terrier 1610. one Dwelling-Houſe, one Barn, one Cow-Houſe, one Stable, 37 Acres and one Rod of Land, beſides a Ground belonging to the Barn, but how many Acres it contains, is not ſaid.

Bund. F. G. H. Terrier 1663. beſides the Homſtall-Fields, the Old Orchard, and other ſmall Parcels of Land, containing in all about five or ſix Acres; there are about 40 Acres, and a ſmall Angle of Glebe, belonging to this Rectory.

Muſwell-Hill, Chappel.

WIthin the Limits of this Pariſh of Hornſey, there was in antient time a Chappel, bearing the Name of our Lady of Muſwell, in the Place whereof, Alderman Roe erected a fair Houſe. The Place taketh the Name of the Well and of the Hill, Mouſewell-Hill, for there is on the Hill a Spring of fair Water, which is now within the Compaſs of the Houſe: Here was ſometime an Image of our Lady of Muſwell, whereunto was a continual reſort, in the way of Pilgrimage, growing (as it goes by Tradition, from Father to Son) in regard of a great Cure which was perform'd by this Water, upon a King of Scots, who being ſtrangely diſeas'd, was (by ſome divine Intelligence) advis'd to take the Water of a Well in England, call'd Muſwell, and after long Scrutation and Inquiſition, this Well was found, and perform'd the Cure. Abſolutely to deny the Cure (ſaith Norden) I dare not, for that the High God hath given Vertue to Waters to heal Infirmities (is evident by the Holy Scriptures) as by the Cure of Naaman the Leper, by waſhing ſeven times in Jordan, and by the Pool of Betheſda, which heal'd the next that ſtepp'd thereinto, after the Water was mov'd by the Angel. Thus far Norden on Middleſex, to which I may add, as may likewiſe appear farther in our own Country, by the Waters of the Bath, Tunbridge, Epſom, and of ſeveral other Places here in England.

The Mannor or Chappel of Muſwell-Hill (call'd alſo Pinſenall-Hill) with its Appurtenances, was alienated or ſold in the 19. of Eliz. by Anne Goodwyn and others, to William Roe, in whoſe Family it hath continu'd till of late it was ſold (as I have been inform'd) by Sir Thomas Roe.

Highgate,

Highgate, Chappel.

IN this Pariſh of Hornſey aforeſaid, and partly in the Pariſh of S. Pancras, about four or five Miles from London, towards the Northweſt, ſtands this Hamlet or Village of Highgate, taking its Name from the high Gate on the Hill, which Gate was erected at the Alteration of the old High-way, which way to High-Barnet from Port-Pool (now Grays-Inn) as alſo from Clarkenwell, was through a Lane on the Eaſt of S. Pancras Church, call'd Longwick-Lane, from thence leaving Highgate on the Weſt, it paſs'd through Tallingdone-Lane, and ſo to Crouch-End, and thence through a Park, call'd Hornſey great Park, to Muſwell-Hill, to Cony-Hatch, Fryarne-Barnet, and ſo to Whetſtone, which is now the common High-way to High-Barnet. This antient High-way was refus'd by way-faring Men and Carriers, by reaſon of the deepneſs, and dirty Paſſage in the Winter-Seaſon: In regard whereof, it was agreed between the Biſhop of London, and the Country, that a new way ſhould be laid forth, thro' the Biſhop's Parks, beginning at Highgate-Hill to lead (as now is accuſtom'd) directly to Whetſtone; for which new way, all Carts, Carriers, Pack-men, and ſuch like Travellers, yield a certain Tole to the Biſhop of London, which is farm'd at 40 l. per ann. and for that purpoſe, was the Gate erected on the Hill, that thro' the ſame, all Travellers ſhould paſs, and be the more aptly ſtaid for the ſame Tole. [Thus Norden on Middleſex.]

On the Top of this Hill, in the ſaid Pariſh of Hornſey, ſtands a Chappel for the Eaſe of that Part of the Country (call'd the Chappel of S. Michael, becauſe dedicated to S. Michael the Archangel) where was antiently an Hermitage, one of the Hermits whereof caus'd to be made the Cauſway between Highgate and Iſlington, taking the Gravel from the Top of the Hill, where now is a ſtanding Pond of Water. [Norden ut ſupra.] Braybroke, 51. This Hermitage was in the Gift of the Biſhop of London, and on the 20. of Febr. 1386. Rob. de Braybroke, then Biſhop of that Sea, gave it to one William Lichfield Pauperi (as he is term'd in the Grant) Heremitæ ſenectute & debilitate oppreſſo (in theſe Words, viz. "—Officium cuſtodiæ Capellæ noſtræ de Highgate, " juxta parcum noſtrum de Haringey, & domus eidem Capellæ annexæ per " Heremitas alios pauperes hactenus ſolit. cuſtodiri, tibi caritatis intuitu, & in " ſubſidium ſuſtentationis tuæ, ac meritum (ut ſperamus) animæ noſtræ ad " terminum vitæ tuæ gratioſè concedimus per præſentes.

Stokeſley, 9. After this, I find no Grant in the Regiſtry, of this Chappel or Hermitage, till Biſhop Stokeſley's time, who on the 20. of April 1531. gave this Chappel or Hermitage "—— in villa & parochia de Horneſey, ac meſſuagium, gardinum, " & ortum, cum ſuis pertinentiis, cum omnibus & ſingulis decimis, oblatio- " nibus, proficuis, & commoditalibus ac emolumentis quibuſcumque Willielmo " Forte Heremitæ durante vita ſua naturali: In Conſideration of his good Services to him, the ſaid Biſhop, to pray for his Soul, and the Souls of his Predeceſſors, and Succeſſors, and the Souls of all the faithful deceas'd. This Will. Forte, I take to be the laſt Hermit of Highgate.

Near, adjoyning to this Chappel, there is a Free-School built by Sir Roger Cholmundely, or Cholmly, Lord Chief-Baron of the Exchequer (and after that, Lord Chief-Juſtice of the King's-Bench) in the Year 1562. at his own Charges; and he procur'd the ſame to be eſtabliſh'd and confirm'd by Queen Elizabeth, by her Letters-Patents, and endow'd the ſame with yearly Maintenance, which School Edwyn Sandys, Biſhop of London, enlarg'd in 1570. by Addition of a Chappel, for Divine Service, ſince which, the Chappel hath been enlarg'd by the Piety and Bounty of divers honourable and worthy Perſons; all which appears by an Inſcription over the Gate.

The Penſion (ſaith Norden) of the Maſter of the School is uncertain, and the School is in the diſpoſition of ſix Governours or Feoffees.

Hounſlow,

Hounſlow, Chappel.

THIS Place or Hamlet of Hounſlow, or Hunſlow, is in the Hundred of Iſleworth, about 11 Miles Southweſtward from London, it belongs to two Pariſhes, the North-ſide of the Street to Heſton, and the South to Iſtleworth.

Here was formerly a Friery, call'd Domus Fratrum Captivorum, of the Order of the Mathurines, or Trinitaries, or Order of the Holy Trinity, and Redemption of Captives; of which Order, thus writes Hoſpinian [in his Orig. Monac. 481.]

In the Year of our Lord 1211. the Order of the Holy-Trinity began; Johannes Marenſis, of Provence (whom Polydore calls Joannes Matta (others Matha) and Felix an Anchoret being Authors thereof, who having a while liv'd a ſolitary Life, at a Place call'd Frigidus Cervus in Agro Feldenſi (Polydore, ſaith Meldenſi) being warn'd in their Sleep, they both went to Innocent III. Biſhop of Rome, and deſir'd of him a certain Rule of Living; he not long after, being alſo admoniſh'd by an Oracle (as they ſaid) courteouſly entertain'd them, and both of them were apparell'd by him in a white Garment, ſign'd with a blue and white Croſs; in which Habit, it is reported, that an infernal Meſſenger (others ſay an Angel) ſtood by the Biſhop as he was at Maſs, holding two Captives in his Hands; which Viſion Innocent obſerving, commanded that they ſhould be call'd Brethren of the Holy Trinity, and hereafter alſo to be call'd Brethren of the Redemption of Captives, that they might take Care to redeem for a Price ſuch Chriſtians as were taken by the Infidels; therefore they were afterwards wont to beg Alms to redeem Captives, and gave them a Rule. Thus Hoſpinian. Trinitarians.

Panvinius placeth the beginning of this Order to be in the Year 1208. but Myræus de Orig. Monac. Lib. I. cap. 8. ſets down a more probable Relation of their Original, ſaying, that John Matha, born in Provence, in France, a Doctor of Divinity of Paris, inſtituted this Order in the Year 1197. as appears by his Epitaph at Rome, in the Church of S. Thomas de Formis in Monte Celio, in this Senſe, viz.

> In the Year of our Lord's Incarnation 1197. and in the firſt Year of the Popedom of our Lord, Pope Innocent III. on the 15. Cal. of January, was inſtituted by the Will of God, the Order of the moſt Holy Trinity, by Frier John, under a particular Rule granted him by the Sea Apoſtolical. This Brother was buried in this Place, Anno Domini, Dec. 21. 1213.

Others ſay, this Order began Ann. 1196. in the Monaſtery of Cervus Frigidus, in France; but the firſt Monaſtery of this Order was erected at Rome, by Pope Innocent III. and nam'd S. Thomas de Formis.

Bale, Cent. 4. Cap. 82. in Append. 2. relates, that this Order came firſt into England, Anno Domini 1357. call'd alſo the Order of Jugham, which was a Priory, founded for this Order at Jugham, in the County of Norfolk, by William Stafferton. Mon. Angl. Vol. II. 833.

This Order doth profeſs the Rule of S. Auſtin, but beſides that, they have particular Conſtitutions approv'd by Pope Innocent III. which may be ſeen in Hoſpinian.

This Order mightily increas'd, ſo that many Monaſteries in ſeveral Countries have been erected under it, and to the Number of ſix, are ſaid to be erected under this Order, here in England; of which Number, doubtleſs, this of Hounſlow was one.

Notwithſtanding Frier John in his above-mention'd Epitaph, is ſaid to have inſtituted this Order, yet the Trinitarians ſay, that the Holy Trinity, and not Frier John, nor any of the Saints, gave them their Rule and Order. To which Effect, in all their Convents, theſe Rhimes are engraven. Weav. Fun. Mon. 142.

Hic eſt Ordo Ordinatus
Non à Sancto Fabricatus.
Sed à ſolo ſummo Deo.

This bleſſed Order firſt began
By God, and not by Saint or Man.

But now as to the Priory of Hounſlow, it was dedicated to the Holy Trinity, as all the Monaſteries of this Order, by their Conſtitutions were.

Weav. Fun. Mon. 529. By whom this Fraternity here was founded (ſaith Weaver) I cannot tell, except by the Windſors, a Family of many Deſcents, ever ſince the Norman Conqueſt, who had their Habitation at Stanwell, not far off, and choſe this Friers-Chappel for their Place of Burial, which, together with the Houſe, was after the Diſſolution, given by Exchange, to the Lord Windſor, by King Henry VIII.

Afterwards, it came (ſaith Norden) to Auditor Roan, by Purchaſe, who hath beſtow'd the ſame Chappel, and forty Shillings per Ann. upon the Inhabitants, to the End, and upon Condition, that they by farther Contribution ſhall maintain a Miniſter there.

This Houſe, at the Suppreſſion, was valu'd, at 78 l. 8 s. 6 d. per Ann. Dugdale; 80 l. 15 s. 6 d. Speed.

A fair Houſe is erected where the Friery was, which did belong to the Heirs of Auditor Roan.

S. James Clerkenwell, Curacy.

THIS Pariſh of S. James Clerkenwell, is in the Liberty of Finsbury and Wenlakesbarn, and is one of the 14 Out-Pariſhes within the Bills of Mortality; as to Matters Eccleſiaſtical, it is ſubject, under the Biſhop, to the Archid. Lond. Archdeacon of London, to whom the Curate pays 2 s. 6 d. Procurations. What is now the Pariſh-Church, is only what remains of the old Church, which did belong to the Priory there, and is now neither Rectory nor Vicarage, but a Donative or Curacy.

Sto. Sur. 486. William Horne, a Maſter of Defence, and Yeoman of the Guard, in 1580. gave Lands and Tenements to the Clothworkers, in London, they to pay yearly xiv l. to the Church-wardens of Clerkenwell, and xiv l. to the Church wardens of S. Sepulchres, towards the Reparation of theſe Churches, and Relief of the Poor.

Ibidem. Henry Stoke, Gardener, buried here, gave xx s. a Year, for ever, towards the Reparation of this Church.

Ibid. 899. About the Year 1623. the Steeple of this Church, through Antiquity, or length of Time, having ſtood without any Repair or Mending, beſtow'd upon it, within the Memory of any Pariſhioner or Record, fell down; but from the Ruins thereof, for a certain Sum of Money, was undertaken by ſome Workman to be rais'd and rebuilt, through whoſe Ignorance, or Diſhoneſty in the Rebuilding thereof, when it was almoſt finiſhed, it fell with the Bells, Carriages and Frames, beating a great part of the Roof down before them, the Weight of all theſe together, bearing to the Ground, two large Pillars of the South-Iſle, a fair Gallery over againſt the Pulpit, all the Peers, and whatſoever was under or near it; but all was recover'd and made whole again, except the Steeple, which was begun, and from the Ground rais'd as high as the Roof of the Church, and was thus finiſh'd in the Year 1627. In which Poſture this Steeple ſtood, till of late Years, and then was rais'd and finiſh'd the remaining Part of it, with Brick-work, and is now a handſome ſquare, large Steeple, with a Ring of Bells in it.

The Priory.

Sto. Sur. 484.

THIS Priory, in old Records, is written Eccleſia beatæ Mariæ de Fonte Clericorum, ſo call'd of a Well not far from the Weſt-End of the Church of the ſaid Priory, call'd Clarks-Well, or Clarkenwell, which Well, took Name of the Pariſh-Clerks in London, who of old time were accuſtom'd there yearly to aſſemble, and to play ſome large Hiſtory of Holy Scripture.

Mon. Angl. Vol. I. 428.

This Priory was founded by Jordan Briſet (who is ſtil'd Baro, and alſo Miles.) He was the Son of Ralph, the Son of Brian Briſet, and gave to Robert, a Prieſt, 14 Acres of Land, lying in the Field, next adjoyning to the ſaid Clarks-Well, thereupon to build a Houſe of Religious Perſons, which he founded to the Honour of God, and the Aſſumption of our Lady, wherein were plac'd Black-Nuns of the Order of S. Benedict. This Jordan Briſet, gave alſo to this Houſe, a piece of Ground, whereon to build a Mill.

This Jordan Briſet, the Founder of this Priory, died on the 15. Kal. of December 1110. and was buried in the Chapter-Houſe of this Priory; and Muriel, his Wife (nam'd alſo Co-founder with him) died 1. Kal. May 1112. and was buried in the Hoſpital of S. John of Jeruſalem, according to the Monaſticon Angl. Vol. II. p. 505. But according to Stow's-Survey, 484. and Weav. Fun. Mon. p. 429. they were both buried in the Chapter-Houſe of this Church, now call'd the Old-Veſtry. Weaver alſo ſaith, that Jordan Briſet died September 17. about the Year 1124. and Muriel his Wife, on the firſt of May, next following.

Weav. Fun. Mon. 429.

Richard Beauveyes, Biſhop of London, about the Year 1112. gave certain Lands, at Muſwell-Hill, to this Nunnery (lately in the Poſſeſſion of Sir Nic. Roe, Knight) confirm'd by the Cartulary of King Stephen, as it is in the Leiger-Book of this Houſe, and alſo by the Charter of King Henry II.

Many Charters of Endowments of this Houſe, and the Confirmation of them by King Henry II. may be ſeen in Monaſticon Angl. Vol. I. p. 428.

In the aforeſaid Leiger-Book, are recorded the Names of the Prioreſſes of this Houſe, from the Foundation to the Diſſolution thereof, and are as followeth, out of Fullers Church Hiſtory 277.

Iſabell Sackvile, the laſt Lady-Prioreſs of this Houſe, was of the Family of the Sackviles, the Anceſtors of the Right Honourable, the now Earl of Dorſet and

Reg. Prær. Lib. Lyon, q. 29. and Middleſex, ſhe made her Will the 19th of Febr. 1569. wherein ſhe bequeath'd her Body to be buried in this Church of Clerkenwell, and ordain'd the Right Honourable, the Lord Buckhurſt, her Coſin, the Overſeer of this her Will, if it ſhould pleaſe his Lordſhip to take the Pains. In which Church, ſhe lieth buried under a Marble-Stone, near to the High-Altar, whereupon this Inſcription or Epitaph is engraven in Braſs.

> Hic jacet Iſabella Sackvile, quæ fuit Prioriſſa nuper Prioratus de Clerkenwell, tempore Diſſolutionis ejuſdem Prioratus, quæ fuit 21. Octobris, Anno Domini Milleſimo Quingenteſimo Septuageſimo. Et An. Reg. Eliz. Dei gratia, &c. duodecimo.

In the North-Wall of the Chancel, is a fair Marble-Tomb, with the Portraiture of a Man lying upon his Shrowd, which Monument was erected to the Memory of Sir William Weſton, Knight, Lord-Prior of S. John of Jeruſalem, at the time of the Diſſolution of the ſaid Priory, to whom, Henry VIII. for his Maintenance had allow'd 1000 l. yearly Penſion, for his Life, of which Sum he receiv'd never a Peny; for ſo it fortun'd, that upon the 7th of May 1540. being Aſcenſion-Day, and the ſame Day of the Diſſolution of the Houſe, he was diſſolv'd by Death, which ſtruck him to the Heart at the firſt time, when he heard of the Diſſolution of his Order.

This Priory was valu'd at the Suppreſſion, at 262 l. 19 s. per Ann. Dugd. 282 l. 16 s. 5 d. Speed.

After the Diſſolution, the Site of this Nunnery, at length, became the Inheritance of the Right Honourable Sir William Cavendiſh, Knight, Lord Ogle, Vicount Mansfield, Earl, then Marquis, and at laſt Duke of Newcaſtle, who died 23. Decemb. 1676. aged 84. and lieth buried in the Eaſt-ſide of the North-Croſs-Iſle of the Church of S. Peter's Weſtminſter, under a moſt noble Tomb and Monument of black and white Marble.

Athen. Oxon. Vol. I. 245. Mr. John Weaver, the Author of the Book, intituled, Ancient Funeral Monuments, after he had arriv'd to the 56. Year of his Age, died at his Houſe in Clerkenwell-Cloſe, Anno 1632. and was buried towards the Weſt-End of this Church.

S. James Weſtminſter, Rectory.

THIS Parochial-Church, and the Church-yard (which is divided into two Parts, call'd the Upper and the Lower Church-yard) ſtand near Jermine-ſtreet, within the Bounds and Limits of the Pariſh of S. Martin in the Fields, on two Parcels of Ground, which at the time of the Building of the ſaid Church, were in the Poſſeſſion of Henry, late Earl of S. Albans, for a certain Term of Years, then unexpired, who cauſ'd the Fabrick of a Church to be built on one of them, and the remaining part of it, and the other he cauſ'd to be allotted for a Church-yard; after whoſe Deceaſe, Thomas, Lord Jermine, Baron of S. Edmundsbury, his Nephew and Heir, and one of his Executors, and others intereſs'd in the ſaid two Parcels of Ground, aſſign'd over the ſame, and the Fabrick of the ſaid Church, to Sir Walter Clarges, Baronet, and others, for, and during the reſt of the ſaid Term of Years unexpir'd, in Truſt, to be diſpos'd and continu'd to and for the Religious Uſes, for which the ſame were deſign'd.

King Charles II. by his Letters-Patents bearing Date May 31. in the 36. of his Reign, granted to the ſaid Lord Jermine, and his Heirs, for ever, the ſaid Ground and Church-Fabrick, in Truſt, for the pious Uſes aforeſaid, which Truſt he accordingly executed, and on Sunday the 13. of July, both the Church Conſecrated. Church and Church-yards were conſecrated by the Right Reverend Father in God, Doctor Henry Compton, Lord Biſhop of London, for the Pariſhioners and Inhabitants of the Pariſh of S. Martin in the Fields, and the ſaid Church was dedicated to the Honour of God, by the Name of S. James in the Fields, ſince call'd, S. James's Weſtminſter.

It is a very fair and large Church, being in Length from Eaſt to Weſt, 117 Foot, or thereabouts, and in Breadth, from North to South, 75 Foot, or thereabouts, the Chancel whereof contains 121 Foot ſquare and two Inches; there was a lofty Spire erecting upon the Steeple of this Church, but was taken down again by reaſon the Steeple did not prove ſtrong enough to uphold it, but ſince, there is another ſort of Spire erected upon it.

1. Jac. II.

Name of the Pariſh.

After the Conſecrating of the ſaid Church and Church-yard (to wit) in the firſt Year of the Reign of King James II. an Act of Parliament paſs'd for the making a Part or Precinct of the ſaid Pariſh of S. Martin, for the better Accommodation and Conveniency of the ſaid Precinct, which was for the future to be call'd, the Pariſh of S. James within the Liberty of Weſtminſter. The Bounds and Limits of which Pariſh, becauſe no where appearing but in the ſaid Act, I think not improper to inſert here, and they are as followeth.

Bound of the Pariſh.

Made a Rectory.

Veſtry-men.

It is farther provided by this Act, that the Veſtry-men of S. Martins, inhabiting in S. James's Pariſh, and all ſuch others as are now conſtituted Superviſers or Commiſſioners of this Church of S. James, by the Lord Biſhop of London, ſhall be Veſtry-men thereof, and they, with the Rector, and any ſix or more of them, are hereby authoriz'd at their firſt or ſecond Meeting, after the End of this Seſſion of Parliament, to elect ſo many additional Veſtry-men, Inhabitants and Houſholders, within this Pariſh, as ſhall make the Number of the whole, with the Rector and Church-Wardens for the time being, to be 34; any ſix of which (whereof the Rector, or his Aſſiſtant, or Clerk, by his appointment, and one of the Church-Wardens to be two) ſhall have the like Power as the Veſtry-men of S. Martins, and upon the Death or Voidance of any ſuch Veſtry-man, ſhall chooſe another in his Room.

Rate for Building of Churches, &c.

An Eſtimate is to be made of the Charge of finiſhing the Steeple, building a Houſe for the Rector, and paying the Debts incurr'd for the Building of the ſaid Church, which ſhall be charg'd on the Owners and Occupiers of the Houſes, to be paid in four Years, by 16 quarterly Payments, which quarterly Payments ſhall be aſſeſs'd by the Church-Wardens and Veſtry-men, and ſhall be confirm'd by two Juſtices of the Peace; but no Tenant ſhall be tax'd at leſs than a fifth Part of the Tax on the Landlord, and if the Eſtimate be not ſufficient, a new Charge may be made, ſo as the whole Tax do not exceed 2000 l. which Tax is to be paid by the Tenant, and to be allow'd by the Landlord. Debts and Contracts with the Artificers ſhall be regiſtred, and out of the Money collected by the ſaid Tax, the Incumbrances of the Houſes ſettled on the Rector ſhall be firſt diſcharg'd, and after that, the Artificers and Work-men in Courſe, and moderate Intereſt for Forbearance.

Eccleſiaſtical Juriſdiction reſerv'd to the Biſhop.

Laſtly, the Eccleſiaſtical Juriſdiction of this Pariſh is reſerv'd to the Biſhop, in the ſame manner as it was before in the Pariſh of S. Martin in the Fields.

As to the Rates of the High-ways, Choice of additional Burgeſſes, Choice of Pariſh-Officers, as Conſtables, Scavengers and the like, I refer to the Act of Parliament, as not altogether pertinent to ſuch Matters as concern the Church.

a Tho. Teniſon, D. D. Vicar of the Pariſh of S. Martin in the Fields, was by the Act of Parliament, above-mention'd, appointed the firſt Rector of this Pariſh of S. James, who was in Nov. 1691. promoted to the Biſhoprick of Lincoln, and did afterwards take and enjoy the Profits of this Church to his own Uſe, for the ſpace of ſeven Months, by Vertue of a Commendam obtain'd from the King, [Vid. S. Martin in the Fields inter Vic.]

b Peter Birch, D. D. was collated to this Church, by the Biſhop of London, upon the ſaid Dr. Teniſon's leaving the ſame, but he enjoy'd it not long, for a Quare-impedit was brought againſt the ſaid Biſhop, for not admitting Dr. William Wake to the ſaid Church, at the King's Preſentation, and upon a Trial at the King's-Bench Bar, between the ſaid Biſhop and the Attorney-General, on behalf of the King, the Right of Preſentation to this Church (notwithſtanding the ſame was held by the ſaid Dr. Teniſon, Biſhop of Lincoln, by Vertue of a Commendam above ſix Months, which was look'd upon by the ſaid Biſhop of London to be a fulfilling of that Turn, and altho' the ſaid Act for Erecting and Conſtituting the ſaid Pariſh, did grant the next Preſentation, after the Death of the ſaid Dr. Teniſon, or next Avoidance, to the ſaid Biſhop of London) was adjudg'd for the King, Jure Prærogativæ ſuæ Regiæ, and ſuch Judgment was afterwards confirm'd by the Houſe of Lords, and thereupon c William Wake, D. D. was admitted and inſtituted to this Church, by the Archbiſhop of Canterbury at the King's Preſentation, by Vertue of a Writ to him directed for his Inſtitution, from the King's-Bench, who is the preſent Rector and Dean of Exeter, 1700.

S. James's Hoſpital.

Sto. Sur. 495. THIS Hoſpital of S. James, conſiſting of two Hides of Land, with the Appurtenances, was in the Pariſh of S. Margaret Weſtminſter, and was founded by the Citizens of London, before the time of any Man's Memory (long before the Conqueſt, ſaith Speed) for 14 Siſters, Maidens, that were leprous, living chaſtly and honeſtly in Divine-Service.

Afterwards, divers Citizens of London, gave 56 l. Rent thereto, and then were adjoyn'd eight Brethren to miniſter Divine-Service there.

After this alſo, ſundry devout Men of London, gave to this Hoſpital ſome Hides of Land in the Fields of Weſtminſter, and in Hendon, Calcott and Hamſted, eight Acres of Land and Wood, &c.

Reg. Dec. & Cap. Pix. k. When this Hoſpital was founded, I no where find, but in 35. Henry III. the Maſter and Convent of this Hoſpital, granted to Richard de Wendover, that he ſhould have one Chaplain to celebrate for his Soul, in their Hoſpital, for ever, for which he gave them 30 Marks. “ Dat. die Sanctæ Luciæ Virginis, Mon. Angl. Vol. II. 492. In the 22d of Edward I. the Maſter of this Hoſpital being ſummon'd to anſwer, by what Warrant his Hoſpital claim'd Sak & Sok, Thol & Them, in all its Lands, and held a Fair there for ſeven Days; he appear'd by his Attorney, and anſwer'd, “ Quod Dominus H. Rex, Pater Domini Regis nunc, conceſſit

“ leproſis puellis de Sancto Jacobo extra London, juxta Weſtmonaſterium, omnes “ terras & tenuras ſuas, quas habent, vel habituræ ſunt, ut illas teneant cum “ & quæ hoc idem teſtatur; Ideo prædictus magiſter quoad hoc ſine die,

King Edw. III. on the 10th of July, 1349. confirm'd the Cuſtody of this Hoſpital to Walter de Weſton. [Pat. 23. Edw. III. p. 2.] and after that, to Thomas de Orgrave (who was his Chaplain, and a Prebendary of the Free-Chappel of S. Stephen's Weſtminſter) June 2. 1377. [Pat. 51. Edw. III.] and Nov. 26. 1387. King Ric. II. confirm'd the ſame to Ric. Clifford, his Clerk or Chaplain. [Pat. 2. Ric. II. p. 1.]

Sto. Surv. ut ſupra. This Hoſpital was ſurrendred to King Henry VIII. in 23. of his Reign being then valu'd at 100 l. per ann. The Siſters being compounded with, were allow'd Penſions for Term of their Lives, and the King built there a goodly Mannor, annexing thereunto a Park, incloſ'd about with a Wall of Brick, now call'd S. James's-Park, which hath been of late Years (to wit) ſoon after the Reſtauration, very much improv'd and beautify'd, with a Canal, Ponds and curious Walks; between Rows of Trees, by King Charles II. and ſince that, very much enlarg'd, and the whole encompaſs'd round with a Brick-Wall, by the ſame King, and ſerves indifferently to the two Palaces of S. James and White-Hall.

As to the Fair above-mention'd, it was continu'd ſince my time, but by Reaſon of the Looſeneſs and Debauchery, which was there committed, was ſuppreſs'd by King Charles II. not many Years after his Reſtauration.

Ickenham, Rectory.

THIS Pariſh of Ickenham (ſometimes written Ikenham, and ſometimes Hikenham) is in the Hundred of Elthorn, about 14 or 15 Miles North-weſtward from London, and is ſubject to the Archdeacon, ſaving only as to Wills and Adminiſtrations, which belong to the Commiſſary. Archid. Commiſſar. Midd.

As to the Church here (dedicated to) it is a Rectory, and the firſt Inſtitution, I find to it, was at the Preſentation of John Shordich, Lord of Ikenham, in the Year 1382. the Right of Patronage to this Church being then found to be in him, by an Inquiſition taken by the Official to the Archdeacon of Middleſex; in which Family it continu'd for 278 Years, viz. till the Year 1660. but the next Avoidance, which was in the Year 1686. it was in the Patronage of others, all which will appear hereafter. Braybroke, 10.

About the Year 1453. there was a Controverſy between the Proprietary of the Neighbouring Pariſh of Hillingdon, and the Rector of this Church about the Tyths of certain Lands, pretended to be within this Pariſh, the determination of which may be ſeen in what is written before, of Hillingdon.

Terrier 1610. a Dwelling-houſe, with an Orchard, Garden, Barn and Stable, three Cloſes of Meadow and Paſture, ſix Lands in the home-Fields, five Ridges in Tottingworth-field, three Lands in the middle Field, and half an Acre of Meadow-Ground ſet out by Lott.

S. John Baptiſt of Haliwell, Priory.

Sto. Sur. 470. Weav. Fun. Mon. 428. ON the Weſt-ſide of the Street, leading from Biſhopſgate to Shordich-Church, and ſomewhat behind the ſaid Street, juſt beyond a Liberty belonging to the Dean and Chapter of S. Paul's, call'd Norton-Fallgate, ſtood this Priory of S. John Baptiſt of Haliwell, founded of old time by a Biſhop of London (ſaith Stow, but names him not) for Black Nuns, of the Order of S. Benedict, and conſecrated to the Honour of God, the bleſſed Virgin Mary, and S. John the Baptiſt, commmonly call'd Holywell, the Houſe and Circuit of Ground thereunto adjoyning, taking its Denomination from a certain ſweet, wholeſome and clear Fountain or Well, within the Compaſs thereof, which for the Vertue of the Water, amongſt the common People, was call'd Holy, tho' now decay'd, and indeed quite ſpoil'd with Soil, Dung, and other Filthineſs, purpoſely there laid for the heightning of the Ground for Garden-Platts.

Mon. Angl. Vol. I. 531. King Richard the firſt, by his Charter, bearing Date, Oct. 7. in the firſt of his Reign (1189.) confirm'd (inter alia) to this Church of John Baptiſt of Haliwell, and to the Nuns ſerving God there, " —— Locum ipſum in quo " præfata Eccleſia ſita eſt, cum omnibus pertinentiis, ſcilicet moram in qua " Fons, qui dicitur Haliwelle oritur, quam Robertus filius Gelranni Canonicus " Eccleſiæ beati Pauli, London, prædictæ Eccleſiæ pro tribus acris terræ contulit, reddendo inde annuatim duodecim Denarios tantum pro omni ſervitio; & terram, quæ fuit Johannis Hilewit, quæ de ipſius conniventia eidem " loco accrevit ex dono Richardi, quondam London Epiſcopi, & terram quam " Walterus Præcentor Eccleſiæ beati Pauli, London, prædictis ſanctimonialibus " pro tribus acris terræ contulit, reddendo inde annuatim duodecim denarios " tantum pro omni ſervitio, & decimam Præbendæ prædicti Walteri.

By what is above ſaid in this Charter of King Richard I. we may gueſs that this Priory was founded, when Richard de Belmeis, the firſt, was Biſhop of London, that, is between the Years 1108. in which he was conſecrated, and 1127. in which he died Biſhop of London; for Rob. filius Gelranni (elſewhere ſtil'd filius Generanni) who gave this Piece of Ground, call'd Haliwelle, where this Church was built, was Prebendary of Haliwell in the time of that Biſhop, who perhaps, from adding another Plat of Ground to it, which was John Hilewits, may be ſaid or thought to be the Founder of this Priory.

Mon. Ang. ut ſupra. The ſame King Richard, likewiſe, by his Charter, bearing Date, April 11. in the ſixth Year of his Reign, confirm'd to theſe Nuns of Haliwell, ſeveral other Lands given to them by ſeveral other Benefactors in perpetual Alms.

Sto. Sur. 470. After this, Stephen Graveſend, Biſhop of London, Anno 1318. was a great Benefactor to this Houſe; it was re-edify'd by Sir Thomas Lovel, Knight of the Garter, who built much there in the Reigns of Henry VII. and VIII. he endow'd this Houſe with fair Lands, and was there buried in a large Chappel, by him built for that purpoſe. He died at Enfield, May 25. Anno 1524. In moſt of the Glaſs-Windows of this Houſe, theſe two Verſes following (not long ſince to be read ſaith Weaver) were curiouſly painted.

All the Nuns of Holywell,
Pray for the Soul of Sir Thomas Lovell.

This Houſe was valu'd at the Suppreſſion, at 293 l. 10 s. 3 d. per ann. Weaver 293 l. Stow. 347 l. 1 s. 3 d. Speed, and was ſurrendred in 1539. (31. Henry VIII.) the Church thereof being pull'd down, many Houſes have been built for the Lodgings of Noblemen, Strangers born and others, but now the Houſes are inhabited by Weavers and ordinary ſort of People. The Site of this Monaſtery was granted by King Henry VIII. in 36. of his Reign to Hen. Webb.

S. John of Jeruſalem, Order.

BEfore I give an Account of this Priory of S. John of Jeruſalem, here in England, it will be very proper to ſay ſomething of that warlike Order of the Knights Hoſpitalers of S. John of Jeruſalem (for that is their right Appellation) for which Order this Houſe was founded.

This Order began, and took its Name from an Hoſpital built at Jeruſalem, for the behoof of Pilgrims, conſecrated to the Memory of S. John, ſome ſay of S. John the Almoner, Biſhop of Alexandria, famous for his Liberality towards the Poor; but others conceive, that this Hoſpital was dedicated to S. John Baptiſt, which ſeems to be collected from the ſolemn Profeſſion of the Knights themſelves, wherein (among other things) S. John the Baptiſt is expreſly acknowledg'd the Patron and Preſident of this Military Order.

When the Sarazens poſſeſs'd the City of Jeruſalem, the Latin Chriſtians, eſpecially the Amalphitani (Merchants of the City of Melphi, in the Kingdom of Naples in Italy) by the Permiſſion of the Sarazens, erected two Covents near the Sepulchre of our Lord, the one for Men, and the other for Women, this dedicated to S. Mary Magdalen, and that to the bleſſed Virgin Mary, but when Jeruſalem was taken by the Proweſs of the Chriſtians, theſe two Houſes not ſufficing to entertain the infinite Multitude that flock'd to theſe Holy Places, there was added to them the Hoſpital and Chappel of S. John, from whom the Hoſpitaler-Knights took their Name; but ſome write, that this Hoſpital was erected before the Chriſtians, under Godfrey of Boloigne, recover'd Jeruſalem, altho' the Order of the Hoſpitaler-Knights was not inſtituted before the City was taken.

After which time, one Gerardus, a Man of Holy Life, and ſound Religion (who had miniſtred a long time devoutly to the Poor, and with his Hoſpitalers, was very inſtrumental in recovering of Jeruſalem) taking to himſelf other honeſt and religious Men, affixing on his Garment a white Croſs, in a black Coat; took on him that Rite of Religion which they now uſe, after whoſe Example Agnes, who was as Abbeſs in the Monaſtery of the Virgins, took on her the ſame Rule and Habit.

The End of this Order and Profeſſion was carefully to miniſter to the Religious and Poor in the Hoſpital of S. John, and diligently afford them all manner of Reſpect and Pity, and likewiſe to ſecure the Paſſages from the Robberies of Sarazens, and others. It was dedicated to S. John Baptiſt, in Memory of his often reſort thither to meditate, and from this Place they were oftentimes call'd Joannites.

In the Year 1099. the City of Jeruſalem being recover'd from the Infidels, by Godfrey of Boloigne, Duke of Lorain, this Order was inſtituted, which Godfrey of Boloigne, for a Reward to theſe Hoſpitalers, for helping in the Recovery of Jeruſalem, and in Regard that the fore-mention'd Gerardus (ſurnam'd Tune) had ſignaliz'd himſelf in the great Fight at Aſcalon, gave them great Eſtates and Poſſeſſions, to put them thereby in a Condition to exerciſe Hoſpitality, and reſiſt the Barbarians that ſhould offer any Injury to Pilgrims, on the High-way.

King Baldwin, Succeſſor to Godfrey, favour'd them exceedingly, and it was under his Reign, Anno 1104. (ſaith a late Author) that they took the religious Habit, to wit, a black Caſſock, and over it, on the Left ſide, a white Croſs, with eight Spikes, obliging themſelves, by Vow, to receive, treat, and defend Pilgrims, and alſo to maintain with Force of Arms the Chriſtian Religion in their Country. They follow'd S. Auſtin's Rule, except in their Canonical Office, being oblig'd, inſtead of it, to recite every Day a certain Number of Pater-noſters. Gerard Tune added to it ſame particular Conſtitutions; their Inſtitution was confirm'd by the Patriarchs of Jeruſalem, and by Pope Honorius II.

The Brethren of this Order gave themſelves to Prayer, Watching and Faſting, and other good Works abundantly, and becauſe God was with them, all Men lov'd them; whereupon it came, that their Fame went over all the World, and their Form of Sanctity over all Coaſts, and by the Bounty of Princes, and Alms of faithful People, they became in a little time ſo Rich, that gathering from the Weſtern Provinces plentiful Revenues, getting Houſes and Towns, as Princes of the Earth, they ſubjected them to their Juriſdiction.

The Kings of France were Sovereigns of this Order, who granted them great Immunities; they have five Croſſes Gules, in form of that, which is at this Day call'd Jeruſalem's-Croſs, repreſenting thereby the five Wounds of our Saviour. None are to be admitted, if of a defam'd Life, or not of the Catholick Religion. They were to be Gentlemen of Blood, and of ſufficient Means to maintain a Port agreeable to that Calling, without the exerciſe of Mechanical Sciences, as appears by thoſe Demands propos'd by their Father-Guardian, upon their Admiſſion, and the Knights Anſwers.

At length, the Ruin of the Chriſtian Affairs in the Eaſt, forc'd the Hoſpitalers to leave Jeruſalem, and after the ſurrender of that City (Anno 1187.) they retir'd themſelves to Margat, and then to Acri, which they defended with great Valour, and follow'd John Luſignan, who gave them in his Kingdom of Cyprus, Limiſſon, where they ſtaid till the Year 1310. or as ſome 1308. and in that very Year they took Rhodes, under the Command of their great Maſter Foulques de Villaret, and the following Year they defended it againſt an Army of Sarazens, with the Aſſiſtance of Ame 4th Earl of Savoy. The Hoſpitalers, from hence took the Name of Knights of Rhodes.

They held this Iſland, to their great Honour, for 214 Years, Mahomet the Emperor of the Turks, having in vain beſieg'd them, Anno 1481. but Anno 1522. they were by Solyman, not ſo much conquer'd as oppreſs'd by an innumerable Multitude. Rome offer'd its Boſom for a Retreat, and Pope Adrian VI. gave to that Order the City of Viterbo, and ſix Years after, the Emperor Charles V. invited them to take Poſſeſſion of the Iſland of Malta, which in the Year 1565. by their Valour, they defended againſt all the Turkiſh Force, then aſſaulting them; both the Town and the Iſland have been ſince ſtrongly fortify'd. Hence they are call'd Knights of Malta.

This Order was compos'd of eight different Nations, but ſince the ſeparation of the Engliſh from the Church of Rome, there are only ſeven. The firſt is that of Provence, the Head of which, is great Commander of that Religion. The ſecond is that of Auvergne, and its Chief is Marſhal of the Order. France is the third, whoſe Chief is the Grand-Hoſpitaler. The fourth is Italy, the Head of which is Admiral. The fifth Aragon, who hath the charge of great Conſervator. Germany hath the ſixth, and hath that of great Bayliff of the Order. The ſeventh is Caſtiglia, the Head whereof is great Chancellor. England was formerly the ſixth, and the Chief of it was great Turcopolier of the Religion, that is, Colonel of the Horſe. Whoſoever deſires to be receiv'd into this Order, ought to prove his Nobility for four Generations, as well by his Mother's-ſide, as his Fathers; to be 20 Years old, and born in lawful Marriage, except the natural Sons of Kings and Princes. Amongſt the Knights, ſome have Grand-Croſſes, who alone can pretend to the Dignity of Grand-Maſter, who is the Superior and Sovereign of Malta. There are alſo Knights-Servants, taken from very good Families. The Courage both of the one and the other, does increaſe every Day among the continual Dangers of a bloody War, againſt the moſt formidable Empire of the Univerſe, and they are the Bulwark of Chriſtendon, on that ſide, againſt the Turks. There are alſo Prieſts and Chaplains that miniſter about Holy Things: From the Year 1099. to 1663. they have had ſixty Grand-Maſters.

S. John of Jeruſalem, Priory.

As to the Houſe or Priory of the Knights Hoſpitalers, of S. John of Jeruſalem, here in England, it was ſituate on the Weſt-ſide of S. Johns-ſtreet, in the County of Middleſex, and Suburbs of the City of London, and was founded in the Year of our Lord 1100. or thereabout, by Jordan Briſet, Baron, and Muriel his Wife, near unto Clerkſwell, which Jordan, having firſt founded a Priory for Nuns at Clerkenwell, bought of them 10 Acres of Land, giving them in exchange other 10 Acres of Land, in his Lordſhip of Welynghall, in the County of Kent. Mon. Angl. Vol. II. 505.

This Hoſpital-Church, was dedicated to the Honour of S. John Baptiſt, by Heraclius, Patriarch of the Reſurrection of Chriſt at Jeruſalem, on the 6. Id. of March, Anno Dom. 1185. and on the ſame Day was dedicated the greater Altar of this Church in Honour of S. John, the Altar of S. Mary, and the Altar of S. John the Evangeliſt, by the ſame Patriarch.

This was the chief Seat in England, of the Religious Knights-Hoſpitalers of S. John of Jeruſalem, which within a ſhort time began to flouriſh; for infinite were the Donations of all ſorts of People to this Fraternity, as may be ſeen in Monaſt. Angl. p. 541. &c.

But above all their Benefactors, theſe Knights-Hoſpitalers held themſelves moſt bound to Roger de Mowbray, and his Heirs, but eſpecially the Knights-Templars, by whom he was held in ſuch high Eſteem for his munificent Donations, that by unanimous Conſent, they granted to him and his Heirs, this ſpecial Privilege, viz. that at what time ſoever he or they ſhould find any of the Templars Fraternity, under the Sentence of publick Penance, for any Offence whatſoever, it ſhould be in his or their Power to releaſe them therefrom, being ſorry for their Fault, which Privilege, the Knights-Hoſpitalers (to whom the Lands of the Templars were afterwards given) by their publick Inſtrument, bearing Date at London, March 20. Anno 1330. allow'd and confirm'd to John, Lord Mowbray, Lord of the Iſle of Axholme, and of Gower lineal Heir to the ſaid Roger, and to his Heirs for ever; adding farther, that if it might happen, that he or they ſhould come of Devotion, unto any of their Convents, beyond the Seas, that they ſhould be honourably receiv'd in all Reſpects, as to thoſe to whom they were moſt oblig'd for Benefits, next to the King himſelf. Ibid. 551.

Theſe Knights-Hoſpitalers, at their firſt Inſtitution, were ſo humble, while but poor, that their Governour was call'd Servant to the poor Servants of the Hoſpital at Jeruſalem; but what for their Piety and Bravery in War, their Condition came to be ſo much altered from this mean State, by the Bounty of good Princes and private Perſons, that they even abounded in every thing; for about the Year 1240. they had 19000 Lordſhips or Mannors, within Chriſtendom, as the Templars had 9000 (whoſe Revenues here in England, upon their Diſſolution, were by Act of Parliament, Anno 17. Edwardi II. 1323. granted to the Brethren of this Hoſpital) and this vaſt increaſe of Revenue made them ſo effectual a Paſſage to great Honours, that their Prior was reckon'd the firſt Baron of England, and liv'd in great State and Plenty, till King Henry VIII. by the Inſtigation of ſome Counſellors, ſeiz'd upon all their Lands, as he did alſo thoſe belonging to the Monaſteries. Camd. Brit. E. N. 321.

The Rebels of Eſſex and Kent, in 1381. ſet Fire on this Houſe, cauſing it to burn by the ſpace of ſeven Days together, not ſuffering any to quench it, ſince which time, the Priors thereof have new-built both Church and Houſes thereunto appertaining, which Church was finiſh'd by Tho. Docwra, late Prior there, about the Year 1504. as appears by the Inſcription over the Gate-Houſe yet remaining. Sto. Sur. 483.

Theſe Knights-Hoſpitalers of this Houſe, flouriſh'd in great Pomp for many Years together, till by Act of Parliament, 32. Henry VIII. their Corporation was utterly diſſolv'd, and all the Lands belonging to their Order here in England and Ireland ſeiz'd into the King's Hands, the Value of this Foundation here in England extending to the yearly Rent of 2385 l. 12 s. 8 d. Dugd. and Speed; 3385 l. 19 s. 8 d. Stow, out of which, the King allow'd yearly Penſions to the Friers of this Houſe, and particularly to Sir William Weſton, the then Lord-Prior, a Penſion of 1000 l. per Ann but he died the very Day, being the 7th of May, on which the Houſe was ſuppreſs'd, and never receiv'd a Peny, and was buried in Clerkenwell-Church, as hath been ſaid before.

Sto. ut ſupra. This Priory-Church, and Houſe of S. John, was preſerv'd from ſpoil or down-pulling ſo long, as King Henry VIII. reign'd, and was made uſe of as a Store-Houſe for the King's Toils and Tents for Hunting, and for the Wars, &c. but in the 3. of King Edward VI. the Church for the moſt part (to wit) the Body and Side-Iſles, with the great Bell-Tower (a moſt curious Piece of Workmanſhip, graven, gilt, and enamelled, to the great Beautifying of the City, and paſſing all (ſaith Stow) that he had ſeen) was undermin'd and blown up with Gun-powder; the Stone thereof, was imploy'd in Building the Lord-Protector's Houſe (Somerſet-Houſe in the Strand) that part of the Choir, which remain'd, with ſome Side-Chappels, was by Cardinal Pool, in the Reign of Queen Mary, clos'd up at the Weſt-End, and otherwiſe repaired, and Sir Tho. Treſham, Knight, was then made Lord-Prior there, and ſeveral Brethren Knights-Hoſpitalers were again in this Priory eſtabliſh'd; Queen Mary, by her Charter, confirming the ſame, and incorporating them, and giving them a Seal, and granting to them and confirming the Houſe, the Gate-Houſe the Church, and all the Buildings, Gardens, &c. within the Precincts of this Hoſpital; alſo great S. John's Wood, near Mary-bone in Middleſex, and the Mannors of Purfleet, Witham, Temple-Rodon, and Chingford in Eſſex, and other Mannors, Lands, and Tenements, in divers Counties in England, which of old did belong to this Priory, but the ſame was again ſuppreſs'd in the firſt of Queen Elizabeth.

Collect. Magiſtri J. Ouſeley. King Henry VIII. in the 37. of his Reign, granted to John Dudley, Lord Vicount Liſle, and Lord High-Admiral of England, as well in Conſideration of his Service, as for the Sum of 1000 l. Sterling, the Site, Circuit and Precinct of this Hoſpital or Priory of S. John of Jeruſalem, only the Lead, Bells, Timber, Stone, Glaſs, Iron and other things of the Church, were ſpecially reſerv'd to the King's Majeſty; but this was again converted into a Priory, and again ſuppreſs'd by Queen Elizabeth, as aforeſaid.

2. Jac. p. 7. The South-Gate of this Priory was granted by King James I. in the 2d of his Reign, to Sir Roger Wilbraham, Knight, for his Life; and the Site of this
5. Jac. p. 19. Hoſpital, with the Appurtenances, was granted by the ſame King, in the 5th of his Reign, to Martin Freeman, to be held of the Crown in Soccage, but that part of the Priory-Church, which is yet undemoliſh'd, and the great Houſe thereto adjoyning, hath been for ſeveral Years, of late, in the Noble Family of the Earl of Aliſbury, and the reſt of the Site of this Priory is now in the Poſſeſſion of ſeveral other Proprietors, in the North-weſtern ſide whereof there is a pretty Area of new Brick-Buildings, lately erected.

I ſhall now give ſome Account of the Priory of this Houſe, as I have receiv'd them from my ever obliging Friend, Dr. Matth. Hutton, as followeth.

After all theſe Priors above-nam'd which were before the Diſſolution, I muſt not omit one more, after the re-eſtabliſhment of this Priory by Queen Mary, and that is, Sir Thomas Treſham, whom that Queen made Lord-Prior of this Order, and on the 30th of November 1557. he receiv'd the Order of the Croſs, at Weſtminſter, and was ſolemnly inducted into his Place, which he was ſoon forc'd to quit by the Diſſolution of this, and all the late reſtor'd Orders, by Queen Elizabeth, in the firſt of her Reign; ſo that this Sir Tho. Treſham was the firſt and laſt Prior of this Houſe of Queen Mary's re-erection. How long he ſurviv'd this Suppreſſion, I know not, but he was buried, it ſeems, in Ruſton-Church, in Northamptonſhire, where there was a Monument erected for him, with his Portraicture on it.

S. John Wapping.

THIS Hamlet of Wapping or Wappen, commonly call'd Wapping-White-Chappel, to diſtinguiſh it from Wapping-Stepney, a Hamlet adjoyning to it in the Pariſh of Stepney, is a Hamlet belonging to the Pariſh of S. Mary Matfellon, alias White-Chappel, lying all along the River Thames, on the North-ſide beyond S. Katherines, Eaſt-ward.

Sto. Sur. 461. In former times, here at Wapping, was the uſual Place of Execution for Hanging of Pirats and Sea-Rovers, at low-water Mark, there to remain till three Tides had over-flow'd them, but the Gallows was afterwards remov'd, upon which, altho' from the Precinct of S. Katherines to Wapping in the Eaſt, where was the ſaid uſual Place of Execution, there was never a Houſe ſtanding within theſe 50 Years (as is mention'd in Stow) yet after ſuch removal, a continual Street or filthy, ſtrait Paſſage, with Allies of ſmall Tenements or Cottages was built, and inhabited by Saylers and Victualers, along by the River Thames, almoſt to Ratcliff, a good Mile from the Tower.

This Place or Hamlet thus increaſing in Buildings, the Inhabitants thereof, Grindall, 377. in the Year 1615. petition'd Dr. John King, then Biſhop of London, for his Licence to build a Chappel there, ſetting forth for Reaſons, the Diſtance of their Habitations from their Pariſh-Church, the Populouſneſs of their Pariſh, by reaſon of New Buildings, the frequenting Ale-Houſes on Sundays by the looſer ſort of People, when their Officers are at Church, the Danger of Fire or Floods which may happen in their Abſence, whilſt at Church, the more eaſie bringing of their People to their Chappel, or to be cenſur'd for refuſing, when their Chappel is ſo near, and their Officers at hand; as alſo the Conſent of their Miniſter for the Building of the ſaid Chappel, and their Purchaſing of a Piece of Ground in the ſaid Hamlet, ſufficient for the ſaid Chappel, and a Cemitery for the Burial of their Dead; upon which, the Biſhop, upon their undertaking and aſſuring, that all Duties ſhould be reſerv'd to the Mother-Church, and to the Parſon thereof, and that they will from time to time allow 20 l. a Year to a Curate to Officiate there, and that he ſhould have a Houſe to dwell in near the ſaid Chappel, did in Auguſt 1615. grant them his Licence for erecting of the ſaid Chappel; and Mr. Richard Gardner, then Rector of White-Chappel, for himſelf and Succeſſors, gave them leave under his Hand, to nominate their Curate to the Biſhop, whenſoever there ſhould be occaſion; and this Chappel being ſhortly after built, conſiſting of three Iſles, and containing in Length from Eaſt to Weſt 54 Foot, and from North to South 66 Foot, together with a Cemitery or Chappel-yard for the Burial of their Dead, was by the ſaid Biſhop conſecrated on Munday the 16. Day of July 1617. with this Proviſo, that for the future, the Inhabitants of this Hamlet ſhould every Year, at Eaſter, receive the Sacrament of the Lords-Supper, at their Mother-Church, and not in their Chappel, unleſs they were otherwiſe diſpens'd with by the Biſhop, or his Vicar-General, and the ſaid Rector. That they ſhould maintain their Curate at their own Charge, and allow him at leaſt 20 l. a Year, without any Defalcation of their Rectors Dues; and that for their Burials in their Chappel or Chappel-yard, they ſhould pay to their Rector and Officers of their Mother-Church, the ſame Fees, as were wont to be paid for Burials in the ſaid Mother-Church, or Church-yard thereunto belonging.

The Charge of the Building of this Chappel, being about 1600 l. was gather'd, Sto. Sur. 462. ſome Part of it of the ſeveral Inhabitants in the ſame Hamlet; the reſt (being the greater Part) was gather'd by Letters-Patents, for Collections in ſeveral Counties, the Citizens of London, being worthy Benefactors towards it, procur'd by the principal Care of Mr. Rowland Cotmore, and others of the ſame Pariſh, Mr. Ric. Sedgwick being the firſt Miniſter (or Curate) in this Chappel, and ſo continu'd in the Year 1631.

A fair Gallery was built on the South-ſide of the Chappel, with part of the Benevolence that was given for the uſe of the Chappel, by the Mariners that went to the Eaſt-Indies, Anno 1616. in the Royal-James, under the Command of Captain Martin Pringe, procur'd by the Care of the ſaid Mr. Cotmore Maſter of the ſaid Ship, and now at the Building of the ſaid Gallery, Warden of the Chappel, 1622.

In a Glaſs-Window, at the upper End of the Chancel, was this Inſcription; Iſleworth, Vicarage.

Camd. Brit. E. N. 310.

THIS Pariſh of Iſleworth, or Iſtelworth, in antient Records, ſometimes written Giſtleworth, now commonly call'd Thiſtleworth, is ſeated on the North-ſide of the River Thames, in the Hundred of Iſtleworth (to which it gives Name) about nine Miles Weſtward from London, where once ſtood the Palace of Richard King of the Romans, and Earl of Cornwall, which was burnt by the Rebels in an Inſurrection.

Vid. Hampton.

As to Matters Eccleſiaſtical, this Pariſh is ſubject to the Archdeacon, and as to the Parochial-Church (dedicated to) it was in antient time given to the Abby of S. Walerick in Picardy, to which it was (inter alia) confirm'd by K. Henry III. in 54. of his Reign. The Rectory, it ſeems, was of old, appropriated to that Abby, and a Vicarage thereupon ordain'd and endow'd, of which that Abbot and Convent were Patrons, and to which the Priors of Takeley (a Cell to that Abby) as their Procurator did uſually preſent; but after the ſeizing of the Temporalties of that Priory, by King Richard II. (among others) as a Priory-alien, by reaſon of his Wars with France, that King thereupon preſented to it, till ſuch time as William of Wickham, Biſhop of Wincheſter, having founded his College near that City, procur'd of him this Rectory and Pariſh-Church (among others) and the Advowſon of the Vicarage to be made part of the Endowment and Poſſeſſions of the ſaid College; whereby the Warden, Fellows and Scholars thereof, became Proprietaries of the ſaid Rectory, and Patrons of the Vicarage, and ſo continu'd till, after the Suppreſſion of Religious Houſes, by King Henry VIII. the Premiſſes came to the Crown, by way of Exchange, as may be ſeen in Hampton; after which, King Edward VI. in the firſt of his Reign, gave this Parſonage (with others) to the Dean and Canons of his Free-Chappel, within the Caſtle of Windſor, in Recompence of certain Lands they had already aſſign'd to his Majeſty, King Henry VIII. but the Advowſon of the Vicarage, it ſeems, continu'd in the Crown for ſome time after; for it appears, that Q. Mary preſented to it in 1554. but in few Years after, that alſo was in the ſaid Dean and Chapter; for in 1562. it appears, that a Clerk was admitted to this Vicarage at their Preſentation, and in them the Right of Patronage to the ſame hath continu'd ever ſince.

He was a ſtrict Obſerver, of the Lords-Day, and preach'd and wrote for the ſincere obſervance of it, which caus'd ſome Pens to be active againſt him, particularly that of Edward Brerewood, who being a Native of that City, was ſometimes his Auditor; at length he was made Vicar of this Church, where he continu'd to his dying Day, which happen'd in 1622. He was great in the Opinion of the Zealots, and his Writings and Works ſhew him to have been a Perſon of great Parts, Induſtry, and Readineſs. THIS Pariſh of Iſlington (of old Iſledon) is reckon'd one of the 14 Out-Pariſhes within the Bills of Mortality. Skinner in his Lexicon, ſpeaking of this Place, ſaith, " Iſlington olim Iſeldon; Pagus Londini ſuburbialis, neſcio " (ſaith he) an ab A S. Giſel, Obſes, & Dune vel Tun, tumulus vel oppidum, " fort. quia olim obſides hoc loco detinebantur. It lies within the Liberties of Finsbury and Wenlakesbarn, about a Mile Northward from London; and tho' it is in the Country of Middleſex, yet as to Eccleſiaſtical Matters, it is ſubject to the Archdeacon of London, ſaving only as to Wills and Adminiſtrations, which belong to the Commiſſary.

Archid. Commiſſar. Lond. But within the Limits of this Pariſh, there is a Precinct call'd belonging to the Dean and Chapter of S. Paul's, where they have the proving of Wills, and granting Adminiſtrations, and till of late Years (as I have been inform'd by their Regiſtrary) did ſwear one Church-Warden for that Precinct, but now he is ſworn by the Archdeacon of London.

The Church here is dedicated to S. Mary, about which Church, there was of old a Controverſy, before Gilbert, Biſhop of London, between the Dean and Chapter of S. Paul's, on the one part, and the Nuns of Stratford-Bow, on the other; which by the Authority and Aſſent of the ſaid Biſhop, was at laſt quietly determin'd after this manner, viz. " That the ſaid Nuns ſhould hold " this Church of Iſeldon, of the Canons of S. Paul's, and ſhould there yearly " pay to the ſaid Canons, one Mark, half on the next Day after the Feaſt of " S. Leonard, and half in the Octaves of Pentecoſt, and that thereupon the ſaid " Nuns ſhould freely preſent to this Church. Reg. Dec. & Cap. lib. A. f. 6.

Which Church, it ſeems, was afterwards appropriated to thoſe Nuns, and a Vicarage here ordain'd and endow'd, of which they continu'd Patrons till their Suppreſſion, but afterwards it came into the Hands of private Patrons.

In this Pariſh there is likewiſe a Mannor or Manſion-Houſe, call'd Canonbury (now Canbury) belonging formerly to the Priory of S. Bartholomew Weſt-Smithfield, but now to the Earl of Northampton, which came to that honourable Family, it ſeems, by the intermarriage of William, Earl of Northampton (who died Anno 1630.) with the ſole Daughter and Heir of Sir John Spencer, Knight, Alderman of London, and the Houſe (ſaith Norden) was built by Bolton, Prior of the ſaid Monaſtery, in the time of Henry VIII. whether the Houſe it ſelf, or part of it was built, by the ſaid Prior Bolton, I cannot tell, but that he was a Builder there, appears to this Day, by his Device, which is a Bolt and Tun, cut in Free-Stone, and fixt in ſeveral Places of the Garden Wall. I take this to be thoſe Lands lying in this Pariſh, which were of the Fee of Ralph de Berneriis or Bernes, and confirm'd to that Monaſtery by King Henry III. by his Letters-Patents, bearing Date at Winton, June 15. in the 37. of his Reign, Anno Dom. 1253.

Kenſington, Vicarage.

Archid. Midd

THIS Pariſh of Kenſington, of old written Chenesiton, Cheuſnetuna, Kinſintuna, and Kinſintune, is within the Liberties of Finsbury and Wenlakesbarn, and within a ſmall Diſtance of being contiguous to ſome Part of Weſtminſter, to the Eaſtward. In the general Survey of the Conqueror, it appears, that Alberic de Vere. then held it by the Name of Chenesiton. It is ſubject to the Archdeacon.

Mon. Angl. Vol. I. 437

The Church here (dedicated to) was in the Reign of King Henry I. given by Godefrid de Ver, with the Conſent of Alberic his Father, Beatrix his Mother, and his Brothers, upon his Death-bed, to the Monaſtery of Abingdon, in the County of Berks (Faricius who had cur'd him of a former Sickneſs, being then Abbot) with two Hides, 120 Acres and one Yard-Land, in the ſame Pariſh ; all which was confirm'd to the ſaid Monaſtery, by the ſaid King Henry I.

Ibid.

In which Monaſtery, the ſaid Godefrid being buried, his Parents thereupon became much in Love with that Place, but being for the moſt part too far from it (to wit) in Eſſex, they founded the Priory of Coln S. Andrew, in that County, and made it a Cell to the Abby of Abington aforeſaid, endowing it with ſeveral Mannors, Lands, and Churches, which were confirm'd to that Abbot and Convent by King Henry I. in the 11. of his Reign, Anno Dom. MCXI. and taken Poſſeſſion of by the ſaid Abbot Faricius.

But long after this, the Prior and Convent of Coln, pretending a Right to this Church of Kenſington, it was agreed (inter alia) by way of Compoſition, made prid. Kal. April 1311. at the Inſtance of Robert de Vere, then Earl of Oxford, Patron of the ſaid Priory, between Richard, then Abbot of Abingdon, and the Convent there, and John de Campeden, then Prior, and the Convent of Coln, that the Prior and Convent of Coln, ſhould remit, and quit-claim all their Right to this Church of Kenſington to the ſaid Abbot and Convent of Abingdon, for ever, which they accordingly did, by an Inſtrument under the Seals of the ſaid Convent, and of their ſaid Patron, bearing Date the Day and Year above-ſaid. Mon. Ang. Vol. I. 438.

This Church was of old, by a Licence obtain'd from Pope Alexander, without the Conſent of the Biſhop or Archbiſhop, appropriated to the Abbot and Convent of Abingdon, and a Vicarage here ordain'd and endow'd; and by a Compoſition made in 1260. by Giles de Brideport or Bridelesford, then Biſhop of Salisbury, and Robert de Barthon, Dean of S. Paul's, authoriz'd thereunto by Fulco Baſſet (not long before) Biſhop of London, between the ſaid Abbot and Convent on the one Part, and Roger de Beſtorp or Weſtorp, then Vicar of Kenſington, on the other, it was ordain'd as followeth, viz. —— Quod dicti Abbas “& Conventus, & Rogerus & Succeſſores ſui Vicarii dictæ Eccleſiæ, decimas majores totius dictæ Eccleſiæ, & Garbarum pro æqualibus portionibus percipient, eas in campis dividendo, dicti verò religioſi omnes redditus, cum Homagiis Conſuetudinibus, & omnibus Libertatibus ad dictam Eccleſiam pertinentibus habebunt precipuos pro eſtimatione Advocationis dictæ Eccleſiæ, & pro annua Penſione xxx s. quam ab eadem Eccleſia percipere conſueverunt ab antiquo, una cum tota terra dominicali, paſtura, prato, boſco, virgulto, & ædificiis ad dictam Eccleſiam pertinent. ſalva tota crofta dicto Rogero, & Succeſſoribus ſuis Vicariis, quæ extendit ſe verſus auſtrum a domo quondam Philippi de Fonte in longitudine uſque ad regalem ſtratam, quæ ducit London verſus, & in latitudine inter terram Abbatis & Conventus Weſtmonaſterii verſus orientem & croftam Aviciæ Textricis viduæ verſus occidentem ſicut foſſates includitur. Item verò Rogerus & Succeſſores ſui Vicarii percipient decimam fœni totius Parochiæ, cum decima molendinorum in eadem Parochia, & cæteris omnibus minutis decimis, & toto alteragio ejuſdem Eccleſiæ, exceptis majoribus & minutis decimis præſenti dominico, dictorum Abbatis & Conventus, quod modo habent in dominico provenientibus. Et excepta decima molendinorum prædictorum religioſorum, ſi quod contingat eoſdem in dominico, vel hominum ſuorum conſtruere. Et ſi contingat dictos Religioſos, vel Vicarios aliquas terras emere prius decimabiles, decima dividatur inter eoſdem ſicut prius. And farther ordain'd, that the Vicar ſhould ſuſtain omnia onera Ordinaria, but the Extraordinaria ſhould be born equally between them. And laſt of all it was ordain'd (by reaſon, I ſuppoſe, the ſaid Licence of Appropriation was got without the Biſhop's Conſent) That the Collation of this Vicarage ſhould remain in the Biſhop of London and his Succeſſors, for ever, pleno jure, which they have enjoy'd ever ſince.

Stokeſley, 114.

Dotatio Vicariæ.

Terrier 1610. a Vicarage-Houſe, with an Orchard and a Barn, with a Stable adjoyning, and xii. Acres of Glebe-Land, as alſo all manner of Tyths, except half the Tyth of Corn and Grain, which is impropriate from the Church to the Parſonage or Parſon. Bund. Midd.

In the Year 1683. the Inhabitants of this Pariſh, for the better enlargement of their Pariſh-Church, and the increaſing of the Number of Seats therein, built a new Iſle on the South-ſide of the ſame, containing in Length 71 Foot, or thereabouts, and in Breadth about 20 Foot, for the doing of which, they had the Biſhop of London's Licence, dated May 29. 1683. Reg. Lond.

The like Enlargement was made by Vertue of the like Licence, dated January 29. 1695. by taking down the North-Iſle of the ſaid Church and Chancel, and building another inſtead of it, containing in Length about 60 Foot, and in Breadth about 24 Foot, and now in this preſent Year 1696. the whole Body both of the Church and Chancel are pulling down, in order to be rebuilt more ſtately, and more convenient than it was before. Ibidem.

It appears by the London-Regiſtry, that there is a Procuration due to the Biſhop, when he viſits, for a Penſion belonging to the Church of Weſtminſter.

Kilbourne, Priory.

THIS Hamlet or Village of Kylbourne, or Keelebourne (which is in the Pariſh of Hamſted) ſeemeth to take Name (ſaith Norden) of Keele and Bourn, which ſignify Cold Water. It is call'd in ſome Records, Cuneburna, in others Kullebourne. It lies in the Liberties of Finsbury and Wenlakesbarn, about four or five Miles North-Weſt from London.

Here was, in old time, a Hermitage, built by one Godwyn (whom Norden calls Gorbone) an Hermit, but was in his time made a Cell for Nuns of the Order of S. Benedict, to the Abby of Weſtminſter, dedicated to S. John Baptiſt (Weaver ſaith, to the bleſſed Virgin Mary) perhaps to both, and founded by Herbert, Abbot of Weſtminſter, in the Reign of King Henry I. with the Conſent of Gilbert (Univerſalis) then Biſhop of London, who by his Charter, granted and confirm'd to the ſaid Abbot and his Succeſſors, for ever. " Juriſdictionem " & ſubjectionem in ſpiritualibus prædictæ Cellæ, cum ſuis pertinentiis, ita " quod memorata Cella cum pertinentiis ſuis a juriſdictione, & ſubjectione " Londonienſis Eccleſiæ in perpetuum penitus ſit exempta; which he corroborated under his own Seal, and for better Security, caus'd the Seal of his Chapter, by their Aſſent, to be alſo put unto it.

Mon. Angl. Vol. I. 362.

When the ſaid Abbot Herebert, had founded this Priory, and made it a Cell to the Abby of Weſtminſter, he, and Prior Osbert de Claza, together with all the Convent of Weſtminſter, gave it, with all the Lands of that Place, to three Damſels, namely Emme, Gunilde, and Criſtine, and to all thoſe that ſhould live there for the ſake of Religion; yet by the Grant, and at the deſire of the ſaid Godwyn, the Hermit (who was to be Maſter of the Place, and Keeper of the ſaid Damſels, during his Life) under the ſame Condition and Liberty, with which Ethelred, King of the Engliſh, Father of King Edward, gave Humſted to the Church of Weſtminſter, now Hamſted, with other Places, was granted and confirm'd to that Church, by King Edward the Confeſſor (among other Privileges) with this that follows, viz. " —— Relaxavi iſtis & omnibus ſupra " nominatis terris conſuetudines omnes & exactiones Regalium & Epiſcopalium " Miniſtrorum, ſicut anteceſſores mei Reges prius fecerunt, ut nullis graventur " oneribus Expeditionum, nec Pontium vel Caſtrorum reſtructione nec furis " apprehenſione.

Ibid. 361.

Ibid. 61.

Notwithſtanding the ſaid Gilbert, Biſhop of London, had exempted or diſcharged this Place from being ſubject to the Church of London, as is abovemention'd, yet afterwards, in the Year 1231. by Vertue of a Compoſition then made between R. (that is Roger Niger) Biſhop of London, and R. (that is Richard de Barking) Abbot of Weſtminſter, the ſaid Biſhop and his Succeſſors came to have ſome ſort of Juriſdiction in the ſaid Cell, as particularly, that the Biſhop of London, for the time being, ſhould come, as often as he pleas'd, to this Priory, and be ſolemnly admitted, that he ſhould enter into their Chapter to preach; that he ſhould hear Confeſſions, and enjoyn Penance, but he ſhould exact no Procurations. That the Abbot of Weſtminſter was to preſent the Cuſtos (of Warden) of this Cell, to the Biſhop, whom he was to admit, unleſs any thing at the Canons hindred it; but however, he was removeable at the Pleaſure of the Abbot. The Prioreſs was to do Canonical Obedience to the Biſhop, in thoſe things that concern'd this preſent Compoſition, " Salva in omnibus reverentia & obedientia debita Abbati ſæpedicto " Canonica & antiqua. But the whole ordering of the Houſe, as to the Correction and Reformation of Perſons, and Things within the Limits of the ſame, was to belong to the Abbot and his Succeſſors, for ever; but if the Biſhop ſhould hear of any thing fit to be corrected in the Perſons of the Nuns, or other Perſons Regular or Secular, belonging to the ſaid Houſe, and upon Notice thereof given by the Biſhop to the ſaid Abbot or Prior, they ſhould not within one Month after, reform the ſame, then the Biſhop might; but ſo that he attempt nothing about the Perſon of the Prioreſs, contrary to this preſent Compoſition. That none of the Monks were to hear the Nuns confeſs, or enjoyn them Penance; that the Biſhop, when deſir'd by the Abbot, ſhould perform the Office of Bleſſing or Conſecrating the Nuns; and finally, that neither the Biſhop nor his Chapter ſhould, by reaſon of this Compoſition, challenge any Juriſdiction over the Abbots and Monks of Weſtminſter, or their Monaſtery, nor ſhould in any thing derogate from the Rights of the ſaid Nuns, or their Cell.

Ibid. 362.

Ibidem. The aforeſaid Abbot Herebert, that founded this Cell, by the Conſent of his whole Chapter, gave to the Nuns, which were in the Church of S. John Baptiſt of Keneburna, certain Lands in the Tenure of their Mannor, which is call'd Cnithtebruga (now Knightsbridge) in a Place, which is call'd Gava.

This Houſe, at the Suppreſſion, was valu'd to be yearly worth 74 l. 7 s. 11 d. Dugd. 86 l. 7 s. 6 d. Speed. after which, the Site of this Priory was granted first to John, Earl of Warwick, by King Edw. VI. [Pat. 1. Edw. VI. p. 9.] then to Gerrard, Gent. Kingsbury, Curacy.

Archid. Commiſſar. Midd. THIS Pariſh of Kingsbury, is in the Hundred of Gore, about eight Miles North-Weſt from London; it is ſubject to the Archdeacon, ſaving only as to Wills and Adminiſtrations, which belong to the Commiſſary.

The Church here (dedicated to St Andrew) is a Donative or Curacy, in the Gift or Nomination of the Dean and Chapter of S. Paul's, but pays neither Firſt-Fruits nor Tenths, and is conſtantly ſupply'd by a Curate, licens'd thereto by the Biſhop of London.

a Joſ. Wilcox, the preſent Miniſter or Curate there this Year, 1700. and alſo, Vicar of Harrow on the Hill in Middleſex.

Knightsbridge Chappel, vid. S. Martins in the Fields.

Lalam, Vicarage.

THIS Place or Pariſh of Lalam, or Lalebam, is in the Hundred of Speltborne, about 15 Miles South-weſtward from London, and is ſituate on the North-ſide of the River of Thames, near Coway-Stakes, where Cæſar paſs'd the River, and the Britans, to prevent him, ſet the Bank and Ford with Stakes, whence it is call'd Coway-Stakes. This Pariſh of Lalham is ſubject to the Archdeacon. Archid. Middleſex.

The Church or Chappel here (dedicated to   ) was of old, a Vicarage, in the Gift of the Abbot and Convent of Weſtminſter, and ſo continu'd till December 3. 1439. at which time, the laſt Clerk, which they preſented to this Vicarage, receiv'd Inſtitution; for the three next were collated to it by the Biſhop of London, the firſt two of them, pro hac vice, and the other as devolv'd to him by Lapſe; after which, I find no Inſtitution to this Church, as a Vicarage, for above 200 Years, as appears hereafter.

Now by a Compoſition (but without Date) regiſter'd among the Archives Gilbert, 177. of the Biſhop of London, in Biſhop Gilbert's time, made by William, Biſhop of London (which I conceive muſt be William Courtney, or William Grey, for there were no other Williams, Biſhops of that Sea, from Euſtachius de Fauconbergh, in whoſe time the Church of Stanes, hard by, with the Chappels thereunto annex'd, were ſettled in the Abbot of Weſtminſter, till the above-mention'd Biſhop Gilbert, in whoſe time, the ſaid Compoſition was regiſtred) between the Abbot and Convent of Weſtminſter, and the Vicar of Stanes; at the Bottom of the ſaid Compoſition, I find ſeveral Chappels nam'd, as belonging to the Church of Stanes, among which this Chappel of Lalam is one, with this Note againſt it, viz. "In ea ſolet Vicarius inſtitui ad præſentationem Abbatis & Conventus "prædict. prout patet ex regiſtro. And in the ſaid Compoſition, all the ſmall Tyths, which did belong to the Mother-Church of Stanes, and to the Chappels thereunto annex'd, were ſettled upon the Vicar of Stanes, except where there was a Vicar then in being, which had been canonically inſtituted to any of the ſaid Chappels, who was to enjoy all the ſmall Tyths that did belong to his ſaid Chappel, as long as he there liv'd; but afterwards, the Vicar of the ſaid Mother-Church was to provide a fit Chaplain for ſuch Chappel, as will appear in what I have written of Stanes, by the Compoſition it ſelf there inſerted; ſo that upon the exhibiting this Compoſition, before the Biſhop, it is probable, there was no more Inſtitution to this Church or Chappel, ſo long a time after.

In April 1492. there was a Clerk inſtituted to the Vicarage of Stanes, with Hill, 6. the Chappels of Lalam and Aſhford, thereunto annex'd, and alſo in December Bonner, 309. 1550. tho' in the intervening Inſtitutions, I find no mention of the ſaid Chappels, as annext to the Vicarage of Stanes.

After the general Suppreſſion of religious Houſes, the Advowſon of the Vicarage of Stanes came to the Crown, and hath continu'd in it ever ſince, but I find that King Henry VIII. granted (inter alia) the Advowſon of the Vicarage of Lalam (by the Name of Laneham) to the Dean and Chapter of Weſtminſter, in the 34. of his Reign; and Queen Elizabeth in the 2. of her Reign, granted (inter alia) the Advowſons and Rights of Patronage of the Vicarages, and Free-Chappels of Lalam, Echelford (now Aſhford) and the bleſſed Mary Magdalene in Tuthill-ſtreet, to the Dean and Chapter of the Collegiate-Church of Weſtminſter, in pure and perpetual Alms. Notwithſtanding which, I do not find, that either they, or any other claiming by, or under them, ever preſented to either of theſe Chappels of Lalam or Aſhford, till Sir Thomas Reinolds, Knight, immediately after the Reſtauration of King Charles II. preſented to this Church or Chappel of Lalam, as a Vicarage, whoſe Clerk was admitted Vicar thereof in 1660. as were two more at his Preſentation within three Years after; but upon what Ground or Pretence this was done, I know not. Beſides, I do not find, that either of theſe two Chappels of Lalam or Aſhford are charg'd with Firſt-Fruits and Tenths to the Crown; and in the Biſhop of London's Book of Procurations, Stanes ſtands thus charg'd with them, viz. "Stanes "Eccleſia cum Capellis de Laleham & Echilford alias Aſhford, xxxv s. Vicaria de "Stanes vi s. Laleham, Vic. xvi d. which xvi d. I take to be charg'd on Laleham, as it had been in former times a Vicarage, before it was made a Chappel of Eaſe to Stanes, but afterwards chargeable on the Vicar of Stanes as a Chappel of Eaſe, annex'd to his Church; but among the Archdeacon's Procurations, I find Lalam charg'd iv s. i d. for Procurations, and iii s. v d. for Synodals, but as far as I have been inform'd, never paid.

S. Leonard Shorditch, Vicarage.

THIS Pariſh-Church of S. Leonard Shorditch, is in the Suburbs of the City of London, and is one of the 14 Out-Pariſhes in Middleſex and Surrey, nam'd in the Bills of Mortality; it lies North from Biſhopſgate, and is call'd Shorditch (ſaid Weaver) of the Shordiches Lords thereof.

Weav. Fun. Mon. 427.

One of which Family (namely) Sir John Shordich (Holinſhed tells us) flouriſh'd in the Reign of Edward III. and being a grave Perſon, and well ſeen in the Law, was ſent by that King, in the 17th of his Reign, Ann. Dom. 1343. to Pope Clement VI. then at Avignon, to revoke his Reſervations, Collations and Proviſions Apoſtolick, then uſed much to the Derogation of the Kingdom, and Damages of the Churches in England, and perhaps, is the ſame with Sir John Shordich, who, about this time, was Lord of Ickenham, in Middleſex, and Patron of the Church there.

Holinſh. Hiſt. 365.

The Canons of the Holy Trinity, London, in the Reign of King Henry II. pretending a Right to this Church, that King in a Suit againſt them, making it appear, that it was in his Gift, recover'd the ſame, and at that King's Preſentation the Biſhop of London conſtituted Walter de Wittenor Parſon thereof.

Reg. Dec. & Cap. lib. A. f. 4.

After this, King John, in the firſt of his Reign, granted to William de Sanctæ Mariæ Eccleſia, Biſhop of London, this Church of Shorditch, near this City, for the founding the Office of chief Chantor or Precentor of the Cathedral-Church of S. Paul, as appears by a Tranſcript of his Charter, inſerted in what I have written of that Office, after which the ſaid Biſhop confirm'd this Church to the ſaid Office, for ever, as there likewiſe appears; notwithſtanding which, after ſome time, this Church, it ſeems, was alienated from the ſaid Office of Precentors, and appropriated to the Office of Archdeacon of London; but when, by whom, or upon what Occaſion or Conſideration, I have not found; but ſo it is, for the Archdeacon of London (to whoſe Office this Church is annex'd) hath from time immemorial, always been Parſon thereof, and preſents the Vicar; and all Matters Eccleſiaſtical in this Pariſh, in Subordination to the Biſhop (except in thoſe Parts of it, unknown by the Name of Norton-Falgate and Hoxton, which belong to the Dean and Chapter of S. Paul's) are ſubject to his Juriſdiction.

Archid. Lond.

The Meſſuages, Yards, Gardens, &c. belonging to the Archdeacon of London, as Parſon or Rector of Shorditch, contain on the Weſt, fronting towards the Street, 329 Feet, on the South 91, on the Eaſt 250, and on the North, towards the Church-yard, 191 Feet.

Reg. Lond.

By a Compoſition made between Dr. Theophilus Aelmer, Archdeacon of London, as Parſon or Rector of this Church, and Dr. Ric. Alliſon, Vicar of the ſame, and confirm'd by the Biſhop of London, and Rector of this Church, Apr. 6. 1611. it was agreed,

Grindal, 390.

That the Rector, for the future, ſhould receive all the Tyths of Grain and Hay, and all the Tyths of Gardens, containing half an Acre, or more, to wit, of ſuch Gardens, only as formerly have been, or for the future ſhould be made, out of ſuch Grounds in this Pariſh, as before the Turning thereof into Gardens, did pay Tyths to the Rector, and all the Tyth of Brick, made or to be made, out of Land in this Pariſh.

That the Vicar ſhould receive all the Tyths of Paſture, and all the Tyths of barren and fruitful Creatures.

Alſo all the Tyths of the Wood of Orchards and Gardens, and the Tyths of all Gardens, not extending to the Quantity of half an Acre.

Alſo all Oblations, and other Eccleſiaſtical Rights, belonging to the ſaid Church, and all Fees for Marriages, Chriſtenings, Churches and Burials, and all other ſmall Tyths. But ſhall ſuſtain all the Burthens Ordinary and Extraordinary, for the future, which have hitherto been accuſtom'd to be ſuſtain'd by the Vicars of this Pariſh.

Stow gives us an Account of ſeveral Benefactors to this Pariſh, thoſe to the Poor, I omit, but thoſe who were any way Benefactors to the Church, are as followeth;

Sto. Sur. 472, &c.

Will. Thornton of this Pariſh, Taylor, gave the Veſtry-Houſe, with a Room under it, for the Miniſter to dwell in, and a Tenement by it, to this Pariſh, for ever; he likewiſe built the Gallery coming in at the great Door in the Church, and made a Brick-Wall on the Weſt-ſide of the Church-yard, at his own Charge, Anno 1581.

Cicely, Wife of John Yeamans, alias Tice, of this Pariſh, and after Wife of John Heath, gave (inter alia) 20 l. to buy a Flagon of Silver for Wine, for the Communion; likewiſe ſhe gave 20 l. in Money for the Maintenance of two Sermons yearly, for ever, one upon the Lady-Day, in Harveſt; and the other upon the Lady-Day in Lent.

Joan Smales gave Allowance for four Sermons, every Year (but how much is not ſaid) to be preach'd on four Holy-Days, viz. S. John Baptiſt, S. Michael, S. Stephen and Purification.

Simon Burton, Citizen and Merchant-Taylor, of London, gave ſome Land in this Pariſh, to S. Thomas's Hoſpital on condition, that in December, the Governors thereof, give yearly 20 s. to thirty poor People of this Pariſh, and ſix Shillings for a Sermon in Lent, yearly.

Zachary Elmer, Official to the Archdeacon of London, together with his Brother Edm. Elmer, gave a Flagon of Silver for the Wine in the Communion; William Badger, Gardener, gave another, and a Pariſhioner unknown gave alſo another, every one coſt 20 l.

John Leavis, Weaver, gave a Chalice, and Will. Wood of this Pariſh, Gardener, gave another, and four Pewter-Flagons for the Wine to the Communion-Table, and Iſabel Jackſon, Widow, gave a Plate of Silver to carry the Bread.

On the North-ſide of the Church, a Gallery was made at the coſt of well-diſpos'd Pariſhioners, in 1617. and in the Year 1630. another was ſet up on the South-part, by James Slade, Captain and Servant to the Eaſt-India Company, and a long Seat between, reaching from one Gallery to the other for Catechizing of Youth out of the Pulpit, according to the Order then given.

Several Perſons of Honour and Worth, have been buried in this Church, the Inſcriptions on whoſe Monuments and Grave-Stones, may be ſeen in Stow's Survey.

Litlington, Rectory.

THIS Pariſh of Litlington, Lyttelyngton, or Littleton, and in regard of the Quantity of Ground (ſaith Norden) it may be call'd Little-Town, is in the Hundred of Spelthorn, about 14 or 15 Miles Southweſtward from London, and ſubject to the Archdeacon. Archid. Mid.

Dugd. Bar. Tom.II. 151. In the Reign of K. Edward III. Guy de Brien or Bryan, Baron of Walwayne's-Caſtle, in the County of Pembroke, was Lord of this Mannor; he was a Perſon of great Eſteem with that King for his Courage, and in the 23d of his Reign, was Standard-bearer to him in that notable Fight with the French, at Calais, and behaving himſelf with great Courage and Valour at that time, in Recompence thereof, he had a Grant of 200 Marks per Annum, out of the Exchequer, during his Life; and in 24. of that King's Reign, he obtain'd a Charter of Free-Warren, in his demeſn Lands, in this Pariſh, and ſeveral others in England and Wales. He was ſent twice Ambaſſador to Rome, made twice Admiral of that King's Fleet, made a Banneret by him in the 29th of his Reign, and about the ſame Year, elected into the Order of the Garter.

As to the Church here (dedicated to) it is a Rectory, but it ſeems not to be an appendant to the Mannor; for it appears, that the Patronage thereof, was from the Year 1321. to the Year 1336. incluſive, in Will. de Perkele; but in the Year 1395. it was found by Inquiſition, to be in the Maſter and Convent of the neighbouring Church of the Holy Trinity of Hounſlow, pro ea vice, and afterwards to be in them, pleno jure, and ſo continu'd to the Diſſolution of that Houſe, but by whoſe Gift, or by what Means it came to be inveſted in them, I have not found.

4. Eliz. p. 3. Q. Eliz. in the 4th of her Reign, granted to Cecily Pickerel, Widow, and her Heirs, one Rood of Land, lying near the Church-yard of this Pariſh, and then in the Tenure of the Rector, which Land was formerly given to ſuſtain an Anniverſary.

7. Jac. p. 15. King James I. in the 7th of his Reign, granted to Will. Hughes, the Advowſon of the Church, and the Glebe-Lands, to be held in capite, to him the ſaid William, and his Heir; but how the Right of Patronage came to be in the Noble Family of the Earl of Hertford, who ſeveral times before and after that Grant, preſented to this Church, as appears hereafter, I know not; but now it is in Tho. Wood, Eſq;.

S. Martin in the Fields, Vicarage.

THIS Pariſh of S. Martin in the Fields, ſometimes written, S. Martin juxta Charing-Croſs, is reckon'd one of the ſeven Pariſhes in the Bills of Mortality, within the City and Liberties of Weſtminſter.

It was, within Memory, much more large in Extent than now it is, there having been three Pariſhes taken out of it, and made diſtinct Pariſhes, by Act of Parliament, viz. S. Paul Covent-Garden, in 12. Car. II. S. Ann Weſtminſter, in 30. of the ſame King, and S. James Weſtminſter in 1ſt of King James II. and notwithſtanding all this, it is ſtill the moſt populous Pariſh (that of Stepney only excepted) within the Bill of Mortality.

This Church here is dedicated to S. Martin, and becauſe at the firſt erection thereof, it ſtood in the Fields, where probably were then but few Houſes about it, it was call'd S. Martin in the Fields, to diſtinguiſh it from ſeveral other Churches in the City of London, dedicated to that Saint. It is ſituate on the Eaſt-ſide of S. Martin's-Lane, and was of old, it ſeems, appropriated to the Abbot and Convent of Weſtminſter, and a Vicarage here ordain'd and endow'd, of Bonner, 377. which (to wit) in the firſt of Queen Mary, ſhe, by her Letters-Pattents, bearing Date, March 3. gave and granted the Advowſon of this Vicarage (among a great many others) to the Biſhop of London and his Succeſſors, for ever, in whoſe Collation it continu'd ever ſince; but all the Tyths of the Rectory

2. Eliz. p. 3. were granted by Q. Elizabeth, in the 2d of her Reign, to the Dean and Chapter of Weſtminſter.

There are ſeveral Tenements in this Pariſh belonging to this Vicarage, viz.
Laud, 118, two Tenements, and a parcel of Ground lett by Leaſe, dated Aug. 28. 1662.
124,125,127. to Martha Cole, for 38 Years, at the Rent of 8 l. per Annum. Another to Joanna Jamſon, dated Nov. 10. 1662. for 31 Years, at the Rent of 7 l. per Annum.
Another to John White, dated Oct. 29. 1662. for 31 Years, at the yearly Rent of 6 l. 13 s. 4 d. and another to Tho. Gordon, dated Oct. 7. 1664. for 21 Years, at 5 l. per Annum.

Sto. Sur. 901. There was an Enlargement made of this Church, begun in 1607. and finiſh'd in 1608. to which, K. James I. and Prince Henry were great Benefactors; the Enlargement was only that Ground, which at the Eaſt-end of this Church (taken out of the Church-yard) was then made a beautiful Chancel.
The Steeple was new-built, not long after the Reſtauration of King Charles II.
The Church is now very old, and fitter to be taken down and new-built, than repair'd.

In the Chancel of this Church lies buried the Body of that famous Phyſician, Sir Theodore de Mayerne, of whom you may read in Ath. Oxon. Vol. I. 798. He died about the 26th of March 1655. and was buried the 30th of the ſame Month; over whoſe Grave was ſoon after a fair Monument put, with a flouriſhing and high-flown Epitaph thereon, which, becauſe no where elſe (that I know of) extant, I thought proper to inſert here.

Henry Howard, Earl of Northampton, when out of the Ruins of S. Mary Rounceval (of which hereafter) he built his Houſe, remov'd the Bones of ſuch as lay buried in that Chappel, into this Church, as appears by this following Inſcription, now or lately remaining there.

The Church-yards already belonging to this Pariſh, being too little for the Burial of their Dead, the Biſhop of London, at the Petition of the Church-Wardens and Veſtry-Men of this Pariſh, did on the 21ſt of March 1685. conſecrate a parcel of Ground, belonging to their Pariſh (but now lying within the Precinct of the Pariſh of S. Ann Weſtminſter) for the Burying of ſuch as die, either in their Alms-houſes, within that Precinct, or within their ſaid Pariſh.

Reg. Lond.

Tho. Evans, Gent. who died 12. Aug. 1612. (among other charitable Legacies given to other Pariſhes, and 50 l. given to the Poor of this Pariſh) gave 100 l. towards the Building of Houſes, on the then new Church-yard here, to be for the Benefit of the Poor.

Stillingfleet* to the Biſhoprick of Worceſter. In Nov. 1691. he was promoted to the Biſhoprick of Lincoln, then void by the Death of Dr. *Tho. n Will. Lancaſter, D. D. p Will. Lancaſter, D. D. was again collated and admitted to this Church, of which he is the preſent Vicar, 1700.

S. Mary Rouncival, Hoſpital.

IN this Pariſh of S. Martin ſtood this Hoſpital or Chappel of S. Mary, which was a Cell to the Priory of Rouncival in Navar, in Pampelon Dioceſe, it was ſituate on the South-ſide of the Strand, ſomewhat below York-Houſe, near Charing-Croſs, and founded by William Marſhal, Earl of Pembroke, in the Reign of King Henry III. and endow'd with one Meſſuage and certain Tenements in Cherring (where it was ſituate) alſo with 100 s. Rent at Southampton; 13 Pounds Land at Netherwinter, and one Carucate of Land with its Appurtenances at Aſhendon; all which, the ſaid Will. Marſhall gave and granted to the Prior of the ſaid Hoſpital and his Succeſſors, and was confirm'd by the ſaid King Henry III.

Mon. Angl Vol. II. 443.

Speed tells us, that this Hoſpital (which he calls S. Mary Cell) was ſuppreſs'd by King Henry V. among the Priories-Alien, and was re-edify'd by King Edward IV. in the 15th of his Reign, where (ſaith Stow) a Fraternity was founded, but now the ſame is ſuppreſs'd and turn'd into Tenements.

Speed, Chron. 813.
Sto. Sur. 495.

After the general Suppreſſion, the Chappel and divers Tenements and Poſſeſſions belonging to this Hoſpital, were by King Edward VI. in the 3d of his Reign, granted to Sir Thomas Cawarden, Knight, to be held in Soccage, of the Honour of Weſtminſter.

3. Ed. VI. P. 10.

After which, this Hoſpital, it ſeems, came to Henry Howard, Earl of Northampton, out of the Ruins of which, he built a Houſe in the ſame Place where this Hoſpital ſtood, and died there June 15. 1614. (12. Jac.) but was buried in the Church at Dover-Caſtle, under a goodly Monument of white Marble, with this following Epitaph, which briefly pointeth at what is farther memorable of him.

> Henricus Howardus, Henrici Comitis Surriæ filius, Thomæ ſecundi Ducis Norfolciæ nepos, Baro Howard de Marnhill. Privati Sigilli Cuſtos, Caſtri Doverenſis Conſtabularius, Quinque Portuum Cuſtos, Cancellarius & Admirallus, Jacobo magnæ Britanniæ Regi ab intimis Conſiliis; Ordinis Periſcelidis Eques auratus, & Academiæ Cantabrigienſis Cancellarius; inter Nobiles literatiſſimus; In ſpem reſurgendi in Chriſto, hic conditur. Obiit XV. Junii, MDCXIV.

> Johanne Griffitho, huic Comiti ab Epiſtolis, curante poſitum.

This Earl's Body and Monument, were both, Anno 1696. by the Order of the Mercers-Company, Truſtees of the ſaid Hoſpital, and the Care of my worthy Friend, Mr. John Stow, Warden of the ſame (Leave and Licence for that purpoſe being firſt had and duly obtain'd) remov'd from the Place of Burial in the Church or Chappel of Dover-Caſtle, becauſe it was ruinous, and brought to the ſaid Hoſpital or College at Greenwich, where at the Eaſt-end of the Chappel, the ſaid Earl's Body is again depoſited, and the ſame Monument again erected.

S. Katharine, Hermitage.

NEar unto the aforeſaid Hoſpital of S. Mary Rouncival was an Hermitage, with a Chappel of S. Katharine, over-againſt Charing-Croſs, which Croſs (by the way) was of old time, a fair Piece of Work, built of Stone, by the Command of Edward I. Anno Reg. 21. in Memory of Eleanor, his deceaſed Queen, but was deſtroy'd by the Rebels, as a Monument of Superſtition, in the Reign of King Charles I. In place whereof, the Figure of that King, on Horſe-back, nobly modell'd in Braſs, and ſecretly preſerv'd in thoſe rebellious Times,

Sto. Sur. 495.

Times, was by King Charles II. ſome Years after his Reſtauration, ſet up, elevated upon a lofty Pedeſtal of Free-Stone, inviron'd with Iron-Bars or Spikes.

Knightsbridge, Chappel.

THE Village of Knightsbridge, is in the great Road that leads from London, towards the Weſtern Parts of England, and is, partly, in the Pariſh of S. Martin in the Fields, and partly in that of S. Margaret Weſtminſter, about a Mile on the Eaſt-ſide of Kenſington-Church.

Lib. Duck, Vic. Gen. f. 77.

In that part of it, which is in S. Martin's Pariſh, there is an old Hoſpital (but by whom, or when founded, I have not read) with a Chappel belonging to it, to which the Inhabitants of the ſaid Village do uſually reſort, to perform their Religious Duties and Devotions to Almighty God, and the ſame being grown very old and ruinous, and ready to fall, the ſaid Inhabitants, in the Year 1629. petition'd Dr. Will. Laud, then Biſhop of London, to have leave to rebuild the ſame, at their own Coſt and Charges, who thereupon (with the Approbation of the then Vicar and Church-Wardens of S. Martins) granted them his Licence ſo to do, dated July 7. that Year, therein to frequent Divine Service and Sermons, which Divine Offices were to be perform'd by a ſufficient Miniſter, lawfully licens'd from time to time, by himſelf or his Succeſſors, Biſhops of London, or their Chancellors for the time being; provided that the ſaid Inhabitants or their Families, did once every Quarter of a Year, repair to their reſpective Pariſh-Churches to perform their Devotions, and every Eaſter, receive the Holy Communion there, and pay all Rights, Duties and Profits to their reſpective Miniſters, to which they did belong, and order'd that this Licence ſhould continue in Force, during the Pleaſure of the Biſhops of London.

Ibid. 185.

About five Years after (the ſaid Chappel being built and conſecrated to the uſe of the Poor of the ſaid Hoſpital, having no Maintenance, but what they receiv'd of Alms, and were not able to maintain a Curate, or to repair the ſaid Chappel, or to relieve themſelves) it was with the Aſſent of the Maſter of the ſaid Hoſpital, and Curate of the ſaid Chappel, and about ſeven more of the principal Inhabitants of Knightsbridge, on the third of October 1634. order'd by Dr. Duck, then Chancellor of London, that they, or the major part of them, ſhould place ſuch Perſons in the ſeveral Seats of the ſame, as ſhould moſt conduce to the Maintenance of the ſaid Curate, the Repair of the ſaid Chappel, and the Relief of the Poor of the ſaid Hoſpital; That they ſhould keep a Regiſter-Book for their Accounts, which were to be adjuſted at the end of every ſix Months, ſaving and reſerving to the ſaid Churches of S. Martin and S. Margaret, and to the reſpective Incumbents of the ſame, all the Rights, Profits and Emoluments to them belonging.

Marybone,

Marybone, Curacy.

THIS Pariſh of Marybone, or S. Mary-la-Bonne, is a very ſmall Pariſh, and lies almoſt contiguous to the Weſtern Parts of the Suburbs of the City of London, in the Liberties of Finsbury and Wenlakesbarn, and is ſubject to the Archdeacon, ſaving only as to Wills and Adminiſtrations, which belong to the Commiſſary. Archid. Commiſſar. Midd.

This Pariſh, in antient Records, was call'd Tybourne, and the Pariſh-Church (which was dedicated to S. John the Evangeliſt) ſtood formerly, it ſeems, alone, near the publick High-way or Road, leading towards Acton; for I find, that on the 23d of October, 1400. Robert Braybroke, then Biſhop of London, upon the Petition of the Inhabitants of this Pariſh, ſetting forth, that by reaſon of the ſtanding of their Pariſh-Church, near the publick High-way (which I gueſs, was about the Place, where now ſtands a Houſe, call'd, The Lord Mayor's Banquetting-houſe) their Church was robb'd of Books, Veſtments, Images, Bells and other Ornaments, granted them a Licence to pull down their ſaid Church, and to build another in the Place, where, by his Licence, they had lately erected a new Chappel; which Church I take to be the ſame, which is now ſtanding among the Houſes there, and is dedicated to the bleſſed Virgin Mary, whence, 'tis likely, the Pariſh it ſelf hath ever ſince been call'd by the Name of S. Marybone, or Mary-la-Bonne. Braybroke, 348.

The Church of Marybone (in old time Tybourne) was by that Name appropriated (among others) to the Priory of S. Laurence de Blakmore, in Eſſex, by William de Sancta Maria, Biſhop of London, about the Reign of King John, with the Reſervation of a competent Maintenance for a Vicar there, whereby it ſeems to have been then made Preſentative of a Vicar, tho' it came afterwards to be a Donative or Curacy, in the diſpoſal of the Prior and Convent of S. Laurence de Blakmore aforeſaid; the ſaid Approbation was confirm'd by Roger (Surnam'd Niger) in the 7th Year of his Conſecration, which was about the ſame time alſo, by the Dean and Chapter of S. Paul's, Godfrey de Lucy being then Dean.

After the Diſſolution of the ſaid Priory of Blackmore, this Rectory and Church of Marybone, alias Tybourne, was granted by King Edward VI. in the 6th of his Reign, to Thomas Reve and George Cotton, Gent. to be held of the Mannor of Eaſt-Greenwich in Soccage. 6. Ed. VI. p. 5.

The Mannor and Site of the Capital Meſſuage, with the Appurtenances, were granted by Queen Elizabeth, in the 33d. of her Reign, to John Dixon, to be held for 31 Years, which were afterwards, by King James I. in the 9th of his Reign, granted to Edward Forcet or Fawcet, to hold to him and his Heirs, for ever, of the aforeſaid Mannor of Eaſt-Greenwich, and by Deſcent, the ſame came afterwards to Edward Forcet, who at his Death left two Children, viz. Robert and Arabella, the ſaid Robert marry'd, and left Iſſue a Son only, who died very young, and thereupon the ſaid Eſtate, according to Agreement and Marriage-Articles, ſettled on the ſaid Arabella, who married to Tho. Auſten, Eſq; and her Heirs, and John Auſten, Eſq; Son of the ſaid Thomas and Arabella, now enjoys the ſame. 33. Eliz. p. 5.

S. Mary Savoy.

Sto. Sur. 490. THIS Houſe of the Savoy, is ſo call'd, of Peter, Earl of Savoy and Richmond, Son of Thomas, Earl of Savoy, Brother to Boniface, Archbiſhop of Canterbury, and Uncle to Heleanor (Wife to King Henry III.) to which, Peter, the ſaid King, in the 30th of his Reign, granted all thoſe Houſes upon the Thames, which ſometimes pertain'd to Brian de Inſula or Liſle, without the Walls of the City of London, in the Way or Street, call'd the Strand, to hold to him and his Heirs, yielding yearly, into the Exchequer, at the Feaſt of S. Michael the Archangel, three Barbed Arrows for all Services, where the ſaid Peter firſt built this Houſe of the Savoy, Anno 1245.

Afterwards, the ſaid Q. Heleanor purchas'd this Place of the Brethren or Fraternity of Mountjoy (an Order of Knighthood eſtabliſh'd at Jeruſalem, by Pope Alexander III. and confirm'd in 1185. under S. Baſil's Rule) to whom Peter of Savoy, it ſeems, had given it, for her Son Edmund, Earl of Lancaſter; Henry, Duke of Lancaſter, repair'd it, or rather, new-built it, with the Charge of 52000 Marks, and it was at that time the faireſt Mannor in England.

In the Year 1381. the Rebels of Kent and Eſſex burnt this Houſe, for the Malice they bore to John of Gaunt, Duke of Lancaſter, and it coming of later time to the King's Hands, was again rais'd and beautifully built for an Hoſpital of S. John Baptiſt, by King Henry VII. about the Year 1509. for the which Hoſpital, retaining ſtill the Name of Savoy, he purchas'd Lands to be imploy'd upon the relieving of 100 poor People. Of the Founding of which, this following Inſcription might have been read over the Gate, towards the Street, before it was burnt down, not long after the great Fire of London.

Hoſpitium hoc inopi Turbe Savoia vocatum,
Septimus Henricus fundavit ab imo ſolo.

Weav. Fun. Mon. 445. Many Officers, Ordinances, Orders and Rules, were appointed by the Founder, for the better Government of this Hoſpital, ſome of which may be read in Weaver, briefly extracted out of the Grand Charter.

Mon. Angl. Vol. I. 448. King Henry VIII. by his Letters-Patents under the Seal of the Duchy of Lancaſter, bearing Date April 3. in the 2d of his Reign, granted and confirmed the Site of this Mannor of the Savoy, or a certain Place or Piece of Ground, call'd the Savoy, late Parcel of the ſaid Duchy, to Richard, Biſhop of Wincheſter and others, Executors of King Henry VII. for ever, for the Building of this Hoſpital, which Grant he confirm'd in the 4th of his Reign, by his Charter, bearing Date July 5. and by it ordain'd (inter alia) That it ſhould conſiſt of five Chaplains Seculars, viz. of one Maſter, and four other Chaplains, to the Honour of our Lord Jeſus Chriſt, of his Mother, the evermore bleſſed Virgin Mary and S. John Baptiſt, to pray for the good Eſtate of himſelf, and Katharine his Conſort, as long as they liv'd, and for their Souls after their Death, and moſt eſpecially for the Souls of the King, his late Father, and Elizabeth his Conſort, his deareſt Mother, and alſo of Arthur their firſt-born Prince of Wales, Duke of Cornwall and Earl of Cheſter his Brother. He likewiſe ordain'd, That the ſaid Hoſpital ſhould be call'd, The Hoſpital of King Henry the Seventh, late King of England, of the Savoy; and that the Maſter and Chaplains thereof ſhould be call'd, The Maſter and Chaplains of Henry the Seventh, late King of England, of the Savoy. He made them likewiſe a Corporation, and gave them Licence to purchaſe Lands, to the Value of 500 Marks, per Ann. beyond all Repriſals.

In the Year 1517. there was a Compoſition made between the Maſter, Fellows and Chaplains of this Hoſpital, and the Rector of S. Clement Danes, concerning Tyths, of which ſee S. Clements.

On the 8th of July, in the 9th of K. Henry VIII. Richard Fitzjames, Biſhop of London, gave Licence to the Executors of K. Henry VII. (who, as his Executors, held to them and their Heirs of the Biſhop of London, as of his Mannor of Biſhop's-Hall, in the County of Middleſex, 20 Acres of arable Land, 30 Acres of Paſture, and 10 Acres of Meadow, in the Pariſhes of Totenham and Hackney, with the Appurtenances) to give the ſame to William Holgil, Clerk, Maſter of this Hoſpital, and to the Chaplains of the ſame, and to their Succeſſors, for ever, reſerving to himſelf and Succeſſors, the antient Rent of ix s. ix d. per Ann. which Grant was confirm'd by the Dean and Chapter of S. Paul's, July 12. 1518. Fitzjames, 127.

This Hoſpital (valu'd at 529 l. 5 s. 7 d. per Annum, ſaith Speed, was ſupp reſs'd June 10. in the 7th of K. Edw. VI. a little before his Death, the Beds, Bedding, and other Furniture belonging thereunto, with 700 Marks of the ſaid Lands, by the Year, he gave to the Citizens of London, with his Houſe of Bridewell, to the furniſhing thereof, to be a Work-houſe for the poor and idle Perſons, and towards the furniſhing of the Hoſpital of S. Thomas in Southwark. Sto. Sur. 481.

But this Hoſpital was again new-founded, erected, and incorporated by Queen Mary, Nov. 3. in the 4th of her Reign, and one Jackſon took Poſſeſſion, and was made Maſter thereof in the ſame Month. The Ladies of the Court, and the Maidens of Honour (a thing not to be forgotten, ſaith Stow) ſtor'd the ſame a-new, with Beds, Bedding and other Furniture, in very ample manner, and it was by Patent confirm'd at Weſtminſter, May 9. in the 4th and 5th of Phil. and Mar.

The Chappel of this Hoſpital ſerveth now as a Pariſh-Church to the Tenements thereof, near adjoyning, and others; and is reckon'd now in the Bills of Mortality, as one of the ſeven Pariſhes in the City and Liberties of Weſtminſter, by the Name of S. Mary Savoy.

Sto. Sur. 489. BEyond the Biſhop of Bath's-Inn (now Arundel-Houſe) in the Strand, on the Street-ſide, was ſometime a fair Cemetery or Church-yard, and in the ſame, a Pariſh-Church call'd of the Nativity of our Lady, and the Innocents of the of the Strand, written in old Records, Eccleſia beatæ Mariæ at Strand, extra Barras were the Biſhops of Worceſter, who had an Hoſpitium or an Houſe, hard by, between which Houſe, and the Houſe of Walter de Langton, Biſhop of Coventry and Lichfield, there was a certain Piece of Ground, containing ſix Perches and

2. Ed. II. three Foot in Length, and eleven in Bredth, which King Edward II. by his Letters-Patents, dated 26. Dec. 1308. gave leave to Nicolas de Kertling, and Chriſtian his Wife, to grant to Walter Reynald, Biſhop of Worceſter (afterwards Archbiſhop of Canterbury) to have and to hold to the ſaid Biſhop and his Succeſſors, Biſhops of Worceſter, for ever, ſaving the accuſtom'd Services to the chief Lord of the Fee.

Sto. Sur. 490. In the Year 1549. this Church of S. Mary-le-Strand, together with Strand-Inn (an Inn of Chancery) Strand-Bridge, with the Lane under it, the Biſhop of *Cheſter's*Inn, the Biſhop of Worceſter's-Inn, with all the Tenements adjoyning, were by Command of Edward, Duke of Somerſet, Uncle to K. Edward VI. and Lord-Protector, pull'd down, and made level with the Ground, in place whereof he built that large and goodly Houſe, call'd Somerſet-Houſe.

S. Mary Matfellon, alias Whitechappel.

THIS Pariſh lies in the County of Middleſex, Eaſtward of Aldgate, without the Barrs in the Suburbs of London, and is reckon'd one of the 14 Out-Pariſhes in Middleſex and Surrey in the Bills of Mortality.

Commiſſar. Lond. As to Matters Eccleſiaſtical, it is wholly exempt from all Archidiaconal Juriſdiction, and only ſubject to the Biſhop and his Commiſſary.

Sto. Sur. 469. As to the Church here, it is a Rectory, and is as it were, a Chappel of Eaſe to Stepney, the Rector whereof hath the Gift of this Church, which being firſt dedicated to the Name of God, and the bleſſed Virgin, is now call'd, S. Mary Matfellon, not from the Wives of this Pariſh killing a Frenchman, about the Year 1428. (6. Hen. VI.) for Murdering a devout Widow, who had bred him up, as hath been vulgarly given out; for Stow ſays, that he finds upon Record, this Pariſh, call'd Villa beatæ Mariæ de Matfellon, in 21. R. II. and many Years before that, it appears by the London-Regiſtry, that the Rectors of Stepney preſented to this Church, by the Name of Eccleſia beatæ Mariæ Matfellon; which Church, I find alſo written, Eccleſia albæ Capellæ, ſive beatæ Mariæ Matfellon.

Bonner, 260. The Inhabitants of this Pariſh, in antient Time, were bound to go in ſolemn Proceſſion thro' the City of London, once every Year, viz. at the Feaſt of Pentecoſt, to the Cathedral-Church of S. Paul, as to their Mother-Church, and there, as a Token of their Obedience, to make Oblations; which they alſo us'd ſome time, to the Church of S. Peter in Weſtminſter, after that was made a Biſhoprick, by King Henry VIII. and this Pariſh made a part of that Dioceſe; but this proving very troubleſome, Tho. Thirlby, Biſhop of that newerected Biſhoprick, May 4. 1545. being the 4th Year of his Conſecration, did at their Petition, eaſe them thereof, on this Condition, That the Rector and Church-Wardens only, of this Pariſh, ſhould for the future, at the Feaſt of Pentecoſt, every Year, come to the Cathedral-Church of Weſtminſter, and at the High-Altar there, at the uſual Hour, inter Divinorum Solennia, offer xv d. Sterling, as a Recognition of their Mother-Church, and as a Sign of their Subjection and Obedience.

Sto. Sur. 904. The South-Iſle of this Church was added to it, and and new-built in the Year 1591. upon which, their Church-yard, becoming too little, they purchaſed one Rod of Ground, contiguous to the ſame, on the South-ſide thereof, which by Licence from the then Biſhop of London, was added to their Church-yard, and made and us'd as Part thereof. Grindal, 274.

In 1633. this Church, in the many and great decay'd Parts thereof, was repair'd, and within and without, and in every Part of it, richly and very worthily beautify'd at the Coſt and Charge of the Pariſhioners, to the Value of 300 l. and upwards. Sto. ut ſupra.

But of late Years it was ſo much decay'd and it ſeems in ſuch a ruinous Condition, that ſince the Reſtauration of King Charles II. they were fain to pull the whole down (all but the Steeple) and to new-build the ſame from the Foundation, which they did, and made it a very lightſome and ſpacious Church.

Pecul. Dec. Cap.

The Dean and Chapter of S. Paul's are Ordinaries of this Pariſh, to whom belongs all manner of Eccleſiaſtical Juriſdiction therein, it being one of their Peculiars, and is exempt from the Juriſdiction of the Biſhop, ſaving only when he Viſits, tam in capite quam in membris.

As to the Church, it is dedicated to S. Mary (whence the Pariſh is uſually recorded by the Name of S. Mary Newington) it is a Rectory, and whoever is Prebendary of Newington, is Patron thereof in Right of his Prebend, and the Clerk, to whom he gives it, is inſtituted and admitted by the ſaid Dean and Chapter.

Northall, Vicarage.

THIS Pariſh of Northall (Norden calls it Northolt, ſaying, that Northolt ſoundeth Northwood, Holt in the German Tongue, ſignifying Wood) is in the Hundred of Elthorne, about 12 Miles Weſtward from London.

As to Matters Eccleſiaſtical, it is wholly exempt from the Archdeacon, and ſubject only to the Biſhop and his Commiſſary. Commiſſar. Middleſex.

As to the Church here (dedicated to   ) the Biſhop of London is the Rector thereof, and here has been a Vicarage ordain'd and endow'd ever ſince Henry III. time; for in the Reign of that King, Roger (Niger) then Biſhop of London, upon a Difference that happen'd between Roger the Abbot, and the Convent of S. James de Walden, in Eſſex, on the one Part, and Galfridus de Lucy the Dean, and the Chapter of S. Paul's on the other, about this Church (among others) the ſaid Abbot and Convent aſſerting that it did belong to their Monaſtery (for indeed it appears by the Charter of Jeffery de Mandevil, the Founder of that Houſe [Monaſt. Anglic. Vol. I. p. 459.] that this Church, by the Name of Eccleſia de Norhala, was (among others) given unto it by the ſaid Founder) and the ſaid Dean and Chapter denying what they ſo aſſerted, it was with the Conſent of the ſaid Biſhop, by both Parties, referr'd to Peter Archdeacon of London, Robert Archdeacon of Middleſex, and Henry the Chancellor of London, with Power to any two of them (the third being abſent) to determine and ſettle the Matter; upon which, the ſaid Peter and Henry (the ſaid Robert being abſent) ordain'd and decreed, as to this Church, as followeth, viz. "—— Quod Eccleſia de Northall per eundem Epiſcopum (Rogerum) & "ſuos Succeſſores de eorundem Proviſione tantum Vicarius inſtituatur perpetuus "ſucceſſivè, qui fabricæ Eccleſiæ beati Pauli, de duodecim Marcis annuis reſpondeat pro decimis Eccleſiæ præfatæ per manus cuſtodum ejuſdem fabricæ. "Quæ Vicaria, ſi fortè vacaverit ſede Londinenſe vacante, per Decanum & Capitulum Sancti Pauli vice Epiſcopi ordinetur. Farther ordering, that the "Vicars of this Church (as well as at the other Churches, then under their "Reference) ſhould bear the due and accuſtom'd Burthens of their reſpective "Churches. Stokeſley. 121. Reg. Dec. & Cap. Pyx. B.

From hence it appears, that the Biſhops of London were to provide and inſtitute Vicars to this Church, and if the Sea happen'd to be vacant, then the Dean and Chapter were to do it; alſo, that the Vicars have from this time been oblig'd to pay an annual Penſion of 12 Marks to the Fabrick of the Cathedral-Church of S. Paul, from which time alſo, I preſume, the Collation of this Vicarage hath been (as it ſtill is) in the Biſhops of London, between whom, and the ſaid Vicars, there having been formerly ſome Controverſies, to take away all Diſputes for the future, there was a Compoſition made, Febr. 12. 1518. between Richard Fitzjames, then Biſhop of London, and John Redman, Vicar of this Church, to the effect following, viz.

That the preſent Vicar and his Succeſſors, ſhould have all the Tyths, both great and ſmall, and all Oblations, Obventions and other Rights and Emoluments of the ſaid Church and Vicarage, whatſoever, for the future, for ever, and that the Vicar and his Succeſſors ſhould pay to the Biſhop and his Succeſſors, for ever, an annual Penſion of 4 l. as has been uſually paid; and ſhould diligently ſerve the Cure by himſelf, or his ſufficient Deputy. Fitzjames, 138.

That the Vicar and his Succeſſors ſhould, for ever, have the Barns belonging to the Rectory, and ſhould keep them, and all other neceſſary Buildings belonging to the Vicarage, in ſufficient Repair, at his own charges, without exacting any thing from the Biſhop or his Succeſſors, for the future.

That the Biſhop and his Succeſſors ſhould pay all Tenths and Subſidies to the King, for the future, and alſo ſhould ſupport and ſuſtain all Archidiaconal Rights, as Procurations, Synodals and the like, and exonerate the ſaid Vicar and his Succeſſors from the ſame, and him and them ſhall defend againſt the Archdeacon.

Terrier 1610. a Parſonage-Houſe, with a Kitchen, two Barns and a Stable, and other Out-Houſes, with a Garden-Plot, and Orchard, and three Cloſes, call'd Hernes, containing 20 Acres. Bund. Midd.

Alſo, four Acres call'd Creet, in a Field call'd Great Field; ſix Acres in a Field call'd Tunlow, and 12 Lands and a half in the ſame Field; and one half Land of Mead in a Meadow, call'd Rood-End; alſo, in Mile-poſt Field, 13 Lands.

There are ſeveral Acres of Land belonging to this Church in Greenford Fields (to wit) four Cloſes containing 20 Acres, held then by John Franklin; four Cloſes more, a Yard, an Orchard, a Barn, and other Houſes, containing 20 Acres, held then by Thomas Lott, 40 Lands by John Francklin, one Land by Thomas Lott, half an Acre in the lower Field, by Richard Newman, and a Cloſe in the ſame Field held by Roger Layland.

Paddington, Curacy.

THIS Pariſh of Paddington (which is a very ſmall one) is within the Liberties of Finsbury and Wenlakesbarn, and lies about three or four Miles Northweſtward from London; it is exempt from the Archdeacon, and wholly ſubject to the Biſhop of London and his Commiſſary. Commiſſar. Middleſex.

As to the Church here, I gueſs it was dedicated to S. Katharine, becauſe, before the old Church was pull'd down, I obſerv'd the Picture of S. Katharine to be ſet up in painted Glaſs, at the Top of the middle Pannel of the East-Window in the Chancel, where oftentimes the Saint, to which any Church is dedicated, is plac'd. The Church was but ſmall, and being very old and ruinous, was about the Year 1678. pull'd down and new-built from the Ground, at the Coſt and Charges of Sir Joſeph Sheldon, Knight, ſometime Lord-Mayor of the City of London, and his Brother, Mr. Daniel Sheldon, then Leſſees of the Mannor of Paddington.

The Mannor and Rectory of Paddington (which of old did belong to the Monaſtery of Weſtminſter) were by Edward VI. in the 4th of his Reign, upon his diſſolving the Biſhoprick of Weſtminſter, then lately erected by K. Henry VIII. given to Dr. Nicolas Ridley, then Biſhop of London, and to his Succeſſors, for ever. Bonner, 275.

The Church is a Donative or Curacy, in the Gift of the Biſhops of that Sea, and is ſupply'd by a Curate, by Vertue of the Biſhop's Licence, wherein is committed to him the cura animarum; his Penſion was but ſmall, viz. 28 l. per Annum, as I have been inform'd, but after the Reſtauration of King Charles II. the Leaſe of the Mannor expiring, and by that means, falling into the Hands of Dr. Gilbert Sheldon, then Biſhop of London, he augmented the ſaid Penſion to 80 l. a Year, which (with ſeveral others of like Nature) was ſince eſtabliſh'd by Act of Parliament, Anno 29. Car. II. and the Leſſee is bound by his Leaſe, to pay the Curate here, for the time being, the ſaid Sum of 80 l. a Year, at the four moſt uſual Feaſts, viz. 20 l. a Quarter.

The Names of ſuch Perſons as I find to have been Miniſters or Curates of this Church, are as follow.

a Griffin Edwards, I find he continu'd Miniſter of this Church in the Year 1640. [Vid. Marybone inter Curat.]

b Peter Lane. [Vid. S. Bennet Paulſwharf (Lond.) inter Rect.]

c Phil. Atkinſon was formerly of Trinity-College, Cambridge, afterwards Chaplain to Katharine, late Queen-Dowager; in May 1688. the Biſhop of London gave him the Curacy of this Church, which he left upon his Admiſſion to the Church of Kingſthorp, in Northamptonſhire.

d Dan. Amiand, the preſent Miniſter or Curate, 1700.

S. Pancras, alias Kentiſh-Town, Vicarage.

THIS Church (dedicated to S. Pancras) is by the Highway-ſide, that leads from Holborn to Kentiſh-Town, and ſo up to Highgate. It is in the Liberties of Fimbury and Wenlakesbarn, and ſtandeth (ſaith Norden) * all alone, as utterly forſaken, Old and Weather-beaten, which, for the Antiquity thereof, is thought not to yield to S. Paul's in London. About this Church have been many Buildings, now decay'd, leaving poor Pancras, without Company or Comfort, yet is now and then viſited with Kentiſh-Town and Highgate, which are Members thereof, but they ſeldom come there, for that they have Chappels of Eaſe within themſelves, but when there is a Corps to be buried, they are forc'd to leave the ſame in this forſaken Church or Church-yard, where (no doubt) it reſteth as ſecure againſt the Day of Reſurrection, as if it lay in ſtately S. Paul's; yet as deſolate as it ſtandeth, is not forſaken of all, a Prebendary of S. Paul's accepteth it in right of his Office. Thus Norden.

* Not ſo now, Houſes being built about it.

Weav. Fun. Mon. 539. Weaver, ſaith he, found a wondrous antient Monument in this Church, which, by Tradition, was made to the Memory of one of the Right Honourable Family of the Grey's and his Lady, whoſe Portraitures are upon the Tomb. His Manſion-Houſe, ſay the Inhabitants, was in Portpool-Lane, now an Inn of Court; but theſe, ſays he, are but Suppoſitions, for by whom Grey's-Inn was firſt poſſeſs'd, builded or begun, he had not yet learned.

Sto. Annals, 1073. But in the Continuation of Stow's Annals, we are told, That Grey's-Inn was ſometime the Inn or Lodging of the antient and noble Barons, the Lords Greys, from whence it took the Name; we are farther there told, That an Eſtate in Grey's-Inn. this Houſe was taken in the Reign of King Edward III. by the Gentlemen and Profeſſors of the Common-Law, as Mr. Saintlow Kneveton, a learned Gentleman, and a rare Antiquary, and an antient Fellow of that College affirmeth, out of his own Search and Reading of Antiquities, concerning this Houſe, of which Family of the Greys, it ſeems, they continu'd to hold it in the Reign of K. Hen. VI. For in the Baronage of England, [Tom. I. p. 714.]

I find, that Richard, Lord Grey of Wilton, ſeiz'd (inter alia) on the Mannor of Portpool, call'd Grey's-Inn, in Com. Middleſex, in the 20th of K. Henry VI. But to return to S. Pancras.

This Church, with all its Appertenances, "In terris & hominibus, & decimis, & omnibus aliis obventionibus, &c. was with the Conſent of Gilbert (Foliot) Biſhop of London, given by William de Belmeis, a Canon of S. Paul's (Nephew of Richard de Belmeis, Biſhop of London, immediate Predeceſſor to the ſaid Gilbert) to the Canons of S. Paul's, for the Health of the ſaid Uncle's Soul, and the Soul of Robert de Belmeis his Father, and was confirm'd and appropriated to the ſaid Canons, by the ſaid Biſhop Gilbert, in the Chapter of S. Paul's, Anno 1183. by his publick Inſtrument, under Seal, Ralph de Diceto, the Dean, and Nicolas, Archdeacon of London, and others, being Witneſſes. Fulcherius, the Prieſt, was then alſo made perpetual Vicar of this Church, under the annual Penſion of 2 s. which Church was again confirm'd to the ſaid Canons, by Richard (Fitz-Neal) his the ſaid Gilbert's next Succeſſor.

Reg. Dec. & Cap. lib. A. f. 6. & B. f. 33.

Ibid. Pix. y.

After this (the ſaid Ralph de Diceto being ſtill Dean) for the Augmentation of an Hoſpital, founded within the Liberties of the Cathedral-Church of S. Paul's, by Henry de Northampton, a Canon thereof, the ſaid Dean and Chapter, gave to the ſaid Hoſpital (inter alia) this Church of S. Pancras, with the Lands and Tyths thereto belonging, for the better Maintenance of the Poor of the ſaid Hoſpital, provided that one Alexander, a Clerk (then Vicar of this Church) and their Tenant of thoſe Tyths, might hold them of the ſame Hoſpital, as he did of the ſaid Dean and Chapter, reſerving to themſelves a certain yearly Rent of half a Mark, to be paid by the ſaid Hoſpital.

Ibid. lib. A. f. 33.

From what is above-written, we may gueſs at the Original of this Vicarage, of which, and alſo of the Church and Pariſh, the Dean and Chapter of S. Paul's are both Patrons and Ordinaries, to whoſe Juriſdiction the Inhabitants are ſubject in all Eccleſiaſtical Matters; it being one of their Peculiars. Near this Church, tho' the Buidings of old were decay'd and gone, are now, ſome again, built there of late Years.

Here are likewiſe three Church-Wardens to be choſen every Eaſter-Tueſday, one by the Patron, another by the Rector, and a third by the Inhabitants-Houſholders of the ſaid Pariſh, or the major Number of them, which Church-Wardens, or any two of them, are impower'd thereby to aſſeſs the Sum of 250 l. yearly upon the Houſes of the ſaid Pariſh, according to the improv'd Value (Bedford-Houſe, and the Appurtenances excepted) after a Pound-Rate, within 28 Days after the ſaid Eaſter-Tueſday, which Aſſeſſment, to be confirm'd by the two next Juſtices of the Peace, dwelling within the City of Weſtminſter, and the Liberties thereof, under their Hands and Seals, and to be collected by the ſaid Church-Wardens, or by ſuch Perſons as they ſhall appoint at the ſaid uſual Feaſts, with Power of Diſtreſs and Sale of Goods for Non-Payment, or Action of Debt, in the ſaid Church-Wardens Names, or any two of them, out of which they are to pay to the Rector and his Succeſſors, 150 l. and to the Curate, for the time being, 50 l. by equal Payments at the ſaid four Feaſts, or within 20 Days after, and in default of Payment, the two next Juſtices of the Peace, dwelling within Weſtminſter and the Liberties, may upon Complaint of the Party griev'd, give Relief, and impriſon the Church-Wardens, ſo failing, till Payment be made; the remaining 50 l. is to be imploy'd by the Church-Wardens, or any two of them, for Wages and Salaries for a Clerk and two Sextons, who are to be nominated yearly by the Patron and the Rector, for the time being, and the ſaid 50 l. to be diſtributed according to their Directions.

The Biſhop's Juriſdiction.

By this Act, the Juriſdiction of the Biſhop of London and his Succeſſors, is reſerv'd to them enrire, to all Intents and Purpoſes, ſo that all Matters Eccleſiaſtical, in this Pariſh, continue the ſame to the Biſhop of London, and the Archdeacon of Middleſex, in Subordination to him, as they were, when this Pariſh was part of the Pariſh of S. Martin in the Fields.

This being but lately made a Pariſh, I do not find that the Rector thereof is charg'd either with Firſt-Fruits, Tenths, Procurations or Synodals.

a Tho' this Obadiah Sedgwick was never, properly, Rector here, yet I have plac'd him as above, in Regard in the late times of Uſurpation, he officiated for ſome Years, in this Church, as Miniſter thereof, before it was made Parochial or a Rectory, of whom take this ſhort Account, out of a more large one in the Athen. Oxon. He was born at Marlborough, in Wilts, and there, or near it, educated in Grammar-Learning. In 1616. he was ſent to Queen's-College, in Oxon, aged 16, but ſoon retired thence, to Magdalen-Hall, took the Degrees in Arts, and Orders, and was Chaplain to Sir Horatio Vere, Baron of Tilbury, when he went into the Low-Countries. After his Return, he retir'd to Oxford, was admitted to the Reading of the Sentences in the latter End of 1629. Afterwards he was Preacher of S. Mildred Breadſtreet, London, which he quitted, upon no good Account, before the Rebellion brake out, and became Miniſter of Coggſhall, in Eſſex, but ſoon after, upon appearance of the ſaid Rebellion, he retir'd to London, and to his Preaching at S. Mildreds, and alſo before both Houſes of Parliament, the Members of which, conſtituted him one of the Aſſembly of Divines. About 1646. he became Miniſter of this Church, and in 1653. he was appointed one of the Triers or Examiners of Miniſters, and the Year after an Aſſiſtant to the Commiſſioners for the ejection of ſuch, whom they then call'd, Scandalous and Ignorant Miniſters and School-Maſters. About two Years before his Death, he reſign'd his Charge in Covent-Garden, and retir'd to Marlborough, where he died about the beginning of January 1657. and was buried in the Chancel of Ogbourne S. Andrew, near Marlborough aforeſaid. [Athen. Oxon. Vol. II. p. 138.]

b Tho. Manton was born, either in Devonſhire, or Laurence-Lyddyard in Somerſet-ſhire, was entred a Servitor in Wadham-College, Oxon, in 1635. aged 15. went thence to Hart-Hall in 1639. where he took the Degree Bachelour of Arts; afterwards, upon the Turn of the Times, he became a Preacher, tho' not in Holy Orders, at Culliton, in Devonſhire, whence, afterwards, he went to London, ſtuck to the Preſbyterians, and having taken the Covenant, became Miniſter of Stoke-Newington, in Middleſex; and in 1647. and after, a Preacher before the Members of the Long-Parliament. When the Independents rul'd, he clos'd with them, took the Engagement, made a flattering Speech to Oliver, when he was made Protector, being then his Chaplain, and in the latter End of the ſame Year (1653.) was made one of the Triers. In 1654. he was, by Favour, created Bachelour of Divinity, and ſoon after, made Miniſter of this Pariſh, upon the Reſignation of Obadiah Sedgwick, his Wife's Father. In 1658. when Richard was made Protector, as Prelate of the Protectorſhip, he ſaid Prayers and bleſſed him, his Council, Armies and People, and ſo concluded that Scene. In 1659. he was made one of the Triers, according to the Preſbyterian way, and in the Year following, took Holy Orders at Weſtminſter, from Thomas, Bp. of Galloway. Soon after, his Majeſty being reſtor'd (towards which he pretended to be helper) he was ſworn one of His Majeſty's Chaplains in Ordinary, and in that Quality, he was by Vertue of His Majeſty's Letters, created Doctor of Divinity. After the Reſtauration, he did not read the Engliſh Liturgy in his Pariſh-Church, nor ſuffer it to be read, till the latter End of 1661. at which time, his Pariſhioners petition'd the Biſhop of London to have it read to them. He was offer'd a Deanry, ſuppoſing he would conform, but upon coming out of the Act of Uniformity, he refus'd the Deanry, and left this Rectory on S. Bartholomew-Day, 1662. Afterwards, he ſet up a Conventicle in Covent-Garden, and tho' impriſon'd for it, for ſome time in the Gate-Houſe; yet, as 'twas thought, he got more from the Brethren, than if he had been a Dean or continu'd in his Rectory. He died Oct. 18. 1677. after he had run thro' many Changes, and was buried in the Pariſh-Church of Stoke-Newington aforeſaid, [Athen. Oxon. Vol. II. p. 446. where may be read more of him, and what he publiſh'd.]

c Sim. Patrick, Rector of this Church, and Dean of Peterborough, being in Oct. 1689. promoted to the Biſhoprick of Chicheſter, this Church thereupon became void, and he was ſucceeded herein by, d Samuel Freeman, D. D. the preſent Rector and Dean of Peterborough, 1700. [Vid. S. Ann & Agnes Alderſgate (Lond.) inter Rect.]

S. Paul Shadwell, Rectory.

THE Precinct or Hamlet of Shadwell lay within the Pariſh of Stepney, but being of late become very populous, by reaſon of many Houſes there built, and the Pariſh of Stepney being ſo large and populous, that the Pariſh-Church there could not contain one half of the Inhabitants, the Reverend Dr. William Sancroft, Dean of S. Paul's (afterwards Archbiſhop of Canterbury) whoſe Inheritance, in right of his Deanry, the ſaid Precinct was, and Thomas Neal, Eſq; Leſſee thereof, and the Inhabitants there, procur'd the ſame by an 21. Car. II. Act of Parliament, Ann. 21. Car. II. to be made a Pariſh of it ſelf, and to be call'd, The Pariſh of Shadwell; and the Fabrick of a Church there, built ſome Years before the paſſing of the ſaid Act, to be made the Parochial-Church of the ſaid Pariſh, and the ſaid Dean and Mr. Neal, with the Conſent of the Inhabitants, endow'd the ſame with the Soil thereto next adjoyning, for a Church-yard, and with Ground ſufficient for a Parſonage-Houſe, and ſome other Tenements, which was to be built at the Coſt and Charges of the ſaid Dean or Mr. Neal, or one of them.

Parſonage-Houſe.

Juriſdiction. By this Act (inter alia) the Parſon of this Pariſh was made liable to Viſitations and all other Eccleſiaſtical Juriſdictions, in the ſame manner, as if it had been an antient Pariſh, and was to pay 3 s. 4 d. Procurations to the Biſhop of London, as often as he viſited.

Procurations.

Advowſon. The Advouſon of this Church, was to be firſt in the ſaid Mr. Neal, during his Life, and after his Death, in the Dean of S. Paul's and his Succeſſors, for ever.

The Church and Church-yards likewiſe, were veſted in the Parſon and his Succeſſors, for ever, for the Uſe and Benefit of the Inhabitants, in the ſame manner as is uſed in other Pariſh-Churches and Church-yards.

Church-Wardens. There are likewiſe to be two Church-Wardens, one to be choſen by the Parſon, and the other by the Inhabitants.

There is a Plat of Ground lying all along the new Wall of the ſaid Church-yard, being 151 Foot in Length on the Eaſt, and 104 long on the Weſt, 52 Foot and half North, and 82 Foot and half South, which by this Act is veſted in the ſaid Parſon and his Sncceſſors, for ever, whereof 80 Foot from North to South, and 40 Foot from Eaſt to Weſt, on the lower ſide, adjoyning to the Church-Yard, is allotted for a Houſe, and the remainder of the ſaid Ground is for the Building of other Houſes for the ſaid Parſon and his Succeſſors, which they are impower'd to lett out for 31 Years, with the Conſent of the Patron and Ordinary, to be built upon; and after this, they may, from time to time, Leaſe out the ſaid Houſes for 21 Years, in Poſſeſſion, for ſuch reaſonable Rent, as the Parſon, with Conſent of the Patron, can get or procure.

120 l. in lieu of Tyths. And farther, it is enacted, That the Parſon ſhall have 120 l. per Annum, in lieu of Tyths, to be aſſeſs'd by the Church-Wardens, within 20 Days after Eaſter-Tueſday, and be levy'd every Year upon the Inhabitants, by a Pound-Rate, not exceeding 6 d. in the Pound; which Rate is to be confirm'd by two Juſtices of the Peace in Middleſex, or by the Biſhop of London, under their Hands and Seals, to be paid at four Quarterly Payments, at the four moſt uſual Feaſts, and Power given to diſtrain and ſell for Non-Payment, as alſo to ſue and recover by Action upon the Caſe, any Arrears that are unpaid for three Months. If the Church-Wardens refuſe or neglect to make the Aſſeſſment or Rate, within the time limited, they forfeit 20 l. to the King for every Offence; and in ſuch Caſe, the Parſon himſelf may, before the Feaſt of S. John Baptiſt, in any Year, make the ſaid Aſſeſſment, or Rate of 120 l. which being confirm'd by two Juſtices of the Peace of Middleſex, or the Biſhop of London, may be receiv'd, levy'd and recover'd in manner aforeſaid; and over and above the ſaid 120 l. the Parſon is to have all Oblations, and Church-Duties for Chriſtnings and Burials, and other Church-Duties, as are uſually paid in the Pariſh of Stepney; and the Parſon of this Pariſh is to pay yearly, at Eaſter, to To the Vicar of Stepney, 26 s. 8 d. the Vicar of Stepney, at Stepney-Church, xxvi s. viii d. which by an antient Compoſition, the Tenants of Shadwell paid to the ſaid Vicar in lieu of all Tyths.

S. Peters Weſtminſter.

WEſtminſter, formerly about a Mile diſtant from, is now by the Suburbs join'd ſo cloſe to London, that it ſeems to be part of it, notwithſtanding it is a diſtinct City of it ſelf, and enjoyeth its own Magiſtrates and Privileges. Once it was call'd Thorney, from the Thorns; now Weſtminſter, from its Weſterly Situation, and the Minſter; for it is particularly Eminent for that Church, for its Hall of Juſtice, and the King's Palace. The Churches greateſt Honour is deriv'd from the Inauguration and Burial of our Kings in it. Thus Mr. Camden, in his Britannia, E. N. 317.

Some out of Sulcard (who wrote of the firſt Building of this Temple) ſay, That here was firſt a Temple of Apollo, and that in Antoninus Pius his Days it fell down with an Earthquake, out of the Ruins whereof Lucius, King of the Britains (who rul'd here by the Permiſſion of the Romans) firſt built a Church to the Honour of Chriſt. But Archbiſhop Uſher tells us, That neither in that Book of Sulcards, which he peruſed, nor in thoſe, which Johannes Fletus recites out of him (who wrote another Book of the Foundation of this Church of Weſtminſter, Anno 1443.) did he find this. But he is of Opinion, that out of a very antient Book of Chronicles, written in the old Engliſh or Saxon Language, Fletus produc'd it, where it is ſaid, “ A primitivo tempore Chriſtianæ Brit. Eccl. Prim. 129.
“ Fidei inter Britones habitæ, hoc eſt, à diebus Lucii Regis eorundem qui

The ſame moſt reverend and learned Prelate proceeding to give a farther account of what Authors have written concerning the Foundation of this Church, writes thus:

A late Author, who in 1683. publiſh'd a Book under the Title of Monumenta Weſtmonaſterienſia, &c. tells us Pag. 3, &c. That this Church built here by Lucius, after 130 Years was pull'd down, and turn'd into a prophane Temple of Apollo; but how long this Temple continued, or by what means it came to be deſtroy'd, he cannot be certain; for we hear no more of it (ſaith he) for almoſt 300 Years, and then we find it utterly ſubverted, altogether in its Ruins, and the Place ſo overgrown with Briers and Thorns, with the River of Thames flowing about it, that the Saxons, who were now the Inhabitants, had given it a Name ſuitable to its Condition by calling it Thorney Iſland; or, The Iſland of Thorns.

But whether here was a Temple of Apollo before Lucius his time or after, is not much material. But here it was that Segebert, or Sebert, King of the Eaſt-Saxons, built a Chriſtian-Church (tho' ſome will have it that it was built by a certain Citizen by the Inſtigation of King Ethelbert, and a Convent or Monaſtery thereto next adjoining in the Year 604, others 605, others 610) which partly from the Situation of the Place, and partly from the Monaſtery or Minſter, probably began to take the Name of Weſtminſter; or perhaps, as others have it, from its Situation in oppoſition to another that was placed on the Eaſt-ſide of the City of London, meaning (not New-Abby; or, The Abby of Graces; founded by King Edw. III. near Eaſt-Smithfield, about 700 Years after, and ſometimes call'd Eaſt-Minſter; but) the Cathedral-Church of S. Paul, call'd by old Authors Oſtromonaſterium, or Eaſt-Minſter.

After this Church was built, it was dedicated to the Honour of S. Peter. Of the fam'd Miracle and Story of the wonderful Conſecration thereof by S. Peter himſelf at that time, who liſt to read, may find it in Monaſticon Anglic. I. Vol. p. 55, &c.

This Church and Monaſtery (with many others) being deſtroy'd by the Danes, continued deſolate and forſaken till the Days of King Edgar, by whoſe Care and Bounty it was again new-caſed and re-edified, and by the Vigilance of S. Dunſtan, ſupplied with a ſmall Number of Monks of the Order of S. Benedict, ſetting over them for their Chief Governour or Abbot, Biſhop Wolſine.

Weav. Fun. Mon. 450. Weaver ſaith, after this Church was deſtroy'd by the Danes, Dunſtan, Biſhop of London, re-edified it about the Year of our Lord 960, and made it a Monaſtery for 12 Monks.

Mon. Angl. Vol. I. 59. Afterwards, King Edward the Confeſſor, having his Vows and Promiſſes which he had made, when in Exile, of viſiting Rome in caſe of his Reſtauration, diſpens'd withal by the Pope, and in Lieu thereof, an Impoſition enjoyn'd him to diſtribute all the Expences he had prepar'd for his Journey among the Poor and Indigent, and to build a-new, or repair an old Monaſtery to the Honour of S. Peter, took this occaſion to think of this Monaſtery, now fallen into great decay, as a Place moſt proper for ſuch an Undertaking. And much ſooner was the Performance thereof put in Execution, and the Deſign accompliſh'd, when this pious King underſtood, that it was the expreſs Will and Command of S. Peter himſelf, that he ſhould do ſo, if you will believe thoſe, who report, that Walſinus, an Holy Monk, had Orders in a Viſion to inform him.

Mon. Weſt. 9. He remov'd the Pariſh-Church of S. Margaret, which then ſtood in the Cloiſters of the old Abby (Stow ſaith, in the South-Iſle) and built another in the Church-yard, that he might make more room for this his magnificent Foundation: For as ſuch it was reputed by thoſe, who were Eye-witneſſes of it, which for Auguſt Majeſty, and excellent Contrivance, that Age could not parallel, affording a Pattern of framing Churches in the Figure of a Croſs; which in ſucceeding times was emulated (ſaith William of Malmsbury) with incredible Expences.

Mon. Ang. ut ſupra. He caus'd this Church to be dedicated to S. Peter, on the 5th Kal. of January (being Innocent's-Day) in the Year of our Lord 1066; and by his Charter bearing Date the ſame Day and Year, ſubſcrib'd by himſelf and Queen, Two Archbiſhops, Eight Biſhops, Seven Abbots, Four Dukes, and many others, confirm'd and endow'd this Church with large Poſſeſſions, granted and confirm'd to it High Privileges and Exemptions, made it a perpetual Sanctuary and Habitation for Benedictine Monks, who ſhould be ſubject to no other Perſon but the King only; confirm'd it to be a Place for ever of the King's Conſtitution, and the Repoſitory of the Regalia; of which he gave ſeveral himſelf. After all he fell ſick, and ſoon after died, viz. on the 5th of January following, and was buried, according to his deſire, in this his new Church, whoſe Sepulchre afterwards (fam'd for the cure of all ſorts of Diſeaſes) was Script. 955. adorn'd with a rich Shrine by William the Conqueror; but on Octob. 1163. his Body (which after 36 Years was taken up uncorrupted) was tranſlated by Thomas of Becket, Archbiſhop of Canterbury, in the preſence of King Hen. II. and another coſtly Shrine prepar'd wherein to place it. And on which Day he was ſolemnly Canoniz'd by the Bull of Pope Alexander III.

King Edward among thoſe Lands, with which he endow'd this Monaſtery, granted as an Endowment and perpetual Inheritance to the Uſe of thoſe that ſerved God there Windleſhore (now Windſor) in the County of Berks, with all its Appurtenances: But it continued not long in their Poſſeſſion; for King William the Conqueror, in the firſt Year of his Reign, being greatly enamor'd with the pleaſant Situation of the Place, and for that it ſeem'd exceeding profitable and commodious, becauſe ſituate ſo near the Thames, &c. invited Eadwin, the then Abbot and Monks, to accept in exchange for it Wokendune, in Ceaford (now Chaford) Hundred, in the County of Eſſex, a Manſion, call'd Ferings; with all its Members and Hamlets, in Lexedene-Hundred, in the ſame County, together with 14 Sokemen, and their Lands, and One Freeholder, in Thureſtaple-Hundred, who held One Yard-Land belonging to the ſaid Manſion, with Three Houſes, in Colceaſtra, and hereupon it was again return'd to the Crown, where it hath ever ſince remain'd.

Hiſt. of the Garter, 127.

After 160 Years, King Hen. III. commanded the old Fabrick of King Edward to be taken down, and began the new Work of the Chapel of the Bleſſed Virgin, on the Eve of Pentecoſt, in the Year 1220. laying the firſt Stone himſelf. And in 1245. the Walls and Steeple of the old Church, being the Eaſtern-part, were taken down, and enlarging the ſame Church, cauſ'd them to be made and built more comely, and to be joyn'd to the Weſtern-part thereof. For the Furtherance whereof, in the Year 1248. the ſame King (deviſing how to extort Money from the Citizens of London towards the Charges) appointed a Mart to be kept at Weſtminſter; the ſame to laſt 15 Days, and in the mean ſpace all Fairs throughout England, and all Trade of Merchandiſe to ceaſe in the City; which thing the Citizens were fain to redeem with 2000 l. of Silver. But this King died before he could finiſh this Work; which Work, to the End of the Choir (with the Houſes of different Offices) was not compleatly perfected till the 14th of Edw. I. Anno 1285.

Math. Par. 310.
ibid. 701.

But long had not this Church of King Hen. III. continued, when a ſudden Fire happening in the Palace hard by, and the Wind driving the devouring Flames towards the Abby, it took hold of the Church, whereby the Roof which was then cover'd with Lead, and all the Timber therein was conſum'd, leaving nothing but the bare Walls, as a mournful Remembrance of its former Splendor, which by the Aſſiſtance of King Edw. I. and II. with the Help of the Abbots was again repair'd, ſome of whom were eſpecial Builders and Benefactors to this Monaſtery, namely Simon Langham, Nicolas Litlington, John Eſtney, and John Iſlip, as will appear by and by, when I come to treat of them particularly.

Mon. Weſt. 12.

In the aforeſaid Abbot Iſlip's time it was, that King Henry VII. in the Year 1502. intending a more ſumptuous and curious Chapel to the Honour of the Bleſſed Virgin, than what King Henry III. had built, pull'd down that Structure ſo rear'd by him, and erected that ſtately Edifice, now call'd by his Name; which by Leland, and other learned Antiquaries, is ſtiled (not unworthily) Orbis Miraculum; or, The Wonder of the World. The King himſelf laid the firſt Stone thereof January 24. 1502. and forbad by his laſt Will and Teſtament, that any but the Blood-Royal ſhould be interr'd therein, expending in the raiſing and finiſhing this curious Fabrick the Sum of 11400 l. (only Stow ſaith 14000 l.) a particular Deſcription of which Chapel, and alſo of that glorious Monument under which the Founder lies buried, may be ſeen in Monumenta Weſtmonaſt. p. 84, &c.

ibid. 14.

From hence (as to the Buildings about the Church) all things have continued without any eminent Alteration or Change until theſe our Days. But the Government thereof hath undergone divers Variations and Turns of Fortune; for after it had remain'd almoſt 1000 Years under the Regiment of Abbots and Monks, it was reſign'd up by Will. Benſon the Abbot, and 17 Monks into the King's Hands (in purſuance of an Act of Parliament) on the 16th Day of January, in 31. Hen. VIII. being then able to expend by the Year 3471 l. 2 d. Dugdale. 3977 l. 6 s. 4 d. Speed. Theſe Revenues the King took into his own Poſſeſſion, and order'd the Church to be govern'd by a Dean and Prebendaries, placing therein Benſon, who had been the laſt Abbot, to be the firſt Dean; but the Monks were ſent abroad to ſeek their Fortunes.

ibid. 15.

But

Bonner, 248. But this Government was ſoon diſſolv'd, for the ſame King Henry VIII. by his Letters-Patents, bearing Date, 17. Dec. in 32. of his Reign, made it an Epiſcopal Sea, and the Church of S. Peter a Cathedral-Church, conſiſting of a Biſhop, a Dean, and 12 Prebendaries, made Weſtminſter a City, and allotted the whole County of Middleſex (the Pariſh of Fulham only excepted) for the Dioceſe, ordering it to be ſubject to the Juriſdiction of the Bp. of Weſtminſter in all things, as it had been before to the Bp. of London, conſtituting Thomas Thurlby, Biſhop thereof, who having much dilapidated and ſpent the Revenues allotted for its Maintenance, was after nine Years remov'd from thence to the Biſhoprick of Norwich, and from thence afterwards to Ely.

Ibid. 273, &c. In the Year 1550. K. Edward VI. by his Letters-Patents, bearing Date, April 1. in the 4th. of his Reign, diſſolv'd this Biſhoprick, and reſtor'd the County of Middleſex again to the Sea of London, in all things as it was before; and not long after, in the ſame King's Reign, the Church of S. Peter's Weſtminſter, was by Act of Parliament, made a Corporation and Body-Politick, to conſiſt of one Dean, being a Prieſt, and 12 Prebendaries, Prieſts, and be nam'd and call'd by the Name of the Dean and Chapter of the Cathedral-Church of S. Peter's Weſtminſter. Ibid. 373.

Mon. Angl Vol. II. 847. But after his, the ſaid King Edward's Death, when Queen Mary came to the Crown, its Condition was again alter'd, for by Vertue of a Licence, procur'd by her, from her Kinſman, Reginald Pole, Archbiſhop of Canterbury, and the Pope's Legate here in England, for the Diſannulling the former Inſtitution of a Dean and Prebendaries, bearing Date at Croydon, 17. Kal. Oct. 1556. ſhe again turn'd it into a Monaſtery, and made John Feckenham (Dean of S. Paul's) Abbot of it, who was ſolemnly inſtall'd, and 14 other Monks with him, on the 21ſt of November following.

Mon. Weſtminſter. 17. But with Q. Mary's Life, ended alſo this Government, for Q. Elizabeth, in the Year 1560. converted this Monaſtery into a Collegiate-Church, placing therein a Dean and 12 Secular-Canons or Prebendaries, beſides Petty-Canons and others of the Choir, to the Number of 30; ten Officers belonging to the Collegiate-Diet, two School-Maſters, 40 Scholars, and 12 Alms-Men, with plentiful Maintenance for all, beſides Stewards, Receivers, Regiſters, a Library-Keeper, Collectors and other Officers, the Principal being the High-Steward of Weſtminſter, who is uſually one of the Prime Nobility. Moſt of theſe Revenues were imbezel'd, and ſacrilegiouſly diſpos'd of in the late Uſurpation, after the Murder of King Charles I. as Dean and Chapter-Lands; but upon the happy Reſtauration of King Charles II. to his Crown and Kingdom, they return'd again to their former Proprietors, and the Government continues the ſame to this Day.

The Author of the Monumenta Weſtmonaſterienſia, often cited before, ſpeaking in Page 18. of the high Privileges and Honours, annex'd formerly to the Abbots, and now to the Dean and Chapter of this Collegiate-Church, tells us (inter alia) that they are veſted with all manner of Juriſdiction, both Eccleſiaſtical and Civil, not only within the City and Liberty of Weſtminſter, but within the Precinct of S. Martin-le-Grand, in London. As to their Civil Juriſdiction within theſe Places, I have nothing to ſay; but as to their Eccleſiaſtical Juriſdiction, within the Liberties of Weſtminſter, in which are the Pariſhes of S. Clement Danes, S. Martin in the Fields, and thoſe three Pariſhes of S Paul Covent-Garden, S. Ann and S. James Weſtminſter (which have of late Years been taken out of S. Martin's) I muſt crave Leave to inform him, that the Dean and Chapter of Weſtminſter have no manner of Eccleſiaſtical Juriſdiction within the aforeſaid Pariſhes, nor had the Abbots and Monks, their Predeceſſors, ever any; but as to all Matters of Eccleſiaſtical Cognizance, they are wholly ſubject to the Biſhop of London, and to the Archdeacon of Middleſex under him, and ſo have always been, time out of mind, ſaving only in that ſhort interval of time, whilſt Weſtminſter was a Biſhoprick, which was only from the 17th of Dec. 32. Hen. VIII. 1540. to the 1ſt of April, 4. Edw. VI. 1550. which was but nine Years, three Months and fourteen Days.

I ſhall now forbear to ſpeak any farther of this Church, but refer the Reader to the ſaid Book, if he be deſirous to ſatisfie himſelf with the particular Hiſtory thereof, a Work, I think, perform'd, as with a great deal of Labour, ſo with as much Exactneſs as can be reaſonably requir'd in a Book of that Nature, only ſhall crave Leave, in purſuance of my Deſign, to extract out of it a Catalogue of the Abbots and Deans of the ſaid Church, and what relates to any of them in particular.

[a] This Wulſinus or Wliſius (who by his great Holineſs and exemplary Piety, had got himſelf the Renown of being plac'd, after his Death, in the Kalendar, for a Saint) was made Abbot of Weſtminſter, by S. Dunſtan, about the Year 958. [Matth. Weſtminſter, ſub dicto Anno.]

[b] Edwinus or Eadwinus, was Abbot here, in the time of Edward the Confeſſor, and alſo of William the Conqueror, in the firſt of whoſe Reign, he and his Monks accepted of an Exchange for Windſor, as is ſaid before. He died and was buried in this Church, but the Place, my Author cannot aſcertain. [Mon. Weſtminſt. 175.]

[c] Vitalis was Abbot of Weſtminſter, in the time of William the Conqueror, he died Anno 1082. lies buried in the South ſide of the great Cloyſter, under a plain white Marble-Stone, heretofore cover'd with a Plate of Braſs, and had this Epitaph engraven thereon.

Qui nomen traxit è Vita, Morte vocante
Abbas Vitalis tranſiit, hicq; jacet.

[d] Giſlebertus or Gilbertus, ſurnam'd Criſpin, call'd alſo, Giſelbertus Vion, being a Monk of this Abby, of the Order of S. Benedict, was afterwards Provoſt or Prior, and then Abbot thereof. He was a Perſon, that for his Wit, Piety and Learning, might be compar'd with the greateſt Doctors of his time, for he taught all the Liberal Arts, and Philoſophical Sciences, in his own Monaſtery. In Divinity he was inſtructed by S. Anſelm, Archbiſhop of Canterbury. He viſited the Univerſities of France, went into Italy, was at Rome, and return'd into his own Country thro' Germany, and improv'd in Learning where-ever he went; ſome will have it, that towards his latter End, he was made a Biſhop in Ireland. As he was returning thro' Germany, at Mentz, he met with a Learned Jew, with whom he had a very long Diſpute, which he reduc'd into a Dialogue, and publiſh'd, and dedicated to S. Anſelm; he wrote ſeveral other Books, the Titles whereof you may ſee in Pitts de illuſtrib. Angl. Script. ſub Anno 1117. where he tells us, that he died in that Year, and was buried here at Weſtminſter. The Author of the Mon. Weſtm. p. 179. tells us, that he died Anno 1114. and was buried in the South ſide of the great Cloiſter, at the Feet of Abbot Vitalis, under a grey Marble-Stone, on which there is the Effigies of an Abbot, carv'd deep, a Paſtoral-Staff in his right Hand, but no Mitre, with theſe Verſes, formerly in-laid round the Edge in Braſs.

Hic Pater inſignis, genus altum, virgo, ſenexq;
Giſleberte jaces lux, via, duxque tuis.
Mitis eras, juſtus, prudens, fortis, moderatus
Doctus quadrivio, nec minus in trivio.
Sic tamen ornatus nece ſexta luce Decembris
Spiramen cœlo reddis, & oſſa ſolo.

[e] Herebertus was Almoner of this Monaſtery, and was elected Abbot thereof, Anno 1121. [X. Script. 243.] After he was Abbot, he founded the Nunnery of Kilbourn, in this County, and made it a Cell to this Abby of Weſtminſter, as hath been ſaid before in Kilbourn.

[f] Gervaſius de Blois was a Baſtard-Son of King Stephen, and by him plac'd as a Monk here, and was afterwards made Abbot of this Monaſtery. He died Anno 1160. and was buried in the aforeſaid great Cloiſter, on the South-ſide, under a large and ſtately plain black Marble-Stone, which is vulgarly known by the Name of Long-Meg of Weſtminſter, having this Diſtich formerly thereon.

De Regum genere Pater hic Gervaſius ecce
Monſtrat defunctus Mors rapit omne genus.

Sim. Dunelm. tells us, that this Gervaſius having laviſhly ſpent the Revenues of his Place, was remov'd from it by King Henry II. whereby way was made for his next Succeſſor. [X. Script. 281.]

[g] Laurence, which he (the ſaid Sim. Dunelm.) will have to be Laurence, Prior of Durham, who Anno 1154. was excommunicated (with others of that Church) by Henry, Archbiſhop of York, for electing Hugh, Biſhop of Durham; farther telling us, that theſe Clerks of Durham were afterwards, but with much Difficulty, abſolv'd; however, the ſaid Archbiſhop, refuſing to conſecrate the ſaid Hugh, he, with his ſaid Clerks, determin'd to go to Rome, but that as they went, this Laurence the Prior, leaving them, betook himſelf to a Monaſtical Life, in the Abby of S. Albans, whence, after a few Years, he was promoted to this Abby of Weſtminſter, upon the removal of his Predeceſſor, as hath been ſaid before, [X. Script. ut ſupra.] but if Geffry of Coldingham be right in his Hiſtory of Durham, this Laurence, our Abbot of Weſtminſter, and Laurence, the Prior of Durham, cannot be one and the ſame Perſon; for he tells us, that the ſaid Prior Laurence, went with others to Rome, and as he was returning back, died in France, [Angl. Sacr. P. I. 720.] but be this as it will, our Abbot Laurence appears to be preſent with the King, the two Archbiſhops, and many other Biſhops, Nobles and Abbots, at the Compoſure of the Controverſie between the Church of S. Albans and the Church of Lincoln, which was concluded at Weſtminſter, 8. Id. March 1162. [X. Script. 533.] This, our Abbot Laurence, firſt obtain'd from Pope Alexander III. to him and his Succeſſors, Abbots, the Privilege to uſe the Miter, Ring and Gloves, ſaith my Author of the Monum. Weſtminſt. 180. and there farther tells us, that he died Ann. 1167. and was buried under a white Marble-Stone, at the Feet of the aforeſaid Abbot Giſlebert, whereon is carv'd his Image, with a Mitre, Ring, and Paſtoral-Staff in his right Hand, and had theſe Verſes engraven round his Tomb.

Clauditur hoc Tumulo Vir quondam clarus in orbe Quo præclarus erat hic locus eſt, & erit.

h This Walter was Prior of Wincheſter, and was tranſlated from thence to this Abby of Weſtminſter, Ann. 1175. according to the Annals of Wincheſter, in 1176. according to the Opinion of John Flete, which muſt be the trueſt, if Laurence, his Predeceſſor, died in that Year as is ſaid above. This Walter wrote a Book of the Geſts of William and Henry, Biſhops of Wincheſter, ſometimes quoted by Rudburne. [Ang. Sac. P. I. 324.] Ra. de Diceto, under the Year 1176. ſaith, that Walter, Prior-elect of Wincheſter, being made Abbot of Weſtminſter, receiv'd the Benediction, made his Profeſſion, and receiv'd the Mitre and Gloves (which his Predeceſſor Laurence had merited, but was prevented by Death, from actually having of them) from the Hand of the Biſhop of London, and after this, went mitred into the Aſſembly of the Biſhops; but Hugh, the Pope's Legate, being not receiv'd with that Reſpect at Weſtminſter, as he thought he ought to have been, ſuſpended on the 6. Kal. of March, that Year, the Abbot from the Uſe of the Mitre, and the Prior from entring into the Choir. [X. Script. 588.]

i Guliel. Poſtard, Prior of Weſtminſter, was by the Monks there, before the King's Juſtices, in the Preſence of the Biſhop of London, unanimouſly choſen their Abbot on the Wedneſday, which Election the ſaid Biſhop confirm'd, and on the Sunday after, gave him the Benediction, before the great Altar, in the Cathedral-Church of S. Paul, and was the ſame Day receiv'd with ſolemn Proceſſion at Weſtminſter, and was entertain'd at Dinner in the Refectory. All this was done, Ann. 1191. and (if I miſtake not) about the beginning of November. [X. Script. 664, &c.]

k Ra. Papillon, Abbot of Weſtminſter, was depos'd in 1214. and William (de Humes) ſubſtituted in his Room, [Bib. Cot. Tib. A. 10.] which William de Humeto (or Humes) died 12. Kal. May 1223. [Matth. Par. 316.]

l Ric. de Barking ſucceeded, was firſt Prior, then Abbot of this Monaſtery, and receiv'd the Benediction in this Church of Weſtminſter, from Peter, Biſhop of Wincheſter, 12. Kal. Oct. 1223. [Matth. Par. 316.] He was an eſpecial Counſellor to King Henry III. Chief Baron of the Exchequer, and Lord-Treaſurer of England. He having been Abbot above 32 Years, died (Nov. 23. ſaith Weaver, on the Kalends of December, ſaith Matth. Par.) Ann. 1246. was buried in our Lady's Chappel, and had a Tomb of Marble ſet up for him, before the Altar there, which in the time of Will. de Colcheſter, Abbot likewiſe of this Monaſtery, was taken down by Frier Combe, a Sacriſt of this Abby, who laid a fair, plain Marble-Stone over him, with an Epitaph, inſcrib'd in Braſs, too long to be inſerted here, but may be ſeen in Weaver, p. 486. which Stone (among many others) was remov'd at the time when King Henry VII. built the new Chappel, and was plac'd at the Foot of the Steps, aſcending towards the ſame, on the Eaſt-ſide of the Area. [Mon. Weſtminſt.] Matth. Par. p. 718. ſaith this of him, That he was "Vir prudens, literatus & religioſus, redditus domus ſuæ trecentarum circiter redditu Marcarum in vita ampliavit. In this Abbot's time (or rather in his Predeceſſor's) the great Controverſie was ended between Euſtace, Biſhop of London, and the Monks of Weſtminſter, concerning the Exemption of this Church of Weſtminſter, &c. from the Juriſdiction of the Biſhop of London, as may be ſeen in what I have written of Biſhop Euſtace. In this Abbot's time alſo, viz. Ann. 1237. April 1. he and the Convent of Weſtminſter, gave to the King, the Church of S. Dunſtan, over-againſt the New-Temple, who beſtow'd the ſame on the Houſe of Converts, by him then newly founded, ſaving a Penſion of xx s. per Ann. to be paid to the ſaid Abbot and Convent, as had been accuſtom'd to be done by the Rectors of the ſaid Church, as appears by his Letters-Patents. [21. Hen. III. m. 10.] Alſo, in this Abbot's time, was the Compoſition made about the Priory of Kilbourn, mention'd before. Laſtly, in this Abbot's time, the King by his Letter-Patents, dated April 22. in 30. of his Reign (1246.) granted to God, and the bleſſed Edward of

m Ric. de Crokeſley, Archdeacon of Weſtminſter, was by Vertue of the King's Licence elected Abbot of this Monaſtery, to which the King gave his Aſſent, Mar. 25. 1247. [Pat. 31. H. III. m. 6.] In this Abbot's time Oct. 24. 1249. the King granted to the Abbot and Monks of Weſtminſter, that the Fair, which was wont to be kept in their Churchyard on the Feaſt of S. Edward, which is in the Quinden of S. Michael, and for 16 Days after, ſhould for the future be kept every Year at Tothall (now, as I conceive, that which is call'd Tuthill-Fields) [Pat. 34. H. III. m. 1.] And in Sept. 6. 1252. granted, that as often as this Abby ſhould be Vacant, the Prior and Convent thereof, ſhould have the free Adminiſtration of their own proper Goods, but that the Goods belonging to the Abbots ſhould be in the Cuſtody of the King and his Heirs. [Pat. 36. H. III. m. 3.] Alſo in Feb. 4. 1254. he granted them this Privilege, That whoſoever ſhould be Arreſted within their Liberties, ſhould be kept in their own Priſon by their own Bayliffs. [Pat. 39. H. III. m. 14.] On July 20. 1256. the King ſent this Abbot Ric. de Crokeſley, his Embaſſador, to the Court of Rome. [Pat. 40. H. III. m. 6.] This Abbot died, it ſeems, on or before July 21. 1258. for on that Day the King granted the Cuſtody of the Barony of the Abby of Weſtminſter, void by the Death of the ſaid Abbot, Richard, to Adam de Eſton. [Pat. 42. H. III. m. 5.] And in two Days after, viz. July 23. granted his Licence to chuſe another Abbot, Thomas being then Archdeacon of Weſtminſter [ibid.] whereupon they elected n Phil. de Leveſham, who died, it ſeems, before Dec. 1. following; for the King on that Day granted his Licence to the Prior and Convent of Weſtminſter, to elect another Abbot in the Place of Phil. de Leveſham, deceas'd [Pat. 43. H. III. m. 14.] whereupon they choſe

o Ric. de Ware, to whoſe Election the King gave his Aſſent on the 15th of the ſame Month [ibid.] he went to Rome for his Conſecration, and brought from thence certain Work-men, and rich Porphyry-Stones, with which he caus'd that glorious inlay'd Floor to be made, ſtill remaining in the Area that lies within the Rails that compaſs in the High Altar of this Church, Anno 1260. and alſo caus'd the under-part of Edward the Confeſſors Feretory to be inlay'd with Stone by the ſame Work-men, both at his own Charge. He was Lord-Treaſurer of England, and after he had govern'd this Monaſtery as Abbot for 23 Years and more, he died on Dec. 2. 1283. and was buried on the North-ſide of the ſaid Area, next to the Tomb of Aymery de Valence, Earl of Pembroke; but nothing now remains on his Grave-Stone to diſtinguiſh it from the reſt. [Monum. Weſtm. 32, 33, 137.] Only Weaver gives us this following ſhort Epitaph, which was engraven on it [p. 486.]

Abbas Richardus de Wara qui requieſcit
Hic portat Lapides, quos hic portavit ab urbe.

p Walt. de Wenlock. Upon the vacancy of this Abby by the Death of the aforeſaid Ric. de Ware, King Edw. I. in 12. of his Reign, Dec. 8. 1283. committed the Cuſtody of the Barony thereof to Malcolm de Harlow, and in three Days after, viz. Dec. 11. granted his Licence to the Monks here to chuſe a new Abbot, who thereupon elected Walter de Wenlock, to which the King gave his Aſſent on the 22d of the next January, and reſtor'd the Temporalities on June 20. following. [Pat. 12. E. I.] This Walter de Wenlock was made Lord-Treaſurer, and after he had govern'd this Monaſtery 26 Years (according to Weaver, and the Monum. Weſtm.) he died at his Manor of Pireford, in Glooceſterſhire, on Dec. 25. 1307. (but by what appears above, he was Abbot but 24 Years or thereabouts; for if he was choſen about the later End of December, Anno 1283. and died Dec. 25. 1307. there were but 24 Years which interven'd). He was buried by the South Door, entring into S. Edward's Chapel, under a decent Marble-Stone plated, and laid over him; of which there is nothing continuing at this Day, ſave a Gueſs at the Stones only. But Weaver, p. 486. gives us this Epitaph, which was inlay'd in Braſs, and is as followeth:

Abbas Walterus jacet hic ſub Marmore tectus
Non fuit auſterus, ſed mitis, famine rectus.

q Ric. de Kedyngton, or Kydyngton, being elected Abbot of this Monaſtery, the King gave his Aſſent thereunto, and wrote to the Pope for his Confirmation, Feb. 23. 1307. [Pat. 1. E. II.] but did not reſtore his Temporalities till Apr. 25. 1311. [Pat. 4. E. II.] And as to his death, the King was certified thereof, and granted Licence to the Monks to chuſe another Abbot on Apr. 21. 1315. [Pat. 8. E. II. p. 2.]

r Will. Curlington, or de Cartlington, by vertue of the ſaid Licence was choſen Abbot of this Monaſtery, to which the King gave his Aſſent, and ſignified the ſame to the Pope, June 11. 1315. [Pat. 8. E. II. p. 2.] He died on or before Sept. 13. 1333. for on that Day the King was certified of his Death, and

s Tho. Henley, by Vertue of the ſaid Licence, was elected the next Abbot, to which the King gave his Aſſent on Sept. 30. 1333. and ſignified the ſame to the Pope at the ſame time [Pat. 7. E. III. p. 2.] he reſtor'd his Temporalities on the 29th of the next June. And June 7. 1335. granted him Licence to abſent himſelf from his Abby for ſeven Years ſpace, and to apply himſelf to his Studies in the Univerſities. [Pat. 9. E. III. p. 1.] He died before Nov. 4. 1344. for then the King was certified of his Death, and granted his Licence to chuſe another [Pat. 18. E. III. p. 2.] and was buried in this Abby-Church not far from Ric. de Ware aforeſaid [Mon. Weſt. 33.]

t Sim. de Burcheſton, by Vertue of the aforeſaid Licence, was elected the next Abbot, to which the King gave his Aſſent, and ſignified it to the Pope, Nov. 15. 1344. and reſtor'd his Temporalities on Mar. 23. following. [ibid.] The King permitted him to Study in the Schools for three Years, Aug. 6. 1345. [Pat. 19. E. III. p. 2.] This Abby became void before Sept. 16. 1349. as will appear by what follows; but whether by the Death of this Abbot Simon, or otherwiſe, I have not learn'd.

v Sim. Langham was made the next Abbot, but the time of his Election appears not. However, it appears, that it was confirm'd by the Pope, and the King reſtor'd his Temporalities on the ſaid Sept. 16. 1349. [Pat. 23. E. III. p. 2.] This Sim. Langham was a Monk of the Order of S. Benedict, of good Learning, and famous for Integrity of Life, and meerly by his Deſerts roſe by degrees from a very mean Condition to the higheſt pitch of Honour in the Engliſh-Church; for he was firſt a Monk in this Monaſtery, then Prior, and laſtly Abbot thereof; thence he was elected Biſhop of London, but before he was conſecrated thereunto, obtain'd Ely, Anno 1361. where he continued five Years, being in that time firſt Treaſurer, then Chancellor of England, and was then remov'd to Canterbury. He receiv'd his Pall, Nov. 4. 1366. and was inthroniz'd the Lady-day following. He ſat Archbiſhop but two Years and a little more; but in that time compos'd a Controverſie between the Londoners and their Clergy about Tyths, by ordering, That of every Pound of yearly Rent they ſhould pay a Halfpenny, or a Farthing out of every 10 Shillings to their Prieſt, beſides their Oblations and perſonal Tyths. He was made Cardinal of S. Sixtus, by Pope Urban V. He left his Archbiſhoprick, and went to Avignon, where he was ſhortly after made Biſhop-Cardinal of Preneſte, by Pope Gregory XI. He liv'd there in great Eſteem about eight Years, and died July 22. 1376. of a Palſie, wherewith he was ſuddenly taken as he ſat at Dinner, and was buried firſt in the Church of the Carthuſians, whoſe Houſe he had founded there: But after three Years, his Bones (by his own appoinment, whilſt he liv'd) were taken up and buried here in this Abby-Church, hard by the Altar of S. Benedict, under a goodly Tomb of Alabaſter, with an Inſcription round the Verge, which may be ſeen in Monum. Weſtm. p. 227. He was wonderfully Bountiful to this Church of Weſtminſter; for he diſcharg'd a Debt of 2200 Marks owing by his Convent to ſome Merchants; and paid divers other Sums of Money, which particular Monks did owe. He gave 400 l. towards the Finiſhing of the Body of this Church, Books to the Value of 830 l. and Copes, Veſtments, &c. worth 470 l. At his Death he bequeath'd to them all his Plate, priz'd at 2700 l. and all his Debts any where due, which amounted to 3954 l. Some have it, that he forgave this Church a Debt was owing to him of 3954 l. He alſo ſent to this Monaſtery 1000 Marks to buy 40 Marks a Year Land to increaſe the Portions of four Monks, that daily ſhould ſay Maſs for his and his Parents Souls. The Money that he beſtow'd only upon this Monaſtery one way or other, is reckon'd to be no leſs than 10800 l. [Antiq. Brit. Pits, Godw. de Præſul. Weaver. Monum. Weſtm.]

w Nic. Litlington ſucceeded next; but the preciſe time of his Admiſſion I have not met with. However, we may conclude, that it was ſome time in the Year 1361. for it is ſaid, That after he had govern'd this Monaſtery 25 Years, he died, and was buried in the Chapel of S. Blaſe, in the Year 1386. which Chapel is in the South-Croſs of this Church, and is made uſe of at preſent as a Re-veſtry (it appears likewiſe by his Epitaph, which may be ſeen in Weaver, p. 487. that he died in Nov. 1386.) This Abbot Nicolas, built from the Foundation the Hall and great Chamber, call'd, The Jeruſalem Chamber; with the Weſt and South-ſide of the great Cloiſter, his Arms remaining there at this Day. He alſo erected the Granary, which is now the Dormitory for the King's Scholars, with the Tower adjoining, and a Water-mill for the Uſe of the Abby [Mon. Weſtm. 13, & 52.]

x Will. de Colcheſter was elected Abbot of this Monaſtery after Dec. 12. 1386. to whoſe Election the King gave his Aſſent Jan. 21. following [Pat. 10. R. II. p. 1, & 1.] and reſtor'd his Temporalities on the 10th of the next Sept. 1387. [Pat. 11. R. II. p. 1.] The time of his Death appears not; but he is ſaid to be interr'd under an antient Monument, without a Canopy or any Inſcription, in the Chapel of S. John Baptiſt, where on a raiſed Pedeſtal of Free ſtone lies the Image of a Mitred Abbot, in the Veſtments, wherein he was accuſtom'd to ſing or ſay Maſs, with a Mitre on his Head, a Croſier-Staff in his Hand, and a Ring on his Finger, a Spaniel-Dog at his Feet, and two Angels ſupporting y Ric. Harounden. All that I can find of this Abbot is, that he was buried in this Church; but the Place is not aſcertain'd [ib. p. 176.]

z Geo. Flaccet lies buried, in the aforeſaid Chapel of S. John Baptiſt, over a plain rais'd Tomb of Gray-Marble, about a Yard from the Ground, canopy'd with a comly Arch of Free-ſtone, adorn'd with Arms and Imagery Work, but the Inſcription round the Edge is torn away [ib. 120.]

a Ric. Sudbury lies buried in the inlaid Area mention'd before; but all the Braſs and Inſcription is torn away [ib. 33.]

b Edm. Kirton, Abbot of this Monaſtery, was a Doctor of Divinity, and a profound learned Man. He lies buried in S. Andrew's Chapel, under a plain Grey-Marble Tomb, with an Inſcription, in Braſs, round the Edge, by which it appears that he died Oct. 3. 1466. after he had govern'd this Abby 22 Years (ſo that hence we may conclude, that he was made Abbot in 1444.) By his Command, and at his Coſt, the Skreen of this Chapel was richly adorned with curious Carvings and Ingravings, and other Imagery-Work of Birds, Flowers, Cherubims, Devices, Mottoes, and Coats of Arms of many of the Nobility painted thereon [id. 171, 333.]

c Tho. Milling, being yet a Youth, became a Monk of this Monaſtery, and then went to Oxford, where he ſtudied till he proceeded Doctor of Divinity. He is ſaid to have been exceeding well vers'd in the Greek Tongue, and in all the beſt ſort of Learning. Returning again to Weſtminſter, he was made Abbot there, and ſhortly after prefer'd to the Biſhoprick of Hereford, by King Edw. IV. to whom he was both a Privy-Counſellor and a Favourite, and Godfather to his eldeſt Son Prince Edward. He had Reſtitution of his Temporalities 15. Aug. 14. Edw. IV. (1475.) and died Anno 1492. and was buried here in the Midſt of the Chapel of S. John Baptiſt, where againſt the North-Wall, there is a ſlight Monument erected in Memory of him. [Godw. de Præſul. Pitts in Append. Weaver. Monum. Weſtm.]

d Joh. Eſtney, when Abbot, eaſed this Church of 3070 l. which was owing to the Sea of Rome for the Confirmation of their Abbots, and built the great Weſt-Window at his own Charge: He made and adorn'd the Skreen of S. John Evangeliſt-Chapel with ſeveral Carvings, and Coats of Arms painted and gilt with Gold, and lies buried on the South-ſide thereof, under a Grey-Marble Tomb, with his Effigies thereon, curiouſly engraven on Braſs, in the Veſtments of his Office, with a Mitre on his Head, and a Paſtoral-Staff in his right Hand, having an Epitaph round the Verge, part only remaining at this time ſufficient to inform us, that he died May 24. 1438. (miſtaken, I ſuppoſe, for 1483.) [Monum. Weſtm. 14. 164.]

e Joh. Iſlip was a Man of great Authority in the Reign of King Hen. VII. He built that which is now the Dean's Houſe here, repair'd much of the Church, and other Buildings belonging to this Monaſtery, renewing all the Butereſſes, and placing in the Niches thereof the Statues of all the Kings that had been Benefactors to the ſame. In his time King Hen. VII. built that ſtately Chapel, call'd by his Name. This Abbot Iſlip, deſign'd a ſtately Tower and Lanthorn, with a good Chime of Bells to be plac'd therein, over the Midſt of the Croſs of this Church; but finding the Foundation of the Pillars too weak to ſupport his Structure, the Bells were ſet up in one of the Weſtern Towers, where they remain to this Day. Moreover, he caus'd a Chapel to be made, next to the Chapel of S. John Baptiſt, and dedicated it to S. Eraſmus, and adorn'd the Roof with curious Maſons Work, and next Carvings with ſeveral Devices and Intaglio's, and many Rebuſſes alluding to his Name, as One Slipping Boughs from a Tree, an Eye with a Slip from a Tree, a Youth Slipping from a Bough of a Tree, with a Label proceeding from his Mouth with I Slip thereon, and the like. In the Undercroft, tho' ſomething dark, you may ſee a plain Marble Table ſupported by Four ſmall Pillars of wrought Braſs, and fix'd to a Pedeſtal of the ſame Stone, where formerly had been placed a Skeleton in his Shrowd curiouſly inſculp'd and compos'd of Alabaſter, with an Epitaph circumſcrib'd, and ſeveral Verſes thereon, which are all now taken away, except the Table, under which was this our Abbot John Iſlip interr'd; the whole Vault is interlac'd with his Coat of Arms, and ſuch like Devices as are the Windows of the Oratory above full of the ſame. [Monum. Weſt. 14. 131.] Weaver tells us, That he could not find the time of this Abbot's Death by his Tomb, yet found in a Manuſcript in the Cotton-Library (wherein are divers Funeral Collections, and other Inſcriptions of this Abby which were gathered about the time of the Diſſolution) that he died Jan. 2. A. 1510. 2. Hen. VIII. [Fun. Mon. 1488.]

f Will. Benſon was he (who as hath been ſaid before) with his 17 Monks reſign'd this Abby into King Hen. VIII. Hands, and was made the firſt Dean of this Church of Weſtminſter. He was buried as you go into the Re-veſtry, and if there was any Inſcription on his Grave-Stone, it is either worn or torn off.

Biſhop and Abbot of Weſtminſter.

g Tho. Thurlby, Biſhop.

h Joh. Feckenham, Abbot.

g Tho. Thurlby, or Thirlby was Doctor of Divinity (ſome ſay of Law) of Cambridge. He was conſecrated Biſhop of Weſtminſter, Dec. 19. 1540. and was the firſt and laſt Biſhop there. He was remov'd thence to Norwich, in 1550. and within Four Years after was by Queen Mary advanc'd to the Biſhoprick of Ely, and made one of her Privy-Council. But after her Death, for refuſing obſtinately the Reformation intended by Queen Elizabeth, he was committed to the Tower, and diſplac'd from his Biſhoprick by Act of Parliament. His Friends not long after obtain'd leave for him, and the late Secretary Boxal to live in the Archbiſhop's Houſe at Lambeth, where they had the Company of Biſhop Tunſtall, till he died. The Archbiſhop treated them all moſt kindly. Here our Biſhop liv'd for 10 Years, and here died Aug. 26. 1570. and was buried in the Midſt of the Chancel of the Pariſh Church of Lambeth, at the Head of Biſhop Tunſtall, under a Marble Stone. [Godw. de Præſul.] Fuller tells us, That he gave Six Advouſons of Vicarages unto Jeſus-College, in Cambridge, [Hiſt. Camb. 86.]

h After Queen Mary had turn'd this Collegiate-Church again into a Monaſtery as is ſaid before, this Joh. Feckenham from being Dean of S. Pauls, was in November, 1556. remov'd hither to Weſtminſter, and made the laſt Abbot thereof. Of whom you may ſee more among the Deans of S. Pauls.

k Hugo Weſton.

i Ric. Cox was born (as it is ſaid) at Whaddon, in Bucks, elected from Eaton-School, Scholar of King's-College, in Cambridge, in 1519. going thence to Oxford for Preferment, was made one of the Junior-Canons of the Cardinals-College there, in 1525. He proceeded Maſter of Arts July 2. 1526, but being known to be a Follower of Luther's Opinions he was forc'd to leave Oxford, and ſome Years after became Maſter of Eaton-School. About 1537. he proceeded Doctor of Divinity at Cambridge, became Archdeacon of Ely, and afterwards was incorporated at Oxford, in the Degree of Doctor. (In Sept. 28. 1544. one Ric. Cocks was collated to the Church of Harrow on the Hill; but whether he was the ſame with our Ric. Cox I much queſtion, that Ric. Cocks being then but Bachelor of Divinity:) But, perhaps, he may be the ſame with Ric. Coxe, who liv'd about this time, and was a Writer. But to proceed; in 1543. our Ric. Cox was made Dean of the new erected Cathedral of Oſney, near Oxford. And in 1546. when that Sea was tranſlated to Chriſt-Church, he was alſo made Dean there. In 1547. he was choſen Chancellor of the Univerſity of Oxford, being in great Favour with the then King Edw. VI. (to whom he had been School-maſter or Tutor.) In 1548. he was inſtalled Canon of Windſor, July 16. and about that time was made one of the Privy-Council, Almener to the King, and Dean of this Collegiate-Church of Weſtminſter. But when Queen Mary came to the Crown, he (among others) fled to Frankford, in Germany, where he ſhewed himſelf a zealous Man for the Common-Prayer, as us'd in the Days of King Edw. VI. againſt John Knox a Scot, and a violent Calveniſt. After Queen Elizabeth came to the Crown (having been the Chief of thoſe who manag'd a Diſpute againſt the Roman Catholicks, when that Queen was about to ſettle a Reformation) he was made Biſhop of Ely, to which he was conſecrated Dec. 21. 1559. he died July 22. 1581. and was buried in the Cathedral-Church of Ely, near Biſhop Goodrich's Monument. At Cambridge he was eſteem'd both a good Scholar, and a good Poet. He had a conſiderable Hand in framing the Firſt Liturgy in King Edw. VI's time, and the Third in 1559. [Godw. de Præſul. Ely, Ath. Ox. I. Vol. 161.]

k Hugo Weſton was a Leiceſterſhire-Man born, enter'd a Student of Baliol-College, about 1526. took the Degree of Bachelor of Arts, in 1530. about which time being choſen Fellow of Lincoln-College, he proceeded in his Faculty, ſtudied Phyſick, and was afterwards one of the Proctors of the Univerſity. In 1538, he was elected Rector of the ſaid College, was admitted the Year after to the Reading of the Sentences, and in 1540. he proceeded in Divinity, about which time he was made Margaret-Profeſſor (and on May 19. 1544. was collated to the Church of S. Botolph Biſhopſgate (London) which, afterwards, became void by his Death). In Jan. 22. 1553. he was collated to the Archdeaconry of Colcheſter, and was alſo Rector of Cliff, in Kent. In the firſt of Queen Mary, he was prefer'd to this Deanry of Weſtminſter, and made Prolocutor of the Convocation. But ſoon after being forced to leave this Deanry to make room for Feckenham, who, as aboveſaid, was made Abbot here in 1556. had that of Windſor beſtow'd upon him the ſame Year, but being taken in Adultery (as ſome ſay) was depriv'd of the ſaid Deanry by Cardinal Pole, Archbiſhop of Canterbury, in 1557; from which he appeal'd to Rome, but was prevented going thither by being ſeiz'd, and clap'd up Priſoner in the Tower of London, where, it ſeems, he died in December 1558. and was buried in the Savoy-Church in the Strand. To omit thoſe ſcurrilous Characters which Bale, and others give of him, Leland tells us, that he was a noted Preacher and Orator of his time; when he was Prolocutor, he behav'd himſelf with great Commendation, both in ſpeaking and acting, and when he died, beſtow'd moſt of his Wealth on pious and publick Uſes. This *Will. He founded an Hoſpital and a Free-School at Ruthen in Denbighſhire, Ann. 1595. which was the Place of his Nativity; after he had been Dean of this Church 40 Years, he departed this Life, 17. July 1601. S. Margaret Weſtminſter.

NEar adjoyning to the North-ſide of the Abby-Church of Weſtminſter, ſtands this Church of S. Margaret, commonly call'd S. Margaret's Weſtminſter, which Edward the Confeſſor caus'd to be newly built without the ſaid Abby-Church, for the Eaſe and Commodity of the Monks; becauſe, before that time, the Pariſh-Church ſtood within the old Abby-Church (ſomewhat to their Annoyance) in the North-Iſle (ſaith Stow) or in the old Cloiſter, as hath been ſaid before. Sto. Sur. 499

This Church continu'd till the days of Edward I. at what time the Merchants of the Staple, and Pariſhioners of Weſtminſter, built it all anew, the great Chancel excepted, which was built by the Abbots of Weſtminſter. Ibid. 519.

It was likewiſe re-edify'd, for the moſt Part, in the Reign of Edward IV. eſpecially the South-Iſle, by the Piety of the Lady Mary Billing, and her ſecond Husband, Sir Thomas Billing, Chief Juſtice of England, in that King's time; in which Iſle there is a fair Marble Monument of the ſaid Dame Mary Billing, who was firſt married to William Coton, then to the ſaid Sir Tho. Billing, and laſtly, to Thomas Lacy, and erected this Monument to the Memory of her three Husbands, with whoſe Arms ſhe hath garniſh'd it, and for her own Burial wherein ſhe was interr'd in the Year 1499.

In a Controverſie, which happen'd in the Year 1222. between Euſtace, Biſhop of London, and the Chapter of S. Paul's, on the one Part, and William the Abbot, and the Convent of Weſtminſter, on the other, about the Matter of Juriſdiction in Weſtminſter, and other Places in the County of Middleſex, and it being referr'd to Stephen, Archbiſhop of Canterbury, and others, as Arbitrators, to put a final End and Determination to that Controverſie, as you may read in what I have written of the ſaid Biſhop Euſtace, they declar'd (inter alia) that this Church of S. Margaret, and the whole Pariſh (particularly deſcribing the Limits thereof) and all the Chapels within the ſame, with the Tyths and all the Appurtenances, as alſo all the Clergy and Laiety therein dwelling, were free from all Epiſcopal Juriſdiction of the Biſhop of London and his Officials, and the Church of S. Paul, without any Exception. The declaratory Sentence may be ſeen at large in Wharton de Epiſcopis Lond. p. 247, &c. Matth. Weſt-minſt. Lib. II. p. 112.

This Church of S. Margaret is in the Gift of the Dean and Chapter of Weſtminſter (as it was before the Diſſolution in the Abbot and Convent of that Monaſtery) but whether as a Rectory, Vicarage or Curacy, I am not certain, only I do not any where find it tax'd with Firſt-Fruits and Tenths to the King.

Of thoſe Chappels which were in this Pariſh of S. Margaret (except that of S. Stephen, being a Free-Chapel, and a Collegiate-Church, of which I ſhall treat in its proper place) I find there were theſe, which hereafter follow, namely, the Chapel of

S. Ann's.

THIS was an old Chapel, over-againſt which, the Lady Margaret, Mother to King Henry VII. erected an Alms-houſe for poor Women, which is now turn'd into Lodgings for the Singing-Men of the College. The Place wherein this Chapel and Alms-houſe ſtood, was call'd the Eleemoſinary or Almory, now corruptly the Armbry, for that the Alms of the Abby were there diſtributed to the Poor, and therein, Iſlip, Abbot of Weſtminſter, erected the firſt Preſs of Book-Printing that ever was in England, about the Year of Chriſt, 1471. where William Caxton, Citizen and Mercer of London, who firſt brought it into England, practis'd it. Sto. Sur. 525.

S. Mary Magdalen, Chappel.

THIS Chappel was in or near Tutbill-Street, in that which is now call'd Petty-France, and was not long ſince wholly ruinated or demoliſh'd. After 34.Hen.VIII. p. 5. King Henry VIII. had made Weſtminſter a Biſhoprick, he gave the ſaid Chappel to the Dean and Chapter of that Cathedral, which afterwards, by Q. Elizabeth, 2. Eliz. p. 11. was given to the Dean and Chapter of the ſame, after it was made Collegiate.

The Chappel of our Lady of the Pew.

THIS Chappel ſtood near the Collegiate-Church or Free-Chappel of S. Stephen before-mention'd, before whoſe Image, Holy Offices were wont to be celebrated, and great Offerings made; for it appears, that on the Pat. 43.E.III. p. 2. 29th of September 1369. King Edward III. gave to John Bulwich, 10 Marks per Annum, out of his Exchequer, to celebrate daily before the Image of our Lady, the bleſſed Mary, in this Chappel of our Lady, near the King's Chappel of S. Stephen's Weſtminſter; and Stow tells us, that Richard II. after the Overthrow of Wat Tyler (tho' elſewhere in his Annals, he intimates, that it was before the ſaid Tyler's being kill'd, that the King made his Prayers in this Chappel) went to Weſtminſter, and there giving Thanks to God for his Victory, made his Offering in this Chappel; but as divers have noted (ſaith he) namely, John Pigot, in the Year 1252. on the 17th of February, the Image of our Lady richly deck'd, and this Chappel it ſelf were burnt, and again re-edify'd by Thomas, Earl of Rivers, Uncle and Governor to the Prince of Wales, that ſhould have been K. Edward V.

Tuttle-Fields, Chappel.

THIS Chappel is built upon the Waſte or Common of the Dean and Chapter of Weſtminſter, in a Place formerly call'd, the New Church-yard, which was imploy'd and us'd for a common Burying Place; the firſt Perſon that laid the Foundation of this Chappel, was Sir Marmaduke Darell, Brother and Executor of Geo. Darell, D. D. formerly one of the Prebendaries of the Lib. S. John, 135. Collegiate-Church of Weſtminſter, who by his Will, dated April 24. 1631. did give the Sum of 400 l. to the Building a Chappel towards Tuttle-ſide, upon Condition, that ſuch Chappel may be employ'd for publick Prayers on Sundays, Wedneſdays and Fridays, and for Prayers and plain Catechizing on Sundays Afternoon, for the better inſtructing the Inhabitants of thoſe Parts of the Town, then utterly unprovided in the neceſſary Grounds of Religion, but not to exclude any farther uſe of Preaching, if means may be had to maintain it, which ſaid Sum of 400 l. was laid out towards the erecting the ſaid Chappel, but not being enough for compleating it, the ſame was afterwards proſecuted in Building thereof by ſeveral well diſpos'd People of the Inhabitants and others, by a free and voluntary Contribution and Benevolence, and at laſt, Sir Robert Pye, of the City of Weſtminſter, being minded to the Honor of God, to ſee the ſame finiſh'd, did lay out the Sum of 500 l. in finiſhing it, and building the Pews and Seats therein, for the Uſe of the Inhabitants in and about Tuttle-Fields, Petty-France, and elſewhere in the Pariſh of S. Margaret Weſtminſter, who came to the ſame for the performance of Divine Worſhip. The Profits ariſing by the Pews, are imploy'd for the Repairs of the ſaid Chappel, and to pay the Clerk and Sexton belonging to the ſame; and the remainder of the Profits ſo rais'd, is imploy'd towards the Maintenance of a Miniſter to preach and adminiſter the Sacraments, and diſcharge other Miniſterial Duties belonging to the ſaid Chappel; and there being no other Maintenance for a Miniſter to officiate in the ſaid Chappel, he the ſaid Sir Robert Pye, did therefore on 8. March 1652. by a Deed, ſettle on ſeveral Perſons, Inhabitants of Weſtminſter, eight ſeveral Meſſuages or Tenements, with their Appurtenances lying in Petty-France aforeſaid, as Feoffees in truſt, to permit and ſuffer ſuch Perſon as he the ſaid Sir Robert Pye, during his Life, and his Heirs after his Death, ſhould nominate and appoint under his or their Hands and Seals to be Miniſter in the ſaid Chapel, to have and receive all the Rent and Profits of the ſaid Eight Meſſuages or Houſes for his Life, if he ſhall officiate and diſcharge the Duties of a Miniſter, and ſhall alſo have the Remainder of the Benefit of the Pews of the ſaid Chapel, the ſaid Chapel being repair'd, and the Clerk and Sexton firſt paid, and the ſaid Sir Robert did by the ſaid Deed or Writing conſtitute and appoint Oneſiphorus Roode, Clerk, to be the firſt Miniſter there.

Riſelip, Vicarage.

THIS Pariſh of Riſelip, Ryſlip, or Ruſhellype, is in the Hundred of Elthorne, about 14 or 15 Miles towards the North-weſt from London, and ſubject to the Archdeacon, ſaving only as to Wills and Adminiſtrations which belong to the Commiſſary. Archid.Com-miſſar. Midd.

The Church here (dedicated to) I take to be of old appropriated to the Priory of Okebourne, in the County of Wilts; of which Name there are Two Pariſhes in that County (at firſt, perhaps, but One) but now diſtinguiſh'd by the Names of Great and Little Okebourne: Both which were about the time of Hen. II. in the Hereditary poſſeſſion of Matilda de Malengfort. And ſhe gave both theſe Manors and Churches with all their Appurtenances to the Abby of S. Mary of Becco, in Normandy, in pure and perpetual Alms; which Gift, King Henry II. by his Charter confirm'd to the ſaid Abby. Mon. Angl. Vol. I. 582. ibid. II. Vol. 954.

In One of theſe Okebournes there was a Religious-Houſe founded (but by whom or when I have not read) which became a Cell to the ſaid Abby of Becco, and was uſually call'd the Abby or Priory of Okebourne. Now the Reaſon why I take this Church of Riſelip (where there is a Vicarage ordain'd and endow'd) to be appropriated to the Priory of Okebourne, is becauſe it appears, That the Abbot and Convent of Becco, to which Okebourne was a Cell, became Patrons of this Vicarage of Riſelip, and preſented to it in 1327. and after. King Henry IV. in 1400. preſented likewiſe to it, by reaſon the Temporalities of the Priory of Okebourne, a Cell to the Abby of Becco, were ſeiz'd into his Hands by reaſon of his Wars with France, as will appear hereafter.

In the ſame Charter of King Henry II. there is a Place in England, call'd there by the Name of Rullepe; confirm'd to the ſaid Abby of Becco, as the Gift of Ernulph de Heding (de Dono Ernulphi de Heding, in Anglia le Rullepe). Now, probably, this le Rullepe, may be the ſame with this our Riſelip. And if ſo, it was ſeiz'd into the King's Hands, by reaſon of his Wars with France, as part of the Temporalities of Okeburne. ib. n. 28.

After King Henry IV. had ſeiz'd the ſaid Temporalities, he gave and granted the ſaid Priory of Okebourne, with all the Rectories, Manors, Lordſhips, Lands, &c. therennto belonging to John his third Son, Duke of Bedford, and to Thomas Langley, Clerk (afterwards Biſhop of Durham) and to William, Prior of Okebourne, during their Lives, and after the Death of the ſaid Duke, during the Wars with France; which Duke afterwards (the Prior of Okebourne being dead, and the ſaid Biſhop of Durham releaſing all his Claim to the ſaid Priory, and its Appurtenances) conſidering that there were ſeveral Goods, as Rectories appropriate, Penſions, and the like annext unto it, which did more properly belong to Spiritual Perſons; and being willing that the ſame ſhould revert to Eccleſiaſtical or Spiritual Uſes, gave and granted them all by his Letters Patents to the Cuſtos (or Warden) and Canons of Windſor for their better Maintenance; which Henry V. by his Letters Patents confirm'd to them for ever, as did alſo Edw. IV. among which Poſſeſſions belonging to the ſaid Priory of Okebourne, this Church of Riſelip being part (was doubtleſs inter Cætera) granted and confirm'd to, and ſetled in the Church of Windſor aforeſaid, and hath continued ſo ever ſince. By which means that Dean and Chapter became Patrons of this Vicarage, and ſo continue to this Day, as appears hereafter. ibid. III. Vol. Pars 2. p. 71.

Sheperton,

Sheperton, Rectory.

THE Pariſh of Sheperton, Sceperton, Skeperton, or Scepertune, lies on the Side of the River Thames, in the Hundred of Spelthorne, about 14 or 15 Miles South-weſt-ward from London; and is ſubject to the Archdeacon. Archid. Mid Edward the Confeſſor, by his Charter of the 5th Kal. of January, 1066. confirm'd (inter alia) to the Abbot and Convent of Weſtminſter, Eight Hides of Land in this Pariſh of Scepertune, which had been given them before by one of his Predeceſſors. Mon. Angl. 1. Vol. 61.

In the Year 1410. upon a Controverſie that happen'd between the Rector of this Pariſh, and the Abbot and Convent of Weſtminſter, about the Tyths of certain Lands lying within this Pariſh, and in their Lordſhip, there was a Compoſition made between them, and confirm'd by Ric. Clifford then Biſhop of London, and the Dean and Chapter of S. Pauls, whereby the Matter in difference was fully ſetled, as will appear at large by the Compoſition regiſtred among the Archives in the London-Regiſtry, in Lib. Walden. Parte Clifford poſt Ordines Clericorum.

As to the Church here (dedicated to   ) it is a Rectory, and was of old in the Gift of the Beauchamps of Hatch, in the County of Somerſet, who were Lords of the Manor of Sheperton, Sir John Beauchamp, Knight, who preſented to this Ch. in 1330. and was ſummon'd to Parliament from the 10th of Edw. III. to the 7th of the ſame King, dying ſeiz'd thereof that Year, leaving John his Son and Heir, who after having been ſummon'd to Parliament from the 25th to the 35th of Edw. III. departed this Life on the 7th of October that Year (1361.) leaving Cecily his Siſter (afterwards married to —— Turbervil, and Eleanor his other Siſter his next Heirs; which Cecily as Daughter, and one of the Heirs of the firſt mention'd Sir John Beauchamp, deceas'd, together with Sir William Beauchamp, Knight, preſented to this Church in 1386. as hereafter appears. Afterwards, it ſeems, this Manor and Advouſon came to John, Lord Tiptoft, or Tiptot and Powis, who, as appears, preſented to this Ch. in 1430, and 1434. and dying ſeiz'd of this Manor in 21. Hen. VI. (1442.) the Premiſſes deſcended to John, Lord Tiptot, and Powis his Son, afterwards Earl of Worceſter; who after he had preſented ſeveral times to this Church, at laſt loſt his Head for his firm adherence to King Edward IV. After which it appears that Sir Barthol. Read became Lord of this Manor; and Patron of the Church, in whom, and in his Heirs it continued for ſome Years; but after that, the Parſonage came to ſeveral others time after time; the laſt whereof was Henry Hawley, Eſq; as hereafter appears. i About the Year 1504. there was one William Grocyn, a moſt ſingular Light of Learning, and, perhaps, the ſame with our William Grooſon, or Grocyn. This famous Grocyn was born at Briſtol, educated in Grammaticals, in Wickham's-School at Wincheſter, Fellow of New College, Oxon, in 1467, and 1479. being then Maſter of Arts, he was preſented by the Warden and Society of that Houſe to the Rectory of Newton-Longvill, in Bucks; but reſiding moſtly in Oxon, was choſen by the Society of Magdalen-College there, to be their Divinity-Reader about the Beginning of the Reign of King Ric. III. before whom he, and ſome others diſputed in Moral Philoſophy, and eſpecially Grocyn in Divinity, to the great Satisfaction of that King, who graciouſly rewarded them. But Grocyn, leaving his Readers-place, in the Beginning of 1488. went into Italy for the better Accompliſhment of himſelf in the Latin and Greek Tongues, in which he was accounted excellent before; and returning into his own Country, and at length to Oxon, he became a Sojourner in Exeter-College, in 1491. or thereabouts, took a Degree in Divinity, as it ſeems, taught and read the Greek Tongue to the Oxonians after that way, which had not been before, as is ſuppos'd; taught in their Univerſity, became a familiar Friend of, or rather Tutor to Eraſmus, and a Perſon in eminent renown for his Learning. In 1504. or thereabouts, he reſign'd Newton-Longvill, being about that made Maſter of the College of Alhallows Maydſtone, in Kent, where in the Beginning of the Year 1522. he died, aged 80 Years or more, and was buried at the Stall-end, in the high Choir of the ſaid College of Alhallows. [Ath. Ox. I. Vol. 13. where, and in Pitts (de illuſtribus, &c.) you may read more of him, and what he publiſh'd.]

k There was one Nic. Robinſon, Doctor of Divinity of Cambridge, who was conſecrated Biſhop of Bangor, Oct. 20. 1566. but I queſtion whether he was the ſame with our Rector, who reſign'd not this Church till the Year 1574. unleſs he held it till that time in Commendam.

South-Mims, Vicarage.

THIS Pariſh of South-Mims is in the Hundred of Edmunton, about 13 or 14 Miles diſtant from London, towards the North-weſt. It is call'd South-Mims, to diſtinguiſh it from another Pariſh of the ſame Name of Mims, lying about two Miles to the Northward of it, call'd North-Mims, but is in the County of Hertford, and Dioceſe of Lincoln. South-Mims is ſubject to the Archdeacon, ſaving only as to Wills and Adminiſtrations, which belong to the Commiſſary.

In the 4th and 5th of Queen Mary, the ſaid Rectory and Pariſh-Church, and Advowſon of the Vicarage (inter alia) were granted to Sir Thomas Pope, Knight, and in 19. Eliz. the Rectory with the Appurtenances, was granted to James Conyers, for the Term of 21 Years, after the Expiration of which, the ſaid Rectory, with the Appurtenances, in 4. Jacobi, was granted to William Harriſon and others, and to their Heirs.

The Lands in this Pariſh, wherewith this Chantry was endow'd, valu'd at 8 l. per Annum, were given by King Henry VIII. to Walter Cromer (who was his Phyſician) and to Alice his Wife, and to the ſaid Walter's Heirs and Aſſigns for ever, as well in Conſideration of his good and faithful Service to that King, as for the Sum of 100 l. paid to the Treaſurer of the Augmentations for the King's Uſe, diſcharg'd of all Incumbrances, except 16 s. yearly, for Tenths, and except Leaſes, and ſuch Charges, as the Farmers are bound to bear and pay by Force of their Indentures.

Stanmore-magna, Rectory.

THIS Pariſh of Stanmore, Stanmer or Stanmere, with the Addition of magna, to diſtinguiſh it from Stanmore-parva, alias Whitechurch, the next adjoyning Pariſh, is in the Hundred of Goare, about 11 or 12 Miles North-Weſt from London, and is ſubject to the Archdeacon, ſaving only as to Wills and Adminiſtrations, which belong to the Commiſſary. Archid. Commiſſar. Midd.

Offa, King of the Mercians, upon his Founding and Endowing the Abby of S. Albans, by his Charter, bearing Date, in the Year of our Lord 793. gave (inter alia) 10 Manſions in Stanmere, to the ſaid Abby; and Pope Honorius III. by his Bill, bearing Date, 10 Kal. of March, Anno Dom. 1218. and in the 3d Year of his Pontificate, confirm'd this Church of Stanmere, together with the whole Village or Pariſh (inter alia) to the ſame Abby. Mon. Angl. Vol. I. 177. Ibid. 179.

The Advowſon of this Church continu'd in the Abbots of S. Albans, till the Diſſolution of that Abby by King Henry VIII. who in the 38th of his Reign, and in January, being the very Month wherein he died, gave this Mannor, with its Appurtenances, and the Advowſon of the Rectory and Pariſh-Church, with ſeveral other things, to Sir Peter Gamboe, Knight, a Spaniard born, and to the Heirs-Males of his Body, lawfully begotten, in Conſideration of his good and faithful Service done for the ſaid King, to be held by Knights-Service; which Sir Peter, in April following, as Patron of this Church, had a Clerk admitted to it, viz. one Alphonſus de Salinis (who by his Name ſeemeth alſo to be a Spaniard) at his Preſentation, as appears hereafter. 38. Hen. VIII. p. 10.

Upon what Occaſion the Premiſſes reverted to the Crown, whether for want of Iſſue-Male by the ſaid Peter, or how otherwiſe, I know not, but it ſo ſeems it was, for King Edward VI. in the 6th of his Reign, granted this Rectory and Pariſh-Church to Hugh Loſs, Eſquire, and the Mannor and Demeans, with the Appurtenances, were granted by Queen Elizabeth, in the 18th of her Reign, to Thomas Marſh, for 21 Years, and in the 36th of her Reign, the ſaid Mannor and Demeans, together with the Advowſon of the Rectory and Pariſh-Church, were granted to John Keys for 21 Years in Reverſion; and laſt of all, the Advowſon of this Church, with its Appurtenances, were granted by King James I. in the 2d of his Reign, to Sir Thomas Lake, and his Heirs, for ever, in Soccage, from whom, I gueſs, the ſucceeding Patrons had it. 6. Ed. VI. p. 9. 18. Eliz. p. 18. 36. Eliz. p. 11. 2. Jac. p. 7.

The Church which formerly belong'd to this Pariſh, being too remote from it, and very ruinous, was by Licence from the Biſhop of London, totally demoliſh'd, and a very fair new Church, built in a more convenient Place, containing in Length, from Eaſt to Weſt, with the Chancel, 99 Foot, or thereabouts, and in Breadth from North to South, 36 Foot or thereabout, at the ſole Coſt and Charges of Sir John Wilſtenholme, Knight (who was nurſed in this Pariſh) upon a Piece of Ground, containing two Acres, which was given to the Pariſhioners, by Sir Tho. Lake, Knight, Mrs. Burnell and Mr. Robinſon, Inhabitants of this Pariſh, whereon to build the ſaid Church, and to incloſe a Church-yard, which were both conſecrated by the ſaid Biſhop, Dr. William Laud (afterwards Archbiſhop of Canterbury) on the 17. of July 1632. and the Church dedicated to God, by the Name of S. John the Evangeliſt. Laud, 3. & 7.

Stanmore parva, Curacy.

THIS ſmall Pariſh of Stanmore parva, otherwiſe call'd Whitechurch; is about a Mile diſtant from Stanmore magna, towards London, in the ſame Hundred, and ſubject to the ſame Archdeacon, and Commiſſary as that is.

The Church here (dedicated to) is neither Rectory nor Vicarage, but a Donative or Curacy; and is chargeable neither with Firſt-fruits, Tenths, Procurations, nor Synodals.

Stanes, Vicarage.

THIS Place of Stanes is a Market-Town, and ſtands at the very entrance into this County, on the Weſtern Road from Saliſbury, &c. to London, upon the River of Thames (over which there is a Wooden Bridg) in Spelthorne-Hundred, commonly accounted 15 (but 17 Poſt-Miles) from London. The Market is kept on Friday weekly. It is govern'd by Two Conſtables, and Four Headboroughs. The Town is the King's Land, and the Officers are choſen by his Majeſties Steward. And in matters Spiritual, it is ſubject to the Archdeacon.

Archid. Mid.

Some affirm it (ſaith Norden) to be call'd Stanes, of the Stakes call'd Coway Stakes, which were fix'd in the Thames by the Britons, to prevent Julius Cæſar's paſſing his Army through the River. Others from a Roman Milliarium here plac'd; but more probably (as Mr. Camden hath it) from a boundary Stone (Stana, in Saxon, ſignifying a Stone) formerly ſet up here to mark out the City of London's Juriſdiction in the River.

This Place of Stanes by the Name of Stana, cum omnibus ad ſe pertinentibus was given by King Edward the Confeſſor, to the Abbot and Convent of Weſtminſter, as appears by his Charter 15 Kal. Jan. 1066. in whom it continued, together with the Rectory and Pariſh-Church, and Advouſon of the Vicarage, till their Suppreſſion by King Hen. VIII. The Church is dedicated to the Bleſſed Virgin, and ſtandeth upon a little Hill about a Quarter of a Mile diſtant from the Town.

Mon. Angl. I, Vol. 61.

Upon the determining that Controverſie (mention'd before in what is written of Euſtachius, Biſhop of London) between that Biſhop, and the Abbot and Convent of Weſtminſter, about Juriſdiction in Weſtminſter, and ſome Places in Middleſex, it was declar'd and ordain'd, as to what concerns this Church as followeth: “—— Eccleſia de Stanes, cum capellis, decimis, & omnibus per“ tinentiis ſuis in uſus Hoſpitum & Infirmorum præfati Monaſterii (Weſtmona- “ ſterienſis) in perpetuum convertatur, excepta Vicaria viginti Marcarum in “ eadem Eccleſia perpetuo ordinanda, & viro idoneo ad preſentationem Ab“ batis, & Epiſcopi Inſtitutionem concedenda, qui Epiſcopo & Archidiaco-

Whart. de Epiſc. Lond. 253.

“ no, & eorum officialibus ſuper omnibus debitis & conſuetis honoribus reſpondeat ad dictam Eccleſiam pertinentibus & honeſtè miniſtret in eadem: Ita quod nec Abbas, nec Monachi memorati aliquam ad Synodum vel Capitulum, occaſione Eccleſiæ de Stanes, vel pertinentium ad eundem, venire cogantur, nec perſonæ Monachorum Juriſdictioni Eccleſiæ London, ratione Eccleſiæ de Stanes, aliquo modo ſint ſubjectæ. This Ordination was made in 1222. ſince which time we may preſume this Rectory hath been in the Church of Weſtminſter, and not long after a Vicarage here ordain'd and endow'd, the Advouſon whereof continued in that Abbot and Convent till their Suppreſſion, upon which it came to the Crown, and the Advouſon of the Vicarage hath continued in it ever ſince.

As to the farther Settlement of Tyths, and other Eccleſiaſtical Emoluments belonging to this Church, and the Chapels thereunto annex'd, upon the Abbot and Convent of Weſtminſter (to whom this Church was appropriated) and upon the Vicar of the ſame, I find an Order entred in the London-Regiſtry, in Biſhop Gilbert's time (but without date) made by William, Biſhop of London (which muſt be either William Courtney, or William Grey, for there were no other Biſhops of London of that Chriſtian-name, from the time the aforeſaid Controverſie was made an end of, till the time of the ſaid Biſhop Gilbert;) which Order, or at leaſt the Effect of it, I think it not improper to inſert here, as followeth:

Gilbert 177. “ Omnibus, &c. Willielmus, Dei Gratia London. Epiſcopus, ſalutem. Cum ex officio noſtro debito ad omnia caritatis opera teneamur, ſpecialius tamen earum nos decet neceſſitati & proventui ſubvenire, quorum honeſtas & caritas manifeſtæ. Attendentes igitur dilectorum filiorum Abbatis & Conventus Weſtm. religionis fervorem, & hoſpitalitatis amorem precipuum, de aſſenſu & concilio Dom. Gualteri tunc legati in Anglia, nec non aliorum virorum diſcretorum intuitu Dei eiſdem conceſſimus, & dedimus, & authoritate pontificali confirmavimus Eccleſiam de Stanes, cum omnibus pertinentiis in proprios uſus; ita ſcilicet, quod iidem Abbas & Conventus percipient annuatim omnes Garbas omnium decimarum quarumlibet ſegetum ad ipſam Eccleſiam, & ad capellas pertinen. ad uſus pauperum, & ad elimoſinas ampliandas (exceptis decimis de dominicis terris Eccleſiæ & Capellarum provenientibus, quas Vicarius cum rebus inferius ſubnotatis perpetuo poſſidebit) Vicarius autem ab eiſdem Abbate & Conventu nobis & Succeſſoribus noſtris pro tempore preſentandus, nomine Vicariæ prædictæ Eccleſiæ de Stanes, poſſidebit domus in fundo Eccleſiæ ſitas, cum terra, quæ vocatur Culvercroft, & omnibus dominicis terris Eccleſiæ, & Homagiis, cum pratis & poſſeſſionibus ad ipſam Eccleſiam ſpectantibus, & omnes minutas decimas altaris, cum omnibus ad matricem Eccleſiam, & ad capellas pertinentibus; ſalvis Vicariis eorum, ſi qui nunc fuerint in eiſdem capellis canonicè Vicarii inſtituti, quibus de medio ſublatis, vicarius Matricis Eccleſiæ de Capellanis idoneis eiſdem capellis providebit, excepta Capella de Toddington, ad quam prædictus Abbas nobis & ſucceſſoribus noſtris idoneum capellanum preſentabit, & eum ſufficienter ſuſtentari providebit. Habebit inſuper dictus vicarius undecim acras de dominico prædicti Abbatis, quæ jacent in Tuchethorn, & extendit ſe à Curia de Tuchethorn verſus orientem. Vicarius autem matricis Eccleſiæ faciet Procurationem Archidiacono Middleſex. & omnia onera conſueta & debita ipſius matricis Eccleſiæ, & omnium capellarum ad eum pertinentium in omnibus ſuſtinebit, excepta capella de Toddington, ſicut ſuperius eſt prænotatum; præterea vicarius matricis Eccleſiæ duos cereos quatuor librarum ceræ Eccleſiæ Weſtmonaſterien. nomine dicte Vicariæ ſingulis annis ad luminare majoris Altaris in vigilia Epiphaniæ Domini perſolvet. Quare ut firmum & ſtabile perpetuò perſeveret, preſentis ſcripti atteſtatione, & ſigilli noſtri appoſitione duximus confirmand. ſalva in omnibus Juriſdictione Eccleſiæ London. in eadem & capellis: hiis Teſtibus, &c.

Under this Inſtrument, in the aforeſaid Regiſter-Book, it is thus written:

Stanes, } Echelesford, } Capellæ annexæ, quarum ſunt Capellani remotivi.
Zeveney, } Todyngton, }

Lalam. In ea ſolet Vicarius inſtitui ad preſentationem Abbatis & Conventus prædicti, ut patet ex Regiſtro.

Thus it appears how this Church of Stanes was ſetled; how the Vicarage was endow'd; and by whom the Vicar was to be preſented and inſtituted; and how Toddington was from henceforth to be ſeparated from being any further a Chapel annext to Stanes.

Terrier, 1610. A Vicarage-houſe, with a Barn, Stable and Hovel, a Garden, a Yard containing Two Acres; alſo Ten Acres call'd the Vicarage-Field, Four Acres call'd Colvercroft, Six Acres call'd Horſcroft, Five Acres call'd Hill-Mead, Three Acres in Longdean-Furlong, Eight Acres in Thickthorne, Five Acres at Whitegate, Three Half-Acres in Brock-Furlong, Two Acres and Half in Faſt-Furlong, Seven Acres in Clay-Mead, and Three Yards adjoining thereto, Three Acres in Peaſh-Furlong, and One Acre at Stansfield-Croſs. I cannot proceed farther without rectifying a Miſtake in Speed and Weaver, concerning a Priory of Stanes, both placing it among the Religious-Houſes in this County of Middleſex, concluding it to be in this Pariſh of Stanes.

Speed, Chron. 814. Speed, in his Catalogue of Religious Houſes, &c. ſets it down as a Priory, in the County of Middleſex, founded by Ralph de Stafford.

Fun. Mon. 530. Weaver, in his Antient Funeral Monuments, &c. under the Title of Stanes, in this Dioceſe, ſays, Here ſometime ſtood a Priory founded by Ralph, Lord Stafford; of which Family (as noble as any) lie here interr'd, namely, Nicolas, Baron Stafford, who died 10. Kal. Novemb. 1288. as I have it (ſaith he out of an old Manuſcript (reciting thus) ex libro Abbatis de Croxden in Bib. Cot.) Obiit Nicholaus Baro Stafford, 1288. & 10. Kal. Novemb. apud Stanes ſepultus eſt. Now both theſe Authors were right as to the Founder, and Weaver right as to the Interment aforeſaid, but wrong as to the Place where this Priory was ſituate. For this Priory of Stanes was at Stone, in Staffordſhire; which in old Records was written Stanes, and ſometimes Stanis, as appears in Monaſticon Anglicanum. (II. Vol. 127.) And being written Stanes in old Records, doubtleſs was the occaſion of their Miſtake, they taking it to be Stanes, in Middleſex. Beſides Speed, in his (Speed Chron.) ſaid Catalogue of Religious Houſes, in Staffordſhire, ſets this Priory down by the Name of Stone, a Houſe of Black-Canons, as a Cell to Kenelworth; names Leofred, Earl of Mercia, as the Founder, and Rob. de Stafford a great Benefactor, who brought it from the ſubjection of Kenelworth, Anno 1260.

Aſhford, Chapel.

THIS Chappel of Aſhford (in old Records Echeleſford) is a Chapel annext to the Church of Stanes. It is call'd Aſhford (ſaith Norden) of the Brook or Ford thro' which Men paſs here, and is in the Hundred of Spelthorn, about two Miles diſtant from the Mother-Church of Stanes, to the Eaſtward.

This Chapel is endow'd with a Houſe and a Back-ſide, containing one Acre, and alſo with 28 Acres and half, and two Yards of Glebe-Land, as appears by a Terrier exhibited in 1610.

Bund. Midd.

Stanwell, Rectory, Vicarage.

THIS Pariſh of Stanwell lies in the Hundred of Spelthorne, about 14 or 15 Miles from London, towards the South-Weſt, and is ſubject to the Archdeacon.

Archid. Middleſex.

Ever ſince the Normans coming in, to our Fore-Fathers days, here at Stanwell, was the Habitation of the Family of the Windſors; but King Henry VIII. after the Diſſolution of the greater Monaſteries, Anno Regni 31. being inform'd by Cromwell and ſome others, who had been his chiefeſt Agents in that Work, that the moſt likely way to ſecure them from ever returning again to the Uſes of their pious Founders had firſt deſign'd them, would be to diſpoſe moſt of them into the Hands of the Nobility and Gentry, by Free-Gift, eaſie Purchaſes, and advantagious Exchanges, ſoon put this ſubtle Project in Practice, and in Order thereunto, thought fit (among others) to engage Andrew, Lord Windſor (then the chief of that Family) for one; to which End, he ſent him a Meſſage, that he would dine with him at Stanwell, upon a certain Day not long after, and accordingly did ſo; but before he went away, told him, that he lik'd ſo well of that Place, as that he reſolv'd to have it, yet not without a more beneficial Exchange; whereunto the Lord Windſor anſwering, that he did hope, his Highneſs was not in Earneſt, and that it having been the Seat of his Anceſtors for many Ages, he would not now take it from him. The King with a ſtern Countenance reply'd, That it muſt be, and commanded him upon his Allegiance, to go ſpeedily to his Attorney-General, who ſhould more fully acquaint him with his Royal Pleaſure, which daring not to refuſe, he accordingly repair'd to the Attorney-General, who ſhew'd him a Draught, ready made, for an Exchange for the Lordſhip of Stanwell, with its Appurtenances, lying in the Counties of Middleſex, Surrey, Bucks, Berks and Southampton (by which the Greatneſs of it may in ſome ſort be diſcern'd) in lieu of Bordſley Abby, in the County of Worceſter, whereof being conſtrain'd to accept, he was commanded to quit Stanwell forthwith, tho' he had then laid in his Chriſtmas Proviſions, for the keeping of his wonted Hoſpitality there; whereupon he left them in the Houſe, ſaying, they ſhould not find it bare Stanwell. This happen'd in the 34. of Henry VIII. but was no little Trouble to his Lordſhip's Mind, who died within a Year after.

Camd. Brit.

Dugd. Bar. Tom. III. p. 308.

The Church of Stanwell (dedicated to) was of old a Rectory, in the Gift of this Family of the Windſors. Here was likewiſe a Vicarage endow'd. The Rectory was a Sine-Cure, the Rector whereof was Patron of the Vicarage, and preſented to it till the Year 1399. incluſive, after which, it was in the Abbot and Convent of Chertſey, who (as appears) had a Clerk admitted to this Vicarage in 1427. to whom, in all likelihood, this Rectory and Pariſh-Church was given by ſome one of that antient Family, about that time, by which means, they became Rectors thereof; and, getting it appropriated, took the Profits of the Rectory to their own uſe; ſo that from that time the Vicarage only remain'd preſentative, and continu'd in their Gift till their Abbey was diſſolv'd, upon which, the Premiſſes came to the Crown, and the Advowſon of the Vicarage hath continu'd in it ever ſince.

Stepney, Rectory, Vicarage.

THIS Pariſh of Stepney, Stepny, Stebonbyth, Stybonbyth and Stebonheath (for after all theſe manner of ways, I have found it written) is one of the 14 Pariſhes in Middleſex and Surrey, in the Bills of Mortality, and is in the Hundred of Oſulſton, lying to the Eaſtward of the City of London. It is wholly exempt from the Juriſdiction of the Archdeacon of Middleſex, and only ſubject to the Biſhop of London and his Commiſſary in all Matters of Spiritual Cognizance.

Commiſſar. Middleſex.

This is a vaſt large Pariſh, notwithſtanding the Pariſh of S. Paul Shadwel was by Act of Parliament in 21. Car. II. taken out of it, and made a diſtinct Pariſh in it ſelf. It ſtands now divided into ſeven Hamlets, viz. Ratcliffe, Mile-End, Lime-Houſe, Poplar, Spittle-Fields, Bednall-Green and Wapping; beſides the Hamlets of Stratford and Old-Ford, which ſtill are reckon'd as Hamlets of this Pariſh, tho' they have a Chapel of their own at Stratford-Bow, to which they reſort for the performance of their Religious Duties, except upon ſome certain days, as will appear hereafter in what I have written of the ſaid Chapel at Stratford.

The Mannor of Stepney did, of old, belong to the Biſhops of London, where they formerly had a Palace, whence I have ſeen many old Records, dated thus, viz. Dat. in Palatio noſtro de Stebonbyth vel Stebonheath, which Palace ſtood, (as I conceive) on the ſame Plat of Ground, where now are ſeveral Houſes or Tenements built, and to this day goes by the Name of Biſhop's-Hall.

This Mannor of Stepney, and that of Hackney, next adjoyning, with ſome others in Eſſex, namely, Braintree and Southminſter, and the Advowſon and Right of Preſentation to the Vicarage of Coggeſhall, were part of the Poſſeſſions belonging to the Biſhoprick of London, and continu'd, till Dr. Nic. Ridley, Biſhop of that Sea, by a Quadripartite Indenture, bearing Date, April 12. Anno 4. Edward VI. granted the ſaid Mannor and Advowſon to that King, and his Heirs and Succeſſors, for ever, which Mannors of Stepney and Hackney, the ſame King, by his Letters-Patents, dated the 16th of the ſame Month and Year, granted to Sir Thomas Wentworth, Lord Wentworth, Lord-Chamberlain of his Houſhold, in Conſideration of his good and faithful Service before done, to be holden in Chief, by the Service of the twentieth Part of a Knight's Fee.

Bonner, 400.

Sto. Sur. 534.

This Church of Stepney is dedicated to S. Dunſtan, and (if I forget not) to All-Saints alſo, having ſomewhere read it, Eccleſia Omnium Sanctorum Stepney. Here is both a Rectory and a Vicarage, the Rectory is a Sine-Cure, and was all along in the Collation of the Biſhops of London, till Biſhop Ridley's time; but is now, or lately was in the Noble Family of the Wentworths, and the Vicarage in the Gift of the Rector, or ſuch as claim by or under him.

Hiſt.Paul,25. Euſtace de Fauconberg, Biſhop of London, by his laſt Will and Teſtament, gave to the Canons of S. Paul's, certain Lands lying in this Pariſh and Fulham, reſerving five Marks per Annum, to be yearly paid for the Maintenance of a Prieſt, perpetually to celebrate Divine Service for his Soul, near to his Tomb, in the Cathedral-Church of S. Paul.

In this Church there are ſeveral Monuments with Inſcriptions, ſome of which may be ſeen in Stow and Weaver, which I ſhall here omit, and only take notice of a Stone at the Eaſt-End of the North-Iſle, of this Church, and on the out-ſide, fix'd in the Wall, brought, it ſeems, from Carthage, by one Thomas Hughes, Anno 1633. with this plain, but well-meaning Inſcription on it.

Of Carthage, once, a Stone I was,
O Mortals, read with Pity;
Time conſumes all, it ſpareth none,
Men, Mountains, Town nor City;
Therefore, O Mortals, all bethink
You, whereunto you muſt,
Since now ſuch ſtately Buildings lie,
All buried in the Duſt.

x Will. Stampe was born in Oxfordſhire, enter'd a Student in Pembroke-College, Oxon, in 1626. aged 16. where he was afterwards Fellow; he proceeded in Arts, enter'd into Holy Orders, and exerciſed his Function in S. Aldates-Church, adjoining to his College, in 1637. was, afterwards, Vicar of this Church, as above. But by the rebellious Preſbyterians, was for his Loyal and Orthodox Preaching violently thruſt out, impriſon'd, plunder'd, and at length forc'd to fly for the ſafety of his Life. He got to Oxford about the beginning of 1643. where by the King's ſpecial Order he was made Doctor of Divinity the ſame Year, in the Month of July. Afterwards, he follow'd the Prince beyond the Seas, was made Chaplain to the Queen of Bohemia, and became a frequent Preacher to the Proteſtants at Charenton, near Paris, and was a zealous Aſſertor of the Engliſh-Liturgy. He died of a Feaver at the Hague, in Holland, about 1653. and was buried at the Church of Loeſdune, near that place. [Ath. Ox. 2. Vol. 89. where may be read more largely of him, and what he publiſh'd and wrote.]

y Eman. Utye, Maſter of Arts, was admitted Vicar of Chigwell, in Eſſex, Jan. 31. 1615. of which Church he continued Vicar till after the Reſtauration of King Charles II. but was outed of it by Sequeſtration, during the Rebellion; but being reſtor'd to it again upon that King's return, was alſo made Vicar of this Church, Apr. 8. 1661. being then Doctor of Divinity: But in very few Months after voided both by his Death.

z Will. Clark was Doctor of Divinity of Cambridge, made Dean of Wincheſter about 1665. and died in the Pariſh of S. Giles in the Fields, near London, in 1679. He did in, and by his laſt Will and Teſtament dated Apr. 22. 1679. deviſe an Eſtate lying at Tillingham, in Eſſex, reputed of the yearly Value of near 500*l.* for, and towards the Augmenting of 10 ſmall Vicarages, or other Eccleſiaſtical Benefices, with Cure, to pay unto the Incumbents of each of them thirty Pounds per Ann. for ever; which ſaid Benefices, the ſaid Dr. Clark intended to ſpecifie in a Codicil, to be annex'd to his Will; but by his Will did provide, that, if it ſhould pleaſe God that he ſhould die before he ſhould have ſpecified in ſuch Codicil, all the particular Benefices ſo to be augmented, then his Truſtees ſhould pay the ſaid Augmentations to ſuch as he ſhould have then nam'd, and alſo to ſo many more making up the number of Ten as the Lord Biſhop of London, and Dean and Chapter of S. Pauls ſhould nominate and appoint; which pious Office he did requeſt they would perform, in caſe God ſhould prevent his doing it himſelf. And did thereby declare his Will farther, That all the Augmentations of ſuch ſmall Benefices ſo to be nam'd by them, ſhould be in ſuch Pariſhes where the Impropriations are in the Hands of Laymen and their Heirs, and no other, and if it might be likewiſe in Market-Towns or populous Pariſhes. And the ſaid Dr. Clark did, afterwards, by a Codicil, name the Vicarage of Buckingham, the Rectory of the Abby in S. Albans, ſome convenient Church in Malden, in Eſſex, and Stony-Stratford, near Newport-Pagnel, but did not appoint other or more Livings than the ſaid Four; upon which account the ſaid Bp. of London, and Dean and Chapter of S. Pauls, for the Performance of the Truſt repoſed in them, and in purſuance of the Directions given them by the ſaid Dr. Clark, in his Will, did nominate and appoint the ſeveral Vicarages, or Eccleſiaſtical Benefices following, viz. The Vicarage of S. Giles, in Northampton; The Vicarage of S. Pauls, in Bedford; The Vicarage of Cirenceſter, in Glouceſterſhire; The united Vicarages of the Holy Trinity, and Bleſſed Virgin Mary, in Guilford, in Surry; The Vicarage of Hatfield Regis, or Brodoake, in Eſſex, and the Vicarage or Lectureſhip, in the Pariſh of Dedham, in Eſſex; and the Incumbents thereof are by ſuch nomination and appointment intitled to, and enjoy all the Benefits and Advantages of the ſaid Bequeſt, for the Augmentations of 10 ſmall Vicarages, or other Eccleſiaſtical Benefices, according to the Intent and Meaning of the Will of the ſaid Dr. Clark.

a Joh. Wright the preſent Vicar, 1700.

Stratford-Bow, Chapel.

THIS Chapel is within the Precincts of the ſaid Pariſh of Stepney, and peculiarly belongs to the Hamlets of Stratford and Oldford. The Inha- Baudake, 30. bitants whereof, in the Year 1311. petition'd Ralph (Baldock) then Biſhop of London, to have leave to build the ſaid Chapel; ſetting forth, That by reaſon of their Diſtance from their Pariſh-Church of Stepney, and the Difficulties of the Way, there were notable to come time enough to be at Divine Offices; upon which the ſaid Biſhop granted them his Licence, dated 15. Kal. Decemb. 1311. to build unam Capellam in vico Regio vocato Stratford (the Rector and Vicar of Stepney, by a publick Inſtrument thereunto concurring;) but ſo, that the Chapel being built, a certain Revenue ſhould be aſſign'd by the Inhabitants of Statford at Bow, and Oldford, for the ſufficient Maintenance of a Chaplain to officiate therein; which Chaplain was to be deputed by the Vicar of Stepney. And farther, it was order'd, "Quod " jura parochialia dictæ Eccleſiæ nihilominus integrè perſolvantur, & onera " refectionis Eccleſiæ, & clauſura cœmiterii ejuſdem cum neceſſe fuerit, " & alia quæcunq; una tum viſitatione Parochialis Eccleſiæ in feſtis anni ma- " joribus, ab eis, ſicut à ceteris Parochianis debite agnoſcantur.

Theſe were the Reaſons, and the Conditions, upon the which this Chapel was firſt built; which, I ſuppoſe, was, not long after the Date of the ſaid Licence, finiſh'd. But upon ſome Differences about theſe Conditions, happening almoſt 200 Years after, between the Pariſhioners of Stepney, and the Inhabitants of the ſaid Hamlets of Stratford and Oldford, there was a Compoſition made between them in the Year 1497. (Thomas Savage being then Biſhop of London) whereby it was agreed in ſubſtance as followeth:

Bonner, 58. That the Inhabitants of Stratford-Bow and Oldford, ſhould for the future acknowledge themſelves to be Pariſhioners of Stepney, and their Chapel at Stratford-Bow to be a Chapel annext, and ſubject to the Church of Stepney, which they were for the future to acknowledge to be their Mother-Church: And in Token thereof ſhould go twice every Year, viz. on the Feaſt of S. Dunſtan (which is the Day of the Feaſt of the Dedication of the Church of Stepney) and on the Third Holy-day, in Whitſunweek, as Pariſhioners of Stepney to their Mother-Church, where on the Feaſt of S. Dunſtan they ſhould hear Maſs, and make their Offerings. And on the ſaid Third Holy-day in Whitſunweek, as Pariſhioners of Stepney, they ſhould go with the Reſt in proceſſion to the Cathedral-Church of S. Pauls, as the ibid. 259. Cuſtom then was. From which Cuſtom after Weſtminſter was made a Biſhoprick by King Hen. VIII. they were exempted, upon only the Miniſter and Church-Wardens of Stepney's going to the Church of S. Peters Weſtminſter upon the ſaid Third Holy-day in Whitſunweek, and upon the High Altar there offering xvi d. and upon the Curate and Chapel-Wardens of Stratford's going thither alſo, and on the ſame Altar offering x d.

Alſo, that the Inhabitants of Stratford-Bow and Oldford, inſtead of paying to the Repairs of the Church of Stepney, and the Church-yard, and to the Ornaments of the ſaid Church, ſhould pay yearly at the Feaſts of S. Michael, and Eaſter, the Sum of xxiv. Shillings by equal Portions, for which the Inhabitants of Stepney ſhould diſcharge them, "De omni alio " jure parochiali, atq; aliorum onerum cum eis contributione faciend' " vel requirend': contributione ad ſtipendium Aquæbajuli memoratæ " Eccleſiæ de Stebonhith, & datione panis dominicalis benedicend' dun- " taxat exceptis.

Likewiſe, that the Inhabitants of Stratford and Oldford, ſhould for the future be freed from bearing the Office of Church-Warden of the Church of Stepney.

And laſtly, That if the Inhabitants of Stratford and Old-Ford, ſhall for the ſpace of one Week, from the Days appointed for Payment, neglect to pay the ſaid Sum of xxiv s. then they were condemn'd to pay x s. more, nomine pœnæ, toties quoties, within 15 Days after the ſaid appointed Days of Payment, and upon failure thereof, the ſaid Chapel of Stratford-Bow, and the Chapel-yard there, were to be interdicted by the Biſhop of the Dioceſe, till the ſaid Sums, and ſuch Expences as were occaſion'd by the reaſon of Non-payment, were fully ſatisfy'd.

Bednal-Green, Chapel.

IN this Hamlet of Bednal-Green, within the Pariſh of Stepney, there was formerly a Chapel, but whether it was a Chapel of Eaſe, for the Inhabitants of this Hamlet, or a private Chapel, I cannot find; all that appears of it in the London-Regiſtry is, that Edmund Bonner, Bp. of London, Ann. 1. Edward VI. leas'd out this Chapel, and a Meſſuage built under one Roof, with a Garden, to Sir Ralph Warren and his Wife, for ninety nine Years, they paying the ſaid Biſhop and his Succeſſors, iv d. a Year.

Bonner, 115.

Poplar, Chapel.

HERE was alſo a Chapel built for the Eaſe of the Inhabitants of this Hamlet, not long before the Reſtauration of King Charles II. in 1660. and is ſtill made uſe of for Divine-Worſhip, but having never been, that I know of, as yet, conſecrated, I have nothing to ſay of it.

Sudbury, Vicarage.

THIS Pariſh of Sunbury, Sonbury, in old Records, ſometimes written, Sunneberi, and ſometimes Sonnesbury, lies on the Banks of the River Thames, in the Hundred of Spelthorne, about 14 or 15 Miles towards the South-Weſt from London, and is ſubject to the Archdeacon.

Archid. Mid.

Edward the Confeſſor, in his often fore-cited Charter of the 5. Kal. of January 1066. confirm'd (inter alia) ſeven Hides of Lands in this Pariſh, by the Name of Sunnabyri, given by one of his Predeceſſors to the Abbot and Convent of Weſtminſter.

Mon. Angl. Vol. I. 61.

Notwithſtanding which, afterwards, in the Year 1222. the Controverſie mention'd before in Stanes, between the then Biſhop of London, and the Abbot and Convent of Weſtminſter aforeſaid; that it might not ſeem too eaſie on one ſide, and too hard on the other, and to preſerve perpetual Peace between both Churches, the Arbitrators in the determining thereof (inter alia) ordain'd; "Quod totum manerium de Sunneberi, cum omnibus pertinentiis ſuis "cedat in uſum & proprietatem Epiſcopi London. & ſucceſſorum ſuorum "in perpetuum. Et Eccleſia ejuſdem manerii cum omnibus pertinentiis ſuis "cedat in uſus proprios Eccleſiæ Sancti Pauli, London. in perpetuum. Ita "quidem, quod, excepta Vicaria perpetua & competenti, reſidui fructus dictæ "Eccleſiæ ſic expendantur, quod ſingulis diebus miſſa de Sancto Paulo Apo-"ſtolo in Eccleſia Sancti Pauli, in loco idoneo cum nota & cautu celebretur, "ſucceſſive ab aliquo illorum Canonicorum qui Minores appellantur, duo-"bus Canonicis ſuis ſibi miniſtrantibus, cujus nomen ſingulis Sabbatis in ma-"tricula pro ſequenti Hebdomada per circuitum annotetur. Quorum ſin-"guli annuos viginti Solidos pro veſtitu ſuo de fructibus dictæ Eccleſiæ perci-"pient annuatim, de reſiduis vero fructibus Sacriſta S. Pauli, vel alius, quem "Capitulum ad hoc elegerit, duos Cereos, qui coram Altari S. Pauli perpe-"tuo & jugiter ardeant, procurabit. Et ſi de dictis fructibus aliquid ſuper-"fuerit, in dicta Miſſa, & in aliis dictæ Eccleſiæ luminaribus expendatur.

Whart. de Epiſc. Lond. 253.

Thus it appears, how this Mannor came to the Biſhops of London, and the Church (which is dedicated to) to the Church of S. Paul, the Dean and Chapter whereof, have all along continu'd Rectors and Proprietors of this Church, and as ſuch, Patrons of this Vicarage.

In this Pariſh, it ſeems, there was a Portion of Tyths belonging to the Priory of S. Bartholomew, Weſt-Smithfield, London, and a Penſion to the Abby of Graſtene or Greſtene, in Normandy, for both which, there were Procurations payable to the Biſhop, when he viſited.

S. Stephen's Chapel.

Sto. Sur. 523.

IN the Royal-Palace at Weſtminſter, near the great Hall, was this Religious Structure or Chapel, which was firſt begun by King Stephen, to the Honor of S. Stephen the Protomartyr, but afterwards was again new-built, of a far more curious Workmanſhip, by King Edward III. in the Year 1347. dedicated to the Honor of Almighty God, and eſpecially of the Bleſſed Virgin, his Mother, and of the ſaid Martyr S. Stephen.

Mon. Angl. Vol. III. Pars II. p. 61.

This he ordain'd to be a Collegiate-Church, and eſtabliſh'd therein a Dean, 12 Canons-Secular, with as many Vicars, and other Officers (Stow ſays, 13 Vicars, four Clerks, ſix Choriſts and two Servitors, viz. a Verger and a Keeper of the Chapel) by his Letters-Patents, bearing Date at Weſtminſter, Auguſt 6. in the 22d of his Reign, Anno Dom. 1348. by Vertue of which, he endow'd this Chapel or College, with his great Hoſpitium or Houſe, in Lombardſtreet, London, and with the Pariſh-Churches of Dewesbury and Wakefield, in the Dioceſe of York, with ſpecial Licence to appropriate the ſame to the Dean and Canons of the ſaid College, and to their Succeſſors, and with ſo much Money, out of his Treaſury, as with the ſaid Houſe and Churches, would amount to the Sum of 500 l. per Annum, till he had otherwiſe provided for them with Lands and other Revenues, amounting to that yearly Sum, which he afterwards did.

Ibid. 62.

In order to which, he gave them the Advowſon of the Church of Birtone, with Licence to appropriate the ſame, and alſo to re-unite and appropriate a certain Portion of Tyths in the ſame Pariſh, which had otherwiſe been divided from that Pariſh-Church. [Pat. 30. Ed. III.]

Ibidem.

He alſo ſettled upon them, by his Charter, bearing Date, 24. May 1358. his Tower in Bokeiesbury, London, call'd Sewtes-Tower, with its Appurtenances, in pure and perpetual Alms. [Pat. 32. Ed. III.]

Ibid. 63.

And by another Charter, dated at Weſtminſter, Oct. 10. 1369. he gave them his Hoſpitium or Houſe, call'd Le Reole (now, or lately call'd Tower-Royal) in London, with its Appurtenances, to the value of 20 l. per Annum, in part of Satisfaction of 184 l. 14 s. 7 d. which the ſaid Dean and College were wont to receive yearly out of his Exchequer, as part of the Endowment of the ſaid Chapel. [Pat. 43. Ed. III.]

Ibidem.

He gave them likewiſe before this, viz. Sept. 20. 1351. the Church of Bledelowe, in the County of Bucks, in pure and perpetual Alms. [Pat. 25. Ed. III.] And afterwards, Anno 1361. gave Licence to appropriate the ſame. [Pat. 35. Ed. III.]

Ibidem.

The ſaid King, likewiſe, by his Charter, dated at the Tower of London, January 1. 1353. gave to the ſaid Dean and Canons, a parcel of Ground, beneath his Palace, towards the North, extending in Length, between the Walls of the ſaid Chapel, and the Recepta (or Chamber of Receipts) of his Exchequer; and in Breadth, from the Wall of his great Hall of Weſtminſter to the Thames, whereon to build them a Cloiſter, and other neceſſary Houſes for the ſaid Chapel, and ſeveral other Houſes thereabouts, and alſo free ingreſs and egreſs thro' his ſaid great Hall, all the day time; and finally, by the ſame Charter, exempted them from all Taxes. [Pat. 27. Ed. III.]

Ibid. 65.

The ſame King Edward, likewiſe, ſettled certain Mannors, Lands, &c. on John, Duke of Lancaſter and others, and afterwards, ordain'd by his laſt Will and Teſtament, that the ſame Mannors, Lands, &c. ſhould, be for the Endowment of this College, and other Religious Houſes of his Founding, which the ſaid Duke and others intruſted for that purpoſe, perform'd, according to his Majeſty's ſaid Will; whereupon, the Dean and Canons of this Collegiate-Church enjoy'd peaceably what was ſettled upon them in the Premiſſes, for a while, till Sir Simon de Burley (Conſtable of the Tower, and Chamberlain to King Richard II.) got it by a Wile, to be ſettled upon him and his Heirs, by the ſaid King Richard, and thereby, unjuſtly diſpoſſeſs'd them of the ſame; but the Premiſſes afterwards happening, by the Attainder of the ſaid Burley, to be forfeited to the King, he, the ſaid King Richard II. again ſettled them upon the ſaid Dean and Canons, and their Succeſſors, for ever, by his Charter, dated at Shrewsbury, Febr. 6. in 21. of his Reign, thereby diſcharging his Exchequer from the payment of any farther Sum of Money to the ſaid Dean and Canons, to make up the Revenues of their College to amount to the Value of 500 l. (or as it is in this Charter 510 l.) per Annum.

Sto. Sur. 523. The ſaid King Edward III. built to the uſe of this Chapel (tho' out of the Palace-Court) at ſome diſtance, Weſt, in the little Sanctuary, a ſtrong Clochare (or Bell-Tower) of Stone and Timber, cover'd with Lead, and plac'd therein three great Bells, which afterwards were uſually rung at Coronations, Triumphs, Funerals of Princes and their Obits, but taken down ſince.

The Canons and other Officers of this Collegiate-Church, at firſt, had their Habitation in their Cloiſter, built for them from the Houſe or Chamber of Receipt aforeſaid, along, nigh to the Thames, within the King's Palace; but ſince that, there were alſo Buildings for them, between the Clock-Houſe and the Wool-Staple, call'd the Wey-Houſe.

Dr. John Chamber, the laſt Dean of this College, built, adjoyning to the Chapel thereof, a Cloiſter of curious Workmanſhip, to the Value of 11000 Marks.

Canon-Row (now, by Corruption, call'd Channel-Row) belong'd alſo to the ſaid Dean and Canons, and therefore call'd Canon-Row, where alſo they had ſometimes lodg'd, but afterwards became the Habitation of divers Noblemen and Gentlemen; but now, of late, great Part of it lying next the Thames, built into very good Houſes, fit for Perſons of Quality and Gentlemen to live in.

This College or Chapel of S. Stephen, was valu'd at the Suppreſſion, to diſpend in Lands, by the Year, 1085 l. 10 s. 5 d. and was ſurrendred to Edward VI. Since which time, the Chapel it ſelf is become the Place, where the Houſe of Commons ſit in Parliament-time.

Having now done with the Founding and Endowing of this Religious Houſe, I think it not improper to give what Account I can, of ſuch, who ſoon after were admitted Deans and Canons of the ſame, and were Men of ſome Note in their time.

Tho. de Midelton became alſo a Preb. of this Chap. Of whom you may ſee more among the Preb. of Chamberlainwood.

Rob. de Keſteven, the King's Chaplain, ſucceeded the above-nam'd Tho. Weſt, in his Preb. in this Chap. Aug. 17. 1376. by the King's Gift, void by the Death of the ſaid Thomas. [Pat. 50. E. III. p. 1.]

Nic. de Sdlisbury had that Preb. in this Chap. given him by the King Mar. 1. 1376. which became void by the Death of the above-nam'd Ric. de Blokelby. [Pat. 51. E. III. p. 1.]

> This is all the Account I can give of the Deans and Canons of this Royal Chapel of S. Stephen, from the Foundation thereof to the End of the Reign of the Founder King Edw. III. which I extracted out of the laborious Collections of Dr. Matth. Hutton.

Near this Chapel of S. Stephen, there was a Chapel, which the Treaſurer of the Exchequer, by vertue of that Office, always had in his Collation. But upon the erecting of this new Collegiate-Chapel of S. Stephen, the Dean and Canons upon the Reſignation of one Thomas Stapleton, or Stapleford the Chaplain thereof, obtained by vertue of the King's Licence to have it annext to their College; in compenſation whereof, the ſaid Thomas was made one of the Canons of this College. And the King (Edw. III.) on Aug. 3. 1356. granted to William, Biſhop of VVinton, the then Treaſurer, that he and all others that ſhould ſucceed in that Office, ſhould have one Preb. in this new Collegiate-Chapel of S. Stephen, viz. that which Tho. de Stapleford aforeſaid had, in lieu of the ſaid old Chapel, and ſhould collate to it as often as it became void. Sion-

Sion-Monaſtery.

THIS was a Monaſtery, ſo nam'd of the moſt Holy Mount Sion in Jeruſalem, and being in an eſpecial manner dedicated to S. Brigit the Widow (not S. Brigit the Virgin, of whom I have already written, being the Saint to whom the Church of S. Brigit, alias S. Brides, in London, is dedicated) according to my fore-going Method, I think it not improper, before I proceed to give a farther Account of this Monaſtery, to give a ſhort Hiſtory of S. Brigit the Widow, being the Saint to which it is dedicated, which take, as I have it moſtly out of Mr. Richard Smith's often fore-cited Manuſcript.

S. Brigit the Widow.

THIS S. Brigit or S. Birgit, ſome ſay, was a Queen of Swethland; others ſay, ſhe was Princeſs of Nerice, and Daughter to a King of Denmark; others, that ſhe was Daughter to one Birgæus, and Sigridis his Wife, and that her Husband's Name was Ulpho de Ulphaſo, Prince of Nerice, by whom ſhe had eight Children, four Sons and four Daughters. After her Husband's Death, ſhe living a Widow, went with her Daughter Katharine to Jeruſalem, and from thence ſhe return'd to Rome, being 42 Years old, where ſhe continu'd 28 Years.

She inſtituted an Order of Monks and Nuns, Anno Domini 1362. ſaith Trithemius, which was confirm'd by Pope Urban V. or as ſome will have it, by Pope Gregory XI. Anno 1371. Urban dying, and Gregory ſucceeding him in that ſame Year. Her Husband, in his Life-time, took on him the Order and Habit of the Ciſtercian Monks, after which time, ſhe bade the World farewel. She took great Care in the Education of her Children, ſhe abhorr'd Idleneſs, ſhe was of great Abſtinence, and her Charity to the Poor was no leſs. She held the Rule of S. Auguſtine, with certain Articles, which ſhe herſelf added, which may be ſeen in Hoſpinian at large. She would have but 60 Nuns and 25 Monks in every Monaſtery (to wit) 13 Prieſts, according to the Number of the 13 Apoſtles, including S. Paul, four Deacons, repreſenting the four Doctors of the Church, viz. S Ambroſe, S. Auſtin, S. Gregory, and S. Jerome, and eight Converts to labour for the Affairs of the Houſe; ſo the Friers and Nuns together, made up the Number of 13 Apoſtles and 72 Diſciples of our Saviour.

This holy Lady died at Rome, 10. Kal. Aug. Ann. Dom. 1373. and her Reliques were the next Year tranſlated to the Monaſtery of Waſthene, by her holy Daughter Katharine, July 12. and was canoniz'd by Pope Boniface IX. Anno 1391. or 1400. as Hoſpinian. Her Feſtival is celebrated, July 23. Her Order is call'd, the Order of S. Brigit, or of our Holy Saviour.

Sion-Monaſtery.

AS to this Monaſtery of Sion, it was founded by King Henry V. Anno 1414. who by his Charter of Foundation, bearing Date, March 3. founded it, "Ad laudem, gloriam, & honorem ſummæ Trinitatis, & gloriæ Virginis Mariæ, necnon Apoſtolorum & Diſcipulorum Dei, & omnium Sanctorum, & ſpecialiter in honorem Sanctiſſimæ Brigittæ, quæ ut ſatis evidenter agnoſcitur, inſpiratione cœlica unam Religionem ſub ſuo nomine Divinitus inſpirata fundavit, cœlituſque obtinuit, ut in quocunque regno Monaſterium ipſius Religionis fundatum fuerit, ibi Pax, & Tranquilitas ipſius mediationibus continuè firma erit.

Mon. Angl. Vol. II. 360.

He built this Houſe upon a parcel of Ground (whence ſome ſay, he had expell'd the Monks-aliens) of his own Demeans, in his Mannor of Iſleworth, within the Pariſh of Twickenham, in the County of Middleſex; "De dominico noſtro manerii noſtri de Iſtleworth infra Parochiam de Twickenham in Com.

“ Middleſexiæ, &c. as it is in the Charter, wherein he farther ordains in theſe Words, “ Sub vocabulo Monaſterii Sancti Salvatoris & Sanctæ Brigittæ de Sion “ ordinis Sancti Auguſtini, fundamus, ordinamus, & pro perpetuo ſtabilimus, “ & Monaſterium S. Salvatoris & Sanctæ Brigittæ de Sion ordinis Sancti Auguſtini “ nuncupari volumus & decernimus perpetuis temporibus ſucceſſivis. He alſo farther ordain'd in the ſame Charter, that according to the Rule of S. Brigit, there ſhould be in this Monaſtery, appointed to the Glory of God, 60 Nuns, 13 Prieſts, four Deacons, and eight Lay-Brethren, making up the Number equal to Chriſt's 13 Apoſtles (including S. Paul for one) and 72 Diſciples. He ordain'd alſo, that of thoſe 60 Nuns or Virgins, one ſhould be the Abbeſs, of which he made Matilda Newton the firſt; and of theſe 13 Prieſts, one ſhould be the Confeſſor, and of them, he made William Alnewyk the firſt. He ordain'd likewiſe, that the Abbeſs and Siſters ſhould dwell in a Cloiſter by themſelves, and the Confeſſor and Brethren, in a Court by themſelves, that they ſhould be, nevertheleſs, but one Convent, and ſhould have but one Seal; and thus he incorporated them, “ Nomine Abbatiſſæ & Conventus Monaſterii “ S. Salvatoris & S. Brigittæ de Sion, Ordinis Sancti Auguſtini. He endow'd likewiſe this Monaſtery with 1000 Marks, to be paid yearly out of his Exchequer, at the Terms of Eaſter and Michaelmas, by equal Portions, without any manner of Defalcation, till ſuch time as they could be provided for with other Revenues, by the ſaid King, his Heirs or Executors.

Weav. Fun. Mon. 527.

Thoſe Nuns and Friers had but one Church in common, the Nuns had their Church aloft, in the Roof, and their Brethren beneath on the Ground, each Convent ſeverally incloſ'd, and never allow'd to come out, except by the Pope's ſpecial Licence, upon whom, when the King had beſtow'd a ſufficient Living (taken from the Priories-Alien, all which he utterly ſuppreſs'd) he provided by a Law, that, contenting themſelves therewith, they ſhould take no more of any Man, but what over-plus remain'd of their yearly Revenue, they ſhould beſtow it on the Poor.

Their Comings in were valu'd at the Suppreſſion, to be worth 1944 l. 11 s. 8 d ¼. per Annum, Speed. 1731 l. 8 s. 4 d ¼. Dugd.

This Houſe of Sion, was among the firſt that were diſſolv'd by K. Hen. VIII. as having harbour'd the King's Enemies, and been accomplices to the Buſineſs of the Maid of Kent; after which, King Edward VI. in the firſt of his Reign, granted this Houſe, and the Site of this Monaſtery, to Edward, Duke of Somerſet, but it devolving again to the Crown, by the ſaid Duke's Attainder (as I ſuppoſe) the ſame King, in the 7th of his Reign, granted the Premiſſes to John Duke of Northumberland, and to his Heirs-Male, but he forfeiting his Head, in the firſt of Queen Mary, it came thereby into her Hands, who, again new-founded a Nunnery here, and gave it to Katharine, the Abbeſs thereof, in the 4. and 5. of her Reign; but being again diſſolv'd by Q. Eliz. theſe Sion-Nuns convey'd their Perſons, and moſt portable Treaſure, beyond the Seas, to Zurickzey in Zealand, thence to Mechlin in Brabant, thence to Roan in Normandy, but found no certain Place of abode, till they came to Lisbon in Portugal, for here they had a daily Penſion of five Crowns from the King of Spain, and Wheat more than ſufficient, whilſt Lisbon was his; and I doubt not (ſaith my Author) but the preſent King of Portugal performeth the ſame. They have Vineyards, Olive-Fields, Corn-Grounds and Houſes, to the Value of 400 Milreis a Year (each Milrei being 12 s. 6 d. Sterling) which was the Portion of a Portugueſe (ſole Heir to her wealthy Father) who becoming a Religious Siſter in this Convent, convey'd her Inheritance into it, ſo that by their Boxes in Indian and Braſilian Ships, ſale of Maſſes, and other Perquiſites, they are ſaid yearly to lay up 600 l.

This Houſe of Sion, here in England, is now part of the Eſtate, and one of the Seats of the preſent Duke of Somerſet.

Eccleſia Omnium Angelorum.

NOT far from this Monaſtery of Sion, at a Place call'd Brentford-End, was a Fraternity founded by John Somerſet, Chancellor of the Exchequer, and the King's Chaplain, which he call'd, Eccleſia Omnium Angelorum, and was Parcel of the Honour of Hampton-Court, and of the Poſſeſſions of the Monaſtery of Sion, which Chapel, was given by King Edward VI. in the firſt of his Reign, to Edward, Duke of Somerſet; but upon his Attainder, coming again to the Crown, was given by Queen Mary, upon her new-erecting that Monaſtery of Sion, to Katharine, the Abbeſs of that Houſe; but that being diſſolv'd by Queen Elizabeth, King James I. in the 8th of his Reign, granted this Chapel to George Whitmore and others, and to their Heirs, to be held of the Mannor of Eaſt-Greenwich; and on the 4th of King Charles I. upon a Licence of Alienation, it was granted to Edward Dickfield, and others, and to their Heirs.

Tottenham, Vicarage.

THIS Pariſh of Tottenham, Totheham or Totham, is in the Hundred of Edmunton, about five Miles North from London, and is ſubject to the Archdeacon, ſaving only as to Wills and Adminiſtrations, which belong to the Commiſſary.

The Church here (dedicated to All-Saints) was given to the Canons of the Church of the Holy-Trinity in London, by David King of Scotland (Brother to Queen Maud, who founded that Religious Houſe) ſoon after the erecting thereof, in perpetual Alms for the Health of his Soul, and for the Souls of Q. Maud his Siſter, and Q. Maud his Wife, and of Earl Simon, and all his Anceſtors, as appears by his Charter, directed to Gilbert, Biſhop of London.

Mon. Angl. Vol. II. 80.

Which Charter was afterward confirm'd by William, Biſhop of London (that is, as I conceive, William de Sanctæ Mariæ Eccleſia, Biſhop of that Sea) who in his Inſtrument of Confirmation, ordain'd and endow'd a Vicarage here, therein expreſs'd by reſerving to the Vicar of this Church, and his Succeſſors, all the ſmall Tyths, Oblations and Obventions, and alſo xx Shillings a Year, to be paid him out of the Chamber (or Treaſury) of the Canons of the ſaid Houſe; alſo two Acres of Land on which he might build a Houſe, he paying yearly to the Church of the Holy-Trinity, one Pound of Wax, in the Name of a Penſion, and ſuſtaining all the accuſtom'd Burthens of the ſaid Pariſh-Church; of which, the ſaid Prior and Canons continu'd Proprietaries, and Patrons of the Vicarage, till their Suppreſſion.

Tuddington, Curacy.

THIS Pariſh of Tuddington, Tedington, or (as in old Records) Todington, or Totington, lies near the Thames, in the Hundred of Speltborne, about 10 or 11 Miles South-weſt-ward from London; and is ſubject to the Archdeacon, ſaving only as to Wills and Adminiſtrations which belong to the Commiſſary. Archid. Com. Lond.

Both the Manor and Church of Tuddington, did of old belong to the Abbot and Convent of Weſtminſter, to whom (I ſuppoſe) it was given by King Edward the Confeſſor, when he gave them Stanes, with all its Appurtenances. For when William, Biſhop of London, ordain'd, That the Vicar of Stanes ſhould provide fit Chaplains for the ſeveral Chapels belonging to this Church of Stanes, this Chapel of Tuddington was excepted (which till then, it ſeems, was numbred among the Chapels that did belong to that Church). For it is thus ſaid in the very Inſtrument, "Excepta Capella de Todington, ad quam prædictus Abbas (de Weſtminſter) nobis & Succeſſoribus noſtris idoneum capellanum preſentabit, & eam ſufficienter ſuſtentari providebit. Vid. Stanes. Hence it ſeems to appear, that this Chapel of Todington was ſeparated from the ſaid Church of Stanes, and was to have no more dependence upon the Vicar there: But that the Abbot of Weſtminſter, for the time being, was to preſent a fit Chaplain to the Biſhop of London, for his Licence (for there is no mention made of Inſtitution) to ſupply the Cure of Todington, and to find him a ſufficient Maintenance for ſupplying the ſame, the Tyths and Eccleſiaſtical Profits of this Pariſh being ſwallowed up, it ſeems, by the Church of Weſtminſter, and no Endowment ſetled upon the Chapel here.

This, it ſeems, was the State and Condition of this Chapel or Pariſh-Ch. of Tuddington, till the general Suppreſſion, upon which both the Manor and Church came to the Crown, and was termed Parcel of the Honour of Hampton-Court; and both the Manor and Rectory of this Church of Totington, or Todington, or Tudington, in Middleſex, with all Rights, Tyths and Offerings, &c. were by K. Edw. VI. by Letters-Patents, dated July 5. in the 5th Year of his Reign, granted, and to Farm lett to Geo. Gates, his Executors and Aſſigns, from Michaelmas after for 21 Years paying yearly to the King . And, afterwards, Queen Elizabeth, on Nov. 24. in the 10th Year of her Reign, did by her Letters-Patents, grant and to Farm let to Richard Brown, Eſq; his Executors and Aſſigns the ſaid Manor and Rectory of Todington, and all Houſes, Tyths, Offerings, Obventions, &c. from the Determination of the ſaid Letters-Patents granted to the ſaid Geo. Gates, by Expiration, Surrender, &c. for the term of 31 Years, he the ſaid Richard Brown paying yearly to the Queen, her Heirs and Succeſſors, the Sum of 8 d. 6 s. and 6 l. 4 s. to a Chaplain to ſay Service and Adminiſter the Sacraments to the Pariſhioners in this Church. After which the ſaid Queen by Letters-Patents dated May 23. in the 24. Year of his Reign did grant the ſaid Manor and Rectory, after the Determination of the ſaid Term, granted to Ric. Brown, unto Amiſius Paulet, Knight, for the term of 40 Years, he paying 8 l. 6 s. Rent yearly at Lady-day, and Michaelmas, to the ſaid Queen, her Heirs and Succeſſors, and 6 l. to a Chaplain, and 4 s. for Bread and Wine for the Adminiſtration of the Sacrament in the ſaid Church; but ſome Years before the Expiration of the ſaid Term, King James I. in the 1.Jac.I. p.13. firſt Year of his Reign granted the ſaid Manor and Rectory, and Premiſſes above-mention'd to John Hill, Eſq; one of the Auditors of his Exchequer, his Heirs and Aſſigns for ever, in free Soccage, at the yearly Rent of 8 l. payable, at Lady-day and Michaelmas, to the ſaid King, his Heirs and Succeſſors, and 6 l. as a Stipend to a Chaplain, celebrating Divine Service in the ſaid Church, and alſo the Sum of 4 s. for ever for Bread, Wine and other Neceſſaries, to be expended yearly, in the ſaid Church, to be paid at the uſual Feaſts and Times of Payment every Year, and for default of Payment of the ſaid Sum of 6 l. 4 s. to the Chaplain at the ſaid uſual Times, the ſaid John Hill, his Heirs and Aſſigns ſhall forfeit to the ſaid Chaplain 5 l. for each default: ſo that from what is above-mention'd, it appears, That the Church here is only a Donative or Curacy, in the Gift of the Owner or Poſſeſſor of the Manor and Rectory, who is to preſent or nominate a Miniſter to the Biſhop of the Dioceſe for his Licence to officiate as Curate here.

This being a Donative or Curacy, is not charg'd with Firſt-Fruits and Tenths: But, however, I find it chargeable with Procurations and Synodals, which (I conceive) the Poſſeſſor of the Rectory is bound to pay.

[a] Charles Williams the preſent Curate of this Church, and alſo Vicar of Twickenham, in Middleſex, 1700.

Twickenham,

Twickenham, Vicarage.

THIS Pariſh of Twickenham, lies near the River Thames, about a Mile to the Eaſtward of Tuddington aforeſaid, in the Hundred of Iſleworth. It is call'd Twickenham (ſaith Norden) either for that at this Place, the Thames ſeemeth to be divided into two Rivers by reaſon of the Iſlands there; or elſe of the two Brooks, which near the Town enter into the Thames; for Twicknam (ſaith he) is as much as Twinam, quaſi inter binos Amnes ſitum. It is ſubject to the Archdeacon.

Archid. Mid.

As to the Church here (dedicated to) it was of old, it ſeems, appropriated to the Abby of S Walerick, in Picardy, and a Vicarage here ordain'd and endow'd, of which that Abbot and Convent were Patrons. This Church, by the name of Tichebam, was (inter alia) confirm'd to the ſaid Abby by King Hen. III. in the 54th of his Reign. But after the Seizing of the Priory of Takeley, in Eſſex (with others here in England) as a Cell to the ſaid Abby of S Walerick, with its Appurtenances by King Edw. III and then by King Ric. II. by reaſon of their Wars with France, and the utter Suppreſſion of thoſe Priories-Alien, afterwards, by King Hen. V. the ſaid two former Kings preſented to it, till ſuch time as William of Wickham, Biſhop of Winton, having founded his College near that City, procured of the ſaid King Richard this Rectory and Pariſh-Church, and the Advouſon of the Vicarage to be made part of the Endowment and Poſſeſſions of the ſaid College; whereby the Wardens, Fellows, and Scholars thereof became Proprietaries of the ſaid Rectory, and Patrons of the Vicarage, till the general Suppreſſion by King Hen. VIII. about which time the Rectory and Advouſon of the Vicarage by way of Exchange (as may be ſuppos'd) with the ſaid College came to the Crown. After which King Edw. VI. in the firſt of his Reign gave this Parſonage (with others) to the Dean and Canons of his Free-Chapel, in the Caſtle of Windſor, in recompence of certain Lands they had already releas'd and aſſign'd to King Hen. VIII. by means whereof they became Patrons of this Vicarage, and have continned ſo ever ſince.

TWYFORD.

THERE are two Places in this County, known by the Name of Twyford, diſtinguiſh'd the one from the other, according to their Situation, by the Addition of Eaſt and Weſt.

Eaſt-Twyford,

Eaſt-Twyford, Chapel.

THIS Place or Hamlet of Eaſt-Twyford, is in the Pariſh of Willeſdon, in the Liberties of Finsbury and Wenlakesbarn, about ſeven Miles Northweſtward from London, and is the Corps of the Prebendary of Twyford, in the Cathedral-Church of S. Paul.

Here was of old a Chapel, of which, in the State of the Churches, belonging to the Dean and Chapter of S. Paul's, taken when Ralph de Diceto was Dean, Anno 1181. I find it recorded by the Name of Tureford thus,

“ Capella de Tureford, à qua Eccleſia Sanꝯti Pauli recipit xii d. pro decimis “ annonæ, ovium & caprarum, quæ quidem Capella non eſt alicui vicinarum “ Eccleſiarum appendula, ſed permiſſu capituli baptizat Infantes, ſepelit mor-“ tuos, quo voluerit, dummodo non ad aliquam Eccleſiarum Epiſcopi. Reg. Dec. & Lib. B. f. 26.

This Place and Chapel, when the ſaid Ralph de Diceto was Dean, was held of that Dean and Chapter of S. Paul's, by Pain, the Son of Henry, who then preſented to it, together with Aelina his Wife, the Daughter of Morel, as appears by the following Inſtruments.

“ Sciant omnes, quod ego Radulphus de Diceto, Decanus Eccleſiæ Sanꝯti “ Pauli, London. & ejuſdem Eccleſiæ Capitulum, recepimus Gilibertum de Cran- “ ford, Clericum, in Capella terræ de Twyford, ad præſentationem Pagani, “ filii Henrici, qui eandem terram, cum uxore ſua Aelina, filia Morelli, de nobis “ tenet; ipſum itaque Gilibertum, de Capella illa, cum omnibus decimis & be-“ neficiis ad ipſam pertinentibus inveſtimus, qui & de nobis in Eccleſia Sanꝯti “ Pauli, criſma & oleum ſuſcipiet, & corpora mortuorum de Twyford, in cœ“ miterio alicujus Eccleſiæ noſtræ vicinæ, prout elegerit, ſepeliet, ut tamen “ prædiꝯtæ Capellæ non obſit, ſi forte ipſe cœmiterium proprium quandoque “ habuerit. Idem autem Gilibertus de tota hac conventione fidelitatem nobis “ fecit. His teſtibus Radulpho, Decano, Nic. Giliberto, Rad. Archid. Magiſt.
“ Nicol. Magiſt. Rad. Magiſt. Hug. Rob. de Clifford, Magiſt. Henr. Will. de Norhall, “ de Chilton, Rog. de Wigorn. Gileb. Banaſter, Magiſt. Ricardo, frat. Archid. Ca-“ nonicis. Ibid. Cart. Orig.

“ Sciant omnes, quod ego Paganus, filius Henrici, & Aelina uxor mea, rece-“ pimus in feodo & hæreditate de Capitulo Dominorum noſtrorum Canonico-“ rum Sanꝯti Pauli, London. terram de Twyford, de qua nos & hæredes noſtri “ reddemus eis annuatim pro omni Servicio, x. Sol.— Nos quoque, & hære-“ des noſtri ad Capellam præd. terræ idoneum eis Clericum præſentare debe“ mus, qui recipietur per manum Decani— Et idem inde nobis fidelitatem “ jurabit. De hac autem tota conventione tenenda juravi eis ego Paganus fide“ litatem, quod etiam facient hæredes mei de uxore mea Aelina. Teſtibus “ ut ſupra, his additis Henric. Theſaur, & Ricardo, Magiſtro Scholarum. Ibid.

Weſt-Twyford.

SO call'd (ſaith Norden) of two little Brooks or Fords that paſs near it. He farther tells us, that it is a Pariſh, but it hath but one only Houſe theunto belonging, which (in his time) was one John Lyons, Gentleman. It lies about a Mile from Eaſt-Twyford to the Weſtward.

Uxbridge, Chapel. Vid. Hillingdon.

Wilſdon, Vicarage.

Pec. Dec. & Cap.

THIS Pariſh of Wilſdon, in old Records, Willeſdona or Willeſdon, is in the Liberties of Finsbury and Wenlakesbarn, about ſeven Miles North-Weſt from London, and is a Peculiar belonging to the Dean and Chapter of S. Paul's, where they are both Ordinaries of the Place, Rectors and Proprietaries of the Rectory and Pariſh-Church, which is dedicated to the Bleſſed Virgin, and Patrons of the Vicarage.

This alſo was one of the ſeveral Lordſhips, wherewith King Athelſtan endow'd the Cathedral-Church of S. Paul, and had the ſame Immunities from the King's Purveyor, in the Reign of King Edward II. as the other Lordſhips belonging to the ſaid Dean and Chapter had.

There are no leſs than the Corps of eight Prebends, which belong to the Dean and Canons of S. Paul's, that lie in this Pariſh of Wilſdon; namely,

Brownſwood.	Mapesbury.	Twyford.
Chamberlainwood.	Meaſdon.	Wilſdon-Green.
Harleſton.	Oxgate.

As to the Pariſh-Church, I find it thus recorded in the State of the Churches, and Mannors belonging to the Dean and Chapter of S. Paul's, Anno 1181.

Reg. Dec. & Cap. Lib.

" Eccleſia de Willeſdona eſt in dominio Canonicorum, & reddit eis viii.
" Marcas per manum Germani Clerici, & ſolvit nomine Synodalium xiii d.
" Et habet Eccleſia omnes decimas, tam de dominiis, quam de aliis terris &
" majores, & minores, exceptis de dominio Magiſtri Nicholai, & de dominio
" Magiſtri David, & viii acrarum de la Cnolle de tenemento de Cheſewick, &
" aliarum viii. acrarum de la Cnolle de tenemento de Suttona, & de tenemento
" xl. acrarum, quas coluerunt moniales de Keleburne.

Ibid. Lib. A. f. 41.

Tho. le Blic, Son of Ralph le Blic, by his Deed (but without Date) granted to the Church of the Bleſſed Mary of Willeſdon, half an Acre of Land, which lieth in Hurland, near Kaleweſtricke, in pure and perpetual Alms.

Yealing, Vicarage.

THIS Pariſh of Yealing, Yelling, Ylling, Eling, or Great Yealing (to diſtinguiſh it from Little Yealing, a Hamlet thereto belonging) and in ſome old Records, Zealing or Zelling, lies within the Liberties of Finsbury and Wenlakesbarn, about eight Miles Weſt from London, and is wholly exempt from the Juriſdiction of the Archdeacon of Middleſex, and only ſubject to the Biſhop of London and his Commiſſary.

Com. Midd.

Vid. Cancell. S. Pauli.

This Church of Yealing (which is dedicated to   ) together with that of Borham in Eſſex, is the Corps of the Chancellor of the Cathedral-Church of S. Paul, antiently call'd, Magiſter Scholarum, to which Magiſter Scholarum, larum, namely, to Henry (who was the ſecond that ſucceeded in that Office) Richard de Balmeis, the firſt, Biſhop of London in the Reign of King Henry I. gave the Tyths of Ylings and Madeley; but this Office or Title of Magiſter Scholarum, or Maſter of the Schools, being afterwards chang'd into Cancellarius or Chancellor of the Church, it is not unlikely, but theſe Tyths of Ylings, upon that, or ſome other Occaſion, reverted again to the Biſhops of London, for it appears they were in Ralph de Baldock, Biſhop of that Sea, who, in regard the Revenues belonging to the Chancellorſhip of the ſaid Cathedral-Church (who by Richard Graveſend, his immediate Predeceſſor, had been ordain'd to read a Divinity-Lecture in that Cathedral-Church) were not a ſufficient Support for the undergoing this Duty, and that of his Office too, did by his Grant, bearing Date at London, the Morrow after the Feaſt of S. Andrew the Apoſtle, 2. Edw. II. Anno 1308. by the Advice and Conſent of his Chapter, Baudakæ, 19. in farther Augmentation of the Revenues, belonging to that Office of Chancellor, give and appropriate thereunto this Church of Yling, excepting x l. per Annum, payable out of it for the Maintenance of a Vicar, who was to be collated to this Vicarage by the Biſhop of London and his Succeſſors, as often as it ſhould happen to be vacant. Beſides the reſervation of this x l. per Annum to the Vicar, it is farther ordain'd in the ſame Inſtrument of Appropriation, “—— Quod dictus Vicarius nomine Vicariæ ſuæ prædictæ habeat unum manſum competentem de bonis integris Eccleſiæ conſtruendum, & quod perpetuo habeat & poſſideat omnimodas terras, prata, paſcua, & paſturas ſpectantia ad dictam Eccleſiam de Ylling, una cum quarta parte boſci Eccleſiæ ejuſdem, ſalvo manſo Rectoriæ, prout nunc includitur, Cancellario & Cancellariæ prædictis. Et quod idem Vicarius percipiat omnimodas minutas decimas dictæ parochiæ, ac oblationes, legata, & alia, quæ ad alteragium dictæ Eccleſiæ pertinere noſcuntur; decimas quoque garbarum & fœni totius parochiæ prædictæ (exceptis terris & pratis ad dictam Vicariam ſpectantibus) percipiet integraliter Cancellarius memoratus. Ordinamus inſuper, quod idem Vicarius libros & ornamenta, quæ de bonis Eccleſiæ prædictæ integralibus ad ſufficientiam inibi proviſa fuerint, & alia onera ordinaria debita & conſueta dictæ Eccleſiæ incumbentia (excepta reparatione cancelli & ipſius nova conſtructione, ſi in poſterum contingat) ſuſtinebit: Et onera extraordinaria pro tempore concurrentia agnoſcet pro quarta parte taxationis Eccleſiæ ſcaccario. Reſervantes nobis, & ſucceſſoribus noſtris poteſtatem prædictam taxationem, & aſſignationem portionis Vicariæ prædictæ debite corrigendi & reformandi, prout viſum fuerit magis expedire.

Thus was this Church appropriated again to the Office and Chancellor of the Church of S. Paul, and a Vicarage here ordain'd and endow'd by Ralph de Baldock, Biſhop of London, in the Year 1308. the Collation whereof hath been all along in the Biſhop of that Sea, and ſo continues.

In the Year 1681. Sept. 4. the Right Reverend Father in God, Dr. Henry Compton, the preſent Biſhop of London, conſecrated a Piece of Ground, concontaining 10 or 12 Rod, adjoyning, and as an Addition to the Church-yard of Yealing, which Ground was given by Dr. Humphrey Henchman, his immediate Predeceſſor in that Sea, for that End and Purpoſe. Idem Edvardus, tunc temporis juvenis tot damna cernens, injurias, & opprobria in exhæreditationem patris ſui & deſtructionem totius Angliæ flevit amariter, & tantam doloris triſtitiam acerbi, cordiſque mœrorem præſertim ſuo corpori miniſtravit, ut lecto recumbens pœnitus ſemivivo relicto nullam ſe credidit ſanitatem recuperare. Quadam vero nocte Dei genitricis Mariæ auxilio poſtulans piam ejus clementiam devotè imploravit, ut ipſum ex divina revelatione nocturna viſione inſpiraret, quomodo de Wallenſibus Anglici poſſent citiſſimè vindicari. Ut factum eſt autem eo dormiente, virgo venuſtiſſima omnium virtutum floribus inſignita, virgo Dei genitrix glorioſa cujus precibus juvatur perplexus Chriſtianus, florem immarceſſibilem & æternum ineffabili ſancti Spiritus co-operatione produxit, quaſi nocturna viſione ipſi apparuit dicens, O Edvarde, amice Dei, quid clamas, Ecce adſum. Scias pro certo, quod vivente patre tuo, non poſſunt Wallenſes ab Anglicis totaliter opprimi aut ſubjugari; & hoc eſt ob patris tui vile peccatum, ac nimias extortiones; ſed vade cras mane ad quendam Judæum nomine Marlibrunum totius mundi ſapientiorem picturæ artificem apud Billinſgate, London, commorantem, & eum tibi facere imaginem conſtringas ſub tali forma quam nunc me vides, qui ex divina inſpiratione duas in ipſa perficiet facies, unam filio meo Jeſu valdè ſimilem, alteram mihi in cunctis conſimilem perornabit, ut nulla deformitas poſſit ab aliquo veraciter enarrari. Ipſam imaginem ſic plenè compoſitam Capellæ in cœmiterio de Berking-Chirch juxta turrim London ſituatæ, quam citius deſtinare ſtudeas, & ibidem ex parte aquilonari decenter ornari facias, unde majora tibi mirabilia ſcias veraciter protinus eminere—— Nam tam cito, quam facierum vultus dictus Marlibrunus infra ipſam Capellam diligenter inſpexerit, mox in amorem cœleſtem affectabitur, ut ad Fidem Catholicam, una cum uxore ſua Judæa convertetur, qui poſtmodum tibi multa Judæorum ſecreta eſt revelaturus, unde puniendi ſunt. Et tu, Edvarde, cum hoc miraculum videris, Omnipotenti Deo votum tuum vove, quod te vivente, & in Anglia exiſtente quolibet anno quinquies dictam imaginem ſub honore matris Chriſti viſitabis, eandemque Capellam quotieſcunque opus fuerit reparabis, & ſuſtentabis. Nam ille locus verè eſſe laudandus, qui cum hoc votum genuflectendo feceris, ſuper omnes gentes ſemper victorioſiſſimus atque inſuperabilis eris, & mortuo patre tuo, tu es Rex Angliæ ſubjugator Walliæ, & oppreſſor totius Scotiæ futurus. Et crede mihi, quod quilibet juſtus Angliæ Monarchus, ſeu forte alius, qui hoc votum devote voverit, & juxta ſuum poſſe firmiter adimpleverit ſuper Wallenſes & Scotos ſemper ſine dubio victorioſiſſimus, atque inſuperabilis erit, & hiis dictis evanuit. Ut ergo evigilans, & ſui ſompnum commemoravit velut raptus penè ſpiritu cœpit admirari. Verumtamen totum implevit quemadmodum per ſompnum in mandatis præhabuit. Inſuper coram nobis in præſentia multorum magnatum tam Angliæ, quam Scotiæ dictus Edvardus ſponte præſtitit juramentum: Quod omnia per ſompnum ſibi oſtenſa, ut prædictum eſt, huc uſque invenit veraciſſima. Nos igitur cupientes, ut dicta Capella congruis honoribus frequentetur, & à Chriſti fidelibus jugiter veneretur, omnibus verè pœnitentibus & confeſſis, qui ad ipſam Capellam cauſa devotionis & orationis acceſſerint. Et qui ad luminaria, reparamenta, & ornamenta manus ſuas porrexerint adjutrices: Necnon, & qui pro animabus nobilis Richardi quondam Regis Angliæ, cujus cor in eadem Capella ſub ſummo Altari requieſcit humatum: Et omnium fidelium defunctorum in Chriſto quieſcentium, orationem dominicam cum ſalutatione Angelica quotieſcunque & quandocunque pia mente dixerint de Omnipotentis Dei miſericordia, & beatorum Petri & Pauli Apoſtolorum ejus meritis & authoritate confiſi ſinguli ſingulas quadragenas dierum de injunctis eis pœnitentiis miſericorditer in Domino relaxamus, dum tamen loci Dioceſanus hanc noſtram Rotam habuerit indulgentiam. In quorum omnium Teſtimonium præſentes Literas noſtras Sigillis duximus roborandas. Dat' apud Northampton exiſtente Parliamento tam Angliæ quam Scotiæ viceſimo die Maii, Anno Domini milleſimo ducenteſimo nonageſimo primo.

N°. IV. Lib. Duck. f. 186.

WILLIAM by the Providence of God, Biſhop of London, to our well-beloved in Chriſt, Henry Maſon, Bachelour of Divinity, Parſon of the Pariſh-Church of S. Andrew Underſhaft, in the City of London, of our Dioceſe and Juriſdiction, of London, and to the Church-Wardens and Pariſhioners of the ſame Pariſh and to all others whom theſe Preſents do, ſhall, or may concern, ſendeth Greeting, in our Lord God everlaſting. Whereas you the ſaid Henry Maſon and the Church-Wardens and divers of the better ſort of the Pariſhioners of the ſame Pariſh, have ſignify'd unto us, by way of Petition, under your Hands, and have alſo alledg'd and ſignify'd, before the Right Worſhipful, Mr. Arthur Duck, Doctor of Laws, our Chancellor, that in the Year of our Lord God 1561. and in the 4th Year of our late Sovereign Queen Elizabeth, the Pariſh-Church of S. Mary at Axe, in the City of London, with the Aſſent and Conſent of the then Parſon of S. Andrew Underſhaft, and Pariſhioners of both Pariſhes, the Pariſh-Church of S. Mary at Axe, being then deſtitute of an Incumbent or Curate, and by the Authority of the Right Reverend Father in God Edmund Grindall, then Lord Biſhop of London, one of our Predeceſſors, was united, annex'd, incorporated and appropriated unto the Pariſh-Church of S. Andrew Underſhaft aforeſaid, together with all and ſingular Rights and Appurtenances thereunto belonging, and that the Pariſhioners and Inhabitants of the Pariſh of S. Mary at Axe, ſhould from thenceforth repair unto the Pariſh-Church of S. Andrew Underſhaft, aforeſaid, as to their own Pariſh-Church, and that the Church and Church-yard of S. Mary at Axe was aſſign'd and reſerv'd for a Burial-Place for, and to the Uſe of the Parſon and Pariſhioners of S. Andrew Underſhaft, aforeſaid, perpetually for the time to come; and you have farther alledg'd and ſignify'd, that the ſaid Church of S. Mary at Axe, ſince the ſaid Union, falling into Decay, was afterwards converted to profane and common Uſes, which you have lately caus'd to be reform'd, and that you intend and deſire that the lower Part of the ſaid Church of S. Mary at Axe (which you purpoſe to have pav'd with Tiles) may be aſſign'd and again reſtor'd and order'd to be for a Burial-Place, for the uſe of the Pariſhioners of your ſaid Pariſh, perpetually for the time to come; and that over the Floor or Pavement of the ſaid Church, there may be a Room built and made, which may be aſſign'd and order'd to be a Grammar-School; and our ſaid Chancellor having view'd the ſame Church, hath found it convenient for the Uſes aforeſaid. And you have farther alledg'd and ſignify'd, that you having firſt obtain'd our Leave, have accordingly built an upper Room, over the Floor or Pavement of the ſaid Church, at your own proper coſts and charges, which you intend and deſire may be a Grammar-School, for the bringing up and inſtructing the Children of the Pariſhioners, for the time being, for ever; and that you intend that four poor Children of your ſaid Pariſh of S. Andrew Underſhaft, from time to time, ſhall be taught gratis, and that in Conſideration thereof, the Maſter of the ſame School ſhall have and enjoy the ſame School-Room, Rent-free; and that you deſire the ſaid School-Maſter, ſhall from time to time be nominated and recommended by the Parſon, Church-Wardens and Pariſhioners of the ſaid Pariſh, for the time being, unto the Biſhop of London or his Chancellor, for the time being, and by them approv'd, licens'd and authoriz'd to teach the Grammar and the Latin Tongue, and to exerciſe the Office of a School-Maſter in the ſaid Room or School. And you alſo deſire, that the lower Part of the ſaid Church, being firſt pav'd with Tiles, as aforeſaid, may be aſſign'd, order'd and confirm'd for a Burial-Place, as aforeſaid. We therefore, the Biſhop aforeſaid, for the Reaſon before ſpecify'd, and for other good Cauſes and Conſiderations us thereunto eſpecially moving, have, and do by theſe Preſents, by our Authority, Ordinary and Epiſcopal, ſo far as in us is, and by Law, we can or may, aſſign, decree and confirm, that upper Part or Room of the ſaid Church of S. Mary at Axe, containing in length ſixty two Foot, or thereabout, and in Breadth, twenty five Foot and a half, built for a Grammar-School, as aforeſaid, for, and to the only Uſe of keeping a Grammar-School, for Teaching and Instructing of the Children of the Pariſhioners of the ſaid Pariſh, wherein four poor Children of your ſaid Pariſh, from time to time, are to be taught gratis, by the Maſter of the ſaid School, Rent-free. Provided always, that the ſaid Maſter of the ſaid School, ſhall from time to time, for ever, be licens'd approv'd and authoriz'd, by us or our Chancellor, for the time being, upon the Recommendation, Nomination, and Teſtimony of the Parſon, Church-Wardens and Pariſhioners, for the time being, of the ſaid Pariſh, from time to time, firſt made and exhibited under their Hands. And we do alſo by theſe Preſents, by our Authority, Ordinary and Epiſcopal, aſſign, ratify, decree, and confirm the ſaid lower Part or Room of the ſaid Church of S. Mary at Axe, for a Burial-Place, for and to the Uſe of the Pariſhioners of the Pariſh of S. Andrew Underſhaft, aforeſaid, perpetually for the time being, as formerly it was aſſign'd and reſerv'd by our ſaid Predeceſſor, upon the uniting and incorporating of the ſaid Church of S. Mary at Axe thereunto, as aforeſaid, provided that the ſaid Burial-Place be kept and reſerv'd from all common and profane Uſes, as it ought to be. In Witneſs whereof, we have caus'd the Seal of our ſaid Chancellor (which is us'd in this behalf) to be ſet to theſe Preſents. Dated the 6th Day of the Month of October, in the Year of our Lord God, 1634. and in the firſt Year of our Conſecration.

HERT-

HERTFORDSHIRE.

THAT Part of Hertfordſhire, which is within the Dioceſe of London, is the Deanry of Braughing, conſiſting of 29 Pariſhes, which lie in the Hundred of Braughing, Edwinſtree, and Hertford, and did of old belong to, and were part of the Kingdom of the East-Saxons. And the Archdeaconry of S. Albans, conſiſting of 22 Pariſhes, in this County, and 4 in Bucks, in all 26, formerly belong'd to the Monaſtery of S. Albans, and were ſubject thereto. But after the Diſſolution, in K. Hen. VIII. Reign, were by K. Edw. VI. by virtue of the Stat. 31. Hen. VIII. whereby the King was impower'd to give the Juriſdiction of all ſuch Monaſteries, Abbies, &c. which before were exempt from all Ordinary and Epiſcopal Juriſdiction, to ſuch Perſons as he ſhall appoint; were by the ſaid K. Edward's Letters Patents, dated Apr. 1. Regni 4. annex'd and ſubjected to the Biſhop of London, and his Succeſſors for ever, Bonner, 275. which were afterwards confirm'd by Q. Mary, by her Letters Patents, dated Mar. 2. Reg. 1. ibid. 375.

Of theſe Pariſhes in the ſaid Deanry, and Archdeaconry, I ſhall treat Alphabetically, according to my foregoing Method, beginning with S. Albans: But that Town having ſeveral Pariſh-Churches in it, and in Times paſt ſeveral religious Houſes, I think it proper to treat of them firſt.

Before I ſpeak of the Church of S. Alban, as a Pariſh-Church (ſo made ſince the Diſſolution) I ſhall give ſome Account of the Monaſtery, and in order thereunto, ſhall begin firſt with S. Alban, in Memory of whom, and to whoſe Honour the ſame was founded.

S. ALBAN.

WAS a famous Britain, living in the once renown'd City of Verulam, out of whoſe Ruins the Town of S. Albans aroſe. By ſome Writers ſtiled High-Steward of the Britains.

This Alban (as venerable Bede writes of him) in the Time of the Tenth Bede Hiſtor. Eccl. 31. Perſecution under Diocleſian and Maximian, Emperors of Rome, being then an Infidel, harboured in his Houſe a Chriſtian-Prieſt (whoſe Name, ſome ſay was Amphibolus) that hid himſelf from the Perſecutors, who ſought to apprehend him, by whom Alban was converted to the Faith of Chriſt, and by him baptiz'd. For ſuccouring of whom, and for his Profeſſion of Chriſt, this Alban being queſtion'd, and perſiſting therein, was apprehended in his own Houſe, where the Soldiers, who ſought for the Prieſt, found Alban in the Prieſt's Apparel; whereupon they carried him before the Judg. He there profeſſing himſelf a Chriſtian, was firſt ſcourged; but when the Judge ſaw, that by Torments he could not be drawn from his Religion, he commanded him to be beheaded.

The Time of his Martyrdom (as Fox ſays) was about the 2 or 3 Year of the 10th Perſecution, or about Ann. 301. which was (as Mr. Cambden ſays) toward the end of Diocleſian and Maximian. The Author of the Engliſh Martyrology ſays it was Ann. 303. In the Chron. Saxon. 283. Stow ſays 293. But Creſſy, in his Church Hiſtory, gives us the moſt probable Account, That S. Alban ſuffer'd Martyrdom in the Year of our Lord 286. And Bede has obſerv'd, that he ſuffer'd on 10. Kal. Jul. viz. June 23.2 on which Day his Paſſion is annually celebrated. Feaſt, Jun. 23 22 He was canoniz'd a Saint by Pope Adrian I. about Ann. 772.

At the Time of his Martyrdom (as Bede reports) certain Miracles were wrought; as, the drying up of a River at the Martyrs Prayers, which (the Waters being up) hinder'd his Paſſage to the Place of his Execution. Making a Well ſpring at the top of a Hill. The falling out of the Eyes of him that beheaded him And other Prodigies reported of him.

Mr. Camden gives him this Encomium, viz. That he was a Man juſtly eminent for his Piety and ſteadineſs in the Chriſtian Faith, Camd. Brit. N. E. 297. and was the firſt Man in all Britain, that with an invincible Conſtancy of Mind ſuffer'd Martyrdom, for which reaſon he is call'd our Stephen, and the Proto-Martyr of Britain. And Fortunatus, Presbyter, thus mentions him, > Albanum egregium fœcunda Britannia profert.

S. Alban's Monaſtery.

Bede Eccl. Hiſt. 30. Camd. Brit. N. E. 298. SOON after the Paſſion of S. Alban, the Perſecution ceaſing, here was built, by the Chriſtians, a Church to his Name, Mirandi operis, atque ejus martyrio condigna, ſays Bede. But Verulam, after this, being quite ruin'd by the Wars between the Britains and the Saxons; Offa, the moſt potent King of the Mercians, about the Year 793. founded, over againſt it, at a place then call'd Holmhurſt, a very large and ſtately Monaſtery, as the Charter it ſelf expreſſes it, "To our Lord Jeſus Chriſt, and to S. Alban, the Martyr, whoſe Reliques the divine Grace hath diſcover'd, as an hopeful Pledge both of our preſent Proſperity, and alſo of our future Happineſs. Preſently, with the Monaſtery, there grew up a Town, which, from the Saint, took the Name of Saint Albans. This King Offa, and ſeveral other Kings, his Succeſſors, beſtow'd on this Monaſtery large Poſſeſſions; and obtain'd for it, from divers Popes, very ample Privileges, ſo large, and ſo peculiar, that it was exempt from paying the Apoſtolical Tax to the Pope, commonly call'd Romeſcot; from which neither the King, nor the Archbiſhops, nor any Biſhop, Abbot or Prior, or any other Perſon in the Kingdom, were exempt. Furthermore, the Abbot (or a Monk that acted as Archdeacon under him) exerciſed Epiſcopal Juriſdiction over all the Clergy and Laity reſiding on any of the Lands hereunto belonging. So that the Abbot hereof was not ſubject to any Archbiſhop, or any Legat whatſoever, but to the Pope alone. 'Tis obſervable alſo, that when K. Offa made a Gift to the Pope of the Peter-Pence or Romeſcot, out of his Kingdom, he obtain'd of the Pope this peculiar Privilege for this Monaſtery, That they might collect, and return, when collected, all the Romeſcot or Peter-Pence throughout Hertfordſhire, in which County it ſtands. Wherefore, as the Church it ſelf, by the King's Grant, enjoyed all manner of Royalties; ſo the Abbot of the Place wore Epiſcopal Veſtments. Alſo Pope Adrian IV. who was born near Verulam, granted to the Abbots of this Monaſtery (theſe were the Words of the Privilege) "That as S. Alban is well known to be the Proto-Martyr of the Engliſh Nation, ſo the Abbot of this Monaſtery ſhould in all Time be reputed the Firſt in Dignity of all the Abbots in England.

K. Offa, the Founder, enjoyned the Abbot and Monks of this Monaſtery, to obſerve and live after the Rule of S. Benedict, for ever.

As great were the Privileges, ſo, many were the Lands, Churches, and Cells wherewith this Monaſtery was endowed, ſo that at the Diſſolution it was valu'd at 2102 l. 07 s. 01 d. ob. q. per Ann. Dugdale. 2510 l. 06 s. 01 d. ob. q. Speed.

I ſhould now give ſome Account of the ſeveral Abbots of this Monaſtery; but that being ſo exactly done by the Right Worſhipful Sir Henry Chancy, Knt. Serjeant at Law, in his laborious Work, entitled, The Hiſtorical Antiquities of Hertfordſhire, publiſh'd Ann. 1700. I ſhall give little more than their Names, ſucceſſively, out of Matthew Paris, till towards the end of K. Henry III. and of the reſt from other Authorities.

S. Alban's Town.

S. Albans is a Market and Borough-Town in Caiſho-Hundred, in Hertfordſhire, about 20 Miles N. W. from London. After the Diſſolution of the Abby, for preſervation of the Goverment of the Town, K. Edw. VI. by his Charter dat. May 12. in Reg. 7. 1553. incorporated it by the name of Mayor and Burgeſſes of the Burrough of S. Albans, of which ſee more in Hiſt. Antiq. of Hertfordſh. pag. 450. &c. but that not being my proper Subject, I proceed to treat of ſuch Religious Houſes and Pariſh-Churches as have been and are in this Town, and within its Liberties.

S. German's Chapel.

THE Pelagian Hereſie by the means of Agricola, Son to Biſhop Severianus prevailing in this Iſland, and polluting the Britiſh Churches, German, Biſhop of Auxerre, and Lupus, Biſhop of Troyes, were ſent for out of France about A. 429. to maintain the Truth, and they, eſpecially German, gained a reverend Eſteem among the Britains, by refuting this Hereſie, which induced them to dedicate many Churches to German (as particularly that of Bobingworth, in Eſſex, where you may read ſomething of his Life ;) among whom Ulpho, Prior of the Church of S. Albans, a Man of great Holineſs, by permiſſion of Eudfrith the fifth Abbot, built a famous Chapel near the ruin'd Walls of Verulam, to the Honour of this Saint, in which Place, he had openly preach'd God's Word, as the antient Records of S. Alban's Church teſtifie ; which German flouriſh'd in the time of Conſtantine ; The Ruins of this Chapel were lately to be ſeen expos'd to a prophane Uſe. But Sir Tho. Cotton being poſſeſt of it about the Year 1687. ſold it to Hen. Killigrew, Eſq; one of our late Admirals, 1693. who has ſince quite demoliſh'd it.

S. Mary

Math. Par. vit. Ab. 39.

IN the ſaid Chapel of S. German, a certain Monk of great ſanctity, nam'd Ulfa, a Dane, and of kin to Abbot Eadfrith; led a Hermits Life a long time, to whom even Biſhops and grave Men came often to Confeſſion, and to have his Prayers. After his Death, he the ſaid Abbot Eadfrith, who had led a kind of a diſſolute Life before, coming to himſelf, reſign'd his Abbacy, and erecting ſome Buildings near the Place where the ſaid Hermit dwelt, and ſpent there the reſt of his Days in ſolitude, and bewailing the Errors of his Life. This Abbot, after he turn'd Hermit, was ſo reverenc'd for his Holy Living, by Ulſinus his next Succeſſor, that when he was dead, he ſolemnly perform'd his Exequies, buried him among the Abbots, and out of reverence to S. German and the Servant of God, not far from it, he built an Oratory or Chapel to the Honour of S. Mary Magdalen, which (I ſuppoſe) is ſince totally ruin'd.

S. Julian's Hoſpital.

Niceph. Eccl. Hiſt. lib. 5. c. 30. p. 253.

NEAR S. Albans was an Hoſpital founded by Galfridus the 16th Abbot of S. Albans, for Lepers, to the Honour of S. Julian the Martyr; who in the 7th Perſecution under Decius, being an old Man, and diſeaſed with the Gout, was carried by two Men, of whom one quickly denied, and was diſmiſs'd; but the other Cronion, ſurnamed Eunus, with the aforeſaid Julian, confeſſing the Lord with a perfect Faith, were laid upon Camels, and there ſcourged, and at length caſt into the Fire, and with great Conſtancy were conſum'd. The Feſtival of Julian is placed within our Kalend. Jan. 9. Feaſt, Jan. 9.

Math. Par. de vit. Ab. 57.

To the Honour of this Saint and Martyr this Hoſpital being founded and dedicated by the aforeſaid Abbot in the time of K. Hen. I. was likewiſe by him plentifully endowed (to wit) with lx s. yearly Rent, which was then the Tyth of the Rent of the Town of S. Albans. Alſo with xxx s. which Peter of Syret receiv'd of Redings of Syret. All the Tyth Corn of the Lordſhip of Hamſtude. All the Tyth of the Lordſhip of Kingsberry, and two parts of the Tyth-Corn of S. Michaels, and S. Stephens, except that which the Chaplain of the Lepers had, and alſo with ſeveral other Portions of Tyths of ſeveral Lordſhips lying in other Pariſhes and Places not far from the Town of S. Albans. All which the ſaid Abbot Jeeffry, with the Counſel and good Will of his Chapter beſtow'd on this Hoſpital, with a Curſe on thoſe that ſhould unjuſtly take away any part of it. Theſe Donations were made by this Abbot, to pray for the Souls of K. Offa, K. Hen. I. of Paul and Richard Abbots of this Church, and for the good Eſtate and Preſervation of the ſame, and for the Monks ſerving God there; all which was confirm'd by K. Hen. I. to the ſaid Lepers. To whom alſo K. Hen. II. gave the Preb. of Robert de Deping, viz. one Penny a Day for the Soul of the ſaid K. Hen. I. and other his Anceſtors.

Ibid. 224, &c.

The Revenues and Privileges of this Houſe of S. Julian, were likewiſe confirm'd by Pope Gregory, 4. Id. Jun. in the 2d Year of his Pontificate, and by Pope Innocent, 4. Non. Maii, in the 6th of his Pontificate, and alſo by two Abbots of S. Albans, namely Roger, A. 1287. and Richard, in 1329.

ibid.

Finally, Michael the 29th Abbot, hereof, made ſeveral Statutes for the better Government of this Hoſpital, wherein (inter alia) he order'd that ſix Lepers ſhould be maintain'd therein, whereas, before there were ſeldom above two or three, the Founder having conſtituted no certain Number; who, likewiſe, having allotted maintenance but for one Prieſt to celebrate Divine Offices there, this Abbot, Michael, ordain'd that there ſhould be five at leaſt, finding that the Revenues were ſufficient to maintain as many. And of theſe five Prieſts, one of them was to be Maſter, to be conſtituted, and to be diſplac'd upon Miſdemeanor, by the Abbot of S. Albans for the time being.

This was the State of this Hoſpital in the time of Abbot Michael, who (as before is ſaid) died in 1342. and ſo, probably, it continued till the Diſſolution; upon which it came to the Crown, whence it was convey'd to Tho. Lee, from whom it came to Everard Digby, by one of whoſe Family (as is ſuppos'd) it was ſold to John Ellis, Eſq; Citizen and Draper of London, who built a fair Houſe here, and gave it to Thomas his ſecond Son, who ſold it to Hen. Killigrew afore-named, the preſent Poſſeſſor, 1693. Antiq. Hertſ. 4[illegible]

S. Mary de Pratis, vel de Prée, Hoſpital.

GArine, or Warine, the 20th Abbot of S. Albans, A. 1190. founded an Hoſpital for Leprous Nuns, of the Order of S. Benedict, near S. Albans, to the Honour of the B. V. S. Mary, in a Place compaſſed about with Meadow, and thence commonly call'd S. Mary de Pratis, or de Prée, and gave to the diſeaſed Women there the Place wherein the Chapel was built, the Shops on either ſide the publick Street, with the Way on the End of the Arable-Field, and Meadow of Kingsbury, and divers other things. Math Par. vit. Ab. 97.

King John, by his Charter dated May 1. in the 5th of his Reign, for the Health of his Soul, and the Souls of his Anceſtors, and his Heirs, gave to God, and the Church of S. Mary de Prée, and to the Leprous and Diſeaſed Women there 30 Acres of Eſſart, in the Wood of Elbroc, in pure and perpetual Alms, who enjoyed it till their Diſſolution. Mon. Ang. 1. Vol. 347.

But the chief Endowment of this Hoſpital was out of the Church of S. Alban, to the prejudice of the ſame, and not to the Credit of the Founder. However, being once Founded, it daily increas'd by the Charitable Benevolence of other Benefactors. Math. Par. ut ſupra 98.

The Cemitery of this Hoſpital was conſecrated in the time of William de Trumpington the 22d Abbot, by Thomas, Biſhop of Down, at the deſire of the ſaid Abbot, 6. Kal. of January. ibid. 119.

This Hoſpital was one of thoſe Religious Foundations, which were granted by K. Hen. VIII. Reg. 20. to Card. Wolſey, towards the Erection of his two Colleges at Oxford, and Ipſwich; and falling again to the Crown, on the ſaid Cardinals incurring a Premunire; the ſame King by his Charter dated May 12. Reg. 32. granted the Site hereof to Ralph Rowlet, Sen. of S. Albans, Eſq; whoſe Son and Heir Sir Ralph Rawlet dying without Iſſue; it paſſed to his two Siſters and Heirs, Mary married to John Maynard of S. Albans, Eſq; and the other to Ralph Jennings of Church, in the County of Somerſet. Sopwell-Nunnery.

IN the time of Jeoffry the 16th Abbot of S. Albans, and about the Year 1140. two Religious Women made a poor Houſe by wradling of the Boughs of Trees with Rods, covering it with Bark near the Wood call'd Eiwood not far from the River, where they began to live with Faſting and Prayer under a wonderful Abſtinence; and when their laudable and conſtant behaviour for many Years, was made known to the ſaid Abbot Jeoffry, he, perſuaded by Divine Revelation, built a Cell here, and commanded, that convenient Houſes ſhould be erected for the Women, and appointed them to be clothed with ſuch Garments as Nuns, and to live under the Order of S. Benedict, and by the Aſſiſtance of the B. V. Mary (to whom this Houſe was dedicated) he illuſtrated the neighbouring part with their good Report. And the ſaid Abbot, gave certain Poſſeſſions and Rents to ſupport their honeſt, but recluſe Life. Mat. Par. vit. Ab. 58.

This memorable Houſe was call'd Sopwell, from a neighbouring Spring near that Place down in a Bottom, whence the former Women were wont to fetch Water to dreſs their Meat. Moreover the Abbot, tender of the Credit and Safety of his Nuns, ordain'd that they ſhould be inclos'd in their Houſe under Locks and Bolts, and Seal of the Abbot for the time being; and that none ſhould be taken into their College, but a ſelect and limited Number of 13 Virgins. He gave them a Churchyard, which he cauſed to be dedicated, and appointed that none but thoſe of the Nunnery ſhould be buried there. ibid.

Henry

Mon. Ang. 1. Vol. 348. Henry of Albin, and the Lady Cicely his Wiſe, gave two Hides of Land, in the Mannour of Cotes, to S. Mary, and the Houſe near S. Albans, which Roger, his ſolitary Brother, formerly repair'd for the Uſe thereof; and that they might take from the Wood of the ſaid Mannour neceſſaries for their Houſe, their Fire, and their Incloſure. This Gift was made for the Soul of William, who ſubdued England, and his Sons, and for their Fathers and Mothers, and their Sons and Daughters, and for their own Sons, which God now hath, or ſhall give them.

Ibidem. When Robert de Albin, and Cicely his Mother, placed Amy a young Maiden, Siſter of Robert, and Daughter of Cicely in this Cell, they gave with her to God and Holy Mary, and the Maidens of Chriſt in this Cell one Virgate of Land, which Salid held, together with the ſaid Salid.

Ibidem. Richard de Tany, granted to S. Mary and the Nuns of Sopwell, all his Lands which Robert Niger held in the Soke of Tidehang, call'd Blackhide; in pure, perpetual, and free Alms, to hold quit from all Services, Cuſtoms and Exactions.

Antiq. Hertſ. 261. Upon the Suppreſſion hereof, K. Hen. VIII. granted it to Sir *Ric. S. ALBANS.

I Should now (before I come to the Parochial-Churches) give ſome account of the Archdeaconry, and Archdeacons of S. Albans, to whoſe Juriſdiction under the Biſhop thoſe Churches are ſubject. But having already treated thereof among the ſeveral Archdeaconries, I refer the Reader thither, and proceed to the ſeveral Pariſh-Churches in this County, Part of the ſaid Dioceſe, included in the Deanry of Braughing, and this Archdeaconry of S. Albans, in an Alphabetical Order. But in regard there are Three Pariſh-Churches in this Burrough, viz. S. Albans, S. Michaels, and S. Peters, and One without the Burrough, namely S. Stephens; I ſhall begin with them, and go on with the reſt in my uſual Method.

S. Alban's, Rectory.

Antiq. Hertſ. 433. BEfore the Monaſtical-Church of S. Alban was made Parochial, there was a Church near thereunto dedicated to S. Andrew, which was the Pariſh-Church for the Inhabitants of S. Andrew's Pariſh; but is demoliſh'd ſince the Reign of King Edw. VI. who, when by his Charter dated May 12. in the 7th of his Reign he Incorporated this Town, did (inter alia) in conſideration, that the Inhabitants of this Burrough paid to him the Sum of 400 l. grant to the Mayor and Burgeſſes, that the Collegiate-Ch. of S. Alban ſhall be the Pariſh-Church of the Burrough for the Inhabitants of the late Pariſh of S. Andrews. And all the Meſſuages, Houſes, Buildings, Lands, Tenements, waſt Ground and Soil whatſoever within the late Pariſh of S. Andrew, ſhall be reputed Part of the new-conſtituted Pariſh of S. Albans. And, farther, granted to them all the Walls, Structures, Buildings, Roof, Lead, Iron, Glaſs and Bells of the Church, and the Land and Soil thereof, and all the Chapels, Veſtries, and Sumpter-yard there, and Site of the ſame.

ibid. And that in the Church of S. Alban there ſhall be a Rector; who ſhall have the Care of the Souls of the Pariſhioners, Adminiſter the Sacrament there, and perform all other things, which belong to the Office of the Rector of any Pariſh of the Kingdom. And the King conſtituted George Witherall, Clerk, the firſt Rector of the ſame for Term of Life, and granted to him and his Succeſſors, in right of the Church all manner of Tyths, Oblations, and all other Eccleſiaſtical Rights and Profits within the Pariſh of S. Alban for ever; which Tyths, Oblations, Rights, and Eccleſiaſtical Profits, did then amount to the clear yearly Value of x l. And were rated at the Value of x l. to the Payment of the Firſt-Fruits, and at i l. yearly for the Tenths.

And the King did likewiſe grant the Advouſon, and right of Patronage of the ſaid Rectory of S. Alban to the Mayor and Burgeſſes, to hold of the King by fealty in free Burgage of the Burrough of S. Albans, for all Services and Demands, and not in Capite, tendring yearly to the King x l in the name of Fee-farm, to be paid at the Court of Augmentations at the Feaſt of S. Michael every Year in lieu of all Rents, Services, and Demands. It is ſubject to the Archdeacon.

This Monaſtical, but now Parochial-Church of S. Alban, is a Pile of Building; which for its Largeneſs, Beauty, and Antiquity, may juſtly challenge a particular Regard. To which I may add, that from the Steeple Weſt-ward (according to the beſt Obſervation that I can make) it is the longeſt of any Cathedral or Collegiate-Church in England. And when the Monks were turn'd out, had it not been purchaſed, as aforeſaid, by the Towns-men, it had been laid even with the Ground. But being made Parochial was preſerv'd from that Sacrilegious Deſolation, and was of late repair'd, and handſomly adorned, whilſt Mr. Archdeacon Carter was Rector thereof, a little before his Death, which happen'd in 1687. with Money collected by Vertue of a Brief granted by K. Charles II. for that purpoſe. Arch. 5. Alb. Camb. Brit. N.E. 300.

After the Death of Mr. Carter, the Rectory and Pariſh-Church of Much-Mundon in this County, but in the Dioceſe of Lincoln, was annex'd to this Rectory of S. Alban for the better Support of the Rector; which Ch. of Much-Mundon was valued in the King's Books at xxi l. xix s. vi d. and the Kings of this Realm were Patrons of it. And it ſeems after the Death of Mr. Carter, K. James II. by his Grant dated Feb. 25. 1687. granted the Advouſon of the ſaid Church to John, Lord Churchill, and Thomas Docwra, in truſt to preſent the Rector of S. Albans to the ſame; which happening to be void ſince, is now enjoyed by John Cole, Rector (and alſo Archdeacon) of S. Albans, preſented thereto by the ſaid Truſtees, according to the ſaid Grant. Antiq. Hertf. 342.

In this Church of S. Alban are ſeveral Memorials of that Saint, and King Offa the Founder. The Monument of Humfry, Duke of Gloceſter; The Tombs and Grave-Stones of ſeveral of the Abbots, and Monks hereof, and alſo of ſeveral Gentlemen, and others, with Inſcriptions, ſet forth at large in the Antiq. of Hertf. pag. 469, &c. where the curious Inquirer may give himſelf ſatisfaction.

Alexander Necham, Nekam, or Nequam, for his knowledge in good Arts famous throughout the World, call'd Miraculum Ingenii, was born in this Town, and his Body is ſaid to be buried in this Church; but all do not agree in the later; for Pitts tells us (after a large Encomium of his vertuous Qualifications, Parts, and Learning) that he was ambitious to be of the Order of S. Benedict, and wou'd fain have been admitted into this Abby, which he had often intimated to the Abbot; but being put off by delays, he at laſt wrote to the Abby thus, Si vis, veniam, ſin autem, tu autem, who anſwer'd as briefly alluding to his Name, Si bonus ſis, venias, ſi Nequam, nequaquam; which anſwer he took ſo ill, that he left S. Albans, and ſlighting the Order of S. Benedict, took on him the Order of a Canon Regular of S. Auguſtin, in the Abby of Exeter, where in the Year 1215. he was choſen Abbot, and ſpent the reſt of his Days; ſaving only that he died in a Journey at Worceſter, and was there buried Anno 1227. on whoſe Tomb theſe following Verſes were inſcrib'd. Pitts de illuſt. Aug. Strip. ſub An. 1227.

Ecclypſin patitur Sapientia, Sol ſepelitur,
Cui, ſi par unus, minus eſſet flebile funus,
Vir bene diſcretus, & in omni more facetus
Dictus erat Nequam, vitam duxit tamen æquam.

But Weaver tells us, That he was Abbot of S. Maries, in Cirenceſter, at the time of his Death, and was buried in the Church of S. Alban; for he thus cites it out of the Annals of Waverly MS. in the Cotton-Library. Fun. Mon. 372.

> Alexander Cognomento Nequam Abbas Cireceſtriæ literarum Scientia clarus; Obiit Ann. Dom. 1217. lit. Dom. C. prid. Kal. Feb. & Sepultus erat apud Fanum S. Albani, cujus Animæ propitietur Altiſſimus. Amen.

But let him be Abbot, and his Body be interr'd, where, or in what Year it will (for our Authors diſagree in all) it is certain, that he was a moſt exact Philoſopher, and Mathematician, an excellent Divine, an accurate Rhetorician, and an admirable Poet, as appears by the many and ſeveral ſorts of Books he wrote, a Catalogue whereof may be ſeen in Pitts.

Dug. Bar. 1. Tom. 57.

This, now Parochial-Church was likewiſe honour'd with the Sepulture of ſeveral Nobles (beſides that of Humfry, Duke of Gloceſter) namely of Robert Mowbray the famous ſtout Earl of Northumberland, in the time of K. William Rufus, who was detain'd Priſoner in Windſor-Caſtle by that King, and his Succeſſor Henry I. for many Years; but at laſt was ſhorn a Monk in this Abby, where he died in 1106, and was buried on the North ſide of the Veſtry, where he had a Monument, and an Epitaph engraven, to be ſeen in Weaver, p. 571.

The Quarrel of the Houſes of York and Lancaſter, fill'd our Ladies Chapel here with the Dead Bodies of the Nobility ſlain in and about this Town, whoſe Funeral Trophies are waſted by devouring Time.

Weav. ut ſupra, 573.

Amongſt which of chiefeſt Note were Edmund, Duke of Somerſet, Grand-child to John of Gaunt, who was ſlain under the Sign of the Caſtle in this Town, being long before warned (as it is reported) to avoid all Caſtles. Henry, Lord Percy, Earl of Northumberland, and the valiant old Lord Clifford; all which Three loſt their Lives in the firſt Battle of S. Albans, A. 1455. the Thurſday before Pentecoſt, fighting valiantly for K. Henry VI. againſt Richard, Duke of York.

Camd. Brit. N. E. 300. ibid. 305.

To this I may add, that goodly Font of ſolid Braſs, wherein the Kings Children of Scotland were wont to be baptiz'd; which Font Richard Lee, Knight, Maſter of the Pioneers, brought as a Spoil out of Scotland, an. 1543. and gave to this Church; which was taken away and broken to pieces, in the late Rebellion, by * thoſe Hands, which let nothing ſtand that could be converted into Money; on which Font was this Inſcription:

* One Hickman, a vile Ironmonger, a Juſtice of Peace, proper for thoſe times.

> *Cum Læthia oppidum apud Scotos non incelebre, & Edenburgus primaria apud eos Civitas incendio conflagrarent Richardus Leus, Eques Auratus me Flammis ereptum ad Anglos perduxit. S. Michael's

S. Michael's Vicarage.

THIS Pariſh-Church (dedicated to S. Michael the Archangel) is in the Burrough of S. Albans, ſtanding within the Limits of Old Verulam; and is ſubject to the Archdeacon.

Archid. S. Alb. Math. Paris, vit. Abb. 39.

It was built by Ulſin or Ulſig, the Sixth Abbot of S. Albans, in the North-Weſt part of the Town, about An. 950. who in the Reign of Ethelred, ſurnam'd The Moſt Pious, obtain'd from him a Confirmation of all the former Grants to the Monaſtery of S. Alban, and procured a new Grant of a Market in this Town, where he built divers Houſes, for the Convenience of thoſe, who were diſpoſed to live here; and by the Addition of theſe Houſes, this Town became a Burrough; and then built this Church of S. Michael (and thoſe of S. Peter and S. Stephen, of which in their proper places) as well for the Ornament and Profit of the Burrough, as for the Health of his Soul.

ibid. 57.

After this, Jeoffry, the 16th Abbot of this Monaſtery, and Founder of the aforeſaid Hoſpital of S. Julian, gave (inter alia) Two Parts of the Tyth-Corn of the Inhabitants of this Pariſh for the Maintenance of the poor Lepers there, which was confirm'd by Pope Gregory, in the ſecond Year of his Pontificate, 4. Id. Maii.

ibid. 246.

And in the Time of John, the ſecond of that Chriſtian Name, and 23. Abbot of S. Albans, this Church of S. Michael being void, was, with the Aſſent of the Abbot or Convent, aſſign'd or appropriated to the Office of Sacriſt, which then was but mean.

ibid. 145.

Whether, immediately upon this, there was a Vicarage here ordained and endowed, appears not; but if there was, doubtleſs the Patronage or Collation thereof continu'd in the Abbot and Convent till their Suppreſſion; but came thereupon to the Crown. After ſome time, the Advowſon of this Vicarage was in Sir Nicolas Bacon, Lord Keeper of the Great Seal; for it appears, That the Lady Anne Bacon, his Relict, preſented to it, in 1591. And, on the Death of Anthony, elder Son of the ſaid Sir Nicolas, by Anne (his ſecond Wife) it came, on the next Vacancy (in 1607.) to the famous Sir Francis Bacon, Knt. who (a little to digreſs) was the youngeſt of thoſe two Male-Children, which Sir Nicolas had by Anne; was born at York Houſe in the Strand, 2. Jan. 1560. educated in Trinity-College, Cambridge, under Dr. John Whitgift (afterwards Archbiſhop of Canterbury) then in Grays-Inn, where, in a ſhort time, he became ſo highly eſteemed, that *Eliz.*30. (he then 28 Years old) that Honourable Society choſe him for their Lent-Reader; and *Eliz.*32. he was made a Clerk of the Council. Eliz. 41. he was double Reader in the ſame, and then he cauſed that beautiful Grove of Elms to be planted in the Walks there, which yet remain. On July 23. (1. Jac. I.) he was Knighted at White-Hall. Jac. 2. was made of the King's Council, learned. Jac. 5. he was made Solicitor-General. Jac. 9. was joyn'd in Commiſſion with Sir Tho. Vavaſor, then Knight-Marſhal of the Knight-Marſhal's-Court, then newly erected, within the Verge of the King's Houſe. Octob. 27. Jac. 11. being made Attorney General, was ſworn of the Privy-Council. Mar. 7. Jac. 14. he was made Lord-Keeper of the Great Seal, then 54 Years of Age. Jan. 4. Jac. 16. was made Lord-Chancellour of England. July 11. following, he was created Lord Verulam. And, Jac. 18. Jan. 27. Viſcount S. Alban. But long he enjoy'd not that great Office of Lord-Chancellour; for in Lent, Jac. 18. Corruption in the Exerciſe thereof being laid to his charge (of which 'tis believ'd his Servants were moſt guilty, and himſelf not much acceſſary) the Great Seal was taken from him. He married Alice, one of the Daughters and Co-Heirs of Benedict Barnham, Alderman of London, with whom he had an ample Portion, but by her had no Children to perpetuate his Memory: Which his Learned Works, being for the moſt part compoſed in the Five laſt Years of his Life will amply ſupply, being then totally retired from all Civil Affairs, and applying himſelf daily to Contemplation and Study. He died Apr. 9. 1626. (being Eaſter-day) aged 66 Years, at the Earl of Arundels Houſe, in Highgate, whither he caſually repaired about a Week before, and was buried (which brings me to this our Church of S. Michael again) in the North-ſide of the Chancel, where he has a Monument of white Marble, repreſenting his full Body in a contemplative Poſture, ſitting in a Chair. Erected by Sir Tho. Meautys, Kt. formerly his Secretary. On which is this following Epitaph, compoſed by the learned Sir Henry Wotton, Kt.

S. Peter's Vicarage.

Archid. S. Alb. THIS Pariſh-Church (dedicated to S. Peter) ſtands on the North-ſide of S. Albans, and is ſubject to the Archdeacon.

Math. Paris vit. Abb. 39. It was built (as was that of S Michael) by Ulſin or Ulſig the 6th Abbot of S. Albans. The Church-Yard was long after that, in the Time of Will. de Trumpington, the 22d Abbot, conſecrated by Thomas, Biſhop of Down, 7. ibid. 57. Jeoffry, the 16th Abbot, gave this Church, with all its Appurtenances, to the Infirmary of his Monaſtery, in Jus perpetuum.

ibid. 100. This Church then of S. Peter, being thus appropriated to the ſaid Infirmary, John, the ſecond Abbot of S. Albans, of that Name, inſtituted a Vicarage here, on the Feaſt of S. Coſme and S. Damian, Ann. 1235. the Patronage whereof (I ſuppoſe) continu'd in the Abbot and Convent of S. Albans, till their Diſſolution, upon which they came to the Crown, and were given by K. Edw. VI. in the firſt of his Reign (inter alia) to the Coll. of Fotheringhey, in Northamptonſhire: But that being ſoon after diſſolved, the ſame again devolv'd to the Crown, in which the Patronage of the Vicarage (as appears) continu'd for ſome time; but was at length, it ſeems, granted to the Biſhop of Ely, and his Succeſſors; for it appears, that K. Charles I. preſented to it in 1637. by reaſon of the Vacancy of the Biſhoprick of Ely. And after the Reſtauration of K. Cha. II. the preſent Vicar was admitted to it, in 1661. at the Preſentation of the Biſhop of that Sea.

Coll. Magiſtri J. Onſeley.

Rob Robotham, Eſq; (ſometimes Steward and Secretary to the Right Honourable Henry Lord Clifford, Earl of Northumberland) who died on the 6th. of March, 1672. and was buried in the Chancel of this Church; gave (inter alia) 5 l. per Ann. to the Vicar of this Church, and to his Succeſſors for ever.

Antiq. Hertf, 473.

This Church and Churchyard were ſtuffed full with Bodies of ſuch as were ſlain in the two Battels fought in this Town. Of 3 of thoſe that were buried, here remains ſome Memorials, by the Inſcriptions on their Tombs, namely, of Sir Bertyn Entwiſel, Kt. and of Ralph Bubthorp, the Father, Eſquire to K. Hen. VI. and of Ralph Bubthorp, the Son, Sewer to the ſame King; which may be read in *Weav. S. Stephen's Vicarage.

I Come next to this Pariſh-Church, becauſe it is near the Town of S. Alban, though not within the Borough; it is dedicated to S. Stephen the Proto-Martyr, and gives Name to the Vill where it ſtands, which is called S. Stephen's Pariſh; and is ſubject to the Archdeacon.

Archid. S. Alb.

The Church is ſituate on a Hill, on the South-ſide of the Town, and was built (as were thoſe of S. Michael and S. Peter) by the aforeſaid Abbot Ulſin; and two Parts of the Tyth-Corn thereof was given by the aforeſaid Abbot Jeoffry, to the ſaid Hoſpital of S. Julian (as it was in that of S. Michael) and confirm'd to it by the aforeſaid two Popes, viz. Gregory and Innocent, and by ſome of the ſucceeding Abbots of this Monaſtery.

This Church is ſaid to be dedicated by Ralph (Flambard) Biſhop of Durham, in the Reign of K. Hen. I. who was ſent for from London for that and other Purpoſes, poſes, by Robert de Gorham, the 18th Abbot of S. Albans, at the Time when Q. Maud, Wife of the ſaid King died, Anno 1117.

Math. Paris, vit. Abb. 78.

This Church, it ſeems, did belong to the Abbots of S. Albans in a peculiar manner, till Will. de Trumpington was promoted to that Dignity, who gave this Ch. to the Convent there, for the Maintenance or Supply of their Kitchen.

And being thus appropriated, here was a Vicarage ordained and endowed, of which one of the Maſters of S. Julians was in After-Times Vicar, and was buried here, as appears by his Epitaph following, " Hic jacet Johannes Grill, quondam Magiſter Sancti Juliani, & Vicarius iſtius Eccleſiæ, qui obiit Sexto die Decembris 1449. cujus Animæ propitietur altiſſimus.

The Patronage of this Vicarage (I preſume) was in the Convent of S. Albans, and ſo continu'd till their Diſſolution, on which it came to the Crown; but in the First of Edw. VI. the Parſonage of S. Stephen, with that Portion of Tyths in this Pariſh, which was given, as aforeſaid, to the Hoſpital of S. Julian, was ſetled by that King (inter alia) on the Coll. of Fotheringay (as were thoſe of S. Peter) by way of Exchange. But on the Diſſolution of that College ſoon after, it reverted to the Crown. But to whom granted afterwards, I find not. However, it appears, That the Patronage of this Vicarage, was in Sir Rich. Lee, Kt. Ann. 1571. and from him came firſt to Humfrey Coninsby, Eſq; by reaſon (as I conceive) of his Marriage with Maud, one of the Daughters and Co-Heirs of the ſaid Sir Ric. Lee, of Sopwell; but ſhe dying without Iſſue, it came to the Sadlers, by the Inter-Marriage of Edwin Sadler, with Anne, the other Daughter and Co-Heir of the ſaid Sir Richard. It was ſold at laſt to John Ellis, Eſq; who preſented in 1665. whoſe Son Thomas, ſold it to Hen. Killigrew, Eſq; ibid. 504. There was an annual Penſion or yearly Rent of xxvi s. viii d. paid out of this Vicarage of S. Stephen, which by Act of Parliament in 33 Hen. VIII. was (inter alia) ſetled on Anthony Denny, Eſq; and his Heirs.

Coll. Magiſt. J. Ouſeley.

Antiq. Hertf. 459.

I come now to the reſt of the Pariſh Churches in the Archdeaconry of S. Albans, and in the Deanry of Braughing, in Alphabetical Order.

Albury, Vicarage.

Pec. Dec. & cap. THIS Pariſh of Aldbury, or Aldebury, in old Records Eldeberie, lies in the Deanry of Braughing, and Hundred of Edwinſtre, about 27-30 Miles North from London, but is a Peculiar belonging to the Dean and Chapter of S. Pauls, of which place they are Ordinaries. And the Treaſurers of the Cathedral-Church of S. Pauls are Patrons.

Antiq. Hertf. 147. The Mannour here was part of the Poſſeſſions of the Biſhops of London; and in the Conquerour's Survey, Ralph held Eldeberie of the Biſhop of London, which was rated for two Hides and a half.

In the Time of King Stephen, Robert de Sigillo, Biſhop of London, was poſſeſs'd of this Mannour, but gave the Profits of the Church here (i.e.) the Mannour of the Rectory, and Tyths of the Church (with certain other Churches, namely, Sudmenſtre, Pelham Furnels, and Pelham Sarners, which were ſaid to belong to his own Table) to Godfrey, the firſt Treaſurer of the Cathedral Church of S Paul, for the Maintenance of him and his Succeſſors in that Office for ever; as may be ſeen in what I have written of that Office. Reg. Dec. & Cap. lib. A. fol. 44. Hiſt.Paul.*p.*9.

When Ralph de Diceto was Dean of S. Pauls, Ann. 1181. the State of this Ch. of Aldbury ſtood thus:

"Eccleſia de Aldeberia eſt de Theſauraria, non ſolvit Synodalia nec Denarios "beati Petri, omnino libera præter xx s. quod reddit vicecomiti pro dimidia Hi-"da quam tenet, de qua habet Theſaurarius in dominio x. acras. Præterea ha-"bet Theſaurarius in dominio vi. acras, de quibus debet invenire lumen in Eccle-"ſia omni nocte. Præterea habet reditum aſſiſum xii. Solidorum. Reg. præd. lib. B. f. 26.

In the beginning of Hen. III. there was a Suit, it ſeems between Peter, the Treaſurer, Plaintiff, and Anſelme de Aldebury, Deforciant, concerning certain Lands in Aldebury, which the ſaid Peter had granted to William, the elder Brother of the ſaid Anſelme, to whom the ſaid Anſelme was Heir. But in 4. Hen. III. (1219.) there was a final end put to this Suit, before the King's Juſtices. ibid. lib. A. f. 30.

Not long after this, William de Aldebur, and his Wife, ſurrendred up all their Right which they had in all the Land they held in this Pariſh of the Treaſurer of S. Pauls, to Peter the then Treaſurer (which was Peter de S. Mariæ Eccleſia) the Inſtrument of Surrender follows:

"Omnibus, &c. Will. de Aldebur, & Hodierna, ejus uxor, ſalutem. Noveritis "nos reddidiſſe, & quietum clamâſſe de nobis & hæredibus noſtris Petro Theſaura-"rio S. Pauli, & ſucceſſoribus ſuis ejuſdem Eccleſiæ Theſaurariis totum jus, quod "habuimus in tota Terra, quam de eo in Parochia de Aldebur' tenuimus. T. R. "Decano, W. Archidiacono, Lond. R. Archid. Colch. Magiſt. J. de Wyteng. ib. lib. A. f. 20.

By the Witneſſes to this Surrender it appears, That it was made when Euſtace de Fauconbergh was Biſhop of London; for they, with the ſaid Peter the Treaſurer, and others, were Witneſſes to the Ordination of the Vicarage of Witham in Eſſex, by the ſaid Biſhop Euſtace, dated on the Kal. of March, Anno 1223.

The Rectory and Pariſh-Church here (which is dedicated to the Bleſſed Virgin) is appropriated as aforeſaid, to the perpetual Uſe of the Treaſurer for the Time being, of the Cathedral Ch. of S. Paul, who is likewiſe Patron of the Vicarage.

Jeoffry de la Lee, who was an eminent Man in this County, in the Time of Edw. II and III. granted to Peter, the Vicar of the Ch. of Aldebury, and John Vatail, the yearly Rent of 10 l. and commoning in the Park of Aldebury, which they afterwards, in 10. Edw. III. releaſed to Sir John de la Lee. Antiq. Hertf. 147.

Henry Barley, held the Mannour of Aldebury-Hall, of the Biſhop of London, as of his Caſtle of Stortford, in this County, in the Time of Edw. IV. by Homage, Fealty, and the yearly Rent of xxi s. for Caſtle-Guard, to be paid every Year at the Feaſt of S. Michael the Archangel. ibid. 148.

In this Pariſh is likewiſe a Mannour call'd Patmer, which in old time was likewiſe held of the Biſhop of London, as of his Caſtle of Stortford, by Homage, Fealty, and the yearly Rent of 5 l. for Caſtle-Guard, to be paid every Year, at the Feaſt of S. Michael. ibid. 151.

Anne Barley, Daughter of Henry Barley, Eſq; late Wife of Philip Gunter, of London, Skinner, deceaſed, has charged the Mannour of Bromley, in the Pariſh of Standon, with the yearly Rent of iii l. and the annual Rent of lii s. to be paid by xii d. every Sunday, in Bread to the Poor of this Pariſh; vi s. to a Preacher for a Sermon at Eaſter; xii s. to the Vicar of this Pariſh; and vi d. apiece to either Churchwarden, for their Pains in diſtributing yearly of the Money. ibid. 152.

Thomas Leventhorp, Gent. by Will, dated Mar. 30. 1594. gave all his part of thoſe Houſes and Lands deſcended to him in Co-parcenary with Mrs. Anne Barley, his Aunt, as one of the Co-heirs of Joyce Barley, his Grandmother, in Right of Dorothy, his Mother, to the Uſe of the Poor of Albury, and ſo to the Vicar and his Succeſſors. ibid.

I cannot give any Account of the Incumbents of this Church, it being a Peculiar to the Dean and Chapter of S. Pauls, nor of any other of their Peculiars in this County, becauſe of the Loſs of ſome of their Records in the late dreadful Fire of London, more than what I find in the Antiquities of Hertfordſhire, and their own Regiſtry ſince the Reformation, in 1660. which take as follows:

Nom. R.	Libb.		Vicarii.	Patroni.
			. : . . . : Patterſon	Theſaurar. Eccl. S. Pauli.

a Marm. Bickardyke, by his Will, dated Nov. 4. 1589. gave one Acre of arable Land in Chiſdel Field, that the Vicar and Churchwardens ſhall diſpoſe of the Rent to the Poor of this Pariſh, on eveey Good-Friday, or ſhall ſell the Land, and buy two Milch-Kine, to lett out at hire, and ſhall diſtribute the Rent among the Poor the ſame day. [Antiq. Hertf. 152.]

b Sam. Coe, the preſent Vicar.

Aldenham.

THIS Pariſh of Aldenham lies within the Hundred of Caiſho, and within the Archdeaconry of S. Albans, about Six or Seven Miles to the Southward of S. Albans; but not finding it of the Dioceſe of London, or ſubject to the Biſhop of that See, or his Archdeacon of S. Albans, I ſhall take no farther notice of it.

Alſewyck, Chapel. Vid. Layſton.

Amwell, Vicarage.

Antiq. Hertf. 263, 282. THIS Pariſh of Amwell, or Ambwell, ſometimes called Great Amwell to diſtinguiſh it from Little Amwell, at this time a Member of All Saints in Hertford, but in the Conquerour's Time ſuppreſs'd, to make but one Vill with Great Amwell, and in his Survey recorded by the Name of Emmewelle, is in the Archid. Mid. Archdeaconry of Middleſex, Deanry of Braughing, and Hundred of Hertford, Monaſt. Angl. about 18--20 Miles Northward from London; and is ſubject to the Archdeacon.

I. Vol. 331, &c. The Church of Amwell (dedicated to) with all its Tyths and Appurtenances, was given (inter alia) particularly with the Church, which Ralph de Limeſey had built at Hertford to the Honour of the Bleſſed Virgin Mary, for a Cell to the Abbey of S. Alban, by the ſaid Ralph (who held Amwell, and other great Poſſeſſions here in England, at the time of the Conquerour's Survey) to the ſaid Abbey (which Gift was afterwards confirm'd by Alan his Son, and by John, Grandſon to the ſaid Alan, to the ſaid Church of S. Mary of Hertford, and to the Monks of S. Albans.) In conſideration whereof, the Abbot of S. Albans was to place in the ſaid Church of S. Mary of Hertford, ſix of his Monks to celebrate Divine Service for the Soul of him the ſaid Ralph, and Hudewiſe his Wife, and all his Poſterity, receiving him, as a Brother and Monk; and alſo her, as a Siſter, into their Fraternity, and to bury them at S. Albans, unleſs the ſaid Ch. at Hertford ſhould attain to ſo great Honour, that they might better lie there. But where ever they ſhould lie, it ſhould be by the Licence of the ſaid Abbot, and the Monks ſhould do as much for them as for their own Monks.

By which means this Church of Amwell came to be in the Poſſeſſion of the Prior and Convent of Hertford, to which Priory it was appropriated, and a Vicarage here ordained and endowed.

But in proceſs of Time, there happening great Controverſies to ariſe between the Biſhops of London, Proprietaries of the Church of Broxbourn, on the one part, and the Abbots of S. Albans, and Priors of Hertford, Proprietaries of this Church of Amwell, on the other, about the Tyths of Corn and Hay, growing in certain Fields (the Lands of theſe two Pariſhes, being contiguous one to another) it was at laſt in Biſhop Braybroke's Time finally determin'd and agreed by way of Compoſition between them, the Particulars of which may be ſeen in Broxbourne.

After this, there happening a Difference between Nicolas, the Prior of Hertford, and the Convent there, on the one part; and John Boddet or Bodlet, Vicar of this Church, on the other, about certain Tyths; it was at laſt finally compos'd between 'em, as follows:

"Quod Johannes vicarius (ſalvis dicto Priori decimis Garbarum, Frugum, & Feni, Oblationibus Peregrinorum, & primo Legato, ſive fuerit in averio, vino, ſeu rebus aliis) omnes oblationes Eccleſiæ de Amwell, & omnes Decimas, & redditus, aliaque emolumenta quæcunque eidem Vicariæ nomine minorum Decimarum aliquo modo ſpectantia percipiet & accipiet ſibi & ſucceſſoribus ſuis in perpetuum, quaſi ſpectantia ad Decimas Vicariæ ibidem, præter, vel una cum certarum terrarum & pratorum Decimis ipſi Vicario inſerius aſſignatis, & prædeceſſoribus ſuis Vicariis præhabitis & poſſeſſis. Then follows a particular Specification of theſe Tyths too long here to inſert. This Compoſition continued in Indenture Bipartite, one part under the Seal of the ſaid Prior and Convent, and the other under the Seal of the ſaid Vicar, bears date at the ſaid Priory of Hertford, on the Feaſt of S. Nicolas, Anno primo Regni Henrici quarti. Grindall 95.

Above one Hundred Years after this, Henry Johnſon, the Vicar of this Pariſh having commenced a Suit in the Biſhop of London's Court, againſt the Prior and Convent of Hertford aforeſaid, about certain Tyths of Corn and Hay, which he affirm'd had been all along quietly receiv'd by his Predeceſſors from the Priors and Convent of Hertford. It was (to prevent all farther Suits about the ſame) refer'd on both ſides to Arbitrators, who finally awarded and decreed as follows, viz.

"That the Vicar and his Succeſſors ſhould for the future, for ever, yearly receive of the ſaid Prior and Convent, and their Succeſſors, or the Rectors and Poſſeſſors of the Rectory of Amwell, the Sum of xxvi s. viii d. for Tyth-Grain, and xx s. for Tyth-Hay, yearly, by even and equal Portions, at the four moſt uſual Feaſts. Farther decreeing, That their Award ſhould be no way prejudicial to the foregoing Compoſition, which upon their Arbitration they had peruſed, but that the ſame ſhould ſtand and remain in its full force. And if the reſpective Sums, or any part thereof, ſhould be unpaid at the reſpective Times appointed, then it ſhould be lawful for the ſaid Vicar and his Succeſſors to repoſſeſs the Tyths of the Arable Land and Meadows, as appointed by the ſaid Compoſition. This Award was approv'd and ratifi'd under the reſpective Seals of the ſaid Prior and Convent, and the ſaid Vicar, at Hertford, July 20. 1539. and was made in the Time of Roger Dakey, the next Succeſſor to the ſaid Hen. Johnſon in this Vicarage. ibid. Penſio Vicar.

After the Diſſolution (to wit) in the Reign of K. Edw. VI. the Mannour of Amwell was in the poſſeſſion of Sir Anthony Denny, Kt. who held it of the King by the yearly Rent of xl s. as was alſo the Advowſon of the Vicarage then, and for ſome Time after; for it appears, that the Executors of the Lady Joan Denny (who was his Relict) preſented to it in 1553. and Henry Denny (who was his Son) in 1567. But how long after it continu'd in that Family, or how it came to the ſucceeding Patrons, I know not. Antiq. Hertf. 283.

Terrier, 1634. a Vicarage-Houſe, with a Barn, Orchard, Garden, and a Cloſe adjoyning, containing in all about 2 Acres; and about 7 Acres, and 6 Rod more of Glebe; beſides 1 Rood near the Common Marſh-Gate, through which the New River runs, which is a Copy-hold, and the Paſturage of one Ewe in Amwell-Marſh. Anſtie, Rectory.

THIS Pariſh of Anſtie or Aneſtie, is in the Archdeaconry of Middleſex, Deanry of Braughing, and Hundred of Edwinſtree, about 32--35 Miles Northward from London, and is ſubject to the Archdeacon. Archid. Mid.

It is ſituated upon a Hill, which the Saxons in old Time called Heanſtige, from Antiq. Hertf.
the ſteep Hill and Path-way that leads over the ſame; for Hean, in their Language, 106, &c. ſignifies High; and Stige, a Path-way. By which Name it is denominated in Dooms-day-Book, and rated at 5 Hides, which Euſtace, Earl of Bulloigne then held, and reſided there, and erected a ſtrong Caſtle, which was enlarged by the Barons in the Time of their Wars againſt King John. But when it came to Nicolas de Aneſtie, K. Hen. III. commanded him to demoliſh ſo much of it as was built in thoſe Wars for the Advantage of the Barons againſt his Father; for it then became a Neſt of Rebels.

In ſhort ſpace after, this Mannour, to which the Church (which is dedicated ibid. 107. to   and was built by Richard de Aneſtie, in the Time of Hen. III. out of the Ruins of the ſaid Caſtle) was an Appendant, and a Rectory, came to Dioniſe de Monte Caviſo, Caniſio, or Mont-Cheniſi, who died ſeiſed thereof; Dioniſe the Wife of Hugh de Vere, Daughter and Heir of William, Son of Warine de Mont-Cheniſi, being her next Heir, who dying likewiſe ſeiſed of this Manour, 7. Edw. II. without Iſſue, Audomare de Valence, Earl of Pembroke, was found to be her next Heir; which Audomare dying, June 23. 1323. (17. Edw. II.) without Iſſue, that King by his Letters Patents, dated at Badow, July 27. in the 19th of his Reign, granted this Mannour of Anſtie (inter alia) to Mary de S. Paul (the Third and laſt Wife of the ſaid Audomare) during her Life; who thereupon became Patroneſs of this Rectory and Pariſh-Church, and (as appears) preſented to it in the Years 1326. and 1329. and after her Deceaſe to others. But after this, the Reverſion of this Caſtle and Manour belonging, it ſeems, to Edw. III. he by his Letters Patents dated at Shene, May 24. in the 51ſt of his Reign (1377.) granted (inter alia) this Caſtle and Manour of Anſtie to Edmund de Langley, Earl of Cambridge (his 5th Son) and to Iſabel his Wife, and to the Heirs Males of the Body of the ſaid Edmund. But in caſe the ſaid Earl and Counteſs ſhould die without Heir Male of his Body, then to revert to the Crown; upon which the ſaid Edmund became Patron of this Church, and (as appears) preſented to it in 1385. And he (afterwards advanced to the Title and Dignity of Duke of Dugd. Bar.
York) dying Aug. 1. in 3. Hen. IV. ſeiſed (inter alia) of this Caſtle and Ma- II. Tom. 155.
nour, it deſcended to Edward Duke of York, his Son and Heir, who (as alſo appears) preſented to this Ch. in 1406. but he attending the King into France, ibid. 157.
in 3. Hen. V. and in Conſideration of his vaſt Expences in building and endowing the Collegiate-Church of Fotheringay, and in fitting himſelf to ſerve the King in that preſent Adventure (whereby he had contracted many Debts, ſo that without the King's Aſſiſtance, he deſpaired of perfecting ſo good a Work) obtained Licence to enfeoff Henry de Beaufort, Biſhop of Wincheſter, and others, of ſeveral of his Manours, of which this of Anſtie was one, with Truſt, that they ſhould ſee to the Accompliſhment of that Work; by virtue of which, the ſaid Truſtees, after the Death of the ſaid Edward (which happen'd at the Battle of Agin-Court, fought Oct. 25. 1416.) preſented to this Church, as appears, in 1428. and 1430. and then the Farmers of the Manour, with the Advowſon, in 1432.

Upon the Death of this Edward Duke of York without Iſſue, his Eſtate and Honour came to Richard his Nephew (Son to Richard Earl of Cambridge his younger Brother) which Richard (now Duke of York) after the finiſhing of the ſaid College of Fotheringay, became Patron of this Church, and ſo continu'd as long as he liv'd; and in that Time (as appears) preſented to it in 1438. and where he was ſlain) Cecily his Dutcheſs Dowager (who ſurviv'd him long) and to whom King Edw. IV. (her Son) had in the firſt of his Reign granted this, with ſeveral other Manours, for term of her Life, preſented to this Church in 1467. And ſhe dying in 1495. (before the next Vacancy) this Manour, with the Advowſon, reverted to the Crown; upon which, K. Hen. VII. who had likewiſe married Elizabeth, the Daughter and Heir of King Edw. IV. (Son and Heir of the ſaid Richard Duke of York) preſented to this Ch. in 1497.

Antiq. Hertf. 108. This Mannour of Anſtie, and Advowſon of the Church, continu'd in the Crown, it ſeems, till King Hen. VIII. granted the Mannour to Queen Jane for Life; after whoſe Deceaſe, the ſame King, by Patent, dated July 12. in the 36th of his Reign, in conſideration of 228 l. 12 s. 10 d. paid into the Exchequer, granted the Site and capital Meſſuage of this Mannour, with the Advowſon thereto belonging, to the Uſe of John Cokk, and Anne his Wife, and the Heirs of John Cokk, for ever, to hold in Capite by the 40th part of a Knights Fee, reſerving the yearly Rent of xx s. to be paid at the Feaſt of S. Michael the Archangel; which John Cokk, after this, preſented (as appears) in 1549. but after that, obtained a Grant to himſelf and Henry Bodenham, Eſq; of the Mannour, and all ſuch Rights and Privileges as belonged thereunto from King Edw. VI. in the 7th of his Reign, to be held in Capite by the 50th part of a Knights Fee.

Upon the next Vacancy of this Ch. Anno 1567. Sir Geo. Penruddock, and the Lady Anne, his Wife, appear to be Patrons thereof, and preſented in 1568. which Lady Anne I gueſs to be the Relict of the ſaid John Cokk; to both whoſe Uſes, the aforeſaid capital Meſſuage, and this Advowſon, were granted, as aforeſaid. But upon the next Vacancy, Anno 1584. Sir Henry Cokk (who was Son and Heir to the aforeſaid John) appears to be Patron. And though for many Years after this, it does not appear who were Patrons of this Church, yet I find that the ſaid ibid. 109. Sir Henry Cokk, who had Iſſue only Two Daughters, namely Frances, married to Sir Edmund Lucy, and Elizabeth, to Robert Weſt, Eſq; conveyed this Mannour for the Uſe of himſelf, and Dame Urſula, his Wife, for the Term of their Lives jointly, and immediately after their Deceaſe, to the Uſe of the ſaid Robert Weſt, and Elizabeth his Wife, and the Heirs of the Body of the ſaid Elizabeth by Robert, the Remainder to the ſaid Elizabeth for ever. Which Robert dying without Iſſue, and the ſaid Elizabeth afterwards marrying Sir Robert Oxenbridge, ſhe had Iſſue by him, One only Daughter, called Urſula. And the ſaid Sir Robert alſo dying, and ſhe the ſaid Elizabeth, after that, marrying Sir Richard Lucy, Kt. and Bart. they both, April 10. in the 3. of Cha. I. in conſideration of a Marriage to be had between Sir John Mounſon, Kt. and Bart. and the ſaid Urſula, Daughter of the ſaid Elizabeth, levied a Fine of this Mannour and Advowſon of the Church, and declared the Uſe to Sir Richard Lucy, for his Life, the Remainder to Sir John Mounſon, and his Heirs for ever.

Which Sir Rich. Lucy, Dame Elizabeth his Wife, and Sir John Mounſon, on the 7th of Novemb. the ſame Year, convey'd this Mannour and Advowſon to John Stone, Eſq; and his Heirs, who died ſeiſed thereof, leaving Richard Stone, his Son and Heir, who was knighted by King Charles I.

After the Death of which Sir Richard, the Premiſes deſcended to John Stone, Eſq; his Son and Heir, who (as appears) preſented to this Church in 1661. but on Apr. 26. 1666. conveyed both the Mannour and Advowſon to Sir Rowland Litton, Kt. and his Heirs, who (as appears) preſented in 1671. but afterwards ſeparating the Advowſon from the Mannour, ſold the ſaid Advowſon and Right of Patronage of this Church to the Maſter and Fellows of Chriſt-College in Cambridge, who are the preſent Patrons thereof, 1700.

On the South-ſide of this Church there is an old Monument, and the Inhabitants have a Tradition, that is the Monument of Sir Richard de Aneſtie, who built the Church.

Reg. Dec. & Cap. Pix K. One thing more I cannot omit, the above-named Dioniſe de Monte-Caniſio, gave one Quarter of Wheat yearly out of her Mannour of Anſtie, for ſupporting of the new Chapel of the bleſſed Virgin in S. Paul's Church-yard, and towards the Maintenance of the Chaplain there.

Bund. Braughing. Terrier 1610. a Parſonage-Houſe, and Orchard of about one Rood and one Acre, and a Rood beſides. Alſo 96 Acres and ſomewhat more of Glebe-Land.

THIS Pariſh of Aſton Abbots, or Abbots Aſton, ſo call'd, becauſe part of the Poſſeſſions belonging to the Abby of S. Alban; and to diſtinguiſh it from other Pariſhes and Hamlets in the ſame County, known by the Name of Aſton, is within the Limits of the Dioceſe of Lincoln, in the County of Bucks, Hundred of Colſtow, and Deanry of Mureſley. But being formerly an Exempt to the Abby of S. Alban, is reckoned of the Dioceſe of London, in the Archdeaconry of S Albans, and ſubject to that Juriſdiction.

The Church here (dedicated to) was of old appropriated to the Abby of S. Alban, and a Vicarage ordain'd and endow'd, of which that Abbot and Convent continu'd Patrons till their Suppreſſion. THIS Pariſh of Barley, antiently call'd, by the Saxons, Bergley, ſignifying, in their Language, a Town among the Hills, in a Champain; is in the Archdeaconry of Middleſex, Deanry of Braughing, and Hundred of Edwinſtree, about 33--36 Miles Northward from London; and is ſubject to the Archdeacon. Monaſt. Ang. I. Vol. 252.

In the Time of the Conquerour's Survey, the Abbeſs of Cherterire, or Charterize (a Nunnery in Cambridgeſhire, founded about the Year 1010. by Edward, Abbot of Ramſey, for Benedictines, to the Honour of the Bleſſed Virgin) held in this Pariſh of Barley, 3 Hides and a half for one Mannour (now called the Mannour of Mincingbury) in which Mannour, I gueſs, this Pariſh-Church (which is dedicated to and is a Rectory) now ſtands; becauſe the Abbeſs and Convent of Charterize were all along Patrons thereof, till their Suppreſſion, upon which, both the Mannour and Rectory came to the Crown; from whence the Mannour was convey'd to Ralph Rowlet (afterwards a Knight) who held it in the Time of King Edw. VI. But the Advowſon of the Rectory and Pariſh-Church to the Biſhop of Ely and his Succeſſors, who are the preſent Patrons thereof, which ſeems but reaſonable; for Herveus, the firſt Biſhop of Ely, in the Time of King Henry I. procured the ſaid Abby of Charterize, with all its Lands, Poſſeſſions, and all other its Appurtenances, to be annex'd to his Ch. of Ely.

In this Pariſh there is another Mannor call'd Abbots-bury, containing two Hides, and twenty Acres in the Conqueror's Survey, and was then held by Eudo the Son of Hubert (afterwards Steward to K. VVill. Rufus, and K. Henry I.) which he gave to the Abby of S. John Baptiſt of Colcheſter (a Monaſtery of his own Founding) and to the Abbots there, from whence it had the Adjunct of Abbots-bury, which they held till the Diſſolution; upon which it came to the Crown, and from thence was granted to the aforeſaid Sir Ralph Rowlet, who held it in the time of K. Edw. VI. by the yearly Rent of 15 l. 11 s. 6 d. Antiq. Hertf, 96.

In the time of Q. Eliz. it came to John Spencer, Eſq; afterwards a Baronet, who ſold this, and the aforeſaid Mannor of Mincing-bury to Richard (Bourk) Earl of Clanrickard, in Ireland, who about the Year 1657. convey'd them to Sir Ric. Lucy, Knight and Baronet, and Edward Atkins of Lincolns Inn, Eſq; and their Heirs.

After the Death of the ſaid Sir Richard, they came to the ſaid Sir Edw. Atkins, who ſold them to Thomas Kenſey, Citizen of London, and he granted them to Sir Thomas Byde, Knight, the preſent Poſſeſſor of them.

There is likewiſe another Mannour in this Pariſh, call'd Green-bury; which contain'd four Hides, and ten Acres in Domesday-brook, and was then held by Tetbaldus of Hardwin; which Mannour, was afterwards given by ſome of this Family to the Priory of Angleſey, in the County of Cambridge, and the Canons there held it till the Diſſolution, when it came to the Crown, where it continued till K. Edw. VI. by Charter dated at Weſtminſter, Apr. 10. in the 7th of his Reign, granted it to Sir Rob. Cheſter, Knight, with all the Profits to be held of the King by the 40th Part of a Knight's Fee, and the yearly Rent of 3 l. 4 d. It was conveyed ſince to Dr. Andrew Willet, from whom it came to Robert Bowes. ibid.

Barkeway, Vicarage.

IN the Archdeaconry of Middleſex, Deanry of Braughing, and Hundred of Edwinſtre, about 32 or 35 Miles Northwards from London, and ſubject to the Arch. Midd. Archdeacon, lies this Pariſh of Barkeway, or Berkway, ſituate on a Hill, through which the Road paſſes from London to the Counties of Cambridge, Norfolk, and Antiq. Hertf. 98. Suffolk, whence the Saxons in old time, call'd it Bergwant; which in their Language ſignifies Via in Montem a way over the Hill. This hath been a Market-Town ever ſince the time of Henry III. which Market was held on Tueſdays till 36. Elizabeth, and then alter'd to Fridays.

ibid. 102. Eudo the Founder of the Monaſtery of S. John of Colcheſter, granted the Mannour of the Rectory here (which was parcel of the Mannour of Barkeway) to that his new Foundation, by which means that Abbot and Convent became Patrons of this Church (which is dedicated to   and continued a Rectory till the Year 1237.) in which Year this Church (among others which did belong to that Monaſtery) was by Galfridus de Lucy the Dean, and *William de S. " Colceſtria, in uſus proprios aſſignamus.

Which Abbot and Convent continued Lords of this Mannour, Proprietaries of the Rectory and Patrons of the Vicarage till the Diſſolution, upon which it came to the Crown. And King Hen. VII. on the 18th of May, Anno 36. of his Reign, by Letters Patents granted this Rectory, and Advouſon of the Vicarage with Court-Leet, and Court-Baron, Chattels, Waiſes, Eſtraies, Chattels of Felons, and Fugitives, and all other the Rights and Profits thereof to William Geery of Berkway, and his Heirs to be held in Capite by the Service of a Hundredth Part of a Knight's Fee, and the yearly Rent of 3 l. 2 s. 4 d. ob. every Year at the Feaſt of S. Michael, in the Name of the Tenth Part of all the Premiſſes in lieu of all Rents whatſoever; which Will. Geery, or Gyry, Gent. and Lord of the Mannour of the Rectory, preſented (as appears) twice to this Vicarage in the Year 1544. Antiq. Hertf. ut ſupra.

Shortly after, this Mannour, it ſeems, came to William Platfoot, who in 7. Edw. VI. ibid. held a Court-Leet, and Court-Baron in his Name; and in 34. Eliz. it was in the Poſſeſſion of Thomas Chambers, Gent. who held a Court in the ſame Year. Soon after it was convey'd to Edward Ward of Bixley, in the County of Norfolk, who held one Court here on May 14. in 37. Eliz. and another on Novemb. 13. in 41. Eliz. But before this the Advowſon of this Vicarage was in Ward as it ſeems; for it appears that Henry Ward, Eſq; preſented in 1554. in which Name and Family it continued till 1573. or after, for it appears that on Nov. 27. that Year, there was a Clerk admitted to this Vicarage at the Preſentation of Edward Ward, Eſq; which Edward by his Will deviſed this Mannour to his Son Edward, but if he ſhould die without Heirs of his Body, that then it ſhould come to Joſeph Ward his Brother. Soon after whoſe deceaſe, both Edward and Joſeph, the Sons, upon a Licence of Alienation from Q. Elizabeth, dated June 29. in the 40th of her Reign, granted this Mannour of the Rectory to Dame Suſan Saltonſtall (late Wife of Sir Ric. Saltonſtall, Knight) and to Sir Peter Saltonſtall, Knight, and his Heirs for ever levy in a Fine thereof.

After this Q. Eliz. granted Licence to Robert Cheſter, dated Decemb. 1. in 44. of ibid. 103. her Reign to ſell the Mannour of Barkeway, and the Advouſon of the Vicarage of the Pariſh-Church there (which were it ſeems in him, and held of the Crown in Capite) to Jeremiah Bampton, and Ric. VVych, and the Heirs of Jeremiah, to the uſe of Suſan Saltonſtall, Widow, and Peter Saltonſtall, Gent. her Son, and the Heirs of Peter for ever, from whom they came to Anne the Daughter and Heir of Sir Peter Saltonſtall, who was ſecond Wife to Sir Edward Cheſter, and had by him Edward, to whom he gave all his Mannors in Berkeway, of which he is the preſent Poſſeſſor, and in 1666. preſented Thomas Smolt (Doctor of Divinity) to this Church.

Among the ſeveral Mannors that are within the Limits of this Pariſh, there is ibid. 102. one called by the Name of Hedleys, which was parcel of the Revenue of Jeſus-College founded by Tho. Rotheram, Biſhop of Lincoln about the 20th of Edw. IV. in the Town of Rotheram, in the County of York, and continued in that Church till the Diſſolution thereof; then it came to the Crown, and in 4. Edw. VI. was granted to Robert Cheſter, Eſq; and Katharine his Wife, to be held by the 40th Part of a Knight's Fee in lieu of all Services; in which Name and Family it hath continued ever ſince.

Here was likewiſe a Chapel and Hermitage, in Barkeway, which (inter alia) ibid. was likewiſe granted to the ſaid Robert Cheſter, and Katharine his Wife.

There are alſo two other Mannors in this Pariſh, one whereof call'd Great Coken-Hach ibid. was given to the Monaſtery of Royſton; of which more when I come to treat of that Place.

The other call'd Coken-Hach the Leſs, was parcel of the Eſtate of Rob. de Buran; Mon. Ang. 1. Vol. 462. who together with Beatrice his Wiſe, and Roger their Son, granted to God, and S. Gwinwaloe and his Church, and to the Abbot and Convent of Muſtrol 80 Acres of Land, with the Mannor in which the Chapel is built, free from all Services and Rent in perpetual Alms.

After which, Robert the Abbot of S. Winwaloe de Muſteriol and the Convent ibid. 463. granted their Place of Coken-Hach to the Monks of the Monaſtery of James of Walden to be held of them for ever, under a yearly Penſion of 10 s. which, Roger, the Son of the ſaid Robert de Buran confirm'd to them, with the Chapel of S. Win- waloe, and all the Lands, Men, and Rents of his Fee, as the Abbot and Convent of S. Winwaloe de Muſteriol had granted to the ſaid Monks, and as the Deed of his Father did Witneſs, with a Clauſe, that he, and his Heirs ſhould Repair the ſaid Chapel at their Coſts for ever, when it ſhould be neceſſary, and ſhould find the Ornaments of the Church.

Antiq. Hertſ. 106. In the ſaid Monaſtery (of VValden) theſe Mannors continued till by the Diſſolution thereof they came to the Crown, from whence they were convey'd to Robert Cheſter, Eſq;.

Ibid. This Hamlet is ſituate upon a Hill encloſ'd, and in all publick Taxes to the King ever was, and now is rated by it ſelf, ſeparated from any other Pariſh; but pays Tyths, and contributes to the Repair of the Church of Barkeway, not as Duty (as is ſuppoſ'd) but voluntarily in reſpect, that upon all occaſions they have made uſe of that Pariſh-Church, having none of their own.

Northamſted-Chapel.

ibid. 104, &c. Northamſted is a Hamlet belonging to Barkeway, from which it is diſtant about a Mile to the South. Since Domeſday-Book it was made a Mannor, being before that (as is ſuppoſ'd) waſt Ground, and granted to John Morton, and Joan his Wife, who in 13. Edw. I. ſold it to Robert de Vere, Earl of Oxford, and Jane his Wife. From the Oxford Family it was conveyed to the Houſe of Bohun, Earl of Hereford and Eſſex, about the time of Edw. I. and II. And from them came to Thomas of VVoodſtock, ſixth Son of Edw. III. by his marriage with Eleanor one of the Daughters and Co-heirs of Humfry de Bohun, Earl of Hereford, Eſſex, and Northampton, from whom it came to Edmund, Earl of Stafford, by his marriage with Anne, one of the Daughters, and at length ſole Heir to the ſaid Eleanor her Mother. In which Family of the Staffords (afterwards Dukes of Buckingham) it continued till Edward, Duke of Bucks, forfeited it by his Attainder in 13. Hen. VIII. by which means this Mannor coming to the Crown, it was by Grant in 7. Edw. VI. convey'd to Sir Robert Cheſter, and Katharine his Wife, and their Heirs; in whoſe Name and Family it ſtill continues; Edward Cheſter, Eſq; being the preſent Poſſeſſor thereof, where there is a Chapel of Eaſe, call'd the Chapel of Northamſted, Nuthamſted, or Nothamſted; and the Vicars of Barkeway have been uſually inſtituted to that Church with the Chapel of Northamſted thereunto annex'd.

Dugd. Bar. 1. Vol. 187.

Antiq. Hertſ. ut ſupra.

Bund. Braug.

Terrier, 1634. A Vicarage-Houſe and Garden, and three Acres of Paſture adjoining to it. Alſo about eight Acres and half of arable Land. There likewiſe pertain to this Vicarage of ancient Right and Cuſtom, all the Tyths of Hay, Woods and Underwoods, Lops, Plaſhings, Wool, Lambs, Calves, Herbage, Whittage, and other ſmaller Tyths of Orchards, Gardens, and Yards, together with all manner of Offerings and Oblations within this Pariſh, and the Tythable Places thereof.

ibid. Another Terrier exhibited before this, Anno 1610. agrees with the Terrier abovementioned as to the number of Acres of Glebe, ſaving only it mentions but two Acres of Paſture adjoining to the Vicarage-houſe, and adds the Church yard as belonging to the Vicar. But ſpeaks nothing of the Cuſtomary Tyths.

r This Peter Smyth was Vicar of this Church in 1643. for I find him in that Year by the Name of Dr. Smyth of Barkeway, in the Liſt of ſuch as were Cambridge-Men (i. e.) had been Scholars of that Univerſity, among the Aſſembly of Divines as they were then call'd.

s Thomas Smolt Doctor of Divinity, Fellow of S. John's-College, in Cambridge, and Caſuiſtical Profeſſor in that Univerſity.

t Jude Holdſworth the preſent Vicar of this Church, and Rector of Reed, in this County, 1700.

High-Barnet, Rectory.

THERE are Three of theſe Bernets (vulgò Barnet) not far from each other; one call'd Fryarn-Barnet, which is in the County of Middleſex, of which I have treated in its proper place; the other two are High-Barnet or Chipping-Barnet, and Eaſt-Barnet, both in this County of Hertford, of which as follows:

High Bernet or Bergnet, ſo call'd of its Situation on a Hill, from the Saxon Word Berg, Mons, a Hill. Alſo Chipping-Bernet, from the Market granted by K. Hen. II. to the Abbot of S. Albans, which was famous for the Cattle there bought and ſold every Monday. It lies in the Archdeaconry of S. Albans, and Hundred of Caiſho, diſtant (according to common Computation) 10 Miles from London, towards the North-Weſt, and is ſubject to the Archdeacon. Archid. S. Alb.

Antiq. Hertf. 495. In the Time of the Saxons, this place was a great and a large Wood, granted to the Church of S. Alban, by the Name of the Woods of Suthaw, Borham, and Huzebeg; which Grant hath been ſince, by divers Kings of this Realm, confirmed by the Name of Bergnet.

Camd. Brit. N. E. 303. This place is likewiſe famous for the Battel fought there, in thoſe furious Wars between the two Houſes of York and Lancaſter, where at Gladmore, hard by, the two Parties, upon Eaſter-day, Apr. 5. 1468. (8. Edw. IV.) had a ſharp Encounter; and for a long time, by reaſon of a thick Fog, fought with a dubious Succeſs; but at laſt K. Edw. IV. happily gain'd the Victory; and Richard Nevil, Earl of Warwick (fighting on the behalf of Hen. VI.) was there ſlain.

The Church here (dedicated to S. John Baptiſt) is a Rectory, and was in the Gift of the Abbot and Convent of S. Albans, before the Diſſolution; as was that alſo of Eaſt-Bernet, about a Mile diſtant from it towards the Eaſt; both which Cures were even in thoſe Days ſerved by One Prieſt, as may appear by the following Compoſition, a Copy whereof was tranſmitted to me, the Tenour whereof follows:

> A Compoſition for the ſerving the Cure of Cheping-Bernett and Eaſt-Bernett, made by the Abbot of S. Albans, 1471. 11. Edw. IV. found in a great Cheſt in the Veſtry of Cheping-Barnet, 1570. Eliz. 12. Richard Hall and Tho. Draper, Church wardens; Edward Underne, Parſon, in the Preſence of many of the Pariſh; under the Abbot's Seal.

Regiſtred by one William Blackwell, who kept the Original.

The Tenour of the Compoſition.

" William, by the Grace of God, Abbot of the exempt Monaſtery of S. Albans,
" in the Dioceſe of Lincoln; To all and ſingular Perſons that this Writing ſhall " be read and heard, ſendeth Greeting in our Lord God everlaſting. Whereas " divers Strifes, Diſſenſions, Diſcords, and Debates have been between Sir Richard
" Bennet, now Parſon of Barnett, and his Predeceſſors, and the Pariſhioners of " Cheping-Barnet and Eaſt-Barnet, of and for ſaying Mattens, Maſs, and Even-" Song on Sundays, as well in the Church of S. John Baptiſt, in Cheping-Barnett,
" as in the Church of our Lady in Eaſt-Barnett, both Churches in our Juriſdiction;
" the Parties above-rehearſed have compromiſed to ſtand to our Law and " Arbitrement in this behalf. We therefore in eſchewing and avoiding ſuch Strifes, " Diſſenſions and Diſcords, and Debates; as alſo for nouriſhing of Love, Peace,
" and Charity betwixt the ſaid Parſon and his Pariſhioners; conſidering that in " Cheping-Barnett is now a greater Number of People, as alſo more receipt of " Strangers, than in Eaſt Barnett; for eaſe of all Chriſtian People, and in eſpecial
" of the Pariſhioners aboveſaid, by this our Writing do decree and ordain;
" That from henceforth the ſaid Sir Richard, now Parſon of Barnett, and his " Succeſſors, ſhall ſing and ſay, every Sunday and Holiday, in his own Perſon, or
" by Deputy, Mattins, Maſs, and Even Song, in the Church of S. John Baptiſt,
" in Cheping-Barnett, and there miniſter to the Pariſhioners of Cheping-Barnett,
" in his own Perſon, or by his Deputy, Sacraments and Sacramentals. And in " his own Perſon, Mattens, Maſs, and Even-Song, in the Church of Eaſt-Barnett,
" if the Parſon, for the time being, may ſo attend; and alſo at all times
" there ſhall miniſter Sacraments and Sacramentals to the ſaid Pariſhioners of the “ ſaid Eaſt-Barnett. In witneſs whereof, we have made this Inſtrument for to “ be bipartite, the one part to remain with the Parſon and his Succeſſors, and the “ other part with the Pariſhioners above rehearſed. Given under our Seal, at “ our Manour of Tytenhanger, the 4th day of November, in the Year of our Lord “ 1471. and in the 11th Year of King Edward IV.

Uuder the Copy tranſmitted to me, it is thus written:

The Abbot was both Patron and Ordinary; The Incumbent and Pariſhioners conſented. This then is a lawful Compoſition.

By the Date of this Commiſſion, this William, Abbot of S. Albans, that made it, was William Alban, the 36. Abbot of S. Albans.

Upon the Diſſolution of the Abby of S. Albans, the Patronage of this Pariſh-Church of Cheping-Barnet (as alſo the Manour) came to the Crown, in which it hath continu'd ever ſince, and the Rectors have from that time been all along preſented to it with the Chapel of Eaſt-Barnet, thereunto annex'd; ſo that if before, and at the Time of the aforeſaid Compoſition, the Churches of Cheping-Barnet and Eaſt-Barnet, were diſtinct Pariſh-Churches, as by that they ſeem to be, for therein they are both called Churches, and not Chapels; tho, as far as appears, the Cures were ſupplied only by One Prieſt; yet it is evident by the London-Regiſtry, in the Acts upon the Inſtitutions of the ſeveral Rectors to the Ch. of Cheping-Barnet, that from the Diſſolution, Eaſt-Barnet Church hath been only a Chapel of Eaſe to Cheping Barnet.

As to the Manour, after the Diſſolution, that alſo came to the Crown, as Antiq. Hertf.
aforeſaid, where it remained, but only to the Firſt of Q. Mary; for ſhe granted 496.
it that Year to Anthony Brown, Eſq; in whoſe Name and Family it continu'd till another Anthony Brown, in 17. Jac. I. convey'd it to Sir John Weld, Knt. and after it had been ſome time in the Welds, by other mean Conveyances and Grants at ſeveral times, it was in ſeveral other Perſons, till at laſt, in 3. Jac. II. it came to Nicholls, who, in 1695. ſold it to Sir Thomas Cooke, one of the Aldermen of London.

Eaſt-Barnet-Chapel.

THIS Vill was part of Cheping-Barnet, in the Time of William the Conquerour; ibid. 498.
for no mention is made of it in Domeſday-Book; and it hath been ſince diſtinguiſhed from the other Bernet by the Addition of Eaſt, from the ſituation thereof, about a Mile towards the Eaſt, near the Chace, among the Hills, and from thence call'd Eaſt-Bernet, and is parcel of the former Manour, and has always paſs'd with it.

As to the Church (or rather Chapel) here, I have little to ſay, more than what is ſaid already in High-Bernet, only, whereas in the Antiq. of Hertfordſhire, p. 496. we are told, that the Church of Cheping-Bernet is no more than a Chapel of Eaſe to Eaſt-Barnet. I think (with ſubmiſſion) by what hath been above-written, it plainly appears, that Eaſt-Bernet, at leaſt ſince the Diſſolution, hath been all along no more than a Chapel of Eaſe to Cheping-Bernet.

In the London-Regiſtry there is a Terrier that gives an account of ſuch Glebe Bund. S. Alb.
as belongs to both the Bernets, viz. in Cheping-Bernet 28, and in Eaſt-Bernet 5 Acres of Glebe This Terrier is without Date, but under the Hands of Thomas Muriel, Miniſter of both theſe Pariſhes; and alſo of the Churchwardens of both. But not finding this Tho. Muriel among the Rectors of Bernet, of whom, by what follows, you will find an uninterrupted Succeſſion from before the Year 1567. to this preſent, I can give no account of the Time when this Terrier was exhibited.

Braughing, Vicarage.

THIS Pariſh of Braughing is in the Archdeaconry of Middleſex, Deanry and Hundred of Braughing (to both which it gives Name) about 27--30 Miles North from London, lying on the River Rib; and is ſubject to the Archdeacon. Archid. Mid.

Antiq. Hertf. 223. In old Time the Saxons did call this Town Brooking, from the River or Meadows there; but in the Time of the Conqueſt it was called Brachinges; for it is recorded in Domeſ-day-Book, That Earl Euſtace holdeth Brachinges or Brachins, for 5 Hides, &c.

ibid. In King William Rufus his Time, this Earl Euſtace engaging with Robert Molbray, Earl of Northumberland, in that Conſpiracy touching the Murther of Rufus in a Wood, whilſt the King celebrated a Council at Saliſbury, Ann. 1096. his Eyes were pull'd out, and his Members cut off; and very probably the King did then ſeize this Mannour into his Hands; for it came to the Crown. And K. Stephen granted to the Canons of the Holy Trinity, in London, One Hundred Shillings-worth of Land out of the ſame, in perpetual Alms, for the Reſt of the Souls of Baldwin his Son, and Maud his Daughter, who were buried in their Church. He alſo granted them a Market here; and that none ſhould diſturb the People dwelling here, or their Wares, or returning hence, on the Forfeiture of Ten Pounds.

Mon. Angl. II. Vol. 80. Queen Maud being ſeiz'd of this Mannour, after the Death of the ſaid King her Husband, for the Health of the Souls of that King her Lord, and her ſelf, gave to the ſame Church of the Holy Trinity, and to the Canons, ſerving God there, this Ch. of Braking, with its Appurtenances. ibid. 81. And moreover, by another Deed, confirm'd the former Gift of One Hundred Shillings-worth of Land; and granted and confirm'd to them Six Pounds-worth of Land in the ſame Mannour of Brachinge, in Exchange for their Mill; and that part or parcel of Land which they had granted to her the ſaid Queen, near the Tower of London, where ſhe founded an Hoſpital (namely that of S. Katharine) for the Poor; which Six Pounds-worth of Land in Braughing King Stephen had retained in his Demeſne, after the other parts were divided, and is that part whereon the Church of Braughing is built, and to which the Market belongs.

ibid. 82. King Hen. III. by his Charter dated at Weſtminſter, in the 12th of his Reign, confirmed to the ſaid Church of the Holy Trinity, and to the Canons ſerving God there, all the aforeſaid Lands in Braughing, with the Church, and the Liberties granted by K. Stephen and Q. Maud. And alſo Four Pounds-worth of Land, which they had in this Mannour of the Gift of Hubert the Queens Chamberlain; and Fourſcore and One Acres and half of arable Land; and Fifty five Acres of Meadow, in Bracking, and the Services of Auguſtine the Son of Walward, and Edith his Widow, and Richard Cruyland, which they had of the Gift of Henry Furnell, and Theobald de Bracking.

Antiq. Hertf. 224. The Prior of the Holy Trinity aforeſaid, upon a Quo-Warranto brought before John de Reygate, and other Juſtices itinerant, Ann. 6. Edw. I. claimed Soc, Sac, Toll, Them, Infangthef, &c. in Bracking, by the Gift of King Stephen, and were allowed.

ibid. Theſe Priors of the Holy Trinity, appropriated to themſelves the Correction of the Aſſize of Bread, Wine, Ale; and had the View of Frank-Pledge, and held Court-Leet, and Court-Baron, for this Manour of Braughing. And the Priors and Monks held and enjoyed this Manour, and were Proprietaries of the Rectory, and Patrons of the Vicarage till their Diſſolution, in the Reign of King Henry VIII.

But as to the Parochial-Church here (which is dedicated to) it is a Rectory, and an Appendant to the Manour, and was given by Q. Maud to the Ch. of the Holy Trinity, as aforeſaid. And after they were inveſted therewith, Walter, of the Title of S. Martin, Presbyter-Cardinal, the Pope's Legate here, by his Power-Legantine, for their Devotion and Obedience ſhew'd to the Ch. of Rome, in the Diſturbances here in K. John's Time, gave and confirm'd to them this Church; upon inſpection of which Charter, William (de S. Maria) Biſhop of London, conſidering the Honeſty of their Converſation, and their Zeal to Religion, did, by his Epiſcopal Authority, appropriate this Church of Braughing, with all its Appurtenances, to their own proper uſe, and ordain'd and endow'd a Vicarage here, as follows, viz. " —— Salva vicaria perpetua Presbytero " vicario nobis & ſucceſſoribus noſtris ab eiſdem canonicis preſentando, & reſi- " dentiam ibidem facturo, cum Socio idoneo Capellano. Qui quidem Vicarius " nomine Vicariæ omnes obventiones altaris, cum minutis decimis, & Managio, " & tota terra ad eandem Eccleſiam tunc pertinen. (excepta Crofta illa, quæ vo- " catur Ealdeberi jacente à parte Auſtrali Managii prætaxati, & exceptis Tenenti- " tibus, & eorum Tenementis, quæ in portione Canonicorum remanebunt) in- " tegrè percipiet, & plenariè poſſidebit. Et omnia onera Epiſcopalia, & Archi- " diaconalia ad ipſam Eccleſiam ſpectantia, conſueta & debita ſuſtinebit. This Appropriation and Endowment was confirmed under the ſaid Biſhop's Seal, 16 Kal. Maii, Ann. Dom. 1218. and in the 19th Year of his Pontificate.

Stokeſl. 110.

By this Conſtitution it appears, that here was to be an Aſſiſtant-Chaplain; for want of which, I find, the Churchwardens, and Pariſhioners of this Pariſh, about the Year 1432. commenced a Suit againſt John Hichman their then Vicar, in the Biſhop of London's Conſiſtory-Court, where they obtain'd Sentence againſt him, in which Sentence it was (inter alia) pronounc'd and decreed, " That the " Vicars of this Church were bound to find and maintain a fit Chaplain under " them in the ſame; and decreed the ſaid Hichman to be compell'd to find and " maintain one accordingly.

The Prior and Convent of this Monaſtery of the Holy Trinity, continu'd Lords of this Manour, Proprietaries of this Rectory, and Patrons of the Vicarage, as aforeſaid, till their Suppreſſion, when it came to K. Hen. VIII. who granted this Manour of Braughing, aliàs Braughing-bury, with the Appurtenances, and all the Tyths and Profits whatſoever belonging to the Rectory, and alſo the Advowſon of the Vicarage, and all Meſſuages, Lands, Tenements, Rents, Services, Courts, Views of Frank-Pledge, and all other Profits, which Nicolas Hancock the late Prior had in right of the ſaid Monaſtery (excepting only the Manour of Berkſdon) to Thomas Lord Audley, and others, and to their Heirs, to hold of the King and his Heirs by Fealty only, for all Services and Demands whatſoever; and from this Lord Audley (after he had preſented to this Vicarage, in 1541.) this Manour paſs'd by the ſame Perſont to Thomas Duke of Norfolk, in right of Margaret his Wiſe, Daughter and ſole Heir to the ſaid Lord Audley (who, as appears, preſented in 1562. and 1568.) and aſter the Death of the ſaid Margaret, and the ſaid Duke, who ſurviv'd her (but Ann. 15. Eliz. was attainted of High Treaſon, for attempting to marry the Queen of Scots, againſt the Liking of Q. Elizabeth, and was executed on Tower-Hill for the ſame) it deſcended from the ſaid Margaret to Thomas Lord Howard, the eldeſt Son and Heir; who, when he came of Age, ſold it to John Steward, Eſq; and Nic. Steward, Doctor of Civil Law, from whom this Manour was conveyed to their ſeveral Sons. In which Name and Family it appears, That the Right of Patronage continu'd till 1660. After which, this whole Manour (which before was divided between theſe two Branches of the Stewards into two Moyeties) was ſold, firſt One Moiety, and then the other, to William Delawood, of London, Merchant, who, together with Eliab Harvey, Eſq; appear to be Patrons of this Vicarage, in 1680.

Antiq. Hertſ

There is a fair Chapel erected by Simon Brograve, Eſq; on the North-ſide of the Chancel of this Church, for a Burial-place of the Family of the Brograves, where ſeveral of them lie interred.

Broxborne, Vicarage.

BRoxborne, in antient time call'd Brookesbourne, from the River (i. e. from the River Lea, that runs by it) is in the Archdeaconry of Middleſex, Deanry of Braughing, and Hundred of Hertford, about 16 or 17 Miles to the North from London; but ſubject to the Biſhop and his Commiſſary.

Commiſſar.

In the Time of the Conquerour's Survey Adelidis, or Adeliz, the Wife of Hugh de Grantemiſmill (who accompany'd Duke William in his Expedition for England) held Brokesborne, in the Hundred of Hertford, for Five Hides and Half, &c. whoſe Fourth Son Ivo (his three elder Brothers, Robert, William, and Hugh, dying without Iſſue) poſſeſs'd his Father's Eſtate here in England; and for the Health of the Souls of his Father and Mother, gave Brokesborne (which was of his ſaid Mothers Inheritance) to the Monks of Bermondſey in Surrey, ſhe lying interr'd in that Monaſtery.

Antiq. Hertſ. 287.

Dugd. Bar. III. Tom. 425.

What Effect this Donation took, I know not; but, it ſeems, but little, unleſs thoſe Monks paſſed it away for ſomething elſe, which does not appear; for not long after this, Robert Blanchmaines (ſo call'd from his white Hands) Earl of Leiceſter, taking to Wife Petronill, the Daughter, and (I ſuppoſe) Heir of Hugh the Son, or Deſcendant (not Brother, as in Antiq. Hertf. p. 202.) of Ivo, Son of the above-named Hugh de Grantemeſnil, and Adelidis, and thereby, in her right, entitled to this Town and Church of Broxborne, with the Conſent of his ſaid Wife, and William and Robert his Sons, gave both the Town and Church, with all its Appurtenances, to the Knights Hoſpitallers of S. John of Jeruſalem, as appears by the Charter of King John, dated at Roan, Aug. 30. &c. So that there ſeems to be a Miſtake in Antiq. Hertf. p. 288. where we are told, That Earl Mellent gave this Town and Church of Broxbourne to the Knights-Templers, who held and enjoy'd it, till the time of the Diſſolution of that Order, which Miſtake will alſo farther appear by what follows.

This Grant was afterwards confirmed by Garſius de Liſa, Præceptor of all the Brethren of the Hoſpital of Jeruſalem, on this ſide the Mediterranean Sea; and by Gilbert de Vere, Prior of the ſame Houſe in England.

This Richard, Biſhop of London, to whom this Church was given, as aforeſaid, order'd and diſpos'd thereof after this manner:

“ That after his Death, during the Vacancy of the Sea, this Church ſhould be in the cuſtody of the Dean of S. Pauls, the Archdeacon of Middleſex, and Treaſurer of S. Pauls, who ſhould pay the ſaid Penſion of Four Marks to the aforeſaid Hoſpital; and give Five Marks to the Dean and Chapter on the Day of his Obit; Two of 'em to be diſtributed to the Canons and Clerks that were preſent at the Celebration of his Obſequies; ſo that the Canons ſhould have One Mark, and the Clerks the other; and the other Three Marks to be given to the Poor; and the remainder of the Profits of the ſaid Church to be laid out in mending the Windows of S. Paul's Cathedral. But when the Church ſhould have a Biſhop, the ſaid Biſhop ſhould have this Church, paying the ſaid Four Marks Penſion, and beſtowing Five Marks yearly on the Day of his Obit, as above-directed; and the remainder to diſpoſe of as he pleaſes. Witneſſes Ralph de Diceto the Dean, Alard Archdeacon of London, Richard Archdeacon of Colcheſter, and Henry the Treaſurer.

This Inſtrument was afterwards confirm'd by William (de S. Maria) his, the ſaid Richard's next Succeſſor in this Sea. Witneſſes Robert de Watford, and William Audley, Canons.

This Church (which is dedicated to) being thus given to the Biſhop of London and his Succeſſors, was appropriated to the Biſhop's Table, and doubtleſs a Vicarage here ordained and endowed; but by whom, or when, does not appear.

The Limits of this Pariſh, and the neighbouring Pariſh of Amwell, being contiguous, and thereupon great Controverſies and Suits having of old oftentimes been between the Biſhops of London, Proprietaries of this Church of Broxborne, on the one part; and the Abbot and Convent of S. Albans, and the Prior and Convent of S. Mary of Hertford, Proprietaries of the Church of Amwell, on the other, about the Tyth of Corn and Hay growing in certain Fields here-under mentioned, it was, at laſt, in the Time of Robert de Braybroke his being Biſhop of London, finally compos'd and agreed between them, as follows, viz.

This Compoſition contained in an Indenture bipartite, was interchangeably ſealed by Robert (de Braybroke) Biſhop of London, on the one part; and the ſaid John (which was John Moot) Abbot of S. Albans, and the Convent of that Monaſtery, and William the Prior and Convent of Hertford, on the other. Dated at Hadham, Jan. 10. 1397. Anno Regni Regis Ric. II. Viceſimo primo.

From what has been before written, it appears, That this Church of Broxborne hath been part of the Poſſeſſions of the Biſhop of London, from the Time of Richard Fitz-Neal's being Biſhop of that Sea, in the Reign of Richard I. till this preſent; the Biſhops whereof, ever ſince there hath been a Vicarage here ordain'd and endow'd, have been Proprietaries of the Rectory or Parſonage, and Patrons of the Vicarage.

To the Augmentation of this Vicarage, the Right Reverend Father in God, Henry, the preſent Lord Biſhop of London, by a Deed bearing date Jan. 30. 1681. and the 7th of his Tranſlation, granted x l. x s. to be paid yearly to the Biſhop, and xxx l. per ann. to the Vicar of this Church, and his Succeſſors.

Tho' this place of Broxborne is in the Hundred of Hertford (the greateſt part whereof is in the Dioceſe of Lincoln) yet being in the Deanry of Braughing, it is in the Dioceſe of London, and for that reaſon exempt from the Juriſdiction of the Biſhop of Lincoln, and from any Archdeacon under him. And moreover, being a Peculiar to the Biſhop of London, is exempt alſo from the Archdeacon of Middleſex, to whom the Deanry of Braughing is ſubject, and pays no Procurations nor Synodals to him.

The North-Iſle of this Church was built by Sir William Say.

Hoddeſdon, Chapel.

HOddeſdon is a Hamlet, which lies in the Pariſhes of Amwell and Broxbourne; about a Mile diſtant from the latter, Northward. It is a Thorough fare from the North parts to London; and a Market-Town, where the Market is held every Week, on Thurſday, which was procur'd by Hen. Bowrchier, Earl of Eſſex (who married Mary, one of the Daughters and Coheirs of Sir William Say, Kt. formerly Lord of this Manor) by Charter of King Hen. VIII. dated in 29. of his Reign; as alſo a Fair on S. Peter's Day, to hold for 3 Days. Antiq. Hertf.

Mon. Angl. 1. Vol. 640, & 642.

Anno 1096. 9. William Rufi; Peter of S. Olaves gave two Hides of Land in Hoddeſdon, to the Monks of Bermondſey, in Surry, which was confirm'd to them afterwards (inter alia) by the Charter of K. Hen. I.

Antiq. Hertf. ut ſupra.

Here was a Chapel erected, in Hoddeſdon, for the Eaſe of the Inhabitants thereof, in the middle of this Town; which is ſituate as aforeſaid, in the ſaid Pariſhes of Amwell and Broxborne, and the Inhabitants of both Pariſhes reſiding in this Town, did antiently build the ſame, and kept it in Repair. But at length, through negligence, it became ruinous, ſo that nothing now remains thereof more than the Clock-houſe, which is kept for the Convenience of the Inhabitants there.

This Chapel of Hoddeſdon (which is dedicated to   ) tho' built, reſorted to, and repair'd when ſtanding, by the Inhabitants of both the ſaid Pariſhes reſiding there, is properly a Chapel of Eaſe to Broxborne; for the Vicars of the Church of Broxborne have been from time to time collated to that Vicarage with the Chapel of Hoddeſdon thereunto annex'd, as appears by the London-Regiſtry.

Bund. Braughing.

Terrier, 1610. about 41 Acres of Glebe-Land, beſides a Cloſe next the Church-yard containing four or five Acres, with a Barn in it. Alſo three or four Acres more about the Church-Path, which ſome think is Glebe-Land, Silver-Meads, which was all one; but now divided into ſeveral parcels, but not known whether it belongs to the Parſonage. This Terrier was exhibited under the Hands of the Vicar and Church-Wardens, who certifie, That they could not afford a better Terrier without the Help of the Biſhop of London, to whom the Parſonage belongs, and of Sir Rob. Oxenbridge, who hath it in Farm.

Buckland, Rectory.

IN the Archdeaconry of Middleſex, Deanry of Braughing, and Hundred of Edwinſtre, about 31 or 34 Miles Northward from London, not far from Barkeway to the Southward, lies this Vill of Buckland, and is ſubject to the Archdeacon. Archid. Mid.

The Church here (dedicated to) is a Rectory, and was an Appendant to the Mannor, and hath been all along in the Gift of Lay-Patrons; which Church was built (or rather new-built) as may be gathered hereafter by the Date of ſome of the oldeſt Inſtitutions, by Nicholas de Bokeland, as may appear by the following Inſcription in the North-Window of this Church near the Pulpit.

> Nicholai de Bokeland, qui iſtanc Eccleſiam cum Capella Beatæ Mariæ conſtruxit, Anno Dom. 1348. which was Anno 22. Edw. III. Antiq. Hertf. 116.

ibid. 117. This Vill of Buckland (ſo denominated from Bockland, a Saxon Term for Land which was Free and Hereditary, and paſs'd by Livery and Seiſin) in the time of the Conqueror's Survey was held by Osbert, of the Biſhop of Bayeux, and was rated for three Hides, and three Virgates, &c.

ibid. 113. Hugh de Bockland, Surnamed from this Vill, Anno 14. Hen. II. obtain'd this Mannour. He had Iſſue William de Bockland, who died ſeiſed hereof (inter alia) in the time of Ric. I. leaving Iſſue three Daughters, and upon Partition made of his Eſtate, Anno 10. Johannis, this Mannor of Buckland, with the Advouſon of the Church, and a third Part of the Land in Redcote (another Mannor whereof he died ſeiſed) were allotted to William Kaamorden, and Maud his Wife (one of the Daughters of the ſaid William de Bockland) and the Heirs of the ſaid Maud.

ibid. Anno 8. Edw. III. a Fine was levied between John de Roos of Hamelake, and others Plantiffs, and Ric. de Strope, and others Defendants of this Mannour of Bockland, upon the Conditions therein expreſs'd. Afterwards it came to —— Horne (whom I take to be John Littlebury, aliàs Horne, who preſented to this Church (as appears) in 1478. and was doubtleſs a Relation to Sir William Littlebury, aliàs Horne, Lord Mayor of London, in 1487. ſo named by King Edw. IV. becauſe he was an excellent Blower of a Horne) from which Horne firſt above-named this Mannor was termed the Mannor of Horne. And in proceſs of time paſs'd by that Name to Richard Gill, who had Iſſue John; from whom it was convey'd to Sir James Altham, Knight of the Bath, who in 4 Jac. was made Lord Chief Baron of the Exchequer.

I am apt to believe, that after Horne, the Advouſon of this Rectory was ſeparated from the Mannor; for none of the Gills appear at any time to have preſented to it; but the Patronage appears to be in Altham, before the aforeſaid John Gill convey'd the Mannor to Sir James Altham; for James Altham, Citizen of London (and one of the Sheriffs thereof in 1557.) was Patron, and preſented thrice to this Church in 1553, 1559, and 1560. And, probably, after the Deceaſe of the ſaid James Altham, Citizen of London, the ſaid Sir James (in all likelihood Son, or at leaſt Heir to the ſaid James) having the Right of Patronage of this Church by deſcent, purchaſed this Mannor alſo from the aforeſaid John Gill, and thereby made the Rectory and Pariſh-Church again an appendant to the Mannor.

ibid. 114. Both which it ſeems continued in the Althams, till James Altham, Eſq; (made Knight of the Bath, alſo at the Coronation of K. Char. II.) gave them with Mary his Daughter, and Heir in marriage to Sir John Tufton, who ſold it to James Heaſt, Eſq; and he aliened the Mannor together with the Advouſon to Samuel Melliſh of Doncaſter, in the County of York, Eſq; the preſent Lord thereof, at whoſe Preſentation the preſent Rector was admitted Anno 1683.

In the time of Hen. III. one Brian was poſſeſs'd of two Carucates of Land in Hodenho (a Mannor in this Pariſh) and Throcking (a neighbouring Pariſh) which Mon. Angl. in the Reign of Edw. I. came to Sir Roger his Son, who with Maud his Wife gave them to the Canons of the Holy Trinity in London, and they held and enjoyed them till the time of the Diſſolution of that Church; when it came to the Crown, and Antiq. Hertf. 114. was with the Mannor of Hodenho granted to John Wrenham, who held it in the time of Edw. VI. from whom it was conveyed to George Hill, who in 5. Edw. VI. levied a Fine of the Mannors of Newhall, Hodenho, and Chetſes, and ſhortly after ſold this Mannor of Hodenho to Sir Rob. Cheſter, from whom it deſcended to Sir Edward Cheſter, who was his Son and Heir, and dying ſeized thereof left Iſſue Sir Robert Cheſter, who ſold it to Ralph Freeman of Aſpeden, Eſq; who died ſeized thereof, leaving Ralph his Son and Heir the preſent Lord thereof.

In the Antiq. Hertf. pag. 114. there is a Monaſtery (formerly belonging to the Hoſpital of S. John of Jeruſalem, in England) placed here in this Pariſh of Buckland, in Hertfordſhire; which doubtleſs is a Miſtake, for Buckland, in Somerſetſhire, where that Hoſpital had a Preceptory; for the Churches and Chapels wherewith that Preceptory was at firſt endowed, are for the moſt part in that County to my own knowledge (namely Pereton, or Peryton, Poulet, or Paulet, Huntworth, Thurlakeſton, Bekington, and Kinneſdone (all theſe, among others named in the ſaid Book:) And being ſo, is no part of my preſent Subject.

Bund Braughing. Terrier, 1610. A Manſion-Houſe, with Barns, Stables, and Outhouſes, Gardens and Orchards, and the Church-yard, and one Cloſe of Paſture, with a little Tenement at the End of it, in all containing four Acres; alſo about 43 Acres and half of Glebe-Land more. There are alſo ſeveral Tythable Places lying out of this Pariſh, which by long Cuſtom Tyths have been paid to the Rector here (namely) 18 Acres and half in the Pariſh of Barkeway, beſides three ſeveral Parcels in Morefield there abutting on the Moor, ſome part whereof (but what part is not mentioned) pay Tyths to Buckland. Alſo one Acre in Spurles Field, in Layſton Pariſh, and half an Acre in Brickhill-Cloſe, in the Pariſh of Trocking.

Buſhey, Rectory.

THIS Vill was aptly call'd by this name de Dumis, from the Buſhes and Woods; which heretofore did abound in this Place, and was one of the Mannors which William the Conqueror gave to Jeoffrey de Magnavil, who held it by the name of Biſſei, in Domeſday-Book, wherein it was rated at 15 Hides. It is in the Archdeaconry of S. Albans, and ſubject to that Archdeacon, and in the Hundred of Dacorum about 13 or 14 Miles toward the North-weſt from London. Antiq. Hertf. 538. Arch. S. Alb.

The Church here (dedicated to) is a Rectory, the Patronage whereof appears by the London-Regiſtry to have been all along, ſince this Place was made ſubject to the Biſhops of London, in the Hands of ſeveral Lay-Patrons, as it was (as I ſuppoſe) all along before that; for I do not find that it did ever belong to any Church or Religious-Houſe.

All that I have farther to obſerve is, That one Henry Hickman preſented to this Church in 1584. And about that time one Hickman was Lord of the Mannor of Bourne-Hall in this Pariſh, which makes me apt to think, that the Advouſon of this Church was an Appendant to that Mannor.

a One William Weſterman (whom I take to be the ſame with our Rector) was enter'd a Commoner in Gloceſter-Hall, Oxon, in the latter End of 1583. took one Degree in Arts, proceeded in the Faculty, and by continued Study, and unwearied Induſtry, became a Proficient in Divinity, and Miniſter of Sandridge, in this County. Afterwards his Merits introducing him to the knowledge of Archbiſhop Abbot, he was by him made his Chaplain, ſo that taking the Degree of Doctor of Divinity he was by him prefer'd to a Dignity. [Ath. Ox. 1. Vol. 333.]

b Edm. Staunton, Son of Sir Francis Staunton, Knight, was born in Bedfordſhire, became a Commoner in Wadham-College, Oxon, in the Beginning of 1615. aged about 14. was admitted Scholar of Corpus Chriſti-College there, Oct. 4. the ſame Year, and afterwards Fellow and Maſter of Arts, and entring into Orders, became Miniſter of this Place in 1627. But his Title to this Rectory being weak, he chang'd it with Dr. Seton for the Church of Kingſton upon Thames, in Surry (which Dr. Seton was preſented by the King to this Church by reaſon of Simony, as appears above). In 1634. this Edm. Staunton, took the Degrees in Divinity, and being Puritannically inclin'd, ſide with the Presbyterians in the Beginning of the wicked Rebellion, was made one of the Aſſembly of Divines in 1643. In 1648. he was Preſident of the ſaid College of Corpus Chriſti; ſoon after he took the Ingagement, as before he had done the Covenant. But upon the Reſtauration of King Charles II. was ejected to make room for him, whoſe Bread he had eaten for 12 Years before; upon which he retir'd to Richmanſworth in this County, where exerciſing his Function among the Brethren till S. Bartholomew's-day, 1662. was then Silenc'd for Nonconformity. He died at Bovington in this County (after he had exerciſed his Gifts there in private for ſome Years) on July 14. 1671, and was buried in the Church there. His Life is written by one Ric. Mayow; but the Appendix to it by Will. Fulman. It is likewiſe in Sam. Clark's Collection of Lives, without taking notice of the Appendix. [Ath. Ox, 2. Vol. 352.]

Cheſhunt.

Archid. Mid.
Br. Inducts.
Antiq. Hertſ. 293.

IN the Archdeaconry of Middleſex, Deanry of Braughing, and Hundred of Hertford, lies Cheſhunt about 13 or 14 Miles Northward from London, on the Weſt-ſide of the River Lea, and is ſubject to the Archdeacon. But the Right of Induction is in the Biſhop.

This Vill in old Records was call'd Ceſtrehunt, from Caſtrum in the Latin; which, in all probability, imports ſome Caſtle erected here by the Romans; and the Saxons imitating the Name, tho' corruptly (as Strangers often do) might from hence call it Ceſtrehunt. But the new Name of Cheſton (as I find in the Maps) may come from Cheſtin, Caſtanetum of Cheſnut-Trees, which ſhould ſeem in old time to have abounded in this Place; for that moſt of the antient Houſes in this Vill were built of this VVood. In the London-Regiſtry I find it written ſometimes Sheſtrehunt, Cheſthunt, and Cheſtnut.

Dugd. Bar. 1. To. 46, &c.

In Domeſday-Book, Earl Alan held Ceſtrehunt, which was then rated at xx Hides. This Earl Alan (ſurnamed Rufus from his red Hair) was Son of Eudo, Earl of Britany, Britany, in France, and for his ſignal Service in that memorable Battle near Haſtings, Duke William the Conqueror gave him the Earldom of Richmond, with this Mannor of Cheſhunt, and divers others in this County, and elſewhere to ſupport his Honour. He married Conſtance, one of the Daughters of King William; but dying without Iſſue, his Brother Alan (ſurnamed the Black) ſucceeded him in his Earldom of Britany and Richmond. But he likewiſe dying without Iſſue, his Honours and Eſtate came to his Brother Stephen, who had Iſſue Alan, and he Conan, Duke of Britany, and Earl of Richmond, who (amongſt the reſt of his Father's Eſtate) inherited this Mannor of Cheſhunt, with the Advouſon of the Church.

VVhich Church he and Conſtance his Daughter and Heir (firſt married to Jeoffry, fourth Son to Hen. II. after his deceaſe, to Ranulph, Earl of Cheſter (An. 1187.) whom ſhe forſook Anno 1. Joh. and laſtly, to Guy de Tuarz, Brother to Viſcount Tuarz) gave to the Canons of the Priory of Fulger, in the Dutchy of Britany. ibid. 48.

To this Church of Cheſhunt, the Church of S. Pauls, it ſeems, pretended a Right: For the ſaid Conſtance, Ducheſs of Britany, and Counteſs of Richmond, on the behalf of the Canons of Fulger, petition'd R. (*i. e. This Compoſition was confirm'd by R. the Prior, and the Convent of Fulger; and alſo by Ralph de Diceto the Dean, and the Chapter of S. Pauls. And the Hiſt. Paul. 24.
viii Marks yearly Rent to that Cathedral-Church to be received out of the Church of Ceſtrebunt, was aſſign'd by the aforeſaid Ric. Fitzneal, Biſhop of London, for the maintenance of Two Prieſts every Day celebrating at the Altars of S. Thomas the Martyr, and S. Dionyſe (both built in the ſaid Cathedral-Church by the ſaid Biſhop) viz. One for the good Eſtate of the King of England, and Biſhop of London for the time being, as alſo for all the Congregation of this Church, and the Faithful Pariſhioners belonging thereto. And the other for the Souls of the Kings of England, and Biſhops of London, and all the Faithful deceas'd.

By this Compoſition it appears, That the Rectory here was appropriated to the Abbot and Convent of Fulger, and became a ſine Cure. And that there was a Vicarage here ordain'd and endow'd, of which they were to be Patrons. But how far this Compoſition took effect, or how long the ſaid Abbot and Convent continued nued Proprietaries of this Rectory, and Patrons of the Vicarage, doth not appear. But the Mannor with the Earldom of Richmond, continued to be held by the aforeſaid Ranulph, Earl of Cheſter, tho' the ſaid Conſtance his Wife forſook him.

Dug. Bar. 1. Tom. 49. King John, in 15. of his Reign, ſignified by his Letters to Sir Peter Mauclere, or de Dreux (to whom the King of France had given Alice the Daughter of the aforeſaid Conſtance by the ſaid Guy de Tuarz, or Toarche, her third Husband, remaining in Ward to the ſaid King, in marriage to the ſaid Peter, with Britany, and what elſe was of her Inheritance) that in caſe he would come into England to aſſiſt him againſt his Barons, who were then in Rebellion, he would reſtore to him the Honour of Richmond, with its Appurtenances; who thereupon coming over, the King gave him the Appellation of Earl of Richmond, tho' he had not the compleat Fruition of that Barony, the ſaid Ranulph, Earl of Cheſter, retaining ſtill the Lands thereof in his Hands till, by a ſpecial Precept, Command was given, that Livery ſhould be forthwith made thereof.

However, after the Death of the ſaid Peter, tho' John his Son, and Heir probably, ſucceeded in the Title (Earl of Richmond) yet the Barony, Lands, and Knight's Fees were otherwiſe diſpos'd of,

For King Hen. III. in 25. of his Reign (1241.) by his ſpecial Charter dated May 1. the ſame Year, gave to Peter de Savoy, Uncle to Queen Alianor (that King's Conſort) and his Heirs for ever, for his Homage and Service the Towns of Richmond and Bovis, with all their Appurtenances, with many other Towns and Lordſhips (among which this Mannor of Ceſtrehunt was one) to hold by the Service of five Knight's Fees.

ibid. 51. But after this, the ſame K. Hen. III. in 50. of his Reign cauſed Livery to be given to the aforeſaid John (Son of the ſaid Peter de Dreux) of the ſaid Earldom of Richmond, upon Grant of other Lands to the ſaid Peter de Savoy, in Exchange for the ſame. And the ſame King by Letters Patents dated July 6. in 52. of his Reign granted to this Joh. de Dreux, by the Name of John, Duke of Britany, Son to Peter, late Duke of Britany, the Earldom of Richmond to hold to himſelf, and his Heirs, of the ſaid King, as of his proper Inheritance; and on the 20th of the ſame Month granted to him the Caſtle and Honour of Richmond in Fee.

This John, Duke of Britany, and Earl of Richmond, died Anno 13. Edw. I. He had Iſſue Arthur, Duke of Britain, who, according to ſome Writers, was alſo Earl ibid. of Richmond. However, John, his younger Brother, preſently after the Death of his Father enjoyed his Honour; who obtain'd Licence in 1. Edw. III. to grant the Earldom of Richmond, with the Caſtle of Richmond and Bows unto Arthur, his Brother and Heir, and died 8. Edw. III. without Iſſue. But before his Death Anno 1329. (4. Edw. III.) as appears, preſented to this Church; ſo that now (how long before appears not) notwithſtanding the Compoſition before recited, this Church of Cheſhunt, as well as the Mannor (to which, it ſeems, it was an Appendant) was in the Earl of Richmond, and not in the Abbot and Convent of Fulger.

ibid. 52. This John, laſt mentioned, was ſucceeded by his Nephew John, Son of his ſaid Brother Arthur; but he dying 16. May 15. Edw. III. and ſoon after, the King of France taking the Earldom of Montfort from John Duke of Britany, and Earl of Montfort; for that he adhered to King Edward, that King gave him the Earldom of Richmond, in recompence thereof, till ſuch time as he could be repoſſeſs'd of the Earldom of Montfort. But King Edw. III. intending to advance John of Gaunt his fourth Son to the Dignity of Earl of Richmond, Anno 16. of his Reign, granted this Mannor it ſeems, with the Honour of Richmond, and all the Caſtles, Mannors and Lands belonging to the ſaid Earldom to the ſaid John of Gaunt, and Heirs Males of his Body, and in the 25th of his Reign confirm'd the former Grant in Tail, the ſaid John, Duke of Britany, releaſing all his Right and Title thereto.

ibid. 2. Tom. 115. Thus came this Mannor of Cheſhunt, and Advouſon of the Church, to the ſaid John of Gaunt, in whom (as appears) the Right of Patronage was in 1366. and 1396. he being then Duke of Lancaſter. But, afterwards, in 46. Edw. III. he having married Conſtance, the Daughter and Heir of Don Pedro, King of Caſtile, for his ſecond Wife, in whoſe Right he thenceforth bore the Title of King of Caſtile; he ſurrender'd this Earldom of Richmond, with all the Caſtles, Mannors, Lands, &c. belonging to the ſame: By which Surrender this Mannor with the Advouſon return'd to the Crown.

But, after this, the ſame King Edw. III. in the ſame 46th of his Reign, again gave unto the ſaid John Duke of Britain and Earl of Montfort, and Joan his Wife, and to the Heirs of his Body, the Caſtle, Town, and Honour of Richmond, with all the Caſtles, Manors, and Lands thereto belonging; and alſo the Earldom of Richmond: All which, after his Death, came to his Son, John Duke of Britany, Earl of Montfort and Richmond. But he, in 3. Ric. II. or ſhortly after, falling off to the King of France, contrary to his Faith and Allegiance to the King of England, his Lands in England were ſeized; whereupon, after ſome time, enſued his abſolute Depoſal from all Titles of Honour, by Act of Parliament.

Dugd. Bar. I. Tom. 52.

After which, viz. in 21. Ric. II. (1397.) Joan his Siſter, then Widow of Ralph Lord Baſſet of Drayton, obtained Livery of the Caſtle, County, and Honour of Richmond, together with this Manor; for I find that ſhe made her Teſtament at her Manor-Houſe at Cheſhunt, in Com. Bucks (Hertford it ſhould be) 27. Mar. 1402.

ibid.

But before this, after the Lands of the laſt-named John Duke of Britany were ſeized, as aforeſaid, the Advowſon of this Church was in the Crown. Queen Anne (as appears) preſenting to it Four ſeveral times, where it ſeems it continu'd till 1. Hen. IV. when that King gave to Ralph Nevil Earl of Weſtmorland, the County and Honour of Richmond for the term of his Life, with all the Manors and Lands belonging to the ſame, who (as appears) preſented to this Church in 1401. but dying 21. Oct. 4. Hen. VI. 1425. the Premiſes reverted to the Crown, in which this Manor remain'd until 17. Hen. VIII. who gave it to his Baſtard-Son Henry Fitz-Roy, after whoſe Deceaſe, without Iſſue, it reverted again to the Crown, and afterwards was granted, conveyed, and deſcended to ſeveral Perſons ſucceſſively, till at laſt it came to Sir Henry Monſon, the preſent Poſſeſſor thereof, as may be ſeen in Antiq. Hertf.

ibid. 382.

Antiq. Hertf. 295.

But the Advowſon of the Church, after the Death of Ralph Earl of Weſtmorland, Anno 1448. appears to be in Sir John Montgomery, Kt. and upon the next Vacancy, in Elizabeth Lady Say, Ann. 1453. but upon the next Avoidance, An. 1461. (1. Edw. IV.) it appears to be again in the Crown; That King, when he firſt got the Crown, having, it ſeems, ſeized on the Earldom of Richmond, with all its Appurtenances (which had been confer'd by King Hen. VI. on Edmund of Hadham, his Brother by the Mothers ſide) and then preſented to this Church; and afterwards, by his Charter, in 18. of his Reign, gave this Ch. of Cheſhunt to the Dean and Canons of Windſor, and to their Succeſſors in free, pure, and perpetual Alms, with Licence for them and their Succeſſors to appropriate the ſame to their own uſe.

Dugdal. Bar. III. Tom. 237.

Monaſt. Ang. III. Vol. Pa. 2. pag. 67.

But this, it ſeems, they did not long enjoy; for Margaret Counteſs of Richmond, Mother to K. Hen. VII. and Relict of the ſaid Edmund of Hadham, recover'd it again; and by virtue of the King's Writ (as is intimated in the Act of Inſtitution) preſented to it in 1492. and 1494.

Until this time the Rectory (which was a Sine-Cure) continu'd preſentative, and the Rectors thereof Patrons of the Vicarage. But not long after this, the Abbot and Convent of Weſtminſter (as will appear hereafter) became Patrons of the Vicarage, and preſented to it in 1503. and 1526. being Proprietaries of the Rectory; to whom, it ſeems, the ſame was given by the ſaid Counteſs of Richmond, and appropriated to their own uſe, ſhe doubtleſs having a great Veneration for that Church, to which her Son K. Hen. VII. added ſo noble a Structure, which ſtill bears the Name of King Henry the Seventh's Chapel: And where afterwards ſhe ordered and (inter alia) ordain'd 3 perpetual Maſſes, with Divine Service, ſhould be daily ſaid there, for ever; and lies inter'd on the South ſide of that Royal Chapel, behind the Stalls of the Choir, towards the Eaſt, under a noble raiſed Tomb of black Marble.

Keep. Monaſt. Weſtmin. 88.

After the Suppreſſion of the ſaid Abby, this Rectory (which is a Manor) ſtill remain'd parcel of the Poſſeſſions of the Dean and Chapter of Weſtminſter, who in conſideration of 40 l. ſold it, with the Right of Patronage and Advowſon, to Anthony Denny, Eſq; to hold them of the King by Fealty, and yearly Rent of 10 l. to be paid to the Court of Firſt-Fruits. He convey'd the Rectory to George Dacres, Son of Robert Dacres, Eſq; who poſſeſs'd it Anno 43. Eliz. and afterwards granted it to Henry Atkins, Doctor of Phyſick, who enjoy'd it 11. Jac. I. and in ſhort ſpace after ſold it to Sir Edw. Scott, Kt. from whom it paſſed to his Brother Sir Stephen Scott, who had Three Sons, John, Edmund, and Stephen; John was his Heir, and ſucceeded, but dying without Iſſue, deviſ'd it to Stephen, his youngeſt

Brother, who ſold it to Sir Edward Desbovery of London, Merchant. He deviſ'd it to be ſold, and made Two of his Sons, William and Jacob, his Executors, and died. William Desbovery, Eſq; bought it, and is the preſent Poſſeſſor thereof, 1700.

Bonner, 377. But as to the Advowſon of the Vicarage, Q. Mary, by her Letters Patents, dated Mar. 3. in the Firſt Year of her Reign (inter alia) gave the ſame to Edmund Bonner, Biſhop of London, and his Succeſſors, for ever in that Sea; who thereupon, for ſome Time, enjoy'd the ſame, and (as appears) after a Preſentation, and Admiſſion to it, in 1562. by a Patron pro iſta vice, (to whom probably Bonner, before his Deprivation, when Q. Elizabeth came to the Crown, had granted the Advowſon for one Turn) upon Two ſucceſſive Vacancies, viz. in 1590. and 1605. collated to this Vicarage. But afterwards Biſhop paſs'd it away to Robert Earl of Saliſbury, in exchange for the Church of Orſet in Eſſex, being enabled thereunto by an Act of Parliament, in which noble Family it hath continu'd ever ſince.

Antiq. Hertf. 303. The Church, that now is the Parochial Church, was built in the middle of this Vill, by Nicolas Dixon, formerly Rector thereof (who died Rector of the ſame, Anno 1448.) partly by his own Bounty, and partly by the Collection of others, conſiſting of a Body, with an Iſle on either ſide, a fair Chancel at the Eaſt-end thereof, and a ſquare Tower at the Weſt end, and was dedicated to the Virgin Mary.

ibid. 304. Penſio Vicar. King James I. granted an Annuity of 56*l. per Ann.* iſſuing out of the Fee-Farm Rents payable out of the Exchequer, to the Vicar of this Pariſh, and his Succeſſors, in lieu of the Tyths, that iſſued out of the Lands, which he incloſed within his Park at Theobalds.

ibid. 305. Rog. Jackſon, about June 10. 1616. gave 10*s.* a Year for a yearly Sermon for ever, on Good-Friday, to be preach'd by the Miniſter of this Pariſh. Alſo One Acre of Meadow in a Mead call'd Overſea; and Two acres of Meadow in a Mead call'd Short-mead. Alſo 10*s.* a Year for a Sermon to be preach'd on every firſt Sunday in Lent, given by Richard Coulter, Anno 1621.

Cheſhunt, Priory.

IN this Pariſh ſtood a Priory near the River Lea, which ſeems to be a Cell to the Priory of Catteley in Lincolnſhire, founded there by Peter de Belingey to the Honour of the Bleſſed Virgin, for the Order of Sempringham.

Mon. Angl. II. Vol. 814.

This Priory here at Cheſhunt (dedicated likewiſe to the Bleſſed Virgin) was founded for Nuns of the Benedictine Order, but by whom I have not met with. But Pope Lucius III. by his Bull bearing date 15. Kal. Jan. 1183. in the Third Year of his Pontificate (among ſundry other Privileges) exempted the Site of this Houſe, with all the Lands, Tenements, Granges, Rents, and Poſſeſſions, and Appurtenances thereunto belonging, from Payment of Tyths.

Fitz-Jam. 35.

This Priory of Cheſhunt was in old Time poſſeſſed by the Canons of Catteley aforeſaid. But K. Hen. III. removed theſe Canons from hence, and by his Charter dated Aug. 11. in 24. of his Reign (1240.) granted it to the Prioreſs and Nuns of Cheſhunt, to hold of him and his Heirs, to them and their Succeſſors in free and perpetual Alms, which they enjoyed till their Suppreſſion. And it was then valued at 14 l. 10 s. per Ann. Dugd. 27 l. 6 s. 8 d. Speed.

Monaſt. Angl. I. Vol. 512.

After this Priory came to the Crown, K. Edw. VI. granted this Manor to Anthony Denny, Eſq; to hold of the King by the yearly Rent of 40 s. from whom it paſſed to Henry Denny, his Son and Heir; and from him to Edward Lord Denny Earl of Norwich, who ſold it to Rob. Dewhurſt, Eſq; Cuſtos Rotulorum of the Kings-Bench; but he dying without Iſſue, gave it to Anne Gill, who convey'd it, upon her Death, to Anne Gill her Mother, from whom it deſcended to John Gill, who was her Son and Heir, and ſold it to John Mortimer, the preſent Poſſeſſor thereof.

Antiq. Hertf. 300.

Coddicote, Vicarage.

THIS Pariſh of Coddicote, which ſignifies a Cottage, a ſmall Houſe or place for Sheep; in old Records Codicote, Cudicote, Cudichote, and Caldecot, lies within the Limits of the Hundred of Bradwater. And in the Conquerors Time was recorded of that Hundred, but is now reckoned among the Pariſhes in the Hundred of Caiſho, and is in the Archdeaconry of S. Albans, and ſubject to that Archdeacon.

ibid. 512.
Archid. S. Alb

It was parcel of the antient Poſſeſſions of the Monaſtery of S. Albans, and belonged to the ſame in the Time of the Conqueſt, when it was recorded under the Title of Terra Eccleſiæ S. Albani, thus: "In Bradwater Hundred Codicote & "Oxewich duo Maneria fuerunt tempore Regis Edwardi, & modo eſt unum, pro "octo Hidis ſe defendebat, &c.

ibid.

K. Hen. I. by his Charter dated at Weſtminſter, in the Time of Richard the 15th Abbot of S. Albans, confirmed to God and the Church of S. Albans, all their Cells and Poſſeſſions, and (among the reſt) this of Cudicote, with the Churches, and other things belonging to them. So did King Hen. II. So did K. John, by his Charter dated at Weſtminſter, June 11. in the Firſt Year of his Reign, in the Time of John de Cella, the 21ſt Abbot of that Monaſtery.

ibid. 434.
Monaſt. Angl. I. Vol. 178.

Likewiſe, after this, Pope Honorius III. by his Bull dated Mar. 10. Ann. 1218. in the Third Year of his Pontificate, confirm'd to William de Trumpington (the 22d Abbot of S. Albans) and to his Brethren, as well preſent as to come, the ſeveral Churches that were in their poſſeſſion, with the Vills, and all their Appurtenances, and (among them) this of Cudicote.

ibid. 179.

All that I farther meet with of old that concerns this Pariſh, is, That the aforeſaid Richard, the 15th Abbot, obtained the Reſtauration of One Virgate and half a Hide of Land in Cudicote, that had been taken away by force from his Abby. And that Jeoffery, his next Succeſſor, endowed his new founded Hoſpital of S. Julian (inter alia) with two parts of the Tyth-Corn of the Lordſhip of William Son of Anketill of Cudicote. And that K. Hen. III. granted a Fair to the Abbot to be held here at the Feaſt of S. James, and a Market on every Friday, which, it ſeems, in after-Times was to the great Damage of the King and his Borough of Hertford; and perhaps was for that reaſon put down and diſcontinu'd.

Math. Paris vit. Abb. 54.

This

Antiq. Hertf. 513.

This Manor and Church of Coddicote continu'd in the Abbot and Convent of S. Albans till their Diſſolution. After which, K. Hen. VIII. gave the Manor to John Penn, Groom of the Privy-Chamber, Porter and Barber to that King; which (together with Siſſeverne, another Manor in this Pariſh, which came to the ſaid John by his Marriage with Luce the Daughter and Heir of Edmund Cheval, Lord of the ſaid Manor) continu'd in the Deſcendants of the ſaid Penn, till the Year 1659. about which Time Thomas Penn conveyed both the ſaid Manors to George Poyner, Citizen and Merchant of London, from whom they came to his Son George, and after his Death, and of his laſt Wife, in 1694. this Manor of Coddicote, deſcended to Anne his Daughter and Heir.

Coll. Dn. J. Ouſeley.

The Rectory and Pariſh-Church (dedicated to) was appropriated to the Monaſtery of S. Alban, by the aforeſaid Pope Honorius III. An. 1218. And a Vicarage it ſeems here ordained and endowed. Both which, at the Diſſolution, came to the Crown. And K. Edw. VI. in the Firſt of his Reign (inter alia) granted this Rectory or Parſonage, by way of Exchange, to the Maſter and Fellows of the College of Fotheringhey in Northamptonſhire; but the Advowſon of the Vicarage continued for ſome time in the Crown, till afterwards it was granted to the Biſhop of Ely, and his Succeſſors, who (as appears) have been Patrons thereof ever ſince the Year 1661.

Eaſtwick, Rectory.

Antiq. Hertf. 191.

Archid. Mid.

IN the Archdeaconry of Middleſex, Deanry and Hundred of Braughing, about 20-22 Miles North-Eaſtward from London, lies this Pariſh of Eaſtwick, and derives its Name from its Situation in the Eaſt-part of this County, on the River Stort; for Wick ſignifies a place upon a River, or the Sea-ſhore; for the German-Saxons were wont to call or term any winding Reach of River and Sea a Wick. It is ſubject to the Archdeacon.

Mon. Angl. II. Vol. 235.

The Church here (dedicated to) and what belongs to it, hath been in old Time ſeveral ways diſpoſed of; for I find that Baldwyn the Son of Giſlebert (who founded the Priory of Brunne, in the County of Lincoln, for black Canons, in the Time of Hen. I.) gave this Church of Eaſtwick, with all things belonging to it, for the Suſtentation of the Brethren then in the ſaid Church of Brunne.

ibid. 376.

In the Time alſo of Hen. I. Jeoffery, the 16th Abbot of S. Albans, who founded the Hoſpital of S. Julian, near that place, with the Advice and Good Will of his Convent, gave Two parts of the Tyth-Corn of one Hide of Land, which Robert, the Son of Weneling, had in his Vill of Eaſtwick, to the poor Lepers of the ſaid Hoſpital.

However, this Church was in old time diſpos'd of to the Brethren of the Priory of Brunne, as aboveſaid; yet it appears, that in after-Times the Advowſon thereof came into the Hands of Lay-Patrons; for in 1390. (which is the firſt Inſtitution I find) it was in Mandevil. In 1397. in the Counteſs of Holland. In 1410. in Hoget and his Wiſe. In 1478. in K. Edw. IV. And after that, this Manor was in K. Ric. III. who, by way of Exchange, granted it (together with the Manor of Hundſdon) to Sir William Stanley, Kt. who, it ſeems, with this Manor of Eaſtwick, had alſo the Advowſon of the Church; for it appears, that he preſented to it in 1488.

Antiq. Hertſ. 192.

But it ſeems, before the next Vacancy, both the Manor and Advowſon came again to the Crown, and was in K. Hen. VIII. For that King, in the 4th of his Reign, after he had advanced Thomas Howard Earl of Surrey, for his memorable Service in that famous Battle of Flodden-Field to the Title of Duke of Norfolk, by Letters-Patents dated Feb. 1. that Year, and by other Letters-Patents dated the ſame Day, granted to the ſame Duke in ſpecial Tail (among others) this Manor of Eaſtwick; but, it ſeems, reſerv'd the Advowſon of the Church; for it appears upon the next Vacancy, Ann. 1526. that King preſented to it. And after his Deceaſe, Ann. 1548. the Lady Mary (afterwards Queen of England) who, it ſeems, in 4. and 5. Phil. & Mar. annexed this (with other Lordſhips and Manors) to the Duchy of Lancaſter.

Dugdal. Bar. III. Tom. 268.

Antiq. Hertſ. 192.

Q. Elizabeth, in the Firſt of her Reign, granted this Manor to Henry Cary, whom, in regard of his near Alliance to her (being her Mothers Siſters Son) ſhe advanced to the Dignity of a Baron, by the Title of Lord Hunſdon, who appears to be Patron of this Church in 1562. From him this Manor (with the Advowſon) and the Honour paſs'd to George, his Son and Heir; and from him, for want of Iſſue-Male, to John his next Brother; from whom it deſcended to his Son Henry Earl of Dover, who, with his Son John, Ann. 1641. ſold it, with the Advowſon of the Church, to Sir John Gore of Gilſton, Kt. from whom it came to Sir Humfry Gore, Kt. his Son and Heir, who is the preſent Lord of the Manour, and Patron of the Church. 1700.

ibid.

Terrier no Date. A Parſonage-Houſe tiled, with a Barn and a Stable at the end of it thatch'd, the Yard and Gardens, and 7 Parcels of Land lying about the ſaid Houſe, containing 17 Acres. Alſo 20 Acres of Glebe, in the Pariſh of Sabridgworth. A Grove of 4 Acres. In Gelſton Pariſh 7 Acres and 1 Rood. One Acre in Hundſdon Pariſh. And all manner of Tyths (except Tyth-Cheeſe, for which there is paid 4 d. a Cow) belong to the Rector.

Gedleſton, Rectory.

Archid. Mid. NEXT to the laſt-mention'd Vill of Eaſtwick to the North, in the ſame Archdeaconry, Deanry, and Hundred, and ſubject to the ſame Archdeacon, lies this Pariſh of Gedleſton, Gelſton, Gilſton, Geldeſton, and Goldeſton (for by all Antiq. Hertſ. 187. theſe Names I find it written) and is ſuppoſed to have been waſte Ground, in the Time of the Conquerour, being omitted out of Domeſday-Book, and might then belong to the Pariſh of Sawbridgworth, of which Geoffery de Magnavil, the Founder of that great Abby of Walden, was Lord, who (as is gueſs'd) erected this Monaſt. Angl. I. Vol. 449. Church, and made it Parochial; for he had the Tyths, preſented the Parſon, and (inter alia) gave this Church, then call'd Goldeſton, from the Hill whereon it is erected (and is dedicated to   ) to the Prior and Convent of his ſaid ibid. 463. Monaſtery of Walden, which was afterwards confirmed to them (with others) by King Henry II.

How long the Abbot and Convent of the ſaid Monaſtery continu'd Patrons of this Church of Gedleſton, I find not; but many Years after it was given to the Monaſtery aforeſaid, when Geoffery de Lucy was Dean of S. Pauls (viz. between 1231. and 1241.) there happen'd a Controverſie between him and the Chapter of S. Pauls, on the one part, and Roger, the ſecond of that Chriſtian Name, Abbot of Walden, and the Convent there, on the other, about this Church, (with others) the ſaid Abbot and Convent affirming, That this Ch. was granted to them, and appointed for their own uſe, from the Time of the Foundation of the ſaid Monaſtery; and the ſaid Dean and Chapter oppoſing it, it was at laſt by both Parties, with the Conſent of Roger (Niger) Biſhop of London, referr'd to Peter de Newport, Archdeacon, and Henry the Chancellor of the Dioc. of London; who, as to this Church of Gedleſton, ordain'd as follows, viz. "—— Quod "Eccleſia de Gedleſton (quæ in Terminis eſt de Hadham) in ordinatione & po-"teſtate Domini Rogeri, & ſucceſſorum ſuorum London. Epiſcoporum & patronorum "pleno jure remanent in perpetuum. In qua ſi eam vacare contingat, ſede Lon-"don. vacante, per Decanum & Capitulum S. Pauli vice Epiſcopi idonea perſona "ordinetur. This Ordination was ratifi'd under the Seals of the ſaid Referrees, with Conſent of all the Parties concerned; ſince which Ordination, doubtleſs this Church hath continu'd (as it doth appear it hath from the Year 1336.) all along in the Collation of the Biſhops of London to this preſent.

Bund. Braughing. Terrier, no Date. A Manſion-Houſe, with Two Barns, and other neceſſary Houſes, an Orchard of half an Acre, and 18 Acres and an half of Glebe-Land beſides. Neither Stock nor Implements belong to this Parſonage, but the Tyth of about 500 Acres of Ground, the moſt part Arable.

Math. Par. vit. Ab. 45. This Place (with ſeveral others) was given to the ſaid Monaſtery about the later End of the Reign of Edward the Confeſſor (Leofſtan being then Abbot) by Egelwyn the Black, and Wineſted his Wife; which, with all the Rents, Gifts and Ornaments which they had given, the ſaid Leofſtan (who was of the Family of King Edward, and Confeſſor and Counſellor to him, and Queen Edita his Wife) prevailed with the ſaid King, by the Aſſiſtance of the ſaid Queen, to confirm the Premiſſes to the ſaid Monaſtery, and among them this Place by the Name of Greneburga.

Mon. Angl. 1. Vol. 178. King John, alſo, in the firſt of his Reign, by his Charter, confirm'd to the Church of S. Alban, and to the Monks there, this Vill (amongſt the reſt of their Poſſeſſions) by the name of Greneburwe.

The Church here (dedicated to) was of old appropriated to the ſaid Abby, and a Vicarage here ordain'd and endowed, of which the ſaid Abbot and Convent continued Patrons till their Suppreſſion; upon which it came to the Crown, and hath remained in it ever ſince.

Hadham

Hadham magna, Rectory.

HERE are Two Hadhams, diſtinguiſh'd by the Adjuncts of Magna and Parva, which in the time of the Conqueror were two diſtinct Vills; and both of them were at firſt denominated from the Seat of ſome Eminent Saxon, for the Word Ham, in their Language, ſignifies a Houſe, or ones own Home or Habitation. Antiq. Hertf. 152.

This Pariſh of Hadham magna, Great (vulgo) Much-Hadham is within the Archdeaconry of Middleſex, Deanry of Braughing and Hundred of Edwinſtre, about 22 or 24 Miles Northward from London. But in all Spiritual Matters wholly exempt from the Juriſdiction of the Archdeacon, and only ſubject to the Biſhop and his Commiſſary in Partibus, &c. Com. Midd.

It is ſituate in the Vale upon the River Aſh, and was parcel of the Revenue of the Biſhops of London, which one of thoſe Biſhops held in the Conqueror's time, and in his Survey is recorded under the Title of Terra Epiſcopi London', and was rated for ſeven Hides and a Half. ibid. 159.

This was a Seat which the Biſhops of London did uſually reſerve for their own Habitation, and is remarkable for giving Birth to Edmund, one of the Sons of Owen Tuther, by Katharine (Daughter of Charles VI. King of France) who from hence was call'd, Edmund of Hadham; and was in 31. Hen. VI. by reaſon of his near Alliance to that King (viz. Brother by the Mother) created Earl of Richmond, with Precedence before all other Earls, and was Father to King Hen. VII. But of late days the Biſhops have demiſed this Manor for Life; and Thomas Pask, Eſq; is the preſent Poſſeſſor thereof. Dugd. Bar. 3. Tom. 137. Antiq. Hertf. ut ſupra.

The Church here (dedicated to S. Andrew) is a Rectory, and the Rectory is a Manor, deriv'd doubtleſs from the Biſhop's Manor, and containing all the Lands, which the Prieſt is ſaid to have in Domeſday-Book, viz. xxxv. Villains, and a Knight having xv. Carucates. For when the Biſhop erected and founded this Church, he appointed a Prieſt to perform this Office to his Tenants and Inhabitants there, and gave to him this Manor and Lands for his Support and Maintenance; ſince which time the Biſhop and his Succeſſors have been Patrons thereof, and have collated to this Church, with the Chapel of little Hadham, ever ſince the uniting and annexing thereof to the Church of Much-Hadham, which I gueſs was in the time of Edw. I. as will be obſerv'd hereafter. ibid. 160.

The famous King Edgar freely gave part of Hadham (both which Hadhams, were in thoſe days part of the Revenue of the Saxon Kings) to the Monks of Ely, which they held at the time of the Conqueſt, when it was rated for four Hides; which Manor the Abbot held, till King Henry I. converted that Monaſtery into a Biſhoprick, then the Biſhops of Ely enjoy'd it, and have done ſo till one of them exchang'd it for the Manor of Heatfeld and Kelſey, with Q. Elizabeth: From which time it continued in the Crown, until K. James I. convey'd it to Robert, Lord Cecil of Elſingdon. And from that great Lord, this Manor is deſcended to James, now Earl of Salisbury, the preſent Lord thereof, 1700. ibid. 153.

Whilſt this Manor was in the Church of Ely, there happen'd great Suits at Law between the Rectors of this Church of Hadham on the one Part, and the Prior and Convent of Ely on the other; about the Tyths of certain Lands, viz. of Two Carucates of Lands of the Demeſnes of the Biſhop of Ely, and of One Carucate of Land, call'd Vyrleyſland; and diffinitive Sentence having been given in ſeveral Courts on both ſides, at laſt to put an end to all future Suits and Controverſies, Robert de Ros, Rector of this Church, and Peter de Roche, and William de Clare, two of the Monks of Ely, Procurators lawfully conſtituted by the ſaid Prior and Convent, perſonally appear'd before Richard de Graveſend, Biſhop of London, who made this final Agreement by way of Compoſition between them as followeth, viz.

ibid. It was alſo finally agreed, hereupon, by the Parties aboveſaid, That all the Proceedings, in this Buſineſs, in what Court ſoever ſhould be ſubducted; and the ſaid Rector for himſelf and Succeſſors, and his Church, and the ſaid Prior and Convent for themſelves, and their Succeſſors, and their Church, renounced all Right and Title to each others Portion of Tyths ſo aſſign’d as aforeſaid, for ever for the Future. In witneſs whereof the Parties on both ſides ſet their Seals, together with the Seal of the Archdeacon of London, dated at Hadbam, 5. Kal. Feb. 1300. This Compoſition was likewiſe confirm’d by the Biſhop under his Seal dated at Wickham, 4. Non. Mar. Anno præd. and by the Dean and Chapter of S. Pauls under their Common Seal, 5. Id. Mar. Anno prædicto.

Hadbam parva.

Antiq. Hertf. 153. THIS was a Branch of the Revenue of the Saxon Kings, which was granted from the Crown to the Biſhop of London; who held it when that memorable Survey was made by the Direction of the Conqueror, where it is recorded, That William held Little Hadham of the Biſhop of London, it was rated at two Hides, &c.

Hiſt. Paul. 132. The Biſhops of London held this Manor call’d Hadbam-Hall, ſome time in their Poſſeſſion; for William de S. Maria, Biſhop of London, in 1199. (1. Joh.) did poſſeſs this Manor, and granted two Parts of his Lands within his Manor of Harrington, and the old Park at Hadbam (inter alia) for one Chaplain to celebrate and pray for the Souls of the Biſhops of London, and their Succeſſors, in the lower Chapel in the Biſhop’s Palace, where he founded a Chantry for that purpoſe.

Antiq. Hertf. 153. ibid. 154. But about the time of Henry III. this Manor was in the Poſſeſſion of the Bauds (a very ancient Family, whoſe chief Seat was at Coringbam, in Eſſex) who held it of the Biſhops of London till Henry VII. time. And then Thomas Baud, Eſq; by Indenture bearing date Nov. 19. 1505. (20. Hen. VII.) did convey this Manor with all its Appurtenances to Sir Thomas d’Arcy, Lord d’Arcy, and his Heirs; who by Indenture dated Jan. 8 following convey’d it to Sir William Capell, Knight, and his Heirs by the Name of Hadbam, otherwiſe call’d Little Hadbam, with all his Lands and Tenements, with the Appurtenances in Hadbam, which late were of Sir Thomas Baud, Knight; and in Hilary-Term 22. Hen. VII. ſuffered a Recovery of this Manor, and by Deed dated 22. Hen. VII. declared the Uſe to Sir William Capell, Knight, and his Heirs, who held it of the Biſhop of London, as of his Caſtle of Stortford by Homage-Fealty, and to pay xl s. Eſcuage, and if more, more, and if leſs, leſs. And by the yearly Rent of v s. for Caſtle-guard to be paid at Michaelmas, and by the yearly Rent of xiii s. iv d. for the Sheriff's Aid at the Four Feaſts of the Year. In whoſe Family (now enobled by the Title of Earl of Eſſex) it hath continued ever ſince.

In Little Hadham there is a Manor call'd Wickham; which in the time of the Conqueſt was divided into two Parts, and both then held of the Biſhop of London. In the One two Knights held one Virgate and a Half. The other was held by Humfry for 2 Hides, and 20 Acres for one Manor. ibid. 158.

Hadham magna cum Capella de Hadham parva eidem annex.

AS Hadham parva, in the time of the Conqueſt, was a diſtinct Vill from the other Hadham, as hath been before obſerv'd: So the Church (now Chapel) was then a diſtinct Parochial-Church from that which is now the Mother-Church, and a Rectory of it ſelf, antiently belonging to the aforeſaid Family of the Bauds, till Sir Walter Baud, in 4. Edw. I. ſold all his Right in the Advouſon of this Church for 20 l. to the Biſhop of London and his Succeſſors for ever. And from that time (it is ſuppos'd) it hath been united to the Rectory of Great Hadham, tho' they have diſtinct Officers, and are ſtill diſtinctly ſerved in all Parochial Duties. The Rector of Great Hadbam provides a Curate for this Church or Chapel, which is rated in the King's Book with Great Hadham, for that they make but one Rectory. This Chapel lies about two Miles diſtant towards the North from the Mother-Church. ibid.

Terrier, 1610. One Hundred and Thirty-five Acres of Glebe; a Parſonage-Houſe, with the Yards, Barn, and Out-houſes being about one Acre and Half, and the Church-yard about an Acre. Bund. Braughing. Hadh. mag.

A Parſonage-Houſe, with the Yards, Barn, and Out-houſes. And   Acres of Land, and two Acres more beſides the Church-yard, which contains one Acre, and a Houſe or Tenement within the Church-yard. Hadh. parva.

Harwood parva, Vicarage.

Archid.S.Alb.

THIS Pariſh of Harwood parva (diſtinguiſh'd by that Adjunct from the next neighbouring Pariſh, call'd Harwood magna; which is in the Dioceſe of Lincoln) is in the County of Bucks, Deanry of Mureſley, Hundred of Coltow, and within the Limits of the aforeſaid Dioceſe. But it belonging formerly to the Monaſtery of S. Albans, is become part of the Dioceſe of London, ſubject to the Biſhops of that Sea, and in Subordination to them, to the Archdeacon of S. Albans.

Mon. Ang. 1. Vol. 178.

It was part of the Poſſeſſions of the Monaſtery of S. Albans, to which, and to the Monks ſerving God there, I find it confirm'd by the name of Horwolle (inter alia) in King John's Charter dated at Weſtminſter, June 11. in the firſt Year of his Reign.

The Church here (dedicated to) was of old appropriated to the ſaid Monaſtery, and a Vicarage ordained and endowed, the Collation whereof was, and continued in that Abbot and Convent till their Suppreſſion; upon which it came to the Crown, and by Grant from thence, and other mean Conveyances, came at laſt, it ſeems, to Robert Grange, at whoſe Preſentation the preſent Vicar, 1688. was admitted.

Hexton, Vicarage.

THIS Pariſh of Hexton, ſeated at the Foot of the Mountains, which are a continued Rock of Stones, lies within the half Hundred of Hiz, or Hitchin, to the Weſtward of the Town of that Name, about 31--34 Miles from London, toward the North-Weſt, in the extream part of this County, within the Dioceſe of Lincoln; but is part of the Hundred of Caiſho, and Archdeaconry of S. Albans, in the Dioceſe of London, and ſubject to that Archdeacon.

Antiq. Hertſ. 517.

Archid. S. Alb.

The Saxons called this Town Heckſtaneſtune (i.e.) the Town of Reed and Stones, as ſome conjecture; if not rather Hockſtaneſtune (i. e.) the Town of Mire and Stones; for old Engliſh Men call deep Mire Hocks; or it may be from Grates ſet in Rivers, or Waters before Flood-gates, which are called Hecks; ſome of theſe Conjectures may be true. But this is certain, That Sexi, an honourable and devout Dane, about 1030. gave this Town to the Monaſtery of S. Alban, by the Name of Heckſtanetune; (as it is in the Cartulary of the Abby) and the Abbot of S. Albans held this Manor in the Time of the Conqueror's Survey, by the Name of Hegaſtaneſtone, and it was then rated for 8 Hides and 3 Virgates. From that time, during the ſpace of 510 Years, the Abbots of S. Albans were Lords of this Manor now called Hexton; which was confirm'd to them (inter alia) by King John's Charter, dated June 11. in the firſt Year of his Reign, by the Name of Hockſtaneſtun.

Monaſt. Angl. I. Vol. 178.

The ſaid Abbots were likewiſe Patrons of the Church (which is dedicated to S. Faith) which Saint had her Statue erected over a Fountain near the Church-yard, called S. Faith's Well. This Church, in proceſs of time, was appropriated to the ſaid Monaſtery by John de Hertford, the 23d Abbot of S. Albans, about the Time of Hen. III. and a Vicarage, it ſeems, was ordain'd and endow'd in the Gift of the ſaid Abbots and Convent till their Suppreſſion. After which, K. Hen. VIII. in 36. of his Reign, granted this Manor, and (I ſuppoſe) the Rectory, or at leaſt the Advowſon of the Vicarage to Sir Ric. Lee, Kt. (for it appears that he preſented to it in 1571.) who dying in 1575. left this Manor to Anne, one of his Daughters and Co-Heirs, the Wife of Edw. Sadler, Eſq; who in 1579. alienated the ſame to his Brother Henry Sadler, Eſq; who ſold it in 1593. to Peter Taverner, Eſq; But how the Advowſon of the Vicarage came to Barker or Barber I am to ſeek. However, I find one Taverner died Rector (it ſhould be Vicar) of this Church, An. 1638. where he was buried, as appears by his Epitaph.

[a] Joh. Taverner; though the Time of his Admiſſion to this Vicarage, or by whom preſented, does not appear by the Regiſtry of London; yet by the Inſcription on his Monument in this Church, where he was buried, it appears, That he was born in this County, of an honeſt Family, and of pious and Honeſt Parents, from his Infancy addicted to Learning, firſt under a private Maſter, then in Weſtminſter-School, thence he went to Cambridge, where he ſtudied for 8 Years, and took the Degree of Maſter; then in the Univerſity of Oxford for 5 Years more; after that he was Secretary to Dr. John King, Biſhop of London, for 9 Years, and one of the Profeſſors in Greſham-College, London, for 28 Years. At length he entred into Holy Orders, was Vicar of Tillingham, in Eſſex, for 5 Years. And laſt of all, Rector (it ſhould be Vicar) of this Church, for 9 Years (to which probably he was preſented by one of his own Name and Family) was born in 1584. and died in 1638.

Hormead Magna, Vicarage.

Antiq. Hertf. 137. SINCE the Time of William the Conquerour, this Vill of Hormead, Horemede, Horehead, or Hormhead, has been divided; for I find (ſays my Author) no Diſtinction in Doomeſday-Book, but when that King diſpoſed of it between Edgar Atheling, Earl Euſtace, and Ralph Bangiard (for they all Three held Lands in Hormede) I gueſs (ſays he) they built the Two Churches for the Conveniency of their Tenants, and divided them into theſe Two Vills of Great and Little Hormead.

This Pariſh of Hormead magna is in the Archdeaconry of Middleſex, Deanry of Braughing, and Hundred of Edwinſtre, about 30--33 Miles towards the North from London. It borrows its Name from the Mead, and the Brook, which feeds the River Quin, and is ſubject to the Archdeacon. Archid. Mid.

William the Conquerour gave this Manor to Edgar Atheling, as appears by Doomeſday-Book, where it is recorded under the Title of Terra Edgari, to this effect, ibid. 134. "Godwine held Hormede of Edgar, in the Hundred of Edwinſtre. It was rated at 6 Hides and 3 Virgates. Which Edgar Adeling or Atheling (the laſt Heir Male of the Engliſh Crown) dying without Iſſue, King Hen. II. claim'd a Right to the Crown, as Heir to his Mother Queen Maud, Daughter of Hen. I. by Maud his Wife, Daughter of Malcolm King of Scots by Margaret the Siſter of this Edgar Atheling, and ſo entitled himſelf to this Manor, which remain'd ſome time in the Crown.

ibid. But in the 12th and 13th of King John, 'twas found, that John de Sandford (inter alia) held Hormede by Serjeancy, or Service in the Queens Chamber: Of which Family doubtleſs was Jordan de Sandford, the Founder of the Priory of S. Laurence de Blakemore in Eſſex, and gave this Church to the Monks there; for this Church (which is dedicated to S. Nicolas) was Parcel of their Poſſeſſions, and (with others) appropriated to them by William (de S. Maria) Biſhop of Stokeſley, 44. London, and a Vicarage here ordained and endowed as follows, viz. " — Salva " tamen in Eccleſia de Hormead Vicaria perſonæ idoneæ, quam provida delibera- " tione nobis, vel ſucceſſoribus noſtris præſentaveritis aſſignanda. Percipiet autem " idem Vicarius & qui poſt ipſum ad eandem fuerint Vicariam admittendi, Vi- " cariæ nomine ſingulas altaris obventiones, cum omnibus ejuſdem Parochiæ mi- " nutis Decimis (exceptis Decimis de nutrimentis animalium de domo noſtra in " eadem Parochia provenientibus, quas nobis Apoſtolica ſede benignitas ſpeciali " jure reſervavit) Nec non & Decimas Bladi & Leguminum de Dominico Eccle- Penſio Vicar. " ſiæ de Hormead, ac de una virgata terræ, quam in eadem villa tempore Philippi " Capellani poſſidetis, cum una Marca eidem de camera noſtra annuatim ſol- " venda provenientes. Suſtinebitque idem Vicarius omnia onera Epiſcopalia & " Archidiaconalia canonica & conſueta, prænominatum Eccleſiam contingentia.

Thus was this Vicarage endowed, the Patronage whereof continued in the Prior and Convent of Blakemore (who were Proprietaries of the Rectory) till that Priory (with others) was ſuppreſs'd by Cardinal Wolſey, in order to be appropriated to his Colleges of Oxford and Ipſwich: But that failing, by reaſon of the Cardinals incurring a Præmunire, this (with the reſt) fell into the Hands of King Hen. VIII. who granted Licence to the Abbot and Convent of Waltham to appropriate this Church (with others) to their Monaſtery, which was accordingly done by Sentence, Feb. 7. 1533. by Nicolas Wotton, Doctor of both Laws, Commiſſioner eſpecially conſtituted by John Stokeſley, Biſhop of London. In which Sentence of Appropriation, he decreed (inter alia) the Nomination of a Vicar to this Church upon every Vacancy thereof for the future to be in the Biſhops of London for ever, the Sea being full; and in the Dean and Chapter of S. Pauls, the Sea being vacant; decreeing the ſaid Abbot and Convent to preſent the Perſon ſo nominated; and in caſe they refuſed, then the ſaid Biſhop or Dean and Chapter were to collate. And here note, That as the Nomination, ſo the Right of the Induction is in the Biſhop, and not in the Archdeacon.

Epiſc. nominat. Vicar.

Epiſc. inducit.

Upon the Diſſolution of Waltham-Abby, this Rectory, and Advowſon of the Vicarage, came to the Crown, and it ſeems were granted (at leaſt the Advowſon of the Vicarage) to Thomas Brond or Brand; for it appears, that he preſented to it in 1546. and that it hath continued in that Name and Family ever ſince, i. e. till 1679. incluſive.

Terrier 1610. Nothing belonging to this Vicarage lying out of the Pariſh, but what is payable out of the impropriatory Parſonage, ſaving only 7 Rood of Arable Land in the Pariſh of Little Hormead.

Bund. Braughing.

Within the Pariſh, The Church and Churchyard half an Acre, the Houſes and all the Buildings thereunto belonging, with a Cloſe, and other Appurtenances containing an Acre; beſides a yearly Penſion of xl*s.* payable out of the Rectory, nec non omnes Decimas Feni, Garbarum, Lani, & Agni, out of all the Glebe-Land belonging to the Rectory; cum Oblationibus, & aliis minutis Decimis, All the Tyths of Wool, Lamb, and Woods, with the Oblations and other ſmall Tyths in this Pariſh; and alſo the Tyth-Hay on the South-ſide of the Way that leads from the Green call'd Huddibals, on the Eaſt, to Buntingford, on the Weſt.

Penſio Vicar.

This Terrier in Two parts was exhibited; the firſt under the Hands of Thomas Taylor the Vicar, and 3 others; and the others under the Hands of the ſaid Vicar, and 2 others.

Hormead Parva, Rectory.

NEXT to Hormead Magna, to the South, lies Hormead Parva, in the ſame Archdeaconry, Deanry, and Hundred. But it is wholly exempt from the Archdeacon, and only ſubject to the Biſhop and Commiſſary. Commiſſar.

Midd. Antiq. Hertf. William the Conquerour gave this Vill to Euſtace Earl of Bologne, and Ralph Bangiard or Baynard, part whereof was held in the Time of the general Survey by Two Engliſh-Men of Earl Euſtace, which was rated for 3 Hides and 1 Virgate. ibid.

From him it came to Stephen Earl of Mortaigne (who afterwards uſurped the Crown of England) by his inter-Marriage with the ſole Daughter and Heir of the ſaid Euſtace, by whom he had Iſſue Euſtace Earl of Bologne, who married Conſtance Daughter of Lewis VII. K. of France; but he dying without Iſſue, it came to William Earl of Mortaigne his Brother and next Heir; but he dying without Iſſue, it came to the Crown.

ibid. Shortly after, it was conveyed to Dioniſe de Monte Caviſo, whoſe next Heir was Dioniſe Wife of Hugh de Vere, and Daughter of William de Monte Caviſo. She died ſeized (inter alia) of this Manor, Ann. 7. Edw. II. And Audomare de Valentia Earl of Pembroke was found to be next Heir.

bid. The other Parcel of Land, which was given to Ralph Bangiard, was, in the Time of the Conquerours Survey, held of the ſaid Ralph by William, and rated for One Virgate.

From the ſaid Ralph it paſſed to Geoffery his Son and Heir, and upon his Death, William ſucceeded, who was attainted and executed for conſpiring, with Helias Earl of Mayne, and others, againſt Hen. I. upon which this part alſo came to the Crown.

Antiq. Hertf. 137.

From whence it was conveyed, with the former, to the ſaid Dioniſe de Monte Caviſo, and paſſed with that to the ſaid Audomare de Valentia, Earl of Pembroke; he granted it to K. Edw. II. who gave it (with other Lands) to Mary de S. Paul, the Wife of the ſaid Audomare for her Life, who thereby became Patroneſs of this Church (which is dedicated to) and is an Appendant to the Manor, and (as appears) ſeveral times preſented to it.

ibid.

Upon the Death of both, the Manor and Advowſon came to the Crown, which King Edw. III. (together with the Manor of Meſdon) granted to the Abbot and Monks of S. Mary de Graces, near the Tower of London (a Monaſtery of his own Foundation) and to their Succeſſors, to hold of him in free and perpetual Alms.

ibid. 138.

The ſaid Abbot and Monks enjoyed this Manor, with the Advowſon, till their Suppreſſion, upon which it came to King Hen. VIII. who granted it to Sir Tho. Audley, Kt. and his Heirs, from whom it came to Margaret his Daughter, and ſole Heir, who taking to her firſt Husband Henry Dudley, a younger Son to John Duke of Northumberland, they both (as appears) preſented to this Church in 1557. But he being ſlain the ſame Year at S. Quintin in Picardy, ſhe afterwards took to her ſecond Husband Thomas Duke of Norfolk, who had Iſſue by her (among others) Thomas Howard; which Thomas (his Father having been attainted, and executed in 15. Eliz.) preſented to this Ch. in 1580. by the Name only of Thomas Howard, without any Title; but was afterwards reſtored in Blood, and in 39. of that Queen, was ſummon'd to Parliament by the Title of Lord Howard of Walden; and in 1. Jac. advanced to the Title of Earl of Suffolk.

Dugd. Bar. III. Tom. 383.

ibid. 279.

This Earl Thomas it was (as I ſuppoſe) who ſold this Manor, with the Advowſon, to Edw. Newport of Furueux Pelham, and not the ſaid Duke and Ducheſs, as my Author ſeems to intimate; for it appears, that he the ſaid Thomas was Patron of this Church, after they were both dead.

Antiq. Hertf. 138.

The ſaid Edward Newport, Eſq; after he had purchaſed the Premiſes, it ſeems, granted the next Advowſon to Edward Howſden, by virtue of which he preſented in 1604. And tho' upon the next Vacancy Katharine Young preſented, yet the Right of Patronage, in ſeems, continu'd in Newport; for John Newport preſented in 1660. And however Stephen Nye (the preſent Rector) was preſented by Roger Woodcock and Stephen Boughton; yet I conceive the Right of Patronage is ſtill in Newport; for William Newport, Eſq; is the preſent Lord of this Manor, 1700. to which the Church (I ſuppoſe) is ſtill an Appendant.

ibid.

Terrier, 1610. A Parſonage-Houſe, with a Barn, Hay-Houſe, a Shed, a Stable, an Orchard, and a Garden. About 67 Acres and half, and One Stripe of Glebe-Land. Tyths within the Pariſh of part of the Lands of Stowbury, of part of the Lands of Mateſtrees, of the Berry, of Ballance, of George Ives, of William Clark, of Thomas Thurgood. Tyths without the Pariſh of 3 Acres of Brown of Darſall, of 2 Acres of Henry Pitt, of 2 Acres of Hen. Catmere.

Hunſdon, Rectory.

Antiq. Hertf. 196.

THIS Pariſh of Hunſdon or Honeſdon, ſo denominated from the Hill where the Town is erected, is in the Archdeaconry of Middleſex, Deanry and Hundred of Braughing, about 20·22 Miles diſtant from London, Northward; and is ſubject to the Archdeacon.

Archid. Mid.

This Vill was doubtleſs Parcel of the Manor of Stanſted (the next adjacent Pariſh to the Southward) in the Time of the Conquerour; for it ſeems to me (ſays my Author) that there is much more Land mentioned in Stanſted by Domeſday-Book than is now in that Vill. And I find nothing more (ſays he) in that Book touching this Mannor, than that "Alwine de Godtone held 11 Hides and "half a Virgate of the Manor in Stanſted, and of theſe Ralph Talgeboſch gave to "Ranulph with his Niece in Marriage 10 Hides, and he laid the Eleventh Hide in "Honeſdon.

Mon. Angl. II. Vol. 135.

In the Time of William Rufus, or Hen. I. Roger de Wauncy was Lord of the Borough of Stanſted, and gave the Church there to the Priory of Merton in Surry; to which Priory this Church of Hunſdon was likewiſe given (perhaps by the ſaid Roger de Wauncy) for it appears that this Church, which is dedicated to and is a Rectory, hath continued from antient Time all along in the Gift of the Prior and Convent of that Monaſtery till the Diſſolution.

Antiq. Hertf. 197.

In the Time of K. Hen. VIII. this Manor of Honeſdon was in the Crown; for that King erected a Palace Royal here, where he was pleas'd to reſort for the preſervation of his Health; and in 23. of his Reign did annex the Manors of Royden and Stanſted, and other Lands to this Palace, and made them an Honour, and this Palace the capital place of the Honour, and choſe this Seat for the Breeding and Education of his Children, in reſpect of the Benefit of the Heir.

ibid.

King Edw. VI. by Patent dated May 17. Regni ſui 2. aſſign'd this Honour to the Lady Mary, eldeſt Daughter to King Hen. VIII. who reſided here till the Lady Jane Dudley was proclaimed Queen of England, and upon that News ſhe removed hence to Framlingham-Caſtle in Suffolk.

With this Manor the Advowſon of the Church, it ſeems, likewiſe paſſed, and continued for the future an Appendant to it; for it appears, that in 1556. and 1557. the Patronage thereof was in Queen Mary, to whom the Honour was aſſign'd as aforeſaid. And upon her Deceaſe it came to Queen Elizabeth,

Who by Patent dated in the firſt of her Reign, granted the ſame to Henry Cary, Son to Sir William Cary, and Mary Bollen his Wife, Siſter of Anne Bollen, Mother to the ſaid Queen. Which Henry was afterwards advanced to the Dignity of a Baron of this Realm, by the Title of the Lord Honeſdon, and under that Title preſented (as appears) to this Church, in 1589. and 1593. And Norden tells, That he enlarged the aforeſaid Houſe with a ſtately Gallery, fair Lodgings, and Offices, and died in 1596.

Antiq. Hertf. 198.

This Manor and Advowſon continu'd in the Deſcendants of the ſaid Lord Honeſdon, till John Earl of Dover (who was the ſecond of that Family which bore that Title) ſold this Manor to William Willoughby, Eſq; (afterwards Lord Willoughby of Parham) who, about the Year 1671. ſold this Manor, with the Advowſon, to Mathew Bluck, Eſq; at whoſe Preſentation in 1678. the preſent Rector was admitted.

ibid. 199.

Terrier 1627. A Parſonage-Houſe, with an Orchard, and a Yard, and about 45 Acres of Glebe-Land, three whereof lie in a common Meadow, and as has been always always reported within Eaſtwick Pariſh, free from paying Tyths, and any other Due whatſoever. This was exhibited under the Hands of the Rector and two Churchwardens.

Bund. Brang-hing.

Another Terrier without Date, which agrees with the former, as to the Glebe; but farther adds, as follows: A Barn, Tyths by Compoſition, all low Meadows upon the River Stort (except the Earl of Dovers) at 3 d. per Acre, Milch-Cow having Calves 4 d. every Cow and Calf, young Beaſts or Bullocks of the firſt Calf, and for 4 Milch-Beaſts 2 d. each. Tyths to be paid in kind; all Corn by Sheaf, Cock, or Shock; alſo of Copps or Stub-Wood; of one Water Corn-Mill; alſo of Wool, Lamb, Piggs, Fruit, Hops, Honey, Eggs, and all other ſmall Tyths to be paid in their kind, as they grow due. Provided, that if the Parſon refuſe to take a Half-penny for every Lamb under Seven, and ſo to allow three Halfpence for the three odd, if he hath a Lamb at Seven (as hath always heretofore been paid and accepted) and ſhall think good to drive, as if he pleaſe he may, that then he ſhall drive but one Year. Exhibited under the Hands of the two Churchwardens.

Idleſtree, Rectory.

THIS Pariſh of Idleſtree (which is the Name by which it is uſually recorded in the London-Regiſtry) Egleſtree, Elſtree, Elleſtre, Idelſtrye, and Ilſtrye (for, after all theſe ways, I have found it written) is in the Archdeaconry of S. Albans, and Hundred of Caiſho, about 13 or 14 Miles toward the Northweſt from London, and is ſubject to the Archdeacon.

Arch. S. Alb.
Norden on Hertf.

Offa, that great and noble Founder of the Church of S. Albans, gave (inter alia) to God and S. Alban, by the name of Egleſtree, Nemus Aquilinum, a Grove, where it is thought Eagles uſually bred in times paſt; for tho' it is now hilly and heathy, yet, formerly, this Place did greatly abound with ſtately Trees, where ſuch Fowls delighted to reſort and harbour. And at the time of the Conqueſt it was a waſt piece of Ground, overgrown with Wood, which is the Reaſon no mention is made of it in Domeſday-Book, and parcel of the Manor of Park; which belong'd to the Monaſtery of S. Alban.

Antiq. Hertf. 494.

The Church here (dedicated to) is a Rectory belonging formerly to the Abby of S. Albans. But upon the Diſſolution it came to the Crown, and the Patronage thereof hath continued therein ever ſince.

In the Antiquities of Hertſ. pag. 494. we have the Names of John Foſter, John Blake and Will. Flyer as Rectors of this Church before the Two Spencers. As for Foſter and Flyer, I ſuppoſe, they were either Curates here to Boyle, or, it may be, Miniſters here whilſt Abr. Spencer was under Sequeſtration in the late times of Rebellion. But as for John Blake, who in the Inſcription on his Grave-Stone in this Church is ſtiled late Miniſter of Elſtree, and ſaid to die Sept. 30. 1638. He could be no other but Curate to Abr. Spencer; who, as appears above, was admitted Rector of this Church in 1618. enjoy'd it till he was turn'd out by Sequeſtration in the Beginning of the ſaid Rebellion, and liv'd to be reſtor'd again upon the Reſtauration of King Charles I. in 1660.

Langley-Abbots, Vicarage.

THIS Pariſh of Langley-Abbots, or Abbots-Langley, alias Lees-Langley, is in the Archdeaconry of S. Albans, and now (tho' it ſeems not ſo in the Conqueror's time) in the Hundred of Caiſho, and about 20 or 22 towards the Northweſt from London, and is ſubject to the Archdeacon.

Archid. S. Alb.

Egelwine the Black, and Wineſted his Wife gave this Vill to the Abbots of S. Albans, from whence it had the Adjunct of Abbot, to diſtinguiſh it from the neighbouring Vill, call'd Kings Langley, and was denominated Langley from the Length of the Vill, for the Name ſignifies a Long-Land; and King Edward the Confeſſor, and Queen Elizabeth his Wife, at the Inſtance and Procurement of Leofſtan the (12th) Abbot of S. Albans, and their Confeſſor, confirm'd the Grant hereof, and the Abbot held it in the time of the Conqueror, when it was recorded to this Effect.

Antiq. Hertſ. 475.

" The Abbot (of S. Albans) held Langley, in Danai's Hundred. It was rated " for five Hides and half a Hide in the time of King Edward the Confeſſor, " and now for three Hides, &c.

This Place is memorable for the Birth of Nicolas, ſurnamed Breakſpear, afterwards Pope by the name of Hadrian IV. who firſt preach'd the Chriſtian Faith to the People of Norway, and quieted the Tumults of the People at Rome, at that time endeavouring to recover their antient Liberties. Frederick I. Emperor of the Romans, held this Popes Stirrup as he lighted from his Horſe, and at laſt he loſt his Life by a Flie, that flew in his Mouth and chok'd him. He gave large Privileges to the Church of S. Albans.

Camd. Brit. N. E. 302.

King John, in the firſt of his Reign, confirm'd the Grant of this Manor for the Clothing of the Monks of the ſaid Monaſtery. And alſo Pope Honor. III. anno 1218. in the third Year of his Pontificate confirm'd both this Church and the Manor to the ſaid Abbot and Monks.

Antiq. Hertſ. ut ſupra.
Mon. Ang. 1. Vol. 179.

The Church here (dedicated to   ) was, it ſeems, appropriated to the ſaid Monaſtery, and a Vicarage here ordain'd and endow'd, of which they continued Proprietaries, Patrons of the Vicarage, and alſo Lords of the Manor till the Diſſolution; when the Premiſſes came to the Crown, where the Manor remain'd until Prince Charles held a Court here in Octob. 22. Jac. I. ſhortly after which, it was convey'd to Thomas (in the Inſcription on his Wife's Monument in this Church, call'd Francis) Combe, Eſq; who married Anne, Daughter of Thomas Greenhill, Gent. and dying May 21. 1641. without Iſſue, deviſed this Manor with certain Lands, and moſt of his Library to Sidney-College, in Cambridge, and Trinity-College, in Oxford, for the educating in Piety and Learning the Deſcendants of his

But the Rectory, at leaſt the Advouſon of the Vicarage, ſeems to be long before that ſeparated from the Manor, for, it appears, that in the Year 1564. this Advouſon was in Sencippa Ibgrave, Widow, who had a Clerk admitted to this Vicarage on March 23. that Year, at her Preſentation. After which there appears no Preſentation till the Year 1662. and then the right of Patronage was in *Hen. Layſton, Vicarage.

THIS Pariſh of Layſton, or Leſſtanchirche, in Domeſday Book known by the name of Icheton, is in the Archdeaconry of Middleſex, Deanry of Braughing, and Hundred of Edwinſtre, about 29 or 32 Miles Northward from London, and is Archid. Mid. ſubject to the Archdeacon.

Antiq. Hertf. 127. The Saxons, in old time, built this Vill in the Fields, above a Mile diſtant from Aſpeden towards the Eaſt, where nothing remains now more than the Church. In Domeſday-Book it is known by the name of Icheton; and William the Conqueror granted this Vill in ſeveral parcels, to the Biſhop of Bayeux, Earl Euſtace, Eudo, Peter de Valongies, and Hardwin de Eſcalers. But that which chiefly concerns my preſent Subject, is a Manor granted to Earl Euſtace, and then known by the name of Cornei; which in Domeſday-Book is recorded to be held of the ſaid Earl by Robert, conſiſting of one Hide.

Shortly after, this Vill was call'd Leſſtanchirke, and the Manor was convey'd to Mon. Angl. 2. Vol. 80. Hugh Tricket; who gave and granted to God, and the Church of the Holy Trinity, in London, and to the Canons ſerving God there in perpetual Alms, whatſoever he and his Father, and Predeceſſors had in Leſſtancherche, with all his Lands in Cornbee, ſo that whoſoever ſhould hold of the ſame Church, ſhould hold it of the ſaid Canons, as they held it of him, and his Anceſtors.

ibid. 81. Afterwards, Euſtace, Earl of Boloign, Son of K. Stephen, confirm'd the Grant made by Hugh Tricket; and, moreover, granted to them all the Service of the Land, which was the fourth Part of a Knight's Fee for the Health of the Souls of K. Stephen his Father, and Q. Maud his Mother, and for the Souls of Baldwin his Brother, and Maud his Siſter, who were buried in the ſaid Church of the Holy Trinity; and at the requeſt of Hugh, he engaged to the Canons, that he would keep the Agreement, and warrant the Land againſt all Men.

King Henry III. by his Charter dated Feb. 8. in the xi. of his Reign, confirm'd (inter alia) the Grants of the Land of Corney, and this Church of Leſſtanchirche given by Hugh Tricket. And alſo the Land and Meadow, and xxxvii d. Rent, which they had in Corney and Widdihall. ibid. 82.

The ſame King by Deed dated Feb. 8. in 9. of his Reign, alſo granted that the aforeſaid Prior and Convent, and their Succeſſors ſhould have one Market at their Manor of Corneia, on Tueſday in every Week, and one Fair every Year to continue eight Days (i. e.) on the Vigils, the Day of S. Bartholomew the Apoſtle, and ſix Days following. Antiq. Hertf. 128.

The Church here (dedicated to   ) thus given (with the Manor of Cornei) to the Priory of the Holy Trinity, was afterwards confirm'd to the Canons there by Gilbert (Foliot) Biſhop of London, and after that appropriated to their own uſe by Richard (Fitzneal) his next immediate Succeſſor in that Sea, and a Vicarage ordain'd and endow'd as followeth:

" Omnibus S. Matris Eccleſiæ filiis, Richardus Miſeratione Divina, London. " Eccleſiæ Miniſter, Salutem in Domino. Epiſcopalis Officii ſolcitudinem viros " Religioſos propenſiùs fovere, & Poſſeſſiones ſuas, & bona, quibus in Dei ſervitio " poſſint uberius ſuſtentari, autenticis Inſtrumentis eis confirmare pariter & " communire, ea propter attendentes Religionem, & ordinis honeſtatem dilecto-" rum in Chriſto filiorum noſtrorum Canonicorum S. Trinitatis, London. inheren-" tes, & veſtigiis bonæ Memoriæ G. London. Epiſcopi, predeceſſoris noſtri Eccleſiam " de Leſſtanchurch cum pertinentiis ſuis eis ab Hugone Tricket conceſſam, & prædicti " Predeceſſoris autoritate, ſicut in Cartis eorum, quas inſpeximus, manifeſte patet " confirmatam, eis habendam, & perpetuo poſſidendam concedimus, & Epiſcopa-" li, qua præſidemus autoritate Confirmamus, ſtatuentes, ut ad uberiorem Domus " & Canonicorum Suſtentationem, decimas omnes Garbarum de eadem Parochia " in uſus proprios habeant & convertant. " London. M. Alardo, Will. de Ely, M. Rogero Canonico S. Pauli, Alano & Richardo " Capellanis de Walden.

Thus was this Church appropriated to the aforeſaid Priory, and a Vicarage ordain'd and endow'd, of which the ſaid Prior and Canons continued Proprietaries, and Patrons till their Suppreſſion, upon which the Premiſſes came to the Crown. And K. Henry VIII. in 33. of his Reign granted them, and the Manor of Corneybury and Milkley to the Lord Chancellor Audley, and his Heirs, and by the Intermarriage of Margaret his Daughter and ſole Heir, to Thomas, Duke of Norfolk, the Premiſſes came to the ſaid Duke; who ſold the ſame to John Crowch, Citizen and Clothworker of London, in whoſe Deſcendants the Patronage of this Vicarage hath continued down to the time of the Admiſſion of the preſent Vicar, Anno 1681. Antiq. Hertf. 128.

Alſewyck Capella annexa Eccleſiæ de Layſton.

IN this Pariſh of Layſton is a Hamlet, call'd Alſewyck, Aliſieſwyke, or Aſſledawick (now Aſtwick or Beauchamps;) which in old time was ſo denominated from Alſleda a Saxon owner hereof. But William the Conqueror gave part of it (that is this part of it where the Chapel ſtood) to Ralph Bangiard, of whom William held it by the name of Alſietwiche, in Domeſday-Book, and it was rated at ſix Hides. ibid. 132.

Jeoffery, the Son of the ſaid Ralph Bangiard (or Baynard) and Inga his Wife, as Heir to his Father, ſucceeded in this Manor, upon whoſe Death it came to William Baynard, who was his Heir. But he (as hath been ſaid before) taking part with the Earl of Main, and other Conſpirators againſt the King, loſt his Barony. ibid.

However (as my Author believes) his Son made his Compoſition, for (as he ſaith) he obtained it again; this was Richard the Son of William.

Mon. Ang. 2. Vol. 80. This Richard gave this Chapelry of Alſwike to the Canons of the Holy Trinity, in London, with its Appurtenances in perpetual Alms, and at the ſame time offer'd it upon their Altar, gave it them, by his own Hand, in the preſence of Thomas, Lord Archbiſhop of Canterbury, and acknowledg'd before him, that it did belong to his Church of Leſſtancherche as built in the Pariſh of the ſame Church, whoſe Right he would have reſerv'd as of the Mother-Church. And this he did for the Love of God, and the Health of the Souls of himſelf, his Wife, his Heirs, and his Anceſtors. And the Canons receiv'd him into the Fraternity of their Church, and ſaid their Prayers for them all. And he deſir'd, that all his Friends and their Heirs would confirm this Gift, and would not hinder it in any thing.

Antiq. Hertf. 133. King Henry III. by his aforeſaid Charter, confirm'd this Chapel of Alſiſwick (inter alia) to the ſaid Canons, who receiv'd the Profits, and held them till the time of the Diſſolution, when it came to the Crown: And then the King convey'd it to Thomas Grey, Gent. who paid annually to the King x*s.* vi*d.* for Sheriff's Aid, who (as is ſuppos'd) ſold it to William Hamond; for that in Trinity-Term, 1. Edw. VI. he levied a Fine of a Meſſuage and Lands, in Aleſwyck, in his own Right.

ibid. In the time of Q. Elizabeth, the aforeſaid John Crowch purchaſed it, from whom it deſcended to his Son John, and from him to his Son John, and ſo on in a direct Line till it came to Pyke Crowch, who is the preſent Owner thereof.

ibid. On the South-ſide of the Manſion-houſe here formerly ſtood this antient Chapel of Alſewyck (now, it ſeems, demoliſh'd) and the Proprietors thereof hold the Church-yard of the Vicar of Layſton under the yearly Rent of xxvii s.

This was all along (till demoliſh'd) a Chapel of Eaſe to the Church of Layſton. And the Vicars of Layſton, when they receiv'd Inſtitution, were uſually admitted with the Chapel of Alſewyck thereunto annex'd.

Bun. Braughing. Terrier, 1610. A Vicarage-houſe with a Barn and Stable, and two Gardens or Backſides, about 49 Acres and ſome Rods of Glebe, beſides the Church-yard, containing about an Acre, and the Vicarage-Cloſe compaſs'd with a Mote.

Buntingford, Chapel.

Antiq. Hertf. 131.

THIS is a ſmall Market Town, ſituate upon Ermine-ſtreet, in four ſeveral Pariſhes, Layſton, Aſpeden, Throcking and Widiall; (but the Chapel, it ſeems, is in the Pariſh of Layſton; for which reaſon it is proper to be treated of as a Chapel of Eaſe to the Pariſh-Church of Layſton) tho 'tis not ratable by it ſelf, but in the four ſeveral Pariſhes. And there is a Tradition among the Inhabitants, that it was denominated from one Bunt a Smith, that kept a Shop near the Ford.

ibid.

This Town is of ſmall Antiquity, for there is no mention of it in Domeſday-Book, neither can my Author find any thing of it before Anno 21. Edw. III. when that King did grant one Market every Week, and one Fair every Year in Buntingford to Eliz. de Burgo, and her Heirs, reſerving the yearly Rent of vi d. And in Anno 41. of his Reign, the ſame King granted a Market to be held in the Highway, in this Vill on Saturday, in every Week; and a Fair there every Year on the Day and Morrow of the Apoſtles S. Peter and S. Paul, to the Lord and Tenants, and their Heirs, reſerving and paying to the King, and his Heirs and Succeſſors the yearly Rent of xiii s. iv d.

King Henry VIII. upon the Diſſolution of Monaſteries, by Letters Patents dated Feb. 1. in 33. of his Reign, granted (among other things) to Thomas, Lord Audley, Lord of the Manor of Corney-bury, and the Tenants of the ſaid Manor, and to the Inhabitants of the Vill of Buntingford, that they ſhould have a Market in the High-ſtreet, in the Town of Buntingford, on Monday, in every Week, and two Fairs in every Year to continue four Days. The firſt Fair on the Day and Morrow of S. Peter and S. Paul the Apoſtles, the 29. and 30. Days of June. And the other, on the Day and Morrow of the Feaſt of S. Andrew the Apoſtle the 30th of November, and firſt of December, with all Liberties, free Cuſtoms and Profits belonging to any Fair or Market, rendring to the King xiii s. x d. every Year to be paid to the Sheriff of the County at the Feaſt of S. Michael the Archangel.

ibid.

At the South of this Town Alexander Strange (the aforeſaid Vicar of Layſton) erected a fair Chapel, which he began in 1614. and finiſh'd in 1626. in which Year the Biſhop of London granted a Licence to celebrate Divine Service therein by a Prieſt. The Receipts which he receiv'd from ſeveral Gentlemen, who encourag'd this pious Work by their free and voluntary Contributions came to 418 l. 13 s. 8 d. and the Disburſments did amount to 418 l. 10 s. 1 d. which Building he undertook, becauſe the Pariſh-Church (of Layſton) ſtood alone ſome diſtance from the Town, which was a great Inconvenience to the Inhabitants thereof:

ibid, 132. And by Deed dated 26. Jan. 1. Car. I. gave one Acre of Land in Layſton to the Uſe of the Vicar for reading Divine Service, and preaching yearly a Sermon on the Monday after the Feaſt of S. Michael for ever. And by another Deed dated July 22. 1642. he gave eight Acres and half lying in Great Hormead, and Layſton, towards the Repair of this Chapel.

ibid. Likewiſe William Brown, of Layſton, Lockſmith, by Deed dated Nov. 20. 1646. gave half an Acre of Land in Layſton, to Truſtees for the Payment of 3 l. (I rather think it ſhould be 3 s.) yearly to the Repair of the Windows in this Chapel.

ibid. The late Biſhop of Salisbury, Seth Ward (who was born here at Buntingford) erected a fair Building near the Chapel here, containing eight Manſions, every Manſion four Rooms, whereof two above Stairs, and two below, and endowed it with Land for four poor Men, and four poor Women to be choſen out of the Pariſhes of Aſpeden and Layſton, by Truſtees appointed for that purpoſe.

ibid. The ſaid Alexander Strange was the Son of a Doctor in Law; born in London, educated in Peter-houſe, in Cambrige, where he commenc'd Bachelor of Divinity, afterwards was Vicar of this Pariſh for 46 Years (Rector of Roding-Alba, in Eſſex, which he reſign'd in 1617.) Prebendary of Conſumpt. per Mare, in the Cathedral-Church of S. Pauls, where may be ſeen more of him. He died in 1650. and lies buried in this Chapel under a Stone, on which is this following Inſcription:

> Noviſſimæ ſub hoc Marmore Sonitum Tubæ opperiuntur Exuviæ Alexandri Strange, Theologiæ Baccalaurei hujuſq; Parochiæ nuper Vicarii, qui cum 46. Annos in populo erudiendo, paceq; inter litigantes concilianda conſumpſiſſet: Cumq; inter alia pia molimina hoc Dei Domicilium, inſtaurari curaſſet 8. Decemb. 80. Ætat. Anno ——— Nato Domino 1550. Cœlebs occubuit.
>
> Mœrens poſuit J. M.

The Year of his Death is miſtaken, for it ſhould be 1650.

Meſdon, Rectory.

THIS Pariſh of Meſdon, Meeſden, Mayſden and Meſeden, is in the Archdeaconry of Middleſex, Deanry of Braughing, and Hundred of Edwinſtre, about 31 or 34 Miles Northward from London, lying on the edge of this County next to Eſſex, and is ſubject to the Archdeacon. Arch. Midd.

Antiq. Hertf. 138. It is ſituate on a Hill, from whence this Vill might take its name. And in the time of the Conqueror it is recorded under the Title of the Land of the Biſhop of London to this effect, In Meſdon-Pain, held of the Biſhop of London, one Hide.

Hiſt. Paul. 132. William de S. Maria, Biſhop of London, Anno 1. Johan. was Lord of this Manor. He founded a Chantry of one Chaplain to Celebrate and Pray for the Souls of the Biſhops of London and their Succeſſors, in the lower Chapel within the Palace of the Biſhop. And endowed it (inter alia) with a certain yearly Rent iſſuing out of this Church of Meſdon.

Antiq. Hertf. ut ſupra. But at length this Manor was convey'd to Robert de Butler, who was Lord hereof Anno 6. Edw. I. And had free Warren granted him by Hen. III. from which Robert this Manor came to Dioniſe de Monte Caviſo, and from her it paſſed with the Manors of Anſty, and Little Hormead, as is there ſet forth to Audomare de Valentia, Earl of Pembroke, who (as appears) preſented to this Church in 1321 and 1322. which Church (dedicated to) is a Rectory, and an Appendant to the Manor. This Earl granted it to Edw. II. who gave it (with other Lands) to the Lady Mary of S. Paul, Counteſs of Pembroke (Wife of the ſaid Audomare) to hold for her Life of the King in Capite, and after her deceaſe to the King and his Succeſſors.

Which Lady Mary de S. Paul (as appears alſo) ſeveral times preſented to this Church. And upon her Death, this Manor with the Advouſon reverted to the Crown. And King Edw. III. Anno 50. of his Reign granted it to the Abbot and Monks of S. Mary de Graces, as he did that of Hormead parva aforeſaid, who enjoy'd ibid.

joy'd this Manor, with the Advouſon till the Diſſolution, upon which it came again to the Crown. And King Hen. VIII. granted it (inter alia) to Sir Tho. Audley, and his Heirs, from whom it paſſed in like manner, as did that of Hormead, aforeſaid, to Thomas, Duke of Norfolk, who ſold it to Bradbury. And Robert Bradbury, Eſq; appears to be Patron of this Church in 1561. and 1566. as was Will. Bradbury, Gent. in 1575. and was afterwards convey'd by Richard Bradbury to Richard Luther, Eſq; from whom it deſcended at length to Anthony Luther, who (as appears) preſented to this Church in 1674.

Terrier, 1610. All Tyths of Corn, Hay, Woods, and all other ſmall Tyths belong to the Rectory. Alſo about 102 Acres of Glebe. Bund. Braughing.

Terrier, 1634. A Dwelling-houſe, two Barns, and a Stable. And 100 Acres of Glebe, whereof 60 are Arable, and 40 Paſture. ibid.

Newnham, Vicarage.

Archid. S. Alb.

IN the Archdeaconry of S. Albans, and of old in the Hundred of Odeſey, but now reckon'd in that of Caiſho; is this Pariſh of Newnham, or Newham about 32 or 35 Miles from London towards the Northweſt: And is ſubject to the Archdeacon.

Antiq. Hertf. 520.

It was part of the Poſſeſſions that did belong to the Monaſtery of S. Albans; which the Abbots enjoy'd at the time of the Conqueſt, as appears by Domeſday-Book, under the Title of Terra Eccleſiæ S. Albani, where it was rated by the name of Newham, in the Hundred of Odeſei for three Hides, in which Hundred this Vill did then lie. But when K. Edw. IV. by his Charter dated at Weſtminſter, 3. Novemb. 2. Regni ſui, granted, That the Abbot and Convent of S. Albans ſhould have the Juriſdiction and Government of all their Lands, and they ſhould be laid within their Liberty; this Vill (as is ſuppos'd) was made parcel of the Hundred of Caiſho.

ibid. 521.

Mon. Angl. 1. Vol. 178.

ibid. 181.

King Henry I. confirm'd the Grant hereof to this Church about the firſt of his Reign by the name of Newham; which ſignifies a new Place of Shelter, or more properly, Habitation. And King John, confirm'd (inter alia) the Grant of this Vill to the Church of S. Alban, by his Charter dated in the firſt of his Reign, by the name of Newham. As alſo did Pope Honor. III. both this Church and Vill by his Bull dated 10. Kalend. March, in the third Year of his Pontificate, Anno Dom. 1218.

Math. Par. vit. Ab. 79.

ibid. 95.

The Church here (dedicated to   ) was conſecrated by Herbert, Biſhop of Norwich (who tranſlated that Sea thither from Thetford, in 1094.) Thurkill and Sabrith being Witneſſes. And in the time of Jeffery, the 16th Abbot of S. Albans, there was 15 s. coming out of Norton and Newnham yearly, which was to be applied to the Entertainment of Strangers or Gueſts. And Garine, the 20th Abbot aſſign'd half a Mark yearly to the Chaplain of S. Mary de Prato out of this Church.

Antiq. Hertf. 521.

The Church here was of old it ſeems appropriated to the ſaid Abby, and a Vicarage ordain'd and endow'd; of which the ſaid Abbots and Convent continued Proprietaries, and Patrons of the Vicarage, as alſo Lords of the Manor till the Diſſolution, upon which it came to the Crown. And King Henry VIII. by his Charter dated May 12. in 32. of his Reign granted this Mannor (with others) to Ralph Rowlet the Elder, Eſq; from whom it deſcended to Sir Ralph Rowlet, Knight, his Son and Heir: But he dying without Iſſue left two Siſters his Heirs; who, probably (if the Rectory and Advouſon of the Vicarage went with the Manor) ſold the Premiſſes to Skipwith; for, it appears, that William Skipwith, Eſq; was Patron of this Vicarage, in 1571. And in few Years after, viz. in 1579. it was in James Dowman, Gent. who preſented to this Vicarage (as appears) ſeveral times. And, perhaps, till both the Manor and Advowſon came to Richard Hall, Citizen and Grocer of London, in whom they were, it ſeems, in Queen Elizabeth's time, who afterwards diſpos'd of them to Richard Hale his younger Son, and he enjoy'd them, as appears by his being Patron of this Vicarage in 1642. and 1645. And, afterwards, gave the Premiſſes to Robert Hale his younger Son, who held them ſome time; then ſold them before the Year 1678. to William Dyer of Totenham, in the County of Middleſex, Eſq; for it appears, that he preſented to this Vicarage in 1676. and was created a Baronet by Letters Patents dated July 6. 1678. and, afterwards, preſented upon the next Vacancy in 1680. but dying Jan. 27. the ſame Year, gave the Premiſſes to his ſecond Son William Dyer, the now Lord of this Manor, and Patron of this Church in 1684.

Northall, Curacy.

THIS Vill of Northall (corruptly ſo call'd ſaith Norden, for Northaw; Nemus Boreale the North VVood) is in the Archdeaconry of S. Albans, and Hundred of Caiſho, about 13 or 14 Miles North-weſt-ward from London, and is ſubject to the Archdeacon. Arch. S. Alb.

This Vill was waſt Ground in the time of the Conqueſt; for there is no mention thereof in Domeſday-Book, and it is found in antient Authors, that this Place was a VVood, which belong'd to the Monaſtery of S. Albans, and was call'd Northaga; which Paul the 14th Abbot did let to Farm to Peter de Valoniis, a Great Baron in the time of Henry I. for thus it is ſet forth among the Geſts of that Abbot, viz. " Tradidit inſuper ad firmam Petro Seniori de Valoniis Silvam, quæ dicitur Northaga, quamdiu viveret pro viginti quinq; Solidis, & duobus Accipitribus annuatim eidem reddendis, eo tamen tenore, ut in fine vitæ ſuæ nulli Amico, vel etiam Hæredi ipſam Silvam concederet, ſed ex Conventione Eccleſiæ S. Albani liberum redderet & quietam; ut autem eam pro hac forma idem Petrus habere poſſit, dedit centum Solidos in Gerſoma. This was reckon'd among the prejudicial Acts of the ſaid Abbot Paul done to his Monaſtery. And ſo, indeed, it prov'd. Math. Par. vit. Ab. 52.

Jeoffery the 16th Abbot (his next Succeſſor but one) granted the ſame VVood of Northaga to Roger de Valoniis, Son and Heir to the ſaid Peter, without the conſent of his Covent. ibid. 63.

As did alſo Abbot Ralph (the ſaid Jeofferies next Succeſſor) to Peter de Valoniis, Jun. Son to the ſaid Roger. Inſomuch, that this VVood of Northaw having been in that noble Family for three Generations, ſome were apt to think (but without cauſe) that they had acquired an Hereditary Right. But the ſaid Peter at length falling ſick, upon his Death-bed confeſs'd, That he had no Hereditary Right therein, but held the ſame ex mera Liberalitate Conventus S. Albani. But the following Day at Night died before he deliver'd the VVood to their pleaſure. ibid. 82.

ibid. 83, &c. Whereupon Robert de Valoniis, Brother and Heir to the ſaid Peter, at length poſſeſs'd himſelf of the Premiſſes, and held it, till ſuch time as Abbot Robert de Gorham (the next Succeſſor to the ſaid Abbot Ralph) not without a great deal of Trouble and Charges, at laſt got it reſtor'd to his Monaſtery by Judgment of Court, and, thereupon, was put into Poſſeſſion by the Bough of a Tree, and the ſaid Robert de Valoniis was compell'd to make reſtitution of the Damage and Injury which he had done.

ibid. 104. Notwithſtanding which, there was a great Conteſt, afterwards, about this Wood of Northaw, between John de Cella the 21ſt Abbot of S. Albans, and Robert Fitzwalter, a Great Baron in that time, who had married Gunnora the Sole Daughter and Heir of the ſaid Robert de Valoniis. But at laſt the ſaid Rob. Fitzwalter, after he had uſed ſeveral wicked Practices to obtain his Ends, fearing they ſhould be diſcover'd, ſhamefully let fall the Suit, leaving the ſaid Wood to be quietly poſſeſs'd by the ſaid Abbot.

Mon. Angl. 1. Vol. 178. King John confirm'd the Grant of this VVood (inter alia) to the ſaid Monaſtery of S. Alban.

Antiq. Hertf. 601. The time of making this Place a Pariſh, or Building a Church here, I have no where found; but ſo it ſeems in proceſs of time it came to paſs. The Church here (dedicated to) is a Donative, and was in the Gift of the ſaid Abbot and Convent until Dec. 5. 1539. (31. Hen. VIII.) when that Monaſtery was diſſolv'd, and came to the Crown; from whence the Manor of Northaw, Nynne and Cuffeley was granted to William Cavendiſh, who held it of the King in the time of Edw. VI. by the yearly Rent of 3 l. 12 s. 2 d. and convey'd it to Sir Ambroſe Dudley, afterwards Earl of Warwick, who rais'd here a ſtately Houſe, and died without Iſſue, Feb. 21. 1589. 32. Eliz.

ibid. But ſhortly after this Manor, it ſeems, came to the Poſſeſſion of the Lord Ruſſel of Thornhaugh. And after him to Richard Sidley, from whom it came to William his Heir, who ſold it to William Leman, Eſq; upon whoſe deceaſe it came to William his Son and Heir, created a Baronet 17. Car. II. who is the preſent Lord of the Manor, and Patron of this Church, to which he hath added a fair Chapel; which Church, being neither Rectory nor Vicarage, but a Donative; the Clergyman on whom the Patron is pleas'd to beſtow it, ſerves the Cure here by vertue of the Biſhop of London's Licence, The Names of ſuch Curates, as I have met with, are as followeth:

THIS Pariſh of Norton, in old Records Northon or Northun, call'd alſo Norton-Bury, and Norton juxta Baldock is in the Hundred of Bradwater, at leaſt was ſo of old; but in the Archdeaconry of S. Albans, and now reckon'd in the Hundred of Caiſho, about 31..34 Miles Northwards from London, and ſubject to the Archdeacon.

Archid. S. Alb.

Alfricus, the 11th Abbot of S. Albans, bought Northon (inter alia) and gave it to that Monaſtery; which was held in the Conquerour's time by the Abbot there, and rated for 4 Hides.

Math. Paris vit. Abb. 43.

King Henry I. by his Charter dated at Wallingford, 1. Reg. ſui, confirm'd the Grant thereof to that Church, by the Name of Norton, which is ſaid to be very proper, for that it was ſituated in the North-part of the County.

Antiq. Hertf. 520.

Jeoffery, the 16th Abbot, aſſign'd 15 s. yearly out of Norton and Newham, towards the Entertainment of Strangers or Gueſts at Chriſtmas, Eaſter, and the Feaſt of S. Alban.

Math. Paris, vit. Abb. 56.

Simon, the 19th Abbot, in the Time of Hen. II. granted this Vill, and part of the Tyth of Cundale to Ralph the Son of Aldrick, and his Heirs in Fee-Farm, reſerving 3 Marks to be yearly paid to the Abbot and Monks; and alſo, that the ſaid Ralph ſhall provide as well for the Abbot and Monks, as the Men of S. Albans and Tine-Men, honourable Entertainment, and what things are neceſſary for Strangers in their Journey to Northumberland, and in their return again.

Antiq. Hertf. 520.

Afterwards King John, by his Charter dated 1. Regni ſui, confirm'd (inter alia) the Grant of this Vill, and Church, to the ſaid Abby; as alſo, after that, did Pope Honorius III. by his Bull dated 10. Kal. Mar. A. D. 1218.

Monaſt. Angl. I. Vol. 178, 179.

This Pariſh-Church was dedicated to   by Herveus, the Firſt Biſhop of Ely, in the Reign of Hen. I. Ealricus, Ernicius, and Huelmus being Witneſſes.

Mat. Par. vit. Abb. 78.

And was appropriated to the ſaid Monaſtery of S. Alban by John de Hertford, the 23. Abbot, in the Time of Hen. III. Laurence the Clerk, Rector of this Ch. voluntarily reſigning it, "Ad emendationem Cerviſiæ noſtræ, & ad præbendam " hoſpitibus dandam, ſupra id, quod conſuevit Abbas diſtribuere augmentandum.

ibid. 144.

About which Time, probably, it was, that there was a Vicarage here ordain'd and endow'd, of which the ſaid Abbots and Convent continu'd Patrons till the Diſſolution, upon which the Premiſes came to the Crown, and were purchaſed by John Boles (or Bowles) of Wallington, Eſq; who held them in the Time of Edw. VI. by the yearly Rent of 5 l. 10 s. 6 d. And afterwards Tho. Bowles, Eſq; (as appears) ſeveral times preſented to this Vicarage. In which Family of Boles, the Premiſes, it ſeems, continu'd till Lewis Boles, 1. Car. I, ſold the Manor (ſeparate, it ſeems, from the Advowſon of the Vicarage) to Richard Cleaver, Gent. For it appears, that the Patronage of the Vicarage hath been in Haſſlefoot ever ſince 1635. whereas the Manor continu'd in Cleaver, until the two Daughters and Coheirs of Richard, the Son of the ſaid Richard Cleaver, ſold it to William Pym, Eſq; the preſent Lord thereof.

Antiq. Hertf. 520. John of Whethamſted, aliàs Boſtock, the 33. and famous Abbot of S. Albans, in the Reign of Hen. VI. gave One Meſſuage ſituate near the Church in this Vill, and appropriated it to the Uſe of the Church of S. Alban, who enjoy'd it till the Diſſolution of that Convent.

Pelham.

THERE are Three of theſe Pelhams in this County, and in the Deanry of Braughing, contiguous one to another, which receiv'd their Name (ſaith Norden) de Scatebris, from the Pells, and Water-ſprings which riſe there.

At the time of the making of the general Survey, all the ſeveral Manors and Parcels of Land in theſe three Pelhams made but One Pariſh, of which it is recorded in Domeſday-Book, under the Title of Terra Epiſcopi London. to this effect.

Antiq. Hertf. 139, &c. Eldred held of the Biſhop of London One Hide in Pelham, the Arable Land is two Carucates, &c.

Giſlebert and Ralph held of the Biſhop 1 Hide and 1 Virgate, the Arable Land is 4 Carucates, &c.

Ibid. 140. At this time all theſe ſeveral Manors and Parcels of Land making but One Pariſh, known only by the Name of Pelham, as aforeſaid, were held of the Biſhop of London. But ſhortly after one Sarners purchaſed of that Biſhop Parcel hereof, which is taken to be the Land of the aforeſaid Eldred and Riculfe, and by the Courſe of the Commiſſioners of the Survey, muſt lie next to Meſdon; and from him this Vill had the Adjunct of Sarners, to diſtinguiſh it from the other part of this Vill. But in the Reign of King Hen. I. it was term'd Arſa (or Brent-Pelham, from the dreadful Fire, which, about that time, conſum'd the Ch. and the greateſt part of the Houſes in this Vill, where (as Norden tells us) ſome Fragments did, in his time, appear, of the Foundations of ſundry Buildings, which were conſum'd in that Fire. Of which Vill I ſhall treat in the firſt place.

Pelham Sarners, Vicarage.

THIS Pariſh of Pelham Sarners, Arſa, Brent or Burnt Pelham, is within the Archdeaconry of Middleſex, Deanry of Braughing, and Hundred of Edwinſtre, about 30--33 Miles North from London; but is an Exempt, or Peculiar to the Dean and Chapter of S. Pauls, where they are Ordinaries; and the Treaſurers of that Church are Patrons.

Pec. Dec. & Cap.

Hiſt. Paul. The Church here (dedicated to the Bleſſed Virgin) was one of thoſe which Robert de Sigillo, Biſhop of London, in the Reign of King Stephen, gave to one Godfrey, and was one of thoſe Churches, which were ſaid to belong to his own

Table. And to prevent all Queſtion that might ariſe thereupon, Richard de Belmeis (the ſecond Biſhop of London of that Name) founded and conſtituted the Office of Treaſurer of the ſaid Church of S. Paul, about 1160. and made the ſaid Godfrey the Treaſurer. And by the Advice of Theobald, Archbiſhop of Canterbury, and certain other Biſhops, with the Conſent of his Chapter, aſſigned the Churches of Sudmenſtre, Albury, Pelham Turnells, and this of Pelham Sarners to the uſe of him and his Succeſſors in that Office for ever. But this Church, and that of Pelham Furnells were ſo given, as that the ſaid Godfrey and his Succeſſors ſhould provide Three Hundred Pound Weight of Wax, for ſix Lamps continually burning in the Church of S. Pauls; as alſo Oyl, Incenſe, and Coal, for the amending and waſhing the Ornaments and Veſtments belonging thereto; and moreover for ſweeping and cleanſing thereof with Ruſhes, Straw, and Mops, yielding like Allowance to the Sacriſt, and Three other Servants of the Church, as had been heretofore uſed; ſo that the whole Charge of all theſe Particulars did not amount to more than 10 Marks per Ann.

The Aſſignment of theſe Churches aforeſaid to the Office of Treaſurer, was confirmed by King Hen. II. Reg. Dec. & Cap. lib. A. fol. 4.

In 1181. being the firſt of Ralph de Diceto's being Dean of S. Pauls, the State of this Church ſtood thus:

"Eccleſia de Pelham de Sarneriis eſt de Theſauraria, & ſolvit Archidiacono xiii d. & de Denario beati Petri xii d. habet in Dominio xliv acras, & de Redditu viii Sol. & iii Den. ib. lib. B. f. 40.

In this Pariſh there is a Hamlet call'd Batches or Beaches, ſo denominated from the antient Lord thereof, and afterwards became Parcel of the Poſſeſſions of Richard de Muntfitchet, who granted this Hamlet to the Priory of Trembale in Eſſex, which was of his own Foundation. After the Diſſolution, it was, in 36. Eliz. in the Poſſeſſion of Philip Allington; but about 1640. was ſold to Adam Waſhington, Eſq; who, at the time of his Death, deviſ'd it, by Will, to his Executors, to be ſold to raiſe Portions for his Children. They convey'd it, together with an antient Manor here call'd Graies, but now diſmembred and annex'd to Beaches, to Felix Calvert, Eſquire, from whom it paſſed to William Wright, the preſent Poſſeſſor thereof. Antiq. Hertf. 142.

This Church being appropriated to the Office of Treaſurer of S. Pauls, the Vicarage was endowed with certain Glebe-Land, call'd Flexland; and the Tyth Corn, Grain, and Graſs, of theſe Lands belonging to Beaches; "In great Middle-field "18 Acres; Langlands 16; the Ten-Acre Piece 9; Hartham 2; Cowprats 3; Hocroft's-Spring 2 Roods; Brooks-Cloſe 3 Acres; Alſeley 3; a piece of Land to it "5 Acres; Long-Croft 4; Great Much field 16; Little Much-field 8 Acres 2 Roods; "Woodcroft 7 Acres; Reading-Layes 13; Dove-Houſe Cloſe 5; Little Dove-houſe Cloſe "4 Acres; Barr-piece 4; Folly 12; Smith-croft 5; Paines 4; Umwel-field 5; Tinker's-Acre 1 Acre; Farther Bradley 6; Hither Bradley 1. Alſo in Paſture, Buri-field 9 Acres; the Moor 8; Holly in three Parcels 13. Alſo in Meadow, Long-mead 7 Acres; Church-mead 3 Acres and 2 Roods. Wood, formerly an Hop-ground 3 Acres and a Pole; Strange-Cloſe 3; Meadow 1 Acre and 2 Roods. Alſo "in Lands late Francis Rowley's the common Field 2 Acres; Land near Langland-hedge 2 Acres. A Wood, parcel of Beeches and Shonks 26. ibid. 143.

In the North-Wall of this Church lies an antient Monument of Stone, wherein a Man is figured, and about him an Eagle, a Lion, and a Bull, all having Wings, and the fourth in the ſhape of an Angel, as if they ſhould repreſent the Four Evangeliſts; under the Feet of the Man is a Croſs-Flurie, and under the Croſs a Serpent. He is thought ſometime to have been the Lord of an old decay'd Houſe, well-moted not far from this place, called O Piers Shonkes. He flouriſhed Anno à Conqueſtu 21. Weav. Fun. Monum. 549.

Pelham Furneux, Vicarage.

Pec. Dec. & Cap. THO' Stockin Pelham lies between this Pariſh and Pelham Sarners, yet I think it proper to treat of this Pariſh of Pelham Furneux or Furnells next, becauſe the Church belongs to the Treaſurer's Office of S. Pauls, as well as that of Pelham Sarners; and is like that an Exempt or Peculiar to the Dean and Chapter of S. Pauls, where they are likewiſe Ordinaries, and the ſaid Treaſurers Patrons.

This Vill was Parcel of the Two other Pelhams, as is ſet forth before.

The Church here (dedicated to the Bleſſed Virgin) was given by Robert de Sigillo, Biſhop of London, to Godfrey, who was afterwards the Firſt Treaſurer of S. Pauls, and aſſign'd by Biſhop Richard de Belmeis to the Uſe of him and his Succeſſors in that Office for ever, at the ſame Time, after the ſame manner, and upon the ſame Terms as was that of Pelham Sarners, where it may be ſeen more at large.

In 1481. when Ralph de Diceto was Dean, the State of this Church ſtood thus:

Reg. Dec. & Cap. lib. B. fol. 40. " Eccleſia de Pelham R. de Furnell' eſt de Theſauraria, & reddit Eccleſiæ S. Pauli, cum Eccleſia de Pelham W. de Sarneriis x. Marcas, & Archidiac. Middleſex nomine Synodalium xiii d. & de Denariis beati Petri xii d. Vicecomiti xl d. & habet in Dominio quater xx. acras, & reddit iv Sol. & iii Den. & habet unaquaque Ebdomada iv. operationes.

Antiq. Hertf. 140. In the Reign of Hen. III. Simon de Furneux was Lord of the Pelhams, and had a Grant from that King of Free-Warren; and upon a Quo Warranto brought againſt him, it was allow'd upon the View of the Grant; and Anno 16. Edw. I. he diſtrein'd Gilbert Sank for his Homage and Service, and 40 s. and 6 d. Rent by the Year, Fealty and Suit of Court at Pelham Arſa from 3 Weeks to 3 Weeks.

Upon the Diviſion of theſe Pelhams (which I take to be long before Hen. III. or Edw. I.'s Time; for it appears above in the State of this Church, that this Vill was call'd Pelham R. de Furnell' in the Time of Hen. II.) this Vill was diſtinguiſh'd by the Adjunct Furnell, where, it is likely, that One, perhaps the firſt of the Furnells that enjoy'd theſe Pelhams, did reſide.

However, that Simon de Furnell had his Reſidence here, appears from the following Licence, which he obtain'd of the Treaſurer of S. Pauls, for the building of a Chapel at his own Manſion Houſe here in the Time of King Hen. III. which Licence is as follows:

Reg. Dec. & Cap. lib. A. fol. 29. " Sciant præſentes & futuri, Quod ego Willimus de Fauconbergha Theſaurarius Eccleſiæ S. Pauli, London. de conſenſu venerabilis Patris Rogeri, London. Epiſc. & de conſenſu Galfridi Decani, & Capituli S. Pauli ad inſtantiam Simonis de Furnell conceſſi, ut dictus Simon Capellam ædificet, & habeat in Curia ſua apud Pelham Furnell.——Nulla omnino eſſe à matrice Eccleſia exacta. Salvo per omnia jure & indempnitate matricis Eccleſiæ de Pelham. Nec erit ibi Baptiſterium,

" nec Sepultura Mortuorum, nec Campana aliqua ad pulſandum Teſtibus Dom. " G. de Lucy Decano, H. Cancellario, W. de S. Mariæ Eccleſia, W. de Purl. Maurice de Harlow, Tho. de Storteford, Will. fil. Roberti J. Beleſmaius, Cyncia, Richardo de Foliot, Mro W. de Lyche, & aliis.

By Galfridus de Lucy, Dean of S. Pauls his being a Witneſs to this Inſtrument, it follows, That it was granted between the Years 1237. about which Time he obtained this Deanry, and the Years 1240. or 1241. in one of which Years he is ſaid to die, which is between the 22. and 25. or 26. of Hen. III.

In the London-Regiſtry I find a Certificate entred, wherein Biſhop of London certifi'd the King, That he had granted (as much as in him lay) Leave to Simon de Furneus, if it conſiſted with the King's Pleaſure, to give to the Prior and Convent of Tremball, and to their Succeſſors, for the Maintenance of One Chaplain in the Church of the Bleſſed Mary of Pelham Furneus, and One Canon in the ſaid Priory, to celebrate Divine Offices daily, for ever, for the Souls of him the ſaid Simon, and his Anceſtors, Two Meſſuages, 167 Acres and half of Arable Land, 4 of Meadow, 16 of Paſture, 22 of Wood, and 21 s. 5 d. ob. yearly Rent; all which he held of the ſaid Biſhop, in Pelham Arſa and Pelham Furneus. But there is written Vacat in the Margin of the Regiſter-Book; becauſe (as is there ſet down) this Certificate did not iſſue out under Seal.

Baudake 4.

There is a Manor in this Pariſh call'd White Barnes, which the aforeſaid Robert de Sigillo, Biſhop of London, gave to Godfrey the firſt Treaſurer aforeſaid, when he gave him the ſaid Churches of Brent and Furneux Pelham.

Antiq. Hertf. 145.

This Rectory is appropriated to the perpetual Uſe of the Cathedral Church of S. Paul, aforeſaid; and the Vicarage was about the ſame time endowed.

In this Church there is a ſmall Chapel or Burying place, erected by Robert Newport, Eſq; who flouriſhed in the Time of Hen. VII. and Hen. VIII. where he, and Mary his Wife, lie buried, as do alſo ſeveral others of that Family.

Archid. Mid.

In the Reign of K. Hen. III. and Edw. I. Simon de Furneaux was Lord of this Vill, and held this Manor of the Biſhop of London, as of his Caſtle of Stortford, in this County, by Homage, Fealty, and the yearly Rent of x s. for keeping the Caſtle, to be paid at the Feaſt of S. Michael the Archangel, in every Year.

Antiq. Hertf. 143.

The Church here (dedicated to   ) is a Rectory, and an Appendant to the Manor, the Lords whereof are Patrons, among whom the Herts and Songars appear to have enjoy'd it longeſt; and the latter to have had the Right of Patronage in them for at leaſt 169 Years.

In

Antiq. Hertf. 143. In the Time of K. Edw. VI. there was a Fine levied of the Site of this Manor and Advowſon of this Church, to the Uſe of Rocham Green, from whom it came to Sir Edmund Huddleſton, and his Heirs, who was Lord thereof in Q. Elizabeths Time; and (as appears) preſented to this Church in 1579. And tho' it was ſhortly after ſold to Jeoffery Nitingale; yet it ſeems, the Patronage of this Church was not in him till in or after the Year 1613. for it appears, that on Jan. 30. that Year, there was a Clerk admitted to it at the Preſentation of Dorothy Huddleſton, the Relict of Edmund Huddleſton. But after this, Sir Thomas Nitingall, Bar. Son and Heir of the ſaid Jeoffery, enjoy'd this Manor; after whoſe Deceaſe it was ſold to William Webb, of Graies-Inn, Eſquire, who (as appears) preſented to this Church in 1667. and afterwards died ſeized of this Manor, leaving Iſſue Richard and Jonathan; Richard was his Heir, and ſucceeded him in this Manor; but dying without Iſſue, it deſcended to Jonathan his Brother, who was his next Heir, and is the preſent Poſſeſſor thereof.

Bund. Braughing. Terrier, 1610. About 106 Acres and 15 Rod of Glebe, beſides certain Glebe-Lands in Waxted in this Pariſh, but holden from this Parſonage, as appears by a Terrier deliver'd by John Ingram of Farnham in Eſſex, to Mr. Watſon the Parſon of this Pariſh, containing as follows, viz. 31 Ridges in the Weſt-end, and 27 in the Eaſt, viewed by Robert Hurt, 1. June 1574. Redburne, Vicarage.

IN the Archdeaconry of S. Albans (and ſubject to that Archdeacon) and Hundred of Caiſho, about 23--25 Miles Northweſtward from London, lies this Pariſh of Redburne, ſo termed from the River near which it is ſeated, and the Road which leads from S. Albans through the River there to Dunſtable; for Reed or Road ſignifies, in our old Engliſh, a Paſſage, where People ride or travel; and Burne a Petty Rivulet. Others ſay, that Redburne ſignifies a Red Water; and yet the Water that runs by this place is no more red than that of the Red Sea. And others again ſay, that it was ſo called ab Arundine, from a place overgrown with Reeds. Archid. S. Alb. Antiq. Hertf. 506.

But be the Name of the place deriv'd from whence it will, this is certain, that it was, in old Time, famous for the Reliques, which were ſaid there to be found of Amphibalus the Martyr, the Perſon that firſt inſtructed S. Alban in the Chriſtian Faith; for which Faith he alſo ſuffer'd under Diocleſian. At preſent it is moſt remarkable for the old Military High-way, commonly call'd Watling-ſtreet, upon which it is ſeated; and alſo for a certain Brook near it, call'd Wenmer (or Womer) which (as the Vulgar believe) whenever it breaks out, and ſwells higher than uſual, always portends Dearth or troubleſom Times. Camd. Brit. N. E. 301.

Leofſtan, the 12th Abbot of S. Albans, got Egelwin the Black, and Wyneſled his Wife, to give this place of Redburne to the Monaſtery of S. Albans, about the Time of Edward the Confeſſour, the Grant whereof he procured that King to confirm. But when the Normans conquer'd England, at the general Spoil and Confuſion of things, it was taken away from that Monaſtery. Mat. Par. vit. Abb. 45.

But Paul, the 4th Abbot thereof, by his Diligence and Prudence, prevail'd with his Kinſman and Patron Lanfrank, Archbiſhop of Canterbury, who held it ſome Time in his own hands, to reſtore it to his Monaſtery, ad veſtitum Monachorum, for which Uſe it was firſt aſſign'd. And when that great Survey was made, it was recorded, That the Abbot of S. Albans held 7 Hides and 1 Virgate in Redborne. ibid. 50.

By the Induſtry of the ſaid Abbot Paul, certain Tyths in this Pariſh were aſſign'd to the Office of Scribe or Regiſtrary of the ſaid Monaſtery. ibid. 51.

In the Time of Richard the 15th Abbot, half a Hide of Land in Redburne, was likewiſe reſtor'd; but, to the Prejudice of his Abby, he loſt the Church of Flamſted (which was a Chapel belonging to this Church of Redburne) by way of Colluſion, that he might (as was believed) the better provide for his Relations. ibid. 54, 55.

In the Time of Robert de Gorham, the 18th Abbot, this Church was dedicated by Herbert Biſhop of Norwich, Richard the Prieſt being Witneſs. ibid. 78.

Mat. Paris, vit. Abb. 100.

And Guarine, the 20th Abbot, ſent ſome of his Brotherhood to Redburne, to recreate themſelves, leſt by their continuance in the Cloiſter, they ſhould grow idle, blockiſh, and dull.

ibid. 122.

William Trumpington, the 22th Abbot, after he had tranſlated the Reliques of Amphibalus, and his Fellow-Martyrs, gave to this Church of Redburne the Two Wooden Shrines gilt with Gold, wherein the Reliques of Amphibalus, and his Fellow-Martyrs had been laid (before the Time of Guarine the Abbot) out of Honour and Reverence to this Place, where their Sufferings were conſummated, and conſtituted there a Monk to watch them, who afterwards, by the Favour of the Abbot, got another Monk to aſſiſt him.

ibid. 125.

In the ſaid Abbot William's Time, this Church of Redburne was dedicated ſolemnly to the Honour of the bleſſed Amphibalus the Martyr, and his Fellow-Martyrs, by John, Biſhop of

Of Amphibalus, See Biſh. Uſher's Antiq. Brit. who explodes this Story. Weav. Fun. Monum. 585.

This Amphibalus is reported to have lodg'd at the Houſe of S. Alban, in the City of Verulam, to avoid the Perſecution which then happen'd to the Chriſtians, under the Government of Diocleſian, during which Time he had opportunity to inſtruct Alban, and to convert him to the Chriſtian Faith. This Amphibalus was ſurnam'd Devanius, for that he was born upon the River Dee in Wales, the Son of a Prince, ſays his Legend. He was a Man, ſays Bale, unmatchable for his Learning and good Life, and had great Succeſs in preaching the Goſpel throughout all parts of Britain. He fled from Verulam, with a great Number of his Converts, into Scotland, to eſcape the Execution of the Edict made by Diocleſian, againſt all thoſe who profeſſed the Chriſtian Religion. From whence he went into the Iſle of Angleſey in Wales, where he was made Biſhop of that place, and preach'd the Word of God in all places there, and diſputed againſt the Worſhipping of Idols and falſe Gods. And being afterwards apprehended, he was brought to the ſame place where Alban ſuffer'd Martyrdom, was whip'd about a Stake to which his Entrails were tied, and ſo winding his Bowels out of his Body, he was ſton'd to Death, like another Stephen; and ſome of the perſecuted Chriſtians ſtole his Body, and buried it privately here at Redburne, from whence it was remov'd, and enſhrin'd by the Reliques of S. Alban, on June 25. 1178. which Day is celebrated (according to the Engliſh Martyrologie) in Commemoration of his Paſſion. But ſome ſeem to be of the opinion, that it was in Commemoration of the Tranſlation of his ſacred Reliques to Verulam.

Feaſt, Jun. 25.

Weav. Fun. Monum. 565.

This Church was repair'd, or rather built a-new by John de Whethamſted the 33th Abbot of S. Albans, and the Altar conſecrated again, over which theſe Verſes were written, by which we find it was done Anno 1434.

M ſemel X*terno* C quater, L quoque querno
Ara reſcrata, domus hæc variiſque novata.

and upon the Covering or Roof, over the Chancel, under the Pictures of the Lamb and the Eagle, theſe:

Ecce Pecus Mundi tollens peccata rotundi.
En & Avis Cæli reſerans Arcana fideli.
En Pecus, en & Avis, opus en ſextique Johannis.

Antiq. Hertf. 508.

In this Pariſh there is a Manor call'd Aignell, which the ſaid Abbot John of Whethamſted purchaſed in the Reign of King Edw. IV. for the Uſe of the Church of S. Albans, in whoſe poſſeſſion it continued until the Diſſolution, when it came to the Crown; from whence it was conveyed to John Cocks, who held it in the Time of K. Edw. VI. by the yearly Rent of 10*s. ob.* from which Family it was conveyed to - - - - Beſouth, in whoſe Name it continu'd till it paſs'd to Francis King, Gent. by the Marriage of Mary, one of the Daughters and Co-heirs of John Beſouth, whoſe Son Francis is the preſent Poſſeſſor thereof.

The Church here was appropriated to the ſaid Monaſtery of S. Albans, and a Vicarage ordained and endowed, in the Collation of that Abbot and Convent, till the Diſſolution, upon which it came to the Crown, and was afterwards granted, it ſeems, to Sir Ralph Rowlet; for it appears, That in 1556. there was a Clerk admitted to this Vicarage, at the Preſentation of John Langley and William Crompton, by virtue of an Advowſon thereof granted to them for that Turn, by the ſaid Sir Ralph Rowlet, upon the next Vacancy, in 1577. it appears to be in Sir Nic. Bacon, Lord Keeper of the Great Seal, from whom it deſcended to Sir Francis Bacon, afterwards Lord-Chancellour. And at laſt, by Purchaſe it came to Sir Harbottle Grimſton, Baronet, and from him deſcended to Sir Samuel Grimſton, Baronet, his Son and Heir.

Terrier, 1610. A fair large Vicarage-houſe, with all neceſſary Out-houſes, a Church-yard containing near three Acres, which is yearly mow'd; an Orchard, a little Pightle, and about two Acres of Paſture. Alſo all the Tyths of Corn and Hay of all Wicks and Tofts within this Pariſh, which pay Herriot to the King; a particular whereof is ſpecified in the Terrier. Bund. S. Alb.

Reed, Rectory.

THIS Pariſh of Reed, or Reeth (in the London-Regiſtry Reed-Eaſt) is in the Archdeaconry of Middleſex, Deanry of Braughing, and Hundred of Odſey, Antiq. Hertf. ſituate on a Hill two Miles diſtant from Royſton, towards the South, upon the 92. Great Road, call'd Erminſtreet, in the enclos'd Country, and was denominated from the abundance of Reeds (de Loco Arundinoſo ſaith Norden) which, in old time, grew here; for the Soil is very wet and moiſt, as moſt Hills and high Grounds are in this County. It is about 32 or 35 Miles North from London, and is ſubject to the Archdeacon.

In the time of William the Conqueror this Vill was divided among Six Great Normans. But, afterwards, moſt of thoſe parcels of Lands which they held here were united in the Crown, and continued there until ſuch time that Queen Eleanor, ibid. 93. Dowager to King Henry III. gave them to the Hoſpital of S. Katharine near the Tower. The Maſter and Governors whereof, ſince the Suppreſſion (this Hoſpital being ſtill continued) granted this Manor now call'd Queenbury (as is ſuppos'd from thoſe Queens, which in antient time were Ladies thereof;) and (as my Author ſaith) the Advouſon of the Ch. (which by the way is dedicated to S. Andrew, and is a Rectory) by Leaſe formerly to the Cæſars, now to Thomas Newland for three Lives; who is the preſent Occupier thereof, reſerving the yearly Rent of viii l.

That the Manor of Queenbury, in this Pariſh, was given to the Hoſpital of S. Katharine I do not queſtion. But that the Advouſon of the Rectory was ever in the Maſter and Governors thereof I much doubt: For it will appear by what follows, That it was from the Year 1361. to the Year 1431. in the Prior and Convent of Lewes, in Suſſex. It ſeems, likewiſe, to be an Appendant to a Manor in this Pariſh, then call'd Chamberlains; the Proprietary whereof, and Feoſees (who, probably, held it of the ſaid Prior and Convent) preſented to this Church in 1431. and 1444. for theſe two Turns. Afterwards, in Grey and others, for the three next Turns, and for the three next after that, in John Horne, aliàs Littlebury, from whom it came to John Shakburg by his Marriage with Clemence the Daughter and Heir of the ſaid Horne, who together with his ſaid Wife preſented in 1479. It appears likewiſe to be in Shakburgh in 1511. next after that in 1536. in Dormer and Baſſe for one Turn. And if this Advouſon was hitherto held of the Priory of Lewes (as very likely it was) it fell before the next Vacancy (which happen'd not till 1554.) to the Crown upon the Diſſolution. From whence in all likelihood it was convey'd to Bowles, and from him by other mean Conveyances to Hide, and then to Payton; ſo that hence it plainly appears, that the Advouſon of this Church was never in the Maſter and Governors of the Hoſpital of S. Katharine.

Bund. Braughing. Terrier, 1610. The Church and Church-yard, which contain about half an Acre; The Houſe with all its Buildings, and a Cloſe, and other Appurtenances containing an Acre and Half, with a little Cloſe call'd Hundred-Acre; and another Cloſe with a little Pightle lying between a Cloſe call'd Great Stamps-lane on the Eaſt, and a Cloſe of Edward Beſouth on the Weſt; one Head abutting on Stamps on the South, and the other abutting on the Common-Field on the North.

And beſides this, there belong to this Church in ſeveral parcels, lying in ſeveral Fields belonging to and within the Bounds of this Pariſh, and in Reed-End Field, in the Pariſh of Tharfield, about 60 Acres of Glebe-Land.

There are alſo certain Lands, and Two Houſes with the Appurtenances within the Pariſh of Tharfield; but of the Pariſh of Reed, which have paid and do pay Tyths to the Parſonage of Reed. And the Cloſes, and Lands in the Common Field the Parſon of Tharfield taketh away, and other Lands as followeth: viz. Lawas-Land, Fern-Field, Prieſt-Land, Stalworth-Lands, Wren-Lands lying in Wilkins, Wilkins-Mead, certain Lands of the Manor of Chawlers and Chamberlins, of the Manor of Reed, which one Tho. Turner, Sen. occupieth, and pays the Tyth to Tharfield; becauſe the Land is not known, by reaſon he plow'd up the Marks and Baulks betwixt the Lands; John Day, Sen. two Acres and Half; and Thomas Hawks 22 Acres and three Rods; theſe Men dwell at Reed, and ſhould pay Tyth to Reed, for they are Copy-holders of the Manor of Chawters and Chamberlins: Thomas Turner, Sen. hath certain Lands, which he ſaith he bought, and therefore he will not pay Tyth to Reed, but to Tharfield where he dwelleth.

Sir Robert Cheſter hath certain Lands lying within the Pariſh of Reed, and hath paid Tyth to Reed, as old Men ſay, and for his Sheep-walk, but will pay none now. But Royſton was made a Pariſh but lately, and ſtands in five ſeveral Pariſhes, to the ſeveral Parſons of which, the Tyth of Hay, Corn, Wool, Lamb and Calf are continued. But the other Tyths, Oblations, Obventions, Eccleſiaſtical Duties and Rights were granted to the Vicar of Royſton, as may be ſeen in Royſton.

The Lord of the Manor of Reed hath, lying in the Fields at Barkway, 15 Acres of arable Land; Thomas Grey hath ſeven; Tho. Turner hath Daniel Smyth four Acres and a Half, and divers other parcels; and Mr. Rowley hath divers parcels of Land, that pay Tyth to the Parſonage of Reed, and one Cloſe Copy-hold, by Eſtimation three Acres, and a Piece of a great Cloſe call'd Rooks-Cloſe; which lyeth next to Barkway, and the other part next to Reed pays Tyth to the Rector of Barkway, as moſt of the Pariſh of Reed can declare, and divers other parcels lying in Barkway-Field, which pay Tyths to Reed.

Penſio Rectoris de Reed. And laſtly, one Penſion of four Marks yearly paid out of the Parſonage of Tharfield, to the Parſonage of Reed.

There are three or four pieces of Land, by Eſtimation three Acres, which Tho. Turner holdeth, which, old Men ſay, belong to the Rectory of Reed; and divers other wrongs, which he doth to the ſaid Parſonage-Lands, in cutting off the Baulks-ends to make his own Lands longer, and ſetting Trees upon the Ground to ſpoil the Hedges, and in cutting away a great Aſh off the Parſonage-Land.

This is the Subſtance of a Terrier (which ſeems to be ſomewhat intricate) exhibited in Sept. 1610. under the Hands of Fra. Rydall then Rector of Reed; John Day, Church-Warden, and John Upgrave or Opgrave. After which, on the Back of the ſaid Terrier, under the Hand of the Rector only, is the Indorſment following, viz.

There are certain Cloſes in the Pariſh of Reed belonging to the Manor of Queenbury, which have paid Tyth to the Parſonage of Reed, call'd Southfields; as all the Copy-holders of Queenbury, and as old Men have ſaid, and ſome yet do ſay. For becauſe the ſaid Cloſes were ſometime Copy-hold to one Strachie, and one Mr. Geery, and one Mr. Chambers, ſeized the ſaid Cloſes call'd Southfields, and ſo made them parcel of the Manor of Queenbury, becauſe he had bought Minchins, and that portion of Tyths thereunto belonging; for the Manor of Queenbury payeth no Tyth to the Parſonage of Reed, but half an Acre of Wheat, and half an Acre of Barley, and the Farmer of the Manor will not pay the ſame half Acre of Wheat, and half Acre of Barley, but a portion of each, 34 Pools of each or thereabouts, but never the half Acre which doth and ſhould contain 80 Pools, and therefore I do not receive that.

Forgotten, in Barkway, one Acre of William Creed's Land, and one Acre of Land ſometime Tho. Opgraves, aliàs Carter. So far the Indorſment.

As to the above-mention'd half Acre of Wheat, and half Acre of Barley, which is two Rod of each; the Author of the Antiquities of Hertfordſhire the learned Sir Henry Chauncy, gives us this account of it, as he had it from Mr. John Cocket, late Rector of this Church, which is as followeth:

That by antient Cuſtom the Tenants of the Manor of Queenbury did pay to the Rectors of this Pariſh Church two Rods of Wheat, and two Rods of Barley every Year in full Satisfaction of all Tyths due to him. But in lieu thereof Thomas Newland (the preſent Poſſeſſor of the ſaid Manor) hath made a Compoſition or Agreement with the Incumbent to pay him yearly forty Shillings in Money for the ſame.

IN the Archdeaconry of S. Albans, and Hundred of Caiſho, about 17 or 19 Miles from London, towards the Northweſt, lies this Pariſh of Rickmanſworth, Richmanſworth, Richmersford, in old Records Rickmereſwearth, or Rickmereſweard; from the Situation hereof, in a Nook of Land, where the River coming from Cheſham, in Buckinghamſhire, falls into the Colne, and made here a Rich Pool of Water; for Ryc, in the Saxon Language, ſignifieth Rich, and Mere a Lake or Pool, and Wearth or Weard, a place ſituate between two Rivers, or the Nook of Land where two Waters paſſing by the two Sides thereof do one enter into the other; all which is agreeable to the Situation of this Place. It is ſubject to the Archdeacon.

Alb. ibid. Offa, the Great King of the Mercians, gave this Manor of Rykemerſworth with thoſe of Croſſeley and Michelfeld, with their Appurtenances (inter alia) to his Great Abbot of S. Albans. And after his deceaſe Egfryde his Son, who ſucceeded him in his Throne, gave the Manor of Pynneſfeld to the ſame Monaſtery. And King Etheldred confirm'd all theſe Grants to the Abbot of that Church, who held this Manor in the time of the general Survey for 15 Hides.

ibid. 434. Afterwards, King Hen. I. confirm'd the Grant of the aforeſaid Manors (inter alia) by his Charter dated at Weſtminſter. And King John did the like by his Mon. Ang. 1. Vol. 178. Charter dated at Weſtminſter, June 11. in the firſt of his Reign. And Pope Honorius III. by his Bull dated 10. Kal. Mar. Anno 1218. confirm'd this Church of ibid. 179. Richemareſwith, together with the Vill, and all its Appurtenances to the ſaid Abbot and Monks.

Antiq. Hertf. ut ſupra. Norden on Hertf. King Hen. III. granted to the ſaid Abbot and Monks a Market to be held here on Wedneſday in every Week (which is now held on Saturday). Here are likewiſe two Fairs kept yearly, one on our Lady-day, in Harveſt, and the other on the 2. of July.

Math. Par. vit. Ab. 57. Antiq. Hertf. 447. Jeoffery, the 16th Abbot, gave and appropriated this Church of Rikemanſworth (which is dedicated to S. Mary) to the Sacriſt of that Monaſtery, ad Ornamenta Eccleſiæ S. Albani, & diruta reſtauranda. And John of Whethamſted, the 33d Abbot, having the Manor of Bigging, in this Pariſh, by Eſcheat, gave it to the ſame Abby. And the Abbots thereof enjoy'd all theſe aforeſaid Manors, and other their Revenues till the time of the Diſſolution in 31. Hen. VIII.

The Church here was appropriated as aforeſaid to the Ornaments and Repairs of the ſaid Monaſtical-Church, and a Vicarage here ordain'd and endow'd, in the Collation of the ſaid Abbot and Convent, till their Suppreſſion, when all the aforeſaid Manors, together with this Rectory and Advouſon of this Vicarage (and all other their Revenues came to the Crown.

ibid, 478. After which, King Edw. VI. by his Charter dated April 22. in the 4th of his Reign, granted to Nicholas Ridley then Biſhop of London (inter alia) the Manor, Rectory and Church of Rickmanſworth, with the Rights, Members and Appurtenances, and alſo the Advouſon and Right of Patronage of the Vicarage, which was, afterwards, confirm'd by Queen Mary by her Letters Patents, dated March 2. in the firſt of her Reign to Edm. Bonner, Biſhop of London (after he was reſtor'd) and his Succeſſors in that Sea for ever.

But, afterwards, this Manor, it ſeems, return'd to the Crown ; and King ibid. Char. I. by Letters Patents dated in 3. of his Reign, granted it to the Six Clerks in Chancery, for ſecurity of the Payment of a Sum of Money. At length that King, and the Six Clerks convey'd it to Hewet, who ſold it to Sir Tho. Fotherley, Knight, whoſe Son John Fotherley, Eſq; is the preſent Owner thereof.

As to the Manor of Croſſely, Queen Elizabeth granted it to Dr. Caius, her Phy- ibid. 479. ſician in ordinary, who built a fair Addition to Gonvil-Hall, in Cambridge, converted it from a Hall to a College, and added this Manor to the Revenue thereof; and the Cuſtos, Fellows and Scholars are the preſent Lords of it.

And as to the Manor of Michelfeld, after it came to the Crown, it came ſince ibid. 480. to the Family of the Robinſons , in Suffolk, whereof John Robinſon , Eſq; is the preſent Owner.

Ridge, Vicarage.

IN the Archdeaconry of S. Albans , and Hundred of Caiſho , about 13 or 14 Miles towards the Northweſt from London, lies this Pariſh of Ridge ; which, probably, was waſt Ground at the time of the Conqueſt belonging to ſome neighbouring Vill, there being no mention found of Ridge in thoſe days ; which, doubtleſs, was ſince denominated from the Ridge of the Hill whereon the Church (which is dedicated to   ) was ſince erected. It belong'd to the Monaſtery of S. Albans, and is now ſubject to that Archdeacon. Arch. S. Alb.

Joh. Moot, the 31ſt Abbot of S. Albans ; but the 5th of that Chriſtian name, Antiq. Hertf. began a fair Manſion-houſe at Tittenbanger within this Vill, where he, and his 502. Succeſſors might retire for their Eaſe and Pleaſure, and recreate themſelves with their Friends and Relations, but died before he could finiſh the ſame; which John of Whethamſted (his next Succeſſor but one) not only perfected, but alſo made a fair Addition to it; he enlarg'd the Chapel, and cauſed the Similitude of all the Saints of his own Chriſtian Name to be painted on the Wall, with his own Picture, which ſeemingly thus pray'd:

Cum fero par nomen, par ferre precor ſimul omen

ibid. The Abbots held this Manor and Church (which was appropriated to their Monaſtery, and a Vicarage were ordain'd and endowed; which continued in their Collation) till the fatal Year of their Diſſolution, when the Premiſſes came to the Crown, and King Hen. VIII. granted this Manor to Sir Hugh Paulet; from whence it came to Sir Thomas Pope, Knight, by his inter-marriage with Elizabeth the ſecond Daughter, and one of the Co-heirs of the ſaid Sir Hugh, and they held it of King Edw. VI. by the yearly Rent of 5 l. 11 s. 3 d. ob.

ibid. From Sir Thomas Pope this Manor came to Sir Tho. Blunt by his marriage with Frances, the Daughter and ſole Heir of the ſaid Sir Tho. Pope, upon this marriage he bore the name of Pope to preſerve it (as is gheſt) to poſterity; for from that time he annext it to his Surname, as have his Deſcendants to this day; of whom Sir Tho. Pope-Blunt (Son of Sir Tho. Pope-Blunt, Son of Sir Henry Pope-Blunt, Son of the firſt-nam'd Sir Thomas) is the preſent Lord of this Manor, 1700.

Antiq. Ox. 2. lib. 294. The above-named Sir Tho. Pope founded Trinity-College, in Oxford. And in the Statutes of that Houſe (inter alia) ordain'd, That all the Fellows and Scholars of that College ſhould for the future be choſen out of thoſe Counties and Dioceſſes, in which the College ſhould happen to have Benefices, or Lands; but, eſpecially, if any were born, or their Parents had been Inhabitants within certain Manors therein named, which did belong to the ſaid Founder; among which I find named this of Tuttenhanger and Ridge, if any ſuch were to be found, when Vacancies happen'd.

ibid. The Rectory or Parſonage impropriate continued in the Crown for ſome time. But Richard Blunt of London, Eſq; by his Will gave 100 l. for the Maintenance of One Scholar to be added to the Reſt, with the Profits thereof; with which Sum they purchas'd this Patronage of Ridge, which was confirm'd to the ſaid College in 22. Elizabeth.

The Advouſon of this Vicarage appears to be in Blunt, in 1618. and 1627. tho' before that it happen'd at firſt to be in the Biſhop, and after that in the Crown, but it was by Lapſe.

Royſton, Priory.

IN the Archdeaconry of Middleſex, Deanry of Braugbing, and Hundred of Odſey; but ſubject to the Biſhop and his Commiſſary, about 34 or 37 Miles Northward from London, in the Erminſtreet-way ſtands this Town of Royſton.

Com. Midd.

It has been a Town of ſome Remark, tho' ſmall Antiquity; for ſince the time of the Conqueſt, one Dame Roiſe, a Woman of great Name, and high Eſteem in that age (whom ſome think to have been the Daughter of Aubrey de Vere, Chief Juſtice of England, in the time of Hen. I. and Wife to Jeoffery de Mandevil the firſt Earl of Eſſex; or as others ſay, The Wife of Richard de Clare; others, The Counteſs of Norfolk; and ſome, Daughter to Pain Peverel;) erected there a Croſs, in the Highway (which was held in thoſe days a pious Work, to put Strangers in mind of Chriſt's Paſſion) whereupon this Place was call'd Royſe's-Croſs; until Euſtace de Merc. Knight, Lord of Nucells, Ralph de Rovecester, with ſome other Perſons purchaſed a Place adjoining to the Croſs, where Euſtace built a Monaſtery for Canons Regular of the Order of S. Auguſtin, in honour of S. Thomas of Canterbury, endowing it with ſeveral Churches and Lands; when, therefore, he and others had endow'd it with a competent Revenue for the Maintenance of theſe Canons, Houſes and Inns were erected there, which in proceſs of time did multiply to a Town; ſo that, then, inſtead of Roiſe's Croſs, it was call'd Roiſe's-Town; and, afterwards, by the Contraction of the Words into one, Royſton.

Antiq. Hertf. ut ſupra.

King Richard I. by his Charter dated at S. Edmunds, 9. Novemb. Anno 1. Regni ſui, not only confirm'd to theſe Canons all their Revenues, with which their Monaſtery was then endow'd; but alſo granted them a Fair, for all the Week of Pentecoſt, and in every Week a Market Feria quarta (i. e. on Wedneſday) according to the Cuſtoms and Liberties of the Markets and Fairs of the Canons of Dunſtable, with this Privilege, that none might buy and ſell there without the Leave of the Canons, with many and very great Privileges, which were, afterwards, confirm'd by K. Hen. III. who alſo granted them a Fair on the Vigil, and the Feaſt of S. Thomas the Martyr.

Mon. Angl. ut ſupra.

The Prior and Convent of this Monaſtery, in the time of Robert Braybroke, Biſhop of London, being judicially impleaded before his Commiſſioners at a Viſitation about the ſmall Tyths, Oblations and Mortuaries within this Town and the Pariſh, which they pretended they had there, made it appear before them by authentick Records, That they had Canonically obtain'd and poſſeſs'd the ſaid ſmall Tyths, Oblations and Mortuaries, and Pariſh, whereupon the Biſhop pronounc'd for their Right in the Premiſſes, and diſmiſs'd them from all farther Proceedings againſt them in that matter, as appears by an Inſtrument under the ſaid Biſhop's Seal, dated Octob. 7. 1396. and in the 15th Year of his Conſecration.

FitzJam. 126.

Upon a Petition of the Prior and Convent of this Monaſtery to Richard (Fitzjames) Biſhop of London, ſetting forth, That in ſaying and ſinging their Divine Offices, a certain Uſe very imperfect, by ſome call'd Bangor, was wont to be obſerv'd among them, and their Books for that Service were torn and very imperfect, and that it would be very chargeable to get new ones; and that if they might change the Uſe of Bangor into the Uſe of Sarum, it would be very much for their Advantage, and the increaſe of Devotion: And, farther, ſetting forth, That the annual Feaſt of the Dedication of their Conventual-Church, which is the Day of the Feaſt of S. Alban the Martyr, falling on the Day before the Vigil of the Feaſt of the Nativity of S. John Baptiſt, which is the annual Feaſt of this Place of Royſton, ſo that the ſaid Feaſt, with their Octaves by reaſon of their interfering one with another, could not be celebrated with that Solemnity as they ought: The ſaid Biſhop granted them his Licence, dated May 14. 1517. by which he impower'd them to alter their Service from the Uſe of Bangor, to the Uſe of Sarum, for the future, and chang'd the Feaſt of the Dedication of their Conventual-Church with its Octaves from the Feaſt-day of S. Alban the Martyr, to the next Day after the Feaſt of S. Luke the Evangeliſt, and decreed them to Celebrate the ſame for the future on that Day yearly for ever.

At the time of the Diſſolution, the yearly Revenue of this Hoſpital was valued at 89 l. 10 s. Dugd. 106 l. 3 s. 1 d. Speed.

Royſton, Vicarage.

Antiq. Hertf. 91.

THE Inhabitants of this Town having purchaſed the Church ſituated near the Priory, upon the Diſſolution thereof, it was by Statute 32. Hen. VIII. cap. 44. made the Pariſh-Church of Royſton, and call'd the Pariſh-Church of S. John Baptiſt, in Royſton; which Town ſtands in five Pariſhes, whereof the Church, the Market-place, and two Thirds of the Town lie within the Pariſhes of Therfield and Barkway in this County; and the other Third within the Pariſhes of Melbourne, Kneeſworth and Baſſingbourne, in Cambridgſhire. A Vicar, perpetual, was ordain'd for this Church; the King Patron; which Vicar was enabled thereby to ſue, and to be ſued, and purchaſe Lands to him and his Succeſſors. It was laid in the Deanry of Braughing, and Dioceſe of London (as the Priory was from time immemorial before) the Tyth of Hay, Corn, Wool, Lamb and Calf were continued to the ſeveral Parſons of the five Pariſhes aforeſaid; but the other Tyths, Oblations, Obventions, Eccleſiaſtical Duties and Rights were granted to this Vicar.

In purſuance of this Act, it appears, That King Hen. VIII. in 1540. preſented the firſt Vicar to this Church of Royſton. But after that, before the next Vacancy (which happen'd in 1554.) it ſeems the Advouſon of this Vicarage was granted to the ſaid Robert Cheſter, who receiv'd the honour of Knighthood, Sept. 2. 1552. and preſented to this Vicarage in 1554. in whoſe Family the Right of Patronage thereof hath continued ever ſince.

By an Act of Parliament held Anno 1660. 12. Car. II. all the Inhabitants or Owners of any Houſes or Lands in this Town, are yearly to pay by four ſeveral equal Payments at the four uſual Feaſts of Michaelmas, &c. a Tyth or Sum of Money to the Vicar of this Pariſh, and his Succeſſors for ever, after the rate of every 20 s. of yearly Rent at that time, of every Houſe, Shop, Warehouſe, Cellar, Stable, Barn, Garden, Orchard, Dove-houſe, Lands or other Tenements, and every of them within this Town or Pariſh 12 d. by the Year, and ſo in proportion for every greater or leſſer Rent or Value at that time. And the Commiſſioners in the Act were equally, indifferently, and reaſonably to Rate and Aſcertain the yearly preſent Rents and Values charged by it under their, or any ſeven of their Hands, and return the ſame into the Court of Chancery to be inroll'd; which Rate ſhould be accounted the true Rate and Value of every ſuch Houſes, Shops, Ware-houſes, &c. And if any Owner or Inhabitant ſhould refuſe to pay at the Days and Times appointed the Tyth or Sum ſo charged, the Vicar and his Succeſſors were impower'd to Diſtrain for the ſame within this Town or Pariſh, and ſell the Diſtreſs, rendring the Overplus, or elſe Sue for the ſame in any Court of Equity, or by Bill, Plaint or Action of Debt, wherein no Wager of Law, Eſſoin or Protection ſhall be allow'd. But no Stalls or Pens for Sheep or Beaſts in any Fairs, or Markets, nor Shops diſtinct from any Dwelling houſe, which formerly were not rated, ſhall be charged with this Tyth. And a Rate was made accordingly on the 17th of January, 12. Car. II. 1660. purſuant to this Act of Parliament.

Bun. Braughing.

Terrier, 1610. The Vicar's chief Maintenance is from the Rents of the Inhabitant's-houſes, viz. xii d. in the Pound (agreeable to the laſt Act of Parliament) beſide which, he hath a Model of Ground containing in length 36 Yards, on which ſtands the Vicarage-houſe, with a Yard and Garden thereto belonging; which whole Model is holden from the Lord of the Manor by Service of his Court, and payment yearly of a pair of Hawks-Bells. The Vicar alſo hath the Benefic of the Church-yard.

Sabridgeworth, Rectory and Vicarage.

THIS Pariſh of Sabridgeworth, Saybricheſworth, Sabisford (vulgò) Sapsford or Sapſworth, in old Records Sabricſtworth, from the Seat of Say, the Lord thereof; and the Bridg, for Brieſt or Brig, in the Saxon Language, ſignifieth Bridg; and Worth, a Manſion or Dwelling-houſe. This Pariſh, I ſay, is in the Archdeaconry of Middleſex, Deanry and Hundred of Braughing, about 23 or 25 Miles towards the North from London, lying upon the River Stort, which parts this County from Eſſex; and is ſubject to the Archdeacon.

Antiq. Hertf. 172.

This Place of Sabridgeworth, is one of the 19 Lordſhips in this County, which Jeoffery de Magnavil held at the time of the general Survey, rated for 24 Hides and an half, given him, with many others in this, and ſeveral other Counties by William the Conqueror, as a Reward for the notable Service he did him at the Battle near Haſtings.

Dug. Bar. 1. Tom. 200.

Afterwards, Jeoffery de Magnavil, Earl of Eſſex, his Grandſon, having founded the Monaſtery of Walden, and endowing the ſame, ſetled (inter alia) this Church of Sabridgworth (which is dedicated to the Bleſſed Virgin) upon that his new Foundation, as part of its Endowment.

Mon. Angl. 1. Vol. 449, 459.

But, notwithſtanding this Church was made part of the Endowment of the Monaſtery of Walden, yet, afterwards, William de Mandevil, Brother and Heir to Jeoffery, Son and Heir to the ſaid Jeoffery the Founder gave (or ſeems rather to reſtore) this Church of Sabribteſwrd to the Monks of Weſtminſter. For the Firſt Jeoffery de Mandevil (who was Grandfather to the ſaid Jeoffery the Founder of Walden) gave the Tyths of his Demeans of Sabrichworth to the Priory of Hurley, a Cell to the Church of Weſtminſter. By which means, I ſuppoſe, that Abbot and Convent came again to be intitled to this Church.

Dugd. Bar. 1. Tom. 205.

Mon. Angl. 1. Vol. 364.

However, it will appear, by what follows, That after this, by an Ordination of Benedict, Biſhop of Rocheſter, and the Prior of Dunſtable, the Collation of this Church was appropriated to the Biſhop of London; but ſo, that the Church of Weſtminſter, and alſo the Church of Walden were to receive yearly Penſions out of the Tyths thereof; for thus I find it among the Archives of the Dean and Chapter of S. Pauls under this Title.

It ſeems likewiſe to be made upon ſome Conteſt which happen'd between thoſe two Monaſteries about the Right of Patronage of this Church, both having a pretence to it from their ſeveral Donations above-mentioned; but be that as it will, the Abbot and Convent of Walden ſoon after gave up all their Right and Claim as well to the Advouſon as to the whole Church it ſelf to the ſaid Euſtace, Biſhop of London, and to his Succeſſors in that Sea for ever, as appears by this following Inſtrument.

" Teſtibus M. Roberto, Decano S. Pauli London. M. Reg. Archid. Colch. Mro. Galfr.
" de Lucy, M. Regin. Offic. Dom. London. & multis aliis.

After this, the Biſhops of London ſeem to have enjoy'd the Right of Patronage of this Church peaceably for ſome time; for when Fulco Baſſet (who was the next Succeſſor but one to the ſaid Euſtace) was Biſhop of that Sea, I find it thus recorded among thoſe Archives aforeſaid.

" In Regiſtro Fulconis Baſſet, Anno Gratiæ 1244. in Decanat. de Braching, Sabrigeſworth,
" Patronus Dominus London. Epiſcopus, eſtimatur xl. Marcas, & Abbas
" de percipit pro quibuſdam decimis vi. Marcas & Prior de Hurle percipit " pro quibuſdam decimis iv. Marcas & Abbas de Weſtminſter percipit cs.

After this, it ſeems, there was a Suit depending between Richard de Graveſend, Biſhop of London (who was conſecrated to that Sea in 1280.) and the Abbot and Convent of Weſtminſter, about the Right of Patronage of this Church, which at that time was undecided. After which, Stephen de Graveſend, his Nephew (who ſucceeded him in that Sea ſometime after, viz. Anno 1319.) confer'd this Church on John de Elham; but did not immediately Induct him, or give him Poſſeſſion thereof, as appears by the following Memorandums.

Reg. præd. f. 88. " Memorandum de Placito moto in Curia Domini Regis inter bonæ Memoriæ
" Richardum de Graveſend, quondam London. Epiſcop. & Abbatem & Conventum
" Weſtminſter, ſuper jure Patronatus Eccleſiæ de Sabriceſworth, quod adhuc in Curia
" Regia pendet indeciſ.

ibid. " Memorandum de Collatione Eccleſiæ de Sabricheſworth, pacificè fuit M. Johanni
" de Elham, Canonico London. per venerabilem Patrem Dom. S. Dei Gratia
" London. Epiſcopum, ac de Inductione, & poſſeſſione ejuſdem Johannis donec
" eidem ſua ſponte duxerat faciend.

But after all, it appears by what follows, that this Suit ended ſoon after; but whether by Deciſion at Law, or by Com-promiſe I find not; but, it ſeems, to be by the later; for the Church appears to be void by the Reſignation, not by the Deprivation or Ejection of the ſaid John de Elham, and Richard Baldock, thereupon admitted to it, 7. Id. July 1322. at the Preſentation of the ſaid Abbot and Convent of Weſtminſter, who from that time continued Patrons of this Church whilſt it continued a Rectory. But having obtain'd the King's Licence to appropriate this Church to their Monaſtery, dated Oct. 15. 1331. in ſome time, it ſeems, after that, got the ſame effected, and a Vicarage was, thereupon, ordain'd and endow'd, of which they continued Patrons until their Suppreſſion. (Pat. 5. E. III. p. 2.)

Bonner, 377. After which, Queen Mary, by her Letters Patents dated March 3. in the firſt Year of her Reign, gave (inter alia) the Advouſon of this Vicarage to Edm. Bonner, Biſhop of London, and to his Succeſſors in that Sea for ever, which they ſtill enjoy.

Jeoffery de Magnavil, who held this Lordſhip in the time of the Conqueror, founded the Priory of Hurley, in Berkſhire, and made it a Cell to the Abby of VVeſtminſter, and gave the Tyths of his Demeſnes, in this Pariſh of Sabridgeworth, to that Priory, which were confirm'd to the Prior and Convent there by VVilliam, Biſhop of London: For which Tyths, as appears before, there was a Penſion of four Marks and a Half afterwards aſſign'd to that Prior; as was alſo to the Abbot of VVeſtminſter, an hundred Shillings. Mon. Angl. 1. Vol. 364.

Eudo, Steward to King Hen. I. Founder of the Abby of S. John, in Colcheſter, gave to that his new Foundation the third Part of the Tyths of his Lands in Sabricheſworth. For which Portion of Tyths, and alſo for the aforeſaid two Penſions, there appears to be Procurations ſtill due to the Biſhop when he Viſits. ibid. 2. Vol. 893.

VVilliam de Say, Lord of Sayesbury, in this Pariſh; which came to that antient and noble Family of the Says, by the inter-marriage of VVilliam de Say with Beatrix, the Daughter of VVilliam, and Siſter to Jeoffery de Mandevil, and at length Heir to the ſaid Mandevils, granted great Part of this Manor to Fitzgerold; which was divided between VVarine, and Henry Fitzgerold, two Brothers. Dug. Bar. 1. Vol. 200, &c. Ant. Her. 177.

VVarine (the eldeſt Brother) gave his part by the name of Sabriceſworth, to the Abbot and Monks of S. Edmundsbury (whence by contraction it is now call'd Tednamburry) which they enjoy'd till the Diſſolution, when it came to the Crown, and was afterwards convey'd to Henry Parker, Lord Morley, in whoſe Deſcendents it continued till Thomas Parker, Lord Morley and Mounteagle, about the Year 1659. ſold it to Tho. Lindſey; which after his deceaſe in 1662. came (as is ſuppos'd) to his two Daughters and Co-heirs, Grace married to Richard How, Eſq; and Elizabeth to George Hockinghull of London, Merchant. Mon. Ang. 1. Vol. 292. Antiq. Hertf. 179.

Henry the other Brother gave part of his Share to the Abbot and Monks of Reading, by the name of Sebritheſworth; but reſerv'd the other Part to himſelf, call'd Piſo; from a Great Roman Captain of that Name, who reſided here, when the Romans govern'd this Iſland. It now goes by the name of Piſo or Piſhobery, where VValter Mildmay built a fair Houſe, which is now in the Poſſeſſion of Dame Arabella VViſeman. Monaſt. Angl. 1. Vol. 418. Antiq. Hertf. 177. ibid. 178, 179.

But that part, which was as aboveſaid given to the Abbot and Monks of Reading (and ſtill retains the name of Sayesbury; but is call'd the Manor of Sabridgworth, alias Groves;) was poſſeſſed by them till the Diſſolution, when it came to the Crown, and was granted by King Hen. VIII. in 36. of his Reign to VVill. Goding, alias Goodwin, and by ſeveral mean Conveyances is now come to Edm. Goodwin of Eaſtwick, in this County, the preſent Poſſeſſor thereof. ibid. 180, 181.

What I have farther to ſay of this Place is, That it is a Market-Town; and that Jeoffery de Say, Lord of the Manor of Sabridgworth, in the Reign of Edw. I. obtain'd of that King, in the 35th of his Reign, a Market to be held here every Friday, and a Fair yearly on the Eve and Day of the Nativity of the Bleſſed Virgin. How long theſe continued I know not. But John Leventhorp, Lord of the Manor of Marthams, alias Shingey-Hall, in this Pariſh, obtain'd a Charter from Hen. VI. dated at VVeſtminſter, Feb. 13. in 26. of his Reign, for a Market at this Town to be held on every VVedneſday in the Week, and two Fairs every Year; One on the Feaſt of S. George the Martyr, and the other on the Feaſt of S. Dionyſius, which continue to this Day. ibid. 174. ibid. 181.

In this Church and Chancel are ſeveral Monuments, one of Sir VValter Mildmay, and his Wife; ſeveral of the Hewits, and ſeveral Grave-ſtones with Inſcriptions on them of the Leventhorps and others, which may be ſeen in Antiq. Hertſ. p. 184, &c.

Here likewiſe are ſeveral Meſſuages, Lands and Tenements given for Repairing the Church, and Relieving the Poor; but the Names of the Benefactors are unknown by reaſon of the Loſs of the Original Grants.

In this Vill there is an antient Cuſtom for Tything of Corn and Grain, that every Pariſhioner ſhall bind all their Wheat, Barley, Beans and Oats into Sheaves, and ſhall ſet forth the Tenth Sheaf for Tyth. ibid. 184.

Terrier, 1610. One half Acre of Meadow, exhibited under the Hands of the Church-Wardens, and one Sidesman.

Sandridge, Vicarage.

IN the Archdeaconry of S. Albans, and Hundred of Caiſho, lies this Pariſh of Sandridge, about two Miles Northeaſt-ward from S. Albans, and is ſubject to the Archdeacon; which being part of the Revenue of the Mercian Kings, King Egfrid, Son of Offa, gave it in the firſt of his Reign Anno 796. to the Church of S. Alban by the name of Sandruage, ſo denominated by the Saxons from the Soil of the Place, and the Service by which the Inhabitants held their Lands; for the Soil is Sandy, and Age ſignifies the Service of Bond-Tenants. And the Abbot of S. Albans held it in the time of the Conqueror's Survey, where it was rated for Ten Hides; which with ſeveral other Lands belonging to that Monaſtery, was confirm'd to it afterwards by the Charters of ſeveral ſucceeding Kings.

The Church here (which was conſecrated, and dedicated to by Herbert, Biſhop of Norwich, under the Denomination of a Chapel) was of old, it ſeems, appropriated to the ſaid Monaſtery, and a Vicarage ordain'd and endow'd; both which, together with the Manor (to which the Church is an Appendant) the Abbot and Convent held till their Diſſolution, when the Premiſſes came to the Crown, from whence they were convey'd by Charter dated May 12. Anno 32. Hen. VIII. to Antiq. Hertf. ut ſupra.

Thomas ſucceeded, and (as appears) preſented to this Vicarage in 1586, and 1591. But dying without Iſſue, the Premiſſes deſcended to John his Brother, and from him, to John his Son and Heir, made Knight of the Bath at the creation of Charles, Prince of Wales (who preſented twice to this Vicarage in 1630.) And, afterwards, dying left Richard his Son and Heir, whoſe two Sons John and Ralph dying without Iſſue, his three Daughters became his Heirs; one of which, namely Sara, being married to John Churchill, Eſq; (afterwards created Baron of this Place of Sandridge) upon the Partition of the Eſtate, her two elder Siſters ſelling their Part to the ſaid Baron, he thereby became poſſeſs'd of this intire Manor, and in 1685. preſented the preſent Vicar.

Sarret, Vicarage.

Antiq. Hertf. 477. Archid. S. Alb. IN the Archdeaconry of S. Albans, and Hundred of Caiſho, about 20--22 Miles towards the Weſt North-Weſt from London, lies this Vill of Sarret, of old, Syret, from Syret a Saxon, ſuppos'd to be an ancient Poſſeſſor thereof: and is ſubject to the Archdeacon.

ibid, King Offa granted this Vill to his Monaſtery of S. Albans, Ann. 796. Regni ſui 33. which was afterwards confirm'd to it by King Ethelred, by the Name of Syret; but no mention thereof is made in Domeſday-Book. However, King Hen. I. and King John, confirm'd it likewiſe to the ſaid Church of S. Alban by the ſame Name.

Math. Paris vit. Abb. 53. Paul, the 14th Abbot of this Monaſtery, granted Syret (inter alia) to Robert the Maſon, and to his Heirs, for his Pains and Skill (in which he exceeded all other Maſons in his Time) free and quit of all Payments and Diſturbance which the Wife of Derlewine held before, for which ſhe paid yearly to the Church of S. Albans lx. Shillings; tho' the ſaid Abbot was, by Agreement, to pay the ſaid Robert in Mony, without any Grievance to the Church; but this was reckon'd among his Failings. However the ſaid Robert, afterwards being conſcious to himſelf, that he had no lawful Title to the ſame (of which there was a Murmur in the Convent) upon his Death-bed reſign'd thoſe Lands of Syret, free from all Claim both of himſelf and his Heirs, before Hameline the Prior of S. Albans, that it might be as it was before, in the Demeſnes of the Monks.

ibid. 56. After this, Jeoffery, the 16th Abbot, and Founder of the Hoſpital of S. Julian, aſſign'd (inter alia) xxx. Shillings yearly out of Syreth, which Peter de Syret did uſe to pay, to the Uſe of the leprous People of that Hoſpital. But ibid. 90. Robert de Gorham (the ſaid Jeoffery's next Succeſſor but one) gave to Ralph, his Brother, the Land of Syret, without the Aſſent or Knowledge of his Convent. But this was reckon'd among his Failings.

Antiq. Hertf. 477. King Edward I. gave all his Lands, call'd la Troy, in this Vill of Syret, with the Meſſuages, &c. to Oliver de Burdegans, who, by his Deed dated at S. Albans, July 16. Ann. 8. Edw. II. granted the Premiſes, and alſo the Lands and Tenements which Jeoffery Turkeyld, and Alexander the Fool, his Bond-Tenants, held of him in Villenage, with their Bodies, Chattels, and Sequels, and all other things belonging to the ſaid Lands, which he had of the Gift of King Edward, to the Abbot and Convent of the Monaſtery of S. Alban, and to their Succeſſors for ever, to hold by the Service due, and of right accuſtom'd to be paid to the chief Lords of the Fee; which Grant was confirm'd by the ſaid King Edw. II. by his Charter dated at Walton, Jul. 4. Ann. 12. Regni ſui.

The Church here (dedicated to) was, it ſeems, of old, appropriated to the Abby of S. Albans, and a Vicarage here ordain'd and endow'd, of which that Abbot and Convent continu'd Patrons till their Suppreſſion, upon which both the Rectory and Advowſon of the Vicarage, and the ſaid Manor of La Troy came to the Crown; which Manor, it ſeems, was granted to William Ibgrave, who held it in the Time of Edw. VI. by the yearly Rent of xii s. vi d. and I believe the Rectory and Advowſon of the Vicarage too; for it appears, that Sancia Ibgrave, Widow (whom I take to be his Relict) preſented to this Vicarage in 1569. tho', it ſeems, before that, the ſaid William Ibgrave parted from the ſaid Manor (which I conceive was now ſeparated from the Advowſon) For in Michaelmas-Term 4. and 5. Phil. & Mar. a Fine was levied of the ſame, by the Name of Roſe-Hall, in Sarret, between William Luddington, Plaintiff, and Thomas Wanford, Deforceant. After this, the Manor was in Coiſhut; but whether as Owner, my Author did not certainly know. Then in the Kingſleys. Then in the Childs, and was granted by Robert Child to Robert Gilbert, who convey'd it to John Duncomb, the preſent Lord thereof.

Antiq. Hertſ. 477.

The Advowſon of this Vicarage appears to have been in the hands of ſeveral Patrons, but, ſince Ibgrave, in none of thoſe that held the aforeſaid Manor, except Robert Gilbert, who preſented the preſent Vicar in 1661.

In the Antiq. Hertſ. this is ſaid to be a Rectory, and that the Lords of the Manor are Patrons thereof. The later ſeems to be a Miſtake in part; but the firſt wholly; for all the Incumbents ſince 1569. have been preſented, inſtituted, and inducted to this Church, as Vicars of the ſame, as appears by the London-Regiſtry. But whether the Impropriate Rectory be in the Lords of the Manor, or in whom elſe, I know not.

Antiq. Hertf. 515.
Archid. S. Alb. ibid.

IN the Archdeaconry of S. Albans, and within the Hundred of Bradwater, but of the Hundred of Caiſho, about 24--26 Miles towards the North-Weſt from London, lies this Vill of Shephall, Sceaphale, Sheepeſhale, or Sheephall, from the wholſom Food of Sheep (ſays Norden:) of old written Eſcepehale and Sepehale; and is ſubject to the Archdeacon.

It was Parcel of the antient Poſſeſſion of that great Monaſtery of S. Alban, yet, in the Time of William the Conquerour, Stigand, the Archbiſhop of Canterbury, held ſome Lands here under the Abbot, but the Abbot himſelf held the Manor, as appears by Domeſday Book, where 'tis thus recorded:

" In Brodewater Hundred in Eſcepehala tenuit Anſchitillus de Archiepiſcopo duo " Hid'. Terra eſt quinque car. in Dominio eſt una, & alia poteſt fieri, &c. Hanc " Terram tenuit Aluric, homo Stigandi Archiep. de Dominio Eccleſiæ S. Albani " fuit tempore Regis Edwardi, nec potuit vendere, nec ſeparare ab Eccleſia.

" Abbas S. Albani tenuit Eſcepehale tres Hidas. Terra eſt quinque car. in Do- " minio un. Hid. & dimid. &c. Hoc Manerium jacuit & jacet in Dominio Eccle- " ſiæ S. Albani.

Mat. Par. vit. Abb. 50.

In the latter end of the Reign of K. William the Conquerour, Paul, the 14th Abbot of S. Albans, obtain'd Reſtoration of the Two Hides of Land in this Vill, which Asketil de Ros had held of Lanfranc the Archbiſhop, and ſince of the Ch. of S. Alban.

Antiq. Hertf. 435.

King Henry I. by his Charter dated at Wincheſter, confirm'd (inter alia) to the Abbot, and Church of S. Alban, 76 Acres of Arable Land, with one Marſh in Sepehale, of the Gift of Wimor de Arles, and Alice his Wife; and all the Land lying between the High-Way which leads from Stevenage to Hertford, and divided from Sepehole, of the Gift of Robert de Talbois, and Ralph his Son.

Math. Paris, vit. Abb. 64.

What I find more concerning this Vill in antient Time, is, That Ralph, the 17th Abbot of S. Albans, granted this Manor to that Convent for ever, for their Kitchen, and confirm'd it in Chapter, which Jeoffery, his immediate Predeceſſor, had granted to Adam the Cellerer, during his Time, for vi l. xii s. yearly Rent.

Monaſt. Angl. I. Vol. 178, 179.

And that Pope Honorius III. by his Bull dated 10. Kal Mar. 1218. in the Third Year of his Pontificate, confirm'd this Church (inter alia) by the Name of Seepeale, to the ſaid Monaſtery of S. Alban.

Antiq. Hertf. 516.

This Manor thoſe Abbots enjoy'd till the fatal Year of their Diſſolution, when it came to the Crown, from whence it was ſhortly after conveyed to George Nodes, who formerly was Tenant to the ſame, under the Abbot, in whoſe Name and Family it continues to this Day.

But the Church here (dedicated to) was of old appropriated to the ſaid Monaſtery, and a Vicarage here ordain'd and endowed, the Collation whereof continu'd in the ſaid Abbots and Convent till their Suppreſſion, upon which it came to the Crown, and hath remained therein ever ſince.

ibid.

In the Chancel of this Church lies buried the aforeſaid George Nodes, with an Inſcription on his Tomb, by which it appears, That he was Serjeant of the Buck-Hounds to K. Hen. VIII. Edw. VI. Q. Mary, and Q. Elizabeth; and that he died May 14. 1564. Here are likewiſe inter'd Margaret the Wife of the ſaid George, and ſeveral of his Family.

b Joh. Rudd, lies buried in the Chancel here, where againſt the North ſide, under the Window, on a ſmall Marble Monument is his Effigies in a Shield, with a ſhort Cloak and a Shepherds Crook in his Hand, and bearing a Sheep on his Neck, with the following Inſcription:

> Near this place lies Buried the Body of John Rudd the faithful Paſtor of this Pariſh 45 Years, who died a Bachelour the 13*th day of* July 1640. Ætat. 72.

That he died in 1640. is true; for in that Year this Vicarage became void by his Death, as appears above. But that he was Paſtor of this Pariſh for 45 Years, according to this Inſcription (if the London Regiſtry be right) is a Miſtake; for it appears above, that Tho. Marten, his Predeceſſor, was admitted to this Vicarage, Oct. 20. 1613. How long, or how little while he continu'd Vicar here, or when this John Rudd was admitted to it, does not appear; but if Marten voided it the ſame Year, yet Rudd, who ſucceeded him, could not be Paſtor or Vicar of this Pariſh above 27 Years.

c Tho. Knight, lies alſo buried in the Chancel here, under a Marble-Stone, with an Inſcription thereon in Latin, importing, That he enjoy'd this Vicarage during the ſpace of 18 Years.

d Stafford Leventhorp, [V Amwell, int. Vic.] e Ric. Shoard, lies buried alſo in this Chancel, under a Marble-Stone, with this following Inſcription:

Archid. Mid.

In the Time of the Conquerour's Survey, Rothais, the Wife of Richard, (the eldeſt Son of Giſlebert, ſur-mam'd Criſpin) held Standon, which was rated for Six Hides; whoſe Great Grandſon Gilbert de Clare, in the Time of King Stephen, gave this Church of Standon to the Knights-Hoſpitallers, with 140 Acres of Land, and his Vineyard there, which Richard de Clare, Earl of Hertford, his Nephew, confirm'd in theſe Words, viz. "——Ex dono Gilberti Comitis Eccleſiam de Standone, "cum omnibus rebus, & libertatibus ad eam pertinentibus, & totam terram, quam "ipſi habent, ſive ex dono meo, vel anteceſſorum meorum, vel etiam Tenentium "eorum vel meorum. ibid. 222. The Church here (dedicated to) was of old, it ſeems, appropriated to the Priory of S. John of Jeruſalem, and a Vicarage here ordained and endowed: Towards which Endowment, Joſeph de Chauncy, Prior of the ſaid Hoſpital, in the Time of Edw. I. by the Aſſent of his Brethren, did, on Monday next after the Feaſt of S. John of Jeruſalem, 1280. grant to the perpetual Vicar of Standon, and his Succeſſors, one Meſſuage in the Vill of Standon, which Simon, a Vicar, held of him, and 3 Acres of Land, lying between the Land of the Reeve of the Borough of Standon, and the Garden of the Meſſuage, and two Acres between the Tenement of Bruin Hardine, and the ſaid Garden. Alſo one Croft between the Houſe of Nicolas the Smith, and the Church-yard, paying to the ſaid Houſe vi s. viii d. Sterling.

The Priors of the ſaid Houſe or Hoſpital continu'd Proprietaries of the Rectory, and Patrons of this Vicarage, till their Suppreſſion: After which the Rectory and Advowſon of the Vicarage were likewiſe granted to Ralph Sadler, Eſq; ibid. 218. aforeſaid, who, for his Valour and Good Service againſt the Scots at Muſſeborough-Fight, Ann. 1. Edw. VI. was honour'd with the Dignity of a Knight Banneret, and was one of the laſt of that Order made in England. He was likewiſe Chancellour of the Dutchy of Lancaſter, and Privy Counſellor to three Princes; and dying Anno 1587. 29. Eliz. Ætatis 80. was buried in the Chancel of this Church, under a goodly Tomb, with an Inſcription thereon in Latin Verſe, too long to be inſerted here. And on the other ſide of the Chancel lies buried Sir Thomas Sadler, his Son and Heir, for whom is erected another goodly Tomb, with a long Inſcription, part in Latin Verſe, and part in Engliſh Proſe.

The Right of Patronage of this Vicarage has continu'd (as appears) in the Sadlers down to our Times; the preſent Vicar being admitted thereto in 1670. ibid. 219. at the Preſentation of Anne Sadler, Widow, who was Relict of Ralph Sadler, Eſq; Son and Heir of Sir Thomas, Son and Heir of the aforeſaid Sir Ralph Sadler, Kt. Banneret, and liv'd his Wife 59 Years, and ſurviv'd him.

ibid. 223. Walter Lord Aſton, Lord of this Manor, Proprietary of this Rectory, and Patron of the Vicarage (to whom the Premiſes deſcended from Gertrude his Mother, Siſter and Heir to the ſaid Ralph Sadler, Eſq; Husband of the ſaid Anne) by Indenture dated 21. Apr. 14. Car. II. did, at the Inſtance of the ſaid Anne, convey a fair Houſe with a Garden and Orchard to Sir Tho. Leventhorp and others (Ten in all) to the Uſe of the Vicars of Standon ſucceſſively for ever, reſerving yearly Two pair of Kid-Leather Gloves to the ſaid Walter Lord Aſton, and his Heirs, to be paid at Chriſtmas, every Year, provided he be not preſented, or put in by Sequeſtration, or any other indirect Title, but be choſen by the Conſent of the ſaid Anne Sadler and Lord Aſton, and their Heirs, with a Clauſe, That when the Number of Truſtees ſhall be reduced to Four or Three at the fartheſt, new Truſtees ſhall be choſen.

Fun. Monum. 594. Weaver tells us, That near unto the fair-built Houſe here of Sir Ralph Sadler, ſometime ſtood a little Religious Fabrick of Auſtin Friers; but by whom founded, or how endowed, he found not, but ſays, it was a Cell to the Priory of Clare in Suffolk.

I am apt to think, that this might be the Hermitage in this Pariſh, which Richard de Clare, Earl of Hertford, gave to his Monks of Stoke, after he had remov'd them thither out of his neighbouring Caſtle of Clare; for I find that he gave the Hermitage of Standon to the ſaid Monks of Stoke, by his Grant running Monaſt. Terrier, 1610. about 4 Acres and an half of Glebe-Land, but without Houſes and Buildings; the Vicar hath alſo the Churchyard.

This Terrier ſeems to be agreeable in the main to the Endowment of this Vicarage by the before-mention'd Prior Chauncy, ſaving that there is no mention made of the Croft between the Houſe of Nicolas the Smith, and the Churchyard, which, perhaps, hath been ſince taken away. And ſaving that it is ſaid to be without Houſes or Buildings; whereas the ſaid Prior alſo endowed it with One Meſſuage for the Vicar. But probably that Meſſuage, in ſo long a Tract of Time, hath been utterly ruin'd and demoliſh'd. However, ſince the exhibiting that Terrier, that Defect hath been very well ſupply'd by the aforeſaid Ralph Lord Aſton's ſettling a fair Houſe, Garden and Orchard, upon the Vicar of this Pariſh, and his Succeſſors for ever, as is mention'd above.

Puckeridge.

Antiq. Hertſ. 223.

THIS is a fair Hamlet, ſituated upon Ermineſtreet, in this Pariſh and that of Braughing, and lieth partly in the Manor of Standon, and partly in the Manor of Milkly. My Author ſays, That in Cambden's Britannia it is called Pulcher Church (tho', by the way, I do not find it ſo nam'd in either of the Editions of Phil. Holland, or the laſt: In both which, all that is ſaid of Puckerich is, That it obtain'd the Privilege of a Fair and Market, by the Grant of Edw. I. procur'd by the Intereſt of William le Bland, or to that effect) but ſays further, That he cannot find, that any Church was ever built there, only a Chapel, which he hath ſeen mention'd in an antient Survey of the Manor of Gatesbury. But I never met with any ſuch Chapel in the London-Regiſtry, within which this place lies.

Stanſted-Abbot, Vicarage.

IN this County are Two of theſe Stanſteds, ſo denominated from the Gravelly Soil, where they are ſituated; for ſo much in the Saxon Language the Word imports. They were diſtinguiſh'd by the additional Appellation of Stanſted-Abbot and Stanſted-Thele, of both which in their Order.

Archid. Mid.

This Pariſh of Stanſted-Abbot, ſo call'd, becauſe it was formerly part of the Poſſeſſions of the Abbot and Monks of Waltham in Eſſex, is in the Archdeaconry of Middleſex, and Deanry and Hundred of Braughing, about 18-20 Miles Northward from London, near the meeting of the two Rivers Stort and Lea, which part this County from that of Eſſex. And is ſubject to the Archdeacon.

Antiq. Hertſ. 191.

In Domeſday-Book it is recorded, That Ranulph, the Brother of Ilger, held 17 Hides, and half a Virgate in Stanſtede in Brachinges Hundred, &c.

It was antiently, it ſeems, a place of Trade, and a Borough, in the Time of William Rufus, and Hen. I. Roger de Wauncy was Lord thereof, and gave the Ch. here (which is dedicated to   ) to the Priory of Merton in Surry, and Canons there of the Order of S. Auguſtin. But ſhortly after, this Manor came to Michael de Wauncy, who ſold the Moiety thereof to K. Hen. II. and gave the other Moiety to the Canons of Waltham aforeſaid, as is evident by the Confirmation of the Grant by Ric. I. dated 28. Sept. 10. Regni ſui (1198.) by which that King granted and confirm'd, for ever, the Gift his Father made them of the Moiety of the Vill of Stanſted, and Bridge of Thele, which he bought of Michael de Wauncy (for it ſeems K. Hen. II. gave that Moiety to the ſaid Canons of Waltham) acquitting him againſt Brune the Jew, "de Ducentis quater Viginti Libris "& xvii Solidis, & iii Denariis. And the other Moiety alſo of the ſame Vill, which the ſaid Michael gave to the ſaid Canons in perpetual Alms, to hold of him and his Heirs by the yearly Rent of xii l. with all Covenants made between 'em, and with all Liberties and Eaſements, which his Father had granted, free from all royal and foreign Service, which might in any manner be required of the ſaid Land.

And the ſame King by the ſame Charter confirm'd an Agreement made between William Marſhal and the ſaid Canons of the Vill of Stanſted, and of the Liberties, which the ſaid William had granted to them.

Stokeſley 44.

This Manor of Stanſted continu'd part of the Poſſeſſions of the ſaid Abbot and Monks of Waltham, until 23. Hen. VIII. when by their Deed, that Year, they paſs'd it away to that King, his Heirs, and Succeſſors, for ever, for the Priory Blackmore in Eſſex, and its Appurtenances, and other Lands and Tenements mention'd in the ſame. So that this Manor came not to the Crown upon the Diſſolution of that Abby, Anno 33. Hen. VIII. as is ſaid Antiq. Hertf. p. 192. but by way of Exchange Ten Years before. And was afterwards convey'd to Philip Parys, Eſq; who held it of the King by the yearly Rent of 4 s. 4 d. from whom it paſs'd to

Q. Mary, and Q. Elizabeth, until the Time of his Death, and died ſeiz'd thereof (together with the Advouſon of this Vicarage) May 2. 1587. aged 80 Years, as appears by the Inſcription on his Monument. He was ſucceeded in this Manor by Ralph Baeſh, Eſq; his Son and Heir, who erected a Chapel on the North-ſide of the Chancel of this Church, Anno 1578. where both his Father and he lie interred under a fair Monument. And in July 20. 1596. was ſucceeded in this Manor by ibid.

Edward his ſecond Son, Ralph his eldeſt Son dying (as is gheſt) in his Fathers Life-time; which Edward was one of the Chamberlains of the Exchequer, and was knighted; and by his Deed dated 20. Nov. 11. Car. I. convey'd this Manor of Stanſted with the Appurtenances to four Truſtees to the Uſe of himſelf, and the Heirs of his Body lawfully to be begotten, and for want of ſuch to the uſe of Edward Baeſh, Gent. Son and Heir of Edward Baeſh of S. Margarets, Gent. and to his lawful Heirs Males, and for want of ſuch to Ralph Baeſh, Brother of the ſaid Edward, and to his lawful Heirs-Males, and for want of ſuch, then to the Uſe of the ſaid Truſtees, their Heirs and Aſſigns for ever, upon Truſt that they ſhall demiſe the Premiſſes at the beſt yearly Rents, and therewith, as they ſhall ariſe, to purchaſe any Rectories, or Parſonages impropriate, and the Advouſons of the Vicarages thereof within the Counties of Hertford, Eſſex, Lincoln, and Gloceſter, and ſo many of them as they may purchaſe after the rate of 15 Years purchaſe or under; or, in default of Impropriations and Rectories in the ſaid Counties, then in any other Counties of England, to be ſo convey'd, that theſe Impropriations and Rectories may again become ſeveral Churches and Parſonages preſentative or otherwiſe, that the Glebe Lands, Tyths, Oblations, Obventions, and other Rights and Duties belonging to ſuch Impropriatiors and Impropriations or Rectories, may be lawfully remitted and ſetled upon the ſeveral Vicarages and Vicars of the ſaid Churches, and their Succeſſors for ever, and in ſuch Manner, that the Maſters, Fellows, and Scholars of Peter-houſe, in Cambridge, and their Succeſſors for ever may be Patrons thereof. ibid.

But this noble and pious Deſign never took effect; for this Sir Edward Baeſh dying May 12. 1653. leaving no Iſſue, this Manor came to Ralph Baeſh, Eſq; made Knight of the Bath at the Coronation of King Charles II. who had ſo plung'd himſelf in debt by reaſon of his Loyalty to the King in the time of his Troubles, that after the Reſtauration he was fain to get an Act of Parliament to enable him to ſell part of the Premiſſes, not exceeding 300 l. per Ann. And after his Death the remainder came to his Son Sir Edward Baeſh, who ſold this Manor to Edmund Field, Eſq; from whom it came to Sir Tho. Field, and from him to his Son Edmund the preſent Lord thereof. ibid. 195.

The aforeſaid Sir Edward Baeſh that was one of the Chamberlains of the Exchequer built here an Alm-houſe for Six poor Widdows; and a free Grammar-School, and endow'd them both in 11. Car. I. ibid. 196.

He alſo built a neat Brick-houſe for the Uſe of the Vicar of this Pariſh, and laid two Acres of Land to it; who holds it by Leaſe under the yearly Rent of 12 d. payable to the moſt indigent Perſon of the Pariſh at Chriſtmas, and alſo gave a ſmall Cottage of 40 s. a Year for the Uſe of the Clerk of the Pariſh-Church for the time being.

The Church here, as is mention'd before, was given by Roger de Wauncy to the Canons of Merton, and afterwards appropriated to their Uſes, and a Vicarage ordain'd and endow'd, the Patronage whereof continued in that Prior and Convent till their Suppreſſion; when it came to the Crown, and in 1550, and 1552. was in the Gift of the Lady Mary, Siſter to King Edward VI. afterwards Queen of England. But upon the next Vacancy was in Edward Baeſh, Eſq; Lord of the Manor aforeſaid, in whoſe Family and Name it continued till ſold (as the Manor was) to Edmund Field, Eſq; in 1676. whoſe Son and Heir Sir Tho. Field in 1682. preſented the preſent Vicar.

Terrier, 1610. About 32 Acres of Glebe Land, beſides a Penſion of 4 l. 6 s. 8 d. payable yearly out of the Parſonage to the Vicar. Bund. Braughing.

Stanſted-Thele.

NEXT to Stanſted-Abbot to the Weſtward, in the ſame Archdeaconry and Deanry; but in the Hundred of Hertford, lies this Vill, in times paſt call'd le Veyle; now Old Stanſted; and corruptly Stanſted-Thele (ſaith Norden) call'd alſo S. Margarets; from the Saint to whom the Church is dedicated. It is ſuppos'd to have been waſt Ground in the time of the Conqueror, becauſe omitted out of Domeſday-Book. In this Pariſh the Manor bears the name of this Vill, and was parcel of the Poſſeſſions of John Lovetoft, who Anno 6. Edw. I. claim'd Free-warren in all his Demeſne-Lands in Thele, and upon his Deceaſe it was found that Roger Lovetoft ſucceeded him.

Antiq. Hertf. 284.

It is there ſaid, That it came ſhortly after to Thomas Eugain, who married Katharine, Daughter to the Earl of Devon; but died without Iſſue upon the Feaſt-day of the Apoſtles Peter and Paul, Anno 41. Edw. III. (1367.) then ſeiz'd (among others) of this Manor, whereupon his Siſters, Joyce the Wife of John de Goldington, Elizabeth the Wife of Sir Laurence Pakenham (or Pabenham) Knight, and Mary the Wife of Sir William Bernac, Knight, became his next Heirs, and ſhared his Lands between them; and that upon the Partition, this Manor fell to Joyce the Wife of John de Goldington, who held it in her Right. Thus in Antiq. Hertf.

ibid.

What is there written of the ſaid Tho. Eugaine, as to the Partition of his Eſtate between his three Siſters (but without the Quotation of any Authority) perhaps might be taken out of Sir William Dugdale's Baronage, 1. Tom. 467. where the ſeveral Lordſhips and Manors of the ſaid Tho. Eugaine, which upon his Death were divided among his three Siſters and Heirs are particularly ſpecified; but this Manor of Thele is not there nam'd among them: Neither, indeed, could it well come to the ſaid John de Goldington by his marriage with the ſaid Joyce, as one of the Siſters and Heirs of the ſaid Tho. Eugaine, it being long before in the Family of the Goldingtons, as was alſo the Advouſon of the Church here, as will appear by what follows out of the London-Regiſtry.

Sir William de Goldington, Knight, in the time of Edward II. finding the Church of Thele (of which he was Patron) to have been in antient time very much impoveriſh'd in its Tyths, Oblations, and other Eccleſiaſtical Rights, by reaſon that many of the wealthy Inhabitants withdrew from this Pariſh, and betook themſelves to others, inſomuch, that were was not a ſufficient Maintenance for a Rector here, having firſt obtain'd a Licence from that King dated at Lincoln, Feb. 7. in the 9th Year of his Reign, A. 1315. founded here a College for a Maſter or Cuſtos, and four Chaplains, all Seculars, daily to Celebrate Divine Offices at the Altar of the Virgin Mary, in the Church here, for the Souls of himſelf, his Wife Margaret, of his Anceſtors, and his Heirs; and for the Souls of Robert de Vere, Earl of Oxford, and Thomas de Vere his Son, and their Anceſtors and Heirs, and all the Faithful deceas'd; and endow'd the ſame with one Meſſuage, one Carucate of Land, eight Acres of Meadow, fifteen Acres of Wood, and ten Pounds yearly Rent in Thele, Amwell, and Buers Gifford, and Paſture for ſix Cows, and 100 Muttons or Sheep, in his own Demeſne Lands, in the ſaid Pariſh of Thele, at all times of the Year with his own Cattle, and alſo the Advouſons of the Churches of Thele and Aldham, with leave to get the ſaid Churches appropriated to them and their Succeſſors for ever to their own proper Uſe, without any Let or Hindrance from him and his Heirs, as appears more at large by his Charter or Deed bearing date May 20. in the ſaid 9th Year of the ſaid King Edw. II. which Deed was ratified and confirm'd by Rob. de Vere, Earl of Oxford, on the 30th Day of the ſame Month and Year; ſoon after which Gilbert de Seagrave, Biſhop of London, by an Inſtrument under his own, and the ſaid Founder's Seals, dated at his Palace in London, 16. Kal. Jan. 1316. and in the 4th Year of his Conſecration, appropriated the ſaid Churches to the ſaid College (with a Salvo of all Epiſcopal and Archidiaconal Rights) reſerving to himſelf a Power of ordaining a Vicarage in the ſaid Church of Aldham. But as to the Church of Thele, in regard it was of too ſmall a Revenue to maintain a Vicar, he ordain'd the Cure of Souls of the ſaid Pariſh to be committed to the ſaid Cuſtos, and his Succeſſors, and accordingly committed the ſame to William de Goldington, whom he then admitted to the Cuſtody of the ſaid College. And with the Conſent of the Founder, reſerv'd to himſelf and Succeſſors the Patronage of the ſaid College and Vicarage of Aldham, whenever they ſhould happen to be void, within 30 Days after which, he, or his Succeſſors were to prefer one of the Chaplains of the ſaid College to them, as they ſhould reſpectively fall void. And in default thereof, the Collation of the ſaid College and Vicarage ſhould devolve to the Dean and Chapter of S Pauls, to beſtow on one of the ſaid Chaplains; and in the place of ſuch Chaplain as ſhould be admitted to either of the ſaid Preferments, the Cuſtos of the ſaid College was to admit another fit Perſon in his room at the Nomination of the Founder; but the ſaid Biſhop dying before he could compleat this Appropriation according to ſuch Solemnities as the Law requir'd, Ric. Newport, Biſhop of London, his next and immediate Succeſſor by his Inſtrument dated at London, 3. Non. Aug. 1317. perfected what his Predeceſſor did not live to finiſh, and made Orders for the ſaid Chaplains. All which were confirm'd under the Seal of the Dean and Chapter of S. Pauls on the 9th of Auguſt aforeſaid, and afterwards by Walter (Reynald) Archbiſhop of Canterbury, by his Metropolitical Authority, 5. Non. Mar. 1321. and in the 9th Year of his Tranſlation.

Gilbert 192. Thus continued this College till the Year 1431. and about that time William (Grey) Biſhop of London, in his Epiſcopal Viſitation, finding that this College (of his own Patronage) was, through the Negligence, or ill Management of the Keepers or Maſters, and Chaplains thereof, very much decay'd in its Revenues, and many of the Lands and Poſſeſſions belonging thereunto alienated, and otherwiſe loſt; inſomuch, that the Chaplains being gone, and there remaining then only the Cuſtos, and fearing that the reſt of its Revenue would in a ſhort time be loſt, unleſs timely care was taken to prevent the ſame; and conſidering that the Regulars were fitter Perſons than the Seculars, to preſerve the Poſſeſſions of the ſaid College, to anſwer the Intention of the Founder; and having conſulted with his Dean and Chapter about the Premiſſes, did with theirs, and the Conſent and Aſſent of all Parties concern'd in due Form of Law (having firſt obtain'd the King's Licence in order thereunto) diſſolve the ſaid College, and did annex and appropriate the ſame, with the ſaid Churches of Thele and Aldham, and all the Lands, Tenements, and Poſſeſſions (which in the King's Licence are particularly ſpecified, viz. ſix Meſſuages, one Mill, 200 Acres of arable Land, 20 Acres of Meadow, 30 Acres of Paſture, and 12 l. in Rent with the Appurtenances in Buers Gifford, Chelmsford Writtle and Bromefield, in the County of Eſſex, and one Meſſuage, and one Carucate, and three Acres of arable Land, 20 Acres of Meadow, 20 Acres of Wood, 100 Shillings Rent, and Paſture for 14 Cows, and 100 Sheep, with the Appurtenances in Thele, Stanſted-Abbot, Amwell, Broxborne and Hoddeſdon, in this County of Hertford) to the Hoſpital or Priory of the Bleſſed Mary of Elſing-Spittle, in London, and to the Prior and Convent there, and to their Succeſſors for ever, after the death or removal of John Howden the then Cuſtos of the ſaid College, giving Power to Henry Hoddeſdon (the then Prior of the ſaid Hoſpital) to take poſſeſſion of the Premiſſes, as ſoon as the ſaid Cuſtos ſhould die or remove. And farther ordaining and appointing, that preſently after ſuch Poſſeſſion was obtain'd, that the ſaid Prior and Convent, and their Succeſſors, ſhould for the future, maintain two Canons Regular, in the ſaid Church of Thele, continually Reſident, who ſhould take upon them the Cure of the Souls of the ſaid Pariſh, and duly and honeſtly officiate there; which two Canons were to be removeable, and other two Canons placed in their room at the Pleaſure of the ſaid Prior. Farther alſo ordaining and appointing that the ſaid Prior and Convent ſhould yearly maintain three other Canons Regular in their own Hoſpital to pray for the Souls of the Founders of the ſaid College, according to their deſires. And the ſaid Biſhop with conſent of the ſaid Prior and Convent ordain'd, that for the ſaid Biſhop's Indemnity, they and their Succeſſors for the future upon every Vacancy of the ſaid Priory, ſhould, within 15 Days after the Inſtallation of their new Prior, pay 20 Shillings Engliſh Money to the ſaid Biſhop, and his Succeſſors, in the Nam[illegible] a Penſion, under pain of Sequeſtring the Church of Thele, and Eccleſiaſtical [illegible]ures; and alſo two Shillings yearly at Eaſter, in the Church of Thele, to the Poor of the ſaid Pariſh.

Mon. Ang. 3. Vol. 2. P. pag. 109.

Gilbert ut ſupra.

This Appropriation bears date April 5. 1431. in the 5th Year of the ſaid Biſhop's Conſecration, and was confirm'd by Reginald Kentwood the Dean, and the Chapter of S. Pauls, under their Chapter-Seal the next Day after. And afterwards by Robert (Gilbert) Biſhop of London, under his Seal, May 14. 1434. in the third Year of his Conſecration.

Antiq. Hertſ. 193. After the general Diſſolution this Pariſh-Church continued a Donative or Curacy, in the Gift (I ſuppoſe) of ſuch, who from time to time were Lords of this Manor; which Henry VIII. convey'd to Edward Baeſh, Eſq; who in all probability gave it to William Baeſh his youngeſt Son, from whom it came to Edward his Son; upon whoſe Death it deſcended to Edward Baeſh his Son and Heir, who liv'd there until he ſold it to Edward Laurence, Eſq; who died in the Year 1657. leaving it to Henry his Heir, after whoſe Death, which happen'd Aug. 8. 1664. it was ſold to Edward Weſtro, who died ſeiz'd thereof, and his Widow and Relict poſſeſs'd the ſame till the Year 1689. when it was ſold to Francis Roſton, Eſq; who is the preſent Owner thereof.

This being a Donative or Curacy, is not tax'd with any Firſt-Fruits, Tenths, Procurations or Synodals, and the Cure is from time to time ſupplied by ſuch Clergymen as the Lord of the Manor ſhall be pleas'd to beſtow it on, who are to officiate here by Vertue of a Licence from the Ordinary.

Stortford, Vicarage.

THIS Town of Stortford, commonly call'd Biſhops Stortford; is within the Archdeaconry of Middleſex, Deanry and Hundred of Braughing, about 23 or 25 Miles towards the Northeaſt from London; but is ſubject only to the Biſhop and his Commiſſary.

Pec. Com.

William the Conqueror, of his Princely Bounty, gave and confirm'd to Maurice, the then venerable Biſhop of London, and his Succeſſors the Caſtle of Stortford in this County, and whatſoever William his Predeceſſor had of his Gift, with all the Land which William the Deacon, and Ralph his Brother held of him, that they might poſſeſs it for ever.

Hiſt. Paul. 196.

The Town is call'd Stortford, from the Paſſage or Ford over the River Stort; and receiv'd the Adjunct of Biſhops from this Biſhop, to whom King William had given the ſame; which, in the general Survey, the Biſhop of London held for ſix Hides, &c.

Antiq. Hertf. 164.

The Conqueror built here a ſmall Caſtle upon a firm artificial Mount, between the Town and Hockeril, upon the Eaſt-ſide of the River, term'd Waytemore-Caſtle; from the More, where it was erected, to defend and protect the Trade and Commerce of the Town, and to keep the People in Obedience under his Government, and tho' it was ſmall in compaſs, yet it was ſtrengthned from the Over-flowing of the River about it. And the King gave certain Manors and Lands to the Biſhop of London to ſupport it, and the Tenants were charg'd with certain Rents (particularly ſpecified with theſe Manors and Lands, in Antiq. Hertf.) payable by their tenure for Caſtle-guard. And tho' the Caſtle be now demoliſh'd, yet the Tenants are ſtill bound to pay theſe Rents to the Biſhop by reaſon of ſuch their Tenure.

ibid.

About the 15th Year of King Stephen, Maud the Empreſs did Covenant with Jeoffery de Magnavil, by her Charter (among other things) that if in caſe ſhe could obtain this Caſtle by exchange from the Biſhop of London, that he and his Heirs ſhould enjoy it for ever; but if ſhe could not, then ſhe would demoliſh it. Yet, notwithſtanding, ſhe could not procure the Grant thereof from the Biſhop, the Caſtle remain'd till the 8th (or 10th) of King John, when William, Biſhop of London, Euſtace, Biſhop of Ely, and Malgor (or Maugere) Biſhop of Wincheſter (Worceſter it ſhould be) by the Pope's command executed an Interdiction upon the whole Realm, and all the Clergy of England, which did ſo offend the King, that the ſaid Biſhops fled out of the Realm, and the King put all their Biſhopricks into the Hands of Laymen, and to expreſs his great Anger againſt the Biſhop of Dugd. Bar. 1. Vol. f. 201.

Antiq. Hertf. 165.

London, he cauſed this Caſtle to be demoliſh'd, ſeiz'd the Town into his Hands, made it a Burrough, conſtituted Burgeſſes, incorporated them into a Commonalty to chuſe Officers out of themſelves in their Burrough, and to ſend Burgeſſes to Parliament, of which my Author gives us a Liſt out of Prin's Brev. Parl. 4. par. 1124. from 4. Edw. II. to 14. Edw. III.

But from that time he tells us, That the Biſhops of London have enjoy'd all their former Rights, Liberties and Privileges in this Town, and have appropriated the Ruins of this demoliſh'd Caſtle to themſelves.

Baudake 41. But by the London-Regiſtry it appears, that the Biſhop of London enjoy'd this Manor and Caſtle ſome Years before the 14. Edw. III. which was Anno 1339. for there I find, that Stephen Graveſend, Biſhop of that Sea (who was conſecrated Jan. 14. Anno 1318-9. (13. Edw. II) granted a Commiſſion bearing date at Fulham, 7. Kal. Feb. that Year to William Atteward, whereby he conſtituted him Conſtable of this his Caſtle of Stortford, committing to him the Cuſtody of the Priſon of this Place, and made him his Bailiff or Superviſor of his Manors of Hadham, Storteford and Brokesborne.

Hiſt. Paul. 10. I find likewiſe, that King John himſelf in 16. of his Reign after he had demoliſh'd this Caſtle of Stortford, gave to the ſaid William de S. Maria, and his Succeſſors, his Manor of Stoke, near Guldeford, in Surry, to make up his Loſs (as I conceive) which he ſuſtain'd in having his ſaid Caſtle demoliſh'd.

Braybr. 373. Bartholomew Kere, and John Grigg, Chaplains (having firſt obtain'd the King's Licence) gave to Robert Braybroke, Biſhop of London, and to his Succeſſors for ever, by their Indenture dated Anno 11. Regni Regis Ric. II. an annual Rent of three Quarters of Bread-Corn out of their two Fields at Stortford, call'd Reding and Bockmongers Croft, for the Maintenance of his Priſoners in his Priſon at Stortford.

Antiq. Hertf. 165. In the time of Queen Mary, Biſhop Bonner made great uſe of this Priſon adjoining to the Caſtle, which was built of Wood and Brick where he kept convicted Proteſtants in a deep dark Dungeon, and from thence it was call'd the Convict's Priſon; it conſiſted of ſeveral Rooms, was ſold about the Year 1649. and the Purchaſers pull'd it down with the Bridg, and erected an Inn near it.

Camd. Brit. N. E. 296, 305. In Mr. Camden's time, Stortford was a little Town; but ſince that grown into a conſiderable Place, well ſtock'd with Inns, and a good Market held on Thurſdays, and hath three Fairs yearly, viz. on the Days of S. Michael, Aſcenſion, and Corpus Chriſti.

Antiq. Hertf. 166. The Manor of Patmere, ſituate towards the North of this Town belongs to the Biſhops of London, who have been antient Lords thereof, and uſually held a Court-Leet, or View of Francpledge, where the Tenants perform their Suit and Service; a Conſtable, and other Officers are choſen for this Hamlet, and Miſdemeanors puniſh'd, and a Court-Baron where the Tenants pay their Relief, and perform their Suit and Service to their Lord.

ibid. 168. The Church here (dedicated to S. Michael) ſeemeth to be very antient, for there are yet viſible, in the Weſt-Window, on the North-ſide of the Belfry, the Names and Pictures of King Athelſtan, S. Edward, and King Edward, and no other later Kings in that, or any other Window.

The Rectory here is a Manor, and was of old annex'd and appropriated to the Office and Dignity of the Precentor of the Cathedral-Church of S. Paul, in London, who is Rector and Proprietor of this Church and Rectory, and Patron of the Vicarage; which was likewiſe of old ordain'd and endow'd, to which the Biſhop gives Inſtitution at the Preſentation of the Precentor, and alſo Induction, by his Mandate Univerſis, &c. this Place being wholly exempt from the Archdeacon.

ibid. 165. The Precentors have been ſucceſſively Lords of this Manor of the Rectory, and have from time to time held Courts for it, where there are no more than two or three Free-holders, the others are Tenants for Years by the Cuſtom of the Manor. The Site of which Manor is demis'd to Edward Denny, Eſq; for three Lives, and he is the preſent Poſſeſſor thereof, Anno 1700.

ibid. 166. The Precentors allow all the Tyths of a great Farm, call'd Park, to the Vicar; but the Reſidue of the Parſonage has been lately demis'd to the Dennies, for the Term of three Lives.

In the Year 1427. there was a Compoſition between John Dury (or Drury) alias Salisbury, Precentor of the ſaid Cathedral-Church, and Rector of this Church, and Geofry Medue, Rector of Farnham, about the great Tyths of certain Lands lying in their reſpective Pariſhes, of which ſome were pretended to lye within the Bounds of this Pariſh of Stortford, and others within that of Farnham, concerning which there had been formerly, it ſeems, great Conteſts; for the Prevention whereof, for the future, the ſaid Compoſition was made before William Grey, Biſhop of London, and confirm'd by his Authority; of which, ſo much as concerns this Rectory of Stortford, is as followeth: viz. " Quod præfatus Johannes Dury, Grey 51.

" aliàs Saliſbury, Precentor dictæ Eccleſiæ London, & Rector & Canonicus Poſſeſſor " Eccleſiæ Parochialis de Stortford, toto tempore ſuo integraliter percipiet, & habebit, ſicq; percipient & habebunt Succeſſores ſui prefatæ Eccleſiæ London Præcentores, dictæ Eccleſiæ Parochialis de Stortford Rectores, Proprietarii, & Poſſeſſores " quicunq; eorum temporibus ſucceſſivis in perpetuum jure & nomine ipſius Eccleſiæ de Stortford, omnes & omnimodas decimas majores in, & de Terris & Locis " ſubſcriptis, viz. de dictis quatuor Acris & Dimid. Terræ jacen. in Crofto vocato " Aſſhrowe; & de una acra jacente in quodam Crofto vocato Horſpond, & duabus " Acris Terræ jacent. in Crofto vocato Hoſe; & de quindecim Acris Terræ jacente ſuper Rokkeriſhill; & de una Acra & Dimid. Acræ Terræ Nicolai Hamme jacente juxta Rokkeriſhill; & de quadraginta & duabus Acris, & tribus Rodis Terræ " jacent. in Brodefeld, infra Dominium Manerii de Stortford predict. Nec non " de Triginta quatuor Acris jacent. in Campo vocato Common-Down. Et de quatuor Acris Prati jacent. in Wickham-Hall-Meadow. Et de Octo Acris, & tribus " Rodis & Dimid. jacent. in Long-Meadow, abſq; impedimento & contradictione " quibuſcunq; cujuſcunq; Rectoris præfatæ Eccleſiæ de Farnham perpetuo futuro " exiſten.

This is all in this Compoſition which concerns the Rectors of Stortford; what concerns the Rectors of Farnham, in Eſſex, is inſerted in what I have written of that Church; which Compoſition the aforeſaid Parties bound themſelves and their Succeſſors for ever to obſerve under the penalty of paying 10 s. to the Fabrick of the old Work of S. Paul's Cathedral-Church, as often as it ſhould in any part be violated. And the Biſhop, and the Dean and Chapter confirm'd the ſame under their reſpective Seals.

Three Gilds, and a Chantry were founded in this Church, viz. The Gild of S. Mary, of S. Michael, and of S. John Baptiſt, to which Anno 1476. Elizabeth Spicer gave Legacies, viz. to the Two former xiii s. iv d. a Piece; and to the laſt xl s. Theſe Saints had their Altars, and S. Michael his Tabernacle, on which much Coſt has been formerly beſtow'd; but the Chantry was founded in the time of Ric. III. (by Baldwyn Victor) and the Settlement thereof (which was in the Pariſh of Geſtingthorp, in Eſſex, where may be read more of it) coſt much Money. Antiq. Hertf. 169.

Anno 1257. 40. Hen. III. William, the Son of Matthew, gave iv d. per Ann. to light the Lamps in the Church of Stortford, to iſſue out of an Acre of Land in a Field call'd Swetmanſhoo. ibid.

Anno 1309. 2. Edw. II. Philip, the Son and Heir of Robert le Long, gave to the Church of S. Michael of Stortford, one Stall, ſeated in the Tannery of the ſaid Town. ibid.

Anno 1476. 16. Edw. IV. Elizabeth Spicer, gave 13 s. 4 d. at Wait's-Croſs, to the Repair of the Church. ibid.

o This Jonathan Paine, I ſuppoſe, was put into this Vicarage in the late times of Uſurpation, and was thrown out again in 1662. for Non-conformity.

p Tho. Leigh was ſecond Son of Tho. Leigh, late Maſter of the School in this Town, and raiſed a fair Library for the Uſe of the ſaid School. The ſaid Thomas, his Son, the late Vicar here, was a learned Man, and a good Antiquary, and one to whom the right worſhipful Sir Henry Chauncy, Serjeant at Law, acknowledgeth himſelf to have been much obliged for the Account of this Church, he the ſaid Thomas made a fair Addition of Books to the ſaid Library. [Antiq. Hertf. 166, 169.] and voided this Vicarage by his Death in 1686, as appears above.

q This Chriſtopher (in Antiq. Hertf. call'd William) Cooper, ſoon after his Admiſſion built a fair Houſe (for the Vicars, I ſuppoſe) on the South-ſide of the Church-yard, at the Charge of himſelf and the Chief of the Inhabitants of this Pariſh [Antiq. Hertf. 166.]

r Will. Polhill the preſent Vicar of this Church, and Rector of Bowers Gifford, in Eſſex, 1700.

Thorley,

Thorley, Rectory.

ABout Two Miles from Biſhops Stortford to the Southward, in the ſame Archdeaconry, Deanry, and Hundred, but ſubject to the Archdeacon, lies this Pariſh of Thorley, Torley, or Thornley, from the Abundance of Thorns and Briars, which, in old Time, over-ran this Ground. Archid. Mid.

Which Place William the Conquerour (inter alia) gave to Jeoffery de Magnavil, who, in the Time of the general Survey, held it for 4 Hides, as it is there recorded, where, in the later end of the ſame Paragraph it is farther recorded, That Godid, (a Man under the Protection of Aſgar Stalre) held this Manor, and might ſell it; and that William Biſhop of London bought this Manor of King William, which he had by the Grant of the ſame Godid, and now the Biſhop of London claims it again. Antiq. Hertf. 171.

And farther, in another Paragraph, it is recorded thus, Roderius held of the Biſhop of London half a Hide in Torlei.

Hence it appears, that the Biſhop of London had in thoſe Times an Intereſt in, or at leaſt a Pretence to, this Manor of Thorley, or ſome part of it: Notwithſtanding which, it continued ſtill, or at leaſt was again in the Mandevils. And Jeoffery de Mandevil (Grandſon of the aforeſaid Geoffery) Founder of the Monaſtery of Walden, endow'd that his new Foundation (inter alia) with this Church of Thorley. Mon. Angl. I. Vol. 449, 459.

However, afterwards this Church (which is dedicated to and is a Rectory) came (but when, or by what means I have not found) to be in the Collation of the Biſhops of London, and (as appears) hath continu'd ſo from the Year 1327. down to theſe our Days.

Archid.S.Alb. Ant.Her.509. IN the Archdeaconry of S. Albans, and Hundred of Caiſho, about 27 or 30 Miles towards the Northweſt from London, and ſubject to the Archdeacon, lies this Vill of Walden; which was part of the Poſſeſſions belonging to the Monaſtery of S. Albans, to which it was given by King Egfrid, Son of Offa, Anno 796. And in the Conqueror's Survey it is recorded by the Name of Waldene, and then held by the Abbot thereof for 10 Hides; whence, till the Diſſolution, it uſually went by the Name of Abbots-Walden, whereby it was diſtinguiſh'd from the next neighbouring Pariſh, call'd King's-Walden.

Mon. Angl. 1. Vol. 176, 179. Antiq. Hertf. ut ſupra. This Manor and Church were confirm'd (inter alia) to the ſaid Monaſtery by the Charters of King Henry I. King John, and by the Pope Honorius III. and were held by the Abbots of S. Albans, till their Diſſolution, when they came to the Crown, and were by King Henry VIII. in 36. of his Reign, granted to the Dean and Chapter of S. Pauls, London, from which time this Pariſh hath been known by the Name of Pauls-Walden.

The Church here (dedicated to) was of old appropriated to the Abbot and Monks of S. Albans, and a Vicarage here ordain'd and endow'd, which continued in their Collation till their Suppreſſion. And after that by Vertue of the aforeſaid Grant, the ſaid Dean and Chapter of S. Pauls have been Lords of this Manor, Proprietaries of the Rectory, and Patrons of the Vicarage, and ſo continue to this Day.

Ware, Vicarage.

Archid. Mid.
Camd. Brit. N.E. 295. 304.
Nord. Hertf. 26.

IN the Archdeaconry of Middleſex, and ſubject to that Archdeacon, Deanry, and Hundred of Braughing, about 20--22 Miles Northward from London, on the River Lea, lies this Town of Ware, ſo nam'd from a ſort of Damm antiently made there (by the Danes, as ſome of our Hiſtorians tell us, to ſecure themſelves from ſome of King Alfred's Army) to ſtop the Current, commonly call'd a Wear or Ware, which Denomination from the Wears (and not, as ſome imagine, from Wares or Merchandiſe) as it is confirm'd by the abundance of the Waters thereabouts, ſo particularly from the Inundation in 1408. when it was almoſt all drowned, ſince which Time (ſays Norden) and before, there was great Proviſion made by Wayres and Sluces for the better Preſervation of the Town, and the Grounds belonging to the ſame. The Plenty of Waters thereabouts gave occaſion to that uſeful Project of cutting the Channel from thence to London, and conveying the New-River, to the great Advantage and Convenience of the City.

Antiq. Hertf. 201.

Some ſay this Town was built Ann. 914. by the Order of King Edward, the Son of King Alfred, which is doubted by my Author; for that in the Time of the Conquerour, which was 150 Years after this King, this Town was a ſmall Vill, and no Remark made thereof in thoſe Days, more than, That the Manor was Parcel of the Poſſeſſions of Hugh de Grentemaiſnil, of whom it is recorded in the general Survey, That he held in Ware, in the Hundred of Brachinges xxiv Hides, &c.

Norden, ut ſupra.
Dugd. Bar. I. Tom. 686.

It began to grow famous (as Norden tells us) in King John's Time, in the furious Broils of the Barons; for being then but a Hamlet of ſmall Moment, the Highway towards the North parts was laid through it by the means of the Lord Wake, as ſome will have it (but it rather ſeems to be by the means of Sayer de Quincy Earl of Wincheſter, at that Time Lord of this Manor, to whom it came by his Marriage with Margaret, one of the Siſters and Co-Heirs of Robert Fitz-Parnell, Earl of Leiceſter) and by little and little by that means increaſed, and much obſcured antient Hertford.

Antiq. Hertf. 201.

For he, the ſaid Earl of Wincheſter, by his great Power, caus'd the Iron Chain which lock'd up the Paſſage over the Bridge at this Town to be broken down, and the Gate to be laid open; for before that Time no Carts nor Horſes with Harneſs could paſs over the Bridge, without the Licence of the Bayliff of Hertford, who kept the Keys hereof, and receiv'd Toll of all Perſons who ſo paſs'd over the ſame Bridge. By this means the great Road was turn'd from Hertford through this Town, where Inns and Houſes have been ſince erected by degrees for Receipt of Travellers; ſo that from a ſmall Vill, it is now become a populous Town, where there is held a Market every Week, on Tueſdays; and a Fair yearly, on the Day of the Nativity of the Bleſſed Virgin.

Mon. Angl. II. Vol. 966.

The Church here (which is dedicated to the Bleſſed Virgin, and is called S. Mary the Great) was in the Time of the Conquerour given by the aforeſaid Hugh de Grentemaiſnil to the Monaſtery of S. Ebrulf at Utica in Normandy, as appears by that King's Charter of Confirmation, wherein, among the Lands and Churches which were given by others, and the ſaid Hugh, to the ſaid Abby, this of Ware, as of the Gift of the ſaid Hugh is thus inſerted: "—— Dedit etiam Eccleſiam de Guavis, & totam Decimam, quæ ad illum pertinebat, Terramque dua-

" rum Carucarum. Which Church, it ſeems, was afterwards appropriated to the ſaid Monaſtery (to which the Priory at this Town of Ware was a Cell) and a Vicarage here ordained and endowed, of which the Abbot and Convent of S. Ebrulf were Patrons, and uſually preſented by the Prior of Ware, as their Protector.

Upon a Complaint of the Pariſhioners of Ware to Pope Gregory IX. ſetting forth, That the Prior of Ware had refuſed to let the Cure of their Pariſh-Church be ſerv'd by a ſufficient Vicar, to the Grievance and Prejudice of the ſaid Church and Pariſhioners, reſerving to himſelf an annual Penſion of Ten Marks from the Vicar, the Tyths of the Mills of the whole Pariſh of Ware and Thundridg, and the Tyths of the Park and Woods of Robert Earl of Leiceſter, and the Tyths alſo of the Corn and Hay of the ſaid Pariſh, to the Prejudice, and mere Deſtruction of the ſaid Vicarage: The Pope thereupon iſſu'd out his Mandatory Letters, dated at S. Peters in Rome, 3. Non. Febr. in the Firſt Year of his Pontificate (Anno 1228.) to the then Biſhop and Dean of London (with Power to the ſaid Biſhop, if the ſaid Dean could not be preſent) to hear and determine, according to their Diſcretion, the Matter of the ſaid Complaint. Whereupon the ſaid Biſhop, and the ſaid Dean, by the Authority of the ſaid Mandate, having called all the Parties concerned before them, and the Prior, and the Men of Ware having firſt ſworn, that they would ſtand to their Award, without any Appeal, after many Diſputes between them, judicially put an end to the ſame as follows, viz.

Gilbert 196.

" ——Willimus, Prior de Ware, verus Procurator domus S. Ebrulfi in Anglia, " Litera Procurationis ſuæ nobis prius oſtenſa, coram nobis fatebatur, ſe remiſiſſe, " relaxâſſe, & omnino pro ſe, & ſucceſſoribus ſuis imperpetuum quietum clamâſſe " Domino Nicolao Speleman (ad Preſentationem ſuam Vicario de Ware) ſibi, & " ſuis Succeſſoribus annuam Penſionem decem Marcarum Argenti, in quibus ſibi " tenebatur pro annua Penſione Vicariæ prædictæ, prout plenius per Evidentias inde confectas nobis evidenter apparuit. Which Evidence being ſeen and examin'd, the ſaid Biſhop and Dean revok'd the ſaid Penſion, and for ever quitted " the ſaid Vicar and his Succeſſors from payment of the ſame. And farther for " the Security of the ſaid Vicar, ordained, That if ever hereafter the ſaid Prior " or his Succeſſors ſhould claim the ſaid Penſion of Ten Marks in whole or in " part, from thenceforth the ſaid Tyths of the Mills of the whole Pariſh of Ware " and Thundridg, and the Tyths of the aforeſaid Park and Woods of the ſaid Earl " of Leiceſter, and Tyths of Corn and Hay of ſeveral Acres of Ground therein " particularly ſpecified, and butted and bounded, ſhould remain to the ſaid Vicar, " and his Succeſſors for ever: And then endowed the ſaid Vicarage as follows, viz.

Dotatio Vicariæ.

This Endowment, with the Conſent of all Parties concern'd, who renounced all privilege of Appeal, was confirmed by Roger (Niger) Biſhop of London, in the Chapel of his Palace in London, on the Feaſt of S. Barnabas, Anno Dom. 1231. and in the firſt Year of his Conſecration.

After the Date of this Compoſition there follows this Clauſe, viz. " Et ſimiliter Decimæ garbarum, bladorum, & feni de feodo Richardi de Ware ſenioris prædicto Vicario remanebunt in perpetuum. †

From hence it appears, That Confirmation of the Endowment of this Vicarage, was in 1231. The Patronage whereof will likewiſe appear to have been in the Abbot and Convent of S. Ebrulf, who preſented, by the Prior of Ware, their Procurator, till ſuch time as King Edw. III. ſeiz'd the Priory of Ware, with all its Appurtenances (it being a Cell to the ſaid Abby of S. Ebrulf) as a Priory alien, (as he did others of the like Nature) by reaſon of his Wars with France, and by means thereof became Patron of this Vicarage, which Patronage (for ought appears to the contrary) continu'd in the Hands of him and his Succeſſors, until all the Priories alien in England (that were not conventual) were ſuppreſs'd in the Parliament at Leiceſter, Ann. 2. Hen. V. upon which, this Priory at Ware, with all the Appurtenances here in England, that were part of the Poſſeſſions of the ſaid Abby of S. Ebrulf, came to that King, who, Ann. 1414. began the Foundation of Three ſeveral Monaſteries here in England, whereof One was at Shene, in Surry, for Monks of the Carthuſian Order; and, by his Charter bearing date at Weſtminſter, Apr. 1. ſetled this Priory of Ware (inter alia) with its Appurtenances, upon that his new Foundation, dedicated to the Honour of Jeſus of Bethlehem. The Prior and Convent whereof (as appears) became Patrons of this Vicarage, and ſo continu'd till their Suppreſſion. But then falling into the Hands of King Hen. VIII. he (after he had once preſented to it) by his Charter dated 31. July, in 38. of his Reign, ſetled (inter alia) this Parſonage of Ware, together with the Advowſon of the Vicarage, upon the Maſter and Fellows of his new-founded College of the Holy Trinity in Cambridge, who have continu'd Proprietaries of this Rectory, and Patrons of this Vicarage ever ſince.

In a Vault near a fair Monument of white Marble, in the Wall, with the Arms of the Fanſhaws quarter'd, and the Harriſons, impaled, lies the Body of Sir Richard Fanſhaw, Kt and Bar. He was deſcended of the Family of Fanſhaw of Fanſhaw-Gate in Derbyſhire; and for his early Abilities taken into the Employment of the State by King Charles I. Anno 1655. and then ſent Reſident to the Court of Spain, whence being recall'd, in the beginning of the Rebellion, into England, he followed the Royal Intereſt during all the calamitous Time that followed, and was employed in ſeveral weighty Matters of State. In 1644. he was appointed Secretary at War to Charles Prince of Wales (afterwards King) whom he attended into the Weſtern Parts of England, and thence into the Iſles of Scilly and Guernſey. In 1648. he was appointed Treaſurer of the Navy, under the Command of Prince Rupert, which he manag'd till 1650. and was then prefer'd by his Majeſty to the Dignity of a Baronet, and ſent Envoy Extraordinary to the Throne of Spain, and being thence recall'd into Scotland, he there ſerv'd as Secretary of State, which weighty and difficult Employment he perform'd in that Conjuncture with great Satisfaction of all Parties, notwithſtanding he never took Covenant or Engagement. Thence he attended his Majeſty at Worceſter, was at the Battel there (1651.) taken Priſoner, and convey'd to London by the Rebels, where continuing in cloſe cuſtody till he contracted a great Sickneſs, had Liberty allow'd him, upon Bail given, for the Recovery of his Health, to go to any place he ſhould chooſe, provided he ſtir not Five Miles from the place, without Leave from the Parliament; during which Time, and other vacant Hours, he made ſeveral Tranſlations, and wrote divers Poems. In February 1659. he repair'd to his Majeſty King Charles II. at Breda, who there knighted him in April 1660. and made him his Secretary of the Latin Tongue (in which he did excel) and Maſter of Requeſts. In 1661. he was choſen Burgeſs for the Univerſity of Cambridge; was ſworn one of the Privy-Council in Ireland, and ſent Envoy to the Crown of Portugal. In 1662. he was again ſent to that Crown, with the Title of Ambaſſadour; and at his return thence, in 1663. he was ſworn one of his Majeſty's Privy-Council; and in January the ſame Year, he was ſent Ambaſſadour to both the Crowns of Spain and Portugal; in which Time the Foundation of a Peace betwixt thoſe Crowns and England was laid by him. His Deportment, during his former Employments in thoſe Courts, won him ſuch high Value and Eſtimation with the Princes, that his Reception was moſt ſplendid and magnificent, exceeding all that were before, which thoſe Kings declared was done, as a particular Reſpect to the Perſon of the Ambaſſadour, and was not to be a Precedent for ſucceeding Ambaſſadours. At length this worthy Perſon being overtaken with a violent Feaver at Madrid in Spain, on June 4. 1666. during the Time of his being Ambaſſadour there, died thereof, on the 16th of the ſame Month, Old Stile, aged 59 Years; whereupon his Body being embalmed (after his Funeral had been ſolemniz'd there the 25. of the ſame Month) was conveyed by his diſconſolate Lady, with all his Children then living, by Land through France to Calais, where it was tranſported to England, and landed near the Tower at London; thence 'twas remov'd to Lincolns-Inn-Fields, to the Pine-Apples, which was then his Lady's hired Houſe. The next day his Corps was carried to Alhallows Church in Hertford, and there depoſited in the Vault of his Father-in-Law, Sir John Harriſon, till May the 18. 1671. on which day it was removed into this Pariſh-Church of Ware, and there laid in a Vault made and purchaſed on purpoſe for him and his Family, together with a fair Monument erected for him and his Lady, near the old Vault, where all his Anceſtors of Ware-Park lie inter'd. Ware, cum Capella de Thunderidge.

Antiq. Hertf. 213. ABout Two Miles towards the North-weſt from Ware lies Thunderidge, or Thundrych, in the Vale on the South-ſide of the River Rib; which Vill in Domeſday-Book is called Tonrich, of which the Biſhop of Bayeux in France was then Lord; for it is there recorded, That Hugh de Grentemaiſnil held one Hide of the Biſhop of Bayeux in France, in Tonrich, in the Hundred of Brachings; which Hugo, Lord of Ware, afterwards purchaſed it, and doubtleſs (as my Author ſays) ſome of his Succeſſors granted it to the Lord of Thundrich, to hold of the Manor of VVare.

This Vill is, it ſeems, a Hamlet belonging to the Town of VVare, where was, of old, a Church or Chapel erected (dedicated to the Virgin Mary, and thence called Little S. Maries, and to All-Saints) and, it ſeems, was part of the Poſſeſſions of the Priory of VVare.

For, upon a Complaint made to Pope Gregory IX. by the Inhabitants of this Vill or Hamlet, ſetting forth, That the Prior of VVare was bound to ſerve this Church by a Vicar; but he denying ſo to do, the ſaid Pope thereupon iſſued out his Letters-Mandatory, Apr. 2. in the Third Year of his Pontificate (Anno 1229.) to the Biſhop of London, the Prior of the Holy Trinity, London, and to the Dean of S. Pauls, to hear and determin the matter. Upon which, the ſaid Biſhop (Roger Niger) and one or both of the other Commiſſioners calling before them all Parties concern'd, and the Queſtion ariſing about the Chantry of the Church of Thundrich, after much Debate, it was thus finally determin'd, viz.

This Church or Chapel of Thundridge, as an Appurtenant to the Priory of VVare was ſeiz'd with that Priory, firſt by King Edw. III. and after that by King Henry V. and ſetled upon his Priory of Shene, as hath been ſaid before; upon which, it ſeems, there was a Penſion of liii*s.* iv*d.* yearly payable to the Vicar (or Curate) of this Church or Chapel of Thundrich, out of the Poſſeſſions of the late diſſolv'd Monaſtery of Shene aforeſaid, as was prov'd in the Court of Augmentations; which upon the Diſſolution thereof, being for ſome time forborn to be paid, the Chancellor of the ſaid Court, on June 7. in 35. Hen. VIII. order'd and decreed, that the then Vicar ſhould have and enjoy to him and his Succeſſors for ever, the ſaid annual Penſion of 53 Shillings and 4 Pence Sterling, to be paid by the Bayliff, Receiver, or Farmer of the Profits of the Lands and Poſſeſſions of the ſaid late Monaſtery for the time being, at ſuch Days and Feaſts of the Year as hath been heretofore accuſtomably paid. And farther decreed, that the ſaid Vicar ſhould receive all the Arrears of the ſaid Penſion due from the time of the Diſſolution of the ſaid Monaſtery, provided it did not afterwards appear, that the ſaid Vicar and his Succeſſors had no right to the ſaid Penſion.

Reg. Lond. lib. 2. Vic. Gen 263.

The Rectory, or Impropriate Tyths, of this Pariſh or Hamlet, are appropriated or ſetled (as are thoſe of Ware) upon the Maſter and Fellows of Trinity College, in Cambridge, who are Patrons of this Vicarage or Chapelry, and do Preſent, or rather Nominate and beſtow it as often as it becomes Vacant on ſuch Clergy-man as they think fit, diſtinct from the Vicar of Ware.

I do not find this Church or Chapel of Thundrich charged with Firſt-Fruits by the Biſhop of London's Book of Tenths: But in the Valor Beneficiorum, it is rated as a Vicarage at ſix Pounds.

Terrier of Thundrich, 1610. About four Acres and Half of Glebe-Land, two Acres whereof lie in the Pariſh of Standon; alſo one Backſide behind the Vicarage-houſe of half an Acre.

Ware, Priory.

Fun. Monum. 544.

IN this Town of Ware there was a Priory alien, which was a Cell to the Abby of S. Ebrulf at Utica, in Normandy. Weaver tells us, That at the North-end of this Town there was a Friery, whoſe Ruins, not altogether beaten down, were to be ſeen in his time, founded by Baron Wake, Lord of this Town about the Reign of King John, dedicated to S. Francis.

Dug. Bar. 1. Tom. 540.

But by the way, I do not find that any of the Wakes were Lords of this Town till it came to Baldwyn, Lord Wake, by his intermarriage with Hawys, one of the Daughters and Co-heirs of Robert de Quincy, towards the latter End of Hen. III. and had Livery of her Inheritance (whereof this Manor was part) Anno 52. of that King.

pag. 208.

In the Antiquities of Hertfordſhire it is ſaid, That about the 18th Year of the Reign of Hen. III. Margaret, Counteſs of Leiceſter, and Lady of this Manor founded a Priory of Friers in the North-part of this Town, dedicated to S. Francis; gave the Tyths of this Church, and that of Thundrich to the Maintenance of them and their Houſe. But, it appears, what is written before of the Church of Ware, that the ſame, with all the Tyths that did belong to it, was given to the ſaid Abby of S. Ebrulf, in the time of William the Conqueror. But be this Priory founded by whom, or when it will (for there is no certainty appears of either) it ſeems the ſaid Margaret, Counteſs of Leiceſter, was a great Benefactor to the ſame, and often making her Reſidence in this Priory, built the great Hall, the great Chamber, and other Rooms for her own conveniency.

Dudg. Bar. 1. Tom. 688.

This Priory, with the Church of Ware, and Advouſon, the Vicarage with all other the Lands and Appurtenances thereto belonging here in England, the Abbot and Convent of S. Ebrulf enjoy'd (not till the 26th of Hen. VIII. as in Antiq. Hertf. but only) till they (inter alia) were ſeiz'd by King Edw. III. by reaſon of his Wars with France. After which (as has been obſerv'd before in Ware) the Premiſſes came to the Hands of King Hen. V. who ſetled them upon his Monaſtery at Shene, as part of the Endowment thereof, and that Prior and Convent enjoy'd them till the 26th of Hen VIII. when they were ſurrender'd into the Hands of that King, who convey'd the Site of this Priory from the Crown to Tho. Byrch. He held it in the time of Edw. VI. by the yearly Rent of 3 s. afterwards it was ſold to James Stanley, Citizen and Scrivener of London, from whom it deſcended to Thomas Stanley his Son and Heir, who was knighted, and died, leaving Iſſue Thomas, who was his Heir, who ſucceeded him, and ſold it to Haydon, who by his Will gave it to divers Perſons; they alienated it to Thomas Feltham of London, Inholder, and he ſold it to Robert Hadgeley of Mundon, the preſent Poſſeſſor thereof. Antiq. Hertf. ut ſupra.

Watford, Vicarage.

THIS Town of Watford, is in the Archdeaconry of S. Albans, and Hundred of Caiſho, about 16 or 18 Miles Northweſt-ward from London, and is ſubject to the Archdeacon. Arch. S. Alb.

It is ſituate on the River Colne; whether denominated from Wetford, at the South-end of the Town (as in Antiq. Hertf.) or Watlineford, for that the Watline-ſtreet-way croſſed the Colne near this Place (as Norden hath it) matters not much. But it was antiently parcel of that large Revenue, which King Offa gave to his Monaſtery of S. Albans; and in the Conqueror's time was held by that Abbot, Antiq. Hertf. 282, &c. being comprehended, it ſeems, within 20 Hides; which in Domeſday-Book, he is recorded to hold in Caiſſou, from which the Hundred is now denominated. And when the Romans invaded England was famous (if the Tradition be true) for being the Seat of Caſſibelinus, in thoſe Days the moſt potent Prince among the Britains, as it was afterwards in the time of the Saxon Heptarchy made the Seat of the Mercian Kings, and continued ſo, till King Offa gave it in the 33d of his Reign to the Monaſtery of S. Alban, as is ſaid before; where, after the Diſſolution, Sir Richard Moriſin, a Man of great Learning, and after employ'd in foreign Embaſſies began a fair and large Houſe, which Sir Charles Moriſin his Son finiſh'd, and is now become the Seat of the noble Family of the Capels, Earls of Eſſex, by the Marriage of Arthur, Lord Capel, Baron of Hadham, with Elizabeth the ſole Daughter and Heir of Sir Charles Moriſin, Knight and Baronet, Son and Heir of the above nam'd Sir Charles Moriſin, Son and Heir of the aforeſaid Sir Richard Moriſin.

This Town of Watford (inter alia) was confirm'd to the ſaid Abby of S. Albans, by divers of the ſaid King Offa's Royal Succeſſors, with the Additions of many large Immunities and Privileges; among whom King Hen. I. granted, that the Abbots, and their Succeſſors, ſhould have a Market in this Town. And King Edw. IV. by his Letters Patents dated at Dodington, 1. Nov. 1469. granted to them two Fairs, one whereof is held on Trinity-Monday, and two Days next following; and the other on the Decollation of S. Joh. Baptiſt, and the Morrow; the Market is held weekly on Tueſday.

Here are ſeveral Manors in this Pariſh, which were parcel of the Revenues of the Monaſtery of S. Alban, namely Caiſhobury and Byrſton; which were of the Gift of the ſaid King Offa; Oxey, which Sir Richard de Oxey gave to that Abby; Meriden-Caroland, which ſince the Diſſolution is become part of the Poſſeſſions of Merton-College, in Oxford; and Garſton purchaſed by John of Whethamſted, the 33d Abbot of S. Albans, for the uſe of that Church; of all which the inquiſitive may ſee at large in Antiq Hertf. p. 482. &c.

The Pariſh-Church of Watford (dedicated to) was of old, it ſeems, appropriated to the ſaid Abby of S. Alban, and a Vicarage ordain'd and endow'd, of which that Abbot and Convent continued Proprietaries and Patrons till their Suppreſſion. After which, tho' the Manor remained in the Crown, till King James I. by Letters Patents dated at Weſtminſter, July 24. 1609 7. Regni ſui, granted it to Tho. Marbury, and Richard Cartwright, in truſt for the Lord Chancellor Egerton, yet the Parſonage impropriate, and the Advouſon of the Vicarage were granted, it ſeems, to the above-named Sir Ric. Moryſin, who died on March 17. 1556. (before this Vicarage was void) and left it to Dame Bridget his Widow, who was afterwards married to Henry, Earl of Rutland, who whilſt he was her Husband in her right preſented to this Vicarage in 1562, and 1563. but he alſo dying in Sept. 1563. ſhe at laſt was married to Francis, Earl of Bedford, who likewiſe preſented in 1568, and 1573. and he alſo dying 28. July 27. Elizabeth, 1585. ſhe the ſaid Dame

(which was after the Death of Sir Charles Moryſin her Son, by the ſaid Sir Richard Moriſin, which happen'd on the Day before the Kalends of April 1599.) the Right of Advouſon of this Vicarage came to Sir Charles Moryſin, Knight and Baronet, her Grandſon, who (as appears) preſented in 1618. from whom it deſcended to Arthur, Earl of Eſſex, Son and Heir of Arthur, Lord Capel, by reaſon of his ſaid Father's intermarriage with the aforeſaid Elizabeth, ſole Daughter and Heir of the laſt-mention'd Sir Charles Moryſin. At the Preſentation of which Arthur, Earl of Eſſex, the preſent Vicar was admitted April 8. 1675.

Mat. Par. vit. Ab. 63. Jeoffery the 16th Abbot of S. Albans, gave two Parts of the Tyth-Corn of this whole Pariſh (inter alia) to the Church of the Holy Trinity de Boſco near Mergate, in Bedfordſhire, which he built twice from the very Foundation; but this was reckon'd among the Acts which he did to the prejudice of his Abby. Of this Church of the Holy Trinity de Boſco, may be read in the Prebend of Cadington minor.

Antiq. Hertf. 489. Penſio Vicarii. Dame Mary Cooper, firſt Widow of Sir Charles Moryſin the younger, afterwards of Sir John Cooper, and one of the Daughters and Co-heirs of Sir Baptiſt Hicks late Viſcount Camden, by her Deed dated in Nov. 8. Car. I. granted to ſeveral Truſtees a Rent-charge of fifty Pounds per Ann. iſſuing out of certain Lands in Ilmington, and elſewhere, in the County of Warwick, to be paid half yearly on Michaelmas, and our Lady-day for ever, to the Vicar of this Pariſh of VVatford.

ibid. The Lady Moryſin, or Sir Charles her Son, alſo granted to ſeveral Truſtees a Water-Corn-Mill, and Lands belonging to it in Eſſex, now let at 30 l. per Ann. for the Maintenance of a Preacher for ever, who is bound to preach a Sermon in VVatford-Church on every Tueſday, in the Forenoon, before the Market-Bell rings, from whence a Capital Meſſuage, in this Town, call'd VVatford Place; is now call'd the Lecture-houſe. The Preacher is to be nominated and choſen by the Truſtees, who at preſent are Sir Charles Gerard of Harrow on the Hill, Baronet, *Sil. Wideford, Rectory.

IN the Archdeaconry of Middleſex, Deanry and Hundred of Braughing, about 21 or 22 Miles Northward from London, lies this Pariſh of Wideford upon the River Aſh, and very likely might take its Name from a wide Ford over the River there, de Vado Spacioſo, as Norden has it. It is ſubject to the Archdeacon. And in the London-Regiſtry it is written Wideford juxta Ware, to diſtinguiſh it from another Pariſh of the ſame Name in this Dioceſe near Chelmsford, in Eſſex, call'd Wideford juxta Chelmsford.

Archid. Mid.

In the time of the Conqueror's Survey, the Biſhop of London held Wideford for Three Hides; but this Manor continued not long after, it ſeems, in thoſe Biſhops. For about the beginning of Hen. I. it was in Ivo de Grantemeſnil, who exchang'd it with the Monks of Bermondſey, in Surry, for Andretesbery; which was given to them by VVilliam de Belmeis, as appears by the Charter of that King, whereby he confirms unto them (inter alia) this Place of VVideford in theſe words, viz. “ Confirmo & VVideford, quam commutavit cum Monachis de Bermondeſeia Ivo de “ Grantemeſnil pro Andretesberia, quam dederat eis VVillielmus de Belmeis.

Mon. Ang. 1. Vol. 642.

This Ivo, favouring the Title of Robert Curthoſe, in 3. Hen. I. made War where he had Power, waſting the Country with Fire and Sword; for which Cruelties being fin'd a vaſt Sum of Money, he addreſs'd himſelf to Robert de Bellomont, Earl of Mellent (afterwards Earl of Leiceſter) then one of that King's Chief Counſellors, and imploring his Mediation, endeavour'd to ſhelter himſelf under his Wings; but being perplex'd in Mind partly for his diſhonourable Departure from Antioch; and partly for that he deſpair'd for ever regaining the King's Favour; he reſolv'd (or at leaſt was cunningly adviſed by the ſaid Earl) to perform a Pilgrimage once more to Jeruſalem, as alſo to make his Peace with the King, and to that end borrow'd 500 Marks from the ſaid Earl; for ſecuring whereof he morgaged all his Lands for 15 Years, it being agreed, that Ivo his Son (the Young) ſhould take the Daughter of Henry, Earl of VVarwick (Brother to this Earl) to Wife, and then that Reſtitution ſhould be made of his Eſtate. But in this Pilgrimage Ivo departing this World, his Son neither enjoy'd the Woman (as was promis'd) nor any of his paternal Inheritance.

Dug. Bar. 1. Tom. 84, & 425.

By which means this Robert, Earl of Leiceſter, came to be poſſeſs'd of the ſaid Ivo's Eſtate, and is named among the Benefactors to the ſaid Abby of Bermondſey; in the Chronicles of which Monaſtery it is thus recorded, viz. “ Anno Domini “ 1118. Robertus comes Leiceſtriæ dedit Manerium de VVideford, Monachis de Bermondſey, & VVillielmus de Belmeis, Andretesbury.

Monaſt. Angl. 1. Vol. 640.

So that this Manor was, of old, part of the Poſſeſſions of the ſaid Abby, the Monks whereof, in ſpace of time, gave it to Adam de Stratton. But becauſe the ſaid Adam had no Confirmation of the Prior of that Gift, and no Alms were given, they ought not to have alien'd the ſame without the Conſent of the King; therefore the Manor was ſeiz'd into the King's Hands. And Anno 1290. 18. Edw. I. the King granted to the ſame Prior and Convent this Manor of VVideford (with Four others) who let thoſe Manors to the ſame Adam de Stratton, who ſhortly after committed Felony, and upon his Conviction the King ſeiz'd them again into his Hands, reſtor'd them to the Monks of this Priory, and they held them to the time of their Diſſolution. And the ſaid Prior and Convent were Patrons of this Church (which is dedicated to S. John Baptiſt, and is a Rectory) and ſo continued till their Suppreſſion.

Antiq. Hertf. 200.

Mon. Angl. ut ſupra, 641.

King Hen. VIII. in 35. of his Reign gave this Manor to Sir Ric. Southwell, Knight, and to his Heirs, from whom it came to Robert Adams; who in the third and fourth of Philip and Mary, levied a Fine upon the ſame to the uſe of him and his Heirs; but afterwards it was ſold to ibid. Rowland Backhouſe, Alderman of London, from whom it came to William Backhouſe, Eſq; who was his Grandchild, whom King Charles II. by Letters Patents dated Nov. 9. 1660. created a Baronet, and was by him ſold to Thomas Bird of Mardocks, in this County, Eſq; who is the preſent Lord thereof.

Gilbert 4. In former time there having been a Suit depending before the Official of the Archdeacon of Middleſex, between the Church-Wardens of this Pariſh, and John Napulton of Ware, about an annual Penſion of Nine-pence, given by a certain good Chriſtian to this Church, in pure and perpetual Alms; which he the ſaid John Napulton was to pay the ſaid Official, by a diffinitive Sentence on the laſt of Mar. 1435. pronounc'd for the ſaid annual Penſion, and decreed the ſaid John Napulton, and his Succeſſors to pay the ſame.

In Antiq. Hertf. pag. 201. This Church is call'd a Vicarage, and it is ſaid there, That the Lords of this Manor are Patrons of it. But as to the firſt, it is a Miſtake, as appears in the Valor Beneficiorum, where it is taxed as a Rectory; and in the Regiſtry of London, where it has all along, down to this preſent, been Preſented to as ſuch. And as to the later, it ſeems, likewiſe to be a Miſtake; for I do not find any of thoſe, who are nam'd before, to be Lords of this Manor, ſince the Diſſolution, were ever Patrons of this Church, or Preſented to it, which appears by the London-Regiſtry; ſo that from this time, it ſeems, that this Rectory and Pariſh-Church were ſeparated from the Manor, and ſo continued, tho' it was an Appendent to it before, when it was in the Monks of Bermondſey.

Bund. Braug. Terrier, 1610. About 32 Acres of Glebe-Land, whereof Three Acres and a Half are contained in a Cloſe and Orchard, and Garden adjoining to the Parſonage-houſe: alſo the Church-yard.

Widihale, Rectory.

THIS Pariſh of Widihale; which ſignifies a wide or large Hall, for wid or wide, in the Saxon Language, ſignifies wide or large; and Hall comes from the Latin word Aula, ſometimes alſo written Withihale, Withihall, and Widial; is in the Archdeaconry of Middleſex, Deanry of Braughing, and Hundred of Edwineſtre, about 32 or 33 Miles North from London, and is ſubject to the Archdeacon. Archid. Mid.

This Manor was given to Hardwin de Scalers, a valiant Norman, by William Antiq. Hertf. 111. the Conqueror; who beſtow'd upon him (among many more) for the great Service he did him in aſſiſting him in his Expedition into England, and made him a great Baron. He held it in the time of the general Survey, where it is recorded under the Title, Terra Hardwini de Scalers, thus, viz. "In Edwineſtreu ipſe Hard-"winus tenet Widihale, pro v. Hidis & Dimid. ſe defend. &c. by which words, ipſe Hardwinus, it ſeems as if he himſelf reſided here. He left Iſſue

Richard de Scalers, who ſucceeded him, was a Benefactor to the Abby of Lewes, in Suſſex, and died leaving Hugh, who was his Heir; which Hugh gave to the Monks of that Monaſtery (inter alia) this Church of VVithihale. Henry his Son confirm'd Dug. Bar. 1. Tom. 616. the Grant, adding the Gift of certain Lands in VVadone, of 10 Shillings per Ann. value, upon the ſame Day, that Hugh his Father became a Monk in that Abby, Geffrey his Brother being a Witneſs thereto.

But the Manor continued ſtill in the Family of the de Scalers, till it came to Anthony VVidvile, by his intermarriage with Elizabeth (Widow of Henry Bouchier, Eſq;) ibid. 3. Tom. 231. the only Daughter and Heir of Thomas de Scales, and was thereupon in 2. Edw. IV. declared Lord Scales, and afterwards by the Death of her Father, Earl of Rivers. But afterwards when he would not comply with Richard, Duke of Gloceſter (afterwards King Richard III.) to deſtroy thoſe two young Princes his Nephews, King Edw. V. and his Brother, he was beheaded at Pomfract-Caſtle, and all his Lands ſeiz'd into the King's Hands, among which this Manor of VVidihale was part; which continued in the Crown till King Henry VIII. granted it to George Canon, and John Gill.

The Church here (which is dedicated to   and is a Rectory) continued in the Gift of the Prior and Convent of Lewes till their Suppreſſion; upon which it came to the Crown, and was, it ſeems, granted to the ſaid George Canon, and John Gill, or one of them, by the Death of which George Canon, in 1534. 26. Hen. VIII. his Moiety of this Manor deſcended to his Daughter and Heir, Antiq. Hertf. 111. married to George, Son and Heir of John Gill aforeſaid, and after his Fathers deceaſe, in 1545. Lord of this whole Manor, and Patron of this Church, who (as appears) preſented to it in 1556, and 1559. but dying in 1568. it came to John his Son and Heir, who alſo preſented in 1591. and after his deceaſe to George his Son and Heir, knighted in 1603. who after he had preſented to it twice (the laſt time whereof was in 1616.) ſold this Manor (to which this Church, it ſeems, was now become an Appendent) to John Goulſton, Eſq; one of the Protonotaries of the Court of Common-Pleas. After whoſe Death it came to Richard his Son and Heir, who (as appears) preſented twice to this Church after the Reſtauration of King Charles II. and dying in 1686. left it to James Goulſton his Son and Heir, who is the preſent Lord of the Manor, and Patron of the Church.

ibid. 113. On the North-ſide of the Chancel of this Church the aforeſaid George Canon built a ſmall Chapel, Anno 1532. in which he, and the above-named John Gill his Copartner in this Manor lie buried with Inſcriptions on their ſeveral Grave-ſtones or Tombs.

Monaſt. Angl. 2. Vol. 82. Henry de Corney gave certain arable Land, and a Meadow, and xxxviii d. yearly Rent, which he had in Corney and Widihale, to the Priory of the Holy Trinity, in London; as did alſo Henry de Scalers, and Joan his Daughter, Nine Acres and Half, in this Pariſh of Widihale, with the Appurtenances to the ſame Priory. All which was confirm'd to the Prior and Canons there, by the Charter of King Henry III. dated at Weſtminſter, Feb. 8. in the 11th Year of his Reign.

ibid. 1. Vol. 180. Here was likewiſe One Hide of Land in Helesburne, in VVidihale, and One Virgate, in the Wood of the ſame Pariſh, given by VVilliam, the Son of Geffrey, to the Abbot and Monks of S. Albans, as appears by the Bull of Confirmation of Pope Honorius III. dated 10. Kal. Mar. 1218. in the 3d Year of his Pontificate.

Bun. Braughing. Terrier, 1610. Ten Acres, and Two Rods of arable Land, and Two Acres, and Three Rods of Meadow and Paſture; Three Rods lying in Barn-Mead, in Anſty Pariſh, and a little Cloſe more of Meadow or Paſture, call'd Flax Cloſe, under the Park.

Winſlow, Vicarage.

THIS Pariſh of Winſlow, in old Records, Wineſhaw, and VVineſlave, lies in the County of Bucks, Deanry of Mureſley, and Hundred of Colſtow, within the Dioceſe of Lincoln; but is in the Juriſdiction of the Archdeacon of S. Albans, and Dioceſe of London; from which City it is diſtant about 39 or 43 Miles towards the Northweſt.

Arch. S. Alb.

This was a Royal Manor of Offa, King of the Mercians; who having vow'd to found a Religious Houſe or Monaſtery, and having here at VVineſlave pray'd to God to direct him in what Place to build it, and to what Saint to intitle it, turn'd about to thoſe that were preſent, full of Tears, and Hands claſp'd together, and earneſtly deſir'd, that they wou'd pray to God to bring his Deſire to effect; upon which, Humbert, Archbiſhop of the Mercians, with Unwon, Biſhop of Legreceſter, and other Clerks there Aſſembled, enter'd into an Oratory hard by, where they moſt devoutly pray'd, that the Lord would bring this Religious Deſire of the King's to effect; and having ended their Prayers, behold a Light from Heaven illuminated all the Room, upon which the King reſolv'd to give this Royal Manor call'd VVineſlave, wherein thoſe things had happen'd, to that Monaſtery, which he was to found, tho' he yet knew not the Place where he was to build it; for thus ſaith Matthew Paris, " Unde Rex illud Regale Manerium in quo hæc evenerant, viz. " Wineſlave cum pertinentiis, illi Cœnobio, quod adhuc fundaturus erat Rex relagi " contulit Munificentia, tali munere locum Subarrando, quem adhuc penitus " ignoravit.

Mat. Par. vit. Abb. 28.

And accordingly the ſaid King Offa, after the Place was miraculouſly reveal'd to him, where the Reliques of S. Alban's Bones were laid, which was call'd Holmhurſt; on a Hill, on the other Side of the River, over againſt Verulam, founded there Anno Chriſti 793. Regni ſui 33. his famous Monaſtery to the Honour of S. Alban, and (inter alia) endow'd it with his Land at Wineſhawe (now Winſlow) consiſting of Twelve Manſions, with all that did belong to them.

ibid. 31.

And

Mon. Angl. 1. Vol. 178, &c. And two Years after by his Charter dated at Beronford, Anno 795. with the Conſent of Egfrid his Son, confirm'd the ſame; which Manor after the Conqueſt was confirm'd to the Monks of S. Albans by Hen. I. and the Pariſh-Church by King Hen. II. and King John.

The Church here (dedicated to) was of old, it ſeems, appropriated to the ſaid Monaſtery, and a Vicarage here ordain'd and endow'd, of which that Abbot and Convent continued Patrons (as they did Lords of the Manor, and Proprietaries of the Rectory) until their Suppreſſion; upon which the Premiſſes came to the Crown; in which the Patronage of the Vicarage hath continued ever ſince. But whether the Manor and Impropriate Rectory does ſo, I know not.

Bund. S. Alb. Terrier, 1634. A Vicarage-houſe conſiſting of Four Bays, beſides a Study, and a Lean-to for a Milk-houſe, Two Bayes of Houſing for a Stable and other Uſes, built by Robert Manwaring the then Vicar, a Yard, Orchard and a Garden, with a little Cloſe, being all together about an Acre of Ground, and about 57 Acres of Glebe beſides.

Wormley, Rectory.

THIS Pariſh of Wormley, in old Records, VVermelai and Wrmleia, in the Archdeaconry of Middleſex, Deanry of Braughing, and Hundred of Hertford, about 14 or 15 Miles North from London; is in all Spiritual Matters wholly Pec. Com. ſubject to the Biſhop, and his Vicar General.

This was one of thoſe 17 Lordſhips wherewith Earl Harold endow'd his new founded Monaſtery of Waltham Holy-Croſs, in Eſſex, which (inter alia) was confirm'd to the Dean and Secular Canons there, by the Charter of King Edward
Mon. Angl. 2. Vol. 11. the Confeſſor, and was held by thoſe Canons in the time of the Conqueror's Survey for Five Hides. Likewiſe after King Hen. II. Anno 1177. had diſſolv'd this Foundation of a Dean and Secular Canons, and in their room placed an Abbot ibid. 14. and Regular Canons, it was (inter alia) confirm'd to thoſe Regulars by his Charter, together with the Church, and its Appurtenances: As the Premiſſes alſo after ibid. 16. that, were by King Richard I. by his Charter dated Sept. 18. in the 10th Year of his Reign.

This Manor, and Pariſh Church of Wormley, being thus given and confirm'd to the Monaſtery of Waltham, the Abbot and Convent thereof enjoy'd them, and Antiq. Hertf. 291. the Pariſh became an Exempt to their Juriſdiction (and was ſo even in the time of the Conqueror's Survey, where it is recorded of Wermelai, "Hoc Manerium jacuit & jacet in Eccleſia S. Crucis de Waltham) till their Suppreſſion.

Bonner, 275. After which King Edw. VI. by his Letters Patents dated Apr. 1. in the 4th of his Reign, ſubjected this Place of Wormley, together with the Chapel there, to the Juriſdiction of the Biſhop of London, and his Succeſſors for ever.

Which Chapel I take to be a certain old Chapel or Oratory in Wormley-Wood, which was dedicated to S. Laurence, and was call'd Capella S. Laurentii in Boſco de Wormley, but indeed lies within the Pariſh of Cheſhunt.

S. Laurence-Chappel.

After the Juriſdiction of this Pariſh of Wormley was thus ſetled by King Edw. VI. it ſeems his Vicar-General, and his Commiſſary in partibus Eſſex & Hertford, pretended to the Exerciſe of it. But upon a Petition of the Rector and Inhabitants of this Pariſh to Dr. Ric. Bancroft, Biſhop of London, ſetting forth, by way of Complaint, That they were very much harraſs'd and vex'd by Citations and Excommunications from the Courts, as well of Richard Stanhop, LL. D. Vicar-General and Principal-Official of the ſaid Biſhop, as of Robert Whittle, M. A. Commiſſary in the Parts of Eſſex and Hertfordſhire, each of them pretending to the Juriſdiction of this Pariſh in Spiritual Matters: The ſaid Biſhop, in the preſence of them both, continu'd the Juriſdiction of this Pariſh to his Vicar General and his Succeſſors, and to his Principal Regiſtrary in all Cauſes Eccleſiaſtical, as alſo in proving of Wills, and granting Adminiſtrations; and moniſhed the ſaid Commiſſary to forbear executing any Juriſdiction Eccleſiaſtical in the ſame for the future, unleſs he ſhewed any ſufficient Cauſe to the contrary (which he never did that I can find, tho' I doubt he ſtill encroaches upon the ſame.) This Order or Decree of the ſaid Biſhop was interpoſed in his Palace at London, Mar. 8. 1597.

Grindall 300.

After this Manor and Church (which is dedicated to   and is a Rectory) came to the Crown upon the Diſſolution, King Hen. VIII. by Letters Patents, dated 29. Jan. ann. Regni 32. granted this Manor and Advowſon of the Rectory to Edw. North and his Heirs. He ſold it to Elizabeth Woodcliffe, who held it of the King in the Time of Edw. VI. by the yearly Rent of 1 l. 13 s.

Antiq. Hertf. 292.

From whence this Manor came to VVilliam VVoodcliffe, Citizen and Mercer of London, and from him to VValter Took, in Right of Angelet his Wife, one of the Daughters and Co-Heirs of the ſaid VVilliam VVoodcliffe; for he had another Daughter, it ſeems (tho' I have not met with her Name) as appears by the Inſcription on the Monument of the ſaid Angelet (who died May 31. 1598.) on the North-ſide of the Chancel here, wherein the ſaid Angelet is ſaid to be the Second Daughter, ſurviving Siſter, and Co-Heir of William Woodcliffe, Citizen and Mercer of London. Which Siſter of the ſaid Angelet, and Co-Heir with her to the ſaid VVilliam VVoodcliffe, became (as I gueſs) the Wife of John Purvey, Eſq; by which means, probably, this Manor came to be divided between them; and they the ſaid John Purvey, and VValter Took, in Right of their Wives, became Patrons of this Church, alternis vicibus; for ſo VVilliam Purvey, Eſq; (who very likely was the Son and Heir of John Purvey aforeſaid) is ſaid to be in the Inſcription on his Monument in the South-ſide of this Chancel, which thus begins, "Here lieth the "Body of VVilliam Purvey, Eſq; one of his Majeſties Auditors of the Dutchy of "Lancaſter, and Patron of this Church (alternis vicibus) who lived, &c. Beſides it will appear by the following Inſtitutions, that the Purveys and the Tooks (or Tucks) preſented to the ſame alternis vicibus, from the Year 1571. to 1598. at which Time the ſaid Walter Took preſented: And upon the next Vacancy, which happen'd the Year following, it being Purvey's turn to preſent, it fell, it ſeems, to the Biſhop by Lapſe. The next Avoidance was Ann. 1610. when it came again to Took, as appears by the Admiſſion of a Clerk to it, Sept. 22. that Year, at the Preſentation of Ralph Took, Eſq; who was Son and Heir to Walter Took and Angelet his Wife aforeſaid.

After this no Vacancy happen'd till An. 1630. and then it appears, that Ralph Took and John Took (whom I take to be one of the Brothers of the ſaid Ralph; for Walter, the Father had Eight Sons, beſides Four Daughters, by the ſaid Angelet) preſented Robert Lovelace, the Advowſon of the Church; the Manor being now wholly in the Tooks upon the Death of the ſaid William Purvey, who died Aug. 23. 1617. leaving no Iſſue, (as I gueſs) no mention being made of any in the ſaid Inſcription.

This Manor then being entirely in the ſaid Ralph Took, as Heir to his Father the ſaid Walter Took (who died 22. Dec. 1635. aged 77 Years, and was buried in the Pariſh Church of Eſſingdon in this County, as appears by an Inſcription on a Marble under the Altar there) but without Iſſue, he, the ſaid Ralph, gave this Manor to George Took and Thomas Took, two of his younger Brothers. George ſold his Moiety of the Manor to Richard Woollaſton, Eſq; And after Thomas had poſſeſſed the other Moiety for his Life, it was ſold to Thomas Winford, Eſq; who lately convey'd it to Richard Woollaſton (Son and Heir of John Woollaſton, Son and

ibid. 278.

Heir of the above-named Richard Woollaſton, who purchaſed the firſt Moiety) and is now become Lord of this entire Manor.

The aforeſaid Robert Lovelace (as appears) continu'd Rector of this for about 43 Years, viz. till 1673. and then dying, was ſucceeded by John Freeman, at the Preſentation of John Freeman, Patron only for that Turn.

Antiq. Hertf. 293. The before nam'd William Purvey, who is ſaid, in the aforeſaid Inſcription on his Monument, to have provided, as a good Benefactor, for the Maintenance of poor Scholars in Cambridge, the Poor of this Pariſh, and the Preaching of the Goſpel in this Church, gave to the Rector of this Pariſh 20 l. per ann.

Lib. Swan, fol. 30. Richard Lovelace, by his Will dated Aug. 19. 1619. bequeathed to his Nephew Rob. Lovelace all his Meadow and Arable-Lands lying in the Meads and Common-Fields of Wormley and Cheſhunt, in Hertfordſhire, upon condition, That every Quarter of the Year, after his Deceaſe, there ſhall be a Sermon preached by ſome ſufficient Preacher within the Pariſh-Church of Wormley, for the advancing of Gods Name, and the Edifying and Benefit of thoſe that ſhall reſort thereunto; which Four Sermons are to be continued for ever; and he did appoint and charge the ſaid Rob. Lovelace his Executor, and his Heirs, to give to the Preacher for every Sermon 10 s.

Lib. Duke, fol. 41. Tho. Tooke, Eſq; by his Will, dated June 9. 1670. gave 20 l. per ann. to the Miniſter of Wormley and his Succeſſors for ever, and charged his Lands in Wormley, Cheſthunt, and Broxbourn, for payment thereof; and alſo 40 s. per ann. to the Poor of Wormley. He likewiſe gave 10 l. to the Repairing of the Church and Steeple of Wormley; and 40*l.* to the Repairing the Dilapidations of Wormley Parſonage-Houſe.
